An adjournment of a suit for appointing a guardian ad litem is not an adjournment for the hearing of the suit, and hence, on the adjourned date if the plaintiff is absent, the Court has no jurisdiction to dismiss the suit for default. (Das and Ross, JJ.) BALMAKUND RAM MARWARI v. MADHO PRASHAD.

5 Pat L. T. 424 : 78 I. C. 224 (2) : 1924 P. H. C. C. 215 : A. I. R. 1924 Pat. 714.

——— O. 17, Rr 2, 3—Instructions only to ask for adjournment—Dismissal is one under R 2.

Where on the day fixed for hearing the vakil of the plaintiff had only instructions to ask for an adjournment and not to go on with the case, but the same was not granted and the suit dismissed, the order was one passed under O. 17, R. 2 and not under O. 17, R. 3. An application for restoration under O. 9, R 9 is maintainable. (Mullick and Macpherson, JJ.) SYED SHAH MUHAMMAD MAUDOOD v. MAHARAJAH SIR RAMESHWAR SINGH. 1 Pat. L. R. 281 : 74 I. C. 693 : A. I. R. 1923 Pat. 530.

——— O. 17, R. 2—Scope of.

O. 17, R. 2 contemplates the hearing of a suit at some later date to which it has been adjourned. (Dawson Miller, C. J. and Coutts, J.) DAMODAR DAS v. RAJKUMAR DAS. 1 P. 188 : 69 I. C. 837 : A. I. R. 1922 Pat. 485.

——— O. 17, Rr. 2 and 3—Default of plaintiff—Effect of—Failure of suit on pleadings—No jurisdiction to take defendant's evidence.

When there are materials in the record on which the Court can decide the case, the matter falls properly under O. 17, R. 3 and not under O. 17, R. 2, C. P. Code. But where plaintiff has adduced no evidence, and his case fails on the pleadings, the Court has no business to proceed to record the defendant's evidence so as to give himself jurisdiction to act under R. 3. 34 Cal. 235, Rel Where the plaintiff's case was opened, and his witnesses being absent, a day's adjournment was allowed, and on the adjourned date a fresh adjournment was applied for and refused and the Court recorded the depositions of defendant's witnesses and dismissed the suit on the merits, held, that the dismissal under O. 17, R. 3 was without jurisdiction and O. 17, R. 2 was applicable to the case. (Das and Ross, JJ.) SASHIBHUSHAN KUMAR v. DWARKA PRASAD MARWARI. 3 Pat. L. T. 64 : 61 I. C 897 : 6 Pat L. J. 313 : A. I. R 1922 Pat. 2.

——— O. 17, Rr. 2 and 3—Adjournment—Refusal—Procedure.

Where the plaintiff applies for an adjournment and on the refusal of the application the plaintiff withdraws, the Court should proceed under R. 2 and not call upon the defendant to produce his evidence in order to give itself jurisdiction to proceed under R. 3. Where there are materials on record on which the Court can decide the case it should proceed under R. 3 and not under R. 2. (Das and Ross, JJ.)

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 17, R. 3.

SHASHIBHUSHAN KUMAR v. DWARKA PRASAD.

61 I. C. 897 : 6 Pat. L. J. 313.

——— O. 17, R. 3—Parties agreeing to abide by oath affecting a third person to be taken in particular manner—Oath illegal under Oaths Act—Court fixing date for oath to be taken—Oath not taken on that day—O. 17, R. 3 does not apply.

In the course of the plaintiff's evidence, the plaintiff agreed that if the defendant would take an oath holding one of his sons in his lap with his hand placed on the son's head, he would accept it. The defendant agreed to do this, and a date was fixed for the required oath to be taken and for no other purpose. On the date so fixed, the defendant failed to produce his son. The Court applied the provisions of O. 17, R. 3, and, without giving the parties an opportunity of producing any further evidence, proceeded to decide the case on the materials on the record. Held, that the Court acted wrongly in fixing a date for the oath in question to be taken, as under S. 8 of the Oaths Act of 1873 it was not permissible for the Court to allow an oath to be taken affecting a third person. Held, further, that O. 17, R. 3 had no application to the circumstances of the case and opportunity should have been given to the parties to produce all available evidence. (Sulaiman and Daniels, JJ.) TULASI RAM v. DAYA RAM. 23 A. L. J. 513 : L. R. 6 A. (C. v.) 396 : 88 I. C. 448 : A. I. R. 1925 All. 604.

——— O. 17, R. 3 and O. 9, R. 13—Defendant absent—Decree—Application to set aside dismissal—Appeals from order and decree—First appeal dismissed and second allowed.

At the hearing that defendant being absent the trial Court proceeded to try the suit under O. 17, R. 3 on the merits and decreed it. The defendant applied to have the decree set aside but the application was rejected. Defendant then appealed from the order and the decree. The lower appellate Court dismissed the former appeal but declared in the case of the second appeal that the trial Court had no power to decide the case on the merits in the absence of the defendant and that the decree was only an ex parte decree. In the trial Court the pleader of the defendant was present. He had not stated that he had no instructions to proceed with the hearing. All that he had said, according to the order sheet, was that his client had not turned up for some reason not known to him, that the witnesses summoned by him had also not attended and that he was unable to proceed with the case, the Court of first instance thereupon proceeded to decide the suit on the merits and an appeal was maintained from that decree. Held, the order of the appellate Court in the latter appeal was both in substance and in form open to question. By saying that he was unable to proceed with the hearing, it cannot be said that the pleader had withdrawn himself ; and the decree passed in that suit cannot therefore be regarded as an ex parte decree which could be set aside in the manner laid down in O. 9, R. 13. In form the order passed by the lower appellate Court was similarly open to objection. It was not open to the Judge who heard the appeals, to take the view that the decree was an ex parte decree after he had dismissed the appeal which had been filed from an order refusing to set it aside, on the ground that the decree was one dealing with the suit on the merits. If he was satisfied that there was sufficient excuse for his absence, he could have passed an order setting aside the decree passed by the Court of first instance and remanded the suit. If he was not satisfied that there was sufficient reason for his absence, it was still necessary for him to have examined the suit on the merits and determined wherher the decree passed by the Court of first instance was proper or not. (Kanhaiya Lal, J.) SARJU PRASAD v. GAJADHAR LAL. A. I. R. 1922 All. 497.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 17, R 3.

——O. 17, R. 3—Applicability.

A suit was adjourned to a particular date for effecting a compromise, but if it was not effected the plaintiff was directed to produce his witnesses. The compromise was not effected, but a few days before the date fixed, plaintiff paid into Court the process fee. The witnesses however could not be served. Held he did not act with due diligence and failed to comply with the conditions on which he could have had another adjournment, i.e., the failure to effect service was due not to the negligence of the Court or the process-serving staff. The case fell within O. 17, R. 3. (Harrison and Campbell, JJ.) HARI KISHEN v. MULKH RAJ. 89 I. C 857 : A. I. R. 1926 Lah. 27.

——O. 17, R. 3—Process-fee paid in time—Service not effected—Adjournment granted, is not time granted to a party within rule.

Held, following 51 P.R.1915, that where a party to a suit has paid the process-fee for summoning witnesses, the Court and its officers are responsible for effecting service, and an adjournment caused by the non-attendance of witnesses for want of service is an adjournment in the ordinary course and does not amount to time granted to one party within the meaning of O. 17, R.3, C.P.Code, O. 17, R. 3 merely authorises the Court to proceed to decide the suit forthwith and it does not authorise its dismissal summarily. (Scott-Smith and Campbell, JJ.) KARAM CHAND v. JINDA RAM. 71 I. C. 862 : A. I. R. 1924 Lah. 404.

——O. 17, R. 3—No default by party—Court cannot proceed under this rule.

The hearing of a case was adjourned for a fortnight to enable plff. to summon his witnesses. Within a week of the hearing the plff. paid process-fee, but the officer of the Court finding the time to be short did not take out the summonses. On the day fixed for the hearing the Court dismissed the suit under O. 17, R. 3, C.P. Code Held, that having regard to the negligence of the officer of the Court there was no room for the application of the stringent provisions of O.17, R. 3, C.P. Code. (Shadi Lal, C. J. and Brasher, J.) LILA RAM v. RAMZAN. 69 I. C. 665 : A. I. R. 1924 Lah. 272.

——O. 17, R. 3—Scope—Ex parte decree may be passed when acting under this rule.

Where time was not granted to the appellant at his own request for the production of evidence, O. 17, R. 3 has no application. An ex parte decree may be passed even in a case in which the Court acts under O.17, R.3 such a decree is nevertheless an ex parte decree and liable to be set aside as such. (Abdul Raoof, J.) MURLIDHAR v. DUNI CHAND AND GOKAL CHAND. 69 I. C. 368 : A. I. R. 1923 Lah. 281 (1).

——O. 17, R. 3 and O. 7, R. 11—Plaint rejected because plaintiff did not file amended plaint as asked to do—O 7, R. 11 and not O. 17, R. 3 applies.

Order 17, R. 3 applies only after a suit has been instituted and only after it has been adjourned for the purpose of giving evidence. But where a plaint is rejected on the ground that the plaintiff has not filed an amended plaint, as he was asked to do, O. 17, R. 3, does not apply, but the case falls within O. 7, R. 11, cl. (c). (Madhavan Nair, J.) K. SANKARANARAYANA IYER v. V. R. VENKATARAMA IYER. 80 I. C. 491 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 1045.

——O. 17, R. 3—Presence of party—If amounts to appearance—Scope of rule.

The mere presence of a party in Court is sufficient to constitute appearance within the meaning of O. 9, C. P. Code, 23 Bom. 414, Foll. O. 17, R. 3 requires a decision on the merits. 23 All, 462, Foll. (Baker, J.C.) ONKAR v. KAMAL CHAND. A. I. R. 1924 Nag. 26.

——O. 17, R. 3—Suit decided under R. 3—R. 2 mentioned instead of R. 3 by mistake in judgment—Remedy is appeal and not rehearing.

In no case in which a suit is decided under O. 17, R. 3 can a re-hearing be claimed even if in the judgment O. 17, R. 2 is mentioned by mistake instead of O. 17, R 3. The remedy is by way of appeal and not by way of re-hearing. (Dalal, J.C.) MT. MAHADEI v. TIRBENI. 86 I. C. 356 : A. I. R. 1925 Oudh 495.

——O. 17, R. 3 and O. 9, R. 6—Absence of defendant on date of hearing—Court should proceed under O. 17, R. 3.

Where the deft. absents himself on the date fixed for evidence in a case, the proper procedure for a court is to proceed under O. 17, R. 3 and not under O. 9, R. 6, C.P. Code. (Simpson and Wazir Hasan, A.J Cs.) CHANHARJA v. KALKA PANDE. 9 O. L. J. 543 : 72 I. C. 394 : A. I R. 1923 Oudh 18.

——O. 17, R. 3—Dismissal of suit for failure to supply defendant with copies in a specific language is illegal.

An order directing plaintiff to supply the defendant with copies of entries in the plaintiff's accounts book in a specific language is without jurisdiction, and the dismissal of the suit under R. 3 of O. 17 for non-compliance with such order is illegal. (Mullick and Bucknill, JJ.) DEBI LAL v. JAI PRAKASH NARAIN. 75 I. C. 1 : A. I. R. 1925 P. 316.

——O. 17, R. 3—Default in appearance is not covered by this rule.

O. 17, R. 3 does not contemplate a case of default in appearance but a case in which a party who has appeared and has been given time to do some act in further prosecution of his case has failed to do so within the time allowed. The court may in such a case proceed with the suit notwithstanding the default, but the decision is not ex-parte. (Dawson Miller, C J. and Coutts, J.) DAMODAR DAS v. RAJ KUMAR DAS. 1 P. 188 : 69 I C. 837 : A. I. R. 1922 Pat. 485.

——O. 17, R. 3 and O. 9, R. 8—Day fixed for appointment of guardian—Dismissal of suit without jurisdiction—Res judicata, if.

In a mortgage suit a day was fixed for the appointment of a guardian of a minor defendant. The plaintiff having failed to appear on that day the suit was dismissed. Held, the default of the plaintiff fell under O. 17, R. 3 and not under O. 9, R. 8 of Civil Procedure Code. As under O. 17, R. 3 it was incumbent upon the Court to fix a day on default for the disposal of the suit and inasmuch as the parties and particularly the plaintiff who suffered by the order did not know that the case would be taken up for hearing as soon as there was a default in his not taking the necessary steps for the appointment of a guardian, the order was without jurisdiction and if that is so there is no valid decree which can operate on res judicata so as to bar a fresh suit of the plaintiff based upon the mortgage bond in question. (Jwala Prasad, C. J. and Das, J.) SHEIKH ABDUL RAHMAN v. SHIB LAL SAHU. 1922 P. H. C. C. 81 : A. I. R. 1922 Pat. 252.

——O 17, R. 3—Date fixed for final disposal of suit and for appointment of guardian—No steps taken by plaintiff for latter—Suit cannot be dismissed.

Where a date is fixed for evidence and final disposal of a suit and the same date is fixed for appointment of a guardian of a minor defendant and the plaintiff takes no steps to get the guardian appointed, the Court cannot dismiss the suit without giving the plff. an opportunity to adduce evidence at least against the original defendants in the suit. If it so dismisses the suit, it acts without jurisdiction and such dismissal will not bar a fresh suit. (Jwala Prasad, A. C. J. and Das, J.) ABDUL RAHMAN v. SHIB LAL.

63 I. C. 570 : 2 Pat. L. T. 572.

——O. 17, R. 6—Amendment can be allowed in appeal.

An amendment under O. 17, R. 6 may be allowed at any stage of the case, i. e., even in appeal. (Jwala Prasad, A.C J. and Kulwant Sahay, J.) HARGOBIND RAY v. KESHAVA PRASAD SINGH. 1924 P.H.C.C. 297: 84 I. C. 386 : A. I. R. 1925 Pat. 168.

——O. 18, R. 1—Right to begin—Reference to High Court under the Income-tax Act.

Under the Income-tax Act, the objector, who questions the assessment has the right to begin and has the right to reply. (Mookerji, Fletcher and Chaudhuri, JJ.) KILLING VALLEY TEA CO. v. SECRETARY OF STATE. 48 Cal. 161: 61 I.C. 107: 32 C.L.J. 421 (F. B.)

——O. 18, R. 1—Applicant for mesne profits of property taken in execution of decree reversed on appeal, must begin.

Where a person took possession of property in execution of a decree which was afterwards reversed in appeal and the successful appellant claimed mesne profits, held, that O. 18, R. 1, Civil Procedure Code, which is applicable to miscellaneous proceedings through section 141, lays down that the plaintiff has the right to begin unless the defendant admits the facts alleged by the plaintiff, and that in a case like the present, the person claiming mesne profits is in the position of a plaintiff, as it is his petition that is the foundation of the proceedings and if he adduces no evidence at all, no mesne profits can be awarded to him. Section 2, clause (12), C.P. Code, defines mesne profits as those profits which a person in wrongful possession of such property actually received or might, with ordinary diligence, have received. The profit which a person actually received is a matter within the peculiar knowledge of that person and, under section 106 of the Evidence Act, the burden of proving the amounts actually received will lie on the person who received them ; but the burden of proving the profits that the person in occupation might have received will lie on the person who claims them. 8 Cal. 343 ; 3 W. R. Mis. 25, Dist. ; 9 C.L.R. 1, Ref. to. (Spencer and Venkatasubba Rao JJ.) RAMAKKA v. V. NAGESAM. 47 Mad. 800 : A.I.R. 1925 Mad 145 : 48 M. L. J. 89.

——O. 18, R 2—Written arguments—Judgment.

A case was adjourned to a certain date for arguments, but the parties were not ready and the Judge gave them liberty to put in written arguments. Then his predecessor came in, and, after a local inspection, he delivered judgment. Held, the parties had sufficient opportunity to argue the case and the judgment was not vitiated. (Harrison and Zafar Ali. JJ) HARJI MAL v. DEVI DITTA MAL. 4 Lah. 364 : 77 I. C. 398 : A. I. R. 1924 Lah. 107.

——O. 18, R. 2 (1)—'The day fixed for the hearing of the suit.'

In O. 18, R. 2 (1) " the day fixed for the hearing of the suit " does not mean or include the day on which issues are framed. (Neave, J.) MADHO LAL v. BANARSI DAS. L.R. 5 A. (Civ.) 582 : 82 I. C. 73 : A. I. R. 1925 All. 98.

——O. 18, R. 5—Deposition of witness—Not read over to him—Admissibility of deposition in subsequent trial for perjury—Evidence Act, Ss. 80 and 91.

Under O. 18, R. 5, C. P. Code, it is necessary that the deposition of a witness in an appealable case, in order to bind him to the statement recorded therein, should be read over to him. This provision is mandatory and not directory. The omission to do so renders the deposition inadmissible in evidence against him on his subsequent trial for perjury. S. 91 of the Evidence Act excludes oral evidence of its contents. 6 C. 762; 12 C.W.N. 845; 36 C. 955 ; 42 C. 240, Foll. 45 C.825 Not Foll. (Suhrawardy and Cuming, JJ.) EMPEROR v. NABAB ALI SARKAR. 51 Cal. 236 : 25 Cr. L. J. 1027 : 81 I. C. 803: A. I. R. 1924 Cal. 705.

——O. 18, Rr. 5—12—Small Cause Court—Deposition need not be read over—Admissibility in prosecution for perjury.

O. 18, Rr. 5 to 12, have no application to Courts constituted under the Provincial Small Cause Courts Act or exercising jurisdiction thereunder. It is not incumbent in such Courts to read over to witnesses their depositions and they would be clearly admissible in evidence in a prosecution for perjury. (Wadegaonkar, A J. C) KALU v. TIKARAM. 89 I C. 390 (2) : 26 Cr. L.J. 1350 (2) : A. I R. 1925 Nag 412.

——O. 18, Rr. 5 and 6—Provisions directory—Penal Code, S. 193—Deposition not interpreted to and accused—Evidence Act, Ss. 80 and 90

The provisions of O.18, Rr.5, and 6, C.P. Code, are directory, and non compliance with them does not render the deposition inadmissible at a subsequent trial of the deponent for perjury. If the deposition has not been read over to the witness in the presence of the presiding Judge, it does not prove itself under S. 80, Evidence Act but it may be proved in some other way. The Judge who recorded it can prove it or the accused can admit it. S. 91 Evidence Act, merely excludes the oral contents of a deposition but does not make it inadmissible in evidence. 28 P. R. 1918, 25 P. R. 1890 and 45 Cal. 825 Foll. 42 Mad. 561 Not Foll. (Prideaux, A. J. C.) MIRABUX v. EMPEROR, 18 N. L. R. 192 : 23 Cr. L. J. 500 : 68 I, C. 36 : A. I. R. 1923 Nag 39.

——O. 18, R. 5 and O. 26, R. 17—Applicability.

The provisions of the Code as in force in Oudh shall apply to wttnesses examined on commission equally with witnesses examined in Court. (Daniels, A,J.C.) MT. FEROZA JAN v. MIRZA AMIR ALI.

9 O. L. J. 593 : 24 Cr. L. J. 781 : 74 I. C. 445 : A. I. R. 1923 Oudh 119.

——O. 18, R. 11—Refusal to examine.

Any particular answer, after it is given, may be ruled out as irrelevant, but no Court can say beforehand that all the evidence not yet taken is going to be irrelevant and the Court's belief that the evidence is biassed is not a valid ground for refusing to record it. (Batten, J. C. and Hallifax, A. J. C.) BHAGCHAND v. MUSAJI. A. I. R. 1923 Nag. 58.

——O. 18, R. 18—Result of inspection cannot be the foundation of judgment—It should be used to test the accuracy of other evidence—It need not be recorded.

Though the present Code empowers the Court to go on local inspection of any property in respect of which it is called upon to decide a question in controversy, it is still the duty of the Court not to make the result of such inspection the foundation of its judgment which must be based upon evidence adduced by the parties. It does not entitle the Judge to put his view obtained by means of such inspection in place of evidence. The Judge is to hold such inspection for the purpose of better following and understanding the evidence adduced before him or to test its accuracy. The Code nowhere lays down that the result of a local enquiry must be placed on record. (Suhrawardy and Graham, JJ.) RAJ CHANDRA BANIK v. ISWAR CHANDRA

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908). O. 18, R. 18.

BANIK. 80 I. C. 292 · A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 170.

——O. 18, R. 18—Local inspection by Judge—Decision should not be based solely on.

No decision should be based solely on local inspection of the Judge. (Abdul Raoof and Campbell, JJ.) TIRATH RAM v. MD. ABDUL RAHIM.
73 I. C. 616 : A. I. R. 1923 Lah. 546.

——O. 19, R. 3—Affidavits should clearly specify what statements are made on knowledge and what on belief.

Every affidavit should clearly express how much is a statement of the deponent's knowledge and how much a statement of belief, in which case the grounds of belief must be stated. Failure to distinguish between the two would be taken to mean they are swearing to facts within their own knowledge, which will entail all its necessary consequences. (Miller, C. J. and Kulwant Sahay, J.) CHANDRIKA PRASAD SINGH v. HIRA LAL. 5 Pat. L. T. 124 : 73 I. C. 721 : A. I. R 1924 Pat. 312.

——O 20—Judgment—Contents of.

The omission in a judgment to make special mention of oral evidence is not in itself sufficient to show that, as a matter of fact, the Judge did not consider the evidence. (Teunon and Newbould, JJ.) MATIWOR RASUK v. DHANU MOLLA. 59 I.C. 963 (Cal.).

——O. 20, R. 1—Invalid pronouncement—Decree following—Decree should not be violated.

Where a decree follows a judgment which was not validly pronounced, the decree cannot be violated so long as it stands. (Kanhaiya Lal and Mukerji, JJ.) KHARAK SINGH v LACCHAM SINGH.
47 All. 332 : 23 A.L.J. 145 : L. R. 6 A. (Civ.) 131 : 86 I. C. 869 : A. I. R. 1925 All. 293 (2).

——O. 20, R. 1 Parties absent—No notice to parties—Judgment is not validly pronounced.

A judgment signed, dated and delivered in the absence of the parties or their pleaders and without previous notice to them is not validly pronounced. (Kanhaiya Lal and Mukerji, JJ.) KHARAK SINGH v. LACCHAM SINGH. 47 All. 332 : 23 A. L. J. 145 : L. R. 6 A. (Civ.) 131 : 86 I. C. 869 : A. I. R. 1925 All. 293 (2).

——O. 20, R. 1—Posting of notice announcing of appeal on notice board is not sufficient compliance with R. 1.

The posting of a notice upon the notice board of the Court announcing the result of an appeal is not a sufficient compliance with the requirements of Rule 1 as to the pronouncements of judgments in open Court. The practice of omitting to pronounce judgments in open Court is both inconvenient to the parties and in direct opposition to an express provision of law. The case should be considered still pending for want of a delivered judgment. (Spencer and Ramesam, JJ.) TARIGOPULA v. KOMINENI SESHAMMA.
14 L. W. 514 : 64 I.C. 82 : (1921) M. W. N. 866 : 41 M. L. J. 385.

——O. 20, R. 2—Judgment—Pronouncement of, can be made by successor.

A Judge may pronounce a judgment written but not pronounced by his predecessor notwithstanding that the latter wrote it when he had ceased to be the Judge of the Court in which the case was tried. (Tudball and Rafique, JJ.) LILAWATI KUAR v. CHOTEY SINGH. 42 All. 362 : 61 I. C. 932 : 18 A. L. J. 356.

——O. 20, R. 2—Rule if mandatory - Judgment written by predecessor—Ceasing to be a Judge—Effect.

O. 20, R. 2 is not mandatory and a Judge may, if he sees reason to do so, refuse to pronounce a judgment written by his predecessor. The pronouncement of a judgment is the last act of the trial of a suit and is a material part of the trial. It is not an act which can be performed by any other person than a Judge of the Court in which the suit was tried. Where, however, the predecessor in office had ceased to exercise judicial functions, his order is a nullity. (MacColl, J.C.) MAUNG BA v. MAUNG YE. 4 U. B. R. 171 : 76 I. C. 170 : A. I. R. 1294 Rang. 358.

C P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 20, R. 4.

——O. 20, R. 3 and O. 21, R. 2—Judgment—Decree—Application for certificate of satisfaction.

A decree though drawn up subsequent to the day on which judgment was delivered, must bear the date of the judgment and a certificate of satisfaction of the decree between the date of the judgment and the date when the decree was actually drawn up is valid. (Pearson and Graham, JJ.) GIRIBALA DASI v. BISWAMBHAR HOLDAR. 40 C. L. J. 87 : 82 I. C. 746 : A. I. R. 1924 Cal. 1064.

——O. 20, R. 3—Judgment dictated to shorthand writer—Transcript cannot be amended.

O. 20, R. 3 of the C. P. Code as amended by the Madras Rules does not authorise the Judge to revise the transcript and to substitute fresh words for the words which fell from his mouth to any extent he may deem necessary. Where a judgment is dictated to a shorthand-writer the revision contemplated cannot be of the effective part of the judgment and must be of the nature referred to in S. 152, and one relating to "clerical and arithmetical mistakes arising from any accidental slip or omission." (Oldfield, J.) HARI KRISHNA PILLAI v. ARUR PANDITHER. 18 L. W. 105 : 72 I C. 688 : (1923) M. W. N. 3 4 · A. I. R. 1923 Mad. 663.

——O. 20, R. 3—Recalling.

Court cannot recall order duly made in exercise of inherent jurisdiction save on review or under S. 152. (Das and Ross, JJ.) RAMCHARAN SINGH v. JANGA BAHADUR SINGH 5 Pat. L. T. 631 : 79 I. C. 900 : A. I. R. 1924 Pat. 696.

——O. 20, R. 4—Judgment—Personal inspection by Judge alone is not sufficient material for.

Where a judicial officer decides a dispute solely on knowledge gained by him on personal inspection and without any reference to the evidence in the case, the judgment is liable to be set aside in revision. (Woodroffe and Ghose, JJ.) ABDUL HUQ v. MAHOMED DIN. 67 I. C. 302 : A. I. R. 1923 Cal. 311.

——O. 20, R. 4—Judgment—Contents of—Unsatisfactory—Remand.

Where the judgment of a trial Court is meagre, unsatisfactory and unintelligible, the appellate Court could remand the case for the recording of a proper judgment after hearing arguments afresh. (Shadi Lal and Wilberforce, J.) HARBHAGWAN v. AHMAD.
4 Lah. L. J. 55 : A. I. R. 1922 Lah. 122 (1).

——O. 20, R. 4—Judgment jumbling up all points together and containing statement that "all issues are found in plaintiffs' favour" does not comply with the rule.

Where a Judge clubs together all points for determination and makes a statement merely to the effect that he finds all the issues in favour of the plaintiffs, that cannot be regarded as a compliance with the provisions of O. 20, R. 4. (Srinivasa Aiyangar, J.) MOIDEEN KOYA v. K. MOIDEEN KUTTI HAJI.
90 I. C. 968 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad 1229 : 49 M L. J. 354.

——O. 20, R. 4—Judgment of Small Cause Court—Contents of.

O. 20, R. 4, C. P. Code, is self-contained and a judgment of a Small Cause Court need not contain more than the points for decision and the decision thereon. 12 L. W. 285, Dissented from. (Spencer and Krishnan, JJ.) KOMAPPA KURUP v. VELAYI CHETTICHIAR. 15 L. W. 642 : 31 M.L.T. 124 (H. C.) : A. I. R. 1922 Mad. 360 : 42 M. L. J. 583.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 20, R. 4.

——— O. 20, R. 4—Small Cause Court judgment need not contain reasons for decision nor concise statement.

A Court of Small Causes need not give reasons for its decision and need not give even a concise statement of the case. (Simpson, A. J. C.) SHIVA SEWAK v. JANGLI. A. I. R. 1925 Oudh 648.

——— O. 20, R. 4—Small Cause Court's judgment must contain points for determination and decision thereon.

The judgment of a Court of Small Causes must contain the points for determination and the decision thereon. A judgment therefore consisting only of words "the claim is decreed with costs" is liable to be set aside by the High Court in revision. (Dalal, J. C.) BHUDHER SINGH v. SHEIKH SAHAMAT. 79 I. C. 547 : A. I. R. 1925 Oudh 283.

——— O. 20, R. 4—Judgment of Small Cause Court

Small Cause Court Judge can reduce his remarks to intelligible minimum containing points of determination (Bucknill, J) SRIMATI SURADHANI DEBI v. HARI CHARAN MAHTO. 1921 P. H. C. C. 298 : 3 P. L. T. 122 : A. I. R. 1922 Pat. 337.

——— O. 20, R. 4—Judgments of Small Cause Court should contain reasons for decision.

As a matter of practice, it is usual even in cases tried by Courts of Small Causes, except in comparatively unimportant cases of everyday occurrence such as those for the recovery of petty debts, to say out the particulars of the suit and to give reasons for the decision arrived at, thus enabling the High Court, in revision, to satisfy itself that the decree or order was according to law without the necessity of perusing the whole record. The words "need not" in O. 20, R. 4 were not meant to be read as "shall not". (May Oung, J.) MAUNG SA v. MA U MA. 1 Rang.274 : 2 Bur. L. J 108 : 76 I. C. 600 : A. I. R. 1923 Rang. 252.

——— O. 20, R. 4 (1)—Provincial Small Cause Courts Act, S. 25—Judgment of Small Cause Court—Contents of

The judgment of a Small Cause Judge should contain a brief statement of the reasons for the decision, to satisfy the High Court that the Judge did apply his mind to the matters before him. (Seshagiri Aiyar, J.) KANDASAMI CHETTY v. RAMALINGA CHETTY. 59 I. C. 906 : 12 L. W. 285.

[But see 15 L. W. 642.]

——— O. 20, R, 7—Date of decree.

Where a person has the judgment of the Court that he shall have a decree, he then obtains his decree. The decree, when drawn up afterwards, relates back to that time. 17 Cal. 347, Ref. (Chatterjee and Panton, JJ.) RAM KANAI PAL v. PUNNA CHANDRA. 65 I. C. 650 : 34 C. L. J. 494.

——— O. 20, R. 7—Date of decree—Decree drawn up after judgment.

The date of a decree is the date on which judgment is pronounced. This is so even if the decree is drawn up subsequently and the decree must be deemed to have come into existence on the date when the judgment was pronounced. (Kotwal, A. J. C.) NARAIN v. RAMDULARE. 66 I. C. 7 : A. I. R. 1922 Nag. 113 (1).

——— O. 20, R. 7—Date of decree is date of delivery of judgment.

A judgment written and signed on a particular date but not delivered in open Court till some time later must be deemed to have been delivered on the day on which it was pronounced in open Court. The decree should bear the date on which the judgment was actually pronounced in open Court and not when it was written and signed. For purposes of limitation for appeal, time should be calculated from the date on which the judgment was actually pronounced in Court. (Miller, C. J. and Mullick, J.) SAGARMAL MARWARI v. LACHMISARAN MISIR. 1 P. 771 : 75 I. C. 879 : A. I. R. 1923 Pat. 129.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 20, R. 12.

——— O. 20, R. 10—Maintenance—Suit for value of grain—Form of decree.

Where a maintenance holder brings a suit to recover the value of the grain which under a Karar the defendant was bound to pay but which he failed to pay, O. 20, R. 10 does not apply and the Court is not bound to decree in the first instance payment in grain and in the alternative its money value. (Prideaux, A. J. C.) BHONAJEE v. MT. SARASWATI. A. I. R. 1924 Nag. 176.

——— O. 20, R. 11 and S. 48—Order for payment by instalments upon compromise - Limitation—Extension.

The parties agreed that the decretal amount should be paid by instalments and it appeared that the Court accepted the compromise and consequently passed an order striking off the execution proceedings. Held, the Court, when accepting the request of the parties, intended that the decretal amount should be payable by instalments ; and the order which was passed was in essence and substance one made under S. 210 of the C. P. Code, which extended the period of limitation. (Shadi Lal, C. J. and Fforde, J.) BANARSI DAS v. RAMZAN RAJ BIBI. 73 I.C. 671: A.I.R. 1923 Lah. 381: [On Appeal from]. 72 I. C. 477.

——— O. 20, R. 11—Compromise filed in execution—Payment postponed—Time for executing decree not extended.

In execution of a decree the parties filed a compromise whereby the decretal amount was to be paid by half yearly instalments and on default of 4 instalments the decree-holder was to be at liberty to execute the decree for the full amount. The Executing Court thereupon passed the following order : "In accordance with the compromise the proceedings be filed as unsatisfied as the decree-holder says that he will now act on the new contract." Held, that by the filing of this compromise the time for execution of the decree was not in any way extended. Before any order could be passed under S. 210 (now O. 20, R, 11) the application on which such an order is made must be within time. 26 P. R. 1894, Foll. (Broadway, J.) BANARSI DAS v. RAMZAN. 72 I. C. 477 : A. I. R. 1924 Lah. 342.

[See on appeal 73 I. C. 671 : A. I. R. 1923 Lah. 477.]

——— O 20, R. 11—Instalment decree—Grounds.

The fact that the estate of the defendants has been brought under the management of the Court of Wards is not a reason for allowing instalments. (Martineau and Moti Sagar, JJ.) WALID DAD KHAN v. MANI RAM. 5 Lah. L. J. 571 : 73 I. C. 800 : A.I.R. 1923 Lah. 256.

——— O. 20, R. 12—Trial Court's decree affirmed by High Court and also by P. C.—Trial Court directing award of mesne profits from date of its decree up to recovery of possession—Possession delivered within three years of Privy Council decree—Award of mesne profits from trial Court's decree to recovery of possession does not contravene R. 12.

Where a trial Court's decree directing the award of mesne profits from the date of its decree up to recovery of possession was affirmed by the High Court in appeal and also by the Privy Council, and the date of recovery of possession was within 3 years of the decree of the Privy Council : Held, that the 'decree' in O. 20, R. 12 being the Privy Council decree, the order awarding mesne profits from the trial Court's decree up to the recovery of possession was not on contravention of R 12. (Viscount Findlay.) BAIJNATH GONEKA v. NANDA KUMAR SINGH. 28 C. W. N. 50 : 84 I. C. 267 : 22 L. W. 85 : A. I. R. 1925 P. C. 113 (P. C.).

——O. 20, R. 12 and S. 47—Order that defendants are liable to account as legal representatives of deceased judgment-debtor—Amount due not determined—Order is not appealable.

O. 20, R. 12 enables the Court to direct an enquiry to be made as to the rents and mesne profits to which the plaintiff may be entitled. Such an enquiry is made in the course of a proceeding in continuation of the original suit, and under rule 12, clause (2), a final decree is to be prepared in respect of the mesne profits which may be awarded in accordance with the result of such an enquiry. From such a final decree an appeal is maintainable. But where the order of the Court below merely directs that the defendants are liable to render accounts as the legal representatives of the deceased judgment-debtor and the amount for which they are liable has not been determined the question which has been actually determined by the Court below is merely a question relating to the substitution of the names of the defendants in the place of the deceased and their liability to render the accounts directed by the decree as his legal representatives. It is not a question relating to the execution, satisfaction or discharge of a decree. S. 47 therefore has no application. It is at best an interlocutory order and no appeal is maintainable but the defendants can raise the plea of their non-liability in the appeal from the final decree. Lindsay and Kanhaiya Lal, JJ.) RUDRA PRATAB v. SARDAK MAHESH. 23 A. L. J. 458 : L. R. 6 All. 359 : 87 I. C. 322 : 47 All. 543 : A. I. R. 1925 All. 588.

——O. 20, R. 12—Decree for possession—Plaintiff is entitled also to mesne profits.

Where possession is decreed to a plaintiff, he is entitled to a further decree for mesne profits from the date of the suit up to the date of taking possession. (Banerji and Tudball, JJ.) MUHAMMAD JUNAID v. AULIA BIBI. 42 All. 497 : 61 I. C. 947 : 18 A. L. J. 613.

——O. 20, R. 12—Mesne profits—Application for ascertaining—Nature of.

Under O. 20, R. 12 an application for the determination of mesne profits is an application in the suit. (Suhrawardy and Duval, JJ.) JANAKINATH SINGHA ROY v. NIRODE BARAN ROY. 90 I. C. 811.

——O. 20, R. 12—Amount of mesne profits exceeding Court's jurisdiction—Plaint should be returned.

If the plaintiff makes an application in the suit for mesne profits in excess of the pecuniary jurisdiction of the Court, the proper procedure for the Judge is to return the plaint to the plaintiff for presentation to the proper Court for decision. 43 C. 650, Foll. (Walmsley and B. B. Ghose, JJ.) JOGNESWAR CHATTERJEE v. SURENDRA NATH. 38 C. L. J. 142 : 76 I. C. 343 : A. I. R. 1924 Cal. 167.

——O. 20, Rr. 12 and 18—Not exhaustive as to cases of preliminary decree.

The cases mentioned in O. 20 of the C. P. Code are not exhaustive of the orders which may form the basis of final decrees. (Mookerjee and Rankin, JJ.) RAJA PEARE MOHAN MOOKERJEE v. MANOHAR MOOKERJEE. 27 C. W. N. 989 : 38 C. L. J. 255 : 74 I. C. 373 : A. I. R. 1924 Cal. 160.

——O. 20, R. 12—'Three years'—Calculation must be made from date of appellate decree

The period of three years for payment of mesne profits after suit should be calculated from the date of the ultimate decree on appeal, which is the only decree capable of execution. In no case can the plaintiff claim mesne profits for any period subsequent to an offer by the defendant to restore him possession. (Mookerjee and Panton, JJ.) RAJA SASHIKANTA v. RAJA SARAT CHANDRA. 70 I. C. 6 : 34 C. L. J. 415.

——O. 20, R. 12—Suit for possession by heir—Enquiry into mesne profits from date of suit should be directed.

Where a person claiming as heir to an estate obtains a decree for possession against an alienee from the widow of the last male owner, the preliminary decree should direct an enquiry into mesne profits from the date of suit till delivery of possession. (Wilberforce and Martineau, JJ.) MUSSAMMAT NISIB-UN-NISSA v. MT. AHMADI-UN-NISSA. 66 I. C. 494 (2) : 2 Lah. 383.

——O. 20, R. 12—Determination of mesne profits.

An application for the determination of mesne profits is an application in the suit. (Suhrawardy and Duval, JJ.) JANAKINATH SINGHA ROY v. NIRODE BARAN ROY. 90 I. C. 811 : A. I. R. 1926 Cal. 175.

——O. 20, R. 12—Mesne profits (future) awarded by preliminary decree for possession—Application for ascertainment of—Maintainability – Res judicata—Prior execution petitions praying for same relief—Dismissal of, but not on merits—Effect.

A preliminary decree for possession of immoveable property awarded mesne profits subsequent to suit. On an application filed by plaintiff under O. 20, R. 12, C. P. Code, for ascertainment of those profits, held, that the same was not barred by res judicata by reason of the fact that the plaintiff had previously filed execution petitions for ascertainment of those profits under the erroneous impression that they were to be ascertained in execution and that that those petitions were dismissed either because of plaintiff's laches or because he did not press that relief.

After the passing of a preliminary decree the dismissal of an application not on the merits, but owing to say, non-appearance of the plaintiff or laches on his part, cannot result in the dismissal of the suit itself. (Phillips and Venkatasubba Rao, JJ.) MANTINA RAMACHANDRA RAJU v. SRI RAJA MANTRIPRAGODA BHUJANGA RAO. 19 L. W. 69 : 79 I. C. 635 : 33 M. L. T. 261 (H. C.) : (1924) M. W. N. 115 : A. I. R. 1924 Mad. 473 : 46 M. L. J. 46.

——O. 20, R. 12—Decree for possession—Duty of appellate Court is to pass preliminary decree itself.

In cases falling within O. 20, R. 12 of the C. P. Code, the proper course for the appellate Court to take, is not to remand the suit where it finds that a person is entitled to possession but to pass a preliminary decree so far as possession is concerned and direct an enquiry as to the mesne profits in cases where the lower Court has not dealt with the question. Where an appellate Court can pass a preliminary decree it is its duty to do so and a remand as to matters which can be the subject-matter of the preliminary decree is not warranted. (Kumaraswami Sastri and Devadoss, JJ.) SUBBE GOUNDAN v. KRISHNAMACHARI. 45 Mad. 449 : 30 M. L. T. 217 : 15 L. W. 537 : (1922) M. W. N. 269 : 68 I. C. 869 : A. I. R. 1922 Mad. 112 : 42 M. L. J. 372.

——O. 20, R 12—Mesne profits—Ascertainment of—Nature of proceedings—Interest on profits.

An application for ascertainment of mesne profits is not under the new C. P. Code an application in execution but is a part of the suit and in continuation thereof. The right to apply for mesne profits will arise either when the delivery of possession is actually given or three years, expire from the date of the preliminary decree. An application to ascertain mesne profits would be governed by Art. 181 of the Lim. Act. (Jwala Prasad, A. C. J. and Kulwant Sahay, J.) HARAKHPAN MISSIRIF v. JAGDEO MISSIRE.

C P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 20, R. 12.

4 P. 57 : 1924 P. H. C. C. 265 : 5 Pat. L. T. 626 : 84 I. C. 272 : 3 P. L. R. 32 : A. I. R. 1924 Pat. 781.

——0. 20, R. 12—Mesne profits exceeding pecuniary jurisdiction—Court can grant decree for.

The proper Court in which one has to institute proceedings for the ascertainment of mesne profits is the Court passing the decree even though the claim exceeds its ordinary pecuniary jurisdiction. (Das and Ross, JJ.) SURAJ PRASAD PANDAY v. SOMRA MAHTON. 68 I. C. 903 : 2 Pat. L. T. 648.

——0. 20, R. 12—Application for assessment of mesne profits—Dismissal for default operates as res judicata.

Where in a suit for partition and possession together with a claim for mesne profits, the claim for partition and possession is effectively disposed of, and an application for the determination of mesne profits is dismissed for default, no fresh application for the assessment of the mesne profits can be entertained. (Atkinson and Das, JJ.) KAPILMAN MISSER v. KOKILMAN MISSER 62 I. C. 747 : 1921 P. H. C. C. 25.

——0. 20, R. 12—Mesne profits—Amount exceeding jurisdiction—Court has power to pass decree for.

Under R. 12, a Court which can pass a decree for possession can also make inquiry into the mesne profits pendente lite and pass a decree therefor though the sum actually found due exceeds the pecuniary jurisdiction of the Court. (Das and Adami, JJ.) DINANATH SAHAI v. MAYAWATI KOER. 6 Pat. L. J. 54 : 60 I. C. 346 : 2 P. L. T. 143 : 1921 P. H. C C. 69.

——0. 20, R. 12—Future mesne profits—Court-fee.

Fees are payable on the difference between the amount paid on the mesne profits claimed in the plaint and the amount ascertained to be due subsequent to the filing of the suit. (Rigg, J.) DAWOOD v. RAHMAN. 10 L. B. R. 276 : 62 I. C. 175 : 13 Bur. L. T. 165.

——0. 20, R. 12 (1) (c)—Nature of application under—Limitation Act, Art. 181—Applicability.

An application for mesne profits to be ascertained under the inquiry under O. 20, R. 12 (1) (c) is not an application made under the Code of Civil Procedure nor an application in execution. It is an application to the Court to proceed from the stage or preliminary decree to a final decree and Art. 181 of the Limitation Act does not apply. (Pratt and Marten, JJ.) THANA ZALAJI v. DHANA JAWHRJI. 77 I. C. 497 : A. I. R. 1923 Bom. 268.

——0. 20, R. 12 (1) (c)—Mesne profits—Liability for period between date of judgment-debtor's relinquishment of possession with private notice to decree-holder and date of formal delivery through Court.

Where after the passing of a decree for mesne profits against them, the judgment debtor relinquished possession with private notice to the decree-holder but the decree-holder claimed mesne profits up to the date of formal delivery of possession through Court under O. 20, R. 12 (1), held, that as the decree-holder did not refuse the notice unless it is given through Court, he cannot claim mesne profits in respect of the period subsequent to the relinquishment. Mesne profits include profits which the judgment-debtor "might with ordinary diligence have received" but mesne profits are in the nature of damages which the Court may mould according to the justice of the cause. (Richardson and Huda, JJ.) SHAMBHU NATH KHETTRI

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 20, R. 14.

v. SATISH CHANDRA. 66 I. C. 49 : 25 C. W N. 369.

——0. 20, R. 13—Administration suit in Rangoon High Court—Change in form of preliminary decree was recommended—Practice—Rangoon High Court.

It is advisable that the form of preliminary decree in administration suits in the Rangoon High Court should be revised by the High Court, so that there can in future be no question as to a conflict of authority between the High Court administration suit and a District Court which had an administrator of the same estate. (Sir John Edge.) MA CHIT SU v. NATIONAL BANK OF INDIA. L. R. 6 P. C. 185 : (1925) M W. N. 847 : A. I. R. 1925 P. C. 261 (P.C.).

——0. 20, R. 14—Pre-emption—Decree, form of—Date of payment to be fixed.

The proper form of a decree for pre-emption is laid down in O. 20, R. 14 and the date by which the purchase money should be paid must be specified. It is not a compliance with this direction of the law to say that the money is to be paid within 60 days of the date on which the decree becomes final. (Lindsay and Kanhaiya Lal, JJ.) JAGAT NARAIN LAL v. SHEIKH HAWALDAR. L. R. 6 A. 597 : 90 I. C. 287 (1).

——0. 20, R. 14—Construction—Time for depositing decree amount—Last day a holiday—Deposit on next day.

Where the last day allowed to the plff. for depositing the price in a pre-emption suit expired on a holiday the plff. complies with the decree by depositing the amount on the next Court day. 41 A. 47 overruled, 3 A. 850 ; 18 C. 631, Foll. (Piggott, Lindsay and Sulaiman, JJ.) MAHOMED JAN v. SHIAM LAL.
22 A. L. J. 110 : 46 A. 328 : L. R. 5 A. 88 : 78 I. C. 1014 : A. I. R. 1924 All 218 (F. B.)

——0. 20, R. 14 — Court can extend time for payment.

A Court has discretion to extend the time for payment of pre-emption money in Court. Where the date fixed for payment happened to come in vacation, the money was allowed to be deposited on the day the Court opened. 13 A. 189 and 10 A. L J. 421, Ref. (Rafique and Lindsay, JJ.) GIRDHARI SINGH v. BHUPAL SINGH. 45 A. 456 : 74 I. C. 745 : A. I. R. 1923 All. 516.

——0. 20, R. 14—Vendee not entitled to possession—Rule does not apply.

Where the vendee is not entitled to prevent possession the provisions of O. 20, R. 14, C. P. Code, are not applicable (Lindsay and Daniels, JJ.) RAGHUBIR SINGH v. JODHA SINGH. 45 A. 482 : 73 I. C. 646 : 21 A. L. J. 417 : L. R. 4 A. 223 : A. I. R. 1923 All. 507.

——0. 20, R. 14—Pre-emption—Satisfaction of decree—Limitation.

If the decree-holder in a pre-emption suit fails to deposit the decretal amount on the last day fixed, it being Sunday, he does not comply with the decree as the payment on the next Monday is beyond time. Then automatically under O. 20, R. 14 (b) his suit for pre-emption stands dismissed. 41 All. 47, followed. (Ryves, J.) FATEH MAHOMED CHAUDHURI v. M. SITA CHAUDHRAIN. A. I. R. 1922 All. 278.

——0. 20, R. 14—Pre-emption—Ownership begins when pre-emption money is paid in Court and not before.

A pre-emptor acquires a right in the land pre-empted only when he has paid the money in accordance with the decree recognising his right. (Marlineau and Moti Sagar, JJ.) NADIR ALI SHAH v. WALI.
5 Lah. 486 : 85 I. C. 182 : A. I. R. 1925 Lah. 202.

——0. 20, R. 14—Pre-emption — Decree for—

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 20, R. 14.

Full amount not deposited—Suit stands dismissed.

A decree for pre-emption was passed in favour of the plaintiff, on payment of Rs. 381-14-3 and Rs 2-2-9 were awarded as costs. He paid Rs. 381-14-3, that is to say, he deducted the amount of costs. In appeal the amount of the price was raised to Rs. 470 by compromise. The Court passed a decree in accordance with the compromise and further ordered that parties were to bear their own costs in both the Courts below. Further, the plaintiff only deposited Rs. 86-2-0 more which, added to the amount of Rs. 381-14-3 already deposited, brought the total to Rs. 468-0-3. Therefore there was a deficiency of Rs. 2-2-9. Held, that the decree on appeal was not sufficiently complied with and the suit should stand dismissed. 10 A. 400 and 34 A. 593 Dist. (Abdul Raoof, J.) ISHAR SINGH v. PESHWARI RAI. 69 I. C. 516 : A. I. R. 1924 Lah. 384.

——O. 20, R. 14—Failure to deposit money by mistake.

When the decree-holder in a pre-emption suit fails by mistake to deposit the full price in Court, the judgment-debtor is entitled to apply for possession of the property by restitution if he is already dispossessed and the contention that the mistake was made by an official of the court is unsound where it cannot be said with certainty which of the officials of the Court had made the calculation and whether it was made under the authority of the Court. (Abdul Raoof, J.) MEHR DIN v. BRIJ LAL. A. I R. 1923 Lah. 2[illegible]0.

——O. 20, R. 14—Decree silent as to standing crops—Plaintiff entitled to them on paying money into Court.

Where a decree was passed for possession but there was no mention as to crops in the decree, held, that the defendant could have removed the crops before the pre-emption money was paid into Court. After it was paid he had no right to them. As soon as the plaintiff paid the pre-emption morey he became the owner of the land with its legal incident, the crops attached to it. (Kotval, A. J. C.) BAPU v. VITHOBA. 76 I. C. 193 : A. I. R. 1923 Nag. 327.

——O. 20, R. 14—Pre-emption decree—Costs not directed to be deposited—Effect.

Where the decree directs pre-emption on depositing a certain amount in Court and though costs are awarded, the same is made in a separate order, costs need not be deposited along with the pre-emption amount. (Kanhaiya Lal, J. C.) NILKANTH v. MAHABIR SINGH. 26 O. C. 345 : 74 I. C. 558 : 9 O. & A. L. R. 207 : A. I. R. 1924 Oudh 104.

——O. 20, R. 14—Pre-emption decree one for possession—Pre-emptor should pay encumbrances paid by vendee—Oudh Laws Act, Ch. II.

Where a property subject to a right of pre-emption is sold and after the sale the vendee pays off encumbrances on that property, this payment ought to be included in the purchase money specified in the decree for pre-emption. 2 I. A. 7 Ref. The pre-emption decree may be moulded in accordance with the justice of the case. 17 O. C. 379 Ref. The general principle is that a plaintiff suing for possession will not obtain an unconditional decree in cases, where the party in possession has satisfied an encumbrance subsisting upon the estate at the time he came into possession, which otherwise the plaintiff himself would have to meet. There may be cases in which a Court would hold that the vendee had paid off encumbrance in bad faith or improvidently, and would refuse to add this payment to the money payable under the pre-emption decree; or the interests of third parties may be involved. The general rule does apply to pre-emption decrees like other decrees for possession of property. (Dalal and Simpson, A. J. Cs.) BALDEO SINGH v. DEPUTY COMMISSIONER OF KHERI. 10 O. L. J. 112 : 74 I. C. 503 : A. I. R. 1924 Oudh 1.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 20, R. 16.

——O. 20, R. 15—Suit for taking the accounts of a dissolved partnership—Decree in favour of defendant.

A decree can be passed in favour of a defendant in a suit for the taking of partnership accounts under O. 20, R 15, C. P. Code, if it turns out that on taking accounts there is a balance due to the defendant instead of to the plaintiff. (Daniels and Neave, JJ.) RAM CHARAN v. BULAQI. 22 A. L. J. 783 : L. R. 5 A. 563 : 46 All. 858 : A. I. R. 1924 All. 854 (2).

——O. 20, Rr. 16 and 17—Preliminary decree not directing scope of Commissioner's examination is bad—Appointment of Commissioner is for saving public time—Directions in Rule 17 must be followed.

A preliminary decree without any directions as to the scope of the examination by Commissioner such as the circumstances of the case require, is bound to operate to the prejudice and harassment of the defendant to which he should not be subjected, if the account papers are not due from him and he has not been called upon to explain them. It is open to objection if it delegates to the Commissioner the functions which legitimately appertain to the Court. It is to prevent waste of public time that resort is to be had to the appointment of a Commissioner, but when it is found necessary to have recourse to the provisions of O. 20, R. 16, the Judge should follow the directions contained in O. 20, R. 17 and furnish the Commissioner with such part of the proceedings and such detailed instructions as appear necessary. (Greaves and Mukerji, JJ.) BHARAT CHANDRA v. KIRAN CHANDRA RAI. 52 Cal. 766: A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 1069.

——O. 20, R. 16 and O. 26, R. 11—Commissioner is to determine the quantum and not the factum of liability of an agent which is for the determination of the Court only.

It is not open to any principal who has got all the accounts of his agent in his possession to employ the machinery of the Courts for examining his accounts on the off-chance of making his agent liable for any sum which on such examination may be found due from him. It is contrary to the spirit of O. 20, R. 16, C. P. Code, to authorise a Commissioner to determine not merely the quantum but the factum of liability of an agent, a matter which falls entirely within the province of the Court. The words of that rule as also of Rule 11 of O. 26 clearly indicate that before an order can be made for appointment of a Commissioner the examination or adjustment of accounts or the taking of accounts must be considered necessary. Where the order for examination of the accounts is made without proper findings or materials, the decree is not justified. 19 W. R 14, 1 I. A. 346 and A. O. D. No. 323 of 1875 (Unrep.), Foll. (Greaves and Mukerji, JJ.) BHARAT CHANDRA v. KIRAN CHANDRA RAI. 52 Cal. 766: A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 1069.

——O. 20, R. 16—Suit on accounts between principal and agent is within the operation of the rule.

The rule also applies to suit on an account between a principal and the agent. The rule is wide enough to include cases where the Court instead of settling the account considers it necessary to stay its hand to ascertain the money due to or from any party by having an account taken before a Commissioner. (Fawcett, J. C. and Raymond, A. J. C.) HARJIMAL AND SONS v. DHANPATMAL DEWACHAND. 62 I.C. 537 : 15 S. L. R 16.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 20, R. 18.

——O. 20, R. 18—Partition suit—Preliminary decree silent as to interest—Interest can be awarded in a proper case.

Where in a partition suit, a preliminary decree is passed for partition and for taking accounts but the decree is silent as to interest, it is competent to the Court to award interest in a proper case. (Marten and Fawcett, JJ.) KESARLAL GIRDHAR LAL v. JAGUBHAI HIRALAL. 49 Bom. 282 : 27 Bom. L. R. 226 : A. I. R. 1925 Bom. 406.

——O. 20, R. 18 and O. 40, R. 1—Appointment of receiver continues till order of discharge by Court.

A Receiver is an officer of the Court, and as long as the order appointing the receiver remains unreversed, and as long as the suit remains lis pendens, his functions continue until he is discharged by order of the Court. Hence the mere passing of a preliminary decree in a partition suit, declaring the shares of the parties in the estate, and directing partition of the property other than the agricultural land does not put an end to the appointment of the receiver, and, despite the provisions of O. 20, R. 18, it is legal for the Court to pass an order for ad interim injunction restraining interference with the receiver's possession of agricultural land. (Shadi Lal, C. J. and Le Rossignol, J.) SHANKAR DAS v. BEHARI LAL. 6 Lah. 442 : 7 Lah. L. J. 239 : 89 I. C. 932 : 26 Punj. L. R. 564 : A. I. R. 1925 Lah. 445.

——O. 20, R. 18—Decree covering agricultural and other land—Decree is final regarding former—Interim injunction as to such is barred.

Where a decree had already been passed declaring the shares of the parties in the property and directing the partition of the property other than the agricultural land and taking of accounts, Held : that after the decree the Court was functus officio so far as the agricultural land was concerned and that the Court was not competent to issue an ad interim injunction in regard to the agricultural land after the decree had been passed. (Martineau, J.) BEHARI LAL v. LALA MOOLCHAND.
7 L. L. J. 4 : 86 I. C. 244 : A. I. R. 1925 Lah. 357 (1).

——O. 20, R. 18—Suit for partition—Difference between old Code and new—Interlocutory order—Order ascertaining sharers and their rights—Appeal.

Under the C. P. Code of 1882 there was but one decree in a suit for partition, the decree passed after the report of the Commissioners making the actual division. The order ascertaining the several parties interested in the property to be divided and their several rights therein, though treated as a decree in practice and styled as such, was not a preliminary decree but was only an interlocutory order. On an interlocutory application made by plaintiff in a suit for partition under the Code of 1882, for appointment of a Commissioner and for the taking of other necessary steps in the suit in pursuance of the order ascertaining the several parties interested in the suit property and their several rights therein, the Court passed an order negativing the plaintiff's right to profits in his share of the properties on the ground that the preliminary decree did not award to him such profits though he had prayed for them in the plaint. Held that the order was not appealable, being an interlocutory order and that the plaintiff was not therefore precluded in his appeal from the final and only decree in the suit from contesting its validity. (Oldfield and Venkatasubba Rao, JJ.) T. RAMASWAMI AIYAR v. T. SUBRAMANIA AIYAR.
16 L.W. 297: 46 M. 47: 74 I C. 804. A. I. R. 1923 Mad. 147 : 43 M. L. J. 406.

——O. 21—No applicability to—Sale under administrative order.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 21, R. 1.

A sale of property under administrative orders is not governed by O. 21, C. P. Code. (Martineau, J.) FIRM OF KAHNA MAL BANARSI DASS v. KAHNA MAL NATHU MAL.
40 P. L R. 1922 : 69 I. C. 718: A. I. R. 1924 Lah. 70.

——O. 21—Applicability—Sale by Receiver.

O. 21 does not apply to sales by Receivers though with approval of the Court which appointed them. (Kanhaiya Lal and Lindsay, JJ.) NARAIN DAS v. RAM CHANDRA. 90 I. C. 116 : L. R. 6 A. 610.

——O. 21, R. 1—Court closed on the day fixed for payment—Payment made on re-opening day is valid—Limitation Act, S. 4.

Where a decree is passed conditional on payment of money it is open to the party to deposit the money after the re-opening of the Court, if the Court was closed on the last date on which the money could be deposited. A.I.R. 1924 All. 218 (F. B.) Foll. (Piggott and Mukerji, JJ.) MAHOMED HASHIM v. RADHA KISHUN. L. R. 6 A. (Civ.) 287: 87 I. C. 620 : A. I. R. 1925 All. 687.

——O 21, R. 1—Payment out of Court to the decree-holder's attaching creditor can't satisfy the decree.

The definition of the term "decree-holder" as given in S. 2 (3) of the Code of Civil Procedure does not include an attaching creditor of the decree-holder. The payment, therefore, to the attaching creditor of the decree-holder is not payment to the decree-holder within the meaning of R. 1 (b) of O. 21. (Mukerji, J.) RAM BADAN SINGH v. RAM PARGASH SINGH. L. R. 5 A (Civ.) 629 : 80 I. C. 947 : A. I. R. 1925 All. 123 (2).

——O. 21. R. 1—Compromise decree—Payment can be made into Court—Court closed on due date—Payment on re-opening date is valid.

The payment in satisfaction of a compromise decree can be made either directly to the decree-holder or into the Court. If the judgment-debtor chooses to pay the money into the Court and if on the day within which the payment has to be made, the Court is closed, the judgment-debtor can deposit the money in Court at the earliest possible opportunity afterwards, viz., the date of the re-opening of the Court. There is a generally recognised principle of law, under which parties, who are prevented from doing a thing, not by any default of their own, but by the Court itself, are entitled to do it, at the first subsequent opportunity. 35 Bom. 35 and 22 Mad 179, Ref. to. (Krishnan, J.) SANKARAN UNNI v. KUMMAKATTIL EZHUVAN.
21 L. W. 469 : (1925) M. W. N. 566 : 87 I.C. 560 : A.I.R. 1925 Mad. 743 : 48 M.L.J. 596.

——O. 21, R. 1—C. P. Code, O. 21, R. 89.

Deposit by judgment debtor of decretal amount under O. 21, R. 89, to prevent confirmation of sale, though made after 30 days of sale, can be treated as payment under O. 21, R. 1, for certification. (Kinkhede, A. J. C.) VITHAL SINGH v. AGARCHAND. 79 I. C. 903 : A I. R. 1925 Nag. 17.

——O. 21, R. 1—Deposit of decree amount—Court bound to order notice to and to inform decree-holder.

Where the judgment-debtor deposists the decree amount in Court with the permission of the Court, it is the duty of the Court to give the notice required by O. 21, R. 1, cl (2) to the decree-holder. If the Judge orders notice it is then necessary for the judgment-debtor to pay the necessary process-fee. But even if he did not pay, the Court was bound to inform the decree-holder of the payment when he applies for execution of the decree. (Hallifax, A. J. C.) NARAYAN v. GANPATRAO. 67 I. C. 242 (Nag.)

——O. 21, R. 1 (2)—Mortgage decrees—Rule

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 21, R. 1.

does not apply.

O. 21, R. 1 (2) is not applicable to mortgage-decrees. (Spencer and Devadoss, JJ.) AMBI v. VALIA THAMBURATI. 18 L. W. 686 : 33 M. L. T. 101 (H. C.) : (1923) M. W. N 753 : 75 I. C. 566: A. I. R. 1924 Mad. 102: 45 M. L. J. 687.

——0. 21, R. 1 (2)—Deposit in Court—When takes effect.

Judgment-debtor depositing money in a Court, without notice of the assignment of the decree or of petition put in by assignee of execution, the deposit serves as discharge. (Miller, C. J. and Kulwant Sahay, J.) TATA IRON AND STEEL CO., LTD. v. BAIDYA NATH LAIK. 2 Pat. 754 : 76 I. C. 55 : A. I. R. 1924 Pat. 118.

——0. 21, R. 2.

Adjustment and uncertified adjustment.
Certification and omission to certify.
Consent decree.
Effect of certificate.
Enquiry.
Form of certificate.
Fraud.
Limitation.
Mortgage decree.
Payment.
Refund of money.
Right to apply.
Uncertified payment.

Adjustment and Uncertified Adjustment.

——0. 21, R. 2—Uncertified adjustment—Executory oral contract—Executing Court cannot recognise.

An adjustment of a decree on the basis of an oral agreement set up by the judgment-debtor but denied by the decree-holder and not yet performed by either party could not be set up so as to bar execution of the decree. The remedy of the judgment-debtor was by a suit for specific performance of the alleged oral agreement. An inchoate contract cannot be pleaded in bar of execution under O. 21, R. 2 and the judgment-debtor cannot insist on the contract being completed and then plead it in bar of execution. (Piggott and Walsh, JJ.) LACHMI DAS v. BABA KALI KAMILI WALA RAMANATH. 44 A. 258 : 20 A. L. J. 65 : L. R. 3 A. 61 : 64 I. C. 990: A. I. R. 1922 All. 13.

——0. 21, R. 2—Adjustment.

The executing Court is not competent to enlarge, extend or modify the decree even by consent of parties subsequent to the decree, unless it is in adjustment of the decree contemplated by O. 21, R. 2. 16 W. R. 275 Ref. to. (Walmsley and Suhrawardy, JJ.) SURADHANI DUTTA v. SITTO SHEIKH. 27 C. W. N. 280 : 71 I. C. 378 : A. I. R. 1922 Cal. 311.

——0. 21, R. 2—Uncertified adjustment—Plea of adjustment taken in execution after expiry of limitation period—Executing Court cannot go into the question of adjustment.

Where the period of limitation had expired for the certification of an adjustment of payment before it was pleaded in execution of a decree, held, that the executing Court cannot go into the question of whether there had been an adjustment or not. (Harrison, J.) MULCHAND v. CHAMPA. A. I. R. 1925 Lah. 566.

——0. 21, R. 2—Adjustment is settling decree independent of terms of decree.

Adjustment is clearly not the same thing as satisfaction. It is some method of settling the decree which is not provided for in the decree itself. (Wallace, J.) T. VENKATASWAMI v. KOTILINGAM.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 21, R. 2—Adjustment and uncertified adjustment.

22 L. W. 853 : A.I.R. 1926 Mad. 184 : 49 M. L. J. 730.

——0. 21, R. 2—Adjustment of decree—Composition scheme between judgment-debtor and creditors generally—Decree-holder party to such scheme—Payment by judgment-debtor as per scheme—If adjustment of decree—Recording of full satisfaction under O. 21, R. 2—Decree-holder if can resile from scheme.

Where a decree-holder agrees under a mutual composition scheme to accept payment of 80 per cent. of his debt in full satisfaction thereof, if paid within a reasonable time, and the debtor makes the payment within a reasonable time, there is an adjustment of the debt tantamount to full satisfaction of the decree ; and the judgment-debtor is entitled to plead that as a full defence to any execution application, and to have that full satisfaction recorded under O. 21, R. 2, Civil Procedure Code. When there has been a mutual composition scheme between the judgment-debtor and the creditors, it is not open to a single creditor to resile therefrom. (Wallace, J.) THUTTA VENKATASWAMI v. KOTILINGAM. 22 L. W. 853 : A. I. R. 1926 Mad. 184 : 49 M. L. J. 730.

——0. 21, R. 2—Uncertified adjustment—Effect.

Even where an adjustment of a decree is not certified, the judgment-debtor can prove that he is discharged. (Spencer and Venkatasubba Rao, JJ.) KALAGARA SRIRAMA ROW v. BAPAYYA. 18 L. W. 453 : 76 I. C. 845 : A. I. R. 1924 Mad. 189.

——0. 21, R 2—Adjustment—Arrangement pending appeal that original decree should be inexecutable in part—Whether a bar to execution of appellate decree.

An arrangement made pending an appeal that the original decree (which is the subject of appeal) should be inexecutable in part is one that cannot be pleaded in bar of execution of the appellate decree. 43 M. 725 ; 40 M. 233 Dist. (Oldfield and Venkatasubba Rao, JJ.) RAMANATHAN CHETTIAR v. VENKATACHALLAM CHETTIAR. 17 L. W. 635 : (1923) M. W. N. 297 : 32 M. L. T. (H. C.) 401 : 72 I. C. 836 : A. I. R. 1923 Mad. 619 : 44 M.L.J. 599.

——0. 21, R. 2—Adjustment—Transferee of decree-holder.

The transferee must first prove his right before he can be allowed to execute the decree and it is then only that any question of adjustment will arise. (Spencer and Venkatasubba Rao, JJ.) SADAGOPA AYYANGAR v. SELLAMMAL. 16 L. W. 708 : 31 M. L. T. 463 : A. I. R. 1922 Mad. 510 (1) : 43 M. L. J. 761.

——0. 21, R. 2 (3)—Uncertified adjustment—Attaching Court cannot recognise.

Where satisfaction of a decree is not certified to or recorded by the Court passing the decree it is not open to another Court attaching the decree at the instance of a third person to recognise the satisfaction and refuse to proceed with the execution. 36 M. 357 : 42 M. 338 : 10 L. W. 179 : 5 L. W. 644, Rel. (Ramesam, J.) ARUNACHALAM CHETTIAR v. PANCHALI PADAYACHI. (1922) M. W. N 189 : 16 L. W. 290 : 65 I. C. 830 : A. I. R. 1922 Mad. 66.

——0. 21, R. 2—Adjustment—After passing of decree fresh decree is unnecessary when parties adjust claim.

It is not in the contemplation of the Civil Procedure Code that when a decree has been passed, every time that an adjustment is arrived at between the parties a fresh decree must be drawn up or the original decree modified. 11 N. L. R. 16 and 17 N. L. R. 66, Ref. to. (Baker, J. C.) DULI CHAND v. GOREYLAL.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 21, R. 2—Adjustment and uncertified adjustment.

20 N. L. R. 122 : 83 I. C. 162 : A. I. R. 1925 Nag. 49.

——O. 21, R. 2—Adjustment—Evidence to prove may be oral.

S. 92 of the Evidence Act does not bar the oral evidence to prove an agreement by way of adjustment of a decree as the R. 2 of O 21, C. P. Code, contemplates the taking of evidence to prove the adjustment. (Mittra, O. J. C. and Hallifax, A. J. C.) RANGLAL v. CHUNNI LAL. 60 I. C. 316 : 16 N. L. R. 204.

——O. 21, R. 2—Adjustment—Non-enactment of S. 257-A in the new Code—Effect—Court need not see if an adjustment is reasonable.

The non-enactment in the Code of Civil Procedure (V of 1908) of S. 257-A of the Code of 1882 has given greater freedom to the parties in making adjustments in execution. A Court is not required to see whether the consideration for the adjustment is reasonable under the circumstances of the case or not. If the adjustment is made and certified to the Court, the provisions of the law will be fully satisfied and the decree will be deemed as capable of execution (Dalal and Wazir Hasan, A. J. Cs.) MT. RAJKUMAR v. DWARKA PRASAD.

28 O. C. 255 : 86 I. C. 907 : 12 O. L. J. 156 : A. I. R. 1925 Oudh 364.

——O. 21, R. 2—Adjustment — No order of amendment of decree can be passed under the rule—The word "adjustment" signifies some kind of satisfaction of payment of decree.

The provisions of O. 21, R. 2 only contemplate satisfaction of the decree in whole or in part or adjustment thereof which may amount to payment of whole or part of the decree. In its ordinary sense, adjustment is a word of wide significance, but obviously in O. 21, R. 2 it is used to signify some kind of satisfaction or payment of the decree. (Dalal, J.C.) HAIDER MIRZA v. KAILASH NARAIN DAR. 80 I. C. 454 : A. I. R. 1925 Oudh 136.

——O. 21, R. 2—Uncertified adjustment—Power of Court to take cognizance.

Where an adjustment is not certified by the Court which passed the decree within the time allowed by law under O. 21, R. 2 of the C P. Code, the Court has justification to take cognizance of the alleged adjustment. (Kanhaiya Lal, J. C. and Simpson, A. J. C.) HARIHAR PRASAD v. BABU SHANKAR DAYAL.

10 O. L. J. 351 : 77 I. C. 337 : 10 O. & A. L. R. 119 : A. I. R. 1924 Oudh 208.

——O. 21 R 2—Uncertified adjustment will not be recognized by executing Court.

Where a judgment-debtor pleaded an adjustment as a bar to execution, but it was found that the adjustment was not certified: Held, that such adjustment will not be recognised by Court executing the decree. (Rutledge and Heald, JJ.) MESSRS. CHETTIAR FIRM v. MA TIN TIN.

4 Bur. L. J. 179 : A. I. R. 1925 Rang. 349.

——O. 21, R. 2—Uncertified adjustment—Question relating to execution—Power to recognise—Fraud.

The provisions of O. 21, R. 2 (3) are not to be rendered nugatory by the application of the general provisions of S. 47, C. P. Code. O. 21, R. 2, C. P. Code was enacted to prevent the Courts being flooded with false defences to applications for execution setting up a payment or adjustment in part or in whole, which would be made merely to gain time. The decree-holder is bound to certify an adjustment, and the judgment-debtor is also given a right to apply to the court to certify an adjustment. If the adjustment be not certified, it is entirely the fault of the judgment-debtor, and he does not deserve the consideration of the Court if he fails to take the very ordinary precaution of seeing that payment or adjustment made by him is certified to the Court. There is no reason why this should not apply also in the case of an alleged fraud. (Robinson, C.J. and Macgregor, J.) P. R. P. L. CHETTY FIRM v. G. LON POW.

1 Bur. L. J. 226 : 11 L. B. R. 363 : A. I. R. 1923 Rang. 103.

——O. 21, R. 2 (3)—Adjustment—Private satisfaction.

The embargo under that rule is limited to a "Court executing the decree". There would be no prohibition in case where a Court, which was not executing the decree was dealing with the matter. (Duckworth, J.) MA MA GYI v. MA NYO PO.

1 Bur. L. J. 171 : A. I. R. 1923 Rang. 44 (1).

Certification and omission to certify.

——O. 21, R. 2—Omission to certify.

The provisions of O. 21, R. 2 of the C. P. Code, 1908, are not confined to money decrees "Any" decree is provided for. A decree may provide for the payment of money or for any kind of relief other than the payment of money. But if either money is paid or the decree is otherwise adjusted, then the payment or adjustment must be certified. The principle of the rule is that the Court executing the decree shall not be troubled with any disputes between parties with regard to any payment or adjustment unless the same has been duly recorded and certified. If there is a case of fraud, then the party defrauded will have his right of action. (Macleod, C. J. and Shah, J.) GHARRY v. GOWRYA. 46 Bom. 226 : 23 Bom. L. R 981 : 64 I. C 490 : A. I. R. 1922 Bom. 380 (2).

——O. 21, R. 2—Certification—Mere statement in execution application is not.

A mere statement in an execution application that payments towards the decree have been made out of Court cannot be treated as an application for certification. (Walmsley, J.) DWARIKA NATH PAUL v. BEPIN RISHI. 64 I. C. 32 : A. I. R. 1922 Cal. 200.

——O. 21, R. 2—Certification—Part payment.

A decree-holder may certify part payments towards a money decree in an application for execution. (Chatterjee and Suhrawardy, JJ.) MADAN MOHAN BANIKYA v. HARU LAL KANDU. 26 C. W. N. 534 : 64 I. C. 72 : 35 C. L. J. 566.

——O. 21, R. 2—Certification—Payment to be recognised should either be certified or recorded.

Under O. 21, R. 2 in order to enable the Court to recognise payments in executing the decree the payment need not be both certified and recorded. Payment should either be certified or recorded. (Wallace, J.) PITCHAKKUTTIYA PILLAI v. DORAISWAMI MOOPANAR. (1924) M.W.N. 815: 82 I. C. 588 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 230 (2) : 47 M. L. J. 498.

——O. 21, R. 2—Omission to certify—Effect.

Failure by decree-holder to certify within a particular time where no time is fixed, cannot be treated a negligence or a breach of agreement and gives the judgment-debtor no cause of action against the former. (Kotwal and Prideaux, A. J. Cs.) MITSUI BUSSAN v. PADAMRAJ. 6 N. L. J. 217 : 72 I. C. 461 : A. I. R. 1923 Nag. 219.

——O. 21, R. 2— Certification— Admission by decree-holder—Execution of decree—Power of Court.

Where a decree is admitted by the decree-holder to be satisfied it ceases to exist as a decree capable of execution. The very foundation of the powers of a Court to execute a decree, namely, the existence of a decree capable of execution having disappeared, the

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 21, R. 2—Certification and omission to certify.

Court's powers in execution also cease and the confirmation of the sale, which is a proceeding in execution, should not be ordered. 35 Bom. 516 ; 10 All. 332 Ref. (Kotwal, A. J. C.) NILKANTH v. YESHWANT.
18 N. L. R. 134 : 66 I. C. 331 : A I. R. 1922 Nag. 248.

——O. 21, R. 2—Omission to certify—Defect.

Decree-holder's omission merely to certify satisfaction of the decree does not amount to fraud. (Wazir Hasan, A. J. C.) SURJI NARAIN MISRA v. ULAND SINGH. 27 O. C. 277 : 78 I. C. 776 : A. I. R. 1925 Oudh 225.

——O. 21, R. 2 (1)—Certification—Whether joint decree-holder can certify adjustment of payment as regards his own claim and other joint-decree-holders.

It is not open to one of two joint holders of a decree to bind other decree-holders. But at the same time a joint decree-holder may certify satisfaction in respect of his own interest therein. 26 A. 313 and A.I.R. 1923 All. 494 Rel. (Das and Adami, JJ.) SADHO SARAN v. MT. SUBHADRA.
89 I. C. 195 : A. I. R. 1925 Pat. 22.

——O. 21, R. 2—Certification—Application for—Dismissal appeal.

An order dismissing an application for certifying payments out of Court is of the nature of a decree and as such is appealable. (Jwala Prasad and Bucknill, JJ.) JADUNANDAN SINGH v. SHEONANDAN PRASAD. 1922 P. H. C. C. 200 : 3 P. L. T. 487 : 1 P. 644 : 68 I. C. 645 : A. I. R. 1922 Pat. 276.

——O. 21, R. 2—Omission to certify—Procedure.

There is no time prescribed for a decree-holder to certify any adjustment out of Court. It is his duty to state in his execution petition under O. 21, R. 11 (e) any such adjustment or payment. The judgment-debtor might also under O. 21, R. 2 (2) inform the Court of it. Unless it is brought to the notice of the Court within the prescribed time it cannot be recognised by the executing Court and the decree-holder can execute the decree as if no payment out of Court has been made (Jwala Prasad and Adami, JJ) RADHA KANT LAL v. PARBATI KUER. 6 P. L. J. 337 : 63 I. C. 535 : 2 Pat. L. T. 765.

——O. 21, R. 2—Certification—Failure to certify satisfaction of decree—Execution and realisation of decree—Remedy of judgment-debtor.

Under O. 21, R. 2, where a decree has been satisfied the decree-holder shall certify the payment to the Court whose duty it is to execute the decree and the Court shall record the same accordingly. (Maung Kin, J.) MAUNG MYO v. MAUNG KHA.
1 Bur. L. J. 207 : 11 L. B. R. 429 : 70 I. C. 115 : A. I. R. 1923 Rang. 88.

Consent Decree.

——O. 21, R. 2—Consent decree—Payment to third party under terms of—If within mischief of section.

The words of O. 21, R. 2 are very general and there is nothing in them to limit the payment to the decree-holder only. Where a compromise decree directed the payment of money to a third party and the payment was not certified to Court the same cannot be relied upon in execution. (Ryves and Gokul Prasad, JJ.) MAHADEO PRASAD v. HAMIDAN. 45 A. 304 : 21 A. L. J 97 : L. R. 4 A. 117 : 71 I. C. 457 : A. I. R. 1923 All. 271 (1).

——O. 21, R. 2—Application to record satisfaction—Dismissal—If res judicata—Joint decree-holders—Right of one to record satisfaction.

The dismissal of an application by a judgment debtor to have satisfaction recorded does not operate as res judicata and bar an application by the decree-holder for the same purpose. One of several joint decree-holders can enter satisfaction in regard to his own share of the decree but cannot bind the other decree-holders. (Das and Adami, JJ.) SADHO SARAN PANDE v. MT. SUBHADRA.
89 I. C. 195.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O 21, R. 2—Form of Certificate.

Effect of Certificate.

——O. 21, R. 2—Effect of certificate—Payment made within three years of last starting point of limitation but certified after 3 years had expired takes effect from the date when it was made.

Where a payment has been made within three years of the last starting point of limitation for an execution application, but is certified under O. 21, R. 2 after the expiry of the 3 years, the certification makes the payment entitled to recognition as a payment made on the date on which it was actually made and not as a payment on the date it was certified. (Case-law discussed) (Boys and Banerji, JJ.) AMAR SINGH v. MT. RAM DEI. 23 A.L J. 836 : L.R. 6 A. (Civ.) 409 : 89 I. C. 415 : A. I. R. 1925 All. 802.

Enquiry.

——O. 21, R.2—Enquiry—Certification by decree-holder.

A payment out of Court can be certified by the decree-holder at any time. Where the decree-holder certifies a payment and the judgment debtor denies such payment, the Court should take evidence on the point and then come to a conclusion one way or the other. (Macleod, C.J. and Heaton, J.) PANDURANG BALKRISHNA v. JAGYA BHAU.
45 Bom 91 : 89 I. C. 399 : 22 Bom L. R. 1120.

——O. 21, R. 2—Enquiry—Executing Court is not bound to record satisfaction of decree when decree-holder executed deed stating his cancellation of decree in return for certain sum received and when, actually, no money was paid but judgment-debtor merely undertook orally to pay decree-holder's certain debts and failed.

A document was executed by the decree-holder by which he stated that he had cancelled the decree in consideration of a certain sum received from the judgment-debtor. It was found that the judgment-debtor paid no money but had orally undertaken to discharge certain debts of the decree-holder and had failed in his undertaking :

Held, that the agreement was rightly refused to be recorded as an adjustment of satisfaction and that the decree ought to be executed. (Jackson, J.) GANGADHARA MUDALIAR v. EKAMBARA MUDALIAR.
20 L. W. 849 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 206.

Form of Certificate.

——O. 21, R, 2—Form of certificate—Statement of payment in execution petition—Sufficiency of—Limitation.

A statement in an execution application of money having been paid by the judgment debtor is not such a certificate of payment as is contemplated by O. 21, R. 2, C. P. Code, and has not the effect of saving limitation for execution. O. 21, R. 2, C. P. Code, clearly contemplates a formal proceeding consisting of two steps, first an application by the decree-holder informing the Court of the payment ; and secondly, a formal order of the Court recording the payment. This proceeding must be separate from and prior to the execution proceeding in which it is desired that the payment should be recognised. Though no period of limitation has been prescribed for an application by the decree-holder to certify, the intention of the law appears to be that the payment should be certified within a reasonable time of its being made. It is primarily the decree-holder's duty to certify. If he fails to do so, O. 21, R. 2 (2) allows the judgment-debtor to inform the Court of the payment within 90 days. (Daniels, and Neave, JJ.) BRIJ NATH v. PANNA LAL.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 21, R. 2—Form of certificate.

22 A. L. J. 581 : L. R. 5 A. 348 : 46 A. 635 : 83 I. C. 737 : A. I. R. 1924 All. 706.

——— O. 21, R. 2—Form of certificate of payment by decree-holder—Art. 181 of Lim. Act does not apply.

In order to certify payment it is enough that the decree-holder mentions the fact of such payment in the application for execution of the decree in respect of the balance. It is not incumbent upon the decree-holder to certify payment by making an application for the purpose, and therefore Art. 181 does not apply. But the certification cannot be postponed indefinitely, for it must be made within three years before execution is applied for to save the decree from limitation under S. 20, Indian Limitation Act, or on the ground of waiver. A.I.R. 1922 Cal. 30 Diss : 45 Bom. 91 Appr. (Suhrawardy and Cuming, JJ.) JALIM CHAND v. YUSUFALI CHOUDHURI. A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 1012.

——— O. 21, R. 2 (1)—Form of certificate.

O. 21. R. 2 (1), C. P. Code, deals with a case where the decree-holder seeks to certify a payment made to him out of Court by the judgment-debtor. The application need not be distinct from an application for execution of decree. (Mookerjee and Panton, JJ.) BALEY MAHAMMAD SAHI v. AIJANMAL.
35 C. L. J. 71 : 26 C. W. N. 529 : 68 I. C. 780 : A. I. R. 1922 Cal. 30.

——— O. 21, R. 2—Form of certificate—Payment out of Court.

An application for execution certifying payments already made amounts to certifying under O. 21, R. 2, which a Court is bound to take notice of. There is no particular form under O. 21, R. 2, in which a decree-holder must certify payment nor is there any rule as to the time within which or the manner in which it should be done. (Moti Sagar, J.) FATTU v. NANAK CHAND. A. I. R. 1924 Lah. 676.

——— O. 21, R. 2—Form of certificate—Application to record adjustment—If to be written or signed.

An application to record adjustment need not be written nor signed by the decree-holders. (Hallifax, A. J. C.) MT. PERABAI v. CHAWANI PRASAD.
A. I. R. 1924 Nag. 185.

Fraud.

——— O. 21, R. 2 (2) - Fraud—Failure to certify—Remedy open to judgment-debtor—Limitation.

Where fraud is alleged on the part of the decree holder, although there are isolated expressions which may lend support to the view that S. 47 may be invoked in cases of this description, still when the case is analysed it would appear that it cannot be laid down as a general rule that, although the period of limitation within which an application by the judgment-debtor under clause (2) of R. 2 of O. 21 is to be presented to the Court has expired, it is still open to him to secure an investigation of the very same matter and to secure an extension of time by invoking the terms of S. 47. 30 C. L. J. 248 Dist. 16 C. W. N. 923, Foll. 40 B. 333 and 5 P. L. J. 70 Cons. (C. C. Ghose and Panton, JJ.) MUKUNDALAL v. BANSIDHAR. 50 C. 468 : A. I. R. 1923 Cal. 342.

——— O. 21, R 2—Fraud—Question relating to execution to discharge or satisfaction of decree—Adjustment of decree not certified—Fraud—If can be inquired into.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 21, R. 2—Limitation.

Where a decree has been satisfied out of Court but it has not been certified as required by O. 21, R. 2, owing to fraud on the part of the decree-holder, the matter falls under S 47 and the question of payment and satisfaction can be enquired into in execution proceedings. (Wazir Hasan, J. C.) SURAJ NARAIN MISRA v. ULAND SINGH. 10 W. N. 218 : 78 I. C. 776 : 10 O. & A. L. R. 375 : 27 O. C. 227 : A. I. R. 1925 Oudh 225.

——— O. 21, R. 2—Fraud—Rule embodies a special rule of law which cannot be overridden by the general law as to estoppel—Decree-holder's fraud causing non-certification of payment of decree—Payment cannot be recognised by executing Court.

It is not open to an executing Court to recognise a payment or adjustment of a decree unless it has been certified in the manner allowed by law even though the want of certification may be due to the fraudulent conduct on the part of the decree-holder. 13 S.L.R. 71 A.I.R. 1922 Bom. 380, 36 Mad. 357 and 16 C.W.N. 923 Foll. 34 Bom. 575 and 40 Bom. 333 Diss.(Kennedy, J. C. and Raymond, A.J.C.) MOTOOMAL v. TEOOMAL.
18 S. L. R. 51 : 79 I. C. 89 : A. I. R. 1925 Sind 140.

——— O. 21, R. 2—Fraud—Payment not certified—Judgment-debtor committing fraud.

Even where a judgment-debtor has been guilty of fraud, the executing Court will refuse to recognize the payment or adjustment, if it is not certified as required by R. 2. (Kincaid, J. C. and Kennedy, A J. C.) SOJHRO v. CHANGOMAL. 63 I. C. 238 : 15 S. L. R. 77.

Limitation.

——— O. 21, R. 2 (3)—Limitation.

There is no limitation for certifying payment under O. 21, R. 2 (3) of the C. P. Code. (Macleod, C. J. and Heaton, J.) PANDURANG v. JAGYA.
22 Bom. L. R. 1120 : 59 I. C. 399 : 45 Bom. 91.

——— O. 21, R. 2—Limitation—Satisfaction of decree—Record of satisfaction—Application by decree-holder.

Art. 174 applies only to a case under O. 21, R. 2 (2), namely, where judgment-debtor seeks to inform the Court of a payment alleged to have been made by him out of Court to decree-holder. In such case, the period is 90 days, but this period does not govern an application by decree-holder himself. (Mookerjee and Panton, JJ.) BALEY MAHAMMAD SAHAI v. AIJANMAL.
26 C. W. N. 529 : 35 C. L. J. 71 : 68 I. C. 780 : A. I. R. 1922 Cal. 30.

——— O. 21, R. 2—Limitation.

The part-payments and the certification must, however, take place before the application for execution is barred by limitation. Although the decree-holder may either apply to certify payments before the execution or may do so in his application for execution, the provisions of S. 20 of the Limitation Act are in no way affected. (N. R. Chatterjee and Suhrawardy, JJ.) MADAN MOHAN BANIKYA v. HARU LAL KUNDU.
26 C. W. N. 534 : 64 I. C. 72 : 35 C. L. J. 566.

——— O. 21, R. 2—Limitation—Application for certification—Execution of decree barred.

Although no time is provided within which an application for certification of payments towards a decree must be made, such an application cannot be made after the period of limitation for execution has expired and the decree has become time-barred. A time-barred decree cannot be revived by a subsequent application under O. 21, R. 2, C. P. Code, for certification of intermediate payments which would bring the case within limitation. (Daniels, J. C.) MT. JAMWANTI v. MT. MOHAN DEI. 10 O. & A. L. R. 72 : 11 O. L. J. 379 : 79 I. C. 799 : A. I. R. 1924 Oudh 392

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 21, R. 2—Limitation.

———O. 21, R. 2—Limitation—Decree-holder certifying payment—Whether a step in execution—Previous application after three years from date of decree is no bar to a subsequent application after certification.

Where the decree-holder applied for execution in 1919 and no subsequent steps were taken till 21st October, 1922, and the decree became time-barred, and in December, 1922, the petitioner applied for certifying payments made before 3 years, and it was contended that an application to certify payment is not a step in execution and it does not lie after a decree is time-barred, held, relying on authority 20 Cal. L. J. 131 and 46 C. 22, that an application made by decree-holder to certify payments made within 3 years from the dates of such payments (Limitation Act, S. 181) will afford the decree-holder a fresh starting point for limitation within the meaning of Art. 182 (5), Lim. Act. (Godfrey, J.) MAUNG LAW SAN v. MAUNG PO THEIN. 2 Rang. 393 : A. I. R. 1925 Rang. 26.

Mortgage Decree.

———O. 21, R. 2 and O. 34, Rr. 2 and 3—Mortgage decree—Private adjustment notified by judgment-debtor—Recognition by Court.

O. 21, R. 2, C. P. Code, applies even to a final decree in a mortgage suit and such a decree, like any other, is capable of adjustment. Where the judgment-debtor has informed the Court that the decree has been adjusted, the Court must under O. 21, R. 2 (2) issue a notice to the decree-holder to show cause why the adjustment should not be recorded as certified. (Batten, J. C. and Hallifax, A. J. C.) LACHMAN SINGH v. MARDAN SINGH. 68 I. C. 443 : A. I. R. 1923 Nag. 20.

Payment.

———O. 21, R. 2—Payment—Satisfaction in part—Execution as regards rest.

Though a decree for sale is passed it is open to the mortgagor to satisfy the decree in whole or in part and in the latter case the executing Court after ascertaining if there has been satisfaction can direct execution only as to the balance. (Piggott and Walsh, JJ.) SAHU PARSHOTTAM SARAN v. BRAHMA NAND.

21 A. L. J. 818 : L. R. 4 A. 574 : A. I. R. 1924 All. 297.

———O. 21, R. 2—Payment—Payment to joint decree-holder.

Payment to one of several joint decree-holders will not be even a partial satisfaction of the decree unless the payee was an agent of the others for receiving the whole amount on their behalf or unless the distinct share of each of the joint decree-holders was ascertained and known. (Wallace, J.) PITCHAKKUTTIYA PILLAI v. DORAISWAMI MOOPANAR.

(1924) M. W. N. 815 : 82 I. C. 588 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 230 (2) : 47 M. L. J. 498.

———O. 21, R. 2—Payment—Notice of deposit in Court must be served on decree-holder.

A notice in writing of the payment of the amount due under a decree by the judgment-debtor in Court must be served on the decree-holder like the summons. (Kinkhede, A. J. C.) BALIRAM v. GHASIRAM.

81 I. C. 1001 : A. I. R. 1925 Nag. 52.

———O. 21, R. 2—Payment—Executing Court—Power to certify payment.

There is nothing in the rule which prohibits an executing Court from treating an admission of payments in a decree-holder's application for execution as an application to certify payments. (Fawcett, J. C., Crump and Kemp, A. J. Cs.) BANNUMAL v. NEWANDMAL.

83 I. C. 360 (2) : 16 S. L. R. 207 (F.B.).

Refund of money.

———O. 21, R. 2—Refund of money—Decree satisfied by one of the judgment-debtors—Payment by another judgment-debtor into Court—Money drawn out by decree-holder—Liability to refund.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 21, R. 2—Uncertified Payment.

Where one of the judgment debtors paid the decretal amount to the plaintiff decree-holder and had the payment certified under the provisions of O. 21, R. 2, C. P. Code, and subsequently another judgment-debtor not knowing that the decree-holder's claim had been satisfied, paid the money into Court and it was taken out by the decree-holder and having subsequently discovered that the decree had previously been satisfied by one of his co-debtors, made an application to the executing Court for a refund of the money, the lower Courts decided that as the matter had been disposed of, the executing Court had no jurisdiction. Held, that the executing Court had jurisdiction to entertain the application notwithstanding the fact that the decree had in fact been executed before. 24 All. 291, Foll. (Dawson Miller, C. J. and Jwala Prasad, J.) GOPAL RAI v. RAMBHANJAN RAI.

1 Pat. 336 : 3 Pat. L. T. 754 : 4 U. P. L. R. (Pat.) 17 : 65 I. C. 307 : 1922 P. H. C. C 53 : A. I. R. 1922 Pat. 166.

Right to apply.

———O. 21, Rr. 2 and 53 (6)—Right to apply—Attachment of decree without notice to judgment-debtor—Decree satisfied—Effect.

Where a decree is attached without notice to the judgment-debtor bound by it and the latter pays the decree amount to the decree-holder, he is entitled to have satisfaction entered up under R. 2 of O. 21 and it is not open to the person who attached the decree to question the entering up of satisfaction of the decree. (Seshagiri Aiyar, J.) NAGU REDDIAR v. VEERAPPA MUDALIAR. 61 I. C. 815 : 13 L. W. 34.

———O. 21, R. 2—Right to apply—Scope.

Dismissal of an application by the judgment-debtor under R. 2 (2) does not bar the decree-holder's certifying the payment under R. 2 (1). (Das and Adami, JJ.) SADHO SARAN PANDEY v. MT. SUBHADRA.

A. I. R. 1925 Pat. 822.

———O. 21, R. 2 (1)—Right to apply—Joint decree-holder can certify adjustment of payment as regards his own claim but cannot as regards other joint decree-holders.

It is not open to one of two joint holders of a decree to certify satisfaction of the whole decree so as to bind the other decree-holder. But at the same time, a joint decree-holder may certify satisfaction in respect of his own interest therein. 26 All 318 and A. I. R. 1923 All. 494, Rel. (Das and Adami, JJ.) SADHO SARAN PANDEY v. MT. SUBHADRA.

A. I. R. 1925 Pat. 822.

Uncertified Payment.

———O. 21, R. 2—Uncertified payment—Executing Court cannot recognise.

The Court executing a decree is barred in limine from considering any allegation that a payment not certified has been made. 40 Bom. 333 Overruled. A. I. R. 1923 Bom. 253 affirmed. (Macleod, C. J., Shah and Crump, JJ.) MEHBUNNISSA BEGUM v. MEHEDUNISSA BEGUM. 49 Bom. 548 : 27 Bom. L.R. 403 : A. I. R. 1925 Bom. 309 (F. B.)

———O. 21, Rr. 2 and 16—Uncertified payment—Rights of assignee of decree—Recognition of assignment—Payment by judgment-debtor not certified to Court—Recognition of.

Whether attachment proceedings are already commenced at the instance of the decree-holder or not, the assignee or transferee of the decree cannot continue any proceedings previously commenced, nor can he institute any fresh proceedings for the execution of the decree unless he makes an application under O. 21, R. 16 to the Court which passed the decree. That application will be heard by the Court not as a Court executing the decree, but as a Court which passed the decree, and until an order is made by the Court which passed the decree that execution may proceed at the instance of the transferee, it is not open to the transferee to execute the decree, nor is there any Court which is executing the decree. The provisions of O. 21, R. 2 (3) would not be applicable as that only enacts that a payment or adjustment, which has not been certified or recorded as aforesaid should not be recognised by any Court executing the decree. When an application is made to the Court which passed the decree by a transferee or assignee of the decree from the original decree-holder under O. 21, R. 16, the application is made to the Court as a Court which passed the decree, and not as a Court which is executing the decree ; and it is open to the judgment-debtor to plead that the claim has already been satisfied even though the formalities prescribed by O. 21, R. 2 (1) and (2) have not been followed. 35 M. 659 ; 40 M. 296, Ref. (Macleod, C. J. and Crump, J.) RAGHUNATH v. GANGARAM. 47 Bom. 643: 25 Bom. L. R. 474 : 75 I. C 893 : A. I. R. 1923 Bom. 404.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 21 R. 2—Uncertified Payment.

——O. 21, R. 2—Uncertified payment—Not to be recognised by executing Court—Remedy of judgment-debtor.

Where a payment by the judgment-debtor is not certified under O. 21, R. 2, C. P. Code, the Court executing the decree could take no cognizance of that payment, but if the creditor by taking out a darkhast recovered the amount again, that would not bar the judgment-debtor from seeking to recover the amount which he had paid to his creditor without its being certified. (Macleod, C. J. and Crump, J.) GANESH MAHADEV v. YESHWANT. 25 Bom L. R. 247 : A. I. R. 1923 Bom. 253 (1).

——O. 21, R. 2—Uncertified payment—Execution against surety of judgment-debtor.

A surety for the judgment-debtor is bound so long as the judgment-debtor is bound. The judgment-debtor is bound so long as any payments which he may have made are not certified to the Court and consequently, the surety cannot set up such payments in bar of execution against him. (Woodroffe and Ghose, JJ.) ONKARMAL AGARWALA v. NRITYA GOPAL CHAKI. 67 I. C. 885 : A. I. R. 1923 Cal. 313 (1).

——O. 21, R. 2 and S. 47—Uncertified payment—A suit is maintainable for restraining the decree-holder from executing the decree when payment is made but not certified.

Although O. 21, R. 2 of the Civil Procedure Code specifically enacts that an uncertified adjustment cannot be recognised as an adjustment of the decree by any Court executing the decree, it is implied that it may be recognised as such by Court trying the matter as a regular suit, and that a suit for a declaration that the decree had been satisfied is maintainable notwithstanding that its object is to restrain the decree-holder from executing the decree. A suit for a declaration that a decree had been satisfied and should not consequently be satisfied against the judgment-debtor is competent, and S. 47 of the Code of Civil Procedure does not operate as a bar to such a suit. (Moti Sagar, J.) BISHEN SINGH v. MAHINDAR SINGH. 79 I. C. 125 : A. I. R. 1925 Lah. 54.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 21, R. 10.

——O. 21, R. 3—Death of one of the appellants not brought to the notice of Court—Application not made to bring his legal representatives on record—Effect.

One of the appellants died during the pendency of the appeal. The fact was not brought to the notice of the Court nor an application made to bring his legal representatives on record prior to hearing of the appeal. The appeal was heard as if the appellant was alive and a decree passed. Held, that the decree was void. (Rafique and Piggott, JJ.) (BABU) JENAK SINGH v. (BABU) AMBIKA PRASAD, A. I. R. 1923 All. 414 (1).

——O. 21, R. 3—Jurisdiction to sell—None except as provided by R. 3.

Where a Court has no jurisdiction over immoveable property, it cannot validly sell it in execution of a decree except in the one case provided by O. 21, R. 3, C. P. Code. Where a Court sells immoveable property entirely outside its jurisdiction, the sale is a nullity. (Mukerjee and Chotzner, JJ.) KUNJA MOHAN CHAKRAVARTHY v. MANINDRA CHANDRA ROY CHOWDHURY. 27 C. W. N. 542 : 77 I. C. 2.3 : A. I. R. 1923 Cal. 619.

——O. 21, R. 6—Certificate issued by Court passing decree—Notice of execution can be issued only by Court of transfer.

Where under R. 6 a certificate is issued by the Court passing the decree, transferring it to another district for execution, notice to execute the decree can only be issued by the latter Court. (Chatterjee and Newbould, JJ.) HAZARI LAL v. BAIDYANATH SAHA. 63 I. C. 116 : 26 C. W. N. 292.

——O 21 Rr. 6 and 11 and S. 39—Transfer of execution—Fresh application to Court of transfer is not necessary.

Where a decree has been transferred to another Court for execution, there is nothing in the law which compels the decree-holder to make a second application for execution in the Court to which the decree has been transferred, if an application has already been made to the Court which passed the decree. Where it is not known whether the application in the first Court was only for transfer or whether it was for execution, the fact that notice was issued under O. 21, R. 22 shows that it must have been in form and substance, one for execution. (Mullick and Foster, JJ.) DUTT v. TARAPRASANNA ROY CHAUDHURI. 2 Pat. 909 : 5 Pat. L. T. 11 : 1923 P. H. C. C. 280 : 74 I. C. 758 : A.I.R. 1924 Pat. 120.

——O. 21, R. 6 (b)—Certificate wrong—Court to which decree is transferred should construe the decree itself and proceed — It need not get the certificate amended by the Court transferring the decree.

Under R. 6 (b) where no satisfaction of the decree has been obtained the certificate is to state that "satisfaction of the decree has not been obtained by execution within the jurisdiction of the Court by which it was passed. But the Court has not to state the amount due under the decree or the relief to which the decree-holder is entitled. The decree will be the guide in these matters for the executing Court which is entitled to construe the decree for itself. If the Court transferring the decree puts a wrong construction on the decree in the certificate, the judgment-debtor need not be directed to approach that Court for getting it amended. Any such order passed by the executing Court is ultra vires and an interference in revision is justified. (Jwala Prasad and Kulwant Sahay, JJ.) GAJADHAR PRASAD v. FIRM MANULAL JAGARNATH. 4 Pat. 440 : A. I. R. 1925 Pat. 807.

——O. 21, Rr. 10, 11 and S. 39—Decree transferred for execution—Execution application necessary.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 21, R. 11.

After a decree is transferred to another Court for execution, the decree holder must apply regularly under O. 21, Rr. 10 and 11 in order to set the law of execution in motion. (Kinkhede, A. J. C.) SULTAN ALI v. BALAJI. A. I. R. 1924 Nag. 413.

——0. 21, R. 11—Omission to state date of disposal of prior application is not a material defect, but omission to state existence of cross-decree is.

Material defects would vitiate an application for execution. Where there had been two prior applications for execution, but the date of disposal of the first application for execution was the one stated but not that of the second, though the numbers of execution cases were stated with regard to both the previous applications; held, that the omission of the date of the disposal of the second previous application for execution was not a material defect. The omission to mention the existence of cross-decrees however may be a material defect. (Chatterjee and Panton, JJ.) PROSANNA KUMAR CHAKRAVARTI v. JOTINDRA NATH BOSE. 71 I. C. 104 : A. I. R. 1924 Cal. 398

——0. 21, R. 11—Execution ought to be stayed where to do so is not detrimental to decree-holder's interest—C.P. Code, O. 21, R. 40—C. P. Code, S. 151.

In cases of applications for execution, whether against the defendant or the sureties, the primary consideration must be the interest of the decree-holder and where his interests are likely to be jeopardised by the granting of any application for time, Courts have no option but to execute the decree. But where without any detriment to the interests of the decree-holder the granting of time to the judgment-debtor or the sureties to pay would not only enable the decree amount to be paid but would prevent serious loss or ruin, I think the Court ought to have power to stay execution against the person for such time as it thinks reasonable unless there is something in the Code which prohibits such power. A surety may be perfectly solvent and may be able to pay the amount if a few days' time is given to raise the money and he may, if a merchant, be ruined by a sudden issue of process for arrest and there is no justice in refusing this request. Of course if the law is otherwise he cannot be helped. But there is nothing in the Code which prohibits such a course. (Kumaraswami Sastri, J.) PERURI SOORYAPRAKASAM v. P. I. MUNISWAMI CHETTI. 20 L. W 175 : 84 I. C. 134 : 48 M. 494 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 42.

——0. 21, R. 11 (2) (e)—Decree-holder is bound to state the adjustment made after the decree.

Under R. 11 (2) (e) the decree-holders are bound to state whether any and what adjustment of the matter in controversy has been made between the parties subsequently to the decree. (Kinkhede, A. J. C.) RAGHUBAR PRASAD v. SATTU. 89 I. C. 1009 : A. I. R. 1926 Nag. 164.

——0. 21, R. 11—Particulars not given—Application filed on last day of limitation—Errors rectified later—If in time.

An execution application filed on the last day of limitation which was flagrantly defective with regard to the particulars required to be given under O. 21, R. 11, and which were not rectified till much later, is barred by time. (Adami and Kulwant Sahay, JJ.) BHUPENDRA NARAIN MANDEL v. JAMESWAR MANDEL. 90 I. C. 761.

——0. 21, R. 11—Pleader authorised to appear in suit is also deemed as authorised to appear in execution proceedings—C. P. Code, O. 3, R. 4.

Proceedings in execution are proceedings in continuation of the suit and a fresh authority is not required for a pleader to appear, act and plead on behalf of the decree-holder in the execution proceedings if he was so authorised by a vakalatnamah in the suit itself. 16 C W. N. 736 and A. I. R. 1925 Patna 369, Foll. (Adami and Kulwant Sahay, JJ.) GOBIND PRASAD v. HRIDAY THAKUR. 1925 P. H. C. C. 234 : A. I. R. 1925 Pat. 692.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 21, R. 11.

——0. 21. Rr. 11 and 17—Concurrent execution may be allowed by Court--Amendment.

O. 21, R. 11 of the C. P. Code is no bar to the maintenance of concurrent execution. It is open to the Court to allow the amendment of the application for execution already filed by the addition of other properties to the list of the properties sought to be attached and O. 21, R. 17 does not bar any such amendment. 27 C. L. J. 398, Ref.; 17 Cal. 631, Dist. (Mullick and Kulwant Sahay, JJ.) RAM SUMRAN PRASAD v. BABURAM BAHADUR. 4 Pat. L. T. 99 : 2 Pat. 328 : 71 I. C. 741 : 1923 P. H. C. C. 61 : A.I.R. 1923 Pat. 224.

——0. 21, R. 11 (1) & (2) and 0. 19, R. 2 (1)—Execution petition—Verification by person other than decree-holder—Legality of.

An execution petition signed and verified by a person other than the decree-holder but who is acquainted well with the facts of the case is valid. It is not necessary that the verification should be made in open Court or after obtaining the permission of the Court thereupon. (Newbould and Ghose, JJ.) KHARARIA MIJAZILLA ZEMINDARI SYNDICATE, LTD. v. OMED SHEIKH. 28 C. W. N. 687 : 80 I. C 313 (1) : A. I. R. 1924 Cal. 811.

——0. 21. R. 11 (2) (j) (v)—Mode of relief—Rateable distribution—"Otherwise as the nature of the relief granted may require"—Meaning of.

Under O. 21, R. 11 an application for execution must specify the mode in which the assistance of the Court is required. Under R. 30 rateable distribution is not one of the modes specified. The expression "otherwise as the nature of the relief granted may require" applies to the nature of the relief granted by the decree. (Baker, J. C.) ALI MAHOMED v. MAHOMED NOOR. 87 I. C. 1025 : A. I. R. 1925 Nag. 382.

——0. 21, R. 11 (2)—Adjustment—Omission to mention in execution application—Effect of.

The deliberate omission to mention in an execution application an adjustment which is subsisting though it could be avoided in law, is a circumstance which vitiates the application. (Hallifax, A. J. C.) MT. PERABAI v. BHAGWANI PRASHAD. A.I.R. 1924 Nag. 185.

——0. 21, R. 11 (2)—Decree-holder's disappearance—Nothing known as to death—Pleader can apply.

Where a decree-holder disappears but his death cannot be legally presumed, his pleader can, under R. 11 (2) file an application for execution and deposit any money that may have been ordered to be paid by the decree holder though no person can legally be substituted for the decree-holder until his death can legally be presumed. (Bucknill and Ross, JJ.) GOBIND PRASAD v. JUGDIP SAHAY. 4 Pat. 378 : 1925 P. H. C. C. 87 : 3 Pat. L. R. 43 : 86 I. C. 358 : 6 P. L. T. 847 : A. I. R. 1925 Pat. 369.

——0. 21, R. 11 (2)—Joint decree-holders—Verification of execution application—Mode of.

Where there are a number of decree-holders, some of whom are not acquainted with the facts of the case, all the law requires is that the application should be verified by some person proved to the satisfaction of the Court to be acquainted with the facts of the case. It would be straining the language of the rule too far to say that where there are more applicants than one, the vertification should be signed even by those who are not acquainted with the facts of the case or that where one or more acquainted with the facts of the case verify, their verification is not sufficient. (Miller, C. J. and Kulwant Sahay, J.) BHAGWAT PRASAD SINGH v. DWARKA PRASAD SINGH. 2 Pat. 809 : 4 Pat. L. T. 513 : 1 Pat. L. R. 453 : 1923 P. H. C. C. 229 : 74 I. C. 174 : A. I. R. 1924 Pat. 23

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 21, R. 11.

——— O. 21, R. 11 (2)—Means of livelihood should be kept intact if the decretal amount can be otherwise satisfied.

It is clearly the intention of the law that debtors should be compelled to pay their just debts but it is not reasonable to compel them to do so by means which will deprive them of their livelihood, if there is available an alternative method, which will be reasonably fair to the creditor. (Heald, J.) THOMAS A. CHAPPLE v. E. Y. MAMSA BROTHERS. 3 Bur. L. J. 97 : 82 I. C. 827 : A. I. R. 1925 Rang. 33.

———O. 21, R. 11 (2)—Non-compliance.

Non-compliance with immaterial provisions of O. 21, R. 11 (2) will not vitiate an execution application. (Kennedy, J. C. and Raymond, A. J. C.) SUHIGRAM v. TOWER GUL. 15 S. L. R. 156 : 65 I.C. 14 : A. I. R 1922 Sind 29.

———O. 21, Rr. 11 (2) (g) and 17, S. 151—Execution of decree—Interest wrongly stated in application—Application for amendment.

Order 21, Rule 17, merely requires the Court, to which an application for execution is made, to ascertain that the application complies in form with the provisions of Rules 11 to 14. It does not impose upon the Court the duty to see that the amount entered in the application as due by way of interest under R. 11 (2) (g) is correct. (Das and Adami, JJ.) CHOWDHURI v. SRIMATI MANMOHINI. 1 P. 149 : A.I.R. 1922 Pat. 409.

———O. 21, Rr. 13, 17—Execution application—Attachment of immoveable properties prayed for—List of properties not filed—List filed at a time when decree barred—Order dismissing petition—If amounts to a refusal of jurisdiction—Interference in revision.

An application to execute a decree, dated 7th March, 1910, was filed on 28th February, 1922, and the relief asked for was the attachment of immoveable properties. The description of the properties as required by O. 21, R. 13, was not given in the petition, but was promised to be furnished later. The list was filed only on 5th April, 1922, more than twelve years after the date of the decree. The executing Court dismissed the application as time—barred. Held, the Court had an option under O. 21, R. 17 either to reject the application as originally presented or to allow the defect to be remedied within a time to be fixed by it. Declining to pass such a remedial order did not amount to a refusal of jurisdiction ; and as no order had been passed under O. 21, R. 17 (1) allowing the defect to be remedied within a time fixed by the Court, the execution application could date only from the time when it fully conformed to O. 21, R. 13 and that being the 5th April, 1922, the decree was barred. (Jackson, J.) SANKARAN NAIR v. AMBU. (1925) M. W. N. 917 : 49 M. L. J. 699.

———O. 21, R. 15—Joint decree—Execution by one decree-holder—Reservation of rights of others—Purchase by decree holder—Effect.

One of several mortgage decree-holders executed his portion of the decree reserving the rights of the others and purchased the property himself Held, it enured to the benefit of all of them. (Sulaiman, J.) KHUB CHAND v. TODAR MAL. A. I. R. 1924 All. 813.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 21, R. 16.

———O. 21, R. 15—Adjustment of rights of decree-holders—Discretion—Joint decree—Discharge cannot be given by one of the decree-holders.

O. 21, R. 15 of the C. P. Code allows a wide discretion to the Court, which has authority to make such adjustments of the rights of the decree-holders inter se as it may think equitable and proper. A decree for costs passed in a partition suit in favour of several plaintiffs can only be executed by all the decree-holders jointly or by some only of the decree-holders subject to the provisions of O. 21, R. 15, C. P. Code. It is not competent to one of several joint decree-holders to grant full discharge of the decree out of Court or to certify to the Court complete satisfaction of the decree without the concurrence of all the decree-holders. (Piggott and Walsh, JJ.) UMRAO BEG v. MUKHTAR BEG. 45 A. 401 : L. R. 4 A. 516 . 21 A. L. J. 308 : 74 I. C. 687 : A. I. R. 1923 All. 494.

———O. 21, Rr. 15 and 16—Order under—No appeal.

No appeal is provided against an order under O. 21, R. 15 or R. 16, C. P. Code. 23 Bom. 620. Ref. to. (Spencer and Odgers, JJ.) BUDARAJU HANUMANTA RAO v. ALLAMNENI KRISHNAMMA. 32 M. L. T. 118 (2) : 70 I. C. 329 : A.I.R. 1924 Mad. 518.

——— O. 21, R 15—Partition decree—Joint decree—Share awarded to defendant.

Similarity between the rights of each of the parties does not make partition decree a joint decree in favour of co-sharers. (Oldfield and Venkatasubba Rao, JJ.) WASUDEV MUTHA SHASTRI v. VITHAL SHASTRI. 16 L. W. 292 : (1922) M. W. N. 518 : 70 I. C. 296 : 31 M. L. T. 311 : A.I.R.1922 Mad 456 : 43 M. L. J. 379.

———O. 21, R. 15—Court need not determine who are the other decree-holders before making order under R. 15—Order safeguarding interests of heirs of deceased decree-holder—Notice to heirs not necessary.

Before making an order under O. 21, R. 15 it is not necessary for the Court to enquire as to who the other decree-holders are for whose benefit the execution is to proceed. Where the Court directs the execution to proceed under O. 21, R. 15 and safeguards the interests of the other decree-holders, whoever they might be, the question whether the execution could proceed without notice to the heirs of the deceased decree-holders does not arise. (Adami and Kulwant Sahay, JJ.) M. NAZIRUL HASAN v. ABDUL WAHAB KHAN. 1925 P. H. C. C. 228 : 89 I. C. 811 : A.I.R. 1925 Pat. 591.

——— O. 21, Rr. 15 and 22—Defective application.

Application though defective saves limitation. (Coutts and Das, JJ.) GOBARDHAN DAS v. SATISHCHANDRA. 1 P. 609 : 69 I. C. 668 : 4 Pat. L. T. 263 : A. I. R. 1922 Pat. 597.

———O. 21, R. 16—Execution of decree granted—Judgment-debtor cannot afterwards say decree is not executable.

So long as an order allowing execution of the decree at the instance of the transferee of the decree stands, the judgment-debtor cannot be heard to say that the decree is not executable. The proper time for the judgment-debtor to raise the objection is when the notice is sent to him under O. 21, R. 16, to show cause why the execution should not be granted. (Mukerji and Boys, JJ.) RAMCHARAN SAHU v. SALEKRAM SAHU. L. R. 6 A. (Civ.) 295 : 87 I.C. 436 : A. I. R. 1925 All. 662.

———O. 21, R. 16—Assignment of decree—Application for recognition—Judgment-debtor—Failure to object—Effect.

The failure of a judgment-debtor to object when an application is put in for the recognition of an assignment of the decree bars him from raising such objection at a later stage. (Mukerjee and Dalal, JJ.) DWARKA DAS v. MUHAMMAD ASHFAGULLAH.

22 A. L. J. 928 : 80 I. C. 722 : L. R. 5 A. 744 : 47 A. 86 : A. I. R. 1925 All. 117.

——O. 21, R. 16—Assignment of decree—"Transfer by assignment or operation of law"—Meaning of.

The words "transfer by assignment in writing or by operation of law" in O. 21, R. 16 mean a transfer of all the transferor's interest in the decree. Unless the whole interest is exhausted there is not a transfer within the meaning of the rule. (Ryves and Stuart, JJ.) MAZHAR HUSSAIN v. MT. AMTUL BIBI.

L. R. 3 A 297 : 66 I. C. 679 : A. I. R. 1922 All. 101.

——O. 21, R. 16—Applicability—Transferee of property but not of decree cannot apply under this rule.

No one can execute a decree except the decree-holder or a person to whom the decree has been transferred by assignment in writing or operation of law. A transferee of the property forming the subject of a suit who has not obtained a transfer of the decree cannot execute it. 17 I. C. 512, Foll. (Stuart, J.) SHIB CHARAN DAS v. RAM CHANDER.

66 I. C. 878 : A. I. R. 1922 All. 98.

——O. 21, R. 16—Purchaser of property covered by decree—Assignment not recognized by Court—Locus standi to intervene in execution proceedings.

A decree-holder assigned some of the properties covered by the decree to a stranger and then applied to execute his decree without impleading his assignee. Against the order in execution the assignee appealed. Held, he had no locus standi to appeal, as he had not got his assignment recognised by Court under O. 21, R. 16, C. P. Code. (Macleod, C. J. and Shah, J.) VITHAL LAXMAN NAIK v. MAHADEV RAGHUNATH.

26 Bom. L. R. 333 : A. I. R. 1924 Bom. 426.

——O. 21, Rr. 16 and 2—Transfer of decree—Proof of uncertified payment.

When an application is made to the Court under O. 21, R. 16, C. P. Code, it must be made to the Court which passed the decree and not to the Court executing the decree, so that proof can be given of any uncertified payments. The judgment-debtor is entitled in resisting the application to plead that the debt was satisfied. (Macleod, C. J. and Shah, J.) GANPAYA NARNAPPA v. KRISHNAPPA ANNAYA.

26 Bom. L. R. 491 : 80 I. C. 423 : A. I. R. 1924 Bom. 394.

——O. 21, R. 16—Revivor—Notice issued under Lim. Act, Art. 183.

The issue of a notice under O. 21 R. 16, C. P. Code, does not operate as a revivor under Art. 183 of the Lim. Act. (Newbould and Ghose, JJ.) KHAJEH SALALUDDIN v. AFZAL BEGUM.

39 C. L J. 590 : 28 C. W. N. 963 : A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 23.

——O. 21, R. 16—Contest by judgment-debtor.

There is no need for the judgment-debtor, even if notice was served on him, to appear and contest the application made by the assignee of the decree as to his right to execute the decree until an application for execution is made. (Newbould and B. B. Ghosh, JJ.) KHAJEH SALALUDDIN v. AFZAL BEGUM.

28 C. W. N. 963 : 39 C. L. J. 590 : 84 I. C. 68 : A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 23.

——O. 21, R. 16—Assignment of decree—Transferee by operation of law—Assignment of lands together with arrears of back rents—Subsequent decree for back rents—Right of assignee to execute.

An assignment of a decree not by operation of law, to be valid, must be in writing and a transferee under an oral assignment has no locus standi to execute the decree. Transferees by operation of law ordinarily would be legal representatives of the deceased decree-holder or the official assignee in the case of insolvent debtor or the purchaser of a decree at a Court sale or a minor succeeding to the estate which was in the hands of an executor and other instances where there is a vesting of interest by operation of the statute. A person to whom a party agrees to transfer a decree that may be passed in a suit is not a transferee within O. 21, R. 16, C. P Code. A transfer of the property during the pendency of the suit does not entitle the purchaser to apply for the execution of the decree, unless he has taken steps to have his name substituted in the suit in the place of his vendor and O. 21, R. 16 does not apply to such a case. An assignment of properties with all its back or future rents does not enable the assignee to execute a decree for rent subsequently obtained by the landlord when the decree itself has not been assigned. (Mukerjee and Walmsley, JJ.) MATHURAPUR ZEMINDARY CO., LTD. v. BHASARAM MANDAL.

28 C. W. N. 626 : 39 C. L. J. 373 : 51 Cal. 703 : 80 I. C. 881 : A. I. R. 1924 Cal. 661.

——O. 21, R. 16—Applicability—Award filed in Court.

The provisions of O. 21, R. 16 can apply to an award filed in Court, and the assignee of such an award can apply for execution of the same and the recognition of his rights. (Greaves, J.) GLADSTONE WYLLIE & CO. v. JOOSUB PEER MAHOMED.

27 C. W. N. 666 : 77 I. C 868 : A. I. R. 1924 Cal. 117.

——O. 21, R. 16—Decree-holder—Transfer to another—Right of execution.

The holder of a decree for pre-emption who subsequently sells the property to a stranger does not by such conduct debar himself from obtaining possession, in execution of the decree. The only right of the judgment-debtor is to receive the money before handing over possession. (Campbell, J.) FAQIR MAHAMMAD KHAN v. PIRDAD KHAN.

A. I. R. 1924 Lah. 615.

——O. 21, R. 16—Assignment of decree—Bona fides—Determination of—Application for execution.

If the assignee of a decree does not make an application for the execution of the decree it is not the duty of the Court suo motu to determine the question of assignment and make the assignee a party to the decree. Where, however, no formal application for execution had been made by the assignee in the lower Court but the assignee decree-holder wanted to execute the decree, the absence of a formal application under O. 21, R. 16 is a mere irregularity and does not prevent the Court from deciding the validity of the assignment. (Shadi Lal, C. J.) HARDITTA v. NIGAHIA MAL.

4 Lah. L. J. 259 : A I. R. 1922 Lah. 396.

——O. 21, R. 16—Non-compliance.

The provisions of O. 21, R. 16 of the C. P. Code are of a mandatory nature and non-compliance with the provisions thereof renders all proceedings in execution void 36 Bom. 58 : 9 All. 46, Foll. (Wilberforce and Abdul Qadir, JJ.) NOTAN DAS v. LACHMAN SINGH.

3 Lah. L. J. 434 : 63 I. C. 884 : 2 Lah. 230.

——O 21, R. 16—Application to be brought on record as transferee-decree-holder—C. P. Code, does not provide for such application.

There is no provision in the Civil Procedure Code for an application to be brought as transferee-decree-holder. The scheme of the Code is that the transferee by assignment in writing or by operation of law merely files his application for execution of the decree setting out either in it or in an affidavit he has filed in support thereof, that he is the transferee either by operation of law or by any particular instrument in writing and thereupon the Court admits the application for execution or rejects it. 21 Mad. 388 Overruled. 5 Cal. L. R. 253 Dissented from. (Coutts-Trotter, C. J. and Srinivasa Aiyangar, J.) PALANIAPPA CHETTY v. SUBRAMANIA CHETTIAR. 21 L. W. 545 : 88 I. C. 409 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 701 : 48 M. L. J. 419.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 21, R. 16.

——0. 21, R. 16—Second proviso—Applicability of, to mortgage decrees.

The second proviso to O. 21, R. 16, Civil Procedure Code, has no application to mortgage decrees for sale. 43 M. L. J. 761 Distinguished. 14 C. L. J. 639, 642 : 27 C. L. J. 110 Rel. on. (Wallace and Jackson, JJ.) RAJARATHNA NAIDU v. RAMACHANDRA NAIDU. 20 L. W. 465 : 35 M. L. T. 81 : (1924) M. W. N. 747: 82 I. C. 948 . 47 M. 948 : A. I. R. 1924 Mad. 901 (1) : 47 M. L. J. 434.

——0. 21, R. 16 Proviso—Benami assignee—Decree against several debtors—Assignment benami for one—No execution can be had against others.

Where a decree for payment of money against several persons personally and out of the assets in the hands of another judgment-debtor is assigned to a stranger benami for one of the judgment-debtors, the decree is incapable of execution against the other judgment-debtors. 31 B. 308 Not Foll. O. 21, R. 2, C. P. Code, is no bar to the recognition of the adjustment of the decree in a case like the present. 40 M. 296 : 4 C. W. N. 534. Foll. (Spencer and Venkatasubba Rao, JJ.) SADAGOPA AIYANGAR v. SELLAMMAL. 16 L. W. 7 8 : 31 M. L. T. 463 : A. I. R. 1922 Mad. 510 (1) : 43 M. L. J. 761.

——0 21, R. 16 and 0. 22, R. 10 (1)—Applicability—Transfer of part of decree—Right of transferee to execute is not affected.

S. 146 of the C. P. Code recognizes the validity of a transfer of a part of a decree and execution thereof by a transferee. O. 21, R. 16 is no bar to the application of the section. Such transferee is like a joint decree-holder and can, under O. 21, R. 15, protect his rights either by executing the decree himself or by joining or intervening in the execution by his transferor. An agreement by the transferee of part of a decree that the transferor shall conduct execution proceedings and may compromise the same as he thinks fit, only constitutes the transferor the agent of the transferee and the agency is revocable (Wallis C. J. Spencer and Kumaraswami Sastri, JJ.) MUTHIAH CHETTIAR v. GOVINDOSS KRISHNADOSS. 44 Mad. 919 : 69 I. C. 337 : (1921) M. W. N. 649 : 14 L. W. 287 : 41 M. L. J. 316 (F. B.).

——0. 21, R. 16—Benami assignee—Right to execute—Decree for money against several persons—Meaning of.

The execution of a decree by a benamidar for one of the judgment-debtors is barred under O. 21, R. 16, C. P. Code. The expression "decree for money against several persons" is not restricted in its application to a personal decree for money against two or more defendants. (Baker, O. J. C.) NANHELAL v. MANGILAL. 19 N. L. R. 151 : 78 I. C 372 : A. I. R. 1924 Nag. 41.

——0. 21. R. 16 and S. 42—Legal representation—Transfer to Revenue Court—Recognition of assignment—Power to execute.

Under O. 21, R. 16 of the C. P. Code, the heirs of a deceased decree-holder may apply for execution to the Court that passed the decree, and under S. 42 of the C. P. Code, they can do so equally to any Court to which that decree has been transferred for execution. It may also be that the right to apply for execution in these circumstances includes the right to carry on an execution already initiated by the deceased decree-holder. But both these things can be done only in a Civil Court. The Tahsildar as Revenue Officer has certain powers in the execution of a decree by ejectment, but he cannot execute such a decree in favour of any one but the person named in it. When it is ordered to give possession of a holding to a certain person who is then alive, he has no more power to give possession to anybody else whom he considers to be the heir of that person than a Mazkuri would have in the same circumstances. (Hallifax, A. J. C.) MT. KRISHNA BAI v. DEBI SINGH. 71 I. C. 409 : A. I. R. 1923 Nag. 195.

——0. 21, R. 16—Bank decree-holder—Amalgamation with another Bank—Latter Bank can apply under O. 21, R. 16.

Where the decree-holder is a Bank and during the pendency of execution proceedings, the Bank is voluntarily wound up and amalgamated with another Bank under an agreement of transfer of the assets of the former Bank to the latter, there is a valid transfer of the decree as is required by O. 21, R. 16. (Dalal and Wazir Hasan, A. J. Cs.) KALIMUDDIN v. TATA INDUSTRIAL BANK, LTD. 2 O. W. N. 352 : A. I. R. 1925 Oudh 417.

——0. 21, R. 16—Assignees of decree—Disputes between—Adjudication on—Revision.

A dispute between two persons who claimed to be assignees of a decree was taken up under S. 47, C. P. Code, and was subsequently treated as a suit. An application was filed by the defeated party to revise the order. Held, whether it fell under S. 47 or whether it was passed in a regular suit the order was appealable. If it were to be treated as falling under O. 21, R. 16 the Court had jurisdiction to decide the dispute in favour of one of the parties. (Jwala Prasad and Kulwant Sahay, JJ.) RUN BAHADUR SINGH v. BAJNANJIJE PRASAD SINGH. 3 Pat. 344 : 1924 P. H. C. C. 193 : 78 I. C. 495 : A. I. R. 1925 Pat. 16.

——0. 21, R. 16—Provisions of, mandatory—Notice to transferors—Necessity for.

The provisions of O. 21, R. 16, C. P. Code, are mandatory and notices under the rule should be issued to the transferors and judgment-debtors. Non-compliance with O. 21, R. 16, C. P. Code renders all the proceedings in execution void. (Adami and Bucknill, JJ.) BHAGWANTA KOER v. ZAMIN AHMAD KHAN. 1924 P. H. C. C. 221 : 2 Pat. L. R. 249 : 5 P. L. T. 451 : 3 Pat. 596 : A. I. R. 1924 Pat. 576.

——0. 21, R. 16—If mandatory—Notice—What amounts to—Application during pendency of execution—Effect of.

Where an order for substitution was passed in the presence of the transferors and the debtors, no notice is necessary. O. 21, R. 16 requires notice of the application for execution and not of the assignment to be given to the transferor and the judgment-debtor and, therefore where assignee applies during the pendency of an execution case to continue it, he does not apply for fresh execution and no notice is required. The provisions of R. 16 are mandatory and non-compliance renders proceedings in execution void. (Adami and Bucknill, JJ.) MT. BHAGWANTA KOER v. ZAMIN AHMED KHAN. 5 Pat L. T. 451 : 78 I. C. 766 : 1924 P. H. C. C. 221 : 3 Pat. 596 : A. I. R. 1924 Pat. 576.

——0. 21, R. 16—Legal representation—Transfer by operation of law—Assignment not necessary.

Where the trustee of certain lands obtained a decree for rent against certain tenants but before the execution of the decree, the trust was declared invalid and thereupon the owner of the properties applied to execute the decree, held, he must be deemed to have become an assignee of the decree by operation of law and was competent to execute the decree although there was no formal assignment from the ex-trustee. (Jwala Prasad and Foster, JJ.) GOBIND SINGH v. MAHARAJA KUMAR GOPAL SARAN NARAIN SINGH. 4 P. L. T. 731 : 2 Pat. L. R. 27 : A. I. R. 1924 Pat. 343.

——0. 21, R. 16—Assignment of decree—Validity—Notice.

An assignment of a decree debt is not valid as against the debtor until the debtor has in fact notice of the assignment and any payment to the original decree-holder is valid, against the assignee if made before notice of the assignment. (Miller, C. J. and Kulwant Sahay, J.) TATA IRON AND STEEL CO., LTD. v. BAIDYANATH LAIK. 2 Pat. 754 : A. I. R. 1924 Pat. 118.

——0. 21, R. 16—Applicability—Transfer of property which is the subject of decree—Transferee cannot apply.

Where property forming the subject of a decree is transferred, the transferee cannot execute the decree unless his name has been substituted in the suit in the place of his vendor. O. 21, R. 16, C. P. Code, does not apply to the case nor does S. 146, C. P. Code, enable the transferee to apply for execution. 17 M.L.J. 391 ; 17 I. C. 512 : 30 I. C. 831. (Adami and Bucknill, JJ.) THAKURI GOPE v. MALIK MOKHTAR AHMAD. 3 Pat. L. T. 625 : 1922 P. H. C. C. 256 : 69 I. C. 959 : A. I. R. 1922 Pat. 563.

——0. 21, R. 16—Notice of assignment—Reasons for giving.

The assignee must, under R. 16, give notice not of the assignment but of the execution proceedings to the judgment-debtor and transferor. (Das and Adami, JJ.) GOLAB SINGH v. MOHAMMAD ZAFFAR HASSAN KHAN. 2 Pat. L. T. 619 : 62 I. C. 30 : 6 P. L. J. 358.

——0. 21, R. 16—Benami assignee—Substitution of name.

The Executing Court can substitute the name of the assignee of a decree and permit him to execute it, though the assignment is benami. (Rigg, J.) LALL DWARKADAS v. BURMA RAILWAYS CO. 10 L. B. R. 280 : 62 I. C. 299 : 13 Bur. L. T. 173.

——0. 21, R. 17—Amendment—Power of Court—Amendment after 12 years, but application within time—Effect.

O. 21, R. 17 does not take away the power of Court to amend an application for execution at any time before its disposal. An application so amended is one in accordance with law and must be decreed to have been presented at the date of the original presentation itself. An application for execution was filed within 12 years of the decree but it required an amendment, which however was made at a time when the decree was more than 12 years old. Held, nevertheless, the application is not barred under S. 48. (Spencer and Devadoss, JJ.) VEMURI PITCHAYYA v. RAJA YARLAGADDA. 18 L. W. 739 : 33 M. L. T. (H. C.) 125 : 76 I. C. 750 : A. I. R. 1924 Mad. 367 : 45 M L. J. 651.

——0. 21, R. 17—Order for amendment—Non-compliance—Rejection.

Under R. 17 of O. 21 of the present Code, the Court is not expressly bound to reject an application not amended in accordance with its orders, as it was under S. 245 of the old Code, but the effect of the rule is that the Court is bound to reject it, unless it is duly amended within the time or the extended time allowed by the Court, or the decree-holder can show that it does not require amendment. An application that is rejected in limine has no more been presented than one that the applicant has taken with him into Court but has omitted to offer to the Judge or to the proper officer. (Hallifax, A. J. C.) MEGHRAJ v. ABDUL MAJID. 17 N. L. R. 179 : 63 I. C. 971 : 4 N. L. J. 71.

——0. 21, R. 17—Amendment—Inclusion of prayer for attachment of more properties is not an amendment.

Where an execution application has been registered under O. 21, R. 17, C. P. Code, no amendment is possible thereafter. An application to file fresh list of properties against which execution is also prayed for, is not an amendment of the execution petition. (Miller, C. J. and Kulwant Sahay, J.) CHAURASI MAHASARICK v. BHAGAN SAHU. 2 Pat. 787 : 74 I. C. 144 : 1923 P. H. C. C. 209 : A. I. R. 1924 Pat. 20.

——0. 21, R. 17—Court can allow amendment or reject application for non-compliance of provisions.

Under O. 21, R. 17. C. P. Code, whenever an execution application is put in court which does not conform to the provissions of Rules 11 to 14 of Order 21, the Court has the power either to reject the application or to allow the defect to be remedied. It does not impose upon the court the duty to calculate interest due under the decree. (Das and Adami, JJ.) CHOWDHURI CHINTAMONI MAHAPATRA v. MONMOHINI DEBI. 1 P. 149 : 69 I. C. 200 : A. I. R. 1922 Pat. 409.

——0. 21, R. 18—Attaching decree-holder.

Attaching decree-holders are assignees within the meaning of O. 21, R. 18. (Chatterjee and Panton, JJ.) ADWITCHANDRA SAHA v. CHITTAGONG CO. LTD. 28 C. W. N. 988 : 84 I. C. 747 : A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 102.

——0. 21, R. 18—Attaching decree-holder executing decree for mesne profits passed under S. 144—C. P. Code—Court has inherent power to allow judgment-debtor to set-off decree for larger sum obtained by himself against the original holder of the decree for mesne profits—C. P. Code, S. 151.

Where a party attaches in execution a decree for mesne profits obtained by the judgment-debtor under S. 144 of the C. P. Code against a third party though the case may not strictly fall within O. 21, R. 18, the Court has inherent power to allow such third party to set off as against the attaching decree-holder executing the decree for mesne profits against him (i.e., the third party referred to) a decree which he holds for a larger sum against the original holder of he decree for mesne profits. (Chatterjee and Panton, JJ.) ADWITCHANDRA SAHA v. CHITTAGONG CO., LTD. 28 C. W. N. 988 : 84 I. C. 747 : A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 102.

——0. 21, R. 18—Scope.

Rule 18 applies even though one decree is in a suit and the other is in a miscellaneous proceeding under S. 144 C. P. Code. (Chatterjee and Panton, JJ). ADWITCHANDRA SAHA v. CHITTAGONG CO., LTD. 28 C. W. N. 988 : 84 I. C. 747 : A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 102.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908). O. 21, R. 18.

——— O. 21, R. 18—Pre-emption decree with costs—Plaintiff can set off costs against deposit amount.

Where a suit for pre-emption is decreed and plff. is awarded costs he is entitled to deduction of costs from deposit made by him. (Chevis and Scott-Smith, JJ.) KUPURIA MAL v. WALI MUHAMMAD. 2 Lah. 294 : 4 Lah. L. J. 354 : 65 I. C. 250 : 23 P. L. R. 1922 : A. I. R. 1922 Lah. 142.

———O. 21, R. 19—Conditional decree for possession—Payment of costs—Right to set off—Delay in deposit—Treasury closed on the last day—Effect of.

Plaintiff obtained a decree for possession on condition of paying a sum of Rs. 38 and odd to the defendant within thirty days and the parties were ordered to pay and receive proportionate costs. Under the decree as drawn up plaintiff was entitled to get Rs. 70 and odd from the defendant and the defendant to get Rs. 15 and odd from the plaintiff. On the thirtieth day the plaintiff tendered Rs. 39 and odd to the Court and was given a chalan to the treasury officer. By the time the plaintiff reached the treasury, it was closed and the deposit was made on the next day. On a question arising as to whether the plaintiff had fulfilled the condition in the decree, held, that the plaintiff must be deemed to be entitled to set off Rs. 38 and odd directed to be paid to the defendant against Rs. 70 and odd awarded to him as costs and that the condition about payment within thirty days must be deemed to have been automatically fulfilled. Apart from this, the plff. had not fulfilled the condition in the decree. (Ryves and Mukerji, JJ.) GULZARI v. LACHHMI DHAR. L. R. 5 A. 59.

———O. 21, R. 19—Jurisdiction.

Where the claim sprang from a compromise entered into between the parties, the object of which was to put an end to all disputes between them and it was never contemplated that another action should be brought in respect of any of the matters which formed the subject-matter of the settlement: Held, the execution Court has jurisdiction, though the decree merely declares the rights of the parties inter se and does not direct any act to be done. (Shadi Lal, C.J. and Abdul Qadir, J.) HAJI MAHOMMED TAQI v. HAJI ABDUL RAHMAN. A. I. R. 1923 Lah. 151.

———O. 21. R. 19—Cross-claims under a decree.

Where the plaintiff obtained a decree against the fourth defendant for a sum of money which she was entitled to as her own Stridhanam, and under the same decree she was liable to the fourth defendant for a larger amount in respect of her mother's estate as her mother's heiress, and the plaintiff's husband as the legal representative of the plaintiff to her Stridhanam sought to execute the decree for the smaller amount against the fourth defendant while the heir in respect of the plff.'s mother's estate was the first defendant, the plaintiff's brother, held, that the decree was inexecutable in the hands of her husband and that O. 21 R. 19. C. P. C., applied and consequently the decree was satisfied to the extent of the smaller amount. 40 Bom. 60. Ref. to. (Oldfield and Venkatasubba Rao, JJ.) VENKATANARAYANA v. PURVADA NARASIMHA ROW. 17 L. W. 643 : 32 M. L. T. (H C.) 341 : (1923) M. W. N. 474 : 72 I. C. 865 : A. I. R. 1923 Mad. 638 : 44 M. L. J 590.

———O. 21, R. 19—Pre-emption decree—Costs cannot be set off against deposit amount.

A vendee against whom a decree for pre-emption has been passed subject to a certain amount being deposited, is not a person who can recover the purchase-money from the plaintiff unless he chooses to deposit it. He cannot compel the plaintiff to exercise his rights under the decree for pre-emption and the case does not fall under O. 21, R. 19. Hence costs awarded cannot be set off against the amount to be deposited as pre-emption money. (Kanhaiya Lal, J.C.) NILKANTH v. MAHABIR SINGH. 26 O. C. 345 : 74 I. C. 558 : 9 O. & A. L. R. 207 : A. I. R. 1924 Ordh 104.

———O. 21, R. 21—Simultaneous attachment and arrest is discretionary for Court both in execution and before judgment though limited by O. 38 in latter case—C. P. Code, O. 38.

The power of the Court to issue simultaneously execution for arrest and attachment is entirely discretionary under the Code. It has the same power in matters before judgment, limited however by the provisions of O 38 of the Sch (7 Bom. 301, Ref.) (Duckworth and Godfrey, JJ.) SYED HOOSEIN v. S. R. M. M. C. T. CHETTIAR FIRM. 2 Rang. 362 : 3 Bur. L. J. 159 : 84 I. C. 270 : A. I. R. 1924 Rang. 361.

———O. 21, R. 22—Legal representative—Deceased judgment-debtor — True legal representative not brought on record—Notice to intermeddler—Objection.

An execution creditor can serve notice on an intermeddler of the estate of the deceased judgment-debtor and that would be a service on the legal representative, but he is liable to be met with objection, afterwards, that the person who was served with notice, was not really an intermeddler or that, in fact there was a true legal representative in existence at the time. (Macleod, C.J. and Shaw, J.) SHANKER DAJI NAIK v. DATTATREYA. 45 Bom. 1186 : 63 I. C. 248 : 23 Bom. L. R. 514.

———O. 21, R. 22—One judgment debtor ceasing to have interest in the property—Failure to serve him with notice does not render proceedings invalid—Lim. Act, Art. 182.

The object of the notice under R. 22 evidently is to enable the judgment-debtor to show cause, if any, why the decree should not be executed and also to give him an opportunity of satisfying the decree. (25 C. W. N. 972. Foll.) Where one of several judgment-debtors has ceased to have an interest in the property, a failure to serve him with notice does not vitiate the execution proceedings, in view of a definite provision to that effect in Art. 182 of the Lim. Act. (Suhrawardy and Duval, JJ.) TARA PRASANNA SINHA v. JNANENDRA NARAYAN. 88 I. C. 1039 : A. I. R. 1926 Cal. 86.

———O. 21, R. 22—One judgment-debtor dying—Some legal representatives already on record in their own capacities—Notice.

Though the name of a judgment-debtor is entered in the execution proceedings after his death yet where his legal representatives or some of them are on the record any further notice is not necessary. (42 Cal. 72, Ref.) The omission to serve notice on some other legal representatives of the deceased is only an irregularity which cannot vitiate a sale in execution. (Chotzner and Graham, JJ.) AZIZANNESSA v. DWARIKA PROSAD. 86 I. C. 745 : A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 1227.

———O. 21. R. 22—Application under.

Application for issue of notice upon the judgment-debtor or his representative, is a step-in-aid. (Mukerjee and Panton, JJ.) SADAY CHANDRA JANA v. PORESH NATH. 35 C. L. J. 82 : 65 I.C. 571 : A. I. R. 1922 Cal. 44.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 21, R. 22.

——O. 21, R. 22—Application for transfer of decree and for issue of notice to Judgment-debtor.

O. 21, R. 22 provides that notice to the judgment debtor, to show cause against execution shall be issued by the Court executing the decree. The Court which transfers a decree has no power to issue the notice. An application for transfer of a decree is not an application for execution. (Chatterjee and Newbould, JJ.) HAZARI LAL v. BAIDYA NATH SAHA.
26 C. W. N. 292 : A. I. R. 1922 Cal. 3.

——O. 21, R. 22—Notice essential—Execution proceedings without notice is a nullity.

An order for execution without notice under S. 248 of the Code of 1882 is without jurisdiction and a nullity and the excution sale cannot stand. A mere issue of a notice is not sufficient under the section. It must be served. (Chatterjee and Newbould, JJ.) GURUDAS BISWAS v. THAKAMANI.
64 I. C. 476 : 25 C. W. N. 972.

——O. 21, R. 22—Notice—Minor judgment-debtor—Sufficiency.

O. 21, R. 22, is sufficiently complied with, in case of all the co-tenant judgment-debtors living in the same house if the notice is delivered to all of them at their house even if some of them be minors whose guardians ad litem have died and no new appointment has been made in the execution proceedings. (Sanderson, C.J. and Richardson, J.) FANI BHUSAN v. SURENDRA NATH. 64 I. C. 25 : 35 C. L. J. 9.

——O. 21, R. 22—Notice setting aside without—Appeal.

An appeal lies from an order setting aside execution sale without notice to the auction-purchaser at the instance of the auction-purchaser. (Scott-Smith, J.) GUL BANO v. MUHAMMAD ZAKAR KHAN.
3 Lah. L. J. 463.

——O. 21, R. 22—Execution sale held after judgment-debtor's death—Legal representative not brought on record—Sale is a nullity—C. P. Code, S. 50.

Execution sale held after the death of the judgment-debtor without bringing the legal representatives on record is a nullity. 42 Cal. 72 [P. C.] Foll. 1922 Mad. 307 Appr. 1924 Mad. 130 Diss. (Phillips, J.) KARIPINENI RAJAYYA v. ANNAPURNAMMA.
22 L. W. 828 : A. I. R. 1926 Mad. 138.

——O. 21, R. 22—Major—Execution proceedings—If legal representative.

A major who is entitled to appear to the exclusion of the guardian appointed during his minority is not within the definition of legal representative under S. 2, C. P. Code, and is not entitled to fresh notice under O. 21, R. 22. (Oldfield and Devadoss, JJ.) NAGAPPA CHETTY v. MUTHURAMAN CHETTY. 78 I. C. 12 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 158.

——O. 21, Rr. 22 and 90—Limitation Act, Articles 166 and 181—Execution sale without notice under O. 21, R. 22, where such notice is necessary—Sale, void and not merely voidable—Application to set aside a void execution sale, governed by Art. 181 of the Limitation Act and by Art. 166—Failure to give notice under O. 21, R. 22, whether an irregularity in publishing or conducting the sale within the meaning of O. 21, R. 90.

In cases where notice under O. 21, R. 22, of the Code of Civil Procedure has not been issued and omission is not due to the fact that sub-rule (2) has been applied, but to the fact that notice was not asked for, sales held in execution are void and not merely voidable as against the persons to whom notice should have been, but was not issued. 45 M. 875 and 45 M. L. J. 413, overruled. 42 C. 72 ; 44 C. 954 Foll. 25 B. 337 and 14 IC. 18 distinguished. Where a sale in execution is void as against a party, an application to set it aside, under S. 47 of the C. P. Code or otherwise is governed by Art. 181 of the Limitation Act and not by Art. 166, 43 M. 313 App.

Per Chief Justice and Wallace, J.—The failure to give notice of an application for leave to attach and sell under O. 21, R. 22 of the C. P Code is not an irregularity in publishing or conducting the sale within the meaning of O. 21, R. 90 of the Code. (Schwabe, C. J., Ramesam and Wallace, JJ.) RAJAGOPALA IYER v. RAMANUJA CHARIAR.
47 Mad. 288 : 19 L. W. 179 (F. B.) : (1924) M. W. N. 182 : 80 I. C. 92 : 34 M. L. T. (H. C.) 37 : A. I. R. 1924 Mad. 431 : 46 M. L. J. 104 (F. B.).

——O. 21, Rr. 22, 90—Dead person—Death of judgment-debtor after attachment and order for sale, but before sale—Legal representative not brought on record—Effect.

Where after attachment and order for sale the judgment-debtor dies but without his legal representative being brought on record, the sale takes place, it is not null and void on that account. The case where want of notice under O. 21, R. 22 constitutes a material irregularity is quite different. (Spencer and Krishnan, JJ.) MINOR DORAISWAMY v. CHIDAMBARAM PILLAI. 18 L. W. 577 : 33 M. L. T. (H. C.) 25 : (1923) M. W. N. 817 : 47 Mad. 63 : 75 I. C. 46 : A. I. R. 1924 Mad. 130 : 45 M. L. J. 413.

——O. 21, R. 22—Notice essential—Failure to record reasons for—Illegality or irregularity.

The provisions of O. 21, R. 23, Sub-S. (2) requiring the Court to record its reasons is only discretionary and the failure to issue a notice is necessarily fatal to the validity of the subsequent proceedings. In an appeal against an order refusing to set aside an execution sale on the ground of want of notice under O. 21, R. 22 it would ordinarily be open to the appellant to ask the appellate Court to consider the executing Court's use of its discretion on its merits. (Oldfield and Ramesam, JJ.) KASIVISVANATHAN CHETTY v. SOMASUNDARAM CHETTY. (1922) M. W. N. 173 : 70 I. C. 611 : 45 M. 875 : A. I. R. 1922 Mad. 93 : 42 M. L. J. 422.

——O. 21, R. 22—Notice-essential—Non-service of notice on defendant after attaining majority—Sale in execution—Effect.

The non-service of notice under O. 21, R. 22 upon a defendant after he attains majority is, though it does not render the subsequent proceedings a nullity, a serious irregularity which, until met by a valid defence, is sufficient to set aside the subsequent sale in execution. The burden is on the decree-holder to make out such a defence. One such defence might be established by proving that the defendant's interests were fully represented, to the knowledge of the defendant, by some other party to the proceedings. (Sadasiva Aiyar and Napier, JJ.) KRISHNASAMY AIYANGAR v. SOORIKUTTY GANAPATHY AIYAR.
(1921) M. W. N. 394 : 63 I. C. 903 : 14 L. W. 638.

——O. 21, R. 22—Transferee of decree—R. 22 does not apply.

The case of a transferee is not covered by the provisions of O. 21, R. 22. (Dalal, J. C. and Wazir Hasan, A. J. C.) JUNG BAHADUR v. BANK OF UPPER INDIA, LTD., LUCKNOW. 12 O. L. J. 146 : 87 I. C. 21 : 2 O. W. N. 73 : A. I. R. 1925 Oudh 448.

——O. 21, Rr. 22 and 23—Notice—Attachment without notice is not invalid.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 21, R. 22.

The issue of an attachment before the service of the notice issued under O. 21, R. 22 of the Code of Civil Procedure, is, in the absence of any sufficient cause justifying an apprehension that the property sought to be attached would be removed or transferred, a mere irregularity and the execution proceeding is not thereby rendered invalid. If there was any reason for the issue of an attachment before an order was passed under O. 21, R. 23 of the Code, it should have been recorded at the time. The failure to record the reason does not, however, per se render the attachment invalid. (Kanhaiya Lal, J. C.) GIRWAR SAHAI v. MANGAL. 26 O. C. 288 : 9 O. & A. L. R. 92 : 73 I. C. 241 : A. I. R. 1924 Oudh 120 (1).

——— O. 21, R. 22—Limitation—Failure to plead in the previous application—Effect of.

Where in the course of a previous execution proceeding, it was open to the judgment-debtor to plead limitation, but he failed to do so, he would be precluded from raising the same in a subsequent application which is within time from the prior application. 8 Cal. 51 ; 24 Mad. 669, Foll. (Kanhaiya Lal, C. J.) GANGA DIN v. DIP SINGH. 25 O. C. 13 : A. I. R. 1922 Oudh 117.

——— O. 21, R. 22—Rule applies to subsequent execution petitions and is not confined to first petition.

The rule applies to every application for execution and not merely the first application, and therefore, in every case where the application is made more than a year after the decree and more than a year after the last order was made against the judgment-debtor in any previous execution, a fresh notice must be served. 1925 Patna 111 dissented from. (Dawson Miller, C. J. Jwala Prasad and Das, JJ.) ADAYA PRASAD SINGH v. RAM NARAYAN DAS. 1925 P. H. C. C. 121 : 87 I. C. 531 : 6 P. L. T. 290 : A. I. R. 1925 Pat. 474 (F. B.).

——— O. 21, R. 22—Notice—When necessary—Object of.

O. 21, R. 22 requires the decree-holder to issue only one notice upon the Judgment-debtor or his legal representative. The object of the rule is merely to protect the judgment-debtor or his legal representative from being lulled into a sense of security. Once a notice is served, the rule does not contemplate that a fresh notice should be served for every execution application made more than one year after the last order against the judgment-debtor. (Mullick and Bucknill, JJ.) MAHADEO SINGH v. DHOBI SINGH. 2 Pat. 916 : 4 Pat. L. T. 721 : 1923 P. H. C. C. 283 : 74 I. C. 838 : A. I. R. 1924 Pat. 111.

——— O. 21, R. 22—Notice, when necessary—Omission to give notice, effect of.

Under O. 21, R. 22 the executing court is required to issue the notice therein required only in cases where the application is made more than one year after the date of the decree. Quaere—Whether the omission to issue the notice in cases in which it has to be issued renders the sale null and void. (Miller, C. J. and Adami, J.) BALDEO SINGH v. MEGHU SINGH. 74 I. C. 202 : 1919 P. H. C. C. 386.

——— O. 21, R. 22—Notice essential.

The omission to issue the notice under O. 21, R. 22 render the sale to be without, jurisdiction inasmuch as the notice under O. 21, R. 22 is the foundation of the execution of a decree presented more than a year after the date of the decree. But an irregularity in the service of the notice is quite a different thing from the absence of the issue of such notice. The former relates to procedure and the latter goes to the root of the jurisdiction of the Court. (Jwala Prasad and Adami, JJ.) DAS NARAYAN SINGH v. MIR MAHAMAD YUSUF. 3 U. P. L. R. (Pat.) 33 : 61 I. C. 828 : 2 Pat. L. T. 401 : 6 P. L. J. 319 : 1921 P. H. C. C. 181.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 21, R. 33.

——— O. 21, R. 26—Garnishee—Attaching decree-holder—Rights of.

Attaching decree-holders cannot by means of the attachment stand in a better position as regards the garnishee than the judgment-debtors did ; in other words the decree-holder could only obtain what the judgment-debtor could honestly give him. (Ghose, J.) AMARENDRA NATH SAHA v. S. BANERJEE & CO. 40 C. L. J. 228 : A. I. R. 1924 Cal. 1068.

——— O. 21, R. 26—Sub-rule 3 entitles Court to demand security before making order under sub-rule.

The judgment-debtor is not obliged to furnish security, but he may or may not furnish it as he pleases, so that the effect of the provision in sub-rule (3), by which the Court may, before making an order for staying execution require security from the judgment-debtor, is merely to empower the Court to make the stay order, which it has to pass under sub-rule (1), conditional on the giving of security. (Martineau, J.) GURANDITTA v. FIRM GURDASMAL. 7 Lah.L.J. 343 : 26 Punj. L. R. 634 : A. I. R. 1925 Lah. 552.

——— O. 21, R. 29—Applicability — Case coming under S. 47.

The provisions of O. 21, R. 29 apply to cases not coming under O. 21, R. 2 (3) read with S. 47 of the Code. (Chatterjee, J.) A. Y. REILY v. GOLAP KHAN. 27 C. W. N. 575 : A. I. R. 1923 Cal. 645.

——— O. 21, R. 29—No suit pending—Court cannot stay execution.

The execution Court had no power to stay the execution under O. 21, R. 29 of the C. P. Code if at that time no suit was pending before it against the decree-holder on the part of the judgment-debtor. (Scott-Smith, J.) FITZHOLMS v. WARAYAN SINGH. 75 I.C. 419 : A. I. R. 1923 Lah. 514.

——— O. 21, R. 30—Decree for money—Attachment when necessary.

In the case of a decree for money when it is provided that if it is not paid by a certain date specific immoveable property should be sold, no attachment is necessary under O. 21, R. 30. It is only in cases of decrees for money which do not affect any specific immoveable property that the rule applies. (Miller, C. J. and Kulwant Sahay, J.) JAGANNATH SAO v. DEBI PRASAD DHANDHANIA. 2 Pat. 768 : 73 I. C. 598 : A. I. R. 1924 Pat. 258 (1).

——— O. 21, R. 32—Decree for demolition of wall—New one erected after demolition—Remedy is only by a suit.

Where a wall is directed by a decree to be demolished as being an obstruction to a right of way, and is so demolished in execution of the decree, but the judgment-debtor erects another wall obstructing the right of way, held, that the proper remedy of the decree-holder is a suit for injunction. He cannot get the second wall demolished in execution of the first decree. (Martineau, J.) MALUKA v. SUNDAR SINGH. 59 I. C. 594 : 20 P. W. R. 1921.

——— O. 21, R. 33—Direction that wife should not be imprisoned—If can be interfered with.

Where a court in passing a decree for restitution of conjugal rights expressly directs the wife is not to be imprisoned if she does not comply with the decree an appellate court should not ordinarily interfere with the direction. (Daniels, J.) DHARINEE HAJJAM v. MT. PIARI. A. I. R. 1924 All. 836.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 21, R. 33.

——O. 21, R. 33—Decree for restitution of conjugal rights—Execution—Detention in prison should not be ordinarily ordered.

Ordinarily a court passing a decree for restitution of conjugal rights against a wife ought, under O. 21, R. 33 of the Code, direct that the decree shall not be executed by the detention of the wife in prison. The fact that the wife had already been in jail under the sentence of a Criminal Court and that it would be no violence to her feelings to be sent to jail if she disobeys the decree is no ground to refuse to exercise the discretion to be exercised by the court under R. 33. (Macleod, C. J. and Heaton, J.) BAI PARAVATI v. MANSUKH JETHA. 44 Bom. 972 : 59 I. C. 361 : 22 Bom. L. R. 1097.

——O. 21, R. 33—Decree for restitution of conjugal rights—Women not to be ordinarily sent to jail.

The tendency of modern legislation is against sending women to jail in civil matters. The Courts should sparingly exercise their power of sending women to jail. (Abdul Raoof, J.) MT. AMIR BIBI v. NUR MAHOMED. 73 I. C. 716 : A. I. R. 1924 Lah. 244

——O. 21, R. 33—Decree for restitution of conjugal rights—Detention of females in jail.

Though the tendency of modern legislation is against sending women to jail in civil matters, in a case where a husband has obtained a decree for restitution of conjugal rights which the wife refuses to obey, but she persists in leading an immoral life she must be detained in jail in execution of the decree. (Moti Sagar, J.) JAGAN NATH v. BASANT RAM. 75 I. C. 24 : A. I. R. 1923 Lah. 595 (2).

——O. 21, R. 34—Decree for specific performance—Defendant can execute.

A decree for specific performance can be executed by the defendant, (Macleod, C. J. and Coyajee, J.) KARIMA BIBI v. ABDER REHMAN. 24 Bom. L. R. 496 : 46 B. 990 : 67 I. C. 667 : A. I. R. 1923 Bom. 26.

——O. 21, R. 34—Compromise decree providing for execution of document can be enforced under this rule.

Where a suit for a declaration of title to a property, which has been attached in execution of a decree in another suit, is compromised and a condition of the compromise was the execution of a mortgage-bond by the plaintiff in the suit to the executing decree-holder of the other suit, the decree embodying the compromise, can be enforced in the execution itself under O. 21, R. 34 and no separate suit is necessary. (Chatterjea and Panton, JJ.) SOUDAMINI DASSI v. BEHARI LAL BISWAS. 61 I. C. 530 : 25 C. W. N. 68.

——O. 21, R. 35—Adverse possession—Delivery of actual possession under decree—Effect.

Delivery of actual possession under a decree interrupts adverse possession and gives a fresh starting point of limitation, (Daniels, J.) HARPAL KURMI v. MOHAN KURMI. 79 I. C. 1047 : A. I. R. 1924 All. 844.

——O. 21, R. 35—Joint possession—Ouster by one—Suit for possession—Decree.

One co-sharer is entitled to a decree for joint possession and declaration of his joint rights, against the other co-sharers who have ousted him. (Lindsay and Kanhaiya Lal, JJ.) SARABJIT SINGH v. RAI KUMAR 19 A. L. J. 783 : 3 U. P. L.R. (All.) 146 : 44 A 5 : A. I. R. 1922 All. 162.

——O. 21, R. 35—Co-sharer—Possession can only be symbolical.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 21, R. 35.

One co-sharer can have only symbolical joint possession as is referred to in O. 21, R. 35 of the Code as against another co sharer in actual enjoyment. (Lindsay and Kanhaiyalal, JJ.) SARBJIT SINGH v. RAM KUMAR. 19 A. L. J. 783 : 63 I. C. 806 : 3 U. P. L. R. (A) 146.

——O. 21, Rr. 35 and 9—Formal delivery—Judgment-debtor in possession—Interruption of adverse possession.

Where the judgment-debtor is in actual possession, actual possession must be given in execution in accordance with O. 21, R. 35, C. P. Code. Where merely formal possession of immoveable property is given to a purchaser at an execution sale it cannot prevent limitation running in favour of the judgment-debtor where the latter remains in actual possession, and the property is not in the occupancy of a tenant or other persons entitled to occupy the same. 43 A 520 : 36 B. 373, referred to. (Scott-Smith, J.) SARDARKHAN v. ABDULLAH KHAN. 71 I. C. 885 : A. I. R. 1924 Lah. 301.

——O. 21, R. 35—Symbolical possession—Failure to affix warrant vitiates.

The provisions of the Code as to how symbolical delivery is to be effected must be strictly complied with. Failure to affix a copy of the warrant for delivery of possession to the place vitiates the symbolical delivery. (Moti Sagar, J.) NIDHI RAM v. PARSA RAM. 74 I. C. 1 : 5 Lah. L. J. 507 : A. I. R. 1923 Lah. 693.

——O. 21, Rr. 35 and 36—Decree for possession.

Whose possession is not obtained subsequent suit for possession, is not maintainable. (Martineau, J.) RAM CHAND v. JANA. 3 Lah. L. J. 138 : 59 I. C. 770 : 38 P. W. R. 1921.

——O. 21, R. 35—Decree holder being entitled to actual possession but taking symbolical possession—Judgment-debtor's subsequent possession is adverse.

Where a plaintiff is entitled to actual possession under the law, he is not entitled to get what is called symbolical possession. Symbolical possession is given in cases where he is not entitled to actual possession at the date when property is delivered to him in execution of a decree either by reason of the property being in the possession of tenants or mortgagees or other persons who are entitled to be in possession as against the judgment-debtor. The right to actual possession of the decree-holder in such a case arises only when he, the judgment-debtor, would be entitled to possession and Arts. 137 and 138 of the Limitation Act would apply in such cases. But where a judgment-debtor is actually in possession and the decree-holder is entitled to actual possession he cannot get anything less than that, and if he does not get actual possession he cannot rely upon symbolic possession ; for the law does not allow a person, who is entitled to actual possession, to get only symbolic possession (Devadoss, J.) KAMAYYA v. BHIMARASETTEI PARIDESI 86 I. C. 439 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 1140 : 49 M. L. J. 303.

——O. 21, Rr. 35 and 36—Applicability—Decree holder—Enjoyment of property delivered in execution—Disturbance by person without any right—Suit for damages.

Where a decree-holder, who has obtained delivery in execution of a decree for possession of immoveable property, is disturbed in his peaceful enjoyment thereof by a person who, according to the decree-holder himself, has no right legitimately derived from any competent person to do so, his remedy is either in criminal prosecution or in a suit for damages. The person disturbing cannot be regarded as tenant against whom there can be an order for delivery under O. 21, R. 35, C. P Code. (Oldfield and Venkatasubba Rao, JJ.) IBRAHIM SAHIB v. KONAMMAL.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 21, R 35.

31 M. L T. 356 : 70 I. C. 75 : A. I. R. 1923 Mad. 25 : 43 M. L. J. 179.

——— O. 21, Rr. 35 and 36—Symbolical possession delivered by mistake—Effect on parties.

Though symbolical possession is delivered where actual possession should have been given, still so far as the judgment-debtor and other persons bound by the decree are concerned, it operates as delivery of actual possession. 24 C. 715 ; 17 M. L. J. 598, Rel. (Adami, J.) MAHARAJA PRATAP UDHI NATH SAHI DEO v. BHAIANI SUNDER-BANS KOER.
24 Cr. L. J. 279 : 71 I. C. 999 : 3 Pat. L. T. 628 : A. I. R. 1923 Pat. 76.

——— O. 21, R. 35 (2)—Joint property—Suit for recovery of joint possession—Ouster of a co-sharer—Decree, nature of.

A person who is entitled to possession of immoveable property jointly with others is not merely entitled to a decree declaring his rights in the land, but should be granted decree for joint possession. It makes no difference whether he was originally in possession and was subsequently dispossessed or whether he never had been in possession. (Lindsay and Kanhaiya Lal, JJ.) BISHESAR SINGH v. HANUMAN SINGH.
44 A. 1 : A. I. R. 1922 All. 314.

——— O. 21, Rr. 35 (2) and 36—Compliance with—What amounts to.

Where the persons concerned have been made aware of the delivery of possession in the course of execution proceedings and the publicity, which is the object of the provisions of the law, has been clearly achieved, it must be held that there has been substantial compliance with it. 20 P. R. 917 dist. (Leslie Jones and Dundas, JJ.) JUHR LAL v. PEMAN.
63 I. C. 182 : 2 Lah. L. J. 563.

——— O. 21, Rr. 35 (2) and 96—Possession taken under is symbolical possession.

There can be no symbolical possession as between the parties to a decree where the property, is immoveable property which is capable of immediate actual possession and comes within the scope of the direction in O. 21, R. 35 (1), C. P. Code. Either the decree-holder is put in possession or not, symbolical possession is the term properly applied where the property is of a kind which can be taken possession of in execution only under O. 21, R. 35 (2), 36 and 96. Formal delivery under the provisions of O. 21, R. 35 (1) is actual delivery. 10 N. L. R. 60, followed. (Batten, J. C.) PANDURANG v. SHRIPAT.
6 N. L. J. 157 : 72 I. C 318 : A. I. R. 1923 Nag. 237.

——— O. 21, R. 36—Symbolical possession—Grant of, in a case not contemplated by the Code is not effective.

The delivery of symbolical possession is effective only in cases where the Code recognises symbolical possession. Nor does the delivery of such possession affect persons impleaded as parties to the suit against whom however there is no decree for possession. 36 B. 273, foll.; 20 Bom. L. R. 502, P. C., dist. (Pratt and Kanga, JJ.) RAGHUNATH WAMAN v. KONDIBA BABAJI.
24 Bom. L. R. 499 : 68 I. C. 91 : 46 B. 932 : A. I. R. 1922 Bom. 2.

——— O. 21, R. 36—Proclamation effected by beat of drum—No copy of warrant affixed—Possession is not properly delivered.

Where delivery of possession was duly proclaimed by beat of drum but a copy of warrant was not affixed as required by law. Held : that there was no proper delivery. 20 P. R. 1917 Foll. (Le Rossignol, J.) YUSIF

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 21, R. 46.

ALI KHAN v. ABBAS ALI KHAN.
6 L. L. J. 522 : 84 I. C. 733 : 26 Punj. L. R. 27 : A. I. R. 1925 Lah. 264.

——— O. 21, R. 37—No previous attachment—Application for arrest is legal

There is nothing illegal in an application for arrest whether or no there has been a previous attachment. (Harrison, J.) VAISHNO DAS v FIRM TIRATH DAS JAMNA DAS.
7 Lah. L. J. 165 : 89 I. C. 138 : 26 Punj. L. R. 494 : A. I. R. 1925 Lah. 379.

——— O. 21, R. 37 - Pendency of appeal—Effect.

The mere fact that an appeal is pending against a decree is no reason for not enforcing execution by arrest when the execution has not been stayed. (Scott-Smith, J.) MEHR CHAND v. RAM LAL.
A. I. R. 1924 Lah. 360.

——— O. 21, R. 39—Whole amount must be deposited within 30 days. (Baker, J. C.) NARAYAN v. RAMAKRISHNAJI.
A. I. R. 1925 Nag. 30.

——— O. 21, R. 40—Arrest of judgment-debtor—Imprisonment—Property of.

Where all the moveable and immoveable properties of the judgment-debtor had been sold in execution of decrees obtained by other persons and is not able to pay off the whole or any portion of the decree debt, it would be improper to order his imprisonment. (Martineau, J.) LALA DAS v. MINAMAL.
4 Lah. L. J. 266 : A. I. R. 1922 Lah. 259.

——— O. 21, R. 43—Surety for attached moveables can be provided against in execution.

A surety, for attached moveables, who agrees to produce it when called upon to do so, can be proceeded against in execution if he fails to so produce. R. 43 does not affect his liability. (Gokul Prosad, J.) MADHO PROSAD v. PEARI LAL.
62 I. C. 719 : 19 A. L. J. 247.

——— O. 21, R. 43—Surety for attached property—Execution against—Procedure.

Where in execution of a decree, the property is made over to a third person for safe custody on his executing a bond with sureties to produce it when required the decree-holder on failure to produce cannot proceed to enforce the bond against the sureties but should get the bond assigned to himself and sue on it. (Abdur Rahim and Napier, JJ.) RAJA OF VENKATAGIRI v. SURAKRISHNA REDDI.
12 L. W. 329 : 60 I. C. 134 : (1920) M. W. N. 784 : 39 M. L. J. 472.

——— O. 21, Rr. 45 and 46—Applicability—Attachment of—Agricultural produce in the hands of third parties.

O. 21, R. 46, C. P Code, and not R. 44 or R. 45 applies to the attachment of agricultural produce in the hands of a third party. (Kincaid and Raymond, A. J. Cs.) BIKCHAND v. SAJANDAS.
64 I. C. 1007 : 15 S. L. R. 128.

——— O. 21, Rr. 46 and 89—Simple mortgage—Attachment of—Moveable property—Execution sale—Setting aside.

A simple mortgage deed is "moveable property" not only for purposes of attachment in execution but also for the purposes of sale O. 21, R. 89 of the C. P. C. (relating to setting aside of sale of immoveable property) has no application to sale of mortgage. (Walsh, A. C. J. and Boys, J.) LAL UMRAO SINGH v. LAL SINGH.
22 A. L. J. 840 : 80 I. C. 890 ; L. R. 5 A. (Civ.) 674 : 46 All. 917 : A. I. R. 1924 All. 796.

——— O. 21, R. 46—Attachment of debt—Objection by debtor allowed—Whether attachment still continues.

The order, dismissing the decree holder's application for execution on the ground that there is no debt and that the money therefore cannot be ordered to be deposited, puts an end to all previous proceedings whether by way of attachment before judgment or in execution, and the debtor cannot be asked again to deposit money in Court on the assumption that the attachment still subsists. (Lindsay and Gokul Prasad, JJ.) TULSHI RAM v. HARKH NARAIN BHAGAT.

A. I. R. 1922 All. 384.

——— O. 21. R. 46—Money deposited by a third person as due to judgment-debtor—Payment to decree-holder—Effect of deposit.

The decree-holder applied for attachment of a debt due to the judgment-debtor. The debtor objected to pay but admitted that on taking accounts the sum would be found due by him to the judgment-debtor. The Court directed payment of the debt into Court and on failure directed the debtor's house to be sold. The debtor, therefore, deposited the sum into Court but it was shared by the decree-holder along with another decree-holder. He then sued the decree-holders for the sum. Held, that as by his admission, he was bound to pay that sum to the judgment-debtor, he could not recover. (Piggott and Walsh, JJ.) MAHADEO PRASAD v. DIRGBIJAI SINGH.
43 All. 272 : 60 I. C. 881 : 19 A. L. J. 41.

——— O. 21, Rr. 46, 76, 79 and 80—Company—Shares—Execution sale—Rights of purchaser.

Where shares are sold in execution of a decree and the sale is confirmed nothing further is left to be done by the court or the transferee, the only thing left to be done is for the company either to recognise the transfer or refuse to recognise. (Kumaraswami Sastri and Devadoss, JJ.) NAGABHUSHANUM v. RAMCHANDRA RAO. 45 M. 537 : 15 L. W. 470 : (1922) M. W. N. 331 : 70 I. C. 659 : 30 M. L. T. 231 : A. I. R. 1923 Mad. 241 : 42 M. L. J. 449.

——— —O. 21, R. 46—Right to sue for damages for breach of contract is not attachable

The sale of a right to sue for damages arising out of a breach of a contract is invalid and confers no title on the purchaser. Such a right is not a debt within the meaning of O. 21, R. 46 and is not attachable. (Raymond, A. J. C.) GORDHAN DAS KALI DAS v. FIRM OF GOKUL KHATAOO.
78 I. C. 409 : A I. R. 1925 Sind 98.

——— O. 21, R. 46 (1) (3)—Garnishee's option—Jurisdiction of executing court to order deposit or to attach and sell—Proper procedure.

Under O. 21, R. 46 (3) of the C. P. Code a debtor prohibited under cl. (1) of sub rule (1) may pay the amount of his debt into court and such payment shall discharge him as effectually as payment to the party entitled to receive the same. The wording a debtor "may" pay is quite clear and unambiguous and leaves no manner of doubt as to the meaning of the Legislature. It does not clothe the executing Court with any power to compel the garnishee to deposit the debt into Court if he denies it and informs the Court to that effect. An executing court is not bound to satisfy itself as to the existence of the debt. It can still cause it to be sold or appoint a receiver with garnishee to recover the debt from him. 18 W. R. 40 ; 11 B. 448; 28 A. 262 Ref. (Kinkhede, A J. C.) PANNALAL v. MT. BHAGIRATHIBAI. 20 N. L. R. 11 : 78 I. C. 601 : A. I. R. 1924 Nag. 98.

——— —O. 21, R. 50—Firm dissolved before decree—Firm's property can be proceeded against.

Where the defendant firm had been dissolved before the decree was passed and the plaintiffs knew of such dissolution. Held, that the plaintiffs could still proceed against the firm but they could not proceed against any partner individually if they knew the firm had been dissolved before proceedings had been taken. (Macleod, C. J. and Shah, J.) ADIVEPPA SHIDLINGAPPA v. PRAGJI MAHONJI. 26 Bom. L. R. 388 : A. I. R. 1924 Bom. 366.

——— —O. 21, R. 50—Interpretation of section—Sub-rule (4) does not affect sub-rule (2).

O. 21, R. 50, sub rule (4) is really intended to make clear the implication of sub-rule (1). It does not in any sense affect the provisions of sub-rule (2) of that rule. The meaning of sub rule (4) is that a decree against a firm as such will not affect a partner who has not been served with a summons to appear and answer so far as his other property is concerned. O. 21, R. 54 (2) is wide enough to cover the case of a deceased partner. (Shah, A. C. J. and Crump, J.) JIVRAJ LALOOBHAI v. BHAGVANDAS. 24 Bom. L. R. 1037 : 68 I. C 627 : A. I. R. 1923 Bom. 66.

——— —O. 21, R. 50—Decree against firm—Members served individually—Firm insolvent—No application under O. 21, R. 50—Decree can be executed personally against members.

Where a decree has been passed against a firm but all the members have been served individually, the decree can be executed against them personally though the firm has been declared insolvent and though there has been no application under O. 21, R. 50. (Harrison, J.) VAISHNO DAS v. FIRM TIRTH DAS JAMNA DAS. 7 L. L. J. 165 : 89 I. C. 138 : 26 Punj. L. R. 494 : A. I. R. 1925 Lah. 379.

——— O. 21, R. 50—Scope.

Deputy Registrar empowered to grant leave under Rule 50 cannot determine liability of a contesting party. (Carr and Brown, JJ.) LIM. KAR CHANG v. T. S. CHETTY FIRM. 4 Bur. L. J. 116 : A. I. R 1925 Rang. 317.

——— O 21, R. 50—Special leave—Partner appearing in his own name.

No special leave is required for executing a decree against a person who has either appeared in his own name under O. 30, Rr. 6 and 7 or who has admitted on the pleadings that he was a partner or who has been served as a partner with the summons. (Rupchand Bilaram, A. J. C.) FIRM OF FATEHCHAND MADAN GOPAL v. FIRM OF UTAMMAL JHAMANDAS.
89 I. C. 401

——— O. 21, R. 50 and O. 30—O. 30 does not militate against O. 21, R. 50.

The provisions of O. 30, C. P. Code, relating to suits by or against firms do not in any way militate against sub-R. (2) of O 21, R. 50, C. P. Code, if the latter is otherwise applicable. (Raymond, A. J. C.) ADAMJI JAFFERJI & CO. v. SHAMSUDIN IMAMDIN.
86 I. C. 1013 : A. I. R. 1925 Sind 293.

——— O. 21, R. 50, Cls. (1) and (2)—Decree against a firm—Execution against partner—Summons to appear and answer.

A decree obtained against a firm cannot be enforced, except as to partnership property, against a person alleged to be a partner and against whom an application has been made under Cl. (2) unless he has been served with a summons to appear and answer the application specified in Cl. (2) and he has had an opportunity of disputing his liability as a partner. (Sanderson, C. J. and Buckland, J.) JAGAT CHANDRA BHATTACHARYA v. GUNNY HAJEE AHMED.
30 C. W. N. 11.

——— O. 21, R. 50 (2)—Transfer for execution—"Court which passed the decree" is Court of transfer.

Where a decree is transferred by one Court to another Court for execution, the latter Court is, for the purposes of O. 21, R. 50 (2) of the Code the "Court which passed the decree" and is competent to decide all questions arising in execution thereof. (Piggott and Walsh, JJ.) SITAL PRASAD v. CLEMENTS ROBSON & CO. 43 All. 394 : 19 A. L. J. 187 : 61 I. C. 401 : 3 U. P. L. R. (All.) 36.

——— O. 21. R. 50, Cl. (2)—Decree against firm—Execution against member of firm not served with summons.

Where a decree had been passed against a firm alone, if a person admits he is a member of a firm, action can be taken against him under O. 21, R. 50 Cl. (2) even though he may not have been served and may not have been present when the decree was passed. (Kennedy, J. C. and Percival, A.J.C.) MANGALSEN v. LAKSHMICHAND. 18 S. L. R. 146 : 86 I. C. 435 : A. I. R. 1925 Sind 317.

——— O. 21. R. 50 (2)—Clause (2) is limited to the case of a partner living at date of decree.

Cl. 2 of O. 21, R. 50, Civil P. C., is limited in its operation to the case of a partner who is living at the date of the decree and the property of a deceased partner in the hands of his legal representative cannot be attached under the rule. (Rupchand Bilaram, A J. C.) FIRM OF GOKALDAS KHATAOO v. FIRM OF VASUMAL WADHUMAL. 87 I. C. 992 : A. I. R. 1925 Sind 298.

——— O. 21, R.50 (4)—Decree against a firm—Execution against a partner of the firm who was not served with the summons in the suit.

Order 21, R. 50 (4), C. P. Code, cannot be construed to mean that, unless a person who is a partner in a firm, against which a decree has been obtained, has been served with the writ of summons by which the suit was instituted, he or his private property cannot be made liable under the decree and the decree holder's right to execute the decree is limited to proceedings against the property of the partnership. (Sanderson, C. J. and Buckland, J.) JAGAT CHANDRA BHATTACHARYYA v. GUNNY HAJEE AHMED. 30 C. W. N. 11.

——— O. 21, R. 52—Moneys in Official Assignee's hands payable to judgment-debtor are attachable.

Moneys in the hands of the Official Assignee which are payable to the judgment-debtors as creditors of the insolvent by way of dividend declared by the Official Assignee, are attachable under O. 21, R. 52 of the Civil P. C. (Taraporewalla, J.) HARDAYAL SHIVLAL v. HAJI ADAM GOOLMAHOMED. 87 I. C. 1011 : 27 B. L. R. 545 : A. I. R. 1925 Bom. 344.

——— O. 21, R. 52—Order under is judicial and not administrative.

An order passed under O. 21, R.52 is not an administrative order but a judicial one and is binding upon the parties concerned. (Suhrawardy and Graham, JJ.) JITENDRA NATH SAMANTA v. ASUTOSH DEY. 82 I. C. 240 : A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 354.

——— O 21, R. 52—Fund in Court—Attachment—Rival decree holders—Priority—Receipt of assets—Date of.

Where a fund in the Court is attached by another Court in execution of a decree it is the duty of the former Court to hold the fund subject to the directions of the executing Court and to transfer it to that Court. The fund, as soon as it is transferred to the execution Court becomes "assets held", by that Court within S. 73 of the C. P. Code. All decree-holders can claim rateable distribution where they have applied for execution to the executing Court before the receipts of such assets. If the executing and the custody Court are the same, the fund becomes the assets within S. 73 of the C. P. Code by an order of attachment coupled with a formal order of transfer of the fund to the credit of the suit in which the execution is sought. (Wallis, C. J. Ayling, Sadasiva Aiyar, Napier and Krishnan, JJ.) VISVANATHAN CHETTY v. ARUNACHELLAM CHETTY. 44 Mad. 100 : 12 L. W. 744 : 28 M. L. T. 412 : 60 I. C. 302 : (1921) M. W. N. 14 (F. B.) : 39 M. L. J. 608.

——— O. 21, R. 53—Attached decree—Court cannot sell.

Where a decree in favour of the judgment-debtor is attached in execution of a decree against him, the Court must execute the attached decree and apply the net proceeds in satisfaction of the decree sought to be executed. It cannot sell the attached decree. Where, however, an attached decree was sold and was purchased by the attaching decree-holder who executed it and realised a larger amount under it than he paid for it. Held, that he must give credit to the judgment-debtor for the full amount realised by him. (Macleod, C. J. and Fawcett, J.) VITHALDAS PRABHU v. SUBRAYA MANJAPPA. 45 Bom. 343 : 59 I. C. 541 : 22 Bom. L. R. 1304

——— O. 21, R. 53—Attachment of decree—Payment into Court of money due under attached decree—Cessation of interest.

Where, in execution of a decree, another decree is attached and the moneys payable under the attached decree are paid into court, interest on the amount of the attached decree as well as on the decree amount due to the attaching decree-holder, stops to run from the date of the payment into court. This fits in with the view that the holder of the decree sought to be executed by attachment of the other decree is in law, the representative of the holder of the attached decree. (Mookerjee and Panton, JJ.) MADAN MOHAN DEY v. BISHNUPADA DEY. 64 I. C. 780 : 35 C. L. J. 109.

——— O. 21, R. 53—Adjustment out of Court.

Adjustment between the judgment-debtors in decree sought to be attached and person attaching such decree is not prohibited but only that between judgment-debtors and decree-holders in the decree sought to be attached. (Das and Ross, JJ.) RAMCHARAN SINGH v. JANGBAHADUR SINGH. 5 Pat. L. T. 631 : 79 I. C. 900 : A. I. R. 1924 P. 696.

——— O. 21, R. 53—Procedure.

Rule 53 lays down the procedure to be followed in execution, when a money decree is attached and it has long been a settled law that a money decree cannot be sold in execution. (Heald and Lentaigne, JJ.) MAUNG LUN BYE v. MAUNG PO NYUN. 2 Bur. L. J 151 . 76 I. C. 679 : 1 R. 360 : A. I. R. 1924 Rang. 21.

——— O 21, R. 53 (1)—Proceedings as if decree not covered by Rule are only irregular.

A Court in proceeding to attach and execute a decree which is covered by the Rule, as if it were a decree other than that covered by O. 21, R. 53, sub-cl. (1) merely commits only an irregularity and the sale of such decree is not a nullity. (Sulaiman and Mukerji, JJ.) FATEH LAL v. SHER SINGH. 85 I. C. 660 : 6 L. R. A. (Civ.) 63 : A. I. R. 1925 All. 264.

——— O. 21, R. 54—Prohibitory order—Service of—Proof—Loss of records.

In execution of a decree certain property was attached on 25-4-1916 by means of a prohibitory order under O. 21, R. 54, C. P. Code. Subsequently on 20-6-1916 the property was privately sold. Thereafter the attached property was sold in court auction and purchased. It was found that the prohibitory order was duly served on the judgment-debtors but that portion of the record of court which would show whether the service was affected in the prescribed manner had been destroyed. Held that the court should presume that official acts were regularly performed and in view of the fact that a material portion of the record was not in existence, the burden of proving due service of notice ought not to be thrown on the Court auction-purchaser. (Daniels and Neave, JJ.) MAHOMED ABDUL GAFOOR KHAN v. AKRAM HASAN.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 21, R. 54.

22 A. L. J. 703 : L. R. 5 A. 525 : 46 All. 741 : A. I. R. 1924 All. 747.

——— O. 21, R. 54—Strict compliance with provisions is necessary—Site with house on—Site assessed to Revenue—Whole property is land, paying revenue to Government.

When the law lays down a definite procedure for the doing of an act which is purely symbolical that procedure must be strictly followed, and any omission therein must, therefore, be regarded as material. 20 P. R. 1917, Foll. Where a house stands on a site which is assessed to revenue, the property is land paying revenue to Government within the meaning of O. 21, R. 54. If the order required under R 54 is not affixed in the Collector's office, the attachment is invalid.

Per Fforde. J.—The meaning of the word "land," unless otherwise controlled by the context includes everything which is above or beneath the surface. Under O. 21, R. 54 the term "land" is not declared to be used in any special or restricted sense and accordingly we must presume that it bears its ordinary meaning. Accordingly it comprises not only the site upon which a house stands, but also the building. (Broadway and Fforde, JJ.) NAWAB AHMAD v. S. K. BOSE.
A. I. R. 1925 Lah. 583.

———O. 21, Rr. 54, 67—Non-compliance is material irregularity

Under O. 21, Rr. 54 and 67, a copy of the proclamation order must be affixed on a conspicuous part of the property. Where prima facie from the serving officer's report, this was not done, Held, it is a material irregularity. (Campbell, J.) WISHWA NATH v. RAHMAT ULLAH. A. I. R. 1923 Lah. 671.

——— O. 21, R. 54—Proclamation is necessary.

In order to constitute a valid attachment, the proclamation described in the second portion of R. 54 of O. 21 must be carried out. (Broadway and Harrison. JJ.) MULA RAM v. JIWINDA RAM.
4 Lah. 211 : 5 Lah. L. J. 200 : 72 I. C. 452 : A. I. R 1923 Lah. 423.

———O. 21, R. 54—Revenue suit—Rent payable in shrotriem village.

Rent payable in the case of shrotriem villages is revenue within the meaning of O. 21, R. 54, C. P. Code. (Oldfield and Devadoss, JJ.) PAMIDIMARRI GANAMMA v. KETIREDDI. 46 Mad. 736 : (1923) M. W. N. 463 : 75 I. C. 869 : A. I. R. 1924 Mad. 217 : 45 M. L. J. 263.

———O. 21, R. 54—Omission to post order of attachment in Collector's office is not fatal.

The omission to post a copy of the order of attachment of immoveable property in the office of the Collector as required by O. 21, R. 54 (2) does not render the attachment invalid, if all the other formalities prescribed by O. 21, R 54 have been observed 41 M. 844, followed (Hallifax, A. J. C.) JODHAN v. KAPILNATH. 69 I. C. 563 : A. I. R. 1923 Nag. 78.

———O. 21, R. 54—Certified copy of warrant of attachment containing bailiff's report that process-server had reported posting of notice of attachment on land etc., is not, against persons disputing attachment, legal evidence but may be used as basis of evidence—Identification of land must be proved.

When the fact of attachment of land is disputed, identification of the land must be proved. Though a certified copy of a warrant of attachment containing a report by the bailiff that a process-server has reported the posting of attachment on the land and on the headman's house and on the notice board of the Court may be used as the basis for the reception or the evidence of the attachment; but is not, as against persons disputing the attachment, legal evidence of such attachment. (Lentaigne, J.) HLA BAN v. A. V. P. L. RAMANATHAM CHETTIAR.
3 Bur. L. J. 287 : A. I. R. 1925 Rang. 89.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 21, R. 57.

——— O. 21, R. 54—Attachment—Interest of Hindu son in co-parcenary property—Effect of. See FAQIR CHAND v. LAL SANT. 89 I. C. 291.

———O. 21, R 54—Auction sale—Notice of.

Law does not require any notice of an auction sale other than the publication provided for by O. 21, R. 54. (Ashworth, A. J. C.) SHER KHAN v. MISRI LAL.
89 I. C. 107.

———O. 21, R. 54 (1)—Immoveable property—Equity of redemption is.

The equity of redemption of a mortgagor is immoveable property within the prohibitory provision contained in R. 54 (1). (Mookerjee, A. C. J. and Fletcher, J.) BIRENDRA NATH MITTER v. MARTIN & CO. 62 I. C. 167 : 33 C. L. J. 7.

———O 21, R. 57—Execution case struck off for default — Attachment directed to subsist—Order is valid and attachment continues.

An order of Court directing an attachment to subsist even when the execution was ordered to be struck off on account of a default on the part of the decree-holder is an improper order, but not a nullity and is binding on the parties to it. 1922 All. 62 Foll. (Mukerji, J.) MULAY v. BALGOVIND.
6 L. R. A. (Civ.) 275 : 87 I. C. 349 : A. I. R. 1925 All. 456.

———O. 21, R. 57—Dismissal of application—Effect on attachment before judgment.

O. 21, R. 57, C. P. Code, does not apply to attachment before judgment but its operation is confined to attachments in execution of a decree. O. 38, R. 9 of the C.P. Code provides as to how and when the attachment before judgment is to cease. (Sulaiman and Kanhaiya Lall, JJ.) BHOREY AKHEY RAM v. BASANT LAL. L. R. 5 A. 605 : 80 I. C. 106 : 46 All, 894 : 22 A. L. J. 823 : A. I. R. 1924 All. 860.

———O. 21, R. 57—Dismissal of execution—Order maintaining attachment—Effect of.

Though an order dismissing an execution case but maintaining the attachment is not a proper order for the Court to pass, once it is passed it is binding on the parties between whom it is passed. 38 Cal. 482, dist.; 41 A. 157, dist. (Piggott and Walsh, JJ.) MAHOMED MUBARAK HUSAIN v. SAHU BIMAL PRASAD.
44 A. 274 : 20 A. L J. 113 : L. R. 3 A. 52 : 65 I C. 91 : A. I. R. 1922 All. 62.

———O. 21, R. 57—Striking off — Execution—Struck off—Effect on attachment.

It is not an easy matter to decide whether property remains under attachment when the darkhast is struck off Strictly speaking if the darkhast is struck off the attachment would go with it. It seems contrary to the ordinary meaning of words that when a darkhast which is issued to attach property is dismissed, still the attachment continues. Having regard to the conduct of the judgment-creditor it was held in this case that there was no subsisting attachment at the time of the transfer. (Macleod, C. J. and Coyajee, J.) GANPATI v DEVAPPA. 24 Bom. L. R 442 : 76 I. C. 895 : 46 B. 942 : A. I. R. 1923 Bom. 30 (2).

———O. 21, P. 57—Default—What is—Execution

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 21, R. 57

proceedings struck off—Request by decree-holder—Attachment if continues.

The word "default" in O. 21, R. 57 is not restricted to default of appearance but applies also to a failure to do what the decree-holder is bound to do. Where he failed to carry on the execution proceedings and had them struck off, the attachment ceases. (Scott-Smith and Zafar Ali, JJ.) LAKHPAT RAI v. MAYYA MAL. A. I. R. 1924 Lah. 645.

——0. 21, R. 57 – Default.

The word "default" in O. 21, R. 57 means a failure to go what the decree holder was bound to do, that is, to do on with his application and have the property sold. (Scott Smith and Abdul Qadir, JJ.) FATEH DIN v. QUTAB DIN. 3 Lah. 7 : 67 I. C. 543 : A. I. R. 1922 Lah. 108.

——0. 21, Rr. 57, 58, 63—Striking off—Later order on objection petition is a nullity.

Properties being attached in execution, objections were put in under O. 21, R. 58. Pending their disposal, as the decree-holders were able to realise part of the decree amount, the proceedings were struck off—subsequently, on the representation of the objectors that the decree had been adjusted between the parties, the objection petition was allowed ex parte. On a question arising as to the effect of this order, Held, the effect of the order striking off proceedings was to raise the attachment, and with that order the court became functus officio and had no power to pass any further orders therein. The later order allowing the objection was therefore quite unnecessary and redundant and being a nullity in the eye of the law, there was no necessity for the decree-holders to bring a suit within one year under O. 21, R. 63. (Scott-Smith and Abdul Quadir, JJ.) FATEH DIN v. QUTAB DIN. 3 Lah. 7 : 67 I. C. 543 : A. I. R. 1922 Lah. 108.

——0. 21, R. 57—Attachment before judgment—Dismissal of execution application for default—Attachment whether ceases.

Where an execution petition is dismissed for default an attachment before judgment also ceases. (Spencer and Madhavan Nair JJ.) SUBRAMANIA AIYAR v. KRISANA AIYAR. 1925 M. W. N. 887.

——0. 21, R. 57—Suggestion by Court to withdraw execution application and file another—First application dismissed—Attachment ceases to exist as far as strangers to proceedings are concerned.

Where the executing Court suggested that execution petition may be withdrawn and it dismissed the same, Held whatever the effect of that order was between the decree-bolder and the judgment-debtor, persons who were not parties to the execution proceedings and who did not know all that passed between the Court and the decree-holder were entitled to rely on the fact that the petition was dismissed on account of the unwillingness of the decree-holder to proceed with it. The result of this was that the attachment ceased to exist and a claimant whose claim was disallowed was entitled to rely on the result of the dismissal of the earlier petition and say that the attachment had ceased to exist so far as he was concerned. (Rameam and Venkatasubba Rao, JJ.) KUMARA GOUNDAN v. THEVARAYA REDDI. 1925 M, W N. 406 : 87 I. C. 635 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 1113 : 48 M. L. J. 616.

——0. 21, R. 57 and O. 38, Rr. 8 & 11—Attachment before Judgment—Decree subsequently passed in the suit—Execution of the decree—Dismissal of execution petition owing to default of decree-holder—Attachment ceases.

Held, (by the majority of the Full Bench. Coutts Trotter, Ramesam and Waller, JJ. Schwabe C. J. and

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 12, R. 57.

Wallace, J. dissenting) : Where a party obtained an attachment before judgment and subsequently a decree was passed in his suit if his execution petition is dismissed for want of due deligence in presenting the necessary papers to the Court the attachment of the property ceases. The provisions of O. 21, R. 57 apply to attachment before judgment which become converted into attachment in execution when application is made to execute the decree passed in the suit. An attachment before judgment becomes an attachment in execution when an application for executing the decree is made and admitted. 42 M. 1 : overruled 44 M. 902 ; 41 M. L. J. 256 followed. Held by Schwabe, C. J. and Wallace, J.) The provisions of O. 21, R. 57 do not apply to cases of attachments before Judgment.

Per Wallace, J. An attachment before judgment under O. 38 of the Civil Procedure Code only comes to an end by a formal order withdrawing it. (Schwabe, C. J Coutts Trotter, Ramesam, Wallace and Waller, JJ.) MEYYAPPA CHETTIAR v. CHIDAMBARAM CHETTIAR. 34 M. L T. (H. C.) 118 : 1924 M. W. N. 392 : 79 I. C. 144 : 47 Mad. 483 : A. I R. 1924 Mad. 494 (F B) : 46 M. L. J. 415.

——0. 21, R. 57—Dismissal of execution—Execution transferred to Collector.

Where the execution proceedings have been transferred to a Collector, he has power to dismiss the application under, O. 21. R. 57, C. P. Code and thereupon the attachment ceases. (Hallifax, A. J. C.) SHANKER RAO v. MANIK RAO. 68 I. C. 643 : A I. R. 1923 Nag. 18.

——0 21, Rr. 57 and 58—Dismissal of execution—Collector executing decree has power to dismiss.

A Collector is invested with all the powers which the court might exercise in the execution of the decree. These include the power to dismiss under O. 21, R. 57 C P. C., but do not include the powers to investigate claims made or objections preferred under O. 21, R. 58, because such an investigat on wou'd not be "in the execution of the decree." (Hallifax, A. J. C.) HARLAL v. NARAYAN. 18 N L. R. 152 : 4 N. L. J, 118 : 64 I. C. 420 : A. I. R. 1922 Nag. 267.

——0. 21, R. 57—Revival of attachment—Dismissal of execution application—Restoration.

Where an execution application dismissed for default is restored the attachment which came to an end on the dismissal of the execution application is revived and an execution sale without a fresh attachment is valid. (Hallifax, A. J. C.) HARLAL v. NARAYAN. 4 N. L. J. 118 : 18 N. L. R. 152 : 64 I. C. 420 : A. I. R. 1922 Nag. 267.

——0. 21, R. 57—Continuance of attachment—Order determining—Rule does not apply.

Where there is an explicit order putting an end to the attachment the provisions of O. 21, R. 57, C. P. Code have no application nor is there anything in the rule which limits the power of the Courtto pass such an order. (Daniels, J. C. and Dalal, A. J. C) SHEIKH MAHOMED MUZAFFAR ALI KHAN v. BHAGWATI PRASAD SINGH. 66 I. C. 642 :8 O. L. J. 358.

——0. 21, R. 57—Dismissal of execution application—Cessation of attachment—Agreement to give time to decree-holder—Effect of.

A decree-holder in execution of a decree attached the properties of the judgment-debtor but subsequently accepted a payment made by him towards the satisfaction of the decree and agreed to give time for payment of balance of the decree amount. Thereupon the Court dismissed the application after recording the part-payment. Held that the effect of the dismissal of the execution application was to put an end to the attachment and that the dismissal was due to default of the decree-holder. No doubt the Court has no power to dismiss an application for execution unless there is default on the part of the decree-holder but, as has been held, default means a failure to do what one is legally bound to do. (Das and Bucknill, JJ.) JAIKRISINA v. BIBI SOGHRA. 4 P. L T. 418 : 71 I. C. 881 : A. I. R. 1923 P. 446.

——O. 21, R. 58—Applicability of—Takavi, advances—Proceedings for realisation of—Sale of rent alleged to be due to tenant from sub-tenant—Objection by sub-tenant that rent had already been paid—Dismissal for default—Suit for realisation by purchaser—Maintainability of.

In certain proceedings for realisation of a takavi loan advanced to a tenant, certain rent alleged to be due to the tenant from his sub-tenant was attached by court. The sub-tenant objected to the attachment on the ground that the rent had already been paid and there was nothing due to the tenant, but his objection was dismissed for default. The arrear of rent was then sold by auction and purchased by the plaintiff. In a suit by the plaintiff against the sub-tenant for recovery of the rent, the sub-tenant again pleaded that he had already paid up the rents and nothing was due. Held that there was no warranty of title in the sale held by the government for arrears of takavi, that the dismissal of the sub-tenant's objection did not operate as res judicata in the subsequent suit for recovery of the rent and that the objection of the sub-tenant was not an objection to the attachment under O. 21, R. 58 of the C. P. Code and his present defence was not shut out by reason of his omission to bring a declaratory suit within the year prescribed by O. 21, R. 63, C.P. Code. (Mukerji, J.) SOBHA RAM v. RAM PRASAD. L. R. 5 A. 263 (Rev.) : A. I. R. 1924 All. 910.

——O. 21, R. 58—Objection to attachment—Capacity dual—Procedure.

An objection to attachment in execution proceedings by a person, impleaded in the proceedings as heir of the deceased debtor, on the ground of his possession as trustee, must be decided under O. 21, R. 60 and such order is conclusive subject to a suit under O. 21, R. 63. The person in his capacity as trustee is not the judgment-debtor's representative, even though the author of the trust was himself, the judgment-debtor, except in cases in which the trust has been created after the suit or after the decree passed in it. Kanhaiya Lal, J.) BHAGWAN DAS v. MT. MAHOMED BANO. L. R. 4 A. (Civ.) 447 : 75 I. C. 1053 : A. I. R. 1924 All. 183 (2).

——O. 21, Rr. 58 and 63—Effect of order—Refusal to investigate claim—Suit by defeated claimant—Limitation.

Where objections preferred by a claimant to the attachment and sale of certain property in execution of a decree were rejected without an investigation of the merits of the case and the property was ordered to be sold, which is incumbent upon the claimant to institute a suit within the period of limitation prescribed by Art. 11 of the Limitation Act. 41 M. 985, followed. (Ryves and Gokul Prasad, JJ.) GOBERDHAN DAS v. MAKUNDI LAL. 45 A. 438 : 21 A. L. J. 342 : L. R. 4 A. 185 : 74 I. C. 1024 : A. I. R. 1923 All. 435.

——O. 21, R. 58—Premature Application.

The plaintiff filed a suit against two defendants, who were father and son. The suit was dismissed against the first defendant, and decreed against the second defendant. The plaintiff applied to the Court to attach the property of the son. The first defendant then applied to the Court that the Court should not execute the decree against property which, he alleged, belonged to him, but if the Court had granted execution and attached his property the attachment should be raised. Held that the application of defendant No. 1 was in effect a quia timet application to prevent that happening which he was afraid would happen if the Court after making an order for attachment of his property actually detained his property. The application was premature and ought not to have been entertained by the court. (Macleod, C.J. and Crump, J.) CHUNILAL v. KASHIBHAI 25 Bom. L. R. 440 : A. I. R. 1923 Bom. 381.

——O. 21, Rr. 58 and 60—Attachment of equity of redemption in usufructuary mortgage continues despite mortgagee's applying for its release.

When property in the possession of usufructuary mortgagee is attached, if it can be inferred that the decree-holder's intention was not to attach the property itself but the equity of redemption, the attachment may be allowed to continue upon the equity of redemption and it need not be released notwithstanding that the usufructuary mortgage applies for removal of the attachment. But otherwise, upon such application by usufructuary mortgagee, the attachment of the mortgaged property at the instance of the holder of an ordinary money decree against the mortgagor must be released. (Shurawardy and Page, JJ.) MAHARAJ BAHADUR SINGH v. NOSHARAN BIBI. 80 I. C. 428 : A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 296.

——O. 21, Rr. 58 and 63—Small Cause Court—Attachment before judgment of immoveable property—Claim petition—Power to adjudicate.

Small Cause Court cannot order attachment before Judgment of immoveable property or adjudicate on claim proceedings resulting from it. (Rankin and B. B. Ghose, JJ.) SADEK ALI v. SAMEED ALI. 28 C. W. N. 16 : A. I. R. 1924 Cal. 193.

——O. 21, R. 58—Mortgage decree for sale—Claim, if lies—Revision.

A claim cannot be entertained under O. 21, R. 58 of the Code to property, which has been ordered to be sold under a mortgage decree, and where it is disallowed no revision lies to the High Court under S. 115 of the Code. (Sanderson, C. J. and Richardson, J.) MAHABIR PRASAD v. JOGENDRA NATH. 68 I. C. 271 : 26 C. W. N. 50.

——O. 21, R. 58—Application by party against whom suit is dismissed—Appeal if lies.

Where a defendant against whom a suit is dismissed puts in an objection petition under O. 21, R. 58 and that is dismissed he is entitled to appeal against the order, as the petition is one under S. 47 though actually put in under O. 21, R. 58. (Moti Sagar, J.) MT. GAURAN v. CHANDU LAL. A. I. R. 1924 Lah. 589.

——O. 21, Rr. 58 and 63—Effect of order—Attachment of debt—Dismissal of claim—Finality of order.

Unless a suit is brought as provided by O. 21, R. 63, the party against whom the order is made cannot assert, either as plaintiff or as defendant in any other suit or as a party to any other proceedings, the right denied to him by the order. The procedure laid down in Rr. 58 to 63 applies to a debt attached in execution of a decree, and an order made against the alleged debtor is binding upon him, if he does not institute a suit for a declaration that no debt was due from him, within a year from the date of the order passed against him. (Shadi Lal, C. J.) PIARA RAM v. GANGA RAM.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 21, R. 58.

13 P. W. R. 1923 : 71 I. C. 45 (1) : A. I. R. 1924 Lah. 367.

——O. 21, R. 58—Objection.

Objection to attachment must be made first. The subsequent order after attachment is raised is unnecessary. (Scott-Smith and Abdul Quadir, JJ.) FATEH DIN v. QUATAL DIN. 3 Lah. 7 : 67 I. C. 43 : A. I. R. 1922 Lah. 108.

——O. 21, R. 58 (1)—Proviso—Claim petition—Registered mortgage—Sale directed to take place with notice of mortgage—Nature of order—Duty of Court to investigate.

A mortgagee put in a claim petition under O. 21, R. 58, to have his mortgage right notified in the sale proclamation and to have the property sold subject to such right and further to stop the sale pending disposal of the claim petition. The Court passed the following order :—" The mortgage is registered and in the ordinary course should have found a place in the encumbrance certificate. The decree-holder opposes the petition as it is filed too late. Sale to take place with notice of this mor gage and that decree-holder disputes it." Held, the order was not one refusing to investigate into the claim, and being simply a refusal to stop the sale, did not relieve the Court of the necessity of either investigating the claim or of refusing an investigation under the proviso to O. 21, R. 58 (1). (Jackson, J.) MUTHU RAMAN CHETTIAR v. SEETHARAMAYYA. 49 M. L. J. 706.

——O. 21, R. 58—Claim petition—Order disallowing petition stating that suit is inevitable and also that petition was filed too late—Petition is not dismissed on ground of delay.

Where the order on a claim petition stated "contest is practically between the two claimants and a suit is inevitable. On the grounds that the claims have been preferred too late and the delay is not satisfactorily explained, I disallow the claim" Held : it was difficult to construe the judgment as one dismissing the petition on the ground of delay in spite of the express statement to that effect, and if the judgment could not be regarded as one disposing of the claim petition on the ground of delay, then the Full Bench decision in (41 Mad. 985), that refusal to investigate a claim on the ground that there was delay in filing it is an order against the claimant, did not apply. (Ramesam and Venkatasubba Rao, JJ.) KUMARA GOUNDAN v. THEVARAYA REDDI. 1925 M. W. N. 406 : 87 I. C. 635 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 1113 : 48 M. L. J. 616.

——O. 21, R. 58—Possession not decided—Revision lies.

In cases coming under O. 21, R. 58 the Court is bound to decide the question of possession and if a case is disposed of, without deciding such question, the High Court ought to interfere under S. 115 of the Civil P. C: (Madhavan Nair, J.) APPASWAMY CHETTIAR v. N. BALKRISHNA PILLAI.

21 L. W. 230 : 1925 M. W. N. 590 : 87 I. C. 189 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 588 : 48 M. L. J. 603.

——O. 21, R. 58—Direction to proceed with sale after simply notifying claim amounts to adverse order.

An order upon a claim petition which expresses no final judgment on the right put forward but simply directs the sale after notifying the claim is an order against the claimant and he is bound to institute a suit under Art. 11 of the Limitation Act 41 M. 985 foll. (Madhavan Nair, J.) P. RAMALINGAPPA v. A. NARAYANAPPA. 82 I. C. 737 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 368.

——O. 21, R. 58—Defeated claimant cannot avail of a suit, by successful party, to reagitate his title.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 21, R. 58.

An order on a claim petition adverse to the defendant not having been set aside, he cannot take advantage of a suit filed by the plaintiff to re agitate the question of his title, and the fact that both the plaint and the written statement in the subsequent suit were within one year from the date of the order does not affect the question. 6 L. W. 281 Foll. (Madhavan Nair, J.) P. RAMLINGAPPA v. A. NARAYANAPPA. 82 I. C. 737 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 368.

——O. 21, Rr. 58 and 63—Claim petition—Dismissal for default—Power of court to restore.

Where a claim preferred under O. 21, R. 58, C. P. Code is dismissed on account of the non-appearance of the claimant, the court has power to restore it to the file. O. 21, R. 63, C. P. Code does not take away the right of the party to have the order of dismissal for default set aside (Venkatasubba Rao, J.) RAMAPPA CHETTIAR v. EKAMBARA PADAYACHI.

34 M. L. T. 309 : 19 L. W. 685 : (1924) M. W. N. 479 : 47 Mad. 651 : 79 I. C. 818 (1) : A. I. R. 1924 Mad. 715 : 47 M. L. J. 13.

——O. 21, Rr. 58 and 63—Effect of order—Order on, notifying claim to intending bidders without investigating it is improper—Limitation Act, Art. 11 does not apply.

Plaintiff preferred a claim to property attached in execution of a decree obtained against another, stating that the judgment-debtor was entitled only to a share in the said property, and that he was entitled to the other moiety. The claim was disposed of by an order which, after reciting plaintiff's contention ran as follows : " Whatever right the defendant has will pass by the sale. The petition does not require any further investigation. The claim put forward by the petitioner will be noted in the sale proclamation. " The sale was held and the decree holder himself became the purchaser. In a suit brought by the plaintiff for the recovery of his half share of the property from the decree-holder purchaser held (1) that the order on the claim petition was an improper one ; (2) that it was not, however, an order against the claimant (plaintiff) within the meaning of O. 21, R. 63, C. P. C., and the suit instituted more than a year from the date thereof was not barred under Art. 11 of the Limitation Act. (Spencer and Venkatasubba Rao, JJ.) KACHINAMTHODI PARAMBIL SAHARABI v. KACHINAMTHODI PUTHIA PURAYIL SREEMAMUTTI'S SON ALI.

17 L. W. 182 : 72 I. C. 857 : A. I. R. 1923 Mad. 295 : 44 M. L. J. 141.

——O. 21, Rr. 58 and 63—Effect of order—Claim by mortgagee—Adverse order declining to adjudicate does not bar—Suit for enforcing mortgage Limitation Conversation of mortgaged property into money—Effect of.

Property mortgaged to plaintiff was attached and brought to sale in execution by the defendant. On the day fixed for the sale, the plaintiff preferred a claim petition that the sale proceeds should be kept in court deposit to satisfy his mortgage and not be paid over to the defendant The Court dismissed the application holding that as the sale had taken place it had no jurisdiction to hear the petition. In a suit by the plaintiff to enforce his mortgage and recover the mortgage money from the defendant the latter pleaded that the suit was barred by Arts. 11 and 62 of the Limitation Act. Held, by the Chief Justice (agreeing with Spencer, J.) (1) that there was no order negativing the claim of the plaintiff and his suit was not therefore barred by Art. 11 of the Limitation Act and (2) that the suit was one to enforce a mortgage and was governed by Art. 132 and not by Art. 62 of the Limitation

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 21, R. 58.

Act, though the mortgaged property had been converted into money as a result of the court sale. 41 M. 985 (F B.) Dist.; 41 C. 654 (P.C.) Rel. (Schwabe, C.J. on a difference of opinion between Spencer and Krishnan, JJ.) ABDUL KADIR SAHAB v SOMASUNDARAM CHETTIAR. 16 L. W. 485 : 31 M. L. T. 441 : 45 M. 827 . 70 I. C. 648 : A. I. R. 1923 Mad. 76 : 43 M. L. J. 467.

———0. 21, Rr. 58 to 63—Objection—Claim under S. 34 of the Pro. Ins. Act—Limitation Act, Arts. 11 and 13.

The Official Receiver's claim to any property where the vesting was after the attachment of that property is a statutory claim and not a claim under O. 22, Rr. 58 to 63 and the Court dealing with such claims acts under S. 151 of the C. P. Code and not under O. 21. Articles 11 and 13 of the Limitation Act do not apply to such cases. (Sadasiva Aiyar and Spencer, JJ.) OFFICIAL RECEIVER v. VEERARAGHAVAN PATTAR. 14 L. W. 335 : 45 M. 70 : 69 I. C. 326 : (1921) M. W. N. 775 : 30 M. L. T. 77 : A. I. R. 1922 Mad. 189 : 41 M. L. J. 334.

———0. 21, R. 58 and S. 64—Objection to attached debt allowed—Suit by decree-holder decreed—Payments by debtor after claim allowed and before decree are void.

Where a claim to an attached debt was allowed and thereafter the attaching decree-holder brought a suit to establish his right to attack and got a decree but the debtor had made two payments to the creditor-claimant after the claim was allowed but before the decree in the claim suit, held, that the attachment should be taken as revived on the passing of the decree and to have continued in force since the original attachment and that the two payments are void under S. 64 of the Code against the purchaser in execution of the decree in the claim suit, (Krishnan and Odgers, JJ.) ANTHAYA HEGADE v. MANJAYYA SHETTY. 45 M. 84 : 14 L. W. 371 : 69 I. C. 642 : (1921) M. W. N. 642 : A. I. R. 1922 Mad. 176 : 41 M L. J. 393.

———0. 21, R. 58—Mortgage—Prior and subsequent—Prior mortgagee taking also a subsequent mortgage—Suit by puisne mortgagee—Sale--Claim by prior mortgagee.

A person mortgaged his properties first to X then to Y and then again to X. X obtained a final decree for sale on his earlier mortgage impleading Y and pending the same Y obtained a final decree for sale in a suit in which X has been impleaded in his capacity of subsequent incumbrancer. When Y applied for execution X objected setting up his prior mortgage rights. Held, the objection was not one under S. 47 but under O. 21, R. 58 as by a stranger and it could not be taken in respect of a decree for sale on a mortgage. (Hallifax, A. J. C.) GANGARAM v. KANHAILAL. 80 I. C. 626 : A. I. R. 1925 Nag. 185.

———0. 21, R. 58—Objection by judgment-debtor to attachment on the ground that he has no saleable interest—Objection dismissed—Appeal lies from the dismissal order—C. P. Code, S. 47.

Order of dismissal of objection by judgment-debtor stating that he has no saleable interest in the property attached is appealable. 8 All. 146 (F. B.) Foll. (Dalal, J.C. and Wazir Hasan, A. J C.) LACHMAN PRASAD v MIRNALINI DEBI. 28 O. C. 175 : 85 I. C. 997 : A. I. R. 1925 Oudh 618.

———0. 21, Rr. 58, 60, 61 and 63—R. 63 applies to an order passed under R. 60 or R. 61—Only the action taken under R. 62 will be notified in the sale proclamation—The intending purchaser will only look to the entry in the sale proclamation irrespective of its basis—Discretion under R. 62 may not be based on investigation into the charge—C. P. Code, O. 21, R. 62—C. P. Code, O. 21, R. 66.

The result is the same whether a property is sold subject to a mortgage or a charge or whether simply a notice is given in the sale proclamation of such encumbrance. In both cases, merely a notice as to the judgment-debtor's indemnity against incumbrances is given. The discretion exercised by the Court in charge of execution proceedings under O. 21, R. 62 may not always be based on an investigation into the nature and validity of the charge. The Court may only decide under the rule to issue notice under R. 66 to the intending purchaser that a claim is preferred in support of the charge but the purchaser simply takes the risks of the notice. A claim or objection under O. 21, R. 58 must result in an order passed either under R. 60 or R. 61 and R. 63 applies to an order made either under R. 60 or 61. The Court under R 62 of O. 21 may either release the property or disallow the claim and may continue the attachment subject to the charge It is only the result of the Court's action under R. 62 that will be notified to the public in the sale proclamation under O. 21, R. 66, cl. (2) and the intending purchaser will look only to such entry in the sale proclamation whether the entry is based on an action of the Court under O. 21, R. 62 founded on the material supplied by the parties or on the basis of a report from the Registration Office: in both cases the entry would be the same and would have the same effect and the auction-purchaser is bound by the entry in the sale proclamation regarding encumbrances on the property to be sold in so far as his right and liability are concerned. Inasmuch as he does not come on the scene prior to the commencement of the sale he is not concerned with whether any enquiry into the validity of the encumbrance has been held or not prior to the entry in the proclamation. (Wazir Hasan, J. C.) SANT BUX v. NADIR MIRZA. 27 O. C. 308 : 81 I. C. 1013 : A. I. R. 192 Oudh 154.

———0. 21, Rr. 58 and 63—Mortgagee in possession—Claim—Objection to attachment—Dismissal—Suit to establish mortgage right.

O. 21, R. 58, C. P. Code corresponding to S. 278 of the old code refers to claim or objections regarding attached property on the ground that the property is not liable to attachment. Where a mortgagee in possession intervened by way of claim to an attachment of the property in execution and asked that his mortgage should be proclamed at the time of sale but did not apply for withdrawal of the attachment Held, that the dismissal of his objection did not render it obligatory on the mortgagee to sue for declaration within one year and that he could sue to enforce his mortgage or resist any attempt to dispossess him on the strength of his mortgage. (Daniels, J. C.) BISHESHWAR v. CHANDRIKA PRASAD. 11 O. L. J. 240 : A. I. R. 1924 Oudh 384.

———0. 21, R 58 and S. 115—Objection—Rejection of claim—No revision.

In this case certain house property was attached in execution of a decree. The objector claimed that the property in question had been purchased by him from the judgment-debtor on the 3rd August, 1921, before the passing of the decree in execution of which it was sought to be sold. The court below found that the bona fides of the sale-deed was doubtful and the judgment-debtor was really in possession of the said property in spite of the alleged sale. The Court rejected the claim. Held, there was no reason in these circumstances for interfering in revision. (Kanhaiya Lal, J. C.) SHYAM LAL v. RADHE SHYAM. 10 O. L. J. 139: 74 I. C. 546 : A. I. R. 1923 Oudh 208.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 21, R 58.

——O. 21, R. 58—Question of benami cannot be gone into under R. 58 or R. 100—Civ. Pro. Code, S. 100.

A question of benami cannot be gone into in a proceeding under O. 21, R. 58 or R. 100 and an order based on purely speculative reasons is wrong. (Das, J.) RAM KISHUN SINGH v. DAMODAR PROSHAD. 5 P. L. T. 107 : 86 I. C. 599 : A. I. R. 1924 Pat. 506.

——O. 21, R. 58—Objection—No jurisdiction to try suit after sale is held.

It is obvious that after a sale is held in execution the attachment is ipso facto determined and the Court had no longer any jurisdiction to try the claim case. (Mullick and Bucknill, JJ.) MT. PUHUPDEI KUAR v. RAMCHARITAR BARHI. 4 P. L. T. 544 : 74 I. C. 87 : A. I. R. 1924 Pat. 76.

——O. 21, R. 58—Effect of order—Sale of property in execution is no bar to suit.

O. 21, R. 58 confers a statutory right of suit and his right is not affected by the sale of the property in execution of the decree before the suit. 35 C. 202, referred. (Jwala Prasad, J.) MT. MANIK v. RAMJAS AGARWALLA. 1 Pat. L. R. 51 : 70 I. C. 332 : 3 P. L. T. 832 : A. I. R. 1923 P. 152.

——O. 21, R. 58—Objection—Claim by legal representative of deceased judgment-debtor falls within S. 47, C. P. Code. (Coutts and Das, JJ.) NOWRATNAN LAL v. MRS. MARGARET ANNE STEPHEN. 3 P. L. T. 613 : 68 I. C. 369 : A. I. R. 1922 Pat. 572.

——O. 21, Rr. 58, 63 and 100—Objections—Usufructuary mortgagee cannot make—Dispossession by auction-purchaser—Application under O. 21, R. 100—Maintainability.

A usufructuary mortgagee in possession cannot object to an attachment under O. 21, R. 58. Where such a mortgagee is dispossessed by the purchaser at an execution sale, he is entitled to apply to court under O. 21, R. 100 and his application is not barred by O. 21, R. 63 (Das and Adami, JJ.) BISWANATH PATRA v. LINGARAJ PATRA. 70 I. C. 306 : 1 P. 159 : A. I. R. 1922 Pat. 408 (1)

——O. 21, R. 58—Effect of order.

Objection petition of judgment-debtor to attachment on the ground that the property is waqf is an objection under O. 21, R. 58 and an order allowing the objection is not appealable. (Coutts and Das, JJ.) NAZIR HUSSAIN v. MUHAMMAD EJOZ HUSSAIN. 1 P. 637: 67 I. C. 438: 3 P. L. T. 432: A.I.R. 1922 Pat. 196.

——O. 21, R. 58—Objection.

In proceedings under R. 58, the Court cannot deal with the point whether the execution is time-barred. (Das, J.) JALALUDDIN v. MANI RAM. 60 I. C. 375: 2 Pat. L. T. 275.

——O. 21, R. 58—Effect of order—Attachment and sale of equity of redemption.

On attachment and the sale of the judgment debtor's share in the equity of redemption, the auction-purchaser would acquire the right, title and interest of the judgment-debtor and nothing more. If the judgment-debtor was one of the three mortgagors, the auction-purchaser would step into his shoes and have all the rights as one of the three mortgagors. But the mortgage was one and cannot be divided. (Broun, A. J. C.) MAUNG SO v DEVIGYAN. 4 U. B R. 132: 70 I. C. 530: A. I. R. 1923 Rang. 119 (2).

——O. 21, R. 58—Objection—Investigation.

In claim investigations, the duties of the Court are confined to ascertaining who was in actual possession at the time of attachment. The court will not go into the question as to whether that possession was fraudulent or void. It must be determined by a regular suit. (Young, J.) HO SYEW WAING v. P. R. P. L. CHETTY. 13 Bur. L. T. 214: 64 I. C. 66: A. I. R. 1922 L. B. 16.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 21, R. 61.

——O. 21, Rr. 59 to 63 and S. 115—Execution proceeding—Failure to investigate title—Revision.

Where investigation has been refused or an order is passed without investigation is not a proper order passed in avoidance with Order 31, Rules 59-63 the High Court should and can interfere if it is in the interests of justice under section 115. Where on the objection that the property attached was not in possession of the judgment-debtor on his own behalf but on behalf of the objector, the court failed to make investigation as to on whose behalf the property was held and inquired only into the actual possession, held, it acted with material irregularity and revision lay. (Duckworth, J.) PHOMAN SINGH v. A. J. WELLS. 1 R. 276 : 2 Bur. L. J. 134 : 76 I. C. 677: A. I. R. 1923 Rang. 195.

——O. 21, Rr. 60 and 61—Title is threshed out only incidentally.

Per Rankin, J.—Rules 60 and 61 provide for a summary investigation into possession as distinct from a thorough trial of ultimate right but it is impossible to separate altogether the question of possession and of title. Thus if the judgment-debtor was in possession he may have been in possession as agent or trustee for another and this has to be enquired into. To that extent the title may be part of the enquiry in a claim case, but no ultimate questions of trust are intended to be threshed out. (Rankin and Page, JJ.) NAJIMUNESSA BIBI v. NACHARADDIN SARDAR. 51 Cal. 548: 39 C. L. J. 418: 83 I. C. 233: A. I. R. 1924 Cal. 744.

——O. 21, Rr. 60 and 63 and S. 64—Effect of order under R. 60.

An order under R. 60, which makes it obligatory on the Court, to release property under attachment, is only provisional and liable to be set aside by a regular suit ; and therefore as transfer of such property, after the release order, is liable to be set aside if the order itself is set aside by a regular suit. (Mookerjee, A. C. J. and Fletcher, J.) PROTAB CHANDRA v. SARAT CHANDRA. 33 C. L. J. 201: 62 I. C. 348: 25 C. W. N. 544.

——O. 21, Rr. 60 and 61—Claim petition—No decision as to the possession and interest of the claimant—Revision.

Certain property was attached in execution. A claimed interest in and possession of the property. The Court disallowed the claim but held, that he had some interest but not the entire interest. There was no finding what the nature of the interest was, nor a finding as to the person entitled to possession. Held, the order was illegal and liable to be set aside in revision by the High Court. (Jwala Prasad, J.) NAINU v. BHUPENDRA NATH RAKHAT. 60 I. C. 616.

——O. 21, Rr. 60 and 63—Release from attachment—Suit—Declaration of right to attach—Effect.

An order releasing property from attachment is only provisional and the effect of the decree in a subsequent suit brought under the provisions of O. 21, R. 3 declaring the right to attach the property is to maintain the attachment originally made. (Heald, J.) MAUNG SEIN v. MAUNG MAUNG. 2 Bur. L. J. 113: 76 I. C. 617: A. I. R. 1923 Rang. 237.

——O. 21, R. 61—Claim dismissed—Attachment withdrawn—Suit by claimant for possession not necessary.

Where a claim by a third party is dismissed, in an attachment in execution but subsequently the attachment is raised, the claimant is not bound to bring a suit within one year of the order under Art. 13 of Limitation Act and a subsequent suit by him for possession is not barred. (Macleod, C.J. and Fawcett, J.) MANILAL GIRDHAR PATAL v. MAHASUKHRAM VYAS. 45 Bom. 561: 59 I. C. 774: 22 Bom. L. R. 1446.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 21, R. 61.

——O. 21, R. 61—Effect of order—Dismissal for default—Effect.

An order dismissing a claim for default is an order within the meaning of O. 21, R. 63 of the Code and, subject to the result of a regular suit, is conclusive. (Chatterjee and Pearson, JJ.) SATINDRA NATH v. SHIVA PRASAD. 26 C. W. N. 126 : 64 I.C. 713: A. I. R. 1922 Cal. 166.

——O. 21, R. 62—Claim petition—C. P. Code, O. 21, R. 63—C P. Code, O. 23, R. 1.

An order recorded after the withdrawal of a claim petition under O. 21, R. 62, that "the proceedings are therefore dropped" is not an order under O. 21, R. 62, so as to become conclusive under O. 21, R. 63, but is equivalent to an order under O. 23, R 1. (Baker, J. C and Hallifax, A. J. C.) CHITNAVIS v. NATHU SAO. 20 N. L. R. 106: 7 N. L. J 170: 79 I. C. 1002: A. I. R. 1925 Nag. 2.

——O. 21. R. 62—Order for sale subject to mortgage—Decree-holder purchaser cannot challenge and mortgage.

Where an objection is allowed and the attached property is directed to be sold subject to the mortgage of the objector, the decree-holder, merely by becoming the auction-purchaser of the property, cannot challenge the mortgage in a subsequent foreclosure-suit by the mortgagee against the decree-holder auction-purchaser. A decree-holder cannot circumvent the order in an objective case by himself becoming the auction-purchaser. (Kotval, A. J. C.) GOVIND v. DHEKLU. 19 N. L R. 15: A. I. R. 1923 Nag. 282.

——O. 21, R. 62—Mortgagee in possession—If can claim to remove attachment.

A mortgagee in possession of property can apply under O. 21, R. 58 to have an attachment removed under O. 21, R 60, as rule 62 contemplates only the case of a mortgagee not in possession. (Daniels, J. C.) RAGHUNANDAN v AJODHIA PRASAD. 10 O. & A.L.R. 185 : 11 O.L.J. 239 : 81 I. C. 648 (2) : A.I.R. 1924 Oudh 404 (1).

——O. 21, R. 63—Suit under—Applicability—Suit for consideration.

Where on a claim petition being dismissed, the objector whose title was negatived, brought a suit against his vendor for refund of money for failure of consideration, O. 21, R. 63 does not apply and hence the suit need not be brought within one year. (Sulaiman, J.) RATI RAM v. BURMAJIT. 21 A. L. J. 770 : L. R. 5 A. 28: 77 I. C. 82: 46 All. 45: A. I. R. 1924 All. 302.

——O, 21, R. 63 and S. 47—Suit under—Right of suit—Attachment of assets of deceased judgment-debtor—Claim—Rights of suit of decree holder.

In execution of a decree, the decree-holder attached the assets of a judgment-debtor who had died. A reversioner who was not a party either to the decree or to the execution proceeding preferred objections under O. 21, R. 58, C. P. C. and the objections were allowed. In a suit brought by the decree-holder for a declaration of the liability of the assets to attachment and sale in execution held that the suit was not barred by S. 47, C. P. C. (Banerji, J.) BANSIDHAR v. SHAM LALL. 71 I. C. 1012: A. I. R. 1923 All. 292.

——O. 21, R. 63—Mortgage of property—Money decree was passed against mortgagor's vendor and the property was sold—Auction-purchaser was obstructed in taking possession by mortgagee—No adverse order in claim proceedings passed against mortgagor—Mortgage is valid.

Auction purchaser of a property under a money decree cannot succeed in an action for possession against a mortgagee of that property from a vendee from the judgment-debtor under the money decree when the sale had taken place prior to the auction-purchase. The mortgage of the property is valid and enforceable in absence of evidence that the mortgagor was affected by any adverse order under Order 21, Rule 63. (Macleod, C. J. and Coyajee, J.) SHRINIVAS NARAYAN PRABHU v. SHIDDIKA MAIDIN SAIBA. 27 B L R. 931: 89 I. C. 990: A. I. R. 1925 Bom. 413.

——O. 21, R. 63—"Shall be conclusive" means that the order cannot be questioned except in that way—When attachment ceases, claimant need not bring suit to set aside adverse order.

Per Rankin, J.—The meaning of the words shall be conclusive' is that the act of the Court is to be valid unless there is a suit. It means that the attachment held valid in the claim case shall be valid and the attachment removed shall be as though it never was, so far as the parties are concerned. The rule seems to mean that subject to a suit factum valet the act of the Court shall not be questioned save in that way. The effect of the decision as to possession in other proceedings in which that question may again arise is not the matter to which "shall be conclusive" are directly addressed. The principle is that the object of making a claim in execution is to remove the attachment, that when the attachment is withdrawn that object is gained and that if there exists no attachment, or proceeding in execution on which the order in the claim case can take effect, one is not bound to bring a suit complaining of such order. It is no answer at all to say that a decree-holder's suit under rule 63 has always to be brought after the attachment is removed. If the decree-holder succeed, he gets the attachment restored as at the date it was made and that is what he fights for.

Per Page J.—It is not correct to say that if a person elects to take advantage of the procedure laid down in Order 21 rules 58 to 63 of the Code of Civil Procedure, he must be content to abide by the provisions of the rules which he has invoked and that if an order is made rejecting his claim or objection, he must institute a suit within a year from the date of such order notwithstanding that the execution proceedings in respect of which his claim had been preferred have in the meantime come to an end. Whether the decree is satisfied, or set aside, or reversed, or whether the decretal amount is voluntarily withdrawn by the decree-holder or whether the order of attachment is discharged the same result follows namely the parties are put back in the same position as they were in before the execution proceedings were lodged. The object sought by the institution of a suit is to establish the right of the claimant to the property in dispute and not merely to remove the attachment. A claimant is not compelled de bene esse to institute a title suit under rule 63 within a year after his claim under rule 58 has been rejected when the object sought by him in making the application under 58 has been attained by the release of the property from attachment within the time limited by rule 63. In circumstances such as these Article 11 of Schedule 1 of the Limitation Act of 1908 does not apply. 15 Cal. 674 Diss. (Rankin and Page. JJ.) NAJIMUNISSA BIBI v. NACHARADDIN SARDAR. 51 Cal. 548 : 39 C. L. J. 418 :

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 21, R. 63.

83 I. C. 233 : A. I. R. 1924 Cal. 744.

——O. 21, R. 63—Defence—No suit brought—Defence is barred.

Adverse decision of a claim raised under O. 21, R. 58, prevents the unsuccessful party from asserting the rights thus claimed in any capacity whether as plaintiff or as defendant except in a suit under O. 21, R. 63. (Newbould and Panton, JJ.) HARIPADA (BERMAN) v. SURENDRA NATH SAMANTHA.

A. I. R. 1922 Cal 164.

——O. 21, R. 63—Suit under — What plaintiff must prove—Shifting of onus.

A person who claims property which has been attached and which has been dismissed under O. 21, R. 58 must in a suit under O. 21, R. 63 give prima facie evidence of the genuineness of the document of sale and once he has shown a prima facie title, the onus shifts to the decree-holder to prove that the transfer was fraudulent and unreal. (Scott-Smith and Fforde, JJ.) DAULAT RAM v. GHULAM FATIMA.

89 I. C. 953 (1) (Lah).

——O. 21, R. 63—Effect of order— Limitation Act, Art. 11.

Where executing court does not adjudicate on merits of the objection, the limitation for suit does not begin till the date on which fresh objections were allowed after second execution application by decree-holder. (Scott Smith and Abdul Qadir, JJ.) FATEH DIN v. QUTAB DIN.

3 Lah. 7 : 67 I C. 543 : A. I. R. 1922 Lah. 108.

——O. 21 R 63 and O. 22, R. 4—Claim proceedings—Rejection of objection—Suit to establish title—Failure to implead legal representatives of deceased decree-holder—Decree—Effect of.

In claim proceedings a certain objection was rejected by the Court and the objector brought a regular suit to establish his title and obtained a decree. Before the suit was filed one of the decree-holders died and the plaintiff refused to join his legal representative as a defendant. Held, that the decree passed in the title suit is not binding on the legal representative of the deceased decree-holder because he was not joined as a party in that suit. That under O. 21, R. 63 of the Civ. Pro. Code the order rejecting the objection in claim proceedings had become final as against the deceased decree-holder. 12 M. L. J. 368, 150 P. L. R 1909, Dist. (Scott Smith, J.) PIYARA v. MAZHAR.

16 P. L. R. 1922 : 64 I. C. 359 : A. I. R. 1922 Lah 78.

——O. 21, R. 63—Burden of proof— Suit by unsuccessful claimant—Fraudulent transfer—Evidence.

In a suit under O. 21, R. 63 by an unsuccessful claimant, where the objections as to the attached properties have been disallowed by the execution Court the burden of proof to establish the ownership of the property would lie necessarily on the plaintiff. Where the circumstances disclosed by the evidence on the record lead to the conclusion that the document must have been executed with the fraudulent object of defeating and delaying the creditors, the Court may presume that the alienation was fraudulent. (Abdul Raoof, J.) MT. MAI BAI v. BHAI KHAN SINGH.

67 I. C. 876 : 3 L. L. J. 198.

——O. 21, Rr. 63 & 57—Claim petition disallowed—Attachment ceasing under R. 57—Claimant not filing suit within one year—Claimant is not precluded from raising his title afterwards.

After a claim petition has been dismissed and the attachment in respect of which claim petition was made ceases, the claimant's failure to bring a suit within one year does not preclude him from raising the question of title afterwards. (Case-law discussed.) (Ramesam and Venkatasubba Rao, JJ.) KUMARA GOUNDAN v. THEVARAYA REDDI.

(1925) M. W. N. 406 · 87 I. C. 635 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 1113 : 48 M. L. J. 616.

——O. 21, R. 63—Withdrawal of a claim petition—Court endorsing as "Not pressed, dismissed"—Order is not one under the rule—Claimant not bound to bring suit within one year.

When a petition is withdrawn it should be endorsed as 'withdrawn' and not as 'dismissed'. Where a claim petition under O. 21, R. 63 was withdrawn but the Court endorsed on it "Not pressed, dismissed". Held that Court's order was not under O. 21, R. 63 and the petitioner was not bound to bring the suit within a year. (Coutts Trotter, C. J. and Ramesam, J.) G. LAKSHMINARASAMMA v. NAVUGOTLA PYDANNA.

80 I. C. 233 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 265.

——O. 21, R. 63—Costs of claim petition.

Order 21, Rule 63 does not enable a Court to allow the successful party in the regular suit to have his costs of the claim petition. (Devadoss, J.) NAMBI VEETTIL TARWAD TAVAZHI KARNAVAN v. ATHIKARATH VALAPPIL TARWAD KARNAVAN. 20 L. W. 557 : 34 M. L. T. 106 : (1924) M. W. N. 757 : 83 I. C. 89 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 233 (1).

——O. 21, R. 63—Claim suit—Benami transaction—Burden of proof.

Ordinarily it will be for a party who sets up that a particular transaction is not real but benami to make out his case. But where there was a claim petition which had been decided and a regular suit is brought to set aside the order thereon it is for the plaintiffs in that suit—the defeated claimant, to establish his ownership. (Venkatasubba Rao, J.) MODADUGU PERAYYA v. PEROLI VENKAYAMMA.

19 L. W. 627 : 34 M. L. T. 201 : 79 I. C. 899 : A. I. R. 1924 Mad. 770 : 47 M. L. J. 14.

——O. 21, R. 63—Notifying to bidders is irregular without deciding the right of claimant.

Where objection to a sale by official receiver is brought, simply ordering that the objection should be notified to the bidders at the time of sale is an objectionable procedure 41 M. 985 and 8 L.W. 197 (F.B.) Foll. (Spencer and Venkatasubba Rao, JJ.) P. RAMACHANDRA RAO v. GURRAJU. 18 L. W. 282 : 76 I. C. 977 : A I. R. 1924 Mad. 147.

——O. 21, R. 63—Dismissal of claim petition—Must be challenged within one year.

Where a claim petition was dismissed without investigation on the ground of delay, but there was a rider added that the petitioner's right would not be affected by the sale, the order is one against the claimant, and must be challenged by suit within one year. On the rejection of such a claim the claimant will be estopped from pleading adverse possession, (Odgers and Hughes, JJ.) AISAMMA v. MOIDIN KUNHI BEHARI. (1923) M. W. N. 633 : 18 L. W. 520 : 33 M. L. T. 1 : 47 Mad. 160 : 77 I. C 264 : A. I. R. 1924 Mad. 111 : 45 M. L. J. 690.

——O. 21, R. 63—Effect of order—Attachment of debts—Objection by garnishee—Confirmation of attachment—Effect of—Sale of debt—Rights of purchaser.

In execution of a decree against a judgment-debtor a debt alleged to be due to him by a third person was attached and the garnishee objected to the attachment stating that no debt was due to the judgment-debtor the Court on enquiry confirmed the attachment and the garnishee did not take any steps to challenge the validity of the order. The decree-holder purchased the debt in Court-auction and brought a suit to recover the same. Held, that it was not open to the debtor to contend that there was no debt due by him to the judgment-debtor and that the order on the previous execution proceeding was final and conclusive. (Schwabe, C. J. and Wallace, J.) SUBBIER v. MOHIDEEN PITCHAI. 17 L. W. 582 : (1923) M. W. N. 282 : 32 M. L. T. (H. C.) 304 : 72 I. C. 558 : A. I. R. 1923 Mad. 562 : 44 M. L. J. 588.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 21, R. 63.

——0. 21, R. 63—Effect of order.

An order notifying claim to intending bidders without investigating it, is not an order against the claimant. (Spencer, J.) KACHINAMTHODI PARAMBIL SAHARABI v. KACHINAMTHODI PUTHIA PURAYI. 17 L. W. 182 : 72 I. C. 857 : A. I. R. 1923 Mad. 295 · 44 M. L. J. 141.

——0. 21, R. 63—Parties—Decree-holder is not a necessary party.

Where a claim has been rejected and the properties have been sold and purchased by a stranger purchaser, the decree-holder is not a necessary party to a suit by the claimant. 7 C. 608, Rel. (Spencer and Ramesam, JJ.) SUBBARAYA MUDALIAR v. KANDASWAMY MUDALY. 16 L. W. 330 : (1922) M. W. N. 674 : 70 I. C. 168 : 32 M. L. T. 124 : A. I. R. 1923 Mad. 58.

——0. 21, R. 63—Effect of order—Order for attachment but no attachment—Claim disallowed—Suit more than a year afterwards is barred.

In pursuance of an order of attachment, but without actual attachment, the properties of a debtor were brought to sale in execution, and a mortgagee put in a claim petition which was disallowed. The latter brought a claim suit but withdrew with permission to sue again and more than one year afterwards brought a suit on the mortgage. Held, that plff. having submitted to the order on the claim petition though under a mistake could not later on urge that the order was without jurisdiction and that the suit was barred. (Oldfield and Ramesam, JJ.) MUTHIAH CHETTY v. PALANIAPPA CHETTY. (1921) M. W.N. 764 : 15 L. W. 190 : 45 Mad. 90 : 70 I. C. 432 : A. I. R. 1922 Mad. 447 : 41 M. L. J. 594.

——0. 21, R. 63—Effect of order—Dismissal of claim for want of jurisdiction is not one under the rule.

An order on a claim petition declining to investigate for want of jurisdiction is not one under O. 21, R. 63 of the Code and claimant need not bring a suit within a year to set it aside. (Spencer and Ramesam, JJ.) LAKSHMI AMMAL v. KADIRESAN CHETTIAR. (1921) M. W. N. 495 : 63 I. C. 431 : 14 L. W. 12 : 41 M. L. J 198.

——0. 21, R. 63—Declaratory suit—Suit dismissed—Fresh suit to enforce mortgage barred.

Where a claim of a third person based on a mortgage is disallowed, and also his suit for declaration of his mortgage rights is dismissed, he cannot enforce, by a regular suit, his rights under the mortgage. (Ayling and Odgers, JJ.) SINGARIAH CHETTY v CHINNABI. 44 Mad. 268 : 12 L. W. 725 : 28 M. L. T. 420 : 60 I. C. 780 : (1921) M. W. N. 33 : 40 M L. J. 7.

——0. 21, R. 63—Defence—Fraudulent transfer.

An attaching decree-holder can plead in defence to a suit under O. 21, R. 63, that the alienation is a fraudulent one intended to defeat or delay the creditors. 41 Mad. 612, F. B. : 30 M. L. J. 565, overruled. (Wallis, C. J., Oldfield, Sadasiva Aiyar, Spencer and Seshagiri Aiyar, JJ.) RAMASWAMI CHETTIAR v. MALLAPPA REDDIAR. 43 Mad. 760: 28 M. L. T. 170 : 12 L. W. 475 : 59 I. C. 947: (1920) M. W. N. 572 39 M L. J. 350 (F.B.). : [Overruling 41 Mad. 612 : 43 I C. 651 (F.B.). : and 34 I. C. 778 : 30 M. L. J. 565.]

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 21, R. 63.

——0. 21, R. 63—Suit under—Scope of—Inquiry.

What is decided by a suit under O. 21, R. 63 is the question of title arising in execution between the attaching decree-holder and the objector. 35 Mad. 35, Doubted. 35 Cal. 202, Expl. 15 Cal. 521, Foll. (Wallis, C. J., Oldfield, Sadasiva Aiyar, Spencer and Seshagiri Aiyar, JJ.) RAMASWAMI CHETTIAR v. MALLAPPA REDDIAR. 43 Mad. 760 : 28 M.L.T. 170 : 12 L. W. 475 : 59 I. C. 947 : (1920) M. W. N 572 39 M. L. J. 350 (F.B.). : [Overruling 43 I. C. 651 : 41 Mad. 612 (F. B.). : and 34 I. C. 778 : 30 M. L. J. 565.]

——0. 21, R. 63—Suit under—Nature of.

The policy of the legislature in framing the rules relating to claim petition in O. 21 is to secure the speedy settlement of question of title and the finding of the court is a summary decision from which a suit allowed by O. 21, R. 63 is simply a form of appeal. The object is to give the parties an opportunity of placing their respective cases before a court because summary investigation might not have furnished sufficient material for decision. (Kinkhede, A. J. C.) DAULAT v. RAMAPPA. 90 I. C 196 (Nag.).

——0. 21, R. 63—Order in objection proceeding final unless suit filed by aggrieved party within one year.

It is incumbent on the person against whom an order is made in an objection proceeding to file a suit if he feels himself aggrieved thereby ; otherwise the order in the objection suit is final. (Findlay, O.J.C.) LOBO v. BABULAL. 8 N.L.J. 170 : A.I.R. 1925 Nag. 390.

——0. 21, R. 63—A regular suit is continuation of claim proceedings.

A suit under rule 63 is a continuation of claim proceedings as the suit is filed to set aside the order passed in the claim proceedings and is merely in the form of appeal in the guise of an original suit. (Kinkhede, A. J. C.) KHAIRULLA v. SETH DHANRUPMAL. 80 I. C. 905 : A. I. R. 1925 Nag. 82.

——0. 21, R. 63—Claim or objection—Dismissal without investigation—Subsequent suit to establish title—Limitation—Leave to withdraw claim or objection with liberty—Effect of—Grant of

The period of limitation for a suit to set aside an order under O. 21, R. 63, C. P. Code, is one year, even if that order was passed without any investigation or consideration of the merits of the claim or objection. Where the claim or objection was withdrawn with liberty to institute fresh proceedings, there is no adverse order under O. 21, R. 63, C. P. Code to necessitate a suit within one year 41 M. 985 (F. B.) : 45 C. 785, Foll. 14 N. L. R. 66, Dist. (Baker, J. C and Hallifax, A. J. C.) CHITNAVIS v. NATH SAO. 20 N. L. R. 106 : 7 N. L. J. 170 : 79 I. C. 1002 : A. I. R. 1925 Nag. 2.

——0. 21, R. 63—Suit for declaration of title—Burden of proof.

Where a party who is defeated in claim proceedings sues for a declaration of title under O. 21, R. 63, the onus is on him to prove the validity of the transaction on which his title is based. (Prideaux, A. J. C.) MT. SARASWATIBAI v. YADORAO. A. I. R. 1924 Nag. 240.

——0. 21, R. 63—Purchaser subject to mortgage can challenge the mortgage.

No order passed under S. 282, C. P. Code, precluded the purchaser at an auction sale from resisting a suit on a mortgage upheld at the time of sale on the ground that nothing is due from it. But if he gained a substantial advantage by accepting the validity of the mortgage, he cannot contest its validity. (Baker, Offg. J. C.) HARBHAGAT v. NARAYAN RAO.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 21, R. 63.

78 I. C. 338 : A. I. R. 1924 Nag. 208.

——O. 21, R. 63—Burden of proof.

In a suit instituted after the summary rejection of the claim under S. 278 of the C.P. Code, 1882. (O. 21, R. 58 of the new Code) the onus of establishing that the transaction on which the suit is based was entered into in good faith lies on the plaintiff. (Baker, J. C.) MULLA FAIZ ALI v. MT. HARKUAR.

77 I. C. 50 : A. I. R. 1923 Nag. 334.

——O. 21, R. 63—Effect of order—Dismissal of claim without investigation of the merits—Dismissal on the ground of delay—Suit to establish title—Limitation Act, Art. 11 applicable.

The period of limitation prescribed by Art. 11 of Schedule 1 to the Limitation Act is applicable to a suit to establish a right to property attached in execution of a decree brought after disallowance without investigation of an objection to such attachment. (Prideaux, A. J. C.) NARASAYYA v LAXMI NARAYAN. 6 N. L J. 66 : 19 N. L. R. 34 : 71 I. C. 404 : A. I. R. 1923 Nag. 187

——O. 21, R. 63—Effect of order—Dismissal without investigation.

The period of limitation for a suit to set aside an order under . 63 of O. 21 is one year, even if that order was passed without investigation and not on merits. (Hallifax, A.J.C.) GANGADHARA RAO v. ABDUL MAJID. 69 I. C. 522 : A. I. R. 1923 Nag. 69 (1).

——O. 21, R. 63—Suit under—Proof of title.

Appellant sued to establish her title to certain property in respect of which her claim had been disallowed. Held, on the evidence in the case that the appellant had proved her title to the house as real owner and that the attachment of the property as that of her paramour was invalid. (Kinkhede, A. J. C.) MT. SUNDAR v. BABU LAL. 7 N. L. J. 9.

——O. 21, R. 63—Effect of order—Dismissal for default.

Held, that an objection which is dismissed for default is as much final under O. 21, R. 63 subject to a regular suit being filed as if it had been dismissed after contest. (Daniels, J. C.) KEDAR NATH v. SUKH NATH SINGH. 64 I. C. 209 : 24 O. C. 213.

——O. 21, R. 63—Suit under—Dismissal of claim without investigation.

An order passed without investigation of the claim is an order made against the party in such a way as to render that order conclusive and thereby prohibit the institution of a suit to establish the same rights after the period of one year allowed by the Limitation Act has expired. O. 21, R. 63 of the C. P. Code of 1908 is much wider in its scope than the corresponding S. 283 of the Code of 1882, and unlike that latter section covers cases in which there has been no investigation. Orders made under R. 63, O. 21 become final if not set aside by suit within one year. (Duckworth and Po Han, JJ.) MAUNG PYA ON v. MA HLA KYU. 1 Rang. 481 : 2 Bur. L. J. 173 : 76 I. C. 841 : A I. R. 1924 Rang. 42.

——O. 21, R. 63—Effect of order—Conclusive means final.

The 'word conclusive' has the same meaning as final, i. e., unappealable. (Duckworth, J.) PHOMAN SINGH v. A. J. WELLS. 1 R. 276 : 76 I. C. 677 : 2 Bur. L. J. 131 : A. I. R. 1923 Rang. 195.

——O. 21, R. 63—Effect of order—Ex parte order for removal of attachment is final.

Where an attachment has been removed by an order of court, the order is conclusive unless set aside by suit. It does not make any difference that the order of removal was made ex parte or that the proceedings were irregular. (Pratt, J.) MA THEIN TIN v. MA HTOO. 2 Bur. L. J. 60 : 75 I. C. 322 : A. I. R. 1923 Rang. 156.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), C. 21, R. 66.

——O. 21, Rr. 63 and 103—Unsuccessful objector must sue within a year—Otherwise he is estopped even as defendant.

Where the summary order contemplated by O. 21, rules 63 and 103 is not overruled in a regular suit brought within a year it becomes conclusive and binding on all persons who were parties to it, or their successors-in-title and they are thereafter precluded from asserting their rights even as defendants. 22 Bom. 640, Foll. (Raymond and Madgavkar, A. J. C.) AZIZULLAH KHAN v. GHULAM HUSSEIN.

17 S. L. R. 63 : 80 I. C. 994 : A. I. R. 1924 Sind 97.

——O. 21, R. 64—Setting aside—Absence of attachment.

A sale does not become null and void merely by reason of the absence of an attachment which is intended for the protection of the decree-holder and to take the property out of the disposition of the judgment-debtor. (Hallifax, A. J. C.) HARLAL v. NARAYAN. 4 N. L. J. 118 : 18 Nag. L. R. 152 : A. I. R. 1922 Nag. 267.

——O. 21, Rr. 64 and 66—Surrender of possession of mortgaged property by the decree-holder or his rendering account is not necessary for execution. (Das and Ross, JJ.) NRIPENDRA NATH CHATTERJEE v. JHUMAK MANDUR. 3 P. 221 : 4 P. L. T. 694 : 2 P. L. R. 9 : 80 I. C. 588 : A. I. R. 1924 Pat. 263.

——O. 21, R. 66—Sale proclamation—Statement as to revenue assessed—Omission of—Effect.

Under O. 21, R. 66 of the C. P Code, the sale proclamation should contain the statement as to the revenue assessed upon the estate, that it is a material matter which would enable the judgment-debtor to base an application for setting aside the sale, if he could comply with the other condition that the Code provides. (Lord Buckmaster.) BALIRAM SINGH v. SETH NARSINGADAS. 18 L. W. 137 : L. R. 4 P. C. 197 : 28 C. W. N. 593 : 33 M. L. T. 275 : 75 I C. 546 : (1923)M.W.N. 714 : A. I. R. 1923 P. C. 93 : 45 M L. J. 403 (P. C.).

——O. 21, R. 66—Sale proclamation—Proceedings—Nature of—Decision when res-judicata.

Proceedings under Order 21, Rule 66 of the Civil Procedure Code are ministerial proceedings. The Court has to determine what were the properties to be sold and what were the encumbrances on the same. Any decision come to in those proceedings cannot operate as res judicata on the very point raised in a regular suit later on. (Mukherjee, J.) TOTA RAM v. GOURI SHANKAR. 78 I C. 582 : L. R. 5 A. 218 : A.I.R. 1924 All. 480.

——O. 21, R. 66—Notification of incumbrances—Rights of purchaser—Estoppel.

Under O. 21, R. 66, C. P. Code, if a mortgage deed is merely notified, that notification is in no way conclusive as between the decree-holder or the purchaser on the one hand and the holder of the incumbrance on the other as to its validity and where a sale is not effected subject to a mortgage but the mortgage is simply notified at the time of the sale the auction-purchaser is not estopped from questioning the validity of the mortgage. 29 C. 154 : 20 A. 421, Dist. (Stuart and Sulaiman, JJ.) ROSHAN LAL v. LALLU. 44 All. 714 : 20 A. L. J. 722 : L. R. 3 A. 500 : 68 I. C. 790 : A. I. R. 1922 All. 443 (2).

——O. 21, R. 66—Estoppel—Sale proclamation—Mortgage not mentioned.

Where, in an application for execution of a money

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 21, R. 66.

decree, the decree-holder mentions that the property was subject to a mortgage held by him but the sale proclamation omits it, and such omission was not due to any fraud, collusion, misconduct or misrepresentation, held, that he was not estopped from putting forward and enforcing his mortgage against the auction-purchaser. (Mears, C. J. and Banerji, J.) RAMSARUP v. BHARAT. 19 A. L. J. 744 : 64 I. C. 763 : 43 A. 703.

——O. 21, R. 66 - Notification of mortgage—If conclusive—Right of auction-purchaser.

A sale proclamation after proceedings under O. 21, R. 66 of Code is not conclusive between the parties or binding on the auction purchaser, who can contest the validity of a mortgage notified in the proclamation. (Gokul Prasad and Lindsay, JJ.) SULTANKHAN v. MOHABAT KHAN. 43 All. 489 : 63 I. C. 395 · 19 A. L. J. 400.

——O. 21, Rr. 66 and 90—Execution sale—Setting aside—Statement of value of the property in sale proclamation—Valuation given by both parties inserted in sale proclamation.

Cases can be conceived when the court might rightly consider that the value of the property as stated by both parties should be mentioned though it is generally desirable that the Court should attempt to arrive at a fairly accurate value of the property to be mentioned in the sale proclamation in order to enable bidders to judge of the nature and value of the property. A Court is justified in stating both values instead of attempting itself to value the property when the property was one that it was most difficult to value accurately and to hold an enquiry would have further delayed proceedings which the judgment-debtors were obviously attempting to obstruct by every means in their power. When there is no evidence that any one was misled or deterred from bidding by the insertion of a low valuation in the sale proclamation the applicants could not have sustained substantial injury by reason of the alleged irregularity (Newbould and Ghose, JJ.) BEJOY SINGH DUDHURIA v. ASHUTOSH GOSSAMI. 28 C. W. N. 552 : A.I.R. 1924 Cal. 589.

——O. 21, R. 66—Sale proclamation—Value of the land not stated—Failure to serve sale proclamation.

The approximate value of the land should be stated in sale proclamations but its omission is an irregularity which does not necessarily vitiate the sale unless it had a material effect upon the number of bidders and upon the price. Failure to serve the sale proclamation does not vitiate the sale when the judgment-debtor knows of it. 2 C. W. N 848, distinguished. (Greaves and Ghosh, JJ.) JASHIMUDDIN v. MANMOHINI. A. I. R. 1922 Cal 93.

——O. 21, R 66—Notification of mortgage—Mortgage invalid—Effect of.

If a mortgage notified in the proclamation of sale turns out to be invalid, the benefit is taken by the purchaser and the judgment-debtor is not entitled to claim from him a refund of the amount alleged to have been due on the mortgage. The purchaser is free to contest the reality or validity of the mortgage in a suit by the mortgagee. 31 All. 583, foll. (Mookerjee and Buckland, JJ.) KRISHNA v. NAGENDRABALA. 25 C. W. N. 942 : 66 I. C. 694 : 34 C. L. J. 333.

——O. 21, R. 66—Appeal.

An order directing issueof sale proclamation though the Court had previously ordered stay thereof at the request of the judgment-debtor till his objection was decided is not final and therefore not appealable.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 21, R. 66.

(Sanderson, C. J. and Chotzner, JJ.) JOGESH CHANDRA v. HEMENDRA KUMAR. 64 I. C. 547 : 35 C. L. J. 170.

——O. 21, R. 66 and S. 47—Petition filed as one under R. 90, but objections to sale covered by R. 66—Second Appeal lies.

Though petition by judgment-debtor is filed as one under O. 21, R. 90 where the objections are that the petitioner had no notice of the proclamation of sale and that there is an under-valuation of the property, they fall under O. 21, R. 66 and a second appeal is competent. 11 L. W. 59, Foll. (Madhavan Nair, J.) VENKATASWAMI v. G. NAGAYYA. (1925) M. W. N. 701 : 87 I. C. 413 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 1142.

——O. 21, R. 66—Incorrect valuation in sale proclamation—Remedy of aggrieved party.

Where a sale proclamation contains an incorrect valuation, the aggrieved party can apply to have the sale set aside, if substantial injury results as a consequence of the incorrect entry but an appeal does not lie against the order inserting the value. (Oldfield and Devadoss, JJ.) AVUDAINAYAGAPPA PILLAI v. SUNDARANANDAN PILLAY. 19 L. W. 585 : 76 I. C. 173 : A. I. R. 1924 Mad. 767.

——O. 21, R. 66—Appeal—Order settling the order in which properties are to be sold—Nature.

Order settling the order in which properties are to be sold is appealable. (Oldfield and Devadoss, JJ.) VEDAVYASA AIYAR v THE MADURA HINDU LABHA NIDHI CO., LTD. 18 L. W. 311 : 77 I. C. 148 : (1923) M. W. N. 662 : A. I. R. 1924 Mad. 365 : 45 M. L. J. 478.

——O. 21, R. 66—Setting aside sale proclamation—If a purely ministerial act.

Quaere.—Whether the decision of the Full Bench in 27 Mad. 259 which holds that setting aside a sale proclamation is a ministerial act, is still a good law ? (Schwabe, C. J. and Coleridge, J.) KAVERIBAI AMMAL v. MEHTA & SONS. 18 L. W. 615 : (1923) M. W. N. 894 : 75 I. C. 901 : A. I. R. 1924 Mad. 234 : 46 M. L. J. 71.

——O. 21, R. 66—Estoppel—Failure to attend at the settlement of proclamation—Effect —If estopped from raising plea of non-liability to attachment.

Failure to attend at the settlement of proclamation estops from raising plea of non-liability to attachment. (Schwabe, C. J., Oldfield and Ramesam, JJ.) CHIDAMBARAM CHETTY v. KANDASAMI GOUNDAN. (1923) M. W. N. 571 : 46 Mad. 768 : 74 I. C. 155 : 18 L. W. 757 : A. I. R 1924 Mad. 1 : 45 M. L. J. 346 (F. B.)

——O. 21, R. 66—Notice to judgment-debtor—Terms of proclamation settled ex parte—Question of liability of property.

A decree-holder applied on attachment of immoveable property of the judgment-debtor without any effect. Judgment-debtor did not get any notice. An application was then made for the sale of the property and the judgment-debtor got a notice for settling the terms of the sale proclamation. As the latter did not attend on the date fixed, the terms of the sale proclamation were settled ex parte. The judgment-debtor, applied for the release of property. The decree-holder raised the question of res judicata as the question of the liability of the property had been decided on the hearing of the application for settling the terms of the sale proclamation ; Held, that, notice to judgment-debtor to be present at the settlement of the terms of the proclamation cannot be regarded as raising the question of the liability of the property to be attached and therefore it cannot be said, that the judgmentdebtor was invited to object to that attachment. That being so, the order that followed cannot be implied as an implied adjudication that the property was correctly attached. (Schwabe, C. J., Oldfield and Ramesam, JJ.) CHIDAMBARAM CHETTY v. KANDASWAMI GOUNDAN. 46 M. 768 : (1923) M.W.N. 671 : 18 L. W. 777 : 74 I. C. 155 : A. I. R. 1924 Mad. 1 : 45 M. L. J. 346 (F.B.).

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 21, R. 66.

——0. 21, R. 66—Appeal—Order fixing the upset price is not open to.

An order fixing the upset price in a sale proclamation is not appealable. 27 M. 250 ; (1917) M. W. N. 141, Rel. on. (Oldfield and Venkatasubba Rao, JJ.) RAMANATHAN CHETTIAR v. VENKATACHELLAM CHETTIAR. (1923) M. W. N. 297 : 17 L. W. 635 : 32 M. L. T. (H. C.) 401 : 72 I. C. 836 : A. I. R. 1923 Mad. 619 : 44 M. L. J. 599.

——0. 21, R. 66—Property sold subject to mortgage—Entry in sale proclamation—Basis of—Effect.

Entries in the sale proclamation of the existence of encumbrances may be based on an action of court under O. 21, R. 62 or on the basis of a report from the Registration Office. Either way the auction-purchaser is bound and he is affected by the notice conveyed thereby. (Wazir Hasan, J. C.) SANT BUX v. NADIR MIRZA. 10 O. & A. L. R. 1046 : 81 I. C. 1013 : 27 O. C. 308 : A.I.R. 1924 Oudh 154.

——0. 21, R. 66—Absence of plan of house does not vitiate proclamation of sale.

A plan of the house proposed to be sold by auction being not prescribed by law, absence of the plan in a sale proclamation does not necessarily vitiate the proclamation. (Kendall, A. J. C.) NARINDAR BIKRAMJIT SINGH v. SETH SUKHAN LAL. 80 I. C. 667 : A. I. R. 1925 Oudh 150 (1).

——0. 21, R. 66—Notice—Omission to issue in fresh application for execution is not an irregularity.

Where on an application for execution, notice had been issued under O. 21, R. 66 of the C. P. Code and the particulars to be entered in the proclamation of sale were settled, the omission to issue the notice under O. 21, R. 66 again on a succeeding application for execution does not constitute an irregularity. 12 A. 510; 18 C. 496; 21 Cal.66; 53 I.C. 809 Ref. (Kanhaiya Lal, J. C.) BASANT LAL v. SAIYAD HUSAIN. 65 I. C. 988 : 24 O. C. 391.

——0. 21, R. 66—Order under, is not final and cannot be res judicata—C. P. Code, S. 11.

Order of the Court determining any of the particulars to be stated in the sale proclamation under O. 21, R. 66 is not a final order and the parties are at liberty to re-open the same question in a subsequent execution proceeding. (Mullick, Ross and Kulwant Sahay, JJ.) MOHIT NARAIN JHA v. THAKAN JHA. 6 Pat. L. T. 843 : 4 Pat. 731 : 3 Pat. L. R. 118 : 88 I. C. 332 : 1925 P. H. C. C. 189 : A. I. R. 1925 Pat. 500.

——0. 21, R. 66—Order refusing to notify incumbrance—Order is one under R. 66.

Order of an executing Court refusing to notify an encumbrance in the sale proclamation is really an order under O.21, Rule 66 and is therefore not appealable. (Mullick and Kulwant Sahay, JJ.) MOHIT NARAIN JHA v. THAKAN JHA. 3 Pat. L. R. 118 : 88 I. C. 332 : 1925 P. H. C. C. 189 : 4 Pat. 731 : 6 Pat. L.T. 843 : A. I. R. 1925 Pat. 500.

——0. 21, R. 66—Valuation—Notice for settling sale proclamation—Failure to appeal—Effect—Estoppel

Where the judgment-debtor had notice issued to him of the date for settling the sale proclamation and in spite of it did not attend or assist the court in fixing the valuation, he is afterwards estopped from objecting to the valuation. (Mullick and Bucknill, JJ.) MAHADEO SINGH v. DHOBI SINGH. 4 P. L. T. 721 : 74 I. C. 838 : 1923 P. H. C. C. 283 : 2 P. 916 : A. I. R. 1924 Pat. 111.

——0. 21, R. 66—Valuation to be fixed by court.

The insertion of any valuation in the sale proclamation other than valuation fixed by the court, is calculated to mislead intending bidders and is therefore wrong. A sale held under such circumstances can be set aside. (Das and Macpherson, JJ.) DAMRUPAT SINGH v. RAMESWAR SINGH. 1923 P. H. C. C. 208 : 73 I. C. 317 : A. I. R. 1923 Pat. 445.

——0. 21, R. 66—Valuation—Fixing of.

A Court has no jurisdiction to fix the valuation on a sale proclamation before the day fixed for hearing the parties as to the proper valuation. (Coutts and Ross, JJ.) SUKHRAJ BAHADUR v. DEBI BUKSH. 3 Pat. L. T. 342 : 65 I. C. 360 : A. I. R. 1923 Pat. 102 (1).

——0. 21, R. 66—Valuation of property in sale proclamation—Nature of.

The value fixed to the Court for the preparation of sale proclamation need not be the free value of the property. It is a mere estimate, which should as far as possible be a fair estimate. (Jwala Prasad and Ross, JJ.) RAJ BANS SAHAY v. ASKARAN BAID. 1 Pat. 214 : A. I. R. 1922 Pat. 550.

——0. 21, R. 66—Sale proclamation.

Verification by a person acquainted with the facts is enough. (Jwala Prasad and Adami, JJ.) BRAJA SUNDAR DEB v. SIVARANJAN DEI. 59 I. C. 282 : 1 P. L. T. 647.

——0. 21, R. 66 and 0. 43, R. 1—Appeal—Order under is not appealable.

An order under O. 21, R. 66 is not appealable under O. 43, R. 1. An objection as to a defect in the signature of the verification in a petition under O. 21, R. 66 (3) must be made within the time fixed by a notice under rule 66. (Jwala Prasad and Adami, JJ.) BRAJA SUNDAR DEB v. SIVARANJAN DEI. 59 I. C. 282 : 1 Pat. L. T. 647.

——0. 21, R. 66—Estoppel—Notification of mortgage—Omission

Where a decree-holder brings properties of the judgment debtor to sale in execution of his decree without disclosing the existence of a prior mortgage in his own favour, he is estopped from setting up the mortgage thereafter as against the auction purchaser. The fact that the mortgagee is a minor makes no difference. 10 C. 609 ; 22 B. 686, Ref. (Brown, A. J. C.) MAUNG KYIN PEIN v. MA PWA ME. 5 U. B. R. (1921) 62 : 64 I. C. 953 : A. I. R. 1922 U. B. 1.

——0. 21, R. 66 (2)—Applicability—Notice to debtor—Second proclamation.

The issue of notice enjoined by O. 21, R. 66 (2) relates to a case where a proclamation has been drawn up. When the proclamation was drawn up originally after notice to the judgment-debtor, no notice is necessary before preparing the proclamation a second time when the sale is adjourned. (Wazir Hasan and Simpson, A. J. Cs.) AHMAD HASAN v. KODI LAL. 90 I. C. 351.

——0. 21, R. 66 (3)—Sale proclamation—Enquiry as to mortgages on the property sold.

A sale cannot be set aside on the ground that in the sale proclamation the property was described as subject to two mortgages but the fact that the property was not to be redeemed, before redeeming other properties of the owner, was not described. It is not the business of the attaching creditor to see if there are clauses restraining redemption. He is to proceed as in O. 21, R. 66 (3) and then to file an affidavit as prescribed by the Civil Rules of Practice. (Wallis, C. J. and Seshagiri Aiyar, J.) PONNUSWAMI v. ABDUL HAFIZ. 13 L. W. 444 : 62 I. C. 735 : (1921) M. W. N. 258.

———0. 21, Rr. 68 and 90—Publication of sale proclamation less than 33 days before sale—If vitiates sale.

The fact that the sale proclamation was published less than 30 days before the sale does not vitiate the sale unless as the result of the irregularity, substantial injury had resulted. (Hallifax, A. J. C.) RAMJI PATEL v. KARKAJI. A. I. R. 1924 Nag. 293.

———0. 21, R. 69—Order under R. 69 is merely interlocutory.

Under O. 21, R. 69 the Court in its discretion may adjourn a sale to a specified day, and the order in the exercise of that discretion is an order of a merely interlocutory nature (Schwabe, C .J. and Coleridge, J.) KANIRIBAI AMMAL v. B. MEHTA.

18 L. W. 615 : (1923) M. W. N. 894 : 75 I. C. 901 : A. I. R. 1924 Mad. 234 : 46 M. L. J. 71.

———0. 21, R. 69—Applicability of—Postponement of sale—Satisfaction of decree.

Where an execution sale is postponed on the ground that the decree has been satisfied, O. 21, R. 69, C. P. Code has no application to such a case. (Jwala Prasad, J.) JAGDHARI RAI v. LANGAT GOPE.

4 Pat. L. T. 495 : 75 I. C. 676 : A. I. R. 1923 Pat. 572.

———0. 21, Rr 69 and 90—Adjournment—Sale without fresh proclamation ought not to be held.

The Court ordered stay of sale in execution of a mortgage decree "until further orders" and subsequently ordered the sale of the property without a fresh proclamation. Held, that the sale ought not to have been held without a fresh proclamation and that it should be set aside. (Pratt, J.) ABDUL HAKIM v. NGA NIGRI. 2 Bur. L. J. 54 : 75 I. C. 343 : A. I. R. 1923 Rang. 154.

———0. 21, R. 69 (2)—Adjournment of sale—Sale held without fresh proclamation.

Where a sale is repeatedly postponed and is held on a subsequent date without a fresh proclamation, the procedure though irregular does not render the sale invalid. (Piggott and Walsh, JJ.) OFFICIAL LIQUIDATOR, KAYASTHA TRADING AND BANKING CORPORATION v. SANT NARAIN SINGH 43 All 433 : 60 I. C. 763 : 19 A. L. J. 262.

———0. 21, Rr. 71, 84 and 85—Non-payment of deposit—Fresh sale—Deficiency—Recovery of.

Where there is default in payment of the initial deposit of 25 per cent of the purchase price under O. 21, R. 84 or in the deposit of the balance under O. 21, R. 85, the property may be resold and the deficiency of price recovered from the defaulting purchaser. (Piggott, Walsh and Lindsay, JJ.) SITA RAM v. JANKI RAM. 44 A. 266 : 20 A. L. J. 105 : 65 I. C. 813 : L. R. 3 A. 117 : A. I R. 1922 All 200 (F. B.).

———0. 21, R. 71—Resale on purchaser's default—Suit to recover deficiency—Second appeal.

No second appeal lies from an order passed on an application by the decree-holder under O. 21, R. 71 of C. P. Code to recover deficiency of the price from a defaulting purchaser, when the decree for the money claimed is less than Rs. 500.(Macleod, C. J. and Fawcett, J) RAJACHARYA v. CHEMANNA.

22 Bom. L. R. 1193 : 59 I. C. 192 : 45 Bom. 223.

———0. 21, R. 71—Defaulting purchaser not substantially prejudiced—Rule must be enforced.

The provision in O. 21, R. 71 is a salutary one, intended to minimise the hardship resulting from the purchaser's default and the Court should not refuse to give effect to it, unless the defaulting purchaser would be substantially prejudiced. (Madhavan Nair, J.) SANKARA NARAYANA PILLAY v. GANGAMMAL.

87 I. C. 1 : 21 L. W. 232 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 631.

———0. 21, R. 71—Execution sale—Parties to contract of—Court conducting sale—Position—Deposit of 25 per cent. required by—Failure to make—Re sale on account of deficit at—Bidder's liability for—Bidder acting as agent, but not communicating fact to Court or Nazir—His liability in case of Contract Act, S. 230. Cls. (1) and (2)—Applicability—Mode of enforcing bidder's liability for deficit—Interest on deficit amount—Liability for appeal—Dismissal.

Where in Court auction a property is sold, the auction-purchaser is one party to the contract, but the other party to the contract is not the judgment-debtor or the decree-holder, but the Court itself. In selling property in Court auction the Court acts under the statutory powers conferred on it by the Code and not as the agent of any party, and the contract that is made when the bid is accepted and confirmed by the Court is one between the Court on one side, and the auction-purchaser whose bid is accepted on the other. A person, therefore, who bids at a Court-auction without informing the Court or its officer conducting the sale that he does so only as the agent of a principal, makes himself personally liable for the deficit caused by him in not completing the sale by depositing 25 per cent. of the purchase-money. The fact that the judgment-debtor knew that the person bidding was only bidding as an agent of a principal is quite immaterial. In such a case O. 21, R. 71 of the Code gives the Court power, at the instance of the judgment-debtor, to collect in a summary manner by way of execution the deficit that has been caused from the person bidding. Under O. 21, R. 71 the bidder who makes default is not liable for interest on the deficit amount from the date of the order directing him to pay the amount. He is, however, liable for interest after that date. (Krishnan and Waller, JJ) GANGABATTULA KANTHAMMA v. MANCHIRAJU REDDIPANTULU. 19 L. W. 197 : (1924) M. W. N. 122 : 34 M. L. T. 358 (H. C.) : 78 I. C. 296 : A. I. R. 1924 Mad. 476 : 46 M. L. J. 134.

———0. 21, R. 71—Loss on re-sale—Defaulting purchaser is liable.

Where the Court acting under Prov. Insol Act, sells the insolvent's property and it is resold owing to the failure of the auction-purchaser to make up the deposit, the Court can ask the auction-purchaser to make up the difference if the proceeds of the second sale fall short and can realize the amounts under R. 71. (Kotwal, A. J. C.) MANAKCHAND v. IBRAHIM. 62 I. C. 307 : 17 N. L. R. 49.

———0. 21, Rr. 71 and 84—Delay in holding re-sale—Defaulting purchaser is not liable.

The re-sale resulting in loss for which the defaulting purchaser is responsible must be a re-sale held in accordance with the law, i.e., it must be a re-sale held forthwith in accordance with R. 84. If the delay which occurred was so slight that it could not possibly prejudice the deafaulter, the delay will not affect his liability. But where the re-sale is held some months afterwards, the defaulting purchaser will not be liable especially in a case where he has been prejudiced by the delay. (Daniels, J. C.) ANGNU v. MIRZA MAHOMED SAJJAD ALI KHAN. 12 O. L. J. 261 : 88 I. C. 131 : 2 O. W. N. 212 : 28 O. C. 327 : A. I. R 1925 Oudh. 397.

———0. 21, R. 71 and S. 47—Order under—Setting aside—Separate suit does not lie.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 21, R. 72.

An order under O. 21, R. 71, comes within the provision of S. 47. A separate suit cannot be brought to set aside such an order. 14 All. 201 ; 19 All. 22, Dissented from. A. I. R. 1922 All. 200 ; 23 O. C. 140 ; 23 O. C. 342 ; 18 Mad. 439; 20 Cal 599 ; 36 Bom. 329 and 45 Bom 223 Foll. (Daniels, J. C. and Dalal, A. J. C.) MATHURA PRASAD v. KUNWAR BAHADUR.
12 O. L. J. 80 : 87 I. C. 284 : 2 O. W. N. 141 : A. I. R 1925 Oudh 360.

———0. 21, Rr. 72 and 90—Leave to bid refused—Purchase by decree-holder is voidable and not void.

A purchase at an execution sale by the decree-holder who has not obtained leave to bid, is not void nor a nullity but is only to be avoided on the application of the judgment-debtor or some other person interested. Such a sale can only be set aside upon application and upon cause shown. The same would be the result, if the decree-holder had applied for leave to bid and had been refused such leave. (Lord Phillimore.) RAI RADHA KRISHNA v. BISHESWAR SAHAY.
16 L. W. 190 : 3 Pat. L. T. 529 : 31 M. L. T. 209 : 49 I. A. 312 : 21 A. L. J. 23 : 27 C. W. N. 294 : 1 Pat. 733 : 37 C. L. J. 430 : 25 Bom. L. R. 630 : 67 I C. 914 : 9 O. & A. L. R. 194 : A. I. R. 1922 P. C. 336 (P.C.) : 44 M. L. J. 718.

———0. 21. R. 72—Execution of decree—Leave to bid to decree-holder—Fixing of heavy upset price—Effect of.

A decree-holder applied for execution of his decree by sale of ginning factory belonging to judgment-debtor. On the day of sale the bids did not go up beyond Rs. 5,000. The property had been valued by a panch at Rs. 40,000. Shortly after this first bid the judgment-debtor made an application to the Court stating that the property was worth Rs. 60,000. Subsequently the decree holder made an application for leave to bid offerings to buy up the property for Rs. 20,000. The Court ordered that if the decree-holder was prepared to pay Rs. 40,000, his offer would be accepted. The decree-holder did not raise his bid to that amount and ultimately the Court disposed of the execution application on the ground there were no bidders. Held, that the Court should have granted the decree-holder leave to bid and made a further attempt for sale of the property. The order disposing of the execution application was set aside and the application was ordered to be restored to the file of the lower Court. (Shah, A. C. J. and Fawcett, J.) MOTI LAL PARSHARAM v. FULCHAND BALARAM.
26 Bom. L. R. 770 : 83 I. C. 379 : A. I. R 1924 Bom. 515.

———0. 21, R. 72—Mortgage-decree—Purchase in execution without permission of Court—Voidable and not void.

A purchase of the mortgaged property in an execution sale by the mortgagee decree-holder without the permission of the Court under O. 21, R. 72, C. P. Code, is not void but merely voidable.

Per Suhrawardy, J.—The defendant in possession could plead the voidable character of the purchase by the mortgagee irrespective of the question of limitation. (Walmsley and Suhrawardy, JJ.) SARADINDU CHAKRAVARTI v. GOSTA BEHARI PRAMANIK.
27 C. W. N. 208 : 37 C. L. J. 403 : 75 I. C. 196 : A. I. R. 1923 Cal. 302.

———0. 21. R. 72—Setting aside sale—Substantial loss by judgment-debtor not necessary.

On a sale being set aside under R. 72 on account of the decree-holder's failure to obtain permission to bid at the sale, it is not necessary to see whether the judgment-debtor has sustained substantial loss by the sale. (Spencer and Ramesam, JJ.) KONDAPALLI TATIREDDI v. RAMACHANDRA RAO UPPALURU.
13 L. W. 616: 62 I. C. 854 : (1921) M. W. N. 535.

———0. 21, R. 72—Rateable distribution—Permission to bid and order to set off decree debt, is subject to rights of other decree-holders.

Where a Court permits a decree-holder to bid at an auction to set off the purchase-money against his decretal amount, the rights of the rival decree-holders under S. 73 are not disturbed and they have a right to the distribution. (Seshagiri Aiyar, J.) ARUNACHELLAM CHETTI v. SOMASUNDARAM CHETTY.
59 I. C. 86 · 12 L. W. 328.

———0. 21, R. 72—Order allowing set off—If amounts to receipt of assets within S. 73.

An order allowing a set off under O. 21, R. 72 does not amount to a receipt of assets within the meaning of S. 73, C. P. Code. (Wazir Hasan, J.C.) MOHAN LAL v. AMAR NATH.
80 I. C. 40 : 1 O. W. N. 729 : 10 O. & A. L. R. 1168 : A. I. R. 1925 Oudh 287.

———0. 21, Rr. 72, 86 and 92—Permission to bid given on conditions—Failure to fulfil conditions—Court can refuse confirmation of sale.

An application for permission to bid at an execution sale was granted on terms, that a certain sum of money due to a prior charge holder should be paid in Court. The conditions were not fulfilled in toto, but the properties were nevertheless purchased in auction by the decree-holder: Held, apart altogether from O. 21, Rr. 72 and 92 the Court has power to refuse to confirm the sale under O. 21, R. 86 or under the inherent powers of Court. (Miller, C. J. and Coutts, J.) MT. JANAKBATI v. RAMESHWAR SINGH.
1 P. 235 : 69 I. C. 872 : 1 Pat L. R. 179 : A. I. R. 1922 Pat. 511.

———0. 21, Rr. 72 and 84—Delay in deposit.

O. 21, R, 72 applies only to the holders of decree in execution of which the property is sold. Delay to make deposit is not a material irregularity and unless substantial injury is the result, the sale is not vitiated. (Heald and Lentaigne, JJ.) MAUNG CHIT HLAING v. N. A. R. M. CHETTY FIRM.
2 Bur. L. J. 166 : A. I. R. 1924 Rang. 81.

———0. 21, R. 74—Applicability—Sale under administrative order of Court.

Where a sale is held under an administrative order and not in execution of a decree, the procedure contained in the C. P. Code for sales in execution of decrees does not apply. (Martineau, J.) FIRM OF KAHNA MAL BENARSI DAS v. FIRM OF KALLU MAL NATHU MAL.
69 I. C. 718 : 40 P. L. R. 1922 : A. I. R. 1924 Lah. 70.

———0. 21, R. 78—Money—If moveable property.

Money is not a "moveable property" within the meaning of O. 21, R. 78. (Heald and Lentaigne, JJ.) MAUNG LUN BYE v. MAUNG PO NYUN.
2 Bur. L. J. 151 : 1 Rang. 360 : 76 I. C. 679 : A. I. R. 1924 Rang. 21.

———0. 21, R. 81—Mortgagee of moveables.

A mortgagee of moveables cannot follow the moveable property into the hands of the auction-purchaser. 42 Mad. 59 ; 5 L. B. R. 8 ; 1 Bur. L. J. 136 Foll. (Carr, J.) NACHIAPPA v. MAHOMED SABIR.
4 Bur. L. J. 135 : A. I. R. 1925 Rang. 303.

———0. 21, R. 83—Alienation of property with sanction of Court—Minor's property—Procedure under Ss. 29 and 30 of the Guardians and Wards Act not followed—Effect of.

S. 29 of the Guardians and Wards Act provides that a guardian of the minor's property cannot alienate any interest in it without a sanction of Court. S. 30 makes transfers by guardian without sanction voidable at the instance of any other person affected thereby. But such person must not ignore the transaction and he is bound to pay the consideration paid by the transferee. If this is not complied with, he is not entitled to have the transfer set aside. (Mukerji and Cuming, JJ.) VIJENDRA MOHAN SARMA v. MANORAMA DASI.

C. P. CODE, (V OF 1908), O 21, R. 83.

36 C. L. J. 326 : 49 Cal. 911 : 28 C. W. N. 57 : A. I. R. 1922 Cal. 150.

——O. 21, R. 83 (3)—No power to extend time for redemption—Appeal.

An application for extending the time for redemption to enable the mortgagor to raise the amount by mortgage or private sale is expressly prohibited by the Code and an appeal does not lie from an order of Court refusing to do it. (Schwabe C.J. and Coleridge, J.) KAVERIBAI AMMAL v. MEHTA & SONS.
18 L. W. 615 : (1923) M. W. N. 894 : 75 I. C. 901 : A. I. R. 1924 Mad. 234 : 46 M. L. J. 71.

——O. 21, R. 84—Sale when complete—Acceptance of bid—Effect of deposit.

The function of a Nazir or other appointed to officer conduct an auction-sale is of a ministerial character. If he conducts it in the presence of the presiding officer and the latter forthwith declares under O. 21, R. 64, C. P. Code, who the purchaser is and signs the formal order the sale is complete. If it is not held in his presence, it can be completed only by his order closing the bidding or an order accepting the bid under O. 21, R. 84. Where in anticipation of sanction the Nazir accepts the deposit required from the highest bidder, that is only in law an offer, and it is open to the Court to resume the sanction. (Das and Macpherson, JJ.) JAIBHADAR JHA v. MATUKHARI JHA. 2 P. 548 : 76 I. C. 113 : 4 P. L. T. 498 : 1923 P. H. C. C. 190 : A. I. R. 1923 Pat. 525.

——O. 21, R. 85—Joint purchase—Sale certificate issued to one alone—Suit for declaration of title by the other.

Two persons applied jointly to purchase property at an execution sale in certain proportions and paid in the 25 per cent. deposit in that proportion. Later on one of them failed to pay his share of the balance, whereupon the other paid in the whole balance and a sale certificate was issued to him alone. Held, the other could sue for his share in the properties purchased. (Greaves and Chakravarthi, JJ.) BHABATARAN CHATTOPADHYA v. DURGESHNANDINI DEBI.
81 I. C. 1029 (2) : 51 Cal. 992 : A.I. R. 1925 Cal. 164.

——O. 21, R. 85—Time for payment of the purchase-money—Extension of—No objection—Confirmation of sale.

Though it is not open to the Court to extend the time for payment of the purchase price without the consent of the parties, still where an extension of time has been granted without objection on the part of the parties and the sale has been confirmed and the money drawn by the decree-holder, the sale cannot be set aside on account of the irregularity. (Spencer and Ramesam, JJ.) VARANAKKOT ILLATH SUBRAMANYAM NAMBUDIRI v. VYKUNDA KAMMATHI.
16 L. W. 319 : (1922) M. W. N. 707 : 69 I. C. 1001 : 31 M. L. T. 363 : A. I. R. 1923 Mad. 48 : 43 M. L. J. 477.

——O. 21, R. 86—Purchaser making default in paying balance—Decree-holder purchasing at resale and applying for attachment of the deposit by first purchaser owing to deficiency at re-sale—Application is proper.

Where at a Court-auction the purchaser failed to pay the balance in time and the property was resold and was purchased by the decree-holder who also applied for attachment of the deposit of 25 per cent. made by the first purchaser, owing to deficiency in re-sale. Held: that the application was proper and should be tried and disposed of according to law. (Sir John Edge.) RAMA GIRJI NEELAKANTAGIRJI v. ANNAVAJIHALA VENKATACHALLAM.
2 O. W. N. 308 : 27 Bom. L. R. 806 : 22 L. W. 1 : 86 I. C. 373 : A. I. R. 1925 P. C. 61 (P. C.) : 48 M. L. J. 335.

——O. 21, R. 86—Deposit if may be refunded.

A Court should, in its discretion under O. 21, R. 86 of the Code, refund the amount deposited by an auction purchaser in a sale in execution, on good reason shown to the satisfaction of the Court as to why he failed. (Hallifax, A.J.C.) GANPAT RAO v KESRICHAND. 59 I. C. 705 : 17 N. L. R. 15

——O. 21. R. 86—Leave to bid on conditions—Failure to fulfil conditions—Court can refuse confirmation.

Where a decree-holder is permitted to bid at an auction-sale, subject to certain conditions being fulfilled and those conditions turn out not to have been fulfilled the Court can, apart altogether from R. 72 and R. 92 of O. 21 either under R. 86 of O. 21 or under its inherent power, refuse to confirm the sale and have a resale. (Miller, C.J. and Coutts, J.) JANAKBATI v. RAMESHWAR. 1 P. 235 : 69 I. C 872 : 1 P. L. R. 179 : A. I. R 1922 Pat. 511.

——O. 21, R 86—Delay in paying the balance does not invalidate the sale.

The provisions of Order 21, R. 86 show that the delay in paying the balance of the purchase-money does not necessarily invalidate the sale. Where the extension of time for one month was granted by the Court as the result of an express agreement made between the auction-purchaser and the decree-holder and the sale proceeds were apparently not sufficient to pay the directed amount. Held, that no loss could be caused to appellant judgment-debtor by the grant of further time. (Heald and Lentaigne, JJ.) MAUNG CHIT HLAING v. N. A. R. M. CHETTY.
2 Bur. L. J. 166 : 79 I. C. 747 : A. I. R. 1924 Rang. 81.

——O. 21, R. 87—Date of sale clear but not mentioned in proper place—Defect is irregularity, not illegality.

Where the date of re-sale was not mentioned in its proper place but it was mentioned in the proclamation and there could be no mistake as to it, Held, that the omission to mention it in its proper place was no doubt an irregularity; but in the absence of any evidence to show that any possible bidder was kept away, owing to his not knowing the exact date of the sale and to connect the irregularities complained of, with the loss alleged to have resulted on account of such irregularities, the re-sale was not vitiated by any illegality. (Madhavan Nair, J.) SANKARA NARAYANA PILLAY v. GANGAMMAL. 21 L. W. 232 : 87 I. C. 1 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad, 631.

——O. 21, R. 87—Time and place not mentioned—No deficiency resulting—No illegality exists.

Where the time and place of re-sale were not mentioned in the sale proclamation but it was not proved that the omission brought about a deficiency in the price of the property when it was re-sold, Held, that the sale was not vitiated by any illegality. (Madhavan Nair, J.) SANKARA NARAYANA PILLAI v. GANGAMMAL. 21 L. W. 232 : 87 I. C. 1 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 631.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 21, R. 89.

———O 21, Rr. 89 and 90—Application under R. 89 heard and disposed of—Application under R. 90 is not barred.

The proposition that an application under O. 21, R. 89, having been heard and disposed of, an application under O 21, R. 90 is not maintainable does not necessarily follow from sub Cl. (2) of R. 89. (Sulaiman and Daniels, JJ.) MT. SARVAI BEGAM v. RAM CHANDER SARUP. 23 A. L. J. 760 : L. R. 6 A. (Civ). 388 : 88 I. C. 500 : A. I. R. 1925 All. 778.

———0.21, R.89—Scope of—Application to set aside sale of attached property.

A simple hypothecation bond is "moveable property, not only for the purposes of attachment but also for purposes of sale and O. 21, R. 89 has no application and there is a clear indication of the legislature that for the purposes of the Code, it should be treated as moveable property. 26 Bom. 305 Foll. (Walsh, A. C. J. and Boys, J.) UMRAO SINGH v. LAL SINGH. L. R. 5 All. 674 : 22 A. L. J. 840 : 89 I. C. 890 : 46 All. 917 : A. I. R. 1924 All. 796.

———0. 21, R. 89—Right to apply—Judgment-debtor—Objections to the sale.

Where a judgment-debtor who had preferred certain objections to the legality of an execution sale, was allowed to utilise the provisions of O. 21, R. 89, C. P. C., subject to protest. Held that the procedure was irregular and that the objections were not maintainable. (Piggott and Walsh, JJ.) RAJA DUTT PRASAD SINGH v. SRI NARAIN. 21 A. L. J. 340 : L. R. 4 A. 195 : 74 I. C. 557 : A. I. R. 1923 All. 503.

———0. 21, R. 89—Deposit—Legality of—Improper refusal to set aside sale—Interference in revision.

Two creditors A and B obtained a decree against a common debtor and A attached his properties. B applied for rateable distribution A proclamation of sale was issued, ordering the sale of the judgment-debtor's property for the recovery of the decretal amount due to A. The judgment-debtor paid A's decree in full and the appellate Court stayed execution of the decree and sale. The Court below in disregard of the order of the appellate Court held the sale and the property was knocked down at a certain sum. The judgment-debtor tendered to the Court within 30 days the amount due on B's decree with the addition of 5 per cent. The amount deposited was more than that specified in the sale proclamation but short of a few rupees so far as B's decree was concerned. Held that the deposit was good under O. 21, R. 89 and the sale should have been set aside. Where the lower Court improperly refuses to set aside an execution sale under O. 21, R. 89, C. P. C. the High Court can interfere in revision. (Piggott and Walsh, JJ.) ABUL NASAR RASHID-UD-DIN AHMAD v. LALITA PRASAD. L. R. 4 A. 121 : 21 A. L. J. 162 : 71 I. C. 1018 : A. I. R. 1923 All. 315

———0. 21, R. 89—Deposit—Usufructuary mortgagee.

A usufructuary mortgagee making payment to have an execution sale set aside is not a volunteer. (Banerji, J.) BENI MADHO v. SARWAR DAT. 20 A. L. J. 42 : 64 I. C. 918 : A. I. R. 1923 All. 127.

———0. 21, R. 89—Judgment-debtor cannot stop limitation by presenting application to Collector or Mamlatdar though the latter may have held the sale.

The Collector or Mamlatdar is not the Court within the meaning of O 21, R. 89 and therefore a judgment-debtor who presents his application to such officer cannot stop limitation running against him, though he may have held the sale. (Shah, A. C J. and Fawcett, J.) GADIGAPPA v. SHIDAPPA. 48 Bom. 638 : 26 Bom. L. R. 817 : A. I. R. 1924 Bom. 495.

———0. 21, R. 89—Alteration.

Alteration of rule so as to permit application being presented to officer holding sale, though final disposal may rest with Court, is desirable. (Shah, A. C. J. and Fawcett, J.) GADIGAPPA v. SHIDAPPA. 48 Bom. 638 : 26 Bom. L. R. 817 : A. I R. 1924 Bom. 495.

———0. 21, R. 89—Deposit—Amount of—Application to set aside sale.

The expression "any amount which may have been received by the decree-holder" in O. 21, R. 89 (b), C. P. Code means money actually received by the decree-holder and does not include payment of sale proceeds into Court. 23 B. 723 Foll. (Macleod, C. J. and Crump, J.) TOTA RAM v. CHHOTU. 25 Bom. L R. 446 : 73 I. C. 454 : A. I. R. 1923 Bom. 299 (2).

———0. 21, R. 89—Strict construction—Payment or deposit in full must be made.

R. 89 is a concession allowed to judgment-debtors and the judgment-debtor must strictly comply with it. An undertaking to pay a certain amount is not a payment. Hence a part payment coupled with an undertaking to pay the balance, cannot be considered as payment or deposit in full within R 89. (Macleod, C. J. and Shah, J.) MANAJI KUVARJI v. ARAMITA. 23 Bom. L. R. 847 . 46 Bom. 171 : 63 I. C 39 : A. I. R. 1922 Bom. 193.

———0. 21, R. 89—Deposit—Voluntary and unconditional.

A payment to set aside an auction-sale, by a person claiming to be the owner of the property sold, cannot recover the amount from the decree-holder, after the sale is set aside on the ground that the judgment-debtor had no interest in the property. (Macleod, C. J. and Shah, J.) NARAYAN VASUDEVACHARYA v. ANGUNDA MALIGUNDA. 45 Bom. 1094 : 62 I. C. 104 : 23 Bom. L. R. 455.

———0. 21, R. 89—Order setting aside sale and certifying satisfaction of decree is legal.

An order under O. 21, R 89, setting aside an execution sale and certifying satisfaction of decree is legal. (Walmsley and B B. Ghose, JJ.) JADAB KRISHNA v. APSARADDIN SARDAR. 41 C. L. J. 391 : A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 948.

———0. 21, R. 89—Applicability of—Partition suit—Award of arbitrators directing sale of properties and payment out of proceeds—Sale can be set aside on deposit.

In a partition suit instituted on the Original Side of the High Court, the disputes between the parties were referred to arbitration under orders of the Court. The arbitrators made an award directing the sale of one of the properties which were the subject-matter of the suit and the payment of the common debts as well as of certain sums to the plaintiff A decree was passed in terms of the award and the Registrar of the High Court sold the properties in terms of the award. The defendants applied with the plaintiff's consent for setting aside the sale under O.21, R.89, C P. Code, and it was contended that those provisions did not apply to the case. Held, that the sale was in enforcement of a decree on the award and the provisions of O. 21, R. 89, C.P. C., were applicable. (Woodroffe and Suhrawardy, JJ.) NIRODE NATH BANERJEE v. AMULYA DHONE. 27 C. W. N. 466 : A. I. R. 1923 Cal. 582.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 21, R 89.

——O. 21, R. 89—Form of application—Auction-purchaser—If a necessary party.

Where a petition was put in to set aside an auction-sale by depositing the decree amount in Court, but the auction-purchaser is not a made a party to the sale though his purchase is mentioned in the body of the petition, it is a sufficient compliance with the Code. Notice can issue to him as one of the parties affected by the sale, and it is not necessary he should be formally added as a party. (Suhrawardy and Panton, JJ.) RAJ CHANDRA DAS v. KALI KANTA DAS. A. I R. 1923 Cal. 394.

——O. 21, R. 89—Right to apply—Sale in execution of decree—Judgment-debtor privately selling the property so sold to a third person before confirmation—Right of such purchaser to apply.

Where a judgment-debtor, after the sale in execution of his immoveable property but before the confirmation of the sale, sold such property to a third person, and such subsequent purchaser applied to have the Court sale set aside under O. 21, R. 89, C. P. Code, Held, that he was not entitled to make the said application. The interest, if any, which he held in the property was not by virtue of a title acquired by him before the execution sale. His interest, if any, was by virtue of a title acquired after such sale and consequently he was precluded by the very terms of the rule from applying under O. 21, R. 89 of the Civil Procedure Code. 24 M. L. J. 205 ; 34 All. 186 ; 4 P. L. J. 340 ; 40 Bom. 557, Rel. (Sanderson, C. J. and Chotzner, JJ.) SARADAKRIPA LAL v. HARENDRA LAL DAS. 26 C. W. N. 149 : 68 I. C. 289 : 49 C. 454 : A. I R. 1922 Cal. 271.

——O. 21, R. 89—Applicability—Mortgage decrees—Original Side of the Calcutta High Court.

R. 89 applies to the sales held in execution of the mortgage decrees and to sales on the Original Side of the Calcutta High Court. (Mukerji, A. C. J. and Fletcher, J.) VIRJIBHUN DAS MOOLGI v. BISESWAR LAL HAR GOVIND. 48 Cal. 69 : 60 I. C. 406 : 24 C. W.N. 1032.

——O. 21, R. 89—Applicability—Sale by the original side of the High Court—Mortgage decree.

O. 21, R. 89, C.P. Code, may apply ordinarily to sales on mortgage decrees but it does not apply to a suit on the Original Side of the High Court where, without attachment, the sale has been held by the Registrar in conformity with the rules of the Court. The practice under the rules of the High Court and the C. P. C. are not workable together in this respect. (Woodroffe, J.) SURENDRA KRISTO RAY v. GURU PRASAD GHOSH. 59 I. C. 432 : 24 C. W. N 536. [But See 24 C. W. N. 1032.]

——O. 21, R. 89—Right to apply—Purchaser after auction.

A third party purchasing the property after the date of the auction-sale is debarred by O. 21, R. 89 from making an application to have the auction-sale set aside. (Harrison, J.) SHAM LAL OF DELHI v. HARI SHANKER. A. I. R. 1922 Lah. 302.

——O. 21, Rr. 89 and 92—Deposit with oral application to set aside sale made in time—Order by Court confirming sale is nullity.

Where a deposit with an oral application to set aside the sale is made in time the Court is bound to set aside the sale and where the Court confirms the sale in spite of such application, the order of confirmation is a nullity. (Venkatasubba Rao, J.) MURUGAPPA v. SHANMUGA. 86 I. C. 498 (1) : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 909.

——O. 21, R. 89—Oral or written application is essential.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 21, R. 89.

An application oral or written made within 30 days is necessary for the purpose of O. 21, R. 89. Mere deposit of the required amount is not, enough. 7 Bom. L. R. 263, Dissented from. (Srinivasa Aiyangar, J.) PACHIAYAE v. VALLIMUTHU VELAN. 48 M. L. J 405 : 87 I. C. 437 : 1925 M. W. N. 175 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 639.

——O. 21, R. 89—Right to apply—Trespasser—"Person holding an interest in property by virtue of a title acquired before such sale"—Meaning of.

Held Per Venkatasubba Rao, J. (Oldfield, J., dissenting) that a trespasser, who enters on possession of property sold in a court-sale, before the sale takes place, "holds an interest in that property by virtue of a title acquired before the sale" and is entitled to apply under O. 21, R. 89, C. P. Code, to set aside the sale on making the required deposit. (Oldfield and Venkatasubba Rao, JJ.) POTTI NAYAKER v. SUPPAMMAL. 20 L. W. 31 : 79 I. C. 874 : A. I. R. 1924 Mad. 723.

——O. 21, R. 89—Application under—Deposit by pleader's clerk—Legality of.

Where an application under O. 21, R. 89, C. P. Code, is made by the duly authorised pleader of a party, the fact that the required deposit is made by the pleader's clerk instead of by the pleader himself, does not vitiate the application. (Spencer and Kumaraswami Sastri, JJ.) THIMMARAZU VENKATA KUTUMBA RAO v. VENKATAPPA. (1924) M. W. N. 137 : 19 L. W. 298 : 77 I. C. 765 : A. I. R. 1924 Mad 483 : 46 M. L. J. 119.

——O. 21, R. 89—Contract of sale creates no interest.

Persons entitled under a contract for the sale of immoveable property are not persons entitled to apply under Order 21, R. 89. 23 B. 181 Foll. If the conveyance be prior to the attachment the purchasers would equally have no locus standi as their interests are not affected. (Odgers, J.) A. C. SUBBA REDDI v. VASIREDDI JAYARAMAYYA 17 L. W. 680 : A. I. R. 1923 Mad. 659.

——O. 21, R. 89—Right to apply—Prior application to pay decree amount—Dismissal—Effect of—Not res judicata

Where a person claiming as legatee under a will applied to pay the decree amount to prevent a sale but the application was dismissed, it does not bar an application under O. 21, R. 89, C. P. Code, to set aside the sale on depositing the decree amount. The effect of the previous dismissal was merely to decide that the applicant had no right to raise the attachment on payment of the decree amount. (Spencer and Venkatasubba Rao, JJ.) DHANAMMAL v. VEERARAGHAVALU NAIDU. 32 M. L. T. (H. C.) 175 : (1923) M. W. N. 162 : 18 L. W. 296 : 72 I. C. 335 : A. I. R. 1923 Mad 487 (2) : 44 M. L. J. 325.

——O. 21, R. 89—Setting aside sale—Deposit of money—Formal application—Necessity for.

Where the money required to set aside an execution sale had been paid into Court within 30 days but no formal application to set aside the sale was presented within the time prescribed, the Court cannot set aside the sale. A mere judgment schedule which does not contain a prayer to set aside the sale cannot be treated as such an application. 14 M. L. T. 534 ; 19 M. L. J. 192. (Krishnan, J.) VENKATASUBBA RAO v. NARAYANA RAO. (1922) M. W. N. 171 : 15 L. W. 450 : 66 I. C. 44 : A. I. R. 1922 Mad. 83 (1).

——O. 21. R. 89—Applicability—Deposit by one judgment-debtor.

O. 21, R. 89 of the Code has to be strictly complied

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 21, R. 89.

with and a judgment-debtor is not entitled to take advantage of any deposit made by his co-judgment-debtor, independently made. (Krishnan, J.) SUBBAYYAR v. MUTHAYAN. 14 L. W. 631 : 65 I. C. 983 : 30 M. L. T. 83 : 65 I. C. 983 : A. I. R. 1922 Mad. 54 (1) : 42 M. L. J. 71

——O. 21, R. 89—Applicability—Original Side Rules 75, 214—Sale in partnership suit.

O. 21, R. 89 does not apply to a sale held in a partnership suit for the realization of partnership assets and R. 214 of the Original Side Rules only applies to cases to which O. 21, R. 89 is applicable. (Wallis, C. J. and Krishnan, J.) TULJARAM RAO v. RAMACHANDRA ROW. 14 L. W. 515 : 68 I. C. 916 : (1921) M. W. N. 736 : 41 M. L. J. 465.

——O. 21, R. 89—Right to apply Sale is execution—Subsequent transfer by judgment-debtor—Right to apply to set aside sale.

Where the judgment-debtor's property has been sold in Court auction and he subsequently sells the property to another, the right to apply to have the sale set aside lies with him and not with his vendee. 38 M, 775, Overruled. (Wallis, C.J., Oldfield and Kumaraswamy Sastri, JJ.) SUNDARAM v. MAMSA MAVATHER 44 Mad. 554 : 13 L. W. 498 : 29 M. L. T. 269 : 63 I. C. 937 : (1921) M. W. N. 272 (F. B.) : 40 M. L. J. 497.

——O. 21, Rr. 89, 58 and 63—Words "having an interest therein" are controlled by "by virtue of title acquired before such sale"—Person failing under Rr. 58 and 63 cannot apply under R. 89.

There is no reason to limit the words "by virtue of a title acquired before such sale" to the words "holding an interest therein" so as to read the first clause "owning such property" as if it stood by itself. Similarly, the words "having an interest therein" should be read as connected with or controlled by the words "by virtue of a title acquired before such sale" and therefore an applicant under O. 21 R. 89 must be a person who can even at the date of his application, be proved to be a person, either owning the property or holding an interest therein by virtue of a title, and further, that that title must have been a pre-existing title, that is to say, a title acquired before the auction-sale. It must not be a title once vesting, or sought to be established and already negatived, or declared in a Court as non-existent. If the very title be wanting or not subsisting, neither the alleged defunct ownership nor the alleged 'holding' of the 'interest' sometime in the past, is of any avail. The use of the words 'owning' or 'holding' in the above expressions indicates a present subsisting ownership or interest in the applicant, at the date of his application. Therefore a person whose claim under R. 58 and a suit under R. 63 have been dismissed cannot apply under R. 89 because an auction-purchaser is entitled to take advantage of an adjudication in the objection case and also in the regular suit under O. 21, R. 63. (Kinkhede, A. J. C.) ONKAR v. DHANSINGH. 21 N. L. R. 102 : 90 I. C. 963 : A. I. R. 1926 Nag. 10 (2).

——O. 21, R. 89—Whole amount must be deposited within 30 days.

R. 89 must be strictly construed. No sale will be set aside under this rule unless the whole amount specified in sub-rule (1) is deposited by the applicant within 30 days from the date of sale. 26 C. 449, Foll. (Baker, J. C.) NARAYAN v. RAM KRISHNAJI. 78 I. C. 705 : A. I. R. 1925 Nag. 30.

——O. 21, R. 89—Right to apply—Persons having interest if should be disclosed—Failure to disclose—Effect.

C. P CODE (V OF 1908), O. 21, R. 89.

The right to apply to have a sale set aside under O. 21, R. 89 on making a deposit is exercisable by a person who has acquired an interest in the property before the date of sale. R 89 does not say that no such application shall be entertained unless it discloses the nature of the interest which entitles the applicant to make the application. If such interest is not disclosed, the court can only direct the applicant to supply the particulars, and should not reject the petition. (Kinkhede, A. J. C.) VITTAL SINGH v. AGARCHAND. 79 I. C. 903 : A. I. R. 1925 Nag. 17.

——O. 21, R. 89—Failure to comply with terms exactly—If a mere irregularity.

If a judgment-debtor wants to set aside an auction sale under O. 21, R. 89 he must at his peril comply with the terms of the rule, and a failure to comply with the terms is not a mere irregularity. Thus the 5 per cent. due to the purchaser must be deposited in full and he cannot rely even on a mistaken information supplied by the Court. (Baker, J. C) SETH BALLABHDAS v. SOBHA SINGH. 78 I. C. 270 : A. I. R. 1924 Nag. 216 (2).

——O. 21, R. 89—Decision of Sub-Divl. Officer cancelling sale is not final.

The decision of a Sub-Divisional Officer cancelling the sale under O. 21, R. 89, and holding the decree as satisfied cannot be regarded as a final decision in view of the fact that it is subject to an appeal. (Baker, Offg. J. C.) BALLABHADAS v. SOBHA SINGH. 78 I. C. 270 : A I. R. 1924 Nag. 216 (2).

——O. 21, R. 89—Mortgagea property sold—No indication that only equity of redemption was sold—Mortgagee can apply under R. 89.

The sale proclamation stated that the whole property was to be sold. At the foot of the sale proclamation a note was made to the effect that the property was subject to a mortgage. Held, in the circumstances of the case that it could not be said that only the equity of redemption was put up for sale and that therefore the mortgagee had no interest in the property sold. He had such interest and he could apply under O. 21, R. 89 (Dalal and Wazir Hasan, A. J. Cs.) JAGANNATH SINGH v. JAGJIVAN DAS. 28 O. C. 221 : 12 O. L. J. 289 ; 87 I. C. 829 : A. I. R. 1925 Oudh 429.

——O. 21, R. 89—Application oral or written is essential—Mere deposit is futile.

An application, either written or oral is necessary for the setting aside of a sale under O. 21, R. 89 and such an application must be made within the period of limitation of 30 days. When there is no such application, the deposit, even if rightly made in the Civil Court, will be of no avail. Where the deposit was made in the treasury and after the period of limitation an oral application was made, Held : that the application was not competent. (Dalal, J. C.) RAM AUTAR v. SHEO PIAREY LAL. 12 O. L. J. 137 : 87 I. C. 722 : A. I. R. 1925 Oudh 411.

——O. 21, R. 89—Judgment-debtor mortgaging property subsequent to auction sale can apply under R. 89.

A Judgment-debtor who subsequent to the auction sale transfers the property by means of a mortgage is a "person owning property" within the meaning of O. 21, R. 89 and can put in an application under that rule, 14 O. C. 33 and Civil Rev. No. 65 of 1921, Dist. (Wazir Hasan, A. J. C.) DAL CHAND v. BANK OF UPPER INDIA. 12 O. L J. 101 : 86 I. C. 732: A. I.R. 1925 Oudh 349 (2).

——O. 21, R. 89—Right to apply—Usufructuary mortgagee.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908) O. 21, R. 89.

It is competent to a mortgagee with possession to apply to set aside the sale of the property under O. 21 R. 89. 21 O.C. 400, Dist. 35 Bom. 288, Foll. (Kanhaiya Lal, J. C.) JAGMOHAN SINGH v. BACHCHA.
9 O. L. J. 50 : 25 O. C. 78 : 66 I. C. 929 : A. I. R. 1922 Oudh 146.

———O. 21, R. 89—Deposit—Effect of.

Where the mortgagor makes a deposit under R. 89 his equity of redemption subsists and the deposit has the effect of redeeming the mortgaged property. (Daniels and Wazir Hasan, A. J.Cs.) JAI KISHORI v. MUHAMAD ALI MOHAMAD KHAN, 60 I. C. 560 : 7 O. L. J. 620.

———O. 21, R. 89—Right to apply—Non-transferable occupancy holding—Purchaser—Deposit of decree amount.

If a holding is a non-transferable one a purchaser under a money-decree cannot avail himself of S. 170 (3) of the B. T. Act, and the purchaser has no locus standi to pay in the money under O. 21, R. 89, C. P. Code, (Bucknill, J.) BISHUN DAYAL SINGH v. JAGDISH NARAYAN SINGH. 2 Pat. L. R. 12 : 80 I. C. 823 : A. I. R. 1924 Pat. 513.

———O. 21, Rr. 89 and 92—Deposit—Limitation—Parties to application—Notice

Order 21, Rule 92, C.P. Code nowhere speaks of the auction-purchaser being made a party. It provides that no sale can be confirmed or set aside unless notice of application has been given to all persons affected thereby, and the rule means that the Court is incompetent to make any order at all, till such notice has been given. The duty of moving the Court to issue notices lies of course upon the applicant and all that the Court has to do is to give him reasonable opportunity for doing so. On default, the Court may dismiss the application, and there is no obligation upon the Court to issue a notice of its own motion but without the assistance of the applicant. The law requires that the application to deposit should be made within 30 days of the sale. But it does not impose any period of limitation for the issue of notice. (Mullick and Bucknill, JJ.) MT BIBI ZAINAB v. PARAS NATH. 4 P. L. T. 491 : 1 P. L. R. 361 : 2 P. 800 : 75 I. C. 430 : A. I. R. 1924 Pat. 37.

———O. 21, R. 89—Right to apply—Mortgagee a part owner.

A mortgagee who has purchased equity of redemption in one portion of the mortgaged property, can apply under R. 89, to set aside the sale held under his own decree. (Mullick and Macpherson, JJ.) AULAD ALI v. ABDUL HAMID. 2 Pat. 715 : 74 I. C 102 : A. I. R. 1923 Pat. 490.

———O. 21, Rr. 89 and 92 (2)—Application under—Notice.

Where an application is made under R. 89 it is necessary that notice must be given to the judgment creditor of the application and that a definite adjudication must be given as to whether the deposit can or cannot be made by those who desire to make it. (Bucknill, J.) KUNJA SINGH v. BARHO RAY.
4 P. L. T 247 : A I. R. 1923 Pat. 353.

———O, 21, R. 89—Form of application—No prayer to set aside sale—Request to withhold payment.

The judgment-debtor deposited the decree amount with the extra percentage under O. 21, R. 89, C.P.C., but in his application he prayed that it may not be paid to the decree-holder pending disposal of an appeal. Subsequently on the objection of the decree-holder he withdrew the prayer aforesaid. Held, that the object of the deposit was to set aside the sale, and though there was no specific prayer to that effect, the objection to the payment of the decree amount having been withdrawn, the court was bound to set aside the sale. 43 Bom. 735 ; 16 C.W.N. 904, Ref. (Adami, J.) RAM SIVENDRA NARAYAN OJHA v AWADH BIHARY SARAN. 4 P. L. T. 295 : 68 I. C. 629 : A. I. R. 1923 Pat. 159.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 21, R. 90—Appeal.

———O. 21, R. 89—Executing Court refusing to stay a sale but not confirming a sale held—No appeal lies.

Where the Subdivisional Court having refused to stay execution of a decree had already sold the property attached but the sale was not confirmed. Held that the District Court has no appellate jurisdiction in the matter, and the judgment-debtor's remedy is either by way of an application to the Subdivisional Court under Order 21, rules 89-91, or an application for revision to the High Court under S. 115 of the C. P. C. 38 Cal. 339 Foll. (Godfrey, J.) N. K. R. R. M. CHETTY FIRM v. M. SUBRAYA MUDALIAR.
3 Rang. 132 : 89 I. C. 300 : A. I. R. 1925 Rang. 271.

———O. 21, R. 90.

Appeal
Defective attachment,
Dismissal for Default.
Duty of Court.
Execution sale.
Fraud.
Limitation.
Material Irregularity.
Minor.
Notice.
Nullity.
Parties.
Publication of Sale.
Right to Apply.
Scope of.
Substantial Injury.
Under-valuation.

Appeal.

———O. 21, R. 90—Appeal—Plaint in suit to set aside execution sale treated as application under R. 90—No second appeal lies from the order passed on the plaint.

Where the plaint in a suit to set aside an execution sale was treated as an application under O. 21, R. 90, Held, that there was only one appeal allowed by law from the order passed in it. (Greaves and Mukerji, JJ.) NABIN CHANDRA v. BIPIN CHANDRA.
87 I. C. 555 : A. I. R. 1926 Cal. 229,

———O. 21, R. 90—Appeal — Order dismissing objections to sale is not a decree.

Order dismissing objections to sale under O. 90 is not a decree and no second appeal lies therefrom. (Scott-Smith and Martineau, JJ.) FARJA MAL CHANDI MAL v. MULCHAND MURARI LAL.
6 Lah. 250 : A.I. R. 1925 Lah. 624.

———O. 21, R. 90—Appeal—Order under—Second appeal,

There is no right of second appeal in the case of orders on applications under O. 21, R. 90. (Das and Ross, JJ,) BAIDYANATH SARKAR v. PRABHABATI DASI. 78 I. C. 315 : 5 Pat. L. T. 443 : A. I. R. 1924 Pat. 803.

——— O. 21, R. 90—Appeal—Order under.

O. 43, R. 1 (1) expressly provides for an appeal against orders under O. 21 R. 90. (Jwala Prasad and Foster, JJ.) LACHMANLAL v. PADARATH SINGH.
4 P. L. T. 735 : 79 I. C. 594 : A. I. R. 1924 Pat. 346.

——— O. 21, R. 90—Appeal—Failure to issue notice—Second appeal, if lies.

Where an auction sale is sought to be set aside on the ground that no notice was served as required by O. 21 R 22 but the Court finds no such notice was necessary, the order does not fall under S. 47 and hence there is no second appeal. (Mullick and Bucknill, JJ.) MAHADEO SINGH v. DHOBI SINGH.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 21, R. 90—Defective Attachment.

2 Pat. 916 : 4 Pat. L. T. 721 : 1923 P. H. C. C. 283 : 74 I. C. 838 : A. I. R. 1924 Pat. 111.

Defective Attachment.

——O. 21, R. 90—Defective attachment—Attachment ceasing owing to decree-holder's default—Sale held without fresh attachment—Application to set aside lies to executing Court under R. 90.

Decree-holder's first application for execution was dismissed for default. He applied for sale of the property without applying for fresh attachment. Judgment-debtor applied for stopping the sale which was dismissed. He appealed. In the meantime the property was sold. Held : that judgment-debtor's remedy lay under R. 90 to apply to the executing Court for setting aside the sale.

Per Madhavan Nair, J.—Absence of attachment does not affect the jurisdiction of the executing Court to sell the property and the sale on that account is not null and void. (Spencer and Madhavan Nair, JJ.) S.R. SUBRAMANIA AIYAR v. L.A. KRISHNA AIYAR.

(1925) M. W. N. 887 : A. I. R. 1926 Mad. 211.

——O. 21, R. 90—Defective attachment—Omission to attach

The mere fact that there has been no attachment or that there is a defect in the attachment does not render an execution sale a nullity. It is a mere irregularity. 64 I. C. 420 : 18 M 437 : 30 M. 255, Ref. (Hallifax, A. J. C.) SHANKER RAO v. MANIK RAO.

68 I. C. 643 : A. I, R. 1923 Nag. 18.

——O. 21, R. 90—Defective attachment—Material irregularity—Sale within 30 aays of the proclamation—Effect of.

The failure to attach the property before sale although an irregularity under the C. P. Code does not render the sale null and void. 18 C. 188 : 34 C. 787 : 21 A. 311, Ref. The object of the attachment is to bring the property under the control of the Court with a view to preventing the judgment-debtor from alienating it and the requirement that the order of attachment should be publicly proclaimed is merely one of the requirements of law for perfecting the attachment. The main object of the proclamation of the order is to give publicity to the fact that the sale of the particular property attached is in contemplation and to warn all persons against taking a transfer of it from the judgment-debtor to the prejudice of the rights of the decree-holder. It is difficult to see why the absence of attachment which is primarily in the interests of the decree-holder can prejudice the rights of the judgment debtor who has due notice of the sale. A Court has jurisdiction to sell property without attachment. Where property is sold within 30 days of the proclamation the irregularity does not render the sale void without proof of the substantial injury thereby to the judgment-debtor. 21 C 66 Foll. (Miller, C. J. and Mullick, J.) RAJA WAZIR NARAIN SINGH v. BHIKHARI RAM.

4 U. P. L. R. (P) 100 : 68 I. C. 363 : 3 P. L. T. 765 : 1922 Pat. H. C.C.321 : 2 P. 207 : A. I. R. 1923 Pat. 45.

——O. 21, R. 90—Defective attachment—Absence of attachment—Sale not a nullity—Application to set aside.

An execution sale held without attachment of the property or with a defective attachment does not render the sale void but materially irregular. An application to set aside the sale on that ground is governed by

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 21, R. 90—Execution sale.

S. 47, C. P. Code, and not by O. 21, R. 90. (Lentaigne J.) MA PWA v. MAHOMED TAMBI.

1 R. 533 : 77 I. C. 368 : A. I. R. 1924 Rang. 124.

Dismissal for default.

——O. 21, Rr. 90 and 92 and O. 43, R. (1) (j)—Dismissal for default—High Court cannot revise the order dismissing an application under R. 90 even for default as it is to confirm the sale under R. 92 and is appealable.

The effect of the dismissal of an application under r. 90 even for default is to confirm the sale under R. 92 and hence an appeal lies against the order and the High Court has no jurisdiction to interfere with the order in revision. 9 C. W. N. 25 ; 25 C. L. J. 163 Foll. (Suhrawardy and Chotzner, JJ.) NARENDRA NATH CHATTERJI v. RAKHAL DAS TARAFDAR.

41 C. L. J. 286: 79 I. C. 351 : A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 510.

——O. 21, R. 90—Dismissal for default.

Order dismissing for default, an application under O. 21, R. 90 for setting aside an execution sale is appealable. (Pearson and Graham, JJ.) DEBENDRA NARAYAN SINGH v. NARENDRA NARAYAN SINGH.

80 I. C. 678 : A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 360.

——O. 21, R. 90 and O. 9, R 9—Dismissal for default.

O. 9, R. 9, applies to an order dismissing for default an application under O. 21. R. 90. (Lindsay, A. J. C.) GOURI v. HINGA.

59 I. C. 575 : 23 O. C. 349.

Duty of Court.

——O. 21, R. 90—Duty of Court—Setting aside sale.

A Court is not competent to set aside an execution sale without inquiring into the objections made. The irregularities set up must be proved and the court must also be satisfied that the person applying to have the sale set aside has sustained substantial injury by reason of such irregularity or fraud, (Martineau, J,) ANUP CHAND v. MT. KAWAL KAUR. A. I. R. 1924 Lah 592

——O.21, R.90--Duty of Court—Court disregarding equities in determining order in which properties should be sold, the sale can be set aside for irregularity.

The decree holder has primarily the right to choose the order in which the properties should be sold and the Court ultimately has the right to determine the order of the properties to be sold according to the equities affecting the parties. Where the Court disregards the equities, the sale is liable to be set aside for irregularity. (Jwala Prasad and Foster, JJ.) RAGHUNATH SAHAI v. DAROGA SAHU.

78 I. C. 609 : A. I. R. 1925 Pat. 148.

Execution Sale.

——O. 21, R. 90 and O. 23, R. 3—Execution sale—Sale confirmed—Auction-purchaser and plaintiff agreeing to have sale set aside—Compromise merely filed—Decree-holder not a party--Case for setting aside sale dismissed for default—Plaintiff cannot sue for land.

The plaintiff purchased by private sale, a non-transferable occupancy holding from the tenant for the time being. The holding was purchased by the defendants in execution of a decree for rent in a suit by the landlord against the original tenant. After the sale was confirmed by the Court the plaintiff and the defendant entered into a compromise by which the defendants agreed to give up the sale on taking money. The compromise was filed and the sale was prayed to be set aside. The landlord was not a party to the compromise. The petition for setting aside the sale was dismissed for plaintiff's default. The Court passed no order on the compromise. Held : that the Plaintiff was not entitled to sue for the holding. (Suhrawardy and Duval, JJ.) BHUPENDRA NATH LASKAR v. RAI CHARAN PURKAIT.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 21, R. 90—Execution Sale.

85 I. C. 529 : A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 779.

———O. 21, R. 90—Execution Sale—Absence of application under R. 90 precludes defence of invalidity of sale in a suit by a non-transferable occupancy tenant—C.F. C., O. 21 R. 92.

A tenant of a non-transferable occupancy holding cannot resist an ejectment suit by the purchaser, who is not the landlord, in auction in execution of a money decree on the ground that he did not know of the same which was brought about by a suppression of notices where he failed to apply under O. 21, R. 90. (Walmsley and Suhrawardy, JJ.) JAGNESWAR SIKDAR v. KAILASH MANDAL. 28 C. W. N. 821 : 78 I. C. 126 : A. I. R. 1925 Cal 81.

———O. 21, R. 90—Execution sale—The proper remedy to set aside an auction sale after proclamation notifying collusive decree on prior charge against judgment-debtor which decree is subsequently set aside is not by way of applying under O. 21, R. 90, but by suit.

When an execution proceeding was pending and certain property of the judgment-debtor's was about to be sold, a collusive decree was passed ex parte against the judgment-debtor, declaring a pre-existing charge on the property. In the sale proclamation in connection with the earlier execution proceedings, this decree was notified, together with a rider that the decree-holder objected to the later decree as fraudulent. On account of the notification of the later decree in the sale proclamation, possible bidders were kept away from venturing to purchase the property and in the end the property was knocked down to the judgment-debtor's brother at a low price. Subsequently the judgment debtor had that later ex parte decree annulled and the plaintiff in that suit allowed the suit to be dismissed. Thereupon the judgment-debtor's creditor instituted a suit to vacate the auction-sale in favour of the judgment-debtor's brother on the ground of fraud and collusion.

Held, that no fraud existed in conducting and publishing the sale, that therefore the plaintiff's remedy was not by way of application under O. 21, R, 90; but that the second decree having been passed and annulled by fraud and collusion the plaintiff was entitled to have the sale set aside, and that a resale of the property after proper proclamation was necessary. (Phillips and Venkatasubba Rao, JJ.) VENKATA RAMA AIYAR v. PARAMASIVA AIYAR.

78 I. C. 108 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad 325.

———O. 21, R 90—Execution sale—Bidders may legally combine not to bid over a certain figure.

Per Devadoss, J. :—It is not illegal for a number of intending bidders to arrange among themselves not to bid above a certain figure. (Oldfield and Devadoss, JJ) P. GNANAMMA v. K. KRISHNA REDDI. 46 M. 736 : (1923) M W. N. 463 : 75 I. C. 369 : A. I. R. 1924 Mad 217 : 45 M. L. J. 263.

———O. 21, R. 90—Execution sale—Defect in—Onus of proof.

Onus of proving defect in execution sale is on party assailing it. (Jwala Prasad and Foster, JJ.) RAGHUNATH SAHAI v. DAROGA SAHU.

78 I. C. 609 : A. I. R. 1925 Pat. 148.

———O. 21, R. 90—Execution sale—What passes under—Even usufructuary mortgagee is not affected by sale in execution of money decree.

Where the decree under execution is a money decree, then only the right, title and interest of the judgment-debtor will be sold and the interest of mortgagees including usufructuary mortgagees will subsist unaffected by the sale. (Foster, J.) EKNATH PANDEY v. SINGESHWA NATH. 5 P. L. T. 250 :

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 21, R. 90—Fraud.

76 I. C. 168 : A. I. R. 1924 Pat. 785.

———O. 21, R. 90—Execution sale—Setting aside—Remedy by suit—Decree against member of joint Hindu family—Sale of his share of the property in execution.

Where in execution of a decree obtained against some members of a joint Hindu family, the property of the family is sold, it is open to any other member of the family having an interest in the property and not being bound by the decree, to institute a suit to set aside the sale and recover possession of the property without applying to set aside the sale under O. 21, R. 90 of the C. P. Code. (Das and Kulwant Sahay, JJ.) MEDNI PRASAD SINGH v. NAND KESHWAR PRASAD SINGH. 2 P. 386 : A. I. R. 1923 Pat. 451.

———O. 21, R. 90—Execution sale—Application to set aside—Deposit of decree amount—Deposit subject to condition subsequently withdrawn—Effect.

On the 22nd December 1920 a sale of a certain property took place in execution of a certain decree obtained by the opposite party as against the petitioners. On the 21st January 1921 the petitioners applied for setting aside the sale under the Provisions of O. 21, R. 90. Civil Procedure Code. On the 23rd January 1921 the parties entered into a compromise, the terms of the compromise being that if the judgment-debtor paid the sum of Rs. 2,695 to the decree-holders on or before the 23rd September 1921 the sale would be set aside, but that if the sum of Rs. 2,695 was not paid to the decree-holders within the time allowed, the application for setting aside the sale would stand dismissed and the sale would be confirmed. On the 19th September 1921 the petitioners deposited the sum of Rs. 2,695 in Court and invited the Court to set aside the sale. The petitioners also applied to the Court that the money should not be paid to the decree-holders until the decision of a regular suit which the judgment debtors were about to institute against the decree-holders. It appears that such a suit was infact instituted on the 24th September 1921. On the 23rd September 1921 the decree-holders filed a petition praying that the sale should not be set aside as the deposit made by the judgment-debtors was a conditional deposit which had in effect prevented them withdrawing the money from Court. Held the deposit was a conditional one. It is one thing to make the deposit subject to one condition; it is another to make the deposit and to apply to the Court that the party entitled to withdraw the money from Court should not withdraw it until a particular decision is reached in a particular case. The judgment debtors through their leaders intimated to the Court that they would not object to the money being withdrawn by the decree-holders, and, as a matter of fact, they took up that position before the decree-holders made any application for withdrawal of the money from Court. Consequently the deposit was valid. (Das and Macpherson, JJ.) SHAM SUNDER SINGH v. MUSHAHEB LAL.

2 P. 434 : 72 I. C. 907 : A. I. R. 1923 Pat. 418.

Fraud.

———O. 21, R. 90—Fraud—Suit to set aside sale—Fraud not specifically alleged—Suit, if maintainable.

Where the plff., a purchaser in execution of a decree, sued to set aside the execution sale on the ground that he was misled by the sale proclamation which did not show any encumbrance on the property and that subsequent to the purchase it was discovered that the encumbrances on the property exceeded its value, Held per (Walsh and Lindsay, JJ. contra.) that as there was no provision in the Code to bar the suit it was maintainable on the principles of justice, equity and good conscience although fraud was not specifically alleged in the plaint, an inference of fraud having been suggested by the allegations therein. (Walsh and Lindsay, JJ.) GAJADAR PRASAD v. MD. ABDUL MAJID. 63 I. C. 425 : 19 A. L. J. 530.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 21, R. 90—Fraud.

——— O. 21, R. 90—Fraud—Acting of the bidder in such a way as to prevent best price being obtained does not amount to fraud.

The charge against a bidder that he and those who have acted in concert with him have acted in such a manner as to prevent the best price being obtained does not of itself amount to a charge of fraud nor will proof of such concert invalidate the sale to him. 23 Mad. 207, Foll. (Fawcett and Madgavkar, JJ.) DODBASAPPA DHARMAPPA v. PRADHANAPPA VENKAPPA. 27 Bom. L. R. 1318 : A. I. R. 1926 Bom. 33.

——— O. 21, R. 90—Fraud—A judgment-debtor allowing confirmation of sale can set up fraud in a suit by auction-purchaser for possession.

It cannot be said that a defence is barred because a suit might be barred, or that a judgment-debtor, who has allowed the auction sale to be confirmed, cannot subsequently set up a defence of fraud. (Fawcett and Madgavkar, JJ.) DODBASAPPA DHARMAPPA v. PRADHANAPPA VENKAPPA. 27 Bom. L. R. 1318 : A. I. R. 1926 Bom. 33.

——— O. 21, R. 90—Fraud—Process fraudulently suppressed—Fact of sale not known to plaintiff till a few days before his filing suit to set aside sale—Plaintiff was held entitled to benefit of Limitation Act, S. 18—Limitation Act, S. 18.

When a judgment-debtor makes an application to have an execution sale set aside under O. 21, R. 90, after the expiry of 30 days he must bring his case within S. 18 of the Limitation Act and to enable him to do so, it is not enough for him to show that the execution proceedings were irregular and fraudulent, but he must carry the fraud further and show that the existence of his right to set aside the sale has been kept concealed from his knowledge by the fraud of the decree-holder or the auction-purchaser. 1 C. W. N. 67, Foll. But in order to make limitation operate when a fraud has been committed by one who has obtained property thereby, it is for him to show that the injured complainant has had clear and definite knowledge of the facts constituting the fraud at a time which is too remote for the suit to be brought. 17 Bom. 341, Foll. Where in a suit to set aside an execution sale it was found that processes in connection with the execution case had been fraudulently suppressed and that the plaintiffs came to know of the fraudulent sale only seven or eight days before the institution of the suit, Held, that it was not an unreasonable inference to draw that as a matter of fact the fraud that had been committed in the execution proceedings continued and by reason of its continuing influence the plaintiffs were kept out of the knowledge of the sale, and the plaintiffs were entitled to the benefit of S. 18 of the Limitation Act. (Greaves and Mukerji, JJ.) NABIN CHANDRA v. BIPIN CHANDRA. 87 I. C. 555 : A. I. R. 1926 Cal. 229.

——— O. 21, Rr. 90 and 92—Fraud or material irregularity—Suit to set aside sale.

After an execution sale has been confirmed under R. 92, no suit lies to set it aside on the ground of fraud or material irregularity. 38 Mad. 1076 Cons. and Dist. (Abdur Rahim and Odgers, JJ.) KALINADHAHOTLA v. MARTA APPAYYA SASTRI. 44 Mad. 351 : 13 L. W. 16 : (1921) M. W. N. 9 : 62 I. C. 203 : 29 M. L. T. 108 : 40 M. L. J. 55.

——— O. 21, R. 90—Fraud—Clerk of decree-holder's vakil purchasing at auction sale without informing decree-holder—Property sold for less value in consequence—Sale was set aside.

Where the purchaser at an auction sale was the clerk of the pleader who represented the decree-holder in the suit, held, that he was in a position of active confidence towards the decree-holder, that his purchase without informing the decree-holder of his intention was a gross abuse of confidence and amounted to a fraud on the decree-holder and therefore the decree-holder was fully entitled to have the sale set aside. 1923 M. 635, Ref. (Daniels, A. J. C.) ALI ABBAS v. NARAIN DAS. 12 O. L. J. 321 : 87 I. C. 997 : 2 O. W. N. 297 : A. I. R. 1925 Oudh 381.

——— O. 21, R. 90—Fraud—Low price fetched.

The mere fact that at an auction sale a property fetches a smaller price than it is worth raises no presumption of fraud. (Ashworth, A. J. C.) SHER KHAN v. MISRI LAL. 89 I. C. 107.

——— O. 21, R. 90—Fraud is essentially different from irregularity.

Fraud is essentially different from irregularity in the conduct of sale. Where there was gross under-valuation of the property sought to be sold and the processes were not served on the judgment-debtor, held, that these facts alone did not by themselves constitute fraud. 16 C. W. N. 894, Foll. (Das, J.) BAJRANG PRASAD SINGH v. MT. SONIJHARI, KUER. 6 P. L. T. 567 : 85 I. C. 622 : A. I. R. 1925 Pat. 521.

——— O. 21, R. 90—Fraud—Limitation Act, S. 18, applies to applications under R. 90—Limitation Act, S. 18.

The starting point for limitation is the date of the knowledge of fraud committed by the decree-holder who brought about the sale in fraud of the judgment-debtor. S. 18 applies to applications under R. 90. (Jwala Prasad, J.) THAKUR MAHTON v. JHAMAN MAHTON. 5 P. L. T. 200 : 80 I. C. 761 : A. I. R 1924 Pat. 496.

——— O. 21, R. 90—Fraud—Specific fraud must be proved.

It is open to a Court to find merely upon circumstantial evidence that there has been fraud on the part of a particular party, but the finding must be based on legal evidence. It is not sufficient to make a general allegation that because there was no service of sale process or because there was irregularity in the service therefore the decree-holder must necessarily have been responsible and guilty of fraud. (Mullick and Foster, JJ.) KISHUNDEO NARAYAN v. RAMREJHAN SINGH. 1923 P. H. C. C. 298 : 5 P. L. T. 61 : 83 I. C. 747 : A. I. R. 1924 Pat. 67.

——— O. 21, R. 90—Fraud—Execution sale—Setting aside—Auction purchaser not party to fraud—Limitation—Extension of time.

It is open to a Court to set aside an execution sale on the ground of fraud even though it is not proved that the auction-purchaser was a party to the fraud. 18 I. C. 715, Foll.; 24 W. R. 260, Dist. Where a judgment-debtor applying to set aside a sale proved fraud in the conduct of the sale and also the fact that he had been kept out of knowledge of the sale, held, that S. 18 of the Limitation Act applied to his case and the onus was on the other side to show that the application was barred as having been filed more than 30 days after he had knowledge of the sale. The onus is on the party guilty of fraud to show that its effect had been removed. 17 B. 341, Rel. 1 C. W. N. 67 ; 2 Pat. L. T. 401 ; 20 M. 10 ; 38 M. 1076, Ref. (Ross, J.) MAHABIR RAM v. RAM BAHADUR DUBEY. 4 P. L. T. 306 : 72 I. C. 625 : A. I. R. 1923 Pat. 435.

——— O. 21, R. 90—Fraud—Mis-statement by a decree-holder in the sale proclamation of the value of the property—May amount to fraud—Onus of proof—Finding of fact.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 21, R. 90—Fraud.

A wilful mis-statement by a decree-holder in the sale proclamation of the value of the property may be sufficient evidence in particular cases to justify an inference of fraud. Where certain facts are found and an inference of fraud is drawn based upon facts so found it is open to the Court in second appeal to consider whether as a matter of law such an inference is justified by the facts found. If, however, the first appellate Court, which is the ultimate judge of fact, refuses to draw an inference of fraud upon the facts found by it, that decision cannot be questioned in second appeal unless the facts found necessarily amount to fraud. The mis-statement of value in a sale proclamation does not necessarily amount to fraud. (Miller, C. J. and Mullick, J.) RAMDHARI CHAUDHURY v. DEONANDAN PRASAD SINGH. 3 Pat. L. T. 501 : 1 P. L. R. 18 : 4 U. P. L R. (Pat.) 71 : 2 P. 65 : 1922 P. H. C. C. 269 : A. I. R. 1922 Pat. 507

——O. 21, R. 90—Fraud—Auction sale—Limitation to set aside.

Where the sale and the irregularity affecting it has by the fraud of the decree-holder or other parties to the sale been kept concealed from the judgment debtor, he is entitled to apply under R. 90 whether the sale has been confirmed or not, and the time for making the application is to be computed from the date when the fraud first became known to him. There is nothing in O. 21, R. 90 which limits the filing of an application to the period prior to confirmation of the sale. (Adami, J.) RAM PERSHAD LALL v. CHAMARI SINGH. 70 I. C. 675 : A. I. R. 1922 Patna. 422.

——O. 21, R. 90—Fraud in conducting sale—Petition to set aside—What to be proved.

A person alleging fraud must state in detail the fact constituting fraud. A vague allegation of fraud cannot be accepted. A judgment-debtor applying to set aside an execution sale on the ground of fraud must clearly state in his petition as to how he was kept from the knowledge of the execution proceedings and the sale, and how his fraud was practised and how he came to know of the sale. Mere want of diligence is not fraud. (Jwala Prasad and Adami, JJ.) BABU DAS NARAYAN SINGH v. MUHAMMAD YUSUF alias BHEKHO. 3 U. P. L. R. (Pat.) 33 : 2 P. L. T. 401: 61 I. C. 823 : 6 P. L. J. 319 : 1921 P. H. C. C. 181.

——O. 21, R. 90—Irregularity not leading to loss—Sale cannot be set aside.

Where an illegality at an execution sale has not resulted in causing any substantial loss, the sale cannot be set aside. (Mullick and Ross, JJ.) AMRIT LAL SEAL v. JAGAT CHANDRA THAKUR, 4 Pat. 696.

Limitation.

——O. 21, R. 90—Limitation—Real purchaser not known—Effect of adding him after limitation.

Where the person who bids at an auction sale did not disclose he was acting as an agant for another and as a result the judgment-debtor in applying to set aside the sale impleaded originally only the ostensible purchaser, but on knowing the facts impleaded the principal also, but after the period of 30 days allowed by law, the application is not time-barred. (Stuart, J.) MT. BHAGGO v. MATA PRASAD. 76 I. C. 507 : A. I. R. 1923 All. 462.

——O. 21, R. 90—Limitation—Setting aside on the ground of fraud—Starting point.

The time for an application to set aside an execution sale on the ground of fraud begins to run not from the date when the applicant becomes aware of the sale but from the date the applicant gets a definite knowledge as to fraud, and the burden of proving that the application is time-barred is on the other side. (Teunon and Asutosh Chaudhury, JJ.) BHUSHANMAND DAS v. PRAFULLA KRISTA DEB. 60 I. C. 801 : 48 Cal. 119.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 21, R. 90—Material Irregularity.

——O. 21, R. 90—Limitation—Sale voidable and not void.

A sale which is bad on the ground of irregularity or fraud and thus liable to be set aside is voidable only and an application to set it aside must be made within thirty days of the sale. (Das, J.) GHANASHAM v. BASDEB JHA. 60 I. C. 529 (2): 3 U. P. L. R. 27 (Pat.)

Material Irregularity.

——O. 21, R. 90—Material irregularity—Omission of land revenue in sale proclamation.

It is wrong to hold that the omission of the land revenue is immaterial for the purposes of R. 90 which entitles the person injured to apply on the ground of a material irregularity. (Lord Buckmaster, J.) BALIRAM SINGH v. RAI BAHADUR SETH NARASINGHDAS. L. R. 4 P. C. 197 : 18 L. W. 137 : 28 C. W. N 593 : 33 M. L. T. 275 : (1923) M. W. N. 714 : 75 I. C. 546 : 10 O. & A. L. R. 353 : A. I. R. 1923 P. C. 93 : 45 M. L. J. 403 (P. C.)

——O. 21, R. 90—Material irregularity—Execution of mortgage decree for amount of costs only—Sale of share of mortgaged properties.

Where a mortgage suit by B against A and D was dismissed with costs against A and decreed against D and in execution of his decree for costs A attached the decree against B and having got himself substituted as attaching decree-holder executed his decree, and a share of the mortgaged properties was sold. Held, that the sale though irregular was not void but could be set aside by proper proceedings. (Chatterjee and Panton, JJ.) KAMINI KUMAR BHOUMIK v. PROTAP CHANDRA. 66 I. C. 608 : 25 C. W. N. 400.

——O. 21, R. 90—Material irregularity—Execution sale held on a day other than that advertised is such.

Where a sale in execution of a decree was held neither on the day originally advertised nor on the day to which it had been adjourned, but on some third day, held, it was a material irregularity in the conduct of the sale. 6 C. W. N. 44, Foll. (Mookerjee and Panton, JJ.) HARI SADHAN ROY v. SHIB GOPAL MITRA. 65 I. C. 746 : 35 C. L. J. 140.

——O. 21, R. 90—Material irregularity—Failure to issue notice for preparing sale proclamation.

Failure to issue notice to the judgment-debtor drawing up the proclamation of sale under O. 21, R. 66 is an irregularity in conducting or publishing a sale within the meaning of O. 21, R. 90. (Shadi Lal and Le Rossignol, JJ.) JAGANNATH v. DAUD. 4 Lah. 243 : 75 I. C. 103 : A I. R. 1923 Lah. 592.

——O. 21, R. 90—Material irregularity—Omission to state value in sale proclamation—Sale when liable to be set aside.

The mere omission to state the estimated price of the property to be sold is not a material irregularity when it is shown that the property was visible to all the purchasers who were thus in a position to frame their own estimates. Even if there had been a material irregularity in the publication or conduct of the sale that would not justify interference in the absence of proof that substantial injury to the petitioners had resulted therefrom. (Le Rossignol, J.) MAHOMED NIZAM-UD DIN v. AMIN-UD DIN. 4 Lah. L. J. 441 : 67 I. C. 885 : A. I. R. 1922 Lah. 35.

——O. 21, R. 90—Material irregularity—Madras

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 21, R. 90—Material Irregularity.

Civil Rules of Practice, R. 153—Non-observance of formality required by R. 153 is not an irregularity in sale.

The rules only require that the other parties should be given notice of the application by the decree-holder for leave to bid. The affidavit is for the Court's information, and the decree-holder is not required by the rules to supply the other parties with a copy of it. Where there were three applications by the decree-holder on different occasions for leave to bid, but the affidavit required by R. 153 of the Civil Rules of Practice was not attached to the first two applications but only to the last one, held, that this did not amount to any irregularity in publishing or conducting the sale. (Spencer and Odgers, JJ.) KORAPALU HENGSU v. GOURI HENGSU. 21 L. W. 521 : 88 I. C. 228 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 729.

——O. 21, Br. 90 and 22—Material irregularity—Setting aside—Major defendant treated as minor—Knowledge of proceedings—Estoppel.

One of the defts. who were the judgment-debtors under a decree attained majority after the date of the decree and before proceedings in execution for sale of the property were taken. He was nevertheless represented on the record as a minor and the sale was held with him on the record as a minor. On an application by him to set aside the sale on that ground, held, that the fact that he knew of the proceedings throughout afforded an answer to the objection even though the decree-holder was aware of his majority. 21 M. 167 : 6 L. W. 272 ; 39 M. 1031, Foll. (Oldfield and Venkatasubba Rao, JJ.) RADHAKRISHNASWANI NAIDU v. ANNAMALAI CHETTIAR. 31 M. L. T. 122 (H. C.) : 15 L. W. 643 : (1922) M. W. N. 655 : A. I. R. 1922 Mad. 301 : 43 M. L. J. 92.

——O. 21, R. 90—Material irregularity—Failure to give notice to judgment-debtor after his attaining majority, if merely an irregularity in publishing sale.

Failure to give notice to judgment-debtor before sale even though he attained majority between the dates of decree and execution is merely an irregularity in publishing sale. (Spencer and Krishnan JJ.) K. KAMAYYA v. K. RAMAMMA. (1922) M.W.N. 176 : 16 L. W. 934 : A. I. R. 1922 Mad. 95.

——O. 21. R. 90—Material irregularity—Proclamation of sale not mentioning place of sale.

Where in a sale by the Official Referee the sale proclamation did not mention the place of sale but it was found that the sale was well attended and no possible bidder kept away on account of the non-mention of the place of sale. Held, that the omission was only an irregularity and as the parties were not prejudiced thereby it is no ground for setting aside the sale. (Wallis, C. J, and Krishnan, J.) TULJARAM ROW v. RAMACHANDRA RAO. 14 L. W. 515 : 68 I. C. 916 : (1921) M. W. N. 736 · 41 M. L. J. 465.

——O. 21, R. 90—Material irregularity—Sale held at a place different from that advertised.

Where in publishing a sale proclamation the process server substituted for the selling officer and place of sale fixed by the Court in the sale proclamation, a different selling officer and a place of sale and thus the sale proclamation as framed by the Court was never published in the village, the non-publication of the sale proclamation is an illegality which invalidates the proceedings and consequently the sale is a nullity. Per Seshagiri Aiyar, J.—Where a substantial provision of law has been violated and that has the effect of not attracting persons who could be expected to be present for the purpose of bidding at the sale, the sale should be regarded as having been illegally conducted. 16 Cal. 794, Foll. (Oldfield and Seshagiri Aiyar, JJ.) JAYARAMA AIYAR v. VRIDHAGIRI AIYAR. 44 M. 35 : (1920) M. W. N. 490 : 59 I. C. 167 : 12 L. W. 182 : 39 M. L. J. 188.

——O. 21, R. 90—Material irregularity.

The omission to notify existing incumbrances on the property sold entitled the auction purchaser to set aside the sale under O. 21, R. 90, C.P. Code. (Batten, J. C.) SHIV PRASAD v. SANTOOJI. 18 N. L. R. 98 : 65 I. C. 375 : 5 N.L.J. 147 : A.I.R. 1922 Nag. 113 (2).

——O. 21, R. 90—Material irregularity—Incumbrance not entered in sale proclamation—Sale officer announcing it at decree holder's request at the sale—Property sold for trifling amount—Substantial injury was held to be caused.

Where an incumbrance of Rs. 27,000 was announced at the time of the sale by the sale officer at the instance of the decree-holder, though previous to this the decree-holder had applied to the Court seized of the execution proceedings for an order of incumbrance being shown in the sale proclamation, and the application had been rejected, and thereby decree-holder did purchase the property for a trifling sum : Held, that there was material irregularity causing substantial injury to judgment-debtor within R. 90. (Dalal and Wazir Hasan, A. J. Cs.) SITAPAT SINGH v. MAHABIR PRASAD. 12 O. L. J. 331 : 88 I. C. 532 : 2 O. W. N. 315 : A.I.R. 1925 Oudh 424.

——O. 21, R. 90—Material irregularity—Property attached during judgment-debtor's lifetime but sold after his death—Legal representatives not brought on record—Sale is irregular and not void.

Where the property was attached in the lifetime of the judgment-debtor but was sold after his death, held, that the failure to bring the legal representatives of the judgment-debtor on the record did not make the sale null and void. It only amounted to an irregularity which would have entitled the legal representatives of the judgment-debtor to have the sale set aside if they had taken proper steps within the period of limitation prescribed by the Statute. Case-law discussed. (Ross and Kulwant Sahay, JJ.) BARHAMDEO NARAYAN PANDE v. SALIGRAM SAHAY PANDE. 6 P. L. T. 67 : 86 I. C. 141 : 1925 P. H. C. C. 53 : A I. R. 1925 Pat. 384.

——O. 21, R. 90—Material irregularity—Portion of property attached sold—If vitiates sale.

Where the property sold is only a portion of what was attached and proclaimed for sale, there is no irregularity vitiating the sale. (Das and Ross, JJ.) BAIDYANATH SARKAR v. PROBHABATI DASI. 5 Pat. L. T. 443: 78 I. C. 315 : A. I. R. 1924 Pat. 803.

——O. 21, R. 90—Material irregularity—Decree for rent—Sale of tenure—Liability of purchaser for rent prior to purchase—Statement in sale proclamation of liability—Effect.

A landlord cannot sue an auction purchaser of a tenure for arrears of rent due prior to the date of his purchase. Hence a statement in a sale proclamation of a tenure that the purchaser will be liable to pay such arrears amounts to a material irregularity and if it results in substantial loss the sale can be set aside. (Mullick and Bucknill, JJ.) MAHOMED JAWAR HUSAIN v. MAHARAJ KUMAR GOPAL SARAN NARAIN. 80 I. C. 223 : 2 P. L. T. 248.

——O. 21, R. 90—Material irregularity in conducting sale is ground for setting aside sale.

Two secured creditors had obtained separate decrees for sale of the judgment-debtor's property without making each other parties. By arrangement with the

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 21, R. 90—Minor.

Nazir a single sale was arranged to be held in execution of both the decrees. But, after proclamation, merely mentioning the charge of one of the decree-holders, in execution of the decree in favour of the other creditor. the Nazir effected one sale in execution of both the decrees. Held, that there was a material irregularity in the sale and that it must be set aside. (Madgavkar, A. J. C.) RUSTAMJI v. PEROZSHAW.

A. I. R. 1925 Sind 101.

Minor.

——O. 21, R. 90—Minor—No guardian ad litem in execution proceedings—Irregularity.

O. 21, R. 90 is applicable to applications for setting aside a sale on the ground that in the execution proceedings the minor had no guardian ad litem. (Sanderson, C. J and Richardson, J.) FANI BHUSAN v. SURENDRA NATH. 64 I. C. 25 : 35 C. L. J. 9.

Notice.

——O. 21, R. 90—Notice—Absence of date for sale.

Sale on a day never fixed for it and of which the judgment-debtor could have no notice is a nullity and could be set aside in revision. 39 Cal. 26, (P. C.) Dist. (Greaves and Chatravarti, JJ.) MOTAHAR HOSSAIN v. MOHAMMAD YAKUB. 40 C. L. J. 311 : 84 I. C. 700 : A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 201.

——O. 21, R. 90—Notice—Fresh notice is not necessary while making fresh proclamation.

No fresh notice is necessary when a fresh proclamation is to be made under R. 69 (2). The issue of notice enjoined by sub-r. (2) of R. 66 relates to a case where a proclamation is to be drawn up. (Wazir Hasan and Simpson, A. J. Cs.) AHMED HASAN v. KODI LAL. 90 I. C. 351 : A. I. R. 1926 Oudh 76.

——O. 21, R. 90—Notice—Absence of.

An order setting aside an execution sale under R. 90 without giving proper notice to the parties as required by R. 92, is without jurisdiction and is of no effect. (Jwala Prasad, J.) BHIKHAN GIR GOSSAIN v. JALPADAT JHA. 62 I. C. 113 : 2 Pat. L. T. 270.

Nullity.

——O. 21, R. 90—Nullity—Sale held in spite of injunction—Sale is nullity.

Where the sale did take place in spite of injunction granted by a competent Court, held, that the sale amounted to a nullity. (Dalal and Wazir Hasan, A. J. Cs.) SITAPAT SINGH v. MAHABIR PRASAD. 12 O. L. J. 331 : 88 I. C. 532 : 2 O. W. N. 315 : A. I. R. 1925 Oudh 424.

Parties.

——O. 21, R. 90—Parties—Auction purchaser is a necessary party.

An application to set aside an execution sale will not be entertained if the auction-purchaser who is a necessary party to the application, is not made a party within the time allowed by law for making the application. (Ross, J.) SUMITRA KUER v. DAMRI LAL. 62 I. C. 61 : 2 Pat. L. T. 336.

Publication of sale.

——O. 21, R. 90—Publication of sale—Defects in—Application to set aside sale.

Where the objections of a judgment-debtor to a sale held in execution are such as had been or might have been taken in the proceedings for framing the proclamation of sale of which the judgment-debtor had notice, the Court will not set aside the sale on these grounds. Under O. 21, R. 67 read with O. 21, R. 54, C. P. Code, it is necessary that an execution sale of an enfranchised shrotriem village should be published at the Collector's Office. The judgment-debtor applied to set aside an execution sale on the ground that the sale was not proclaimed in the village or published at the Collector's Office. The Court dismissed the application holding that the same objections had been inquired into and decided against the petitioner at an earlier stage of the execution proceedings before the sale was concluded. Held, that there was no provision of law authorising the investigation of the objections in question before the conclusion of the sale and that the previous decision was not res judicata. The application was remanded for an enquiry on the merits. (Oldfield and Devadoss, JJ.) PAMIDIMARRI GANAMMA v. KETTIREDDI KRISHNA REDDI.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 21, R. 90—Right to apply

46 Mad. 736 : (1923) M. W. N. 463 : 75 I. C. 369 : A. I. R. 1924 Mad. 217 : 45 M. L. J. 263.

——O. 21, R. 90—Publication of sale—Material irregularity in—Inadequate price realised—Setting aside of sale was held to be right.

Where there was collusion between the judgment-debtors and the decree-holders, there had been material irregularity in the sale proclamation ; the value of the property as stated in the sale proclamation was grossly inadequate and the price fetched at the sale was also inadequate. Held, that the setting aside of the sale was right. (Kulwant Sahay, J.) SURAJ NARAIN MISSER v. HARDWAR SINGH.

6 P. L. T. 295 : 87 I. C. 381 : A. I. R. 1925 Pat. 461.

Right to Apply.

——O 21, R 90—Right to apply—Auction-purchaser can apply under R. 90.

An auction-purchaser is entitled to apply under O. 21, R. 90, he being included in the expression "a person whose interest is affected by the sale."

Per Walsh, J.—An auction-purchaser cannot bring a suit to set aside a sale on the ground of material irregularity in the publishing or conduct of the sale resulting in substantial loss to him.

Per Sulaiman, J.—The right of the auction-purchaser to apply under R. 90 does not mean that the door is open for a general enquiry into the title of judgment-debtors. To do so would be to call upon decree holders to prove the title of their judgment-debtors in the property which they are seeking to sell. If the decree-holder, in a bona fide belief that the interest which he wants to sell vests in his judgment-debtor and without any fraud, misrepresentation or concealment, puts up that interest for sale, it cannot be said that there has been a material irregularity in the omission to disclose the real fact, if a subsequent enquiry were to disclose that the judgment-debtor did not really own the entire interest which was put up for sale. The only case where a question of title can be gone into in these summary proceedings would be a case where an auction-purchaser attempts to prove that the judgment-debtor had no saleable interest whatever. 38 M. L. J. 228, Ref. to and Appr. A.I.R. 1924 Pat. 319 Diss. (Walsh and Sulaiman, JJ.) RANI NANDAN PRASAD v. JAGAR NATH SAHU.

47 All. 479 : 73 A. L. J. 233 · 87 I. C. 278 : L. R. 6 A. (Civ.) 229 : A. I. R. 1925 All. 459.

——O. 21, R. 90—Right to apply—Judgment-debtor selling after Court sale his interest in the property sold is competent to apply under R. 90.

All persons whose interests are affected by the sale at the time of the sale are entitled to maintain the application for setting aside sale under R. 90. A judgment-debtor who sells after the auction sale his interest in the property sold is competent to apply under R. 90. (B. B. Ghose, J.) SHUNDI BIBI v. MOBARAK ALI.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 21, R. 90—Right to apply.

87 I. C. 94 : A. I. R. 1926 Cal. 56.

——O. 21, R. 90—Right to apply—Creditor attaching before judgment cannot apply.

A creditor who has obtained an attachment of property before judgment cannot apply under O. 21, R. 90, to set aside a sale in execution. 17 C. W. N. 80, Foll. (Chakravarti, J.) BADIAR RAHAMAN v. SARADA KANTA DATTA. 42 C. L. J. 37 : 89 I. C. 688 : A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 1103.

——O. 21, R. 90—Right to apply—Purchaser of non-transferable occupancy holding can apply under R. 90.

The effect of a transfer of a non-transferable occupancy holding is good so far as the tenant is concerned and although the landlord is not bound to recognize the transfer, it would be good against him, unless he declines to recognize the transfer. The transferee of such a holding therefore acquires a good interest and is entitled to apply under R. 90 for setting aside a sale held in execution of a rent decree. (Greaves and Chakravarti, JJ.) TARINI PRASAD v. DEVA PRASANNA. A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 925.

——O. 21, R. 90—Right to apply—Judgment-debtor duly served cannot apply under the rule.

Where the judgment-debtor was duly served with notice of the day for fixing the details of sale proclamation he cannot be allowed to urge that there was material irregularity in settling the price of the property sold. (Walmsley and Mukerji, JJ.) DEVI PRASAD BHAGAT v. NAGENDRA KUMAR NAG. 78 I. C. 727 : A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 552.

——O. 21, R. 90—Right to apply—Execution sale—Setting aside—Attaching creditor.

It is open to an attaching creditor to apply under O. 21, R. 90, C. P. Code, to set aside an execution sale of the property attached by him at the instance of another creditor who is executing his decree. Meaning of the expression "persons whose interests are affected by the sale" explained. (Suhrawardy and Page, JJ.) DHIRENDRA NATH ROY v. KAMINI KUMAR PAL. 51 C. 495 : 28 C. W. N. 899 : A. I. R. 1924 Cal. 786.

——O. 21, R. 90—Right to apply—Application by judgment-debtor under R. 90 cannot be rejected on the ground that his interest has ceased prior to sale.

Where properties are sold as the properties of the judgment-debtor in execution of a decree against him, his application under O. 21, R. 90, cannot be rejected on the ground that prior to the execution sale he had sold the properties to a stranger and had ceased thereby to have any interest in them. (Devadoss and Waller, JJ.) MOHIDEEN MARACAYAR v. RAMANADHAN CHETTIAR. 22 L. W. 872 : A. I. R. 1926 Mad. 217.

——O. 21, R. 90—Right to apply—Partition suit pending between members of a joint family—Property sold in Court auction as belonging to only one member—Other members cannot apply under R. 90.

Where during the pendency of a partition suit, the suit property was sold by auction in execution of a decree against one member alone as belonging to him only, the other members cannot apply under R. 90 to have the sale set aside. (Findlay, O. J. C.) KANHAIRAM v. KALICHARAN. 8 N. L. J. 184 : A. I. R. 1926 Nag. 68.

——O. 21, R. 90—Right to apply—Auction-purchaser.

Application by auction purchaser under O. 21, R. 90 does not lie. (Prideaux, A. J. C.) BALWANT v. RATANLAL. A. I. R. 1923 Nag. 161 (2).

——O. 21, R. 90—Right to apply—Auction-purchaser.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 21, R. 90—Scope of.

An auction-purchaser is a person "whose interests are affected by the sale" within the meaning of O. 21, R. 90, C. P. Code, and he can apply to set aside the execution sale under that rule. 20 C. 8 (P. C.), Dist. 3 Pat L. J. 516, Not Foll. 38 M. L. J. 228, Foll. (Batten, J. C.) SHIV PRASAD v. SANTOOJI. 5 N. L. J. 147 : 18 N. L. R. 98 : 65 I. C. 875 : A. I. R. 1922 Nag. 113 (2).

——O. 21, R. 90—Right to apply—Heir presumptive of transferee of property is not entitled to apply.

Heir presumptive of the transferee of portion of the property is not a person whose interests are affected by the sale. (Foster, J.) HANKAR SONAR v. BASUDEO SINGH. 86 I. C. 575 : A. I. R. 1925 Pat. 556.

——O. 21, R. 90—Right to apply—B. T. Act, Ss. 160, 159 and 158-B—Right to apply—Sale under B. T. Act for arrears of rent—Holder of protected interest cannot apply under O. 21, R. 90

A person who holds a protected interest under the B. T. Act in a holding which has been sold under that Act for arrears of rent is not entitled to apply under O. 21, R. 90 as, by Ss, 159, and 158-B of the B. T. Act, a protected interest is not affected by such sale. (Foster, J.) HANKAR SONAR v. BASUDEO SINGH. 86 I. C. 575 : A. I. R. 1925 Pat. 556.

——O. 21, R. 90—Right to apply—Purchaser of part of non-transferable occupancy can apply.

A purchaser of a part of a non-transferable occupancy holding has an interest in the holding sufficient to entitle him to apply after an execution sale to have the sale of the holding set aside. 2 Pat. L. J. 457, Dist. 42 Cal. 172 Foll. (Kulwant Sahay, J.) SURAJ NARAIN MISSER v. HARDWAR SINGH. 6 P. L. T. 295 : 87 I. C. 381 : A. I. R. 1925 Pat. 461.

——O. 21, R. 90—Right to apply—Auction-purchaser cannot apply.

An auction-purchaser cannot apply to have the sale set aside under O. 21, R. 90, as it does not cover the case of a person whose interest was affected by the very sale sought to be set aside. (Mullick and Bucknill, JJ.) KARTIK CHANDRA CHATTERJEE v. NAGENERA NATH ROY. 5 Pat. L. T. 41 : 74 I. C. 760 (2) : A. I. R. 1924 Pat. 319 (1).

——O. 21, R. 90—Right to apply—Paramount title-holder cannot apply.

A person claiming property that had been sold by title paramount to that of the judgment-debtor could not apply to have the sale set aside. 15 Cal. 488 ; 23 Bom. 450, Foll. (Brown, A. J. C.) MAUNG KUN v. MA NAN. 4 U. B. R. 97 : 1 Bur L J. 234 : 70 I. C. 900 : A. I. R. 1922 U. B. 22.

——O. 21, R. 90—Right to apply—Holder of money decree.

The holder of a money decree cannot apply for the setting aside of the Court sale in execution of a mortgage decree. (Madgavkar, A. J. C.) RUSTAMJI v. PEROZSHAW. A. I. R. 1925 Sind 101.

Scope of.

——O. 21, Rr. 90, 91 and 93—Scope of—Order setting aside sale—Interest, if can be awarded.

Where a sale is set aside under O. 21, R. 90 or R. 91, the Court has power to order interest on the purchase-money also being paid to the purchaser under R. 93. (Viscount Cave.) MAHARAJ BAHADUR SINGH v. FORBES. 48 I. A. 24 : (1921) M W. N. 26 : 13 L. W. 217 : 19 A. L. J. 101 : 33 C. L. J. 176 : 25 C. W. N. 366 : 2 P. L. T. 115 : 6 P. L. J. 129 : 59 I. C. 782 : 23 Bom. L. R. 727 : 40 M. L. J. 141 (P. C).

——O. 21, R. 90—Scope of—Fraud in conducting

execution sale.

O. 21, R. 90, C. P. Code, not only covers a case of material irregularity but also a case of fraud in publishing or conducting the sale. (Chatterjee and Panton, JJ.) ABDUL SAMAD MONDAL v. BASIRUDDIN CHAUDHURY. 66 I. C. 220 (Cal.).

——O. 21, R. 90—Scope of—Alteration in new Code.

The effect of adding the words "or fraud" to O. 21, R. 90 is to take the applications setting up fraud in publishing or conducting a sale out of the scope of S. 47 and bring them under the rule. (Shadi Lal and Le Rossignol, JJ.) JAGANNATH v. DAUD.
4 Lah. 243 : 75 I. C. 103 : A. I. R. 1923 Lah. 592

——O 21, R. 90—Scope—Sale cannot be set aside by compromise between judgment-debtor and decree-holder.

An auction-sale cannot be set aside on the ground of a compromise taking place between the decree-holder and the judgment-debtor. (Daniels, J. C.) BADAL SINGH v. GUR PRASAD. 88 I.C. 534 (2) : A. I. R. 1925 Oudh 693.

——O. 21, R. 90—Scope of—Proceedings under are not execution proceedings,

A proceeding to set aside a sale under R. 90 is not a proceeding in execution as execution proceedings ordinarily end with the sale resulting from the full or part satisfaction of the decree. (Das and Ross, JJ.) JAGDISH MISSIR v. SURESWAR MISSIR. 2 Pat. L. T. 273 : 62 I. C. 608 : 6 Pat. L. J. 253.

Substantial Injury.

——O. 21, R. 90—Substantial injury—"Substantial loss need not be pecuniary"—Sale proclamations representing encumbered property as free—Auction purchaser can apply for setting aside sale.

The principle of caveat emptor does not apply under R. 90 when the auction purchaser applies to set aside the sale, where it is shown that there has been a misdescription affecting the quality and value of the property. The expression "substantial loss" is not necessarily confined to "pecuniary loss." The proclamation described the property, which was really a leasehold interest, as a freehold estate. There was nothing in the proclamation to shew that the judgment-debtor had only a lessee's interest in the property. Held, that it was a fundamental misdescription and mis-representation of the character of the property and, that where the auction-purchaser actually was misled and suffered substantial loss, he was entitled to have the sale set aside. (Walsh and Sulaiman, JJ.) RAVI NANDAN PRASAD v. JIGARNATH SAHU.
47 All. 479: 23 A. L. J. 233: 87 I.C. 278 : L. R. 6 A. (Civ.) 229: A. I. R. 1925 All. 459.

——O. 21, R. 90—Substantial injury necessary.

In order to succeed in an application to set aside an auction sale, the Court has to find not only material irregularity but also substantial injury resulting therefrom. (Sulaiman and Mukerjee, JJ.) SUPERIOR BANK, LTD v. BUDH SINGH. 22 A. L. J. 413: 10 O. & A. L. R. 633: L. R. 5 A. (Civ.) 769: A. I. R. 1924 All. 698.

——O. 21, Rr. 90, 66 and 67—Substantial injury—Setting aside sale.

Where the alleged irregularity in the conduct of the sale did not directly produce any serious loss, there is no ground for setting aside the sale. 32 I. C. 990; 33 I. C. 692; 67 I. C. 885; 57 I.C. 892, Foll. (Broadway J.) NOOR MAHOMED KHAN v. MALIK NOOR MAHOMED KHAN. 5 L. L. J. 30: 71 I. C. 730: A. I. R. 1923 Lah. 213.

——O. 21, R. 90—Substantial injury.

Unless an applicant shows that he has sustained substantial injury, the Court cannot grant an order setting aside the sale. (Foster, J.) EKNATH PANDEY v. SINGESHWA NATH. 5 P. L. T. 250: 76 I. C. 168: A. I. R. 1924 Pat. 785.

——O. 21, R. 90—Substantial injury.

There must be substantial injury by reason of irregularity or fraud. (Brown, A. J C.) MAUNG KUN v. MA NAN. 4 U. B. R. 97: 1 Bur. L. J. 234: A. I. R. 1922 U. B. 22.

Undervaluation.

——O. 21, R. 90—Undervaluation—No irregularity—Sale cannot be set aside.

Mere inadequacy of price is no ground for setting aside an execution sale at the instance of the decree-holder or judgment debtor nor a ground for refusing to confirm a sale. 8 Bom. 424, Ref. The inadequacy of the price must be occasioned by some irregularity. 9 Cal. 656 (P. C.) Ref. (Spencer and Odgers, JJ.) KORAPALU HENGSU v GOWRI HENGU.
21 L.W. 521 : 88 I. C. 228 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 729.

——O. 21, R. 90—Undervaluation—Execution sale cannot be set aside merely for suspicious circumstances about sale and low price, in absence of proof of fraud or material irregularity in conducting sale and of resultant substantial injury to party seeking to set aside sale.

Mere suspicious circumstances connected with the sale and the fact that the property was sold for a low price, in absence of any connection being shown between the two, are not sufficient grounds for setting aside an execution sale, under O. 21, R. 90. Under that rule, proof of material irregularity or fraud in publishing and conducting the sale and substantial injury resultant therefrom to the party seeking to set aside the sale is necessary. (Wallace and Madhavan Nair, JJ.) GANAPATHIA PILLAI v. MALAIPERUMAL CHETTIAR. 20 L. W. 736: 85 I. C. 342: A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 202.

——O. 21, R. 90—Undervaluation—Price below that in sale proclamation—Effect.

Where the value shown in the sale proclamation was fixed by consent, the fact that the price fetched at the sale was considerably less is not enough to set aside the sale. (Jwala Prasad and Ross, JJ.) RAJBANS SAHAY v. ASKARAN BAID. 1 P. 214 : A. I. R. 1922 P. 550.

——O. 21, Rr. 91, 92—Suit for refund of purchase-money—Does not lie on ground of no saleable interest.

An auction-purchaser cannot maintain a suit for refund of purchase-money on the ground of absence of saleable interest in the judgment-debtor. (Rankin and B. B. Ghose, JJ.) BANKA BEHARI DAS v. GURU DAS DHAR. 40 C. L. J. 157 : 28 C. W. N. 20: A. I. R. 1924 Cal. 172.

——O. 21, R 91—Purchaser at a Court sale—Rights and liabilities.

Apart from R. 91 and fraud, a purchaser at a Court-auction must suffer the results good or bad of the sale. The Court selling the property does not guarantee the title to the property. (Richardson and Cuming, JJ.) ABINASH CHANDRA KAR v. BHUBAN CHANDRA MAITY. 63 I. C. 126: 25 C. W. N. 756.

——O. 21, R. 91—Auction purchaser cannot file suit for refund of purchase-money.

The doctrine of caveat emptor fully applies to a purchaser at a Court sale who buys the property with all risks and all defects in the judgment-debtor's title.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 21, R. 91.

The remedy under R. 91 which has been created by the statute can only be enforced subject to the conditions and limitations imposed by the law. Apart from this statutory provision, there is no principle of law or equity which would entitle an auction purchaser to recover the purchase-money in the event of his discovering after the sale that the judgment-debtor had no saleable interest in the property. Hence, an auction purchaser is not entitled to file a suit for refund of purchase-money on the ground that the judgment-debtor had no saleable interest in the property sold. 3 Cal. 806 Foll.; 35 Bom. 29, 41 I. C. 924 and A. I R 1923 Cal. 85 Dist.; A.I R 1924 Lah. 115 Diss. (Shadi Lal, C. J. and Le Rossignol, JJ.) HABIB UD-DIN v. HATIM MIRZA.

6 Lah. 283: 86 I. C. 622: A. I. R. 1925 Lah. 467.

——— O. 21, Rr. 91 and 93 A—Suit for the recovery of purchase-money by auction purchaser does not lie but his only remedy is that laid down in R 91 of O. 21.

An auction-purchaser cannot sue for the recovery of his money in a separate suit but his remedy is confined to the procedure laid down in R. 91 of O. 21, An auction purchaser's application under O. 21, R. 91 to set aside a sale was allowed by the lower Court which permitted him to withdraw the purchase money. The application was dismissed in appeal and the auction-purchaser was directed to pay into Court the purchase money which he had withdrawn. The auction purchaser filed a suit for declaration that he was not bound to repay the purchase-money into Court as the judgment-debtor had no saleable interest in the property. Held, that the suit was in effect for a refund of the purchase money and as such was not maintainable. (Broadway, J.) HATIM MIRZA v. BHAGWANA. 78 I. C. 517: A. I. R 1925 Lah. 199.

——— O. 21, Rr. 91, 93—Not exhaustive—Remedy of auction purchaser dispossessed by successful claimant—Suit if lies.

The provisions of O.21, Rr. 91 to 93 are not exhaustive of the remedies open to an auction-purchaser who after payment of full price is dispossessed by a claimant who succeeds in a suit brought under O. 21, R. 93 in establishing that the judgment-debtor has no saleable interest in the property. The remedy is that the auction-purchaser should recover his money by bringing a suit for the same. (Harrison and Zafar Ali, JJ.) ASADULLAH KHAN v. KARAM CHAND. 4 Lah. 354: 76 I. C. 600: 6 L. L. J. 67: A. I. R. 1924 Lah. 115.

——— O. 21, R. 91—If judgment debtor has no saleable property, purchaser is entitled to relief—No remedy for purchaser in the absence of fraud.

In execution sales, when the judgment-debtor has a saleable interest, however small, the purchaser buys at his own risk, and there being no warranty that the property will answer to the description given of it, the purchaser is entitled to no relief if it does not correspond to the said descrip ion. He has, in the absence of fraud, no remedy unless the judgment-debtor has no saleable interest at all in the property sold. Even if the property is destroyed by fire at the date of the auction sale, it is absolutely impossible to affirm that there is nothing left to be sold. 17 Mad. 228; 28 Cal. 235, Foll., 23 All 355 ; 27 All. 537 applied. (Findlay, O. J. C.) NIZAMUDDIN v. JUMMA. 88 I. C. 693 : A. I. R. 1926 Nag. 17.

——— O. 21, R 91—Adjustment after sale—Decree holder applying to have sale set aside on the ground of adjustment—Court will not set aside sale at decree-holder's request.

The only ground upon which a decree-holder can set aside the sale is that the judgment-debtor has no saleable interest in the property. There is no provision in the Code for allowing adjustments between the parties after the sale has been held. The sale is a solemn act and the Court is not competent to review it merely at the request of the parties. (Mullick and Ross, JJ.) SHAM NARAYAN SINGH v. BASDEO PRASAD SINGH. 88 I. C. 537: A. I. R. 1925 Pat. 702.

——— O. 21, R. 91—Auction purchaser—If can sue for purchase money on the basis of absence of saleable interest.

If, after an auction sale, the purchaser finds the judgment-debtor had no saleable interest his only remedy is to apply under O. 21, R. 91 to set aside the sale and then apply for repayment of the purchase money. A suit for that purpose is not maintainable. Case law discussed and the provisions in the various Codes of Civil Procedure considered. (Jwala Prasad and Kulwant Sahay, JJ.) NAGENDRA NATH GHOSH v. SAMBHU NATH PANDEY. 3 Pat. 947: A. I. R. 1925 P. 106.

——— O. 21, R. 91—Execution sale—Setting aide—Concealment of encumbrances—Effect of.

If a purchaser at an execution sale has bought a property the title to which is defective or he has been misled on account of fraud or omission on the part of the decree-holder, it is open to him to seek his remedy as the law allows. But there is no reason why a Court should interfere on behalf of the auction-purchaser and set aside the sale simply because an auction-purchaser has bought a bad title. Every man buys at an auction sale with his eyes open and the general principle that an auction-purchaser cannot attack his own purchase except on the ground that the judgment-debtor has no saleable interest in the property must apply. (Das and Bucknill, JJ.) KEDAR NATH GOENKA v. MAHANTH JAGAN NATH DAS. 1 P. L. R. 73: 74 I. C. 134: A. I. R. 1924 Pat. 355.

——— O. 21, R. 91—Execution sale—Setting aside—Suit at the instance of a third party—Revival of execution proceedings.

Two lots of property were sold in execution of a money decree. Out of which No. 1 the decreeholder bought. Afterwards a third person sued the decree-holder He was the auction-purchaser of lot No. 1. He also sued the judgment-debtor for a declaration of title to lot No. 1 and possession. He obtained a decree. Its result was that the sale became invalid regarding lot No. 1. The sale of lot No 2 was also set aside at the desire of the judgment-debtor under the provisions of O.21, R.90, C.P.C., After this the decree-holder executed his de ree for the entire decretal amount. The judgment-debtor raised objections that the execution petition was barred by time. The only remedy to get back the price of lot No.1 was to submit an application under O.21, R.91, C.P.C. to have the sale annulled. Otherwise that price cannot be recovered. Held: both the judgment-debtor and the decree holder were parties to the suit and hence the order binds them. The execution Court need not abrogate the order. (Mullick and Bucknill, JJ.) RADHA KISHEN LAL v. KASHI LAL. 2 Pat. 829 : 1 Pat. L. R. 3 8 : 1923 P. H. C. C. 342: 76 I.C. 927: 5 Pat. L. T. 345: A.I R. 1924 Pat 273.

——— O. 21, R 91—Warranty of title—Judgment-debtor having no interest in the property sold—Purchaser's rights.

There is no warranty in a Court-sale that the judgment-debtor has any saleable interest in the property. If the judgment-debtor has no saleable interest in the property, the auction-purchaser must apply within 30 days to set aside the sale under O.21, R. 91. He has no remedy by a regular suit against the judgment debtor to recover his purchase-money. If he fails so to do and the amount of the sale-proceeds is credited towards the decree ; he cannot ask the Court to treat the sale as a nullity and to allow him to execute his decree in respect of the sum represented by the sale-proceeds. The decree must, therefore, be deemed to have been satisfied to the extent of the amount of the sale-proceeds (Maung Kin, J.) U PAW v. N. R. M. A. CHETTY. 61 I. C. 805 : 13 Bur. L.T. 152.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 21, R. 92.

———O. 21, R. 92—Decree amended after sale—Sale is not affected—Setting aside is revisable.

If the property has been sold in execution of an incorrect decree the amendment of the decree does not make the sale liable to be set aside. So long as there is a valid decree standing the execution is perfectly valid and the subsequent event that decree was amended or even set aside would not necessarily nullify the sale. Setting aside the sale in such a case, as if no option were left to the Court, is liable to revision. (Sulaiman and Mukerji, JJ.) FATEH LAL v. SHER SINGH. L. R. 6 A. (Civ.) 63 : 85 I. C. 660 : A. I. R. 1925 All. 264.

———O. 21, R. 92—Bar of suit—Property not covered by decree sold in execution—Mistake—Suit to recover.

More than three years after an execution-sale the judgment-debtor applied for restoration to possession in respect of certain items of property which were alleged to have been sold by a mistake and not directed to be sold under the mortgage-decree. The property had been purchased by the decree-holder and transferred to another person subsequently. Held, that the application was barred under O, 21, R. 92, inasmuch as the judgment-debtor could have applied under O. 21, R. 90, C. P. Code, to set aside the sale. (Ryves and Daniels, JJ.) INTIAZ-UN-NISSA v CHATTAN LAL. 22 A. L. J. 1119 : 47 All. 304 : L. R. 6 A. (Civ) 153 : A. I. R. 1925 All. 236.

———O. 21, R. 92—Execution before Collector—Right of pre-emptor—Failure to appear before Collector—Order against is final.

At an execution sale before the Collector, the same bid was made by two persons, but one of them in addition claimed to have a preferential pre emption right. The Collector before confirming the sale directed the pre-emptor to appear before him, but, as he failed to do so, confirmed the sale in favour of the other bidder In a suit by the pre-emptor for possession, held, under the rule corresponding to O. 21, R.92 framed by the Govt. under Ss. 68 and 70, C. P. Code, to deal with execution sales by Collectors, the order of confirmation was an order against the pre-emptor and hence final. (Mears, C. J., Banerji and Rafique, JJ.) BADRI SINGH v. TULSHI RAM. 45 A. 203 : 21 A.L. J. 53 : 4 L. R. A. (Civ,) 43 : A. I. R. 1923 All. 186. (F. B.)

———O. 21, R, 92—Sale held—Injunction—Want of notice.

Where an injunction was granted in favour of third parties who claim the property as their own against the decree holder restraining him from executing his decree by sale but no notice of it was given to either the decree-holder or the officer conducting the sale and in consequence the sale took place. Held, the validity of the sale cannot be questioned and the injunction is ineffective. (Stuart, J.) RAMJI DAS v. LALA CHHAGAL LAL. 69 I. C. 745 : A. I. R. 1922 All. 282.

———O. 21, R. 92—Suit to set aside sale—Suit by minor defendant on attaining majority—Parties.

The auction-purchaser is a necessary party to a suit to set aside a sale brought by a minor defendant after his attaining majority. (Macleod, C.J. and Crump, J.) BAPUJI KRISHNA v. JANARDHAN GOVIND. A. I. R. 1924 Bom. 130.

———O. 21, R. 92—Formal notice is not necessary if there is actual notice otherwise.

The object of R. 92 in insisting on notice is to entitle every party interested, to be heard. Therefore if a party has actual notice the absence of formal notice does not vitiate the proceedings. (Suhrawardy and Duval, JJ.) CHARAN CHANDRA GHOSH v. RAI BEHARI LAL MITRA BAHADUR. 80 I. C. 931 : A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 157.

———O. 21, R. 92—Execution sale—Irregularities not challenged—Suit by purchaser for possession—Irregularity if can be pleaded.

Where properties were sold in execution and the judgment-debtor did not apply under O. 21, R. 90 to have it set aside on the ground of irregularities he cannot after confirmation of the sale plead such irregularities by way of defence to a suit by the purchaser for possession. (Walmsley and Suhrawardy, JJ.) JAGNESWAR SIKDAR v. KAILASH CHANDRA MANDAL. 28 C. W. N. 821 : 78 I. C. 126 : A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 81.

———O. 21, R. 92—Appeal against appellate order does not lie.

An order confirming or setting aside a sale is appealable under O. 43, R. 1 (j) and hence under S. 104, C. P. Code, no second appeal lies in such a case. (Shadi Lal, C. J. and Le Rossignol, J.) JAGANNATH v. DAUD. 4 Lah. 243 : 75 I. C. 103 : A. I. R. 1923 Lah. 592.

———O. 21, R. 92—Order under—No second appeal.

An order on an application seeking to set aside an auction-sale on the ground of material irregularity and fraud is not open to second appeal (Abdul Raoof, J.) JAGAN NATH SETHI v. PIR MOHAMAD. 72 I. C. 788 : A. I. R. 1923 Lah. 287.

———O. 21, R. 92—Insolvency—Attachment and sale of property as belonging to insolvent—Defeated claimant—Right of suit is not barred.

Where a person whose claim to certain property sought to be sold as the property of the insolvent has been defeated, brings a suit to establish his right, such a suit is not barred by O. 21, R. 92, C. P. Code. (Harrison, J.) HARNAM v. GANPAT. 5 Lah. L. J. 9 : 73 I. C. 367 : A. I. R. 1923 Lah. 224.

———O. 21, R. 92—Judgment-debtor being aware of execution proceedings but not objecting to Court sale—Sale confirmed—Neither judgment-debtor nor his transferee with notice can subsequently contend that the property was inalienable—C. P. Code, S. 11—Evidence Act, S. 115—Execution.

Under O. 21, R. 92, C.P. Code, where no application is made to set aside a sale or where such application is made and disallowed, the Court is bound to make an order confirming the sale and it thereupon becomes absolute. Under S. 65 where property is sold in execution of a decree and the sale has become absolute, the property vests in the purchaser. If the judgment-debtor objects under S.47 to the sale and his objection is overruled he is bound by the decision of the executing Court. If, being aware of the execution proceedings and having an opportunity to object, he fails to do so, he is likewise bound by the order confirming the sale, in other words, he is, in effect, in either case a party to the order by which the sale is confirmed equally with the auction-purchaser and he cannot go behind it. 9 C. W. N. 972 ; 26 Cal. 727 ; 34 Cal. 199 and 40 All. 680 Foll. Plaintiff, a transferee from the auction-purchaser sued to redeem a mortgage held by the defendant subject to which the property was sold at the auction. The defendant pleaded that the property being an inam land was inalienable and therefore the sale conveyed no title to the auction-purchaser and further, that subsequent to the auction sale the land was enfranchised by the Government in the name of the judgment-debtor from whom he subsequently purchased the same. The defendant as well as the judgment-debtor had notice of the execution proceedings. Held, that the defendant must be considered to be bound by the order confirming the sale in favour of the auction-purchaser and that it was not open to him to question the validity of the Court. Held, further, that the question whether the sale of an unenfranchised inam is absolutely void did not strictly arise. (Venkatasubba Rao and Madhavan Nair, JJ.) V. SOMASUNDARAM v. BHIMISETTI KONDAYYA. A. I. R. 1926 Mad. 12 : 49 M. L. J. 401.

——0. 21, R. 92—Does not oust inherent power to cancel sale.

Per Wallace, J.—Order 21, R. 92 of the Code of Civil Procedure does not oust the inherent power of a Court to interfere to cancel the sale even though no party has applied for cancellation when the Court discovers in the course of the proceedings, that the decree-holder auction-purchaser, deliberately misled it and profited thereby to the disadvantage of the judgment-debtor or the judgment debtor's creditors. (Schwabe, C. J. and Wallace, J.) RAGHAVACHARIAR v. MURUGESA MUDALI. 46 Mad. 583 : (1923) M. W. N. 323 : 32 M. L. T (H. C.) 285 : 17 L. W. 750 : 72 I. C. 545 : A. I. R. 1923 Mad. 635 : 44 M. L. J. 680.

——0. 21, R. 92—Decree-holder selling own property by mistake—Remedy if by suit.

Where a decree-holder sells his own property by mistake his only remedy is by suit. An application under S. 47 is incompetent. (Ayling, C. J. and Odgers, J.) RAMASWAMI KONAN v. KULANDAI VELU PILLAI. 15 L. W. 272: 70 I. C. 569 : (1922) M. W N. 121 : A. I. R. 1922 Mad. 63 (1.)

——0. 21, R. 92—Except in exceptional circumstances the Court should not refuse to confirm a sale—Destruction of property sold by accident or act of God does not empower the Court to refuse to do so—If sale is not vitiated from its inception, the Court cannot refuse to confirm the sale.

What is sold at the auction-sale, is very clearly the right title and interest of the judgment-debtor as they then exist. What the executing Court has to consider, in deciding whether or not to confirm the sale under R. 92, is whether there is any reason with reference to Rr. 89—91 for refusing to do so. If there are not, the Court is bound in the absence of exceptional circumstances, to confirm the sale. That by an accident or by an act of God the property is destroyed in the meantime is not a circumstance which entitles the executing Court to have recourse to its inherent powers and to the application of a general equitable ruling. If there are circumstances which vitiate the sale at its inception, the executing Court is in a position to refuse to confirm the sale even apart from the contingencies contemplated in Rr. 89—91. (Findlay, O. J. C.) NIZAMUDDIN v. JUMMA. 88 I. C. 693 : A. I. R. 1926 Nag. 17.

——0. 21, R. 92—Execution sale — Satisfaction reported—Sale cannot be confirmed.

Where a sale in execution is held prior to the admission of satisfaction of the decree by the decree-holder, the sale cannot be confirmed after satisfaction notified to the Court. (Kotval, A. J.C.) NILKANTH v. YESHWANT. 18 N. L. R. 134 : 65 I. C. 331 : A. I. R. 1922 Nag. 248.

——0. 21, R. 92—Several judgment-debtors—Sale set aside as against one—Confirmation in entirety—Cannot be made.

A sale in execution of a decree which has been set aside as against one of the several defendants cannot be confirmed in its entirety but only against the shares of the other defendants. (Kotval and Macnair, A. J. Cs.) HARI RAM v. GOPI KISAN. 61 I. C. 571 (Nag.)

——0. 21, R. 92—Order under—No second appeal is permissible.

No second appeal lies from an order passed under R. 92 on an application under R. 89. (Daniels, J. C.) IFTIKHAR HAIDAR v. IKRAM FATIMA. 12 O. L. J. 336 : 2 O. W. N. 376 : 88 I. C. 559 : A. I. R. 1925 Oudh 622.

——0. 21, R. 92—Sale confirmed—Suit to set aside sale—Fraud—Maintainability.

A suit to set aside an auction sale on the ground of fraud does not lie after the sale is confirmed. (Ashworth, A. J. C.) SHER KHAN v. MISRI LAL. 89 I. C 107.

——0. 21, R. 92—Order setting aside sale is not open to second appeal.

There is no second appeal from an order setting aside a sale under O. 21, R. 92 of the C. P. Code. 38 Cal. 339, Ref. (Kanhaiya Lal, A. J. C.) JAGMOHAN SINGH v. BACHCHA. 25 O. C. 78 : 9 O. L. J. 50 : 66 I. C. 929 : A. I. R. 1922 Oudh 146.

——0. 21, R. 92—Execution sale—Application to set aside—Addition of parties after the time prescribed—Limitation.

An application to have an execution sale set aside was made within the time allowed by law. In that application the number of the execution case was given and certain of the decree-holders auction-purchasers were mentioned. The names of four of the decree holders were not mentioned but notice was subsequently served on them of the application. Held, that it was not necessary that notice of the application should be served on all persons affected by the sale within 30 days of the sale. O. 21, R. 92, C. P. Code merely provides that no sale shall be set aside until notice has been issued to all persons affect d by it. But there is no limitation provided for giving such notice. 37 B. 387, 390, Foll. (Ashworth, A. J. C.) ABDUR RAHMAN v. BABU HAR NARAYAN DAS. 9 O. L. J. 211 : 4 U. P. L. R. (O. C.) 72 : 68 I. C. 238 : A I. R. 1922 Oudh 129 (2).

——0. 21, R. 92—Suit by judgment-debtor for possession of property not sold in auction but wrongly taken by auction-purchaser—Rule does not apply.

A suit for possession by a judgment-debtor after sale of his property in execution would not lie as long as the sale was not set aside and the period of limitation within which such a sale could be set aside is one year from the date of confirmation of the sale. But the rule does not apply when the property for possession of which the judgment-debtor sued was never sold at all but was wrongly taken possession of by the auction-purchaser. (Dawson Miller, C. J. and Foster, J.) LACHMI NARAIN SINGH v. REBALI DEBYA. 6 P. L. T. 473 : 86 I. C. 648 : 1925 P. H. C. C. 37 : A. I. R. 1925 Pat. 376.

——0. 21, R. 92 & O. 22, R. 4—Execution sale—Setting aside—Death of decree-holder—Notice to legal representative essential.

During the pendency of an application by a judgment debtor to set aside an execution sale, the decree-holder (auction-purchaser) died and his legal representatives were not properly substituted in his place. No notice was served upon them, and the sale was set aside. Held, that no notice having been given to the legal representatives of the deceased decree-holder (auction-purchaser) the order setting aside the sale was liable to be set aside. Under O. 21, R. 92, clause (2) it is provided that no order shall be made setting aside a sale unless notice of application have been given to all persons affected thereby. (Kulwant Sahay, J.) KUMAR RAMANAND v. BAJIT SINGH JHA.

5 Pat. L. T. 233: 75 I. C. 863 : A. I. R. 1924 Pat. 507.

——O. 21, R. 92—Provisions of, applies to suit to set aside sale under S. 174 of Bengal Tenancy Act.

The provisions of O. 21, R. 92, C. P. Code requiring notice to be served does not apply to a suit brought by a judgment debtor to set aside a sale under S. 174 of the Bengal Tenancy Act. (Miller, C. J. and Ross, J.) PAHLAD SINGH v. SAJIVAN RAI. 6 P. L. J. 16 : 61 I. C. 126 : 2 Pat. L. T. 66.

——O. 21, R. 92 (1)—No application under Rr. 89 to 91 made—Court must confirm the sale.

Under O. 21, R 92 (1) where no application has been made under Rr. 89, 90 and 91 the Court has no alternative but to confirm the sale. 31 C. 1011, Foll. (Godfrey, J.) N. K. R. R. M. CHETTY FIRM v. M. SUBRAYA MUDALIAR. 3 Rang. 132 : A. I. R. 1925 Rang. 271.

——O. 21, R. 92 (3)—Suit lies to set aside decision of Collector confirming a sale.

Where a decree was transferred to Collector for execution and the Collector to whom an application to set aside the sale was made, dismissed the same and confirmed the sale : held, that a suit to set aside the sale on the ground of fraud covering a wider ground than the one in O. 21, R. 90 (1), i. e., fraud in publishing or conducting a sale, is maintainable and is not barred by any provision of law. (Mukerji and Dalal, JJ.) BHAGWAN DAS MARWARI v. SURAJ PRASAD SINGH. 22 A. L. J. 1060 : L. R. 6 A. (C v) 89 : 84 I. C. 1031 : 47 All. 217 : A. I. R. 1925 All. 146.

——O. 21, R. 93—Refund of purchase money—Setting aside sale—Necessity for.

Where a purchaser at a Court-auction seeks to get back his purchase-money, he must, as a condition precedent, have the sale set aside under O. 21, R. 91, C. P. Code. He can, however, sue the judgment-debtor on the ground of fraud or misrepresentation. 39 M. 803 ; 39 All. 114, Foll. 35 B. 29, Ref. (Macleod, C. J. and Coyajee, J.) BALVANT RANGANATH v. BALU MALU. 46 Bom. 833 : 67 I. C. 360 : 24 Bom. L. R. 308 : A. I. R. 1922 Bom. 205.

——O. 21, R. 93—Judgment-debtor declared to have no saleable interest in property sold by decree of Court—Suit by purchaser to recover the purchase money—Limitation runs from date of decree—Limitation Act, Art. 97.

Where after an auction sale the judgment-debtor is declared to have no saleable interest in the property sold by a decree of Court, limitation for a suit to recover purchase-money begins from the date of such a decree and not from the date when purchaser was deprived of the possession of property purchased. 40 Cal. 187 and 46 Cal. 676 (P. C.) Foll. Quaere : Whether limitation Act, Art. 97 applies to such a suit. (Greaves and B. B. Ghose, JJ.) BIJRAJ BOYED v. BIJOY SINHA. 30 C. W. N. 79 : A. I. R. 1926 Cal. 297.

——O. 21, Rr 93 and 91—Remedy by suit—Not retrospective—Difference between the old Code and new

Under S. 315 of the C.P. Code of 1882 the purchaser at a sale in execution of a decree was competent to maintain a suit against the decree-holder for recovery of his purchase-money when the judgment-debtor was found to have had no saleable interest in the property sold. The purchaser was not restricted to the special procedure in the execution department mentioned in S. 312. 40 A. 411 ; 22 B. 783; 37 C. 67 ; 40 M. 1009, Ref. A suit to recover the purchase-money would be governed by Art. 120 of the Lim. Act. Semble: The law is changed under O. 21. R. 93, C. P. C., and the remedy by suit is no longer available. 39 A. 114; 39 M. 803 ; 40 M. 1009 ; 43 A. 60, R. But the alteration in the law being of a substantial character is not retrospective and an auction purchaser whose right to obtain the purchase-money was acquired before the coming into force of the new Code is not affected and his right is not extinguished. 35 A. 419 ; 23 M. L. J. 487 ; 39 M. 803 ; 18 L. W. 639, Rel. (Mookerjee and Chotzner, JJ.) MAKAR ALI v. SARFADDIN.
36 C. L. J. 132 : 27 C. W. N. 183 : 70 I. C. 609 : 50 C. 115 : A. I. R. 1923 Cal. 85.

——O. 21, R. 93—Remedy by suit—Sale under the old Code—Discovery of want of title.

Where an execution sale is held under the Code of 1882 but subsequent to the passing of the new Code it is found that the judgment debtor had no title to the property sold, a suit by the purchaser for refund of the purchase-money is maintainable (Ayling and Odgers, JJ.) ALANJI ISECK SAHIB v. VENGA CHETTY.
(1920) M. W. N. 736 : 60 I. C. 66 : 12 L. W. 639.

——O. 21, R. 93 – Rights of purchaser—Stranger purchaser in auction sale is entitled to compensation for improvements upon reversal of sale irrespective of his bona fides.

If a man enters upon land as a stranger purchaser in execution sale and effects improvements thereon, he is entitled to compensation therefor upon a reversal of such judgment and sale irrespective of any question of his bona fides. Even if the proposition is too broadly stated, at any rate the good faith required does not go beyond an honest belief in the purchaser in the validity of his title. 36 Mad. 194 Foll. (Baker, J. C.) NARAYAN v. BEHARILAL. 89 I. C. 18 : A. I. R. 1926 Nag. 160.

——O. 21, Rr 93 and 91—Refund of money—Right to.

The right to obtain a refund of purchase-money when the judgment-debtor is found to be without a saleable interest, must be regarded as entirely the creature of Rr. 91 and 93 of O. 21, with the result that without getting the sale set aside through the Court and by the methods prescribed by the Code, there lies no remedy for any purchaser. The general principle of caveat emptor would affect the purchaser unless he chooses to adopt the remedy given to him by the statute. Where, however, the fraud or carelessness of a party has led to the invalidity of the sale, the matter stands on a different footing. (Drake-Brockman, J. C.) LAKHMICHAND v. CHATURBHUJ. 65 I. C. 230 : 4 N. L. J. 274.

——O 21, Rr. 93 and 91—Saleable interest—Judgment-debtor having none—Right to refund of purchase money.

Where after an execution sale it is found that the judgment-debtor has no saleable interest in the property, the remedy of the auction-purchaser is to apply under O. 21, R. 91, C. P. Code, to set aside the sale and then apply for a refund of the purchase-money under O. 21, R. 93, C. P. Code. The purchaser cannot bring a suit for setting aside the sale or for recovery of the purchase-money. 39 M. 803 : 3 C. 806 : 25 B. 337 : 39 A. 114 : 36 A. 529 : 37 C. 67 : 35 B. 29 : 40 M. 1009, Ref. (Drake-Brockman, J. C.) LAKHMI CHAND v. CHATURBHUJ. 65 I. C. 230 : 4 N. L. J. 274.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 21, R. 93.

——O. 21, R. 93—Suit to set aside sale compromised—Auction purchaser promised refund—Auction-purchaser can sue for refund.

After a sale was confirmed a suit was brought by a third party claiming ⅔rds of the property by title paramount. The suit was compromised and it was agreed between the auction-purchaser, the decree-holder and the judgment-debtors that the plaintiff of that suit shall, receive possession of ⅔rds of the property, that the decree-holder shall receive ⅓rd of the money deposited by the auction-purchaser and that the balance of the money shall be removed by the auction-purchaser. Held, in a suit brought by the auction purchaser for the recovery of the 2/3rds of the money deposited by him, that there was a fresh contract between the decree-holder, the auction-purchaser, and the judgment-debtors, and the auction purchaser could sue on the basis of that contract. Held, further, that the intention of the parties should be inquired into and not what may appear on the face of a compromise like the one between the parties which must have been prepared by some pleader's clerk of small knowledge and little education and that the judgment-debtors could not take shelter behind the express terms of the contract that the money was to be removed from Court but that they were liable to refund the amount to the auction-purchaser-plaintiff. (Dalal, A. J. C.) GUR PRASAD v. LALMAN. 28 O. C. 136 : 88 I. C. 379 : 2 O. W. N. 248 : A. I. R. 1925 Oudh 404.

——O. 21, R. 93—No separate suit lies for recovery of purchase money on ground of judgment-debtor not having saleable interest in property C. P. Code, O. 21, R. 91.

An auction-purchaser at an execution sale has no right to bring a regular suit for realisation of the purchase money paid by him on the ground that the judgment-debtor had no saleable interest in the property. Statute and case-law fully discussed. (Jwala Prasad and Kulwant Sahay, JJ.) NAGENDRA NATH GHOSH v. SAMBHU NATH PANDAY. 3 Pat. 947 : A. I. R 1925 Pat. 106.

——O. 21, R. 94—Rights of purchaser—Possession—Title.

An auction-purchaser, under a defective execution sale, who obtains possession would have a good title until the defect is discovered and if not challenged within the time allowed to set aside the sale, his title would become absolute ; but if he does not get possession, his title would be open to any objection that may be taken by the person in possession. (Macleod, C. J. and Shah, J.) SHANKAR DAJI NAIK v. DATTATREYA. 45 Bom. 1186 · 63 I. C. 248 : 23 Bom. L. R. 514.

——O. 21, R. 94—Sale certificate—Error of description—Rectification.

Where all that is essentially requisite is the rectification of the boundaries in the schedule to the sale certificate it is not material that the Court should go back behind the decree to the mortgage instrument itself. Where the clerical error becomes apparent on the result of the local enquiry held on the basis of the boundaries in the sale certificate, the investigation of the proceedings in the suit itself, antecedent to the decree, only furnishes a historical explanation, as it were, how the error arose. Where there is an error in the sale certificate, the Court has ample authority, as a Court of justice, equity and good conscience, to rectify it and mould the relief accordingly as between the original parties or their representatives-in interest (Mookerjee and Cuming, JJ.) NANDI LAL AGRANI v. JOGENDRA CHANDRA DUTTA. 28 C. W. N. 403 : 39 C. L. J. 222 : 82 I. C. 297 : A. I.R. 1924 Cal. 881

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 21, R. 95.

——O. 21, R. 94—Sale certificate—Issue of.

The fact of the issue of a sale certificate is conclusive, if it is not set aside, sale certificates not being documents which can be "lightly" regarded or loosely construed. (Spencer and Ramesam, JJ.) V. I. S. NAMBUDRI KARNAVAN v. VYKUNDA KAMMATH. 16 L. W. 319 : (1922) M. W. N. 707 : 31 M. L. T. 363 : 69 I. C. 1001 : A. I. R. 1923 Mad. 48 : 43 M. L. J. 477.

——O. 21, R. 94—Sale certificate—Amendment—Notice to judgment-debtor necessary.

A sale certificate should not be amended without notice to judgment-debtor. An amendment without notice is a material irregularity and the order is revisable if prejudice is caused to the judgment-debtor. (Devadoss, J.) YAGNASAMI IYER v. K. CHIDAMBARANATH. (1922) M. W N. 130 : 16 L. W. 760 : 65 I. C. 732 · A. I. R 1922 Mad. 63 (2).

O. 21, R. 94—Sale cannot pass anything more than that indicated by proclamation and attachment.

There is nothing in the Code which makes a certificate of sale conclusive as to the property sold. In granting a certificate it is the duty of the Court not to determine what property is to pass by the sale but merely to record the already accomplished fact of a transaction that has taken place and to state what has been sold. The Court has no power to do more or to alter the fact of the sale which has actually taken place. Its action in granting the certificate is ministerial and not judicial. The sale is an offer and acceptance ; the offer is made by the Court and is advertised by the proclamation of sale and so far as concerns the identification of the property to be offered for sale, this is the only declaration which is authorized or required. Unless there is something to show that the Court sold something else than was advertised for sale, the sale proclamation is conclusive. If the petition for execution, the writ of attachment and the sale proclamation are clear and unambiguous, any discrepancy from the description of the property contained in these documents which occurs in the sale certificate can have no effect. 10 Mad. 241 (P. C.): 27 Bom. 334, and 41 Cal. 590 (P. C.), Foll. (Mullick and Ross, JJ.) F. F. CHRISTIAN v. PRASAUD RAUT. 1925 P. H. C. C 220 : 4 Pat. 760 : 90 I. C. 501 : A. I. R. 1925 Pat. 615.

——O. 21, R. 95—Purchaser—Remedies of—Possession obtained—Ejectment.

Where a decree-holder brings to sale the fractional interest of his debtor and purchases it himself and thereafter in a partition suit gets that share allotted to him and obtains possession, he cannot be ejected from possession by a person having no title. An auction purchaser has two remedies open to him. He may have recourse to the summary remedy under O. 21, R. 95 or he may bring a regular suit for possession. Even if the summary remedy is barred, a suit for possession is barred only after the period of 12 years. If within this period of 12 years he somehow or other obtains possession he cannot be ousted by a person who in the eye of law has no title. (Sulaiman, J.) HARAKH SONAR v. GOPI KISHUN. 89 I. C. 134.

——O. 21, Rr. 95, 97, 99 and 103—Scope of—Obstruction or resistance—Claim by sons of judgment-debtor in their own right—Order upholding their claim—Effect of.

An application under O. 21, R. 97, C. P. Code, cannot be made until the decree-holder or the auction-purchaser has been resisted or obstructed in obtaining possession of the property. It is only then that he files an application complaining of such resistance or obstruction. Of course no resistance or obstruction can be said to have taken place before any attempt to obtain possession has been made. An application under O. 21, R. 95 asking for possession against a person alleged to be holding the property on behalf of the judgment-debtor is not necessarily an application complaining that resistance or obstruction has been offered by such a person. The provisions of O. 21, R. 97 come into operation only when either the delivery of possession has been ordered by the Court or, at any rate, an attempt to obtain possession has been made by the decree-holder out of Court. (Sulaiman and Kanhaiya Lal, JJ.) BOHRA SOBHA RAM v. TURSI RAM. 22 A. L. J. 626 : L. R. 5 A. 488 : 46 A. 693 : A. I. R. 1924 All. 495 (F.B.).

——O 21, Rr. 95, 96—Delivery of possession—Time for suit by auction-purchaser.

Where possession has been delivered to an auction-purchaser under R. 95 or R. 96, he gets a fresh start for the computation of limitation but a mere formal delivery of possession does not give such a start. (Banerji, Ryves and Lindsay, JJ.) JANG BAHADUR SINGH v. HANWAT SINGH. 43 All. 520 : 63 I. C. 212 : 19 A. L. J. 469.

——O. 21, R. 95—Adverse possession—Symbolical possession—Effect of delivery of, as between parties to a suit.

The plaintiff sued to recover possession of land from the defendant who was in adverse possession of it from 1898, and obtained a decree in 1914. In execution of the decree, he secured symbolical possession in 1915. In 1918, the plaintiff having sued again to recover possession was met by the defendant with a plea of his adverse possession for upwards of twelve years. Held, that the plaintiff was entitled to succeed, since the decree of 1914 put a stop to defendant's adverse possession prior to the date of the decree, especially as the defendant was a party to the execution proceedings of 1915. 14 Bom. L. R. 115 (F. B.) doubted, in view of 20 Bom. L. R. 502. (Macleod, C. J. and Shah, J.) MAHADEVAPPA DUNDAPPA v. BHIMA DODAPPA MALED. 24 Bom. L. R. 232 : 66 I. C 320 : 46 Bom. 710 : A. I. R. 1922 Bom. 27 (2).

——O. 21, R. 95—Symbolical possession—Delivery of, gives fresh start of limitation against judgment-debtor.

Delivery of symbolical possession instead of actual possession is effective against the judgment-debtor and gives rise to a fresh start of limitation against him. This principle avails also persons claiming under the certified purchaser. 5 C. 584 ; 16 C. 530 : 4 C. 870 : 24 C. 175, Foll. 36 B. 373 : 24 W. R. 418, Not Foll. (Chatterjee and Pearson, JJ.) BHULU BEG v. JATINDRA NATH SEN. 27 C.W.N 24 : A.I.R. 1923 Cal. 138.

——O. 21, R. 95— Order rejecting application under R. 95—No suit lies but an appeal under S. 47.

Order rejecting an application under O. 21, R. 95, for delivery of possession, is appealable under S. 47. No suit lies from an order passed under that rule. (Odgers, J.) PACHAIAPPA CHETTI v. C. VENKATACHARIAR. (1925) M. W. N. 577 : 90 I. C. 952 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 1198.

——O. 21, R. 95— Auction-purchaser—Right to retain possession.

Prima facie an auction-purchaser is entitled to obtain possession of all the lands comprised within the writ of the Court free from any incumbrance created by the judgment-debtor, and it is for the persons claiming right to remain on the land in spite of the delivery of possession, to prove conclusively the right to set up by them. Every attempt should be made by a Criminal Court to maintain the auction-

purchaser in possession of the property unless a clear right to possession is established in any other person. (Jwala Prasad, J.) BHIM BAHADUR SINGH v. THE KING-EMPEROR. 1922 P. H. C. C. 10 : A. I. R. 1922 Pat. 265.

——O. 21, R. 95—Delivery of possession—Judgment-debtor trespassing.

Delivery of possession under O. 21, R. 95 of the C. P. Code has the effect of making the judgment-debtor's possession after it that of a trespasser. The auction-purchaser does not commit any criminal act in going to assert his title and to take possession of the purchased property by ousting the judgment-debtor. A rightful owner is entitled to physically turn out a trespasser, but is not entitled to use more force than is reasonable to defend his possession from a trespasser. 3 Cal. 573 and 15 C. W. N. 224, Fol. (Jwala Prasad and Coutts, JJ.) RAM KRISHNA SINGH v. EMPEROR. 3 Pat. L. T. 335 : 23 Cr. L. J. 321 : 66 I. C. 817 : A. I. R. 1922 Pat. 197 (2).

——O. 21, R. 96—Property in the hands of Receiver—Leave of Court is necessary.

O. 21, R. 96 will not apply to property in the hands of a Receiver and he can be sued only with leave of Court. (Fawcett, J. C. and Raymond, A. J. C.) RAMDAS v. AJUDHIADAS. 63 I. C. 685 : 14 S. L. R. 137.

——O. 21, Rr. 97, 99 and 103—Scope of—Obstruction or resistance—Claim by sons of judgment-debtor in their own right—Order upholding their claim—Effect of.

An application under O. 21, R. 97, C. P. Code cannot be made until the decree-holder or the auction-purchaser has been resisted or obstructed in obtaining possession of the property. It is only then that he files an application complaining of such resistance or obstruction. Of course no resistance or obstruction can be said to have taken place before any attempt to obtain possession has been made. An application under O. 21, R. 95 asking for possession against a person alleged to be holding the property on behalf of the judgment-debtor is not necessarily an application complaining that resistance or obstruction has been offered by such a person. The provisions of O. 21, R. 97 came into operation only when either the delivery of possession has been ordered by the Court, or at any rate, an attempt to obtain possession has been made by the decree-holder out of court. (Sulaiman and Kanhaiya Lal, JJ.) BOHRA SOBHA RAM v. TURSI RAM. 22 A. L. J. 626 : L. R. 5 All. 488 : 46 All. 693 : A. I. R. 1924 All. 495.

——O. 21, R. 97—Sub-tenant—Cannot resist.

A sub-tenant cannot resist the execution and the decree for possession by the original landlord. The words "on his own account" refer to the person who claims to be in possession under his own title. A sub-tenant is not in possession on his own account. (Macleod, C. J.) JAIRAM v. NOWROJI. 46 B. 887 : 23 Bom. L. R. 1316 : 65 I. C. 212 : A. I. R. 1922 Bom. 449 (2).

——O. 21, R. 97—Sub-lessee of sub-tenant of judgment-debtor cannot obstruct.

The sub-lessee of the sub-tenant is not entitled to obstruct the original landlord who has got a decree against the lessor of the sub-tenant as there is no privity of contract between the landlord and the sub-tenant though the sub-tenant may be entitled to protection against the immediate lessor. (Macleod, C. J.) JAFFERJI v. MIYADIN. 23 Bom. L. R. 1251 : 64 I. C. 692 : 46 Bom. 526 : A. I. R. 1922 Bom. 273.

——O. 21, Rr. 97 and 99—Covenant against sub-lease—Breach—Decree against lessee—Resistance by sub lessee in execution—Remedy is by suit.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 21, R. 97.

The lessee granted a sub-lease of the premises against a covenant in the lease not to sub-let. The lessor sued the lessee for possession and got a decree, in execution of which he was resisted by the sub-lessee. The lessor then applied under R. 97. Held, that the lessor's remedy was to proceed by suit for possession against the sub-lessee (Rankin, J.) EZRA v. GUBBAY. 60 I. C. 969 : 47 Cal. 907.

——— O. 1, Rr. 97, 98—Symbolical delivery—When effective. DHARMALA KAMAYYA v. BHIMARASETTI PARIDESI. A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 1140 : 49 M. L. J. 303

——— O. 21, R. 97—Delivery of possession complete—Second application for, is not maintainable.

The return on a warrant for delivery of immoveable property issued on an application made as against the judgment-debtor for the execution of a decree for the possession of such property was that the delivery was complete, and this statement on the return was accepted by the decree-holder. The judgment-debtor had, during the pendency of the suit, granted a lease of a portion of the property. Alleging that he was not aware of the said lease when he accepted the delivery as complete, and that the lessee under the said lease prevented him from peacefully enjoying the property delivered to him, the decree-holder applied again as against the lessee, for removal of the obstruction and for the issue, if necessary, of a warrant of delivery. Held, that the execution having been definitely closed by the delivery on the first application accepted by the decree-holder as complete, a second application by him for execution was in the absence of any allegation of fraud in the proceedings on the first application, incompetent. (Oldfield and Venkatasubba Row, JJ.) IBRAHIM SAHIB v. KONAMMAL. 31 M. L. T. 356 : 70 I. C. 755 : A. I. R. 1923 Mad. 25 : 43 M. L J. 179.

——— O. 21, R. 97—Investigation may be ordered even in anticipation of obstruction, i. e., before actual obstruction has been caused.

Though O. 21, R. 97 contemplates the Court ordering the investigation after the Bailiff has been obstructed in giving possession in terms of the decree yet there is nothing wrong in anticipating the obstruction and ordering an investigation under O. 21, R. 97. (Das, J.) MAUNG PO SEIK v. U. NANDIYA. 4 Bur. L. J. 178 : A. I. R. 1925 Rang. 374.

——— O. 21, R. 97—Application for possession by auction-purchaser—"Resistance" or "obstruction"—Appellant absent at time of delivery of possession—Subsequent suit by appellant for possession—Art. 11-A. Limitation Act, inapplicable.

The Court purported to give possession to an auction-purchaser under O. 21, R. 97 of certain land which was in possession of the appellant as purchaser from the mortgagor. The appellant was absent at the time of delivery of possession. He brought a suit for recovery of possession which was dismissed as being barred under Art. 11-A of the Limitation Act. Held, that the Art. 11-A did not apply to the case. The "resistance" or "obstruction" contemplated in O. 21, R. 97 is some overt act of "resistance" or "obstruction" to the giving of possession by some person who is present at the time. (Robinson, C. J. and Heald, J.) T. C. BOSE v. O. R. CHOWDHURY. 3 Bur. L. J. 71 : 82 I. C. 865 : A.I.R 1924 Rang. 261.

——— O. 21, R. 98—Purchaser pendente lite is judgment-debtor within R. 98.

A purchaser pendente lite is a person who is bound by the decree and, therefore, comes within the definition of a judgment-debtor as mentioned in R. 98 of

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 21, R. 100.

O. 21, C. P. Code. (B. B. Ghose, J.) GOLAM NABI v. F. W. NEEDHAM. 85 I. C. 1004 : A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 1243.

——— O. 21, R. 98—Remedy by suit—Absence of saleable interest.

No suit lies for recovery of the purchase-money when it is found that the judgment-debtor had no saleable interest in the property sold in execution. The remedy of the purchaser is by an application under O. 21, R. 93, C. P. Code. 41 I. C. 924 ; 22 C. W. N. 760 ; 39 A. 114, Rel. (Newbould and Panton, JJ.) BIPIN BEHARI GHOSH v. HARI CHARAN GHOSH. 64 I. C. 628 (Cal).

——— O. 21, R. 98—Applicability of—Presidency Small Cause Court—Order of ejectment—Obstruction—Power to remove.

Presidency Small Cause Court can pass an order of ejectment where the obstruction is offered by the judgment-debtor and it has power to remove. (Krishnan, J.) DAROGA MAHOMED GHOUSE SAHIB v. SHEIKH MOHIDEEN SAHIB. 18 L. W. 135 : 73 I. C. 985 : (1923) M. W. N. 882 : A.I.R. 1924 Mad. 74 : 45 M. L. J 66.

——— O. 21, Rr. 98 and 102—Order to remove obstruction is appealable—Acquiescence in obstruction—Effect.

An order under O. 21, R. 98 for removal of obstruction is appealable under S. 47, C. P. Code. Acquiescence in the obstruction to a previous attempt to obtain delivery of possession does not prevent the decree-holder from applying again in execution for possession and to obtain it by the removal of the second obstruction. (Oldfield and Ramesam, JJ.) MEYYAPPA CHETTY v. MEYYAPPAN. 66 I. C. 722 : (1921) M. W. N. 698.

——— O. 21, R. 98 and S. 146—Auction-purchaser—Is a representative of judgment debtor.

A purchaser under a simple money decree is a representative of the judgment-debtor for the purpose of O. 21, R. 98, and proceedings can be taken against him under S. 146 of the Code. (Abdur Rahim and Napier, JJ.) MANICKA GRAMANY v. PARASURAM MUDALI. 12 L. W. 350 : 59 I. C. 894 : (1920) M. W. N. 787.

——— O. 21, R. 98 and S. 47—Decree-holder being auction-purchaser—Order under O. 21, R. 98 is appealable.

When the decree-holder is the auction purchaser and is resisted by the judgment-debtor an order made under R. 98 is appealable as a decree. (Mullick and Ross, JJ.) ASKARAN BAID v. RAGHUNATH PRASAD. 4 Pat. 726 : 6 P. L. T. 351 : (1925) P. H. C. C. 212 : 88 I. C. 104 : A. I. R. 1925 Pat. 478.

——— O. 21, Rr. 100 and 101—Ejectment by landlord—Applicability to proceedings under Tenancy Act.

Rules 100 and 101 of O. 21, C. P. Code, apply to proceedings under the Agra Tenancy Act and a person in possession of the property on his own account or on account of some other person other than the judgment debtor, if he is dispossessed in ejectment proceedings under the Tenancy Act can recover possession under the rules of the C. P. Code. (Fremantle, S M. and Burn, J. M.) DEO SARAN LAL v. THAKUR SRIPAL SINGH. L. R 6 All. 143 (Rev.)

——— O. 21, R. 100—Application under—Dismissed for default—Whether O. 9, R. 13 applies for restoration to file—Proceedings under O. 21, R. 100 whether execution proceedings.

Where an application complaining of dispossession was filed under O. 21, R. 100, which was dismissed for default of non-appearance on the part of the petitioner and was subsequently restored under O. 9, R. 13, C.

C .P. CODE (V OF 1908). O. 21, R. 100.

P. Code, by the Commissioner, Held, on appeal, reversing the orders of the commissioner, (1) that proceedings under O. 21, R. 100 are proceedings in execution of a decree; and (2) that R. 13 of O. 9 does not apply to such proceedings. 41 C. 1, Foll. (Free Mantle, S. M. and Burn, J. M.) PEAREY LAL v. BRIJ MOHAN DAS. L. R. 5 All. 291 (Rev.)

——O. 21, R. 100—Caveat emptor—Mortgagee purchaser.

Where at a sale under a mortgage decree, the mortgagee decree-holder purchased the property and got possession but was subsequently dispossessed of a portion owing to a decision upon a claim under R. 100, when he applied for compensation, held, that there was no warranty of title in Court sales and there was no provision in the C. P. Code for compensation. That the purchaser was mortgagee makes no difference. (Richardson and Cuming, JJ.) ABINASH CHANDRA KAR v. BHUBAN CHANDRA MAITY. 63 I. C. 126 : 25 C. W. N. 756.

——O. 21, R. 100—Order under—Is appealable.

An appeal lies against an order under O. 21, R 100, of the Code, where the question is between parties to the suit or their representatives. (Sadasiva Aiyar and Coutts Trotter, JJ.) RUKMANI AMMAL v. NARASIMHA AIYAR. 14 L. W. 85 : 63 I. C. 730 : (1921) M. W. N. 487 : 41 M. L. J. 54.

——O. 21, R. 100—Right to apply—Joint possession—Person claiming—Locus standi.

Held, following 18 C. W. N. 695 and 3 M. 81, that claimant who has an interest in the land of which possession has been delivered in execution of a decree either as a member of a joint family or otherwise and who is affected by the delivery of possession can claim to be in possession of the property on his own account within the meaning of S. 331 of the C. P. Code of 1882 corresponding to O. 21, R. 100, C. P. Code, 17 B. 718, Not Foll. (Kotval, A. J. C.) MISS A. K. SINGH v. RAM PRASAD. 18 N. L. R. 206 : 68 I. C. 394 : A. I. R. 1923 Nag. 52 (2).

——O. 21, R. 100—Application under—Ordered to be filed—If proper.

An application under O. 21, R. 100 should be registered and disposed of according to law. An order requiring it to be filed is not a proper disposal. Even if the Court meant to dismiss it by using the word "file" a Court has inherent jurisdiction to restore it. (Jwala Prasad, J.) THAKUR PRASAD LAL v. SUKHLAL SINGH. 5 Pat. L. T 567 : 79 I. C. 598 : A. I. R. 1924 Pat 698.

——O. 21, R. 100—Joint possession—Insufficient to maintain application under—Question of benami—If relevant.

A person who is in joint possession along with another can be said to be in possession on his own account and can maintain an application under O. 21, R. 100. To determine the question whether the applicant was in possession in his own right the court is not entitled to go into a question of benami. (Das, J.) RAM KISHUN SINGH v. DAMODAR PRASAD. 5 Pat. L. T. 107 : 75 I. C. 856 : 83 I. C. 599 : A. I. R. 1924 Pat. 506.

——O. 21, Rr. 100 and 101—Scope.

The word "judgment debtor" will include a representative of the judgment debtor, the word "representative" being taken to mean all persons who are bound by the decree. (Adami, J.) MAHARAJA PRATAP v. SUNDERBANS KOER. 3 P. L. T 628 : 71 I.C. 999: 24 Cr. L. J. 279 : A. I. R 1923 Pat. 76.

——O. 21, Rr. 100, 58 and 63—Usufructuary mortgagee—Possession disturbed by purchaser at Court auction—Application under, lies.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 21, R. 103.

A usufructuary mortgagee of certain property applied unde O. 21, R. 58 of the C. P. C. objecting that the property is not liable to attachment and that on being disturbed in possession by purchaser at Court auction he was entitled to bring the present application which is not barred by O. 21, R. 63 of the C. P. Code. (Das and Adami, JJ.) BISWANATH PATRA v. LINGARAJ PATRA. 1 P. 159 : 70 I. C. 306 : A. I. R. 1922 Pat. 408 (1).

——O. 21, R. 100—Scope of.

In an action for rent the landlord obtained a decree against the tenant (purchaser from the original tenant) of a holding and purchased it. The opposite party applied under R. 100 praying that he should be restored to possession of his portion of the holding which he had purchased from the original tenant. The opposite party was therefore restored to possession. The landlord again sued the tenant for the rent of the portion in possession of the opposite party, got an ex parte decree and got it purchased by his servant who was given possession. The opposite party again objected under R. 100. The landlord having obtained a money decree, though the holding had not been split up, the opposite party was restored to possession. Held the petitioner was not a bona fide purchaser for value and the landlord was acting fraudulently in giving up possession to the opposite party. (Adami, J.) KHUB LAL DAS v. PATHO JHA. A. I. R. 1922 Pat. 308 (2).

——O. 21, R. 101 and S. 115—Appeal—Incompetent appeal entertained by Appellate Court—Revision.

Where a lower appellate Court erroneously entertains an appeal against an order under O. 21, R. 101, C. P. Code, the High Court can interfere in revision and set aside the decision of the lower appellate Court. (Macleod, C. J. and Crump, J.) BAI MANI v. RANCHODLAL. 25 Bom. L. R. 147 : 72 I. C. 256 : A. I. R. 1923 Bom. 214.

——O. 21, R. 101—Pendency of suit regarding title—Effect—Suit contesting order, if dispensed with—Lis pendens—Applicability of rule.

Where an order is passed under O. 21, R. 101 against a person and a suit is not filed in one year contesting the validity of the order, it becomes final. The fact that there was a pending suit regarding the title to the property in which he had set up his title does not absolve him from the obligation under S. 103. The doctrine of lis pendens does not apply to an application for declaration of title, as in such a case there is no transfer of any right. (Krishnan and Coleridge, JJ.) KUMARAN UNNI ACHAN v. KUNHIKRISHNAN NAIR. 19 L. W. 394 : (1924) M. W. N. 309 (1) : 75 I. C. 814 : A. I. R. 1924 Mad. 602 (1).

——O. 21, R. 101—A joint auction-purchaser in possession can apply under R. 100.

A person who was the auction-purchaser and who was in joint possession of the property owns the property on his own account and can apply under R. 100. (17 Bom. 718, Diss.; 18 C. W. N. 695, Foll.) (Das, J.) RAM KISHUN SINGH v. DAMODAR PROSAD. 5 P. L. T. 107 : 86 I. C. 599 : 75 I. C. 856 : A. I. R. 1924 Pat. 506.

——O. 21, R. 103—Order under R. 95 is not one under R. 97 and, therefore, R. 103 does not apply—O. 21 Rr. 95 and 97.

Order passed under R. 95 is not an order under R. 99 dismissing an application complaining of resistance or obstruction. If the order is not under that rule then R. 103 will not apply, nor will Art. 11-A of the Limitation Act apply. (Sulaiman, Kanhaiya Lal, and Mukerji, JJ.) SOBHA RAM v. TURSI RAM. 22 A. L. J. 626 : L. R. 5 A. (Civ.) 488 : 83 I. C. 923 : A. I. R. 46 All. 693 ;

C. P CODE (V OF 1908), O. 21, R. 103.

A I. R. 1924 All. 495 (F.B).

——O. 21, R. 103—Suit under—Nature of.

The suit contemplated by O. 21, R. 103 is by a person who is kept out of possession and who claims possession under his auction purchase. It does not concern itself with any other cause of action which such person apart from his character as auction-purchaser may have against the defendant. The rule does not bar suits based on other causes of action. (Suhrawardy and Duval, JJ.) AMBIKA CHARAN BHAKTA v. RAM PROSAD CHATTERJEE.

30 C. W. N. 163 : 90 I. C. 575 : 42 C. L. J. 578.

——O. 21, R. 103—Applies only where order under Rr. 98, 99 or 101 has been passed.

O. 21, R. 103 applies only where an order under one of the Rr. 98, 99 or 101 has been passed. Where the order of the lower Court is not one passed under any of the said rules there is no disability arising under R. 103. (Martineau, J.) HARGO LAL v. CHANDU LAL. 69 I. C. 557 : A. I. R. 1923 Lah. 145.

——O. 21, R. 103 (S. 331)—Order without investigation is not res judicata.

Where the claim put forward by an obstructor was not treated as a suit and no issues were framed nor evidence taken, but the matter was treated as an interlocutory proceeding, the decision could not be res judicata in any subsequent proceeding. 9 B.L.R. 936, Foll. (Schwabe, C. J. and Wallace, J.) KOONAM VELLI UNNARA v. K. P. KUNHI RAMAN.

17 L. W. 322 : 32 M L. T. 146 : 72 I. C. 582 : A. I. R. 1923 Mad 514 : 44 M. L. J. 443.

——O. 21, R. 103 and S. 47—Difference.

O. 21, R. 103 of the Code only applies to cases where strangers to the decree are involved, while, S 47 governs cases where the persons concerned are parties to the suit or their representatives. (Sadasiva Aiyar and Coutts-Trotter, JJ.) RUKMANI AMMAL v. NARASIMHA AIYAR. 14 L. W. 85 : 63 I. C. 730 : (1921) M. W. N. 487 : 41 M. L. J. 54.

——O. 21, R. 103—Suit to establish right to the present possession of the property—Scope of.

A suit under O. 21, R. 103 is not only concerned with the question of possession at the date of the summary order under R. 98, or R. 99, but also with the right to possession. An unsuccessful claimant suing under R. 103 will be entitled ordinarily to succeed on his showing the fact of possession on the date of order if the decree holder fails to prove a subsisting title in him. A decree-holder may establish his right to the present possession by showing his subsisting title to the property without proving actual possession at the date of the summary order. The scope of the suit is the same whether the summary order was passed under Rr. 98 and 99 or 101. (Wallis, C. J. and Seshagiri Aiyar, J.) THENNUTTIL KALLINGAL UNNI MOHIDIN v. THENNUTTIL KALLINGAL UNNI MOHIDIN'S SON POCKER. 44 Mad. 227 : 28 M. L. T. 342 : 12 L. W. 598 : 60 I. C. 109 : (1920) M. W. N. 698 : 39 M. L. J. 626.

——O. 22, Rr. 1, 2 and 3—Legal representative—Right of, to continue suit or appeal—Abatement.

When a party to a suit dies, a legal representative is appointed merely in order that the suit might proceed and a decision be arrived at. It is the original party's rights and disabilities that have to be considered and the mere fact that the legal representative could not in his individual capacity have brought a suit for the relief claimed does not render the pending suit liable to dismissal as having abated. (Broadway and Zafar Ali, JJ.) GULLI v. SAWAN. 4 Lah. 72 : 74 I. C. 146 : 5 Lah. L. J. 482 : A. I. R. 1924 Lah. 45.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 22, R. 1.

——O. 22, R. 1—Malicious prosecution—Claim to recover incidental expenses for defending the prosecution does not survive.

In a suit for damages for malicious prosecution, the plaintiff, in addition to general damages, claimed also special damages under two heads: (1) the vakil's fees; and (2) travelling and other incidental expenses for securing the attendance of witnesses in defending the prosecution launched against him. The plaintiff died during the pendency of the suit: Held, that the cause of action was the tortious act of the defendant and the incurring of the expenses merely go to swell the damages and therefore the claim thereto did not survive to the executor or legal representative. (Coutts-Trotter, C. J, and Visvanatha Sastri, J.) PALANIAPPA CHETTIAR v. RAJU RAJESWARA SETHUPATHI.

22 L. W. 858 : A. I. R. 1926 Mad. 243 : 50 M. L. J. 34

——O. 22, R. 1—Suit for removal of trustee for breach and framing of scheme—Defendant dying pending suit—Suit as regards scheme does not abate—Civ. Pro. Code, S. 92.

In a suit under S. 92, Civ. Pro Code, for removal of the defendant-Pandara Sannadhi and framing a scheme, the death of the defendant pending the suit does not cause the whole suit to abate. In order to justify a suit for a scheme under S. 92, it is necessary for the plaintiffs to allege a breach of trust and a prayer for a scheme is therefore not ancillary to a prayer for the removal of the trustee and the cause of action survives against the representative of the deceased. (Phillips and Krishnan, JJ.) ARUMUGA THAMBIRAN v. NAMASIVAYA PANDARA SANNADHI.

48 Mad. 688 : 22 L. W. 130 : (1925) M. W. N. 569 : A I. R. 1926 Mad. 162 : 49 M. L. J. 324.

——O. 22, R. 1—Death of one of the plffs. -Malabar Tarwad—Family karar—Rights of management transferred to anandravan—Suit by Karnavan and some other members complaining of mismanagement by anandravan—Karnavan dying and defendant becoming Karnavan—Other plaintiffs can continue suit—Malabar Law.

Under an agreement between members of a Malabar tarwad the karnavan for the time being was to forego certain rights of his as manager and the management of the tarwad property was entrusted partly to an anandravan of the tarwad and partly to another man. The karnavan with some other members of the tarwad filed suit against one anandravan complaining of his mis-management. The karnavan died during suit and the defendant became the karnavan. Held that the defendant was bound by agreement, that the cause of action survived and that the other members who had joined as plaintiffs had right to continue the suit. (Phillips and Odgers, JJ.) SANKARAN v. V. K. MANAKKAL SREEDHAN. A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 894 : 90 I. C. 346 : 48 M. L. J. 691.

——O. 22, R. 1—Guardianship—Death of appellant pending appeal against order appointing a guardian - Right of legal representative to continue the appeal—Appointment of guardian by reference to arbitration—Legality of.

Against an order of Court appointing a particular person as guardian of a minor, the minor's paternal uncle who opposed the appointment in the lower Court, preferred an appeal On the death of the appellant pending the appeal, his son sought to continue the appeal. Objection was taken that the right to sue did not survive and the appeal abated. Held, that the appeal did not abate and could be prosecuted by the son of the deceased appellant. 23 B. 719 Dist. In proceedings for the appointment of a guardian for a minor the Court appointed as guardian a person selected by certain arbitrators chosen by the parties without arriving at any independent conclusion as to his fitness for the appointment. Held, that the order was unsustainable. The matter was not of private interest between the parties and could not be settled by a reference to arbitration. 30 A. 137 Foll. (Krishnan and Waller, JJ.) SAMI CHETTI v. ADAIKKALAM CHETTI. 47 Mad. 459 : 34 M. L. T. (H. C.) 15 : (1924) M. W. N. 222 : 84 I. C. 613 : A. I. R. 1924 Mad. 484. 46 M. L. J. 179 :

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 22, R 1.

———0. 22, R 1--Suit for partition by joint tenant.

Defendant co-tenant being dead after preliminary decree, his personal legal representative could be brought on record though plaintiff alleges his right to whole by survivorship but plaintiff cannot get whole property in the same suit. (Oldfield and Devadoss, JJ.) LAKSHMI AMMAL v. ALAMELU AMMAL. 18 L. W. 874 : (1923) M. W N. 839 : 79 I. C. 325: A. I. R. 1924 Mad. 309 : 45 M. L. J. 811.

———0. 22, R. 1—Legal representatives—Application to bring on record—Delay—Sufficient case.

Where an application is made to excuse delay for not bringing the legal representative in time the Court should consider whether the ignorance of the death was justified and affords sufficient cause for the belated application. (Wallace, J.) K. GOPALASWAMI AIYAR v. O. S. RAMCHANDRA AYYAR. 32 M.L.T. 293 : (1923) M. W. N. 159 : A.I.R. 1923 Mad. 503 : 44 M. L. J. 409.

———0. 22, Rr. 1 and 4—Final decree without bringing legal representatives on record—Election.

After a preliminary decree in a mortgage suit fourth respondent died in April, 1912. The final decree was passed without bringing his legal representative on record in January 1913. Fifth Respondent as the legal representative was brought on record in 1916 when an application was made for transfer of the decree and a notice was served on him but he did not appear. The decree was transferred and certain properties were brought for sale in execution. The fifth respondent instituted a suit. Held the decree against the deceased was a nullity and that was not a matter which could have been gone into in execution. The present plaintiff was perfectly within his right in bringing the suit. (Ayling and Odgers, JJ.) SAMI MUDALIAR v. MUTHIAH CHETTI alias VEERAPPA CHETTY. 16 L. W. 314 : (1922) M. W. N. 597 : A. I. R. 1923 Mad. 212 : 43 M. L. J 293.

——— 0. 22, R. 1—Judgment-debtor dead—Legal representatives when to be brought on record.

A decree-holder is bound to implead the representatives of his deceased judgment-debtor only when it necessitates execution. (Oldfield and Ramesam, JJ.) ANDAL AMMAL v. VIJIA NAIDU. 14 L. W. 632.

———0. 22, R. 1—Suit for malicious prosecution—Appeal—Abatement.

An appeal by a person to whom damages are awarded in a suit for malicious prosecution, on the ground that the damages are insufficient, abates on the death of such person. (Wallis, C. J. and Napier, J.) MURUGAPPA CHETTIAR v. PONNUSWAMI PILLAI. 44 Mad. 828 : 13 L. W. 705 : 62 I. C. 757 : (1921) M. W. N. 438 : 41 M. L. J. 304.

———0. 22, R. 1—Suit for malicious prosecution—Death of defendant.

Where the deft. in a suit for malicious prosecution dies more than a year after the prosecution and before judgment, the right to sue does not survive so as to prevent the abatement of suit. (Ayling, Coutts-Trotter and Kumaraswami Sastri, JJ.) RUSTOMJI DORABJI

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 22, R. 2.

v. NURSE. 44 Mad. 357 : (1921) M W. N. 121 : 62 I. C. 260 :29 M. L. T. 121 : 14 L. W. 200 (F. B.) : 40 M. L. J. 173.

———0. 22, R. 1—Appeal abating the right to costs also abates.

If an action fails, what is incidental fails also. If an appeal abates as regards an injunction sought for, it abates as regards the costs incurred by the appellant as a consequence of the dismissal of his suit. 34 M. 78 Ref. (Robinson, C. J. and May Oung, J.) D. L. SAKLAT v. BELLA. 2 Rang. 91 : 3 Bur. L. J. 30 : 80 I. C. 744 : A. I. R. 1924 Rang. 217.

———0. 22, R . 1—Malicious prosecution—Suit for damages—Death of defendant.

A suit for damages for malicious prosecution and obstruction of a right of way abates on the death of the defendant in the absence of any allegation that the estate of the wrong-doer was benefited thereby. 13 B. 677 ; 34 I. C, 249 ; 9 Bur. L. T. 38. (Saunders, J. C.) MA SHWE THIT v. MAUNG PO AUNG. (1921) 4 U.B.R. 73 : 65 I. C. 66 : A.I.R 1922 U. B. 7.

———0, 22, R. 2 and 0. 41, R. 4—Several appellants—Death of one—Right to appeal surviving to others—Legal representatives not brought on record within three months—Appeal, if abates.

Where there are more appellants than one and one of them dies, and the right to appeal survives to the other appellants, the appeal does not abate even if the legal representative of the deceased appellant are not brought on the record within three months. (1922 R. C 295 Distinguished.) (Burn, J. M. and Fremantle, S, M.) BENI v. SRI THAKURJI MAHARAJ. L. R. 6 A. 234.

———0. 22, Rr. 2 and 9—Appeal decreed in ignorance of appellants' death—Decree is nullity—Only Court decreeing the appeal can deal with application under R. 9.

Where appellant died but the appeal was decreed in ignorance of his death, it was held in second appeal that the decree was a nullity and the case was remanded to the Court decreeing the appeal to deal with an application for setting aside abatement and bringing his heirs on record. (Marten and Fawcett, JJ.) AMARSANGJI INDRASANGJI v. DESAI UMED. 27 Bom. L. R. 91 : 86 I. C. 31 : A. I. R. 1925 Bom. 290.

———0. 22, R. 2—Death of defendant—If one of several heirs can come on record and represent deceased.

If a defendant dies, it is sufficient if the plaintiff puts one of his heirs on record as his legal representative who will then represent the estate for the purpose of the suit. The other heirs can come in if they wish to be represented. 26 Mad. 230, Foll. (Macleod, C.J. and Shah, J.) JEHRABI SADULLA KHAN v. BISMILLABI SADRUDDIN. 26 Bom. L. R. 375 : 80 I.C. 758 : A. I. R. 1924 Bom. 420.

———0. 22, Rr. 2 and 3—Suit against dead man—Addition of legal representatives is a nullity.

A suit against a dead man is a nullity, the consequence of which is that any order made in the suit to allow amendment of the plaint by substituting the legal representative of the deceased as defendant and allowing the suit to proceed against him is a nullity. It is immaterial that the suit was brought bona fide and in ignorance of the death of such person. 31 M. 86. Ref. (Mulla, J.) RAMPRATAB BRIJ MOHANDAS v. GAURISHANKER. 25 Bom, L. R. 7 : 85 I. C. 464 : A. I. R. 1924 Bom. 109.

———0. 22, R. 2—Death of one respondent—Legal representative not brought on record—Abatement.

At the instance of a plaintiff in a suit a lease in favour of a tenant by certain co-owners was declared not binding on him but he was not given Khas possession. During the pendency of the appeal relating to Khas possession, one of the co-owner respondents died and his legal representative was not brought on record. Held, there was no abatement as the deceased was not interested in the result of the appeal. (Greaves and Mukerji, JJ.) SUBASHINI DASI v. HABU GHOSH. 89 I. C. 100.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 22, R. 2.

———O. 22, R. 2—Appeal—Several respondents—Death of some—Declaratory suit—No abatement.

Where in an appeal relating to a declaration of appellant's right to an exclusive fishery, some of the respondents died and their legal representatives were not brought on record, the appeal does not abate. (Rankin and Ghose, JJ.) MIDNAPORE ZEMINDARY CO. LTD. v. TRILOKYA NATH HALDAR.
51 C. 110 : 81 I. C. 501 : 40 C. L. J. 238 : A. I. R. 1924 Cal. 562.

———O. 22, Rr. 2 and 11—Appeal—Several respondents—Abatement in respect of one—Effect.

If an appeal against one of several respondents abates, it abates against all, if their several interests, cannot be discriminated. (Walmsley and Greaves, JJ.) GOL ASMATER KHATUN v. HABIBULLA.
64 I. C. 49 (Cal.)

———O. 22, Rr. 2, and 3—Appeal—Death of one respondent—Legal representative not brought on record—Order in appeal is a nullity.

Where in an appeal against an order in execution proceedings, one of the judgment-debtors died and his legal representatives were not brought on the record, the order on appeal is a nullity so far as the deceased judgment-debtor was concerned and did not bind his legal representatives (Broadway and Wilberforce, JJ.) MEHTA BARKAT RAI v. MT. GHULAM FATIMA.
70 I. C. 929 : 5 L. L. J. 1.

———O. 22, R. 2—Second appeal—Legal representative not brought on record—Mistake—Effect of.

Pending an appeal in the lower Appellate Court two of the defts. died. Their legal representatives were brought on the record by that Court but by a mistake the legal representatives were not made respondents in the second appeal. The error was due to a mistake in the judgment on the part of the copying department which did not show the names of the legal representatives although they had long been brought on the record. Held, that there was no abatement of the appeal and even if there were, the mistake being bona fide the delay could be excused. (Wilberforce, J.) KARTAR SINGH v. RALLA. 67 I.C. 306 : 2 L.L.J. 44.

———O. 22, R. 2—Appeal—Death of respondent—Legal representative already party to appeal—No abatement.

Where the heirs of a respondent who died pending appeal, are already parties to the appeal, the appeal will not abate notwithstanding that no fresh application is made to bring them on record as the legal representatives of the deceased. (Abdul Raoof, J.) KARTAR SINGH v. LAL SINGH. 11 P. L. R. 1921 : 59 I. C. 238 : 9 P. W. R. 1921.

———O. 22, Rr. 2 and 5—Death of appellant—Legal representative brought on record—Respondent can object at the hearing.

On the death of an appellant in a pending appeal, a person alleging himself to be the legal representative of the deceased applied to continue the appeal and was brought on record as such without notice to the respondent. At the hearing the respondent objected that the alleged legal representative was not the proper legal representative and that the appeal had abated. Held, that the respondent was entitled to raise the objection at the hearing of the appeal. (Krishnan and Ramesam, JJ.) PALCHUR MAHALAKSHMAMMA v. VEMI REDDI.
32 M. L. T. (H. C.) 44 : 69 I. C. 529 : 17 L. W. 8 : A. I. R. 1923 Mad. 367 : 44 M L. J. 60.

———O. 22, Rr. 2 and 4—Legal representatives already on record—No application necessary.

If the legal representatives of a deceased respondent are already on the record as parties, it is not necessary to make an application for substitution and it is enough to make an entry on the record to that effect. O. 22, R. 4 is not applicable to the case. 32 A. 551 ; 32 A. 563, Foll. (Daniels and Dalal, A. J. Cs.) HAFIZ-UN-NISA v. JAWAHIR SINGH.
66 I. C. 24 : 24 O. C. 374.

———O. 22, Rr. 2 and 4—Defendants jointly and severally liable—Death of one—Legal representatives not on record—Suit does not abate.

A suit does not abate merely because one of the defendants, who are jointly and severally liable to the plaintiff, dies, and his legal representatives are not brought on record. (Jwala Prasad, J.) JWALA PRASAD v. KOPEA MUNDA. 59 I. C. 890 (Pat.)

———O. 22, Rr. 2 and 3—Appeal does not abate if the surviving plaintiffs appear to be the sole legal representatives, though they have not been specifically joined as such.

Where the surviving plaintiffs appear to be the sole legal representatives of a deceased plaintiff, the appeal survives as against them, and it can proceed, even though they have not been specifically joined as the deceased's legal representatives. (Duckworth, J.) MAUNG PO v. MA SHWE MA. 2 Rang. 445 : 84 I. C. 992 : A. I. R. 1925 Rang. 95.

———O. 22, R. 2—Suit by Burmese husband and wife for redemption—Dismissal of suit—Appeal—Death of husband—Right of wife to continue the appeal.

A suit for redemption instituted jointly by a Burmese husband and wife was dismissed and against the decree they filed an appeal. Pending the appeal the husband died and the wife sought to continue the appeal without bringing on record the legal representative of the deceased. Held, that it was competent to the wife to continue the appeal. (Young and Baguley, JJ.) MAUNG BYAUNG v. MG. SHWE BAW.
3 Bur. L. J. 171 : 2 Rang. 486 : A. I. R. 1924 Rang. 376.

———O. 22, R. 2—Appeal.

This rule applies to appeal—C. P. Code, S. 96. (Young and Baguley, JJ.) MAUNG BYAUNG v. MG. SHWE BAW. 2 Rang. 486 : 3 Bur. L. J. 171 : 84 I. C. 170 : A. I. R. 1924 Rang. 376.

———O. 22, R. 2—Suit against several defendants—Liability of each ascertained—Death of some of the defendants—Abatement.

Where the plaintiffs sued the defendants 210 in number, to recover a war-loan bond for Rs. 75,000 or in the alternative for Rs. 75,000 with interest thereon, and plaintiffs' case was that the ticket, which won the second prize in the Burma War Loan Sweepstake, a War Loan Bond for Rs. 75,000, which had issued in the name of the first plaintiff, had been wrongly made over by the Executive Committee of the Sweepstake to the defendants on their false representations that they were purchasers of the ticket in question ; and that the defendants were liable jointly and severally to return the bond to the plaintiffs or to pay the money equivalent with interest to date and that defendants Nos. 1 to 209 had transferred the bond to defendant No. 210. The trial Court dismissed the suit and pending an appeal by the plaintiffs some of the defendants died. Their legal representatives were not brought on record. On a question arising as to whether the appeal had abated, held, that the plaintiffs had a cause of action for the sum sued for against each of the defendants out of the proceeds of the bond which had been distributed and that the death of some of the defendants did not cause the suit to abate. (Pratt and Macgregor, JJ.) MAUNG MU v. MAUNG KAN GYI. 1 R. 618 : 77 I. C. 393 : A. I. R. 1924 Rang. 127.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 22, R. 3.

——O. 22, R. 3—Suit—C. P. Code, S. 92—Death of original plaintiffs.

A suit under this section (S. 92) is prosecuted by individuals not for their own interest but as representing general public, and so it does not abate on the death of the original plffs. (Lord Dunedin.) RAJA ANAND RAO v. RAMDAS DADURAM.
48 Cal. 493 : 13 L. W. 318 : (1921) M. W. N. 24 : 17 N. L. R. 37 : 25 C. W. N. 794 : 30 M. L. T. 194 : 62 I. C. 737 : 48 I. A. 12 (P. C.).

——O. 22, Rr. 3 and 11—Death of plaintiff or appellant—Right of respondent to apply to bring on record the legal representative.

O. 22, R. 3 read with R. 11 does not confine the right to make an application to bring on the record the legal representatives of a deceased plaintiff or appellant to them alone. Where a defendant or respondent is interested in bringing the legal representative on record, it would be open to him to do so. (Mears, C. J. and Mukherji, J.) KEDAR NATH v MT. BISMILLAH BEGAM. 90 I. C. 72 : L. R. 6 A. 614 : A. I. R. 1926 All. 156.

——O. 22, Rr. 3, 4 and 10, S. 141 and O. 9, R. 13—Applicant to set aside ex parte decree dying—No appeal lies from order substituting legal representative.

No appeal lies from an order, bringing a certain person on the record as the legal representative of a deceased party, which was passed on an application to set aside an ex parte decree. (Sulaiman and Daniels JJ.) MOTILAL v. BISHAMBHAR NATH.
23 A. L. J. 442 : 88 I. C. 95 : L.R. 6 A. (Civ.) 361 : A. I. R. 1925 All 431.

——O. 22, R. 3—Decree passed in appeal after death of one of joint plaintiffs—Decree is nullity—No legal representative on record.

Where one of several plaintiffs prefers an appeal in which the others are also interested and a decree is passed in ignorance of the death of one of the joint plaintiffs, the judgment is a nullity. (Rafique and Piggott, JJ.) AMBIKA PRASAD v. JHINAK SINGH.
45 A. 286 : 21 A. L. J. 91 : 71 I. C. 321 : L. R. 4 A. 92 : A. I. R. 1923 All. 211.

——O. 22, R. 3—Death of one of several plaintiffs—Grandson of deceased impleaded as legal representative without objection—Objection on appeal.

One of the plaintiffs in an ejectment suit died. An application was made to bring the deceased's grandson on the record ; though the Court passed no order on the application, the grandson was treated as a party to the suit without any objection being made by the opposite party. Held, that the procedure was irregular but the objection not being one of substance it could not be held in Second Appeal that the Appeal in the lower Court abated. (Fremantle, S. M.) RAJ SINGH v. SITARAM KALWAR. L. R. 5 A. 80 (Rev.).

——O. 22, R. 3—Suit by two partners—One partner dead at the date of decree—Whole suit does not abate.

Where in a suit by two partners, a decree is passed, the decree does not become incapable of execution by the mere fact that one partner was dead at the date of decree. The suit in such a case abates so far as the deceased partner is concerned. (Tudball, J.) SARJU PRASAD v. RAM SARUP. 3 U. P. L. R. (All.) 40 : 60 I. C. 755 : 19 A. L. J. 266.

——O. 22, Rr. 3 and 9—Death of plaintiff—Application of minor son to come on record within 6 months—Act XXVI of 1920—Duty of Court.

Where on the death of the plaintiff, his minor son applied to come on record at the end of six months but meanwhile Act XXVI of 1920 had come into force cutting down the period to 3 months, the application should be treated as one to set aside the abatement and in the interests of the minor the abatement set aside. (Macleod, C J. and Shah, J.) VIJAYASINGH DATTAJIRAO v. SHIVAJIRAO NARAYANRAO.
26 Bom. L. R. 378 : 80 I. C. 761 (1) : A. I. R. 1924 Bom. 416.

——O. 22, Rr. 3 and 9—Abatement of suit—Order setting aside, propriety of.

Where more than three months after the death of a defendant in a suit, the Court brought his legal representatives on record on an application for that purpose, on the ground that the parties were ignorant of the reduction of the time allowed by recent legislation, held, that the delay was properly excused. The omission to set aside the abatement was a formal defect not affecting the merits of the order. (Shah, A. C. J. and Crump, J.) LAKSHMI BAI JAGANNATH JOSHI v. YESWANT VITHAL. 24 Bom. L R. 909 : 47 B. 92 : 75 I. C. 283 : A. I. R. 1922 Bom. 449 (1).

——O. 22, Rr. 3, 4 and 10—Assignee of a party must be substituted as his legal representative upon death.

The death of a plaintiff after the assignment of his interest does not exclude the assignee's rights to be substituted in the suit. Because where there are two devolutions—the death of party and the transfer by him of his interest in the suit—the transferee has the right to be brought on the record in place of the deceased transferor. (Suhrawardy and Duval, JJ.) PRAKASH CHANDRA DAS GUPTA v. SHAMA CHARAN DUTT. 82 I. C. 991 : A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 467.

——O. 22, R. 3—Pro forma defendant.

Pro forma defendant need not be joined in appeal. (M. N. Mukerji, J.) KRISHNA KUMAR DEB v. ATUL CHANDRA GHOSE. 39 C. L. J. 612 : 84 I. C. 79 : A. I. R. 1924 Cal. 998.

——O. 22, R. 3—Partnership—Suit for accounts—Death of partner—Suit cannot proceed.

A suit to take the accounts and wind up the affairs of a partnership cannot proceed in the absence of one of the partners, or in the event of his death pendente lite, in the absence of his legal representatives. 31 Cal. 487, Ref. Where an appeal abated in part in respect of the heirs of a deceased appellant, the result of such abatement may be to make the appeal an imperfectly constituted appeal which the Court cannot proceed to hear. 24 C. W. N. 44, Ref. (Mookerjee and Panton, JJ.) PULIN BEHARI ROY v. MAHENDRA CHANDRA GHOSAL. 67 I. C. 101: 34 C. L. J. 405.

——O. 22, R. 3—Appeal—Death of a defendant—Decree should direct abatement in respect of his interest.

Where during the pendency of an appeal, one of several defendants having separate interests, dies, and his legal representatives are not brought on record, the decree ought to direct the abatement of the appeal in respect of the interest held by the deceased. (Walmsley and Buckland, JJ.) BHAIRAB CHANDRA KOLEY v. KALICHARAN DHARA. 61 I. C. 106 (Cal.).

——O. 22, R. 3 and O. 1, R. 8—O. 22, R. 3 applies to representative suits under O. 1, R. 8.

Order 22, R. 3 of the C. P. Code is not rendered inapplicable by the fact that the suit is brought on behalf of the whole proprietary body of the village. (Martineau and Zafar Ali, JJ.) RAM GOPAL v. HAR KISHEN. 7 L. L. J. 517 : 88 I. C. 478 : A. I. R. 1925 Lah. 598.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 22, R. 3.

——0. 22, Rr. 3 and 4 and O. 1, R. 8—C.P. Code,

An order under, R. 8 of O. 1 will not relieve the appellants from the necessity of impleading legal representatives of deceased respondents. (Martineau and Moti Sagar, JJ.) WALI MOHAMMAD v. MAHLU. 5 Lah. 429 : 6 L. L. J. 360 : A. I. R. 1925 Lah. 124.

——0. 22, R. 3—Abatement—Application for legal representative—Order an, is appealable.

Where a party to a suit dies and more than 3 months after an application is made to bring on record his legal representative, the application is one under O.22, R. 9 (2) and the order thereon is appealable under O. 43, R. 1 (k). (Moti Sagar, J.) BADLU v. MT. NARAINI. 74 I. C. 17 : A. I. R. 1924 Lah. 424.

——0. 22, R. 3—Court exercising its discretion to extend time—Appellate Court will not interfere.

Where in its discretion a Court has substituted the representative of deceased plaintiff by extending the time for substitution, the appellate Court will not interfere with the discretion so exercised. (Broadway and Abdul Qadir, JJ.) GOPI MAL v. PANNA LAL. A. I. R. 1924 Lah. 339.

——0. 22, R. 3—Pro-forma defendant's death—No abatement.

Where the other proprietors who were joined as defendants were merely formal defendants and were not interested in the result of the suit brought by the plaintiffs and it was found that the plaintiffs were not suing in a representative capacity but they were suing on their own interest, held, the death of one of the proprietors who was not a necessary party to the suit is of no consequence and cannot result in the abatement of the suit either in part or in its entirety. (Moti Sagar, J.) LEKHA v. BHANI. A. I. R. 1923 Lah. 647.

——0.22, R. 3—Appeal against some of the defendants only—Effect.

Where the suit was originally filed against a number of co-promisors some of whom died, an appeal against the surviving defendant only does not fail as a whole but the right to prosecute it survives as against him, for a contract entered upon by one or more promisors can be enforced against all or any of them. (Le Rossignol and Abdul Qadir, JJ.) THE FIRM OF GURUDAS RAMKOTURAM v. BHAGWAN DAS. 68 I. C. 815 : A. I. R. 1922 Lah. 182.

——0. 22, Rr. 3, and 4—Scheme suit—Death of defendant—Cause of action if survives re the framing of a scheme.

Pending a suit under S. 92, C. P. Code, for the removal of the deft. from the office of Pandara Sannadhi and for the framing of a scheme in relation to the Mutt, the deft. died. The question arose whether the suit abated even with reference to the second relief prayed for, namely, the framing of the scheme. Held, it did not and that the cause of action survived even against the representative of the deceased deft. for the purpose of framing a scheme. (Phillips and Krishnan, JJ.) ARUMUGA THAMBIRAN v. NAMASIVAYA PANDARASANNADHI. 48 Mad. 688 : (1925) M. W. N. 69 : 22 L. W. 130 : 49 M. L. J. 324.

——0. 22, R. 3—Necessary party.

Where one of the appellants (defendants) is dead, the appeal will not abate though his representative is not brought on record, if the remaining appellants are independently entitled to the reliefs sought. (Spencer, O.C.J.) NAMINENI CHENGAMMA NAIDU v. N. GANGULU NAIDU. 20 L. W. 402 : (1924) M. W. N. 789 : 82 I. C. 420 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 235.

——0. 22, R. 3 and O. 34, R. 2—Mortgage suit—Death of plaintiff after preliminary decree—Abatement—Application for final decree—Limitation.

Where after the passing of the preliminary decree in a mortgage suit the plaintiff dies and his legal representative is not brought on record within the time prescribed by law, the suit abates, and the legal representative cannot obtain a final decree without setting aside the abatement. 39 M. 488 ; 28 M. L. J. 491, Ref. 42 M. L. J. 301, Foll. (Spencer and Odgers, JJ.) NATESA PILLAI v. KANNAMMAL ANNI. 19 L. W. 173 : 78 I. C. 64 : (1924) M. W. N. 216 : A. I. R. 1924 Mad. 786 : 46 M. L. J. 181.

——0. 22, Rr. 3 and 10—Legal representative—Religious endowment—Suit by trustee not properly appointed—Death of plaintiff—Right of successor to continue.

A suit brought on behalf of a mutt by a trustee not properly appointed can be continued by a properly appointed successor on whom the representation of the institution has devolved. O. 22, R. 10, and not O. 22, R. 3 applies to such a case. An application for being brought on record as the legal representative of a deceased party though made under a wrong rule, may be ordered under the proper rule, if any, applicable to the case. (Waller, J.) RATNAM PILLAI v. NATARAJA DESIKAR. 19 L W. 367 : 34 M. L. T. 31 : (1924) M. W. N. 361 : A. I. R. 1924 Mad. 615 : 46 M. L. J. 341.

——0. 22, R. 3—Applicability—Mortgage suit—Death of plaintiff after preliminary decree—Bequest of interest to B—Application by B to be brought on record—Limitation.

A died on 28-4-16 after obtaining a preliminary decree, dated 30—3—16 obtained on a mortgage. The period of redemption expired on 30-7-16. B who claimed to succeed to A's interests under a will put in petition on 26-5-19 to be brought on record and to be given a final decree. Held, the suit had abated under O. 22, R. 3. The right to sue in O. 22, R. 3 includes in the case of mortgage suits the right to obtain a final decree after the passing of a preliminary decree. (Ayling and Venkatasubba Rao, JJ.) DAKOJU SUBBARAYADU v. MUSTI RAMADASU. 45 M. 872 : 15 L. W. 309 : (1922) M. W. N. 375 : 68 I. C. 942 : 30 M. L. T. 202 : A. I. R. 1923 Mad. 237 (1) : 42 M. L. J. 301.

——0. 22, R. 3—Court's discretion to allow amendments under.

In a case where an institution is represented at different stages of the suit by different representatives and not under the other, the provision of law applicable is O. 22, R. 3 and not O. 22, R. 10 of the C. P. Code and the Courts have in such a case a wider discretion to allow amendments and new pleas to avoid multiplicity of suits provided the character of the suit is not changed and the opposite side is not prejudiced and the trial unembarrassed. (Krishnan, J.) SUNDARESAM CHETTIAR v. VISWANATH PANDARASANNADHI. 16 L. W. 83 : 45 Mad. 708 : 31 M.L. T. 66 : (1922) M.W. N. 444 : 72 I.C. 103 : A. I. R. 1922 Mad. 402 : 43 M. L. J. 147.

——0. 22, Rr. 3, 10—Co-widows—Will authorising adoption—Suit by one widow for partition—Death of—Alleged adopted son, if can claim to be impleaded.

The will of a Hindu authorised his two widows to adopt a son and made provisions for the management of the properties. Sometime later one of them alleging that no adoption had taken place sued the other widow and another heir for a specific share being given to her for convenience of enjoyment. The defendant co-widow died pending suit and then the plaintiff died and thereupon a person alleging himself to have been validly adopted claimed to be impleaded as legal representative of the plaintiff. Held, he could succeed neither under O. 22, R. 3 nor under R. 10, as the suit was only in her capacity as widow and not representing the estate. (Findlay, O.J C. and Wadegaonkar, A.J. C.) AMRITRAO v. SONABAI. 89 I. C. 605 : A. I. R. 1925 Nag. 423.

——0. 22, R. 3—Abatement of appeal—Limitation Act, Art. 176—C. P. Code Amending Act XXVI of 1920—Effect of.

The provisions of Act XXVI of 1920 curtailing period of limitation for bringing on record the legal representative of a deceased appellant to three months from the date of his death apply also to cases where the death has taken place even before the passing of the Amending Act. (Kotwal, A. J. C.) NIMBA v. JANKI. 71 I. C. 176 : A. I. R. 1923 Nag. 166.

——0. 22, R. 3—Legal representative—Who is.

The words 'legal representative' cannot be construed to mean all legal representatives. They must include any legal representative to whom the right to sue survives. (Macnair, A. J. C.) NARAYAN v. AMRITA. 18 N. L. R. 21 : 65 I. C. 542 : A. I. R. 1923 Nag. 101 (2).

——0. 22, R. 3—Order under O. 22, R. 3 is not appealable.

An order under O. 22, R. 3 is not open to appeal. O 43, R. 1 (k), Civil Procedure Code, allows an appeal from an order under R. 9, O. 22, but no appeal is allowed against an order under R. 3. (Daniels, A. J. C.) TRILOCHAN PRASAD SINGH v. BHAGWATI. 9 O. & A.L.R. 70: 73 I.C. 230: A.I.R. 1924 Oudh. 114.

——0. 22, R. 3—Names substituted in appeal from interlocutory order stand for all stages of suit.

The introduction of the plaintiff or a defendant, even if it be made in appeal from a mere interlocutory order, is an introduction for all stages of the suit, for, as a general rule, the introduction of a plaintiff or a defendant for one stage of a suit is an introduction for all stages. (Adami and Bucknill, JJ.) GOBIND SAHU v. ZAFAR KARIM. 78 I. C. 436 : A. I. R. 1925 Pat. 145 (1).

——0. 22, R. 3—Suit for partition—Issue as to Court-fee—Defence of impartibility — Decision on issue as to Court-fee—Transfer pending suit—Rights of transferee.

In a suit for partition by an younger brother against his elder brother, the defence was that the property was impartible. An issue was raised as to the sufficiency of the Court-fee and the Subordinate Judge before whom this suit originally came, decided this issue in favour of the plaintiffs holding that the suit was one for partition only. No appeal was made against this order. In the meantime the elder brother died and his sons were substituted in his place as his representatives. The plaintiffs, moreover, sold a portion of the property to other persons who were added as plaintiffs. The suit then came before another Sub ordinate Judge who took up the question as to the sufficiency of the Court-fee again and decided that the plaintiff was bound to pay an ad valorem Court-fee. Held, that the order of the prior Subordinate Judge was a judgment and could not be altered save as provided by S. 152 or on review. S 151, C.P. Code cannot confer jurisdiction on the Court to do what is prohibited by positive law. S. 152, C. P. Code, refers merely to clerical or arithmetical mistakes and was of no assistance in the case. The devolution of interest pending the suit could make no difference in the court-fee to be paid. The plaintiffs came in the interest of their vendor, the original plaintiff, and their position was identical with his. (Das and Ross, JJ.) HARIHAR PRASAD NARAYAN DEO v. MAHESHWARI PRASAD NARAYAN DEO. 3 Pat. 654 : 82 I. C. 813 : A. I. R. 1925 Pat. 47.

——0. 22, R. 3—Delay in bringing on record legal representative when to be excused.

Where the respondent a purdanashin lady died and the appellant came to know of it only when the process server reported her death, it was a fit case for excusing the delay in bringing on record the legal representative. (Das and Macpherson, JJ.) NATHSAHAI v. IMAM REZA. 74 I.C. 912 : A.I.R. 1924 Pat. 319 (2).

——0 22, Rr. 3 and 12—No applicability to execution proceedings.

A proceeding for ascertainment of mesne profits under a decree under the Code of 1882 is one in execution and not in the suit and the provisions of O. 22, R. 3 of the Code of 1908 is inapplicable to such a proceeding under R. 12 of the same order. (Das and Ross, JJ.) KEDAR NATH GOENKA v. TARINI PRASAD SINGH. 2 P. L. T. 245 : 61 I. C. 4 : 1921 P. H. C. C. 158.

——0. 22, R. 3 (2)—Abatement takes place ipso facto if representative is not impleaded in time.

There is no question of demanding or not demanding an abatement, as an abatement takes place ipso facto if an application for impleading the representative of the deceased party is not made within time. (Martineau and Zafar Ali, JJ.) RAM GOPAL v. HAR KISHEN. 7 L. L. J. 517 : 88 I. C. 478 (1) : 26 Punj. L. R. 732 : A. I. R. 1925 Lah. 598.

——0. 22, R. 4.

Applicability.
Death after Preliminary decree.
Decree against dead person.
Distinct Interests.
Joint interest or liability.
Limitation.
Necessary party.
Omission of some legal representatives.
Pleas open to legal representative.
Pro-forma party.
Redemption suit.
Representative suit.
Suit aganist dead person.
Tort.
Miscellaneous.

Applicability.

——0. 22, R. 4—Applicability—Failure to object does not alter the fact of abatement.

Where on a party's death, no application is put in to bring in his legal representatives within the time allowed by law, the appeal abates and no failure by the persons concerned to object to action taken on an application presented after expiry of such time would alter the fact of abatement. (Campbell, J.) WAHID BAKHSH v. LALTA PERSHAD. 73 I. C. 387 : A. I. R. 1924 Lah. 316.

——0. 22, Rr. 4 and 11—Applicability—One of the legal representatives already on record at the date of death—Application for substitution is not dispensed with.

The fact that one of the legal representatives of the deceased, is already on the record does not relieve the appellant or the other heirs of the deceased from making an application for substitution as legal representatives of the deceased in terms of Rule 4 of Order 22. The legal representative already on record is respondent in his own capacity. If the appellant wants him to be placed on the record as legal representative of the deceased, a proper application should be made. Therefore, the appeal will abate if the application for substitution is filed more than 90 days after the death of the deceased respondent. 10 Bom. 220: 13 I. C. 313: 13 I.C. 165, Dist. (Jwala Prasad and Kulwant Sahay, JJ.) LILO SONAR v. JHAGRU SAHU.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 22, R. 4—Applicability.

3 P. L. R. 97: 6 P. L. T. 313: 3 Pat. 853: A. I. R. 1925 Pat. 123.

———O. 22, R. 4—Applicability—Death intestate of defendant pending suit—Defendant governed by Succession Act--No administrator appointed—Plaintiff must get administrator appointed first.

In the case of a party to whom the Succession Act applies, his legal representative within R. 4 is either his executor or administrator. If therefore such a party dies pending a suit and no representation is taken out for his estate, the opposite party must move the Court to have an administrator appointed, as no right to the property of an intestate's estate can be established in a Court unless letters of administration have been first granted. (Godfrey, J.) BARNETT BROS. LTD. v. E. FOWLE. 3 Bur. L. J. 347: 3 Rang. 46: 85 I. C. 325: A. I. R. 1925 Rang. 186.

———O. 22, R. 4—Applicability—Mortgage suits—Death of one defendant after preliminary but before final decree—Abatement—Extent of.

The provisions of O. 22 applies to a case where one of the mortgagors in a mortgage suit dies after the preliminary decree but before the final decree. Unless the legal representatives of the deceased mortgagor are impleaded there is an abatement of the suit in respect of his interest, but it does not abate as against the other defendants. (Bilaram, A. J. C.) TULSIDAS KESHOWDAS v. RAMZAN ABDULLA. 89 I. C. 238.

Death after preliminary decree.

———O. 22, R. 4—Death after preliminary decree—Applicability—Legal representatives not brought on record—Suit abates.

A preliminary decree does not put an end to a suit which remains pending till the final decree is passed and therefore R. 4 applies where a defendent dies after the passing of a preliminary decree. Where no application is made under O. 22, R. 4 (1) for the substitution of the legal representative of the deceased within the specified time following his death, the suit abates as against him. The heirs of the deceased cannot apply for the passing of a final decree while the order of abatement remains in force. 30 A. 551, Ref. (Stuart and Sulaiman, JJ.) JAGAR NATH UMAR v. RAM KARAN SINGH. 20 A. L. J. 575: L. R. 3 A. 460: 68 I. C. 251: 4 U. P. L. R. (All.) 182: A. I. R. 1922 All. 396.

———O. 22, R. 4—Death after preliminary decree—Section applies to proceedings following preliminary decree in mortgage suit.

All proceedings in a mortgage suit subsequent to the preliminary decree but previous to the final decree are proceedings in a pending suit and an application made therein is not one for execution. Whether therefore the sole judgment-debtor dies before the final decree and the decree-holder fails to apply within six months of death to have the legal representative brought on record, the suit abates under O. 22, R. 4 of the C. P. Code, (Newbould and Buckland, JJ.) BHUTNATH v. TARA CHAND. 33 C. L. J. 115: 59 I. C. 177: 25 C. W. N. 595.

———O. 22, Rr. 4 and 10—Death after preliminary decree—Applicability—Proceedings before final decree.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 22, R. 4—Distinct Interest

Death of judgment-debtor after the preliminary decree but before passing of final decree cannot have the effect against the substitution of legal representative under O. 22, R. 10, C.P. Code, applicable. (Hallifax, A. J. C.) TULARAM v. TUKARAM.
64 I. C. 307: 17 N. L. R. 81.

Decree against dead person.

———O. 22, R. 4—Decree against dead person—Where a co-plaintiff is dead before judgment his heirs need not be substituted in appeal.

Where a co-decree-holder had died before the decision of the lower Appellate Court and his legal representatives had not been brought on the record, held, no decree could have been passed qua his share in the land in dispute therefore he or his heirs need not have been impleaded as respondents to the second appeal. (Abdul Raoof and Moti Sagar, JJ.) AMIR KHAN v. HOWNA RAM. 76 I. C. 6: A. I. R. 1925 Lah. 37.

———O. 22, R. 4—Decree against dead person—Death of one party before close of hearing of arbitration—Subsequent award is not binding on the representatives if they never agreed to the submission—Arbitration.

In a submission to arbitration if before the death of a party the hearing of the case has been completed and nothing remains to be done except the delivery of the award, and it is also shown that the intention of the parties was that not merely themselves but the legal representatives should also be bound by the decision of the arbitrator, the award delivered after the death of the party would be binding upon his representatives-in-interest. But where the hearing had not terminated and a great deal remained to be done before the arbitrator could come to a final decision, the representatives of a deceased party who had never agreed to the submission could not be bound by the award. (Moti Sagar, J.) TEGHA v. RAM SINGH.
A. I. R. 1924 Lah. 725.

———O. 22, R. 4—Decree against dead person is a nullity—Retrial ordered.

It is illegal for the Court to continue to hear a suit against a dead person, whose death has bean brought to its notice and pass a decree against that person. (Abdul Raoof and Campbell, JJ.) DEBI PRASAD v. MT. BHAGO. 5 L. L. J. 187: 74 I. C. 682: A. I. R. 1924 Lah. 33.

Distinct Interest.

———O. 22, Rr. 4, (3) and 9 and S. 107 (2)—Distinct interests—Appeal abating against one respondent does not necessarily abate against the other, though both may be tenants-in-common.

During the pendency of a suit for the recovery of possession of certain land by an uncle and nephew as tenants-in-common the nephew died. Thereupon his widow was substituted as his legal representative. The plaintiffs won the suit During the pendency of the appeal by the defendant the widow died in November, 1919. Till March 1921 no steps were taken and in that month the defendants applied to bring on record the nephew's sister as his legal representative. Held, that as the appellants had not applied under O 22, R. 9, Sub-Rule 2 to set aside the abatement, the appeal had abated as regards the nephew and could not be revised, but it did not necessarily follow from this that the appeal abated as against the uncle also. 22 Bom. 718. Foll. (Shah, A. C. J. and Fawcett, J.) SHANKERBHAI MANORBHAI v. MOTILAL RAMDAS SHAHA. 26 Bom. L. R. 1217:

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 22, R. 4—Distinct Interest.

49 Bom. 118 : A. I. R. 1925 Bom. 122.

——O. 22, R. 4—Distinct interests—Death of one defendant—No joint interest with others—No abatement—Legal representative not brought on record.

If on the death of one of the defendants his legal representatives are not brought on record the question whether the suit abates as a whole depends upon whether the suit can proceed in the absence of the legal representatives of the deceased defendant. Where the lands in dispute are separately held by some of the defendants and the deceased defendant had no joint interest in those plots of land, the suit does not abate. (Chatterjee and Fearson, JJ.) SARAT KAMINI DASI v. CHAITANYA CHANDRA PROKORAJ.

67 I. C. 290 : A. I. R. 1923 Cal. 289.

——O. 22, R. 4—Distinct interests—Suit to contest alienation by widow—One alienee dying during appeal—Representatives not brought on record in time—Whole suit does not abate.

Where, pending an appeal from a suit by an alleged adopted son, against the adoptive father's widow and her alienees for setting aside alienation, one of the defendants-respondents died and his legal representatives were not brought on record in time, held, that the appeal abated only as regard the deceased defendant. 23 P. R. 1917 Foll. (Abdul Raoof and Jai Lal, JJ.) RAGHBIR SARAN v. MT. SOHAN DEVI. 6 Lah 233 : 86 I. C. 1 : 7 L. L. J. 149 : A. I. R. 1925 Lah. 381.

——O. 22, R. 4—Distinct interests—Death of one plaintiff-respondent—No joint interest—Appeal does not abate against other respondents.

Where the plffs. are not joint tenants of the property in suit but each one has his own separate share in it and consequently any one of them might have maintained the suit against the defendant in respect of his own share, held, the defendant may maintain an appeal against the surviving respondents plaintiffs. (Le Rossignol and Zafar Ali, JJ.) LAJJA RAM v. SHAMBU NATH. 5 Lah. L. J. 14 : A. I. R. 1923 Lah. 252.

——O. 22, R. 4—Distinct interests—Mortgage by several co-parceners—One co-parcener dying during pendency of suit—Representatives nat joined—Suit abates only as regards his share.

Where a mortgage was executed by several co-parceners of a joint Hindu family and one of the co-parceners died during pendency of the mortgage suit, and his representatives were not brought on record, held, that the suit abated only so far as his share was concerned. 21 Mad. 64 ; 30 Cal. 755 Rel. on. 38 Mad. 682 and 31 Cal. 487 (P.C.) Dist. (Baker, J. C.) NARAYAN v. DHUDABAI. 21 N. L. R. 38 : A. I. R. 1925 Nag. 299.

——O. 22, R. 4—Distinct interests—Suit does not abate on death of one of the defendants, where liability is joint and several—Claim for rent creates such liability.

The test is whether the liability of the defendants or the judgment-debtors is joint and several in order to determine whether the death of one of the defendants or judgment-debtors renders the entire decree null and void. A claim for rent is joint and several one as against the tenants. (Jwala Prasad, Ag. C. J. and Macpherson, J.) KASHINATH SINGH v. KAILAS SINGH. 4 Pat. 53 : A. I. R. 1925 Pat. 480.

Joint interest or liability.

——O. 22, R. 4—Joint interest or liability—Joint suit for possession—Prior compromise merely defining shares but not perfected—Decree in suit is a joint decree.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 22, R. 4—Joint interest or liability.

Where prior to a joint suit for possession, the co-sharers had entered into a compromise defining their shares but there was no evidence that the compromise was perfected. Held, that the decree passed in the suit was a joint decree. (Neave, J.) DAYARAM v. RAM NARAIN. A. I. R. 1925 All 623.

——O. 22, Rr. 4 (3) and 9—Joint interest or liability—Death of one respondent—No legal representatives substituted—Appeal abates against all respondents where their interest is inseparable.

Though the rule only provides that the appeal shall abate as against the deceased respondent, there are cases in which it must abate as against all the respondents. The test is whether the result of leaving the decree to stand would be to have two inconsistent or contradictory decrees relating to the same subject-matter. Where the interest of the respondents can be distinguished and separated then the appeal will abate as against the deceased respondent only ; where no such determination is possible it must abate against them all. Where sale was a joint one in favour of six defendants and where during the pendency of an appeal from a decree refusing to set aside the sale, one of the respondents died, and where no legal representatives were substituted in his stead, held, the appeal abated against all the respondents. (Neave, J.) BIKRAMJIT RAI v. MAHANT DARSHAN DAS. 22 A L. J. 1033 : L. R. 5 A. (Civ.) 747 : 82 I. C. 26 : A. I. R. 1925 All. 141.

——O. 22, R. 4—Joint interest or liability—Joint decree—Death of one decree-holder—Legal representative not brought on record—Effect.

Where in an appeal against a joint decree in favour of many persons, one of them dies and his legal representatives are not brought on record, the appeal abates as against all of them. (Daniels, J.) GAJRAJ TEWARI v. BHAGIRATH PANDE. 74 I. C. 14 : A. I. R. 1924 All. 95.

——O. 22, R. 4—Joint interest or liability—Abatement of appeal—Several respondents—Joint cause of action—Death of one respondent.

Where there is a decree for joint possession in favour of the respondents one of whom dies, the decree cannot be questioned against the legal representatives of that respondent owing to lapse of time without their being brought on record, then the whole appeal abates, for if the appeal succeeds against the respondents who remain alive, there might be conflicting decisions of the Court, that is to say, there might be the decision of the first Court, in favour of the respondent who has died, a decision which cannot be questioned and the decision of an appellate Court contrary to the decision of the first Court which cannot be called in question owing to the abatement. (Greaves and Panton, JJ). SHEIKH DENDOO v. SHEIKH SACHOO. 72 I. C. 2 : A. I. R. 1924 Cal. 399.

——O. 22, R. 4—Joint interest or liability—Joint decree—Death of one of the decree-holders—Legal representative not brought on record—Appeal abates.

Where an appellate Court is called upon to set aside a decree for possession which enured to the benefit of four persons and one of these persons died and his representative-in-interest had not been brought on record, held, that the appeal had abated. Even if the appeal were to succeed, the representative-in-interest of the deceased plaintiff would not be bound by the judgment on appeal and would be at liberty to execute the decree in its entirety as one of several joint decree-holders. The appeal had consequently become infructuous. (Mookerjee and Rankin, JJ.) MIDNAPORE ZEMINDARY CO. v. ISHAN CHANDRA CHOWDHURY. 72 I. C. 479 : A. I. R. 1924 Cal. 346 (1).

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908). O. 22, R. 4—Joint interest or liability.

——O. 22, R. 4—Joint interest or liability—Decree for joint possession - Appeal by defendant—Omission to substitute legal representatives of deceased respondent—Appeal abates.

Where a joint decree for possession in favour of the several plaintiffs was passed by the trial Court and pending an appeal therefrom by the defendant, one of the plaintiffs respondents died and his legal representatives were not brought on record within time, held, the whole appeal abated. 24 C.W.N. 44, Foll. (Walmsley and Suhrawardy, JJ.) ARJAN MIRDHA v. KALI KUMAR CHAKERBUTTY. 68 I. C. 194 : A. I. R. 1923 Cal. 294 (1).

——O. 22, R. 4—Joint interest or liability—Joint decree—Appeal—Decree set aside after death of one of the respondents and without substituting his legal representatives—Appellate decree is a nullity.

Where in an appeal from a joint decree one of the respondents dies and his legal representatives are not brought on the record, the decree passed by the appellate Court setting aside the lower Court's decree is a nullity. (Scott-Smith and Fforde, JJ.) ANWAR-UL-HAQ v. NAZAR ABBAS. 6 Lah. 313 : A. I. R. 1925 Lah. 494.

——O. 22, Rr. 4 and 6—Joint interest or liability—Death of one of several respondents—Relief claimed joint.

When the appellants lived 10 miles from the respondents and no reason had been shown for holding that they were prevented by any sufficient cause from ascertaining the death of one of them, held, the appeal automatically abated against him and his representative at the end of six months. Where relief sought against defendants is joint and indivisible, abatement against one is abatement against all. 1 Lah. 225 and 56 I. C. 927, Foll.; 60 I. C 722, Dist. (Broadway and Harrison, JJ.) SARDARA v. ALLAHYAR. 73 I. C. 604 : A. I. R. 1923 Lah. 132.

——O. 22, R. 4—Joint interest or liability—Defendants sued jointly as representing the estate of their father—Indivisible liability.

Where the defendants were sued jointly as representing the estate of their late father and their liability, if any, was joint and indivisible and where one of the defendants died when he was a respondent in the appeal, in the absence of the application to bring the legal representative within time, whole appeal would abate. (Le Rossignol and Wilberforce, JJ.) GURDAS MAL v. KALSHI RAM. 3 Lah. L. J. 64.

——O. 22, Rr. 4 and 11—Joint interest or liability—Mortgage decree obtained by members of Mitakshara joint family—Appeal—Failure to substitute legal representatives of deceased respondent causes whole appeal to abate.

An appeal from a mortgage decree in which the plaintiffs are all jointly interested, wholly abates where the legal representatives of any of the deceased respondents are not brought on record. A mortgage decree obtained by the members of a Mitakshara joint family is a decree in which all the plaintiffs are jointly interested. (Dawson Miller, C.J. and Macpherson, J.) DAROGA SINGH v. RAGHUNANDAN SINGH. 6 P. L. T 451 : 88 I. C. 669 : A. I. R. 1925 Pat. 590.

——O. 22, R. 4—Joint interest or liability—Suit by landlords for assessment of fair rent decreed—Appeal—Abatement as against one respondent operates as abatement against all.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908). O. 22, R. 4—Necessary party.

Where a suit by landlords for the assessment of fair and equitable rent is decreed and during the pendency of the appeal by the tenants, one of the respondents dies, failure to bring within time his legal representatives on record causes the appeal to abate as against the other respondents also, because the decree is a joint and indivisible one. (Mullick and Ross, JJ.) RAM GOBIND SINGH v. SHASHI SEKHAR PRASAD SINGH. 1925 P. H. C. C. 153 : A. I. R. 1925 Pat. 517.

——O. 22, R. 4—Joint interest or liability—Several defendants—One dying—Others are not exempted.

Where a joint decree is passed against several defendants but one of them has died before the passing of the decree, the decree is not a nullity as against all the defendants but fails only as regards the deceased defendant and his heirs. (Dawson Miller, C. J. and Mullick, J.) NATHUNI NARAYAN SINGH v. ARJUN GIR. 4 Pat. 187 : 87 I. C. 47 : 6 P. L. T. 526 : A. I. R. 1925 P. 434.

Limitation.

——O. 22, Rr. 4 and 9—Limitation—Application, after limitation, for substitution, of respondents, allowed ex parte—At hearing of appeal, other respondents not objecting but Court in ignorance of order for substitution holding appeal as abated—Appeal cannot be held to have abated.

Where an application for the substitution of legal representatives of one of several respondents was made after expiry of limitation and was accepted ex-parte and the substitution was made and where at the hearing of the appeal, the other respondents did not object to the order of substitution but the Court, in ignorance of the order of substitution previously made, held that the appeal had abated, held, that it must be held that time had been extended and that the legal representatives had been properly brought on record so that the appeal had not abated. (Abdul Raoof and Harrison, JJ.) CHARAN SINGH v. RAM DAYAL. A. I. R. 1925 Lah. 599 (1).

——O. 22, R. 4—Limitation—One plaintiff dying during suit—Plaintiff misled by Court's order and hence not applying to bring proper legal representatives on record—Plaintiff should not be made to suffer.

Where, on the death of the executor of one of two defendants, during the pendency of suit, plaintiff applied for substitution of heirs of defendant on the record and the Court without investigating under R. 5 whether the heirs were proper representatives directed the suit to proceed but subsequently at the appellate stage it transpired that the proper legal representative was the next executor and not heir of defendant and therefore the suit was contended to have abated. Held, that plaintiff was misled by the order of Court allowing suit to proceed and should be entitled under S. 5 of the Limitation Act to have the abatement, if there was an abatement, set aside. (Dawson Miller, C. J. and Foster, J.) TOFA LAL v. MOINUDDIN MIRZA. 4 Pat. 448 : A. I. R. 1925 Pat. 765.

Necessary Party.

——O. 22, R. 4—Necessary party—Joint decree for possession passed—Appeal preferred against decree—One decree-holder dying and his representative not brought on record—Appeal abates as against his heirs only, but the appeal is imperfectly constituted and cannot be heard.

Where a joint-decree had been obtained and the defendants, appellants had failed to bring on the record the representatives of one of joint decree-holders, who had died, held: that, though under Order 22, R. 4. C. P. Code, the appeal abated against the heirs of the deceased plaintiff only, the result of such abatement was that the appeal was imperfectly constituted and that in the absence of a necessary party the Court would not proceed to decide the appeal on the merits. 24 C.W.N. 44 Foll. (Neave, J.) DAYARAM v. RAM NARAIN. A. I. R. 1925 All. 623.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 22, R. 4—Necessary Party.

——— O. 22, R. 4—Necessary party—Co-sharers Suit for declaration of title—Death of one-Abatement.

Where some of the proprietors of a village sue the others for a declaration in respect of the shamila of the village and one of the defendants dies and his legal representatives are not brought on record within time, the whole suit abates and is liable to be dismissed. (Chevis and Harrison, JJ.) SHAH MAHOMED v. KARAM ILAHI. 65 I. C. 121 : 14 P. W. R. 1922 : A. I. R. 1922 Lah. 131 (1).

——— O. 22, R. 4—Necessary party—Appeal--Abatement—Death of one of the respondents—Effect—Test.

In considering whether an appeal abates wholly by the legal representatives of one of the respondents not being brought on record in time, a useful test is "could the suit ab initio have been instituted and prosecuted with the deceased left out?" (Prideaux, A. J.C.) RATANLAL v. JAIDEO. A. I. R. 1924 Nag. 123.

——— O. 22, R. 4—Necessary party—Abatement of appeal against one of the respondents—Abatement against other respondents.

Where for failure to bring on record the representatives of one of the respondents who is a necessary party, the appeal abates, it also abates as against all the respondents. 35 Bom. 393 : 22 Bom. 718 : 22 All. 430 Dist. (Maccoll, J.) MA ZAN NYEIN v. MAUNG KYAW ZAN. 1 Rang. 189 : 74 I. C. 1027 : A. I. R. 1923 Rang. 258.

Omission of some Legal Representatives.

——— O. 22, R. 4—Omission of some legal representatives—Appeal—Pre emption suit—Death of one vendee—Legal representatives not impleaded—Abatement of whole appeal.

The question whether an appeal abates entirely or only against the deceased respondent depends on the nature of the suit or rather the nature of the right to sue. Where a pre-emptor sues for pre-emption against a number of vendees and on his suit being dismissed appeals, the cause of action is one and indivisible, and on the death of one of the respondents his legal representatives are not impleaded in time, the right to sue does not survive against the remaining vendees alone. (Lindsay and Kanhaiya Lal, JJ.) SHABBAR HUSSAIN v. ABBAS ALI. L. R. 6 A. 567 : 23 A. L. J. 935 : 90 I. C. 324 : A. I. R. 1926 All. 152.

——— O. 22, R. 4—Omission of some legal representatives—Decree for possession—Death of one of several respondents—Legal representative not brought on record—Abatement.

In a suit for recovery of land, when one of the defendants-respondents dies and his legal representatives are not brought on record in time, the appeal will abate as a whole if the shares of the respondents are not clearly specified; but if the interest is joint, the appeal abates in toto. (Mears, C. J. and Sulaiman, J.) DARSHAN DAS v. BIKRAMAJIT RAI. L. R. 6 A. 587 : 23 A. L. J. 938 : 89 I. C. 953 (2) : A. I. R. 1926 All. 128.

——— O. 22, R. 4—Omission of some legal representatives—Mortgage suit—Judgment-debtor dying between preliminary and final decrees—Decree-holder substituting honestly person believed to be sole representative—Person entitled to be co-representative cannot redeem after final decree.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 22, R. 4—Omission of some Legal Representatives.

When a judgment-debtor, under a preliminary decree for foreclosure, has died between the passing of the preliminary decree and the final decree and the decree-holder has honestly substituted the person whom he believes to be the sole representative of the judgment-debtor and that person has accepted the possession, and when a final decree for foreclosure has subsequently been passed, a person who had right to be a co-representative of the judgment-debtor's estate and had as such a right to redeem the property cannot enforce a right to redeem subsequent to the passing of the final decree. 26 Mad. 230 and 32 Cal. 296 (P. C.) Foll. (Stuart and Ryves, JJ.) DIP NARAIN RAI v. LACHHMAN UPADHAI. 23 A. L. J. 332 : 87 I. C. 799 : 47 All. 466 : A. I. R. 1925 All. 479.

——— O. 22, R. 4—Omission of some legal representatives—Appeal—Several respondents--Death of one-His legal representatives not brought on record—Interest of deceased such as could be determined and separated from that of others—Appeal if abates against all.

One of the respondents in appeal in the lower appellate Court had died and there had been no substitution of heir within the prescribed period: Held, that the decision in 22 A. L. J. 1033, did not apply where it could clearly be shown that the interest of the deceased could be determined and separated from others. (McNair, S. M. and Pim, J. M.) MUHAMMAD QAMAR v. SHEO SHANKAR LAL. L. R. 6 A. 242 (Rev.).

——— O. 22, R. 4—Omission of some legal representatives—Death of defendant—Person other than legal representative, cannot be impleaded.

A plaintiff cannot apply to a Court to implead somebody other than the legal representative of a deceased defendant, as a party to the suit and such an application cannot bind the real representative. (Banerji and Tudball, JJ.) MUHAMMAD JUNAID v. AULIA BIBI. 42 All. 497 : 61 I. C. 947 : 18 A. L. J. 613.

——— O. 22, R. 4—Suit by several plaintiffs for possession decreed—Appeal preferred—One plaintiff dying but his representatives not brought on record—Whole appeal abates.

An appeal arising out of a suit for possession of land by several plaintiffs to which one of the plaintiffs respondents is not a party cannot proceed in his absence. The test to be applied is whether the suit as framed could proceed in the absence of one of the plaintiffs, or whether, if the plaintiffs were appellants, the appeal could proceed in the absence of one of the plaintiffs either as appellant or respondent. 30 C.L J. 217 Foll. (Suhrawardy and Duval, JJ.) MANINDRA CHANDRA v. BHAGBATI DEVI. 30 C. W. N. 45 : A. I. R. 1926 Cal. 335.

——— O. 22, R. 4—Plaintiffs suing several defendants jointly for possession—Defendants' written statements precisely defining plots they individually possessed—Suit abating against some defendants does not abate wholly.

The plaintiffs constituted the suit as against the tenant defendants as if they were joint tort feasors and asked for a decree for khas possession against them in a body. But the tenant defendants filed written statements in which they stated with precision exactly what plots they were individually and separately in possession of. Held, that should the plaintiffs succeed on the merits they would be entitled to a decree against the respective tenants who might be found, either upon their own admission or otherwise, to be in possession of specific plots of land provided they were not jointly interested therein with any against whom the suit might have abated. 30 C. L. J. 203 and 24 C. W. N. 44 Dist. A. I. R. 1923 Cal. 289 Foll. (Walmsley and Mukerji, JJ.) TARA PRASANNA v. RANJIT LAL. 85 I.C. 553 (2): A.I.R. 1926 Cal. 252.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 22, R. 4—Omission of some Legal Representatives.

———O. 22, R. 4—Deceased respondent not interested in the result of appeal—Failure to bring his representatives on record does not cause abatement of appeal.

Where one of several respondents died and it was found that he had no interest in the result of the appeal: Held that the failure to bring his legal representatives on record did not cause the abatement of the appeal. (Greaves and Mukerji, JJ.) SUBASINI DASI v. HABU GHOSH. 89 I. C. 100 : A. I. R. 1926 Cal. 247.

———O. 22, R. 4—Ejectment suit—Appeal—Some of the defendants dying and their representatives not brought on record—Defendants holding distinct plots separately described in plaint—Whole appeal does not abate.

Where pending an appeal by plaintiff landlord in ejectment suit against several defendants some of the defendants die and their representatives are not brought on the record in time: but the defendants hold distinct plots of land which have been separately described in the plaint, the whole appeal should not abate, but the claim with regard to some plots only should be dismissed. (Newbould and B. B. Ghose, JJ.) GOPIKA RAMAN v. ATUL SINGH. 85 I. C. 678 : A. I. R. 1926 Cal 193.

———O. 22, R. 4—Legal representatives of deceased respondent already on record—Application under R 4 (1) must still be made.

The mere fact that the alleged legal representatives of a deceased respondent were already parties to the appeal does not relieve the appellants from the necessity of making an application under O. 22, R, 4 (1). A.I.R. 1925 Patna 123 Foll: 11 P.L.R. 1921 : 24 O.C. 374: 50 P.R. 1902 and 1925 Rang. 95 Not Foll. (Abdul Raoof and Fforde, JJ.) GURDITTAMAL v. MOHAMED KHAN. 7 Lah L. J. 544 : 26 P. L. R. 832 : 90 I. C. 41 : A. I. R. 1926 Lah. 37.

———O. 22. Rr. 4 and 5—Death of pro forma respondent in appeal—Whether whole appeal abates.

Where a pro forma respondent died pending an appeal, the appeal as a whole does not abate. (Jai Lal, J.) RAM LABHAYA v. KARTAR SINGH. 7 Lah. L. J. 466 : A.I.R. 1925 Lah. 651 (2).

———O. 22, R. 4—Representative suits—Appeal—Death of one representative—Leave to defend on behalf of others—Abatement.

An order passed under O. 1, R. 8 allowing certain respondents to defend the appeal on behalf of others, will not relieve the appellants from the necessity of impleading all those who were parties in the court below and had obtained a decree in their favour, and the representatives of those who have died. The appeal will abate in toto if no steps are taken to bring on record the legal representatives within time. (Campbell and Moti Sagar, JJ.) SAMAIL v. HAJI. 89 I. C. 378.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 22, R. 4—Omission of some Legal Representatives.

———O. 22, R. 4—Joint decree—Death of one respondent—Abatement.

Where pending an appeal against a joint decree in favour of several respondents, one of them dies and his legal representative is not brought on record, the appeal abates in toto and not only qua the deceased respondent. (Abdul Raoof and Martineau, JJ.) HAJI v. JANUM. 89 I. C. 162 (Lah.).

———O. 22, R. 4—Death of certain respondents—Effect.

Where during the pendency of an appeal in a suit relating to succession, some of the successful respondents died and their legal representatives were not brought on record the appeal did not abate in toto but only as regards the shares of those respondents. (Broadway and Abdul Qadir, JJ.) NANDOO SINGH v. BALJIT SINGH. 5 Lah. L. J. 203 : 69 I. C. 495 : A. I. R. 1924 Lah. 93.

———O. 22, R. 4—Omission of some legal representatives—Legal representative

A plaintiff can get relief against a legal representative of a deceased defendant even if another legal representative whom he has failed to implead exists. (Macnair, A. J. C.) NARAYAN v. AMRITA. 18 N. L. R. 21 : A.I.R. 1923 Nag. 101 (2).

———O. 22, R. 4—Omission of some legal representatives—Only some heirs sought to be substituted—Appeal does not abate against others.

Where a respondent dies and the appellant applies for substitution of some of the heirs alone of the respondent of whose existence alone the appellant is aware, the appeal does not abate even as against the other heirs of the respondent if the appellant applies for impleading them within time from his becoming aware of their existence. 16 All. 211: 30 All. 117 and 26 Bom 203 Dist. 3 All. 517: 12 Bom. 48: 26 M. 230 Foll. (Jwala Prasad and Adami, JJ.) SHIB DUTTA SINGH v. KARIM BAKHSH. 4 Pat. 320 : A. I. R. 1925 Pat. 551.

———O. 22, R. 4—Applicability—Death of one deft. after preliminary decree—Abatement—Extent.

It is necessary to bring all the legal representatives of a deceased defendant on the record, and the failure to join all the legal representatives results in an abatement of the suit. (A. I. R. 1925 Sind 2 Foll.; 26 Mad. 230 and A. I. R. 1924 Bom. 420 Not followed). A mortgage suit does not abate against other co-mortgagors by reason of its abatement against one of the mortgagors. (Rupchand Bilaram, A. J. C.) TULSIDAS KESHAVDAS v. RAMZAN ABDULLAH. 89 I. C. 238 : A. I. R. 1926 Sind 20.

———O. 22, R. 4—Omission of some legal representatives—Legal representative means all legal representatives.

The phrase "legal representatives" means all the persons on whom the estate of a deceased party devolves and does not mean a person regarded merely as a representative for the purpose of the suit. In absence of all the heirs being brought on the record the proceedings abate so far as the deceased party is concerned. In the case of Christians and Parsis 'legal representative' primarily means executor or administrator (including one de son tort), but in the absence of a will, means an heir or next of kin. In the case of Hindus or Mahomedans where there is a will it means the executor. In absence of will or an administrator all the heirs must be joined. (Kennedy and Austen, A. J. Cs.) PIR SIDIKH MUHAMMAD SHAH v. MT.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 22, R. 4—Pleas open to Legal Representative.

SARAN. 76 I. C. 314 : A. I. R. 1925 Sind 2.

Pleas open to Legal Representative.

——O. 22, R. 4—Pleas open to legal representative—Decree against—Subsequent claim against purchaser in independent title barred.

Where the legal representatives of a mortgagor are impleaded as parties to a suit for sale by the mortgagee and a decree for sale is passed in execution of which the properties are purchased by a stranger, it is not open to the legal representatives thereafter to claim to redeem the mortgage on the strength of their own independent title as purchasers of a portion of the equity of redemption at a revenue sale. (Ryves and Gokul Prasad, JJ.) RAM LALLAN SINGH v. HAREKH NARAIN RAI. 20 A. L. J. 641 : 73 I. C. 920 : A. I. R. 1922 All. 463.

——O. 22, R. 4 (2)—Pleas open to legal representative—Legal representative cannot alter pleadings.

The legal representative of a party to a suit occupies the same legal character as the deceased and hence must stick to the position taken up by him in the pleadings. (Oldfield and Ramesam, JJ.) KOZHIKOT PATHINHARE KOVILAGATH v. SANKARA MENON. 73 I. C. 376 : A. I. R. 1924 Mad. 245.

Pro-forma party.

——O. 22, R. 4—Pro-forma party—Death of—Decree passed in ignorance not void.

The death of a pro-forma respondent during the pendency of an appeal and the passing of a decree without his legal representative being brought on record do not render the decree a nullity. (Rafique and Piggott, JJ.) AMBIKA PRASAD v. JHINAK SINGH. 45 All. 286 : 21 A. L. J. 91 : L. R. 4 A. 92 : 71 I. C. 321 : A. I. R. 1923 All. 211.

——O. 22, R. 4—Pro-forma party—Representatives not brought on record—Uninterested defendant.

When the defendant is not interested in the litigation and a decree passed in the suit would not affect him in any way, the omission to bring his legal representative on record on account of his death would not justify dismissal of the plaintiff's suit. (Mookerjee and Chotzner, JJ.) MOHESH CHANDRA MISRA v. SRIMATYA NISTARINI DASSYA. 27 C. W. N. 449 : A. I. R. 1923 Cal. 382.

——O. 22, R. 4—Pro-forma party—Defendant.

The abatement of an appeal as against a pro-forma defendant does not result in the abatement of the appeal as a whole. (Jai Lal, J.) RAM LABHAYA v. KARTAR SINGH. 7 Lah. L. J. 466 : A. I. R. 1925 Lah. 651 (2).

——O. 22, R. 4—Pro-forma party—Death of—No abatement.

Not bringing on record the representatives of pro-forma respondents does not cause abatement of the whole appeal. (Broadway and Zafar Ali, JJ.) ZAIDA v. RAJA. A. I. R. 1923 Lah. 350.

Redemption suit.

——O. 22, R. 4—Redemption suit—Death of mortgagor—Failure to bring on record legal representative—Suit abates.

In the course of an appeal arising from a suit by a second mortgagee to redeem the prior mortgage, the mortgagor respondent died. The effect of failing to bring his legal representative on record was the abatement of the appeal. (Chevis and Harrison, JJ.) NANAK CHAND v. RAM CHAND. 4 Lah. L. J. 189 : 77 I. C. 176 : A. I. R. 1922 Lah. 101.

——O. 22, R. 4—Redemption suit—Death of respondent.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 22, R. 4—Tort.

If the legal representatives of the deceased mortgagees are not brought on records within the time the whole appeal will abate as a whole. (Scott-Smith and Martineau, JJ.) BHAGWAN SINGH v. JAMAL. 3 Lah. L. J. 252.

Representative suit.

——O. 22, R. 4—Representative suit—Appeal—Death of one respondent—Survival of right—No abatement.

Where in an appeal from a suit for a declaration that certain properties had been dedicated to waqf and that their alienation was void, one of the plaintiffs (respondents) dies, the appeal does not abate as against him. (Broadway and Martineau, JJ.) RAHIM BAKSH v. CHANNAH DIN. 4 Lah. L. J. 511.

——O. 22, R. 4—Representative suit—Appeal—Order for abatement is open to—Suit in a representative capacity—No abatement.

An order declaring the abatement of an appeal on the ground that the legal representatives are not brought on record is a decree and is appealable. Where a suit is brought in a representative capacity and some persons die during the pendency of an appeal from a decree in such suit their legal representatives need not be brought on record. (Broadway and Abdul Raoof, JJ.) UDMI v. HIRA. 1 Lah. 582 : 60 I. C. 111 : 3 L. L. J. 762.

Suit against dead person.

——O. 22, R. 4 and O. 21, R. 63—Suit against dead person—Claim suit — Legal representative of deceased decree-holder not brought on record—Effect of.

Where a defeated claimant files a suit under O. 21, R. 63, C. P. Code, to establish his title but without impleading the legal representative of a decree-holder who had died prior to the institution of the suit, the legal representative of the deceased decree holder is not bound by the decree in the title suit and so far as the deceased decree-holder was concerned, the order dismissing the objection in claim proceedings had become conclusive under O. 21, R. 63, C. P. C. (Scott-Smith, J.) PIYARA LAL v. MAZHAR KHAN. 16 P. L. R. 1922 : 64 I. C. 359 : 4 U. P. L. R. (Lah.) 23 : A. I. R. 1922 Lah. 78.

Tort.

——O. 22, R. 4—Tort—Death of one of several defendants at the date of suit in a suit for damages—Suit continues against others.

Liability of wrong-doers in tort is joint and several. Where in a suit for damages it was discovered that one of the several defendants was not alive when the suit was brought, the Court should strike his name out and allow the suit to proceed against the others, but should not dismiss the suit in toto. (Campbell, J.) MT. PHILLO v. GOPI. A. I. R. 1924 Lah. 348.

——O. 22, R 4—Tort—Suit against joint tort-feasors—Legal representative of one defendant not impleaded—Effect.

Where in a suit against joint tort-feasors one deft. dies and his legal representative is not brought on record, the suit does not abate as against others, and the decree obtained therein can be executed against the other defts. The result of such a decree is that a decree obtained against some joint tort-feasors bars action against others. (Das and Ross, JJ.) GAJO SINGH v. AMRIT NARAIN SINGH. 60 I. C. 722 : 2 P. L. T. 234.

Miscellaneous.

——0. 22, Rr. 4 and 9—Suit against firm—Death of sole proprietor—Abatement.

Where a suit was brought against a firm and the alleged sole proprietor died but no steps were taken to bring his legal representatives on record, held, the suit abated (Ghose, J.) RAM PRASAD CHIMONLAL v. ANUNDJI AND CO. 49 Cal. 524 : 69 I. C. 885 : A. I. R. 1922 Cal. 408.

——0. 22, R. 4 (3)—Ignorance of death of respondent—Sufficient cause.

There was an affidavit that the appellants, one of them a minor and the other, his brother and next friend, a mere youth, were absent from Multan for the eminently laudable purpose of prosecuting their studies, and were therefore not aware of the death of the respondent. Held, sufficient cause was established to set aside the abatement. (Abdul Raoof and Campbell, JJ.) TIRATH RAM v. MAHOMED ABDUL RAHIM SHAH. 73 I. C. 616 : A.I.R. 1923 Lah 546.

——0. 22, R. 4—Appeal—Abatement of, against one of the respondents—When abates against all.

If the interests of all the respondents are indivisible and the appeal abates against one, it abates against all. 41 P R. 1915, Dist. (Broadway and Martineau, JJ.) WALI v. MOHAMAD KHAN. 4 Lah. L. J. 221 : A. I. R. 1922 Lah. 34.

——0. 22, Rr. 4 and 11—Legal representative—Extension of time whether allowed.

In a case where the appellant, though represented by counsel, does not put in a formal petition for bringing deceased respondent's representatives on the record within the time prescribed by law, it is not right to extend time to allow him to do so. (LeRossignol, J.) WALAYAT KHAN v. MUST. MALAN.
5 Lah. L. J. 119 : A. I. R. 1922 Lah. 30 (1).

——0. 22, R. 4—Application to bring legal representatives on record in memo. of objections—Order enures for the appeal also.

An order bringing the legal representatives of the deceased respondent on the record in the memorandum of objections enures for the whole of the proceedings including the appeal. 7 L. W. 614 Ref. (Srinivasa Aiyangar, J.) KANTHIMATHI AMMAL v. R. PERUMAL KONU. 88 I. C. 215 : A I. R. 1925 Mad. 777 : 48 M. L. J. 492.

——0. 22, R. 4—Death of defendant—Legal representative can himself come on record—Right to costs.

Where a defendant dies pending a suit, it is open to his legal representative to come on record on his application notwithstanding the plaintiff's omission to implead him. In such a case the Court might award costs to the legal representative. (Schwabe, C. J. and Ramesam, J.) KUPPUSWAMI CHETTY v. SINGARAVELU CHETTY. (1923) M. W. N. 867 : 18 L. W. 99 : 75 I. C. 848 : A. I. R. 1923 Mad. 679 : 45 M. L. J. 233.

——0. 22, R. 4—Appeal—Abatement on account of death of one of the appellants—Suit for redemption.

Where two appellants filed an appeal, and one of them died, his legal representative not having been brought on record within time, the other continued the appeal. Held, that the appeal cannot abate entirely. (Young and Baguley, JJ.) MAUNG BYAUNG v. MAUNG SHWE BAW. 2 Rang. 486 : 3 Bur. L. J. 171 : A. I. R. 1924 Rang. 376.

——0. 22, R. 5—Legal representative.

It cannot be held that, because there was any omission to take formal steps to have it declared that plaintiff who was a party to the record was for the purpose of these proceedings the legal representative of adoptive mother, the order of the Court below was bad. (Rafique and Lindsay, JJ.) JIWA RAM v. NAND RAM. 20 A. L. J. 226 : 44 All. 407 : A. I. R. 1922 All. 223.

——0. 22, R. 5—Legal representative—Who is.

For the purposes of O. 22, R. 5, C. P. Code, it is sufficient if a person has succeeded in forcing recognition of his status from the deceased and has intermeddled with the deceased's estate and is actually in possession of a portion of it. (Le Rossignol and Martineau, JJ.) GOOR BACHAN SINGH v. GIAM SINGH. A. I. R. 1922 Lah. 175.

——0. 22, R. 5—Legal representative—Dispute as to—Decision of question on appeal.

A dispute arising in the course of the trial as to the representatives of a deceased party has to be decided after investigation by the trial Court and if it fails to do so, the appellate Court can decide the question. (Broadway and Abdul Raoof, JJ.) TAJA v. DEVI DITTA. 4 Lah. L. J. 314.

——0. 22, R. 5—Court must take evidence to decide who is legal representative—Failure to take evidence will justify interferencee in revision.

Under O. 22, R. 5 where a question arises, as to whether any person is or is not the legal representative of a deceased plaintiff or a deceased defendant, such question shall be determined by the Court, and for that purpose, the Court must take evidence and then decide for itself, who has got the better claim. If the Court fails to follow this procedure the High Court will interfere in revision. (Krishnan and Odgers, JJ.) T. S. NAGAPPA NADAR v. T. S. KARUPPIAH NADAR. 21 L. W. 21 : 86 I. C. 178 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 456.

——0. 22, Rr. 5 and 2—Wrong legal representative brought on record—Proper legal representative's rights.

Where a person who is not the legal representative is in fact brought on record as such and the Court allows the wrong representative to be brought on record and to continue the litigation, the benefit of that litigation may be taken advantage of by the proper legal representative and the representatives on record will be accountable to him. If this is so, the legatees and creditors can proceed against the proper legal representatives if their claim is not barred. Their proper legal representatives will be in a position to get the benefit of the decree and thus to be in possession of assets. (Schwabe, C. J., Coutts-Trotter and Kumaraswami Sastri, JJ.) ZAMINDAR OF BHADRACHALAM v. RAJA VENKATADRI APPA RAO. 16 L. W. 369 : (1922) M. W. N. 532 : 70 I. C. 689 : 31 M. L. T. 221 (H. C.) : 46 Mad. 190 : A. I. R. 1922 Mad. 457 43 M. L. J. 466(F. B.).

——0. 22, R. 5—Admission of a person as legal representative—Effect of.

The admission of a person as a legal representative for the purpose of prosecuting the suit does not conclusively establish his right to do so if his legal position is one of the main issues in the suit itself. Similarly the decision that a person is a legal representative only to a limited extent does not preclude him from proving in the suit what his full rights are. 27 B. 162 : 28 A. 109 Foll. (Batten, J. C.). MT. DHAPU v. RAM AUTAR. 70 I. C. 209 : A. I. R. 1923 Nag. 209.

——0. 22, R. 5—Death of plaintiff—Substitution—Rival claimants—Question of substitution disposed of in judgment and not by separate order—Appeal—Jurisdiction.

During the pendency of a suit a plaintiff died and there were two sets of claimants to be substituted

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 22, R. 5.

The Court disposed of the question of substitution in its judgment and embodied the result in a decree in favour of one set of the claimants. The District Judge on appeal went into the merits and upset the decision. Held, on second appeal, no appeal lay at the instance of the other set and an order passed by the appellate Court on the appeal of the unsuccessful set must be set aside as having been made without jurisdiction. 16 O. C. 350 and 15 Bom. 145 followed. 13 A. L. J. 381 and 28 All. 708 referred to. 9 All. 445 and 43 Mad. 812 distinguished. (Simpson, A. J. C.) LALTA SINGH v. LACHMI KUAR. 2 O. W. N. 857.

——O. 22, Rr. 5 and 9—Appeal—Abatement—Setting aside—Ignorance of death.

The Code makes it obligatory on an appellant to keep himself informed of any devolution of interest that may take place by reason of the death of any of the respondents and it is not sufficient merely to say that the applicant had no knowledge of the death of the respondent till many months after such death. The abatement of an appeal gives a very important right to the person or his heirs against whom the appeal abates and it is not without sufficient reason that the court should set aside an abatement. Mere assertion that the applicant had no knowledge of the death of the respondent is not entitled to any weight unless some reasons are assigned why the applicant did not keep himself informed of the death of the respondent. (Das and Macpherson, JJ.) PHULWATI KUMARI v. MAHESHWARI PRASAD SINGH. 5 Pat. L. T. 349 : 75 I. C. 909 : A. I. R. 1924 Pat. 607.

——O. 22, R. 5—" Court ", meaning of—Question of legal representative—Who to decide.

The word " Court " in O. 22, R. 5 means the Court before whom the question arises viz., the trial Court if the question arises at the trial stage or the appellate Court if the question arises in appeal. There is no provision in the Code for an appellate Court to delegate its power under the rule ; the utmost that can be done is to direct the trial Court to take evidence on the question and return the same. (Miller, C. J. and Coutts, J.) MT. CHANDMANI v. KARTIK SINGH. 3 Pat. L. T. 380 : 65 I. C. 131 : A. I. R. 1922 Pat. 197 (1).

——O 22, R. 5—Death of respondent—One of the legal representatives impleaded.

Where pending an appeal, the respondent dies and only one of his legal representatives is brought on record without any objection the decision is binding on the estate. Once the Court decides that a person is the legal representative for the purposes of a suit under O. 22, R. 5, then he represents the estate and the adjudication is binding on it. (Brown, A. J. C.). MAUNG PO MYA v. MAUNG GYAN BON. 1 Bur. L. J. 272 : 72 I. C. 205 : 4 U. B. R. 150 : A. I. R. 1923 Rang. 114.

——O. 22, R. 6—Applicability—Defendant dying after hearing but representative brought on record before decree.

Where after the hearing of suit a defendant died and his representative was brought on record before the decree was passed. Held, that R. 6 has no application as the decree as passed was not against a dead man but against a living person. O. 22, R. 6 prevents abatement when death takes place between conclusion of the hearing and the pronouncement of the judgment and the decree is passed against a dead man ; this provision of law covers cases where the Court is unaware of the death of a party and proceeds on the supposition that the parties are alive. The rule deals with a decree against a dead man and not with one against living persons. It indicates how a decree against a dead man is to be construed and can have no reference to a decree passed against a living person. (Mukerji and Dalal, JJ.) MT. CHAMBI v. TARA CHAND. 46 All. 744 : 22 A. L. J. 665 : L. R. 5 A. (Civ.) 502 : A. I. R. 1924 All. 892.

——O. 22, R. 8—Insolvency of appellant—No limitation for Official Assignee to apply for substitution.

There is no limitation for the Official Assignee to appear and apply for the substitution in the place of a debtor appellant who, during the pendency of his appeal is adjudicated insolvent, or for the debtor to appear and apply for restoration of his name on the record after the annulment of his adjudication. Until an order under O. 22, R. 8 is obtained, the proceedings must be deemed to continue. (Linasay and Kanhaiya Lal, JJ.) KHUNNI LAL v. RAMESHAR. 43 All. 621 : 19 A. L. J. 685 : 64 I. C. 52 : L. R. 3 A. 40 : A. I. R. 1922 All. 361.

——O. 22, R. 8—Plaintiff adjudicated insolvent subsequent to suit—Notice to Official Receiver should be given.

Where subsequent to the institution of a suit, the plaintiff is adjudged an insolvent, the Court ought to give notice to the Official Receiver to appear, and state his willingness or not to continue the suit and ought not to dismiss the suit before such notice. (Wallis, C. J. and Sadasiva Aiyar, J.) OFFICIAL ASSIGNEE, RANGOON v. CHIDAMBARAM CHETTY. 12 L. W. 551 : 61 I. C. 300 : (1920) M. W. N. 704.

——O. 22, R. 9—Sufficient cause.

An appellant died and no application was made within six months to bring his heirs on the record. Held, the appeal abated automatically. The absence of any order of abatement does not serve as an obstacle to the making of an application for substitution of name which is in effect an application to set aside the order of abatement. O. 22, R. 9 (2) is not controlled by Cl. (3) and the " sufficient cause " mentioned in Cl. (2) is not confined to the circumstances given in S. 5 of the Limitation Act. (Walsh, J.) LACHMI NARAIN v. MOHAMMAD YUSUF. 42 All. 540 : 59 I. C. 903 : 18 A. L. J. 688.

——O. 22, R. 9—Tenants-in-common—Respondents—Abatement by death of one—Whole appeal if abates.

Plaintiff who were tenants-in-common sued to recover possession of certain property and pending the suit, one of them died and his widow was added as his legal representative. The suit was decreed and while an appeal was pending at the instance of the defendants, the widow who had been impleaded as a respondent died. For nearly a year and a half the appellant did not bring on record the legal representative of the deceased widow. The Court below dismissed the whole appeal as having abated. Held, that though the appeal abated as against the widow and her legal representatives, it did not abate as against the other tenant-in-common. (Shah, A. C. J. and Fawcett, J.) SHANKARBHAI MANORBHAI v. MOTILAL RAMDAS. 26 Bom. L. R. 1217 : 49 Bom. 118 : A I. R. 1925 Bom. 122.

——O. 22, R. 9— Abatement — Setting aside—Sufficient cause.

When an application is put in to set aside abatement, the court should first investigate if the party was lawfully prevented from making the application in time and whether in the circumstances, he was entitled to the benefit of S. 5, Lim. Act. (Suhrawardy and Duval, JJ.) JANAKINATH SINGA ROY v. NIRODE BARAN ROY. 90 I. C. 811.

——O. 22, R. 9—Decision affecting the merits of the case—Order setting aside abatement—Appeal.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 22, R. 9.

An order setting aside an abatement and allowing substitution even though the order is passed simultaneously with the decree in the suit cannot be questioned in an appeal from the decree for it does not affect the decision of the case with reference to its merits. 22 C. 984 : 22 A. 430 Ref. (Suhrawardy and Cuming, JJ.) MAHOMED NURUL AMIN v. MONDHAR SORAN DEB MOHANTA.

40 C. L. J. 588 : A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 473.

———O. 22, R. 9—Setting aside abatement—Sufficient cause must be shown.

Before an abatement is set aside, the Court has to be satisfied that there was sufficient cause for not applying in time. Ignorance of death, standing by itself, may be sufficient cause but if it is accompanied by great delay and dilatoriness it would be otherwise. (Sanderson, C. J. and Richardson, J.) SARAT CHAND SARKAR v. MAIHAR STONE AND LIME CO. LTD.

49 Cal. 62 : 67 I. C. 917 : A. I. R. 1922 Cal. 335.

———O. 22, R. 9—Death of one of the defendants—Order declaring that suit abated against the deceased—Subsequent order that this entailed the total dismissal of the suit—Application to set aside former order.

One of the defendants in a suit died and his legal representatives were not brought on the record in time. The court passed an order that the suit abated as against him. The Court also decided at the same time that this partial abatement resulted in the total abatement of the suit. Held that though that portion of the order which decided that the suit had abated in toto may be a decree, the order declaring the partial abatement was one which could be set aside on an application under O. 22, R. 9, C. P. Code. (Shadi Lal, C. J.) NAND RAM v. MT. RALLI.

26 Punj. L. R. 650.

———O. 22, R. 9—Sufficient ground—Recent knowledge of death.

Where the deceased respondent was living at a place about 14 Kos from the appellant's village, it is not a sufficient ground to set aside an abatement that the appellant came to know of the death only some ten days before the application was put in. (Abdul Raoof and Martineau, JJ.) HAJI v. JANUM. 89 I. C. 162.

———O. 22, R. 9—Order holding that suit abates on account of some reason other than the non-application in time for substitution of legal representatives is decree and appealable.

The order of the Court holding that the suit abates on account of some cause other than the absence of application in time to implead the legal representatives of a deceased party is a decree and appealable. The other causes may be when the Court holds that the right to sue does not survive or that the death of one of several defendants causes an abatement in toto. O. 22, R. 9 (2) is confined to cases in which abatement takes place on account of an application not having been made within time to bring on record the legal representatives of the deceased party and has no application to cases in which the suit has abated on account of some other cause. (Moti Sagar, J.) GENERAL TRADING CO., KAHUTA v. NIHAL SINGH.

78 I. C. 22 : A. I. R. 1925 Lah. 208.

———O. 22, R. 9—Death of respondent pending appeal—Abatement—Application to set aside—Delay—Sufficient cause—Setting aside—Abatement of the whole appeal.

The fact that the parties lived in different districts and that their residences were about 200 miles apart one from the other is not a sufficient reason in itself for failing to make an application to bring on record the legal representatives of a deceased respondent for a period of even 3 years in one case and nearly 9 months in another. The delay amounted to grave negligence on the part of the appellants who for so long a period failed to make any enquiries whatever as to the whereabouts of the most important respondents in the appeal. Where the decree appealed against is a joint decree, the appeal having abated against some of the respondents, must be dismissed against the rest. (Broadway and Fforde, JJ.) MUNSHI RAM v. RADHAKISHEN. 6 Lah. L. J. 192 : 80 I. C 694 (1) : A. I. R. 1924 Lah. 461.

———O. 22, R. 9—Abatement—Setting aside—Sufficient cause—Ignorance of death.

Where it appeared that the deceased respondent had no stationary residence and that the appellants were living in a far-off native state and urgeignorance of the death of the respondent, delay in seeking to set aside the abatement could be excused. (Scott-Smith and Fforde JJ.) JOWALA RAM v. HARI KISHEN SINGH. 5 L. 70 : 80 I. C. 690 : A. I. R. 1924 Lah. 429.

———O. 22, Rr. 9 and 3—Act XXVI of 1920—Sufficient cause—Abatement setting aside of.

Where the appellant had reason to suppose that the enactment of Act XXVI of 1920 would not affect the period of limitation for an application to implead the legal representative of a respondent who had died before the Act came into force, the abatement was set aside. (Martineau and Campbell, JJ.) NIAZ AHMAD KHAN v. ABDUL LATIF.

A. I. R 1923 Lah. 475.

———O. 22, R. 9—Paying expenses of appeal will not make a person a party—Death of appellant—Legal representative not brought on record—Abatement.

An appeal was filed by one D, the real defendant-appellant through one B. During the pendency of the appeal, D died but his representative was not brought on record. One M a trustee of D's estate, paid all the necessary expenses of the appeal but was not brought on record as the legal representative of D. On the question of abatement it was contended that no question of abatement arose. Held, the defraying the costs of the litigation out of the trust fund will not necessarily make him or the estate, a party, and the appeal had abated. (Broadway and Zafar Ali, JJ.) DAULAT RAI v. LILA RAM. A. I. R. 1923 Lah. 470.

———O. 22, R. 9—Setting aside abatement—Sufficient cause.

During the pendency of appeal Sheo Dayal, one of the plaintiffs respondents, was reported to have died some time before the 25th of May, 1917. An application was made by the appellants on the 9th of January, 1918, to bring his representatives on the record and stating that they had come to know of his death only on the 8th of January, 1918, as he was a resident of a distant village. On the 10th of January, 1918, Fakir Chand respondent, put in an application stating that the death of Sheo Dayal had taken place more than six months before the application of the appellants and that the appeal had consequently abated. On the 24th of June, 1918, the District Judge made an order declaring that the appeal had wholly abated as the decree in favour of the respondents was a joint decree. On the 8th of July, 1918, Sadra and Imam Din, defendants-appellants, applied under Order 22, R. 9, C. P. Code, for the setting aside of the abatement. Held, the ground of distant residence, and illiteracy of appellants, is not sufficient cause; the appellants should have applied on 9-1-18 to set aside the abatement, the appeal having already abated. (Abdul Raoof and Moti Sagar, JJ.) AJUDHIA PARSHAD v. IMAM-UD-DIN. A. I. R. 1923 Lah. 230.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 22, R. 9.

——O. 22, R. 9—Ignorance of death of party is not an excuse.

Mere ignorance of the fact of death is not a sufficient excuse under O. 22, R. 9. (Broadway and Abdul Qadir, JJ.) CHUNI LAL v. KALA KHAN.
4 Lah. L. J. 171 : 67 I. C. 596 : 34 P. W. R. 1922 : A. I. R. 1922 Lah. 61 (1).

——O. 22, R. 9—Sufficient cause—Bona fide mistake.

Where owing to the mistake of the Court below in not entering the names of the legal representatives of a deceased deft. who had been added as such, the plff. filed an appeal with the name of the deft. on record though deceased, and the mistake was discovered nine months later. Held, that O. 22, C.P. Code, was not applicable under these circumstances. If they did apply, the mistake being a bona fide one there would be sufficient ground for extension of limitation period. (Wilberforce, J.) KARTAR SINGH v. RALLA.
67 I. C. 306 : 2 Lah. L. J. 44.

——O. 22, Rr. 9 and 4—Abatement—Setting aside—Sufficient cause—Technical objections—Weight due to—Substantial justice.

In a suit on a mortgage the defendant was dead at the time of passing the preliminary decree. The Court was ignorant of the judgment-debtor's death at the time. The plaintiffs without seeking to bring the legal representatives on record in time applied for a final decree under O. 34, R. 5, C. P. Code, mentioning the fact of the judgment-debtor's death and entering his widow as the defendant in that petition. That application was not granted. The plaintiff did not take steps till a considerable time later when he applied to set aside the abatement and to pass a final decree. The court below held that the former application may be treated as one for setting aside abatement. There was no appeal from the formerapplication but the above order was pasesd in the subsequent application only. Held, the lower Court was not seized of the former application and it had no jurisdiction to set aside the abatement purporting to act on such an application. Further that application not having contained any prayer to set aside the abatement it was really not an application under O. 22, R. 9. The second application was filed too late and having regard to the circumstances and the conduct of the plaintiff the indulgence of the court would not be extended to him. No doubt in the interest of justice if it is necessary to brush aside technicalities, the Court will not be too scrupulous in enforcing them but if the merits of the case are against the petitioner, the Court will not go out of the way to clear the plaintiff's path of technical obstacles. (Odgers and Wallace, JJ.) SESHAMMA v. YEERANKI PEDA VENKATA RAO.
34 M. L. T. 196 : 19 L. W. 608 : (1924) M. W. N. 633 : 80 I. C. 379 : A. I. R. 1924 Mad. 713 : 47 M. L. J. 235.

——O 22, R. 9—Sufficient cause—Slip on the part of Vakil.

Delay in applying to bring the legal representative on record caused by a slip on the part of the party's Vakil should be excused if the party himself is not at fault. (Wallis, C. J. and Oldfield, J.) VAITHYANATHA AIYAR .. GOVINDASAMI ODAYAR.
13 L. W. 522 : 62 I. C. 795 : (1921) M. W. N. 338 : 41 M. L J. 65.

——O. 22, R. 9—Sufficient cause.

Where the delay in bringing on record the legal representatives was due to the fact that the legal representatives were minors who would not have obtained execution without obtaining a succession certificate under Act VII of 1889, and this succession certificate was obtained after the expiry of time fixed for addition of legal representatives. Held, there is sufficient reason to excuse the delay within the meaning of S. 5 of the Indian Limitation Act, read with O. 22, R. 9, Code of Civil Procedure. (Kanhaiya Lal, J. C.). SYED AKHTAR HUSAIN v. QUDRAT ALI.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 22, R. 9 (2).

9 O. & A. L. R. 267 : 73 I. C. 215 : 26 O. C. 244 : A. I. R. 1924 Oudh 83.

——O. 22, R. 9—Ignorance of a pardanashin lady's death in a different district is excusable where appellant is not guilty of laches—Appellant need not always be enquiring to see if respondent is dead.

It is not the duty of the appellant to be on the lookout and to be always inquiring as to whether the respondent in the appeal is dead or not and if the appellant has done all that is necessary to bring the appeal to hearing, he cannot be punished for his ignorance of the death where there are no laches on his part so that it cannot be said that by the use of reasonable diligence, he could have come to know of the death earlier. This is especially so where the deceased respondent was a pardanashin lady residing in the interior of a different district. (Jwala Prasad, A. C. J. and Kulwant Sahay, J.) HIRA SARAN SINGH v. SYED MD. EDDAT HUSSAIN.
2 Pat. L. R. 279 : A.I.R. 1925 Pat. 162

——O. 22, Rr. 9, 4 and 5—Abatement—Substitution of parties.

Substitution can be made only after an abatement has been set aside on application under O 22, R. 9 (2), C. P. Code. To set aside an abatement it is necessary to prove that the petitioner was prevented by sufficient cause from continuing the suit. It is the duty of the person prosecuting a suit or an appeal to keep himself apprised of the adversary's death. A mere plea of ignorance of the death of an opposite party which took place many months or even years before is not a sufficient ground for setting aside the abatement. (Das and Macpherson, JJ.) MAHANTH RAMPERKASH DAS v. KUNJ LALL.
4 P. L. T. 567 : 79 I. C. 414 : A. I. R. 1924 Pat. 126.

——O. 22, R. 9—Death of defendant—Abatement—Order for restitution—Limitation—Art. 177 of Limitation Act.

Where a suit abates on account of the death of the sole defendant in the suit the abatement must be set aside under O.22, R.9, C.P.Code, before a substitution of parties could be made. The period of limitation is that prescribed by Art. 177 of the Limitation Act. (Coutts and Das, JJ.) MT. BIBEE KHOZAIMA v. THE OFFICIAL LIQUIDATOR OF THE KAYESTHA TRADING AND BANKING CORPORATION.
2 P. 168 : A. I. R. 1923 Pat. 417.

——O. 22, R. 9 (2)—Sufficient cause.

Applicant was a Government servant and had sent necessary papers to his Vakil 10 days before the last date of limitation but the papers came to the knowledge of the vakil only after rising of the court on the last day of limitation. It did not strike the Vakil to present them at the private house of the Judge. Held, that the circumstances justified the setting aside of the order of abatement. (Mears, C. J. and Piggott, J.) DR. SADIQ ALI v. ANWAR ALI.
20 A. L. J. 801 : 45 All. 66 : 70 I. C. 805 : A. I. R. 1923 All. 44.

——O. 22, R. 9 (2)—Application under—Formal order of abatement—Necessity for.

O 22, R. 9 (2), C. P. Code, contemplates that a formal order declaring that a suit or appeal has abated should be made before an application under the rule is made. 36 A. 235, Foll.; 42 A. 540, not foll. (Ryves and Gokul Prasad, JJ.) MUSSAMMAT GUJRATI v. SITAJ MISSER.
44 All. 459 : 66 I. C. 554 :

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 22, R. 9 (2).

A. I. R. 1922 All. 209 (2).

——O. 22, R. 9 (2)—Legal representative—Addition of, after expiry of period of limitation without objection by opposite party—Abatement--Setting aside.

An application for bringing on record the heirs of a deceased petitioner in proceedings to set aside a sale was allowed after the period of limitation without any objection. On appeal from the final order in the case, on the objection of the opposite side the appellate Court set aside the order for substitution and dismissed the case. Held, in revision, that on a proper application under O. 22, R. 9 (2), C. P. C., and on showing sufficient cause, the abatement could have been set aside. The first Court having ordered substitution without objection having been taken by the opposite party at any stage of the proceedings, the petitioners were deprived of an opportunity to make an application under O. 22, R. 9 (2), C. P C. and they were misled by the course of the proceedings that were adopted. The order for substitution made in the case should therefore be treated as being one setting aside the abatement. (Walmsley and Mukerjee, JJ.) JOGUNNESSA BIBI v. SATISH CHANDRA BHUTTACHARJEE. 28 C. W. N 559 : 39 C. L. J. 434 : 51 Cal. 690 : 78 I. C. 958 : A. I. R. 1924 Cal. 633.

——O. 22, R. 9 (2)—Plea of ignorance of opposite party's death is not enough.

A mere plea of ignorance of the fact that the opposite party had died is not a sufficient cause for setting aside an order of abatement. Special circumstances which entitle the parties concerned to special indulgence must be proved. (Neave, A. J. C.) SANT BAKSH v. NABBAN SAHEB. 81 I. C. 585 : A. I. R 1925 Oudh 306 (2).

——O. 22, R. 9 (2)—Abatement due to not applying in time for substitution of legal representatives, was set aside when substitution was applied for within time from date of knowledge of the respondent's death.

Where the respondent died in September in a certain year and the appellants came to know of his death in December, and after certain correspondence with the vakil who appeared for them in the case, the application was made within time from the date of knowledge of the death of the respondent for substition of the legal representatives. Held, that though the application was made more than 90 days from the death of the deceased, and the appeal therefore had abated, the abatement should be set aside. (Jwala Prasad and Kulwant Sahay, JJ) LILO SONAR v. JHAGRU SAHOO. 3 P. L. R. 97 : 6 P. L T. 313 : 3 Pat. 853 : A. I. R. 1925 Pat. 123.

——O. 22, R. 10 and S. 47—Tenancy created pendente lite—Joinder of tenant—Bad.

In execution of a decree for possession and mesne profits, there was an enquiry made as to mesne profits. During the pendency of the suit the defendant had leased the property, but he had surrendered the lease as soon as he came to know of the decree. On the question arising if he could be made party in the executionapplication and made liable for mesne profits Held, there was no devolution of interest within the meaning of O. 22, R. 10, C. P. Code, nor would question of his liability fall under S. 47, C. P. Code. Injustice arising by adding him as party and general principles referred to. (Lord Phillimore.) MANINDRA CHANDRA NANDI v. RAM LAL BHAGAT.

31 M. L. T. 131 : 27 C. W. N. 29 : 36 C. L. J. 542 : 16 L. W. 905 : 4 U. P.L. R. (P. C.) 88 : 20 A. L. J. 988 : 24 Bom. L. R. 1251 : L. R. 4 P. C. 1 : 49 I. A. 220 : 68 I. C. 973 : 1 P. 581 : 4 P. L. T. 1 : A. I. R. 1922 P. C. 304 : 43 M. L. J. 589 (P.C.).

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 22, R. 10.

——O. 22, R. 10—Assignment pending suit—Rights of assignee—Interlocutory order—Appeal.

The plaintiff in an administration suit assigned his interest to the applicant but continued the suit in his own name. The trial Court refused to appoint a Receiver of the property and the plaintiff appealed to the High Court. Pending the appeal, the plaintiff died and the assignee applied to the trial Court to continue the suit but did not apply in the High Court to conninue the appeal whereupon the appeal abated. Held, that the trial Court had jurisdiction to entertain the application for bringing on record the assignee. Where the High Court sends for the records in an appeal from an interlocutory order the suit is still pending on the file of the trial Court and it has jurisdiction to bring on record the legal representative of a deceased plaintiff. (Macleod, C. J. and Crump, J.) BHOGILAL KIRPASHANKER v. DARASHA KOOVERJI.

25 Bom. L. R. 308 : 75 I. C. 743 : A. I. R. 1923 Bom. 303.

——O. 22, R. 10 and O. 23, R. 1—Compromise of suit—Decree not passed—Application by purchaser to be added as a party may be allowed in the discretion of the Court.

Where a suit is alleged to have been compromised and a document embodying the compromise has be en filed in Court, the suit does not cease to be pendi ng until the passing of a decree. Consequently it is open to a person alleging himself to be the purchaser of the property before the compromise is entitled to apply under O. 22, R. 10, C.P. Code, to be added as a party to the suit. An applicant who invokes the aid of O. 22, R. 10 is not entitled as a matter of right to an order in his favour regardless of delay or laches. The Court undoubtedly has a discretion in the matter which must be judicially exercised. Where the result of dismissing the application would beto start a fresh suit between the transferee and the assignor impeaching the compromise as not bona fide, the enquiry might be made in the suit itself after the transferee is made a party. 32 C. 483 ; 13 C. L. J. 487 ; 43 M. 37 ; 37 A. 326, Ref. (Mookerjee and Rankin, JJ.) LAKSHAN CHUNDER DEY v. NIKUNJAMANI DASSI.

27 C. W. N. 755 : A. I. R. 1924 Cal. 188.

——O. 22, R. 10—Assignee pendente lite—Power of Court to substitute.

O. 22, R. 10 applies not only to cases where the assignment or devolution is unchallenged but to cases where the assignment is challenged on various grounds. In such a case, the Court has power to decide the question as to the validity or otherwise of the assignment when an application is put in under O. 22, R. 10. (Greaves and Cuming, JJ.) SURENDRA NARAIN DEB v. NITYENDRA NARAIN. 90 I. C. 267.

——O. 22. Rr. 10 and 4—Suit for accounts—R. 4 applies also after preliminary decree.

O. 22, R. 4 applies also after a preliminary decree has been passed in a suit for accounts. 33 C. L. J. 115 Foll. (Greaves and M. N. Mukerji, JJ.) MANUJENDRA DUTT v. JNAN RANJAN.

A. I. R. 1926 Cal. 308.

——O. 22, R. 10—Limitation for impleading assignee.

In the case of the death of a party after his interest has devolved on another, there is no question of bringing on record the legal representative within the period of 90 days prescribed by law, and even in a case where the devolution took place while the suit was pending in the trial Court, an application under O. 22, R. 10, C. P. Code, can be made in the appellate Court. (Chatterjee and Pearson, JJ.) RAJANI KANTA ROY

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O 22, R. 10.

v. RAJA JYOTI PRASAD. 27 C. W. N. 710 : 75 I. C. 255 : A. I. R. 1924 Cal. 90.

——O. 22, R. 10—Assignment disputed—Application for substitution of assignee made months after assignment—Application should be rejected.

Where the factum of the assignment was disputed and the application for substitution of assignee was made months after the assignment was alleged to have been made, Held, that the Court should use its discretion, which it has, under the rule, properly to reject the application. (Broadway, J.) ALLAH JAWAYA v. LAJPAT RAI. 7 L. L. J. 392 : A. I. R. 1925 Lah. 574.

——O. 22, R 10—Applicability—No pending suit—Mortgagee claiming to be impleaded in proceedings relating to division of sums in Court deposit—Failure of consideration set up—Remedy by suit.

O. 22, R. 10, C P. Code, applies only to pending suits whereby a person who derives title from a party will be entitled to be brought on record if it is shown that he has secured a good title from the party and it is to his interest to be brought on record in the suit. Where the suit has come to a termination and in pursuance of the decree passed therein a sum of money in Court deposit to the credit of the suit is being divided, a mortgagee from one of the parties cannot claim to be impleaded under O. 22, R. 10 especially when the transaction is alleged to be usurious and the mortgagor denies the passing of consideration in full. The remedy of the mortgagee in such a case is to enforce his mortgage right in the ordinary course. (Devadoss and Waller, JJ) SRINIVASA AIYANGAR v. PRATAPA SIMHA RAJAH SAHEB. 22 L. W. 860 : 49 M. L. J. 704.

——O. 22, Rr. 10 and 3 and S. 146—Deceased's heir not brought on record—Assignee from heir cannot apply under R. 10.

The words assignment and creation indicate that it is the person suing that assigns and creates the interest which enables the assignee to continue the suit; 39 Mad. 488 and 1922 P. C. 304, Foll. Rule 10 only applies to cases not covered by R. 3. An assignee from the heir of a deceased plaintiff, who (the heir) was not himself brought on the record, cannot apply under O. 22, R. 10. S. 146 cannot apply to such a case as the deceased heir himself could not apply under O. 22, R 10, but could only apply under R. 3. 1922 Mad. 402, Dist. (Wallace, J.) KALLIAM KUTTI v. K. T. KURUNAVAN. A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 1166.

——O. 22, R. 10—Person subsequently added—Assignment by—Rule does not apply—T. P. Act, S. 52.

O. 22, R. 10 can only apply to the assignment of interest in property, by a defendant on record and not the assignment of interest, by a person, who is not a party to the suit, at the time of the assignment, but was subsequently joined. The doctrine of lis pendens does not apply to such assignment. (Devadoss, J.) AMMAYYA PILLAI v. NARAYANA CHETTI. 21 L. W. 125 : 86 I. C. 187 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 487.

——O. 22, R. 10—Applicability of.

O. 22, R. 10 applies only to cases which do not fall under the preceding rules of the same Order. (Ayling and Venkatasubba Rao, JJ.) DAKOJI SUBBARAYADU v. MUSTI RAMADASU. 45 M. 872 : 15 L. W. 309 : (1922) M. W. N. 375 : 68 I. C 942 : 30 M. L. T. 202 : A. I. R. 1923 Mad. 237 (1) : 42 M. L. J. 301.

——O. 22, R. 10—Pendency of suit.

Quaere : Whether the expression "the pendency of the suit" in O. 22, R. 10, C. P. Code, covers the period between the original and an amended decree. (Oldfield and Ramesam, JJ.) NARAYANA AIYAR v. BIYARI BIVI. (1922) M. W. N. 731 : 16 L. W. 623 : 69 I. C. 977 : 32 M. L. T. 98 : A. I. R. 1923 Mad. 57 : 43 M. L. J. 559.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 22, R. 10.

——O. 22, Rr. 10 and 3—Public trust—Death of trustee—Subsequent trustees impleaded as parties—Defences open to.

Where a public trust is represented at different stages of a suit by different representatives, one not claiming under the other, the rule applicable to the case is O. 22, R. 10 and not O. 22, R. 3 of the C. P. Code. In a case falling under O. 22, R. 10, the Court has wider discretion to allow amendment and new pleas at the instance of a representative than it has under O. 22, R. 3 on the application of a legal representative. (Ayling and Krishnan, JJ.) SUNDARESAN CHETTY v. VISVANATHA PANDARASANNADHI AVERGAL. 45 Mad. 703 : 16 L. W. 83 : 31 M. L. T. 66 (H. C.) : (1922) M. W. N. 444 : 72 I. C. 103 : A. I. R. 1922 Mad. 402 : 43 M. L. J. 147.

——O. 22 R. 10—Order under, is appealable.

An order purporting to be passed under O. 22. R. 10 by a Court of First Instance is appealable though on the facts the order should not have been passed under the rule. (Wallis, C. J., Spencer and Kumaraswami Sastri JJ.) MUTHIAH CHETTIAR v. GOVINDOSS KRISHNADOSS. 44 Mad. 919 : (1921) M. W. N. 649 : 69 I.C. 337 : 14 L. W. 287 : 41 M. L. J. 316 (F. B.).

——O. 22, Rr. 10 and 4—Other cases—Devolution—Pendency of a suit—Survival of right to sue.

The devolution spoken of in R. 10 of O. 22 is not confined to devolution in ways other than by death. The first four rules of O. 22 cannot apply to a case in which the death of the defendant occurs between the passing of preliminary and final decrees in a suit, as there is then no right to sue surviving. (Hallifax, A. J. C.) TULARAM v. TUKARAM. 64 I. C. 307 : 17 N. L. R. 81.

——O. 22, R. 10—Application by alleged assignee, to be made party to the appeal must be enquired into and decided on the merits, though the assignor and the appellant deny assignment.

When a certain person alleges that he is the assignee of property which is the subject-matter of an appeal and puts in an application to be impleaded as a party to the appeal, the fact that the assignor and the appellant deny the assignment is no ground for rejecting the appeal. The Court is bound to enquire into the genuinenessof the alleged assignment and determine the assignee's application in accordance with the result of the enquiry. (Wazir Hasan, J. C.) RAM LAL v. BHOOP. 80 I. C. 631 : A I.R. 1925 Oudh 143.

——O. 22, R. 10—Devolution of interest—Gift by father to son—Suit for pre-emption—Right to continue the suit.

Where a father a co-sharer in a village had filed a suit for pre-emption in respect of a sale made by another co-sharer and during the pendency of the suit executed a deed of gift of all his properties in favour of his only son, Held, that the son was entitled as donee to maintain the suit in the place of his father. (Simpson and Wazir Hasan, A.J. Cs.) MIRZA SADIQ HUSAIN v. MAHOMED KARIM. 9 O. L. J. 456 : 70 I. C. 53 : 25 O. C. 319 : A. I. R. 1922 Oudh 289.

——O. 22 R. 10—Attaching creditor—Interest obtained by—Devolution of interest—Right to be impleaded in mortgage suit.

As an attachment creates no lien or title but simply prevents alienation, an attaching creditor cannot under

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 22, R. 10.

O. 22, R. 10 be impleaded in a mortgage suit relating to the attached properties. (Findlay, O. J. C. and Wadegaonkar, A. J. C.) BRUEL & CO. BOMBAY v. KEHEO RAO. 89 I. C. 446.

——O. 22, R. 10—Irregular exercise of discretion —Interference.

A wrong exercise of discretion on an application under O. 22, R. 10 cannot be set aside in revision (Findlay, O. J. C. and Wadegaonkar, A. J. C.) AMRITA RAO v. SONABAI. 89 I. C. 605 : A. I. R. 1925 Nag. 423.

——O. 22, R. 12—Decree capable of execution without final decree—Substitution of legal representatives need not be within 3 months of party's death.

Substitution of legal representatives within 3 months of a party's death is not necessary for execution of a decree when it is not a preliminary decree but one which could be put in execution by applying for sale of the property. (Daniels, J.) PEARE LAL v. JHABBA LAL. L. R. 5 A. (Civ.) 668 : 82 I. C. 604 : A. I. R. 1925 All. 66.

——O. 22, R. 12—Mortgage decree—Sale on non-payment in time—Death—If heirs to be impleaded.

Where under a mortgage decree the property is to be sold if money is not paid in a certain time, it is not necessary that the heirs of a deceased party should be impleaded before the right of sale is exercised. (C. C. Ghose and Panton, JJ.) HEMENDRA LAL SINGH DEO v. FAKIR CHANDRA DATTA. 50 Cal. 650 : 74 I. C. 929 : 27 C. W. N. 621 : A. I. R. 1923 Cal. 626.

——O. 22, R. 12—Applicability—Execution proceedings—Appeal.

The provisions of O. 22, relating to the abatement of suits and appeals do not apply to execution proceedings or to appeals from orders made in such proceedings. (Campbell, J.) MIR KHAN v. SHARFU. 5 Lah. L. J. 163 : 74 I. C. 577 : A. I. R. 1923 Lah. 560.

——O. 22, R. 12—Appeal from order under S. 47 —Legal representatives of one of two decree-holders not brought on record—Appeal does not abate.

Where one of two decree-holders died during the pendency of an appeal from an order under S. 47 and his legal representatives were not brought on record. Held : that the appeal did not abate by reason of R. 12. (Kinkhede, A. J. C.) MT. SARJABAI v. DHANRAJ. 8 N. L. J. 9 : 86 I. C. 11 : A. I. R. 1925 Nag. 239.

——O. 22, R. 12—Death of Judgment-debtor during execution—Applying for substitution is not the proper procedure.

The provisions relating to substitution of names contained in O. 22 do not apply to execution proceedings as laid down in R. 12 of that Order. Where the judgment-debtor dies during the progress of execution proceedings, the proper course is not to apply for the substitution of his legal representative but to apply for execution against the legal representative. (Dalal, J. C. and Wazir Hasan, A. J. C.) JANG BAHADUR v. BANK OF UPPER INDIA, LTD., LUCKNOW. 12 O. L. J. 146 : 87 I. C. 21 : 2 O. W. N. 73 : A. I. R. 1925 Oudh 448.

——O. 22, Rr. 12, 4—Mortgage suit—Application for joinder of legal representatives after preliminary decree and before final decree is not one in execution proceedings but governed by O. 22—C. P. Code, O. 34, Rr. 4, 5.

An application for joinder of legal representatives of the deceased defendant after preliminary decree and before final decree in a mortgage suit, is not an application in execution proceedings but an application in a pending suit governed by the provisions of O. 22 (37 All. 226 ; 40 All. 203. App.) (Rupchand Bilaram, A. J. C.) TULSIDAS KESHOWDAS v. RAMZAN ABDULLAH. 89 I. C. 238 : A. I. R. 1926 Sind 20.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 23, R 1.

——O. 23—Ejectment suit—Plea of occupancy rights—Withdrawal of suit, without liberty to file a fresh one—Legality of.

Where a Zamindar sues to eject a tenant on the ground that he has not occupancy rights, and the tenant claims such rights, the Zamindar is barred by O. 23, C. P. Code, from bringing a suit on the same ground if he withdraws the first suit, without obtaining permission to bring a fresh suit on the same cause of action. (Burn, J. M.) KUNWAR BRIJ RAJ SARAN SINGH v. NARAIN SINGH. L. R. 6 A. 181 (Rev.).

——O. 23—Ejectment suit—Compromise conferring occupancy rights—Whether order that "parties compromised—Case filed with costs" amounts to withdrawal.

In a suit for ejectment the parties filed a compromise, which purported to confer on the defendants occupancy rights and to fix rent, and the court passed orders that "parties compromised. Case filed with costs;" no written statement was filed and no evidence was taken and the defendants were treated as non-occupancy tenants. Held : that the order of the Court amounted to a dismissal of the Suit—(1) and not to a withdrawal under the provision of order 23, C.P. Code (2) that as no separate Agreement was made regarding the conferment of occupancy rights, the defendants had not acquired such rights. (Burn, J. M.) SURJA v. GHASI RAM. L.R. 5 All. 309 (Rev.).

——O. 23—Applicability—Ejectment filed without obtaining permission to withdraw a previous suit of the same nature—Maintainability.

Where a suit for ejectment was brought in a succeeding year, when a former suit with regard to the same subject-matter, had been withdrawn, without obtaining permission to file a fresh suit. Held, the suit was barred by O 23, C.P.Code. (Fremantle, S. M.) KALI MISIR v. JAMUNA MISIR. L. R. 5 A. 282 (2) (Rev.).

——O. 23 and S. 92—O. 23, applies to S. 92—C. P. Code, S. 92.

A judge has jurisdiction to pass a decree on the basis of compromise in a suit brought under S.92, C.P.Code. O. 23 of the Code of Civil Procedure dealing with adjustment of suits does not exclude suits under S. 92. (Newbould and Ghose, JJ.) SYED ABU MAHOMED BARAKAT ALI v. ABDUR RAHIM. 80 I. C. 44 : A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 187.

——O. 23, R. 1

Amendment.
Appellate Court.
Arbitration.
Bar of fresh suit.
Co-Plaintiff.
Effect of order.
Execution proceedings.
Finality of order.
Formal defect.
Form of order.
Grounds for.
Leave to withdraw.
Order as to costs.
Partition suit.
Probate proceedings.

C. P. CODE (OF V 1908), O. 23, R. 1—Amendment.

Public trust.
Revision.
Withdrawal without leave.

Amendment.

——O. 23, R. 1—Amendment refused—Plaint—Withdrawal of.

An amendment of a plaint was refused at a late stage of a trial on the ground that the suit would have to be tried de novo if the same was allowed but the Court gave leave to the plaintiff to withdraw his suit with liberty to bring a fresh suit. Held, the procedure was illegal. (Wazir Hasan, A. J. C.) BULAQUI DAS v. JUGAL KISHORE. 87 I. C. 1055 : A. I R. 1925 Oudh 718.

Appellate Court.

——O. 23, R. 1—Appellate Court can allow withdrawal.

A Court of appeal has power to grant permission to withdraw a suit with liberty to file a fresh suit. (Ryves, J.) TEWARI GAJRAJ SINGH v. SRI THAKURJI MAHARAJ. 74 I. C. 894 : A. I. R. 1924 All. 260.

——O. 23, R. 1—Appellate Court—Leave to withdraw suit

An appellate Court can grant leave to the plaintiff to withdraw his suit with liberty to sue again in respect of the same subject-matter. 35 Bom. 261, Dist. ; 22 Bom. L. R. 774 Foll. (Shah and Crump, JJ.) SHEIKH HASAN GHULAM MOHIDIN v. MAHOMAD ALI SHEIKH MAHOMED 22 Bom. L. R. 1183 : 59 I.C. 210 : 45 Bom. 206.

——O. 23, R. 1 (2)—Appellate Court—Rule applies to—But circumstances should justify reversal of trial Court's decree.

The Court can also in appeal give permission under O. 23, C.P.Code. for withdrawing a suit with liberty to bring a fresh suit but generally this can be done only in a case where the appellate Court discovers that the suit ought to fail on the ground of some formal defect and by reason of such discovery it is of opinion that the decree of the trial Court ought to be reversed. Where the defects were those which had been embodied in the objections which had been taken in the written statement and had been made the subject of issues in the first Court, and the plaintiff being aware of those defects had gone to trial and fought the case out with a view to persuade the Court to hold that the defects which had been pointed out had not existed. Held : that having failed there, it did not lie in his mouth at the appellate stage to say that they were really formal defects and that, because they were so, the lower appellate Court should have given him permission to withdraw from the suit. (Suhrawardy and Cuming, JJ.) NISHI KANTA SARKAR v. UMAR LAL SARKAR. 41 C. L. J. 186 : 86 I. C. 1029 : A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 711

——O. 23, R. 1—Appellate Court—Powers of.

To give an appellate Court jurisdiction to act under O. 23, R. 1, cl. (2) there must be either some formal defect or something in the nature of a formal defect ejusdem generis under sub-clause (b). Otherwise the Court has no jurisdiction to act under the order. (Greaves, J.) UDOY CHAND v. MULLA REASAT HOSSAIN. A. I. R. 1922 Cal. 58.

——O. 23, R. 1—Appellate Court—Appeal by some defendants only—Withdrawal of suit against them in appeal leaving intact decree against non-appealing defendants should not be allowed — Effect—Ryotwari tracts—Irrigation disputes—Decree against Government—Ryots when aggrieved by—Appeal from decree against Government—Their right of.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 23, R. 1—Bar of fresh suit.

O. 23, R. 1, C.P.Code, which gives a plaintiff the right to withdraw his suit and abandon part of his claim is inapplicable to the case of a plaintiff respondent. Assuming that the appellate Court can in the exercise of its discretion allow a plaintiff respondent to withdraw his suit as against the defendant appelant, it will not be a sound exercise of such discretion to allow the withdrawal in a case in which some of the defendants only have appealed, and they will be aggrieved by the decree of the Court below being allowed to stand as against the other defendants who have not appealed. Ryots in ryotwari tracts whose lands are irrigated by a Government tank are prejudiciallyaffected by a decree against the Government affecting the watersupply to that tank and can appeal against the same though the Government does not choose to appeal against it. (Ayling and Odgers, JJ.) DHARMA RAJA v. PETHURAJA 18 L. W. 243 : (1923) M. W. N. 677 : 46 Mad. 811 : 74 I. C. 4 : A. I. R. 1924 Mad. 79 : 45 M. L. J. 212

——O. 23, R. 1—Appellate Court—Right to withdraw suit in, is not an absolute right.

An appellant is not entitled to withdraw his suit in the appeal Court under O. 23, R. 1 (1) as a matter of course. In other words a plaintiff-appellant has no absolute right to withdraw his suit in appeal. (Dalal, A. J. C.) SAIYED ASHIAQ HUSSAIN v. SAIYED BUNYAD HUSSAIN. 9 O. & A. L. R. 415 : A. I. R. 1923 Oudh 252.

——O. 23, R. 1—Appellate Court, whether can allow withdrawal of suit—Jurisdiction.

Where evidence to meet the issues framed has been adduced by both parties and on these issues a decision has been arrived at and a decree has been passed, and that decree has been upheld on appeal, the High Court in Second Appeal has no power to allow withdrawal of the suit and to deprive the defendant of the advantage he has gained from the decision of the issues in his favour. (Adami, J.) DEBENDRA CHANDRA v. CHADHURI BANDHU. 61 I. C. 831 : 2 Pat. L. T. 591.

——O. 23, R. 1—Applicability—Ejectment suits—Agra Tenancy Act.

O. 23 applies to ejectment suits filed under the Agra Tenancy Act. (Burn, J. M.) MT. ABADI BEGAM v. MT. KETKI KUAR. L. R. 6 A. 65 (Rev.)

Arbitration.

——O. 23, R. 1—Arbitration—Reference to arbitration pending suit—Award void due to invalid reference—Withdrawal of suit ought not to be allowed—But allowing is not void.

Where a reference to arbitration under the second schedule Para. 1 was invalid for want of consent of one of the parties, Held : that the Court ought not to have allowed the plaintiff to withdraw the suit with leave to briug a fresh suit but should have proceeded with the suit but that where permission had actually been given a second suit was not barred by the existence of the void award. (Devadoss J.) T S. SUBBA RAO v. APPADURAI. 21 L.W. 498 : 86 I.C. 839 : (1925) M. W. N. 97 : A.I.R. 1925 Mad. 621 : 48 M. L. J. 142.

Bar of fresh suit.

——O. 23, R. 1—Bar of fresh suit—Ejectment suit—Withdrawal of—Fresh suit not barred.

In ejectment suits, as in suits for partition, there is a cause of action recurring every year and the withdrawal of a suit in one year without leave to sue afresh is no bar to a suit in the subsequent year. (Fremantle

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 23, R. 1—Bar of fresh suit.

S. M.) UMRAI v. RAJA DURGA NARAIN SINGH. L. R. 5 A. 156 (Rev.).

——O. 23, R. 1 (3)—Bar of fresh suit—Withdrawal without leave—"Subject-matter" if means "property" in suit—Suit on different cause of action.

The words "subject-matter" used in O. 23, R. 1 (3) are not to be identified with the "property" in the suit. They mean the cause of action for a claim. A suit as a different cause of action though relating to the same property is not barred, if the suit is withdrawn without leave of Court. (Wazir Hasan, A. J. C.) PUTTOO KHAN v. AHMAD ZAMAN KHAN. 9 O. & A.L.R. 978 : 74 I. C. 56 : A. I. R. 1924 Oudh 180.

——O. 23, R. 1—Bar of fresh suit—Ejectment suit—Withdrawal of—Wrong survey numbers given—Fresh suit not barred.

Where a prior suit for ejectment giving wrong survey numbers of the land was withdrawn without liberty to sue afresh, a subsequent suit for ejectment of the defendant from the correct survey number and area is not barred. (Fremantle, S. M.) BANDHO v. MT. CHAURASI. L. R. 5 Oudh 105.

——O. 23, R. 1—Bar of fresh suit—Withdrawal without leave—Same cause of action—Subsequent suit with added prayer—Bar

Where a prior suit in which the plaintiffs claimed a declaration of their title to a certain War Bond in the hands of one of the defendants was withdrawn without liberty to bring a fresh suit, and the plaintiffs brought another suit for the consequential relief of the recovery of the War Bond or its value. Held that O. 23, R. 1, C. P. Code, barred such a subsequent suit. (Pratt and Macgregor, JJ.) MAUNG MU v. MAUNG KYAW GYI. 1 R. 618 : 77 I. C. 393 : A. I. R. 1924 Rang. 127.

Co-Plaintiff.

——O. 23, R. 1 (4)—Co-plaintiffs—One of several plaintiffs—If can withdraw suit—Consent.

One of several plaintiffs cannot withdraw from the suit without the consent of the others. (Fremantle, S. M. and Burn, J. M.) MAHOMED ILYAS v. FAQUIRA. 10 O. & A. L. R 210 : L. R. 5 A. 78 (Rev.).

——O. 23. R. 1—Co-plaintiffs—Withdrawal of unnecessary plffs.—Effect.

Withdrawal by unnecessary plffs. from a suit does not necessitate the dismissal of the suit. (Hopkins, S. M.) PHAGOO KURMI v DHARMARAJ. 2 U. P. L. R. (B. R.) 105 : 60 I. C. 592.

——O. 23, R. 1—Co-plaintiffs—Withdrawal of some plaintiffs—Legality.

Where the Court allows some plaintiffs to withdraw with liberty to file a firesh suit without the consent of the others, the Court acts without jurisdiction and a fresh suit is barred. (Jwala Prasad and Ross, JJ.) MT. RAM DEI v. MT. BAHU RANI. 1 P. 228 : A. I. R. 1922 Pat. 489.

——O. 23, R. 1—Effect of not granting permission—Bar of suit.

When an application for permission to withdraw with liberty to file a fresh suit is disposed of by an order stating "plaint withdrawn, case to be filed," a fresh suit for the same reliefs is barred. (Fremantle, S. M.) MT MUNNI BIBI v. RAGHUBAR. L. R. 6 A. 54 (Rev.).

Effect of order.

——O. 23, R. 1—Effect of order—Suit withdrawn is one as if never brought.

Per Suhrawardy, J.—When a suit is allowed to be withdrawn with leave to bring a fresh suit under O. 23, C.P. Code, it should be regarded as having never been brought. It is available for no purpose. It does not save or give fresh start to limitations; nor does it afford a fresh cause of action. (Walmsley, Newbould, C. C. Ghose Suhrawardy and B.B. Ghose, JJ.) BECHARAM CHOUDHURI v PURNA CHANDRA CHATTERJI 41 C. L. J. 456 : 88 I. C. 637 : 29 C. W. N. 755 : A.I.R. 1925 Cal. 845 (F B.)

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 23 R. 1—Finality of order.

——O. 23, R. 1—Effect of order—Effect of permission.

Permission to withdraw suit does not imply recognition of maintainability of a suit nor has Court power to provide to the effect in the order. (Oldfield and Ramesam, JJ.) MUTHIAH CHETTY v. PALANIAPPA CHETTY. 45 Mad. 90 : 15 L. W. 190 : A. I. R. 1922 Mad 447

——O. 23. R. 1—Effect of order—Presumption—Objection to other order.

An order under O. 23, R. 1 (2) gives rise to a rebuttable presumption that the Court passing it was satisfied that conditions mentioned in either the sub-rule (a) or (b) were fulfilled. So while questioning the validity of such an order it must be proved that none of the conditions mentioned in cls. (a) or (b) were satisfied and the mere fact that the Court did not give reasons for its order will not be a sufficient ground for an objection to the order. (Miller, C. J., Mullick and Jwala Prasad, JJ.) RAJ KUMAR MAHTON v. RAM KHELAWAN SINGH. 3 P. L. T 80 : 1922 P. H. C. C. 17 : 1 P. 90 : 64 I C. 337 : A. I. R. 1922 Pat. 44 (F. B.).

——O. 23, R. 1—Effect of order—Omission to sue for a portion of the claim—Withdrawal of suits with liberty to bring a fresh suit—Subsequent suit including claim previously omitted

The plaintiff who had omitted to sue for a portion of his claim withdrew the suit with liberty to bring a fresh suit under the provisions of O. 23, R. 1, C. P. Code. Later on he brought a suit including the portion of the claim so omitted in the prior suit. Held, that effect of withdrawal under O. 23, R. 1 was to leave the parties in the same position as if no such suit had been instituted and that O. 2, R. 2, did not deprive the plaintiff's right to include the omitted portion of his claim in the subsequent suit. 10 M. 160; 18 All. 53 followed. (Young, J.) MA PO v. A BUX. 3 Bur. L. J 189 : A. I R. 1925 Rang. 118.

Execution Proceedings.

——O. 23, R. 1—Execution proceedings—Withdrawal of—Order of rejection—Appeal.

O. 23, R. 1, C. P. Code, does not in terms apply to withdrawal and abandonment or execution proceedings but there is nothing to prevent a decree-holder from withdrawing his execution application. If the Courts persist in selling property of the judgment-debtor in spite of the prayer of the decree-holder not to proceed with execution it acts without jurisdiction. (Jwala Prasad and Ross, JJ.) RAM PRASAD RAI v. MAHESH KANT. 1 Pat. 232 : 3 Pat. L. T. 445 : 65 I.C. 122 : A. I. R. 1922 Pat. 525.

Finality of order.

——O. 23, R. 1—Finality of order—Institution of subsequent suit.

If the Court allows a suit to be withdrawn with permission to sue afresh, the Court trying the subsequent suit cannot enter into the question whether the order of the former Court was properly made. (Chatterjee and Newbould, JJ.) SAMADDI SHEIKH v. FULBASH BEWA. 65 I. C. 704 : A. I. R. 1923 Cal. 269 (1).

——O. 23, R. 1—Finality of order—Not open to objection in a subsequent suit.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 23, R. 1—Formal Defect.

If an order is passed with jurisdiction under O. 23, R. 1 (2), C. P. Code, it is not void even though it is passed improperly and it is not open to an objection in a subsequent suit between the parties regarding the subject-matter of the prior suit. (Miller, C.J. Mullick and Jwala Prasad, JJ.) RAJ KUMAR MAHTON v. RAM KHELAWAN SINGH. 1 P. 90 : 3 P. L. T. 80 : 1922 P. H. C. C. 17 : 64 I. C. 337 : A. I. R. 1922 Pat. 44 (F.B.).

Formal Defect.

———O. 23, R. 1 (2)—Formal defect—Pathway claimed as public—C. P. Code, S. 91 not followed—Special damage not proved—Defect is not formal.

A suit for declaration of a public right of pathway, without taking recourse to S. 91, C. P. Code or Order 1, rule 8, C. P. Code and without proving special damages, does not fail by reason of "formal defect." (Suhrawardy and Cuming, JJ.) NISHI KANTA SARKAR v. UMAR LAL SARKAR. 86 I. C. 1029 : 41 C. L. J. 186 : A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 711.

———O. 23, R. 1—Formal defect—Allegation—Proof—Leave to withdraw—Revision.

A Court ought not to grant leave to withdraw a suit with liberty to sue a fresh on a mere allegation that there is a formal defect, without satisfying itself that it does exist as a matter of fact. An order granting leave to withdraw without sufficient or proper cause can be interfered with in revision. (Richardson, J.) SRIMATI KIRANMOY DASI v. RAMA NATH PAL. 64 I. C. 556 (Cal.)

———O. 23, R. 1 (2)—Formal defect—Other sufficient grounds in R. 1 (2) (b) are ejusdem generis with R. 1 (2) (a).

The words "other sufficient grounds for allowing the plaintiff to institute a fresh suit" in O. 23, Cl. 2 (b) must be taken to mean ejusdem generis with the words in Cl. 2 (a) that is to say, "some formal defect" (1911) 1 M. W. N. 105, Rel. on. Where the plaintiff was not ready to go on with his case, Held, that permission to withdraw the suit, and to institute a fresh suit should not be granted. (Beasley, J.) SUBEDAR NAIMATHULLA KHAN v. ABDUL RAZACK. 22 L. W. 535 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 1268.

———O. 23, R. 1 (12) (a)—Formal defect—Radical defect is not "formal"

A defect which goes to the root of plaintiff's claim is not a "formal" defect. (Jackson, J.) VENKATARAMAYYA v. BANDI VEERASWAMI. 21 L. W, 282 : 88 I. C. 665 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 617.

———O. 23, R. 1—Non-inclusion of prayer for possession in declaratory suit is not formal defect.

A suit which must fail by reason of the cause of action on which it is found not being substantiated by evidence cannot be said to fail by reason of some formal defect. The essential element of a cause of action for a declaratory relief is the fact that the plaintiff is in possession and if that fact is not established the suit fails on merits and the defect is not a formal defect though the result is attracted by the provisions of S.42 of the Specific Relief Act. Allowing withdrawal on the ground that in a declaratory suit the plaint did not contain a prayer for possession is gravely irregular as the question affects jurisdiction and is not merely one of form. (Wazir Hasan, J. C.) MT. EJAZ RASUL KHAN v. MUBARAK HUSSAIN. 27 O. C. 231 : 11 O. L. J. 613 : 79 I. C. 1033 : A. I. R. 1925 Oudh 291.

———O. 23, R. 1—Formal defect—Objections by defendant is not proof of formal defect—Court must be satisfied that there is such defect.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 23, R. 1—Form of order.

The fact that numerous objections have been taken by the defendant is not sufficient proof that formal defects exist. This is an utterly wrong position to take. In order to give a Court jurisdiction to act under O. 23 R 1, it is not sufficient that the defendant should allege legal defects but the Court must be satisfied either from the plaintiff's admission or otherwise that there really is some formal defect which must lead to the failure of the suit or some other sufficient cause within the meaning of the rule. (Daniels, J. C.) RAJINDRA PURI v. BENI MADHO. 11 O. L. J. 351 : 79 I. C. 1031 : 10 O. & A. L. R. 823 : 1 O. W. N. 383 : A. I. R. 1925 Oudh 140.

———O. 23, R. 1—Formal defect—Omission to obtain permission of insolvency Court is a formal defect.

Where a suit, which was well within time, was filed, against an insolvent without the permissions of the insolvency Court. Held, that such omission was a formal defect and permission to withdraw and file a fresh suit with the permission of the Insolvency Court should be granted. (Lentaigne, J.) ROWE AND CO., LTD. v. TAN THEAN TAIK. 2 Rang. 643 : 84 I. C. 909 : A. I. R. 1925 Rang. 105.

———O. 23, R 1—Formal defect—Bar of O. 2, R. 2, C.P. Code—Leave to withdraw both suits with liberty to sue afresh—Mistake of law or fact.

In respect of goods sold and delivered before a certain date plaintiff had instituted two suits for their price. Later on apprehending that the second suit would be barred by O. 2, R. 2, C. P. Code plaintiff before the framing of issues, applied for leave to withdraw them with liberty to bring a fresh suit in respect of the price of the whole quantity of goods. Held, that the plaintiff should be granted leave to withdraw with liberty to sue for the consolidated claim, inasmuch as his mistake was a bona fide one.

Lentaigne, J.—The expression "formal defects" must be given a very wide and liberal meaning and presumably as connoting defects of various kinds which are not defects affecting the merits of the case on substantial questions (including equities and estoppels) reasonably arising between the parties. It is impossible to lay down any exhaustive definition of what are sufficient grounds within the meaning of O. 23, R. 1, C. P. Code. Amendments of pleadings should equally be allowed in suitable cases in order to overcome the effects of bona fide mistakes whether of law or of fact, and it does not matter whether the assertions or omissions caused by such mistakes were deliberately made or not. If the Court is satisfied that there is a reasonable apprehension that the suit must fail if the permission to withdraw is not granted, the plaintiff is entitled to be given leave to withdraw. Decisions to the effect that an appellate court had not legally granted the permission to withdraw on a particular ground would not amount to an authority to the effect that such ground would not have been a proper ground for the granting of such relief if applied for at an early stage of the suit in the trial Court. (Lentaigne, J.) K. E. A. K. A. SAHIB & CO. v. K. M. ADAMSA. 2 Rang. 66 : 81 I. C. 465 . A. I. R. 1924 Rang. 249.

Form of Order.

———O. 23, R. 1—Form of order—Dismissal of suit on merits containing a permission to bring a fresh suit does not entitle plaintiff to file fresh suit, where no application under R. 1 is made.

Where a Court in dismissing a suit made a remark that the plaintiffs were at liberty to file a fresh suit, but there was no formal application under O 23, R. 1 for withdrawal, Held, the remark does not amount to a permission to bring a fresh suit under O. 23, R. 1.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 23, R. 1—Form of order.

(Lord Phillimore.) FATEH SINGH v. JAGANNATH BAKSH SINGH. 52 I. A. 100 : 6 L. R. P C. 50 : 12 O. L. J. 117 : 2 O W. N. 25 : 47 All. 158 : 27 O. C. 334 : 27 B. L. R. 725 : 29 C. W. N. 749 : 23 A. L. J. 739 : 22 L. W. 58 : A. I. R. 1925 P. C. 55 : 48 M. L. J. 64 (P. C.).

——O. 23, R. 1—Form of order—Plaintiff applying but Court not allowing withdrawal with liberty to bring fresh suit—Court should simply dismiss the application.

Where the plaintiff does not desire to withdraw from the suit unless liberty to bring a fresh suit is granted and the Court considers that such liberty should not be granted the proper course is simply to dismiss the application. 32 Bom. 345, Foll. (Newbould, J.) KAMINI KUMAR v. RAJENDRA NATH. 42 C. L. J. 219 : 90 I. C. 432 : A. I. R. 1926 Cal 233.

——O. 23, R. 1.—Form of order—Permission need not be express.

The permission mentioned in O.23, R. 1, C. P. Code, need not be express. It is sufficient if the grant of permission can be implied from the order, read with the application on which the order was passed. 3 P. R. 1905 and 97 P. R. 1916. Diss. The defts. cannot question the propriety of the order granting the permission which has become final, at the time of filing a fresh suit.(Shadi Lal and Martineau, JJ.) BANWARI LAL v. KISHEN DEVI. 67 I. C. 1002 : 2 L. L. J. 242.

——O. 23, R. 1—Form of order—Liberty to file fresh suit—Need not be expressly given.

A court can impliedly give a plaintiff permission under O. 23, R. 1 to institute fresh suit after withdrawing a pending one. There is nothing in that rule demanding that the permission shonld be given expressly. (Hallifax, A. J. C.) SAVITRI v. MADHORAO. A. I. R. 1924 Nag. 285.

——O. 23, R. 1—Form of order—Withdrawal of suit—Order of Court granting leave—Form of.

The procedure under O. 23, R. 1, C. P. Code, is that the plaintiff withdraws his suit. The suit is not dismissed at all and the act is the act of the plaintiff, not of the Court. Where there was no application and no withdrawal and the suit was dismissed, the Court remarking that the plaintiffs might sue afresh if they chose, Held, that there was no grant of leave to withdraw the suit with liberty to sue afresh. (Dalal and Simpson, A. J. Cs.) FATEH SINGH v. JAGANNATH BAKHSH SINGH. 10 O. L. J. 132 : 74 I. C. 549 : A. I. R. 1923 Oudh 242.

[See on appeal Fateh Singh] 52 I. A. 100 : 47 A. 158 · 48 M. L. J. 64 (P. C.).

Grounds for.

——O. 23, R. 1—Grounds for—Non-service on heirs of deceased defendant.

The fact that notices on the heirs of a deceased defendant could not be served is no ground for allowing plaintiff to withdraw a suit with liberty to file a fresh suit. (Shah, A. C. J. and Crump, J.) LAKSHMIBAI JAGANNATH JOSHI v. YESHWANT VITHAL BAGKAR. 24 Bom. L. R. 909 : 75 I. C. 283 ; 47 Bom. 92: A. I. R 1922 Bom. 449 (1).

——O. 23, R. 1—Grounds for—Plaintiff's case failing owing to mistaken view of law—Withdrawal cannot be permitted.

The fact that a plaintiff's claim has failed on account of a mistaken view of the law is not a sufficient ground for permitting withdrawal of suit in second appeal. (Suhrawardy and Cuming, JJ.) SITINDRA MOHAN TAGORE v. BAMA SUNDERI DEVI. 88 I. C. 512 : A. I. R. 1926 Cal. 432.

——O. 23, R. 1 (2) (b)—Grounds—Other ground must be analogous to "formal defect".

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 23, R. 1—Grounds for.

'Other sufficient grounds' in Sub-cl. (b) O. 23, R. 1 must be ejusdem generis with the formal defect in sub-cl. (a). (Jackson, J.) VENKATARAMAYYA v. BANDI VEERASWAMI. 21 L. W. 282 : 88 I. C. 665 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 617.

——O. 23, R. 1 (2)—Grounds—Issues joined—Plaintiff failing to prove case—Withdrawal cannot be allowed.

The Court has no power under the rule to grant permission to the plaintiff to withdraw from the suit, with liberty to institute fresh suit, in a case where the issues have been joined and the plaintiff fails to produce evidence in support of the issues or where evidence has been adduced, but the evidence is not such as to support the plaintiff's case. The reason is that in a case of this character the suit must fail not by reason of some formal defect, but on the merits and apprehension of failure in the suit cannot be said to constitute a sufficient ground for allowing the plaintiff to institute a fresh suit. (Jackson, J.) VENKATARAMAYYA v. BANDI VEERASWAMI. 88 I. C. 665 : 21 L. W. 282 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 617.

——O. 23, R. 1—Grounds—Does not apply where plaintiff withdraws case under fear that his allegations will fail.

Where the plaintiff under a fear that he will fail on the case set up by him desires to withdraw so as to be able to bring another suit on completely different allegations. O. 23, R. 1 does not apply to the case. Because in such a case the failure of the suit would not be due to some formal defect but it will be on merits. (Baker, J. C.) MT. RANGUBAI v. MADHORAO. 81 I. C. 276 : A. I. R. 1925 Nag. 101.

——O. 23, R. 1 (2) (b)—Grounds—"Other sufficient grounds" must not be wholly dissimilar to some formal defect.

"Other sufficient grounds" would not cover any ground wholly dissimilar to some formal defect. The interpretation of the words "other sufficient grounds" in the clause should be the same as that of the words "other sufficient reason" used by the Legislature in connection with an application for review of judgment in R. 1, sub r. (1), clause (c) of O. 47, of C. P. Code. (Wazir Hasan, J. C.) MT. EJAH RASUL KHAN v. MUBARAK HUSAIN. 27 O. C. 231 : 11 O. L. J. 613 : 79 I. C. 1033 : A. I. R. 1925 Oudh 291.

——O. 23, R. 1—Grounds for—Plaintiff bound to fail owing to substantial defect in plaint—Permission cannot be granted.

The fact that upon tne case as made in the plaint the plaintiff could not succeed is no ground for allowing the plaintiff to withdraw from the suit with liberty to bring a fresh suit. Such permission can be granted only when the suit is bound to fail by reason of some formal defect or on other sufficient grounds analogous to those provided for in Sub-Cl. (a). (Kulwant Sahay, J.) JAGANNATH SAHU v. SHEO GOBIND PRASAD. 90 I. C. 217 : A. I. R 1926 Pat. 128.

——O. 23, R. 1—Grounds for—Improper grant of leave—Remedy of aggrieved party—Appeal—Revision—Suit.

The circumstances contemplated by O. 23, R 1 of the Code are confined to those mentioned in Cls. (a) and (b) of R. 1, sub-r. (2) of the Order, and do not include a case where the Court making the order is not satisfied that the circumstances mentioned in cls. (a) or (b) exist. If the Court is not satisfied that the circumstances contemplated in the rule exist then it has no jurisdiction to make the order as the jurisdiction is only conferred where the court is so satisfied. If this condition is not fulfilled it is clear that the jurisdiction does not arise. In all cases where an order under the rule is made it must be presumed in the absence of proof to the contrary that the Court was satisfied that the conditions in one or other of the cls. (a) and (b) existed. Where the court had jurisdiction to make the order it is not open to the Court in a subsequent suit to question the propriety of his decision, or to consider whether in fact there existed a formal defect or other sufficient ground for the order. Where jurisdiction is conferred to determine a particular question and the Court having jurisdiction determines it, the decision is binding upon the parties, whether right or wrong until it is set aside by some process known to the law in that suit. This may be done either by review of judgment or by appeal or revision where such procedure is permitted by law in the particular case. It cannot be done in a collateral proceeding. To hold otherwise would be to destroy the finality of all legal proceedings and to render a determination of rights by a Court of law impossible. 24 C. W. N. 723 (F. B.) foll : 3 P. L. J. 404 ; (1920) Pat. 232 overruled. (Dawson Miller, C. J. Mullick and Jwala Prasad, JJ.) RAJKUMAR MAHTON v. RAM KHELAWAN SINGH. 1 P. 90 : 3 P. L. T. 80 : 1922 P. H. C. C. 17 : 64 I. C. 337 : A. I. R. 1922 Pat. 44 (F. B.).

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 23, R. 1—Grounds for.

———O. 23, R. 1, and S. 115—Grounds for—Inability to produce witness, if reason for withdrawal—Revision.

Inability to produce important evidence is not a sufficient ground, under O. 23, R. 1, Sub-R. (2), Cl. (b) of the Code, to allow a plaintiff to withdraw his suit with liberty to bring a fresh one and a Court which does so, acts illegally and with material irregularity, in the exercise of its jurisdiction and the order is liable to be set aside in revision. (Das and Ross, JJ.) UCHANT AHIR v. BASAWAN AHIR. 2 P. L. T. 634 · 61 I. C. 639 : 6 P. L. J. 112.

———O. 23, R. 1—Grounds—Apprehension that second suit would be barred under O. 2, R. 2 is good ground for allowing withdrawal--C.P. Code, O. 2, R. 2.

Where the object of the plaintiff in withdrawing the suits under O. 23, R. 1 was to consolidate the two claims in a single suit which would avoid any danger of the second suit being held to be barred under O. 2 R. 2, Held : that he should be allowed to withdraw with permission to bring another suit. (1887) 10 Mad. 160, (1885) 7 All. 624, (1894) 17 All. 53 Foll. (Lentaigne, J.) K. E. A. K. A. SAHIB & CO. v. K. M. ADAMSA.

2 Rang. 66 : 81 I. C. 465 : A. I. R. 1924 Rang. 249.

——— —O. 23, R. 1—Late stage—Suit for possession of share in Melvaram and Kudivaram—Trial almost closed—Plaintiff wishing to withdraw part of the claim without specific reasons cannot be allowed to withdraw.

Plaintiff claimed partition and possession and a permanent injunction restraining the defendant from entering on the plaintiff's share in both the Melvaram and Kudivaram of the suit land. After defendant filed his written statement and the issues were framed, he asked for permission to withdraw the suit in respect of the Melvaram and to confine himself to the claim of the Kudivaram. No specific reasons were given for such withdrawal. The lower Court permitted the withdrawal and granted leave. Held that the lower Court used its discretion wrongly and that the defendant should have such order vacated without waiting for the final judgment. (Coutts-Trotter, C. J. and Ramesam, J.) N. M. KHAJAMYAN ROWTHER v. APPAVU PILLAI. 1925 M. W. N. 493 : 90 I. C. 642 : A. I. R. 1926 Mad. 126.

C. P CODE (V OF 1908), O. 23, R. 1—Order as to costs.

Leave to withdraw.

———O. 23, R. 1—Leave to withdraw—Conditions.

Where some plaintiffs compromised with some defendants and suit was dismissed, contesting plaintiffs should not be allowed to get restoration of suit unless they paid to contesting defendants costs up to dismissal of suit and except on terms that the contesting defendants be allowed to put in objection is arising out of the new state due to compromise. (Rankin and M. N. Mukerji, JJ.) KALIDAS CHANDRA RAY v. HRIDAY CHANDRA DAS. 39 C. L. J. 367 : 83 I. C. 958 : A. I. R. 1924 Cal. 814.

———O. 23, R. 1—Leave to withdraw—Power of Revenue Court to grant.

Quaere—If a Revenue Court can grant permission to withdraw a suit or application with liberty to file a fresh suit or application in a civil court. (Walmsley and B. B. Ghose, JJ.) SASI KANTA ACHARJA v. SALIM SHEIKH. 50 Cal. 626 : 27 C. W. N. 987 : 74 I. C. 1001 : A. I. R. 1923 Cal. 624.

——— O. 23, R. 1—Leave to withdraw—Decree based upon concurrent findings of fact—Second Appeal.

Where the decree is based upon a concurrent finding of fact, the Court cannot grant leave to withdraw, as the question whether such leave should be given in Second Appeal depends upon whether the Court is satisfied that the decree against the plaintiff should be set aside. (Sanderson, C. J. and Richardson, J.) RAM KUMAR BANIKYA v. SAFIUNISSA BIBI. 63 I. C. 169 (Cal.)

———O. 23, R. 1—Leave to withdraw suit—Not a decree and not appealable.

An order granting permission to the plaintiff to withdraw a suit or to abandon a part of his claim is not a decree and is not therefore appealable. 18 C. 322 ; 27 C. 362 ; 15 A. 169 ; 17 A. 97, Ref. (Abdul Raoof and Martineau, JJ.) SANT RAM v. MT. SAHIB KUER. 65 I. C. 719 : A. I. R. 1922 Lah. 267.

———O. 23, R. 1—Leave to withdraw—Application to withdraw suit can itself be withdrawn. (1912) M. W. N. 997 Ref. (Oldfield, J.) LAKSHMANA PILLAI v. APPALWAR ALWAR AYYANGAR. 31 M. L. T. 451 (H. C.) : 17 L. W. 632 : 71 I. C. 288 : A. I. R. 1923 Mad. 246 : 44 M. L. J. 77.

——— ——O. 23, R. 1—Suit allowed to be withdrawn at the appellate stage—Order if appealable.

No appeal lies from an order passed by an appellate Court under O. 23, R. 1. (Wazir Hasan, A. J. C.) BISHUNATH v. RAM PARSHAD. 88 I. C. 1029 (1).

Order as to costs.

———O. 23, R. 1—Order as to costs—Second suit dismissed for non-compliance with condition on which permission was granted—Third suit is barred.

The plaintiff was allowed to withdraw his suit with permission to bring a fresh suit on condition that he paid the defendant's costs. The plaintiff filed the second suit but instead of paying the defendant's costs before filing the second suit he paid the same, afterwards. Held, that on dismissal of the second suit on the ground of his not having complied with the condition on which the permission to bring it had been granted, the plaintiff was not entitled to bring a third suit. (Macleod, C. J. and Crump, J.) AMBUBAI HANMATRAO v. SHANKARSA NAGOSA. 27 B. L. R. 243 : 87 I. C. 807 : A.I. R. 1925 Bom. 272 (1).

——— ——O. 23, R. 1, Cl. 2—Order as to costs—Leave to withdraw suit with liberty to bring a fresh suit—Leave granted on condition of payment of costs—Institution of fresh suit without payment of costs—Effect of.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 23. R. 1—Order as to costs.

Where the Court granted the plaintiff leave to withdraw a suit with liberty to institute a fresh suit on payment of costs of the first suit and the plaintiff filed a second suit without paying the costs as directed. held, that the plaintiff having failed to comply with the condition laid upon him as to the payment of costs before he could bring a fresh suit the first suit cannot be held to be pending until costs were paid therein. 33 M. 258; 2 C. L. J. 480 followed. 31 Cal. 965; 19 C. L. J. 529 ; 3 Patna L. J. 63 dissented from. (Phillips, J.) GOLLAPUDI SHESHAYYA v. NADENDLA SUBBAYYA. 35 M. L. T. 62 : 20 L. W. 642 : (1924) M. W. N. 887 : 82 I. C. 499· A. I. R. 1924 Mad. 877 : 47 M. L. J. 646.

——0. 23, R. 1 (3) Order as to costs—"Shall" in the rule is not mandatory and does not conflict with power of Court under C. P. Code, S. 35.

Rule (1) (3) does not impose an unavoidable obligation on the Court to award costs in all cases. The word "shall," as used in the context, is merely directory and not mandatory. This rule has not the effect of divesting the Court of discretion vested in it by S. 35. (Wazir Hasan and Simpson, A. J. Cs.) RAM BHOWS v. RAMPAL SINGH. 2 O. W. N. 901 : A. I. R. 1925 Oudh 699.

Partition Suit.

——0. 23, R. 1—Partition suit—In some cases—Plaintiff cannot withdraw.

As a general proposition a plaintiff can at any time withdraw a suit but that a plaintiff cannot always and in all circumstances withdraw is a proposition which is not without authority ; for instance, in a partition suit a defendant seeking a share is in the position of a plaintiff and one plaintiff cannot withdraw without the permission of another according to O. 23, R. 1 (4). (Crump and Coyajee, JJ.) TUKARAM MAHADU TANDEL v. RAMCHANDRA MAHADU TANDEL. 49 B. 672 : 89 I. C. 984 : 27 B. L. R. 921 : A. I. R. 1925 Bom. 425.

——0. 23, Rr. 1 and 3—Partition Suit—Compromise effected—Subsequent withdrawal by plaintiff is not permissible.

When in a partition suit a defendant has by a compromise with the plaintiff acquired rights which otherwise could not have existed, it is not open to the plaintiff who has consented to the compromise afterwards to annul its effect by withdrawing the suit. 29 Bom. 13 Foll. (Crump and Coyajee, JJ.) TUKARAM MAHADU TANDEL v. RAMCHANDRA MAHADU TANDEL. 27 B. L. R. 921 : 49 B. 672 : 89 I. C. 984 : A. I. R. 1925 Bom. 425.

——0. 23, R. 1—Partition suit—Plaintiff wishing in previous suit for division in status and in second suit, while right to partition is still subsisting, seeking to recover his share of which he had been deprived, second suit is not in respect of same subject matter

When a member of a family has withdrawn a suit for partition, he is not precluded from bringing another suit for the possession of his share of the property by reason of O. 23, R. 1. Where in the first suit, the plaintiff wished to become divided for some reason or other, and to enforce his right to partition ; and in the second suit, while his right to a partition was still subsisting, he was dispossessed of his share and consequently treating that as the basis of his action, he sought to recover his share. Held : that the second suit was not in respect of the same subject-matter. (Phillips, J.) KRISHNASWAMI NAIDU v. PERUMAL. 20 L. W. 540 : (1924) M. W. N. 742 : 83 I. C. 84 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 112.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 23, R. 1—Revision.

Probate Proceedings.

——0. 23, R. 1—Probate proceedings.

O. 23, R. 1, C. P. Code, is not applicable to probate proceedings. 20 C W. N. 986 and 21 Bom. 335, Rel 38 Bom. 309, Dist. Even if O. 23, R. 1, C P. Code, were considered applicable the necessary permission to bring a suit was given as in the statement made by them, they said that they intended to file a regular suit, and asked for permission to withdraw from their application and plaintiff was allowed to withdraw. 34 M. L. J. 515 and 35 Cal. 990 (995), Foll. (Shadi Lal and Martineau, JJ.) BANWARI LAL v. KISHEN DEVI. 67 I. C. 1002 : 2 Lah. L. J. 242.

Public Trust.

——0, 23, R. 1, S. 92 and O. 1, R. 10—Public trust—Scheme suit—Withdrawal of—Court has power to transfer parties and decide the suit on its merits

Where in a scheme suit under S. 92 of the Code, the plff, applies to withdraw the suit and it appears that his object is to prevent the Court from deciding the suit on merits, the Court can under powers given to it under O. 1, R. 10 transpose some of the defendants as plffs and proceed with the suit notwithstanding the withdrawal of the plff. (Sadasiva Iyer and Odgers, JJ.) MAHOMED SIRAJUDDIN v. GHULAM JILANI. 59 I. C 233 : 12 L. W. 25.

Revision.

——0. 23, R. 1—Revision—Withdrawal allowed—Questionof formal defect not considered—Order is revisable.

Where the Court without applying its mind to the question whether there is any formal defect in the suit, allows the suit to be withdrawn with permission to the plaintiff to bring a fresh suit, and actually there is no formal defect; the Court acts with material irregularity and its order is open to revision by the High Court. (Daniels, J) GANGA PRASAD v. MT. KISHNI. 47 All. 319 : 87 I. C. 175 : L. R. 6 A. (Civ) 155 : A. I.R. 1925 All. 466.

——0. 23, R. 1 (2)—Revision—Withdrawal allowed but permission to bring fresh suit refused—Revision lies.

Where in the case of an application to withdraw a suit in terms of O. 23, R. 1 (2), the Court allows the suit to be withdrawn but refuses permission to bring a fresh suit, the courts' order is liable to be set aside in revision. (Boys, J.) NATHJI v. LANGURIA. L. R. 6 A. (Civ.) 62 : 85 I. C. 548 : A. I. R. 1925 All. 272.

——0. 23 R 1—Revision—Order passed without recording grounds.

An order granting leave to withdraw without considering or recording any grounds for allowing withdrawal is a wrong exercise of jurisdiction and a revision would lie. (Banerji, J.) RAHMAT ULLA v. DHARAM SINGH. 20 A. L. J. 90 : L. R 3 A. 93 : 64 I. C. 948 : A. I. R. 1922 All. 185. (1).

——0. 23, R. 1—Revision—Application to withdraw Dismissal.

Plff.'s application to withdraw with liberty to bring fresh suit was disallowed and the suit dismissed. The application was allowed on appeal on the ground that there was a formal defect in the frame of suit. Held, there was proper exercise of jurisdiction by the Lower Court and no revision lay. (Figgott and Walsh, JJ.) RATAN LAL v. MUHAMMAD HAMIDULLAH KHAN. 19 A. L. J. 47 : L. R. 2 A. 5 : 60 I. C. 899 : 2 U. P. L. R. (All.) 403.

——0. 23, R. 1—Revision—Leave to withdraw suit with liberty—Costs to follow the event—Order negativing costs of successful party—Interference on appeal.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 23, R. 1—Revision.

When leave to withdraw the suit with liberty is granted, costs must follow the event. Where in the matter of costs there is an omission to consider the necessary circumstances there is not a sound exercise of discretion and the High Court is entitled to interfere in revision. (Macleod, C. J. and Crump, J.) KHIM CHAND NARATTAMDAS v. SOBHACHAND BHOGILAL.
25 Bom. L. R. 242 : 47 B. 059 : 72 I. C. 324 : A. I. R. 1923 Bom. 206.

——0. 23, R. 1 and S. 115—Revision—Withdrawal of suit—Order by Appellate Court—Reasons not given—Revision.

Where an appellate court without finding any of the reasons specified in O. 23, R. 1 of the C. P. Code allows the plaintiff to withdraw his suit with liberty to bring a fresh suit in spite of the fact that the suit was fought out strenuously in the trial Court, the order of the Appellate Court is without jurisdiction and is liable to be set aside in revision, 44 C. 454 Ref. (Suhrawardy and Chotzner, JJ.) SUBASINI DEVI v. ASHUTOSH LAHIRI. 39 C L. J. 371 : A. I. R. 1924 Cal. 751.

——0. 23, R 1 (2) — Revision — Withdrawal of suit—Material irregularity.

The object of O. 23, R. 1 (2) is not to enable a plaintiff, after he has failed to conduct his suit with proper care and diligence and after his witnesses have failed to support his case, to obtain an opportunity of commencing the trial afresh in order to avoid the result of his previous misconduct of the case and so to prejudice the opposite party. An order, which allows a plaintiff to withdraw a suit with liberty to institute a fresh suit, will, according to its practice, be revised by the High Court. (Batten, Offg. J. C.) SINGHAI RAJILA v. KANHAI. 18 N. L. R. 30 : A. I. R. 1922 Nag. 84.

——0. 23, R. 1 and S. 115—Revision—Lower Court allowing without any justification withdrawal of suit with liberty to bring fresh suit—Defendant greatly prejudiced—High Court can interfere in revision

The suit had gone through various stages of proceedings. All the witnesses for the plaintiff were examined and also all the witnesses for the defence. 16 months had elapsed after the institution of the suit. On the day fixed for arguments, the Court allowed the plaintiff to withdraw his suit with liberty to bring another suit in respect of the same subject-matter. Held, that the Court had exercised its jurisdiction with gross irregularity and that palpable injustice was done. Held: also that the High Court was entitled to interfere in revision and to set aside the order of the lower Court. It is the duty of the Court to see that justice is properly done and that a subordinate Court does not pass certain orders transparently for the purpose of avoiding the trouble of writing a judgment. (Dalal, J.C.) MT. RABBUL ARFIN v. BABU RAZA.
1 O. W. N. 861 : 10 O. & A. L. R. 1130 : 85 I. C. 324 : A. I. R. 1925 Oudh 596.

——0. 23, R. 1—Revision lies if withdrawal is based on grounds other than in Rule 1—Failure to produce evidence in time is no ground for permitting withdrawal.

The High Court can interfere on the revision side with an order passed under O. 23, R. 1, if that order proceeds on grounds other than those laid down in R. 1. Where the only ground on which leave was granted was that the plaintiffs had failed within the time allowed to them to produce sufficient evidence upon which to prove their case. Held : this was not covered by the rule. 40 All. 612, Diss. 40 Mad. 793 (P. C.) Dist. (Scott-Smith, J.) ISHAR DAS v. LAL SINGH. 7 Lah. L. J. 290 : A. I. R. 1925 Lah. 497.

C P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 23, R. 1 (2).

——0. 23, R. 1—Revision—Failure to exercise judicial discretion.

Where the court below has failed to exercise a judicial discretion, an order under O. 23, R. 1, C. P. Code can be made the subject of revision. (Daniels, J. C.) RAJINDRA PURI v. BENI MADHO.
10 O. & A. L. R. 823 : 11 O. L. J. 301 : 79 I. C. 1031 : 1 O. W. N 383 : A. I. R. 1925 Oudh 140.

——0. 23, R. 1—Revision - Order allowing withdrawal for correction of survey numbers of disputed land after conclusion of evidence is without jurisdiction —C. P. Code, S. 115.

If an order under O. 23, R. 1, is passed without the conditions required by the section being complied with, the order is without jurisdiction and may be made the subject of revision. 44 C. 367 & 21 O. C. 68 Ref. Where the real ground on which withdrawal was sought for in a suit for possession was thatthe evidence was not sufficient to identify the land in dispute with the plots belonging to the plaintiffs. Held, that the order allowing withdrawal was without jurisdiction. (Daniels, J. C.) DAULA v. DWARKA PAL.
78 I. C. 121 : A. I. R. 1925 Oudh 61.

——0. 23, R. 1—Revision lies if lower Court grants permission without giving reason and the reasons for withdrawal do not come under Sub-cl. (2).

Where the reasons for which withdrawal was applied for were not of the kind recognised by O. 23, R. 1 sub-clause (2), and the lower Court never applied its mind to this question at all and also it gave no reason whatever for allowing the plaintiff permission to bring a fresh suit. Held, the High Court should interfere in revision. (Daniels, A. J. C.) PULAI v. UMANATH SINGH. 72 I. C. 1034 : A. I. R. 1924 Oudh 107.

Withdrawal without leave.

——0. 23, R. 1—Withdrawal of a portion of a claim after written statement filed by defendant and defendant put to trouble and expense.

The plaintiffs brought a suit in respect of both the melvaram and kudivaram of the suit properties. After written statement was filed by the defendant and the issues were framed and the trial almost over, the plaintiff prayed for permission to withdraw the suit in respect of the melvaram without assigning any reasons for the same. Held, that the plaintiff cannot be given liberty to withdraw. (Coutts-Trotter, C. J. and Ramesam, J.) KHAJA-MIYAN ROWTHER v. APPAVU PILLAI.
90 I. C. 642 : (1925) M. W. N. 493.

——0 23, R. 1—Withdrawal without leave—Consolidation of claims

Where a Court allows withdrawal without liberty to bring a fresh suit, but allows the plaintiff to consolidate that claim with a claim in another suit, the plaintiff cannot bring a fresh suit in respect of the matter. (Sadasiva Aiyar and Burn, JJ.) LAKSHMANAN CHETTY v. MUTHAIYA CHETTY.
62 I. C. 833 : 29 M. L. T. 189 : 40 M. L. J. 126.

——0. 23, R. 1 (2)—Applicability—R. 1 (2) applies to Appellate Court—But circumstances should justify reversal of trial Court's decree.

The Court can also in appeal give permission under O. 23, C. P. Code, for withdrawing a suit with liberty to bring a fresh suit but generally this can be done only in a case where the appellate Court discovers that the suit ought to fail on the ground of some formal defect and by reason of such discovery it is of opinion that the decree of the trial Court ought to be reversed. Where the defects were those which had been embodied in the objections which had been taken in the written statement and had been made the subject of issues in the first Court, and the plaintiff being aware of those defects had gone to trial and fought the case out with a view to persuade the Court to hold that the defects which had been pointed out had not existed; Held, that having failed there it did not lie in his mouth at the appellate stage to say that they were really formal defects and that, because they were so, the lower appellate Court should have given him permission to withdraw from the suit. (Suhrawardy and Cuming, JJ.) NISHI KANTA v. KUMAR LAL. 41 C. L. J 186 : 86 I. C. 1029 : A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 711

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908). O. 23, R. 1 (2) (b).

——O. 23, R. 1 (2) (b)—"Other sufficient grounds"—Ejusdem generis—Plaintiff not ready to go on with the case.

Where the plaintiff was not ready to go on with the case and applied for permission to withdraw the suit under O. 23, R. 1. Held that "other sufficient grounds" in R. 1, cl. (2) (b), must be taken to mean ejusdem generis with the words in cl. (2) (a), viz., some formal defect and consequently the order allowing the plaintiff to withdraw with liberty to bring a fresh suit is wrong and must be set aside in revision. (Beasley, J.) SUBADAR NAIMATULLA v. ABDUL RAZACK. 22 L. W. 35 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 1268.

——O. 23, R. 1 (3)—Bar under the rule, application of, to suits for ejectment under the Tenancy Act.

A suit for ejectment was withdrawn without permission to bring a fresh suit. A second suit for ejectment was brought in a subsequent year. Held, following the principles set forth and criteria laid down in Achuta Menon v. Achutan Nayar, Madras XXI, page 135 that the cause of action and the relief claimed are substantially the same in both suits and that O. 23, R. 1, does apply; there is a bar to the second suit if the former one has been withdrawn without permission. (Mc Nair, S. M. and Pim, J. M.) RAJA SRI KRISHNA DUTTA v. RAM ACHHAIBER RAI. L. R. 6 All. 248 (Rev.).

——O. 23, R. 1 (4)—Withdrawal by one co-plaintiff without consent of others is not permissible.

The Revenue Court cannot permit one of the plaintiffs to withdraw without the consent of the other co-plaintiffs. (Suhrawardy and Duval, JJ.) JOGENDRA NARAYAN v. MAHOMED ISMAIL. 42 Cal. 139 : 86 I. C. 1035 : A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 637.

——O. 23, R. 3—Adjustment—Does not apply to execution proceedings.

The provisions contained in O. 23, R. 3, regarding adjustment of suits do not apply to execution proceedings. (Dalal, J. C.) HAIDER MIRZA v. KAILASH NARAIN DAR. A. I. R. 1925 Oudh 136

—— O. 23, R. 3.

Adjustment,
Appeal.
Arbitration.
Binding on Parties.
Duty of Court.
Effect of Compromise.
Execution Proceedings.
Legality of Compromise.
Matters Outside Suit.
Partial Compromise.
Pleader's Authority.
Public Trust.
Record of Compromise.

—— O. 23, R. 3.

See also (1) CONTRACT ACT, S. 74.
(2) DECREE.

Adjustment

——O. 23, R. 3—Adjustment—Parties not understanding that the compromise is final and binding—Compromise is not valid.

Where both parties to suit referred the dispute to the arbitration of a pleader whose verdict was to be taken as final but as appeared from the affidavit of the pleader of one of the parties, that he was not of opinion that a final and binding agreement which should commit his client to any sum or no sum had been come to. Held: that the parties were not ad idem in connection with this compromise, and that the compromise had thus failed as a settlement of the suit between the parties. (Lord Shaw.) JAGATPUT DUGAR v. PURANCHAND NAHATTA. L. R. 5 P. C. 145 : 26 B. L. R. 772 : 34 M. L. T. 136 : 1924 M. W. N. 646 : 20 L. W. 571 : 83 I. C. 380 : A. I. R 1924 P. C. 200 (P. C.) : 47 M. L. J. 136.

——O. 23, R. 3—Adjustment at a meeting of share-holders.

It is abundantly clear that whatever may take place at the shareholders' meeting, it is not an adjustment within the provisions of the Code. (Mr Ameer Ali.) KEVALDAS TRIBHOVANDAS v. SAKERLA BULAKHIDAS. 38 M. L. T. 424 : 28 C. W. N. 930 : 79 I. C. 412 : A. I. R. 1923 P. C. 178 : 45 M. L. J. 763 (P.C.)

——O. 23, R. 3—Adjustment.

Statement by parties that a certain Vakil should hear the dispute and that they would accept his statement amounts to an adjustment. (Sulaiman and Kanhaiya Lal, JJ.) HIMANCHAL SINGH v. JATWAR SINGH 46 All. 710 : L. R. 5 A. (C v.) 439 : 80 I. C. 16 : A. I. R 1924 All. 570.

——O. 23, R. 3—Adjustment—Award—Supersession of—Subsequent reference through Court.

In a suit for dissolution of a partnership and taking accounts the parties referred their disputes to arbitration without the intervention of the Court. An award was made and the plff. applied to the Court to file the award as an adjustment under O. 23, R. 3, C. P. Code. Subsequently both the parties applied to the Court to appoint an arbitration for settling their disputes. The Court made an order accordingly but the arbitration failed. Thereupon the plaintiff sought to proceed with his application under O. 23, R. 3, C. P. Code. Held, that the previous arbitration proceedings had been annulled when the parties agreed to the appointment of an arbitrator by the Court and that the prior award could not be filed as an adjustment under O. 23, R. 3, C.P. Code. (Macleod, C.J. and Coyajee, J.) KHIMCHAND NAROTAMDAS v. BHOGILAL HIRACHAND. 24 Bom. L. R. 361 : 67 I C. 913 : 46 Bom. 854 : A. I. R 1922 Bom. 436.

Appeal.

——O. 23, R. 3—Appeal—Party abandoning his claim voluntarily—Court may decline to allow appeal to proceed further.

Walsh, J.—On general principles of law, independently of any provision in the Code, the High Court has an inherent discretion to decline to allow an appellant to prosecute an appeal the moment it is satisfied that the appellant by his solemn act and deed, testified to by his signature, for what he considered adequate consideration, has expressly abandoned his right and undertaken to withdraw his appeal. (Walsh, Kanhaiya Lal and Mukerji, JJ.) GAJENDRA SINGH v. DURGA KUMARI. 23 A. L. J. 561 : 88 I. C. 768 : 47 All. 637 : A. I. R. 1925 All. 603 (F. B.).

——O. 23, R. 3—Appeal—Parties agreeing not to adduce any evidence and to abide by Court's decision after local inspection—Decision after local inspection is one based on compromise and is not appealable.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 23, R. 3—Appeal.

The substantial dispute between the parties was as to whether a spout in question should or should not be closed. Instead of incurring the expense involved in producing a lot of oral evidence the parties decided that they should not produce any evidence whatsoever and should abide by the decision of the Munsif after he had made a local inspection. The document which recorded their agreement did not say that any inpection notes should be prepared by the Munsif and be left on the record; nor did it say that he should necessarily refer to all the documentary evidence that was produced by the parties. The matter in dispute was left entirely to the decision of the Munsif. Held: that the parties could not subsequently resile from their agreement and must be bound by the decision of the Munsif arrived at after local inspection whether the decision was, as a matter of fact, right or wrong. The Munsif's judgment was not vitiated by the fact that he kept no notes of his inspection or that he made no reference in his judgment to the documents filed by the parties. The decision must be treated to have been one based on a compromise between the parties and was no longer open to appeal. 1924 All. 570 and 1925 All. 271, Foll. (Sulaiman and Daniels, JJ.) SITA RAM v. PEARL. 23 A. L. J. 525 : : 88 I. C. 611 L. R. 6 A. (Civ.) 503 : A. I. R. 1925 All. 558.

——— O. 23, R. 3—Appeal.

Appellate Court also is bound to record compromise of even part of subject-matter of appeal. (Campbell and Zafar Ali, JJ.) UTTAM SINGH v. MUNSHI. 6 Lah. L. J. 261 : 80 I. C. 527 : A. I. R. 1925 Lah. 145.

——— O. 23, R. 3—Appeal—Duty of Court.

If a compromise relating to the subject matter of the suit is filed in court, the court is bound to pass a decree in accordance therewith under O. 23, R. 3, if it is satisfied of the fact of compromise. It cannot accept it in part only and reject the rest An appeal lies under O. 43 R. 1 (m) from an order recording or refusing to record a compromise. This right is not taken away merely because subsequently a decree has been passed in the suit. (Moti Sagar, J.) THE FIRM OF MEGH RAJ TEJ BHAN v. FIRM OF TULSI RAM DEVI DITTA. 6 Lah. L. J. 187 : 80 I. C. 696 : A. I. R. 1924 Lah. 466.

——— O. 23, R. 3—Appeal—Order holding that no compromise is proved.

R. 3 of O. 23, C. P. Code applies, as its very wording shows, only where it is proved to the satisfaction of the Court that a suit has been adjusted wholly or in part by any lawful agreement or compromise, or where the defendant satisfies the plaintiff in respect of the whole or any part of the subject-matter of the suit. The rule does not lay down what the Court is to do if it finds that there has been no adjustment, compromise, or satisfaction. Consequently the order passed by the lower Court in the present case finding that there has been no compromise is not an order under R. 3 of O. 23 and is not appealable. (Martineau, J.) SHANTI SARUP v. THE FIRM OF JAHANGIR MAL BANSI MAL. 73 I. C. 177 : A. I. R. 1924 Lah. 248.

——— O. 23, R. 3—Appeal—Suit—Meaning of—Proceedings under O. 21, R. 90.

'Suit' in R. 3 includes the appellate stages and execution proceedings following the decree. An application under O. 21, R. 90 to set aside a sale, is a suit or proceedings within O. 23, R. 3 and a compromise made therein should be recorded not under R. 2 of O. 21 but under R. 3 of O. 23. (Das and Ross, JJ.) JAGDISH MISSER v. SURESHWAR MISSER. 2 P.L. T. 278 : 62 I. C. 608 : 6 P. L. J. 253.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 23, R. 3—Arbitration.

——— O. 23, R. 3—Applicability—Adjustment of suit—Effect of—Offer by defendant that he would consent to a decree if a witness eats food cooked by plaintiff—How far effective.

Where a deft. offered that if a witness took food prepared by plaintiff the suit should be decreed and that offer was accepted and acted upon accurately and fully, the promise made by the defendant must be carried out by him and the suit decreed. This has nothing to do with adjustment of suits within the meaning of O. 23, R. 3 of the Code. (Mears, C. J. and Ryves, J.) RAM SUNDER MISRA v. JAI KARAN. 23 A. L. J. 201 : 47 All. 406 : 87 I. C. 174 : L. R. 6 A. 270 : A. I. R. 1925 All. 271.

Arbitration.

——— O. 23, R. 3—Arbitration—(Per Mukerji, J., Walsh & Kanhaiya Lal, JJ. Contra) Award is no adjustment.

Mukerji, J.—An award which has been arrived at by a reference of the subject-matter of an appeal to arbitration pending the appeal cannot be recognised as an 'adjustment by lawful agreement' by the parties to the appeal or as a 'compromise'. R. 3 of O. 23, deals with what is generally known as a compromise of a suit. A compromise is the direct result of an agreement between the parties. The rule 3, therefors, must be taken as directed only to cases where the parties have agreed that the Court should decide a matter between themselves in a particular way. Giving the words their plain meaning, an arbitration cannot come within the purview of R. 3. An award is not an adjustment by an agreement of parties within the meaning of R.3, O. 23 and even if any contrary opinion could be entertained before the passing of Act 5 of 1908, S. 89 of the Act makes it impossible to maintain such an opinion. (Case law fully discussed.) (Walsh, Kanhaiya Lal and Mukerji, JJ.) GAJENDRA SINGH v. DURGA KUMARI. 23 A. L. J. 561 : 47 A. 637 : 88 I. C. 768 : A. I. R. 1925 All. 503 (F. B.).

——— O. 23, R. 3—Arbitration—Decree not in excess of award on reference through Court is not appealable—C. P. Code, S. 104 (1) (f).

Where the decree appealed against was not in excess of the award and where the award had been made on a reference through the Court under Schedule II to the Code of Civil Procedure, Held, the award cannot be treated either as a compromise under rule 3 of Order 43, or an order appealable under S. 104 (1) (f) of the C. P. Code. (Pratt and Fawcett, JJ.) MAHOMED VALLI ASMAL v. VALLI ASMAL. 26 Bom. L. R. 171 : A. I. R. 1924 Bom. 324.

——— O. 23, R. 3—Arbitration—Award—Misconduct—Jurisdiction to enquire.

It is impossible to conceive that it was intended when an application was made to the Court under O. 23, R 3, C. P. Code, that all that the Court has to do was to satisfy itself that there had been an agreement to refer an award, and that it is bound to pass a decree in terms of the award, without considering any objection raised by one party or the other that there had been misconduct on the part of the arbitrators, such as in any other case would vitiate an award. (Macleod, C. J. and Crump, J.) THAKORE DAS v.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 23, R. 3—Arbitration.

LALLUBHAI. 25 Bom. L. R. 452 : 75 I. C. 102 : A. I. R. 1923 Bom. 401.

——— O. 23, R. 3—Arbitration—Award, if can be recorded as adjustment.

Where in a suit, a reference to arbitration is made by the parties without the intervention of the Court and an award is made thereon, it can be recorded as an adjustment under O. 23, R. 3 of the Code and a decree can be passed in terms of the award. (Macleod, C.J. and Fawcett, J.) MANILAL MOTILAL v. GOKALDOS ROWJI. 45 Bom. 245 : 59 I. C. 53 : 22 Bom. L. R. 1048.

———O. 23, R. 3—Arbitration—Award in a pending suit—Private arbitration—If enforceable.

Where in a pending suit the parties submitted their disputes to private arbitration, the award cannot be enforced under O. 23, R. 3, C. P. Code. 25 C. W. N. 127 and 40 Bom. 386, followed. 45 Bom. 245 dissented from. Necessity for arbitration through Court pointed out. (Rankin, J.) AMAR CHAND CHAMARIA v. BANWARI LAL. 49 Cal. 608 : 69 I. C. 808 : A. I. R. 1922 Cal. 404.

———O. 23, R. 3—Arbitration in pending suit, reference to, cannot be given effect to.

An informal reference to arbitration in a pending suit cannot be given effect to under O. 23, R. 3 of the Code or under the Arbitration Act even if there is a written submission. (Rankin, J.) DEKARI TEA CO. v. THE ASSAM BENGAL RAILWAY. 25 C. W. N. 127: 61 I. C. 919: 47 Cal. 6.

———O. 23, R. 3—Arbitration—Award without intervention during pendency.

In the absence of consent an award made without the intervention of the Court during the pendency of a litigation cannot be recorded as an adjustment under O 23, R. 3 of the C. P. Code, and cannot be enforced under S. 89 of the C. P. Code. 37 Bom. 639; 26 Bom. 75, diss. (Shadi Lal, C. J. and Leslie Jones, J.) HARI PERSHAD v. SOOGAN DEVI. 3 Lah. L. J. 162.

———O. 23, R 3—Arbitration—Rule applies to cases referred to arbitration—C. P. Code, S. 89 and Sch. II, Para. 20.

Section 89 does not preclude the application of O. 23, R. 3 to cases in which there has been a reference to arbitration. The power given by section 20 of Schedule II to any person interested to apply to a Court is not to be understood as overriding the general power given to parties under O. 23, R. 3 to adjust their disputes by a lawful compromise at any time after the institution of a suit. 45 B. 245 Foll. which overrules 40 B. 386. (Spencer and Devadoss, JJ.) C. C. DORAYYA v. C. VENKANNA. 76 I. C. 802 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 50.

———O. 23, R. 3—Arbitration—Partial award—Decree on—Power of Court to pass.

Where the parties to a suit referred to arbitration to three individuals the matters in dispute between them in the suit as well as certain other matters not forming the subject of the suit, two of the arbitrators were absent and thereupon the parties agreed to abide by the decision of the third arbitrator. That arbitrator gave his decision so far as the dispute in suit was concerned and deferred an enquiry into other matters. Owing to the obstruction of the defendants the arbitrator could not pass an award in respect of the matters outside the suit. On an application to the Court to have the award on the subject-matter of the suit recorded under O. 23, R. 3, C.P. Code, Held, that it was open to the Court to record the decision of the arbitrator, and pass a decree thereon even though the award was partial. There is no rule of law that a partial award is invalid and the question has to be decided on the intention of the parties, the matter being a subject of contract between them. (Phillips and Devadoss, JJ.) ALAGU PILLAI v. VELUCHAMI. 32 M. L. T. (H. C.) 369: (1923) M. W. N. 331: 74 I. C. 609: 18 L. W. 26: (1923) M. W. N. 509: A. I. R. 1923 Mad. 576 : 45 M. L. J. 76.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 23, R 3—Binding on Parties.

———O. 23, R. 3—Arbitration—Award—Compromise modifying—Decree on—Power of Court to pass decree.

It is competent to a Court on an application under Sch II, para. 20, C. P. Code, to pass a decree on an award as modified by a lawful compromise filed by the parties. (Kanhaiya Lal, J. C. and Daniels, A. J. C.) HAKIM FAZAL AHMAD v. ENAYAT AHMAD. 9 O. L. J. 219 : 68 I. C. 209 : 25 O. C. 213 : A. I. R. 1922 Oudh. 189.

———O. 23, R. 3—Arbitration—Reference and award pleaded as an adjustment justify order to amend pleadings—Specific amount claimed under adjustment Justifies order demanding Court fee on account of claim.

Where during the pendency of a suit a reference and award are made and pleaded as an adjustment of the disputes in the suit, the trying Court can ask the party pleading the award as an adjustment to amend his pleading accordingly and try the question of adjustments an issue and on such amendment, whether Court-fee must be paid on amount claimed under award. (Kennedy J. C. and Aston, A. J. C.) FIRM OF BOLMAL CHELLARAM v. JHAMANDAS KISHARAM. 18 S. L. R. 111 : 88 I. C. 61 : A. I. R. 1925 Sind 266.

———O. 23, R. 3—Arbitration—Contentious disputes about arbitration whether matters of adjustment.

The recording of an award by consent is permissible under Order 23, Rule 3, for, although the terms of settlement there, have been arrived at by the intervention of a third party, it is by consent of both parties that the award is recorded as the adjustment of their disputes; but contentious disputes about arbitration should not be treated as matters of adjustment within the meaning of Order 23, Rule 3, but in view of 16 S. L. R. 174 F. B. they must be so treated (Kennedy J. C. and Aston, A. J. C.) BOLMAL-CHELLARAM, v. JHAMANDAS KISHARAM. 18 S. L. R 111: 88 I. C. 61: A. I. R. 1925 Sind. 266.

———O. 23, R. 3—Award—If falls under.

Per Mukerji, J.—An award is not an adjustment by an agreement of parties within the meaning of O. 23, R. 3. (Walsh, Kanhaiya Lal and Mukerji, JJ.) GAJENDRA SINGH v. DURGA KUMARI. 23 A. L. J. 561 : 88 I. C. 768 : 47 All. 637 : A. I. R. 1925 All. 503 (F. B.).

Binding on Parties.

——— O. 23, R. 3—Binding on parties—Party abandoning his claim voluntarily—Court may decline to allow appeal to proceed further.

Walsh, J.—On general principles of law, independently of any provision in the Code, High Court has an inherent discretion to decline to allow an appellant to prosecute an appeal the moment it is satisfied that the appellant by his solemn act and deed, testified to by his signature, for what he considered adequate consideration, has expressly abandoned his right and undertaken to withdraw his appeal. (Walsh, Kanhaiya Lal and Mukerji, JJ.) GAJENDRA SINGH v. DURGA KUMARI. 47 All. 637 : 23 A. L. J. 561 : 88 I. C. 608 : A. I. R. 1925 All. 503 (F. B.)

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 23, R. 3—Binding on Parties.

——O 23, R. 3—Binding on parties—Defendant's offer that suit may be decreed if certain person ate food out of plaintiff's hands—Offer acted upon—Suit must be decreed—O. 23, R. 3 does not apply.

Where the defendant in a suit offered that if a certain person ate food served by the plaintiff the suit may be decreed and the offer was acted upon, Held: the defendant cannot resile from his promise and the suit must be decreed, O. 23, R. 3 has nothing to do with such cases. (Mears, C. J. and Ryves, J.), RAM SUNDER MISRA v. JAI KARAN SINGH. 47 All. 456 : 23 A. L. J. 251 : L. R. 6 A. (Civ.) 270 : 87 I. C. 174 : A. I. R. 1925 All. 271.

——O. 23, R. 3—Binding on parties—Agreement of parties—Compliance with terms—Effect.

Where in a redemption suit, one of the issues was about the legitimacy of a person and the parties agreed that if food cooked by that person were eaten the suit should be decreed and that was done, it would conclude the matter only so far as regards that issue. The other issues must be decided on the merits in the usual way in the case. (Daniels, J.) BHAWANI PRASAD MISIR v. RAM SUNDER. L. R 5 A. 268 : 79 I. C. 353 : 22 A. L. J. 301 : A. I. R. 1924 All. 911.

——O. 23, R. 3—Binding on parties—Terms of agreement intelligible—Agreement cannot be avoided on ground of one party not understanding whether particular matter is included in terms or not.

If the terms of an agreement are intelligible, and the agreement is binding between the parties it cannot be avoided by one of the parties on the ground that he does not understand whether a particular matter is included in those terms or not. (Walmsley and B. B. Ghose, JJ.) TARA BALA DASSI v. SURENDRA NATH MITRA. 41 C. L. J. 213 : 88 I. C. 369 : 29 C. W. N. 597 : A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 866.

——O. 23, R. 3—Binding on parties—Fact certified to Court by pleaders of parties.

Where a compromise effected by the parties is conveyed to the Court by pleaders on both sides, the parties cannot object on the ground that the pleaders had no such authority. (Abdur Rahim and Oldfield, JJ.) PAMBAYAM CHETTY v. KANDASWAMI IYER. 60 I. C. 22: 12 L. W. 562.

——O. 23, R. 3—Binding on parties—Adjustment depending on future contingency—If can be resiled from.

Where a question of legitimacy was in issue, the parties proposed that if food prepared by one of the parties was eaten by the other, the suit might be decreed. The food was actually prepared and eaten, but before that, one of the parties withdrew from the agreement—But the Court still decreed the suit. Held, the agreement was not an adjustment and it was open for the parties to resile from it. If the adjustment depends on a future contingency, it does not fall under O. 23, R. 3. The agreement and its performance, however, would be evidence on the issue of legitimacy. (Wazir Hasan, J. C.) GAURI SHANKER v. BANSI DUBE. 10 O. & A. L. R. 140: 78 I. C. 540 : 11 O. L. J. 306: 27 O C. 157 : 1 O. W. N. 44 : A. I. R. 1924 Oudh 367 (2).

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 23, R 3—Effect of Compromise.

Duty of Court.

——O. 23, R. 3—Duty of Court—Scope.

If a compromise is alleged that is a question of fact for investigation. (Rankin, J.) JNANENDRA NATH DUTT v. NASEA DASI. 39 C. L J. 526: 83 I. C. 948: A. I. R. 1924 Cal. 991.

——O. 23, R. 3—Duty of Court—Consent-decree—Nature of.

A Court making a decree by consent is performing a Judicial and not a Ministerial Act. The Court must be satisfied that the agreement is lawful and it can pass a decree in accordance therewith only in so far as it relates to the suit (Mookerjee and Buckland, JJ.) BHARAT RAMANUJA v. SRINATH CHANDRA. 25 C. W.N 806: 34 C. L. J. 96 : 49 Cal. 220: 66 I. C. 273 : A I R. 1922 Cal. 358.

——O. 23, R. 3—Duty of Court—Compromise cannot be accepted in part.

If a compromise relating to the subject-matter of the suit is filed in court, the court is bound to pass a decree in accordance therewith under O. 23, R. 3. if it is satisfied of the fact of compromise. It cannot accept it in part only and reject the rest. (Moti Sagar, J.) THE FIRM OF MEGH RAJ BHAN v. FIRM OF TULSI RAM DEVI DITTA. 6 Lah. L. J. 187 : 80 I. C. 696 : A. I. R. 1924 Lah. 466.

——O. 23, R. 3—Duty of Court—Proof of compromise.

It is not essential before a Court can pass a decree in accordance with a compromise that all the parties to it should assent to it before the Court. The Court can enquire if an assent had been given elsewhere and if this is proved, it can pass a decree in accordance with the compromise thus assented to. (Scott-Smith, J.) MAHANT RAGHBIR SINGH v. CHANAN SINGH. 69 I. C. 395 : A. I. R. 1923 Lah. 204.

——O. 23, R. 3—Duty of Court—Compromise—Not registered—Whether Court can act upon.

Where a document evidencing a compromise is presented to a Court, an objection regarding registration is insufficient to prevent the Court if it accepts the compromise, from acting upon it. (Fawcett, A. J. C. and Kennedy, J. C.) CHELLARAM v. KIMATRAM. 61 I. C. 118 : 14 S. L. R. 245.

Effect of Compromise.

——O. 23, R. 3—Effect of compromise—Power of Court to go behind—Dekhan Agri. Rel. Act (XVII of 1879), S. 12.

In a suit to recover the amount of a promissory note from an agriculturist, the latter admitted the note but denied consideration and prayed for an account. When the suit came on for hearing a compromise was presented to the Court under which the defendant agreed to pay the amount of the suit and costs in instalments. The defendant, when examined, said that he had agreed to the compromise though he did not understand the accounts and that he had received only a small amount from the plaintiff many years ago. The Court disregarded the compromise and dismissed the suit on the merits. On appeal :—Held, by Macleod, C. J., that, on an application to record an agreement under O. 23, R. 3, Civil Procedure Code, the Court could go behind the transaction provided it was perfectly clear that the whole of the plaintiff's claim was admitted. Held, by Shah, J., that, inasmuch as the defendant admitted the plaintiff's claim without full knowledge of his legal rights, the application of S. 12 of the Dekhan Agriculturists' Relief Act was not excluded by O. 23, R. 3 of the Civil Procedure Code. 8 Bom. 20; 34 Bom. 502 : 35 Bom. 120 : 37 Bom. 614t Ref. Per Macleod, C. J.—O. 23, R. 3 does not ous, the jurisdiction of the Court in this class of cases from inquiring into the nature of the admission so as to satisfy itself whether the admission is true and made by the debtor with a full knowledge of his legal rights as against the creditor. Per Shah, J.—"According to the decisions the provisions of O. 23, R. 3. C. P. Code, whenever they are applicable must be given effect to even in cases which are governed by the Dekhan Agriculturists' Relief Act. Thus if in any suit it is proved to the satisfaction of the Court that a suit has been adjusted wholly or in part by a lawful agreement or compromise, the Court shall order such agreement or compromise to be recorded and pass a decree in accordance therewith so far as it relates to the suit." (Macleod, C. J., and Shah, J.) GOTURAM RADHAKISAN v. BARKU DODHU. 24 Bom. L. R 88 : 46 Bom. 560 : 67 I. C: 2 3 : A. I. R 1922 Bom 331.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 23, R 3—Effect of Compromise.

——— O. 23, R. 3—Effect of compromise—Relief granted to defendants—Execution.

Where a Court passes a decree on the basis of a compromise there is nothing to prevent it from granting a relief to a defendant which can be executed provided that relief has been agreed to by the parties and is one of the considerations on which the compromise is based. 18 Mad. 410: 30 Mad. 478: 5 C. W. N. 485, Ref. to. (Lyle, A. J. C.) BISHESHAR SINGH v. MAHOMED YASIN ALI KHAN 25 O. C. 53 : 9 O. L. J. 276 : 68 I. C. 232 : A. I. R. 1922 Oudh 150.

——— O. 23, R. 3—Effect of compromise—Authority of counsel to compromise without reference to his client—English practice—Applicability.

A rule of practice in England which has its roots in different traditions and environments should not be applied in this country particularly in the muffusal where people never heard of any such practice. A Court of justice is not bound by the unauthorised act of a counsel and is not deprived of its general authority over justice between parties. Nealle v. Gordon Lennox (1902) A. C. 465 (469), Foll. (Walmsley, and Ghose, JJ.) TARU BALA DASI v. SOURENDRA NATH MITRA. 41 C. L. J. 213 : 88 I. C. 369 : 29 C. W. N 597 : A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 866.

——— O. 23, R. 3—Effect of compromise by counsel out of Court without consent of party.

An advocate of the High Court in the course of conducting the cause is clothed with authority to compromise a suit in which he has been retained as counsel and such a compromise would be valid and binding upon the parties even though it had been effected contrary to the express instructions of the client, unless the prohibition had previously been communicated to the other side. But the apparent authority of counsel is restricted to acts and admissions coram judice or in Court; such acts and admissions out of Court do not bind the client, unless in fact they are authorised by the client, or by his agent duly authorised by the client in that behalf. A compromise therefore effected by counsel out of the Court, and not assented to by the client is only binding upon the client if it is expressly authorised or subsequently ratified by the client or by his agent authorised in that behalf. (Page, J.) ASKARAN CHONTMAL v. E. I. RY. CO. 52 Cal. 386 : 88 I. C. 413 : 29 C. W N. 566 : A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 696.

——— O. 23, R. 3—Effect of compromise by pleader—Validity.

Where a pleader has full power to compromise a case under a vakalatnama and compromised accordingly the action taken by the pleader cannot be challenged unless improper conduct or fraud or collusion on his part is imputed to him. (Jwala Prasad, J.) LAURENTIUS EKKA v. DHUKI KOERI. 4 Pat. 766.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 23, R. 3—Legality of Compromise.

Execution Proceedings.

——— O. 23, R. 3—Execution proceedings—Rule does not apply.

The provisions contained in R. 3 of O. 23, regarding adjustment of suits do not apply to execution proceedings. (Dalal, J. C.) HAIDER MIRZA v. KAILASH NARAIN DAR. 80 I. C. 454 : A. I. R. 1925 Oudh 136.

Legality of Compromise.

——— O. 23, R. 3—Legality of compromise—Compromise avoidable but not avoided—Decree can be passed—Remedy by suit.

Compromise arrived at under undue influence, coercion or compulsion is good so long as it has not been avoided. A decree passed on it before it is avoided is not void. It can be set aside by a regular suit. (Sulaiman and Mukerji, JJ.) DWARKADHISH PRASAD SINGH v. KESHO PRASAD SINGH. L. R. 6 All. 26 : 85 I. C 557 : A. I. R. 1925 All. 266.

——— O. 23, R. 3—Legality of compromise—Mortgage suit compromised—Compromise allowing realisation from property other than mortgaged one—Compromise is lawful.

A compromise decree in a mortgage suit by which the parties agree that the amount decreed according to the compromise should be a charge on certain properties, in addition to the mortgaged property, is "lawful" and 'relates to the suit,' within Rule 3 so as to be embodied in the decree. 30 Mad. 478, Foll. (Macleod, C. J. and Coyajee, J.) VISHNU MORESHWAR v. SADASHIV SHIVRAM. 27 Bom. L. R. 943 : 89 I. C. 889 : A. I. R. 1925 Bom. 509.

——— O. 23, R. 3—Legality of compromise—Agriculturist — Defendant admitting claim — Dekhan Agriculturists' Relief Act, S. 12.

Where a compromise is entered into and the defendant admits the whole of the plaintiff's claim and asks the Court to pass a decree in accordance with that admission, O. 23, R. 3 does not oust the jurisdiction of the Court under S. 12, Dekhan Agriculturists' Relief Act. The Court can go behind the transaction, and is not bound to pass decree. (Macleod, C. J. and Shah, J.) GOTU RAM v. BARKU DHOLU. 46 Bom 560 : 24 Bom. L. R. 88 : A.I.R. 1922 Bom. 331.

——— O. 23, R. 3—Legality of compromise—What constitutes—Lawful agreement.

Before a Court records a compromise it must be satisfied that the suit has been adjusted wholly or in part by any lawful agreement or compromise. Where the parties to a compromise were not only the parties to the suit but also other persons not parties to the suit, one of whom was an infant, and the compromise purported to govern the rights and liabilities of persons not impleaded in the suit and the compromise contained many clauses which were interdependent, the performance of one of which being dependant on the performance of the other—the Court could not pass a decree in accordance with the compromise under O. 23, R. 3. But the action of the Court in refusing to pass a decree in accordance with the compromise would not prejudice the rights of the parties to enforce the agreement in other proceedings. (Sanderson, C.J. and Richardson, J.) DOOLYCHAND SRIMALI v. MOHANLAL SRIMALIY, 51 Cal. 432 : A. I. R. 1924 Cal. 722.

——— O. 23, R. 3—Legality of compromise—Compromise affecting puisne mortgagee.

It is incumbent on a Court to pass a decree in terms of compromise only if the same is lawful, i.e., enforceable in law. One test to apply is, were the parties competent to enter into the agreement in order to gain their object. Where after a mortgage decree to which the puisne mortgagee was a party, the mortgagee and prior mortgagee put in appeal a petition of compromise which increases the amount payable to the latter, a decree cannot be passed in accordance therewith, as it undoubtedly prejudices the rights of the puisne mortgagee and hence cannot be said to be lawful. (Mookerjee and Chotzner, JJ.) MALCHAND BOID v. OSMAN ALI MANDAL. 38 C. L. J. 272 : A. I. R. 1924 Cal. 159.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 23, R. 3—Legality of Compromise.

——O. 23, R. 3—Legality of compromise or adjustment—Not assented to by all the parties—Court not bound to record.

Where a compromise has not been assented to by all the parties it is contrary to law and the Court is justified in refusing to enforce it. (Moti Sagar, J.) VIR SINGH v. KHARATH SINGH. 6 Lah. L. J. 604 : 86 I. C. 361 : A. I. R. 1925 Lah. 280.

——O. 23, R. 3—Legality of compromise decree—Reliefs beyond scope of suit—Decree—validity—Objection in execution.

A decree passed on a compromise cannot be regarded as ultra vires simply because it goes beyond the subject matter of the suit and contains other conditions. If the terms of the compromise decree which do not relate to the suit appear either directly or indirectly as considerations on which the settlement of the plaint claim was based, then such terms may be considered as part of the decree executable with it. Quaere :—Whether the objection that a razinama decree contained reliefs which were beyond the scope of the suit can be a ground for questioning the decree in execution (Wallace and Madhavan Nair, JJ.) RAMASWAMI NAIDU v. SUBBARAYA THEVAR. (1925) M. W. N. 525 : 88 I. C. 648 (2) : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 1101 : 49 M.L. J. 490.

——O. 23, R. 3—Legality of compromise—Portion of claim not within jurisdiction—Effect of.

Where the claim is beyond the jurisdiction of the trial Court, it is not competent to the Court to pass a compromise decree. Its duty is to return the plaint under O. 7, R. 10, C.P. Code. Per Coutts Trotter, J.—The compromise may be regarded as an abandonment of the claim so far as it was beyond the jurisdiction of the Court and the decree on the compromise was valid. (Sadasiva Iyer and Coutts Trotter, JJ.) GOVINDASWAMI KADAVARAN v. KALIAPERUMAL. (1922) M. W. N. 83 : 66 I. C. 837 : 16 L. W. 155.

——O. 23, R. 3—Legality of compromise—Decree in accordance with—Extraneous proviso.

Where a suit is compromised and a decree passed in pursuance thereof, the decree must be in accordance with the compromise. It is not open to the parties to go behind it and ask for relief not included therein. (Baker, J. C.) MIRA MOTI JU DEO v. JANKI. 89 I. C. 926.

——O. 23, R. 3—Legality of compromise—Illegal or inoperative condition—Enforceability of—Executing Court.

It is settled law that the inclusion of an invalid or illegal provision in a decree does not vitiate it. Where the parties have inserted in their decree a condition which cannot be carried out, the executing Court is right in refusing to enforce that portion of the decree. (Prideaux, A. J. C.) PARASHARAM v. SITA RAM. 20 N. L. R. 1 : 78 I. C. 357 : A. I. R. 1924 Nag. 84.

——O. 23, R. 3—Legality of compromise—Compromise in fraud on some of the parties—Not allowed.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 23, R. 3—Matters outside suit.

The Court will refuse to accept compromise between plaintiff and one defendant if the result of it would be to deprive the other defendants of the fruit of their success. (Dalal, A. J. C.) SAIYED ASHFAQ HUSSAIN v. SAIYED BUNYAD HUSSAIN. 9 O. & A. L. R. 415 : A. I. R. 1923 Oudh 252.

——O. 23, R. 3—Legality of compromise—Disputes settled by arbitration—If can be recorded as adjusted.

If an arbitrator to whose arbitration the parties in a pending suit have referred their disputes without the intervention of the Court properly comes to a decision, the parties must be held to have adjusted their differences and the adjustment can be recorded under O. 23, R. 3. (Kennedy, J. C. and Aston, A. J. C.) FIRM OF BOLMAL CHELLARAM v. FIRM OF JHAMANDAS KISHARAM. 18 S. L. R. 111 : 88 I. C. 61 (2) : A. I. R. 1925 Sind 266.

Matters outside suit.

——O. 23 R. 3—Matters outside suit—Testamentary suit—Compromise—Validity of.

Where in a testamentary suit, consent terms are proposed one of which falls within the testamentary jurisdiction and others do not, the decree may properly embody all the terms in a schedule for reference but its operative part should be confined to such terms as are within its jurisdiction ; and the testamentary Court should leave the parties to take separate proceedings under the ordinary original civil jurisdiction to enforce the remaining terms if necessary. (Martin, J.) BAI MONGHIBAI v. BAI RAMBHA LAXMI. 59 I. C. 344 : 22 Bom. L. R. 1286.

——O. 23, R. 3—Matters outside suit—Bar of suit—Compromise decree containing extraneous matters—Enforcement of.

When a compromise decree contains provision extraneous to the subject-matter of the suit, the enforcement of the latter is not by way of execution but by way of suit. (Suhrawardy, J.) ARJUN KAPALI v. ASVINI KUMAR KAPALI. 78 I. C. 317 : A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 286.

——O. 23, R. 3—Matters outside suit—Compromise decree if capable of execution.

A compromise entered into by parties to the suit contained matters outside the scope of the suit and the plaintiffs had therein withdrawn the reliefs asked for by them in the suit. When the compromise was filed in the Court the Court ordered, "It is ordered that the suit be dismissed in accordance with the terms of Solenama.....and the parties do abide by the terms of the Solenama."

Held, that the words "the parties do abide by the terms of the Solenama" must not be regarded as intended to effect the enforceability of all the terms of the Solenama in execution. 25 C. W. N. 68, Ref. (Rankin and Ghose, JJ.) SATIS KANTA ROY v. JYOTIRUPA DEVI. A. I. R. 1924 Cal. 49.

——O. 23, R. 3—Matters outside suit—Decree on compromise, if can deal with.

Where a consent decree in partition suit between brothers purported to deal with the rights in the mother's share after her death, held, that such a matter did not relate to the suit and the decree was without jurisdiction and did not operate as res judicata. The facts as a whole must be looked into to see whether matters had been introduced which did not relate to the suit. (Rankin, J.) SASHI BHUSAN v. HARI NARAYAN. 25 C. W. N. 990 : 66 I. C. 705 : 48 Cal. 1059.

——O. 23, R. 3—Matters outside suit affected—Decree—Form of.

Where a compromise is not within the scope of the suit, no decree could be made to give effect thereto under O. 23, R. 3, Civil Procedure Code. When the compromise has been effected between the parties, the proper course to follow is to recite the compromise in the decree completely, but to pass a decree in accordance therewith only in so far as it relates to the suit. (Mookerjee and Panton, JJ.) JIBAN KRISHNA CHAKRAVARTHI v. RAMESH CHANDRA DAS.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 23, R. 3—Matters outside suit.

65 I. C. 47 : 38 C. L. J. 72.

———O. 23, R. 3—Matters outside suit—Consideration for a compromise decree need not be limited to subject-matter of the suit itself—Decree affecting matters outside the suit can be executed with respect to extraneous matters also.

The words "so far as it relates to the suit" cannot be said to have reference only to the subject-matter of the suit. The language used is wide and general and it is obvious that it would be highly inconvenient if the parties should not be allowed to settle their disputes on such lawful terms as they might agree to, without being restricted to such relief as one of the parties had chosen to claim in the plaint. The terms in a razinama decree which form consideration for the compromise of the suit must be deemed to be part of the decree and can be enforced in execution proceedings. A decree passed on a compromise cannot be regarded as ultra vires simply because it goes beyond the subject matter of the suit and contains other conditions. If those other conditions are the consideration for the compromise of the subject-matter of the suit, they must be incorporated in the decree. 30 Mad. 478, Ref. to, 5 C W. N. 485, Rel. on. 33 M. L. J. 615, 2 L. W. 608; 47 Cal. 485 (P. C.) Dist. (Wallace and Madhavan Nair, JJ.) RAMASWAMY NAYUDU v. SUBBARAYA THEVAR.

(1925), M. W. N. 525 : 88 I. C. 648 (2) : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 1101 : 49 M. L. J. 490.

———O. 23, R. 3—Matters outside suit—Compromise—Execution.

Where one part of an agreement referred to a matter which did not form part of the subject-matter of the suit and therefore could not in law form part of the decree, held, once it is incorporated in the decree by consent of parties no party to the compromise can object to that part of the compromise which is outside the subject-matter of the suit as not binding on him. Neither party is entitled to execute the decree partially. (Dalal, J. C. and Neave, A. J. C.) YASIN ALI KHAN v. ALI BAHADUR. 10 O. L. J. 443 : 79 I. C. 685 : A. I. R. 1924 Oudh 230.

———O. 23, R. 3—Matters outside suit—'So far as it relates to the suit' meaning of.

The words 'so far as it relates to the suit' mean 'so far as it relates to the adjustment or settlement of the matters litigated in the suit,' and there is nothing to prevent that settlement taking any form which is lawful and fair and which satisfies the parties. (Maung Kin and Rigg, JJ.) ANA PAKIRI SHA v. SOMASUNDARAM. A. I. R. 1922 L. B. 22.

Partial compromise.

———O. 23, R. 3—Partial compromise—Some only of the parties compromising—Court may in its discretion refuse to record.

In a case where some only of the parties to the suit join in a petition of compromise the other parties are entitled to object to the compromise being recorded, and if they show good cause the Court has discretion to refuse to grant a decree in terms of the compromise. (Newbould and B. B. Ghose, JJ.) GOPIKA RAMAN v. ATUL SINGH. 85 I. C. 678 :

C. P CODE (V OF 1908), O. 23, R. 3—Pleader's authority.

A. I. R. 1926 Cal. 193.

———O. 23, R. 3—Partial compromise—Partition of properties not comprised in compromise—Notice to defendants.

Where a petition of compromise is filed by some defendants who had compromised, the Court is not competent to partition properties not included in the petition of compromise without notice to the defendants who had compromised. (Das and Kulwant Sahay, JJ.) SHAHDEO SHUKUL v. JAGESHAR PRASAD SHUKUL. A I.R. 1923 Pat. 293.

———O. 23, R. 3—Partial compromise—Compromise with one deft. only.

Where the plff. in an ejectment suit against two defts. could have maintained the suit against one only, he can enter into a compromise with one deft. only, to the effect that the result of the suit shall not affect him and that deft. with respect to a particular property involved in the suit (Das and Adami, JJ.) BHAGWATI KUER v. JAGDAM SAHAY.

62 I. C. 933 : 2 Pat. L. T. 471.

Pleader's Authority.

———O. 23, R. 3—Pleader's authority—Vakalatnama express in terms.

Where by a vakalatnama the plaintiffs expressly specify that the presentation to the Court of petitions relinquishing the claim, compromise and withdrawal of suit by the pleader, is binding on them, and the pleader does present a compromise, the plaintiffs are bound by his acts. (Piggott and Walsh, JJ.) HUKUM SINGH v. TANDA SINGH. 19 A. L. J. 63 : 60 I. C. 912 : L R. 2 A. 21 · 2 U. P. L. R. (All) 405.

———O. 23, R. 3—Pleader's authority—Compromise by counsel out of Court without consent of party is not valid—Legal Practitioner.

An Advocate of the High Court in the course of conducting the cause is clothed with authority to compromise a suit in which he has been retained as counsel and such a compromise would be valid and binding upon the parties even though it had been effected contrary to the express instructions of the client, unless the prohibition had previously been communicated to the other side. But the apparent authority of counsel is restricted to acts and admissions coram judice or in Court; such acts and admissions out of Court do not bind the client unless in fact they are authorised by the client, or by his agent duly authorised by the client in that behalf. A compromise therefore effected by counsel out of the Court, and not assented to by the client, is only binding upon the client if it is exprersly authorised, or subsequently ratified by the client or by his agent authorised in that behalf. (Page, J.) ASKARAN CHOUTMAL v. E. I. RY. AND CO.

52 Cal. 386 : 88 I. C. 413 : 29 C. W. N. 566 : A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 696.

———O. 23, R. 3—Pleader's authority—Petition of compromise presented by vakils—Authority.

Where a razinamah petition was presented by the vakils at the instance of the parties and was acted upon by the Court the question of the authority of the pleaders to compromise does not arise, as the compromise is by the parties and not by the pleaders. (Abdur Rahim and Oldfield, JJ.) PAMBAYAM CHETTY v. KANDASWAMI AIYAR. 60 I. C. 22 : 12 L. W. 562.

———O. 23, R. 3—Pleader's authority—Consent decree—Counsel acting on acquiescence of appellant's agent.

Where the applicant challenged the consent decree on the ground that his counsel acted on misapprehension against instructions, held on the facts proved that the agent of the appellant acquiesced in the settlement though under protest proposed by the counsel in the interest of his chief and that he accepted it when every to raise money necessary to satisfy plaintiff's claim attempt failed, the decree was binding on him. Two propositions are well settled first, that express authority is not needed for a counsel to enter into a compromise within the scope of the suit; and secondly where there is limitation of authority and that limitation is communicated to the other side, consent by counsel outside the limits of his authority would be of no effect. (Das and Bucknill, JJ.) NILMONI CHAUDHURI v. KEDAR NATH DAGA. 3 P. L. T. 37 1 : 1 P. 489 : 67 I. C. 96 : A.I. R. 1922 Pat 232.

Public Trust.

——O. 23, R. 3—Public trust—Compromise by trustee.

A bona fide compromise by the trustee of a public trust relating to trust properties is a lawful compromise. (Abdur Rahim and Oldfield, JJ.) PAMBAYAM CHETTY v. KANDASWAMI AIYAR. 60 I. C. 22 : 12 L. W. 562.

Record of Compromise.

——O. 23, R. 3—Compromise—Recording of—Only as between some of the parties—Right to object.

Where only some of the parties to a suit apply to Court to record a compromise under O. 23, R. 3, the others can object to its being recorded on showing proper grounds. (Newbould and B. B. Ghose, JJ.) GOPIKA RAMAN ROY v. ATUL SINGH. 85 I. C. 678 (Cal.).

——O. 23, R. 3—Record of compromise by guardian.

Where the guardian of a minor auction purchaser enters into a compromise on the minor's behalf in a proceeding to set aside a sale under O. 21, R. 90, without leave of the Court, and no leave is expressly recorded, the Court ought not to record the compromise. (N. R. Chatterjee and Panton, JJ.) SITALA DAS MUKERJI v. BHUT NATH NASKER. 62 I. C. 688 (Cal.).

——O. 23, R. 3 and O. 43, R. 1—Order recording compromise—Decree in accordance therewith—Factum of compromise disputed—Appeal.

Where a compromise alleged to have taken place between the parties to a suit is recorded by the Court on an application under O. 23, R. 3 of the C. P. Code and a decree is passed thereon an appeal lies from the order recording the compromise at the instance of the party who denies the truth of the compromise. (Srinivasa Aiyangar, J.) SATYANARAYANA MURTHY v. BUTCHAYYA. 87 I. C. 124 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 608 : 48 M. L. J. 249.

——O. 23, R. 3—Record of compromise—Lawfulness of agreement.

O. 23, R. 3 which deals with the question of a Court's power to record agreements arrived at during the pendency of the suit restricts the court's power to only such agreements as are "lawful." (Kinkhede, A. J. C.) SHEIKH JAMA v. MUHAMMAD IBRAHIM. 90 I. C. 378.

——O. 23, R. 3—Record of compromise—Appeal withdrawn—Compromise not made decree of Court—Remedy of parties if conditions broken.

Where an appeal is withdrawn as settled out of court, but the compromise itself is not made a decree, the parties cannot get the help of Court, if it afterwards turns out that one of them does not stand by the terms of the compromise. (Baker, O. J. C.) MT. MULIA v. PARTAB. A. I. R. 1924 Nag. 325.

——O. 23, R. 4—Execution proceedings—Compromise—Legality of.

O. 23, R. 4 of the C. P. Code is explicit in its terms and declares O. 23 to be inapplicable to proceedings in execution of a decree or order. Consequently an arrangement entered into after decree for payment of the sum decreed in instalments is not binding and limitation for execution of the decree runs nevertheless. (Broadway, J.) BANARSI DAS v. RAMZAN. 72 I. C. 477 : A. I. R. 1924 Lah. 342.

——O. 25, R. 1—Temporary residence is not within the rule.

Temporary residence in British India for purposes of suit is not residence within the rule. (Macleod, C. J.) HANIF v. KULSUM. 23 Bom. L. R. 1253 : 46 Bom. 589 : 64 I. C. 703 : A. I. R. 1922 Bom. 299.

——O. 25, R. 1—No inherent power apart from the rule—Rule refers to future costs—Transfer of co.-plaintiff to the array of defendants—Whether and when can be demanded.

Per Chatterjee, J.—O. 25, R. 1 provides for security being taken for costs incurred as also those which are likely to be incurred by any of the defendants. In a case of transfer of one of the plaintiffs to the category of defendants the remaining co-plaintiff is not required to furnish security for future costs. It is ordinary practice, if the plaintiff is suing for another, to require security for costs, and to stay proceedings until it is given.

Per Cuming, J.—When the Code does make certain provisions for the taking of security for costs from the plaintiff, it seems that in those cases and those cases only, costs may be taken from the plaintiff. (Chatterjee and Cuming, JJ.) BHAIRENDRA NARAIN DEB v. UDAI NARAIN. 50 Cal. 853 : 79 I. C. 298 : A. I. R. 1924 Cal. 251.

——O. 25, R. 1—Pauper appeal—Security for costs—Grounds.

Very special grounds should be required before a suit in forma pauperis should be required to give security for costs. A mere suggestion that somebody else is financing is not such a ground. (Lentaigne, J.) MA SAW v. MAUNG SHWE GON. 2 Bur. L. J. 78 : 75 I. C. 309 : A. I. R. 1923 Rang. 244.

——O. 25, R. 1 (3)—Suit for payment of money—Suit for dissolution of partnership accounts and recovery of stridhanam property is not.

A suit for dissolution of partnership and account and for the recovery of the stridhanam property belonging to a female plaintiff is not a suit for payment of money within O. 25, R. 1 (3), C. P. Code. (Greaves and Ghose, JJ.) AMULYA SUNDARI DASSYA v. SYAMA SUNDARSAHA. 68 I.C. 607 : A.I.R. 1923 Cal. 316 (2).

——O. 25, R. 1 (3)—Suit for administration of estate is not one for money.

In a suit for administration of an estate consisting largely of immoveable property, it may ultimately be necessary to sell the estate and distribute the proceeds in money, but that is not sufficient to make it a suit for the payment of money. It is in fact a suit relating to immoveable property. (Carr, J.) AMINA BIBI v. MOIDEEN KAKA. 3 Rang 211 : 89 I. C. 620 : A. I. R. 1925 Rang. 300.

——O. 26—Scope of.

O. 26 amplifies and explains S. 75. (Abdul Raoof and Harrison, JJ.) SAWAN WAD v. RAMAQ MAL. 3 Lah. 209 : 68 I. C. 802 : A. I. R. 1922 Lah. 47.

——O. 26—Interlocutory order appointing Commissioner—Revision.

The High Court refused to interfere in revision with an interlocutory order of the lower Court directing a Commissioner to ascertain mesne profits as the applicant had a remedy by way of appeal from the final decree. (Spencer, J.) HUSSAIN SAHIB v. HAMMAD SAHIB. 16 L. W. 312 : (1922) M. W. N. 562.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 26.

74 I. C. 812 : 31 M. L. T. 180 : A. I. R. 1923 Mad. 43.

——— O. 26—Order refusing to issue commission is not appealable—Letters Patent (Rang.), cl. 13.

An order refusing to issue a commission, however serious the ultimate results to the party, is a purely interlocutory order and not a judgment terminating a suit or other proceedings or affecting the merits A. I. R. 1925 Rang. 225 and 35 Mad. 1 (F. B.) Foll. (Heald and Lentaigne, JJ.) MAHOMED HUSSAIN v. HOOSAIN HAMADANEE AND CO. 3 Rang. 293 : 4 Bur. L. J. 103 : 90 I. C 967 : A. I. R. 1925 Rang. 290.

——— O. 26, R. 1—Examination of witnesses on commission—Duty of Court—Discretion.

Where an application is made for the examination of witnesses on commission and is opposed, it resolves into a question as to whether a Court can be said to have acted with jurisdiction in taking away from a litigant the rights which he undoubtedly has under the law of having witnesses brought before the Court and examined before the Court in accordance with the normal procedure; in other words, whether the circumstances disclosed in the case gave the Court jurisdiction to depart from the usual course prescribed by law. If the plaintiff insists on the attendance of his witnesses in Court and the witnesses apply for their examination on commission, the Court undoubtedly will have to take into consideration the grounds upon which the commission is applied for, but at the same time it cannot lose sight of the prejudice that might be caused to the plaintiff by reason of such commission being issued. If sickness or infirmity is alleged, the character and gravity of that sickness or infirmity have got to be assessed and the risk consequent upon a refusal to issue a commission will have to be taken into consideration. At the same time the importance of having the witnesses present before the Court, the advantages that would follow from their examination and cross-examination in the presence of the Court and the emergency which might arise of having them confronted or identified should not be altogether lost sight of. If all these matters are duly considered and an order is passed, then and only then can it be said that the order has been passed in the exercise of a judicial discretion. (Mukerjee, J.) PANCHKARI MITRA v. PANCHANAN SAHA. 39 C. L. J. 598 : 84 I. C. 9 : A. I. R. 1924 Cal. 971.

——— O. 26, R. 1—Commission to examine specific witness—Witness not named examined—Effect.

Where at the instance of one side a commission was issued for taking the evidence of a particular witness and in spite of the objection of the other side another witness was also examined, held, that the Court would be justified in ignoring the evidence of such person. (Sanderson, C. J., Mookerjee and Fletcher, JJ.) RAMCHANDER GOURI SHANKER v. GANPATRAM BISWANATH. 89 I. C 839 : 47 Cal. 583.

——— O. 26, Rr. 1 and 2—Plaintiff, a gosha lady applying to be examined on commission—Petition should be granted.

An application made by a plaintiff for the issue of a commission to examine herself should be granted where it is based on the ground that she is a gosha lady who is not allowed to appear in Court or other public places according to the custom of her community. (Srinivasa Aiyangar, J.) VELLAI NACHIAR v. MEIYAPPA. 86 I. C. 513 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 905.

——— O. 26, Rr. 1 and 4—"May" meaning of—Discretion to issue commission.

In the case of a witness not under the control of the party asking for a commission, who resides beyond the limits fixed under O 16, R. 19 (b), a commission should issue as a matter of right, unless the Court is satisfied the party is merely abusing the Court's authority to issue process. It is not for the Court to decide whether the party will be benefited or not, as it is a matter entirely for the party. The word "may" in O. 26, Rr. 1 and 4 means "is given authority to". (Wallace, J.) JAGANNATHA SASTRY v. SARATHAMBAL AMMAL. 46 Mad. 574 : 17 L. W 251 : (1923) M. W. N. 157 : 71 I. C. 530 : A. I. R. 1923 Mad. 321 : 44 M. L. J 202.

——— O. 26, R. 1—Commissioner can stop proceedings to take direction of Court.

A Commissioner appointed by the Court to examine witnesses can stop proceedings to take the direction of the Court whenever he thinks that the pleader cross-examining a witness is abusing his position and exceeding the limits of propriety. A Court in appointing a Commissioner should in each case give him instructions so as to make it clear to him that he is not so powerless as it is imagined and that he should exercise his power and stop the proceedings for the purpose of taking the direction of the Court whenever he should think it is necessary to do so. (Das and Adami, JJ.) MT. KANIZ ZAINAB v. MOBARAK HUSSAIN. A. I. R. 1924 Pat. 284.

——— O. 26, R. 2—Discretion of Court—Revision.

Examination of witnesses on commission is in the discretion of the Court. Dismissal of application without enquiring or satisfying that evidence is unnecessary or irrelevant is sufficient for interference in revision. (Robinson, C. J. and Heald, J.) S. R. M. M. CHETTY v. P. L. N. N. NARAYAN CHETTY. 64 I. C. 821 : 11 L. B. R. 65.

——— O. 26, Rr. 2, 7 and 8—Evidence on commission—Who can exhibit—Non-applying party.

Evidence taken on commission may be read at the instance of any party to the suit, even if it is not he who applied for evidence being taken on commission. (Rupchand Bilaram, A.J. C.) FIRM OF CHOTUMAL-BULCHAND v. FIRM OF LILARAM-LAKHMICHAND. 90 I. C. 64.

——— O. 26, R. 4—Place of examination—Old man of feeble health—Examination in his house.

The C. P. Code does not place any restrictions as to the place where alone a witness can be examined on commission. In the case of an old man of feeble health, the Court can order an examination on commission at his own house. (Suhrawardy and Chotzner, JJ.) ANANDA CHANDRA PRODHAN v. SUKCHAND PRODHAN. 85 I C. 619 : A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 1118.

——— O. 26, R 4—Examination of witnesses by commission—Rights of plaintiff and defendant—Discretion of Court—Interference—Revision.

Where an application is made by a defendant, who lawfully resides out of the jurisdiction of the Court, according to the ordinary course of his life and business, the Court will not regard the case with the same strictness as the case of the plaintiff who has instituted his suit in a forum of his choice though he resides beyond the jurisdiction of such Court. Ross v. Woodford, (1894) 1 Ch. 38 and New v. Burns, 64 L.J.Q.B. 104, Ref. In cases under O. 26, R. 4, C. P. Code, a distinction has been observed between an application by a plaintiff asking for a commission to examine himself and an application by a defendant asking for a commission to examine himself. O. 16, Rr. 19 and 21 apply to persons who are ordered to attend in person to give evidence, including persons who may be parties to a suit, but are required to give evidence as witnesses. They have no application to a case where a party to a suit desires to give evidence of his own motion in his own favour. Such a case is governed by O. 26, R. 4, C. P. Code. A court of appeal should exercise great caution when invited to interfere with an order of the trial Court made with jurisdiction in the exercise of its discretion as to granting a commission. Each case depends on its own circumstances and no rule as to the exercise of that discretion could be laid down. If the Appellate Court deems that the discretion was wrongly exercised, if it deems that the case in all its bearings was not laid before the Court below, if it sees that the Court below misapprehended an important part of the case, the Court will interfere. The High Court in revision set aside the order of the lower Court, where that Court overlooked the distinction which should be observed in the treatment of an application by the defen lant as distinguished from a similar application by the plaintiff, and ordered the defendant to be examined on commission on payment of costs to the plaintiff for cross-examination. (Mookerjee and Panton, JJ.) SARAT KUMAR v. RAM CHANDRA CHATTERJEE. 35 C. L. J. 78 : 68 I.C. 9 : A. I. R. 1922 Cal. 42

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 26, R. 4.

———0. 26, R. 4—Commission to examine defendant—Residence out of British India more than 200 miles away is a sufficient ground.

Where the defendant is his own sole witness and applied for a commission to hear himself examined as he was living more than 200 miles away in a Native State, the application should be allowed. (Zafar Ali, J.) ELVERS v. AMERICAN MOTOR COMPANY.

73 I. C. 923 : A. I. R. 1924 Lah. 475.

———0. 26, R. 4—Commission—Party—Examination on commission—Application for—Order disallowing—Revision against — Inference in—Application by plaintiff—Application by defendant—Difference between.

The plaintiff and the defendant in a suit instituted in the Court of the District Munsif of Devakottah were both residents of Rangoon, and the defendant was served with summons at Rangoon. The plaintiff was allowed to examine himself on commission at Rangoon. An application by the defendant to examine himself on commission at Rangoon was, however, disallowed by the Munsif on the ground that his demeanour could not be watched by the Court. Held, that the Munsif acted with material irregularity in disallowing the application and that his order was liable to be set aside in revision. Difference between an application by a plaintiff to examine himself on commission and one by a defendant to examine himself on commission. (Krishnan, J.) VISVANATHA CHETTY v. SOMASUNDARAM CHETTY.

(1924) M. W. N. 191 : 34 M. L. T. 314 : 78 I. C. 407 : A. I. R. 1924 Mad. 541 : 46 M. L. J. 131.

———0. 26, R. 5—Examination of plaintiff on commission—Jurisdiction exists but should not be granted save in extreme cases—Such caution is not needed in case of plaintiff's witnesses.

An order for the examination of the plaintiff on commission is a very strong order to pass in any case though it is within jurisdiction. The case of the defendant stands on an entirely different footing. Where an application is made by a defendant who lawfully resides out of the jurisdiction of the Court according to the ordinary course of his life and business, the Court will not regard the case with the same strictness as the case of the plaintiff who has instituted his suit in a forum of his choice though he resides beyond the jurisdiction of such Court. Where in a money suit the lower Court had granted plaintiff's application to examine himself on commission and the suit had been filed at Patna and the plaintiff resided in London, held, in revision, that the application should not be granted. But the order was upheld so far as it concerned the plaintiff's witnesses being examined on commission. A. I. R. 1922 Cal. 42 Foll. 25 Ch D. 21 Ref. to. (Das and Ross, JJ.) AKBAR ALI KHAN v. HERBERT FRANCIS. 6 P. L. T. 520 : 3 Pat 863 : 84 I. C. 993 : 1925 P. H. C. C. 326 : A. I. R. 1925 Pat. 125.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 26, R. 10.

———0. 26, R. 9—Sub-letting—Issue as to—Appointment of Commissioner—Legality of.

In an ejectment suit the Assistant Collector appointed a Commissioner to determine whether the land had been sub let by the tenant. There was nothing to show that he had delegated his own powers to the Commissioner. Held, that the appointment of the commissioner was legal under O. 26, R. 9 of the Civil Procedure Code and there was no irregularity. (Burn, J. M.) ZIA-UL-HAQ v. MD. KARIM-UD-DIN.

L.R. 5 A. 62 (Rev.).

———0. 26, R. 9—Local investigation to determine period of cultivation is not a proper subject for commission—Party not objecting cannot repudiate.

Determination of the period of a tenant's cultivation is not a proper subject for local inspection, but where a party does not raise an objection to the issue of such commission and refuses to produce further evidence he cannot subsequently repudiate it. JUSTICES LACHMAN PRASAD v. BHAGGU CHAMAR. L.R. 2 A. 213 (Rev.).

———0.26, R.9 and 0.18, R. 8—C. P. Code (1882), S. 392—Local investigatian in person.

A Judge may make a local inspection in person at his discretion. Under the present Code, a Judge may issue a commission in any case where he deems it fit to do so, irrespective of his own convenience. S. 392 of the old Code compared. 39 Mad. 501 Cons. ; 31 Bom. 38 (P. C.). Expl. (Spencer and Ramesam, JJ.) SABAPATHI PATHAN v. PERUMAL PADAYACHI.

44 Mad. 640 : 13 L. W. 520 : 29 M. L. T. 279 : 62 I. C. 790: (1921) M. W. N. 336: 40 M. L. J. 554.

———0. 26. R. 10—Local investigation — Commissioner for—Report of Commissioner—Weight due to.

Interference by a court with a long and careful local investigation except upon clearly defined and sufficient grounds is to be deprecated. 13 M.I.A. 607 ; 15 W. R. 423 ; 60 I.C. 434, Rel. It is not safe for a Court to act as an expert and to overrule the elaborate report of Commissioner for local investigation whose report is unquestioned, whose careful and laborious execution of his task was proved by his report and who had not blindly adopted the assertions of either party. (Mookerjee and Chotzner, JJ.) RANI AMRITA SUNDARI DEBI v. MUNSHI SERAJUDDIN AHMAD CHOWDHURY. 28 C. W. N. 318 : 80 I. C. 755 : A. I. R. 1924 Cal. 620.

———0. 26, R. 10—Defendant not appearing before Commissioner cannot object to report.

A deft. who does not appear before a Commissioner cannot ordinarily object to his report. ((Mookerjee, A. C. J. and Fletcher, J.) KAMINI KISHORE SEN v. PARBARTYA TIPERAH RAJ. 60 I. C. 434.

———0. 26, R. 10—Commissioner for ascertaining mesne profits may rely on local inspection but must record witnesses' evidence.

Commissioner for ascertainment of mesne profits is entitled to base his report on his local inspection and also upon the crop experiment conducted by him, but any evidence that he takes should be recorded in writing. Order 26, R. 10 requires that he should reduce to writing the evidence taken by him. In formation given by witnesses which is not reduced to writing is not legal evidence upon which the Court can decide. If either of the parties desires to have the benefit of the statements of these persons from whom the Commissioner obtained information they should cite them as witnesses : otherwise, the Judge should come to a conclusion on the rest of the evidence before him without any reference to such unrecorded statemeets. (Spencer and Venkatasubba Rao, JJ.) RAMAKKA v. V. NAGESAM. 47 Mad. 800 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad 145 : 48 M. L. J. 89.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 26, R. 11

——— —— O. 26, R. 11—Suit to make defendants liable for loss due to their defalcation—Reference to Commissioner for taking accounts before determining liability is not warranted.

A suit was filed by a Company against certain of its officers seeking to make them liable for certain loss which was alleged to have been incurred owing to their defalcation. Before any claim against defendants was established a reference was made by the Court to Commissioner directing certain accounts to be taken preliminary to the hearing of the suit. Held, the procedure was not warranted by the nature of the suit notwithstanding the provisions of O. 26, R. 11. The proper course for the Court was to try the suit in order to determine whether the defendants were liable at all to the Company. (Greaves and Mukerji, JJ.) J. C. DAS v. CACHAR NATIVE JOINT STOCK CO. 87 I. C. 764 : A. I. R. 1926 Cal. 349.

———— O. 26, R. 11—Powers of Court—Delegation to Commissioner.

A Court cannot delegate all its powers and functions in the matter of taking evidence and determining issues to a Commissioner. (Abdul Raoof and Martineau, JJ.) TULSI RAM v. MEHTA DINA NATH. 89 I. C. 333.

———— O. 26, R. 11—Official Referee's powers are those of a Commissioner—Madras High Court Original Side Rules, O. 14-A.

The Official Referee has no power to decide questions as to the terms of partnership, its duration or the shares of the partners. There are no provisions about his powers in the Code or in the Original Side Rules analogous to O. 36 of the Rules of the Supreme Court which deals with Referees and O. 55 which deals with the powers and duties of Masters. There is no statute constituting the office of the Official Referee, and his powers have therefore to be determined with reference to the provisions of the Civil Procedure Code and the Original Side Rules. The rules do not confer on the Official Referee any higher powers than those conferred on the Commissioners. The Official Referee is only a permanent Commissioner whose duty is to take accounts and make enquiries contemplated by the Code and the Rules. The function of the Court in such cases is to determine the rights of the parties where the rights of the parties or the terms of the partnership are disputed and to decide in what manner and from what date accounts have to be taken. The function of the Official Referee is to take accounts, having regard to the declarations of the rights of the parties made by the Judge in passing the preliminary decree and his powers to deal with the questions are not limited simply to matters of arithmetic but he has for the purposes of carrying into effect the directions given by the Judge in the preliminary decree and for the purpose of arriving at conclusions as to the state of accounts between the parties, power to take evidence and deal with matters auxiliary thereto. He is not a Judge of the Court but only a Commissioner and the adjudication by him of these questions which under the Code and the Rules form part of the functions of a Judge would be ultra vires. (Kumaraswami Sastri, J.) ABDUL WAHAB v. ROKIA BIBI. A. I. R. 1924 Mad. 406.

———— O. 26, R. 11—Profits arising out of mortgaged property—Commissioner can investigate but he cannot enquire as to possession.

Court cannot delegate all its judicial powers to the Commissioner. In a suit relating to mortgage, the most that the Commissioner can do would be to investigate and report on the profits arising from the mortgaged lands during the years in suit, but he cannot be asked to take evidence as to the possession of any party or the extent of that possession. (Adami and Kulwant Sahay, JJ.) RAMCHANDER TEWARY v. GUDAR POTEDAR. 3 Pat. L. R. 136 : 89 I. C. 343 : A. I. R. 1925 Pat. 576.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 26, R. 16

———— O. 26, R. 11—Commissioner to take accounts—Definite lines of his work should be laid down for his work.

As a general rule, it is better for the Court itself to settle the exact terms of the order to the Commissioner, that is, not to make him a sort of inferior Judicial Officer. It is generally the business of the Court to ascertain which books are true or false, which party is or is not keeping back the books, what documents are relevant and the like, and it is, as a general rule, desirable that these matters should be decided before a Commissioner is appointed. (Kennedy, J. C. and Aston, A. J. C.) ASSARMAL v. HUNDOMAL. A. I. R. 1925 Sind 265.

———— O. 26, R. 11—Contracts if authorised—Question if can be referred to Commissioner—Findings of—Value.

A question whether a certain contract is authorised or not cannot be referred to a Commissioner for taking accouuts under O. 26, R.11, C.P.Code. The report of a Commissioner is only to be treated as evidence in the case and is not a decision which has to be accepted. (Raymond and Bilaram, A.J.Cs.) FIRM OF SETH VISHINDAS NIHAL CHAND v. NAZARALI SAMJI. 17 S. L. R. 316 : A. I. R. 1924 Sind 9.

———— O. 26, R. 12—Commissioner's report—Objection to, should be heard by the Court.

Where the report of a Commissioner appointed by Court is objected to by both parties and the Court without hearing the objections appointed a second and a third Commissioner and finally acted on the first Commissioner's report, held, that the course followed was improper and that the Court should have heard the objections and tried them. (Ayling, O. C. J. and Krishnaswami Rao, J.) THOTTAMMA v. SUBRAMANIYAN. 45 Mad. 79 : 14 L. W. 620 : 68 I. C. 469 : (1921) M. W. N. 843 : A. I. R. 1922 Mad. 219.

———— O. 26, R. 15—Plaintiff choosing an inconvenient forum must initially deposit costs of commission necessary for trial of the suit.

If the Court has to appoint a Special Commissioner to go thousands of miles away and be engaged on a lengthy enquiry, cash deposit must be made in order to provide for his costs. (Marten, J.) JETHABHAI VERSEY AND CO. v. AMARCHAND MADHAVJI AND CO. 25 Bom. L.R. 713 : A. I. R. 1924 Bom. 90.

———— O. 26, R. 15—Where money is not deposited in Court an order passed on the Commissioner's application directing payment to him is covered by S. 36 and is a decree under S. 47.

In a partition suit the appellant was appointed Commissioner to effect a partition. Some money was deposited as his remuneration ; but he did more work and he claimed more remuneration. After the appellant had done most of the work neither party appeared before the Court and the suit was dismissed for default of both the parties. On the next day the appellant applied to the Court for obtaining his remuneration and an order was passed upon it in his favour. He appplied for execution of this order. Held, that under S. 36 C.P.Code, an order directing the payment of an amount is to be executed in the same way as a decree and consequently the provisions of S. 47 will apply to execution of an order under that Section. 10 C.W. N. 234, Dist. (Suhrawardy and Duval, JJ.)CHANDRA KUMAR DE v. KUSUM KUMARI ROY. 40 C. L. J. 180 : 84 I. C. 724 : 52 Cal. 269 : A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 57.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 26, R. 15.

——0. 26, R. 15—Expenses of commission may be made as costs in the suit but cannot be realised by attachment.

It is the duty of the Court before the commission is issued to see that the Commissioner's fee and diet money of the witness has been duly deposited. If the party at whose instance the commission is issued declines to pay, the proper thing for the Court to do is to make the amount costs of the suit and enter it in the decree. But the Court has no jurisdiction to realise such amount by attachment of the property of the party liable. (Moti Sagar, J.) RAM SARAN DAS v. RAM LAL. 89 I.C. 47 (1): A.I.R. 1926 Lah. 62 (1).

——0. 26. R. 17— Examination of witness on commission—Reading over to witness not necessary—Effect of—Perjury.

The provisions of O. 26, R. 17 of the C. P. Code with regard to the examination of witnesses in Court does not require that the statements of the witness after they have been recorded should be read over to them and the same procedure should be considered applicable in the case of statement of witness recorded on commission. Consequently where statements recorded on commission were not read over to the witness they are admissible in evidence and it is open to the Court to grant sanction for perjury in respect of such statements. (Daniels, A. J. C.) MT. FEROZA JAN v. MIRZA AMIR ALI. 9 O. L. J. 593 : 9 O. & A. L. R. 103 : 24 Cr. L. J. 781 : 74 I. C. 445 : A I. R. 1923 Oudh 119.

——0. 27, R. 1—Plaint--Facts to be set forth.

A plaintiff need set forth in his plaint nothing more than the facts entitling him to the decree that he asks for. He need not allege reply to probable defences. (Martineau and Campbell, JJ.) NIAZ AHMAD KHAN v. ABDUL LATIF.
83 I.C. 807 : A. I. R. 1923 Lah, 475.

——0. 29—Suit against a Railway Company—Form of —Railways Act, Ss. 140, 141.

Neither O. 29 of the Code nor Ss. 140 and 141 of the Railways Act say anything about the manner in which a suit against a Railway Company is to be framed. The form in which a Company is to be sued is given in Sch. I. App. A. of the Code. (Ross J.) SINEHI RAM BIHARI LALL v. AGENT, E, I. RY.
64 I. C. 125 : 2 Pat. L. T. 679.

——0. 29, R. 1—Unregistered body—All members must be impleaded.

An unregistered body cannot sue or be sued as a corporation ; all its members must be impleaded and therefore a partition of property belonging to an unregistered body without issuing notice to all its members is not binding on the member not served. (Mears, C. J., and Sulaiman, J.) RAM SARUP v. ARYA SAMAJ DHAMPUR. 47 All. 342 : 23 A. L. J. 37 : 86 I. C. 255 : L. R. 6 A. 101 : A. I. R. 1925 All. 337.

——0. 29, R. 1 and App. A—Suit against Railway—Plaint describing defendant as "Agent" of the Railway—Suit is badly framed.

The suit was against a Railway for non-delivery of certain goods to the consignee. In the plaint, the name of the defendant was given as "Agent of . . . Railway." Held, that the frame of the suit was in contravention of O. 29, R. 1 and Appendix A. (Suhrawardy and Duval, JJ.) AGENT, BENGAL NAGPUR RY. v. BEHARI LAL DUTT. 29 C.W.N. 614 : 52 Cal. 783 : 90 I. C. 426 : A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 716.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 30.

——0. 29, R. 1—Rule is not mandatory.

Obiter.—R. 1, O. 29, C. P. Code, is not a mandatory rule, and if the person who signs the plaint is the duly authorised agent of the plaintiff and is acquainted with the facts of the case, there is no irregularity at all. (Campbell, J.) MESSRS. ALLEN BROTHERS v. ARURI MAL KHANNA. 7 L L. J. 66 : 88 I. C. 546 : 26 Punj. L. R. 441 : A. I. R. 1925 Lah. 338.

——0. 29, R. 1—Suit by Municipal Board with name of Chairman added—Defect is formal and is no ground for reversal of decree—U. P. Municipal Act (1916), S. 6.

Where objection was taken in appeal on the ground that the Chairman of the Municipal Board of Sitapur appeared as a plaintiff in the body of the plaint and was mentioned by his name, Held, that as he was clearly described therein as the Chairman of the Municipal Board of Sitapur, there can be no doubt that the plaint was presented with the intention of showing that it was the Municipal Board which was suing. At the worst, it was a case where a suit had been instituted in the name of the wrong person as the plaintiff and the error could be easily corrected under the provisions of R. 10 of O. 1, and that the defect was not one of substance but merely of form and under S.99 of the Code of Civil Procedure such defect cannot be made the ground of any interference with the decree which the Court below may have passed in such a case. (Wazir Hasan, A. J. C.) SHAMS-UD-DIN KHAN v AGHA SAYID FATEH SHAH.
84 I. C. 532 : A. I. R. 1924 Oudh 309.

——0. 29, R. 1—Effect of order—Suit for possession in Civil Court—Parties.

Where the cause of action alleged in the plaint is the dispossession by the defendant on account of the proceedings under S. 145 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, and in that proceedings the defendant (the manager of a company) was declared to be in possession, the plaintiffs have got a cause of action against the person who has actually dispossessed them. Moreover, the suit cannot be defeated on account of non-joinder of the proprietors of the company who could have added them as parties, (Das and Kulwant Sahay, JJ.) CHATTRAPAT PRATAP BAHADUR SAHI v. C. G. LEES. 4 Pat. L. T. 487 : 1 Pat. L.R. 322 : 72 I. C. 648 : A. I. R. 1923 Pat. 558.

——0. 29, R. 2—Railway Company—Suit against in the name of agent—If proper.

In a suit against a Railway Company, it should be sued in the name and style under which it carries on business. If a plaintiff deliberately chooses to sue not the company but the Agent he cannot, by any decree which he may obtain, bind the company. But if upon a fair reading of the plaint it is made out that the description of the defendant is a mere error and that the company is the real defendant, then the suit may proceed against the company. (Mullick, A. C. J. and Kulwant Sahay, J.) RADHE LAL v. EAST INDIA RY. CO. 90 I. C. 680.

——0. 30—Object—Suit is in effect against individual partners —Dead partner cannot be assumed to be a party.

O. 30, C.P. Code, is not intended to recognise a firm as a legal entity but to provide, subject to certain limitations, a convenient mode of describing the partners who compose the firm in the plaint and in the summons. The suit is in effect a suit against the individual partners of the firm sued. As a dead man cannot be sued so a dead partner cannot be assumed to be a party to the action. Ellis v. Wadeson, (1899) 1 Q. B. 714, Ref. (Rupchand Bilaram, A. J. C.) FIRM OF GOKALDAS KHATAOO v. FIRM OF VASUMAL WADHUMAL. 87 I. C. 992 : A. I. R. 1925 S nd 298.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 30, R. 1.

——O. 30, R. 1—Firm carrying on business in different places—Identity, determination of.

In the case of firms carrying on business in different parts of the country or of the province sometimes constituted of the same people, sometimes constituted with the omission of one person who has no interest in a branch of business in one of the towns or with the addition of a new person who has an interest confined only to that branch of business, a Court should analyse the facts as thoroughly as it can in order to determine whether the firms or persons so carrying on business are really the same legal entity or person in each place. A firm without being a branch in the sense that it is subordinate to and under the control of a firm in a different town and compelled to render an account to the latter, might still be in substance the same business so as to make it carry on business in its own place, if it is transacting the business of the different firm in its own place as agent for that firm, purchasing and selling goods and obtaining orders, forwarding or receiving orders to and from that firm and merely remunerating itself by being allowed to make a definite profit out of certain transactions or a limited profit out of all transactions. (Walsh and Wallach, JJ.) KIRPA RAM SITA RAM v. MANGAL SEN BISHAN MAL. 3 U. P. L. R. (All.) 18 : 65 I. C. 93 : A. I. R. 1922 All. 367.

——O. 30, R. 1—Proper title of suit indicated.

It is not correct to sue persons as partners in the name of the firm by a partner or manager. The proper title of defendant in such a suit is A a firm, B, C, D, partners in the said firm. (Macleod, C. J. and Coyajee, J.) AJITSING MANIBHAI v. GRUNING & CO. 27 Bom. L. R. 998 : A. I. R. 1925 Bom. 494.

——O. 30, R. 1—Suit against firm—Defendant also described as owner of firm—Mere surplusage.

Where a suit is filed against a firm, but the defendant being shown as the owner of the firm and a question of limitation is passed by the heirs of the defendant who are subsequently impleaded, the suit must in effect be treated as one against a firm and the subsequent words of description mere surplusage. (Shah, A.C.J. and Crump, J.) MOTILAL JASRAJ v. CHANDMAL HINDUMAL. 25 Bom. L. R. 1081 : 77 I. C. 1055 : A. I. R. 1924 Bom. 155.

——O. 30, R. 1—Firm is no artificial person apart from its partners.

The law of England as well as of British India knows nothing of a firm as a body or artificial person distinct from the members composing it. If a partner dies before suit, and the suit is against the firm in the firm's name, the suit is one solely against surviving partners and judgment can only be obtained as against the surviving partners, and be enforced against them and against the partnership assets. (Mulla, J.) RAMPRATAB BRIJMOHANDAS v. GAURISHANKAR KASHIRAM. 25 Bom. L. R. 7 : A. I. R. 1924 Bom. 109.

——O. 30, R. 1—Title of the suit—Defect in.

The plaintiff who was a minor was described in the title of the plaint as "owner of the shop C". It was stated in para 4 of the plaint, "As the plaintiff the owner of the shop is a minor, this suit is not barred by limitation." The suit was dismissed by the trial Court holding that the plaintiff was the shop and not the minor. Held, the dismissal was wrong. (Macleod, C. J. and Crump, J.) CHANBASAPPA v. MALKAPPA.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 30, R. 3.

77 I. C. 476 : A. I. R. 1923 Bom. 368.

——O. 30, R. 1—Alienation till disposal of suit restrained—Decree passed — Alienation is not disobedience.

Where a temporary injunction is issued against a party restraining him from alienating certain property till the disposal of a certain suit, he does not disobey the injunction if he mortgages the property, after decree is passed in the suit and while no proceedings in execution are pending. (Le Rossignol, J.) PARS RAM v. HARGOLAL AND SONS. 76 I. C. 444 : A. I. R. 1925 Lah. 258 (1).

——O. 30, R. 1—Suit by one firm against another—Reference to arbitration by representatives—Validity of.

Where a suit is brought by one firm against another through their representatives they can agree to refer the dispute to arbitration and the validity of the award is not affected by the fact that the minor members of the firm did not sign the reference to arbitration. 68 I. C. 750 ; 2: I. C. 955 ; 50 I. C. 471 ; 19 I. C. 363 ; 16 A. 23, Ref. (Broadway, J.) FIRM OF BISHAMBAR MAL PALA MAL v. FIRM OF GANGA SAHAI NIHAL CHAND. 5 Lah. L. J. 5 : 71 I. C. 734 : A. I. R. 1923 Lah. 212.

——O. 30, R. 1 and O. 32, R. 7—Firm including a minor partner—Reference of suit to arbitration—Sanction of Court is not necessary.

Where a suit is brought against a firm, the mere fact that there is a minor member of the firm, does not bring the suit within the purview of O. 32. Where the matter is referred to arbitration, it is not necessary that the Court should give assent under O. 32, R. 7. (Harrison, J.) SUKHA NAND v. BEHARI RAM ISHAR DAS. 68 I. C. 750 : A. I. R. 1923 Lah. 103.

——O. 30, R. 1—Suit on behalf of a shop—Whether one partner can sue—Change of legal status.

Where a suit was brought in the name of the shop, one of the partners could bring it on behalf of all the partners. It is not necessary that all the partners should have been named in the plaint as plaintiffs or should have signed the plaint. (Dhobley, A. J. C.) SHRIRAM SHANKARLAL v. MADHO PATIL. A. I. R. 1923 Nag. 137 (1).

——O. 30, R. 1—Firm—Change of partners—New firm—Suit on old contract does not lie.

The cause of action in respect of a contract with a firm vests in all the partners jointly and if after the contract, one of the partners retires and a stranger comes in, the new partnership cannot enforce the contract entered into by the old. If the new partnership brings a suit in its own name, it cannot by substituting the names of the old partners alter the period of limitation for instituting the suit and avoid the bar of limitation. (Kemp, A. J. C.) FIRM OF MANGOOMAL JETHANAND v. FIRM OF ARATMAL SATRAMDAS. 15 S. L. R. 152 : 65 I. C. 26 : A. I. R. 1922 S ndh 13.

——O. 30, R. 2—Suit against a firm—Dissolution before suit—Effect of.

A suit contemplated by O. 30 of the C. P. Code may be brought by or against a firm in the firm's name even though the firm may have been dissolved before the date of the suit, provided the cause of action arose before the dissolution. The proceedings in a suit so brought continues in the name of the firm, even though the name of the partners are disclosed. (Mookerjee and Panton, JJ.) PULIN BEHARI ROY v. MAHENDRA CHANDRA GHOSAL. 67 I. C. 10 : 34 C. L. J. 405.

——O. 30, R. 3—Proviso—Partnership dissolved to plaintiff's knowledge—One partner not served—Decree passed—Firm is liable under the decree though the partner not served is not bound.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 30, R. 3.

In the case of a firm which has been dissolved to the knowledge of the plaintiff before the institution of the suit, the plaintiff must serve each and every person whom he wants to hold liable personally in respect of the decree passed against the firm. If he does not so serve he cannot execute the decree against the partner whom he has not served personally. But the right to execute the decree against the firm is in no way affected by the proviso. (Taraporewalla, J.) GORDHANDAS KALYANJI BHAT v. GAUTAMCHAND RUPCHAND. 87 I. C. 1031 : 27 B. L. R. 541 : A. I. R. 1925 Bom. 331.

——O. 30, R. 3—Suit brought in the names of various partners of firm—Rule does not apply.

Where a suit has been brought not merely in the firm's name but in the names of various partners of the firm, O. 30, R. 3 has no application. (Greaves and Cuming, JJ.) AJIT KUMAR v. MRITUNJOY KUNDU. 88 I. C. 489 : A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 1136.

——O. 30, Rr. 3 and 5—Suit against firm—Dissolution before suit—Leave to serve by registered post—High Court Rules, Ch. VII, R. 11, Ex parte decree.

An ex parte decree was obtained against a firm which had been sued in the firm's name and served as such with the leave of Court, by registered post. It was alleged in an application to set aside the ex parte decree by the applicant that the summons was not duly served and that the firm had long ceased to carry on business as such firm but was being wound up by the applicant. Held, a suit can be brought against a firm in its firm name even if it be a dissolved firm provided only that the liability arose at a time when the firm was in existence. Under O 30, R. 3, the only way in which such writ can be served is by serving it either upon a partner or by serving it at the principal place at which the partnership business is carried on in British India on a person having at the time of service the control or management of the partnership business. If rule 11 of Chapter VIII of the High Court Rules is applied, it is necessary that it should be so applied as to comply with O. 30, R. 3. (Rankin, J.) HAKJIBANDAS v. BHAGWANDAS. 49 C. 394 : 69 I. C. 236 : A. I. R. 1922 Cal. 390.

——O. 30 Rr. 3 and 5—Service of summons—Appearance under protest.

Where a person served under O. 30, R. 3 puts in an unconditional appearance, R. 5 comes into operation and he will be liable as partner of the firm. Special permission to execute the decree against him is not necessary under O. 21, R. 50. (Rupchand Bilaram, A J. C.) FIRM OF FATEHCHAND MADAN GOPAL v. FIRM OF UTANMAL JHAMANDAS. 89 I. C. 401.

——O. 30, R. 3—Suit against firm—Liability of partners.

A firm as such has no legal existence and partners carry on business both as principals and agents for each other within the scope of the partnership business. The firm name is a mere expression and not a legal entity. When a suit is instituted against a firm in its firm name, it is in effect a suit filed against every partner of the firm and a decree against the firm has the same effect as a decree against all. The individual partners need not be separately served.

The cause of action is a joint one against all the partners though in view of S. 43, Indian Contract Act, each of the partners is jointly and severally liable for the whole of the claim. (Rupchand Bilaram, A.J.C.) LAKHMICHAND GHANDMAL v. FIRM OF GOKULDAS RANCHORDAS. 90 I. C 242.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 30, R. 10.

——O. 30, Rr. 4 and 10—Scope of provisions.

The effect of the provisions regarding suits against partners in the firm name is merely to give a compendious mode of describing in the writ the partners who compose the firm ; in effect the partners are sued individually. The firm name is a mere expression and not a legal entity. (Ghose, J.) RAM PROSAD CHIMON LAL v. ANUNDJI & CO. 49 Cal 524 : 69 I. C. 885 : A. I. R. 1922 Cal. 408.

——O. 30, R. 4 and O. 20, R. 4—Legal representative of deceased partner—Necessity of joining.

Debts due to trading partnership stand on a different footing from debts due under ordinary contracts and when one of the partners in a firm dies, the surviving partners can sue for the recovery of the debts due to the firm without making the legal representatives of the deceased partners party to the suit, the legal representative of the deceased partner not being a necessary party to a suit brought in the name of the firm. (Abdul Raoof and Moti Sagar, JJ.) MOOLCHAND v. MUL CHAND. 4 Lah. 142 : 71 I. C. 951 : A. I. R. 1923 Lah. 197.

——O. 30, R. 6—Statements of all partners are statements of the firm—Personal defence can be put in only if he is sued personally along with the firm.

Under O. 30, R. 6, where persons are sued as partners in the name of their firm, they shall appear individually in their own names but all subsequent proceedings shall nevertheless continue in the name of the firm. Thus each partner can put in a separate written statement, but each written statement is the written statement of the firm. However, it is only when a person is sued personally along with the firm that he may put in a personal defence. (Macleod, C. J. and Coyajee, J.) AJITSING MANIBHAI v. GRUNING & CO. 27 Bom. L. R. 998 : A. I. R. 1925 Bom. 494.

——O. 30, R. 8—Appearance under protest.

The defendant entered appearance under protest denying that he was a partner in the defendant's firm. Plaintiff got an ex parte order for adjournment in order that he might serve a duplicate writ of summons on the defendants. Held, that the order for adjournment though objected to by the defendant should stand. But the defendant had a right to have the question whether he was a partner in the defendant's firm decided by the Court. (Macleod, C. J.) VITHALDAS v. HANSRAJ.

64 I. C. 688 (2) : 23 Bom. L. R. 1249.

——O. 30, R, 10—Sole proprietor of firm—Death of—Suit in the name of firm—When can be instituted.

On the death of the sole proprietor of a firm unless it carries on business which justifies a presumption that his heirs are its partners a suit cannot be instituted under O. 30, R. 10 in the old name of the firm. R. 10 will apply only when business is being carried on at the time when the suit is instituted. If business is not being carried on in that name at the date of the suit, then all persons who are interested in the assets ought to be impleaded. (Sulaiman, J.) HABIB BUX v. SAMUEL FITZ & CO.

L. R. 6 A. 553 : 89 I. C. 22 : 23 A. L. J. 961.

——O. 30, R. 10—Suit against firm in firm's name—One man constituting the firm—Defendant dead at the date of suit—Any order in the suit is a nullity.

When a suit is brought against a person in the name in which he carries on business, the suit is essentially one against him and he is the sole defendant in the suit. If he dies before suit, and a suit is brought against him in the name in which he carried on business, the suit is against a dead man and it is a nullity from its inception. The suit being a nullity, the writ of summons issued in the suit, by whomsoever accepted, is also a nullity. Similarly, any order made in the suit allowing amendment of the plaint by substituting the legal representative of the deceased as defendant and allowing the suit to proceed against him is also a nullity. It is immaterial that the suit was brought bona fide and in ignorance of the death of such person. 12 W. R. 45, 31 M. 86, Ref. (Mulla, J.) RAMPRATAB BRIJMOHUNDAS v. GAURISHANKAR KASHIRAM.

25 Bom. L. R. 7 : A. I. R. 1924 Bom. 109.

——O. 31, R. 1—Suit for rent assigned on trust—Original owner made defendant—He is merely a party.

Where rents are assigned to the trustee for purposes of trust and he, in suits for the realisation of rents, makes the original owner a party, the original owner does not become a co-judgment-debtor with other tenants and hence he is not incapacitated from executing the decrees obtained in the suit. (Jwala Prasad and Foster, JJ.) GOBIND SINGH v. GOPAL SARAN SINGH.
4 P. L. T. 731 : 2 P. L. R. 27 : 80 I. C. 652 : A. I. R. 1924 Pat. 343.

——O. 31, R. 1—Applicability—Suit for declaration of right of worship in temple and for injunction.

O. 31, R. 1 is not applicable to a suit for a declaration of the plaintiff's right to worship in a temple and for an injunction restraining the defendant from interfering with his right. The trustee of the temple is not, therefore, a necessary party to such a suit. (Robinson, O. C. J. and Mac Gregor, J.) SAKLAT v. BELLA.
63 I. C. 963 : 13 Bur. L. T. 183.

——O. 31, R. 2—Suit against temple—All trustees are necessary parties.

In a suit against a temple all the trustees are necessary parties even though there is an agreement between them authorising one of them to represent the temple. (Odgers and Devadoss, JJ.) ADIRAJU ARASU KANNIKKE BALLALA v. PATTU.
A. I. R. 1922 Mad. 405 (1).

——O. 32—Does not apply to execution proceedings.

O. 32 does not directly apply to proceedings in execution. The 'lis' in respect of which a minor defendant is required to be represented by a guardian, is at an end after the decree is passed and in determining whether a minor is sufficiently represented in execution proceedings a Court may look at the substance of the transaction. (Sanderson, C. J. and Richardson, J.) FANI BHUSAN v. SURENDRANATH.
64 I. C. 25 : 35 C. L. J. 9.

——O. 32—Applicability—Probate proceedings.

Until a contest arises in a probate proceedings, O. 32, has no application to the proceedings. (Richardson, and Huda, JJ.) RADHASHYAM DASYA v. RANGA SUNDARI.
59 I. C. 664 : 24 C. W. N. 541.

——O. 32, R. 1—Suit against husband to recover property—Husband as natural guardian cannot resist the suit.

A minor wife is entitled to bring a suit through her next friend according to C. P. Code to recover her own property. The only person who would be entitled to resist such a proceeding would be the person appointed as the guardian of minor's property under the Guardian and Wards Act. The husband has no title to resist the suit. (Macleod, C. J. and Crump, J.) MALLAWA v. SHIVRUDRAYA.
A. I. R 1924 Bom. 114.

——O. 32, R. 1—Suit by minor in forma pauperis —Next friend need not be a pauper.

A minor who is not possessed of sufficient means within the definitions of pauperism for the purpose of O. 31 is entitled to be allowed to sue in forma pauperis by a next friend although the next friend is not a pauper. (Rankin and Ghose JJ.) NAIN BALA DASSYA v. JAMINI SUNDARI.

37 C. L. J. 394 : 70 I. C. 919 : A. I. R. 1923 Cal. 656.

——O. 32, Rr. 2 and 12—Suit by minor without next-friend—Dismissal of suit—Propriety of—Minor attaining majority during pendency of suit.

Where the plaintiff who was a minor brought a suit without a next-friend and his minority was not apparent on the face of the record but is proved on the trial of an issue in the suit itself, the Court ought not to dismiss the suit at once but should allow a reasonable time for a next friend to come on the record and go on with the suit and it is only if no one comes forward that it should reject the plaint. 13 C. 189, relied on. It is no doubt open to the minor on attaining majority to drop the suit as not properly instituted but he is not bound to do so ; he could affirm the previous proceeding and continue the suit. (Krishnan and Ramesam, JJ.) PUPPOOTH v. V. M. RAMAN SOMAYAJIPAD.
32 M. L. T. 107 (H. C.) : (1923) M. W. N. 301 : 17 L. W. 558 : 74 I. C. 309 : A. I. R. 1923 Mad. 553 : 44 M. L. J. 515.

——O. 32, Rr. 2 and 4—Minor cannot be next friend for other minors.

Proceedings taken against minors under the guardianship of a minor are void of any effect and must be set aside because a minor is not competent to act as the next friend of other minors. (Wazir Hasan, J. C.) GUR CHARAN v. FASIHUDDIN.
80 I. C. 602 : A. I. R. 1925 Oudh 178.

——O. 32, R. 2 (1)—Plaint by minor without next friend—Rejection of plaint not proper.

The procedure to reject the plaint filed by a minor without a next friend is improper. The court has to grant time for doing so. (Scott-Smith and Fforde, JJ.) ALI AHMAD v. SAID MIAN.
4 Lah. 390 : 75 I. C. 1028 : A. I. R. 1924 Lah. 188 (1).

——O. 32, Rr. 2 (1) and 1—*Suit by minor—No next friend on record—*Ex parte proceedings—Court should take notice of omission.

Where a minor plaintiff sued without next friend and the defendant had not appeared, but the irregularity was apparent on the examination of the plaintiff. Held : that it was the duty of the Judge to take notice of the disregard of the provisions of R. 1, O. 32 and to refuse to proceed further with the case so illegally commenced (Lentaigne, J.) MAUNG SAN BWIN v. MAUNG NYI.
3 Rang. 239 : 89 I. C. 870 : A. I. R. 1925 Rang. 325.

——O. 32, R. 3—Appointment irregular—No prejudice to minor—Decree is binding—Omission to appeal is not negligence.

So long as the minor has not been prejudiced, mere irregularity in the appointment of a guardian will not be a ground for setting aside the decree. 1923 Lah. 575 and 14 A. L. J. 589 Foll. Omission by guardian to appeal in consequence of legal advice that an appeal would be unsuccessful, does not amount to negligence. (Ryves and Daniels, JJ.) KUBER UPADHIA v. RAMAKAR DAT.
47 All. 357 : 23 A. L. J. 44 : L. R. 6 A. (Civ.) 178 : 86 I. C. 86 : A. I. R. 1925 All. 351.

——O. 32, R. 3—Decree against unrepresented minor defendant if nullity—Effect—Prejudice not alleged.

A minor who was unrepresented in the suit by any guardian cannot be held to be bound by the decree passed against him although he neither alleges nor proves that the decree passed against him is unjust or to his prejudice and though he regarded himself as major throughout the whole proceeding. (Mukerji and Dalal, JJ.) MT. CHAMBI v. TARA CHAND.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 32, R. 3.

46 All. 744 : 22 A. L. J. 665 : L. R. 5 A. (Civ.) 502 : A. I. R. 1924 All. 892.

——O. 32, R. 3—Improper appointment of guardian ad litem—Effect.

The improper appointment of a guardian has the effect of invalidating the proceedings in the suit including the decision, from the point the improper appointment was made. (39 All. 8, Foll.). (Walsh and Ryves, JJ.) KIRPA KISHAN v. BABU LAL.
45 All. 606 : 76 I. C. 765 : A. I. R. 1924 All. 225 (1).

——O. 32, R. 3—Irregularity—Defendant joined as a minor though in fact a major.

If the plaint in a suit describing the defendant as a minor is not amended even after the court's finding that he was a major and the proceedings went on, the defendant appearing in Court, instructing his pleader and defending his suit, the irregularity is cured by the conduct of the parties. (Lindsay and Sulaiman, JJ.) THAKUR HARGOBIND SINGH v. HUKUM CHAND.
L. R. 4 A. 291 : 45 All 608 : 21 A. L. J. 551 : A. I. R. 1924 All. 94.

——O. 32, R. 3—Decree against—Non-representation in suit.

Where a person appointed guardian-ad-litem for a minor defendant refused to act and intimated to the court his unwillingness but the court refused to remove him or appoint a fresh guardian-ad-litem, the decree passed against the minor is not binding on him. (Stuart and Kanhaiya Lal, JJ.) JANGI v. MT. SUNDAR.
L. R. 3 A. 458 : A. I. R. 1922 All. 416.

——O. 32, R. 3—Provisions mandatory—Court to take action—Parties have no discretion.

The provisions of O. 32, R. 3 are mandatory. It is for the court to take action and the matter is not left to the discretion of the parties. RAM RAO KRISHNA v. JHAGROO. L. R. 2 A. Rev. 180.

——O. 32, R. 3—Guardian ad litem does not continue in his office after decree.

The guardian ad litem appointed in the suit does not continue as such without a fresh appointment during the execution proceeding when the Court of Wards manager appeared and asked to be appointed as guardian ad litem in execution proceedings. Held: he should have at once been so appointed under the provisions of S. 51 of the Court of Wards Act. (Newbould and B. B. Ghosh, JJ.) KHAJEH SALALUDDIN v. AFZAL BEGUM. 28 C. W. N. 963 : 39 C. L. J. 590 : 84 I. C. 68 : A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 23.

——O. 32, R. 3—Appointment of guardian ad litem—Consent.

A court is not competent to appoint a person as the guardian ad litem of an infant without his express consent. (Mookerjee and Rankin, JJ.) JAGADISH CHANDRA DE v. HARIHAR DE. 40 C. L. J. 39 : 78 I. C. 219 : A. I. R. 1924 Cal. 1042.

——O. 32, R. 3—Failure to appoint guardian ad litem—Effect.

In a suit for recovery of possession of certain land it was found that defendants Nos. 1 to 7 were landlords of the plaintiffs, and the plaintiffs were underraiyats on the disputed land. Defendants Nos. 1 to 7 constituted one body of joint landlords. Defendants Nos. 5, 6 and 7 were minors. No guardian ad litem having been appointed on their behalf the suit as against them was dismissed. Held as on the allegation of the plaintiffs, defendants Nos. 1 to 7 constituted one body of joint landlords and in as much as by reason of the plaintiffs' default the suit as against the defendants Nos. 5, 6 and 7 was dismissed. The suit as against defendants Nos. 1 to 4 who constituted only a fractional body of landlords should also be dismissed. (C. C. Ghose and Panton, JJ.) DURGARAM BOSE v. TARA PROSAD NAIK. A. I. R. 1923 Cal. 338.

——O. 32, Rr. 3 and 4—Execution proceedings—Applicability of the rule—Minor judgment-debtor.

The provisions of O. 32, C. P. Code, relating to "suits by or against minors" are not directly applicable to proceedings in execution, after the rights of the parties have merged in a good and valid decree. The "lis" in respect of which a minor defendant is required to be represented by a duly appointed guardian is at an end when the decree is passed. For determining whether a minor was sufficiently represented in the execution proceedings courts can look at the substance of the transaction. (Sanderson, C. J. and Richardson, J.) FANI BHUSAN BHUIAN v. SURENDRA NATH DAS. 64 I. C 25 : 35 C. L. J. 9.

——O. 32, R. 3—Suit by minor—Bona fide mistake—Amendment.

Where the fact of plaintiff's minority was not apparent on the face of the plaint but was discovered only in the course of an enquiry on objection being raised by the defendant, an opportunity should be given on application being made to amend the plaint as the plaintiff had no knowledge of his minority and had no intention of leaving the Court. (Harrison, J.) MT. DURGA DEVI v. GUR NARAIN. A. I. R. 1924 Lah. 157.

——O. 32, R. 3—Guardian ad litem not named—Effect.

Where appellant does not name the guardian-ad-litem in the trial Court or any one for the minor respondent, any next friend of the minor can appeal as guardian-ad-litem against the appellate decree without removing the former guardian especially where the guardian's whereabouts are unknown. The decree of the Appellate Court is void if the minor is not properly represented. (Broadway and Abdul Qadir, JJ.) MT. FATIMA BEGUM v. HASSAN KHAN.
3 Lah. 417 : 69 I. C. 567: A. I. R. 1923 Lah. 271.

——O. 32, R. 3—Natural father of adopted son.

The natural father of a minor is his proper guardian to assert his right as adopted heir against rival claimants : 43 Mad. 288, Foll. (Spencer and Odgers, JJ.) ANNAPURNAYYA v. VENKATASUBRAMANIAM.
22 L. W. 560 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 1285 : 49 M. L. J. 549.

——O. 32, R. 3—Officer of Court as guardian—Guardian's address and whereabouts known—Procedure illegal—Decree—Setting aside—Inherent power of Court.

Where a Court after knowing of the existence and address of the guardian of the minor defendants in a suit, did not order fresh notice to the guardian but made the Head Clerk of the Court the guardian of the minors and proceeded with the suit in consequence of which there was no proper defence to the plaintiff's suit. Held, that the decree and the execution sale which followed it were illegal and not binding on the minor and that the Court had inherent power to set aside the decree and the execution sale after impleading the auction-purchaser as a party. 35 A. 331 P. C. 43 M. 94 ; 42 I. C. 711 Ref. (Devadoss, J.) JAMBU AMMAL v. NATARAJAM PILLAI.
31 M. L. T. 215 (H. C.) : A. I. R. 1922 Mad. 485.

——O. 32, R. 3—Absence of formal order—Father acting as guardian—Effect.

Where a father acted as the guardian ad litem of his minor son, the fact that there was no formal order of Court appointing him will not vitiate the proceedings, if the minor was in no way prejudiced thereby. (Kanhaiya Lal, J. C.) DARSHAN SINGH v. RATAN LAL. 9 O & A. L R. 463 : 74 I. C. 821 : A. I. R. 1924 Oudh 178.

——0. 32, R. 3—Absence of formal order of appointment—Compromise—Sanction of Court.

Where the Court by its action had given its sanction of the appearance of a person as a guardian, the absence of a formal order of appointment is not necessarily fatal to the proceedings Even an omission to serve the minors concerned or their mother personally was treated as mere irregularities covered by S. 578 of the old Code of Civil Procedure and not errors fatal to the suit. The presumption is that the proceedings of the Court had been carried out regularly and in accordance with the law and this presumption is found stronger when it is found that an application and an affidavit such as is held in connection with the appointment of a person as guardian ad litem of a minor was on the record and that the guardian had subsequently appeared and filed a compromise on behalf of the minor to which the Court had accorded its sanction. (Kanhaiya Lal, J. C). MATA GHULAM SINGH v. SITAL PRASAD. 26 O. C. 113 : 74 I. C. 409 : A. I. R. 1923 Oudh 206.

——0. 32, Rr. 3 4—Minor—Guardian-ad-litem—Appointment of—Absence of notice—Irregularity.

Notice was issued to some minor defendants and to their father that there was an application to appoint the latter guardian-ad-litem. He refused to accept the appointment whereupon the court appointed a pleader without further notice to the minors. Held, there was a proper representation of the defendants and in the absence of prejudice, an ex parte decree cannot be set aside. (Das and Ross, JJ.) PRITAM RAM v. DHARU RAM. 1924 P. H. C. C. 216 : 78 I.C. 613 : A. I. R. 1924 Pat. 772.

——0. 32, Rr. 3, 4 and 11—Defective appointment—Omission to consult minors' wishes is not a defect.

Though the mother of a minor defendant is the person who should be appointed his guardian ad litem in the absence of the father still a decree passed against the minor represented by some other person as guardian ad litem is not a nullity. Though the Court should in every case consult the wishes of a minor before appointing any person as guardian ad litem in the suit, there is nothing in the C. P. Code, which requires it to do so in a case coming within O. 32, R. 11, C.P. Code, O. 32, R. 3, Cl. 4 applies only to cases where an application is made for the appointment of a guardian in the name of or on behalf of the minor or the plaintiff. O. 32, R. 11 empowers the Court to appoint any guardian where the guardian for the suit retires, dies or is removed by the Court pending the suit, and there is nothing which requires the Court to give notice to the minors before making the order under this rule. (Das and Adami, JJ.) SRI THAKUR RADHA GOPAL LALJI v. BABU LAKSHMI NARAYAN. 1 Pat. L. R. 86 : 2 Pat. 273 : 4 Pat. L. T. 329 : (1923) P. H. C. C. 159 : 71 I. C. 341 : A I R. 1923 P. 385.

——0. 32, Rr. 3 and 4—*Defective appointment—*Ex parte decree—Suit to set aside.

A minor is not a party to the suit, unless he is represented in the record of the suit by a guardian competent to act as such. Where the record of the suit itself shows that the minor is wholly unrepresented or that he is represented by a guardian disqualified from acting as such guardian under express provision of the Statute the result is that the minor is not a party to the suit and a judgment rendered against the minor is without jurisdiction and is null and void. But where he is properly a party to the suit and he is properly a party if he is represented on the record by a guardian not disqualified from acting, the jurisdiction of the Court to try and determine the case against the minor is complete, and such jurisdiction will not be ousted even if the Court did not follow the appropriate procedure for the appointment of the guardian. It is the court that must decide the question of jurisdiction and where the record, on the face of it, shows that the minor was properly a party to the suit, the judgment rendered in such a suit will not be declared a nullity in a collateral proceeding brought to impeach its validity, though it may be set aside if it be shown that the defect or the irregularity in the proceedings affected the merits of the case between the parties. 30 C. 1021 followed ; 15 C. L. J. 446 ; 25 C.W N. 781 dissented ; 32 C. 296 distinguished. The contravention of the provisions of O. 32, R. 4, Cl. 3, C. P. Code, does not deprive the Court of its jurisdiction to decide the case The Court has no jurisdiction to render judgment against one who is not a party to the suit though it has jurisdiction to render judgment against one who is party to a suit but who has not been brought before it by reason of the failure on the part of the court to follow the particular procedure laid down in the Code. The one affects the existence of the jurisdiction of the Court ; the other affects the exercise of it. (Das and Adami, JJ.) PANDE SATDEO NARAIN v. RAMAYAN TEWARI. 4 Pat. L. T. 147 : 2 Pat. 335 : 71 I. C. 705 : A. I. R. 1923 Pat. 242 (2).

——0. 32, Rr. 3 and 4—*Defective appointment—Duty of Court—Absence of notice to guardian—*Ex parte decree—Decree if binding on minor.

It is duty of the Court to appoint a guardian-ad-litem for a minor defendant under O. 32, R. 2, C. P. Code. No person can be appointed guardian without his consent. At the same time where the court has given sanction and approval for the appearance of a person as guardian, the absence of formal order of appointment is not always fatal to the proceedings. A mere irregularity in the appointment of a guardian-ad-litem will not render the decree passed against the minor null and void, unless it is proved that the minor's interests have suffered thereby. At the same time where no notice or summons is served on the guardian of the minor, and no order was made appointing a guardian for the minor and there was no appearance by the so called guardian at any stage of the proceedings, a decree passed against the minor is not binding on him. 26 C. L. J. 258 ; 37 A. 179 ; 20 C. L. J. 469 ; 2 P. L. T. 617 Relied on. (Jwala Prasad and Adami, JJ.) RANI CHATTRA KUMARI DEBI v. PANDA RADHA MOHAN SINGARI. 3 Pat. L. T. 451 : 66 I. C. 137 : A. I. R. 1922 Pat. 291.

——0. 32, Rr. 3 and 4—Notice to minor—Failure to give—Effect of—Minor, wishes of—Mother or grand-mother.

An order appointing a guardian ad litem of a minor defendant without notice to the minor, is without jurisdiction. In appointing a guardian ad litem the wishes of the minor defendant, should, if possible, be considered. A mother or in her absence a grandmother may be appointed and the fact that she is a pardanashin lady is not a disqualification. (Miller, C. J. and Ross, J.) RAJENDRA PRASAD v. PROBODH CHANDRA. 2 Pat. L. T. 116 : 6 Pat. L. J. 82 : 59 I. C. 936 : 1921 P. H. C. C. 156.

——0. 32, R. 3—Guardian whose interest is adverse to the minor is not fit—Non-appointment of guardian ad litem makes a decree nullity.

A person whose interest is adverse to that of minor is not a fit person to be appointed a guardian ad litem.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 32, R. 3.

Mere permission to sign a reply to a notice to minor is not equivalent to appointment of a guardian ad litem.

When in a suit, a minor is not represented by a guardian ad litem, any decree passed in such a suit is nullity against the minor. (Kincaid, J. C. and Kemp, A. J. C.) JUMNOMAL v. GURDINOMAL.
83 I. C. 913 : 17 S. L. R. 211.

———O. 32, R. 3 (1)—Guardian ad litem—Court —Duty of.

It is obligatory on the Court under O. 32, R. 3 (1) of the Code to appoint a proper person to be guardian of a minor defendant for the suit. (Mookerjee and Panton, JJ.) ANNADA PROSAD v. UPENDRA.
34 C. L. J. 293 : 65 I. C. 18 : 26 C. W. N. 781.

———O. 32, R. 3 (3)—Execution proceedings—Affidavit not filed—Effect.

Where in execution proceedings against a minor legal representative of the judgment-debtor the application to appoint guardian for the minor is not accompanied by an affidavit and the guardian does not appear and act for the minor the latter does not become a party to the proceedings. (Harrison, J.) ALAM DIN v. ALLAH DIN. 5 Lah. L. J. 44 : A. I. R. 1922 Lah. 447.

———O. 32, R. 3 (4) and S. 99—Non-compliance with O. 32, R. 3 (4)—Minor not prejudiced—Proceedings are not vitiated.

Failure to comply with the provisions of O. 32, R. 3 (4) is only an irregularity covered by S. 99 of the C. P. Code, and where such failure has not prejudiced the minor in any way, the proceedings are not vitiated. (Stuart. J.) SULTAN v. HARDHIYAN. 88 I. C. 294 : L. R. 6 A. (Civ.) 323 : A. I. R. 1925 All. 548.

———O. 32, R. 3 (4)—Notice—Absence of, to minor —Effect.

In the absence of proof of fraud or collusion, the mere fact that notice of appointment of a guardian ad litem was not issued to the minor, does not entitle him to treat the proceedings as a nullity. Case Law reviewed. (Abdul Raoof and Campbell, JJ.) PHULLI v. DEBI PARSHAD. 75 I. C. 449 : 5 Lah. 38 : A. I. R. 1923 Lah. 575.

———O. 32, Rr. 3 (4) and 4 (4)—Officer of Court as guardian—Omission to adduce evidence when amounts to negligence.

The father of certain minor defendants in a suit refused to be their guardian ad litem and thereupon the Head Clerk of the Court was appointed guardian. The plaintiff was a stranger who was not aware of the existence of any other relatives of the minors. There was no affidavit by him that there was no other person fit and willing to act as guardian of the minors. There was also no distinct notice to the father of the minors of the appointment of an officer of the Court as guardian ad litem but the father himself did not adduce any evidence and the suit was decreed. Subsequently the minor sued to set aside the decree on the grounds that they were not validly represented in the prior suit and that their guardian ad litem was grossly negligent in the conduct of the case. Held, that the defects, if any, in the appointment of the guardian did not vitiate the decree. 32 A. 287 ; 20 M. L. J. 591 (P. C.) ; 31 A. 572 ; 19 M. L. J. 631 (P. C.). referred to. Held, further, that in the absence of proof that the guardian ad litem could have adduced any useful evidence or was aware of such evidence being available, his omission to let in evidence in the prior suit did not constitute negligence or fraud. (Oldfield and Ramesam, JJ.) RAMASWAMI CHETTY v. DORAISWAMI.
17 L. W. 638 : 73 I. C. 409 : A. I. R. 1923 Mad. 465 : 44 M. L. J. 299.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 32, R. 4.

———O. 32, R. 3 (5)—Minor defendants—Guardian ad litem—Appointment of the head clerk of the Court—Omission of notice to persons having custody of the minors—Irregularity.

No irregularity by way of an omission to send a notice as required by O. 32, R. 3 (5) of the C. P. Code will operate to render void the presumed representation of the minor in a suit by a guardian ad litem appointed for him, unless such an omission has in fact prejudiced his defence. Such prejudice is not a matter of assumption or presumption but of proof.

Consequently a decree passed in a prior suit against a minor represented by the Head Clerk of the Court as guardian ad litem cannot be set aside in a fresh suit on the ground of want of notice of the appointment of the guardian ad litem under O. 32, R. 3 (5), C. P. Code to the person having the custody of the minor unless it is shown that the minor had a good defence to the suit which by the negligence of the Court guardian, whose appointment followed on the breach of the rule, had not been put forward. 14 C. 204, 37 A. 179 : 44 M. L. J. 299 relied on. (Wallace, J.) KIDAMBI TIRUMALACHARYULU v. AMMISETTI VENKIAH. (1924) M. W. N. 362 : 34 M. L. T. 202 : 19 L. W. 678 : 80 I. C. 541 : A. I. R. 1924 Mad. 763 : 46 M. L. J. 363.

———O. 32, R. 4—Where a Hindu father is appointed guardian, in a suit on the basis of hundis executed by him, in absence of proof of immorality or illegality the decree is binding on the sons.

In a suit brought on the basis of hundis executed by a Hindu father, the father was appointed guardian of the minor son and a decree was passed against them, when subsequently the sons filed a suit to annul the decree on the ground of improper appointment of guardian and alleged but failed to substantiate that the debt was illegal or immoral. Held : as there was no defence open to the minors which the father would not have taken in the former suit, the minors were properly represented by their father and the decree passed against them could not be set aside. (Daniels and Neave, JJ.) RAJA BABU v. BALMUKUND. L. R. 5 A. (Civ.) 692 : 83 I. C. 323 : A. I. R. 1925 All. 214.

———O. 32, R. 4.—Consent of person appointed is necessary but can be presumed where despite opportunity to object, he has not objected to the appointment.

O. 32, R 4 of the C. P. Code. necessitates that the person appointed as guardian must give his consent to such appointment. Where, however, the guardian has had an opportunity to object to his appointment and does not do so, the consent can be presumed. (Daniels and Neave, JJ.) RAJA BABU v. BALMUKUND.
L. R. 5 A. (Civ.) 692 : 83 I. C. 323 : A. I. R. 1925 All. 214.

———O. 32, R. 4—Irregularity and prejudice to minor are factors to be considered in cases of setting aside decree against minors for improper appointment of guardian.

The two questions which arise in suits to set aside decrees passed against minors on the ground of improper appointment of guardian are (1) Whether the guardian was irregularly appointed and (2) whether the minors have been prejudiced. 43 All. 104 Foll. (Daniels and Neave, JJ.) RAJA BABU v. BALMUKUND. L. R. 5 A. (Civ.) 692 : 83 I. C. 323 : A. I. R. 1925 All. 214.

———O. 32, R. 4—Vakil—Officer of the Court.

A vakil is an officer of the Court for purposes of O. 32, R. 4, C. P. Code. (Piggott and Walsh, JJ.) MOHAN LAL v. GANGA PRASAD. 45 A. 395 : L. R. 4 A. 352 : A. I. R. 1923 All. 298 (1).

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 32, R. 4.

——O. 32, R. 4—Suit on mortgage by manager of Joint Hindu family—Minor members impleaded—Manager appointed guardian ad litem—Decree is a nullity.

Where in a suit to enforce a mortgage executed by the manager of a joint Hindu family he is himself appointed guardian ad litem of the minor members impleaded in the suit, and a decree is passed on confession of judgment, the decree is a nullity as against the minors for the manager was not a proper person to be appointed as guardian. 25 B. 337 ; 30 C. 1021, 38 A. 315; 43 A. 104, Ref (Lindsay and Ryves, JJ.) MURLIDHAR v. PITAMBAR LAL. 44 All. 525 : 20 A. L. J. 329 : 4 U. P. L. R. (A) 170 : 66 I. C. 372 : A. I. R. 1922 All. 91.

——O. 32, R. 4—Claim against joint tort-feasors is indivisible—If representatives of one deceased defendant are not brought on record, the whole suit fails.

The plaintiffs brought a suit for recovery of possession of certain plots of lands against seven defendants on the allegation that some of the defendants had dispossessed the plaintiffs from them by wrongly recording themselves in the Record-of-Rights. The first Court declared the title of the plaintiffs to two plots, but dismissed their claim for recovery of khas possession holding that, in the circumstances of the case the plaintiffs might have relief in a suit for ascertainment and recovery of rent of the lands. On appeal that decree was set aside and the appellate Court passed a decree in favour of the plaintiffs for khas possession of those plots. During the pendency of the appeal, defendant No. 1 died ; and his heirs were brought on the record five of whom were minors. These minor children of the defendant No. 1 were not properly represented. A decree as against the major defendants was passed in these words "The appeal is accordingly decreed with costs. The minor children will not be bound by this decree as they have not been properly represented in this appeal". Held that the decree against the defendants was a joint decree inseparable and indivisible and therefore the whole suit was liable to be dismissed. (Suhrawardy and Chotzner, JJ.) NEYAJADDIN v. AKAMAT ALI. 79 I. C 365 : A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 411 (2).

——O. 32, R. 4—Issue of notice under R. 22 of O. 21 raises no presumption of appointment to guardianship—C. P. Code, O. 21, R. 22.

Under the Code of 1908 a guardian ad litem of a minor cannot be appointed without his consent and there can therefore be no presumption of appointment from the mere issue of notice under O. 21, R. 22, 5 C. L. J. 434 Dist. (Newbould and B.B. Ghosh, JJ.) KHAJEH SALALUDDIN v. AFZAL BEGUM. 28 C. W. N. 963 : 39 C. L. J. 590: 84 I. C. 68 : A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 23.

——O. 32, R. 4—Guardian ad litem—Appointment—Consent of proposed guardian—Absence of—Decree against minor—Legality of.

No person can be appointed a guardian ad litem of an infant without his consent. In the present case the mother of the infant's was appointed without her consent. She never entered appearance and never defended the suit on behalf of the minors without a formal order for appointment. Held that in the events which had happened, it was plain that infants were not represented at all and they were in no sense parties to that litigation. Consequently they were not affected by the decree. When a guardian has not been validly appointed in respect of a minor, he is not a party to the suit and is not bound by the decree made against him. (Mookerjee and Chotzner, JJ.) UMAPATI SAMANTA v. SHEIKH MOSEETULLAH.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 32, R. 4.

37 C. L. J. 496 ; A. I. R. 1923 Cal. 692.

——O. 32, R. 4—Guardian ad litem—Appointment of—Consent is necessary.

The effect of O. 32, R. 4 is that no person can be appointed a guardian ad litem without his express consent. The question of consent will always be one of importance, on the merits. (Richardson and Shamsul-Huda, JJ.) RADHASHYAM DASYA v. RANGA SUNDARI DASYA. 59 I. C. 664 : 24 C. W. N. 541.

——O. 32, R. 4—No applicability to probate proceedings.

O. 32, R. 4 of the C. P. Code does not apply to a non-contentious proceeding in probate. Where citations are issued to minors as being concerned, the Court must see not only that a guardian is appointed but that he has taken upon himself the responsibility of protecting the interests of the minors. (Greaves and Newbould, JJ.) SACHINDRA NARAIN SAH v. HIRONMOYEE DASI. 59 I. C. 435 : 24 C. W. N. 538.

——O. 32, R. 4—Minor—Guardian not putting vital defence commits gross negligence—Guardian with adverse interest is no guardian—Decree is a nullity in both cases.

Where the debt not being antecedent, and the money having been borrowed for the purpose of buying new lands, and the defence that the minors' shares were not liable ought to have prevailed if it had been set up on their behalf. Held, that the father as guardian showed gross negligence in not setting up this defence. A minor represented by a guardian whose interest is adverse is not legally represented at all. (Odgers and Hughes, JJ.) SELLAPPA GOUNDAN v MASA NAICKEN. 47 M. 79 · 18 L. W 838 : 33 M. L. T. 126 : (1923) M.W.N. 775 : 76 I.C. 1018 : A. I. R. 1924 Mad. 297 : 45 M. L. J. 675.

——O. 32, R. 4—Court guardian—Omission to record reasons for appointment of.

The omission to record reasons under O. 32, R. 4, cl. 2 for the appointment of a Court guardian is only an irregularity and will not by itself vitiate the decree if the minor is in fact properly represented by a guardian appointed by Court. Where however the appointment of a Court guardian is secured by fraud and by false statements and concealment of material particulars the minor is not bound by the decree passed in the suit or by the sale held in execution of the decree. 37 A 179 followed. (Krishnan and Ramesam, JJ.) PUPPOGTH v. V. M. RAMAN SOMAYAJI PAD. 32 M. L. T. 107 (H. C.) : (1923) M. W. N. 301 : 17 L. W. 558 : A. I. R. 1923 Mad. 553 : 44 M. L. J. 515.

——O. 32, R. 4—Certificated guardian—Another guardian for suit cannot be appointed.

In cases where a certificated guardian of a minor is appointed the appointment of another guardian for the suit is illegal and a decree obtained in such a suit is liable to be set aside. (Sadasiva Aiyar and Spencer, JJ.) BHIMAJI v. RAJABHAI HUSHIA SBSANI 43 Mad. 808 : 12 L. W. 114 : 59 I. C. 842 : 28 M. L. T. 295 : 39 M. L. J. 239.

——O. 32, R. 4—Defect in appointment of guardian ad litem.

Defect in following the rule as to representation of minors is not necessarily fatal to the proceedings and does not render invalid a decree passed against the minors. (Oldfield and Phillips, JJ.) KUPPUSAMY AIYANGAR v. KAMALAMMAL. 43 Mad. 842 : 12 L. W. 243 : 59 I. C. 662 : 39 M. L. J. 375.

——O. 32, R. 4—Insolvent can be guardian.

There is no law that an insolvent cannot be the guardian ad litem of an infant. (Baker, J. C.) MANIK RAO v. NUR HUSSAN.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 32, R. 4.

A. I. R. 1925 Nag. 376.

——O. 32, R. 4—No guardian appointed—Decree is a nullity.

Where there is no appointment and appearance of a guardian ad litem for a minor, the decree passed is, as against the minor, a nullity and not binding on him. (Coutts and Ross, JJ.) RAMPIRIT v. THAKUR.

2 Pat. L. T. 617 : 63 I. C. 484 : 1921 P.H.C.C. 335.

——O. 32, Rr. 4 (1), (2), and (3)—No appointment without consent of guardian.

O. 32 (4) and (3) controls both Sub-R. (1) and Sub-R. (2) and places a material restriction upon the court exercising power thereunder. No person who is competent to act as guardian either under Sub-R. (1) or under Sub-R. (2) shall be appointed without his consent. (Mookerjee and Panton, JJ.) ANNADA PRASAD v. UPENDRA. 34 C. L. J. 293 : 65 I. C. 18 : 26 C. W. N. 781.

——O. 32, R. 4 (1)—Guardian ad litem not appearing in suit cannot be deemed to have consented.

A person who is named as guardian ad litem of a minor defendant but does not appear in the suit cannot be said to have consented to be appointed guardian. (Wazir Hasan and Neave, A. J. Cs.) RAMESHWAR BAKSH SINGH v. RIDH KUER.

A. I. R. 1925 Oudh 633.

——O. 32, R. 4 (3)—Consent—Need not be express.

The consent of a person to be appointed guardian ad litem need not be express but may be implied from conduct as where notice is served on him to show cause why he should not be appointed and he does not appear in answer thereto. An irregularity in the appointment of a guardian ad litem is no sufficient ground for setting aside the proceedings at the instance of the minor. (Walsh and Gokul Prasad, JJ.) CHHATTER SINGH v. TEJ SINGH. 43 All. 104 : 18 A. L. J. 956 : 59 I. C. 671 : 2 U. P. L. R. (All.) 384.

——O. 32, R. 4 (3)—Guardian cannot be appointed without his consent.

Where a proposed guardian of a minor does not signify his consent, the Court should not appoint him as guardian. The provision as to the consent is mandatory and imperative and where a person is appointed without his consent, the infant is not represented and a decree against the infant in that suit is not binding on him. (Mookerjee and Panton, JJ.) ANNADA v. UPENDRA. 34 C. L. J. 293 : 65 I. C. 18 : 26 C. W. N. 781.

——O. 32, R. 4 (3)—Consent if may be implied.

The consent may be implied and is not necessarily to be expressed in any document on record. Where notice was not jssued because the guardian happened to be present in Court when his appointment was made and in another case notice did really issue though the guardian did not give any express consent but none of the two guardians refused to accept the appointment but remained silent and they were appointed as guardians and where they themselves were parties to the suit as defendants and were members of the same family and their interest in the suit was identical with that of the minors, held, that there was no defect in the appointment of the guardians. 59 I. C. 691, Foll. (Moti Sagar, J.) JAWAHAR SINGH v. SEWA SINGH. 5 Lah. L. J. 487 : A. I. R. 1924 Lah. 97.

——O. 32, R. 4 (3)—Absence of consent.

Per Phillips, J.—(In the referring judgment)—Absence of consent is only an irregularity not vitiating the decree unless the merits of the case are affected.

Per Venkatasubba Rao, J.—(In the referring judgment)—Absence of consent renders decree null and void ab-initio. (Coutts Trotter, C. J., Ramesam and Wallace, JJ.) VASIREDDI SRIRAMULU v. PUTCHA LAKSHMINARAYAN. 47 Mad. 783 : 20 L. W. 248 : 35 M. L. T. 12 : 83 I. C. 312 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 30 (F. B.) : 47 M. L.J. 273.

——O. 32, R. 4 (3)—Guardian's Consent need not be express.

"Consent" referred to in O. 32, R. 4, cl. (3) need not be express. It is a pure question of fact to be decided on evidence which need not necessarily be direct. (Coutts Trotter, Ramesam and Wallace, JJ.) VASIREDDI SRIRAMULU v. PUTCHA LAKSHMINARAYAN. 47 Mad. 783 : 20 L. W. 248 : 35 M. L. T. 12 : 83 I. C. 312 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 30 (F. B.) : 47 M. L. J. 273.

——O. 32, R. 4 (3)—Consent of guardian.

The question whether or not a person appointed as guardian ad litem of a minor defendant consented to his being so appointed is a question of fact in each case. The consent of the guardian referred to in O. 32, R. 4 (3), C. P. Code, need not be expressed in writing but may be implied from the circumstances of the case. 43 All. 104, Fol. (Krishnan and Waller, JJ.) YEZZU MALLAYYA v. PUNNAMMA. 47 Mad. 476 : 77 I. C. 628 : 19 L. W. 410 : 34 M. L. T. 295 : A. I. R. 1924 Mad. 608 : 46 M. L. J. 291.

——O. 32, R. 4 (3)—Certified guardian—Duty to appoint—Appointment of another—Effect.

A Court is bound to appoint the certificated guardian as the guardian ad litem, unless it considers otherwise for special reasons to be recorded. Where the guardian, however, objects, the Court must appoint some other person. There is nothing however in O. 32, R. 4, cl. (3) which requires the Court to obtain the express consent of the guardian to act before appointing him in that capacity, and where the guardian so appointed is a certificated guardian, whom the Court was bound to appoint, consent may be properly presumed when he makes no objection. Where the interests of a minor have not been prejudiced, any defect in the procedure for the appointment of his guardian is not fatal. (Miller, C. J. and Foster, J.) THAKUR TEJESHWAR DUTT v. LAKHAN PRASAD SINGH. 4 Pat. L. T. 127 : 1 Pat. L. R. 59 : 1923 P. H. C. C. 88 : 2 P. 296 : A. I. R. 1923 Pat. 231.

——O. 32, R. 4 (3)—Appointment without consent of guardian is a nullity—Prejudice of minor whether necessary for setting aside the decree.

An appointment without his consent of a guardian for a minor in a suit is without jurisdiction. The provisions of O. 32, R. 4 (3) in respect of consent are mandatory and there is nothing in the law to suggest that, unless it is established that the minor is prejudiced, he cannot get relief. (Coutts and Das, JJ.) SHAIKH SAJJAD HUSSAIN v. SAKAI RAI. 2 P. 7 : 4 P. L. T. 575 : A. I. R. 1922 Pat. 448.

——O. 32, R. 4 (4)—Appointment of a Court guardian—Father unwilling to act—Existence of other guardians, not known to the plaintiff—Decree, whether bad for non-representation of the minor.

Where a clerk of the Court is appointed as a Court guardian of a minor defendant after his father's expression of unwillingness to act as guardian, on an affidavit to the effect that there were no other principal guardians for the minor defendant, a decree obtained against the minor is not bad on the ground of his non-representation, if it is not shown that the plaintiff procured the appointment of the Court guardian being aware of the existence of other proper guardians on a false affidavit by reason of collusion between the Court Clerk and the plaintiff. (Odgers and Hughes, JJ.) SRI RAJAH DANTULURI DEVI PRASADA SATYANARAYANA VEERABHADRA VENKATA LAKSHMI KANTARAJA GARU v. PEDA VENKATA JAGANNATHA RAJU GARU.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 32, R. 5.

(1924) M. W. N. 125 : 33 M. L. J. (H. C.) 243 : 77 I. C. 464 : A. I. R. 1924 Mad. 281 : 46 M. L. J. 12.

——O. 32, R. 5—Guardian-ad-litem—Appointment of—Locus standi to appeal.

When a guardian ad litem has once been appointed, the same enures for the whole of the lis unless and until revoked by Court. He alone has the locus standi to file an appeal. (Baker, J. C.) ABDUL HUSSAIN v. MEGHRAJ. 7 N. L. J. 110 : A. I. R. 1924 Nag. 133.

——O. 32, R. 5—Application on behalf of minor to Court.

Any application made on behalf of minors if not made by the guardian for the suit but by the previous guardian ad litem who long before the application was made had been discharged by the Court, must be rejected, as it contravenes the provisions of Order 32, R. 5 of the Civil Procedure Code which lays down that every application to the Court on behalf of the minor other than an application under R. 10, sub-rule (2) shall be made by his next friend or by his guardian for the suit. (Dawson Miller, C. J. and Adami, J.) RAI KISHORE DAS v. RAM GULAM SAHU.

3 P. L. J. 61 · A I. R. 1922 Pat. 256.

——O. 32, R. 6—Elder brother cannot give discharge of a decree de t on behalf of his minor brothers—Limitation Act, S 7.

Where two of three joint execution creditors are minors, the other execution creditor who is sui juris is not competent to grant a valid discharge so as to bind the interest of the minors. (Moti Sagar, J.) MUHAMMAD ZULFIGAR KHAN v. ABRAR ALI.

A. I. R. 1924 Lah. 681.

——O. 32. R. 6—Payment to manager of joint Hindu family towards decree in favour of manager and minor co-parceners represented by manager as next friend, cannot be recognised unless sanctioned by the Court.

Where a decree was passed in favour of the manager of the joint Hindu family and certain minor co-parceners represented by the manager as the next friend and payment was made to the manager who certified it, held, it cannot be recognised by the Court executing the decree unless leave of the Court had been obtained for such payments under R. 6. (Wallace, J.) PITCHAKKUTTIYA PILLAI v. DORAISWAMI MOOPANAR. (1924) M. W. N. 815 : 82 I. C. 588 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 230 (2) : 47 M. L. J. 498.

——O. 32, R. 6—Payment of decree amount to next friend—Leave of Court not obtained—Effect—Right to claim contribution.

O. 32, R. 6 prohibits the next friend of a minor decree-holder from realising money due under a decree without leave of Court. If one of several judgment-debtors pay the whole decree amount to the next friend without leave of Court, the decree is nevertheless subsisting and hence he is barred from claiming contribution from the other debtors. (Phillips and Venkatasubba Rao, JJ.) ABBOY NAIDU v. RAMACHANDRA NAIDU. (1923) M. W. N. 925 : 19 L. W. 686 : A. I. R. 1924 Mad. 279.

——O. 32, R. 6 (2)—Security bond under R. 6 (2) or other provision of C. P. Code—Court-fee stamp as under Art. 6, Court-Fees Act, Sch. II is necessary—Stamp under Stamp Act is also necessary if bond falls under Arts. 40 and 57 of the Stamp Act.

Security bonds executed in pursuance of an order of the Court under O. 32, R. 6 (2) or any other rule or section of the Civil Procedure Code must bear a Court-fee stamp as required by Art. 6 of Sch. II of the Court-Fees Act, 1870, and they will also be chargeable under the Stamp Act, if they are of the kind described in Art. 40 or Art. 57 of Sch. I to the Stamp Act but they will not be chargeable under the Stamp Act if they fall under the residuary Art. 15. 21 C. W. N. 1150 overruled. (Walmsley, Greaves, C. C. Ghose, B. B. Ghose and Mukerji, JJ.) REFERENCE UNDER S. 113 READ WITH O. 46, R. 1, C. P. CODE.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 32, R. 7.

42 C. L. J. 5 : 29 C. W. N. 851 : 89 I. C. 269 : A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 906 (F. B.)

——O 32, R. 7—Decree being passed on compromise does not necessarily imply Court has sanctioned the compromise—Where guardian changes mind before grant of leave, and does not want compromise, compromise cannot be forced on minor.

The mere fact that the decree has been passed in terms of the compromise does not necessarily justify an inference that the Court granted leave, or that it was satisfied that the compromise was for the benefit of the minor. Any compromise without the leave of the Court is a nullity. Where before any leave has been granted, the guardian himself changes his mind and does not want the compromise, it is impossible to force the compromise on the minor. 22 Mad. 378, Foll. This is much more the case where the compromise has been entered into not by the guardian but by some one else on his behalf and before leave is granted, the guardian opposes the compromise. (Sulaiman and Daniels, JJ.) GULAB DEI v. VAISH MOTOR COMPANY, ETAWAH. 23 A. L. J. 523 : 88 I. C. 429 : 47 A. 782 : L.R. 6 A. (Civ.) 390: A.I.R 1925 All. 570.

——O. 32, R. 7—Compromise—A paternal uncle signing on behalf of himself and his nephews major and minor, and on behalf of one of the major nephews as guardian of his minor brothers—Court's sanction is necessary.

Where compromise was signed by the paternal uncle on behalf of all his nephews and it was stated that he also signed on behalf of one of the nephews acting as guardian of his minor brothers, held, that he recognised that the minors were being represented for the purposes of the litigation, by their elder brother and that he did not profess to be representing them as manager and head of the family. And that in these circumstances the leave of the Court should have been obtained and recorded. (Neave, J.) SANTU v. ABHAINANDAN PRASAD. 81 I. C. 297 : A. I. R. 1925 All. 32.

——O. 32, R. 7—Compromise—Minor—Leave of Court not obtained—Compromise voidable by minor—Suit to set aside—Limitation.

A compromise decree entered into on behalf of a minor even without the leave of the Court first obtained is not void and a nullity but is voidable only. It is binding on all the parties except the minor and the only person who can call it in question is the minor himself. If the minor does not elect to avoid the decree it will be binding all round. Even as against the minor the decree will be treated as binding until it has been got rid of. The decree can only be set aside by a regular suit or by an application for review. The period of limitation for a suit of that kind is Art 120 and the plaintiff, minor, would be entitled to the benefit of Ss. 6 and 8 of the Limitation Act. (Lindsay and Kanhaiya Lal, JJ.) PHULWANTI KUNWAR v. JANESHAR DAS, 22 A. L. J. 521 : 46 All. 575 : L. R. 5 A. 785 : A. I. R. 1924 All. 625.

——O. 32, R. 7—Permission to refer.

An agreement to refer in a suit is an agreement coming within O. 32, R. 7 and therefore the sanction of the Court is necessary in the case of a minor party. (Macleod, C. J. and Crump, J.) CHIMANBHAI v. KESHAVLAL. 47 Bom. 721 : 25 Bom. L. R. 443 : A. I. R. 1923 Bom. 402.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 32, R. 7.

——O. 32, R. 7—Arbitration—Decree on award—Objection as to invalid reference overruled—No revision lies—Per Suhrawardy, J: R. 7 does not apply—Per Page, J : When final reference is by Court want of application under R. 7 does not affect proceedings.

Per Suhrawardy, J.—An agreement to refer to arbitration is not such an agreement as is contemplated by O. 32, R. 7. But even assuming that the lower Court at the time of filing an award and passing a decree thereon has committed an error of law in overruling the objection that the agreement to refer to arbitration was not validly entered into by the minor plaintiff, it cannot be said that it has committed any such irregular exercise of jurisdiction as would justify interfering in revision with the decree passed.

Per Page, J.—On the application for an order of reference being made it is open to a Court in its discretion either to grant or to refuse the application. The Court has jurisdiction when hearing the application for an order of reference to consider a petition under O. 32, R. 7. But whether it does so or not, the order of reference will stand, and no question can arise thereafter as to the regularity of the proceedings which were preliminary to the order of reference. The effect of the order of reference is that the arbitrators possess jurisdiction to proceed with and to complete the arbitration notwithstanding the fact that a petition has not been preferred under O. 32, R. 7. (Suhrawardy and Page, JJ.) DUBIR-UL-DIN v. AMINA BIBI. 78 I. C. 335 : A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 475.

——O. 32, R. 7—Duty of Court—Wishes of guardian or next friend—Weight due to.

Although the Court can and must approve of a compromise on behalf of infants it cannot and will not force one upon them against the opinion of their next friend or guardian ad litem in the action. No doubt if the Court found that a guardian or next friend was acting improperly and against the infant's interest in refusing to assent to an arrangement which appeared clearly beneficial to them, steps might be taken to remove him and substitute some other person. (Ghose and Panton, JJ.) HEMANGINI DASI v. BHAGWATI SUNDARI. 27 C. W. N. 792 : A. I. R. 1923 Cal. 685.

——O. 32, R. 7—Reference to arbitration—Suit against firm—Minor.

Though one member of firm is minor sanction of Court is not necessary to refer a suit against that firm to arbitration. (Harrison, J.) SUKHANAND v. BEHARI RAM. A. I. R. 1923 Lah. 103

——O. 32, R 7—Reference to arbitration—Benefit to minor—Court, duty of.

Where the guardian of a minor party to a suit wishes to refer the matter to arbitration, the Court ought to fully apply its mind to the matter and consider the circumstances of the case and see if the reference would be for the minor's benefit. Where it accords sanction to the reference without any valid reason the reference is bad and the whole proceeding is vitiated. (Abdul Raoof, J.) MT. BHAKTAWAR v. KESHAR SINGH GURDIT SINGH. 59 I. C. 31 : 5 P. W. R. 1921.

——O. 32, R. 7—Next friend giving up claim against one of the defendants—Minor can re-open proceedings.

If the next friend of a minor plaintiff withdraws the suit against one of the defendants, the minor has got a right to have the matter re-opened. (Jackson, J.) K. SRINIVASA RAO v. K. VENKATANARASAMMA. 22 L. W. 629 : A. I. R. 1926 Mad. 119.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 32, R. 7.

——O. 32, R. 7—Transfer of decree passed in minor's favour—Sanction of Court is necessary.

Sanction of the Court to a transfer by guardian ad litem of decree in minor's favour is necessary. 41 M.L. J. 75, Rel. on. (Phillips, J.) KANAKAYYA v. VENKATARAMAYYA. 90 I. C. 1049 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 1287 : 49 M. L. J. 443.

——O. 32, R 7—Only minor can avoid transfer made without Court's sanction—Third party cannot impeach.

Order 32, R. 7 (2) does not say that a transaction in which the sanction of the Court has not been obtained shall be void, but that it shall be voidable as against all parties other than the minor. The minor can avoid the transaction on attaining majority if he thinks fit, or even earlier if some guardian on his behalf thinks fit to establish its invalidity ; but there is no ground for allowing a third party to intervene in a transaction of this sort and to plead that it is void ab initio when neither of the parties to the transaction accept that contention. A. I. R. 1923 Patna 375 and A. I. R. 1924 All. 525, Rel. on. (Phillips, J) KANAKAYYA v. VENKATARAMAYYA. 90 I. C. 1049 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 1287 : 49 M. L. J. 443.

——O. 32, R. 7—Effect of want of sanction—Decree in favour of minor—Transfer of decree by next friend is not binding on minor.

The next friend of a minor cannot transfer to a third party, the decree in favour of the minor, without leave of the Court under O, 32, R. 7 of the Code. The word 'Suit' in the rule does not mean ouly a suit in which a decree has not been passed, and so leave of Court can be obtained at any stage. (Spencer and Ramesam, JJ.) KANAKAYYA v. KOTTAYYA. 13 L. W. 637 : 63 I. C. 285 : (1921) M. W. N. 437 : 41 M. L. J. 75.

——O. 32, R. 7—Power of natural guardian—Transfer of decree.

Decree is property and hence the guardian can transfer a decree in favour of the minor, without the sanction of Court. (Abdur Rahim and Odgers, JJ.) GOVINDARAJULU NAIDU v. RANGA RAO. 13 L. W. 97 : (1921) M. W. N. 98 : 62 I. C. 255 : 29 M. L. T. 99 : 40 M. L. J. 124: [But see 41 M. L. J. 75.]

——O. 32, R. 7—Guardian for suit dealing with the suit property to make compromise—No sanction by Court—Transaction is not void but voidable.

A guardian ad litem has power to deal with the property which is the subject-matter of the suit, but any such dealing entered into to effect a compromise must be sanctioned by the Court. But if no sanction is obtained the transaction is not void but only voidable. (Kotval, A. J. C.) SURYABHAN PIRTHAMJI v. PANDU. 21 N. L. R. 43 : 86 I. C. 375 : A. I. R. 1925 Nag. 328.

——O. 32, R. 7—Applicability—Execution proceedings—Compromise—Sanction, absence of—Collector—Powers of.

O. 32, R. 7 applies to proceedings in execution and where, pending execution before a Collector, the guardian of a minor decree-holder compromises without the sanction of the Court, the same is voidable at the option of the minor, even if the guardian happens to be his father or the manager of his family. (Hallifax, A. J. C.) MT. PERABAI v. BHAWANI PRASAD. A. I. R. 1924 Nag. 185.

——O. 32, R. 7—Negotiation for compromise—If require sanction of Court—Propriety of sanction—If can be questioned in later suit or split up.

O. 32, R. 7 does not require that the sanction of the court should be obtained even before negotiations for a compromise are started. It only says if a compromise is arrived at it must be sanctioned by Court in order to be binding on the minor. When a Court has sanctioned a compromise it is not open in a subsequent suit to challenge the propriety of the same or to have it split up, retaining one part and rejecting another. (Kotwal and Prideaux, A. J. Cs.) YADORAO v. MIRABAI. A I. R. 1924 Nag. 180.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 32, R. 7.

——O. 32, R. 7—Concealment of material facts by guardian vitiates Court's sanction.

While on the one hand a minor will be bound by a compromise decree which is entered into on his behalf by his guardian, and which has received the sanction of the Court, on the other hand, it is the duty of a minor's guardian to place the Court in possession of all essential facts. Any concealment of material facts will amount to fraud on the Court because the Court must be put in a position to form an opinion whether a compromise ought or ought not to be sanctioned and the compromise will not bind the minor if the Court is not put in such a position. (Wazir Hasan and Simpson, A. J. Cs.) BISHUNPAT SINGH v. KEDAR NATH. 12 O L. J. 366 : 88 I. C. 804 : A. I. R. 1925 Oudh 512.

——O. 23, R. 7—Compromise of suit—Minor members—Joint Hindu family—Consent of next friend—Absence of.

Where all the plaintiffs in a suit form members of a joint Hindu family and some of them are minors, the absence of the consent of the next friend of the minor plaintiffs vitiates the compromise in toto. (Dalal and Simpson, JJ.) LOOTAR RAM v. LAL RANJIT SINGH. 11 O. L. J. 381 : A. I. R. 1924 Oudh 85.

——O. 32. R. 7—Proof of sanction—Omission to have it expressly recorded—Effect of.

In order to attract the provisions of O. 32, R. 7, C. P. Code, it is enough to show that the attention of the Court was directly called to the fact that a minor was a party to the compromise and that the leave of the Court was obtained on petition or in some way not open to doubt. No particular formula is necessary to be used by the Court in order to grant the leave and when it is shown that an application was made by the guardian to the Court asking for leave to enter into the compromise and the Court makes a note of that application and passes a decree in terms of that compromise, it must be held that the leave of the Court was expressly recorded within the meaning of O. 32. R. 7, C. P. Code, (28 A. 585, Ref.) Even if the leave of the Court is not expressly recorded that would not make the decree a nullity. It would only make the decree viodable at the option of the minor and so long as it is not avoided in aproper proceeding, no objection can be taken in the execution proceedings as regards the validity thereof. (Mullick and Kulwant Sahay, JJ.) ISHAN CHANDRA KUNDU v. NILRATAN ADHIKARI. 2 Pat. 538 : 4 Pat. L. T. 311 : 1 Pat. L, R. 217 : (1923) P. H. C. C. 184 : A. I. R. 1923 P. 375.

——O. 32, R. 7—Proof of sanction—Compromise—Express approval of Court whether necessary.

The fact that the petition of compromise gave notice to court that minors interests were affected and that the Court passed a decree accordingly does not amount to sanction of Court. The attention of the Court must be expressly drawn to the fact and its approval obtained. The Court's attention is drawn only when leave is asked to settle the case on behalf of the minors. (Das and Ross, JJ.) RAM GULAM SAHU v. DURGA PERSHAD. 6 Pat. L. J. 190: 2 Pat. L. T. 325 : 60 I C. 980 : 3 U. P. L. R. (Pat.) 75 : A. I. R. (1921) Pat 235.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 32, R. 8.

——O. 32, R. 7—Reference to arbitration—Minor—When void.

Reference to arbitration on behalf of minor parties in the absence of Court's sanction is not void but voidable. Where a decree is given on award, there is neither an appeal nor a revision. (Kennedy, J. C. and Raymond, A. J. C.) ENNABAI v. FAKIR MAHOMED. 15 S. L. R. 165: A. I. R. 1922 Sind. 1.

——O. 32, R. 7—Award is an agreement—Courts leave is necessary to file it.

Agreement to file an award is an agreement within Rule 7 and requires the leave of the Court expressly recorded in the proceedings. Where no such leave is given and recorded by the Court and the decree is based on such agreement, it is voidable by the minor. (Kincaid, J. C. and Aston, A. J. C.) GUMNOMAL v. GURDINOMAL. 83 I. C 913 : 17 S. L. R. 211.

——O. 32, R. 7—Proceedings.

Applications for execution of a decree are proceedings in the suit itself. (Kincaid, J. C. and Kemp, A. J, C.) GUMNOMAL v. GURDINOMAL. 83 I. C. 913 : 17 S. L. R. 211.

——O, 32, R. 7 (1) and (2)—Breach of R. 7 (1) does not make an agreement to compromise unlawful except as provided for by R. 7 (2).

O. 32, R. 7 (2) lays down what should be the effect of a breach of O. 32, R. 7 (1). Hence the breach of O. 32, R. 7 (1) does not itself make an agreement to compromise unlawful so as to vitiate the compromise entered into. (Walmsley and B. B. Ghose, JJ.) TARUBALA DASSI v. SOURENDRA NATH MITRA. 41 C. L. J. 213 : 88 I. C. 369 : 29 C. W. N. 597 : A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 866.

——O. 32, R. 7 (2)—One of the plaintiffs a minor—Defendant cannot question the agreement to compromise:

Sub rule 2 contemplates the case of a minor on one side ranged against adults on the other, as regards the matter of compromise and it can have no reference as to the effect of any compromise as between adults, although a minor may be a party to the suit. The question as between adults must be governed by the general law and not by this sub-rule. Where, for instance one of the plaintiffs is a minor, the defendant cannot claim that the agreement to compromise which was entered into between the parties, was not lawful because the sanction of the Court had not been obtained under O. 32, R. 7. (Walmsley and B. B. Ghose, JJ.) TARU BALA DASSI v. SOURENDRA NATH MITTRA. 41 C. L. J. 213 : 88 I. C. 369 · 29 C. W. N. 597 : A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 866.

——O. 32, R. 7 (2)—Effect of want of sanction—Minor—Compromise.

A compromise entered into on behalf of a minor without the leave of the Court is voidable under O. 32 R. 7 (2) of the Code. (Fawcett and Kennedy, J. C.) CHELLARAM v. KIMATRAM. 61 I. C. 118 : 14 S. L R. 245.

——O. 32, R. 8—Minor—Guardian ad litem—Appeal by another person as next friend—Maintainability.

Where a guardian ad litem to a minor defendant has once been appointed such appointment continues for the whole of the lis or until it is revoked by Court and the guardian so appointed is the only person who can file an appeal on behalf of the minor. 41 A. 619, Foll. (Ryves and Daniels, JJ.) BHAGELU v. DHARMA. 45 A. 623 : 21 A. L. J. 591 : L. R. 4 A. 304 : A. I. R. 1924 All. 79.

——O. 32, Rr. 8 and 9—Pauper suit—Minor plaintiff—Costs to be paid by next friend.

Where the next friend of a minor sues forma pauperis, the Court can order the next friend to pay the costs of the defendant. (Hallifax, A. J. C.) MAROTI v. BHAGI. A. I. R. 1923 Nag. 43.

——O. 32, R. 8—Guardian ad litem discharged—Application by.

An application on behalf of a minor, made by a guardian ad litem discharged long before the date of application, should not be entertained. (Miller, C. J. and Adami, J.) RAJ KISHORE DAS v. RAM GHULAM SAHU. 6 Pat. L. J. 171 : 62 I. C. 235 : 1921 P. H. C. C. 193.

——O. 32, R. 9—Hindu law—Partition suit—Compromise—Father as next friend—Father's interest is not adverse to minors.

In a partition suit among Hindu co-parceners when a compromise is entered into between the parties there is no conflict of interest between a father who is acting as next friend to his minor son and that minor son. (Krishnan, J.) LINGA REDDI v. M. CHENGALRAYA REDDI. 21 L. W. 659 : 87 I. C. 42 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 734 : 48 M. L. J. 417.

——O. 32, Rr. 9 and 10—Next friend—Interest adverse to the minor—Procedure.

A Court should remove a next friend under O. 32, R. 9 if it thinks his interest is adverse to that of the minor and should stay proceedings under R. 10 until the appointment of another next friend. (Das and Ross, JJ.) KIRIT NARAYAN v. CHANCHAL DAS. 63 I. C. 736 : 6 Pat. L. J. 317.

——O. 32, R. 11—Appointment of guardian ad litem—Appeal from decree cannot be preferred by another next friend.

Where a guardian ad litem has been once appointed by the Court for a minor deft., his appointment enures for the lis in the course of which it was made unless and until revoked by the Court. Consequently an appeal against a decree passed against the minor can only be preferred by him. 44 A. 35 ; 22 M. 187 ; 2 A. L. J. 482, Foll. (Stuart and Ryves, JJ.) SHAMBOO v. KANHAYAN. 44 A. 619 : 20 A. L. J. 599 : L. R. 3 A. 512 : A. I. R. 1922 All. 332 (2).

——O. 32, R. 11—Removal of guardian—Grounds.

If a Court finds that a guardian or a next friend is acting improperly and against the infant's interest in refusing to assent to an arrangement which appears clearly beneficial to them, steps might be taken to remove him and substitute some other person. (C. C. Ghose and Panton, JJ.) HEMANGINI DASI v. BHAGWATI SUNDARI. 27 C. W. N. 792 : A. I. R. 1923 Cal. 685.

——O. 32, R. 11—Guardian once appointed must continue to be so to the end of the suit.

The appointment of a guardian ad litem once made must enure for the whole lis in all its ramifications and must continue to subsist whether in the Court of first instance or in the Court of appeal unless the guardian takes the necessary steps to have himself discharged from that position which has been put upon him by the Court. 14 All. 35 ; 1 N. L. R. 128, Foll. (Kinkhede, A. J. C.) DATTU v. BHAOSINGH. 88 I. C. 235 : A. I. R. 1926 Nag. 40.

——O. 32, R. 11 (2) (a)—On the death of a guardian during pendency of a suit, new guardian must be appointed.

Where the guardian for the suit dies during the pendency of the suit it is prescribed that the Court shall appoint a new guardian in his place. (Kinkhede, A. J. C.) DATTU v. BHAOSINGH. 88 I. C. 235 : A. I. R. 1926 Nag. 40.

——O. 32, R. 12—Limitation Act, Ss. 6 and 8.

Minor must sue within three years of his becoming major, even to set aside a compromise decree sanctioned by Revenue Court. (Le Rossignol, J.) THIRAJ v. KHEAUSI. 22 P. W. R. 1923 : 77 I. C. 588 : A. I. R. 1924 Lah. 427.

——O. 32, R. 12 (3)—Appeal by major through guardian under a bona fide mistake of his being a minor should be amended and not dismissed.

Where an appeal is preferred by a major through a guardian ad litem under a bona fide mistake that the major is still a minor, the appeal should not be dismissed but should be amended by striking out the name of the guardian ad litem. (Kinkhede, A. J. C.) DATTU v. BHAOSINGH. 88 I. C. 235 : A. I. R. 1926 Nag. 40.

——O. 32, R. 12—Minor electing to continue a suit conducted by next friend, is not instituting a fresh suit.

Where the suit was instituted on behalf of a minor by his mother as his guardian to enforce specific performance of a contract which was binding on him, held, by electing under O. 32, R. 12, C. P. Code, to continue the suit, the minor is not to be deemed as instituting a fresh suit. His right to claim specific performance would be determined as on the date on which the suit was originally instituted. 39 Cal. 232, Foll. (Rupchand Bilaram, A. J. C.) LAKHMICHAND ISARDAS v. FIRM OF KHUSHALDAS MANGATRAM. 18 S. L. R. 230 : 88 I. C. 916 : A. I. R. 1925 Sind 330.

——O. 32, R. 15—Defendant alleged to be of unsound mind by one party and denied by the opposite party—Judicial inquiry is necessary.

Where the plaintiff does not allege but denies that defendant is of unsound mind or mentally infirm to defend the suit, it is desirable that there should be a judicial inquiry in the matter and that both parties be allowed to adduce evidence. (Woodroffe and Ghose, JJ.) RAM SUNDAR SAHA v. KALI NARAIN SEN. A. I. R. 1922 Cal. 86.

——O. 32. R. 15—Person of weak mind can sue through next friend.

Under the new Code even a person of "weak mind" can sue through a next friend. Of course, the Court is to be satisfied that by reason of mental infirmity he is incapable of protecting his interests when suing or being sued. (Kinkhede, A. J. C.) KRISHNA BAI v. KESHEORAO. 83 I. C. 253 : A. I. R. 1925 Nag. 245

——O. 32, R. 16—A guardian is not necessary when the Prince attains majority according to his personal law.

It is not necessary to appoint a guardian ad litem of a ruling Prince not domiciled in British India if he has attained the age of majority according to his personal law though not according to Majority Act, under, O. 32 C. P. Code. He is not a minor according to O. 32 and he is therefore entitled to act through his manager appointed under S. 85, C. P. Code. 1 Cal. 108, Foll. (Suhrawardy and Graham, JJ.) RAMESH CHANDRA DAS v. BIRENDRA KISHORE MANIKYA. 29 C. W. N. 287 : 80 I. C. 100 : A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 513.

——O. 33, Rr. 1 and 5—Hindu minor having share in joint family property is not necessarily entitled to sue as "pauper."

Where a minor member of a Hindu joint family sues to set aside an alienation of joint family property by his father and where there is a share which has not been transferred, the minor cannot sue as a pauper unless an attempt has been made and it has actually been found impossible for the minor to obtain funds. 25 All. 407 (P.C.) Ref. and explained. (Sulaiman and Daniels, JJ.) RAM PRASAD SINGH v. JAGTAMBA

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 33, R. 1.

PRASAD. 23 A. L. J. 512 : 88 I. C. 420 : L. R. 6 A. (Civ.) 352 : A. I. R. 1925 All. 547.

——O. 33, R. 1—Application on behalf of minor—Reasons of next friend immaterial.

When a minor brings a suit in forma pauperis through a next friend, the inquiry into pauperism is confined to the minor and is not affected by the status of his next friend. 3 Mad. 3, Foll. (Macleod, C. J. and Shah, J.) NEMICHAND BHICKCHAND MARWADI v. KEVALCHAND JASRAJ MARWADI. 26 Bom. L. R. 380 : 80 I. C. 748 : A. I. R. 1924 Bom. 440.

——O. 33, R. 1—Suit in forma pauperis—Admission of part of the claim by defendant cannot dispauper plaintiff.

A Hindu widow applied for leave to sue in forma pauperis for the recovery of maintenance and her stridhanam jewels and cash withheld by defendant. The defendant admitted liability for the jewels and cash and produced them in Court. It was found that the jewels and cash were more than sufficient to pay the Court-fee and the Court dispaupered her. Held, on revision that the order of the Court was improper and it could not be said that owing to the defendant's offer the plaintiff was possessed of sufficient means to pay the prescribed Court fee. In a suit where no fee is prescribed by law for the plaint, no admission or even payment into Court by the defendant can be taken into consideration. The time when the application is made to institute a suit as a pauper is the point of time when the Court has to consider when the application comes to be dealt with, and the subject matter of the suit is in no case at the disposal of the applicant for payment of fees. 10 B. 207, Diss. 34 B. 638, Foll. (Macleod, C. J. and Crump, J.) BAI BALAGAVRI v. MOTILAL. 47 Bom. 523 : 25 Bom. L. R. 199 : A. I. R. 1923 Bom. 247.

——O. 33, R. 1—Minor pauper—Status of next friend is immaterial.

A minor who is not possessed of sufficient means within the definition of pauperism for the purpose of O. 33 is entitled to be allowed to sue in forma pauperis by a next friend although the next friend is not a pauper. In like manner the wealth or other circumstances of the minor's relation in general are not material. 3 M. 3, Foll. The law of India in this respect is very different from the law that prevailed in the Court of Chancery in England. (Rankin and B. B. Ghose, JJ.) NANIBALA DASSYA v. JAIMINI SUNDARI. 37 C. L. J. 394 : 70 I. C. 919 (1) : A. I. R. 1923 Cal. 656.

——O. 33, Rr. 1 and 9—Pauper's representative.

The representative of a pauper cannot continue the suit in forma pauperis, if not a pauper himself. 36 Bom. 279 Foll. and 33 Cal. 1163 Ref. (Jackson, J.) A. S. RADHAKRISHNA IYER, In re. 21 L W. 550 : 88 I. C. 91 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 819.

——O. 33, R. 1—Dismissal of pauper application—Court if can extend time for payment of Court fee.

Where pauper application is dismissed, the court can extend time for payment of Court fee. (Krishnan, J.) BALAGURU NAIDU v. MUTTU RATNAM IYER. 18 L. W. 451 : 33 M. L. T. 18 : (1923) M. W. N. 720 : A. I. R. 1924 Mad. 118 : 46 M. L. J. 254.

——O. 33, Rr. 1, 5 and 7—Pauper application—Applicant subsequently ceasing to be pauper—Court cannot grant leave to sue as pauper.

Where subsequent to an application to sue as a pauper, the applicant receives a sum of money, sufficient to defray the suit expenses, the Court has no jurisdiction to grant to sue as a pauper. (Napier, J.)

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 33, R. 2.

MUDDAPPA v. RUDRAMMA. 61 I. C. 958: 13 L. W. 76.

——O. 33, R. 1—Occupancy holding is not "Property"—Possibility of tenant's getting sufficient means by surrendering the holding to landlord is not to be considered.

Occupancy holding is not property for the purpose of determining whether an applicant is or is not a pauper. Further merely because an occupancy tenant's interest which is otherwise not saleable or at any rate is subject to a restriction as to alienation, may, by agreement with the landlord, be convertible into cash, it does not follow that the amount likely to be fetched becomes 'property' or 'debt' over which he might be said to have a disposing power. (Kinkhede, A. J. C.) CHANDAN SINGH v. LAXMAN. 21 N. L. R. 98 : 90 I. C. 949 : A. I. R. 1925 Nag. 438.

——O. 33, R. 1—Expectation on the part of applicant of getting in future sufficient means is not to be considered.

What the law wants the intending suitor to establish is the negation of the actuality or possession of means, by him if he is seeking permission to sue in forma pauperis, and not of the chance of eventuality, or of a mere possibility or contingency, much less of an expectancy on his part, of getting in future some means sufficient to enable him to pay the prescribed fee for his plaint. (Kinkhede, A. J. C.) CHANDAN SINGH v. LAXMAN. 21 N. L. R. 98 : 90 I. C. 949 : A. I. R. 1925 Nag. 438.

——O. 33, R. 1 and S. 115—Rejection of application under O. 33, R. 1 is decision of case for purposes of S. 115—But mere finding on evidence cannot be disturbed in revision.

An order rejecting an application to sue as a pauper is a decision of a case for the purposes of S. 115 of the C. P. Code, and is subject to revision by the High Court under that Section. A. I. R. 1924 Nag. 44 Foll. But where the case is one of a pure finding on evidence and where there is not any material irregularity, the High Court will not interfere in revision. It is settled law that where a Court has jurisdiction to determine a question, and it has determined that question it cannot be said to have acted illegally or with material irregularity merely because it has come to an erroneous decision. 11 Cal. 6 (P. C.) Foll. (Baker, J. C. and Prideaux, A. J. C.) RAMACHANDRA v. GAJARABAI. 88 I. C. 157 : A. I. R. 1925 Nag. 343.

——O. 33, R. 1—Suit to redeem—Equity of redemption—Should be excluded in calculating means.

In a suit for redemption of mortgage property of which plaintiff is not in possession, the value of the right to redeem which is the subject-matter of the suit for the purposes of O. 33, R. 1, should be excluded in considering whether he is entitled to sue as a pauper. (Baker, O. J. C. and Hallifax, A. J. C.) ACHALSINGH v. SETH JIVANDAS. 19 N. L. R. 165 : A. I. R. 1924 Nag. 44.

——O. 33, R. 1—English law is different from Indian law.

No court-fee is payable upon a bill or plaint of England and only the costs of conducting the litigation such as payment of fees to lawyers etc., has to be incurred. This circumstance has been taken into consideration in the latter portion of explanation to R. 1 of O. 33, which says that where no such fee is prescribed the pauper must show that he is not entitled to property worth one hundred rupees. (Jwala Prasad and Ross, JJ.) SAVITRI THAKURAIN v. SECRETARY OF STATE. 2 Pat. 879 : 4 Pat. L. T. 538 : A. I. R. 1924 Pat. 27.

——O. 33, R. 2—Contents of application—Omission to state immoveable property—Effect of.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 33, R. 3.

Under O. 33, R. 2 of the C. P. Code an application for permission to sue as a pauper must contain a schedule of the moveable as well as immoveable property. Where therefore an applicant omits to mention his immoveable property and also fails to submit a list of such property when required, the application is not in proper form, (Ashworth, J. C.) SHEO NARAIN LAL v. MT. MUNAQQA. 9 O. L. J. 610 : A. I. R. 1923 Oudh 118.

——O. 33, Rr. 3 and 5—Form of petition—Separate affidavit instead of verification is sufficient.

Where the petitioner did not verify the contents of the petition at the foot of the petition, but he did so by a separate affidavit in which the statements contained in the several paragraphs of the petition were said to be true and no part of them was false and nothing had been concealed, Held, this affidavit being annexed to the petition must be treated as a part of it. 16 I. C. 83, Diss. (Abdul Raoof, J.) PIRJI ASHRAF ALI v. RAMESHWAR NATH. A. I. R. 1923 Lah. 684.

——O. 33, R. 3—Pauper application—Presentation to Sheristadar—If valid—Madras Civil Rules of Practice, R. 14—If ultra vires.

In O. 33, R. 3, C. P. Code the insistence is on the words "in person" and not on 'to the court" as meaning the judge himself. There is no reason to hold that R. 14 of the Civil Rules of Practice is ultra vires and the mere fact that an applicant in forma pauperis presented his application to the sheristadar is no ground for rejecting the same. (Jackson, J.) CHIDAMBARAM CHETTIAR v. KADAR MOHIDEEN ROWTHER. (1924) M. W. N. 749 (1) : 20 L. W. 622 : A. I. R. 1924 Mad. 901 (2) : 47 M. L. J 522.

——O. 33, R. 3—Leave to sue in forma pauperis—Rejection of—Doubtful claim.

An application for leave to sue as a pauper cannot be rejected on the ground that the claim is doubtful for such a conclusion can be reached only when the case is tried. (Hallifax, A. J. C.) MT. RUPIBAI v. SADASHIV. 75 I. C. 744 (Nag.)

——O. 33, R. 3—Rule does not apply to memo. of appeal—Memo. of appeal through pleader is not bad.

The rule applies to the presentation of the application to appeal, as a pauper and not to the presentation of the memorandum of appeal. The presentation of the memorandum of appeal through a pleader is not a breach of the rules and does not entail the penalty of rejection of that memorandum. (Dalal, J. C.) SAJJAD ALI KHAN v. JAGMOHAN DAS. A I. R. 1926 Oudh 13.

——O. 33, R. 3—Guardian ad litem not appointed—Interests represented by manager—Proceedings not ineffectual.

Where the minors were sufficiently represented by the manager of the family, the mere fact that there was no formal order appointing the manager guardian ad litem will not enable them to escape the liability under the decree. 36 All. 383, Ref. to. (Kanhaiya Lal, J. C.) SAT DEO v. JAI NATH. 9 O. L. J. 141 : 4 U. P. L. R. (O. C.) 43 : A. I. R. 1922 Oudh 75 (2).

——O. 33, R. 5—Order rejecting application—No revision.

Order rejecting application for leave to sue in forma pauperis is not open to revision under S. 115, C. P. Code. (Piggott and Walsh, JJ.) RAI MAHADEO SAHAI v. THE SECRETARY OF STATE IN COUNCIL. 20 A. L. J. 55 : 44 A. 248 : L. R. 3 A. 54 : 65 I. C. 255 : A. I. R. 1922 All. 1 (1).

——O. 33, R. 5—Decision as to plaint disclosing cause of action—High Court will not interfere in revision.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 33, R. 5.

Per Suhrawardy, J.—Where the plaint discloses a cause of action, however weak it may be, and the Court grants leave to sue as pauper the order cannot be set aside in revision on the ground that the plaint does not disclose any cause of action whether the allegations in the plaint are or are not right.

Per Cuming, J.—The Court has jurisdiction to decide rightly or wrongly and a wrong decision even though on a question of law can by no stretch of imagination be considered to be an illegal exercise of jurisdiction or exercise of jurisdiction with material irregularity. So where the lower Court decided that the plaint disclosed a cause of action and permitted the plaintiff to sue as pauper, the High Court cannot interfere in revision on the ground that the plaint does not disclose a cause of action. (Suhrawardy and Cuming, JJ.) SOURENDRA NATH MITRA v. JATINDRA NATH GHOSH. 87 I. C. 737 : A. I. R. 1925 Cal 990.

——O. 33, R. 5—Suit in forma pauperis—Complicated question of limitation.

It is undesirable on an application for leave to sue in forma pauperis to go into a complicated question of limitation. (Waller, J.) BANGARUSWAMY NAICKER v. SUNDERADOSS THEVAR. (1925) M. W. N. 779.

——O. 33, R. 5—Application to sue as pauper—Subsequent insolvency is no ground to reject.

Order dismissing the pauper application on the sole ground that some time subsequent to the application and before the Court passed its orders petitioner became an insolvent, cannot be supported. (Krishnan, J.) M. CHIDAMBARAM CHETTIAR v. S. K. KOTHAR. A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 791 : 87 I. C. 720 : 48 M. L. J. 491.

——O. 33, R. 5—Leave to sue in forma pauperis—Enquiry into the merits of the case.

It is the duty of the Court enquiring into an application for leave to sue in forma pauperis not merely to read through the plaint but to make a very extensive enquiry as to the facts on which the plaint is based. 41 M. 620 Diss. (Neave and Kendall, A. J. Cs.) MAHOMED ISMAIL v. KARAM ALI. 10 O. & A. L. R. 579 : 11 O. L. J. 568 : 79 I. C. 922 : 1 O. W. N. 311 : A. I. R. 1925 Oudh 74.

——O 33, R 5—Dismissal of application on ground of limitation is revisable—C. P. Code, S. 115.

Order of dismissal of application to sue as pauper on the ground that the suit is barred by limitation is ultra vires and the order of dismissal is revisable. (Jwala Prasad and Adami, JJ.) SHEIKH MUHAMMAD v. NASRULLAH. 6 P. L. T. 209 : 3 Pat. 275 : 83 I. C. 871 : 1924 P. H. C. C. 134 : A. I. R. 1925 Pat. 30.

——O. 33, R. 5—Question of valuation—Court cannot go into.

In an application in forma pauperis the Court cannot investigate the question whether the applicant has overvalued his claim in order to enable him to sue as pauper. (Das and Ross, JJ.) TULSHI MAHATANI v. GAJADHAR MARWARI. 61 I. C. 891 (Pat.).

——O. 33, R. 5 (d)—Nature of inquiry—Complicated questions of law—Not to be inquired into.

The scope of the inquiry in O. 33, C. P. Code, is limited primarily to determining the pauperism of the petitioner and the Court is not justified in determining complicated questions of law. The Court can reject the application if the allegations do not show a cause of action but it ought not to go into evidence as to the merits of the case. (Moti Sagar, J.) MT. BHAGWANTI v. BUA DITTA. A. I. R. 1924 Lah. 659.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O 33, R. 5.

——O. 33, R. 5 (d)—Pauper application—Enquiry into the merits of the case is not proper.

Where an application is made for leave to sue in forma pauperis, it is not open to the Court to dismiss the application on the ground that though the plaint discloses a cause of action, the plaintiff's case would fail on the merits. (Krishnan, J.) BOLIMATI MURIGADU v. NALLA BAPADU. 18 L. W. 53 : (1923) M. W. N. 412 : A. I. R. 1924 Mad. 80.

——O. 33, R. 6—Evidence as to the plaintiff's title cannot be gone into.

The only matter in regard to which evidence may be taken is the question of the pauperism or otherwise of the applicant. R. 6 does not empower the Court to try the question of the plff.'s title after taking evidence on that question and in fact to try the suit on the merits before the application for leave to sue is granted. 46 Cal. 651, Appl. ; 50 I. C. 521, Not Appr. ; 20 All. 299. Dist. (Banerji and Gokul Prasad, JJ.) MT. SHAURAN BIBI v. ABDUS SAMAD. 45 A. 548 : L. R. 4 A 252 : 21 A.L.J. 441 : A. I. R. 1923 All. 577.

——O. 33, R. 6—Acknowledgment of previous liability under mortgage in suit by Court of Wards—Whether money decree can be passed.

In every mortgage there is a personal covenant to pay unless the contrary is expressly stated or appears by necessary implication. This necessary implication arises out of the terms of most foreclosure and many usufructuary mortgages but not out of those of a mortgage for sale. There are in practically all simple mortgages two separate contracts engrossed on one piece of paper ; one is a simple money bond and the other is a mortgage bond, hypothecating certain immoveable property as security. If a bond is executed by the guardian of a defendant during his minority for an antecedent debt due by him which could have been recovered from his estate at the time ; as the covenant made by the guardian does not impose any personal liability on the ward but merely confirmed an existing liability to which he had authority a decree for money can be passed. 26 Mad. 330 followed. 11 Bom. 551 ; 2 N. L. R. 25 and 13 N. L. R. 109 distinguished. (Hallifax and Dhobley, A. J. Cs.) SETH JIWANDAS v. MT. JANKI. 5 N. L. J. 49 : 18 N. L. R. 145 : A. I. R. 1922 Nag. 98.

——O. 33, R. 7—Though Government pleader reports applicant to be pauper, defendant must be allowed to prove otherwise.

The defendant who denies that an applicant to sue in forma pauperis is a pauper, must be given an opportunity to prove his allegations although the Government Solicitor who appears for the Government may report that the applicant was a pauper. (Spencer, O. C. J. and Srinivasa Aiyangar, J.) P. BABA SAH v. V. M. PURUSHOTAM SAH.

48 M. 700 : 85 I. C. 201 : 20 L. W. 845 : 35 M.L.T. 136: A.I.R. 1925 Mad. 167: 47 M.L.J. 932.

——O. 33, R. 7—Suit in forma pauperis—Subsequent payment of Court-fee—Institution deemed to have been made on the date of the original presentation.

Where an application for leave to sue in forma pauperis is presented together with the plaint and subsequently the applicant pays the full Court-fee on the plaint the suit must be deemed to have been instituted on the day on the original presentation of the plaint and not on the date when the Court-fee was paid. The payment was an admission on nothing more than that the applicant was at the time of the payment, in possession of means to make it and was no longer a pauper. The withdrawal of the application for leave to sue as a pauper must be deemed to be a submission to an order of dispauperisation and not to one of refusal of his original petition. (Hallifax, A. J. C.) GOPIKISHAN v. BULAKIDAS. 18 N. L. R. 44 : A. I. R. 1922 Nag. 160.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 33, R. 9.

——O. 33, R. 8—Suit should be deemed to be instituted at the date of the presentation of the application for leave to sue as pauper and Court-fee is payable on that date.

In the case of a pauper, a suit is instituted when his application for leave to sue as pauper is made. The Court-fee is payable from the date of the presentation of the application and it is exactly that fee to which the Court must address its mind when it considers the pauper application. 2 All. 241, (P. C.). Appl (Jackson, J.) KAMAN MADA v. MALLI. 22 L. W. 732 : A.I.R. 1926 Mad. 159: 49 M. L. J. 538.

——O 33, R. 9—Concealment of property—Asset of doubtful value—Insurance policy.

A plff. was given leave to sue in forma pauperis in a case where otherwise he would have had to pay a Court-fee of over Rs. 500. Subsequently pending the suit the Court found that he had omitted to state in his list of assets an insurance policy whose then value was Rs. 245. Thereupon the Court dispaupered the plff., asked him to pay the full Court-fee and on his failure to do so, dismissed the suit. Held, in revision that even assuming that concealment of property in a particular case might amount to improper conduct, which, by itself, would entitle the Court to dispauper a plff. under O. 33, R. 9, the facts which came to light in this case only demanded a further scrutiny by the Court to ascertain whether the plff. had means, so that he ought not to be allowed to continue the suit as a pauper. If that scrutiny had been made, it would have been discovered that plff. was still unable to pay the Court-fees. (Macleod, C. J. and Coyajee, J.) SHANKARABHAT v. SHANKARABHAT. 24 Bom. L. R. 734 : 46 B. 1017 : A. I. R. 1922 Bom. 215.

——O. 33, R. 9—Plaintiff subsequently acquiring property and paying Court-fee—Suit is deemed as filed on the date of presentation of application.

Where the plaintiff asks for leave to sue in forma pauperis the period of limitation ceases to run from the date of the presentation of such application. If, afterwards owing to the finding of the Court that he is not a pauper or by reason of his inheriting some property or of some legacy being left to him, it is proved that he is not a pauper, the Court may direct him to pay the Court-fee on the plaint. That would not enable the defendants to the suit to say that the suit is out of time, because the fee was paid after limitation. The case of course would be different if he purposely in order to avoid paying the Court-fee filed an application to sue as a pauper. (Devadoss J.) VEERASAMI NAIDU v. SIVAGURUNATHA PILLAI. 21 L. W. 111 : 86 I. C. 234 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 793.

——O. 33, R. 9—Dispaupering cannot operate retrospectively.

Semble : Even after a plaintiff is dispaupered he could not be required to pay the Court-fee in respect of the plaint which has been by the order of Court admitted to be filed without any fee. (Srinivasa Aiyangar, J.) SIVAGAMI AMMAL v. T. S. GOPALASWAMI ODAYAR. (1925) M.W.N. 176 : 87 I.C. 372 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad 765 : 48 M. L. J. 390 :

——O. 33, R. 9—Plaintiff's death—Will left—Executor cannot be dispaupered unless possessed of sufficient means as executor.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 33, R. 9.

The expression 'plaintiff' in R 9, O. 33, when applied to the legal representative of a deceased pauper plaintiff, refers not to the physical person before the Court but to the legal representative of the deceased pauper plaintiff. The fact that the legal representative has means in his private capacity cannot justify his being dispaupered. But if he is shown to have come into possession, in his character as legal representative and out of the estate of the deceased, of sufficient means within the meaning of clause (b), then he may be dispaupered even as the original plaintiff might have been. The deceased plaintiff left a will under which he had appointed his two sisters as executrixes. They were also legatees under the will. But it was not shown that in their capacity as executrixes or legatees they were in possession of sufficient means. Held, that on being substituted as plaintiffs in the suit, they must not be dispaupered and ordered to pay the Court-fee payable on the original plaint. 36 Bom. 279 Dissented from. Case law discussed. (Srinivasa Aiyangar, J.) SIVAGAMI AMMAL v. T. S. GOPALASWAMI ODAYAR.

(1925) M. W. N. 176 : 87 I. C. 372 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 765 : 48 M. L. J. 390.

——— O. 33, R. 9 (b)—Dispaupering—Grounds for—Getting ad interim allowance barely sufficient for maintenance, having a rich relation or appearing through eminent pleader are not sufficient to dispauper.

After the plff. was allowed to sue as pauper, she applied in the Court for ad interim maintenance at the rate of Rs. 3,000 per month. The Court allowed her a maintenance of Rs. 200 a month during the pendency of the litigation; a petition was then filed on behalf of Government under O 33, R. 9 (b) to dispauper the plff. upon the ground that by reason of her having received the sum of Rs. 5,538 as arrears and of her being allowed to receive in future Rs. 200 per month as her maintenance allowance, she had ceased to be a pauper and consequently she ought not to be allowed to continue the prosecution of her suit as a pauper. Held, that she was not liable to be dispaupered. The fact that she was living with her cousin a Vakil who probably was supporting her and carrying on the litigation on her behalf and also that she had appeared before the Court through eminent counsel are immaterial especially when there is nothing to show under what arrangement the learned Counsel appeared for her in the Court and there is no affidavit to show that she had incurred an expense on account of the aforesaid counsel or that her cousin was financing her, either in supporting her or in defraying the cost of the litigation. The word 'means' in cl. (b) of R. 9 is to be interpreted with the help of the definition of pauper referred to above in R. 1. 61 I. C. 958, Dist ; 1 Ch. D. 471, Not foll. (Jwala Prasad and Ross, JJ.) SAVITRI THAKURAIN v. SECRETARY OF STATE.

2 Pat. 879 : 4 Pat. L. T. 538 : A. I. R. 1924 Pat. 27.

———O. 33, Rr. 10 and 11 and O. 21 R. 19—Suit in forma pauperis—Costs decreed to defendant exceeding claim decreed to plaintiff—Government can claim no charge.

Where in a suit in forma pauperis the plff. was given a decree for Rs. 88 but was made liable to pay Rs. 191 for plaintiff's costs, held, that as the plaintiff was precluded under O. 21, R. 19 from taking out execution for the amount decreed to him he cannot be held to have succeeded in the suit within O. 33, R. 10 and the Government can claim no charge as the case falls under R. 11. (Ayling, O. C. J. and Odgers, J.) CHAKRAPANI IYENGAR v. THE GOVERNMENT OF

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 34.

INDIA. 14 L. W. 529 · (1921) M. W. N. 805 : 31 M. L.T. 38 : A. I. R. 1922 Mad. 125 : 42 M. L. J. 191.

——— O. 33, R. 15—Application for leave to sue in forma pauperis—Rejection of, for default—Fresh application, if sustainable.

Where an application for leave to sue in forma pauperis is dismissed for default, it is not competent to the Court to entertain a fresh application for leave. (Suhrawardy and Duval, JJ.) KHONDKAR ALI AFZAL v. PURNA CHANDRA TEWARI.

40 C. L. J. 188 : A. I R. 1924 Cal. 1039.

———O. 33, R. 15—Application in forma p auperis dismissed as not pressed—Bars fresh application.

Where an application for leave to sue in forma pauperis is dismissed as not pressed, it bars a fresh application in respect of the same right. 20 Bom. 86, Foll. (Abdul Raoof, J.) MT. BEGUM v. JAFAR HASSAN. A. I. R. 1924 Lah. 312.

———O. 33. R. 15—First application to sue as pauper dismissed for default of appearance—Second application is not barred.

The dismissal of a prior application for default of appearance does not operate as a bar under O. 33, R. 15 for fresh application to sue as pauper. 52 I. C. 562 : A.I.R. 1924 Rang 161 and 3 Agra Misc. 1 Ref. (Madhavan Nair, J.) CHINNAMMAL v. PAPATHI AMMAL. A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 986.

———O. 33, R. 15—Pauper application—Dismissal—Power of Court to grant time for payment of court-fee.

When an application for leave to sue in forma pauperis is dismissed, the plaint still remains and may be validated by payment of Court fees within a time to be fixed by Court. This depends upon the discretion of the Court. (Krishnan, J.) BALAGURU NAIDU v. MUTHU RATNAM IYER. 18 L. W. 451 : 33 M. L. T. 18 (H. C.) · 76 I. C. 767 : (1923) M. W. N. 720 : A. I. R. 1924 Mad. 118 : 46 M. L. J. 254.

———O. 33, R. 15—Bar—Dismissal for default.

Fresh application can be made if the application to sue in forma pauperis is dismissed. (Po Han, J.) MAUNG AUNG TUN v. MA E KIN.

2 Bur. L. J. 217 : A. I. R, 1924 Rang. 161 (1).

———O. 33, R. 16—Suit in forma pauperis—Amendment of plaint—Costs of application.

Where a plff. has obtained leave to sue in forma pauperis and thereafter applies for amendment of the plaint it is not competent to the Court to direct the plff. to pay costs of the amendment then and there and on default dismiss the suit. (Shah, A.C.J. and Crump, J.) AMBAJI BALWANT v. HANMANT RAO BAJIRAO. 24 Bom. L. R. 924 : 47 B. 104 : A. I. R. 1922 Bom 385 (1).

———O. 34—Money suit—Decree creating a charge for the money—O. 34 does not apply.

Creation of a charge by the decree in a money suit does not convert the suit into a mortgage suit and make the provisions of O. 34 of the Code of Civil Procedure applicable. (Wallace and Madhavan, Nair, JJ.) RAMASWAMY NAYUDU v. SUBBARAYA TEVAR. (1925) M. W. N. 525 : 88 I. C. 648 (2) : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 1101 · 49 M. L. J. 490.

——— O. 34—Suit on mortgage—Decree—Enquiry into title of mortgagor.

Where in a suit on the Original Side of the High Court, on a mortgage of properties situate without and within Madras, the plff. got a decree and a direction to enquire into the title of the mortgagor for the lands mortgaged, held, that for the purpose of granting leave to sue such an enquiry was unnecessary. Nor was it necessary to enable the mortgagee decree-holder to execute the decree. (Wallis, C.J. and Seshagiri Iyer, J.) NAMBERUMAL CHETTY v. RAGHAVACHARIAR. 71 I. C. 390 (2) : 14 L. W. 563.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 34.

——— O. 34—Mortgage suit.

A mortgage suit is pending at any rate till a final decree is passed. 27 All. 325 not followed. (Hallifax, A. J. C.) SHANKAR RAO v. GANAPAT RAO. 80 I. C. 283 : A. I. R. 1925 Nag. 15.

——— O. 34—Mortgage suits—English practice is not the true guide.

In mortgage suits in India, Courts are guided by the C. P. Code and not by the English practice. (Simpson, A. J. C.) ABU JAFAR v. RAGHOINDRA PARTAB SAHAI. 2 O. W. N. 826 : A. I. R. 1926 Oudh 113.

——— O. 34—Old mortgage—Decree dismissing a suit for redemption—Subsequent suit for redemption, maintainability of (Act I of 1869), S. 6—Meaning of the phrase "the said orders".

S. 6 of Act (I of 1869) protects the interests of those mortgagors whose rights it was deemed expedient to keep alive by laying down that neither Ss. 3 to 5 of the Act, nor the terms of the sanad should be a bar to a suit for redemption by them. The phrase 'the said orders' used in the section refers only to the orders passed by the Governor-General and mentioned in the three preceding sections and cannot include a decree dismissing a previous redemption suit. (Daniels, A. J. C.) BRIJ KISHORE v. BAJRANG BAHADUR SINGH. 64 I. C. 271 : 24 O. C. 289.

——— O. 34, R. 1.

See also (1) MORTGAGE.
(2) T. P. ACT, SS. 74, 75 and 91.

——— O. 34, R. 1—Prior mortgagee—Non joinder of puisne mortgagee—Effect.

A mortgagee who has obtained a decree in his mortgage without impleading the puisne mortgagee as a party to the suit is entitled, when afterwards sued by the puisne mortgagee on his mortgage, to use his prior mortgage as a shield in all cases in which he could have done so before the Act of 1882. T.P. Act, S. 89 compared with O. 34, R. 1. 40 All. 407, Dist. (Lord Dunedin.) SUKHI v. GHULAM SAFDAR KHAN. 43 All. 469 : 48 I A. 465 : (1921) M. W. N. 445 : 14 L. W. 162 : 26 C. W. N. 279 : 65 I. C. 151 : L. R. 3 P C. 1 : 30 M. L. T. 175 : 24 Bom. L. R. 590 : A. I. R. 1922 P. C. 11 : 42 M. L. J. 15 (P. C.).

——— O. 34, R. 1—Parties—Co-mortgagors.

In the case of a mortgage by co-sharers, not only the redeeming co-sharers should be made parties but also the mortgagors who have not so far joined the suit for redemption The necessity of impleading co-mortgagors is this, that the share and the right to redeem of the plaintiff cannot be determined behind the back of the non-redeeming mortgagors. (Mears, C. J. and Mukerji, J.) AHMAD HUSSAIN v. MUHAMMAD QASIM KHAN. 90 I. C. 80 : L. R. 6 A. 598.

——— O. 34, R. 1—Merely an entry in village papers does not make a person a necessary party.

Simply because a person has some title to the lands by reason of an entry in the village papers, he is not entitled to be made a party to a suit for redemption which is filed against the mortgagees (Stuart, J.) BHAGWAT PRASAD v. BALDEO PRASAD. L. R. 6 A. (Civ) 313 : 87 I. C. 679 : A. I. R. 1925 All. 593.

——— O. 34, R. 1—Mortgage by Hindu co-parceners—Mortgage suit—Mortgagors impleaded but minor co-parcener not impleaded—Suit is not bad but minor is not bound—Hindu Law—Alienation.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908) O. 34, R. 1.

Where a mortgage is executed by two Hindu coparceners and the mortgagee sued them without impleading the minor son of one of the executants the suit is not bad for non joinder of parties but may be decreed as against the actual mortgagors. But the suit is not good on the ground that the major defendants represent the minor who has not been impleaded. The minor co-parcener can afterwards set aside the alienation on any legitimate grounds. 34 All. 549 and A.I.R. 1924 All. 908 Dist. (Sulaiman and Ryves, JJ.) NATHU v. RAM SARUP. 47 All. 427 : 23 A. L. J. 246 : 87 I. C. 700 : A. I. R. 1925 All. 335.

——— O. 34, R. 1 and O. 1, R. 9—Suit for sale on mortgage—Non-joinder of necessary parties—Effect of.

The omission to bring all the necessary parties on the record in a mortgage suit has not the effect of the dismissal of the entire suit. The Court can order the sale of the defendant's interest in the property in suit. (Dalal, J.) SHEO KUMAR PANDEY v. BABU NANDAN DUBE. L. R. 6 A. 431 : 84 I. C. 262 : A. I. R. 1924 All. 928.

——— O. 34, R. 1—Suit on mortgage—Parties—Joint Hindu family—Addition of junior members after expiry of period of limitation.

In a suit for sale on a mortgage executed by the adult members of a joint Hindu family, the sons of the defendants were joined as parties after the expiry of the period of limitation prescribed for instituting the suit. Held, that the suit was not barred by limitation and that the added defendants were sufficiently represented by their fathers. 30 A. 549 : 34 A. 572 : 34 A. 615 Ref. (Daniels and Neave, JJ.) CHETAN SINGH v. SARTAJ SINGH. 22 A. L. J. 702 : L. R. 5 A. 480 : 46 A. 709 : 79 I. C. 1001 : A. I. R. 1924 All. 908 (1).

——— O. 34, R. 1—Necessary party—Non-joinder of—Powers of Court.

The subject of O. 34, R. 1, C. P. Code is to prevent multiplicity of suits and to secure that no injury is done to the rights of any party through his not being impleaded. The provision is expressly made subject to other provisions of the Code which include O. 1, R. 9 and it has been held that where it is possible for the Court to do justice as between the parties before it, it should do so and should not make O. 34, R. 1 a ground for dismissing the entire suit. (Daniels, J.) PRASADI LAL v. LAIQ SINGH. L. R. 5 A. 31 : 21 A.L. J. 701 : A. I. R. 1924 All. 107

——— O. 34, R. 1—Necessary party—Omission to implead person entitled to equity of redemption—Subsequent suit on mortgage.

Where a mortgagee brings a suit on his mortgage and obtains a decree thereon without impleading a person in whom the equity of redemption vested by transfer, it is open to him to sue again on the mortgage impleading the latter as a party and thus giving him an opportunity to redeem. (Gokul Prasad and Stuart, JJ.) RAMPIA v. HAZARI LAL. A. I. R. 1923 All. 232.

——— O. 34, R. 1—Prior mortgagee—Suit by, without impleading puisne mortgagee—Decree—Rights of prior mortgagee.

Where a prior mortgagee obtained a final decree for foreclosure in a suit on his own mortgage (without impleading the puisne mortgagee) as a party to the suit, it is open to the prior mortgagee who, after the foreclosure decree, represents the interest of the mortgagor to deposit in Court the money due on the puisne mortgage under S. 83 of the T.P. Act and claim to redeem the puisne mortgage. The puisue mortgagees were entitled in equity only to the payment of their mortgage money. 28 B. 153 Foll. 29 I.C. 794 : 8 C.L.J. 173 Dist. (Ryves and Gokul Prasad, JJ.) PARASRAM SINGH v. PANDOHI. 20 A. L. J. 401 : L. R. 3 A. 217 : 4 U. P. L. R. (A) 145 : 44 A. 462 : A. I. R. 1922 All. 135.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 34, R. 1.

——O. 34, R. 1—Scope of—Suit on mortgage—Non-production of deed—Dismissal of suit.

The mere non-production in a suit on a mortgage of the original mortgage deed the terms of which are not disputed is no sufficient ground for dismissing the suit. (Banerji and Gokul Prasad, JJ.) HIKMATULLAH KHAN v. ABDUL AZIM KHAN.

61 I. C. 412 : 19 A. L. J 185.

——O. 34, R. 1—Sub-mortgage —Redemption—Parties to suit.

In a suit by a mortgagee to redeem his sub-mortgage the original mortgagor is not a necessary party, though there is no impropriety in impleading him. (Shah, A. C. J. and Crump, J.) GANESH MORESHWAR v. VASUDEO VITHAL. 24 Bom. L. R. 911: A. I. R. 1922 Bom. 424.

——O. 34, R. 1—Equity of redemption—Owner of, not impleaded—Effect of—Execution sale—Purchase by mortgagee—Rights of purchaser.

The possession of the purchaser at a sale by a mortgagee in execution of the decree in a suit brought by him on his mortgage, the owner of the equity of redemption not being a party to the proceedings, is not the possession of an owner of all the interests in the property. He buys subject to the equity of redemption, and therefore by virtue of his purchase, only steps into the shoes of the mortgagee. Where the mortgagee would be barred by limitation from bringing a suit to obtain possession or to have the property sold to realise the mortgage amount the purchaser would be equally barred. If the auction-purchaser did not get possession, he was bound to take proceedings to obtain the benefit of his purchase and he could not get possession unless he had that right as a successor to the original mortgagee. (Macleod, C.J. and Coyajee, J.) DATTATRAYA SHAYA v. VENKATESH.

24 Bom. L. R. 741 : A. I. R. 1922 Bom. 334.

——O. 34, R. 1—Parties—Heirs of co-mortgagee—Omission to join—Defect if curable under S. 99.

The heirs of a co-mortgagee, who may have a possible mortgage lien, are necessary parties to a suit on the mortgage and in their absence the suit is not maintainable. When the merits of the case have been affected by the non-joinder, S. 99 cannot be invoked to cure the defect. (Cuming and Panton, JJ.) ABDUL RAHAMAN MIA v. SALIMANNESSA BIBI.

89 I. C. 121.

——O. 34, R. 1 and O 1, R. 3—Joinder of mortgagor's benamidars—If proper—Scope of suit.

Per Sanderson, C. J.—Generally, a suit to enforce a mortgage in which the adverse claims of persons not privy to the mortgage and setting up a title paramount to that of the mortgagor and the mortgagees are sought to be investigated is open to objection on the ground of misjoinder and inconvenience. The question is however not one of jurisdiction and at most the misjoinder is an irregularity or inconvenience.

Per Rankin, J.—The current view is to ask whether the case does or does not come under O. 1, R 3. (Sanderson, C. J. and Rankin, J.) BHUBAN MOHAN GHOSE v. CO-OPERATIVE HINDUSTAN BANK, LTD.

29 C. W. N. 784 : 88 I. C. 866 : A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 973.

——O. 34, R. 1—Mortgagor dying during suit—His representative declared insolvent—Receiver is not necessary party to foreclosure suit on the mortgage—

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 34, R. 1.

Provincial Insolvency Act, S. 16.

A secured creditor is entitled to deal with his security as though there has been no vesting in the Court or in the receiver and therefore the receiver of the mortgagor's estate is not a necessary party to a suit by mortgagee for foreclosure instituted against mortgagor in his life-time. (Walmsley and B. B. Ghose, JJ.) JAGANNATH MARWARI v. KALA CHAND BANERJEE.

41 C. L. J. 290 : 86 I. C. 1042 : 29 C. W. N. 771 : A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 785.

——O. 34, R. 1—Two mortgagors—One died—Suit against other alone without joining deceased's heir is not bad, but can be decreed only proportionally to defendant's share—T.P. Act, S. 60.

A mortgage suit in which all the persons interested in the equity of redemption have not been joined need not necessarily fail. The provisions of O. 1, R. 9, appear to be just applicable to a mortgage suit as to any other suit. 25 C.W.N. 594 ; 43 Bom. 575, 28 All. 174 (F.B.) Foll. 35 All. 441; 30 Cal 755, Ref to. A decree should be passed proportionate to the interest of the defendant impleaded. (Suhrawardy and Graham, JJ.) KHERODAMOYI DASI v. HABIB SHAHA.

29 C. W. N. 51 : 82 I. C. 638 : A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 152.

——O. 34, R. 1—Mortgage bond being in the name of one mortgagee alone who sufficiently represents his co-sharers, the other mortgagees, non-joinder of the latter does not vitiate suit.

When there were more mortgagees than one, but the mortgage bonds were in favour of one alone and he sufficiently represented the other mortgagees. Held, that the non-joinder of the others did not vitiate the suit. (Newbould and B. B. Ghose, JJ.) SHAILESH CHANDRA GUHA v. BECHAI GOPE.

40 C. L. J. 67 : 84 I. C. 124 : A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 94.

——O. 34, R. 1—Equity of redemption—Transferee of—Failure to implead—Effect of—Rights of purchaser at execution sale.

Where a mortgagee brings a suit for sale upon his mortgage without impleading as party to the suit a purchaser of a portion of the equity of redemption he cannot, by purchasing the property in execution, claim possession as against the purchaser of the equity of redemption. 11 C. W. N. 314 ; 19 A. 541, followed. (Walmsley and Suhrawardy, JJ.) KRISTOPADA ROY v. CHAITANYA CHARAN MANDAL.

49 Cal. 1048 : 28 C. W. N. 92 : A. I. R. 1923 Cal. 274.

——O. 34, R. 1—Co-heirs—All the heirs of mortgagor not parties to suit—Effect.

A mortgage suit in which all the heirs of the mortgagor were not made parties cannot be totally dismissed for non-joinder. A decree for the proportionate share of the mortgage money as against the heirs on record, should be passed. Even if the heirs left out could have successfully pleaded limitation that could not afford a defence in favour of persons who were joined as parties within limitation. (Mookerjee and Fletcher, JJ.) HARCHANDRA ROY v. MAHOMED HASIM. 66 I. C. 312 : 25 C. W. N. 594.

——O. 34, R. 1—Necessary party—Mortgagors, if necessary parties to suit by mortgagee of the property mortgaged by the mortgagee.

A mortgagee by deposit of title deeds can proceed against properties mortgaged to the mortgagor though the original mortgagor is not impleaded. 27 All. 511, Diss. ; 29 All. 385 (F. B.), Foll. (Leslie Jones and Broadway, JJ.) FIRM MOTI RAM v. THE BHARAT NATIONAL BANK, LTD. 67 I. C. 421 : 3 L. L. J. 373.

——O. 34, R. 1—Prior mortgagee—Suit without

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 34, R. 1.

impleading second mortgagee—Suit against him.

A first mortgagee who obtains a decree on his mortgage without impleading second mortgagee even though he had knowledge of it, which is presumed when the second mortgage is registered, cannot be allowed to bring a second suit against the second mortgagee on finding difficulty in executing the first decree owing to the claims put forth by the second mortgagee. If the first and second mortgagee is the same person this rule does not apply. (Sadasiva Aiyar and Burn, JJ.) LAKSHMANAN CHETTY v. MUTHAIYA CHETTY. 29 M. L. T. 189: 62 I. C. 833 : 40 M. L J. 126.

——— O. 34, R. 1—Prior mortgagee or purchasers of his interest are not necessary parties in a suit by subsequent mortgagee.

Neither a prior mortgagee nor the purchasers of his rights under the mortgage is a necessary party to a suit by the subsequent mortgagee upon his mortgage as the prior mortgagee is under no obligation to redeem to keep his own rights alive. (Hallifax, A. J. C.) YADO RAO v. AMRIT RAO. 88 I. C. 803 : A. I. R. 1926 Nag 135.

———O. 34, R. 1—Suit by puisne mortgagee—Prior mortgagee impleaded but discharged—Purchase in execution—Suit by prior mortgagee—Puisne mortgagee not impleaded—Right of redemption.

A puisne mortgagee brought a suit on his mortgage, impleading the prior mortgagee. The latter set up his paramount lien and was discharged. In execution of the decree the puisne mortgagee purchased the property. The prior mortgagee then brought a suit on his mortgage without impleading the puisne mortgagee, foreclosed and obtained possession before the execution sale in the prior suit. Thereupon the puisne mortgagee sued to redeem the prior mortgagee and the latter claimed to redeem the former. Held, as the prior mortgagee had not impleaded the other in his suit, he could not take advantage of his foreclosure proceedings and redeem the subsequent mortgagor. The latter was entitled to redeem (Prideaux, A.J.C.) GOVINDRAO v. RUKHMANAND. A.I.R. 1924 Nag. 198.

———O. 34, R. 1—Person in possession of properties—If a necessary party— rior mortgagee—When to set up his rights

It is only in a suit brought by a puisne mortgagee for the express purpose of selling the mortgaged property free of the prior incumbrance that the prior mortgagee is bound to set up and prove his mortgage. Merely because a person is in possession of the mortgage property it cannot be said to amount to an interest in the mortgage security or in the right of redemption as to the necessity of his being impleaded under O. 34, R. 1. (Kinkhede, A. J. C.) BALAJI VINAYAK BUTI v. VITHOBA. A. I. R. 1924 Nag. 191.

———O. 34, R. 1—Attaching creditor—Interest in the right of redemption—T. P. Act, S. 91 (f).

The conflict on the question whether an attaching creditor who is given a right to redeem by cl. (f) of S. 91 of T. P. Act has any interest in the mortgage property and is thereby entitled under S. 85 of the T. P. Act to be joined as defendant in a suit on the mortgage appears to have been completely set at rest by the amendment of S. 85 of T. P. Act by the substitution for it of R. 1 of O. 34 of the C. P. Code, whereby the interest of those to be joined in a mortgage suit is no longer restricted to an interest in the property but is stated to be an interest either in the mortgage security or in the right of redemption. These words cannot possibly exclude any person of any of the classes mentioned in S. 91 of the Transfer of Property Act whether the words of S. 85 of the

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 34, R. 1.

T. P Act did so or not and therefore every attaching creditor under a money decree against mortgagor is entitled to redeem the mortgage. (Hallifax, A. J. C.) MEGHRAJ MARWARI v. KESHEO GOPAL BUTI. 6 N. L. J. 181 : A. I. R. 1923 Nag. 311.

——— O. 34, R. 1—Mortgage—Subsequent lease—Rights of lessee.

The owners of certain izara village in Berar executed a mortgage of the village in 1899. Subsequently they gave a permanent lease of some fields in the village to the defendant. The plaintiffs foreclosed in a suit to which the defendant was not a party and then sued to oust the defendant. Held, that the suit as laid will not lie ; the plaintiffs must file a fresh suit for foreclosure impleading the defendant. The defendant then can redeem the plaintiffs if he so chooses. 19 All 541: 30 Mad. 500 ; 6 Cal. 317, Foll. (Macnair, A. J. C.) SHEORAM v. JAMNABAI. 19 N. L. R. 18 : 65 I. C. 503 ; A. I. R. 1923 Nag. 273.

———O. 34, R. 1—Necessary parties not on record—Procedure.

Where a mortgagee sues for the recovery of the full amount of the mortgage-debt by sale of the mortgaged property but omits to implead certain persons who had acquired a share in the property subsequent to the mortgage in suit so much only of the claim should be decreed as is proportionate to the interests of the persons who are before the Court. (Batten, J. C.) HIRASA v. ONKAR. A. I. R. 1923 Nag. 234.

———O. 34, R. 1—Scope of—Rule is not intended to penalise.

Where a prior mortgagee sues the mortgagor for foreclosure without impleading the puisne mortgagee and after the suit is barred as against the puisne mortgagee the latter sues mortgagor for foreclosure without impleading the prior mortgagee and gets decree before the prior one gets possession, the prior mortgagee is entitled to a decree for possession subject to puisne mortgagee's right to redeem him because the puisne mortgagee's suit is affected by the principle of lis pendens. Per Dhobley, A. J. C.—Out of two interpretations of law the one that will avoid unjust results should be avoided. O. 34, R. 1, C. P. Code, is not intended to penalise failure to join parties whose existtence or title deeds are not known to plff. (Hallifax, Kotval and Dhobley, A. J. Cs.) JOGESWAR v. MOTI. 5 N. L. J. 157 : A. I. R. 1922 Nag. 89 (F. B.).

———O. 34, R. 1—Tenant—Rights of—Foreclosure of mortgage—Effect of.

The representatives of a lessor, whose rights have been foreclosed, has, on the expiry of the lease, no right to eject or redeem the lessee, who has redeemed the mortgagee from the lessor for his own benefit. (Mittra, A. J. C.) GULAM NABI v. KANHAI SINGH. 59 I. C. 511 (2) : 16 N. L. R. 180.

———O. 34, R. 1—Mortgage suit—Subsequent mortgage held by the same mortgagee need not be disclosed—C. P. Code, O. 2, R. 2.

The holder of a second mortgage, who is suing on a first mortgage, is not in the precise position of a second mortgagee who, after being made a party to a suit brought by another person as first mortgagee, fails to claim his right to redeem the prior mortgage. In such a case the puisne mortgagee is required by an express provision of law to submit to an adjudication on his rights as second mortgagee, and cannot ask for a further adjudication. Neither O. 34, R. 1 nor any other provision of law requires the holder of a first mortgage to disclose his second mortgage. There is nothing in the C. P. Code, or in the T. P. Act to prevent the holder of two independent mortgages over the same property from obtaining a decree for sale on each of them in a separate suit. 6 O.L.J. 482 Dissented from. 20 All. 322 Foll. (Wazir Hasan and Ashworth, A. J. Cs.) BANSIDHAR v. JAGMOHAN DAS. 12 O. L. J. 127 : 86 I. C. 748 : A. I. R. 1925 Oudh 379.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 34, R. 1.

——O. 34, R. 1—Paramount title—Title if can be gone into.

A plff. mortgagee cannot be allowed so to frame his suit as to draw into controversy the title of a third party who is not in any way connected with the mortgage and who has set up a title paramount to that of a mortgagor and mortgagee. 32 Cal. 425. Foll. But where such a person is impleaded and allows the trial to go on, including the question of his title, he cannot ask for a reversal as the ground of his title was not triable. (Simpson, J. C. and Dalal, A. J. C.) GALSTAUN v. MIRZA ABID HUSAIN. 10 O. L. J. 263 : 9 O. & A. L. R. 282 : A. I. R. 1924 Oudh 19.

——O. 34, R. 1—Equity of redemption—Suit not founded on mortgage by conditional sale.

The order does not contemplate an order by the Court to extinguish the right to redeem, where the mortgage suit by either party is not based on a mortgage by conditional sale. (Daniels and Wazir Hassan, A. J. Cs.) JAI KISHORI v. MUHAMMAD KHAN. 60 I. C. 560 : 7 O. L. J. 620.

——O. 34, R. 1—Subject to O. 1, R. 9.

In a suit by the mortgagees against the member of a joint family for enforcement of the mortgage it was contended that the suit was bad for defect of parties. Held, where a bond was executed by a karta, and he and other members known to be existing are impleaded, failure to add one or two persons should not have the effect of defeating the suit, if the Court in their absence can deal with matters in controversy so far as regards the rights and interests of the parties actually before it, relying on I. L. R. 2 Pat. 175. (Jwala Prasad and Kulwant Sahay, JJ.) PARAMESWAR PANDEY v. RAJKISHORE PRASAD NARAYAN SINGH. 5 Pat. L. T. 646 : 80 I. C. 34 : 3 Pat. 829 : A. I. R. 1925 Pat. 59.

——O. 34, R. 1—Tenants from mortgagee can be added.

In a redemption suit alleged tenants from mortgagees may be added as parties and possession asked even as against them. (Dawson Miller, C. J. and Mullick, J.) KHUB LAL v. JHAPSI KUNDU. 3 P. 244 : 78 I. C. 885 : 5 P. L. T. 573 : A. I. R. 1924 Pat. 613.

——O. 34, R. 1—Mortgage—Prior and subsequent—Suit by first mortgagee without impleading puisne mortgagee—Subsequent suit by puisne mortgagee—Rights of parties.

Where a first mortgagee sued on his mortgage without impleading the subsequent mortgagee and in execution of his mortgage decree purchased the mortgaged property, obtained delivery of possession and the subsequent mortgagee sued on his mortgage impleading the first mortgagee-auction-purchaser, held, that the right of redemption possessed by the second mortgagee was not affected by the previous suit and auction-sale, and he could redeem the first mortgage, but as the first mortgagee occupied the double capacity of first mortgagee as well as the owner of the equity of redemption he was to redeem the subsequent mortgage on payment. (Jwala Prasad and Kulwant Sahay, JJ.) MT. DHANWANTI CHAUDHRAIN v. HARGOBIND PRASAD. 3 Pat. 435 : 5 Pat. L. T. 103 : A. I. R. 1924 Pat. 484.

——O. 34, R. 1—Parties to suit—Mortgage to some members of a joint Hindu family—Other members if necessary parties—Position of mortgagee.

Where a mortgage document is executed to some members of a joint Hindu family, they can bring a suit on the mortgage without impleading the other members of the family in the suit. A person who is named in a mortgage deed as a mortgagee, although, in fact merely a benamidar, for those beneficially interested can institute a suit in his own name, either for sale or foreclosure and the suit should not be dismissed merely because the beneficial owner is not added as a party. This principle extends to a mortgage taken by some only of the members of a joint Hindu family who unlike as in the case of a benamidar have a beneficial interest themselves in addition to their authority to act on behalf of the family. (Miller, C. J. and Kulwant Sahay, J.) HIT LAL MAHTON v. JIBOO MAHTON. 5 Pat. L.T. 142 : 3 Pat. 81 : 75 I. C. 378 : A. I. R. 1924 Pat. 458.

——O. 34, R. 1—Parties.

Where prior mortgagee purchasing equity of redemption after creation of subsequent mortgage, his own lien being kept alive, is not made a party to the suit by subsequent mortgagee, Held, he can only redeem but not resist the possession without redeeming the auction-purchaser in execution of the decree in the suit by the subsequent mortgagee. (Jwala Prasad and Ross, JJ.) BIRINCHI SINGH v. SARADO PRASAD. 3 P. 114 : 5 P. L. T. 95 : 75 I. C. 942 : A. I. R. 1924 Pat. 452.

——O. 34, R. 1—Scope of—Suit to redeem—Persons claiming as heirs of mortgagor—Title disputed by others claiming as heirs—If to be gone into.

Where in a suit to redeem by persons who claimed as heirs of the mortgagor, the mortgagees put in a statement that the plaintiffs had no right to redeem but took no further steps in the case, but other defendants claiming to be heirs of the mortgagor also disputed the title of plaintiffs, the Court ought to go into the question of right to redeem and decide the same. (Miller, C. J. and Kulwant Sahay, J.) BASDEO PRASAD v. DWARIKA PANDEY. 2 Pat. 805: A. I. R. 1924 Pat. 234.

——O. 34, R. 1—Puisne mortgagee—Same person holding two mortgages.

Under the present law, particularly under the explanation to O. 34, R. 1, C. P. Code, a puisne mortgagee is not required to implead the prior mortgagee as a party in a suit for foreclosure or sale. The principle will be the same if the subsequent mortgagee and the prior mortgagee happen to be one and the same person. There is nothing in law to prevent the prior mortgagee from bringing a suit to enforce his mortgage without impleading the subsequent mortgagee. There is, however, some risk, and probably the curtailment of some of the rights of the mortgagee who chooses to sue separately upon his mortgages; he may not be allowed to sell the properties in the subsequent decree when they were already sold in prior decree. (Jwala Prasad and Ross, JJ.) NAWABA WAZIRI BEGAM v. BABU SHASHI BHUSHAN ROY. 4 Pat. L. T. 546 : 2 Pat. 874 : 1923 P. H. C. C. 293 : A. I. R. 1924 Pat. 77.

——O. 34, R. 1—Joint Hindu family—Manager—Suit against—Junior member not necessary party.

The omission to implead a Mitakshara son is not fatal to a mortgage suit and the father sufficiently represents the sons. (Das and Kulwant Sahay, JJ.) LAL BEHARI SINGH v. GUR PRASAD SINGH. 4 Pat. L. T. 108 : 1 P. L. R. 238 : 2 Pat. 435 : 1923 P. H. C. C. 118 : A. I R. 1923 Pat. 290.

——O. 34, R. 1—Prior mortgagee—Omission to set up priority on the footing of subrogation—Effect of.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 34, R. 1.

Where a prior mortgagee is impleaded as a defendant in a suit brought by a subsequent mortgagee who, however, claims priority on the footing of subrogation, the prior mortgagee is bound to defend the suit and get an adjudication as to his priority. The mere filing of a written statement is not sufficient. Where the decree in the suit by the subsequent mortgagee declared his priority over the prior mortgagee, who was directed to redeem the plaintiff, the suit by the prior mortgagee, in so far as it relates to the properties covered by the adjudication in the previous suit, will be barred by res judicata. 1 P. L. T. 629; 47 Cal. 662; 39 Cal. 527; 24 A. 429 discussed. (Das and Kulwant Sahay, JJ.) LAL BIHARI SINGH v. GUR PRASAD SINGH. 4 Pat. L. T. 108 : 1923 P. H. C. C. 118: 1 P. L. R. 238 : 2 Pat. 435 : A. I. R. 1923 Pat. 290.

——0. 34, R. 1—Puisne mortgagee—Suit on prior mortgage—Addition of puisne mortgagee—Limitation—C. P. Code, O. 1, R. 9.

O. 34, R. 1, C.P. Code is subject to the provisions of O. 1, R. 9, C. P. Code and the combined effect of these rules as regards mortgages is that all persons whose rights may be adjudicated upon and determined in the suit ought to be added as parties but that failure to add one or more such persons should not have the effect of defeating the suit. The Court in their absence can deal with the matters in controversy so far as regards the rights and interests of the parties actually before it. A suit by a prior mortgagee without impleading the puisne mortgagee is not unsustainable though the puisne mortgagee is a proper party. The omission to implead the puisne mortgagee as a party to the suit within limitation does not involve a dismissal of the suit. 13 A. 432; 18 C. 164, Ref. (Miller, C. J. and Mullick, J.) SITAL PRASAD RAY v. ASHO SINGH. 1922 P. H. C. C. 326 : 2 Pat. 175 : 4 Pat. L. T. 698 : A. I. R. 1922 Pat. 651.

——0. 34, R. 1—Non-joinder—Effect of.

Bucknill, J.:—It would be altogether unreasonable to suggest that where a necessary party has been, not through negligence but under circumstances which are properly explicable, omitted from being made a party to the suit, such non-joinder would necessarily be a fatal bar to the progress of the action. (Miller, C. J. and Bucknill, J.) HARI PRASAD SINGHA v. BABU SOURENDRA MOHAN SINHA. 1 P. 506 : 3 Pat. L. T 709: 66 I.C. 945 : A.I.R. 1922 Pat. 450.

——0. 34, R. 1—Joint Hindu family—Mortgage suit—Parties—Manager of joint family—Representative capacity.

The karta of a joint family can sue on a mortgage on behalf of all the members of the family. If the fact of his suing as karta appears from the pleadings in the case, an express mention to that effect is unnecessary. 36 I. C 542, Dist. (Jwala Prasad, A.C.J. and Das, J.) JAG SAH v. RAM CHANDRA. 2 Pat L. T. 553 : 63 I. C. 564 : 1921 P. H. C. C. 289.

——0. 34, R. 1—Necessary party—Puisne mortgagee—Omission to implead—Property purchased by decree-holder in Court auction—Subsequent suit for possession—Decree, form of.

Where without impleading a puisne simple mortgagee, the prior simple mortgagee brought a suit on his mortgage, purchased the property at Court sale in execution of his decree, and subsequently brought a subsequent suit for possession against the mortgagor and the puisne mortgagee, held, that by his purchase the plff. obtained a right to possession and that the puisne mortgagee must be given an opportunity to redeem him, but that if he fails, a decree for possession and not for sale of the property should be passed. (Coutts and Sultan Ahmed, JJ.) TILAKDHARI SINGH v. GOUR NARAIN. 5 Pat. L. J. 715 : 2 Pat. L. T. 95 : 59 I. C. 290 : 1921 P.H.C.C. 122.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 34, R. 2.

——0. 34, R. 1—Mortgage suit—Necessary parties—Prior mortgagee—Paramount title.

A plaintiff mortgagee cannot be allowed to frame his suit so as to draw into controversy the title of a third party, who is in no way connected with the mortgage and has set up a title paramount to that of the mortgagee or the title of a puisne mortgagee. 33 C. 425, Foll. (Pratt, J.) MAUNG SAN MYAING v. U PON GYAW. 2 R. 106 : A. I. R. 1924 Rang. 240.

——0. 34, R. 1—Prior mortgagee in possession—Defective right.

A first mortgagee in possession under a prior sale may always shield himself under his mortgage and purchase though his right to possession may be defective. (Pratt and Duckworth, JJ.) N. N. V. CHETTY FIRM v. K. A. P. L. CHETTY FIRM. 1 Bur. L. J. 217 : A. I. R. 1923 Rang. 107.

——0. 34, R. 1—Scope of—Two mortgages—Suit on later one does not bars suit on prior mortgage.

Where a person holds two mortgages over the same property there is nothing in the C. P. Code compelling him to sue on both at the same time. A suit on the later one will not bar a subsequent suit on the other. (Maung Kin, C.J.) MA MYIT v. S.C. SARMA. 69 I. C. 897 : 10 L. B. R. 360.

——0. 34, R. 1—Necessary party—Persons in possession of mortgaged property as transferees from mortgagor not impleaded as parties—Decree—Execution—Rights of purchaser.

Subsequent to the execution of a simple mortgage the mortgagor sold the property to defts. who remained in possession. Thereafter the mortgagee brought a suit on the mortgage without impleading the defts. and in execution of the decree purchased the property. Held, that the mortgagee-purchaser was not entitled to possession of the property against the defts. 21 M. L. J. 213; 8 L. B. R. 266; 23 I. C. 791, Foll. (Robinson, C. J. and Duckworth, J.) S. P. S. CHETTY FIRM v. MAUNG PYAN GYI. 166 I. C. 562 : 11 L. B. R. 119.

——0. 34, Rr. 2 and 4—Costs—Mortgage decree—Personal liability.

In a mortgage suit it is open to a Court of appeal to direct that such costs as it may award against the unsuccessful appellant may be recoverable from him personally, but if there is no such express direction, the costs are, as a matter of ordinary practice sanctioned by O. 34, Rr. 2, 4 and 10 of the Code of Civil Procedure added to the mortgage money and are in the first instance recoverable from the mortgaged property after the decree is made final. (Walsh and Kanhaiya Lal, JJ.) MAHOMED IFTI KHAR ULLAH v. BANKE LAL. 45 A. 630 : L. R. 4 A. 301 : 21 A. L. J. 617 : A. I. R. 1924 All. 104.

——0. 34, Rr. 2, 4 and 7—Preliminary decree.

It might be desirable until the rules in O. 34 and the corresponding forms are recast, that the Courts when drawing up preliminary decrees under Rules 2, 4 and 7 should add the following heading: "Preliminary Decree, which requires to be made final within the prescribed period of limitation before it can be executed." (Macleod C. J. and Crump, J.) HARJIVAN DEVRAJ v. GAJANAN KASHINATH. 25 Bom. L. R. 459 : A. I. R. 1923 Bom. 420.

——0. 34, R. 2—Final decree—Appeal against preliminary decree after passing of, if maintainable—Amendment.

An appeal against a preliminary decree in a mortgage suit filed subsequent to the date of the final decree is not maintainable. But where the appellant was not aware of the passing of the final decree, he may be allowed to amend his appeal so as to turn it into an appeal against the final decree. (Mukerjee and Buckland, JJ.) BAIKUNTHA NATH v. RAMANAND.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 34, R. 2.

33 C. L. J. 414 : 61 I. C. 923 : 25 C. W. N. 776.

——O. 34, R. 2—Date of payment—Decree allowing time for redemption—Whether fresh mortgage.

Where in a suit for foreclosure, the parties compromise and a decree is passed putting the mortgagee in possession of the property but allowing the mortgagor one year's time to redeem part or whole of the property and he fails so to do, the effect of the decree is not to create a fresh mortgage by the decree and give a right of redemption to the mortgagor after one year, but to give ownership to the mortgagee. (Le Rossignol, Broadway and Wilberforce, JJ.) KARORIMAL v. RAMJI LAL. 2 Lah. 53 : 3 L. L. J. 68 : 59 I. C. 812 : 41 P. W. R. 1921.

——O. 34, Rr. 2 and 3—Extension of time—Mortgage decree for payment by instalments and not fixing a date—Whether decree-holder required to apply for a final decree—Court's power to enlarge time.

When a preliminary decree for payment by instalments whether extending over 6 months or not, is passed by consent of the parties in a mortgage suit, the plaintiff is not only entitled but is bound to apply for a final decree before proceeding to execution and the Court has the same powers in regard to enlargement of time for payment allowed by such a decree as it has with any other mortgage decree. (10 C. L. J. 19 and 14 C. L. J. 648, Not Foll. (Hallifax, A. J. C.) NALAYAN v. DAULAT. A. I. R. 1922 Nag. 182.

——O. 34, Rr. 2 and 3—Costs cannot be independently recovered.

Costs of suit form a part of the mortgage money when a decree for foreclosure is passed. No independent order for costs can be made. 20 All. 523 (F. B.), 48 I. C. 329, 40 All. 109, Foll. 13 C. W. N. 742, Not Foll. (Wazir Hasan, A. J. C.) RAM PARKASH v. JANKI PRASAD. 12 O. L. J. 91 : 88 I. C. 203 : 2 O. W. N. 203 : A. I. R. 1925 Oudh 351.

——O. 34, Rr. 2 and 4—Judgment not giving special direction for payment of interest between institution of suit and decree-Decree granting such interest is correct—Judgment granting interest from decree to payment—Decree granting such interest beyond expiry of period of grace and up to actual payment is correct.

In a suit on mortgage the plaintiff in his plaint claimed that an account be prepared of the principal amount and interest due under the mortgage bond and that a mortgage decree be passed for Rs..... besides costs and future interest till the day of realisation at the rate of interest entered in the bond. The material part of the judgment in which the plaintiff's suit was decreed was as follows :—"Hence it is ordered that the suit be decreed with costs..... As the interest has swelled to an abnormal amount I do not allow future interest at the bond rate. Interest at 6 per cent. per annum from this date till the date of payment." The preliminary decree and the final decree which were prepared in accordance with the judgment allowed interest at the bond rate from the institution of the suit to the date of the decree and interest at 6 per cent. from the decree to the actual realisation of the money by the decree-holder. Held, that with regard to the interest between the date of institution of the suit and the date of the decree, the plaintiff having succeeded in the suit was entitled to interest at the bond rate and, the decree in such circumstances, was properly drawn up allowing such interest even without any special order to that effect in the judgment and also that the decree was properly drawn up in allowing interest at 6 per cent. not only up to the expiry of the days of grace but also subsequently up to the date of the actual realisation of the money by the decree-holder. (The old law and the present law on the subject discussed and compared.) (Dawson Miller, C. J. and Mullick, J.) RADHAKISHUN CHAMARIA v. ZALIM SINGH. 2 Pat. L. R. 315 : 88 I. C. 323 : 6 P. L. T. 459 : A. I. R. 1925 Pat. 455.

——O. 34, R. 2 (a)—Applicability—Mortgage decree—Costs in mortgage suit, how recoverable—Order for costs drawn up before final decree.

The form of a mortgage decree as given in App. No. 4 shows that costs in mortgage suits forming part of the amount decreed in the suit should be realised by the sale of the mortgaged property. O. 34, R. 2 indicates that the costs in the mortgage suit are not to be treated as independent claims by the mortgagee irrespective of the rights under the mortgage ; but that such costs should form part of the amount decreed in the mortgage suit to be realised in accordance with the procedure laid down in the C. P. Code. It makes no difference if the order for costs was passed before the final decree was drawn up. Where a decree for costs is a part of the mortgage decree, the decree-holder must first proceed against the mortgaged properties. Held, further, the costs awarded in a mortgage suit follow the character of the amount decreed in the suit and form part of the entire decretal amount to be realised from the mortgaged properties. (Suhrawardy and Graham, JJ.) MAHARAJ BAHADUR SINGH DUGAR v. BASIRUDDIN AHAMMAD. 41 C. L. J. 607 : A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 1135.

——O. 34, R. 2 (c)—Six months—Mode of calculation—Time fixed by original decree—Dismissal of appeal.

Where the preliminary decree in a mortgage suit fixes a period of six months for redemption and an appeal from that decree is dismissed without extension of time by the appellate Court, the period of six months runs from the date of the first Court's decree and not from that of the appellate decree. (Newbould and Cuming, JJ.) BASANTA KUMAR ADAK v. SM. RADHA RANI DASI. 26 C. W. N. 440 : 36 C. L. J. 159 : A. I. R. 1922 Cal. 329.

——O. 34, R. 3—Mortgage decree—Preliminary decree before the new Code—Final decree after the new Code—Limitation.

Where in a mortgage suit the preliminary decree was passed before the passing of the new C. P. Code and the final decree was passed after the new C. P. Code came into existence, the final decree is the only executable decree in the case and the provisions of the C. P. Code apply to the execution of the said decree. (Ryves and Mukerjee, JJ.) BOHRA TARA CHAND v. MURTAZA HUSAIN. L. R. 5 A. 52 : 78 I. C. 1030 : 10 O. & A. L. R. 244 : A. I. R. 1924 All. 696 (1).

——O. 34, R. 3—Non-service on minor renders decree invalid.

Non-service of notice on minor renders decree invalid for want of representation. 37 A. 179, Foll. A. I. R. 1923 Patna 242, Not Foll. (Daniels and Dalal, JJ.) CHANDRADIP TEWARI v. JADUNANDAN SINGH. L. R. 5 A. (Civ.) 366 : 79 I. C. 1041 : A. I. R. 1924 All. 573.

——O. 34, R. 3—Right of redemption—Preliminary decree for foreclosure - Final decree not passed.

The passing of a preliminary decree for foreclosure does not extinguish the right of redemption of the mortgagor. Consequently it is open to him to redeem at any time before the passing of the final decree even though the six months' time allowed by the preliminary decree has passed. 16 Cal. 246; 3 C. L. J. 533, Foll. (Chatterjee and Panton, JJ.) YUSAF ALI v. KASIM ALI. 70 I. C. 152 : 26 C. W. N. 532.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 34, R. 3.

——0. 34, R. 3—"Day fixed," meaning of—Postponement—Effect of—Limitation.

The words "the day fixed" in O. 34, R. 3 refer to the day fixed under the preceding rule. Postponement of the day fixed for payment at defendant's request does not amount to a dismissal of the application of the plaintiff to have a final decree passed. The application must be deemed to have remained pending for final orders and the Court to have postponed the passing of such orders. No further application for a final decree is necessary and any subsequent application if made in that behalf is only for the purpose of continuing the proceeding on the original application which had been suspended. Such an application is not governed by Art. 181 and there is no limitation in respect of it. (Kotval, A. J. C.) CHIMMAJI RAIBHANJI v. SONAJI.
21 N. L. R. 47 : 88 I. C. 901 : A. I. R. 1925 Nag. 291.

——0. 34, R. 3—Final decree—Passing of—Notice to judgment-debtor if necessary.

Notice to the judgment-debtor is not prescribed by law before making a decree final on the application of the decree-holder but in practice it is given on the principle that it is just and proper to hear the opposite party. But the principle of audi alteram partem does not require a notice of the second application where notice of the first application was duly served and the mortgagor failed to appear to show cause on the day fixed for the hearing. It may reasonably be inferred in such a case that he had nothing to say and there was nothing for the Court to hear from him. A second notice under such circumstances was not required, and the fact that the second notice was not duly served is not a ground for setting aside the ex parte final decree. (Kotval, A. J. C.) BABOOJI v. RAMGOPAL. 19 N. L. R. 124 : A. I. R. 1923 Nag. 320.

——0. 34, Rr. 3 and 5—Extension of time—Mortgage decree—Confirmation on appeal.

Where the decree of an appellate Court confirming the lower Court's final decree for foreclosure allowed the judgment-debtors two weeks for paying the balance of the decretal money and directed that if they made the said payment, they would be put back in possession of the mortgaged property, but if they failed to do so their rights in it would be extinguished. Held, the effect of the decree of the appellate Court was merely to grant an extension of time for payment of the decree amount and therefore the judgment-debtors were entitled to pay the decretal amount before the passing of the order absolute. (Kanhaiya Lal, J. C.) GOKARAN SINGH v. MANGLI. 66 I. C. 673 : 8 O. L. J. 407.

——0. 34, R. 3—Final decree.

Application for final decree for foreclosure is governed by Art. 181, Limitation Act. (Das and Adami, JJ.) CHHOTEY NARAIN SINGH v. KEDAR NATH SINGH. 3 Pat. L. T. 565 : 1 Pat. 435 : 1922 P. H. C. C. 342 : A. I. R. 1922 Pat. 201.

——0. 34, R. 3 (2)—Extension of time—Appellate decree does not operate to extend time for payment of mortgage money.

An appellate decree does not ipso facto operate to extend the time for payment allowed by the lower Court. If further time is required an application must be made to the appellate Court. (Saunders, J. C.) MAUNG YANGIN v. KATHIRESAN CHETTY.
63 I. C. 799 : (1921) 4 U. B. R. 1.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 34, R. 4.

——0. 34, R. 3 (3)—Merger—Order absolute—Effect of, on mortgage.

On the making of an order absolute the property as well as the mortgagor's right to redeem are both extinguished. For the right of the mortgagee under his security is substituted a right of sale conferred by the decree, and any payment made after this cannot be taken to be a payment by way of redemption because there is no mortgage subsisting and consequently no charge is created in favour of the person making the payment. 40 All. 407, Foll. (Lindsay, J. C.) RAMNATH BAKSH v. GANESH PRASAD. 23 O. C. 334 : 60 I. C. 213 : 2 U. P. L. R. (J.C.) 196.

——0. 34, R. 3 (2)—Extension of time—Discretion—Exercise.

In the case of decrees for foreclosure the discretion of the court to extend the time for payment of money must be exercised liberally. If by giving time money could be raised, it ought to be given. (Simpson, A. J. C.) BANKATESWAR RAWAN BAHADURPAL SINGH v. FIRM DINA NATH BALGOBIND. 90 I. C. 936.

——0. 34, Rr. 3, 5 and 6—Distinction—No application necessary under R. 6—Applications under Rr. 3 and 5 are governed by Lim. Act, Art. 181.

There is a distinction between Rr. 3 and 5 and R. 6 of O. 34. Rule 6 requires no application and therefore escapes the operation of Art. 181 of the Limitation Act. Both Rr. 3 and 5 make it incumbent that the decree-holder must present an application and where an application is to be presented, the period of limitation provided for such an application by Art. 181 must apply. 42 Cal. 294, Diss.; 42 Cal. 776 (P. C.), Foll. (Dalal, J.C.) RUDRA PARTAB SINGH v. MT. SURAJ KUER. 2 O. W. N. 842 : A. I. R. 1926 Oudh 12.

——0. 34, R. 4—Intention—General account is to be taken—Interest is allowed on the aggregate of principal, interest and costs and not only on principal.

The intention of the rule is that a general account should be taken once for all, and an aggregate amount be stated in the decree for principal, interest and costs due on the fixed day and that after the expiration of that day if the property should not be redeemed the matter should pass from the domain of contract to that of judgment and the rights of the mortgagee should, thenceforth, depend not on the contents of the bond but on the directions in the decree. The interest is allowed on the aggregate sum and not merely on the principal money. No subsequent interest on subsequent costs is allowed. (Sulaiman, J.) BANARSI PRASAD v. MANMOHAN LAL. L.R. 6 A. (Civ.) 479 : 89 I.C. 288 : A. I. R. 1926 All. 119.

——0. 34, Rr. 4 and 5—Decree null and void—Powers of—Mortgage decree—Death of party.

If a decree is passed against a dead person the executing Court can treat it as a nullity. Where a decree for sale is objected to in execution on the ground that it was based on a preliminary decree passed against a dead person, the executing Court cannot treat the decree as a nullity, though it might be a good ground for setting aside the decree. (Piggott and Walsh, JJ.) RAM SARUP v. NARAIN DAS. 45 A. 198 : 9 O. & A. L. R 131 : 20 A. L. J. 1008 : L. R. 4 A. (Civ.) 34 : A. I. R. 1923 All. 144.

——0. 34, Rr. 4 and 5—Final decree—Application for—Plea of payment out of Court.

Proceedings to get a final decree for sale in a mortgage suit are not proceedings by way of execution but are proceedings in the suit. 15 A. L. J. 448, Foll. Before a Court can pass a decree absolute for sale it has to find out the amount due to the decree-holder for which the decree has to be passed and in the course of the enquiry, the Court can recognise a payment made out of Court by the judgment-debtor even though the payment has not been certified. (Gokul Prasad and Stuart, JJ.) SITAL SINGH v. BAIJNATH PRASAD. 44 All. 668 : 20 A L. J. 602 : L. R. 3 A. 477 : A. I. R. 1922 All. 383.

C. P CODE (V OF 1908), O. 34, R. 4.

——O. 34, R. 4—Payment into Court—Conditional decree—Money on prior mortgage to be paid before sale.

When the decree in a mortgage suit provides for the payment of a prior mortgage before sale of the mortgaged property, but does not specify the date of payment, the payment should be made within six months of the date of the decree. (Banerji and Gokul Prasad, JJ.) GAYAN SINGH v. ATA HUSSAIN. 43 All. 320 : 60 I.C. 817 : 19 A. L. J. 83.

——O. 34, R. 4—Mortgage decree directing to pay amount of suit with interest and cost failing which the properties to be sold cannot be a personal decree.

Where the decree directs the defendants to pay the amount of the claim with costs of the suit and interest within three months from the date of the decree, failing which the decree shall be made absolute and the decretal amount should be realised from the sale of the mortgaged properties, the decree cannot be considered as a personal decree against the mortgagors. (Suhrawardy and Duval, JJ.) ACHOLA SUNDARI DEBI v. DOMAN SUNDARI DEBI. 90 I. C. 774 : A. I. R. 1926 Cal. 150.

——O. 34, Rr. 4 and 5—Consent decree—Waiver of—Effect.

It is open to the mortgagor to waive a final decree before execution can be levied. Where pending an appeal from the preliminary decree in a mortgage suit the parties compromised the suit and decree for a smaller amount payable in two years was passed with a provision that the property was to be sold in default of payment, held, it was the intention of the parties that the mortgagee should realise the amount by sale of the property immediately on the expiry of the two years. (Ghose and Panton, JJ.) RAJA HEMENDRALAL SINGH DEO v. FAKIR CHAND DUTT. 27 C. W. N. 621 : 50 Cal. 650 : A. I. R. 1923 Cal. 626.

——O. 34, R. 4—*Nature of proceedings—Mortgage suit—Right to interest—Pendency of suit—*Ex parte decree—Setting aside.

Ordinarily the mortgagee in a mortgage suit should get interest at the contract rate during the pendency of the suit. Where an ex parte decree is set aside, the suit would be considered to be pending during the period when the proceedings to set aside the ex parte decree were pending. (Chatterjee and Panton, JJ.) SIBA PRASAD DAS CHAUDHURY v. KAZIMUDDIN SARKAR. 65 I. C. 709 (Cal.)

——O. 34, R. 4—Mortgage decree—Interest after date of sale—Court has discretion to grant or not.

Court has full powers under O. 34 to allow a mortgagee decree-holder any interest beyond the date fixed for sale of the mortgaged property but it is not obligatory to grant interest after the date of sale. The matter is entirely one within the discretion of the Court. (Harrison and Campbell, JJ.) KANSHI RAM v. PREM SINGH. 26 P.L. R. 240 : A. I. R. 1926 Lah. 11.

——O. 34, R. 4—Decree not made absolute—Application for execution may be treated as one for final decree.

An application for sale of property under a mortgage decree may be taken to be an application for an order absolute for sale though the latter has not been specifically prayed for. (Zafar Ali and Martineau, JJ.) BANU MAL v. PARAS RAM. 7 L. L. J. 397 : 26 Punj. L. R. 784 : A. I. R. 1925 Lah. 640.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 34, R. 4.

——O. 34, R. 4—Sale of mortgaged property not prayed for in plaint—Court directing defendant to pay decretal amount within six months and on his failure for sale of the mortgaged property—Decree is a composite decree and could be executed without having made it final.

The plaintiff's prayer in the plaint was for a decree for the money claimed with a lien on the property hypothecated and against other property and person of the defendant. There was no prayer in the plaint for sale of the land mortgaged. The defendant did not deny the claim but wanted to pay the debt by instalments. The Sub-Judge did not allow instalments and ordered as below : "I allow the defendants six months in which to pay the decree, failing which the decree shall be realized in the first instance by sale of hypothecated property. If that is not found sufficient, the decree shall be realised from the person and property of the debtor." Held, that this decree was not merely a preliminary decree for sale of mortgaged property, but it was what is called a composite decree, i. e., a decree for the sale of the property mortgaged as well as against the person and other property of the mortgagor and therefore not governed by O. 34, R. 4. The property could therefore be sold without applying for final decree under O. 34, R. 5. 20 Mad. 107 and 28 Mad. 224, Foll. (Zafar Ali and Martineau, JJ.) BANU MAL v. PARAS RAM. 26 Punj. L.R. 784 : 7 L. L. J. 397 : A. I. R. 1925 Lah. 640.

——O. 34, Rr. 4 and 5—Usufructuary mortgagee leasing land to mortgagor—Rent falling into arrears—Mortgagee's suit for rent and ejectment—Decree allowing improvements to be set off against arrears and permitting property to be sold for balance—Decree was held executable as it was.

A usufructuary mortgagee leased the properties to the mortgagor himself. Arrears of rent that fell due were to be a charge on the equity of redemption. When the rent fell into arrears, the mortgagee sued the mortgagor for rent and also for ejectment. Defendant pleaded he was not personally liable for the rent. It was provided in the decree that the value of improvements should be set off against the arrears and for the balance, the property might be sold. Held, that the decree was not a preliminary decree but was executable as it was and also that no attachment was necessary before the sale sanctioned by the decree. (Krishnan, J.) CHANDUKUTTI NAYAR v. CHANDUKUTTI NAYAR. 87 I. C. 557 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 1083.

——O. 34, Rr. 4 and 5—Final decree—Application for an order absolute in 1913—Dismissal—Whether application can be received—No second application for final decree lies—Limitation Act, Art. 181 applies to an application for a final decree.

Where an application purporting to be for an order absolute in a mortgage suit is made in 1913 and dismissed, the only remedy of the party aggrieved is to appeal against the order. 42 M 52, Foll. The application which has been so dismissed cannot be revived as revival implies the pendency of the prior petition. After the dismissal of the first application, there cannot be a second application for a final decree. An application for a final decree in a mortgage suit more than 3 years after the date for payment under the preliminary decree is barred by limitation under Art. 181 of the Limitation Act. 7 L. W. 438. Foll. (Krishnan and Ramesam, JJ.) MUMMADI VENKATIAH v. BOGANATHAM VENKATA SUBBIAH. (1922) M. W. N. 11 : 30 M. L. T. 228 : 16 L. W. 198 : A. I. R. 1922 Mad. 65 : 42 M. L. J. 51.

——O. 34, Rr. 4 and 5—Nature of proceedings—

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 34, R. 4.

Passing of final decree without notice to defendants-mortgagors—Ex parte decree—Setting aside.

The preliminary decree in a mortgage suit must direct the payment of a certain sum of money into Court by a date to be fixed. The preliminary decree grants time to the defendant for the performance of an act necessary to the further progress of the suit. If the defendant fails to do the needful during the time thus granted, the Court will pass final decree. When the plaintiff applies for the final decree, the defendant will not be allowed to do what he has failed to do during the time granted by the preliminary decree unless he shows good cause. The section does not expressly provide for the issue of notice to the defendants-mortgagors, yet an ex parte decree in such a case is liable to be set aside. (Hallifax, A. J. C.) ANNAJI v. FAKIRA. 6 N. L. J. 27 : A. I R. 1922 Nag. 175.

———O. 34, R. 4—Form of decree—Interest up to realisation at Court rate means an amount inclusive of interest at contractual rate.

When under a decree the contractual rate of interest ceases to be payable at a given date and the Court rate is substituted for it therefrom up to the date of realisation, the Court rate will be chargeable on the whole amount due with interest at the contractual rate up to that given date. (Ashworth, J. C. and Simpson, A. J. C.) NAWAB MIRZA FAGHFUR MIRZA v. KHUSHAD CHAND. 26 O. C. 59 : A. I. R 1923 Oudh 241.

———O. 34, R. 4—Sale of mortgage properties—Order in which properties should be sold—Power of Court to direct.

Ordinarily, the right of selling a property in a particular order rests with the decree-holder and in the absence of any contract between the parties the decree-holder may proceed to sell the properties in whatever order he thinks best so as to facilitate his realisation of his mortgage debt. But the Court can, in the circumstances of a case and in view of the equities arising in various parties, direct the order in which the properties should be sold. Whereas the decree-holder has the right in the first instance to prescribe the order of the progress of the sale ; the final orders rest with the Court which has to adjust and determine the equities of the parties before it. (Jwala Prasad and Kulwant Sahay, JJ.) RAJKESHWAR PRASAD NARAIN SINGH v. MAHOMED KHALIL-UL-RAHMAN. 3 Pat. 522 : 5 Pat. L. T. 223 : 78 I. C. 796 : A. I. R. 1924 Pat. 459.

———O. 34, Rr. 4 and 5—Consent decree—Arbitration—Decree for money—Realisation by sale—Final decree.

Where a mortgage suit was referred to arbitration and a decree for money was passed on the basis of the award and the same was to be realised by the sale of the hypotheca, and it was objected in execution that the same could not be executed till a final decree was passed, held, a final decree under O. 34, R. 5 cannot be asked for unless a preliminary decree under O. 34, R. 4 has been passed and the decree based on the award being of the same nature as a compromise decree was itself executable. (Das and Ross, JJ.) NRIPENDRA NATH CHATTERJEE v. JHUMAK MANDAR. 4 Pat. L. T. 694 : 2 Pat. L. R. 9 : 3 Pat. 221 : A. I. R. 1924 Pat. 263.

———O. 34, Rr. 4 and 5—Consent decree—Decree payable in instalments—Final decree—Necessity for—Objection in execution.

A consent decree directing payment by instalments is a perfectly valid mortgage decree but it is not covered by O. 34, R. 5, C. P. Code. Consequently it is not necessary to make a final decree under O. 34, R. 5, C. P. Code. 10 C.L.J. 91 ; 2 Pat. L.T 38, Foll. It is open to the parties to a litigation to waive a particular procedure and to agree to a final decree being passed without a preliminary decree in the first instance. An objection to the legality of a final decree on the ground that the objector was not properly represented in compromise on which the final decree was based cannot be allowed to be taken in execution, his remedy being to get the decree set aside in proper proceedings. (Mullick and Kulwant Sahay, JJ.) ISHAN CHANDRA KUNDU v. NILRATAN ADHIKARI. 4 Pat. L. T. 311 : 1 Pat. L. R. 217 : 2 Pat. 538 : 1923 P. H. C. C. 184 : A. I. R. 1923 Pat 375.

———O. 34, R. 5—Mortgage suit—Preliminary decree on appeal—Trial Court passing final decree in the meanwhile—Trial Court can pass new final decree or amend its old decree according to the preliminary decree on appeal.

In a mortgage suit the Court of first instance has jurisdiction to prepare either a new final decree in terms of the preliminery decree passed by a High Court on appeal or it can amend its own final decree and bring it in accordance with the High Court's preliminary decree on appeal. Such a decree is valid in either way and is executable. (Sulaiman, J.) MAHOMED YUSUF KHAN v. MAHADEV PRASAD L. R. 6 A. (Civ.) 533 : 89 I. C. 131 : A. I. R. 1926 All. 134.

———O. 34, Rr. 5 and 10—Costs incurred in appeals from execution proceedings can be realised personally against judgment-debtor and they need not be added to the mortgage money.

There is no provision in R. 5 that if the final decree for sale has been passed, costs incurred subsequent thereto should also be added to the mortgage-money. The mortgaged property is liable for the costs properly incurred even subsequent to the preliminary decree but all kinds of costs which are incurred after the final decree are not necessarily to be added thereto. The costs mentioned in R. 10 are costs which are properly incurred in the suit in carrying out the directions contained in the decree and are liable to be added to the mortgage-money. The costs allowed by the High Court in appeal from the order striking off the execution are costs which the decree-holder can realise separately by execution against the judgment-debtor personally and which he is not bound to add to the mortgage-money. (Sulaiman, J.) HET RAM alias UDIT NARAIN v. DAT PRASAD SINGH. 88 I. C. 829 · L. R. 6 A. (Civ.) 530 : A. I. R. 1927 All. 68.

———O. 34, R. 5—Plaintiff is only to apply for final decree.

R. 5 of O. 34 of the C. P. Code requires only this much of the plaintiff that he shall tell the Court that a final decree for sale has to be prepared. (Sulaiman and Mukerji, JJ.) JODHA SINGH v. PADEY GOKARAN DAS. 47 All. 546 : 23 A. L. J. 405 : 87 I. C. 225 : A. I. R. 1925 All. 622.

———O. 34, R. 5—Consent decree—Payment out of Court.

O. 34, R. 5, C. P. Code, does not apply to mortgage decrees based on a compromise arrived at between the parties and there is nothing in law which prohibits the payment of a compromise decree out of Court. 57 I, C. 473, Foll. (Gokul Prasad and Stuart, JJ.) SITAL SINGH v. BAIJNATH PRASAD. 44 All. 668 : 20 A. L. J. 602 : L. R. 3 A. 477 : A.I.R. 1922 All. 383.

———O 34, R. 5—Execution proceedings—Decree on prior mortgagee without impleading subsequent mortgagee—Latter cannot resist execution.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 34, R. 5.

The failure of a prior mortgagee to implead a subsequent mortgagee does not destroy his right as mortgagee. The puisne mortgagee is merely entitled to a decree for sale subject to his paying the amount due to the prior mortgagee and he cannot restrain the prior mortgagee from executing his decree for sale. (Tudball, Ryves and Gokul Prasad, JJ.) HUKUM SINGH v. LALLUNJEE. 43 All. 204 : 2 U. P. L. R. (A.) 365 : 61 I. C. 942 : 18 A. L. J. 1105 (F. B.).

——O. 34, R. 5—Final decree—Decree under Dekhan Agr. Relief Act, S. 15-B—If to be made final.

A mortgage decree passed under S. 15 B of the Dekhan Agri. Relief Act need not be made final. (Shah, A. C. J. and Crump, J.) SUKLYA JAIRAM PATIL v. SUKLAL MOTICHAND VANI. 48 Bom. 172 : 25 Bom. L. R. 1214 : A. I. R. 1924 Bom. 169.

——O. 34, R. 5—Application under—Applicability of Art. 181 of the Limitation Act.

An application for final decree under O. 34, R. 5 is governed by the residuary Art. 181. After the period of limitation has expired, the application by one of the defendants to set aside the preliminary decree does not revive the plff.'s right to apply for the final decree. 33 All. 264 (P. C.) Dist. (Suhrawardy and Cuming, JJ.) MAHOMED KAMAL v. AHMED ALI. 87 I. C. 746 : A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 1030.

——O. 34, R. 5—Right of redemption—Person having interest in mortgaged property—Not impleaded in mortgage suit—Basis of redemption—Interest—Mesne profits.

Where a person who had an interest in the mortgaged property was not made a party in the suit brought by the mortgagee, his rights are not affected and he is still entitled to redeem. In allowing him to redeem, accounts must be taken on the footing of a mortgage which subsists and which it is sought to redeem and not merely on payment of the decree amount. 43 All. 469 (P. C.), Foll. In calculating the amount payable, interest should be made payable at the mortgage rate up to the date fixed in the decree for redemption. Where the mortgagees had obtained possession, the amount of mesne profits should not be taken as an equivalent of interest due, except with the consent of parties. (Woodroffe and Ghose, JJ.) JNANENDRA NATH SINGH ROY v. TARAB NATH. 49 Cal. 626 : A. I. R. 1922 Cal. 23.

——O. 34, R. 5—Preliminary decree confirmed on appeal can be made final within 3 years of the appellate decree—Limitation Act, Art. 181.

Preliminary decree passed by the trial Court merges in the decree of the Court of appeal and the latter is the only decree which can be made final. Application for final decree is accordingly within time under Art. 181 if made within 3 years of the appellate decree. (Broadway and Campbell, JJ.) FITZHOLMES v. BANK OF UPPER INDIA. 5 Lah. 257 : 81 I. C. 649 : A. I. R. 1924 Lah. 582.

——O. 34, R. 5—Final decree—Bar by lapse of time—If bars suit for redemption.

A final decree for sale if not executed within the period of time allowed by law will not bar a subsequent suit by the mortgagor to redeem. (Devadoss, J.) NAKONDA NAGASAMI IYER, v. THIRUKONDA ELLARAGAN. 86 I C 527 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 1191.

——O. 34, R. 5—Mortgage-decree for sale—Sale of mortgaged property in execution and purchase by stranger—Sale of portion of property in execution of money-decree against mortgagor subsequent to mortgage but prior to sale in execution of decree thereon—Purchaser not made party to the suit—Effect of rights of parties—Fresh suit for sale—Maintainability.

The 5th defendant, a mortgagee of certain properties from the 1st defendant and the father of defendants 2 and 3, sued upon his mortgage and obtained a decree for sale. In execution of that decree all the mortgage properties were sold and purchased by the plaintiff being sufficient to discharge the mortgage debt. The 4th defendant was an auction purchaser of one-half of the mortgaged properties at a sale held subsequent to the mortgage (in favour of the 5th defendant) but prior to the sale at which plaintiff became purchaser, in execution of a money-decree obtained against the father of defendants 2 and 3. He (4th defendant) was not made a party to the suit by the 5th defendant, though the latter had notice of his (4th defendant's) rights. In a suit brought by the plaintiff against defendants 1 to 5 for the recovery from the 4th defendant of the mortgage-debt and interest from the date of the mortgage up to the date of the plaintiff's sale together with future interest and for a sale of the properties in his possession in default of payment, held, that plaintiff as assignee in law of the original mortgagee's rights by the virtue of his purchase in Court sale, was entitled to institute a second suit for sale on the mortgage as against persons who were not parties to the prior suit, that the only right of the 4th defendant was to redeem the mortgage, that the amount payable by him as a condition of redemption was the amount of the decree in execution of which the property was purchased by the plaintiff, and that the plaintiff was not entitled to future interest as he had been in possession of one-half of the properties purchased by him and the whole difficulty arose out of the default to make the 4th defendant a party to the original mortgage suit. The effect of the omission in O. 34, R. 5 of the present C. P. Code, of the words "and thereupon" (on an order absolute being passed) "the defendant's right to redeem and the security shall both be extinguished" is that the mortgage is kept alive for all purposes as regards persons having an interest but not made parties to the mortgage suit. (Kumaraswami Sastri and Waller, JJ.) VENKAT REDDY v. KUNJAPPA GOUNDAN. 20 L. W. 137 : (1924) M. W. N. 366 : 34 M. L. T. 225: 47 M. 551 : A. I. R. 1924 Mad. 650 : 46 M. L. J. 391.

——O. 34, R. 5—Court can direct order of sale if mortgagee is not prejudiced.

In executing a mortgage decree, the Court can direct, at the instance of any person interested in some of the mortgaged items, the sale of some items of the mortgaged property first, before selling the other items provided always the mortgagee is in no way prejudiced. (Schwabe, C.J. and Waller, J.) RAGHAVACHARIAR v DUVVURU KRISHNA REDDI. 19 L. W. 23 : (1924) M. W. N 134 : 83 I. C. 918 : A. I. R. 1924 Mad. 509 : 46 M. L. J. 32.

——O. 34, R. 5—Mortgagee can sell in any order in absence of direction in decree.

A decree-holder is entitled to execute his decree against any of the mortgaged properties where the decree is silent on the point; the judgment-debtor has no legal right to demand that the decree-holder should execute his decree in any particular manner to suit the individual judgment-debtor. (34 Cal. 13, Foll. 41 Cal. 418, 31 Mad. 419, 9 Cal. 406, Dist. (Spencer and Odgers, JJ.) NARAYANASWAMI CHETTY v VELLAPPA PILLAI. 47 M. 688: (1923) M. W. N. 831 : 38 M. L. T, 181 : 83 I. C, 852 ;

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 34, R. 5.

A I. R 1924 Mad. 366 : 45 M. L. J. 722.

——— O. 34, R. 5—Execution proceedings—Delivery of title deeds—Damages not provided for in decree in case of default—Execution.

Where the preliminary and the final decree in a mortgage suit directed defendants to deliver up to plaintiffs all documents in their possession or power relating to the plaint property, but did not provide an alternative relief, viz., payment of damages, in the event of non-delivery, held, that the Court could not grant such alternative relief by way of execution. Quare.—Whether the decree in the absence of specification of documents to be delivered was not too indefinite for execution? (Ayling, O.C.J. and Odgers, J.) MARATH SIVARAMAN NAIR v. SESHU PATTAR.

16 L. W. 589 : A. I. R. 1922 Mad. 299 : 42 M L. J. 356.

——— O. 34, R. 5—Final decree—T. P. Act, S. 89—Order absolute—Effect.

When once an order absolute for sale is made in a mortgage suit, the mortgage-deed as also the right to redeem are both extinguished so that the security cannot be the basis of a second suit. (Sadasiva Aiyar and Burn, JJ.) LAKSHMANAN CHETTY v. MUTHAIYA CHETTY. 29 M. L. T. 189 : 62 I. C. 833 : 40 M. L. J. 126.

——— O. 34, R. 5—Application for final decree need not be in writing—Oral application may be presumed in a proper case to have been made.

An application under O. 34, R. 5 need not be in writing. Where the order is such that the Court would not have made it without an application by the judgment-creditor, it may be presumed that due application had been made for it. 22 Bom. 722, Foll. (Baker, J. C.) SITARAM v. LAXMAN RAO.

A. I. R. 1926 Nag. 152.

——— O. 34, R. 5 and O. 21, Rr. 11 to 24—Decree for sale of property—Mortgage—Transfer of—Necessity of registration.

A transfer of a final decree for sale of the mortgaged property passed under O. 34, R. 5, C.P. Code, does not require registration. 35 A. 524 Foll. 8 B. 610 Dist. (Dalal, J.C.) DURGA PRASAD v. JAKHOO RAM.

2 O. W. N. 70 : 86 I. C. 591 : 12 O L. J. 109 : A I. R. 1925 Oudh 399.

——— O. 34, R. 5—Power of Court—Court cannot extend time after final decree.

A Court has no power to extend the time after a final decree is passed in a suit for sale. (Dalal, A J. C.) GANGA RATAN v. CHANDIKA PRASAD.

9 O. & A. L. R. 319: A I. R. 1924 Oudh 179.

——— O. 34, R. 5—Limitation.

Where an appeal is preferred from a preliminary decree, the right to apply for final decree accrues from the date of appellate decree. (Das and Adami, JJ.) SAIYAD JOWAD HUSSAIN v. GENDA SINGH.

1 P. 444 : 1922 P. H. C. C. 164 : 3 P. L. T. 329 : A. I. R. 1922 Pat. 205.

——— O. 34, R. 5—Final decree—Mortgage suit—Effect of final decree—Charge not extinguished.

It is settled law in equity that though a personal covenant is extinguished by a judgment a charge subsists notwithstanding the judgment which does not determine the security or put an end to the charge. 31 Cal. 863, Rel. Mortgagor's right to redeem remains in force till the actual sale and distribution of proceeds. (Das and Bucknill, JJ.) MAHOMED MUSA v. EDAL SINGH. 3 P. L. T. 232 : A. I. R 1922 Pat. 92.

——— O. 34, R. 5—Final decree—Application for, necessary.

An application for execution should not be treated as an application to make the decree final. (Kennedy, J. C. and Madgavkar, A. J. C.) SAKER CHAND NARSIDAS v. YACOOB. A. I. R. 1923 Sind 14.

C P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 34, R. 6.

——— O. 34, R. 5 (2)—Limitation—Suspension of right to apply.

Plff., the third mortgagee, obtained on 31-1-'11 a preliminary decree under O. 34, R. 4 which fixed 31-7-'11 as the last date of payment by mortgagor. No payment was however made. On 10-3-'14 the second mortgagee got a decree on his mortgage and the Court opined that the third mortgagee cannot sell the property without paying the second mortgagee. Payment was made on 22-5-'15 and on 2-10-'15 applied under R.5 (2) for a decree for sale and the second mortgagee objected that the application was barred. Held, that the application was not barred, as the third mortgagee's right was suspended from 10-3-'14 to 22-5'-15, i.e., the date of decree in favour of the second mortgagee and the date of payment. (Mookerjee, A. C. J. and Fletcher, J.) HEMANDRA MOHAN v. NORESH CHANDRA. 25 C. W. N. 376 : 62 I. C. 418 : 33 C. L. J. 260.

——— O. 34, R. 5 (2)—Decree on mortgage before 1918—Order absolute—Final decree—Applicability of C. P. Code.

Where prior to the passing of the C.P. Code of 1908 a decree on a mortgage had been obtained under S. 88 of the T. P. Act, further proceedings have to be continued under the T. P. Act as it stood before repeal and not under O. 34, C. P. Code. 35 M. L. J. 194, Rel. (Schwabe, C. J. and Waller, J.) PEDDA ASWATAPPA v. ANKULU GADU. 19 L. W. 290 : (1924) M. W. N. 306 : 78 I. C. 70 : A. I. R. 1924 Mad. 603.

——— O. 34, R. 6—Decree against Hindu widow—Other properties can be attached — Hindu Law—Alienation.

The secured creditor of a Hindu widow, on the security proving insufficient to satisfy his decree thereon is entitled to proceed against the other properties. (Neave, J.) JAGANNATH PRASAD v. JADO RAI.

L. R 6 A. (Civ.) 87 : 85 I. C. 963 : A. I. R. 1925 All. 352.

——— O. 34, R. 6—Application for personal decree—Formalities required for.

No formalities are required for an application for personal decree under O. 34, R. 6 of the C. P. Code and the application need not be in writing. Even if a written application were necessary, the Court may allow it to be signed at any stage by the decree-holder. (Mukerjee and Dalal, JJ.) SANTI LAL v. RAI NARAIN. L. R. 5 A. 565 : 82 I. C. 65 : A. I. R. 1924 All. 804.

——— O. 34, R. 6—Application for personal decree—Order on—Appeal—Court to be paid ad valorem.

A mortgage decree did not provide for the balance remaining due even after the sale of the properties and on an application being put in under O. 34, R. 6, a personal decree was passed. Held, on an appeal for such an order ad valorem Court-fees must be paid and not Rs. 2 on the basis that it was a matter in execution. (Walsh and Ryves, JJ.) BINDHIACHAL RAI v. SITA MISIR. A. I. R. 1924 All. 292.

——— O. 34, R. 6—Right to personal decree—Money decree—Effect of not challenging.

Where a preliminary decres for sale obtained by a mortgagee was declared invalid on the ground that the mortgagor as a member of a joint family was not entitled to mortgage the properties in the absence of a legal necessity and thereupon the mortgagee obtained a decree under O. 34, R. 6 for the money due and this was not objected to or challenged in appeal by the mortgagee, the purchaser of the property in execution obtains a good title. (Walsh and Ryves, JJ.) TEJA v. TIKA RAM. 21 A.L.J. 754 : L. R. 4 A (Civ.) 522 : 46 All. 32 : A.I. R. 1924 All. 225 (2).

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 34, R. 6.

———O. 34, R. 6—Combined decree—Personal decree against mortgagor—Form of.

Where there is a personal covenant in a mortgage deed, the proper form of the decree is to direct that if the net proceeds of the sale are insufficient to pay the amount due to the plaintiff, then the plaintiff to be at liberty to apply for a personal decree against the defendants for the amount of the deficit. It is not proper to direct that in default of payment of the decretal amount the plaintiff is to be at liberty to recover the same by applying for sale of the mortgaged property or sufficient portion thereof. (Macleod, C. J. and Shah, J.) KESHAV v. GOVIND.
24 Bom. L. R. 843 : 75 I. C. 188 : A. I. R. 1923 Bom. 32.

———O. 34, R. 6—Right to personal decree barred—Rights of mortgagee.

Where a mortgage decree gives the mortgagee a remedy against the mortgaged properties, the personal remedy on the money claim against the mortgagor being barred, the only way in which the mortgagee can recover the money is by sale of the mortgaged property. (Macleod, C. J. and Coyajee, J.) HANMANT TIMAJ DESAI v. RAGAVENDRA RAO.
46 Bom. 848 : 24 Bom. L. R 410 : A. I. R. 1922 Bom. 237.

———O. 34, R. 6—Personal liability—Scope of.

The personal liability of a mortgagor arises only after first exhausting all remedies against the person of the mortgagor but this does not mean that in a case where a portion of the mortgaged property is destroyed there can be no personal liability. (Mookerji and Rankin, JJ.) CHAND MALL BABU v. BAN BEHARI BOSE. 50 Cal. 718 : A. I. R. 1924 Cal. 209.

———O. 34, R. 6—Personal liability—Transfer and redemption of mortgage—Covenants for payment of debt—Appellate Court—Power to pass decree.

Where the mortgagor covenants to transfer the hypothecated properties indefeasibly to the mortgagee, with the usual clause for redemption, and further covenants to pay the mortgage-debt with interest to the mortgagee, his heirs and assigns, the latter clause is a personal covenant to pay out of properties other than the hypothecated properties, as the latter clause would be entirely superfluous, if the parties had no intention that the mortgagor should be personally liable to pay to the mortgagee the money due to him. Therefore in such cases the mortgagee is entitled to a decree for sale but also to a personal decree against the mortgagor. 10 Cal. 740 ; 16 Cal. 540, Dist. A personal decree can be made against the mortgagor at the appellate stage. 47 Cal. 370, Foll. (Mookerjee and Buckland, JJ.) ASKARAN BOID v. GOBORDHAN KOBRA. 26 C. W. N. 318 : A. I. R. 1922 Cal. 52.

———O. 34, R. 6—Transfer of Property Act creates a charge on specific properties—Decree is executable against other properties if charged properties are exhausted.

Where maintenance is awarded to a Hindu widow by a decree which charged specific properties for its payment, the decree may be executed against other properties in the event of the exhaustion of the charged ones, provided that the other properties sought to be proceeded against belonged to the widow's husband. No application under O. 34, R. 6, Code of Civil Precedure, is requisite. (Mullick and Bucknill, JJ.) SHACHARI PEARI v. RAM KISHORI KUER.
2 P. 796 : 74 I. C. 867 : A. I. R. 1924 Pat. 262.

———O. 34, R. 6—Omission to claim personal decree.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 34, R. 7.

Where the cause of action is the failure to repay the principal and interest due under the bond and the relief claimable is both against the property hypothecated and against the executants of the bond on their covenant to repay. If the mortgagees omitted to sue for a personal decree against the mortgagors on the covenant, they, could not afterwards sue for that which was omitted. It is not usual or necessary to ask for a personal decree where the property is held liable for the whole of the principal debt and interest except in so far as the proceeds may be insufficient but it is quite open to the Court to pass a decree against the mortgagors on their covenant to repay the whole if a part of the claim should be held not to be chargeable on the property. (Miller, C.J. and Bucknill, J.) HARI PRASAD SINGHA v. BABU SOURENDRA MOHON SINHA. 1 P. 506 : 3 P. L. T. 709 : A.I. R. 1922 Pat. 450.

———O. 34, R. 6—Right to personal decree—Mortgage decree—Sale of some out of several items—Sale of others not permitted.

A decree holder who has sold some of the mortgaged property but the net profits have proved to be insufficient to pay the amount of the decree and he is not allowed to sell the rest, he is entitled to a personal decree under O. 34, R. 6. (Jwala Prasad and Ross, JJ.) SAMANTA v. LOKENATH. 2 P. L. T. 736 : 61 I. C. 635 : 6 P. L.J. 106.

———O. 34, R. 6—Personal liability — Ex parte decree on—Court can set aside.

A Court can set aside an ex parte decree, passed by oversight under O. 34, R. 6 as against that person who is not the mortgagor. (Jwala Prasad, J.) HANUMALAL v. RAM PEARI KOER. 60 I. C. 368 : 2 Pat. L. T. 251.

———O. 34, R. 7.

See also O. 34, RR. 2 AND 4.

———O. 34, R. 7—In redemption suits no decree for accounts can be passed previous to preliminary decree—But interlocutory order for accounts can be passed—C. P. Code, O. 20, R. 13.

To pass first a decree for taking accounts and then a preliminary decree for redemption in a suit for redemption is an irregularity. The Court can pass an interlocutory order for accounts but not a decree for accounts. In the present case where two decrees were passed like this and the High Court decided that they should be treated as if they constituted one decree only, viz., as a preliminary decree for redemption, a later Bench of the High Court regarded the appeals from the two decrees as an appeal from a preliminary decree for redemption. (Lindsay and Kanhaiya Lal, JJ.) NOUNILAL SINGH v. A. G. SKINNER.
47 All. 803 : 23 A. L. J. 691 : A. I. R. 1925 All. 707.

———O. 34, R. 7—Redemption suit—Decree of appellate Court—Costs being a charge on property or not depends on interpretation of decree in each case—Construction of decree should accord with R. 7.

In a redemption suit, the trial court declared the plaintiff entitled to possession of the property on payment of Rs. 1,816-10-6. The decree of the appellate Court said that it was increasing the amount of money payable to the mortgagees by a sum of Rs. 175. Then it said that a total sum of Rs. 1,991-10-6 was payable by the plaintiff to the defendants on or before the 2nd of March, 1921. After having said so much the Court went on to say that certain costs were payable by the plaintiff to the defendant. After making these statements the decree went on to say. "If the plaintiff paid the sum aforesaid within the 2nd March" 1921 etc., etc. Held : (Per Mukerji, J.) That it was open to the appellate Court either to pass a personal decree against the successful party or to make the costs payable out of the mortgage property. In every case it was a matter of interpretation what was intended by the appellate Court In the present case it was not the intention of the Court to make the costs as stated in the decree a charge on the property. Held: (Per Daniels, J.):—Even if it be possible to read the words "the aforesaid sum" as referring only to the sum of Rs. 1,991 that construction of the decree should be adopted which was in accordance with the law as laid down under O. 34, R. 7 and with the universal practice of the Courts in such cases which directs that the costs of the suit should form part of the sum payable in order to effect redemption. The costs in this case should therefore be held to have been intended to be made a charge on the property and the mortgagor was not entitled to recover possession without depositing the full amount of costs over and above the Rs. 1,991. (Mukerji, J.) SHEO DARSHAN SINGH v. BENI CHOUDHARI. L. R. 6 All 225 : 87 I. C. 585 : A. I. R. 1925 All. 492.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 34, R. 7.

——O. 34, Rr. 7 and 8—T. P. Act, S. 60—C. P. Code,, S. 11—Previous decree directing mortgagee to withdraw mortgage money deposited by mortgagor and to deliver property to mortgagor—Subsequent suit for redemption is barred

If the right of redemption still subsists, not having been extinguished either by an act of the parties or by an order of the Court, a second suit for redemption would lie. The order that would extinguish the right of redemption need not be an order purporting to extinguish that right. All that is necessary to bar a second suit is an order of the Court which would have the effect of extinguishing the right of redemption. In the previous suit a decree was passed directing the mortgagee to take the mortgage money which had been deposited in Court by the mortgagor and to deliver the property to the mortgagor. The mortgagor applied for delivery of the property Afterwards he gifted the property to the plaintiff. The application for the delivery of the property was subsequently dismissed. The plaintiff brought another suit to redeem the property. Held, that the decree in the previous suit was not one under C. P. Code, O. 34, R. 7, but was a combined decree under O. 34, R. 8 and, as under it the mortgagee was permitted to withdraw the money that had been already deposited in Court, it had the effect of extinguishing the mortgage and a second suit for redemption was barred. (Mukerji, J.) RUDRAPAL SINGH v. MATABADAL SINGH. 85 I. C. 480 : L. R. 6 A. (Civ.) 241 : A. I. R. 1925 All. 484.

——O. 34, Rr. 7 and 8—Mortgage—Preliminary decree for redemption—Contents.

There is a certain amount of inconsistency between Rr. 7 and 8 of O. 34 of the Code. A preliminary decree in a mortgage suit ought not to direct more than this, that if a plaintiff makes a default, then the mortgagee should have a right to ask for a final decree either for foreclosure or sale, as is provided for by R. 8 of O. 34 of the Code. (Macleod, C.J.) KUSHABA v. BUDHAJI. 46 Bom. 348 : 23 Bom. L. R. 1176 : A. I. R. 1922 Bom. 127.

——O. 34, Rr. 7 and 9—Suit for recovery of surplus profits from usufructuary mortgagee—Limitation Act, Sch. I, Arts. 105 and 148.

A claim of a mortgagor for recovery of over-payment or the surplus profits received by the mortgagee is a relief included in a suit for redemption governed by Art. 148 of the Limitation Act But such a suit would be governed by Art. 105 of the Act where the mortgagee gave up possession after the mortgage debt had been satisfied and the mortgagor entered into possession otherwise than by means of a suit for redemption (Chatterjee and Newbould, JJ.) PRASANNO KUMAR MANDAL v. NILAMBAR MANDAL. 26 C. W. N. 123 : A. I. R. 1922 Cal. 189.

——O. 34, R. 7—Decree in previous redemption suit not providing that if plaintiff did not pay within prescribed time he should be debarred from all rights to redeem—Subsequent redemption suit is not barred by O. 34, R. 7 or by S. 11—C. P. Code, S. 11.

Where it was provided in the previous decree that on plaintiff's failure to pay the money and the Court-fees within the prescribed period the decree could not be executed. But the decree was not drawn up in the manner prescribed by O. 34, R. 7 of the C. P. Code, and did not contain any clause that, if payment was not made on or before the date fixed by the Court, the plaintiff should be debarred from all right to redeem or that the mortgaged property should be sold, and where no final decree was passed under R. 8, held another suit for redemption was not barred either by O. 34, R. 7 or by S. 11. (Scott-Smith and Fforde, JJ.) ARURA v. BUR SINGH. 5 Lah. 371 : 84 I. C. 67 : A. I. R. 1925 Lah. 31.

——O. 34, R. 7—Redemption suit—Decree for possession on payment of money—If executable.

A redemption decree provided that on payment of a certain sum of money within a certain time possession of the lands was to be given. Held, it was not a preliminary decree under O. 34, R. 7 and could be executed. (Moti Sagar, J.) MAHABIR PRASAD v. KARTAR SINGH. A. I. R. 1924 Lah. 635.

——O. 34, R. 7—Suit for redemption—Amount declared due by the preliminary decree—Mesne profits accruing after the date of payment made according to the decree—Separate suit, whether maintainable—English practice, how far to be followed in India.

Mesne profits accruing after the date of payment made according to a decree passed under O. 34, R. 7 can be the subject of a separate suit. A mortgagor suing for redemption must bring into account all monies due to either party in connection with the mortgage up to the day fixed under R.7 of O.34 of the Code of Civil Procedure, though he is neither obliged nor is he entitled to have any items of later date brought into account. The date so fixed is superseded by the actual payment if there is any payment. The day fixed is what is called in English Law the date of default. Either there is payment, which may be on that date or earlier, or there is default. In either case the relation of the parties is changed, in the one direction by payment, the plaintiff being then entitled to possession or at least to a final decree for possession, in the other direction by default, the plaintiff being then deprived of his right to redeem. Therefore, a separate suit lies for any items received after the mortgagor has paid into Court the full amount declared due by the preliminary decree. (Simpson, A. J. C.) ABU JAFAR v. RAGHOINDRA PARTAB SAHAI. 2 O. W. N. 826.

——O. 34, R. 7—Suit for redemption—Procedure—Preliminary decree—Direction as to taking up accounts—Procedure.

Under O. 34, R. 7 of the C. P. Code the Court may either order that an account shall be taken of what will be due to the defendant for the principal and interest due on the mortgage, and for his costs of the suit, if any, or declare the amount due at the date of such order; but in either cases the Court should proceed to ascertain the amount which would be found due on the date which is to be fixed for payment and specify what the consequence of the payment of that amount or the non-payment thereof would be. If it merely directs that an account should be taken of what would be due to the mortgagee for the principal and interest due on the mortgage as was originally done by the learned Subordinate Judge here, its order would be nothing more than an interlocutory order, to be followed by the making up of such an account, till which preliminary decree should not be prepared. (Kanhaiya Lal, J.C.) MOHKAN SINGH v. THAKUR CHANDRA PAL SINGH

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 34, R 7.

10 O. L. J. 374 : A I. R. 1924 Oudh 140.

——O. 34, R 7 (c) and 8 (4) and O. 21, R. 89— Decree for redemption—Failure of parties to take steps according to the decree—Parties are entitled to be restored to the same position in which they were on passing of the decree in a suit by a mortgagee for possession on mortgagors dispossessing him forcibly.

Inasmuch as the payment by mortgagor is not barred either by the relapse of the period prescribed in the redemption decree or by Art. 181 of the Limitation Act he can save the mortgage property from sale at any time before the sale is confirmed. Where after a decree for redemption is passed under O. 34, R. 7 the mortgagor neither pays the amount of the mortgagee within the time fixed by the decree nor the mortgage applies for sale on the expiry of such period and then the mortgagee is dispossessed forcibly the parties are entitled to be restored to the same position in which they were on passing of the redemption decree in the suit brought by mortgagee for possession. It is open to them to work out the decree in terms of its directions if that is not legally barred. After the expiry of the period fixed by decree without payment of the decretal amount, the mortgagee has a right to apply under Rule 8 (4) of Order 34 for a decree for sale of the mortgage property but that does not take away mortgagor's right of redemption which he has got even after sale under R. 89, O. 21. (Wazir Hasan, A. J. C.) MD. BAQUAR KHAN v. JAGAT NARAIN LAL.

28 O. C. 46 : 80 I. C. 760 : A. I. R. 1925 Oudh 255.

—— 0. 34, R. 7 (d)— No applicability to—Co-mortgagor redeeming whole mortgage.

Order 34, R. 7, cl. (d) applies to the case of a mortgagee only and has no application to the case of a co-mortgagor who had redeemed the entire mortgage. (Scott-Smith and Brasher, JJ.) ALI AKBAR v. SULTAN-UL-MULK. A. I. R. 1923 Lah. 129.

——0. 34, R. 8— Consent decree not barring plaintiff's right to redeem—Second suit for redemption is competent—Limitation Act, Art. 148.

When under a compromise arrived at in a redemption suit the parties did not agree that plaintiff's right to redeem would be extinguished absolutely, he is not prevented from bringing a second suit for redemption. The mortgagee is still a mortgagee and does not become the absolute proprietor of the property. A. I. R. 1922 All. 377 and A. I. R. 1925 Lah. 31, Ref. (Sulaiman and Daniels, JJ.) MAHOMADI BEGUM v. TUFAIL HASAN.

23 A. L. J. 888 : A. I. R. 1926 All. 20.

——0. 34, Rr. 8, 7 and 9— Deposit under S. 83 of T. P. Act—Final decree can be passed once for all.

Where there is a valid mortgage and a deposit is made in the Court by the mortgagor to redeem it, the Court is not bound to first pass a preliminary and then a final decree which means the prolongation of the proceedings, if no injustice will be done to either party by the passing of the final decree at once. (Gokul Prasad, J.) SETH ROSHAN LAL v. BHURI SINGH.

A. I. R 1922 All. 479.

——0. 34, R. 8— Order refusing to extend time—Second appeal does not lie.

Where a petition for extension of time under O. 34, R. 8 is dismissed, an appeal lies against the order under O. 43, R. 1 (o) but no second appeal lies. (Shah, A. C. J. and Kemp. J.) DATTATRAYA VITHAL GARWARE v. VASUDEO ANANT GARGATE.

47 Bom. 956 : 25 Bom. L. R. 920 : A. I. R. 1924 Bom. 98.

——0. 34, R. 8— Redemption by an unauthorised person.

Redemption of a mortgage by an unauthorised person does not validly discharge the mortgage. (Abdul Raoof and Abdul Qadir, JJ.) RAGHO v. DWARKA DAS.

10 P. W. R. 1923 : 79 I. C. 687 : A. I. R. 1924 Lah. 738.

——0. 34, R. 8— Right of mortgagor to pay the amount fixed by the preliminary decree for redemption at any time before final decree for sale or foreclosure.

A preliminary decree for redemption was passed with consent of parties fixing the amount to be paid and the time within which it should be paid. More than 12 years after the time fixed for payment the mortgagor tendered the amount into Court and prayed for the passing of a final decree for redemption under O. 34, R. 8, cl. (1) of the C. P. Code. The mortgagee objected that the mortgagor had lost the right of redemption, as more than 12 years had elapsed from the due date when his possession became adverse. Held, that so long as no final decree for sale or foreclosure was passed, the mortgagor had the right to pay the amount due under the preliminary decree. (Dalal, J.) BHAWANI PRASAD SINGH v. RAM RATI KUNWAR. 28 O. C. 261 : 90 I. C. 418 : A. I. R. 1925 Oudh 649.

——0. 34, R. 8— Mortgage decree—Preliminary decree—Redemption—Money not paid in time—Effect of.

Until the mortgagee chooses to take action and bring the property to sale, the mortgagor judgment-debtor under the decree absolute has no right to move in the matter. The intention of O. 34, R. 8, C. P. Code, is that an end should be put to the mortgage once a suit for redemption is brought, and such an intention would be defeated if the mortgagee after obtaining the decree absolute for sale is permitted not to proceed with the sale, and to prevent the mortgagor from satisfying the decree. (Dalal, A J. C.) HAYAT MAHOMED v. NAGESWARI PRASAD. 26 O. C. 306 : 9 O. & A. L. R. 315 : A. I. R. 1923 Oudh 236.

——0. 34, R. 8— Proviso—Extension of time—Contract rate of interest.

Where a mortgagor seeks an extension of the time allowed by the decree for payment of the decree amount and is allowed an extension, he must pay interest at the contract rate during the extended period. (Daniels, A. J. C.) MT. BASHI RAM v. BISHAMBAR NATH.

9 O. L. J. 439 : A. I. R. 1922 Oudh 268.

——0. 34, R. 8 (4)— Duty is on the mortgagee to apply for obtaining a decree directing sale of the mortgage property.

The mortgagor is not required by any rules of procedure to make an application and obtain an order thereon before he can pay the amount fixed by the decree for redemption of the mortgage. On the contrary, the duty is laid on the mortgagee to make an application under O. 34, R. 8 (4) for the purpose of obtaining the decree directing the sale of the mortgage property. (Wazir Hasan, A. J. C.) MD. BAQUAR KHAN v. JAGAT NARAIN LAL. 28 O. C. 46 : 80 I. C. 760 : A. I. R. 1925 Oudh 255.

——0. 34. R. 8 (4)— Application under—Limitation Act, Art. 181.

Article 181 of the Limitation Act applies to an application under O. 34, R. 8 (4). (Wazir Hasan, A. J.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 34, R. 10.

C.) MT. BAQUAR KHAN v. JAGAT NARAIN LAL.
28 O. C. 46 : 80 I. C. 760 : A. I. R. 1925 Oudh 255.

——0. 34, R. 10—Costs incurred by mortgager—Objections in execution and appeal—Liability personal.

The costs mentioned in O. 34, R. 10 are costs which are properly incurred in the suit in carrying out the directions contained in the decree. Costs incurred in subsequent objections to execution proceedings or in appeals from orders passed in execution are not covered by R. 10, and the liability of the same is personal. (Sulaiman, J.) HET RAM v. RAJAH DAT PRASAD SINGH. L. R. 6 A. 530 : 88 I. C. 829 : A.I.R. 1925 All. 68.

——0. 34, R. 10—Costs claimable under—Only costs in execution.

Costs which should have been included in final decree, not claimable in execution. (Ryves and Gokul Prasad, JJ.) DAMBAR SINGH v. KALLYAN SINGH. L. R. 3 A. 164 : 44 A. 350 : 65 I. C. 799 : 20 A. L. J. 170 : A. I. R. 1922 All. 27.

——0. 34, R. 13—Mortgagee whose final decree for sale is barred by time is not entitled to a share in the surplus—T. P. Act, S. 89.

After a mortgagee obtains a decree for sale he becomes a decree-holder and not a mere mortgagee. If he allows his rights under that decree to become barred by time he cannot be said to be a person who still has interest in the property sold and therefore he is not entitled to any surplus of the sale proceeds of the mortgaged property sold in execution of prior mortgage decree. (Sulaiman and Kanhaiya Lal, JJ.) MAHAMMAD ABDUL RAHIM KHAN v. RAM BHAROS OJHA. 22 A. L. J. 825 : L. R. 5 A. (Civ.) 596 : 83 I. C. 1033 : A. I. R. 1925 All. 6.

——0. 34, R. 13—Applicability—Puisne mortgagee not party—Claim to surplus.

There is nothing in O. 34, R. 13 to show that it applies only to cases where a subsequent encumbrancer is a party to the suit and the decree in execution. A puisne mortgagee who is not a party to the suit can claim to the surplus sale proceeds. (Devadoss, J.) KRISHNASAMI BHAGAVATAR v. THIRUMALAI IYER. 90 I. C. 410.

——0. 34, R. 14—Personal remedy—Mortgagee obtaining simple money decree—Property under mortgage can be sold in execution.

A mortgagee, who has obtained a simple money-decree, is competent, to bring the mortgaged property to sale in execution of his decree, if the mortgage has ceased to be enforceable. (Walsh and Wallach, JJ.) TANSUKH RAI v. SRI GOPAL. 19 A. L. J. 728 : 63 I. C. 445 : 43 A. 677.

——0. 34, R. 14—Money decree under a different mortgage—Rule does not apply.

Where there are simultaneous and different mortgages which could reasonably be treated as constituting one transaction the Court would be slow to allow the plaintiffs to resort to a device which would enable them to do something which it is the object of Rule 14 to prevent. But where the transactions are distinct and independent, it does not matter if the plaintiffs seek to enforce the decree against the mortgaged property so long as the claim in respect of which they have obtained a decree is not a claim under the particular mortgage. Whether the claim arises under another mortgage or is a simple money claim cannot make any difference to the application of Rule 14. (Shah, Ag. C. J. and Kincaid, J.) BAI NURJAN BEGAM v. HANSRAJ JETHUMAL AND CO.
49 Bom. 208 : 86 I. C. 370 : 27 Bom. L. R. 202 : A. I. R. 1925 Bom. 239.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 34, R. 14.

——0. 34, R. 14—Sale in contravention of—Effect of—Sale in execution of money decree—Purchase.

Under O. 34, R. 14, C. P. Code, is confined only to claims arising under the mortgage and has no application to a case where the sale takes place in execution of a decree for money upon a claim not arising under the mortgage. 5 B. L. R. 450 ; 32 C. 296, Ref. (Chatterjee and Pearson, JJ.) RAJA JAGADISH CHANDRA DEO DHABAL DEB v. BHUBANESHWAR MITRA. 27 C. W. N. 38 : 37 C. L. J. 265 : A. I. R. 1923 Cal. 121.

——0. 34, Rr. 14 and 15—Charge on property—Claim for future maintenance—Remedy by suit—Execution.

The mortgage charge mentioned in O. 34, R. 14, C. P. Code, is a mortgage or charge existing prior to the date of the decree and not one created by the decree. The principle that a person who holds a mortgage or charge should have recourse to a suit, is recognised for the benefit of the person against whom the mortgage or charge may have to be enforced and it is competent to such a person to waive the protection accorded to him by O. 34, R. 14, C. P. Code, or by S. 99, T. P. Act. The petition of compromise which was incorporated in the decree stated that the plff. would be entitled to a maintenance at the rate of Rs. 4 per month, and that if the amount was not paid from month to month, the plaintiff would be entitled to realise the sum from the defendant by execution of the decree. The petition finally recited that all the properties mentioned in the schedule to the plaint would remain charged for the payment of the allowance as maintenance. Held, that the decree-holder was entitled to recover in execution without further suits, the allowance as it accrued due. It is not competent to the judgment-debtors to resile in execution proceedings and contend that notwithstanding the express provisions of the decree, the decree-holder must be driven to a separate suit. (Mookerjee and Panton, JJ.) INDRAMANI DASI v. SURENDRA NATH MANDAL.
35 C. L. J. 61 : A. I. R. 1922 Cal. 35.

——0. 34, R. 14—Applicability—Civil Procedure Code, O. 20, R. 11 (2)—Security bond given by judgment-debtor to decree-holder pursuant to order under—Enforcing of, in execution—Decree-holder's right of—Decree against father only—Bond given by father and sons—Adjudication of judgment-debtor as an insolvent subsequent to execution of bond—Effect.

Immoveable properties given by a judgment-debtor as security pursuant to an order made under O. 20, R. 11, Cl. (2) of Civil Procedure Code can be realised by the decree-holder in execution, and he is not obliged to have recourse to a regular suit for the purpose. O. 34, R. 14 of Civil Procedure Code is no bar to the decree-holder realising such security in execution. The mortgage or charge mentioned in O. 34, R. 14, Civil Procedure Code, must obviously be a mortgage or charge existing prior to the decree and not one created by the decree itself or one created by the act of parties subsequent to the decree. The words "claim arising under the mortgage" have been substituted in O. 34, R. 14, Civil Procedure Code, for the words "any claim whether arising under the mortgage or not" in the repealed S. 99 of the Transfer of Property Act ; and the effect of this alteration is to confine the prohibition against bringing the mortgaged property to sale except by bringing a suit, to cases where a mortgagee has obtained a personal decree against the mortgagor on the mortgage debt. Held further, that neither the terms of the security bond by which the security referred to above was given nor the order of the Court passed as a result of the execution of such bond precluded the security from being enforced in execution. Held also, that the fact that the decree was passed against the father only while the bond was executed by him and his sons was not a bar to the security being enforced in execution. (Venkatasubba Rao and Madhavan Nair, JJ.) OFFICIAL RECEIVER, TANJORE v. NAGARATNAM. 49 M. L. J. 643.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 34, R. 14.

——O. 34, R. 14—Mortgage and lease back in same transaction—R. 14 applies though mortgagee obtains decree for rent on the lease document alone.

Where there was a mortgage with possession and lease back on the same day, the two documents must be treated as one. Though in the lease deed it is agreed that arrears shall be paid by the sale of the equity of redemption, this is not sufficient to justify their being treated as separate documents. Once the two documents are treated as one, although the mortgagee may obtain a decree for rent on the lease document alone, nevertheless his claim is one arising under the mortgage and within the mischief of O. 34, R. 14. (Jackson, J.) N. C. LAKSHI-KUTTI AMMA v. V. MARIA THUMMA. 20 L. W. 649 : 35 M. L. T. 118 : (1924) M. W. N. 771 : 82 I. C. 504 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 127 : 47 M. L. J. 798.

——O. 34, R. 14—Money-decree—Sale of property in execution.

The rule does not bar the sale of the mortgaged property in execution of a money decree obtained in respect of the property, the mortgage right being extinguished by limitation, compromise or some other legal defect. (Spencer and Ramesam, JJ.) ARUMUGAM PILLAI v. ALAGAPPA CHETTIAR. (1921) M. W. N. 376 : 62 I. C. 756 : 14 L. W. 331 : 41 M. L. J. 160.

——O. 34, R. 14—Decree declaring a charge on certain property of defendant—Charge can be enforced in execution—Separate suit is not necessary—Execution—Declaratory decree.

It is not necessary that in every case where it is sought to enforce a charge created by a declaratory decree the person for whose benefit the charge is created must resort to the procedure for enforcement of claims under a mortgage. 2 P. L. J. 55, Foll; 1 P. L. W. 69, Dist, and 22 Cal. 859, Not Foll. Plaintiff obtained a decree declaring that she was entitled to a certain maintenance allowance from the defendant to be recovered from certain properties belonging to the defendant. In execution of this decree the plaintiff made an application for the recovery of a certain sum on account of arrears of maintenance by sale of the properties charged. Held, that although the decree obtained by the plaintiff was declaratory in form it was capable of execution and the decree obtained by the plaintiff being a money decree the interest of the judgment-debtor in the properties charged with the payment of maintenance allowance could be sold in execution of the decree. The provision of R. 14 of O. 34 of the C. P. Code, did not apply to such a case (Mullick and Ross, JJ.) HARI SANKAR RAI v. TAPAIKUER. 4 Pat. 693 : 6 P. L. T. 802 : A. I. R. 1926 Pat. 31.

——O. 34, R. 14—Compromise decree—Provision for payment of mortgage money in instalments—Default—Provision for sale—Effect of.

In a suit for sale on a mortgage instead of the usual mortgage decree a compromise decree was passed which provided that the judgment-debtor should pay the decretal amount in certain instalments, and if he should fail in the payment of three consecutive instalments, then execution for the whole amount should issue against the other property of the judgment debtor and in the event of the amount not being realised in that manner, against the mortgaged properties. Held, that the decree itself ordered, in the event of default and in the event of the other properties of the judgment-debtor proving insufficient, a sale of the mortgaged property and it was not necessary for the decree-holders to bring a suit for the sale of the property merely because the other remedy given under the decree has proved infructuous. The decree in the case was something more than a decree for the payment of the money in satisfaction of a claim arising under a mortgage and O. 34, R. 14 did not govern it. (Miller, C. J. and Kulwant Sahay, J.) CHAURASI MAHASARICK v. BHAGVAN SAHU. 1923 P. H. C. C. 209 : 2 Pat. 787 : A. I. R. 1924 Pat. 20.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 37, R. 3.

——O. 34, R. 14—Mortgagee suing on mortgage debt cannot sell bare equity of redemption on execution.

The object of O. 34, R. 14 is to prevent mortgagees from suing their mortgagors on the mortgage debt as such and in execution selling the bare equity of redemption depriving the mortgagor of the right of redemption that would be given to him by the decree for sale (Raymond and Madagavkar, A. J. Cs.) MURAD v. DAYARAM. 78 I. C. 49 : A. I. R. 1925 Sind. 156.

——O. 34, R. 15—Mortgage—Prior and puisne mortgagees—Decree obtained by one without impleading the other—Rights.

The rule that under the new Code of Civil Procedure the puisne mortgagee can bring the mortgaged property to sale without impleading a prior mortgagee would apply in an ordinary case in which the property belongs to the mortgagor, but where the relief claimed by the puisne mortgagee is against the mortgaged property which has been sold in satisfaction of a decree on a prior mortgage to which he was not a party, the rule would not apply. He must first redeem the prior mortgage and then bring the property to sale. (Gokul Prasad, J.) BENARSI GOLDSMITH v. BHUL LAU. A. I. R. 1923 All. 423.

——O. 37—Suit under on promissory note—Oral agreement as to payment of interest—Decree.

In a suit on a promissory note instituted under Chapter 37 of the C. P. Code where no leave had been obtained to defend the suit the plaintiff is not entitled to a decree for interest at 18 per cent on the strength of an oral agreement alleged in the plaint. The plaintiff can only get interest at 6 per cent. (Rankin, J.) KADER BUKSH v. SHAIKH SERAJUDDIN. 49 Cal 716 : A. I. R. 1922 Cal. 513.

——O. 37—Suit under—Limitation Act, Art 5—Applicability.

Art. 5 of the present Limitation Act does not apply to suits under O. 37 of the C. P. Code. (C. C. Ghose, J.) RABINDRA NATH DUTT v. ABDUL AHAD. 52 C. 954 : 29 C. W. N. 589 : 41 C. L. J. 368 : 88 I. C. 400: A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 781.

——O. 37—Defence doubted by Court—Procedure.

Where in a suit on a pro-note under O. 37, the deft. applies for leave to appear and defend the suit, and the Court doubts the sincerity of the defence, it should grant leave on condition that the deft. should pay into Court the amount claimed. (Wallis, C. J. and Hughes, J.) CHAKRAPANI CHETTIAR v. KAMALAVALI AMMAL. 60 I. C. 639 : 12 L. W. 712.

——O. 37, R. 3—Where after many hearings on final hearing day defendant's vakil states he has no instructions but Court proceeds with case on merits, order is not under O. 9, R. 13 but O. 37, R. 3 applies.

Where after many hearings the defendant's Vakil, states on the final hearing day that he has no instructions, but the Court disposes of the case on the merits there is an appearance and O. 37, R. 3 applies to the case. The remedy of the deft. against the Court's order is by way of appeal and not by way of an application to set aside the decree as if it had been made under O. 9, R. 13. (Phillips and Odgers, JJ.) BALAKRISHNA AIYAR v. MUTHAMMAL.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 37, R. 3.

82 I. C. 1028 : A. I. R 1925 M. 316.

——— O. 37, R. 3—Leave to defend—Grant of—Discretion of Court—Principles—Payment into Court or furnishing security—Condition as to—Order imposing—When proper.

The question to be considered on application under O. 37, R. 3, C. P. Code, is whether or not a triable issue is disclosed on affidavit or otherwise by the defendant. By triable issue is meant a plea which is at least plausible. The defendant must state what his defence is and must, as a rule, bring something more before the Court to show that it is a bona fide defence, and not a mere attempt to gain time by getting leave to defend. Once the Court comes to the conclusion that there is a triable issue in the case, it must grant leave to defend without requiring the defendant either to pay the amount claimed into Court or to furnish security therefor. Such a condition must be imposed only in exceptional cases, where, for instance, there appears to be so grave a suspicion that the Court comes to the conclusion that the defence is put in only in order to obtain further time. (Schwabe, C. J. and Ramesam, J.) PERIYA MIYANA MARAIKAYAR v. SUBRAMANIA AIYAR. 19 L. W. 342 : (1924) M. W. N. 240 : 34 M. L. T. 310 : 78 I. C. 505 : A. I. R. 1924 Mad. 612: 46 M. L. J. 255.

——— O. 37, Rr. 7 and 8—Interest up to redemption.

The parties did not complete redemption of a mortgage if it remained unredeemed on the expiry of four years from date as agreed. Held, the mortgagee in possession is entitled to damages and the fair measure of damages is prima facie the rate of interest determined by the parties in their original contract. Before the defendant can be redeemed the plaintiff must pay him interest in accordance with the terms of the contract up to the date of redemption. (Le Rossignol and Harrison, JJ.) MANGLI v. BIDHA LAL.

A. I. R. 1923 Lah. 404.

——— O. 38—Small Cause Court—If can attach immoveable property.

Small Cause Court cannot attach immoveable property. (Rankin and B. B. Ghose, JJ.) SADEK ALI v. SAMED ALI. 28 C. W. N. 16 : A. I. R. 1924 Cal. 193.

——— O. 38, R. 1—Intent to delay—Attendance in Court at another place.

Where a person has to leave his place of residence for attendance in a Criminal Court, his departure is not with a view to delay the plaintiff or avoid the process of Court or to obstruct or delay execution. Court is not justified to issue an order under O. 38, R. 1, C. P. Code. (Chevis, A. C. J.) DAULAT RAM v. KIRPA RAM. 4 Lah. L. J. 423.

——— O. 38, Rr. 1 and 5—Arrest and attachment before judgment—Mortgaged property.

The power of the Court to issue simultaneous execution for arrest and attachment is entirely discretionary and the Court has the same power in matters before judgment limited by the provisions of O. 38, C. P. Code. Even mortgaged property may be attached before judgment in a mortgage suit. (Duckworth and Godfrey, JJ.) K. O. M. SYED HOOSSEIN v. S. R. M. M. C. T. CHETTY FIRM. 3 Bur. L. J. 159 : 2 Rang. 362 : A. I. R. 1924 Rang. 361.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 38, R. 5.

——— O. 38, R. 2 (2)—Surety—Extent of liability—Production of judgment-debtor.

Where a person stands surety under O. 38, R. 2, C. P. Code, for another arrested before judgment the surety is not discharged from liability unless at the time when the judgment-debtor is produced, he can be called upon to pay up the decree amount or suffer imprisonment in default. The mere production of the debtor with a production order does not absolve the surety. (Maung Kin, J.) SUBRAMANIA IYER v. ABDUL RAHMAN. 11 L. B. R. 444 : 1 Bur. L. J. 196 : A. I. R. 1923 Rang. 98 (3).

——— O. 38, R. 5—Intent to obstruct or delay is essential.

Intent to obstruct or to delay the execution within the terms of the rule must be clearly proved. Vague allegations about the defendant being about to remove the whole or any part of the property from the local limits of the jurisdiction of the Court will not suffice. (Macleod, C. J. and Shah, J.) SENAJI v. PANAJI. 23 Bom. L. R. 1228 : 46 Bom. 431 : A. I. R. 1922 Bom. 276.

——— O. 38, R. 5—Defendant attempting to dispose if property during pendency of suit is not enough.

The fact that the defendant has attempted to sell some of his property during the pendency of the proceedings against him is not enough, to infer that the sale was with intent to obstruct or delay the execution of any decree that may be passed against him which is necessary to invite the application of O. 38, R. 5 of the Code. (Macleod, C. J. and Shah, J.) NOWROJI PUDUMJI v. DECCAN BANK, LTD.

45 Bom. 1256 : 63 I. C. 958 : 23 Bom. L. R. 550.

——— O. 38, Rr. 5 and 6—Provincial Small Cause Court can attach immoveable property before judgment. 1923 C. 176 overruled.

Per Curiam : A Provincial Small Cause Court has jurisdiction to order an attachment of immoveable property before judgment.

Sanderson, C. J. :—The provisions of cl. (7) of S. 94 are not excluded by reason of S. 7 and the order for attachment there referred to must mean an order for attachment before judgment ; it follows therefore that a Provincial Small Cause Court has jurisdiction to make an order for attachment before judgment of any property including immoveable property. There is a distinction between making an order for attachment and making an attachment. It may be that if a Provincial Small Cause Court were to make an order for attachment of immoveable property before judgment it would be necessary for that Court to transmit the order to a Court of Ordinary Civil Jurisdiction for the purpose of the order being carried out and the property attached. A.I.R. 1924 Cal. 193. Walmsley, J. :—Small Cause Court cannot attach property whether moveable or immoveable. Mukerji, J.—O. 38 has not been excluded either by S. 7 read with S. 94 or by O. 50 and therefore it is applicable to a Provincial Court of Small Causes. The case in A.I.R. 1923 Cal. 176, if it purported to lay down that a Provincial Small Cause Court can attach immoveable property and not merely make an order of attachment thereof was not correctly decided, nor was the case in A.I.R. 1924 Cal. 193 correctly decided if it meant to lay down that no such order can be passed by a Provincial Court of Small Causes. (Sanderson, C. J., Walmsley, Newbould, Mukerji and Chotzner, JJ.) F. B. BARAD KANT RAY v. SHAIKH MAIJUDDI. 28 C. W. N. 1056 : 40 C. L. J. 199 : 82 I. C. 109 : A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 1 : 52 Cal. 275.

——— O 38, Rr. 5 and 6 and O. 43, R. 1 (q)—Attachment before judgment—Conditional order on failure to give security—Security furnishing—Appeal from order—Letters Patent, cl. 15.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 38. R. 5.

O. 38, R. 6 of the C. P. Code, empowers the Court in the events stated to direct the attachment of the defendant's property. The power given by O. 38, R. 5 to make an alternative order directing the defendant within a specified time to furnish security or to appear and show cause why he should not furnish security carried with it as an incident the power, after hearing the defendant, to confirm the order that security be furnished. Under its general powers the Court may then, if necessary, extend the time for the furnishing of the security. Where the defendant fails to show cause why he should not furnish security the Court may, under R. 5, direct finally that security, be furnished or, in the alternative, under R. 6 direct the attachment of the defendant's property. The power of attachment also exists if the required security is not furnished. The provisions of the C.P.Code. do not contemplate an appeal from an order directing the defendant to furnish security. An appeal lies from an order of attachment made under R. 6. Where an order for attachment is made on failure of the defendant to furnish security and the defendant in fact furnishes such security, there is no operative order of attachment and the remainder of the order is merely an order for the furnishing of security not appealable either under the C.P. Code. or as a judgment under the Letters Patent. (Sanderson, C. J and Richardson, J.) HAJI MOHAMUDDIN AND CO. v. THE EASTERN JAPAN TRADING CO. 50 Cal. 215 : A I. R. 1923 Cal. 639.

——0. 38, R. 5—Small Cause Court—Immoveable property.

It is open to a Small Cause Court to attach immoveable property before judgment under O. 38, R. 5, C. P. Code. (Newbould and Panton, JJ.) KADARNATH PARAMANIK v. HEM NATH KARMAKAR.
49 Cal. 994 : A. I. R. 1923 Cal. 176 (2).

——0. 38, R. 5—Attachment before judgment—Money deposited by sureties for release of attachment—Assets held by Court—Rateable distribution.

The attachment before judgment should restrict the rights of persons holding decrees against the defendant. Where assets are held by a Court, the intention of legislature is to afford every creditor equal opportunities of obtaining a rateable advantage in the available assets of the judgment-creditor. (Richardson, J.) GHISULAL v. TODARMAL. 26 C. W. N. 169 : A. I. R. 1922 Cal. 19.

——0. 38, R. 5—Attachment before judgment—Land situated in Agency tract—Vizagapatam Court has no jurisdiction to attach—C. P. Code, S. 1.

The Subordinate Judge of Vizagapatam has no jurisdiction in a suit pending before him to attach before judgment properties which admittedly are in the Agency tracts over which his Court has no jurisdiction. 42 M. 813 (P. C.) Rel. on. (Wallace and Madhavan Nair, JJ.) ZUBEDA BEGAM v. KOMMANA.
88 I. C. 430 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 1100 : 48 M. L. J. 680.

——0. 38, R. 5—Attachment before judgment of immoveable property—Small Caute Court—Powers of—Provincial Small Cause Cour's Act.

Under the present Civil Procedure Code a Court exercising the jurisdiction of a Small Cause Court can attach immoveable property before judgment under O. 38, R. 5. (1891) A. C. 407, Ref. 46 C. 717, 49 C 994, Foll. 6 M.H.C. R. 91, Dist and Expl. as good law at that time. (Devadoss and Wallace, JJ.) KOTHANDARAMA CHETTIAR v. ANNAMALAI PILLAI.
48 M. 488 : (1925) M. W. N. 169 : 22 L. W. 103 : 87 I. C. 399 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 589 : 48 M. L. J. 406.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 38. R. 5.

——0. 38, R. 5—The question of the security bond being available for proceedings not only in the Court to which it was given but also in the Courts of Appeal, depends on the language of the bond as construed with reference to the surrounding circumstances of the case.

Where the security bond executed by the defendant, to the Court, in pursuance of the latter's order under R.5, O. 38 recited that the defendant had thereby given as security certain property and that in case the suit was decided in plaintiff's favour, the defendant would be responsible for the suit amount, held, that the bond which really took the place of the attachment before judgment was meant to give security only for the purpose of enabling the 1st Court to execute its decree in case it passed a decree. And as that Court did not pass a decree at all but dismissed the suit, the bond ceased to have any further effect, though the appellate Court decreed the suit. 42 All. 158 (P. C.), Dist. Case-law discussed. (Krishnan and Odgers, JJ.) D. S. .S. SUBBARAMA AYYAR v. SOMALINGA SUBBA AIYAR (1924) M. W. N. 495 : 82 I. C. 461 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 114 : 47 M. L. J. 523.

——0. 38, R. 5—Attachment before judgment—Becomes attachment in execution on order for sale after decree.

Attachment before judgment becomes attachment in execution when order is passed for the sale of the attached property and possibly even on the date when application is made for execution after decree. (Krishnan and Ramesam, JJ.) VELLAYAN ASARI v. SIVAGNANAM ASARI. 34 M. L. T. 193 : 79 I. C. 917 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 49.

——0. 38, R. 5—Position of attaching creditors.

Schwabe, C.J.:—It is generally accepted as concluded that the fact that the property is attached, or the proceeds thereof are in the Court, does make it the property of the attaching creditor. It is available for any subsequent decree-holder against the same defendant. Under S. 60, C. P. Code, any property can be attached which belongs to the judgment-debtor or over which, or profits of which, he has a disposing power which he may exercise for his own benefits. The judgment-debtor has no power of disposing of property attached before judgment for his own benefit and it is doubtful whether such property can be said to belong to him within the meaning of S. 60 or whether it can be taken in execution so long as the Court holds it in its custody pending the decision of the suit before it. If the prevalent view of law referred to above is correct, the result is that a plaintiff, who gets an order to attach before judgment because he satisfies the Court that there is a danger of the property being made away with and that enough ought to be preserved pending his suit to satisfy any decree he may get, may find that the property he has preserved is taken away from him pending his suit by a decree-holder who is lucky enough to get a decree more quickly. Indeed it would be easy for a defendant, who wishes to take his property out of the reach of the attachment-creditor, after attachment to get or even to create, a friendly creditor for an amount large enough and allow him to take judgment and gets the property attached in execution while he delayed the suit of the original attaching creditor whose fate seems to be entirely with the discretion of the Custody Court. (Schwabe, C. J., Krishnan and Wallace, JJ.) NACHIAPPA CHETTIAR v. SUBBIER. 17 L. W. 390 : 32 M. L. T. 198 : A.I.R. 1923 Mad. 505 (F. B.) : 44 M. L. J. 413.

——0. 38, R. 5—Attachment before judgment—Non-compliance with the provisions of R. 5—Attachment ultra vires—Alienation not void.

An attachment before judgment without complying with the provisions of R. 5 is ultra vires and therefore such an attachment does not come in the way of alienation of that property. (Kotwal, J.) BANSILAL v. SITARAM. A. I. R. 1922 Nag. 238.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 38, R. 5.

——O. 38, R. 5 and O. 21, R. 57—Attachment before judgment—Dismissal of execution application ceases on.

An attachment before judgment ceases to be operative on the dismissal of the first application for execution. 17 N. L. R. 121, Foll. (Hallifax, A. J. C.) AMOLAKRAO v. MAHIPATRAO. A.I.R. 1922 Nag. 81.

——O. 38, R. 5 and O. 21, R. 57—Attachment before judgment—Becomes one in execution on application in execution.

An attachment before judgment made under O. 38, R. 5 of the Code, becomes one in execution on an application for execution and R. 57 of O. 21 will apply to it equally with the other rules of O. 21. (Hallifax, A. J. C.) GANPAT v. MUKUNDA.
63 I.C. 712 (2): 17 N. L. R. 121.

——O. 38, R. 5—Suit dismissed for default but restored and decreed—Surety is liable.

Surety is liable though suit is once dismissed for default and immediately restored. 42 A. 158 (P. C.), Foll. 45 Cal. 780, Dist. (Daniels, J. C.) CHHOTEY LAL v. SOHRAB ALI. 12 O. L. J. 521 : 2 O. W. N 372 : 89 I. C. 17 : A. I. R. 1925 Oudh 592.

——O. 38, R. 5—Considerations guiding the applicability of the rule.

The power given under the C. P. Code to attach before judgment should be exercised only on clear proof of the existence of the mischief aimed at. The Court must be satisfied not only that the defendant is about to dispose of his property or to remove it from the jurisdiction of the Court, but also that his object in so doing is to obstruct or delay the execution of any decree that may be passed against him. If the Court accepts the view that defendant has no intention of alienating the property, there is no power to order attachment. (Miller, C. J. and Kulwant Sahay, J.) CHANDRIKA PRASHAD SINGH v. HIRA LAL. 5 Pat. L. T. 124 : A.I.R. 1924 Pat. 312.

——O. 38, R. 5—Order under—No appeal lies—Letters Patent (Rang.) cl. 13—C. P. Code, O. 43, R. 1 (q).

An order made under the provisions of O. 38, R. 5 is not a "Judgment" within the meaning of clause 13 of the Letters Patent, because it is a mere interlocutory order which does not affect the merits of the dispute between the parties by determining some right or liability which is in controversy between them in the suit and therefore no appeal lies from that order. A. I. R. 1925, Rang. 225 Foll. 26 Mad. 502 and 32 Bom. 602, Expl. (Heald and Lentaigne, JJ.) MENGHA SINGH v. SUCHA SINGH.
4 Bur. L. J. 108 : A. I. R. 1925 Rang. 267.

——O. 38, R. 6—Attachment before judgment continues till removed by Court.

Attachment before judgment continues in force until it is put an end to by the Court. (Phillips, J.) RASAPPA PILLAI v. DORAISWAMI REDDIAR.
(1925) M. W. N. 486 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 1041 : 49 M. L. J. 88.

——O. 38, R. 6—Mortgage suit—Properties other than the mortgaged ones may be attached before judgment where mortgaged property is likely to prove insufficient security for the loan.

Provided that circumstances exist which satisfy the Court as to the desirability of an attachment of properties other than the mortgaged ones, before judgment, in a mortgage suit, such attachment must be ordered when it is apparent that the mortgaged property does not provide a sufficient security for the loan and that the mortgagee will eventually have to claim a personal decree. 46 Cal. 245, Foll. (Das and Ross, JJ.) JATIMOYEE DEBI v. RAGHUNATH PATHAK.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 38, R. 10.

3 Pat. 966 : 1925 P. H. C. C. 63 : 85 I. C. 9 : 6 Pat. L. T. 823 : A. I. R 1925 Pat. 291 (1).

——O. 38, R. 9—Attachment before judgment is not revived on reversal of decree dismissing the suit—Objector objecting to attachment need not, therefore, sue within one year if suit is dismissed within one year of adverse order—C. P. Code, O. 21, R. 63.

It is obligatory upon the Court to withdraw an attachment before judgment upon the dismissal of the suit and the reversal of the dismissal on appeal does not operate to revive the attachment which has been cancelled. When therefore, in execution proceedings a fresh attachment is effected objector has a right to prefer a fresh claim, and the period of one year should be counted from the date when his fresh claim is rejected. 33 C. L. J. 201 : 22 C. W. N. 297 and 13 C. L. J. 243, Foll. (Greaves and Chakravarti, JJ.) SAILESH CHANDRA v. JOY CHANDRA ROY.
87 I. C. 756 (2) : A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 1147.

——O. 38, R. 10—Attachment before judgment—Property sold—Decree—Proceeds recovered by previous decree-holder—Suit to recover share.

Where certain properties are attached before judgment in a suit and sold and a decree obtained later, and the decree holder does not execute his decree, he cannot afterwards bring a suit to recover his share of the proceeds, if a previous decree-holder has attached and recovered them. (Macleod, C. J. and Fawcett, J.) VISHNU DHONDDEV v. RAMPRATAP DAULATRAM.
45 Bom. 360 : 59 I. C. 713 : 22 Bom. L. R. 1407.

——O. 38, R. 10—Attachment of interest of coparcener—Decree passed afterwards against him—Operation of survivorship is subject to satisfaction of decree.

An attachment before judgment followed by a decree prior to the judgment-debtor's death has the effect of precluding the accrual of title by survivorship as against the attaching creditor in the same way as an attachment after decree. The operation of survivorship is not, however, altogether stopped by reason of the attachment, whether before or after decree, for if the attaching creditor does not execute his decree, or if the entire property is not needed to satisfy the decree, then the property or the surplus, as the case may be, will go to the other co-parceners. 5 Cal. 148 (P.C.) and 26 M. L. J. 517, Foll ; 38 Bom. 105 Dissented from.

Wallace, J.—The accrual of survivorship is not prevented but operates subject to the prior rights of the attaching decree-holder and other decree-holders who are entitled to take advantage of the attachment to have their decree debts satisfied in execution proceedings against what was the share of the deceased judgment-debtor coparcener. (Wallace and Madhavan Nair, JJ.) SANKARLINGA v. OFFICIAL RECEIVER OF TINNEVELLY. (1925) M. W. N. 832 : A. I. R. 1926 Mad. 72 : 49 M. L. J. 616.

——O. 38, R. 10—Effect of—Position of the attaching creditor.

An attachment confers no sort of lien or charge upon the attached property and effective to create any sort of legal right in the attaching creditor to have the property ear marked for the satisfaction of any decree he has obtained or may obtain and it is no sense to be regarded as the inception of the execution on behalf of the attacher. Much less does it enure to create any such right for the benefit of the other creditors seeking for decrees or for execution of decrees or for rateable distribution under S. 73. And it then can be used for one purpose only., viz to defeat and to render void any private alienation made during its continuance. (Schwabe, Krishnan and Wallace, JJ.) NACHIAPPA CHETTIAR v. SUBBIER.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 38, R. 10.

17 L. W. 390 : 32 M. L. T. 198 : A. I. R. 1923 Mad. 505 : 44 M. L. J. 413 (F.B.).

——— O. 38, Rr. 10 and 8 and 105—Attachment before judgment—Effect on survivorship.

An attachment before judgment does not rank in the same position as an attachment after judgment. O. 38 R. 10, C. P. Code, makes it clear, and therefore an attachment before judgment will not defeat the right of a co-parcener by survivorship in a joint Hindu family. (Jwala Prasad and Foster, JJ.) SUNDAR LAL v. RAGHUNANDAN PRASAD. 3 Pat. 250 : 5 Pat. L. T. 135 : A. I. R. 1924 Pat. 465.

——— O. 38, R 10—Attachment before judgment—Property sold in execution of another decree—Attachment ceases.

Where the attached decree is sold in execution of another decree the attachment ceases, and no further proceedings can be taken against the property on the basis of that attachment. (Jwala Prasad and Adami, JJ.) HARNANDAN MARWARI v. PRAN NATH RAY. 2 P. L. T. 240 : 61 I. C. 922 : 1921 P. H. C. C. 205.

——— O. 38, R. 11—Attachment before judgment—Sale in execution—Claim—Limitation Act, Art. 11.

Where there is an order in execution for sale of a property attached before judgment that order proceeds in the view that the property is to be considered as attached in execution by virtue of O. 38, R. 11 of the Code and under Art. 11 of the Limitation Act, the period of limitation is one year to set aside the order. (Wallis, C. J., Oldfield, Spencer, Ramesam and Kumaraswami Sastri, JJ.) ARUNACHALLAM CHETTI v. PERIASAMI. 44 Mad. 902 : (1921) M. W. N. 956 : 70 I. C. 439 : 14 L. W. 645 : 41 M. L. J. 252 (F. B.).

——— O. 38, R. 11—Effect of attachment before judgment.

This rule gives the same effect to an attachment before judgment after a decree is passed as an attachment after judgment. (Das and Adami, JJ.) RAM HARI LAL v. NATHU RAM. 2 P. L. T. 719 : 62 I. C. 33 : 6 P. L. J. 332.

——— O. 39, R. 1—Principles—Injunction "pending disposal of the suit"—Period for which in force.

Where in a suit for a declaratory decree, the plaintiff got a temporary injunction restraining X from bringing the suit property to sale in execution 'pending final decision of the suit, held, that the injunction enured only till the decision of the suit and did not continue till the determination of the appeal preferred against the decision. (Piggott and Walsh, JJ.) MADHO PRASAD v. DRAUPADI. 43 All. 383 : 61 I. C. 417 : 19 A. L. J. 174.

——— O. 39, Rr. 1 and 2 and O. 40, R. 1—Suit for possession—Restraining execution of decree for possession—Receiver—Appointment of.

Plffs. were owners of a bungalow which had been let to deft. on lease, which plffs. alleged expired on 30-6-1920. Meanwhile deft. had sub-let the premises or part of them, and as he could not get possession from his sub-tenants, a suit had to be filed in which there was a decree in deft.'s favour. The plffs. as owners of the property sued deft. claiming that they were entitled to possession and that the decree which the deft. had obtained against his sub-tenants was not binding upon them, and for an injunction aginst deft. not to take possession. An application was made by plffs. for a temporary injunction restraining deft. from executing his decree against the sub-tenants. Held, that the Court had no jurisdiction to restrain the deft.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 39, R. 1.

from seeking to get the benefit of his decree which had nothing whatever to do with the plaintiffs' claim. What the plffs. ought to have asked for was the appointment of a Receiver, so that the Court might take charge of the property through its Receiver pending the settlement of the dispute between the plff. and the deft. (Macleod, C. J. and Coyajee, J.) NASARVANJI CAWASJI. v. SHAHAJADI BEGAM. 24 Bom. (L. R.) 378 : 46 B. 939 : A. I. R. 1922 Bom. 385 (2).

——— O. 39, R. 1—Specific Relief Act does not govern temporary injunctions—Subordinate Court can grant injunction in respect of proceedings in superior Court—Specific Relief Act, S. 56.

Specific Relief Act does not govern temporary injunction but O. 39, R. 1, governs them. Even a Subordinate Court can grant an injunction against a party in respect of proceedings in a Superior Court. Specific Relief Act, however, regulates the grant of perpetual injunctions. (Mukerji, J.) RAM SADAN BISWAS v. MATHURA MOHAN HAZRA. 81 I.C. 2 : A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 233.

——— O. 39, R. 1—Suit in Foreign Court—Injunction to restrain defendant from prosecuting action in Foreign Court.

An application for an injunction restraining the deft. in a pending suit, from prosecuting an action in a Foreign Court must be made at a very early stage of the proceedings. (Rankin, J.) TIKAMCHAND SANTOKCHAND v. SANTOKCHAND SINGHI. 59 I. C. 218 (1) : 24 C. W. N. 735.

——— O. 39, R. 1—Injunction to stay execution proceedings.

The High Court granted an injunction to stay execution proceedings on giving security. (Jai Lal, J.) JAGEY RAM v. RICHHPAL. 26 Punj. L. R. 753.

——— O. 39, R. 1—Temporary injunction restraining alienation of property—Property sold—Sale is not void.

Order for an injunction differs from an order attaching the property. Where property has been attached by order of the Court, any transfer of the property in face of such an attachment is void if the attachment has been made by "actual seizure or by written order duly intimated or made known." But a temporary injunction has no such effect. Bona fide purchasers of property, under temporary injunction restraining alienation for valuable consideration without notice of any fraud or collusion on the part of the vendor are protected. (Le Rossignol and Fforde, JJ.) BELI RAM AND BROS. v. RAM LAL. 6 Lah. 380 : 90 I C. 937 : A. I. R. 1925 Lah. 644 (2).

——— O. 39, R. 1—Temporary injunction may be granted though perpetual one may in the end be refused.

There is nothing in law or principle which justifies the refusal of a temporary injunction on the sole ground that the relief prayed for in the suit may be eventually refused. (Shadi Lal, C.J. and Le Rossignol, J.) TEJA SINGH v. BANI HARNAM. 89 I. C. 678 : A. I. R. 1925 Lah. 628.

——— O. 39, R. 1—'Property in dispute' means property which forms subject-matter of suit.

The expression "property in dispute in a suit" in R. 1 means the property which is the subject-matter of the suit. (Shadi Lal, C. J. and Le Rossignol, J.) TEJA SINGH v. BANI HARNAM. 89 I. C. 678 : A. I. R. 1925 Lah. 628.

——— O. 39, R. 1—Danger to estate by extravagant alienation by the life holder apparent—Injunction should be issued.

Where there is a substantial dispute between the parties and there is a reasonable prima facie apprehension based upon the extravagant conduct of the defendant widow in reference to her administration of the estate of her husband that during the pendency of the suit further alienations and damage to the estate might be achieved by her, an injunction may be issued at the instance of the reversioners to prevent such further alienations. (Shadi Lal, C.J. and Le Rossignol, J.) TEJA SINGH v. BANI HARNAM.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 39, R. 1.

89 I. C. 678 : A. I. R. 1925 Lah. 628.

——O. 39, R. 1—Suit for declaration—Injunction staying proceedings in another suit—Propriety of.

In a suit for a mere declaration it is not proper to grant an injunction staying proceedings in another suit pending in another court. (Abdul Raoof, J.) SAMANDAR v. FAZAL. 78 I.C.802 (1):A.I.R. 1925 Lah 242(2)

——O. 39, R. 1—In absence of fraud, collusion or fear of irreparable loss no injunction will be granted to plaintiff who is out of possession.

Injunction will be refused, where plaintiff is out of possession of the property in suit unless there is fraud or collusion or unless the act perpetrated or threatened is so injurious as to cause irreparable loss. Irreparable injury means material injury which is not adequately reparable by damages. (Moti Sagar, J.) SEWARAM SINGH v. SARDARNI MAYA DEVI. 80 I. C. 727 : A. I. R. 1925 Lah. 167.

——O. 39, R. 1—Injunction when granted.

Unless plaintiff proves by definite evidence that the defendant threatened to remove or dispose of his property with a view to defraud his creditors a temporary injunction cannot be granted. (Moti Sagar, J.) KALIAN SINGH v. MT. SHANNO ALIAS GOVIND KAUR. 6 Lah. L. J. 298 : 85 I. C. 88 (1) : A. I. R. 1924 Lah. 718 (2.)

——O. 39, R. 1—Temporary injunction—When granted—Principle guiding.

A person asking the Court to exercise its discretionary jurisdiction must make out a strong prima facie case in support of the title which he asserts and must satisfy the court that its interference is necessary to protect him from irreparable or at least serious injury before the legal right could be established at the trial. Being an exceptional injury, an injunction will be refused in the first instance except on a clear prima facie case and "upon positive averments, of the equities on which the application for relief is based." The rule of law is that the court, should, before disturbing any man's legal right or stripping him of any rights with which the law has clothed him, be satisfied that the probability is in favour of his case ultimately failing in the suit. (Moti Sagar, J.) RAMESHWAR DAS v. YAKIN UD-DIN KHAN. A. I. R. 1924 Lah. 633.

——O. 39, R. 1—Issue of injunction on affidavit—Validity.

Where there is a bona fide dispute between the parties and the injunction relates only to such properties belonging to the deceased as are not in possession of the defendant-appellant, there is no reason to interfere. (Broadway, J.) MT. ISHRI v. SHIB RAM A. I. R. 1923 Lah. 239 (2).

——O. 39, R. 1—Principles—Temporary injunction.

When plaintiff has made out a prima facie case for possession and there is a real danger of damage or waste to the suit property which is in defendant's possession, an order for temporary injunction restraining defendant from using the property is good. ((Shadi Lal, C. J. and Fforde, J.) SUNDAR SINGH v. RAM SARAN DAS. 5 Lah. L. J. 262: A. I. R. 1923 Lah. 227.

——O. 39, R. 1—Security and accounts—Order for.

An order to defendants to prepare an inventory and to keep accounts is not an order under the inherent powers of the Court but one under O. 39, R. 1, C. P. Code. (Campbell, J.) THE FIRM RAGHBIR SINGH JASWANT v. NARAYAN SINGH.
A. I. R. 1923 Lah. 48.

——O. 39, R. 1—Principles—Temporary injunction.

The granting of a temporary injunction is a matter of discretion albeit a judicial discretion. One of the principles the Court has to bear in mind is that it must first see that there is a bona fide contention between the parties and then, on which side in the event of success the balance of inconvenience will lie if the injunction does not issue. The real point is not how the question should be decided at the hearing of the case, but whether there is a substantial question to be investigated and whether matters should not be preserved in status quo until that question can be finally decided.(Broadway, J.) KANSHI RAM v. SHARF DIN. A. I. R. 1922 Lah. 356 (1).

——O. 39, Rr. 1 and 2—Execution—Injunction to restrain, cannot be granted.

Injunction restraining the execution of a decree obtained by the defendant against the plaintiff cannot be granted under O. 39, Rr. 1 and 2. (Phillips, J.) V. VARADACHARLU v. K. NARASIMHA CHARLU.
1925 M. W. N. 886: A. I. R. 1926 Mad. 258.

——O. 39, R. 1—Breach of plaintiff's right threatened—Proper course is to maintain status quo.

In the matter of an interlocutory order where a breach of right of plaintiff is threatened the proper course for a Court is to maintain the status quo until the disposal of the suit. (Wallace, J.) SRIRANGA NARAYANA JEER v. AHOBILA JEER. 22 L. W. 837 : A. I. R. 1926 Mad. 166.

——O. 39, R. 1—Order without finding of possession or danger of waste is unsustainable.

Order granting injunction without finding of possession or of danger of waste is unsustainable. Existence of allegation in affidavit is not enough. (Wallace and Madhavan Nair, JJ.) D. BUTCHAMMA v. D. PONNAMMA. 21 L. W. 698: A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 896.

——O. 39, R. 1—Injunction pending suit—Scope of.

An injunction granted pendente lite, until the disposal of the suit or until further orders will end in any case on the disposal of the suit or on any earlier date, on which further orders may be passed, the reference to further order not applying to anything after the disposal of the suit. (Oldfield and Devadoss, JJ.) AYISA UMMA v. P. K. ABDULLA. 1924 M. W. N. 636: (1923) M. W. N. 670: 19 L. W. 613 : A. I. R. 1924 Mad. 178.

——O. 39, R. 1—Fraudulent decree—Injunction to restrain proceedings in execution—If maintainable.

A judgment-debtor can sue for an injunction restraining the execution of a decree which he alleges to be fraudulent, even before steps are taken in execution. (Kinkhede, A. J. C.) SULTAN ALI v. BALAJI.
A. I. R. 1924 Nag. 413.

——O. 39, R. 1—Requirements of R. 1 must be fulfilled.

An applicant asking the Court to issue a temporary injunction must show that the requirements of R. 1 have been fulfilled, viz., that there is risk of the property being damaged or a risk of creditors being defrauded. (Wazir Hasan and Ashworth, A. J. C.s) AHMAD MUJTAHA KHAN v. PIRTHIPAL SINGH.
88 I. C. 581 (1): A. I. R. 1925 Oudh 698.

——O. 39, R. 1—Suit dismissed for default—Application to restore to file—Pendency of—Injunction if can be passed.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 39, R. 1.

During the pendency of an application to restore a suit to file which had been dismissed for default, a court has no jurisdiction to pass an injunction order, as there is no suit pending then. (Neave, A. J. C.) RAMSARUP v. EMPEROR. 25 Cr. L J. 350: 77 I. C. 238: A. I. R. 1924 Oudh 345.

——O. 39, R. 1—Execution proceedings and sale— Prima facie case—Defendant residing outside jurisdiction—Property within jurisdiction.

On an application for a temporary injunction to restrain a sale in execution of a decree, pending a suit, the applicant must show a prima facie case. A Court has jurisdiction to issue an injunction upon a person residing outside its territorial limits if he has property within the jurisdiction against which the Court could proceed in the event of any contempt of the Court's authority. (Mullick and Bucknill, JJ.) MAHARAJADHIRAJ SIR RAMESHWAR SINGH BAHADUR v. KUMAR GANGANAND SINGH. 75 I. C. 381: 1 Pat. L. R. 462: 5 P. L. T. 121: A. I. R. 1925 Pat. 337.

——O. 39, R. 1—Temporary injunction—When granted— Prima facie case—Balance of convenience.

A party who asks for a temporary injunction pending suit must show a prima facie case on the merits of his action. The granting of the application would then depend on the balance of convenience. If the other party has already invested lots of money on the project which is sought to be restrained but he is a man of means who can easily pay any damages that may ultimately be awarded against him, no interim injunction should be granted. (Mullick and Bucknill, JJ.) KENNETH ARTHUR HILL v. RANJAN BARDHAN.

5 Pat. L. T. 196: 75 I. C. 859: A. I. R. 1924 Pat. 526.

——O. 39, R. 1—Principles—Defendant residing outside jurisdiction—Acts within jurisdiction—Interference with acts of religion.

No Court would grant an injunction against persons residing outside its jurisdiction and not subject to its jurisdiction in cases where they would have no means of enforcing the order. But where the acts complained of are acts taking place within the Court's jurisdiction and a party although a resident outside the Court's jurisdiction appears in the suit and submits personally to the jurisdiction of the Court (not under protest or to question the Court's jurisdiction) the Court has power to grant an injunction against him. Before granting a temporary injunction the Court must be satisfied in the first instance that the plaintiff applicant has a fair question to raise as to the existence of the right alleged, and further that the defendants have infringed or are threatening an infringement of these rights. No person is entitled to enforce his religious views upon another or to restrain that other from committing any lawful act or making any lawful use of his property, merely because it would not fit in with the tenets of his particular religion. The right to worship is a right in aliena solo, and so long as it is not interfered with, the owner can do what he would like with his own property. (Miller, C. J. and Ross, J.) MAHARAJAH BAHADUR SINGH v. HUKUM CHAND. 4 P. L. T. 48: A .I. R. 1923 Pat. 209.

——O. 39, R. 1—Principles.

The general principles applicable to cases to interim injunctions is that where a permanent injunction cannot be given, no prayer for a temporary injunction will be allowed. (Mullick and Kulwant Sahay, JJ.) BISHUN PRASHAD PATHAK v SASHI BHUSAN MITRA. 2 P. L. R. 17: A. I. R. 1923 P. 133.

——O. 39, R. 1—Execution proceedings—Power to restrain proceeding in another Court—Jurisdiction.

C P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 39, R. 1.

In a case in which the defendants have submitted to the jurisdiction of a Court by entering appearance, the Court has jurisdiction to grant an injunction restraining the defts. from executing in another Court a decree which they had obtained against plaintiff—Case law referred to. (Coutts and Ross, JJ.) KUMAR GANGA SINGH v. PIRTHICHAND LAL. 1 P. 356: 4 Pat. L. T. 10: A. I. R. 1922 Pat. 34.

——O. 39, R. 1—Interlocutory injunction to restrain arbitration proceedings Principles—Court, duty of.

The onus is upon the petitioner to show that his inconvenience exceeds that of the other side, and does not govern the granting or withholding an interlocutory injunction the Court considerations as to the comparative mischief or inconvenience to the parties likely to arise from granting or withholding the injunction. (Raymond, A. J. C.) FIRM OF KIRPALDAS KALIANDAS v. FIRM OF GAJANMAL BHAGWANDAS. 70 I. C. 864: 15 S. L. R. 5.

——O. 39, R. 1—Temporary injunctions—Principles of Specific Relief Act apply—Contract by steamship company not to employ any one as stevedore except plaintiff cannot be enforced by injunction—Specific Relief Act, Ss. 55 and 57.

Where a contract forbade the defendants (a steamship company) to employ as stevedores none but the plaintiffs: Held, that the plaintiffs could not be granted a temporary injunction to enforce the covenant. The question of a temporary injunction is dealt with by the C. P. Code, whereas the question of a permanent injunction is dealt with under the Specific Relief Act. But the principles applicable to the two proceedings are very similar. They both derive from the Court of Chancery and they postulate that a man will be punished if he does what his conscience tells him not to do. It is, therefore, impossible in disposing of temporary injunction to exclude from one's mind the English doctrine as contained in the Specific Relief Act. Courts of equity will not give an order over the execution of which they cannot watch and which they cannot enforce. A contract by which one party is required to do numerous and delicate services for the other, the performance of which need a particular amount of skill and fidelity is one which cannot be specially enforced, by threats of penalty. Except in very special circumstances where no other redress is open to the parties, the Court will not grant specific relief in such cases both because to attempt to enforce its order would be embarrassing to the parties and because it would be derogatory to the Court itself.

Per Rupchand Bilaram, A J. C.—Preventive relief by way of injunction whether perpetual or temporary is within the discretion of the Court depending on the particular circumstances of each case. In order to entitle the plaintiffs to a temporary injunction pending the disposal of the suit, the plaintiffs must make out a prima facie strong case in support of the right they claim, and further show that irreparable damage will result to them if the injunction is not granted. Though the Court may not issue an injunction to restrain the breach of an affirmative covenant in a contract in view of S. 55, Cl. (f) of the Act, it is not precluded from enforcing by injunction a negative covenant which is coupled with such affirmative covenant and which is either express or implied. Whether the Court would enjoin the performance of a negative covenant or would infer the existence of such covenant by implication must again depend on the circumstances of each case. There are no equitable grounds for enforcing a negative covenant of an employer in a contract of employment pure and simple where the employee is only entitled to his remuneration. (Case law discussed. (Kennedy, J. C. and Rupch and Bilaram, A. J. C.) D. D. G. HANSA OF BREMEN v. FIRM OF PESTOMJI BHIKAJI. A. I. R. 1925 Sind 347.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 39, R. 1.

——0. 39, R. 1 (r)—Interim injunction—Order refusing—Appealability.

An appeal lies from an order granting an injunction as well as from an order refusing an injunction. 17 C. W. N. 996 ; 35 A. 425 Ref. An order refusing an application for a temporary injunction until the disposal of the main application for injunction pending the disposal of the suit is an order under O. 39, R. 1, C. P. Code and is appealable. The Code provides in O. 43, R. 1 (r) for an appeal from all interlocutory and final orders passed under O. 39, R. 1 granting or refusing an injunction. (Jwala Prasad and Kulwant Sahay, JJ.) SHYAM BEHARI SINGH v. BISESWAR DAYAL.
1924 P. H. C C. 169 : A. I. R. 1924 Pat. 713.

——0. 39, R. 2—Principles—Stay of execution proceeding in Munsiff's Court by subordinate judge—Specific Relief Act, Ss. 56 and 53.

S.56 which occurs in the chapter relating to perpetual injunctions has no application to temporary injunctions which are, by the express words of S. 53 left to be regulated by the Code of Civil Procedure. A Sub-Judge could issue a temporary injunction staying the execution of a decree proceeding in a Munsiff's Court. The C. P. Code is not exhaustive and the Court has inherent jurisdiction to act ex debito justitia, in order to do that real and substantial justice for the administration of which alone it exists. 23 Cal. 351 and L. P. A. 17 of 1920 Foll. (Shadi Lal, C. J. and Abdul Qadir, J.) KANSHI RAM v. SHARAF DIN.
A. I. R. 1923 Lah. 144 (2).

——0. 39, R. 2—Injunction can be granted only against deft.—Principles.

A temporary injunction can only be issued to the defendant and not to any other person. A suit for a declaration that a certain person is not eligible to stand as a candidate, cannot be said to be a suit for restraining him from committing an injury of any kind. Where a person has been declared by competent authority to be eligible for standing as a candidate at the election, and as the election itself could not be stopped, it would not be right to restrain him from taking part in it. To restrain the defendant in such a case would be tantamount to granting the plaintiff the relief sought in his suit and might deprive the defendant of a right to which he is really entitled. This would be a grave injustice to him for which he could not be adequately compensated afterwards. (Scott-Smith, J.) THE ELECTION OFFICER, GUJRAT v. ABDUL GHANI, ETC.
A. I. R. 1923 Lah. 47.

——0. 39, R. 2 (3) and O. 43, R. 1 (r)—Order refusing to attach property.

Order refusing to attach property for disobedience of an injunction is one under O. 39, R. 2 and is appealable. (Scott-Smith, J.) DIWAND CHAND v. JHARIA COAL CO. A. I. R. 1922 Lah. 347.

——0. 39, R. 2 (3)—Injunction—Dis-obedience—Application for contempt—Transfer of venue.

The Court of M. passed an injunction order under O. 39, R.1, C.P. Code. Subsequently the local jurisdiction as well as the suit in which the injunction was ordered, were both transferred to the Court of D. Thereupon the applicant applied to the Court of D. for punishing the opposite party for contempt for disobeying the injunction. Held, that the Court of D. had jurisdiction to entertain the application for punishment for alleged contempt. 26 C. W. N. 216, Diss. ; 39 M. 907 Foll. (Krishnan and Venkatasubba Rao, JJ.)

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 40.

MOUNA GURUSWAMI NAICKER v. SHEIKH MAHOMED KOWTHER. 46 Mad. 83 : (1922) M. W. N. 743 : 16 L. W. 748 : A. I. R. 1923 Mad. 92 : 43 M. L. J. 713.

——0. 39, R 3—Ex parte order.

If the object of granting the injunction is likely to be defeated by delay, the Court may grant an ex parte injunction without notice to the opposite party. (Rigg, J.) BURMA OIL COMPANY LTD. v. SIMPSON.
64 I. C. 534 : 13 Bur. L. T. 227.

——0. 40 — Execution Proceedings—Receiver, appointment of—No transfer of Judgment debtors property takes place.

Order 40, C. P. Code, does not specifically refer to execution proceedings. When in execution proceedings a receiver is appointed he is put in the position of the judgment-debtor and there is no transfer of the property from the judgment-debtor to him. (Mukerji and Dalal, JJ.) KIRTARATH GIR v. MUTHARA PRASAD RAM. 46 A. 924 : 81 I. C. 741 : A. I. R. 1925 All. 72.

——0. 40—Examination pro interesse suo—Title suits pending—Laches on part of appllicant for examination—Examination was refused.

When a receiver is in possession of property under the process or authority of the Court, his possession is not to be disturbed even by an ejectment under an adverse title without the leave of the Court, for the receiver's possession is deemed to be the possession of the Court and the Court will not permit itself to be made a suitor in a Court of law The proper and usual mode to be adopted under such circumstances is for the party claiming an adverse interest to apply to the court to be permitted to come in and be examined. pro interesse suo. 25 Ch. D. 723 Ref. to. But where the question to be tried is a pure matter of title, the Court from a sense of convenience and justice will generally authorise a suit to be brought, taking care, however, to protect the possession of the receiver by giving proper directions. 9 Ves. 3351. Jac and Walk 176 1 Cox, 422, 1 Ch. Cas. 223, 3 Hare 461 and 8 Hare 472 Ref. to. An examination pro interesse suo is never made unless the applicant shows diligence. Where there were two suits pending in which the applicant's title would be determined and where the applicant had not shown diligence. Held, that an examination pro interesse suo should not be made. There is power in the Court to make an order for examination pro interesse suo but the Court will exercise the power very sparingly and only in very special cases and under special conditions. 16 Bom. 511 and 17 Cal. 285 Ref. to. (C. C. Ghose, J.) SREEDHAR CHAUDHURY v. NILMONI CHOWDHURY.
41 C. L. J. 197 : 86 I. C. 677 : A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 681.

——0. 40—Receiver—Appointment of—Execution against property—Omission to obtain leave of Court does not make it void.

The rule that possession of a receiver may not be disturbed without leave, does not apply so far as third parties are concerned, until a receiver has been actually appointed and is in actual possession. Even where a receiver is in possession, a sale of property in his hands at the instance of a stranger to the suit without leave of Court is not void but only voidable. It can only be set aside by appropriate proceedings and if the persons interested do not impeach the sale, it is not open to others to do so. (Chatterjee and Pearson, JJ.) RAJA JAGADISH CHANDRA DEO DHABAL DEO v. BHUBANESWAR MITRA.
37 C. L. J. 265 : 27 C. W. N. 38 : A. I. R. 1923 Cal. 121.

——0. 40—Sapurdar—If a receiver.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 40.

A sapurdar is not a receiver of court and the provisions of the C.P. Code, relating to a Receiver appointed by court do not apply to him. (Zafar Ali, J.) ALLAH DAD v. EMPEROR. 25 Cr. L. J. 43 : 75 I. C. 731 : A. I. R. 1924 Lah. 667 (2).

——O. 40—Landlord's decree for rent—Receiver appointed for the press in the premises to carry it on, to pay rent and to sell press for advantageous price—Mortgagee of press consenting—Rent and Receiver charges priority.

Where in execution of a decree by A against B for arrears of rent due for a premises C was appointed Receiver of the Press mortgaged to D and located in the premises for carrying on the trade and pay rent and sell the machinery with the consent of the mortgagee, the mortgagee is not afterwards entitled to claim in priority of the landlord for rent and of the Receiver for the charges of management. Spencer, Offg. C.J.—The case clearly falls within S. 70 of the Contract Act which covers cases of the nature of salvage. 16 M. L. T. 375. Bertrand v. Davoes (1862) 54 E. R. 1204. When an order appointing Receiver is made by the Court for the benefit of all the parties to the litigation, the Court could deal with the property giving priority to Receiver's expenses over the mortgagee 34 Cal. 642. Srinivasa Iyengar, J.—When property is placed in custodia legis by the appointment of a Receiver all orders passed for the management will be binding on all who are either actually or constructively parties to the proceedings. (Spencer, O. C. J. and Srinivasa Iyengar, J.) RAJAGOPALACHARIAR v. JAMAL AYIBISHA BIBI. 22 L. W. 312: 90 I. C. 337 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 571.

——O. 40, R. 1.

Appeal.
Directions to Receiver.
Discharge of Receiver.
Discretion of Court.
Effect of Appointment.
Execution.
Grounds for Appointment.
Interim Receiver.
Leave of Court.
Mortgage.
Partition Suit.
Partnership.
Possession.
Powers of Receiver.
Prima facie case.
Removal of Receiver.
Scheme Suit.
Selection of Receiver.
Suit against Receiver.
Trust.

Appeal.

——O. 40, R. 1 and O. 43, R. 1, cl. 8—Appeal—It is enough to include in an appeal from interlocutory order only persons materially prejudiced by appointment of Receiver.

If a Receiver is appointed, in an appeal from interlocutory order, the only person materially prejudiced thereby would be the person entitled to present possession. Where there is no suggestion that any of the defendants is entitled to present possession, held, that it is not necessary to have them on the record in the appeal. (Mookerjee and Chotzner, JJ.) BHUPENDRA NATH v. MONOHAR MUKERJEE. 28 C. W. N. 86 : 77 I. C. 783 : A. I. R. 1924 Cal. 456.

——O. 40, R. 1—Appeal—Appointment of Receiver—When liable to be set aside.

A court of appeal will not, except in an extreme case, disturb an order as to the appointment of a Receiver by a Court below. (Moti Sagar, J.) DHUMI v. NAWAB MUHAMMAD SAJJAD ALI KHAN. 5 Lah. L. J. 533 : A. I. R. 1923 Lah. 623.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 40, R. 1—Directions to Receiver.

——O. 40, R. 1 and O. 43, R. 1 (b)—Provisions of C.P. Code whether applicable in cases of appointment of Receivers under S. 12 of the Guardians and Wards Act—Applicability.

A Judge before whom an application for the appointment of a guardian is pending has power to appoint a Receiver according to the provisions of the C. P. Code. S. 12 of the Guardian and Wards Act empowers a Court to make such an order for the temporary custody and protection of the person or property of the minor as it thinks proper. The court may appoint a guardian temporarily and another course open to him is to appoint a Receiver under O. 40, R. 1. An order appointing a receiver comes not under S. 12 of the Guardian & Ward's Act, but under O.40, R.1 and as such is appealable under cl. (s) of R.1 of O.43, C.P. Code. (Coldstream, J.) MT. CHANDRA WATI v. JAGANNATH. 7 Lah. L. J. 281 : 90 I. C. 611 : 26 Punj. L. R. 576 : A. I. R. 1925 Lah. 489.

——O. 40, R. 1 and O. 43, R. 1 (s)—Appeal—Dispossesssion by receiver of a third party.

When property of a third party is interfered with by an officer of the court like the Receiver the party has ordinarily two remedies. He may apply to the court for a summary order restraining the Receiver from interfering or he may ask the leave of the court to permit him to sue the Receiver and restrain him from interfering and for any other appropriate relief. Where the party has adopted the summary remedy the order of the Court is an order under O. 40, R. 1 (b) and is appealable. 39 C. 713 : 3 Pat. L. J. 573 Rel. (Oldfield and Venkatasubba Rao, JJ.) RAMASWAMY PILLAI v. JANAKI AMMAL. (1922) M. W. N. 725 : 16 L. W. 833 : 32 M. L. T. 96 : A. I. R. 1923 Mad. 129.

——O. 40, R. 1—Appeal—Appointment of Receiver—Order dismissing objection—Appeal.

An order dismissing an objection to the appointment of a receiver of property, the objector not being a party falls under O. 40, R. 1 and is appealable. (Baker, A. J. C.) RAMSWARUP v. RAGHUNANDAN. A I. R. 1924 Nag. 165.

——O. 40, R. 1—Appeal—Order appointing receiver without appointing a particular person by name.

An order of a Court that a receiver should be appointed in a case without appointing anybody by name as receiver is appealable. (Jwala Prasad and Bucknill, JJ.) GOBIND RAM v. GANESH RAM. 4 U. P. L. R. (Pat.) 68 : 1 P. 625 : (1922) P. H. C. C. 250 : 1 Pat. L. R. 161 : 4 P. L. T. 210 : A. I. R. 1922 Pat. 577.

Directions to Receiver.

——O. 40, R.1 (2)—Directions to Receiver—Court's duty—Claim by third parties.

Where in a petition under O. 40, R. 1 a claim of title and possession is made by the third parties the Court before directing the Receiver to take possession of the properties must make an enquiry and such enquiry cannot be delegated to the Receiver. (Newbould and Suhrawardy, JJ.) HAMIDA v. JAMILA KHATUN. 65 I. C. 837 : 34 C. L. J. 123.

——O. 40. R. 1—Directions to Receiver—Power of Court—Disposal of suit—Winding up.

A Court which appoints a Receiver has authority to pass orders necessary to wind up his charge even though the suit has been disposed off (Campbell, J.)

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 40, R. 1—Directions to Receiver.

GANGA RAM v. NATHA RAM. A. I. R. 1924 Lah 583.

———0. 40, R. 1—Directions to Receiver—A letter of instructions from Court—Appeal.

There is no provision of law which would authorise an appeal from instructions, issuing from a Court to a receiver appointed by it. The question of the validity of the instructions is to be decided in the appeal against the appointment of the receiver. (Broadway, J.) MT. ISHRI v. SHIB RAM.

A. I. R. 1923 Lah. 239 (2).

Discharge of Receiver.

———0. 40, Rr. 1 and 4—Discharge of Receiver—Accounts—Vouchers — Mal administration — Remedy for.

A receiver's account must be vouched by the production of proper receipts. The vouchers will be admitted as evidence of the payment of the sums therein specified and credit given to the accounting party in the account, unless the other side shows some reasonable ground for impeaching the vouchers, but if any party objects, the affidavit or oral evidence of the person who received the money is required, and if this cannot be had, then proof must be given of his signature to the voucher. The question of bad management by the Receiver of the estate does not arise when a Receiver submits his accounts in order that it may be passed Questions with regard to the soundness or prudence of the system of management adopted by a Receiver or charges of wilful default or neglect are not matters that can be disposed of in the shape of exceptions to account. (Mookerjee and Chotzner, JJ.) HAJI TELLER RAHMAN v. GOLAM GONE. 40 C. L. J. 28 : 82 I C. 419 : A. I. R. 1924 Cal. 1063.

———0. 40, R. 1—Discharge of Receiver.

A Receiver appointed in a suit for proceedings by consent of parties, may be discharged, even before the termination of the suit or proceeding, if the Court finds that it will cause no injury to the estate. (Abdur Rahim and Sadasiva Aiyar, JJ.) VENKATALINGAMA v. VENKATARAMA RAO, 29 M. L. T. 175 : 13 L. W. 367 : 61 I. C. 562 : (1921) M. W. N. 173.

Discretion of Court.

———0 40, R. 1—Discretion of Court—Receiver, appointment of—Costs.

The Appointment of a Receiver being discretionary it does not follow, that costs should follow, the granting or rejecting an application for the appointment of a Receiver. (Piggott and Walsh, JJ.) SHEO PARKASH v. NAND KISHORE. 61 I. C. 112 : 2 U. P. L. R. (A.) 389.

———0. 40, R. 1—Discretion of Court—Remuneration af receiver—Insolvency proceedings.

A receiver is generally remunerated by the method of percentage or commission but there is no absolute rule that he should be so remunerated. The Court has a discretion, if it thinks fit to allow him remuneration at a fixed rate. The receiver's remuneration must come out of the estate of the insolvent and the legal representatives of the insolvent cannot be made personally liable for the same. (Sanderson, C. J. and Richardson, J.) SREPAT SINGH v. RAM SARUP SURYA PRASAD. A. I. R. 1923 Cal. 516.

———0.40, R. 1—Discretion of Court—Full opportunityfor evidence against appointment must be allowed—Appointment of receiver—When interfered with in Appeal.

The jurisdiction to appoint a Receiver must not be lightly, but must be most cautiously, exercsied. The relief is not one ex debito justitiæ, but one which is purely within the judicial discretion of the Court. The power to appoint a Receiver is not to be generally exercised as a matter of course, and it is not a reason for allowing an application that it can do harm to appoint a Receiver. Before appointing a Receiver in any particular case the Court must take the whole circumstances of the case into consideration and then decide whether it would be just and convenient to appoint a Receiver. Where a Receiver was appointed without opportunity being given to the defendants to produce evidence to rebut the case put forward by the plaintiff. Held : that the appointment of the Receiver should be set aside. (Abdul Raoof ana Jai Lal, JJ.) GURDWARA PARBANDHAK COMMITTEE, AMRITSAR v. MAHANT DHARAM DAS. 6 Lah. 74 : 88 I. C. 562 : 26 Punj. L. R. 228 : A. I. R. 1925 Lah. 349.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 40, R. 1—Effect of Appointment.

———0. 40, R. 1—Discretion of Court—Declaratory suit—Agricultural lands.

Even in a case of a pure declaratory suit, where no possession is asked for, a court has power to appoint a receiver as the object of such an appointment is only to keep the property in custodia legis and to preserve the same. A civil court in the Punjab can make such an appointment to collect the rent even in the case of agricultural lands. (Moti Sagar, J.) DHUMI v. NAWAB MUHAMMAD SAJJAD ALI KHAN.

5 Lah. L. J. 583 : A. I. R. 1923 Lah. 623.

———0. 40, R. 1—Discretion of Court—Appointment of receiver in a suit in which possession cannot be decreed to plaintiff.

In a su t for specific performance of a contract to execute a simple mortgage the Court has no power to appoint a receiver of the properties pending the suit, for it cannot do by way of receivership what it would not be entitled to do even by way of decree. (Coutts-Trotter, C. J. and Wallace, J.) CHOCKALINGAM PILLAI v. PITCHAPPA CHETTIAR.

22 L. W. 579 : (1925) M. W N. 802.

———0. 40, R. 1—Receiver— Appointment—When to be made—Parties—Right of.

A court is competent to appoint a Receiver in a pending partition suit between co-owners or co-sharers for the protection of the property in suit or the prevention of injury to such property. It is well settled that if a case for the appointment of a Receiver is made out, the court will not appoint a party to the action as Receiver unless by consent or unless there are special circumstances justifying such appointment. (Kennedy, J. C. and Bilaram, A. J. C.) JAN MAHOMED v. GHULAM RASUL KHAN. 89 I. C. 104.

Effect of Appointment.

———0. 40, R. 1—Receiver appointed by High Court—Power of Subordinate Court to restrain him.

A Subordinate Court cannot restrain a Receiver appointed by the High Court from performing his duties. The proper course is to apply to the High Court for orders. (Greaves and Mukerji, JJ.) NURUDDIN AHMAD v. SUBODH CHANDRA MITRA.

87 I. C. 808 : A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 1174.

———0. 40, R. 1—Effect of appointment—Appointment of receiver continues till order of discharge by Court.

A Receiver is an officer of the Court, and as long as the order appointing the receiver remains unreversed, and as long as the suit remains lis pendens, his functions continue until he is discharged by order of the Court. Hence the mere passing of a preliminary decree in a partition suit, declaring the shares of the parties in the estate, and directing partition of the property other than the agricultural land does not put an end to the appointment of the receiver, and, despite the provisions of O. 20, R. 18, it is legal for the Court to pass an order for ad interim injunction restraining interference with the receiver's possession of agricultural land. (Shadi Lal, C. J and Le Rossignol, J.) SHANKAR DAS v. BEHARI LAL. 7 Lah. L. J. 239: 26 Punj. L. R. 56 : 6 Lah. 442 : 89 I. C. 932 : A. I. R. 1925 Lah. 445.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 40, R. 1—Effect of Appointment.

———0. 40, R. 1—Effect of appointment—Mortgage suit—Final decree—Subsequent appointment of receiver—Receiver proper party to execution proceedings—Refusal to add—Revision—C. P. Code, S. 115.

Where after the final decree on a simple mortgage is passed in a mortgage suit, and before the sale, a receiver is appointed of the properties of the mortgagor in a partition suit between them and the Receiver applies to be made a party to the execution proceedings, he ought to be made a party. The mere fact that there is a mortgage on the property in the hands of the Receiver would not take the case out of the general rule that no process can be permitted in respect of the properties in the hands of a receiver without the sanction of the Court which appointed him. Property in the possession of a receiver is in the custody of the law and cannot be seized under a writ of attachment or execution. It is in the discretion of the Court to refuse to permit a sale of the property in its possession under a judgment though the levy was made before the Receiver was appointed. 26 C. 127, doubted. The Receiver in such a case is not a new party under O. 1, R. 10, C.P. Code and that rule does not stand in the way of the Receiver being made a party. The refusal to make the Receiver party to the execution proceedings is a material irregulatity in the exercise of the jurisdiction of the lower Court justifying the interference of the High Court under S. 115, C.P. Code. (Devadoss, J.) FRASER AND ROSS v. KRISHNASWAMI IYER. 47 Mad. 47 : (1922) M. W. N. 745 : 16 L. W. 322 : 31 M. L. T. 290 : A. I. R. 1923 Mad. 144 (2) : 43 M. L. J. 211.

———0. 40, R. 1—Effect of appointment.

Where a receiver is appointed, property vests in him only when the orders under O. 40, R. 1 (b), (c) and (d) are made. (Halifax, A. J. C.) RAMAKRISHNA v. GANAPATI. A. I. R. 1923 Nag. 6.

———0. 40, R. 1—Effect of appointment does not bar execution.

Although there is some doubt as to whether the appointment of a Receiver is equivalent to execution and therefore to a delivery in execution the order appointing a Receiver does not operate as a stay of execution so as to disentitle the decree-holder from executing his decree in respect of the same debt in any manner provided by the C. P Code. The mere fact that the decree-holder consented to the appointment of a receiver does not estop him from subsequently seeking to enforce his decree by execution (Das and Ross, JJ.) RAMESWAR SINGH v. HITENDRA SINGH 6 Pat. L. J. 208 : 62 I. C. 469 : 2 Pat. L. T. 628.

Execution.

———0. 40, R. 1—Execution—Ghatwali estate—Collection of rents.

Payments of Chowkidars, Sardars and Government dues in a Ghatwali estate do not belong to the Ghatwal ; while the rents and profits belong to the Ghatwal. If a decree is to be executed against him these can be collected by a receiver appointed therefor. (Jwala Prasad and Ross, JJ.) TIKAIT DAMODAR NARAIN SINGH v. GANGA RAM MARWARI.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 40, R. 1—Grounds for Appo ntment.

1923 P. H. C. C. 372 : 5 P. L. T. 34 : 3 Pat. 339 : A. I. R. 1924 Pat. 269.

Grounds for Appointment.

———0. 40, R. 1—Grounds for appointment—Principles guiding—Wakf property—Which party is in actual possession being doubtful—Receiver can be appointed.

An order appointing a receiver will not ordinarily be made at the instance of a plaintiff having merely a shadowy claim where it has the effect of depriving a defendant of de facto possession, since that might cause irreparable wrong. The main object of appointing a Receiver is to protect the properties pending litigation and to preserve them for the benefit of the party lawfully entitled thereto. In an application for the appointment of a Receiver it is sufficient if a prima facie title to the property over which the Receiver is sought to be appointed is made out by the applicant. Where property is shown to be in medio, i.e., in the enjoyment of no one, the Court can hardly do wrong in taking possession. It is the common interest of all parties that the Court should prevent a scramble, and where no one seems to be in actual lawful enjoyment of the property no harm can be done to any one by taking it and preserving it for the benefit of the litigant who may prove successful.

Per Greaves, J.—Some actual interest in the property to be protected is necessary to support an appointment of a receiver in an interlocutory application but where it is doubtful whether the property which is wakf property is without a custodian or not, the Court will be justified in making the appointment simply for the protection of the property. (Greaves and Graham, JJ.) ALKAMA BIBI v. ISTAK HOSSAIN. 29 C. W. N. 836 : 89 I. C. 183 : A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 970.

———0. 40, R. 1—Grounds for appointment—Just and convenient—Meaning of—Principles guiding appointment—Merits of case—Appeal—Parties.

The appointment of a Receiver is a matter of judicial discretion and Courts should proceed cautiously viewing all the circumstances of the case. The words "just and convenient" mean that the Court should appoint a Receiver for the protection of property or prevention of injury according to legal principles and not because it thinks it convenient to do so. They confer no arbitrary and non-regulated discretion on the Court. The Receiver appointed in an action should as a general rule be a disinterested person, but it is competent to the Court upon the consent of parties and in a proper case, without such consent to appoint a person mixed up in the subject-matter of the litigation, if it will be beneficial to the estate. In an appeal against an order refusing to appoint a receiver, the only necessary parties are those who are entitled to present possession. The order on an application under O.40,R.1 should not express an opinion on the merits of the case. (Mookerjee and Chotzner, JJ.) BHUPENDRA NATH MUKHERJEE v MANOHAR MUKERJEE. 28 C. W. N. 85 : A. I. R. 1924 Cal. 456.

———0. 40, R. 1—Grounds for Appointment—Impartible zemindari—Large estate—Mines and minerals.

Where the subject of dispute between the parties to a litigation was a large impartible zemindari with valuable forests and mines and minerals and the zemindar had been long under the management of the Court of Wards, Held that the case was a fit one for the appointment of a receiver pending the appeal and for stay of execution of the decree by the successful claimant. (Mookerjee and Rankin, JJ.) SRI PRATAB CHANDRA DEO DHABAL DEB v. SRI RAJA JAGADISH CHANDRA DEO. 75 I. C. 417 : 37 C. L. J. 417.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 40, R. 1—Grounds for Appointment.

——O. 40, R. 1—Grounds for appointment—Notice of application—Necessity for.

O. 40, R. 1, C. P. Code does not lay down that notice to the opposite party should be issued before appointing a Receiver and it is obvious that in many cases the object of the appointment might well be nullified if notice were issued. 22 C. 459 : 21 M. L. J 821 : 107 P. R. 1908 : 36 P. R. 1910, Dist. The question that the Courts have to see in dealing with applications for a Receiver, is whether, in the circumstances of the case, the appointment of the Receiver is just and convenient, the main object being to preserve the property. The power is discretionary with the Court' but at the same time discretion is not to be exercised arbitrarily but in a regulated manner. Where there are a large number of outstandings due to the estate of the deceased person, some of which are liable to be lost owing to the efflux of time, and the heir of the deceased is a lady and there is a bona fide dispute between the parties the Court is justified in appointing a Receiver to recover the outstandings and to bring the proceeds into Court. (Broadway, J.) MT. ISHRI v SHIB RAM.

A. I. R. 1923 Lah. 239 (2).

——O. 40, R. 1—Grounds for appointment—Receiver—Mahant — Disputes regarding title—Convenience.

Where disputes arose between two persons as to who was entitled to be mahant and there was something to be said regarding the claim of each and under the circumstances putting one of them into possession would give him a great advantage over the other, a proper case was made out for appointing a Receiver. (Scott-Smith, J.) MANOHAR DAS v. KALYAN DAS. 69 I. C. 361 : A. I. R. 1924 Lah. 421.

——O. 40, R. 1—Grounds for appointment—Discretion—Interference on appeal.

A Court has a right to proceed under O. 40, R. 1, C.P. Code where it appears to be just and convenient to do so and the Court may make an order appointing a Receiver suo motu. Though a suit is brought for a mere declaration and possession of the property cannot be awarded by the Court to one party or the other, the Court has jurisdiction to appoint a Receiver to maintain the status quo ante pending a suit or appeal. Where a single Judge of the High Court has appointed a Receiver, the exercise of his discretion will not be lightly interfered with on appeal. (Shadi Lal, C. J. and Abdul Qadir, J.) AMARNATH v. MT. TEHAL KAUR. 4 U. P. L. R. (Lah.) 73 : A .I. R. 1922 Lah. 444.

——O. 40, R. 1—Grounds for appointment—Mahomedan widow in possession—Proceedure on application—Refusal to appoint Receiver at one stage—Subsequent application.

The mere fact that a Mahomedan widow is entitled to a lien for dower on her husband's estate is no ground for refusing the appointment of a Receiver summarily without enquiry into the merits of the application. There is nothing in O. 40, R. 1, C.P. Code, to prevent the appointment of a Receiver in such a case. The mere fact that a Receiver has not been appointed at a prior stage of the suit is no ground for refusing the application at a later stage, when fresh grounds are made out. (Batten, J. C. and Hallifax, A. J. C.) ZAHROS SYED ALI v. AHMAD SYED. A. I. R. 1923 Nag. 21.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 40, R. 1—Leave of Court.

——O. 40, R. 1—Grounds of appointment—Scope.

There is no jurisdiction in the Court to appoint a Receiver at the instance of a simple contract creditor unless the creditor establishes a special equity in the favour of such appointment. A prior mortgagee is entitled to have the Receiver obtained by a puisne mortgagee or a single contract creditor discharged and a nominee of his own substituted. Whenever a Court appoints a Receiver it ought to take care to protect the rights of persons other than the applicant. The appointment of a Receiver is an equitable relief and if the applicant does not establish a special equity in his favour it is impossible to say that it is "just and convenient" that a receiver should be appointed. The first essential condition for the appointment of Receiver is that the applicant must satisfy the Court that he has an interest in the property to be affected by the order. The fact that fraud is practised on the court is sufficient ground for the discharge of the Receiver. (Das and Adami, JJ.) CHOUDHURI v. DUTT. 3 P. L. T. 24 : A. I. R. 1922 Pat. 318.

——O. 40, R. 1.—Grounds for appointment—Money creditor cannot apply for Receiver.

A Court has no jurisdiction to appoint a Receiver at the instance of a simple money creditor unless he establishes a special equity in his favour. The appointment of a Receiver is an equitable relief and will be only granted on equitable grounds. In the absence of any special equity in the applicant's favour a Receiver cannot be appointed simply on the ground that it is 'just and convenient' to grant it. The first essential condition is that the applicant must have 'an interest" in the property to be affected by the order. A Court appointing a Receiver ought to take care to protect the rights of persons other than the applicant. A prior incumbrancer desiring to take possession is entitled to have the Receiver obtained by a puisne incumbrancer, and therefore by a simple contract creditor, discharged, and a Receiver of his own substituted. (Das and Adami, JJ.) PRITHI CHAND LAL CHAUDHURI v. KALIKANAND SINGH. 61 I. C. 849 : 6 P. L. J. 366.

Interim Receiver.

——O. 40, R. 1—Interim Receiver—Interference with possession of third parties—Injunction.

Where a Receiver is appointed there seems to be no valid objection to a third party, whose property is being interfered with from applying to the Court for redress and for an injunction restraining the Receiver from such trespass, It is not necessary for them to file a separate suit. (Kumaraswami Sastri, J.) THAVASIMUTHU NADAR v. BALAGURUSWAMI NADAR. 17 L. W. 64 : A. I. R. 1923 Mad. 304.

Leave of Court.

——O. 40, R. 1—Leave of Court—Appointment of receiver after attachment to other proceedings makes sale void without leave of Court appointing receiver.

"The general rule is well settled that property in the hands of a Receiver is exempt from judicial process except of course to the extent permitted by the appointing Court." Though an attachment was levied on property before the appointment of the Receiver it is within the sound discretion of the appointing Court to refuse to permit a sale of the property thereunder. A purchaser in Court-auction without previous leave to sell buys at his peril, for the sale may be cancelled. 11. C. L. J. 489 ; 1923 Mad. 144 Foll. (Krishnan and Odgers, JJ.) THAYUMANA PILLAI v. RAMASWAMI CHETTIAR. 19 L. W. 681 . 79 I. C. 632 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 51.

——O, 40, R. 1—Leave of Court—Attachment of

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 40, R. 1—Mortgage.

decree obtained by receiver—Receiver's transfer.

An act done without the Court's sanction to proceed against a receiver can subsequently be validated. Where no step had been taken to validate the irregular attachment by the time that the receiver assigned his interest as a decree-holder to the innocent purchaser, the appellant's right as an attaching creditor cannot be allowed to prevail over the rights of a bona fide transferee for consideration of the decree-holder's interest. (Spencer and Venkatasubba Rao, JJ.) KALYANASUNDARAM IYER v. NARASIMHA IYENGAR. 18 L. W. 280 : A. I. R. 1923 Mad. 567 : 44 M. L. J. 427.

Mortgage.

———0. 40, R. 1—Mortgage—Mortgage by karta of Hindu joint family—Money used for family business—Receiver can be appointed in mortgage suit—Hindu Law—Alienation.

Where a mortgage was created by the karta of a joint family, on the family properties for securing overdrafts on the banking account of limited company of which the karta was a member, and where the adult members of the family were aware of the mortgage and the money advanced was used for the family business, held, that in a suit on the mortgage, a receiver could be appointed. (Sanderson, C. J. and Walmsley, J.) RAM KUMAR LAL v CHARTERED BANK OF INDIA, AUSTRALIA AND CHINA. 41 C. L. J. 203 : 87 I. C. 375 : A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 664.

———0. 40, R. 1—Mortgage—Receiver can be appointed in mortgage suit—Right to receive rents and profits is not requisite for exercise of power where security by itself is insufficient.

There is nothing in R. 1 which excludes mortgage suits from its operation and a Receiver can therefore be appointed in a mortgage suit. 43 I. C. 533, Diss. O. 40, R. 1 gives the widest power to a Court to appoint a Receiver of any property whenever it appears to the Court to be just and convenient. The existence in the plaintiff of a right to receive rents and profits is not an essential pre-requisite for the exercise of this power. A Receiver can be appointed in a mortgage suit where the security is insufficient for the realisation of the decree by its sale alone. (Moti Sagar, J.) PARAS RAM v PURAN MAL. 85 I. C. 737 : A. I. R. 1925 Lah. 590.

———0. 40, R. 1—Mortgage.

Appointment of a receiver should not be made where under mortgage decree the decree-holder has a right to sell the mortgage property. (Jwala Prasad and Bucknill, JJ.) MOKHTAR AHMAD v. BIBI RAHIMUNNISSA. 1922 P. H. C. C. 66 : 4 P. L. T. 58 : A. I. R. 1922 Pat. 369.

Partition Suit.

———0. 40, R. 1—Partition suit—Appointment—Receiver—Appeal.

The Court should not appoint a Receiver, merely because of strained relations, except by consent and upon proof by the plaintiff that prima facie he has a very excellent chance of succeeding in establishing the case made out in the plaint and that the property in possession of defendants the opposite party, was in danger of being wasted especially where one of the defendants is presumably manager. In any case the facts, that a mere declaration is sought for the land, that the Civil Court cannot divide it, that the plaintiffs appear from the materials on the record to be out of possession and that the Court has no jurisdiction over the apportionment of the produce, make the order of the appointment of a Receiver for the agricultural lands still less justifiable than that regarding the other property. An order of a Court that a Receiver should be appointed in a case, without appointing anybody by name as receiver, and adjourning the case to a later date for so appointing one is an order under O. 40, R. 1 and appealable under O. 43, R. 1, (s). (Case-law discussed). 55 I.C. 827 ; 36 P. R. 1910, Foll. (Campbell, J.) THE FIRM RAGHBIR SINGH JASWANT v. NARIJAN SINGH. A. I. R. 1923 Lah. 48.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 40, R. 1—Possession.

———0. 40, R. 1—Partition suit—Appointment of Receiver—Right to—Malabar tarwad.

For the appointment of a Receiver in a suit, there must be some substantial ground for interfering with the existing rights of possession. The fact that no harm would be done by such appointment is not a sufficient ground. As regards the rights to have a Receiver appointed a member of a Malabar tarwad suing for partition of tarwad property is not in the same position as a member of a Mitakshara joint family suing for partition. (Spencer and Devadoss, JJ.) MELE VITTIL KUNHAN MENON v. KANNAN MENON. (1924) M. W. N. 202 : 79 I. C. 561 : A. I. R. 1924 Mad. 482 : 46 M. L. J. 133.

Partnership.

———0. 40, R. 1—Partnership—Remuneration of Receiver.

The managing partner of a partnership by consenting to act without remuneration as Receiver during the dissolution of the partnership does not forego his right to such remuneration as he would be entitled to for managing and carrying on the business. (Walmsley and Mukerji, JJ.) MAHOMED KAMIL v. HEDAYETULLA. 90 I.C. 492 : A. I. R. 1926 Cal. 380.

———0. 40, R. 1—Partnership—Interim receiver—Jurisdiction of Court denied.

A partnership suit is not only an action in which the appointment of a receiver is usually claimed in the plaint itself, but is also one in which it is desirable, and even necessary in most cases, to appoint a receiver to preserve the property in dispute during the pendency of the suit and to prevent the partner in possession of the partnership property from taking undue advantage of his position as against the co-partners, who, in the eye of the law, are equally with him the owners of the property. When a plaint is presented and it is not rejected or returned for any of the reasons mentioned in the Civil Procedure Code, but is admitted, the Court has assumed jurisdiction, and has therefore seizin of the suit and the subject-matter thereof. This jurisdiction is assumed on the allegations in the plaint. If the Court has seizin of the suit, it must of necessity have jurisdiction to pass the necessary interlocutory orders, e. g., the appointment of a receiver pendente lite to take charge of the partnership properties in a partnership suit, and it cannot be said that the Court is wrong in postponing the consideration of the point of jurisdiction though raised by the defendant. (Heald and Chari, JJ.) KIN FOO v. WHEE SHEIK CHENG. 3 Rang. 196 : A. I. R. 1925 Rang. 287.

Possession.

———0. 40, R. 1—Possession—Receiver—Position and status of—Possession of receiver enures for rightful owner.

When the court has appointed a receiver and the receiver is in possession, his possession is the possession of the court and the possession of the court by the receiver is the possession of all parties to the action

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 40, R. 1—Possession.

according to their titles. The property passes into legal custody as the receiver is in the position of a stakeholder and such custody is for the benefit of the true owner. 22 C. L. J. 283 ; 30 M. 12 ; 17 C. 814 ; 5 A. 1; 5 C. L. J. 270 Rel. (Mookerji and Suhrawardy, JJ.) DWIJENDRA NARAYAN ROY v. JOGES CHANDRA DE. 39 C. L. J. 40 : 79 I. C. 520 : A. I. R. 1924 Cal. 600.

——0. 40, R. 1 (2)—Possession—Subrule 2 does not prevent Court from removing party to suit from possession.

Sub-rule (2) of R. 1 refers to the case of removal of a person other than a party to the suit and does not debar the Court from removing one of the parties to the suit from the possession of the property. 43 I C. 533 Diss. (Moti Sagar, J.) PARAS RAM v. PURAN MAL. A. I. R. 1925 Lah. 590.

——0. 40. R. 1 (2)—Possession, removal from—Parties to the suit.

The provisions of O. 40, R. 1 (2), C. P. Code, refer to the case of the removal of a person other than a party to the suit and the Court is not debarred from removing one of the parties from the possession of the property. 18 C. W. N. 537 : 24 M. L. J. 658, Foll. (Shadi Lal, C. J. and Abdul Qadir, JJ.) AMARNATH v. MT. TEHAL KAUR. 4 U. P. L. R. (Lah.) 73 : A. I. R. 1922 Lah. 444.

——0. 40, R. 1 (2)—Possession—Court—Jurisdiction of, to put in possession—Any person—Meaning of.

Under O. 40, R. 1 (2) of the Code the Court has full power to put a Receiver, appointed by it, in possession of the properties removing any of the parties to the suit, but not a party to the suit cannot be so remove dunless some one or more or all of the parties have such a right. The words "any person" in O. 40, R. 1 (2) are not confined to persons who are not parties to the suit. A tenant could not be ousted to be replaced by a Receiver in an interlocutory order. (Sadasiva Aiyar and Spencer, JJ.) KUMARASAMI PILLAI v. PASUPATHIA PILLAI. 61 I. C. 605 : 12 L. W. 254.

——0. 40, R. 1 (b)—Possession—'Person' is other than receiver.

The word "person" in cl. (b) refers to a person other than a "receiver" for cl. (c) shows that the property removed from the possession or custody of the person referred to in cl. (b) is to be committed to the possession, custody or management of the "receiver" by cl. (c). 20 C. W. N. 789 and 24 I. C. 862, Foll. (Krishnan and Waller, JJ.) RAMASWAMI NAIDU v. AYYALU NAIDU. 19 L. W. 247 : 34 M. L. T. 6 : 88 I. C. 625 : A. I. R. 1924 Mad. 614 : 46 M. L. J. 196.

Powers of Receiver.

——0. 40, R. 1—Powers of Receiver—Mortgage—Decree under O. 34, R. 4 of the Civil Procedure Code—Receiver of property under mortgage—Effect of appointment of—Action by Receiver against decree-holder for account and possession.

In 1899 the mortgagee in the exercise of his rights under a mortgage executed in 1892 obtained the usual decree for sale of the mortgaged property (the village Jainagar). In 1910, on the application of the judgment-debtors and with the consent of the mortgagee (decree-holder) the Court appointed a Receiver of the properties of the judgment-debtors. After various subsequent proceedings the Receiver and the judgment-debtors instituted proceedings against the mortgagee for an account of his receipts from the mortgaged property, and for delivery of possession of the said village. The Subordinate Judge of Fizabad decided that the Receiver was not entitled to possession, but only to debit the mortgagee in the account with the sum of Rs. 1,471-3-5 per annum (instead of Rs. 1,600 as previously), for sums received from the property. The High Court on appeal reversed this judgment and made a decree directing the Maharaja to deliver up possession of the said village to the Receiver. Held, by the Privy Council (affirming the judgment of the High Court that the Receiver was entitled to khas possession of the village, and should in future administer and manage it as part of the estate under his charge, subject to being credited in the accounts by the mortgagee with Rs. 1,471-3 5 for collections made up to the last decree of the High Court. (Lord Shaw.) RAMESHAR SINGH v. HITENDRA SINGH. 35 M. L. T. 179 : 22 A. L.J. 968 : 40 C. L. J. 444 : 82 I. C. 794 : 24 Bom. L. R. 1161 : 20 L. W. 437 : L. R. 5 P. C. 188 : 29 C. W. N. 420 : 3 Pat. L. R. 190 : A. I. R. 1924 P. C. 206 : 47 M. L. J. 294 (P. C.)

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 40, R. 1—Powers of Receiver.

——0. 40, R. 1 (d)—Powers of Receiver.

Where the Receiver was given power to collect outstandings and do all things necessary for the realisation and preservation of the assets of a firm, held, the Receiver had no authority to mortgage the property of the firm. (Lord Carson.) SUBRAMANIAN v. LUTCHMAN. 50 Cal. 338 : 2 Bur. L. J. 25 : 32 M. L. T. 184 : 25 Bom. L. R. 582 : 38 C. L. J. 41 : 18 L. W. 446 : (1923) M. W. N. 762 : 28 C. W N. 1 : 1 Rang. 66 : 50 I. A. 77 : A. I. R. 1923 P. C. 50 : 44 M. L. J. 602 (P. C.)

——0. 40, R. 1—Powers of Receiver—Appeal against decree for maintenance—Receiver cannot be appointed for correctly ascertaining income of estate so as to enable appellate Court to fix rate of maintenance.

Receiver cannot be appointed for the purpose of ascertaining real income of property so that correct data may be available to an appellate Court in which an appeal from a decree for maintenance is pending for fixing the rate of maintenance. (Venkatasubba Rao and Madhavan Nair, JJ.) RAJAMMAL v. TYAGARAJA AIYAR. 22 L. W. 316 : 89 I. C. 943 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 1245.

——0. 40, R. 1—Powers of Receiver—Receiver has none but expressly granted powers.

A Receiver has no powers except what the Court grants him. He is only an officer of the Court and whatever powers he exercises are delegated powers of the Court which it expressly gives him. (Krishnan and Odgers, JJ.) RATNASAMI PILLAI v. SABAPATHI PILLAI. 82 I. C. 793 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 318.

——0. 40, R. 1 and S. 51—Powers of Receiver—Claim by Receiver outside jurisdiction.

A Receiver appointed by a Court in execution can prosecute a cause of action outside the jurisdiction of the Court by which he was appointed Receiver. (Wallis, C. J. and Krishnan, J.) MUTHU K. R. V. ALAGAPPA CHETTY v. S. A. KRISHNASAMY IYER. 13 L. W. 150 : (1921) M. W. N. 106 : 61 I. C. 753 : 29 M. L. T. 110.

——0. 40. R. 1—Powers of Receiver—Appointment when takes effect—Furnishing of security.

Where a Receiver is appointed, his title to possession accrues on the date of his appointment. The appointment of the Receiver is complete on the entry of an order of appointment although he may not be able to take actual possession of the property until security is approved. The appointment of a Receiver operates as an injunction against the parties, their agents and persons claiming under them with notice. (Baker, O. J. C.) DEOBAX v. KALU RAM.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 40, R. 1—Powers of Receiver.

7 N. L. J. 16 : 78 I. C. 811 : A. I. R. 1924 Nag. 136.

——————0. 40, R. 1 (2)—Powers of Receiver—Mortgagee in possession whether can be removed.

A Receiver appointed by a Court can oust a mortgagee decree-holder put in possession of the lands subsequent to his mortgage decree. (Das and Adami, JJ.) HITENDRA SINGH v. RAMESHWAR SINGH.

6 P. L. J. 37 : 61 I. C. 67 : 2 Pat. L. T. 593.

Prima Facie Case

——————0. 40, R. 1—Prima facie case—Receiver—Appointment of.

In cases where a Receiver is applied for, it is settled law that the applicant should at least present a prima facie case and should convince the Court that there may be a fair chance of succeeding in the suit. (Coutts and Adami, JJ.) BANWARI LAL v. MOTI LAL.

3 Pat. L. T. 466 : A. I. R. 1922 Pat. 493.

——————0 40, R. 1—Prima facie case—Appointment of Receiver—When made—Principles guiding.

A receiver of property will not be appointed under O. 40, R. 1, unless the plaintiff satisfies the Court that he has a prima facie case and that an order for a Receiver is necessary for the protection of the property pending litigation. The Court must act in such a case with caution and exercise a discretion to be governed by all the circumstances of the case. (Rupchand Bilaram, A.J.C.) JETHALAL MOHANJI v. DAYABHAI RAMJI. 89 I. C. 413.

Removal of Receiver.

——————0. 40, R. 1—Removal of Receiver—Receiver appointed by Court on application of judgment-debtors—Consent of decree-holder—Powers and duties of such Receiver—Res judicata—Civil Procedure Code, 1908, S. 11—Civil Procedure Code, 1877 (Act X of 1877), S. 13—Consent order.

A Receiver appointed by Court, by consent of all parties, will not, in the absence of proof of maladministration, be removed or discharged. His powers of "realisation, management, protection, preservation and improvement of the property" include a discretionary power of sale, "to be exercised in good faith in the interests of the estate, with the approval of the Court". A consent order does not prevent a party from impugning the administration thereunder " which is of such character as either (a) amounts to a malfeasance, and, accordingly, releases the consenter, or (b) has been proved by experience to be in substance so protracted and imperfect as to be futile. 40 M.L.J. 423; 11 I.A. 37, Ref. (Lord Shaw.) RAMESHWAR SINGH v. HITENDRA SINGH. 5 Pat L. T. 491 : 20 L. W. 456 35 M. L T 182 : L R. 5 : P. C. 175 : 40 C. L. J. 431 · 1 0. W. N. 457 : 81 I. C. 576 : 26 Bom. L. R. 1153 : 29 C. W. N. 413 : 22 A. L. J. 968 : 3 Pat. L. R. 180 : A. I. R. 1924 P. C. 202 : 47 M. L. J. 286 (P. C.)

——————0. 40, R. 1 and 0. 43, R. 1 (s)—Removal of Receiver—Order refusing—Appeal—Manager appointed under—Position and rights.

An order refusing to remove a person from his position of a receiver is not an order coming under O. 40, R. 1 or R. 4, C. P. Code, and, therefore, no appeal lies against it under O. 43, R. 1 (s). There is no provision in the Code for appointing a manager; when a manager is appointed, it is really another name for the appointment of a receiver under O. 40, C. P. Code. (Krishnan and Waller, JJ.) RAMASWAMI NAIDU v. AYYALU NAIDU. 19 L. W. 247 : 34 M. L. T. 6 : 78 I. C. 625 : A. I. R. 1924 Mad. 614 : 46 M. L. J. 196.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 40, R. 1—Suit against Receiver.

Scheme suit.

——————0. 40, R. 1 and S. 92—Scheme suit—Receiver, appointment of.

In a suit under S. 92 of the Code, the Court has power to supersede a trustee and appoint a Receiver during the pendency of the suit, notwithstanding that the trustee was appointed manager by the Temple Committee and was removeable only after regular enquiry. (Oldfield and Ramesam, JJ.) KUPPUSAMI MUDALIAR v. SUBRAMANIAM CHETTIYAR.

(1923) M. W. N. 75 : 16 L. W. 927 : A. I. R. 1923 Mad. 224 : 41 M. L. J. 545.

Selection of Receiver.

——————0. 40, R. 1—Selection of Receiver—Even in partition or partnership cases party must not be appointed Receiver without opponent's consent where Court cannot rely on his honest and disinterested management.

Except in special cases, a party shall not be appointed Receiver without the consent of the opponent. But in cases of partnership and partition, exception is made to the general rule. But the exception does not apply where the Court cannot rely on honest and disinterested management on the part of the party seeking to be appointed. 18 C. W. N. 533, Dist. Allen v. Lloyd 12 Ch. D. 447, Ref. to. (Das and Ross, JJ.) BHAGAWAN DAS v. SHEO NANDAN PRASAD SAHU.

3 Pat. 964 : 6 Pat. L. T. 778 : 85 I. C. 93 : A. I. R. 1925 Pat. 293.

Suit against Receiver.

——————0. 40, R. 1—Suit against Receiver—Nature of office of Receiver.

The object sought by the appointment of a Receiver is the safeguarding of property for the benefit of those entitled to it. His possession is on behalf and for the benefit of all the parties to the suit in which he is appointed, and is the possession of all the said parties according to their titles. The property in his hands is in custodia legis for the person who can make a title to it. The title of the real owner is in no way affected either in theory or principle by his appointment. He collects and receives the rents, issues and profits not upon his own title but upon the title of some other persons, parties to the action. A Receiver is aptly described as the hand of the Court and is not the representative or agent of the party or parties but of the Court in the sense that he acts in the interest of neither plaintiff nor defendant but, for the common benefit of all parties interested. It is also correct in the sense that as the representative of the Court he is subject to its orders and accountable to such persons and in such manner as the Court may direct. It is not, however, a proposition which can be accepted as universally correct under all circumstances ; its correctness or otherwise would depend upon the nature of the cause in which and the party on whose behalf he is appointed and also on the nature of the transaction which he enters into. 22 Cal. 960, Foll. A person who is prejudiced by the conduct of a Receiver appointed in an action ought not, without the leave of the Court, to commence an action against him for adequate reliefs ; more ordinarily would his remedy lie in an application to the Court in the course of the action itself. Where the accountability of a Receiver depends upon debatable questions not easy to be dealt with at the passing of the receiver's accounts, the Court often declines to go into the matter in such proceedings. (Walmsley and Mukerji, JJ.) EASTERN MORTGAGE AND AGENCY CO., LTD v. FAZLUL KARIM. 52 Cal. 914 : 41 C.L.J. 571 : 90 I.C. 851 : A. I. R. 1926 Cal. 385.

C. P CODE (V OF 1908), O. 40, R. 1—Suit against Receiver.

——O. 40, R. 1—Suit against Receiver—Accounts.

An owner of an estate cannot sue a Tahsildar for accounts, where he is appointed a Receiver under order of Court; the suit is one of the nature of a bill of discovery and can be maintained only on proof of fiduciary relation between the parties. A Receiver can be sued if he had monies belonging to the estate on hand even after his discharge. A Receiver is not a representative of the owner but an officer of the Court. (Mookerjee, A. C. J. and Fletcher, J.) HARIHAR MUKERJI v. JAHARADDIN MANDAL.
62 I. C. 768 : 26 C. W. N. 992.

——O. 40, R. 1—Suit against Receiver—Sanction.

Per Sadasiva Aiyar, J. :—Obiter.—The necessity to obtain the sanction before the institution of a suit against the Receiver is imposed by the Common Law, merely to enforce due respect towards Courts of Justice and omission to do so does not affect the jurisdiction of the Courts (Sadasiva Aiyar and Spencer, JJ.) JAGANA SANYASIAH v. MYCHERLA PEDA ATCHANNA. 15 L. W. 289 : 70 I. C. 759 : 42 M. L. J. 339.

——O. 40, R. 1—Suit against Receiver—Sanction of Court, when to be obtained.

The omission to obtain the previous sanction of the Court to a suit against a Receiver appointed by the Court does not affect the jurisdiction of the Court trying the suit, but is an illegality which can be cured by obtaining it during the course of litigation. (Sadasiva Aiyar and Spencer, JJ.) KARUTH PARAKOTE AMMUKUTTY v. MANAVIKRAMAN.
43 Mad. 793 : 59 I. C. 568 : 12 L. W. 331

——O. 40, R. 1—Suit against Receiver—Acts done in official capacity—Court's leave necessary.

It is clear law that as a Receiver is an officer of the Court he cannot be sued for acts done in his official capacity by a third party except with the leave of the Court. Ordinarily the party feeling aggrieved by the Receiver's conduct should seek redress against him in the very proceeding in which he was appointed as Receiver and any separate proceeding taken against him either in that Court or elsewhere should be with the leave of the Court under whose authority the Receiver was acting. (Rutledge, J.) K. K. SECUNDER v. J. A. M. KASAIAR & CO. 1 R. 138 : A. I. R. 1923 Rang. 208.

Trust.

——O. 40, R. 1—Trust—Grounds for appointment—Trustee a poor man.

The fact that the trustee is a poor man, and that in case a decree for mesne profits is passed against him, it would be difficult to realize the decretal amount, is not a sufficient ground for his removal and appointment of Receiver in his place. (Piggott and Walsh, JJ.) MAHAMAD ASKARI v NISAR HUSAIN.
43 All. 311 : 60 I. C. 901 : 19 A. L. J. 50.

——O. 40, R. 2—Remuneration must not exceed the income of the estate realised by Receiver.

The remuneration fixed for receivers under the C. P. Code need not necessarily be the limit of the remuneration to be fixed in a case under S. 145, Cr. P. Code, but in all the circumstances the total amount of the remuneration should certainly, on every standard of equity and justice, be not more than the net income realised by the Receiver from the estate. (Findlay, O. J. C.) MT. YAMUNABAI. v. EMPEROR.
8 N. L. J. 167 : A. I. R. 1925 Nag. 462.

——O. 40, R. 3—Receiver must give details of expenditure.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 40, R. 4 (b).

The Receiver must not merely show that he paid certain sums as litigation expenses, but also furnish details of expenditure. (Mookerjee and Chotzner, JJ.) HAJI TELLER RAHMAN v. GOLAM GONE.
40 C. L. J. 28 : 82 I. C. 419 : A. I. R. 1924 Cal. 1063.

——O. 40, Rr. 3 and 4—Order fixing Receiver with liability—Order to levy amount from him—Appeal—Scope of.

Where an order is passed under O. 40, R. 3, making a Receiver indebted to the estate to a certain amount, the order is not appealable but can in suitable cases be revised—when such an order is followed by an order to take coercive steps to force the Receiver to pay what is due from him under O. 40, R. 4, the order is appealable and in the appeal the propriety of the prior order under R.3 will also be open to attack; otherwise the right of appeal is of no value. (Kennedy and Aston, A. J. Cs.) KHAN CHAND v. ABDUL MAJID.
A. I. R. 1924 Sind 35.

——O. 40 R. 4 and O. 43, R. 1 (s)—Order passing accounts of Receiver—Appealable.

An order passing a Receiver's account is one under O. 40, R. 4 and is appealable under O. 43, R. 1 (s). (Macleod, C. J. and Heaton, J.) SHRINIVAS KUPPUSAMI MUDALIAR v. M. C. WAZ. 45 Bom. 99 : 59 I. C. 421 : 22 Bom. L. R. 1126.

——O. 40, R. 4—Receiver not obeying orders ought to be removed.

Receiver who has not complied with the Court's order directing him to keep accounts, etc., ought to be removed from his office. (Martineau, J.) BIHARI LAL v. SHANKAR DAS. 7 L. L. J. 6: 86 I.C. 246 : A. I. R. 1925 Lah. 309.

——O. 40, R. 4—Receiver—Neglect—Account.

An appeal from an order on an application to the Court below, to call upon a discharged receiver in a suit to render accounts and refund losses due to his neglect during the time he was in the office of a Receiver, is not competent. (Le Rossignol and Abdul Qadir, JJ.) GOKAL CHAND v. UDHERAM.
A. I. R. 1922 Lah. 224 (1).

——O. 40, R. 4—Receiver ordered to pay damages—No appeal lies from such order—C. P. Code, O. 43. R. 1 (s).

An order directing a Receiver to pay a sum of money by way of damages is not appealable as it does not come within the operative part of R. 4. A. I. R. 1922 Mad. 234 ; 4 Pat. L. J. 636 ; 5 Pat. L. J. 97. Appr. 45 Bom. 99 and 42 Bom. 10, Dist. (Heald and Chari, JJ.) ARUNACHELLAM CHETTIAR v. U PO U.
4 Bur. L. J. 91 : A. I. R. 1925 Rang. 266.

——O. 40, R. 4 (b)—Appeal—Scope—Order for payment in Court—Court's duty.

In an appeal from order under O. 40, R. 4, it is open to the Receiver to question the correctness of the amount said to be due from him. A Court should first direct the Receiver to submit his accounts for the period during which he was in possession of the properties ; and then give the plaintiff an opportunity to surcharge and falsify them and raise his objection to them. After hearing the objections, the Court should decide the exact amount which the Receiver is liable to pay. After that the Receiver should be directed to pay into Court the amount due within a certain time fixed by the Court. If he fails to pay the amount without proper reason within the time fixed, the Court can then pass an order directing the attachment of his property under R. 4. (Krishnan and Venkatasubba Rao, JJ.) R. M. P. PALANIAPPA CHETTI v. M. S. A. PL. PALANIAPPA CHETTI. (1922) M. W. N. 741 : 16 L. W. 754 : A. I. R. 1923 Mad. 85 (2) : 43 M. L. J. 707.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 41.

——— O. 41—Applicability.

Order 41 has no application to appeals from the Original Side of a High Court. (Coutts-Trotter, C. J. and Srinivasa Aiyangar, J.) P. K. BHIMASENA RAO v. C. VENUGOPAL MUDALI. 21 L. W. 672 : 88 I. C. 443 : (1925) M. W. N. 190 : 48 M. 631 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 725 : 48 M. L. J. 384.

——— O. 41, R. 1—Appellant must show that judgment is wrong.

In every appeal, the appellant must show some reason why the judgment appealed from should be disturbed. There must be some balance in their favour when all the circumstances are considered to justify the alteration of the judgment that stands. (Lord Buckmaster.) FAKRUNISSA v. IZARUS SADIK. 17 N. L. R. 72 : 63 I. C. 898 : 25 C. W. N. 866 (P. C.)

——— O. 41, R. 1—Two appeals against same respondent—Single judgment—One appeal—Validity.

Where two appeals against the same respondent were disposed of by one judgment and allowed and he files a single appeal impleading both the successful appellants as respondents, the defect was only a technical one and the appeal is competent. (Mukerji, J.) BIJAI BAHADUR v. PARAMESHWARI RAM. A. I. R. 1924 All. 834.

——— O. 41, R. 1—Valid presentation—What is.

In cases in which a formal order is not drawn up, it is sufficient for the appellant to attach to his memorandum of appeal a copy of the judgment alone, but where a separate order is drawn up both are necessary. (Kanhaiya Lal, J.) KEDAR NATH v. NANAK. A. I. R. 1924 All. 162

——— O. 41, R. 1—Failure to file copy of order appealed from.

The appellants before the District Judge failed to file a copy of the formal order, appealed against but the formal order was a precise copy, so far as its operative words were concerned, of the judgment of the order which they did file, held, that the failure mattered to nobody and the objection was futile. (Walsh and Ryves, JJ.) MT. KAUSILLA KUER v. MT. SUKHDEI. 21 A. L. J. 452 : L. R. 4 A. (Civ.) 246 : A. I. R. 1923 All. 579.

——— O. 41, R. 1—Allahabad High Court Rules, Ch. III, R. 2—Presentation of second appeal—Judgment copy of first Court not filed—Procedure.

O. 41, R. 1 of the Code as revised by R. 2, Chap. III, of the Allahabad High Court Rules, required a copy of the first Court judgment, to be filed with the appeal and a Judge of the High Court must decline to allow an appeal to be presented without such copy nor can he extend the time for filing the same. (Walsh, Lindsay and Sulaiman, JJ.) BHAIRON GHULAM v. RAMAUTAR SINGH 19 A. L. J. 598 : 63 I. C. 338 : 3 U. P. L. R (A.) 165 (F. B.)

——— O. 41, R. 1—Appeal from award under Land Acquisition Act—Copy of award to be filed.

Where a number of separate references under the Land Acquisition Act are heard together and disposed of by one judgment, and where distinct appeals are filed from this judgment, it is absolutely essential that a copy of the award should accompany each memorandum of appeal, and the Appellate Court has no power to dispense with such a copy. (Scott Smith and Martineau, JJ.) MUBARAK ALI SHAH v. SECY. OF STATE. 6 Lah. 218 : 26 Punj. L.R. 356 : A. I. R. 1925 Lah. 438.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 41, R. 1.

——— O. 41, R. 1—Appeal—Copy of decree not presented—Decree not prepared—Effect of.

Where the plaintiff's suit was dismissed by the trial Court but no decree was drawn up, it is not competent for an appellate Court to entertain an appeal from the decision of the trial Court. The proper course for the appellate Court is to adjourn the appeal to enable the plaintiff to file a copy of the decree. 19 P. R. 1919 ; 66 P. R. 1916, Foll. (Harrison, J.) SHER MAHOMED v. MAHOMED KHAN. A. I. R. 1924 Lah 352.

——— O. 41, R. 1—Memorandum of appeal written by petition-writer—Not invalid.

It is immaterial whether a memorandum of appeal is written by the appellant himself or by somebody else as long as it is signed by the appellant or his agent duly authorised in his behalf, and represented to the proper authority. Hence there is no valid objection to the entertainment of the appeal where the memorandum is written by a petition-writer. (Shadi Lal, C. J. and Zafar Ali, J.) MUSSAMMAT SHIB DEVI v RALLA RAM. 83 I. C. 543 (1) : A. I. R. 1923 Lah. 484.

——— O. 41, R. 1—Two appeals and two decrees in suit—Both decrees must be filed.

Where from the decree in a suit two appeals were preferred and two decrees drawn up by the appellate Court, O. 41, R. 1, C P. Code, requires both decrees to be filed for the presentation of a second appeal to be valid. (Scott-Smith and Harrison, JJ.) MAHOMMAD DIN v. MSST. ZERUNNISSA. 3 Lah. 215. 77 I. C. 541 : A. I. R. 1922 Lah. 390.

——— O. 41, R. 1—Copy of decree not filed—No valid presentation.

Presentation of memorandum of appeal unaccompanied by a copy of decree is no legal presentation. (Chevis, J.) BASHI RAM v. MUNICIPAL COMMITTEE, CHINIOT. 4 Lah.L.J. 193 : A.I.R. 1922 Lah. 191.

——— O. 41, R. 1 and O. 42, R. 1—Second appeal—Presentation of —Copy of interlocutory order not filed—Does not affect validity of presentation.

Where a second appeal is filed without a copy of the interlocutory order referred to in the judgment of the Court below it does not affect the validity of the presentation, especially when the points decided by the interlocutory order do not arise in the appeal. Even if the appeal could be considered to have been presented only when the copy of the interlocutory order was filed, there was sufficient cause for excusing the delay. (Martineau, J.) LAKSHMI DAS v. ISHAR DAS. 4 Lah. L. J. 20 : A. I. R. 1922 Lah. 93.

——— O. 41, R. 1—Copy of translation of decree filed—Not a valid presentation.

Where a second appeal was presented with an Urdu translation of the decree of the District Court and without an English copy is invalid and the Court refused to excuse the delay in filing a proper copy. (Chevis and Le Rossignol, JJ.) DAIM v. HAYAT. 4 Lah. L. J. 381.

——— O. 41, R. 1—Copy of judgment, if necessary.

Memo. of appeal must be accompanied by a copy of the judgment appealed from and in the absence of an explanation for delay, filing the copy after the period of limitation will justify dismissal of the appeal. (Martineau, J.) DYALA v. HIRU. 67 I. C. 670 : 3 Lah. L. J. 255.

——— O. 41, R. 1—Memo. of appeal without judgment—Not valid.

A memo. of appeal not accompanied by a copy of the first Court's judgment is not a valid memorandum.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 41, R. 1.

(Chevis, J.) MOLU MAL v. SRI RAM.
63 I. C. 33 : 2 Lah. 227.

——O. 41, R. 1—Second appeal—Presentation of, without copy of decree is not valid—Power to excuse delay in furnishing copies—Ex parte order excusing delay—Application to vacate order by respondent is competent.

The provisions of O. 41, R. 1, C. P. Code, are imperative and the presentation of a memorandum of second appeal without a copy of the decree appealed against is not a valid presentation. 27 I. C. 447 : 16 C. L. J. 135 : 16 All. 77, Foll. It is open to the Court in the exercise of its discretion under S. 5 of the Limitation Act to excuse the delay in the presentation of the decree appealed against. 17 C. L. J. 66, Ref. to. Where an ex parte order is passed excusing the delay in the presentation of an appeal, it is open to the respondent to apply to have the order set aside. (Kumara swami Sastri, J.) SUNDARAM AIYAR v. RAJA RAJESWARA MUTHURAMALINGA SETHUPATHI.
(1923) M. W. N. 164 : 17 L. W. 352 : 32 M. L. T. (H. C.) 232 : A. I. R. 1923 Mad. 482 : 44 M L. J. 279.

——O. 41, R. 1—Copy of judgment not filed—Notice issued—Effect.

Where an appeal is filed without a copy of the judgment and the Court issues notice thereon, it amounts to dispensing with the same and it cannot be objected afterwards that the appeal was not validly presented. (Baker, J. C and Prideaux, A. J. C.) AGENT, G. I. P. RY. CO. v. JASRUP SHRINATH.
90 I. C. 135.

——O. 41, R. 1—Copy of decree.

An appeal unaccompanied by the copy of the decree is liable to be dismissed. (Kinkhede, A. J. C.) BALIRAM v. GHASIRAM.
81 I. C. 1001 : A. I. R. 1925 Nag. 52.

——O. 41, R. 1—Presentation of appeal by pleader with no authority is not valid.

The appellant engaged one pleader A and executed a power-of-attorney in his favour authorising him to appoint another pleader, if necessary. A engaged another pleader B but did not execute a power in his name. B put his own name on the power executed in favour of A. Held, the appeal was not validly presented as there was no proper appointment of B either by the appellant or by A. (Batten, O. J. C.) CHITTAR v. LAXMI NARAYAN. 62 I. C. 259 (Nag).

——O. 41, R. 1—Conditional order setting aside ex parte decree—Appeal—Order of dismissal.

An ex parte decree was set aside on condition the defendant deposited in Court a large sum of money; an appeal was preferred against it, but meanwhile for non-compliance with the order, the petition had been dismissed. Held, the order of dismissal should also be filed. (Dalal, J. C.) INDAR SINGH v. GURDAYAL SINGH. A. I. R. 1924 Oudh 229.

——O. 41, R. 1—Memorandum of appeal—Presentation.

There is nothing to prevent the presentation of a plaint or a memorandum of appeal during a vacation or even on a Sunday, provided it is presented to a proper officer and that officer receives it. (Jwala Prasad, J.) ANAND RAM v. RAM GULAM. 2 P. 264 : 3 P. L.T. 820 : 1922 P. H C.C. 365 : 1 P. L. R. 12 : 71 I. C. 426 : A. I. R. 1923 Pat. 150.

——O. 41, R. 1—Several appeals from one judgment—Copies of judgment necessary with memo.

Where there are several appeals from one judgment by different appellants, the High Court will insist under the rules to have copies of judgment filed with each memo. of appeal though where there are several appeals from the same judgment by the same appellant, he should be permitted to file one copy only of the judgment with the memorandum in one of his appeals. (Dawson Miller, C. J. and Coutts, J.) RIAJAN THAKUR v. CHARITAR THAKUR.
1 P. 670 : 4 Pat. L. T. 290 : A. I R. 1922 Pat. 580.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 41, R. 2.

——O. 41, R. 1—Appeal—Presentation without copy of judgment is not illegal.

A second appeal filed without a copy of the trial Court's judgment within time is not incompetent, inasmuch as O. 41, R. 1, C. P. Code, requires that only a copy of the lower appellate Court's judgment is to be filed and does not require the filing of the judgment of the trial Court. (Jwala Prasad and Ross, JJ.) RAMDEO SINGH v. MAKHAN SINGH.
74 I. C. 330 : 1923 P. H.C C. 19.

——O. 41, R. 1—Appeal—Copy of decree not filed—No valid presentation.

Under O. 41, R. 1, C. P. Code, every memorandum of appeal must be accompanied by a copy of the decree appealed from and without such copy there is no valid presentation of the appeal. (Brown, J. C.) MAUNG PO SAUNG v. MA MUN. 65 I. C. 68 : (1921) 4 U. B. R. 75.

——O. 41, R. 1—Specific issue for each plea must be raised.

Where a memorandum of appeal ran as follows :—"That the Court below should have decided issues 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 12 and 13 in favour of the defendants-appellants," held, each plea should raise a specific issue. Appeals drawn up in this way are liable to be returned for amendments. (Daniels, J. C.) BANKE LAL v. KANHALAL. 9 O. L. J. 637 : A. I. R. 1923 Oudh 113.

——O. 41, R. 2—Plaintiff accepting decision of Trial Court—Cannot challenge in Second Appeal.

A plaintiff accepting the decision of the Trial Court as to the amount due to him, and not appealing, cannot challenge its correctness in Second Appeal by means of a cross-objection. (Tudball and Rafique, JJ.) HARDEO PRASAD v. GANGA SAHAI.
61 I. C. 48 : 19 A. L. J. 155.

——O. 41, R. 2—Presentation without copy of a decree is invalid.

There is no proper presentation of an appeal without a copy of a decree even when there is no decree in existence. (Shadi Lal, C. J. and Martineau, J.) THE MUNICIPAL COMMITTEE, CHINIOT v. BASHI RAM. 69 I. C. 895 : A. I. R. 1922 Lah. 170.

——O. 41, R. 2—Alternative grounds of appeal—Power of Court to go into.

Where alternative grounds of appeal are raised, an appellate Court can go into questions admitted for the purposes of an alternative argument and finding adversely to the appellant. (Broadway and Martineau, JJ.) RAM DAS v. MT. PANNA DEVI.
84 I. C. 1039 : 5 Lah. L. J. 117.

——O. 41, R. 2—Appeal—New grounds—When allowed—New basis of claim.

A plea which is not raised in the trial should not be considered by the Dist. Court. (Leslie Jones and Broadway, JJ.) RAMCHAND v. RAMA NAND.
68 I. C. 227 : 3 L. L. J. 392.

——O. 41. R. 2—Factum of adoption not questioned—Effect.

Where the finding of the lower appellate Court against the factum of adoption was not questioned on the grounds of second appeal, held, the validity of the adoption could not be allowed to be urged at the further proceedings. (Ayling and Odgers, JJ.) RAJAMBAL AMMAL v. SHANMUGA MUDALIAR.
(1922) M. W. N. 481 : 70 I. C. 653 :

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 41 R. 2.

A. I. R. 1923 Mad. 11.

——O. 41, R. 2—Case remanded for admitting oral evidence—Oral evidence not admissible at all in the case—Order of remand not appealed against—Second appeal—Court exercised powers under R. 2 of O. 41—C. P. Code., O. 41, R. 23.

Where the lower appellate Court remanded an appeal for admission of oral evidence when such evidence was not admissible, held, that it was a fit case for the exercise of the power conferred on appellate Court under O. 41, R. 2.

Where the order of remand was appealable under O. 43, R. 1, C. P. Code, but the appellant did not appeal against it and he was precluded from disputing the correctness of the order of remand in final appeal, held, that this preclusion of a party does not take away the power which vests in a Court of appeal under O. 41, R. 2, to base its decision upon a point not urged in the memorandum of appeal and, therefore, it can grant relief to the appellant in a fit case. (Kinkhede, A. J. C.) BALIRAM v. SADARAM.

89 I. C. 1019 : A. I. R. 1926 Nag. 147.

——O. 41, R. 4—Court is not bound to pass decree in favour of non-appealing parties.

A Court is not bound to exercise its discretion in favour of a non-appealing party under O. 41, R. 4. 36 All. 510, Foll. (Mukerji, J.) JAI NARAIN SINGH v. MANDHAI SINGH. L. R. 6 A. (Civ.) 495 : A. I. R. 1926 All. 64.

——O. 41, R. 4—Appeal—Persons not made parties to—If can appeal from appellate decree.

Where one of several plaintiffs prefers an appeal in which other plaintiffs are also interested, O. 41, R. 4 of the Civil Procedure Code does not authorise him to proceed with the appeal without making the other plaintiffs parties thereto. At the same time if the plaintiffs are not made parties to the appeal they have no locus standi to go in appeal against the decree of the appellate Court. (Daniels, J.) BALKARAN LAL v. MALIK NAMDAR. L. R. 5 A. 279 : 78 I C. 637 : A. I. R. 1924 All. 873.

——O. 41, Rr. 4 and 33—Parties—Transposition of respondents as appellants—Power of Court.

The trial Court passed a decree against two defendants jointly on the ground that they were equally liable. One appealed from the decree and the other filed a memorandum of cross-objections. On appeal, held, that as the decree of the lower Court proceeded upon a ground common to both, it was competent to the appellate Court to transpose the other defendant as an appellant and decide the appeal. (Sulaiman and Kanhaiya Lal, JJ.) EAST INDIAN RY. CO. v. LALA JANKI PRASAD. L. R. 5 A. 586 : 80 I.C. 737 : A. I. R. 1924 All. 605.

——O. 41, R. 4—Joint plaintiffs—Appeal by one—All must be made parties.

Where one of several plaintiffs prefers an appeal in which the other plaintiffs are also interested, O. 41, R. 4 does not authorise him to proceed with the appeal without making the other plaintiffs parties thereto. (Rafique and Piggott, JJ.) AMBIKA PRASAD v. JHINAK SINGH. 45 A. 286 : 21 A. L. J. 91 : L. R. 4 A. 92 : 71 I. C. 321 : A. I. R. 1923 All. 211.

——O. 41, R. 4—Power of appellate Court to vary joint decree of lower Court in the absence of one of the plffs. respondents—Rule limited to the case of appellants.

O. 41, R. 4 C.P.Code, is limited to the case of appellants. Where pending an appeal against a joint decree for possession in favour of the plffs. one of the plffs. respondents died and his legal representatives were not brought on record in time, held, that the Court cannot proceed under O. 41 R. 4, C. P Code. (Suhrawardy and Duval, JJ.) MANINDRA CHANDRA NANDI v. BHAGABATI DEVI CHAUDURANI.

90 I. C. 986 : 30 C. W. N. 45.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 41, R. 4.

——O. 41, R. 4—Scope.

A judgment-debtor who did not appeal but who filed an application in the lower Court consenting to the decree being executed as against him on which no order was passed can be given the benefit of the appeal preferred by other judgment-debtors. (Newbould and B. B. Ghose, JJ.) KHAJEH SALALUDIN v. AFZAL BEGUM. 28 C. W. N. 963 : 39 C. L. J. 590 : 84 I. C. 68 : A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 23.

——O 41, R. 4—Appeal by one deft.—Decree against several—When can be set aside.

Though a decree against several defendants which proceeds upon a ground common to them all can be set aside on appeal at the instance of one of them, it cannot be so set aside when the appealing deft. values the appeal for a sum representing the amount decreed against him alone. Such an appeal is not one against the entire decree at all. (N. R. Chatterjee and Panton, JJ.) JOGENDRA NATH ROY CHAUDHURI v. RAJENDRA NATH RAI CHAUDHURI. 63 I. C. 95 (Cal.)

——O. 41, R. 4—Powers of Appellate Court—Variation in decree.

If a decree is passed against several defendants on a common ground, the appellate Court can, on appeal by one defendant only, vary the decree in favour of all. (Shamsul Huda and Panton, JJ.) RAM SUNDER DAS v. SHAJIDUR RAHMAN. 60 I. C. 460.

——O. 41, R. 4—Appeal by only one of the plaintiffs.

Where the contention was that the appeal should be regarded as having been dismissed so far as half the share of the other plaintiffs, who did not appeal, is concerned, held, the provisions of O. 41, R. 4 lay down that, if the decree appealed against proceeds on a ground common to all plaintiffs, any one of the plaintiffs may appeal from the whole decree and thereupon the appellate Court may reverse or vary the decree in favour of all the plaintiffs. (Chevis, J.) KUNDAN v. MAM RAJ. 4 Lah. L. J. 178: 31 P. W R. 1922 : A. I. R. 1922 Lah. 57.

——O. 41, R. 4—One appellant dying before decree—Decree obtained by other enuring to benefit of legal representatives of deceased—Legal representatives should be brought on record though applying after decree.

Where one of two appellants who were undivided Hindu brothers had been dead when the decree was passed in the appeal and where subsequently the deceased's legal representatives applied to be brought on the record, held, that as the decree passed legally in favour of the surviving appellant must enure for the benefit of all the members of the appellants' family, and as they wished to be formally brought on record as legal representatives of the deceased appellant who was not a party when the appeal was heard, their application to be brought on the record should be allowed. 27 B. 284 Foll. (Phillips and Krishnan, JJ.) GUNTUKU APPANNA v. GAVARAPPADU.

22 L. W. 142 : 87 I. C. 748 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 910 : 48 M. L. J. 601.

——O. 41, R. 4—Scope.

Where out of four defendants constituting partnership only three appealed against the decree which was for a sum of money alleged to have been lent to the partnership and one of the appellants died during the pendency of the appeal and his legal representative was the non-appearing defendant who was not brought on record, held, that O. 41, R. 4 would enable the

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 41, R. 4.

Court to grant relief to appellants, in view of the fact that taking of accounts was not necessary in the case. (Spencer, O. C. J.) NAMINENI CHENGAMMA NAIDU v. N. GANGULU NAIDU. 20 L. W. 402 : (1924) M. W. N. 789 : 82 I. C. 420 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad 235.

——O. 41, R. 4—Deceased defendant—Judgment in favour of—Appellate court can reverse.

Under O. 41, R. 4, C. P. Code, an appellate Court has power to reverse a judgment in favour of a deceased defendant as regards the whole of the plaintiff's claim and not only as regards that part of it in which the surviving defendants were particularly interested. 40 M. 846, 848 ; 25 M. L. J. 248 Foll. (Spencer and Ramesam, JJ.) SUBBARAYA MUDALIAR v. KANDASWAMI MUDALI. 32 M. L. T. 124 : 70 I. C. 168 : 16 L. W. 330 : (1922) M. W. N. 674 : A. I. R. 1923 Mad. 58.

——O. 41, R. 4—Common interest.

Where the second plaintiff was the transferee from the first plaintiff:

Held, that the question of the latter's title to the property in suit affected the second plaintiff's also and that a decision that first plaintiff's suit was not barred by limitation enured for the benefit of the second plaintiff also though he had not joined in the appeal. (Wazir Hasan, J. C. and Kendall, A. J. C.) BANS BAHADUR SINGH v. MT. SAKALRAJ KUAR. 11 O. L. J. 297 : 81 I. C. 484 : A. I. R. 1924 Oudh 385.

——O. 41, R. 4—Several plaintiffs—Revision applications by some—Interference.

Where some out of several plaintiffs prefer a revision on grounds common to all of them, it is open to the Court to interfere and set aside the order sought to be revised in favour of all the plaintiffs. (Fremantle, S. M. and Burn, J. M.) DEOKINANDAN v. MAHADEO SINGH. L. R. 5 O. 136 (Rev) : 10 O. & A. L. R. 942 : L. R. 5 A. 281 (Rev).

——O. 41, R. 4—Appeal—Parties—Some of the parties entitled to rent made respondents—Effect of.

Where certain tenants appealed making only some of the co-sharer landlords respondents, held, that as the respondents alone could not have sued for rent, the appeal impleading them without joining the other landlords as respondents was unsustainable. Under O. 1, R. 9, C. P. Code, a person who is a necessary party to the suit is a necessary party to the appeal. 6 C. W. N. 196 : 11 C. W. N. 504 : 31 C. 489 (P. C.) Rel. 34 C. 1020, Not Foll. (Ross, J.) JITENDRANATH CHATTERJI v. JHAKU MANDAR. 3 P. L. T. 456 : 66 I. C. 780 : A. I. R. 1922 Pat. 4.

——O. 41, R. 4.

Where in the course of a redemption suit by Burmese husband and wife the husband died, held, that the wife could prosecute the appeal. (Young and Baguley, JJ.) MAUNG BYAUNG v. MG. SHWE BAW. 2 Rang 486 : 3 Bur. L. J. 171 : 84 I. C. 170 : A. I. R. 1924 Rang 376.

——O. 41, R. 4—Power of Court to vary decree in favour of person not party to appeal.

O. 41, R. 4 deals with the case where the decree passed by the Trial Court proceeds on any ground common to all the plffs. or to all the defts. (Maung Kin, J.) A. C. T. R. M. CHETTY v. PO U. 63 I. C. 973 : 13 Bur. L. T. 163.

——O. 41, R. 5—Effect.

Stay order on condition of security by appellate Court comes into effect when security is given (Sulaiman and Mukerji, JJ.) SUPERIOR BANK LTD v. BUDH SINGH. 22 A. L. J. 413: L. R. 5 A. (C v.) 769: 83 I. C. 1028 : A. I. R. 1924 All. 698.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 41, R. 5.

——O. 41, R. 5—No appeal before Appellate Court—No stay of execution.

An appellate Court has no jurisdiction to order the stay of a sale unless it has seizin of the case and where there is no appeal before the appellate Court the order staying execution is ultra vires and is a nullity. (Mears, C. J. and Banerji, J.) PARSHOTTAM v. HARGU LAL. 43 All. 613 : 63 I. C. 837 : 19 A. L. J. 462.

——O. 41, R. 5—Appeal not filed—Appellate Court cannot order stay.

An Appellate Court cannot grant a stay of execution of a decree of the Subordinate Court unless it is actually hearing an appeal from such decree. When no appeal has been preferred, the Court passing the decree can alone grant a stay for sufficient cause within the time allowed for appeal. (Walsh and Gokul Prasad, JJ.) PARSHOTTAM SARKAR v. HARGULAL. 43 All. 198 : 2 U. P. L. R. (A.) 424 : 60 I. C. 131 : 18 A. L. J. 1121.

——O. 41, R. 5—Application for stay—Delay in applying—Dismissal without going into the merits—Propriety of.

An application for stay of execution was filed more than 9 months after the filing of the appeal. The Court dismissed it on the ground of delay, without going into the merits. Held, per Suhrawardy, J., it is the duty of the Court to go into the merits and decide, failing which the order can be revised by the High Court.

Per Graham, J., the power conferred by O. 41, R. 5 being discretionary, the order is not capable of revision if judicial discretion is used. The rule contemplates that application for stay should be made as soon as possible after filing the appeal. (Suhrawardy and Graham, JJ.) BIRESH CHANDRA DAS v. HARI DASI BOSE. 82 I. C. 435 : A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 254.

——O. 41, R. 5—Execution—Stay of—High Court, Original Side—Application to whom to be made—Practice.

If a party, against whom judgment has been given on the Original Side, desires to obtain a stay of execution, pending an intended appeal, and desires to apply in the first instance on the Original Side, he must apply within reasonable time to the Judge who decided the case. (Sanderson, C. J. and Richardson, J.) CHATURBHUJ CHANDANMULL v. BASDEO DAS DAGA. 25 C. W. N. 928 : 66 I. C. 198 : 48 C. 796.

——O. 41, Rr. 5 to 8—Appeal—Order refusing stay of sale.

An order refusing stay of sale under O. 41, R. 6 falls under S. 47 and is appealable. (Martineau, J.) SHANKAR DAS v. KASTURI LAL. 75 I. C. 789 : A. I. R. 1925 Lah. 69.

——O. 41, R. 5—Stay of execution—Powers of executing Court after appeal filed.

After an appeal is filed from a decree or order, it is only the appellate Court which could order stay of execution under O. 41, R. 5 and recourse cannot be had by the trial Court to S. 151 to override the provisions of R. 5. (Martineau, J.) FIRM GOBIND RAM-RAM CHANDER v. FIRM RULIA RAM NAURTA RAM. A. I. R. 1924 Lah 602.

——O. 41, R. 5—Order for—Security—No Appeal lies.

An injunction was granted to stay execution on the condition of filing security. The judgment-debtor thereupon offered to hypothecate his immoveable property by way of security. The Judge, however, refused to accept this security as sufficient and allowed two weeks' time to the judgment-debtor to produce some other person as surety. Held, every interlocutory order passed in the course of execution proceedings is not appealable, and an appeal lies only from a decres and a decree must conclusively determine the rights of the parties with regard to all or any of the matters in controversy. The order attacked is not appealable. (Moti Sagar, J.) BAJRANG DAS v. DONGARSE DAS.

75 I. C. 793 : A. I. R. 1923 Lah. 446.

——O. 41, R 5—Stay of sale during appeal.

If the decree-holders shall have sufficient security in the property itself which will remain under attachment, execution ought to be stayed. (Moti Sagar, J.) RAM GOPAL v. MANPUL SINGH.
75 I. C. 791 : A. I. R. 1923 Lah. 445 (2).

——O. 41, R 5—Scope of.

Where it had been found that the sale in favour of the petitioner, a rival pre-emptor, was not genuine and that he waived his right of pre-emption, held, unless it is shown that substantial loss would result to the petitioner, an order to stay execution in favour of the pre-emptor would not be made especially where the decree-holder has deposited a large sum of money which would be idle and where he would be placed in the same position as the petitioner with respect to the collection of rent. (Brasher, J.) ARJAMAND KHAN v. SHANKAR LAL.
A. I. R. 1922 Lah. 364.

——O. 41, R. 5—Stay of execution—Principles—Power of Appellate Court.

Where the learned Judge in Chambers has exercised a discretion vested in him by law, his order should not be disturbed unless there is anything to show that it was without jurisdiction or was passed with material irregularity or there is any adequate proof that some loss would be occasioned by it to the appellant which can be called substantial. Where one obvious loss is that the appeal which is pending becomes useless, another probable loss is that the business of the appellant firm will be seriously disturbed by their account books passing into the hands of the receiver, and where the process is likely to be a protracted and expensive one, the balance of convenience is in favour of staying the execution rather than proceeding with it. (Shadi Lal and Abdul Qadir, JJ.) THE FIRM OF BADRI DAS JANKIDAS OF DELHI v. MATHANMAL.
A. I. R. 1922 Lah. 185.

——O. 41, R. 5—Grounds for stay—Substantial loss.

Sufficient cause for the stay of execution under O. 41, R. 5 of the Code is not shown merely by putting in an affidavit, containing a bare statement that the appellant will suffer substantial loss. The rule laid down in O. 41, R. 5, C. P. Code, applies to immoveable equally with moveable property. (Scott-Smith and Leslie Jones, JJ.) DHERA MAL v. HAIDAR SHAH.
61 I. C. 77 : 2 Lah. 61.

——O. 41, R 5—Stay of execution—Mortgage decree.

The execution of a mortgage-decree to be realised from the mortgaged property and the balance, if any, from the judgment-debtor's other property, cannot be stayed simply because a claim by a prior mortgagee is pending. The hypothecated property should be sold, and after retaining out of the sale proceeds the amount sufficient to meet the claim, the balance should be paid to the decree holder. (Scott-Smith, J.) UDE RAM v. BENI PRASAD.
60 I. C. 378 : 57 P. W. R. 1920.

——O. 41, R. 5—Stay of execution—Costs—Practice.

Where the respondent is an insolvent and an application for stay of execution on the term of taxed costs is presented the proper order to make is to direct the appellant to pay the costs to the respondent's solicitor on the latter's undertaking to repay the same in the event of the appellant succeeding on appeal. (Schwabe, C. J. and Krishnan, J.) RAMANUJAM CHETTY v. PADMANABHAM PILLAI.

16 L. W. 975 : (1923) M. W. N. 73 : 31 M. L. T. 440 : 70 I. C. 784 : A. I. R. 1923 Mad. 229 (2).

——O. 41, R. 5—Notice to decree-holder—Possession delivered—Effect.

Before a final order staying execution is passed under O. 41, R. 5, notice to show cause should issue to the decree-holder. If by that time decree is executed or possession delivered, there is nothing to stay. (Kulwant Sahay, J.) HIRA LAL v CHUNI SAH.
5 Pat. L. T. 556 : 79 I. C. 1 : 2 Pat. L. R. 263 : A. I. R. 1924 Pat. 715.

——O. 41, R. 5—Conflicting allegations—Balance of convenience to be looked to.

In an application by the judgment-debtor for stay of execution pending the disposal of the appeal, the judgment-debtor alleged that on the land in question stood his coolie shed and tram lines for the purpose of working colliery and the opposite party denied the existence of any coolie shed or the tram lines. Held, that the balance of convenience lay in staying the execution and delivery of possession of the property in dispute pending the disposal of the appeal on the judgment-debtor furnishing sufficient security for the restitution of the same to the decree-holder in the event of the appeal being dismissed. (Jwala Prasad and Ross, JJ.) KARSHAN BHABAN v. INDRA NARAYAN.
4 P. L. T. 508 : 76 I. C. 49 : 1 P. L. R 393 : A. I. R. 1923 Pat. 597.

——O. 41, R. 5—Proceedings for taking accounts—Stay of.

Unless irreparable injury will otherwise be caused, stay of proceedings for taking accounts will not be allowed. (Mullick and Bucknill, JJ.) HARIHAR PRASAD SINGH v. KESHAV PRASAD SINGH.
61 I. C. 9 (Pat.).

——O. 41, R. 5—Staying proceedings in suit—Registrar—Power of—Inherent power of Court.

The Registrar of the Patna High Court has power to receive and dispose of applications under O. 41, R. 5 only for stay of execution and has no power to stay proceedings in a suit pending appeal. An appellate Court has that jurisdiction, not under O. 41, R. 5 but under its inherent power. (Das and Adami, JJ.) NENA OJHA v. SARBHOO DUTT OJHA.
59 I. C 883 : 2 Pat. L T. 70.

——O. 41, R. 5—Appeal—Does not operate as stay.

An appeal does not by itself operate as a stay of execution. (Saunders, J. C.) MAUNG YANSIN v. KATHIRESAN CHETTY.
63 I. C. 799 : (1921) 4 U. B. R. 1.

——O. 41, R. 5 (2) (c)—What is required is a mortgage bond which if property exceeds Rs. 100 in value must be registered.

The forms given in Appendix G of the Civil Procedure Code for security bonds in such cases indicate clearly that what is required is a mortgage of property to secure the decree, and such a mortgage would naturally require registration in cases where the property exceeded the value of Rs. 100. (Duckworth and Godfrey, JJ.) P. R. P. R. SOMASUNDARAM CHETTIAR v. V. P. N. NACHIAPPA CHETTIAR.
2 Rang. 429 : 84 I. C. 302 : A. I. R. 1925 Rang. 55.

——O. 41. R. 5 (3) (a), (b) and (c)—Decree for possession of immoveable property—Stay of execution.

The execution of a decree for possession of property, moveable or immoveable, is not to be stayed unless all the three conditions in O. 41, R. 5 (3) (a), (b) and (c) are satisfied. The most important thing to be remembered is whether substantial loss will result to the plaintiff if the order applied for is not made. (Abdul Raoof, J.) RAJINDRA SINGH v. UMRAO SINGH.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 41, R. 6.

64 I. C. 827 (Lah.).

——— O. 41, R. 6—Stay of execution—Security furnished—Insolvency of debtor—Rights of Official Assignee.

Pending an appeal against a decree for money the defendant-appellant applied for stay of execution and obtained an order for stay on depositing the decretal amount into Court. Subsequently the defendant-appellant was adjudicated insolvent and the Official Assignee did not prosecute the appeal. The Official Assignee claimed to be entitled to be paid out the money deposited in Court and the decree-holder opposed the application. Held, that the amount was earmarked for the decree-holder and could not be paid out to the Official Assignee. (Sanderson, C. J. and Walmsley, J.) CHOWTHMULL MAGANMULL v. THE CALCUTTA WHEAT AND SEEDS ASSN.
51 Cal. 1010 : A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 416.

———O. 41, Rr. 6 and 8—Order to furnish security passed—No enquiry made as to value of property attached—Revision lies.

Where security was ordered to be paid to stay a sale of immoveable property pending appeal, without making any enquiry as to the value of the property attached, held, that the order was liable to be set aside in revision. (Moti Sagar, J.) POKHAR DAS v. GHANAYA LAL.
6 Lah. L. J. 510 : A. I. R. 1925 Lah. 256.

———O. 41, R. 6—Claim suit dismissed—Appeal—Sale in execution in which claim was preferred cannot be stayed.

After the rejection of a claim petition in execution proceedings the claimant filed his suit for declaration of title and on its being dismissed appealed. Pending the appeal, he applied for a stay of sale. Held, O. 41, R. 6 applies only to cases where the appeal is against the decree which is to be executed. The petitioner's remedy is to ask for a temporary injunction under O. 39. (Le Rossignol, J.) MOLAR v. KANHAIYA LAL. 4 Lah. L. J. 188 : A. I. R. 1922 Lah. 58.

——— O. 41, R. 6—Appeal to Privy Council pending—Trial Court cannot pass order under O. 41, R. 6.

Where after a suit was decreed by the High Court on appeal, there was an appeal to the Privy Council. Held, that the Trial Court had no jurisdiction to pass an order under O. 41, R. 6 against the decree-holder for security for the property of which he obtained possession. The proper Court to deal with the matter was not the original Court but the High Court which had to be moved under O. 45, R. 13. (Carr and Brown, JJ.) MAUNG PO SHEIN v. MAUNG PO KIN. 3 Rang. 158 : 88 I. C. 992 : 4 Bur. L. J. 50 : A. I. R. 1925 Rang. 254.

——— O. 41, R. 6 (2)—Stay of sale—Terms—Nature of.

Under O. 41, R. 6 (2), it is incumbent on a Court to stay sale on such terms as to giving security or otherwise as the Court thinks fit until the appeal is disposed of. Where the Court stays a sale on condition that the decree amount is deposited and paid to the decree-holder who is not required to furnish security, the order is one in effect refusing to stay the sale. (Martineau, J.) SHANKAR DAS v. KASTURI LAL.
75 I. C. 789 : A. I. R. 1925 Lah. 69.

———O. 41, R. 6 (2)—Appeal from decree—Duty of Court to stay sale.

Where an appeal is pending against a decree, an order for stay of sale of immoveable property in execution of the same should be passed under O. 41, R. 6 (2) on such terms as to giving security or otherwise as the Court thinks fit. (Moti Sagar, J.) THE FIRM PHAGGU MAL MATA DIN v. BENARSI DAS.
75 I. C. 1001 : A. I. R. 1924 Lah. 671.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 41, R. 10.

———O. 41, R. 10—Applies to Letters Patent appeal—Language mandatory.

The rule applies to Letters Patent Appeal. The words as to rejecting an appeal if the order for security for costs is made and is not complied with within the time fixed are mandatory. (Lord Sumner.) SABITRI THAKURAIN v. SAVI 48 Cal. 481 : 48 I. A. 76 : (1921) M. W. N. 159 : 19 A. L. J. 281 : 23 Bom. L. R. 681 : 25 C. W. N. 557 : 33 C. L. J. 307 : 14 L. W. 362 : 60 I. C. 274 : 3 U. P. L. R. (P. C.) 57 : 40 M. L. J. 308 (P. C.).

———O. 41, R. 10—Rejection of appeal—Order setting aside is not appealable.

No appeal lies from an order setting aside an order rejecting an appeal for failure of the appellant to give security for costs nor is the order open to revision when it is made in the interests of justice. (Piggott and Kanhaiya Lal, JJ.) SUNDAR v. HABIB CHICK.
42 A. 626 : 18 A. L. J. 838 : 60 I. C. 81 : 2 U. P. L. R. (All.) 283.

———O. 41, R. 10—Failure to give security—Dismissal of appeal—Restoration.

The High Court has power to reconsider upon cause shown an order rejecting an appeal under O. 41, R. 10 (2), C. P. Code, and such a power is inherent also in Subordinate Courts of appeal. Per Kanhaiya Lal, J.—Although there is an absence in O. 41, R. 10 of a specific provision similar to that contained in O. 25, R. 2 (2), yet a Court which has rejected an appeal for default of filing security for costs is competent to take action in review of its order of rejection and to discharge that order and grant further time for filing the security. 30 All. 143, Ref. (Piggott and Kanhaiya Lal, JJ.) SUNDAR v. HABIB CHICK.
42 All. 626 : 2 U. P. L. R. (All.) 283 : 60 I. C. 81 : 18 A. L. J. 838.

———O. 41, R. 10—Appeal under the Letters Patent—Power to demand security for costs—Bombay High Court Rules, 1922, R. 736.

The High Court has power on an appeal under cl. 15 of the Letters Patent to demand security for costs from the appellant in addition to the deposit of Rs. 500 under Rule 736 of the Bombay High Court Rules. But the power to demand security for the costs of an appeal must in any event be exercised according to well-known principles. The mere fact that the appellant may lose and may not pay the costs of the appeal is not a sufficient ground for demanding security. There must be some evidence at least of facts which cast doubts on the honesty and bona fides of the appellant, such as obstruction to the execution of the decree in the lower Court, or the fact that the appellant is not the real litigant, or if in any way it can be shown that the application is vexatious. (Macleod, C. J. and Crump, J.) RATANCHAND v. DAMJI.
25 Bom. L. R 468 : 78 I. C. 474 : A. I. R. 1923 Bom. 399.

———O. 41, R. 10—Security for costs—Discretion of Court—Interference on appeal.

Under O. 41, R. 10 C. P Code, the appellate Court may in its discretion demand from the appellant security for the costs of the appeal or of the original suit or of both. The poverty of the defendant is no ground for depriving him of his right to appeal. As a general rule, a Court is loth to prevent an appellant from pursuing the remedy allowed to him by law merely on the ground of poverty. But each cases must stand on its own facts, and there may be cases in which a party should be directed to give security, at any rate for the costs of the appeal, before he is allowed to go further. (Macleod, C. J. and Crump, J.) GULAB RAO v. VINAYAK. 25 Bom. L. R. 195 : 72 I. C. 285 : A. I. R. 1923 Bom. 264. (1).

——— O. 41, R. 10—Security for costs—Order for Letters Patent appeal from decision of a single Judge of the High Court.

Both under the provisions of O. 41, R. 10, C. P. Code and apart from it, there is ample jurisdiction for the High Court to demand security for costs in an appeal under cl. 15 of the Letters Patent from the decision of the single Judge of the High Court on the Original Side. 27 M. 121, Not Foll. 20 C.W.N. 49 : 46 C. 481, Ref. (Sanderson, C. J. and Richardson, J.) AVIS MARY KATHLEEN GOULDING, In the matter of. 28 C. W. N. 676 : 51 Cal. 695 : 80 I. C. 295 : A. I. R. 1924 Cal. 781.

——— O. 41, R. 10—Security for costs—Appeal dismissed—Effect.

Where during the pendency of an appeal, security for costs was ordered, and then the appeal was allowed, the sureties ceased to be liable thereafter. Sureties are not liable where the respondent was able to get the appellate order reversed. (Mookerjee and Panton, JJ.) KEDAR NATH CHAKRABARTY v. CHANDI CHARAN MITTER. 38 C. L. J. 190 : 76 I. C. 510 : A. I. R. 1924 Cal. 528.

——— O. 41, R. 10—Appeal—Rejection of, for failure to furnish security—Effect of—Subsequent extension of time.

Once an appeal has been dismissed for failure of the appellant to give security for costs within the time fixed, it is not thereafter open to the Court to extend the time for giving security. (Greaves and Ghose, JJ.) SRIMATI HARI BHABINI DEBI v. NARENDRA NATH ROY. 67 I. C. 883 : A. I. R. 1923 Cal. 317.

——— O. 41, R. 10—Rejection of appeal—Failure to furnish security for costs—Appeal.

An order of rejection of an appeal for failure to furnish security for the costs of appeal and of the original suit under O. 41, R. 10 is not appealable either as a decree or as an order. (Mookerjee and Buckland, JJ.) ROMESH CHANDRA DAS v. MANINDRA LAL DAS. 49 C. 355 : 26 C. W. N. 1020 : 35 C. L. J. 131 : A. I. R. 1922 Cal. 246.

——— O. 41, R. 10—Non-applicability to pauper appeals.

O. 41, R. 10, C. P. Code, does not apply to pauper appeals. 42 Bom. 5, Foll. (Chevis and Campbell, JJ.) NAZIM v. ABDUL HAMID. 3 Lah. 30 : 4 U. P. L. R. (Lah.) 87 : 68 P. L. R. 1922 : 67 I. C. 256 : A. I. R. 1922 Lah. 87.

——— O. 41, R. 10 and O. 49, R. 3—Provision in the Code as to security for costs applies to appeals from the Original Side.

Order 41, R. 10, and its proviso apply to Original Side appeals, and security for the costs of the respondent can be ordered in an Original Side appeal. 37 Bom, 572 and A. I. R. 1923 Bom. 399, Dist. (Ramesam and Reilly, JJ.) VIRUPAKSHA RAO NAIDU v. M. RANGANAYAKI AMMAL. 21 L. W. 662 : 87 I. C. 346 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 1132.

——— O. 41, R. 10—Security for costs—Poverty of appellant alone is not sufficient ground.

Poverty of the appellant by itself is not a sufficient ground for an order directing a security to be given. But no case has gone to the length of saying that mere want of means on the part of the appellant is a sufficient ground for dispensing with security. The true rule is that poverty of an appellant, standing by itself and without reference to the general facts of the case under appeal ought not to be considered sufficient to warrant his being required to furnish security for costs. 8 A. 203 and other cases cited. (Venkatasubba Rao, J.) KONAMMAL v. ANNADANA JADAYA GOUNDAR. 17 L. W. 26 : 70 I. C. 686 : (1922) M. W. N. 801 : A. I. R. 1923 Mad. 204.

——— O. 41, R. 10 (2)—Pauper appeal—Security for costs cannot be ordered—Validity—Appeal if lies.

No appeal lies against an order rejecting an appeal for failure to furnish security for costs but the validity of the same can be tested in revision. Where a District Court allowed the appellants to appeal in forma pauperis and subsequently directed them to furnish security for costs, it acted illegally and with material irregularity. (Chevis and Campbell, JJ.) NAZIM v. ABDUL HAMID. 3 Lah. 30 : 4 U.P.L.R. (Lah.) 67 : 67 I. C. 256 : 68 P. L. R. 1922 : A. I. R. 1922 Lah. 87.

——— O. 41, R. 10 (2)—Provisions mandatory—Security not furnished in time—Dismissal of appeal.

In the absence of security within the time fixed by the Court the appeal should be rejected. The provisions of O 41, R. 10 (2) are mandatory and the mere fact that the whereabouts of the client are not known is not sufficient. Per Chevis, A. J. C.—It is the duty of every litigant to keep in touch with his case, and not to go wandering around the country at large without giving any address where a communication from the Court or from his Counsel can readily find him. (Chevis and Martineau, JJ.) PARMA NAND v. RAMPARKASH. 68 I. C. 306: 2 Lah. L. J. 391.

——— O. 41, R. 10 (2) and S. 115—Security filed—Clerical error—Application for correcting rejected—Rejection of appeal is revisable.

The jurisdiction as to the passing of the order of rejection only arises in the event of no security being filed within the time fixed by the Court. Where security has been filed but there is a clerical error as to the description of the property and the appellant has applied for its correction, the Court cannot by rejecting the application, reject the appeal. Such rejection of appeal is apt to be revised as being an excessive exercise of jurisdiction. (Wazir Hasan, A. J. C.) JAIDAT SINGH v. BALDEO SINGH. 12 O. L. J. 83 : 86 I. C. 752 : A. I. R. 1925 Oudh 402.

——— O. 41, R. 10 (2)—Security filed—Clerical error—Application for correcting the error should be allowed.

Where the bond executed by the appellants as security misdescribed the hypothecated property on account of a clerical error which consisted in the fact that the property was situated in a different mahal from that where it was stated to be and where it was found that the property was ample security for the costs. Held, that the Court should decide on the merits the appellant's application to correct the bond and should allow the alleged clerical error to be corrected, and not reject the appeal under O. 41, R. 10 (2). (Wazir Hasan, A J.C.) JAIDAT SINGH v. BALDEO SINGH. 86 I. C. 752 : 12 O.L.J. 83 : A.I.R. 1925 Oudh 402.

——— O. 41, R. 11—Summary dismissal of appeal—Effect on mortgage decree—Time for payment.

In the case of an appeal from a mortgage decree being summarily dismissed under O. 41, R. 11, the time for payment of the mortgage money is not extended as the decree appealed from cannot be taken to have been confirmed under O. 41, R. 32. (Shah, A. C. J. and Kemp, J.) DATTATRAYA VITHAL GARWARE v. VASUDEO ANANT GARGATE. 47 Bom. 956: 25 Bom. L. R. 990 : 76 I. C. 1023 : A. I. R. 1924 Bom. 98.

——— O. 41, Rr. 11 and 31—Dismissal of appeal—

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 41, R. 11.

Contents of judgment.

The dismissal of an appeal under O. 41, R. 11 of the C. P. Code, by Court whose decision may be subject of an appeal, does not relieve the Appellate Court from the necessity of writing a judgment which, however, need not be a long one. But the judgment, whatever it is, should show the points raised, the decision upon those points and the reasons for the decision. (Ghose and Panton, JJ.) SURENDRA NATH SHOME v. RAGHUNATH DUTT. 27 C. W. N. 501: 76 I. C. 1002: A. I. R. 1923 Cal. 558.

——0. 41, R. 11—Second appeal—Dismissal under O. 41, R. 11—Review of judgment—Discovery of new evidence—Not a sufficient ground.

There is no review when a second appeal has been dismissed under O. 41, R. 11. Discovery of new evidence is not a sufficient ground for review of such a judgment. (Sanderson, C. J. and Richardson, J.) SAILABALA DEI v. GAJADHAR. 36 C. L. J. 76: 70 I. C. 408: 27 C. W. N. 918: A. I. R. 1922 Cal. 165.

——0. 41, R. 11—Summary rejection of appeal without fixing date of hearing or hearing the appellant is good ground for review—C. P. Code, O. 47, R. 1.

Summary rejection of an appeal as time-barred without fixing a date for hearing the appellant is in contravention of the law and forms a good ground for review within O. 47, R. 1. (Simpson, A. J. C.) SRIPAT v. HUBDAR. 2 O. W. N. 678: A. I. R. 1925 Oudh 643.

——0. 41, R. 17—Notice of hearing not fixed—Dismissal of appeal for default is invalid—Application to set aside the dismissal—Limitation.

Where no date was fixed for the hearing of an appeal and the Court purported to dismiss the appeal for default, held, that the dismissal was without jurisdiction and that an application to set aside the dismissal was not governed by Art. 168 of the Limitation Act. (Scott-Smith, J.) ATA MAHOMED v. SHANKAR DAS. 69 I. C. 618: A. I. R. 1924 Lah. 279.

——0. 41, Rr. 17 and 19—Dismissal of appeal for default—Remedy of appellant—Court if has an inherent power to restore.

The Court has inherent power to restore an appeal dismissed for default. (Schwabe, C. J. and Waller, J.) KRISHNASAMI NAIDU v. CHENGALROYA NAIDU. 18 L. W. 870: 33 M. L. T. 207: 47 Mad. 171: 76 I. C. 836: A. I. R. 1924 Mad. 114: 45 M. L. J. 813.

——0. 41, R. 17—Appellant absent—Dismissal on the merits not proper.

On the day fixed for hearing an appeal, the appellant was not present in Court but a vakil holding a vakalat from him was present and applied for an adjournment. This was refused and thereupon the vakil informed the Court that, as he had no instructions or papers, he could not argue the appeal and took no further part in the proceedings. The appellate Court instead of dismissing the appeal for default under O. 41, R. 17, C. P. Code, considered the evidence in the light of the grounds raised in the appeal memo. and dismissed the appeal with costs. Held (1) that there was no appearance on the part of the appellant within the meaning of O. 41, R. 17, C. P. Code, (2) that the appellate Court has no power to go into the merits of the case and to dismiss the appeal on the merits; (3) and that the proper order to be made on second appeal was to set aside the order of the lower appellate Court dismissing the appeal on its merits as ultra vires and to direct him to restore the appeal to file and dispose of it according to law. (Ayling and Odgers, JJ.) MUSALIARAKATH MAHOMED v. MANAVIKRAMA. 16 L. W. 434 : (1922) M. W. N. 604 : 45 M. 882 : 69 I. C. 513 : A. I. R. 1923 Mad. 13 : 43 M.L.J. 317.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 41, R. 17.

——0. 41, R. 17—Adjournment—Refusal of—Dismissal for default—Remedy.

When the appellant's vakil asks for an adjournment but it is refused, and he is unprepared to argue the case, the Court should not ignore his presence and proceed to dismiss the appeal as if there was no presence. Against such an order no appeal lies, but it is revisable (Kinkhede, A. J. C.) GANESH PRASAD v. BHANGILAL. 83 I. C. 257 : A. I. R. 1925 Nag. 236 (2).

——0. 41, R. 17—Effect.

The effect of the dismissal of the appeal for default is to put the parties in the same position as if there had been no appeal or as if it had been dismissed on the merits. 6 All. 269, foll. (Batten, J.C.) MT. PURA v. BEHARI LAL. A. I. R. 1923 Nag. 1.

——0. 41, R. 17—Counsel instructed merely to apply for adjournment of appeal—Refusal of application—Appearance—Dismissal for default—Preparation of formal decree by mistake—Appeal, whether competent.

An application by a counsel or a pleader who is instructed only to apply for adjournment which is refused is not an appearance within the meaning of the Civil Procedure Code. 15 W. R. 143 ; 15 A. 359; 34 C. 403; 30 M. 274; 3 P. L. J. 355: 4 Pat. L. J. 712; 5 Pat. L. J. 17, and 22 All. 66, Foll. 26 Mad. 277. Not Foll. Where a counsel applies for adjournment of the appeal and on the request being refused expresses his inability to argue the appeal and the Court after referring to the judgment of the lower Court as clear and well-reasoned and free from any defect of error in law or fact dismisses the appeal, held that the dismissal of the appeal is not based on any determination of the merits but only on the failure of the appellant's counsel to put in an appearance and must be regarded as an order under O. 41, R. 17, C. P. Code, against which no appeal is provided by the Code. Held, further, that though the appellant might have been misled, by reason of a formal decree having wrongly been prepared by the office in the case, into thinking that he was bound to file an appeal, yet he was not entitled to file an appeal to which he had no right under the statute. (Neave, A. J. C.) MURLIDHAR v. FAQUIR BAKSH. 1 O. W. N. 736: 28 O. C. 166: 85 I. C. 811 : A. I. R. 1925 Oudh 549.

——0. 41, R. 17—Default of appearance—Pleader refusing to argue the case.

Where when an appeal was taken up for hearing the pleader for the appellant declined to argue the appeal as he was unready and the Court dismissed the appeal for default, Held, that it was a case of non-appearance of the appellant. To constitute appearance by a pleader it must be shown that the pleader was ready to place the materials before the Court to enable it to apply its judicial mind. 34 C. 403, Foll. (Mullick and Kulwant Sahay, JJ.) FIRM OF JAI NARAIN RAMJASH v. SITARAM MARWARI. 1923 P H. C. C. 175 : 74 I. C. 947 : A. I. R. 1923 Pat. 520.

——0. 41, Rr. 17 and 30—If discretionary power is not exercised appeal must be adjourned—Decision on merits is possible only under R. 30.

The power under R. 17 is discretionary. Therefore where that is not exercised in a case where the appellant is absent, the only alternative is to adjourn the case to give an appellant an opportunity of being heard. If the appeal is to be decided on merits it must be decided under R. 30 only after hearing the parties or their pleaders. (Brown, J. C.) MAUNG THAN GE v. MAUNG PO THEIN. 4 U. B. R. 164: 76 I. C. 166: A. I R. 1925 Rang. 96.

——0. 41, R. 17—Appearance, meaning.

An appearance by a pleader who is instructed only to apply for adjournment is not such an appearance as is contemplated by R. 17. (Maung Kin, J.) MENSEE DEVJEE & CO v. MAUNG THAN GYAUNG.

62 I. C. 57 : 10 L. B. R. 329.

——O. 41, R. 18—Dismissal of appeal—Omission to provide identifier—Effect of.

An appeal cannot be dismissed under O. 41, R. 18, C.P. Code, on account of the omission of the appellant to provide a person to identify the respondent as required by O. 5, R. 18, C. P. Code. (Jwala Prasad and Ross, JJ.) NAGENDRA NATH GHOSH v. SHAMBHU NATH PANDE. 3 Pat. L. T. 498 : 65 I. C. 49 : A. I. R. 1923 Pat. 114.

——O. 41, R. 19—Power of Court not exhaustive.

The rule does not exhaust the powers of the Appellate Court to readmit an appeal dismissed for default. (Shah and Crump, JJ.) SONUBAI BABURAO v. SHIVAJIRAO KRISHNARAO. 45 Bom. 648 : 60 I. C. 919 : 23 Bom. L. R. 110.

——O. 41, R. 19—Transfer of appeal from Dt. Judge to Addl. Dt. Judge—Appellant ignorant of transfer and hence absent—Appeal dismissed for default—Dismissal should be set aside.

An appeal was transferred by the District Judge to the file of the Additional District Judge and on the same day the appeal was called and, as the appellants were not present was dismissed for default. The appellants subsequently filed a petition for restoration of the appeal on the ground that neither they nor their pleader were aware of the transfer of the appeal to the file of the Additional Dt. Judge and so could not be present when the appeal was called. The learned Additional District Judge without taking any evidence, or giving the appellants an opportunity of adducing evidence dismissed the application. Held, that the procedure followed by the learned Judge was not quite in accordance with law, and that an opportunity should have been given to the appellants to prove their contention. (Suhrawardy and Graham, JJ.) JAHA BAKSH v. ABDUL LATIF.
79 I. C. 319 : A. I. R 1925 Cal. 500.

——O. 41, R. 19—Applicant for re-admission of appeal dismissed for default must be enabled to show prevention by sufficient cause, of his presence.

When an application for re-admitting an appeal dimissed for default is made, it should be treated as a miscellaneous matter and the applicant should be given an opportunity to show that he was prevented by any sufficient cause from being present when the appeal was called on for hearing. (Pearson and Graham, JJ.) KRISHNA CHARAN MANDAL v. CHINIBASI MANDAL. 82 I. C 330 : A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 269.

——O. 41, R. 19—Dismissal of appeal for default—Compromise thereafter—Power to record.

Where an appeal has been dismissed for default of appearance of both the parties and both the appellant and respondent within a month of the dismissal filed a petition of the compromise settling their disputes, with an additional application for restoration of the appeal, held, that in the circumstances of the case, the Court ought to have restored the appeal and passed a decree in terms of the compromise. (Suhrawardy and Panton, JJ.) ASWINI KUMAR DUTT v. SUKHODA SUNDARI DEBYA. 68 I. C. 448 : A. I. R. 1923 Cal. 319 (2).

——O. 41, R. 19—Sufficient cause—Five appeals disposed of in half an hour—Counsel not expecting appeal—Rights of parties.

A counsel in an appeal found five appeals above his in the list and when he went into the Court half an hour later he was told his appeal had been dismissed for default, Held, he could assume that five appeals would not be disposed in half an hour and it was sufficient ground to readmit his appeal under O. 41, R. 19.

Even if the dismissal is due to laches on the part of the counsel, a Court should in such circumstances restore the appeal on payment of costs. (Scott-Smith and Martineau, JJ.) MOHAR CHAND v. HABIB.
89 I. C. 795 : A. I. R. 1925 Lah. 617.

——O. 41, R. 19—Sufficient cause—Case put down lower in the list without notice to petitioner's vakil.

There is no rule laying down that where Judge for any reason orders a case, which is before him, for having, to be put down lower in the list he must give notice to the counsel of the parties in other cases. On the other hand, the counsel, are expected to be present within the compound of the Court if they have got any case in the list. Where at the time of the hearing of a case transferred lower down in the list without notice to the appellant the appellant's counsel was not present in court and the appeal was consequently dismissed for default. Held, that there was no cause for the restoration of the appeal. (Abdul Raoof, J.) NANAK CHAND v. SAJED HUSSAIN. 71 I. C. 813 : A I. R. 1924 Lah 189.

——O. 41, R. 19—Sufficient cause—Counsel engaged in another court.

The fact that the counsel was engaged in another court when the appeal was called on and had sent word to the Reader of the court for a short pass over is not sufficient to set aside the dismissal for default and re admitting the appeal. (Abdul Raoof and Martineau, JJ.) SAIF ALI v. CHIRAGH ALI SHAH.
68 I.C. 785 : A. I. R. 1923 Lah. 97 (1).

——O. 41. R. 19—Dismissal for default—Absence of counsel, unintentional—Restoration.

When there is an unintentional omission to appear at the hearing of an appeal and it is dismissed for default, the restoration of appeal must be made wholly unintentional. (Broadway, J.) BALMOKAND v. WAZIR CHAND. 79 I. C. 504 (2) : 5 Lah. L. J. 89.

——O. 41, R. 19—When pleader is engaged in another Court, somebody must be left to inform the Court when case is called—Otherwise rehearing will not be allowed.

When a pleader is engaged in another Court some one should be left behind to inform the Court of the fact, so that. if it likes it can take up some other business. The disappearance of every person connected with the party, in the hope that the Court will be compelled to wait for the pleader, is certainly a wrong method and if the appeal is dismissed, the appellant will not be granted a rehearing. (Dalal, A. J. C.) HARI DAS FAQUIR v. PRADUMAN NATH.
79 I. C 550 : A. I. R. 1925 Oudh 234.

——O 41, R. 19—Effect of—Not the sole remedy.

When an appeal is dismissed for default under O. 41, R. 18, C. P. Code, O. 41, R. 19, gives an option to the appellant to apply for re-admission but it does not take away any other remedy that may be available. The omission of a provision for fresh appeal cannot have the effect of taking away such right. (Das and Kulwant Sahay, JJ.) SURAJDEO NARAIN SINGH v. PARTAP RAI. 2 Pat. 739 : 4 Pat. L. T. 405 : (1923) P. H. C. C. 213 : 75 I. C. 284 : A. I. R. 1923 Pat. 514.

——O. 41, R. 19—Restoration of dismissal for default—Right of opposite party.

Where an appeal has been dismissed for not making good the stamp in the prescribed time, the appeal cannot be restored under O. 41, R. 19, nor under O. 47, R. 4 (2) Proviso (a), without notice to the opposite party. But if the case is dealt with, without notice to the opposite party, he is entitled to a hearing even in

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 41, R. 19.

Second Appeal, as soon as the matter has been brought to his knowledge. (Miller, C. J. and Coutts, J.) SURAJPAL PANDEY v. UTIM PANDEY. 63 I. C. 99 : 1921 P. H. C. C. 337.

——O. 41, R. 19—" Sufficient cause "—Laches of advocate or careless mistake of clerk.

The laches of an advocate or the careless mistake of his clerk is not a sufficient cause " for restoration of an appeal dismissed for default." (Pratt, J.) MAUNG THAN v ZAINAT BIBI. 3 Rang. 488.

——O. 41, R. 19—Dismissal of appeal in absence of appellant permits only an application for restoration.

Where an appeal is decided, on merits and the appeal is dismissed in the absence of the appellant or his pleader, the remedy of the appellant is an application for restoration and not by way of appeal. (Brown J. C) MAUNG THAN GE v. MAUNG PO THIN. 4 U. B. R. 164 : 76 I. C. 166 : A. I. R. 1925 Rang. 96.

——O. 41, R. 19—Appeal dismissed for failure to deposit printing Costs—Application for restoration is one for review and not one under O. 41, R. 19—C. P. Code, O. 47, r. 1.

The words " for any other sufficient reason" in R. 1 of O.47 will cover the case where there is a good ground for not filing the deficit printing costs, and therefore an application to set aside a dismissal of appeal for failure to file printing costs is one for review and not an application under O 41, R. 19. (Mullick and Kulwant Sahay, JJ.) ANANT POTDAR v. MANGAL POTDAR. 4 Pat. 704 : A. I. R. 1926 Pat. 27.

——O. 41, R. 20—Appellate Court cannot itself implead a party—It should remand the case for the purpose.

Under O. 41, R. 20, the appellate Court has no power to implead a person who was no party to the original suit at all. 37 All. 57 Rel. on. If the appellate Court is of opinion that a certain person was a necessary party, and ought to have been impleaded, the proper procedure is to remand the case to the Court of first instance with a direction that the Court should implead that person and then proceed to dispose of the case. (Sulaiman and Daniels, JJ.) FIRM SHIAMAM LAL JOLI PRASAD v. DHAN PAT RAI. 23 A. L. J. 757 : L. R. 6 A. (Cv). 386 : 88 I. C. 493 : 47 All. 853 : A. I. R. 1925 All. 768.

——O. 41, R. 20—Omission to implead necessary parties—Joint Hindu family—Members of—Appeal—Discretion of Court.

In an appeal by the plaintiff against a decree dismissing a suit in ejectment brought against three tenants who formed members of a joint Hindu family the name of one of the tenants was omitted from the array of parties by mistake. Held, that under O. 41 R. 22, C. P. Code, the appellate Court had power to adjourn the case in order to make the omitted defendant a party to the appeal and that its omission to do so amounted to a denial of justice. (Fremantle, S M and Barn, J. M.) BUDH RAM v. KRISHNANAND. L. R. 5 A. 177 (Rev.)

——O. 41, Rr. 20 and 33—Joint decree for possession appeal therefrom—Death of one of the plffs. respondents—Legal representative not impleaded in time—Whether they can be brought on record as parties.

Pending an appeal against a decree for joint possession in favour of the plffs, one of the plffs. respondents died and his legal representatives were not brought on record in time. Held, that the legal representatives cannot be brought on record as parties under O.41, R.20, C.P. Code as that rule is ordinarily intended to apply to cases where the Court finds that it cannot proceed with the suit without presence of a party who was not made a party to the appeal and as it is not intended to override the provisions of O. 22 C. P. Code. Nor can the powers under O. 41, R. 33 be exercised in such a case. (Suhrawardy and Duval, JJ) MANINDRA CHANDRA NANDI v. BHAGABATI DEVI CHAUDURANI. 90 I. C 986 : 30 C. W. N. 45.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 41, R. 20.

——O. 41, R. 20—A formal defendant need not be made a respondent.

A defendant in a suit need not be made a respondent when he is only a formal defendant and his non-impleadment cannot possibly have any effect on the decision of the case. (Moti Sagar, J.) NAGINA SINGH v. JIWAN SINGH. 79 I. C. 107 : A. I. R. 1925 Lah. 87.

——O. 41, R. 20—Power to add party—Discretion.

The power of an appellate court under O. 41, R. 20, to add a party to an appeal is one which is not circumscribed by any rule of limitation. It is a discretionary matter, on which a higher court will not interfere if the discretion has been soundly and reasonably exercised. Where without a plaint being amended a new defendant was added, and the decree also omitted his name as a result of which he was omitted in the memo. of appeal, the Court can direct him to be added as a respondent even after the appeal-time has expired. (Broadway, J.) AMAR SINGH v. KANSHI. A. I. R. 1924 Lah. 629.

——O 41, R. 20—Applicability of Law of Limitation.

The Law of Limitation does not apply to action taken by a court under O. 41, R 20. but the power to take action is discretionary and should not be exercised in a case of extreme neglect. A third party cannot appeal on behalf of co-sharers who are interested in the appeal against a co-sharer and if they are not made respondents in time the appeal abates. (Broadway, J.) MUNICIPAL COMMITTEE, BHERA, v. SHIVRAM. 75 I. C. 90 : A. I. R. 1923 Lah. 503.

——O. 41, R. 20—Strangers cannot be made parties—Scope of S. 151—Inherent powers when to be exercised.

An appellate court has power to implead only such persons as parties to the appeal as were parties in the trial court and were not made parties to the appeal but not those who were complete strangers to the suit. 18 All. 133 Ref. Powers of a court to implead parties under S. 151, C. P. Code, are circumscribed by O. 41, R. 20. and it is only in exceptional circumstances that the inherent powers under S. 151 could be invoked. 3 Pat. L. J. 409 Dist. (Moti Sagar, J.) MUSSAMMAT HALIMAN v. NUR-MAHOMED KHAN. 73 I. C. 136 : A. I R. 1923 Lah. 490.

——O. 41, R. 20—Appeal—Joinder of parties—Court's power of.

Where names of certain defendants are omitted by mistake, in a memorandum of appeal, the Court has power to add them as parties under O. 41, R. 20 of the Code. (Drake Brockman, J. C) DEOKARAN v. NATHU. 63 I. C. 352 : 4 N. L J. 138.

——O. 41, Rr. 20 and 33—Addition of parties by appellate Court—Limitation—Powers of second appellate Court.

In a suit by a co-sharer landlord against the tenant and his other co-sharer landlords, plaintiff claimed rent from the tenant and if it was found that he had paid it, from the other co-sharer landlords who had collected it. The trial Court passed a decree against the co-sharer landlords on the ground that they had received the whole rent. On appeal by the co-sharer landlords impleading the plaintiff alone, the lower appellate Court held that the appellants had not received the whole rent and allowed the appeal and dismissed the suit holding that the tenant had not been made a party to the appeal and the question of limitation would arise if the tenant were now to be made a party on second appeal. Held, that it was competent to the appellate Court to make the tenant (defendant) a party to the appeal in order to secure the ends of justice under O. 41, R 20, C. P. Code. The court of second appeal had power under O. 41, R 20, C P. Code to bring the parties on record in order to carry out the powers given to it under O. 41, R. 33, C. P. Code. (Miller, C. J. and Foster, J.) PADARATH MAHTON v. HIRAN SINGH. 1924 P. H. C. C. 249 : 5 Pat. L. T. 509 : 82 I. C. 600 : A. I. R. 1924 Pat 773.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 41, R. 20.

——0. 41, Rr. 20 and 33—Court will not add new respondents after limitation for appeal against them.

The Court will not exercise its discretionary power under O.41, R.20 or R.33 to add new respondents to an appeal, where the period of limitation for filing an appeal against them has elapsed and the lower Court's decree has become res judicata. Because, if the Court should exercise its discretionary power of adding respondents in such cases the result will be to allow the appellant to make a fresh appeal against persons who had been exonerated by the lower Court. (Young and Baguley, JJ.) CHOCKALINGAM CHETTY v. SINGARAM CHETTY. 2 Rang. 541 : 3 Bur. L. J. 259: 84 I. C. 522 : A. I. R. 1925 Rang. 108.

——0. 41, R. 20—Addition of parties—Powers of appellate Court.

It is competent to an appellate court to add respondents to an appeal under the provisions of O. 41 R. 20, C. P. Code, even though the time within which an appeal against those persons might have been prepared had expired. 14 A. 154 ; 33 C. 329 Rel. on. (Brown, A. J. C.) MAUNG AN GALE v. MA MIN DUN. 66 I. C. 365 : (1921) 4 U. B. R. 87.

——0. 41, Rr. 20 and 33—Second Appeal—Court can add respondents.

An appellate Court can in Second Appeal add as respondents persons impleaded in the original Court but not in first appeal, even though an appeal against them is time-barred. (Robinson, J.) YOOSUF OOSMAN BROS. & CO. v. WINNEYA. 59 I. C. 798 : 10 L. B. R. 191.

——0. 41, R. 21—Appeal heard ex parte—Restoration—Sufficient cause, what is.

There is no universal rule as to what is sufficient cause in restoring an appeal decided ex parte, each case being dealt with on its own facts where a respondent's attorney failed to instruct his pleader, who consequently reported no instructions, held, there was sufficient cause for restoration under O. 41, R. 21 of the Code. (Walsh and Lindsay, JJ.) GODHNI v. SHYAM LAL. 63 I. C. 737 : 19 A. L. J. 547.

——0. 41, R. 21—Appeal—Ex parte hearing and decision—Application to rehear the appeal.

It is in the highest degree improbable that a litigant having the advantage of a decree in his favour in the lower court would not be present on appeal to support the decree if he had been aware of the appeal. The unrebutted oath of the person to be served that he never was served and knew nothing of the case is sufficient to require the reopening of the case. 46 B. 130; 19 C. W. N. 1231 Ref. (Young, J.) MAUNG SHWE HLA v. SOOLAY NAIDU. 3 Bur. L. J. 101 : 82 I. C. 812 : A. I. R. 1924 Rang. 336.

——0. 41, R. 22—Memorandum of objections—

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 41, R. 22.

Right to file an appeal, after dismissal of memorandum.

O. 41, R. 22, C. P. Code allows a respondent to take any cross-objection which he could have taken by way of appeal. It does not allow him to take any objection which he had already taken by way of appeal and which had been decided against him. In an appeal relating to the specific performance of a contract of sale, cross-objections filed by the plaintiff were dismissed on the ground that it was not competent to him to file cross-objections after the appeal of the other side had been dismissed. Held that it was open to the plaintiff to appeal on his own account. "Cross objection," in O. 41, R. 22, C P. Code, implies that the objections are taken in a pending appeal. (Daniels, J.) PARBHU DAYAL v. MURLIDHAR. 22 A. L. J. 365 : L. R. 5 A. 298 : 10 O. & A. L. R. 528 : 78 I. C. 677 : A. I. R. 1924 All. 867.

——0. 41, R. 22—Cross-appeal—Objection if can be filed.

Where after a party files an appeal against a part of a decree the opposite party files a separate cross appeal, the first party has a statutory right to file a memorandum of objections to the cross appeal. (Kanhaiya Lal J.) KANHAIYA LAL v. MT. AZMATUNNISSA. A. I. R. 1924 All. 840.

——0. 41, R. 22—Petition to support decree is not cross-objections—No ad valorem Court-fee payable.

Where for the purpose of supporting the decree dismissing plaintiff's claim on any ground, even on a ground other than that taken by the Court of first instance, respondents filed a petition stating the reasons on which they supported the decree, it does not amount to cross-objections for which an ad valorem court-fee was payable. (Banerjee and Ryves, JJ.) RAM PERSAD KALWAR v. MT. AJNASIA. 44 All. 577 : A. I. R. 1922 All. 280 (1).

——0. 41, R. 22—Cross objection—Decree in favour of party.

Petition to support decree in appeal on other grounds does not amount to cross objections. (Banerjee and Ryves, JJ.) RAM PRASAD v AJNASIA. 68 I. C. 861 : 44 A. 577 : A. I. R. 1922 All. 280 (1).

——0. 41, R. 22—Court-fee—Cross objections—Supporting the decree of the lower court—No Court-fee.

Where the respondent in an appeal from a decree which totally dismissed the plaintiff's suit put in a petition stating the reasons on which they supported the decree, the respondent need not pay court-fee on the petition. (Banerji and Ryves, JJ.) RAM PRASAD KALWAR v. MT. AJANASIA. 68 I. C. 861 : 44 All. 577 : A. I. R. 1922 All. 280 (1).

——0. 41, R. 22—Letters Patent Appeal—Provisions of Code if apply.

The provisions of the Code of Civil Procedure relating to cross objections do not apply to Letters Patent Appeals. (Mears, C. J. and Banerjee, J.) PURNA KUAR v. MANGAT RAI A. I. R. 1922 All. 55 (1).

——0 41, R. 22—Letters Patent Appeal—Memorandum of cross objections cannot be filed.

No cross-objections can be filed on a Letters Patent Appeal as O. 41, R. 22 does not apply to it. 21 A. 297 foll. (Mears. C.J. and Banerjee, J.) MANGAT RAI v. MUSST. PURNA KUAR. L. R 3 A. 198.

——0. 41, R. 22—Cross objections as against other respondent.

The decision which say that in the case of a purely lateral objection, the court will not as a rule permit it to be urged, will not apply to a case when the interest of the objector was really adverse to that of the appellant and other co-respondents and though the appellant unnecessarily took the same objections in his ground of appeal. (Sanderson, C. J. and Rankin, J.) BHUBAN MOHAN GHOSE v. CO-OPERATIVE HINDUSTAN BANK, LTD. 29 C.W.N. 784 : 88 I. C. 866 : A I. R. 1925 Cal. 973.

——0. 41, R. 22—Suit in respect of one Jote—Finding that it formed part of a bigger Jote is unnecessary.

In a suit for a declaration that one of the jotes is not permanent, the finding that this jote formed part of a bigger jote would not affect the point at issue, the suit being limited to the declaration sought in respect of a particular jote and for the correction of the record of rights in that respect. Such a finding is therefore not a ground which is covered by O. 41, R. 22 and it should be expunged from the lower Court's decree (Suhrawardy and Duval, JJ.) SIR PRODAT KUMAR TAGORE v. BAL GOBIND DITCHIHAT. 41 C. L.J. 31 86 I. C. 6 : A. I. R 1925 Cal. 518 (2).

——0. 41, R. 22—Objection not put as cross-objection, cannot be taken if it is not in support of the decree.

Where the question as to the frame of the suit under O 34, R. 1 of the C. P. Code was raised in and decided by the lower Court and no cross-objection was filed in appellate Court under O.41, R.22, of the Code and where the ground was not one in support of the decree made but which if sustained, would render the decree invalid, Held : that such objection cannot be taken in the appellate Court. (Newbould and B. B. Ghosh, JJ.) SHAILESH CHANDRA GUHA v. BECHAI GOPE. 40 C. L. J. 67 : 84 I. C. 124 : A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 94.

——0. 41, Rr. 22 and 33—Scope—Powers of Appellate Court.

R. 33 is not controlled by R. 22. (Huda, J.) JOGENDRA KISHORE v. NASIMUDDIN SARKAR. 62 I. C. 623 (C).

——0. 41, R. 22—Letters Patent Appeal—Rule does not apply.

O. 41, R. 22 of the Code does not apply to a Letters Patent Appeal and a memorandum of cross-objections filed therein cannot be entertained. (Mookerjee, A.C. J. and Fletcher, J.) BROJENDRA CHANDRA SARMA v. PROSANNA KUMAR DHAR. 32 C. L. J. 48 : 59 I C. 589 : 24 C. W. N. 1016

——0. 41, R. 22—Time-barred appeal may be treated as cross objections.

Where appellant apprehends that his appeal would be time-barred and prays that it should be treated as cross-objections in respondent's appeal. Held: that he is entitled to do so. 1922 L. 423 Foll. (Harrison and Zafar Ali, JJ.) BHAGAT RAM v. RAGHBAR DIAL. 79 I. C. 132 : A. I. R. 1925 Lah. 57

——0. 41, R. 22—Respondent having appealed, can't file cross-objections.

The law does not permit a respondent, who has preferred an appeal, to file cross-objections. 25 All. 628, Foll. (Martineau and Campbell, JJ.) MT. TEHL KUAR v. AMAR NATH. 17 P. W. R. 1923. 79 I. C. 670 : A. I. R. 1925 Lah. 2.

——0. 41, R. 22—Limitation—Appeal barred by limitation—Effect of.

Where it is found that the appeal itself was preferred out of time and therefore barred, the memorandum of objections could not be heard. (Shadi Lal, C. J. and Fforde, J.) JAI GOPAL SINGH v. MUNA LAL. 4 Lah 140 : 5 Lah. L. J. 345 : 73 I. C. 655 : A. I. R. 1924 Lah. 43.

——0. 41, R. 22—Cross-objection as to jurisdiction to attach not taken in the execution court cannot be taken in cross objection.

When an objection to jurisdiction of the execution Court was not taken in first Court, Held, it is doubtful whether the order of the Court attaching the property could be properly attacked by means of cross-objections in connection with an appeal from an entirely different order. It is not open to the judgment-debtor to raise his objection by way of cross-objections in the appeal of the decree-holder from the order of the executing Court refusing to set aside a prohibitory order. (Scott-Smith, J.) FITZ HOLMES v. WARYAM SINGH. 75 I. C. 419 : A. I. R. 1923 Lah. 514.

——0. 41, R. 22—Co-respondent—Cross-objection.

Under O. 41, R. 22 a respondent can file a memorandum of cross-objections against a co-respondent. 38 Mad. 705 foll. (Martineau, J.) CHHAJU v. QUTAB DIN. 5 Lah. L. J. 92 : 69 I. C. 330 : A. I. R. 1923 Lah. 39.

——0. 41, R 22—Limitation—Time—expired appeal can be treated as memorandum of objections. (Martineau, J.) PAWA SINGH v. THAKUR SINGH. 4 U. P. L. R. Lah. 80 : 67 I. C. 478 : A. I. R. 1922 Lah. 423.

——0. 41, R. 22—Cross-objection—Second Appeal.

A memorandum of cross-objections as to costs in the Courts below cannot be considered on second appeal. (Shadi Lal, C. J. and Le-Rossignol, J.) MADHO PRASAD v. FIRM OF ASHAN ILAHI. 5 Lah. L. J. 108 : 79 I. C. 977.

——0. 41, R. 22—Day for appearance mentioned in notice of appeal under Madras O. 41-A is not day fixed for hearing.

The day of appearance of respondent mentioned in the notice issued in the form No. 6-A appended to O. 41-A (Madras High Court) cannot be regarded as the day fixed for hearing as contemplated by O. 41, R. 22. (Ramesam and Reilly, JJ.) PUSHKARAMBA v. NAGARATNAMMA. 22 L. W. 792 : A. I. R. 1926 Mad. 283 : 50 M. L. J. 112.

——0. 41, R. 22—Appeal from Original Sid. of High Court dismissed for default—Memo. of objection can be treated as appeal.

Though the main appeal from the Original Side of a High Court has been dismissed for default, a memorandum of objection filed by the respondent in the appeal can be treated as a substantive appeal. (Coutts-Trotter, C. J. and Srinivasa Aiyangar, J.) P. K. BHIMASENA RAO v. I. C. VENUGOPAL MUDALI. 21 L. W. 672: 88 I. C. 443 : (1925) M. W. N. 190 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 725 : 48 M. L. J. 384.

——0 41, R. 22—Omission to give notice after judgment-debtor attained majority does not vitiate sale where he knew but did not object to the sale.

Where a person became major prior to a sale but was not given notice and where though he was aware of the execution proceeding and did not appear to object : Held: failure to give him notice did not entitle him to question the validity of the execution sale. (Oldfield and Devadoss, JJ.) NAGAPPA CHETTY v. MUTHURAMAN CHETTY. 78 I. C. 12 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 158.

——0. 41, R. 22—New Grounds—Ex parte decree—Appeal from decree—Right to prefer—Conditions.

A defendant who has been placed ex parte can impugn the decree in appeal on the ground that he was wrongly made ex parte provided he has not moved the trial Court under O. 9, R. 13, C. P. Code. The fact that before the decree was passed he took futile proceedings purporting to be under O. 9, R. 13 on the erroneous impression that a decree had been passed, does not take away the right of appeal. He can only file a cross-objection in place of appeal. (Oldfield and

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 41, R. 22.

Devadoss, JJ.) BABA LEVVAI SAHIB v. AMMEEN AMMAL. A. I. R. 1924 Mad. 107 : 45 M. L. J. 805.

———0. 41, Rr. 22 and 1—Separate appeals--Appeal against one—Memo. of appeal.

Where in two appeals one judgment and two decrees were passed, and an appeal was preferred against one appeal only and the respondents, instead of filing another appeal from the appeal not appealed against by the appellant, filed only cross-objection on the ground that under Rule 105 of the Civil Rules of Practice only one decree ought to have been passed in both appeals, Held, when there are in fact two decrees and the respondents wisn to appeal against one only, it is for them to see that the course that they take to get that decree amended is the appropriate one provided by law. (Spencer and Krishnan, JJ.) GOVINDASWAMI NAIDU v. UCHAPPA GOUNDAN

(1922) M. W N. 477 : A. I. R. 1922 Mad. 413

———0. 41, R. 22—Limitation—Presented out of time—Excusing delay.

It is clear from the words of O. 41, R. 22, C. P. Code, that a cross-objection can be admitted after the expiry of 30 days from service of notice of the appeal on the respondent, so that even if one be put in during the argument of the appeal, it might be admitted in a proper case. (Hallifax, A. J. C.) KUKSA v. DAJIBA. 5 N. L. J. 192 : 66 I. C. 217 : A. I. R. 1922 Nag. 213.

———0. 41, R. 22—Supporting decree on ground decided in favour—Variation in attack or defence.

Per Kanhaiya Lal, J. C. (Daniels, A.J C., contra). —A man might not be willing to accept a method of account if compound interest is allowed, which he might have been willing not to contest, if simple interest was allowed. In a matter of right accounting or true construction, there can be no estoppel, and if fresh accounts have to be prepared, they must be prepared by the right method.

Per Ashworth, A. J. C.—Whether the respondents could or could not claim a reversal of the method of accounting adopted by the Lower Court, it is open to the Court of appeal to reverse that method as soon as it upset the decision of the lower Court as to the nature of interest to be allowed. (Kanhaiya Lal, J. C., Daniels and Ashworth, A. J. Cs.) SARSUTI PRASAD v. EHTISHAM ALI. 25 O. C. 349 : 77 I. C. 310 : A. I. R. 1923 Oudh 123.

———0. 41, R. 22—Cross-objections—Hearing of—Dismissal of appeal—Co-respondents.

A cross appeal should ordinarily be directed against the appellants and not against the co-respondents. Where an appeal is dismissed for failure to furnish security under O. 41, R. 10, C. P. Code, in the presence of the respondent and without any objection on his part he cannot subsequently proceed with his cross-objections. 5 Pat. L. J. 328 : 8 O. L. J. 358 Foll. (Daniels and Lyle, A. J. Cs.) QARA MAHOMED SHAHAN v. BAZAR ARA BEGUM. 25 O. C. 280 · 70 I. C. 79 : A. I. R. 1923 Oudh 108.

———0. 41, R. 22—Court-fee.

For a cross-objection covering relief referred to in the articles, respondent's valuation if reasonable should be accepted. (Kanhaiya Lal, J. C. and Lyle, A. J. C.) SRI RAJEO LOCHAN v. MAHANT RAM MANOHAR. 25 O. C. 275 : 70 I. C. 286 : A. I. R 1923 Oudh 44 (1).

———0. 41, Rr. 22 and 33—Co-respondents—Cross-objections.

Where one of several defendants against whom a decree is passed has allowed the period for appealing to elapse, he cannot prefer a memorandum of objections against the other respondents on the appeal. O. 41, R. 22, C. P. Code should ordinarily be confined to cases of cross-objections urged against the appellant but O. 41, R. 33, C. P. Code, gives the court a very wide discretion and cases may occasionally arise where cross-objections against a co-respondent should be heard. (Daniels, J. C and Dalal, A. J. C.) SHEIKH MAHOMED MUZAFFAR ALI v. BHAGWATI PRASAD SINGH. 66 I. C. 642 : 8 O. L. J. 358.

———0. 41, R. 22—Scope of.

A partition suit having been decreed both parties appealed. Plaintiff's appeal was dismissed while the defendant succeeded in part. The defendant filed a second appeal and then plaintiff filed a memo. of objections, attacking all that was unfavourable to him in the decree of the first Court. Held he was entitled to do so. The fact that he had filed an appeal in the Court below does not affect the question. (Jwala Prasad and Ross, JJ.) HARDHAN MAHTO v. GOKUL MAHTO. 5 Pat. L. T. 411 : 76 I. C. 257 : A. I. R. 1924 Pat. 775.

———0. 41, R. 22—In appeal by defendant, plaintiff can't file objection against other defendants.

In an appeal by some of the defendants, the plaintiff-respondent cannot be allowed to prefer cross-objection against the defendant-respondent, when the time for appeal by the plaintiff had become barred. (Das and Kulwant Sahay, JJ.) GOPAL MISSER v. PARTAP MANDAL. 4 P. L. T. 652 : 72 I. C. 643 : A. I. R. 1924 Pat. 200.

———0. 41, R. 22—Court-fees—Petition by respondent criticising judgment.

Where a suit has been dismissed in its entirety and, on the plaintiff's appeal, the defendant files objections to certain terms in the judgment, the petition of objections is not a petition of cross-objections, within the meaning of Order 41, rule 22; mere criticisms of a judgment cannot be filed as cross-objections nor should they be accepted by the office, if filed. (Roe, J.) SAHDEO NARAIN v KUSUM KUMARI. 1 P. 258 : A. I. R. 1922 Pat. 483 (2).

———0. 41, R. 22 (4)—Dismissal of appeal—Appeal—Insufficiently stamped — Rejected — Cross-objections if can be heard.

The rejection of a memorandum of appeal as insufficiently stamped is not a dismissal for default and no cross-objections can be entertained or heard where the appeal is rejected. (Scott-Smith, J.) LAJPATRAI v. LACHMAN DAS. 59 I. C. 795 : 46 P. W. R. 1921.

———0. 41, R. 22 (4)—Scope of—Abatement of appeal.

Under R. 22 (4), a person filing a memorandum of objections has a right to have his case heard and determined, even where after filing the memorandum, the appeal is withdrawn or dismissed for default; but he has no such right when the appeal abates. (Wallis, C. J. and Napier, J.) MURUGAPPA CHETTIAR v PONNUSWAMI PILLAI. 44 Mad. 828 : 13 L. W. 705 : 62 I. C 757 : (1921) M. W. N. 438 : 41 M. L. J. 304.

———0. 41, R. 23.

Appeal
Defective trial.
Effect of order.
Exclusion of evidence.
Finality of order.
Grounds for remand.
Inherent power.
New plea.
Powers of Appellate Court.
Preliminary point.
Question of law.
Transfer of case.
Miscellaneous.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 41. R. 23—Appeal.

See also C. P. CODE, S. 107.

Appeal.

——0. 41, R. 23 and O. 43, R. 1 (4)—Appeal—Remand—Powers of appellate Court—Inherent power.

In a suit for dissolution of partnership and rendition of accoun s, the trial court appointed a Commissioner to examine the account books and then passed a preliminary decree based upon the Commissioner's report. On appeal the District Judge was of opinion that the trial of the suit in the first court had not been a satisfactory one and that the pleadings of both parties ought to have been required to be amended. He set aside the whole proceedings of the trial Court and remanded the case for a new trial. The order of remand did not show under what provision of the Code it professed to have been made. The defendants having appealed from the order of remand, the question arose whether an appeal lay. Held without expressly deciding the question whether the District Court had an inherent right of remand and whether an appeal lay from a remand made in the exercise of such a right that having regard to the fact that the policy of the Allahabad High Court had always been to allow as wide a meaning as was reasonably possible to O. 41, R. 23, C. P. Code. and that the District Judge presumably conceived himself to be acting simply under those provisions and did not express himself as acting in the exercise of any inherent jurisdiction, the appeal lay. (Piggott and Walsh, JJ.) GOKUL PRASAD v. RAM KUMAR. 44 A. 176 : 19 A. L. J. 971 :. 64 I. C. 878 : A. I. R. 1922 All. 254.

——0. 41, R. 23 and 0 43, R. 1 (A)—Appeal Order of remand—Provision of law not specified.

Where an appellate court passes an order of remand without specifying the provision of law under which the order is made, it must be presumed to be made under O. 41, R. 23. C. P. Code, and the order is appealable. 19 A. L. J. 971 Foll (Walsh and Ryves, JJ.) KULSOOM-UN NISSA v. RAM PRASAD. 20 A. L. J. 321 : L. R. 3 A. 394 : 44 A. 492 : 67 I. C 713 : 4 U. P. L. R. (A) 168: A. I. R. 1922 All. 226.

——0. 41, R. 23—Appeal—Though order of remand is irregular appeal lies.

An order of remand by an appellate Court which is such in form and in substance, though it be irregular, is an order under R. 23 and is appealable. 31 C. L. J. 354 and 24 C. W. N. 708 Foll. (Pearson and Graham, JJ.) KAYEM BISWAS v. BAHADUR KHAN. 42 C. L. J. 22 : 89 I. C. 744 : 30 C. W. N. 41 : A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 1258.

——0. 41, R. 23—Appeal—Court-fee on appeal ordered to be refunded.

Moreover though an order of remand passed by the Court of appeal below might not be in strict accord with the provisions of O. 41, R. 23 read with O. 43, R. 1 (w), if the order of the appellate Court purported to be an order under O. 41, R. 23, an appeal would lie from such an order. In this case, strictly speaking, the order passed by the lower appellate Court was not in conformity with O. 41 R. 23 but it was manifest from the form of its order that it purported to pass it under O. 41, R. 23. Its order that the Court-fee paid on the memorandum of appeal should be returned to the Appellant could only be passed, under S. 13 of the Court-fees Act, in a case where the remand is made under O 41, R. 23. Further, an order passed by the Appellate Court in the exercise of its inherent jurisdiction which is possessed was, an appealable order even though it may not come within the scope of O. 41, R. 23. (Suhrawardy and Duval, JJ.) AGENT, BENGAL NAGPUR RAILWAY v. BEHARILAL DUTT. 52 Cal. 783 : 29 C. W. N. 614 : A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 716.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 41. R. 23—Appeal.

——0. 41, R. 23 and O. 43, R 1 (u)—Appeal—Remand order made under inherent power.

In a suit for partition, the defendants resisted the claim of the plaintiffs in the Primary Court on the allegation that the land had been previously partitioned by metes and bounds and that they and their predecessors had long been in separation. The trial Court held in favour of the defendants and dismissed the suit. Upon appeal, the plaintiffs asked for permission to adduce in evidence any entry in the record-of-rights which had been finally published after the date of the decree of the Trial Court. The lower Appellate Court acceded to the request of the plaintiff and set aside the decree or the Court of first instance and directed a re-trial of the suit with reference to the entry in the record-of-rights and such other evidence as might be adduted by both the litigants. Against this order for re-trial the defendants preferred an appeal to the High Court. Held (1) that the order of remand was made not under the provisions of O. 41, R. 23, C.P. Code, but under the inherent powers of the Court ; (2) that an appeal lay against the order of the lower Appellate Court inasmuch as it amounted to a decree irrespective of the provisions of O. 43, R, 1 (u), C, P. Code ; (3) that the admission of the record of rights was justified under the circumstances of the case. (Mockerjee and Chotzner, JJ.) BHAIROB CHANDRA DUTTA v. KALI KUMAR DUTTA. 37 C. L. J. 491 : 71 I. C. 453 : 74 I. C. 1038 : A. I. R. 1923 Cal. 606.

——0. 41, R. 23—Appeal—Order of remand under B. T. Act.

An appeal against an order of remand passed by the Special Judge under the provisions of the Bengal Tenancy Act, is incompetent. (C. C. Ghose and Chotzner, JJ.) DEBI PROSAD v. OFFICIAL TRUSTEE. 37 C. L. J. 314 : A. I. R. 1923 Cal. 333.

——0. 41, R. 23 and O. 43, R. 1 (u)—Appeal—Order of remand under inherent power, is not appealable.

An order under the inherent power of the Court under S. 151 of the C. P. Code and not under O. 41, R. 23 is not appealable. (Moti Sagar, J.) WISAKHI RAM v. ALAWAL. 6 Lah. L. J. 153 : 78 I. C. 408 : A. I. R. 1924 Lah. 487.

——0. 41, R. 23, S. 151—Appeal—Amendment of plaint.

Where a suit is remanded for rehearing after amending the plaint, the order is one made under S. 151 and not under O. 41, R. 23 and hence there is no right of appeal. The remand is not on a preliminary point and as O. 41, R. 23 will not apply, the court has power under S. 151 to remand. (Martineau, J.) MAHOMED SHAH v. TALAB HUSSAIN SHAH. 73 I. C. 915 : A. I. R. 1924 Lah. 245.

——0. 41, R. 23—Appeal — Custom—Punjab Courts Act, S. 4.

There can be no appeal from an order of remand under O. 41, R. 23 of the Code of Civil Procedure where the question involved is one of custom. As the Appellant would have a right of second appeal from the decree of the Appellate Court only if he were to obtain a certificate under sub-S. 3 of S. 40 of the Punjab Courts Act, it could not be said definitely that an appeal would lie from the decree of the appellate Court. The question of custom can be agitated in second appeal from the final decree if the certificate is obtained. (Scott-Smith and Forde, JJ.) MT. CHANDO v. MIRAN BAKHSH. 5 Lah. L. J. 392 :

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 41, R. 23—Appeal.

73 I. C. 650 : A. I. R. 1923 Lah. 535.

——O. 41, R. 23—Appeal—Order under.

The Legislature intended to put orders of remand on exactly the same footing as appellate decree and to make them appealable on precisely the same grounds. If a mistake in deciding the question of custom can be corrected in an appeal from an appellate decree it is reasonable to hold that it can be and ought to be corrected in an appeal from an order of remand also, 20 I. C 788 Approved.

Per Martineau, J.—The competency of a second appeal is not dependent on the question whether the decision of the lower Appellate Court is based on a finding of fact or on a finding of law for even when the decision is based on a finding of fact a second appeal will be on one of the grounds mentioned in S. 41 (1) (b) and (c) of the Punjab Courts Act. Whether or not a second appeal lies depends on the nature and value of the suit a second appeal not being barred by S. 42 (2) only in a suit of the nature cognizable by a Court of Small Causes when the amount or value of the subject matter of the suit does not exceed Rs. 500. S. 42 (1) merely restricts the grounds on which a second appeal can be entertained to those mentioned in S. 41. (Shadi Lal, C. J., Abdul Raoof and Martineau, JJ.) MT. UMRI v. SHAH MAHOMED. 4 Lah. L. J. 359 : 3 L. 218 : 68 I. C. 849 : A. I. R. 1922 Lah. 178 (F. B)

——O. 41, R. 23—Appeal—Order under inherent power of Court and not covered by R. 23 is not appealable.

Where the Trial Court decided all the issues and Appellate Court allowed the plaint to be amended and remanded the case for trial on the amended plaint to the Trial Court. Held that the order of remand was not one passed under O. 41, R. 23 and was therefore not appealable. (Wallace and Madhavan Nair, JJ.) MUPPAVARAPU VENKATA RADHAKRISHNA RAO v. VENTHURUMILLI VENKATA RAO. 20 L. W. 711 : 35 M.L.T. 135 : (1924) M. W. N. 922 : 84 I.C. 965 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 229 · 47 M. L. J. 552.

——O. 41, R 23—Appeal—Remand of case for disposal after the decision of the main point.

Where the Appellate Court decides the main point in a case and remands the case for disposal of the remaining issues, the decision is not one on a preliminary point and thus the order is not appealable. 44 Cal. 929, Foll. (Abdur Rahim and Oldfield, JJ.) PONANGI VENKATA SUBBARAIDU v. ZAMINDAR OF NUZVID. 60 I. C. 609: 12 L. W. 667.

Defective trial.

——O. 41, R. 23—Defective trial—Case must not be remanded when trial Court has really disposed of a point on the merits, merely because its discussion of the evidence is inadequate or wrong.

First appellate Court ough not to remand cases for re-trial when the trial Court has really disposed of them on the merits. In such cases if the appellate Court considers that it ought to have a finding on some issue or issues which the trial Court has not decided it can always remit issues under O. 41, R. 25 but it is not legitimate for an appellate Court to send back the case from its file merely because it differs radically from the conclusions of the Court below on the facts or because it considers that the discussion of the evidence in the trial Court's judgment is inadequate (Sulaiman and Daniels, JJ.) LAKHAN SINGH v. BABU RAM. 23 A. L. J. 880 : A. I. R. 1926 All. 65

——O. 41, R. 23—Defective trial—Remand for retrial—Proper issues not raised by trial Court.

Where the trial court had not raised the proper issues arising from the pleadings of the parties and had not given them an opportunity to produce evidence thereon. Held, that the appellate court would remand the case for re-trial after framing the proper issues which it was the duty of the trial court to raise. (Fremantle, S. M. and Burn, J. M.) MANJI RAM v. DULARI LAL. L. R. 5 A. 153 (Rev.).

——O. 41, R. 23—Defective trial—Decision on all issues by trial court—Appellate Court differing in its conclusion—Legality of remand.

When a suit is tried by the first court and is dismissed on the merits and the appellate court comes to a different conclusion on the main issue in the case but nevertheless remands the case on the ground that evidence was not properly directed, the order of the appellate court recording its finding on the issue and then directing a remand is materially irregular and should be set aside in revision by the High Court. (Devadoss, J.) PERICHERLA SURYANARAYANA RAJU v. GANAPATHI RAJU. 30 M. L. T. 314 : 16 L. W. 593 : 70 I C. 655 : A. I. R. 1923 Mad. 113.

Effect of Order.

——O. 41, Rr. 23 and 25—Effect of order—Interference on appeal with that order—Effect in proceedings in the interim.

Per Walsh, J.—Whether upon a remand order being wrongly made, the decree and all the proceedings taken under that order are null and void, depends on the circumstances in each case and on the nature of the invalidity of the remand order. If the remand order is finally set aside and is such an order as ought not to have been passed at all in any case it may be that the proceedings in the court below fall with it. It would be turning the law into absurdity, and would amount to a denial of justice if a proper trial which has taken place under a remand order made by the appellate Court and in obedience to such remand order were held to be invalid where as the result of the High Court's own decision that remand order turned out to have been perfectly justified. (Piggott and Walsh, JJ.) RAJKALI v GOPI NATH NAIK. 44 A. 211 : 20 A. L. J. 44 : 66 I. C. 317 : A. I. R. 1922 All. 35.

——O. 41, R. 23—Effect of order—Second appeal—Remand by single Judge—Questioning corrections of the order.

If a party in second appeal accepts the order of remand by a single Judge, he cannot impeach it at a later stage. But if subsequently the appeal comes up before another Judge or a Bench differently constituted, the Bench is not bound by the order remitting issues but may consider the propriety of the issues and if of different opinion it may ignore those findings. (Piggott and Walsh, JJ.) MASIHUNNISSA v. CANIZ SUGHRA. 43 All. 377 : 19 A. L. J. 139 : 60 I. C. 975 : 3 U. P. L. R. (All.) 30.

——O. 41, R. 23—Effect of order—Jurisdiction to try suit on remand.

The jurisdiction of a court trying a remanded case depends entirely on the order of the Appellate Court when remanding the case. (Krishnan, J.) UTHUMAN AMMAL v. NAINA MAHAMAD. 17 L. W. 355 : (1923) M. W. N 194 : 72 I. C. 314 : 32 M.L.T. 276 : A. I. R. 1923 Mad. 351 : 44 M. L. J. 238.

——O. 41, R. 23—Effect of order—No notice of remand is given in Central Provinces.

Obiter :—Where a case is remanded for retrial by the First Court no notice is given to the parties of the date fixed for the re-hearing according to the practice of the Courts in the Central Provinces. 4 N. L. R. 166 Foll. (Backer, J. C.) SHEIKH BALDAR v. SHEIKH IMAM. 76 I. C. 46 : A. I. R. 1925 Nag. 31.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 41, R 23—Effect of order.

——— O. 41, R. 23—Effect of order—Remand to First Appellate Court—Power of.

Where on Second Appeal, the case is remanded to the Lower Appellate Court, it is not open to that Court, to consider arguments abandoned in Second Appeal or not raised in Second Appeal or to come to fresh findings on points decided by the order of remand. (Mac Nair, A. J. C.) GOPAL RAO v. NEMICHAND. 61 I. C. 575 (Nag.).

——— O. 41, Rr. 23 and 25— Effect of order—Decision on a point of law—Appeal from final decree after remand—Legality of order of remand not to be questioned.

Where the High Court in Second Appeal differs from the lower Court on an issue of law and remands the case to the Court below, the order of the High Court is binding upon that Court and cannot be questioned in an appeal from the final decree passed after remand. (Miller, C. J. and Ross, J.) RAI BRIJ RAJ KRISHNA v. CHATHU SINGH. 4 P. L. T. 35 : A. I. R. 1923 Pat. 226.

Exclusion of Evidence.

——— O. 41, R. 23—Exclusion of evidence—Consideration of inadmissible evidence.

Where the lower court has based its findings on certain inadmissible evidence but there is ample evidence otherwise on the record to sustain the findings, the High Court need not remand the case to the court below for a decision on the admissible evidence in the case. (Suhrawardy, J.) FAIJADDIN v. AGNI KUMAR SARMA. 71 I. C. 300 : A. I. R. 1924 Cal. 370.

Finality of Order.

——— O. 41, R. 23—Finality of order—Revision lies against order of remand finally disposing of matter before Court.

Revision lies from the order of remand where Judge has finally disposed of the matter pending before him. (Sulaiman and Daniels, JJ.) HAFIZ ZAHUR AHMAD v. TASLIM-UN-NISSA. 23 A. L. J. 891 : L. R. 6 A. Civ. 575 : A. I. R. 1926 All. 55.

——— O. 41, R. 23—Finality of order—Order of remand whether final.

An order of remand is interlocutory and therefore not subject of appeal to His Majesty in Council ; it can be a final order if it decides some cardinal point in the suit but an order of remand which merely decides that a suit is maintainable in the form in which it is brought is not final. (Scott-Smith and Broadway, JJ.) MEHRCHAND v. LABHURAM. 60 I. C. 522 : 2 Lah. 106.

——— O. 41, R. 23—Finality of order—Reopening of issues.

Under O. 41, R. 23, the issues decided by the order of remand cannot be re-opened between the parties at any subsequent stage of the litigation. (Daniels and Dalal, JJ.) JANKI SHAH v. MAHOMMED ABBAS. 25 O. C. 245 · 70 I. C. 983 · A. I. R. 1923 Oudh 50 (2).

——— O. 41, R. 23—Finality of order—Order of single Judge—Power of successor to question the propriety of.

Where a single Judge of the High Court hearing a second appeal remands it for fresh decision to the lower Court, and the case then comes up on second appeal from the revised decision of the lower Court, it is not open to the High Court to question its own earlier judgment remanding the case to the lower Court. The remedy of the party was to have appealed against the judgment of the single Judge remanding the case. (Miller, C.J. and Coutts, J.) MUNSHI LAL v. RAMASIS PURI. 1 P. 246 : 3 P. L. T. 343 : A. I. R. 1922 Pat. 284.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O 41, R. 23—Grounds for remand.

Grounds for remand.

——— O. 41, Rr. 23 and 25 - Grounds for remand—Propriety of.

In a suit for possession and damages where the appellate Court differs from the trial Court on the question of title and possession but as there was no finding of the trial Court as to damages remanded the whole suit. Held, the procedure is improper. The proper course would be to remit an issue under O. 41, R. 25. (Piggott and Walsh, JJ.) ABDULLA KHAN v. MAHAMMAD MAQBUL HUSAIN. 45 A. 565 : L. R. 4 A. 260 : 74 I. C. 822 : 21 A. L. J. 538 : A. I. R. 1923 All. 603 (2).

——— O. 41. R. 23—Grounds for remand—Suit tried ex parte—Sufficiency of evidence.

A suit was tried ex parte and decreed in plff.'s favour on meagre evidence held on facts that if the plff. had even by way of a subsidiary defence to the appeal submitted a formal application supported by an affidavit to the effect that he would have produced further evidence in the trial Court if the Court itself had not intimated that the evidence actually tendered was sufficient to warrant the passing of an ex parte decree the Court would have felt much disposed to send the case back to the trial Court to be fully tried out on the merits. (Rafique and Piggott, JJ.) (LALA) RAM RAGHUBIR LAL v. DIP NARAIN SINGH. 21 A. L. J. 168 : 45 All. 311 : 71 I C. 749 : L. R. 4 A. (Civ.) 380 : A. I. R. 1923 All. 287.

——— O. 41, R. 23 and O. 43, R. 1 (u)—Grounds for remand—Order of remand—Court not stating provision of law under which order was passed—High Court refused to hold order was not under O. 41, R. 23

Where the lower appellate Court did not say anywhere in its judgment under what provisions of law it purported to pass an order of remand, the High Court refused to hold that the order was not passed under the provisions of O. 41, R. 23 of the Civil Procedure Code. To hold otherwise would be to curtail the right to appeal which should not be done except upon very clear proof of circumstances justifying such curtailment. The High Court, assuming that the lower Court made the order under the provisions of O. 41, R. 23. although it might not be that the provisions of that rule strictly justified the order in question, held, that an appeal lay to itself from the order. A.I.R. 1922 Cal. 456, Foll. (Greaves and Mukerji, JJ.) UMESH NARAIN v. SECY. OF STATE. 87 I. C. 575 : A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 1157.

——— O. 41, R. 23—Grounds for remand—Remand should not be made where necessities of case are specifically provided for by the Code.

In the presence of specific provision in the Code capable of meeting the requirements of the case, the Court should not exercise its jurisdiction to remand the case. (Sanderson, C. J. and Chakravarti, J.) RAJANI KANT SAHA v. RAJENDRA KUMAR BOSE. 82 I. C. 663 : A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 274.

——— O. 41, R. 23—Grounds for remand—Issue settled and tried.

The C. P. Code does not make any provision for an order of remand where all the issues have been framed and tried. (Sanderson, C. J. and Richardson, J.) INJAD ALI v. MOHINI CHANDRA. 27 C. W. N. 1025 : A. I. R. 1924 Cal. 148.

——— O. 41, R. 23—Grounds for remand.

Where a book was used by the Lower Court to establish certain facts which a party had no opportunity of meeting and which he desired to rebut, the admission of the book in the Appellate Court might involve a remand. (Woodroffe and Cuming, JJ.) SECY. OF STATE v. ANANDA MOHAN ROY.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 41, R. 23—Grounds for remand.

66 I. C. 287 : 34 C. L. J. 205.

——O. 41, Rr. 23 and 25—Grounds for remand—Remand can be ordered only if decisions are set aside on preliminary point.

An order of remand under O. 41, R. 23, cannot be made unless the decision of the first Court has been set aside on a preliminary point. If the appellate Court desires certain additional issues to be tried the order ought to be under R. 25. (Abdul Raoof, J.) HARI RAM v. BUTA SHAH-LACHMI DAS.
7 Lah. L. J. 351 : 26 Punj. L. R. 629 : A. I. R. 1925 Lah 480.

——O. 41, R. 23—Grounds for remand—Determination as to the date of cause of action.

A remand in order to enable the plaintiff (appellant) to ascertain whether or not a remand was made within three years of the institution of the suit which would save limitation was refused. (Harrison and Zafar Ali, JJ.) RAM v. GAMAN RAM.
A. I. R. 1923 Lah 645.

——O. 41, R. 23—Grounds for remand—Remand when issues are framed and evidence recorded, is wrong under R. 23 which has an operation only when decision is on preliminary point.

Where the trial Court gave findings on all the issues except one but without reasons and the appellate Court remanded the case under R. 23, held, that the order was irregular and ought to be set aside and that the fact that the appellant would be prejudiced in not being able to raise an objection as to its jurisdiction in the appellate Court is no ground for refusing to set aside the remand. (Krishnan and Waller, JJ.) A. CHELMAYYA v. A. LAKSHMI DEVAMMA.
79 I. C. 857 : A. I. R 1925 Mad. 171.

——O. 41, Rr. 23 and 25—Grounds for remand—Remand under R 23 is not justified where an issue though necessary was not framed by the lower Court.

Where an issue though necessary was not framed the Court should not remand the case but should refer the issue for taking additional evidence and for returning the case to it with its findings. (Schwabe, C. J. and Wallace, J.) M. KORU KUTTY v. VALIKATHODIYIL AHAMMAD. 78 I.C. 1 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 169.

——O. 41, R. 23—Grounds for remand—Disposal by first Court on all issues—Order of remand—Legality.

Where the first Court has framed a number of issues and has decided every one of them, it is not open to an appellate Court to remand the case on additional issues. The proper course is to frame the essential issues and to call upon the Court to return findings on them after allowing each side to adduce additional evidence. (Spencer and Venkatasubba Rao, JJ.) MALAYANDI GOUNDAN v. BOMMAN POOSARI.
17 L.W. 159 : 71 I. C. 204 : A. I. R. 1923 Mad. 331 (1).

——O. 41, R. 23—Grounds for remand—Omission to consider facts and actual bringing them to notice must be proved to justify remand.

Unless it is very clearly shown that material circumstances were brought to the notice of the lower Appellate Court and that it omitted to consider them, High Court will not impute any negligence to it and will not remand the case for reconsideration by it. (Kotval, A. J. C.) ANANDRAO v. DADA. 71 I. C. 43 : A. I. R. 1924 Nag. 65.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 41, R. 23—Inherent power.

——O. 41, R. 23—Grounds for remand—Evidence recorded—Absence of specific issue.

Where all the information necessary for the decision of a point was supplied by the papers on the record and the Court applied its mind to the point and actually decided it, the mere fact that no issue was framed by the Court on the point did not necessitate a remand by the appellate Court (Fremantle S. M.) RAM DEO KUNWAR v. ALI HUSSAIN.
L. R. 5 O. 51 : 11 O. L. J. 401.

——O. 41, R. 23—Grounds for remand—Decision to be not on pleadings but evidence.

If the Court below fails to take evidence and does not come to a conclusion on this point there ought to be a remand. Decision should be based on evidence and not on pleadings of the parties. (Das, J.) MAHARAJA BAHADUR KESHO PRASAD SINGH v. BHAGWAT SARAN PANDE. 67 I. C. 710 : A. I. R. 1923 Pat. 174.

——O. 41, R. 23—Grounds for remand.

Where parties agreed not to adduce evidence and asked the Judge to inspect the locality and then give a judgment, held, that no remand with liberty to parties to adduce evidence should be ordered. (Kennedy, J. C. and Raymond, A. J. C.) TILLOOMAL JESSOMAL v. HARBHAGWANDAS. 76 I. C. 309 : A. I. R. 1924 Sind 134.

Inherent power.

——O. 41, R. 23 and S. 151—Inherent power—Case not covered by O. 41, R. 23—Remand can be made under S. 151.

The powers of the appellate Court as regards remand are not restricted to the case specified in O. 41-R. 23, but the Court by reason of its inherent jurisdiction vested in it by S. 151 of the C. P. Code, may remand in any case other than the case specified in O. 41, R. 23, if it be necessary for the ends of justice to do so. 44 Cal. 929 (F.B.) Foll. (Greaves and Mukerji, JJ.) UMESH NARAIN v. SECRETARY OF STATE.
87 I. C. 575 : A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 1157.

——O. 41, Rr. 23 and 25—Inherent power—Course to be followed in second appeal.

In a second appeal involving several points difficult to disentangle, the appropriate course to follow is to make not an order under O. 41, R. 25, but an order of remand in the exercise of inherent power of the Court. 44 Cal. 929, 44 I.A. 218, 45 Cal. 94, Ref. (Mookerjee and Rankin, JJ.) KAMINI KUMAR DEB v. DURGA CHARAN NAG. 37 C. L. J. 122 : A. I. R. 1923 Cal. 521.

——O. 41, R. 23—Inherent power.

An appellate Court has inherent powers to order a remand which can however be made where the justice of the case demands it. (Walmsley and Ghose, JJ.) SASHI MUKHI DASI v. ABINASH CHANDRA HALDAR. A. I. R. 1922 Cal. 279.

——O. 41, Rr. 23 and 25—Inherent power—Powers of Appellate Court—Retrial.

An Appellate Court has inherent power to order a retrial but that course should not be adopted except in exceptional circumstances and where the Code does not provide an adequate procedure. (Buckland, J.) RADHA KANTA DAS NANAK v. PRAKASH CHANDRA DUTT. 64 I. C. 599 (Cal.).

——O. 41, Rr. 23 and 25 and S. 115—Inherent power—Revision.

Where instead of passing an order under O. 41, R. 25, C. P. Code, an Appellate Court remanded for rehearing under O. 41, R. 23, the Court cannot be said to have acted without jurisdiction to justify interference in revision under S.115, C.P.Code. The appellate Court has inherent power to make a remand. (Newbould,

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 41, R. 23—Inherent power.

J.) ATUL CHANDRA SEAL v. SHEIKH KOBADALI. 64 I. C. 436. (Cal.)

——O. 41, R. 23—Inherent power.

A Court of appeal can remand even in cases not covered by O. 41, R. 23, if the ends of justice require the same. (Moti Sagar, J.) BHUP SINGH v. PREM SINGH. 76 I. C. 496 : 5 Lah. L. J. 384 : A. I. R. 1924 Lah. 362.

——O. 41, R. 23—Inherent power—Powers of appellate Court.

The power of remand under S. 107, C. P. Code, is limited to the case described in O. 41, R. 23 but nothing in that section restricts in any manner the application of the principle of inherent power of remand recognised by S. 151 of the Code. (Abdul Raoof and Moti Sagar, JJ.) MT. UMRI v. SHAH MAHOMAD. 5 Lah. L. J. 269 : 74 I. C. 497 : A. I. R. 1924 Lah. 36.

——O. 41, R. 23—Inherent power—Improper exercise of power—Revision.

An order of remand made not under O. 41, R. 23 of the C. P. Code but in the exercise of the inherent power of the Court is not appealable. (Ayling, O. C. J. and Odgers, J.) SHEIKH MUHAMMAD v. RANGASAMI NAIDU. 31 M. L. T. 182 : 69 I. C. 826: 16 L. W. 515.

——O. 41, R. 23—Inherent power.

An Appellate Court has powers of remand apart from the power conferred by O. 41, R. 23. Such powers are conferred by S. 107 and are also implied by the provisions of S. 100, Sub S. (2) and S. 105 (1) of the C. P. Code, 30 M. 54 Ref. Where an order of remand is made under its inherent powers by an Appellate Court, there is appeal from the order but the High Court can interfere in revision with the order. (Ashworth, J. C.) FARZAND ALI v. EKADASHI. 26 O. C. 10: 10 O. L. J. 36 : 9 O. & A. L. R. 332 : 73 I. C. 591 : A. I. R. 1923 Oudh 177.

New plea.

——O. 41, R. 23—New plea—Question of fact raised in lower appellate Court for the first time—Case should be remanded

Where a question of fact relating to the foundation of the plaintiff's title was raised for the first time in the first appellate Court, the case was remitted to the Court of first instance for the purpose of enquiring into the evidence relating thereto. (Suhrawardy and Duval, JJ.) MOTALEB KHAN v. IDRIS KHAN. 86 I. C. 750 : A. I. R. 1926 Cal. 414.

——O. 41, R. 23—New plea—Opportunity to plaintiff to supplement his case.

Where the plaintiff has not come into Court with a definite statement of facts necessary for him to succeed and with all his evidence he cannot in second appeal ask for a remand so as to give him an opportunity to supplement his case in the Court below. (Sanderson, C. J. and Ghose, J.) JATINDRA MOHAN CHAKRAVARTHI v. BIJOY CHAND MAHATAB. 71 I. C. 284 : A. I. R. 1924 Cal 396.

Powers of Appellate Court.

——O. 41, R. 23—Powers of Appellate Court—Question of fact fully investigated.

Where a question of fact has been fully investigated in the court below and the Appellate Court comes to a different conclusion on some portion it ought not to remand the case for working out the result of its decision but should itself uphold or modify the decision of the lower court. (Piggott and Walsh, JJ.) SHIAM SARAN v. BANARSI DAS. 20 A. L. J. 258 : 4 U. P. L. R. (A) 102 : 66 I. C. 866 :

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 41, R. 23—Powers of Appellate Court.

A. I. R. 1922 All. 192.

——O. 41, R. 23—Power of appellate Court—Trial Court deciding three points and dismissing suit—Appellate Court deciding only one point and remitting case is not justified.

Where the Trial Court held that the description of the defendant in the plaint in a suit against a Railway was defective and also that the suit was not maintainable in view of the objections taken under Ss. 75 and 77 of the Railways Act and where the lower appellate Court considered only the question as to the frame of the suit and remanded the suit and ordered amendment of the plaint but the Court did not consider the points under Railways Act, Ss. 75 and 77, Held (Per Suhrawardy, J.), that the Court was not justified in remitting the case to the trial Court after setting aside its decision on only one of the points decided by it. The Court should have gone into the questions decided by the first Court under Ss. 75 and 77 of the Railways Act. (Suhrawardy and Duval, JJ.) AGENT, BENGAL-NAGPUR RY. v. BEHARI LAL DUTT. 29 C. W. N. 614: 52 Cal. 783: 90 I. C. 426 : A. I. R. 1925 Cal 716.

——O. 41, R. 23—Powers of Appellate Court under—Suit decided not only on preliminary point.

The power of the Appellate Court to direct a remand is wider than that indicated in O. 41, R. 23. The Appellate Court has inherent power to direct a remand where such remand is needed in the ends of justice. An order of remand may be valid even though it is not covered by O. 41, R 23. Assuming for a moment that an order made in the exercise of the inherent powers of High Court has been improperly made, that is, made under circumstances which do not justify it, such an order is not without jurisdiction. It is an order made with jurisdiction though the jurisdiction may have been erroneously exercised. A remand order made on second appeal is, unless a review of it be obtained within the prescribed time, a conclusive determination of the points of law involved in it; and the correctness of law laid down upon a remand cannot be questioned on a subsequent second appeal; nor is the fact of the Courts adopting a different view of the law after an order has been made in general a good ground for allowing a review of such order after the time for a review has elapsed. The policy of the legislature as indicated in the C. P. Code of 1908 is in favour of finality of orders of remand. (Mookerjee and Rankin, JJ.) BISAI NATH v. TARA NATH DEB. 72 I. C. 588: A. I R. 1923 Cal 385.

——O. 41, Rr. 23, 24 and 25—Power of Appellate Court—Full trial in Court of first instance.

Where the trial Court has decided the suit on the evidence on all the issues it is not open to the appellate Court to remand the case under O. 41, R. 23, C. P. Code, as though the suit had been decided on a preliminary point. The appellate Court should have taken the course indicated by O. 41, R. 24 or R. 25, C. P Code. (Richardson and Ghose, JJ.) NURUL GUNI v. KAZAMAINI. 66 I. C. 922: A. I. R. 1923 Cal. 323.

——O. 41, R. 23 and S. 151—Powers of Appellate Court—Reversal and remand for de novo trial—Propriety of.

Where the lower Appellate Court reversed the decree of the Court below, modified one of the issues and remanded the case for a de novo trial on the modified issue, held, the procedure was wrong. (Greaves and Ghose, JJ.) RADHA KRISHNA SAHA v. KANAL KAMINI DEBYA. 35 C. L. J. 345 : 70 I. C. 547: A. I. R. 1922 Cal. 456.

——O. 41, R. 23—Powers of Appellate Court

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 41, R. 23—Powers of Appellate Court.

—Appeal from an order of remand—Findings of fact —Second appeal.

In an appeal from an order of remand, findings of fact cannot be examined by the Court sitting as a Court of second appeal. But where the findings of the first Appellate Court appear to have been based on misappreciation of the true controversy between the parties, the High Court, in such circumstances, will interfere and direct a re-hearing of the appeal. (Broadway, J.) QADIR BAKHSH v. SHAMAS DIN.

73 I .C. 756 : A. I. R. 1923 Lah. 206.

———O. 41. R. 23—Powers of appellate Court—Order not covered by the section if wrongly passed is revisable.

A remand order passed by an appellate Court which it was not competent to pass is liable to be set aside in revision. (Krishnan and Waller, JJ.) A. CHELMAYYA v. A. LAKSHMI DEVAMMA.

79 I. C. 857 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 171.

———O. 41, R. 23—Power of Appellate Court—Decision by trial Court on all issues—Appellate Court differing on one issue.

Where the trial Court decided a suit on all the issues and dismissed the suit and the appellate Court, being on a contrary opinion on one of the issues, remanded the suit for fresh disposal but without disturbing the findings of the first Court on the other issues, held, that the order of remand was improper. The appellate court should have dealt with the other issues and disposed of the case or if in its opinion the evidence on record and the findings of trial Court were insufficient to dispose of the case the Appellate Court should have called for findings under O. 41, R. 25, C. P. Code. (Spencer and Venkatasubba Rao, JJ.) MUNISAMI NAICKEN v. MUNISWAMI NAICKEN.

(1923) M. W. N. 11 : 76 I. C. 1041 : 16 L. W. 979: A. I. R. 1923 Mad. 227.

———O. 41, R. 23—Powers of Appellate Court—Preliminary decree.

Where an appellate Court can pass a preliminary decree it is its duty to do so and a remand as to matters which can be the subject-matter of the preliminary decree is not warranted. (Kumaraswami Sastri and Devadoss, JJ.) SUBBE GOUNDAN v. KRISHNAMACHARI.

45 Mad. 449 : 30 M. L. T. 217 : 15 L. W. 537 : (1922) M. W. N. 269 : 68 I. C. 869 : A I. R. 1922 Mad 112 : 42 M. L. J. 372.

———O 41, R. 23 and Ss. 100. 105, 107—Power of Appellate Court—Ex parte decree— Power of remand otherwise than under the rule.

When a suit is decided ex parte, an Appellate Court to which an appeal from the decree is preferred has jurisdiction to reverse the decree of the lower Court on the ground that such Court was wrong in proceeding to decide the case ex parte and has also power to remand the suit for re-hearing. 30 M. 54 (F. B) Foll. The Code of Civil Procedure must in view of Ss. 100 (2), 105 (1) and (2) and S. 107, be held to permit a remand by an Appellate Court not in the particular case set forth in O. 41, R. 23, but also in all cases where there has been any error, defect or irregularity which has vitiated the whole decision of the case, provided that procedure under O. 41, Rr. 24 and 25, does not meet the case. A. I. R. 1922 All. 254: A.I.R. 1922 All. 226, Dist. But an order of remand cannot be made under R. 23 of O. 41 unless the case has been disposed of without entering into the full merits by reason of a decision on law or fact which has prevented the case from being tried to the end. (Ashworth, J. C.) SHEIKH FARZAND ALI v. EKADASHI.

10 O.L.J. 36 : 26 O. C. 10 : 9 O. & A. L. R. 332 : 73 I. C. 591 :

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 41, R. 23—Preliminary Point.

A. I. R. 1923 Oudh 177.

———O. 41, Rr. 23 and 25—Powers of Appellate Court—Order of remand—Reconsideration of by appellate Court.

There is a distinction between an order under O. 41, R. 23, C. P. Code, and an order under O. 41, R. 25, C. P. Code, which merely remands specific issues for decision. An order of the former class is a final order which is subject to appeal and cannot be considered by the court which passed it except on review whereas an order under O. 41, R. 25, C.P. Code, is an interlocutory order which it is open to the Court to re-consider. 16 A. 306 : 43 A. 477, Rel. (Daniels and Lyle, A. J. Cs.) KUAR NAGESHAR SAHAI v. KUAR MATA PRASAD.

25 O. C. 189 : 9 O. L. J. 235 : 69 I. C. 730 : A. I. R. 1922 Oudh 236.

———O. 41, R. 23—Power of Appellate Court—High Court—Decision on issue given by the Courts below.

Where an issue has been raised and determined by the first Court and the appellate Court on the evidence adduced it is not within the competence of the High Court in second appeal to remand the case for rehearing upon that very issue. (Miller, C.J. and Mullick, J.) GUNPAT RAO BANKA PURI v. RAJ KUMAR SINGH.

1 P. 639 : 67 I. C. 494 : A.I.R. 1922 Pat. 575.

Preliminary point.

———O. 41, R. 23—Preliminary point—Remand on assumption.

A case decided only on a preliminary issue as to stamp was remanded and the decision on the preliminary issue reversed, on the assumption of proof of a certain question of fact which was necessary for that decision. The trial Court was directed to try the question of fact first and to consider its effect on the contract in question (Shah, A. C. J. and Crump, J.) TRICAMJI DAMBJI AND CO. v. VIRJI KANJI.

24 Bom. L. R. 820 : A. I. R. 1923 Bom. 142.

———O.41, R. 23—Preliminary point—Trial Court dismissing suit without entering into merits on ground of defect in description of defendant—Appellate Court directing amendment of plaint and remanding case.

The trial Court did not enter into the merits of the case but held that the plaintiff's suit against the defendant Railway could not proceed because of the defect in the description of the defendant ; and it also found that the suit was barred under Ss. 75 and 77 of the Railways Act and dismissed the suit, The Appellate Court passed the following order :—The case will go back to the lower Court for amendment of the title of the defendant company and for a fresh trial. The costs of the Court will abide the result of the suit. The Court-fee paid on the memorandum of appeal should be returned to the appellant. Held that the decision of the Trial Court must be taken to be a decision on a preliminary point and the remand order of the lower appellate Court was one under O.41, R. 23, C P. Code (Suhrawardy and Duval, JJ.) AGENT, BENGAL NAGPUR RAILWAY v BEHARILAL DUTT.

52 Cal. 783 : 29 C. W. N. 614 : 90 I. C. 426 : A. I. R. 1925 Cal 716

———O. 41, R. 23—Preliminary point—Remand—Appeal lies.

An appeal lies from an order remanding a case under O. 41, R. 23 of the Civil Procedure Code even if the suit has been decided on a preliminary point. To say that there is no appeal where the Court acts in contravention of the rule and reverses the judgment of the trial Court and remands the case, would be to refuse an appeal in every case where the order of Advocate High Court Jammu & Kashmir Srinagar.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908). O. 41, R. 23—Preliminary Point.

remand is erroneous. (Walmsley and Ghose, JJ.) SASHI MUKHI DASI v. ABINASH CHANDRA HALDAR. A. I. R. 1922 Cal. 279.

——O. 41, R. 23—Preliminary point—Decree passed against dead person.

Where the death of one defendant was brought to the notice of the Court, but the Court continued the suit and passed a decree without legal representative, held, that the lower Court must be taken to have disposed of the case on a preliminary point. Remand under O. 41, R. 23 ordered. (Abdul Raoof and Campbell, JJ.) DEBI PRASAD v. MT. BHAGO.
5 L. L. J. 187 : 74 I.C. 682 : A,I.R. 1924 Lah. 33.

——O. 41, R. 23—Preliminary point—Remand order—Execution proceedings.

In an appeal against an order in execution proceedings where the case had not been disposed of upon a preliminary point, an order of remand was made by the lower appellate Court. An order for refund of the Court-fee stamp paid on appeal was also made under S. 13 of the Court-Fees Act. Held, the order of remand was admittedly illegal as an order for refund of Court-fees can only be passed when remand is made under O. 41, R. 23. (Campbell, J.) MIRAN BAKHSH v. CHANAN DIN. 70 I. C. 1008 : A. I. R. 1923 Lah. 171.

——O. 41 R. 23—Preliminary point—Whether suit is barred by events in earlier suit is preliminary point.

The question whether the trial of suit is barred by the events in an earlier suit is a preliminary point. A.I. R. 1922 Mad. 505, Foll. (Ramesam and Jackson, JJ.) A.N. RAMASAMI PILLAI v. NARAYANASAMI PILLAI.
21 L. W. 318 : 86 I C. 548 : (1925) M.W. N. 82 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 483 (2) : 48 M. L. J. 100.

——O. 41, R. 23 and O 43, R. 1 (4)—Preliminary point—Meaning of—Order of remand—Appealability.

Where the District Munsif in a suit held that the construction of a service grant was clear and that evidence of the consideration for that grant and of whether services were in fact rendered or not was irrelevant, and on appeal the appellate Judge took a different view of the construction of the grant and held that such evidence was relevant and accordingly remanded the case with that direction to the lower court. Held that the reversal was on a preliminary point within the meaning of O. 41, R. 23, C. P. Code and the order of remand was appealable. The expression "preliminary point" is not confined to such legal points only as may be pleaded in bar of suit but comprehend all such points as may have prevented the Court disposing of the case on the merits, whether such points are pure questions of law or pure questions of fact. There are many instances of such point such as, that a suit is barred by limitation ; that the Court has no jurisdiction under the Estates Land Act ; that evidence tendered was not admissible that on the plaintiff's evidence there is no evidence for the defendant to answer ; in a libel suit that there is no proof of publication. (Schwabe, C. J., Oldfield and Coutts Trotter, JJ.) MALAYATH VEETHIL RAMAN v. KRISHNAN NAMBUDRIPAD.
31 M. L. T. 208 (H. C.) : 45 M. 900 : 16 L.W. 425 : (1922) M. W. N. 589 : 69 I. C. 828 : A. I. R. 1922 Mad. 505 : 43 M.L.J. 354 (F. B.)

——O. 41, R. 23—Preliminary point—Meaning of.

The expression "preliminary point" in O. 41, R. 23 means some point either collateral to the merits which precludes their determination altogether or some particular question which though relating to the merits, precludes their general determination, 37 M. L. J. 536, Foll (Abdur Rahim and Odgers, JJ.) FERNANDEZ v. SYLVESTER SOUZA. 13 L. W. 54 : 61 I. C. 829 : 29 M. L. T. 56.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 41, R. 23—Transfer of Case.

——O. 41, R. 23—Preliminary point—Remand is proper only when preliminary point is decided or new trial is desired.

A remand should be made when a preliminary point only is decided or where the trial Court has not understood the case and a new trial is desired. (Dalal, J. C.) RAGHURAJ SINGH v. MAJID UN-NISSA.
87 I. C. 950 : A. I. R. 1925 Oudh 692.

——O. 41, R. 23—Preliminary point—What is.

Where the Court of first hearing appears to have decided every issue, the fact that its decision on a preliminary point covered the decision on the remaining points does not justify its being held that the decision was only on a preliminary point. (Ashworth, J. C.) AJODHYA SINGH v. KHUSRO BEGUM. 74 I. C. 582 : A. I R. 1924 Oudh 97.

——O. 41, R. 23—Preliminary point—Inherent power of remand—Appeal—Revision.

An Appellate Court has power to remand a case under O. 41, R. 23, C. P. Code, only when the lower Court has disposed of it on a preliminary point. No order of remand can be regarded as made under O.41, R. 23, C. P. Code, unless the case has been disposed of without entering into the full merits by reason of a decision on law or fact which has prevented the case being tried to the end. 19 A.L J. 971 ; 20 A L. J. 321, Ref. (Ashworth, J. C.) FARZAND ALI v. EKADASHI.
26 O. C. 10 : 10 O. L. J. 36 : 9 O. & A. L. R. 332 : 73 I. C. 591 : A. I. R. 1923 Oudh 177.

——O. 41, Rr. 23 and 1—Preliminary point—What is.

The first and second issues were as follows :—(1) Has the plaintiff any cause of action against the defendant? (2) Is the suit as framed tenable? The Judge made the following addition to the second issue: "was the complaint, if any, made by the defendant malicious and without any reasonable and probable cause"? Held, that issues 1 and 2, as they stood, before the Judge made the addition to the second issue could be regarded as preliminary issues but the second issue after the addition could not be regarded as a preliminary issue. (Das and Kulwant Sahay, JJ.) JAGNARAIN DUBEY v. BIDAPAT DUBEY. 4 P.L.T. 202 : 1 P. L. R. 332 : A. I. R. 1923 Pat. 344.

Question of Law.

——O. 41, R. 23—Question of law—Remand of the case to lower appellate Court.

If the grounds which the appellants wish to urge in the Court below are all grounds of law which can be argued equally well in High Court, High Court will not send back the case to have the appeal re-argued in the Court below on the same legal grounds. (Daniels, A. J. C.) MT. BASHIRAM v. BISAMBAR NATH. 9 O. L. J. 439 : A. I. R. 1922 Oudh 268.

Transfer of Case.

——O. 41, R. 23—Transfer of case—Appellate Court, if can direct trial by other than original Court.

O.41, R.23, C.P Code contemplates that the remand should be to that Court from whose decree the appeal is prepared, but if the Appellate Court has power to transfer a case from one Court to another, there is nothing illegal in remanding the case to another Court. 279 P. L. R. 1913 Rel. Where the person who heard the appeal was an Additional Judge who had no power under the C. P. Code or the Punjab Courts Act to transfer a case from one Subordinate

Advocate High Court
Jammu & Kashmir
Srinagar.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 41, R. 23—Miscellaneous

Court to another, his order remanding the case to another Court from that which tried it, is to that extent illegal. (Scott-Smith, J.) CHAJJU v. SHAM LAL. 25 P. W. R. 1922 : 66 I. C. 113 : A.I. R. 1922 Lah. 239.

Miscellaneous.

——0. 41, R. 23—Remand does not mean return of case for findings.

The word "remand" should be used only when a case is returned for decision. It is used in this sense in the Civil Procedure Code and is not used there in the provisions for return of a case for findings. (Carr, J.) NACHIAPPA v. MAHOMED SABIK.

4 Bur. L. J. 135 : A. I. R. 1925 Rang. 303.

——0. 41, Rr. 25 and 26—Issues sent to Lower Court—Findings — No objections — Acceptance by Appellate Court.

The lower Appellate Court referred certain issues for trial to the Court of first instance. After the findings, which were against the defendant had been received, the defendant failed to prefer objections to the findings within the ten days' time allowed. The lower Appellate Court thereupon without considering the finding on the merits decided the appeal, considering those findings to be final and dismissed the appeal. The defendant preferred a second appeal urging that the action of the District Judge was not warranted by law, and that he ought to have himself considered whether the findings were good or bad findings and should have decided the case. Held, that the Lower Appellate Court ought to have itself considered the correctness or otherwise of the findings returned by the trial Court before deciding the appeal. 6 A. 391, Ref. to. (Gokul Prasad, J.) MUKHTARA v. SARDARA. 71 I. C. 444 : A. I. R. 1923 All. 417(1).

——0. 41, R. 25—Finality of order determining issues.

Where a Court at the first hearing does not decide the case but merely remits certain specific issues it is open to the Court before which the case ultimately comes to disregard the findings on those issues and equally to form its own opinion on the whole case irrespective of anything that is said in the remand order An order remanding issues under O. 41, R. 25 is not a final order. No appeal lies against it. The responsibility for the decree ultimately passed is entirely that of the Court before which the case comes after remand. It is quite otherwise with an order of remand passed under O. 41, R. 23 for this is an order which does finally determine subject to any right of appeal the issues which it decides. (Daniels, J.) GOPAL NATH SHUKUL v. SAT NARAIN SHUKUL.

74 I. C. 1014 : A.I.R. 1923 All. 384.

——0. 41, R. 25—Duty of Court—Opportunity to both parties to give evidence must be given.

If the Court, to which an issue has been remitted for submitting a finding thereon, records evidence of one party and gives its finding without informing the other the date of recording the evidence, it can restore the case and take further evidence if the other party applies for restoration and an opportunity to produce further evidence. (Ryves, J.) AJODHIA PRASAD v. RAM NARAIN. 19 A. L. J. 79 : 62 I. C. 447 : L. R. 2 A. 1.

——0. 41, R. 25—No specific issue framed but evidence given—No remand is necessary.

Where the point as to the existence of custom was substantially alleged in the plaint, but there was no formal issue, and both the lower Courts had considered that question, held, that the defendants could not possibly contend that he had no opportunity to adduce evidence on the point. (Shah and Coyajee, JJ.)

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 41, R. 25.

GUNDAPPA BHARMA GOWDA v. SANTAPPA BHAURAO. A. I. R. 1924 Bom. 113.

——0. 41, R. 25—Remand should not be made on issue not raised in the pleadings.

An appellate Court should not ordinarily frame a new issue not raised in the pleadings or even suggested in the Trial Court and then remand the case. It ought only to be done in exceptional cases on good cause shown and payment of costs. (Mookerjee and Panton, JJ.) GOPAL v. ABDUL. 66 I. C. 640 : 34 C. L. J. 319.

——0. 41, R. 25—Findings called for—If can be questioned in second appeal.

When the finding and evidence upon issues remanded under O. 41, R. 25, Civil Procedure Code, are returned to the High Court the finding is conclusive and cannot be challenged on the evidence before the High Court as in first appeal the reason being that a second appeal is not allowed on questions of fact. (Scott-Smith and Harrison, JJ.) RAM MEHR v. PALI RAM. 6 Lah. L. J. 145 : 78 I. C. 404 : 5 Lah. 268 : A I. R. 1924 Lah. 455.

——0. 41, R. 25—Case remitted for trial to lower appellate Court—Lower appellate Court cannot send the case to the first Court.

Where the High Court has remitted certain issues for trial to the lower appellate Court, that Court has no power to delegate its duties to the Munsif and the Munsif has no authority to record additional evidence in the case or express any opinion upon it, 105 P. R. 1903 : 14 A. 23 Ref. to. (Abdul Raoof, J.) UTTAMCHAND v. MUHAMMAD BAKSH.

71 I. C. 896 : A. I. R. 1924 Lah. 354.

——0. 41, R. 25—Revision—Remand of case to the lower Court for findings—Power of the High Court.

The High Court can on second appeal remand a case for findings even on the points not taken in the grounds of appeal. The finding of the lower appellate Court on a question of fact which has not been put in issue can be contested in second appeal. (Shadi Lal and Martineau, JJ.) CHANDU LAL v. FIRM OF LAKHMI CHAND JOWALA DAT. 85 I. C. 92 : 5 Lah. L. J. 49.

——0. 41, R. 25—No revision except in exceptional cases.

It is only in exceptional cases that revisional powers are exercised in the case of orders of an interlocutory nature and even when the order is not of an interlocutory nature the High Court should not interfere except in cases where the order is not a final order such as one under O.41, R. 25 of the C.P. Code, (Broadway, J.) ALLAH BAKSH v. LAL KHAN.

67 I. C. 269 : 2 L. L. J. 662.

——0. 41, R. 25—Second appeal—Issue not raised—Procedure.

Where the right to redeem in a mortgage suit was based alternately on a will as well as on a lease and the first Court found the will genuine and decreed redemption, but the appellate Court held the will to be spurious and dismissed the suit held, in second appeal, that the proper thing to do was to frame an issue on the question of lease and call for findings under O. 41, R. 25. (Schwabe, C. J. and Wallace, J.) MANAMAL KORU KUTTY v. AHAMAD. 78 I. C 1 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 169.

——0. 41, R. 25—Decision by trial Court on all issues—Appellate Court differing on one issue and remanding the case—Propriety of remand.

Where the trial Court decided a suit on all the issues and dismissed the suit and the appellate Court being of a contrary opinion on one of the issues, remanded the suit for fresh disposal but without disturbing the findings of the first Court on the other issues. Held, that the order of remand was improper. The appellate Court should have dealt with the other issues and disposed of the case or if in its opinion the evidence on record and the findings of trial Court were insufficient to dispose of the case, the appellate Court should have called for findings under O. 41, R. 25, C.P. Code (Spencer and Venkatasubba Rao, JJ.) MUNISWAMI NAICKEN v. MUNISWAMI NAICKEN, 16 L. W. 979 : 76 I. C. 1041 : (1923) M. W. N. 11 : A. I. R. 1923 Mad. 227.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 41, R. 25.

——— —O. 41. R. 25—Appeal from order under O. 7, R. 10—Issues cannot be remanded.

By the terms of S. 2, C.P. Code, an order returning a plaint for presentation to the proper Court is not a decree. It is an order for an appeal against which special provision is made in O. 43 The appellate Court which hears the appeal from such an order has no jurisdiction to make remand at all and any remand made would be without jurisdiction. (Daniels, J.C.) KANDHAI LAL v. ANANTU. 12 O. L. J. 277 : 87 I. C. 172 : 2 O. W. N 239 : A. I. R. 1925 Oudh 393.

——— —O. 41, R. 25—Unless issue is material remand should not be ordered.

Unless the omitted issue, if decided, is likely to affect the final result of the suit, the suit should not be remanded. (Pullan, A. J. C.) GANGA v. PANCHAM. 27 O. C. 383 : 80 I. C. 591 : A. I. R. 1925 Oudh 97.

——— —O. 41, R. 25—Remand of specific issues—Reconsideration.

An order under O. 41, R. 25 which merely remands specific issues for decision is interlocutory which it is open to the Court to reconsider. (Daniels and Lyle, A. J. Cs.) KUAR NAGESHAR SAHAI v. KUAR MATA PRASAD. 25 O. C 189 : 69 I. C. 730. 9 O. L. J. 235 : A. I. R. 1922 Oudh 236.

——— —O. 41, R. 25—Order of remand—Reconsideration on further hearing.

Where a case has been remanded under O. 41, R. 25, the appellate Court on receipt of the finding of the Court below can reconsider the view of the law on which the remand was based. 43 All. 377, Foll. (Daniels, J. C.) SHYAM NARAIN v. JADUNATH SINGH. 25 O. C. 41 : 68 I. C. 242 : A. I. R. 1922 Oudh 118

——— —O. 41, R. 25—Partial remand—Appeal.

There is no appeal against an order of partial remand under O. 41, R. 25, (Po Han, J.) MAUNG SHWE ON v. N. K. R. P. MUDALIAR. 2 Bur L. J. 216 : 76 I. C. 816 : A. I. R. 1924 Rang. 131.

——— —O. 41, R. 26—Scope of—Remand—Calling for findings—Distinction.

It cannot as a matter of principle be affirmed broadly that when an order has been made under O. 41, R. 25, the Court called upon to determine the appeal finally under O. 41, R. 26 is competent to treat the order as erroneously made, when an order has been made under O. 41, R. 25, the appeal remains pending and undisposed of on the file of the Court. The order, however, whether rightly or wrongly made, is an order made with jurisdiction, its validity may be attacked on review but till it has been set aside in an appropriate proceeding, it must be treated as an interlocutory one which is operative in law. If the order had been made under O. 41, R. 23, its propriety would not have been challenged in an appeal against the final decree made after remand. The same principle is applicable to order under O. 41, R. 25, subject to the reservation that as the appeal remains pending, the ultimate decision must be based upon a consideration of all the findings before and after the order under O. 41, R 25. This, indeed, is plain from the language used by the legislature in O. 41, R. 26. The evidence and findings become part of the record in the suit and when the Court proceeds to determine the appeal such determination must be based upon all the materials on the record; these include whatever was part of the record as it stood before the order under O. 41, R. 25 was made, as also what has been added in the Court of appeal, namely, the order together with the evidence taken pursuant thereto and the reasoned findings thereon. No portion of the record can be disregarded and neither the order nor the materials placed on the record on the basis thereof can be rejected as if brought in without lawful authority. (Mookerjee and Rankin, JJ.) KAMINI KUMAR DEB v. DURGA CHARAN NAG. 37 C. L. J. 122 : 74 I. C. 392 : A. I. R. 1923 Cal. 521.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 41, R. 27.

——— —O. 41, R. 26—Finding—Objections not filed—Court's discretion.

Where no objections have been filed under O. 41, R. 26, C. P. Code, the Court may in its discretion decline to hear objections at the hearing. (Scott-Smith and Leslie Jones, JJ.) PARTAB SINGH v. ACHAR SINGH. 67 I. C. 846 : 3 L. L. J. 230.

——— —O. 41, R. 27—Substantial cause.

Where an appeal has been preferred, a review is out of question and the party's proper course is to apply to the appellate Court, which is in possession of the case, to admit the additional evidence either under the general principles of law or under the specific provisions of Rule 27, which lays down that the appellate Court may for any other substantial cause, viz., other than those particularly specified, allow such evidence or documents to be produced or witnesses to be examined. Rules of procedure are not made for the purpose of hindering justice. 11 Moo. I. A. 28 : 34 I. A. 115. Dist. (Mr. Ameer Ali.) INDRAJIT PRATAP BAHADUR v. AMAR SINGH. 4 P. L. T. 447 : 1 Pat. L. R. 345 : 21 A L. J. 554 : 2 Pat 676 : 50 I. A. 186 : 33 M. L. T. 233 : L. R. 4 (P. C.) 123 : L. R. 5 P. C. 8 : 28 C. W. N. 277 : 18 L. W. 728 : 25 B L. R. 1259 : 39 C. L. J. 318 : A. I. R. 1923 P. C 128 : 45 M. L. J. 578. (P. C.)

——— —O. 41, R. 27—Additional evidence cannot be admitted merely because the evidence is such as to justify grant of review.

An appellate Court as such has no jurisdiction to admit fresh evidence merely on the ground that it has been discovered by one of the parties to a litigation under such circumstances as would warrant an application for review of judgment under O. 47, R. 1. (Piggott, J.) BALDEO RAM v. KUNKIN RAM. L. R. 6 A. (Civ.) 393 : 88 I. C. 586 : A. I. R. 1925 All. 808.

——— —O. 41, R. 27—Reason for admitting additional evidence recorded only in judgment—Law is complied with.

Although appellate Court does not record at the time when it admits the additional evidence the reasons why it was admitting it but it does record those reasons in its judgment, there is a substantial compliance with the law. (Ryves and Daniels, JJ.) RAM CHARAN v. BIHARI VARMA. 85 I. C. 676 (2) : A. I. R. 1925 All. 752.

——— —O. 41, R. 27—Record of reasons—Admission of evidence.

Where an appellate Court admits additional evidence on appeal without stating sufficient reasons therefor its findings are vitiated thereby and the case will have to be remanded for retrial. 19 A. L. J. 407, Foll. (Gokul Prasad, J.) ALI AHMAD v. KISHAN PRASAD. 71 I. C. 289 : A. I. R. 1924 All. 303.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 41, R. 27.

——O. 41, R. 27—Evidence discovered after first Court's decree is admissible.

To admit or to refuse to admit fresh evidence in appeal is a matter primarily in the discretion of the Court. Where the appellant was not aware of the existence of some evidence at the time when the case was disposed of by the first Court and he has discovered some new evidence subsequently and has preferred an appeal, the proper course open to him is to apply to the appellate Court which is in possession of the case to admit the additional evidence either under the general principles of law or under the specific provisions of O. 41, R. 27, C.P. Code, which lays down that an appellate Court may for "any other substantial cause" allow such evidence or document to be produced or witness to be examined. A. I. R. 1923 P.C. 128, Foll. (Sulaiman and Ryves, JJ.) BADRI DAS v. HOSHIAR SINGH. 47 All. 412 : 23 A. L. J. 193 : L. R. 6 A. (Civ.) 85 : 86 I. C. 761 : A. I. R. 1925 All 288.

——O. 41, R. 27—Additional evidence not tendered in lower appellate Court though possible, cannot be admitted in High Court in second appeal.

Where an order of Revenue Court was passed as early as the 13th of May, 1921, and the appeal was disposed of by the lower appellate Court on the 15th February, 1922, and the defendant made no attempt whatsoever to tender the order of Revenue Court which was within his knowledge and power before the lower appellate Court nor was the attention of that Court directed to this matter, held, that it was too late for the defendant to try to tender it in the High Court. (Sulaiman, J.) NOHAR AHIR v. PURTAP AHIR. 21 A. L. J. 899 : L R. 5 A. 1 (Rev.) : 79 I. C. 367 : A. I. R. 1924 All. 231.

——O. 41, R. 27—Record of reasons—Not made—Effect.

Where the First Appellate Court issued a commission for the measurement of the plot in dispute and considered the report of the Commissioner along with other evidence on record without stating reasons for admitting the additional evidence and to give a finding, held, that the finding cannot be accepted as binding as it is partly based on inadmissible evidence. (Gokul Prasad, J.) KABUL v. KABOOL SINGH. A. I. R. 1923 All. 413.

——O. 41, R. 27—Additional evidence—Application for, in appeal.

The ordinary way of bringing new and important matter to the notice of the Court, which was not within knowledge at the time of decree is by way of review. (Fremantle, J. M.) SWAMI DIN v. QAMAR JABAN SINGH. L. R. 3 A. 12 (Rev.).

——O. 41, R. 27—Late stage—Admission after arguments.

An Appellate Court cannot admit additional evidence, without recording reasons therefor, after the arguments are closed and a date is fixed for judgment. (Gokul Prasad and Stuart, JJ.) HANSRAJ v. SHIAM SUNDAR. 63 I. C. 423 : 19 A. L. J. 407.

——O. 41, R. 27 and O. 47, R. 1—'Or for any substantial cause,' meaning of.

The words "or for any substantial cause" in sub-r. 1 (b) of O. 41, R. 27 do not give the Court jurisdiction to entertain an application for recording further evidence on the grounds which would enable an application to be entertained under O. 47, R. 1. (Macleod, C. J. and Crump, J.) BOMBAY SIZING AND STORES SUPPLYING CO. v. V. B. KUSUMGAR & CO. 47 Bom. 674 : 25 Bom L. R. 310 : A. I. R. 1924 Bom. 227.

——O. 41, R. 27 and O. 47, R. 1—Additional evidence—Admission of—Discovery of evidence on appeal—Review.

Even where a party having satisfied the Court that since the filing of the appeal he has discovered further evidence being unknown and not available to him and could not have been discovered with due diligence during the pendency, of the appeal even up to the date of the judgment. that is no sufficient cause for an appellate Court to admit that evidence under O. 41, R. 27, C. P. Code. It is a ground for review under O. 47, R. 1, C P. Code. (Macleod, C. J. and Crump, J.) THE BOMBAY SIZING & STORES SUPPLYING CO. v. KUSUMGAR & CO. 47 Bom. 674 : 25 Bom. L. R. 310 : A. I. R. 1924 Bom. 227.

——O. 41, R. 27—Scope—Further evidence.

An application to the Appeal Court for further evidence to be taken on the ground that it has recently been discovered whether it is made before the appeal is heard, or before judgment is given, does not come within the provisions of O. 41, R. 27. (Macleod, C. J. and Crump, J.) BOMBAY SIZING AND STORES SUPPLYING CO. v. V. B. KUSUMGAR & CO. 47 Bom. 674 : 25 Bom. L. R. 310 : A. I. R. 1924 Bom. 227.

——O. 41, R. 27—Substantial cause — Adjournment, refusal to grant.

An Appellate Court can allow additional evidence under O. 41, R. 27, where there has been a wrongful refusal by a Lower Court, to grant an adjournment. (Macleod, C.J. and Shah, J.) JETHALAL v. VARAJLAL. 23 Bom. L. R. 769 : 46 Bom. 184 : A. I. R. 1922 Bom. 267.

——O. 41, R. 27—No reasons given—Objection not raised—Effect.

Where a document is admitted as additional evidence in appeal without any objection being raised by the parties the mere fact that reasons were not recorded as required by O. 41, R. 27 does not render it inadmissible, when the parties appear not to be prejudiced in any way. (Greaves and Cuming, JJ.) NABIN CHANDRA KAPALI v. GOUR MOHAN MISTIRI. 90 I. C. 756.

——O. 41, R. 27—Commission to examine witness refused—Statement of witness admitted as additional evidence in appeal.

An application to issue a commission to examine a witness who was alleged to be ill was refused. In appeal; the Court admitted in evidence a statement purporting to be made by him. Held, it had power to do so under O. 41, R. 27. (Cuming and Panton, JJ.) DHIRAJUDDIN BEPARI v. BAHARULLA SHEIKH. 90 I. C. 630.

——O. 41, R. 27—New evidence admitted—Reasons must be recorded—Defendant allowed to give new evidence—Plaintiff also must be allowed.

In admitting additional evidence the appellate Court is bound to record its reasons for the admission of additional evidence tendered before it. The appellate Court should give an opportunity to the plaintiff to adduce further evidence if it is inclined to admit fresh evidence on behalf of the defendants at the appellate stage. (Greaves and Chakravarti, JJ.) AHMED ALI v. MADHAB RAM NAMASUDRA. 86 I. C. 646 : 41 C. L. J. 194 : A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 671.

——O. 41, R. 27—Additional evidence.

Court must give reasons for admitting additional evidence in appeal. (Rankin and Mukerji, JJ.) KEBAL NAMADAS v. RAJANI KANTA ROY.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 41, R. 27.

39 C. L. J. 261 : 81 I. C. 999 : A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 98.

——O. 41, R. 27—Additional evidence—Record of rights published after decision of trial Court—Admission of.

In a suit by some tenants for recovery of possession of lands, it became necessary to ascertain the status of the tenants for determining whether or not the suit fell within Sch. III, Art. 3 of the B. T. Act. After the decision of the trial Court and before the judgment was pronounced by the lower appellate Court the Record of rights was published. The appellants could not with due diligence have produced the record of rights before the hearing of the appeal by the lower appellate Court. Held, that it was open to the higher Court in second appeal to admit the Record-of-rights in evidence and remand the case to the lower appellate Court in order that the Court may try the question of the status of the defendants after admitting the Record-of-rights as evidence in the case. (Suhrawardy and Chotzner, JJ.) INDRA BHUSAN SAHA v. JANARDAN SAHA. 28 C. W. N. 945 : 82 I. C. 104 : A. I. R. 1924 Cal. 1071.

——O. 41, R. 27—Inherent lacuna.

Where any point is required to be cleared in the interest of justice an appellate Court has got power to take additional oral evidence. (Mookerjee and Rankin, JJ.) BANK OF BENGAL v. W. A. LULAS. 51 Cal. 185 : 28 C. W. N. 497 : 81 I. C. 471 : 41 C. L. J. 1 : A. I. R. 1924 Cal. 578.

——O. 41, R. 27—Late stage—Documents received after close of the arguments.

Arguments in the Lower Appellate Court were finished and the judgment was reserved on the 24th March. On the next day 25th March, the defendants filed a copy of the deposition of a person in a claim case and that was accepted by the appellate Judge. There was nothing to show that the plaintiff had any notice of the document having been filed, or having been used in evidence. Held, that the Appellate Judge ought not to have admitted this document in evidence after arguments had been finished on both sides and judgment was reserved. An opportunity should have been given to the plaintiff to raise any objection which he might have to the admissibility of the document in evidence. (Chatterjee and Cuming, JJ.) MANJURI DASSI v. KHETRAMANI DASSI 75 I. C. 96 : A. I. R. 1924 Cal. 403.

——O. 41, R. 27—Discovery of evidence—Dismissal of suit for partition—Fresh evidence—Available after dismissal—If admissible in appeal.

When a suit for partition of land is dismissed and the plaintiff applies to the Appellate Court for leave to adduce the fresh evidence which has become available long after the dismissal, he is entitled to adduce such evidence. (Mookerjee and Chotzner, JJ.) BHAIRAL CHANDRA DUTT v. KALI KUMAR DUTT. 37 C. L. J. 491 : 71 I. C. 453 : A. I. R. 1923 Cal. 606.

——O. 41, R. 27—Opportunity to rebut.

An Appellate Court can admit additional evidence only under the provisions of O. 41, R. 27, C. P. Code and if it admits additional evidence, the other side must have an opportunity of rebutting it. 31 B. 381 : 24 C. L. J. 457 Ref. (Ghose, J.) HRIDAY KRISHNA PAL v. RAJANIKANTA PAL. A. I. R. 1923 Cal. 300.

——O. 41, R. 27—Discretion—Admission on appeal.

It is largely discretionary with an appellate Court to admit additional evidence on appeal and a party cannot claim it as a matter of right. (Greaves, J.) NAYAJAN ALI v. MIDNAPORE ZAMINDARY COMPANY. A. I. R. 1923 Cal. 285.

——O. 41, R. 27—Sufficient cause — Additional

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 41, R. 27.

Evidence—Admission by Appellate Court—Grounds for.

The mere fact that a litigant was not aware of the existence of documentary evidence in the case, is no ground for admission of such evidence for the first time on appeal. 31 B. 381 ; 42 C. 675 Rel. (Newbould, J.) SRIMATI MANMOHINI DEBI v. RAMKISHORE. 68 I. C. 334 : A. I. R. 1923 Cal. 273.

——O. 41, R. 27—Discretion — Appellate Court should sparingly use its discretion.

The appellate Court should exercise its power allowing additional evidence very cautiously and sparingly and only in the interests of justice. (Mookerjee and Chotzner, JJ.) RAJA SREENATH ROY v. SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA. 50 C. 276 : 36 C. L. J. 345 : A. I. R. 1923 Cal. 233.

——O. 41, R. 27—Record of reasons.

Non-recording of reasons is an irregularity and fresh trial was ordered in the circumstances of the case. (Sanderson, C. J. and Richardson, J.) AFSAR KHAN v. SHABU MONDAL. A. I. R. 1922 Cal. 148.

——O. 41, R. 27—Late stage—Admission after arguments.

An Appellate Court acts improperly in admitting additional evidence after the close of the arguments in the case. Even if it does admit such evidence, it should record its reasons for so doing under O. 41, R. 27, C. P. Code. (Suhrawardy and Cuming, JJ.) ISAP ALI v. SATIS CHANDRA ROY. 65 I. C. 504 (Cal.)

——O. 41, R. 27—Subsequent events—Decree passed pending appeal.

Where pending an appeal from a decree in a rent suit, a decree is passed in favour of the appellant in a title suit, the appellate Court should receive the decree in evidence and act upon it. 31 B. 381 : 31 M. 114 : 36 A. 93 Ref. (Teunon and Newbould, JJ.) SASHI BHUSHAN BOSE v. PRASULLA MULLICK. 64 I. C. 721 Cal.

——O. 41, R. 27—Record of reasons—Omission to record reasons—Effect.

Where an appellate Court admits in evidence a khatian from the Record-of-Rights without recording reasons for the admission of such evidence, the defect is not fatal to its decision. O. 41, R. 27, C. P. Code, is only directory and not mandatory. (Walmsley and Greaves, JJ.) RAHIMUDDIN KAZI v. RADHA GOVINDA BHOUMIK. 64 I. C. 238 (Cal.)

——O. 41, R. 27—Additional evidence—Application of party—Power to grant.

An appellate Court has power to admit additional evidence not only in cases when it discovers a lacuna but also in the application of parties. (Moti Sagar, J.) MUHAMMAD UMAR HAYAT KHAN v. SARDAR KHAN. 89 I. C. 997 (1).

——O. 41, R. 27—Additional evidence—When can be taken—Party if can apply for.

The jurisdiction of an appellate Court to admit additional evidence is not confined to cases where the Court itself discovers a lacuna. Under the words "for any other substantial cause" give a discretion for the Court, even on the application of a party. (Scott-Smith and Martineau, JJ.) ECLIPSE MOTOR CO v. WARBURTON. 89 I. C. 721.

——O. 41, R. 27—Additional evidence—Reasons for admission by appellate Court—Opportunity to rebut.

An appellate Court ought not to admit additional evidence without recording reasons and without giving the opposite side an opportunity to adduce evidence in rebuttal. Where the Court admits such additional evidence without following this procedure the appeal must be remanded for fresh disposal. (Abdul Raoof and Moti Sagar, JJ.) RAMZAN v. NABI BUX.

6 Lah. L. J. 234 : 80 I. C. 530 : A. I. R. 1924 Lah. 638.

———O. 41, R. 27—Additional evidence—Admission of—Second appeal.

Even if a second appellate Court has power to admit fresh evidence under O. 41, R. 27, C. P. Code it will not admit such evidence in the absence of a valid reason for the delay in the production of this evidence. (Broadway and Fforde, JJ.) WALI MAHOMED v. MAHOMED BAKHSH. 5 Lah. 84 : 80 I. C. 998 : A. I. R. 1924 Lah. 444.

———O. 41, R. 27—Substantial cause.

There is ample authority for holding that the cause in O. 41, R. 27, C. P. Code, need not be ejusdem generis with the causes stated in the earlier part of the rule, and the expression any other substantial cause confers a wide discretion on the appellate Court to admit additional evidence when the ends of justice require it. (Moti Sagar, J.) PRABHU LAL v. GULZARI MAL. A. I. R. 1923 Lah. 584.

———O. 41, R. 27—Discretion—Power to direct to amend grounds of appeal.

An appellate Court can issue a commission for the purpose of examining the accounts and remedying certain mistakes and omissions made by the previous commissioner and it would be perfectly justified in passing an order for the production of additional evidence if it found itself unable to decide the appeal on the record as it stood at the time. It has full discretion to direct an appellant at any stage to amend his grounds of appeal if they are not sufficiently clear. (Scott-Smith and Abdul Raoof, JJ.) MT. RAM PIARI v. SULTAN BAKSH. 3 Lah. 382 : A. I. R. 1923 Lah. 115.

———O. 41, R. 27—Second appeal—Powers of High Court.

Where a lower Appellate Court refuses to admit a certain material document as additional evidence in the appeal under O. 41, R. 27, C. P. Code the High Court cannot interfere in second appeal and hold that such additional evidence ought to have been admitted by the lower Appellate Court. 42 Mad. 737 (F. B.); 9 I. C. 265 Foll. (Broadway, J.) SANTA SINGH v. BHAN SINGH. A. I. R. 1923 Lah. 30

———O. 41, R. 27—Additional evidence—Admission of—Powers of appellate Court.

Evidence tendered after the close of the case in the trial Court and during the arguments and for that reason rejected by the trial Court, should not be admitted by the appellate Court. (Chevis and Le-Rossignol, JJ.) VAISHNO DAS v. HEM RAJ. 4 Lah. L. J. 371.

———O. 41, R. 27—Additional evidence is not admissible if failure of justice is not caused.

If the Court is satisfied that there has been failure of justice in the case, by reason of absence of proof on a technical aspect of the case, it would consider an application to let in additional evidence; otherwise not. (Venkatasubba Rao and Srinivasa Iyengar, JJ.) A. L. S. K. KANDAPPA CHETTY v. R. S. S. T. THIRUPATHI CHETTI. 21 L. W. 210 : 86 I. C. 576 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 444.

———O. 41, R. 27 and O. 47, R. 4—Appellate Court can allow additional evidence even at the instance af a party—But opponent must be given opportunity to rebut—Where party allowed to give additional evidence had been negligent, High Court ordered him to pay costs though allowed to give additional evidence—C. P Code. O. 47, R. 4.

Additional evidence was allowed to be taken by the Lower Appellate Court at the plaintiff's instance, the plaintiff having been even according to the Lower Appellate Court itself very negligent. Held, in revision, that the order allowing additional evidence must not be interfered with but that the plaintiff must pay the defendant his costs of the revision petition as well as all the costs of taking the additional evidence whatever might be the final result of the case. Held, further, that if as a result of the additional evidence adduced by the plaintiff new matter was introduced into the evidence in the case the defendant must be given an opportunity to rebut the additional evidence. It is open to an appellate Court to allow additional evidence to be adduced even at the instance of a party and an application for giving additional evidence can be heard and disposed of by the Appellate Court even before the appeal is heard and disposed of. O. 41, R. 27 and O. 47, R.4 do not exclude the effect of each other and a party who is entitled to let in additional evidence when the case is in an appellate stage is not compelled to restrict himself to an application for review and an Appellate Court is not confined to merely the power of allowing the introduction of additional evidence in cases in which the Court finding a lacuna, of its own motion desires additional evidence. (Venkatasubba Rao, J.) B. SUBBAYYA v. K. RANGARAO.
20 L. W. 840 : 85 I. C. 385 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 181 : 48 M. L. J. 32.

———O. 41, R. 27—Discovery of evidence at the appellate stage—Application for its admission cannot be entertained.

An application to the appellate Court for further evidence to be taken on the ground that it has recently been discovered does not come within R. 27. A.I.R. 1924 Bom. 227 Rel. on. (Kinkhede, A.J.C.) GANGABAKAS v. NARAYAN. 86 I. C. 505 : A. I. R. 1925 Nag. 284.

———O. 41, R. 27—Waiver of objections—Party objecting relying on a portion of that evidence.

Fresh evidence should not be admitted by an Appellate Court in order to enable it to decide the case in favour of one of the parties to the suit. 31 Bom. 381 ; 1 Pat. L.J. 435; 31 Mad. 114 Ref. Where, however, such evidence had been admitted in the Lower Appellate Court and the party objecting to the admission himself relies upon a portion of such evidence, he cannot object to the remainder being placed on the record. (Batten, J.C.) BHAIRON SINGH v. HINDU SINGH. A. I. R. 1922 Nag. 119 (2).

———O. 41, R. 27—Additional evidence—Discovery after decision in trial Court.

A redemption suit relating to an old mortgage, which did not require to be registered under the law in force at that time, was dismissed as not proved. Subsequent to the dismissal, the mortgagee found out that it had been registered and obtained a registration copy. Held it could be admitted as additional evidence in appeal. (Daniels, J. C.) ABDUL RAHMAN KHAN v. MT. NOOR JAHAN. 89 I. C. 359.

———O. 41, R. 27—Additional evidence—Admission of, by appellate Court—Improper rejection by trial Court.

It is competent to an appellate court in its discretion to admit and consider material and relevant evidence refused by the trial Court. (Wazir Hasan and Neave, A. J. Cs.) MT. RACHHPALI v. MT. CHANDRESAR DEI. 10 O. L. J. 595 : 78 I. C. 256 : 27 O. C. 114 : A. I. R. 1924 Oudh 252.

———O. 41, R. 27—Discretion — Considerations governing.

A party cannot claim admission of additional evidence, oral or documentary, as a matter of right. O. 41, R. 27, C. P. Code, gives a discretion of the Court of appeal to allow the production of such evidence and lays down definite limits within which additional evidence may be produced in an appellate Court. The words "any other substantial cause" mean a causa ejusdem generis to the grounds already mentioned in O. 41, R. 27, C. P. Code or, in other words, as meaning a case at least analogous to those specified previously. Further the appellate court has a discretion in the matter and when it has exercised its discretion in one way it is not open to a Court of second appeal to interfere with that discretion. 42 M. 737 Rel. (Wazir Husan, A. J. C.) BADRI PRASAD v. MUKANDI. 9 O. L. J. 505 : 26 O. C. 66 : A. I. R. 1923 Oudh 109.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 41, R. 27.

——0. 41, R. 27—Evidence not in existence at the time of suit—It may be admitted in appeal.

Where an appeal was pending and another suit was filed between the same parties and the latter went to the appellate stage when the prior appeal was decided and the decision in the previous appeal had a material bearing on the decision in the subsequent appeal, held, that the decision in the previous appeal should be admitted in evidence in the subsequent appeal. 6 C. L. J. 74 ;6 C.L.J. 92 and 6 C. L. J. 102 Rel. on. (Kulwant Sahay, J.) HARIHAR PRASAD SINGH v. GHARBHARAN KOERI. 3 Pat. L. R. 174 : 88 I.C. 553 : A. I. R. 1925 Pat. 612.

——0. 41, R. 27—Admitting additional evidence—Question is of discretion.

Both under the general law and under O. 41, R. 27 the Court may for a substantial cause admit additional evidence in appeal, but the question is one of discretion. (Das and Foster, JJ.) JITAN DUSADH v. JAWAHIR SINGH. 85 I. C. 459 : A. I. R. 1925 Pat. 504.

——0. 41, R. 27—Defect in evidence—Powers of Appellate Court.

An appellate Court has no power to admit additional evidence unless upon examining the evidence as it stands some inherent lacuna or defect becomes apparent. 31 B. 381 (P. C.) Foll. (Das and Bucknill, JJ.) JAI KRISHNA v. BIBI SOGHRA.
4 P.L.T. 418 : 71 I.C. 881 : A.I.R. 1923 Pat. 446.

——0. 41, R. 27—Subsequent events.

If the Lower Appellate Court does not call record-of rights in evidence which was published after the Munsif gave decision but before an appeal was made, the High Court will decide on an entry and may not call for record. (Adami and Bucknill, JJ.) RAJNATH SINGH v. WAHID KHAN. 3 Pat. L. T. 107 : 1921 P. H. C C. 206 : A. I. R. 1922 Pat. 28.

——0. 41, R. 27—New plea—Additional evidence—Power of Appellate Court to admit—Point not pressed in Court below allowed to be raised on appeal.

Where an Appellate Court allows the appellant to raise a point which was not pressed in the Court below, the other side must be given opportunity of meeting the point by adducing additional evidence on appeal. (Das and Kulwant Sahay, JJ.) MAN SINGH v. NAWLAKHBATI. 72 I. C. 239 : 2 Pat. 607.

——0. 41, R. 27 —Discretion to be sparingly exercised.

The words "substantial cause" used in the rule confer a wide discretion which should be sparingly exercised, otherwise it may open a wide door to the admission of evidence in the Appellate Court. (Raymond and Madgaokar, A.J.Cs.) NARAINDAS v. TEK CHAND. A. I. R. 1923 Sind 42.

——0. 41, Rr. 27 1 (a), 28 and 29—Exclusion of evidence by trial Court—Appellate Court, duty of.

The improper exclusion of evidence by the Trial Court does not justify a reversal of decree of that

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 41, R. 31.

Court. It is only open to the Appellate Court, either to take that evidence itself or direct the Lower Court to take the evidence and send it to the Appellate Court for consideration. (Mookerjee and Panton, JJ.) RAJA JYOT KUMAR v. JADU. 34 C. L. J. 160 : 64 I. C. 693 : 26 C. W. N. 1022.

——0. 41, R. 27 (2)—Record of reasons—Admission of fresh evidence.

Where a document is admitted in evidence for the first time in the appellate Court, the Court ought to record its reasons for the same. (Chatterjee and Suhrawardy, JJ.) AMBIKA CHARAN SEN v. GIRISH CHANDRA SEN. 68 I. C. 719 (Cal.)

——0. 41, R. 28—On remand lower appellate Court can appoint Commissioner to examine witnesses.

When the issues are remanded by the Court of second appeal to the lower appellate Court for trial, the lower appellate Court resumes its functions as the Court of first appeal and though it is the only Court which can record a finding on the issues remanded yet it may appoint a Commissioner for the examination of witnesses under S. 75, Civil Procedure Code, 9 S.L.R. 148, Foll. (Abdul Raoof and Martineau, JJ.) LABH SINGH v. RAM LAL.
5 Lah. 252 : 81 I. C. 589 : A I. R. 1925 Lah. 39.

——0. 41, R. 29—Pleading of gross negligence not distinct —Issue wide enough to cover gross negligence—Evidence produced—Finding as to gross negligence necessary—Remand proper.

Where the plea of gross negligence was not taken in any distinct language in defendant's written statement which was very general, but on which two very general issues were framed, one of which was quite wide enough to cover the plea of gross negligence, and the parties had in mind the plea of gross negligence at the trial and the defendant was attempting to produce evidence in support of it, which was rejected not because the matter was not agitated in the suit, but because the District Munsif did not think that that evidence was of any value. Held, that the case of gross negligence was open and that the Munsif should have found definitely on it and therefore the lower Appellate court's order remanding the suit for retrial on that point must be supported. (Oldfield and Venkatasubba Rao, JJ.) KARI BAPANNA v. SUNKARI YERRAMMA. 18 L. W. 49 : 1923 M. W. N 452 :33 M. L. T. 46 : A. I. R. 1923 Mad. 718 : 45 M. L. J. 324.

——0. 41, R. 31—Appellate Court need not examine Trial Court's finding on fact not objected to.

Where a party to an appeal does not ask to be heard on a question of fact decided by the Trial Court and the legal question only is argued in appeal the Court is justified in disregarding the question of fact. (Boys and Ashworth, JJ.) KALI CHARAN SINGH v. BAGESHRA KUNWARI. 23 A.L.J. 653 : 89 I. C. 374 : A.I.R. 1925 All. 585.

——0. 41, R. 31—Mandatory provision.

The provisions of O. 41, R. 31, C. P. Code, are mandatory. A Judge is bound to give the points for decision and the reason for the decision thereon in order to enable the Court of second appeal to see that the Judge whose findings on facts are binding as the High Court has put properly before him the points at issue and has decided them. 9 A. 26 Rel. (Gokul Prasad, J.) GUPTA NAND v. BEHARI LAL.
21 A. L. J. 567 : L. R. 5 A. 21 : A. I. R. 1924 All. 100.

——0. 41, R. 31—Defective judgment—Reasons for finding—Statement of.

The judgment is not illegal when the appellate court decides cursorily on the basis of the issues discussed in the lower court. (Pearson, J.) SHEO BAKSH SHAH v. MANNU SINGH. L. R. 3 A. 454.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 41, R. 31.

——O. 41, R. 31—Appealable judgments should contain findings on all important points.

In appealable cases, with a view to enable the appellate Courts to dispose of the case finally and thus obviate any cause for remand and its attendant delay and expense, Courts should give their finding on all important points. (Chakravarti, J.) HARISADHAN PATARI v. DINANATH BANERJEE. 82 I. C. 318 : A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 316.

——O. 41, R. 31—Form of judgment of appellate Court.

Whether or not a judgment of an appellate Court is according to law must depend upon the facts and circumstances of each case. There is firstly that difference which exists between cases of affirmance of judgments and cases of reversal of judgments of the first Court. Then there is to be considered nature of the judgment affirmed, its fullness and accuracy and so forth. When Court has fully discussed all facts which were placed before it and the lower appellate Court's judgment affirmed it, it is not contrary to law simply because the judgment is in a short form. (Woodroffe and Ghose, JJ.) MAHOMED HUSSAIN v. RABIA KHATUN. A. I. R. 1923 Cal. 163.

——O. 41, R. 31—Affirming judgment—Contents of.

Whether or not a judgment is according to law must depend on the facts and circumstances of each case. There is firstly the difference which exists between cases of affirmance of judgments and cases of reversal of judgments of the first court. Where the judgment of the first court has fully discussed all the matters placed before it and the appellate court has appreciated the main facts in the case but has dismissed the appeal in a short judgment the appellate judgment is not vitiated by any irregularity. (Woodroffe and Ghose, JJ.) MAHOMED HUSAIN CHOUDHURY v. RABIA KHATUN. 36 C. L. J. 484 : A. I. R. 1923 C. 113.

——O. 41, Rr. 31 and 11—Contents of judgment—Summary dismissal of appeal.

O. 41, R. 31 of the C. P. Code controls O. 41, R. 11 and an appellate court dismissing a second appeal under the latter provision must state the points for decision and the decision thereon with reasons. (Chatterjee and Panton, JJ.) BIPIN BEHARI CHATTOPADHYA v. JOGENDRA NATH BANDOPADHYA. 65 I. C. 479 (Cal.)

——O. 41, R. 31—Consideration of evidence—Appellate Court—Judgment of.

A judgment of the First Appellate Court, omitting to set out the evidence on which the judgment is based, is not one in accordance with law. (Teunon and Majid, JJ.) UPENDRA NATH v. ADHAR CHANDRA. 63 I. C. 436 (Cal.)

——O. 41, R. 31—Defective judgment—Adoption of judgment of lower Court.

There is abundant authority for holding that the Judge of an appellate Court should state his own reasons and should not confine himself to approving reasons of the Court of the first instance. A general and wholesale adoption of the judgment of the Court of first instance cannot be considered as a sufficient compliance with the law. (Moti Sagar, J.) MT. AISHA BIBI v. MT. SUGHRA JAN. 75 I. C. 1013 : A. I. R. 1923 Lah. 658.

——O. 41, R. 31—Reversing judgment must give grounds for difference.

A mere general and sweeping statement of opinion is not a sufficient disposal of the questions with which a Court is concerned. The duty of the lower appellate

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 41, R. 33.

Court is to deal with the matter by examining the grounds stated by the first Court and if it differs in its conclusion it must show that those grounds were not supported by evidence or that they were insufficient in themselves, or that they were overbalanced by other considerations arising out of the proved or admitted circumstances of the case. 9 C.P.L.R. 142 and 33 Cal. 23 (P. C.) Ref. (Kinkhede, A. J. C.) DATTATRAYA v. AMRIT. 89 I. C. 763 : A. I. R. 1926 Nag. 55.

——O. 41, R. 31, and S. 99—Defective judgment.

The omission of an Appellate Court to comply with the provisions of O. 41, R. 31, is mere irregularity and is curable by S. 99 of the Code. (Kincaid and Raymond, A. J. C.) LAKHAMBAI v. DEVIBAI. 59 I. C. 673 : 14 S. L. R. 132.

——O. 41, R. 32—Judgment affirming lower Courts' decree—Reasons must be given.

Where the appellate Court affirmed the lower Courts' decision on the point of necessity for alienation, without giving reasons therefor, the High Court remanded the case for fresh decision on the point. (Martineau, J.) MIHAN MAL v. INDAR SINGH. 6 L. L. J. 506 : 84 I. C. 946 : A. I. R. 1925 Lah. 246.

——O. 41, R. 33—Suit decreed against 1st defendant but dismissed against 2nd defendant—1st defendant appealing—Plaintiff not appealing from dismissal of claim against 2nd defendant—Appellate Court can pass decree in plaintiff's favour against 2nd defendant.

There were three defendants to the suit. The suit was decreed as against the first two defendants but dismissed as against the third defendant. The first two defendants appealed; but the plaintiff did not appeal against the dismissal of his claim against the third defendant. Held, that the appellate Court could pass a decree against the 3rd defendant alone while exonerating the first two defendants, 43 Mad. 803 Foll. (Mears, C. J. and Piggott, J.) KANJI MALL v. DURGA PRASAD. 23 A. L. J. 501 : 88 I. C. 438 : L. R. 6 A. Civ. 346 : 47 All. 597 : A. I. R. 1925 All. 555.

——O. 41, R. 33—Powers of Appellate Court.

Where an appellate court is seized of the whole case on appeal, it can make such orders as are necessary to terminate the controversies and to do justice between the parties by making the necessary alterations in the decree of the lower court. (Piggott and Walsh, JJ.) GOVIND DASS v. RAM CHARAN LONIA. 4 U. P. L. R. 25 (A) : 68 I. C. 307 : A. I. R. 1923 All. 235.

——O. 41, R. 33—Powers of Appellate Court Transposition of respondent as appellant—Procedure.

An appellate court acts without jurisdiction in ordering by its judgment that a respondent who had not been formally transposed as appellant, should be shown as appellant. Such an order deprives the respondent of his costs and ought to have been made during the pendency of the appeal and not as part of the judgment. (Piggott and Walsh, JJ.) HARDEO PRASAD v. DAMODAR PRASAD. L. R. 4 A. 536 : 71 I. C. 424 : 20 A. L. J. 980 : A.I.R. 1923 All. 119.

——O. 41, R. 33—Non-appealing plaintiffs—Powers of appellate Court may be used in favour of party not appealing—Appellate Court not to lose sight of other provisions of the Code.

R. 33 of O. 41 gives the appellate court power to pass any decree which ought to have been passed, and this power may be exercised in favour of any party even though he may not have filed an appeal. But the Courts in exercising the power conferred by this rule should not lose sight of the requirements of the Code as for instance the general principle which requires that a suit should be decided with reference to the pleadings by the parties and issues struck between them. The rule must be read also with R. 22 of the same Order which gives a respondent a specific remedy of which he should prima facie avail himself before he can claim the benefit of R. 33 NARAIN DAS v. HIRA. L. R. 2 A. 186 (Rev.).

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 41, R. 33.

——O. 41, R. 33—Power under—When to be exercised.

The power conferred by O. 41, R. 33 should be limited to those cases where as the result of the appellate court's interference with a decree in favour of the appellant, a further interference is required in order to adjust the rights of the parties in accordance with justice, equity and good conscience. The provisions of the rule should be cautiously applied and only to cases where but for recourse to it the ends of justice would be defeated. (Greaves and Mukerji, JJ.) NANDALAL ROY CHOUDHURY v. MUKUNDALAL DE. 89 I. C. 24.

——O. 41, R. 33—Powers to vary decree—Order against parties not on record cannot be passed.

O. 41, R. 33 is intended to cover cases where the Court may vary the decree in such a way or pass such an order as to make the party in whose favour the order of the lower Court was passed liable under the order passed by the appellate Court. (Suhrawardy and Duval, JJ.) MANINDRA CHANDRA v. BHAGBATI DEVI. 30 C. W. N. 45 : A. I R. 1926 Cal. 335.

——O. 41, R. 33—Powers of Appellate Court—Partition suit.

The appellate court has power to exercise the powers conferred upon it by O. 41, R. 33 in partition suits. There is no restriction of the powers as to any class of suit under that rule. (Chatterjee and Panton, JJ.) PROBHAT CHANDRA BISWAS v. GOPAL CHANDRA. 49 C. 379 : A. I. R. 1922 Cal. 398.

——O. 41, R. 33—Powers of appellate court—Grant of relief against defendant not impleaded as a party to the Appeal.

An appellate court can grant relief to an appellant as against a defendant against whom there is no appeal. The powers conferred by O. 41, R. 33, should be exercised in cases where, as the result of an Appellate Court's interference in favour of the appellant, further interference is required to adjust the rights of the parties in accordance with justice, equity and good conscience. 22 C. L. J. 390 foll. (N. R. Chatterjee and Panton, JJ.) BIKRAM KUMAR BOSE v. MOHIT KRISHNA. 64 I. C. 178 (Cal.)

——O. 41, R. 33—Powers of Appellate Court.

The first Court passed a decree in a rent suit for a proportionate amount of rent, payable in respect of land included in the plaint, and held that the holding covered more land. In an appeal by the plff., the Appellate Court held that no relief should be granted to the plff. and thus dismissed the suit. Held, that having regard to R. 33, the Appellate Court's decision was not without jurisdiction and that no Second Appeal lay as the value of the suit was not above Rs. 100, and no question of law was involved. (Huda, J.) JOGENDRA KISHORE v. NASIMUDDIN SARKAR. 62 I. C. 623 (Cal.)

——O. 41, R. 33—On reversal of decree for one relief alternative relief should be granted if justice requires it.

Where plaintiff made alternative claims on one of which the trial Court decreed the claim, the appellate Court in reversing the decree is bound to see whether the plaintiff is not entitled to the alternative relief. (Scott-Smith, J.) QAMAR-UD-DIN v. MATVA. 6 Lah. L. J. 464 : A. I. R. 1925 Lah. 155.

——O. 41, R. 33—Although no general rule can be laid down, Court will not apply, without strong reasons O. 41, R. 33 in favour of party who has appealed or lodged cross-objections and failed.

Though no general rule can be laid down that Court should not apply O. 41, R. 33 in favour of party who has appealed or filed cross-objections and failed, yet without strong reasons, it will not take such a course. (Martineau, and Campbell, JJ.) MT. TEHE KUAR v. AMAR NATH. 17 P. W. R. 1923 : 79 I. C. 670 : A. I. R. 1925 Lah. 2.

——O. 41, R. 33 and O. 7, R. 7—Discretionary matter.

The discretion allowed to the Judge by O. 7, R. 7 and O. 41, R. 33 is wide and covers the granting of a declaratory decree in a suit for possession where alternative relief is claimed therein. (Campbell, J.) ARJUN v. JUG LAL. A. I. R. 1923 Lah. 422.

——O. 41, R. 33—Powers of Appellate Court—Decree not challenged by the respondents.

The Appellate Court cannot, while acting under R. 33, interfere with the decree obtained by the appellant so far as it is not challenged by the respondent in the form of cross objections or appeal. (Martineau, J.) RAMLAL v. DIP CHAND. 60 I. C. 705 (2) : 3 Lah. L. J. 231.

——O. 41, R. 33—Suit for itle—Tenants—Defendants claiming occupancy rights—Trial Court disallowing the claim—Appeal by other defendants—Tenants not appealing—Finding cannot be reversed.

Where in a suit for declaration of title to certain lands the tenants defendants pleaded occupancy rights and their claim was disallowed by the trial Court but on appeal by other defendants the claim was allowed though the tenants did not appeal. Held : the Appellate Court's judgment cannot be upheld. (Devadoss, J.) M. SURAYYA v. SURAYYA RAO. 88 I. C. 99 : 22 L. W. 376 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 771 : 48 M. L. J. 577.

——O. 41, R. 33—Variance betweee decree and judgment of lower Court—Decree confirmed on appeal—Decree must be amended but by appellate Court—C. P. Code, O. 20, R. 6.

Where a decree is confirmed on appeal any order to amend the decree so as to make it agree with the judgment should be passed by the Appellate Court. The omission on the part of the party to file a memo of objections praying for the amendment of the decree when Appellate Court has cognizance of the case, will not have the effect of taking away the party's inherent right to have a decree in accordance with the judgment passed in his favour. (Spencer, J.) MUTHAPPA NAIR v. POOPHIL. 1925 M. W. N. 209 : 88 I.C. 828: A.I.R. 1925 Mad. 735 : 49 M. L. J. 388.

——O 41, R. 33—Appellate Court can in appeal against portion of decree set aside whole decree in absence of cross appeal or objections by respondent due to sufficient reasons.

O. 41, r. 33 gives an appellate Court in an appeal against a portion of the decree alone, jurisdiction to quash whole of the decree passed, against the respondent, although the respondent had not himself appealed against the decree or filed cross-objections, in the presence of sufficient reasons for the respondent not doing so. The respondent's failure to present cross-objections or to appeal due to the state of authorities at the time subsequently changed, as to the period when the cross-appeal or memorandum ought to have been filed, was held to have been due to sufficient reasons. (Srinivasa Aiyangar, J.) S. M. S. SUBRAMANIAN CHETTIAR v. SINNAMMAL. 20 L. W. 761 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 266.

——O. 41, R. 33—Powers of Appellate Court.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O 41, R. 33.

Powers of Court under O. 41, R. 33 can be exercised in revision for consistency in the decree. (Spencer and Devadoss, JJ.) GOPALA IYENGAR v. MUMMACHI REDDIAR. 17 L. W. 254 : A. I. R. 1923 Mad. 392.

———0. 41, R. 33—Scope.

Modification of decree in favour of a person not a party to appeal is not authorised by R. 33. (Halifax, A. J. C.) YADO RAO v. AMRIT RAO.
88 I. C. 803 : A. I. R, 1926 Nag. 135.

———0. 41, R. 33—Circumstances subsequent to decree appealed from can be considered.

An appeal to the Court of Appeal is by way of rehearing, and the Court may make such order as the Judge of first instance could have made if the case had been heard by him at the date on which the appeal was heard. (Kinkhede. A. J. C.) PANDURANG v. BAYAJA. 8 N. L. J. 14 : A. I. R. 1925 Nag. 251.

———0. 41, R. 33—Applicability—Revision petitions.

The principle underlying O. 41, R. 33 can be applied to revision petitions also, and in order to do justice to all parties the High Court can correct the decree of the Courts below even in favour of parties who have not set the law in motion. (Kinkhede, A. J C.) RANGRAO v. PANDURANG. A. I. R. 1924 Nag. 154.

———0. 41, R. 33—Absence of appeal — Power of Court.

Where a decree for foreclosure was asked for in plaint but the first court passed only decree for sale and that was confirmed by the Appellate Court the High Court cannot decree foreclosure where the plaintiff mortgagee had not appealed to the lower Appellate Court against the decree of the first court. (Halifax, Kotva and Macnair A. J. Cs.) SHEONARAIN v. NATHU. 5 N. L. J. 114 : A. I. R. 1922 Nag. 1 (F.B.).

———0. 41, R. 33—Does not apply where the plaintiff whose claim is decreed in part appeals with regard to part not decreed and defendant files neither appeal nor cross-objections.

Rule 33, O. 41 does not apply where a plaintiff whose claim is decreed in part, institutes an appeal with regard to the part not decreed and the defendant prefers neither an appeal nor a cross-objection. In such a case the Court of appeal has no jurisdiction to enter into the question whether the plaintiff is entitled or not to any decree at all and to dismiss his suit wholesale. (Dawson Miller, C. J. and Foster, J.) KESHO PRASAD SINGH v. NARAYAN DAYAL.
4 Pat. 37 : 82 I. C. 984 ; A. I. R. 1925 P. 285.

———0. 41, R. 33—Appellate Court must not interfere save when justice peremptorily requires interference.

To enable the Appellate Court, in case its decision interferes with or modifies, or extends the decision of the lower Court, to give effect to that decision by interfering, if necessary even with the rights and liabilities of those who were not in fact appealing from that decision of the trial Court, is the object of O. 41, R. 33. Save when it is necessary, in the interests of justice, to give effect to the Appellate Court's decision by interfering in some way or other with the rights of those parties which are not the subject of appeal before the Appellate Court there is no right whatever in the Appellate Court to interfere. (Dawson Miller, C. J. and Foster, J.) KESHEO PRASAD SINGH v. NARAYAN DAYAL. 4 Pat. 37 : 82 I. C. 984 : A. I. R. 1925 Pat. 285.

———0. 41, R. 33—Appeal from part and by some parties only enables the Court to exercise its power under R. 33.

Rule 33 of Order 41 of the new Code enables the appellate Court to deal with the entire decree although the appeal may be as to a part of the decree, and also to give directions in favour of parties who have actually not filed any appeal or objection. In an appeal from a part of the decree by some of the parties the ent re decree becomes the subject-matter of the appeal. (Jwala Prasad and Kulwant Sahay, JJ.) SOMAR SINGH v. MT. PREMADI KUER. 3 Pat 327 : 5 P. L. T. 21 : 1924 P. H. C. C. 105 : 79 I. C. 794 : A. I. R. 1925 Pat. 40.

———0. 41, R. 33—Non-appealing defendants—Reversal in favour of.

Reversal in favour of non-appealing mortgagor can be effected by an appellate Court by O. 41, R. 33, C. P. Code. (Miller, C. J. and Mullick, J.) AJTI CHAUDHURI v. JANAK LAL CHAUDHURI.
1923 P. H. C. C. 332 : A. I. R. 1924 Pat. 336.

———0. 41, R. 33—Powers of Appellate Court—Portion of decree not appealed against.

O.41, R. 33 of the C.P. Code empowers an appellate Court to interfere with a portion of the decree of the Trial Court which has not been appealed against in a case where the appellate Court adopts the ground of decision of the trial court and tries to give complete effect to it. 34 All. 32 dist. ; 43 A. 85 relied on. (Foster, J.) GOBIND SINGH v. JAI GOPAL SINGH.
A. I. R. 1924 Pat. 322.

———0. 41, R. 33—Decree can be reversed even as against non-appealing defendants.

Where the plaintiff claims relief as against all defendants jointly, and his suit is dismissed as against some defendants only, in an appeal against the dismissal, the appellate Court can dismiss the whole suit. 20 C. W. N. 178 and 19 C. W. N. 287, Ref. (Dass and Kulwant Sahay, JJ.) PANHU BANIA v. ANAM THAKUR. 2 P. 712 : 1 P. L. R. 356 : 77 I. C. 357 : 5 P. L. T. 489 : A. I. R. 1924 Pat. 160.

———0. 41, R. 33—Powers of appellate court.

O. 41, R. 33, C. P. Code, gives the court power to pass a decree in favour of a person who is not a party before it but was a party in the lower court. (Dalal and Wazir Hasan, A.J. Cs.) BAIJ NATH SINGH v. RAJJU SINGH. 12 O. L. J. 571 : L.R. 6 O. 101 (Rev.).

———0. 41, R. 33—Powers of Appellate Court.

The powers of appellate court under O. 41, R. 33 can only be exercised in favour of a person who is a party to the appeal. (Maung Kin, J.) A. C. T. R M. CHETTY v. PO U. 63 I. C. 973 : 13 Bur. L. T. 163.

———0. 41, R. 35—Scope.

Where the case was remitted three times because the Judge in the first instance misunderstood the order of the High Court and in the second instance expressed himself as unable to come to a definite conclusion. Held : the High Court had jurisdiction to remit the case a third time though it could as well determine the issue left undetermined by the lower Court on evidence on record. (Mr. Ameer Ali.) CHIDAMBARA SIVAPRAKASHA v. VEERAMA REDDI.
(1922) M. W. N. 749: 45 Mad. 586 : 16 L. W. 102 : 31 M. L. T. 54 : 68 I. C. 538 : 49 I. A. 286 : 37 C. L. J. 199 : 27 C. W. N. 245 : A. I. R. 1922 P. C. 292: 43 M. L. J. 640 (P. C.)

———0. 43, R. 1—Order—Returning plaint is appealable.

An order of Appellate Court returning a plaint for want of jurisdiction in the Court in which the suit is brought is appealable. (Walsh and Ryves, JJ.) LACHHA RAM v. VIRJI. 19 A. L. J. 305: 62 I. C. 399: 3 U. P. L. R. (All.) 9.

———0. 43, R. 1 and S. 104—Order granting leave to sue a receiver is not appealable.

An order granting leave to sue a receiver for damages caused by his negligence, laches, etc., is not appealable. (Macleod, C. J. and Heaton, J.) SRINIWAS v. M. C. WAZ. 22 Bom. L. R. 1126: 59 I. C. 421 : 45 Bom. 99.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 43, R. 1.

——O. 43, R. 1—Appeal from order of remand—Findings of fact cannot be questioned.

An appellant, in an appeal from an order of remand, cannot question findings of fact in the Second Appeal. (Le Rossignol and Raoof, JJ.) HONDA RAM v. HOTU-RAM. 2 Lah. 25: 59 I. C. 715: 31 P. W. R. 1921.

——O. 43 R. 1—Dismissal for default—Application for restoration.

Au appeal lies against an order of dismissal of an application for restoration of the application dismissed in default. (Halifax, A J. C.) KALICHARAN v. RATANSINGH. 19 N. L. R. 119: 75 I. C. 589: A. I. R. 1923 Nag. 293.

——O. 43, R. 1—Proceedings under O. 21, R. 90. compromised—Payment not made in time—Order confirming sale is appealable.

Where a proceeding under O. 21, R. 90 was compromised with a condition that the judgment-debtor should pay to the decree-holder a certain sum within a certain period but the judgment-debtor failed to pay the amount within the prescribed time and his application to set aside the sale was disallowed and the sale confirmed without his allegations being gone into. Held appeal lay under O. 43, R. 1. (Jwala Prasad and Foster, JJ.) LUCHHMAN LAL v. PADARATH SINGH. 4 P. L. T. 735 · 79 I. C. 594: A. I. R. 1924 Pat. 346.

——O. 43, R. 1—Dismissal of application under O. 9, R. 9 on ground of previous dismissal under O. 17, R. 3—Appeal.

When the plaintiff's application under O. 9, R. 9, C. P. Code, is rejected on the ground that the previous order of dismissal was under O. 17, R. 3 and not under O. 17, R. 2, the plaintiff is entitled to appeal against it under O. 43, R. 1. (Mullick and Kulwant Sahay, JJ.) SYED BAKAR HUSSAIN v. MIRZA HUSSAIN MIRZA. 4 P. L. T. 46: 73 I. C. 373: A. I. R. 1923 Pat. 223.

——O. 43, R. 1—Receiver ordered to pay damages—No appeal lies from such order.

An order directing a Receiver to pay a sum of money by way of damages is not appealable as it does not come within the operative part of R. 4. A. I. R. 1922 Mad. 234; 4 Pat. L.J. 636; 5 Pat. L.J. 97 Appr. 45 Bom. 99 and 42 Bom. 10 Dist. (Heald and Chari, JJ.) ARUNACHELLAM CHETTIAR v. U PO LU. 4 Bur. L. J. 91 : 3 Rang. 318 : A. I.R. 1925 Rang. 266.

——O. 43, R. 1 (a)—Order of remand.

Remanding of a case without the exercise of inherent jurisdiction by District Judge is not competent and there can be an appeal against it. (Piggott and Walsh, JJ.) GOKUL PRASAD v. RAM KUMAR. 44 A. 176 : 19 A. L. J. 971: 64 I. C. 878: A. I. R. 1922 All. 254.

——O. 43, R. 1 (a) and O. 7, R. 10—Plaint—Return of plaint to be presented in the proper court—Appeal against order—Second appeal.

Where a plaint is returned to be presented to the proper court, under Order 7, R. 10, the order is subject to an appeal under O. 43, R. 1 (a), but no second appeal lies. (Macleod, C. J. and Coyajee, J.) NILAKANT v. BALWANT. 27 Bom. L. R. 635: 88 I. C. 753: A. I. R. 1925 Bom. 431 : (1.)

——O. 43, R. 1 (a)—Remand—Appeal—When lies.

When an order of remand does not say under what provision it was made, it is not proper to hold it was not made under O. 41, R. 23. To hold so would be to curtail the right of appeal which should not be done except upon very clear proof of circumstances justifying such curtailment. (Greaves and Mukerji, JJ.) UMESH NARAIN CHOUDHURY v. SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA. 87 I. C. 575 : A. I. R. 1922 Cal. 1157.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 43, R. 1 (6).

——O. 43, R. 1 (a)—Remand—Inherent power—No appeal.

There is no appeal provided in the Civil Procedure Code against an order made under the inherent power of the Court conferred by S. 151, C. P. Code, to remand a case for retrial. (Moti Sagar, J.) WISAKHI RAM v. ALAWAL. 6 Lah. L. J. 153: 78 I. C. 408 (2): A. I. R. 1924 Lah. 487.

——O. 43, R. 1 (a) and O. 41, R. 23—Order of remand—Appealability.

Per Shadi Lal, C. J. and Martineau, J.—In order to determine whether an order of remand is appealable or not, the test is this : suppose, the Court instead of making an order of remand passed a decree on the strength of the adjudication constituting the order of remand, would there be a second appeal from that decree ? If a second appeal would lie from the decree, the order of remand is appealable, otherwise not.

Per Raoof, J.—An appeal from an order of an Appellate Court remanding a case under O. 41, R. 23, C.P. Code, does lie in all cases except those in which absolutely no right of second appeal against the appellate decree is given in the body of the Code or by any other law. 50 P. R. 1911; 85 P. R. 1914 Diss. ; 20 I. C. 788 foll. (Shadi Lal, C. J., Abdul Raoof and Martineau, JJ.) MUSST. UMRI v. SHAH MAHOMED. 3 Lah. 218 : 4 Lah. L. J. 359 : A I. R 1922 Lah. 178 (F. B.).

——O. 43, R. 1 (a) and O. 41. R. 23—Remand under inherent power—No appeal from order.

There is no appeal for an order of remand under the inherent powers of an appellate court, and not falling under O. 41, R. 23, C. P. Code, and under O. 43, R. 1 (a), C.P. Code. (Ayling, O. C. J. and Odgers, J.) SHEIK MAHOMED MARAKAYAR v. RANGASWAMI NAIDU. 31 M. L. T. 182: 69 I. C. 826: 16 L. W. 515.

——O. 43, R. 1 (a) and O. 7, R. 10—Order returning plaint—Appeal—Revision.

An order of an appellate Court returning a plaint for presentation to the proper court is appealable under O. 43, R. 1 (a). C.P. Code and consequently the order is not open to revision. (Neave, A. J. C.) BADRI SINGH v. LALTA SINGH. 10 O. & A. L. R 437: 79 I. C. 1024: 1 O. W. N. 156: A. I. R. 1925 Oudh 70.

——O. 43, R. 1 (a)—Order of remand by Special Judge under the Bengal Tenancy Act—No appeal lies.

There is no appeal against an order of remand passed by a Special Judge under the provisions of the Bengal Tenancy Act. (Ghose and Chotzner, JJ.) DEBI PRASAD BHAKAT v. OFFICIAL TRUSTEE OF BENGAL. 72 I. C. 1013: 37 C. L J. 314: A. I. R. 1923 Cal. 333.

——O. 43, R. 1 (b)—Dispossession by Receiver of a third party—Appeal.

When property of a third party is interfered with by an officer of the Court like the Receiver the party has ordinarily two remedies. He may apply to the Court for a summary order restraining the Receiver from interfering or he may ask the leave of the Court to permit him to sue the Receiver and restrain him from interfering and for any other appropriate relief. Where the party has adopted the summary remedy, the order of the Court is an order under O. 40, R. 1 (b) and is appealable. 39 C. 713, 3 Pat. L. J. 573 Rel. (Oldfield and Venkatasubba Rao, JJ.) RAMASWAMY PILLAI v. JANAKI AMMAL. 32 M. L. T. 96 : 16 L. W. 833 : 69 I. C. 393: (1922) M. W. N. 725.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 43, R. 1.

A. I. R. 1923 Mad. 129.

——O. 43, R. 1 (c)—Execution application—Dismissal for non-prosecution—Appeal from order refusing to restore does not lie.

Where the Court dismissed an application for execution for want of prosecution and subsequently refused to restore the application there is no appeal from the order refusing to restore the application (Piggott and Walsh, JJ.) BHARAT INDU v. ASGHAR ALI KHAN. 45 A. 148: 73 I. C. 453: 21 A. L. J. 135: L. R. 3 A. 622: A. I. R. 1923 A. 460 (1).

——O. 43, R. 1 (c)—Application to set aside dismissal for default—Dismissal of that application for default—Appeal.

Where a second application to set aside the dismissal of a prior application to set aside the dismissal of a suit for default, is itself dismissed, there is no appeal against the order of dismissal. 19 C.W.N. 25 Ref. (Sanderson, C. J. and Richardson, J.) HARA KUMAR v. MURARI MOHAN. 36 C. L. J. 184: A. I. R. 1922 Cal. 572.

——O. 43, R. 1 (d) and O. 9, R. 13—Appeal from order rejecting application for setting aside ex parte decree—Appellate Court cannot go beyond R. 13.

Per Sulaiman and Daniels, JJ.—In an appeal from an order rejecting an application to set aside an ex-parte decree, the appellate Court cannot go beyond the provisions contained in O. 9, R. 13 for reasons for setting aside the decree. A. I. R. 1922 All. 44 and 43 M. 94 Foll. 44 Cal. 929 Dist. (Lindsay, Sulaiman and Daniels, JJ.) RAM SARUP v. GAYA PRASAD. 90 I. C. 180 : L. R. 6 All. 601 : A. I. R. 1925 All. 610 (F. B.).

——O. 43, R. 1 (d)—Order of appellate Court that no application lay under O. 9, R. 13—Order is not in appeal against order under O. 9, C. 13.

An appeal would lie to the District Judge only when an application would properly lie to the Court of first instance under O. 9, R. 13. Where the District Judge says, in appeal, that no application lay under O. 9, R. 13, it can hardly be said that, he was entertaining an appeal against an order passed under O. 2, R. 13. (Sulaiman and Mookerjee, JJ.) FIRM OF GANESHI LAK HARNARAIN v. DEBI DAS. 47 All. 140 : 85 I. C. 470 : L. R. 5 All. 79 : A. I. R. 1925 All. 267.

——O. 43, R. 1 (d)—Case not open to appeal.

A munsiff rejected the application to set aside the ex parte decree passed by a munsiff, having small cause powers, who was succeeded by the former who had no small cause powers. Held, no appeal lies to the District Judge. (Banerji, J.) HIRALAL v. JHUNNI LAL. 20 A. L. J. 208 : A. I. R. 1922 All. 50.

——O. 43, R. 1 (d)—Appeal from ex parte decree is no bar.

An appeal from the ex parte decree does not affect the appeal from an order rejecting an application for setting aside the ex parte decree. (Abdul Raoof, J.) FIRM SETH KHUDA BAKSHI AND SONS v. FIRM GHULAM QADIR & SONS. A. I. R. 1924 Lah. 224.

——O. 43, R. 1 (d)—Ex parte order—Application to set aside—Conditional order—Non-fulfilment of condition—Order dismissing—Appeal.

An ex parte order was directed to be set aside if costs were paid in two weeks and the petition was to be posted to a later date. The costs were not paid and on the later date though security was offered, the application was dismissed. Held, the final order was appealable. The prior order was only a conditional order and as such not appealable. (Madhavan Nair J.) RAJAGOPALACHARI v. NARASIMHA TATHACHARIAR. 88 I. C. 196 (2) :

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 43, R. 1.

A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 1182.

——O. 43, R. 1 (i)—No revision lies against an order by the Appellate Court.

Where an appellate Court dismisses an appeal from an order of the lower Court setting aside an execution sale, the dismissal is not open to revision. (Sulaiman and Mukerji, JJ.) FATEH LAL v. SHER SINGH. L. R. 6 A. (Civ.) 63 : 85 I. C. 660 : A. I. R. 1925 All. 264.

——O. 43, R. 1 (j) and S. 96—Original decree dismissing a suit—Decree passed on review decreeing the suit—Appeal therefrom setting aside that decree and mentioning that suit be dismissed—Appeal from original decree does not lie.

A suit was decreed by the trial Court but in appeal it was dismissed. An application for review of the appellate decree was successful and thus the suit was again decreed. In an appeal to Privy Council from that decision it was held that the decree of the High Court in appeal be restored and the suit dismissed with costs throughout. The plaintiffs then applied for leave to appeal to Privy Council which was granted by the High Court holding that the order of Privy Council merely held the review application to be incompetent. Held : that the appeal to Privy Council must be dismissed as it was an appeal from a non-existent suit. (Lord Shaw.) NEKI v. CHHAJJU RAM. L. R. 6 P. C. 128 : A. I. R. 1925 P. C. 174 (2) (P. C.).

——O. 43, R. 1 (j)—Appealable order—Costs—Appeal as to—Competency of.

If an order is itself appealable, an appeal will lie from that part of the order which relates to costs. 8 C 91 : 12 Cal. 271 : 16 B. 241 Ref.

Where on the application of the judgment-debtor, a sale was set aside but the order setting aside the sale saddled them with the costs of the other side, and they filed an appeal against that part of the order which directed them to pay the costs of the other side held, that an appeal lay. (Piggott and Walsh, JJ.) SHIB KUMAR v. SHEO GHULAM. 44 A. 209 : 20 A. L. J. 11 : L. R. 3 A 91 : L. R. 3 All. 577 : 64 I. C. 932 : A. I. R. 1922 All. 90.

——O. 43, R. 1 (j) and S. 104, Cl. (2)—Second appeal where no First Appeal lay.

There can be no second appeal to the High Court from the decision in appeal which did not lie. (Scott-Smith, J.) GUL BANO v. MUHAMMAD ZAKAR KHAN. 3 Lah. L. J. 463.

——O. 43, R. 1 (j) and S. 104 (2)—Scope of.

Where an order is passed setting aside a sale under O. 21, R. 92, C. P. Code, from which one appeal is specially provided for by O. 43, R. 1 (j). By S. 104 (2) no second appeal is permitted in such a case. (Daniels, J. C.) IFTIKHAR HAIDAR v. IKRAM FATIMA. 2 O. W. N. 376 : 12 O. L. J. 336 : 88 I. C. 559 (1) : A. I. R. 1925 Oudh 622.

——O. 43, R. 1 (k)—Abatement—Application to bring on record legal representative—Order on, if appealable.

When an application to bring the representatives of a deceased plaintiff is made within time, the suit abates; and an application for substitution made afterwards ought necessarily to be considered on an application under O. 22, R. 9 (2), C. P. Code to set aside the abatement. (Moti Sagar, J.) BADLU v. NARAINI. 74 I. C. 17 : A. I. R. 1924 Lah. 424.

——O. 43, R. 1 (k)—Order refusing to set aside an abatement of an appeal is appealable.

An appeal lies from an order refusing to set aside the abatement of an appeal, since O. 22, R. 11 makes the order apply to appeals. (Jwala Prasad, A. J. C. and Kulwant Sahay, JJ.) HARI SARAN SINGH SYED

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 43, R. 1.

MD. ERADAT HUSSAIN. 2 Pat. L. R. 279 : 85 I. C. 1010 : A. I. R. 1925 Patna 162.

——O. 43, R. 1 (m)—Preliminary decree—Suit for accounts Reference to arbitrators—Setting aside of award—Appeal.

After passing a preliminary decree by consent in a suit for accounts, a reference was made to arbitrators to take the accounts and settle the final figure. An award submitted by them was not accepted by the court and the matter remitted to them again. They defaulted to re-consider it, whereupon the court ordered the suit to be heard on the merits. Held, it did not amount to an order refusing to record a compromise, and was not appealable. (Walmsley and Chakravarti, JJ.) MUNSHI MASIHUL AZAM v. GOLZAR AHAMMAD MIA. 29 C. W. N. 795 : A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 924.

——O. 43, R. 1 (m) and O. 23, R. 3—Compromise of suit—Power of Court to split up compromise and pass a decree—Decree or compromise—Appeal.

Under O. 43, R. 1 (m) C. P. Code, an appeal is competent from an order under O. 33, R. 3, C.P. Code recording or refusing to record an agreement, compromise or satisfaction. The mere fact that an order recording a compromise or refusing to record a compromise has been followed by a decree does not deprive a party of his statutory right to prefer an appeal against such an order. A court should accept or reject a compromise as a whole and it has no power to accept a part of it only and pass a decree thereon. (Moti Sagar, J.) THE SHOP OF MEGH RAJ TEJ BHAN v. SHOP OF TULSI RAM DEVI DITTA MAL. 6 Lah. L. J. 187 : A. I. R. 1924 Lah. 466.

——O. 43, R. 1 (m)—Order holding no compromise is not appealable.

The words used in O 43, R. 1 (m), C. P. Code, "an order under R. 3 of O. 23 recording or refusing to record an agreement, compromise or satisfaction" presuppose the existence of an agreement, compromise or satisfaction. An order holding that no compromise has been proved is not appealable. (Martineau, J.) SHANTI SARUP v. THE FIRM OF JAHANGIR MAL BANSI MAL. 73 I. C. 177 : A. I R. 1924 Lah. 248.

——O. 43, R. 1 (m)—Compromise decree—Relief not unlawful but unenforceable.

Where a compromise embraces matters not relating to the suit and the decree following such compromise gives reliefs which are not unlawful but which could not have been given, if the suit had been decided after trial, the remedy is by way of appeal. If the objection could be taken in execution proceedings, the legislature would not have provided special provisions in O. 43, for an appeal. (Maung Kin and Rigg, JJ.) ANA PAKIRISHA v. SOMASUNDARAM. A. I. R. 1922 L B. 22.

——O. 43. R. 1 (n)—Order for injunction subject to a condition is appealable.

An order for the issue of an injunction subject to a condition is appealable, but there is only one appeal against it. (Banerji, J.) GANESH PRASAD SAHU v. DUKH HARAN SAHU. 66 I. C. 509 : A. I. R. 1922 All. 441 (1).

——O. 43, R. 1 (n) and O. 41, R 23—Decision on preliminary point—Maintainability of suit—Appeal.

A consignor of goods, which had been lost in transit, sued the Agent of the Railway Company for the loss and the trial Court dismissed the suit on the ground that the Agent was not liable but the Railway Company. In appeal, the decision was reversed and the suit remanded. Held, the order being one on a preliminary point, it was appealable. (Suhrawardy and Duval, JJ.) AGENT. BENGAL NAGPUR RY. v. BEHARI LALL DUTT. 29 C. W. N. 614 : 52 Cal. 783 : 90 I. C. 426 : A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 716.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 43, R. 1.

——O. 43, R. 1 (q)—Order under—No appeal lies—Letters Patent (Rang.), Cl. 13.

An order made under the provisions of O. 38, R. 5 is not a "Judgment" within the meaning of clause 13 of the Letters Patent, because it is a mere interlocutory order which does not affect the merits of the dispute between the parties by determining some right or liability which is in controversy between them in the suit and therefore no appeal lies, from that order. A.I.R. 1925 Rang. 225 Foll. 26 Mad 502 and 32 Bom. 602 Expl. (Heald and Lentaigne, JJ.) MENGHA SINGH v. SUCHA SINGH. 4 Bur. L. J. 108. 3 Rang. 307 : 90 I. C. 995 : A. I. R. 1925 Rang. 267.

——O. 43, R. 1 (r)—Order refusing to attach property—Appealable.

An order of Court refusing to attach property for disobedience of an interim injunction falls within O. 39, R. 2 (3), C. P. Code, and is open to appeal. 27 I. C. 131 (foll.). (Scott-Smith, J.) DIWAN CHAND v. JHARIA COAL CO. 66 I. C. 9 : A. I. R. 1922 Lah. 347.

——O. 43, R. 1 (r)—Appeal—Order directing notice on an application for the issue of a temporary injunction.

There is no appeal against an order issuing notice on an application for temporary injunction under O. 39, R. 3, C. P. Code. (Krishnan and Waller, JJ.) SREEMATH DEIVASIGAMANI ANNAMALAI v. DESIKAN GOVINDA RAO. 20 L. W. 556 : A. I. R. 1924 Mad. 857.

——O. 43, R. 1 (s)—Order under O. 40, R. 4 directing attachment of Receiver's property for failure to pay amount fixed as due from him—Correctness of amount—Right to question.

In an appeal from an order under O. 40, R. 4, C. P. Code, directing attachment of the property of a receiver on the ground that he failed to pay the amount directed to be paid by him, it is open to the Receiver to question the amount fixed as due from him by the lower Court. Held, that the Court below erred in law in not fixing the exact amount of the receiver's indebtedness and in directing him to pay an approximate amount. Observations on the proper procedure to be followed in fixing the amount to be paid by a Receiver and in directing attachment of his property in default of payment. (Krishnan and Venkatasubba Rao, JJ.) R. M. P. PALANIAPPA CHETTI v. M. S. A. PT. PALANIAPPA CHETTY. 16 L. W. 754 : (1922) M. W. N. 741 ; 69 I. C. 203 : A. I. R. 1923 Mad. 85 (2) : 43 M. L. J. 707.

——O. 43, R. 1 (s) and O. 40, R. 4—Order directing Receiver to pay money in Court—Is not appealable.

An order directing a Reciver to pay a certain amount into Court is not an order within O. 40, R. 4, and hence is not appealable. (Ayling. O. C. J. and Krishnasamy Sastri, J.) PALANIAPPA CHETTY v. PALANIAPPA CHETTY. (1921) M. W. N. 806 : A. I. R. 1922 Mad. 234.

——O. 43, R. 1 (s)—Order declaring that Receiver should be appointed—Appeal.

An order under O. 40, R. 1, (s) C.P. Code declaring that a Receiver should be appointed in the case or appointing anybody by name as Receiver is an order which is appealable under O.43, R.1, S.14 C.L.J. 489 ; 40 M. 18 (F. B.) Foll. 13 C. L. J. 157 : 17 Bom. L. R. 510 ; 18 A. L. J. 212 Not Foll. (Jwala Prasad and Bucknill, JJ.) GOBIND RAM v. GANESH RAM. 4 U. P. L. R. (Pat.) 68 : 1922 P. H. C. C. 250 : 69 I. C. 929 : 1 P. L. R. 161 : 1 Pat. 625 :

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 43, R. 1 (t).

4 P. L T. 210 : A. I. R. 1922 Pat. 577.

——O. 43, R. 1 (t)—Right of appeal—Not provided for.

O. 47, R. 3 of the C. P. Code relates to the form of application and defines the method by which the form should be adopted and ascertained It does not relate to the right of appeal. (Walsh, A. C. J. and Ryves, J.) GIRDHAR LAL v. ZORAWAR SINGH.

47 All. 1 : 80 I. C. 649 : (1) : L. R. 5 A. 608 : A. I. R. 1925 All. 57.

——O. 43, R. 1 (u)—Order of remand.

When an appeal is remanded without any provision of law being stated the presumption is that the order is made under O. 41, R. 23, C. P. Code. (Walsh and Ryves, JJ.) KULSOOMUNNISSA v. RAMPRASAD.

20 A. L.J. 321 : L. R. 3 A. 394 : 44 A. 492 : 67 I.C. 713 : 4 U.P.L.R.(A). 168 : A.I.R. 1922 All. 226.

——O. 43, R. 1 (u)—Order of remand—No second appeal.

Where there is no second appeal from the decree of the Appellate Court, there is also no Second Appeal from the order of remand. (Piggott and Walsh, JJ.) SANT PRASAD v. BHAWANJ PRASAD.

2 U. P. L. R. (All.) 416 : 60 I. C. 831 (1) : 19 A. L. J. 72 : 43 All. 403.

——O. 43, R. 1 (u)—Scope of.

A remand order passed by a District Judge in appeal, otherwise than from a decree, is not an order passed under O. 41, R. 23 and is not appealable. (Martineau, J.) HAYAT ALI KHAN v. ISHAR DASS.

89 I.C. 384 (Lah.)

——O. 43, R. 1 (u)—Appeal from order of remand- Findings of fact not to be questioned.

The lower Appellate Court made an order of remand under O. 41, R. 22, C. P. Code, remanding the case to the Original Court, for the decision of the remaining questions arising in the case. An appeal was preferred to the High Court. Held, the policy of the Legislature being not to allow a second appeal on facts, it is difficult to see how the appellant coming in appeal under O. 43, R. 1 (u) can question findings of fact in this Court. (Le Rossignal and Abdul Raoof, JJ.) HANDARAM v. HOTU RAM.

A. I. R. 1922 Lah. 97 (2)

——O. 43, R. 1 (u)—Nature of appeal under.

An appeal under O.43, R. 1(u) is one from the order granting an application for review and not one from the final decree in the suit. The appeal is restricted to the grounds mentioned in O. 47, R. 7. (Chevis, J.) KANSHI RAM v. KARAM NARAIN.

3 Lah. L. J. 100 : 60 I. C. 259 : 3 U. P. L. R. (Lah.) 65.

——O. 43, R. 1 (u)—Decree passed simultaneously—Order is appealable.

Where the decree is passed immediately and as part of the order recording the compromise the order recording the compromise is appealable. A. I. R. 1922 Mad. 446 doubted. (Srinivasa Aiyangar, J.) SATYANARAYANAMURTHI v. JAYANTI BUTCHAYYA.

87 I. C. 124 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 606 : 48 M. L. J. 249.

——O. 43, R. 1 (u)—Remand of case for disposal after decision of the main point—Not appealable.

Where the appellate Court decides the main point in a case and remands the case for disposal of remaining issues, the decision is not one on a preliminary point and thus the order is not appealable. 44 Cal. 929 foll. (Abdur Rahim and Oldfield, JJ.) PONANGI VENKATA SUBBARAIDU v. ZEMINDAR OF NUZVID.

60 I. C. 609 · 12 L. W. 667.

——O. 43, R. 1 (u)—Remand not under O. 41, R. 23—No appeal lies.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 44, R. 1.

Under O. 43, R. 1 (u) of the Code no appeal will lie against an order of remand unless that order of remand be passed under O. 41, R. 23. (Ashworth, J. C.) SHEIKH FARZAND ALI v. EKADASHI

26 O. C. 10: 73 I.C. 591 : 10 O.L.J. 36 : 9 O. & A. L. R. 332 : A. I. R. 1923 Oudh 177.

——O. 43, R. 1 (u)—Order of remand—Appeal—Findings of fact.

On an appeal from an order of remand, the High Court is bound by the findings of fact of the lower appellate court. 20 All. 42 ref. (Daniels, A. J. C.) QAMAR JEHAN BEGAM v. BANSI DHAR.

65 I. C. 376 : 8 O. L. J. 624.

——O. 43, R. 1 (u) and O. 41 R. 23—O. 43, R. 1 (u) applies only when a case is remanded on a preliminary point—Remand for fresh trial with the addition of necessary party is not disposing a suit on a preliminary point and no appeal lies from the order of remand under O. 43, R. 1 (u).

O. 43, R. 1 (u) gives right of appeal against an order under O. 41, R. 23, but that rule applies only when the trial Court has disposed of the suit on a preliminary point. Where the Appellate Court set aside the trial Court's decree on the ground of non-joinder of a necessary party and remanded the case for a fresh trial with the addition of such party, Held: that this is not disposing of the suit on a preliminary point, and so neither O. 41, R. 23 nor O 43, R. 1 (u) applied. (Rutledge and Heald, JJ.) MA ME MYA v. MA MIN ZAN.

4 Bur. L. J. 159 : 3 Rang. 490 : A. I. R 1925 Rang. 320.

——O. 43, R. 1 (w)—Right of appeal is subject to O. 47, R 7.

The right of appeal conferred by Order 43, rule 1 (w) is not an unlimited right, but is subject to the conditions of Order 47, rule 7. 40 All. 68 and 45 Cal. 60 Foll. (Sulaiman and Daniels, JJ.) MADHORI SURAN v. PARBATI.

23 A. L. J. 534 : 88 I. C. 653 : L. R. 6 A. Civ. 454 : 47 All. 881 : A. I. R. 1925 All. 552.

——O. 43, R. 1 (w)—Order granting review—Appeal—Conditions.

The right of appeal under R. 1 (w) is subject to conditions laid down by O. 47, R. 7 and therefore an appeal not coming under this rule cannot be maintained. (Piggott and Kanhaiya Lal, JJ.) SUNDER v. HABIB CHICK.

42 All. 626 : 18 A. L. J. 838 : 60 I. C. 81 : 2 U. P. L. R. (All.) 283.

——O. 43, R. 1 (w) and O. 47 R. 7—Order granting review—Appeal.

An appeal lies against an order granting review on any ground and is not confined to the grounds mentioned in O. 47, R. 7 C.P. Code. (Macleod, C.J. and Madgavkar J.) DASO v. KARBASAPPA.

27 Bom. L. R. 1446.

——O. 43, R. 1 (w) and O. 47, R. 7—Order granting review—Appeal.

An appeal against an order granting a review on the ground the order sought to be reviewed was really an earlier order does not lie. O. 43, R. 1 (w) must be read with O. 47, R. 7, by which the grounds on which an order granting review can be set aside on appeal are limited. (Newbould and Suhrawardy, JJ.) SURYA NARAIN v. KUNJ BEHARI.

66 I. C. 909 : 25 C. W. N. 884.

——O. 44, R. 1—Decree appealed from not erroneous or unjust—Leave to appeal as pauper.

Where the decree appealed from did not appear to be contrary to law or to some usage having the force of law or otherwise erroneous or unjust, the appellate Court did not admit an application to appeal as pauper even conceding that the applicant was a pauper

C P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 44, R. 1.

(Zafar Ali, J.) MT. VIDYA VANTE v. JAI DIAL.
7 Lah. L. J. 214 : 89 I. C. 292 (1) : A. I. R. 1922 Lah. 391 (1).

——0. 44, R. 1—Proviso—Applicability of—Leave to appeal in forma pauperis.

The proviso to O. 44, R, 1, C. P. Code is not applicable unless it should be found that the applicant is a proper person. (Zafar Ali, J.) SHRIMATI VIDYA WANTI v. JAI DAYAL KAPUR.
6 Lah. L. J. 205 : 80 I. C. 649 (2) : A. I. R. 1924 Lah. 536.

——0. 44, R. 1—Leave to appeal in forma pauperis —Dismissal of application does not involve dismissal of appeal.

There is a distinction between applications to sue as a pauper, and applications to appeal as such. The distinction was deliberately drawn by the legislature. 40 M. 687 Ref. In the case of an application to sue, the plaint is an integral portion of the application, in the case of an appeal, the memorandum of appeal is a separate document, Consequently the dismissal of the application for leave to appeal as a pauper does not involve the dismissal of the appeal. An order of the Court directing payment of the Court-fees which could be made under S. 149, C. P. Code, is valid and proper. On payment of the Court-fees the appeal is effective as from the date of the original presentation. 2 Lah. 1 : 55 P. R. 1913 : 95 P. R. 1917. Dist. (Le Rossignol and Campell, JJ.) MAHANT DIYAL DAS v. SUNDAR DAS. 3 Lah. 35 : 65 I. C. 741 : 26 P. W. R. 1922 : A. I. R. 1922 Lah. 225.

——0. 44, R. 1 (Proviso)—Appeal lies only when correctness or reasonableness of decision is doubted.

The terms in the proviso merely indicate that the Court, before admitting a pauper appeal, should be satisfied that it is not merely a frivolous appeal and that there are reasonable grounds for doubting the correctness or justness of the decision of the lower Court. (Srinivasa Aiyangar, J.) M. PARUSURAMUDU v. M. RAMANNA. 22 L.W. 23 : 87 I.C. 960 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 1178 : 49 M. L. J. 353.

——0. 44, R. 1—Pauper application and memorandum of appeal—Rejection of former—Proper order to pass on latter.

When an application for leave to appeal in forma pauperis is presented along with the memorandum of appeal and the former is rejected, the proper order to pass on the latter is to give the party time to pay the Court-fee on it. The two documents are separate and must be separately disposed of. Difference in procedure under O. 33 and O, 44 pointed out. (Dalal, J.C.) SAJJAD ALI KHAN v. JAGMOHAN DAS.
90 I. C. 371 (Nag.).

——0. 44, R. 1, Proviso—Direction is mandatory.

The Court is entirely precluded from admitting an application under O. 41, R. 1 unless satisfied that the decree of lower Court, is contrary to law or to some usage having the force of law, or is otherwise erroneous or unjust. The direction contained in the proviso to the Rule is mandatory. (Adami and Sen, JJ.) RAJENDRA PRASAD BOSE v. GOPAL PRASAD BOSE. 4 Pat. 67 : A I. R. 1925 Pat. 442.

——0. 44, R. 1—Leave to appeal in forma pauperis —Merits of the case—How far to be considered.

It is no doubt open to the Court when an application for leave to appeal in forma pauperis comes before it for admission, to reject the application if it is not satisfied that the judgment is contrary to law or otherwise erroneous or unjust. But once the Court has admitted the application and ordered notice to the opposite party and the Government, the question whether the proviso under O. 44, R. 1 C. P. Code has been complied with or not cannot be considered. (Miller, C. J. and Mullick, J.) MT. BUCHAN DAI v. JUGAL KISHORE.
2 Pat. L. R. 153 : A. I. R. 1924 Pat. 791 (1).

——0. 44, R. 1—Record of evidence cannot be referred to.

Under O. 44, R. 1, the Court has no right to refer to the record of evidence. The Court must confine itself to the judgment and decree appealed from. (Carr and Brown, JJ.) MAUNG THA DIN v. DAW PAW. 4 Bur. L. J. 55 : A. I. R. 1925 Rang. 249.

——0. 45—Application for leave to appeal—Review petition successful—Reversal in appeal—Effect on original application.

An application for leave to appeal to the Privy Council and a review petition were put in against the judgment of the High Court. The latter proving successful no order was necessary on the former. In an appeal against the order granting the review the same was reversed by the Privy Council. Held, the original application for leave to appeal was still alive and leave could be granted thereon. (Harrison and Zafar Ali, JJ.) NEKI v. CHHAJJU RAM.
4 Lah. 445 : 77 I. C. 869 : A. I. R. 1924 Lah. 225.

——0. 45—Power of High Court to add parties pending appeal to Privy Council.

There is no power for the High Court under order 45 of the C. P. Code to add parties pending appeal to the Privy Council. (Rutledge and Heald, JJ.) KALENTHER AMMAL v. MA MI. 3 Rang. 474.

——0. 45—Privy Council appeal—Death of second respondent—Abatement—Application for certificate declaring who are deceased respondent's legal representatives—Refusal of certificate—Delay in preparation of record—Enquiry ordered.

Where an appeal abates as against a party to a Privy Council appeal, it abates as regards all orders regarding costs incidental thereto as a consequence. 34 M. 76 followed. A delay of three years having occurred in the preparation of the record of the appeal for His Majesty in Council, the office was directed to report the reasons for the delay and to show how far that delay was due to inaction and want of prosecution on the part of the appellants with a view to action being taken by the Court under R. 70 of the rules relating to appeals to the Privy Council. (Robinson, C. J. and May Oung, J.) D. L. SAKLAT v. BELLA. 2 R. 91 : 3 Bur. L. J. 30 : 80 I. C. 744 : A. I. R. 1924 Rang. 217.

——0. 45, R. 3—Certificate—Contents.

A certificate issued under O. 45 must clearly show whether it fulfils the conditions of S. 110 or is otherwise a case fit for appeal to Privy Council under S. 109 (c). (Lord Buckmaster.) RADHA KRISHNA AYYAR v. SWAMINATHA AYYAR.
44 Mad. 293 : 19 A. L. J. 161 : 48 I. A. 31 : 23 Bom. L. R. 718 : 25 C. W. N. 630 : 33 C. L. J. 227 : 13 L. W, 321 : (1921) M. W. N. 119 : 60 I. C. 85 : 29 M. L. T. 418 (P. C.): 40 M. L. J. 229: On Appeal from 40 I. C. 587.

——0. 45, R. 4—Essentials for.

Under O. 45, R. 4 of the C. P. Code consolidation for purposes of valuation for leave to appeal to the Privy Council is admissible only when the suits in question involve substantially the same questions for determination and have been decided by the same judgment. (Oldfield and Krishnan, JJ.) RAJA RAJESWARA v. ARUNACHELAM.
73 I.C. 217 : A. I. R. 1923 Mad. 602 : 44 M. L. J. 424.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 45, R. 4.

——O. 45, R. 4—Consolidation—When permissible.

O. 45, R. 4, C. P. Code allows consolidation but only to make good a defect of pecuniary valuation and not a defect of any other kind. The rule speaks only of the consolidation of different suits decided by the same judgment but the principle applies where the interests of the two parties are so entirely separate that they are practically defendants in two different suits decided by one judgment. (Batten, J. C. and Hallifax, A. J. C.) SETH NARAYANA DAS v. MT. KAMLABAI. 69 I. C. 525 : A. I. R. 1923 Nag. 198.

——O. 45, R. 4—Consolidation when allowed.

Under O. 45, R. 4 the case is only consolidated for the purpose of pecuniary value. It does not matter what the reason is why the appeals are consolidated. Once they are consolidated for whatever reason they form in fact one appeal and the parties in that appeal must be treated just as the parties in one suit. (Dawson Miller, C. J. and Mullick, J.) THE MIDNAPUR ZEMINDARI CO. v. MADAN MARWARI. 70 I. C. 782 : 1923 P. H. C. C. 17 : A. I. R. 1923 Pat. 215.

——O. 45, R. 4—'Judgment'—Meaning of—Requirements of R. 4.

'Judgments' in R. 4 refers the judgment appealed against, i.e., the judgment of the High Court. According to the rule the judgment which their Lordships of the Privy Council have to consider should be the same judgment in the consolidated appeals and the rule does not mean that they should have in the same case or in the same appeal to consider the effect of several judgments of the High Court. (Miller, C. J. and Mullick, J.) DEOKI NANDAN PRASAD v. NARASINGH RAUT. 6 P. L. J. 97 : 2 P. L. T. 157 : 60 I. C. 517 : 1921 P. H. C. C. 145.

——O. 45, R. 5—Form of enquiry is in discretion of Court.

In a case remanded for enquiry and report as to the value of subject-matter of the suit the Court has discretion to determine whether there should be a local enquiry for determining value. (Sanderson, C. J. and Walmsley, J.) PRANADA NATH ROY BAHADUR v. BASIRUDDIN QUAZI. 82 I. C. 744 : A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 414.

——O. 45, R. 7—Time for furnishing security—Act XXVI of 1920.

An appeal to His Majesty in Council from a decree passed before the coming into force of Act XXVI of 1920 is governed by O. 45, R. 7 as it existed before its amendment and the period for furnishing security is 6 months. Where cash is offered as security before the expiry of 6 months but is accepted after that period owing to the court's delay the deposit must be deemed duly made. (Mears, C. J. and Banerji, J.) DEBI RAI v. PRAHLAD DAS. 44 A. 242 : 20 A. L. J. 51 : L. R. 3 A. 94 : 65 I. C. 340 : A. I. R. 1922 All. 87.

——O. 45, R. 7—Time for furnishing security and deposit cannot be extended by more than six weeks.

Under O. 45, R. 7 as amended by S. 3 of Act XXVI of 1920 the High Court's discretion to extend the time for furnishing security and making a deposit for translation and printing and other charges has been curtailed and limited to the period mentioned in the amendment. The High Court has no power to extend the period beyond six weeks. (Mears, C. J. and Banerji, J.) RAM DHAN v. PRAG NARAIN. 44 A. 216 : 20 A. L. J. 13 : 65 I. C. 249 : L. R. 3 A. 634 : A. I. R. 1922 All. 43.

——O. 45, R. 7—Decree amended on review—Leave to appeal to Privy Council—Limitation.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 45, R. 7.

On an application for leave to appeal from a decree of the High Court which reversed the decree of the Court of first instance, the decree of the High Court was first passed on the 29th November 1921 but on an application for review it was modified on the 9th May 1922. Held that the period of limitation for the application for leave to appeal to the Privy Council is to be recounted from the latter date, on which a new decree was passed in substitution for first one. (Abdul Raoof and Martineau, JJ.) NAWAZ ALI v. ALLU. 4 Lah. 185 : 75 I. C. 520 : 6 Lah. L. J. 44 : A. I. R. 1924 Lah. 82.

——O. 45, R. 7—Where Special leave was granted by P. C. under S. 112, C. P. Code, High Court cannot demand security.

O. 45, R. 7 applies to the case where a certificate is granted by the High Court, but when the special power under S. 112 is exercised by the Privy Council, the High Court has no jurisdiction to call upon the appellant to deposit security without any order of the Privy Council. (Dalal and Simpson, A. J. Cs.) MATA PRASAD v. NAGESWAR SAHAI. 11 O. L. J. 195 : 76 I. C. 335 : A. I. R. 1925 Oudh 99.

——O. 45, R. 7—Power to extend time—High Court cannot extend period.

Power is given to extend the first period of 90 days from the date of the decree up to a period of 60 days on cause shown but the Court has no power to extend the period of 6 weeks from the date of the grant of the certificate for the filing of the security and necessary costs. (Lyle and Ashworth, A. J. Cs.) ASHIQ ALI v. ARJUMAN-UN-NISSA. 25 O. C. 254 : 70 I. C. 937 : A. I. R. 1923 Oudh 50 (1).

——O. 45, R. 7—Security must be in cash or Govt. security—Order for, when to be made.

As an ordinary rule security shall be furnished in case or in Government securities while the proviso to O. 45, R. 7 allows some other form of security. It provides against any delay by reason of such permission being given by requiring that the order for such other form of security might be passed at the time the certificate is granted. While, therefore, it is open to the applicant to move the Court to permit security in any other form to be granted it is essential the court should be so moved before or at the time of the hearing of the application for leave to appeal when a certificate would be granted. If no such order is obtained at the date of the grant of the certificate security must be furnished in cash or in Government securities within the period allowed by O. 45, R. 7, C. P. Code. (Robinson, C. J. and Maung Kin, J.) KIRKWOOD v. MAUNG SIN. 66 I. C. 548 : 11 L. B. R. 213.

——O. 45, R. 7—Time for furnishing security can be extended.

It is competent to the High Court to extend the time for furnishing security for the costs of an appeal to His Majesty in Council if the appellant shows cogent reasons for such extension and also satisfies the Court that he has exercised due diligence during the period allowed. The mere fact that he has not been successful in his attempt to raise a loan is not a sufficient reason. 11 All. 7 ; 14 Mad. 391 ; 44 P. R 1910; 11 C. W. N. 1104 Ref. (Maung Kin and Duckworth, JJ.) PONNAMMAL v. THE BANK OF RANGOON. 65 I. C. 450 : 11 L. B. R. 108.

——O. 45, R. 7 (1)—Application to furnish security in other form than cash or Government bonds is incompetent if made after grant of certificate.

An application that, on the ground of special hard ship some other form of security may be allowed to be furnished, if made subsequent to the making of an order granting the certificate under R. 7 (1), is incompetent. The contention that R. 7 (1) refers not to the granting of a certificate but to the actual issue of the document called the certificate is curious and untenable. (Venkatasubba Rao and Srinivasa Aiyangar, JJ.) R. ARUNACHALA NAIDU v. S. R. BALAKRISHNA & CO. 21 L. W. 147 · 86 I. C. 201 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 449 : 48 M. L. J. 134.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 45, R. 7 (1).

——O. 45, R. 7 (1)—Appeal to Privy Council—Delay in paying in security—Extension of time—Not granted without cogent reason.

The Court will not grant an extension of time to furnish security for costs in an appeal to the Privy Council. The difficulty in furnishing security in cash is not a sufficiently cogent reason. 10 C. 557 ; 14 Mad. 391 followed. (Carr and Maung Gyi, JJ.) MA SEIN v. SIT PAUNG. 4 Bur. L. J. 3.

——O. 45, R. 8—Deposit out of time—Effect—Act XXVI of 1920.

A deposit made out of time is not one made to the satisfaction of Court within O. 45, R. 8. The periods both for security and deposit are identical. 20 A. L. J. 13 foll. (Mears, C. J. and Piggott, J.) JAGMOHAN SARAN v. SAHU DEOKI NANDAN. L. R. 5 A. 40 : 84 I. C. 535 : A. I. R. 1923 All. 572.

——O. 45, R. 8 (b)—Judicial Committee's Rules, R. 43—Appeal heard ex parte—Rehearing—Procedure.

The omission to give notice to the respondents of the admission of an appeal to the Privy Council is no sufficient ground for rehearing provided the respondents in fact knew of the admission. (Lord Shaw, Lord Phillimore, Sir John Edge, Ameer Ali and Sir L. Jenkins.) HARDIT SINGH v. GURMUKH SINGH. 22 Bom. L. R. 550 : 59 I. C. 7 : 4 P. W. R. 1921 (P. C.).

——O. 45, R. 13 and O. 41—Appeal to Privy Council—Stay of execution by the District Court—Whether legal—Court, meaning of.

The Dt. Court has no jurisdiction to pass order for stay of execution or giving security under O. 41 for pending an appeal from the High Court to the Privy Council. The powers with regard to stay of execution are laid down in O 45, R. 13, C. P. Code under that order the Court may allow the decree appealed from to be executed taking such security from the Respondent as the court thinks fit for the due performance of any order which the Privy Council may make on the appeal. The provisions of this rule are meant entirely to govern all questions regarding the execution of the decree under appeal before the Privy Council and the provisions of O. 41, R. 6 have no application and the proper court to deal with the matter is not the original Court but the High Court. 3 Pat. L. J. 40 followed. In such circumstances the Court means the High Court. (Carr and Brown, JJ.) MAUNG PO SHEIN v. MAUNG PO KIN. 4 Bur. L. J. 50 : 3 Rang. 158 : 88 I. C 992 : A. I. R. 1925 Rang. 254.

——O. 45, R. 13 and S. 151—Court can stay execution even before grant of certificate.

The wording of O. 45, R. 13 clearly shows that the Court has power to stay execution after grant of a certificate and though no power has been specifically conferred on the Court under O. 45, R. 13 to stay execution prior to that stage, the Court has power to stay even before the grant of a certificate if not under this rule, under S. 151. 40 Cal. 955 Foll. 19 B. 10 Appr. 6 S. L. R. 86 Not Foll. (Kincaid, J. C. and Aston, A. J. C.) NARUMAL v. JAGATMAL. 82 I. C. 739 : A. I. R. 1925 Sind 216.

——O. 45, R. 13—Applicant must show good grounds for obtaining stay.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 46, R. 1.

The inherent powers of the Court to stay execution of its decree should be sparingly used and the onus is clearly on the applicant to establish good grounds for staying execution. (Kincaid, J. C. and Aston, A. J. C.) NARUMAL v. JAGATMAL. 82 I. C. 739 : A. I. R. 1925 Sind 216.

——O. 45, R. 15—Order of Privy Council—Transmission — Execution — Limitation — Right of person not a party to Privy Council—Appeal to apply for restitution.

Though O. 45, R. 15, C. P. Code, makes it part of the procedure for the enforcement of orders of His Majesty in Council that the person desiring to obtain execution of such an order shall obtain its transmission, it is inconvenient, if not impossible, to require that each person interested in the execution of a particular order shall obtain a separate transmission when that order has already been transmitted at the instance of another successful party. The fact that a person applying for restitution was not a party to an appeal to the Privy Council does not disentitle him to such relief. 17 M. 82 ; 25 M. 426 referred to. (Oldfield and Devadoss, JJ.) BALUSAMI IYAR v. VENKATASWAMI NAICKEN. 32 M. L. T. 249 (H. C.) : 76 I. C. 219 : A. I. R. 1924 Mad. 95.

——O. 45, R. 15—Order of His Majesty in Council—Transmission of—Power to impose conditions.

Where a High Court acting under O. 45, R 15 of the C. P. Code transmits an order of His Majesty in Council to the first Court for execution it is competent to the High Court to give directions to pay out the money on taking sufficient security from the decree-holder. (Daniels and Wazir Husan, A. J. Cs.) RANI BIJAI RAJ KOER v. THAKUR JAI INDRA BAHADUR SINGH. 9 O. L. J. 5 : 66 I. C. 982 : A. I. R. 1922 Oudh 34.

——O. 45, R. 15—Mandatory—Non-compliance—Effect.

The provisions of O. 45, R. 15 are mandatory and failure to comply with them renders an execution application liable to dismissal. (Adami and Bucknill, JJ.) MT. BHAGWANTA KOER v. ZAMIR AHMAD KHAN. 5 Pat. L. T. 451 : 78 I. C. 766 : 1924 P. H. C. C. 221 : 3 Pat. 596 : A. I. R. 1924 Pat. 576.

——O. 46, R. 1—Power to decide case referred does not include power to hear appeal.

A power of reference is not a modified form of appellate jurisdiction. A right of appeal is a right conferred on the suitor. A power of reference is a power vested in the Court. It lies in the sole discretion of the Court to exercise or not to exercise it. An appeal presupposes a decree or order already passed against which the appeal is directed. The power of reference is exercised while the case is still pending in order to enable the Court to arrive at a correct decision. A Court to whom a reference can be made is not necessarily authorised to hear appeals from the Court making a reference. 3 P. L. J. 581 Dist. (Linasay, Kanhaiya Lal and Daniels, JJ.) ABDUL RAHMAN v. ABDUL RAHMAN. 23 A. L. J. 385 : L. R. 6 All. 191 (Civ). . 87 I. C. 51 : 47 All. 513 : A. I. R. 1925 : All. 380 (F.B.).

——O. 46, R. 1—Leave to sue—Receiver in Insolvency—Distinction.

A Receiver appointed under the Code of Civil Procedure merely holds the estate on behalf of the Court. The estate does not vest in him, nor does he in any way represent it. Leave of the Court is necessary in order that by impleading him the estate may be bound. A Receiver under the Insolvency Act holds a different capacity altogether. He is more than a mere officer of the Court. Under S. 28 (2) the insolvent's estate vests in him. He alone, and no one else, represents the estate. He therefore is the proper party to be impleaded in the action. No leave is accordingly necessary for suing him. (Lindsay and Sulaiman, JJ.) MAHRANA v. DAVID.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 46, R. 1.

21 A. L. J. 737 : L. R. 4 A. (Civ.) 483 : 46 All. 16 : A. I. R. 1924 All. 40.

——— ——O. 46, R. 1—Applicability.

O. 46, does not apply to miscellaneous proceedings. (25 Bom. 327 ; 36 Mad. 16, Ref.) (Suhrawardy and Duval, JJ.) D. TANCRED v. D. N. MULLICK.

40 C. L. J. 578 : 84 I. C. 543 : 29 C. W. N. 521 : A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 391.

———O. 46, R. 1—Rent Controller is Court but inquiry before him is not a suit within R. 1—Calcutta Rent Act, S. 24.

The Court of the Rent Controller is in certain respects a Court of Civil jurisdiction but the enquiry before the Rent Controller is not a suit within the meaning of O. 46, R. 1 and therefore the Rent Controller cannot make a reference under this order (1922 Cal. 427 ; 1923 Cal. 169, Ref.) (Suhrawardy and Duval, JJ.) D. TANCRED v. D. N. MULLICK.

40 C. L. J. 578 : 84 I. C. 543 : 29 C. W. N. 521 : A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 391.

———O. 46, R. 1—Reference—Subject of—Sanction to prosecute.

O. 46, R. 1 refers only to such questions as may arise in the trial of a suit and not to questions arising on an application for sanction, which cannot, in any sense of the word, be considered as a trial of a suit. A reference arising out of such an application is incompetent. (Moti Sagar, J.) BALWANT RAI v. NIAMAT KHAN. A. I. R. 1924 Lah. 566.

———O. 46, R. 5—Powers of High Court.

When a High Court hears a reference, it acts like a Court of appeal quite as much as it undoubtedly does when it hears an application for revision. (Mookerjee, A. C. J., Fletcher and Walmsley, JJ.) MAHARAJAH BIRENDRA KISHORE MANIKYA BAHADUR v. SECY. OF STATE. 25 C. W. N, 80 : 61 I. C. 112 : 32 C. L. J. 433.

———O. 47, R. 1.

Conversion.
Grounds for Review.
Inherent Power.
Mistake or Error.
New Evidence.
Order for Review, effect of.
" Other Sufficient Reason ".
Power of Court.
Miscellaneous.

Conversion.

———O. 47, R. 1 and O. 9, R. 13—Conversion—Registration.

A successor-in-office has jurisdiction to change the registration of an application from one under O. 47, R. 1 to one under O. 9, R. 13 when the application is made under both the provisions, registration being purely a ministerial act. (Coutts and Macpherson, JJ.) MAHABIR v. BALKISUN. 3 P. L. T. 29 : 1922 P. H. C. C. 76 : 1 P. 48 : A. I. R. 1922 Pat. 376.

———O. 47, R. 1—Conversion — Application for setting aside Ex parte decree—Defendant's agent's negligence alleged as ground—Application cannot be treated as one for review.

Where an application to set aside an ex parte decree or to restore a previous application (which had been dismissed for default, for setting aside the ex parte decree was asked to be treated as an application for review, Held : it could not be so treated because (1) it was not an application for review but one for setting aside ex parte decree (2) it was not stamped as an application for review and (3) the negligence of the former agent of the defendant which was the ground put forward was no justification for applying for this particular remedy. (Young, J.) MA NAW NAW v. V. E. S. S. SOMASUNDARAM CHETTY. 2 Rang. 655 : 85 I. C. 324 : A. I. R. 1925 Rang. 187.

Grounds for Review.

———O. 47, R. 1—Grounds for review—Power of appellate court.

Under O. 47, R. 1 which reproduces S. 623 of the C. P. Code, 1882, a party has a right to apply for a review of judgment to the court that has decided the case before an appeal has been preferred. The grounds on which such an application may be made are specifically set forth in R. 1. (Mr. Ameer Ali.) INDRAJIT PRATAP BAHADUR v. AMAR SINGH.

4 P. L. T. 447 : 1 P. L. R. 345 : 21 A. L. J. 554 ; 2 Pat. 676 : 50 I. A. 183 : 39 C. L. J. 318 : 33 M. L. T. 233 : L. R. 4 P. C. 123 : L R. 5 P. C. 8 : 28 C. W. N. 277 : 18 L.W. 728 : 25 Bom. L. R. 1259 : 74 I. C. 747 : 39 C. L. J. 318 : A. I. R. 1923 P. C. 128 : 45 M. L. J. 578.

———O. 47, R. 1—Grounds for Review—Fraud or undue influence—No discovery of new matter—If ground for review—Compromise decree.

Fraud or undue influence un-accompanied by the discovery of any new fact is not a ground for reviewing a compromise decree. It does not amount to " other sufficient reason " which has to be read ejusdem generis with what goes before. A ground for review must have existed on the date of the order sought to be reviewed and not have come into existence subsequently. (Sulaiman and Boys, JJ.) NATHU MAL v. RAGHUBIR SINGH. 89 I. C. 946 : L. R. 6 A. 569 : 23 A. L. J. 1029.

———O. 47, R. 1—Grounds for review—Dismissal of appeal for default.

Where an appeal against a decree has been dismissed for default and that order of dismissal has become final, the appellant cannot thereafter apply for review of the judgment. (Piggott and Walsh, JJ.) MANPHUL SINGH v. HAKIM HAMID ALI KHAN.

21 A. L. J. 416 : L. R. 4 A. 276 : 74 I. C. 528 : A. I. R. 1923 All. 576.

———O. 47, R. 1—Grounds for review—Commissioner for taking accounts.

A Commissioner in order to take accounts may in his discretion and on proper grounds re-open the enquiry into any one or more of the items before his report is made. Until then he decides nothing that is final and conclusive. Having given every opportunity to a party to prove his objection to a particular item, and when the Commissioner has after hearing the parties recorded his finding ; it is highly undesirable that he should reopen the enquiry merely because he is invited to do so by the party. The enquiry must be final and if he does re-open the enquiry, it must be on grounds similar to those mentioned in O. 47, R. 1 ; not because the provisions of O. 47, R. 1 apply to proceedings before him but because that rule affords the best guide in a matter of this kind. If the enquiry is re-opened on grounds which are not proper, the party aggrieved can object only by way of exception to this report. (Mulla, J.) FERNANDEZ v. RODRIGUES. 47 Bom. 593 : 25 Bom. L. R. 280 :

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 47, R. 1—Grounds for review.

A. I. R. 1924 Bom. 231.

——O. 47, Rr. 1 and 7—Grounds for review—Inherent power—Exercise of—Appeal from.

Where a suit was dismissed for default though one of the plaintiffs was personally present at the time of the hearing and on an application for review the trial Court purported to set aside the order of dismissal for default, acting under the inherent powers of the Court, Held, that though there was no sufficient cause for entertaining a review, there was no appeal from the order of the Court below. (Ghose, J.) BASANTA KUMARI GUPTA v. ABHOY SHANKER SEN. 37 C. L. J. 99 : 73 I. C. 306 : A. I. R. 1923 Cal. 450.

——O. 47, R. 1, and O. 43, R. 1 (u)—Grounds for review.

An appeal against an order granting a review on the ground the order sought to be reviewed was really an earlier order, does not lie. O. 43, R. 1 (u) must be read with O. 47, R. 7 by which the grounds on which an order granting a review can be set aside on appeal are limited. (Newbould and Suhrawardy, JJ.) SURYA NARAIN v. KUNJ BEHARI. 66 I. C. 909 : 25 C. W. N. 884.

——O. 47, R. 1—Grounds for review—Reversal of High Court's decision by Privy Council—Effect of.

The ground for review under O. 47, R. 1, C.P. Code must be something which existed at the date of the decree and the rule does not authorise the review of a decision which was right when it was made on the ground of the happening of some subsequent event. Where the lower court had decided a case following the decision of the High Court in a connected case which was subsequently reversed on appeal by the Privy Council the reversal of the High Court's judgment is not a ground for review of the lower court's judgment. 24 M. 1 (P. C.); 4 M. L. T. 86 foll.; 13 B. 330 : 33 A. 566; 31 B. 128 : 13 M. L. T. 225 : 3 Pat. L. J. 372 Ref. (Kumaraswami Sastri, J.) GANNABATHULA VENKAMMA v. GANNABATHULA RANGA RAO. (1922) M. W. N. 304 : 15 L. W. 593 : 31 M. L. T. 473 : 70 I. C. 741 : A. I. R. 1922 Mad. 227 : 43 M. L. J. 33.

——O. 47, R. 1—Grounds for review—Mistake of law—Review does not lie.

A Court hearing an application for review of a decree made on appeal has no power to order a review upon the ground that the decision was wrong on the merits, or on the ground of a mistake of law. A judgment cannot be reviewed under O. 47, R. 1 (1), on account of some mistake or an error apparent on the face of the record when the alleged mistake or error is a wrong exposition of the law as, for instance, when the judgment is based on a precedent which has been notified by a subsequent decision. Even assuming that the discovery of an authoritative precedent, by which a precedent relied on in the judgment has been modified, amounts to the discovery of new and important matter or evidence within the meaning of O. 47, R. 1 (1), such a discovery is not a ground for review without strict proof that the subsequent authority was not within the knowledge of the applicant or could not be produced by him when the decree or order was passed or made. There would be no finality to the original decree if a review can be sought on account of real or supposed errors of law, a process which might be continued indefinitely. 3 Pat. 134; 44 I. C. 161; 63 I. C. 344 Foll. 46 Mad. 955 Dist. (Baker, J.C. and Prideaux A.J.C.) RAMACHANDRA MAHADEORAO v. GOVINDRAO. 8 N. L. J. 31 : 87 I. C. 125 : A. I, R. 1925 Nag. 266.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 47, R. 1—Inherent Power.

——O. 47, R. 1—Ground for Review—Existence on the date of decree.

A ground for review must be in existence on the date of the decree. (Baker, J. C.) BALWANTRAO v. FARID SAHEB. 89 I C. 216.

——O. 47, R. 1—Grounds for review—Different view of law taken since original judgment.

The ground for a review must be something which exists at the time of the decree. There is no authority that review can be granted because of the happening of some subsequent event. It may be that the decree of a court would have been different had the new law been in force. But if it was not in force at the passing of the decree and the decree was perfectly correct there is no ground for review. (Prideaux, A. J. C.) SARFARAJ KHAN v. RAMCHANDRA. 73 I. C. 4 : A. I. R. 1924 Nag. 70.

——O. 47, R. 1—Grounds for review—Scope.

Counsel was alleged to have erroneously abandoned evidence, but Court considered admissibility of evidence. Held: No review lies. (Neave, A. J. C.) MADHO PRASAD v. SUKH DIN. A. I. R. 1925 Oudh 644.

——O. 47, R. 1—Grounds for review—Wrong decision, if a ground for.

A wrong decision on a question of law, is not a sufficient ground for review. (Daniels, A. J. C.) RUGUAIYA KHANAM v. FAZL HAQ. 63 I. C. 344 : 24 O. C. 154.

——O. 47, R. 1—Grounds for review—Omission to raise a point of law—Error apparent on the face of the record.

The mere omission to raise a point of law which, had it been raised, might and probably would have brought about a different result is not necessarily a "mistake or error apparent on the face of the record" for which a review can be claimed. 13 Cal. 62; 20 C. W. N. 1099. (Dawson Miller, C. J. and Coutts, J.) KAMLA PRASAD v KUNJ BEHARI. 1922 P. H. C. C. 1 : A. I. R. 1922 Pat. 119.

——O. 47, R. 1—Grounds for review—Order as to costs.

A Court can review an order as to costs, if the order is not a proper one. (Jwala Prasad and Adami, JJ.) BRAJA SUNDAR v. JAGANNATH. 6 Pat. L. J. 284 : 63 I. C. 768 : 3 P. L. T. 67 : A. I. R. 1922 Pat. 1.

——O. 47, R. 1—Grounds for review—Bengal Tenancy Act, S. 153.

S. 153 of the B. T. Act bars an application under O. 49, R. 13 or O. 47, R. 1, unless the application states injuries sustained by the applicant on account of the decree or judgment, and he deposits in court the amount of rent admitted by him to be due. If no rent is admitted to be due, no deposit is needed. (Jwala Prasad, J.) CHANDRA DHUR DEV v. BHOLA RAI. 2 P. L. T. 372 : 62 I. C. 80 : 1921 P. H. C. C. 301.

——O. 47, R. 1—Grounds for review—Diversity of opinion.

The mere fact that another Judge is inclined to take a different view of the case from that taken by a Judge who originally decided the case, is no ground for review. 2 U. B. R. 608 : 2 U. B. R. 534; 2 U. B. R. 7; 10 I. C. 993 Ref. (Brown, J. C.) MA KYAW v. MA KYIN. (1921) 4 U. B. R. 27 : 64 I. C. 895 : A. I. R. 1922 U. B. 16.

Inherent Power.

——O. 47, R. 1—Inherent power—Under S. 151, *C. P. Code, also Court can review—C. P. Code, S.*151.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 47, R. 1—Mistake or Error.

Apart from O 47, R. 1, the Court has inherent power under the new Section 151 of the C. P. Code of 1908 to make such orders as may be necessary for the ends of justice and thus to review its wrong orders or decisions passed previously. 20 All. 11 Foll. (Jwala Prasad and Foster, JJ.) MANI LAL v. DURGA PRASAD. 5 Pat. L. T. 425 : 1924 P. H. C. C. 254 : 3 Pat. 930 : 80 I. C. 667 (2) : A. I. R. 1924 Pat. 673.

Mistake or Error.

———O. 47, R. 1—Mistake or error—" Error apparent on the face of the record " includes a change in the construction of law on a subject.

Where a judgment was delivered following 39 All. 437 (Sahu Ram v. Bhup Singh) but by the time an application for review of that judgment came on for hearing, the case in 1924 P.C. 50 (Brij Narain v. Mongal Pd.) had been decided and the judgment delivered by the Court was found to be wrong in view of the latter decision, held: that the words "error apparent on the face of the record" cover a case like this and that the application should be granted. (Walmsley and Suhrawardy, JJ.) BRINDABAN CHANDRA GHOSH v. DAMODAR PRASAD PANDEY. 29 C. W. N. 148 : 85 I. C 65 : A. I. R. 1925 Cal 304.

——— ——O. 47, R. 1—Mistake or error—Amendment of decree—If proper—Excusing delay in applying for review.

Where a court passes a personal decree where it ought not to have done so, and the same is found out by the party aggrieved only when it is sought to be executed his remedy is not by way of amendment but by way of review. If he first applies for amendment and fails and then puts in a petition for review the second may be looked upon as a continuation of the first one for purposes of limitation. (Hughes, J.) LAKSHMANA AIYANGAR v. NARAYANA IYENGAR. 18 L. W. 876 : 33 M L. T. (H. C.) 221 : 76 I. C. 786 : A. I. R. 1924 Mad. 225.

———O. 47, R. 1—Mistake or error—Error includes error of law.

The word ' error ' need not necessarily be limited to errors of facts, but there are cases in which an error of law can also come within the meaning of the rule e. g. where the error of law is such that it is clearly apparent on a perusal of the record. 44 I. C. 161 ; and 1 Cal, 184, Diss. (Phillips and Venkatasubba Rao, JJ.) M. MURARI RAO v. BALAVANTH DIKSHIT. 46 M. 955 : 18 L. W. 363 : 1923 M. W. N. 761 : 76 I. C 342 : A. I. R. 1924 Mad. 98 : 45 M. L. J. 309.

———O. 47, R. 1—Mistake or error—Compromise decree—Setting aside—Grounds for—Separate suit—New and important matter—Discovery of.

A person who wishes to displace a decree passed in terms of a compromise to which she was a party on the ground that she affixed her signature to the compromise at the instance of an agent in ignorance of its contents, can either apply for a review of the decree or institute a separate suit for the purpose. The mere fact that an application to set aside the decree is headed as made under S. 151, C. P. Code (which is clearly inapplicable to the case) does not preclude the court from dealing with the application as one for review, if the provisions of the code relating to review are applicable to the case. The fact that a party to a compromise in terms of which a decree has been passed has affixed his signature to a compromise at the instance of an agent in ignorance of its contents is new and important matter within the meaning of O. 47, R. 1, C. P. Code,

Quaere :—Whether the circumstances that a party to a compromise affixed her signature to the same on misrepresentation or ignorance of its meaning and without enquiring as to its meaning in consequence of her confidence in her agent are sufficient to render the compromise void or voidable. (Oldfield and Venkatasubba Rao, JJ.) ALAMELU AMMAL v. RAMA IYER. 31 M. L. T. 132 (H. C.) : (1922) M. W N. 495 : 16 L. W. 440 : 70 I. C. 425 : A. I. R. 1922 Mad. 446: 43 M. L. J. 290.

———O. 47, R. 1 (1)—Mistake or error—Judgment based on precedent which owing to a subsequent decision was no longer good law—No review is permissible.

A judgment cannot be reviewed under O. 47, R. 1 (1), on account of some mistake or some error apparent on the face of the record when the alleged mistake or error is a wrong exposition of the law, as, for instance, when the judgment is based on a precedent which has been modified by a subsequent decision. Even assuming that the dicovery of an authoritative precedent, by which a precedent relied on in a judgment has been modified amounts to the discovery of new and important evidence within the meaning of O. 47, R. 1 (1), such a discovery is not a ground for review without strict proof that the subsequent authority was not within the knowledge of the applicant, or would not be produced by him when the decree or order was passed or made. 3 Patna 134 and 1922 P. C. 112. (Baker, J. C.) ATMARAM v. PUNJAL RAO. 87 I. C. 1029 : A. I R. 1925 Nag. 384.

———O. 47, R. 1 (1)—Mistake or error—Alleged mistake a wrong exposition of law—Review is not competent.

A judgment cannot be reviewed under O. 47, R. 1 (1), on account of some mistake or error apparent on the face of the record when the alleged mistake or error is a wrong exposition of law. 1924 Patna 250 Foll. (Baker, J. C.) JAGANNATH v. SHRINIVAS. 88 I. C. 112 : A. I. R. 1925 Nag. 362.

———O. 47, Rr. 1 and 2—Mistake or error—Direction as to payment of decretal money to a wrong person is not a mistake apparent on the face of decree.

Where decree was in consonance with the judgment but there was the erroneous direction in the judgment that the pre-emption price should be paid to defendant No. 1 instead of defendant No. 3, Held that it may be a mistake or error apparent on the face of the record such as is referred to in Rule 1, Order 47 but it certainly is not a clerical mistake apparent on the face of the decree, in the case of which an application for review to the successor of the Judge who passed the order is not prohibited. (Kotval, A. J. C.) BALIRAM PIRAJI v. YESHWANTA M. A. MT. TULSI. 75 I. C. 829 : A I. R. 1924 Nag. 190.

———O. 47, R. 1—Mistake or error—Suit decided without examining plaintiff—Error is apparent on record.

The decision of a case, merely on the ground that the defendants had not proved their title and without considering whether the plaintiff had proved his title was held an error apparent on the face of the record, rendering review permissible. (Ashworth, A. J. C.) SHEO MANGAL SINGH v. JAGMOHAN SINGH. 12 O. L. J. 30 : 86 I. C. 29 : A. I. R. 1925 Oudh 329.

———O. 47, R 1—Mistake or error—Mesne profits claimed—No evidence adduced by either party—Claim dismissed—Review of dismissal was refused is no ground for review.

Where the question was as to the amount of mesne profits for a certain year to be awarded to the plaintiff and the Court dismissed the claim as there was no evidence adduced by either party on the point, and where in a petition for review of the decision, it was contended that as the opposite party was admittedly in possession, the burden of proving the value of the crops was on them and that the Court made an error of law in deciding as it did. Held: that the question as to whether the decision was right or wrong might be a matter for argument, but there was not any mistake or error apparent on the face of the record within the meaning of O. 47, R. 1. (Das and Ross, JJ.) ABDUL GANI v. SITO SINGH. 6 P. L. T. 40 : 86 I. C. 143 : A. I. R. 1925 Pat. 368.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 47, R. 1—Mistake or Error.

——0. 47, R. 1—Mistake or error—Judgment on a wrong view of the law—Full Bench decision not noticed.

It is not a sufficient ground to order a review that the decision of the court was based on a view of the law which had been overruled by a Full Bench decision, but which had not been taken to the notice of the court by the pleader appealing in the case. (Miller, C. J. and Mullick, J.) SM. GARABINI KUMARI v. SURAJ NARAIN SINGH. 3 Pat. 134 : 5 Pat. L. T. 52: 1923 P. H. C. C. 361 : 75 I. C. 177 : A. I. R 1924 Pat. 250.

——0. 47, R. 1—Mistake or error.

Where there is no mistake in computing the period of notice but only an error in law, in holding that 15 days from the 17th to the 31st inclusive of the month were sufficient, there is no sufficient ground for review. (Adami, J.) AKSHY KUMAR BHATTACHARJEE v. AGARWALA. A. I. R. 1922 Pat. 308. (1).

——0. 47, R. 1 (c)—Mistake or error—Probate proceedings—Party's advocate conveying an impression to the Court that applicant was not intending to contest—Consent order passed by Court under mis-apprehension—Review was allowed.

On the day on which orders for the grant of letters were passed, advocate for one of the parties conveyed to the Court the impression that his client did not contest the right of the other party to letters. It appeared, however, that, in fact, the client had given no consent, and, in his written objections, he quite clearly contended that the other party had no legal right to the Letters. It further appeared that the advocate did not intend to agree to a consent-order and in passing orders for the grant of Letters, the Court was acting under a mis-apprehension as to the attitude of the parties. Held: that that provided a sufficient reason for review analogous to the discovery of new and important matter or evidence, or a mistake apparent on the face of the record. (Carr and Brown, JJ.) KYONE HOE v. KYON SOON SUN. 3 Rang. 261 : A. I. R. 1925 Rang. 314.

——0. 47, R. 1—Mistake or error—Sufficient reason—Exposition of law by a superior court contrary to that applied, after the judgment, is no ground for review.

Discovery by a Judge that he was in error on a point of law could not be a discovery of new and important matter or evidence because the law itself is always the same and the discovery by the Judge subsequent to the delivery of the Judgment that his Judgment is not in accordance with the true interpretation of the law or any statute which is in existence cannot be held to be a discovery of new and important matter of evidence. Nor is it possible to suppose that a mistake or error apparent on the face of the record. That a Judgment is found to be erroneous on a point of law as expounded by a superior court subsequent to the Judgment is not sufficient reason to grant a review of the Judgment. (Kennedy, A. J. C.) SALLEH MAHOMED UMOR DOSSAL v. NATHUMAL KISSAMAL. 78 I. C. 593 : A. I. R. 1925 Sind 53.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 47, R. 1—New Evidence.

——0. 47, R. 1—Error of law—If ground for review.

Where the view of law on which a judgment is based is subsequently overruled by a superior tribunal that is no ground for a review. (Kennedy, A. J. C.) SALLEH MAHOMED UMOR DOSSAL v NATHUMAL KISSAMAL. 78 I. C. 593 : A.I.R. 1925 Sind 53.

New Evidence.

——0. 47, R. 1—Additional evidence cannot be admitted merely because the evidence is such as to justify grant of review.

An appellate Court as such has no jurisdiction to admit fresh evidence merely on the ground that it has been discovered by one of the parties to a litigation under such circumstances as would warrant an application for review of judgment under O. 47, R. 1. (Piggott, J.) BALDEO RAM v. KUNKUN RAM. L. R. 6 All. 393 (Civ.) : 88 I. C. 586 : A. I. R. 1925 All. 808.

——0. 47, R. 1—New Evidence—Point not raised at trial cannot be raised in review.

A party ought not to be allowed in review to raise a case which was never raised at the trial, and on which no evidence was adduced. (Sulaiman and Daniels, JJ.) MODHORI SARAN v. PARBATI. 23 A. L. J. 534 : 88 I. C. 653 : L. R. 6 A. (Civ.) 454 : A. I. R. 1925 All. 552.

——0. 47, R. 1—New evidence—Second appeal.

The High Court cannot, in a second appeal, entertain an application for review of judgment based on the ground that since the disposal of the appeal, documentary evidence has been discovered, which, if sufficiently proved, would have led the court below to come to a different finding, although had such evidence been discovered before the disposal of the appeal the court might have allowed the appellant to withdraw the appeal with a view to apply to the lower appellate court for a review of judgment on the discovery of fresh evidence. 32 A. 71 Foll. (Lindsay and Rafique, JJ.) MARIAM UN-NISSA BIBI v. BABU RAM. 45 A. 458 : 21 A. L. J. 377 : L. R. 4 All. 416 : 73 I. C. 1016 : A. I. R. 1923 A. 541.

——0. 47, R. 1 and 0. 41, R. 11—New evidence—Dismissal of second appeal—Review.

The High Court will not accept a review of a judgment in a second appeal dismissed under O. 41, R. 11, C. P. Code, on the ground that new evidence to prove a fact has been discovered. 41 C. 809 foll. (Sanderson, C. J. and Richardson, J.) SRILABALA DEI v. GADADHAR. 36 C.L J. 76 : 27 C. W. N. 918 : 70 I. C. 408 : A. I. R. 1922 Cal. 165.

——0. 47, R. 1—New evidence—Subsequent decision is no ground.

A judgment delivered after the passing of the decree sought to be reviewed is no material on which an application for review can be based; for the new and important matter alleged to have been discovered must have existed at the date of the decree. 24 M. 1; 50 C. 119 foll. 51 I. C. 625, dist. (Newbould, J.) KALI PRASANNA GUHA CHOUDHURI v. BHAGABATI DEBYA. 64 I. C. 324 (C).

——0. 47, R. 1—New evidence—"Or could not be produced by him at the time"—Meaning of.

The words "or could not be produced by him at the time" in O. 47, R. 1, C. P. Code, must refer to the words which precede, namely "was not within his knowledge." The whole clause means that the new and important matters alleged by the applicant were not within his knowledge and as such could not have been produced by him at the trial. (Das and Macpherson. JJ.) RAMESHWARDHARI SINGH v. SADHO SARAN SINGH. A. I. R. 1924 Pat. 809.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 47, R. 1—Order for review, Effect of.

Order for review, effect of.

——O. 47, R. 1—Order for review, effect of—Application for—Aamission of—Effect on judgment sought to be reviewed.

When an application for a review of judgment is admitted and review is ordered, the judgment sought to be reviewed is not set aside but only held in suspense until the case has been reheard. (Macleod, C. J. and Crump, J.) ACHYUT VISHNU PATANKAR v. TAPIBAI KRISHNAJI. 48 Bom. 210 : 26 Bom. L. R. 103 : 79 I. C. 753 : A. I. R. 1924 Bom. 310.

——O. 47, R. 1—Order for Review, effect of—Application for—It re-opens questions already decided.

The question whether an application for review gives fresh starting point of limitation for a declaratory suit depends upon whether the application re-opened the question already decided. A review of judgment is not an ordinary process and does not of necessity re-open questions already decided between the parties. The matter in issue is only re-opened when the application for review is accepted unlike a petition in appeal. (Dalal, A. J. C.) BHAGWAN BAKSH SINGH v. MANRAK KUNWAR. 24 O. C. 280 : 8 O. L. J. 3 : 66 I. C. 205 : A. I. R. 1922 Oudh 148.

Other sufficient Reason.

——O. 47, R. 1—"Other sufficient reason," meaning of.

Rule 1 of the Order 47 must be read as in itself definite of the limits within which review is, under the new Code, permitted and reference to practice under former and different statutes is misleading. So constructing the words, " any other sufficient reason " are to be interpreted as meaning a reason sufficient on grounds at least analogous to those specified immediately previously. Such an interpretation of other grounds of appeal which have not been decided by a former Bench or Judge being immaterial. (Viscount Haldane,) CHHAJU RAM v. NEKI. 3 Lah. 127 : 30 M. L. T. 295 : 26 C. W. N. 697 : 16 L. W. 37 : L. R. 3 P. C. 109 : 41 P. L. R. 1922 : 36 C. L. J. 459 : 4 U. P. L R. (P. C.) 99 : 49 I. A. 144 : 24 Bom. L. R. 1238 : 3 P. L. T. 435 : 17 P. W. R. 1922 : 72 I. C. 566 : A. I. R. 1922 P. C. 112 : 43 M. L. J. 332 (P. C.).

——O. 47, R. 1—'Other sufficient reason' is not limited to matters ejusdem generis with matters in earlier part of the rule—The words provide for exceptional cases.

The words 'for any other sufficient reason' in O. 47, R. 1 need not be restricted to matters which are strictly ejusdem generis with those referred to in the earlier part of the rule. On the contrary, the words are not only very wide in themselves, but are intentionally so made by the legislature because of the possibility of exceptional cases arising in which obvious injustice would be worked by strict adherence to the terms of the decree as originally passed. (Mears, C. J. and Piggott, J.) NARAIN DAS v. CHIRANJI LAL. 47 All. 361 : 23 A. L. J. 56 : L. R. 6 A. (Civ.) 159 : 86 I. C. 168 : A. I. R. 1925 All. 364.

——O. 47, R. 1—Other sufficient reason—Compromise decree obtained by wrongful confinement and extortion.

The expression "for for any other sufficient reason" in O. 47, R. 1 of the C. P. Code must be taken to refer to something ejusdem generis with the words that precede. An application to set aside a compromise of a suit on the ground that it was obtained by wrongful confinement, extortion and coercion does not fall within O. 47, R. 1 of the C. P. Code. (Piggott, J.) BABU DWARKADHISH PRASAD SINGH v. MAHARAJA KESHO PRASAD SINGH. 46 A. 245 : 22 A. L. J. 118 : L. R. 5 A. 46 : 82 I. C. 1022 : A. I. R. 1924 All. 398.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 47, R. 1.—Other sufficient reason.

——O. 47, Rr. 1 and 7—"Other sufficient cause."

The "discovery of new and important evidence" in O. 47, R. 1, C. P. Code would refer only to a discovery made since the order sought to be reviewed was passed. If an application for review is vague and general on this point and yet the court grants a review, it may be taken to have formed the existence of "other sufficient cause" within O. 47, R. 1, but in the latter case there would be no appeal. (Piggott and Walsh, JJ.) MT. TIRBENI KUNWAR v. MOHAN LAL. L. R. 3 A. 251 : 66 I. C. 558 : A. I. R. 1922 All. 366.

——O. 47, R. 1 and O. 9, R. 8—Other sufficient reason—Dismissal under O. 9, R. 8—Remedy by review is not competent.

A plaintiff whose suit has been dismissed for want of appearance under O. 9, R. 8, has no remedy by way of review : [49 I. A. 144. Foll.] The words "any other sufficient reason " in sub-section (1) mean a reason sufficient on grounds at least analogous to those specified in the rule. The fact that the applicant was absent when the suit was called on is not a ground analogous to any of those specified in the rule. (Macleod, C. J. and Coyajee, J.) MAHADEO GOVIND v. LAKSHMINARAYAN RAMNATH. 27 B. L. R. 1150 : 90 I. C. 610 : 49 Bom 839 : A. I. R. 1925 Bom. 521.

——O. 47, R. 1—Other sufficient reason—Discretion of Court.

The expression " any other sufficient reason " in O. 47, R. 1, C. P. Code, must be interpreted to mean a reason sufficient on grounds at least analogous to those specified immediately previously. Whether any analogy can be discovered between the two grounds specified, namely, the discovery of new and important matter or evidence and some mistake or error apparent on the face of the record need not be considered. But the question whether a particular reason is analogous to either the one or the other of these two grounds, may obviously lead to very refined if not settled arguments. The discretion of the Court in saying what is sufficient reason within the meaning of O. 47, R. 1 of C. P. Code is not so rigidly circumscribed that an analogy must in every case be discovered between the two grounds above specified. (Mookerjee and Chotzner, JJ.) KUMAR GOPIKA RAMAN RAY v. MAHAR ALI. 39 C. L. J. 247 : 81 I. C. 738 : A. I. R. 1924 Cal. 872.

——O. 47, R. 1—Other sufficient reason—Negligence of party or pleader—When sufficient—Government as a party not entitled to special consideration—Adjournment—Grounds for, to be made out—Not to be claimed as a matter of course.

Petitioner applied for probate of a will. The respondent, the Collector, representing the Secretary of State, moved the Court for an enquiry under S. 19 (h) of the Court Fees Act as to the true valuation of the estate. The case was adjourned several times and on the date last fixed for hearing the Government Pleader examined two witnesses who did not advance his case. The Government Pleader was not ready with any further evidence and the Court dismissed the case. Thereupon the Collector applied for review on the ground that the Government Pleader expected a short adjournment of the case and that the matter involved a question relating to the public revenue.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 47, R. 1—Other sufficient reason.

The Court below granted a review. Held, that no sufficient case had been made out for review and that the order of the Court below was bad. Under the words "other sufficient reason" in O. 47, R. 1, C. P. Code, the reason must be one having sufficiency of a kind analogous to the two specified cases, that is to say, analogous to excusable failure to bring to the notice of the court new and important matter or analogous to error on the face of the record. 6 A.W.N. 697, Foll. It is not the law that in almost every case where there was some little excuse for a manifest negligence the Court would be entitled to re-open the matter by granting a review. It is not the duty of the lower Courts to maintain, still less to interest any special practice as regards the grounds upon which adjournments of cases are given. The notion is erroneous that parties whose cases are fixed have a sort of right to get adjournments without any reason being given provided that somebody else undertakes to keep the Court busy.

Obiter: The Court should treat a vakil appearing for the Government with the same stringency as, but with no greater stringency than any of the other vakils appearing for other litigants. (Rankin and Ghose, JJ.) BINDUBASHINI ROY CHOWDHURY v. SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA. 40 C. L. J. 163 : 51 C. 70 : A. I. R. 1924 Cal. 774.

——— O. 47, R. 1—Other sufficient reason—Consistency—Decree not signed.

Where to be consistent in the decree finally passed, the court has to pass orders under O. 41, R. 33, the same relief can be given in a petition put in by way of review. Much more so will it be the case when the decree itself has not been signed. (Spencer and Devadoss, JJ.) GOPALA IYENGAR v. NUMMACHI REDDIAR. 74 I. C. 416 : 17 L. W. 254 : A. I. R. 1923 Mad. 392.

——— O. 47, R. 1—Other sufficient reason—Meaning of.

The phrase 'or for any other sufficient reason' means that the reason must be one sufficient to the Court before whom the application for review is made. (Drake Brockman. J. C.) GANGABAI v. GHASARAM. 62 I. C. 253 (Nag). : 4 N. L. J. 16.

——— O. 47, R. 1 (1)—"Other sufficient reason"—Want of opportunity to plaintiff to rebut defendant's evidence is sufficient ground.

Where a Court granted a review on the ground that the plaintiffs were deprived of their right to rebut certain evidence which the other side had produced. Held, that that would be a "sufficient reason" within the meaning of O.47, R.1. sub-rule (1) (Wazir Hasan, A. J. C.) KUNJAN v. CHANDRA HAS. 11 O. L. J. 682 : 84 I. C. 515 : 28 O. C. 4 : A. I. R. 1925 Oudh 266

——— O. 47, R. 1—Other sufficient reason—Appeal dismissed—Non-payment of printing fees—Application set aside—One by way of review.

Where an appeal is dismissed for non-payment of printing fees, the appropriate remedy to set aside the dismissal is by way of review and not under O. 41. R. 19. If the person shows good cause for not paying printing fees, it will fall under "other sufficient cause". (Mullick and Kulwant Sahay, JJ.) ANANT POTDAR v. MANGAL POTDAR. 4 Pat. 704.

——— O. 47, R. 1, and Ss. 151, 148, 149 and 114—Other sufficient cause-Deficit Court-fee not paid due to treachery of pleader's clerk—Plaint rejected—Application to restore, lies.

If the statute says that a thing should not be done, S. 151 cannot vest the Court with the power to direct that it should be done: but when and where there is doubt and difficulty in applying the other provisions of the code to the facts of a particular case, S. 151, would apply. The deficit Court-fee demanded by the Court was paid by the plaintiff to the pleader who handed it to his clerk to put it in Court. The Clerk mis-appropriated the money and filed bogus applications for time to pay the deficit court-fee with the result that the court, being tired of such applications, ultimately rejected the plaint. The plaintiff coming to know of the result of the suit and the deceitful conduct of the clerk filed an application in Court for revocation of the order rejecting the plaint and for restoration of the suit to its original file. Held, that the suit must be restored to file. After having paid the money to a duly constituted agent and an officer of the Court under the Legal Practitioners Act and the rules of the High Court, whose duty it was to deposit in Court, the responsibility of the plaintiff ceased until he was informed of the default made by the Pleader or his clerk. (Jwala Prasad and Kulwant Sahay, JJ.) ADIT PRASAD SINGH v. RAMHARAKH AHIR. 4 Pat. 180 : (1925) P. H. C. C. 147 ; A. I. R. 1925 Pat. 435 (2).

——— O. 47, R. 1—"Other sufficient reason"—Omission to refer to documentary evidence.

For review there should be more than simple non-reference by the Judge to evidence in favour of either party. (Miller, C. J. and Kulwant Sahay, J.) RAGHU SINGH v. MAHANT KRISHNA DAYAL GIR. 2 P. 765 : A. I. R. 1924 Pat 258 (2).

Power of Court.

——— O. 47, R. 1 and O. 41, R. 11—Power of Court—Review after dismissal of appeal.

Where an appeal against a judgment to the High Court is dismissed under O. 41, R. 11, the District Court cannot deal with an application for review of the same judgment. (Macleod, C. J. and Shah, J.) SHIVAPPA PASSA SAVADE v. RAMCHANDRA NARSIMH. 23 Bom. L. R. 597 : 63 I. C. 910 : 46 Bom. 1 : A.I.R. 1922 Bom. 130.

——— O. 47, R. 1—Power of Court—Ex parte order for delivery of property—Review is permissible.

A Court can review its own order passed ex parte for the issue of a writ of delivery of possession of property. If possession is delivered in accordance with the earlier order, the later order will invalidate the delivery. 2 All.686 Rel. on. (Greaves and Mukerji, JJ.) RASH BEHABI MANDAL v. HEMANTA KUMAR. 41 C L. J. 349 : 88 I.C. 921 : A.I.R. 1925 Cal. 1023.

——— O. 47, R. 1, Ss. 115 and 151—Power of Court-Lower Court competent to extend time on a review application—Extension granted on application for extension is valid.

If Court had jurisdiction to extend time upon an application for review, there is no reason why his order should be disturbed because he made the order upon an application for extension and not upon an application for review. (Kulwant Sahay, J.) MT. RAM KUMARI v. DEONANDAN SINGH. (1925) P. H. C. C. 151 ; 90 I. C. 79 : A. I. R. 1925 Pat. 452.

——— O. 47, R. 1—Power of Court—Order of rejection of plaint.

There is complete power in the Court under Order 47, Rule 1 to review the Order passed by it in rejecting the plaint under Order, 7, Rule 11 (c). (Das and Kulwant Sahay, JJ.) RAMESHWARDHARI SINGH v. SADHU SARAN. 2 P. 504 : 72 I. C. 629 : 4 P. L. T. 261 : A. I. R. 1923 Pat. 354.

Miscellaneous.

——— O. 47, R. 1—Appeal filed after application for review.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 47, R. 1—Miscellaneous.

O. 47, R. 1, does not apply where after filing an application for review the opposite party prefers an appeal. (Walsh and Ryves, JJ.) GAURI SHANKAR v. JAGANNATH. 63 I. C. 841 (1) (All.).

——— O. 47, R. 1, and O. 41, R. 11—Review after dismissal of appeal.

Where an appeal against a judgment to the High Court is dismissed under O. 41, R. 11 the District Court cannot deal with an application for review of the same judgment. (Macleod. C. J. and Shah, J.) SHIVAPPA PASSA SAVADE v. RAMACHANDRA NARSIMH. 46 Bom. 1 : 23 Bom. L. R. 597 : 63 I. C. 910 : A. I. R. 1922 Bom. 130.

——— O. 47, R. 1—Review—Notice to the opposite side.

A court is not entitled to review its prior order without notice to the other side. (Odgers, J.) KOMMAREDDI RAMACHANDRAYYA v. VENKATARATNAM. 22 L. W. 582 : (1925) M. W. N. 804.

——— O. 47, R. 1 and O. 41, R. 11—Summary rejection of appeal—Good ground for review.

Summary rejection of an appeal as time-barred without fixing a date for hearing the appellant and hearing him, if he appears, is in contravention of the law and forms a good ground for review within Order 47, Rule 1 of the Code of Civil Procedure. (Simpson, A. J. C.) SRIPAT v. HUBDAR. 2 O. W. N. 678 : 90 I. C 115 : A. I. R. 1925 Oudh 643.

——— O. 47, R. 1—Appeal pending—Effect of.

Where an appeal from a decree is pending, there is no necessity for granting a review of the decree. If however the review is granted, the appeal becomes incompetent. (Dalal, J. C.) GHUTUR SINGH v. PHULANG SINGH. 90 I. C. 119.

——— O. 47, R. 1—Order passed by Registrar—Application must be made to him.

Where an order under S. 41, Presidency Towns Insolvency Act, was made by the Registrar in Insolvency, an application for review of his order must be made to the Registrar and not to the Court. (Greaves J.) MEGHRAJ PUROHIT (INSOLVENT) In re. 27 C. W. N. 916 : A. I. R. 1924 Cal. 83.

——— O. 47, R. 2—Transfer of judge to another Court ousts his jurisdiction to grant review.

Rule 2 declares that in cases other than those excepted therein an application for review can only be made to the Judge who is not only sitting as the same Court, but is further the individual Judge who passed the decree. If, in such cases, the individual Judge is transferred to another Court he has no jurisdiction to entertain the review application. (Boys and Banerji. JJ.) RAM CHARAN CHAUBE v. BHAGWATI PANDEY. 23 A. L. J. 674 : L. R. 6 A. (Civ.) 372 : 89 I. C. 295 : 47 All. 751 : A. I. R. 1925 All. 804.

——— O. 47, R. 2—Decree in accordance with judgment—Clerical mistake—Review by successor.

In a pre-emption suit, the money was directed to be given to a wrong person and the decree was passed in pursuance of the judgment. An application for review was made to the successor of the Judge who passed the decree. Held, the erroneous direction in the decree as to the person to whom the pre-emption price was to be paid was not a clerical mistake apparent on the face of the decree under O. 47 R. 2 and the successor in office cannot entertain such an application. (Kotval A. J. C.) BALIRAM PIRAJI v. YESWANT. A. I. R. 1924 Nag. 190.

——— O. 47, R. 2—Review by successor in office—Grounds for.

Where a decree that is sought to be reviewed was passed by the predecessor in office of the Judge hearing the same there must be new and important matter which could not have been produced at the original trial. (Das and Macpherson, JJ.) RAMESHWARDHARI SINGH v. SADHO SARAN SINGH. A. I. R. 1924 P. 809.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 47, R. 4

——— O. 47, R. 3—In revision against order granting review of judgment plea that review application was not accompanied by copy of decree and Court-fee was insufficient is not valid.

Where in revision against an order granting a review of judgment it was objected that the review application was not accompanied by a copy of the decree and the Court-fee paid was insufficient, Held, that after the whole matter had been gone into and finally decided the High Court would not treat the proceedings as a nullity in revision on either of the grounds. (Sulaiman and Daniels, JJ.) MT. SALIMAN v. ABDUL AZIZ. L. R. 6 A. (Civ.) 424 : A. I. R. 1925 All. 777.

——— O. 47, R. 3—A refusal to restore an application for review when the application to restore has been heard on the merits, is not appealable—C. P. Code, O. 43, R. 1. (t).

The marginal note to O. 47, R. 3 describes the rule as one really relating to the form of application and the rule itself says that the provisions of the appellate rules shall apply to forms in applications for review. That does not extend the right of the party who goes for a review—and give him a right of appeal simply because, under R. 1 (t) O. 43, an order under R. 19 of O. 41, i. e., an ordinary appellate order, is made appealable. (Walsh, A.C.J. and Ryves, J.) GIRDHARI LAL v. ZORAWAR SINGH L. R. 5 A. (Civ.) 608 : 80 I. C. 950 : 47 All. 1 : A.I.R. 1925 All. 57.

——— O. 47, Rr. 4 and 7—Order granting an application for review—Appeal conditions.

The right of appeal under R. 1 (w), is subject to conditions laid down by O. 47, R 7, and therefore an appeal, not coming under this rule, cannot be maintained. (Piggott and Kanhaiya Lal. JJ.) SUNDER v. HABIB CHICK. 42 All. 626 : 18 A. L. J. 838 : 60 I. C. 81 : 2 U. P. L. R. (All.) 283.

——— O. 47, Rr. 4 and 7—Review—Grant of application—Powers of appellate court.

Where the Court of first instance grants an application for review on the ground of discovery of new not important evidence not within the knowledge or power of the applicant at the time of the trial, the appellate court will not generally consider the evidence afresh and disturb the conclusion of the lower court. (Teunon and Newbould, JJ.) AMBIKA CHARAN HAZRA v. BHANI RAM RATHI. 64 I. C. 219. (C).

——— O. 47, R. 4—Absence of notice—Effect.

Where the defendant was given every opportunity to raise any objection that he could raise and he is in no way, therefore, prejudiced by reason of the fact that no notice was issued to him, Held, the order granting review should not be set aside by the appellate Court. 237 P L. R. 1913 Appr. (Abdur Raoof, J.) THE FIRM OF GOPAL MAL GANDA MAL v. HIRA CHAND. 75 I. C. 656 : A. I. R. 1923 Lah. 303.

——— O. 47, R 4 and O. 41, R. 27—If mutually exclusive—Application can be disposed of even at a preliminary stage—Opportunity to rebut.

The provisions of O. 41, R. 27 and O. 47, R. 4 are not mutually exclusive and without resorting to an application for review in the Trial Court, an appellant can apply for additional evidence being let in, in appeal. When a party applies for such purpose, the appellate Court can make an order even before the hearing of the appeal, while in cases where the Court decides suo motu to call for additional evidence, it does so only at the final hearing of the appeal. Under proper circumstances, the other side can be allowed to let in evidence to rebut the same. (Venkatasubba Rao, J.) BRAHMA SUBBAYYA v. KANALA RANGA RAO. 20 L. W. 840 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 181 : 48 M. L. J. 32

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 47, R. 4

——0. 47, R. 4 and S. 115—Discretion—Review—Refusal to grant—Revision.

The grant of review is a matter peculiarly within the discretion of the Judge who passed the decree and a Court would not interfere in revision with the exercise of such discretion when a review has been refused. (Daniels, A. J. C.) JAG MOHAN SINGH v. MATAI BADAL. 9 O. L. J. 623 : 74 I. C. 351 (1) : A. I. R. 1923 Oudh 153.

——0. 47, Rr. 4 and 8—Dismissal of application after review is granted is not proper.

The granting of an application for review merely amounts to a decision to rehear the case in which the decree or order (in respect of which a review is claimed) was passed. The Judge hearing the review is not entitled to anything in the first stage beyond passing an order granting the review and giving his reasons for so doing. If the review is granted, the Judge who has allowed the review becomes vested with jurisdiction to pass any order which the original Judge could have passed. It may be sufficient for him merely to alter the order of original Judge or it may be necessary for him to take some intermediate step such as an order in remand or referring an issue. When once an application for review is granted, an order dismissing the application for review is wrong and cannot be ignored. (Ashworth and Simpson, A. J. Cs.) BHAGWATI PRASAD v. ACHHAIBAR SINGH. 9 O. L. J. 531 : 74 I. C. 214 : 26 O. C. 24 : A. I. R. 1923 Oudh 93.

——0. 47, Rr. 4 and 7—Order granting review is appealable.

An order granting a review on the ground that the view of the law taken was contrary to a Full Bench decision which had not been taken to its notice, is appealable. (Miller, C J. and Mullick, J.) SM. GARABINI KUMARI v. SURJA NARAIN SINGH. 3 Pat. 134 : 75 I. C. 177 : 5 Pat. L. T. 52 : 1923 P. H.C C. 361 : A. I. R. 1924 Pat. 250.

——0. 47, R. 4 (a)—Ex parte order on review setting aside summary dismissal of appeal was held valid.

Where an appeal was at first summarily dismissed under O. 41, R 11, C. P. Code, and then on an application for review made by the appellant, the same Bench cancelled that order dismissing the appeal summarily and directed that the appeal should be heard. Held, that though this order was passed ex parte, it was valid. 42 Cal. 433, Diss from, 43 Cal. 178, Foll. (Newbould and B. B. Ghose, JJ.) OFFICIAL TRUSTEE OF BENGAL v. BENODE BEHARI GHOSE MAL. 51 Cal. 943 : 84 I. C. 147 : A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 114.

——0. 47, R. 4 (2), Pro. (a)—Opposite party—Restoration of appeal under O. 41, R. 19.

The expression "opposite party" in Pro. (a) is not restricted to cases in which such party has actually appeared before the Court, but it means the party interested to support the order or decree sought to be set aside on review. Where an appeal has been dismissed for not making good the stamp in the prescribed time, the appeal cannot be restored under O. 41, R. 19 nor under O. 47, R. 4 (2), Pro. (a) without notice to the opposite party. But if the case is dealt with, without notice to the opposite party, he is entitled to a hearing even in second appeal, as soon as the matter has been brought to his knowledge. (Miller, C. J. and Coutts, J.) SURAJPAL PANDEY v. UTIM PANDE. 1921 P. H. C. C. 337 : 63 I. C. 99 : 3 P. L. T. 117 : A. I. R. 1922 Pat. 281.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 47, R. 7.

——0. 47, R. 4 (2) (b)—Discovery of old sale deed—Appellate Court not deciding if it related to land in dispute but granting review and remanding case for decision of issue on merits after allowing opposite side to rebut the evidence—Order was held justified.

An appellate Court granted an application for review on the ground of the discovery of a certain old sale deed relating to the land in dispute. But the Court did not decide whether the sale deed exactly referred to the land in dispute It considered pima facie that it did appear to refer to the land, but sent back the case for decision of the issue on the merits after allowing the opposite side to produce rebutting evidence. Held: that under the circumstances this was a proper order to pass. (Sulaiman and Daniels, JJ.) MADHORI SARAN v. PARBATI. 23 A. L. J. 534 : 88 I. C. 653 : L. R. 6 A. (Civ.) 454 : 47 A. 881 : A. I. R. 1925 All. 552.

——0. 47, Rr. 4 (2) (b) and 1—Strict proof of new matter not having been in applicant's knowledge at the time of decree is essential.

The Court has no power to grant review without calling for strict proof of the allegation that the new matter said to have been discovered was not within the knowledge of the applicant for review when the decree was passed. (Wallace and Madhavan Nair, JJ.) V. POTHARAJU v. MATTA ADISESHU. 21 L. W. 276 : 87 I. C. 391 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 578 (1).

——0. 47, R. 7—Grounds of appeal are strictly limited to R. 7.

An appeal against an order granting a review of judgment is strictly limited to the ground set out in O.47, R. 7. Allowing an appeal on grounds not covered by O. 47, R. 7 is open to revision. 40 All. 68, Foll. (Daniels, J.) GUDRI SINGH v. PARSOTAM DAS. L. R. 6 A. (Civ.) 157 : 86 I. C. 917 : A. I. R. 1925 All. 395.

——0. 47, R. 7—Appeal from order granting review—Grounds are limited to R. 7.

Under O. 43, R. 1 an appeal is allowed against an order granting an application for review of judgment, but that rule is obviously controlled by the provisions of O. 47, R. 7. Taken together, the effect of the two rules is that, though an appeal against such an order lies, it must be supported only on the one or other of the grounds set forth in O. 47, R. 7 and must fail unless it can be brought within the scope of the grounds set forth in that rule. 27 A. 695, Ref. (Mears C. J. and Piggott, J.) NARAIN DAS v. CHIRANJI LAL. 47 All. 361 : 23 A. L. J. 56 : L.R. 6 A. (Civ). 159 : 86 I.C. 168 : A. I. R. 1925 All. 364.

——0. 47, R. 7—Review—Discovery of new and important evidence—Other sufficient cause.

Where the new evidence alleged as the basis of a review application did not comply with the requirements of O. 47 R.1, the review cannot be admitted on the ground of other sufficient reason. (Daniels, J.) RAM NARESH SINGH v. JAGARNATH SINGH. L. R. 5 A. 392 : A. I. R. 1924 All. 759.

——0. 47, R. 7—Order granting review—Appeal.

An order granting a review of judgment cannot be questioned under any of the provisions of O. 47, R, 7, C. P. Code. (Piggott and Walsh, JJ.) MUNNU LAL v. KUNJ BEHARI LAL. 20 A. L. J. 517 : L. R. 3 A. 295 : 44 All. 605 :

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 47, R. 7.

4 U. P. L. R. (A) 66 : 67 I. C. 317 : A. I. R. 1922 All. 206.

——0. 47, R. 7—Insufficiency of reason for review is no ground for appeal.

Under R. 7, the sufficiency or otherwise of the reason for granting a review is not a ground for appeal. (Stuart, J.) BENARSI v. ALTAB HUSAIN.

63 I. C. 171 (All.)

——0. 47, R. 7—Scope—Order refusing review is not revisable.

An order refusing to grant a review is not revisable under S. 115, C. P. Code. (Macleod, C. J and Shah, J.) LAKSHMAN MAKUTI v. MARUTI LAKSHMAN.

26 Bom. L. R. 284 : A. I. R. 1924 Bom. 344

——0. 47, R. 7—Review granted—Appeal—Grounds for.

An order granting an application for review can only be objected to in appeal only on the grounds mentioned in O. 47, R. 7. (Greaves and Cuming, JJ.) HARENDRA NATH CHAUDHURY v. SONA GAZI.

90 I. C. 504.

——0. 47, R. 7—Decree given on one out of two grounds alleged in plaint—On review decree maintained on other ground—Whole case can be opened in appeal.

Where a plaintiff bases his claim on two grounds and the Court decrees it on one of them only without discussing the other, but on a review application by the defendant, rejects the ground on which it had based its decision formerly and maintains the decree on the second ground in an appeal by the defendant, although his application for review was limited only to the first ground, the plaintiff can reopen in the Court of appeal the question concerning the second ground as well. (Walmsley and Suhrawardy, JJ.) O. S. MEAH v. DURGA CHARAN. 29 C. W. N. 1027 : 90 I. C. 456 : A. I. R. 1926 Cal. 243

——0. 47, R. 7—Appellate Court can interfere if review is not granted for reasons in R. 1—Review cannot be turned into rehearing—C. P. Code, O. 47, R. 1.

The appeal is not limited to the grounds set out in O. 47, R. 7. O. 47, R. 7 expressly provides that when an application for review is granted the party dissatisfied with the order may appeal against that order or may take the same objection in an appeal filed against the final decree. Rule 7 read with Rr. 1 and 4 shows that it is open to the appellate Court to examine the ground upon which the review was admitted and if the ground for the review does not come within the words of R. 1, then the appellate Court is competent to hold that the review was improperly admitted A. I. R. 1922 P. C. 112, Foll. There can be no rehearing for the purpose of seeing whether a different conclusion on the merits should be adopted. (Greaves and Chakravarti, JJ.) NRITYA GOPAL v. JORIT MANJURI.

87 I. C. 770 : A. I. R. 1926 Cal. 217.

——0. 47, R. 7—Refusal to restore review application.

Order refusing restoration of an application for review dismissed in default is not appealable. (Pearson and Graham, JJ.) HEM SANKAR ROY CHOWDHURI v. NISHI KANTA DAS GUPTA. 81 I. C. 1017 : A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 430.

——0. 47, R. 7—Execution application—Dismissal for default—Order granting review—Notice is not necessary.

Before the judgment debtor has been served with a notice if an application for execution is dismissed in default, the Court has power to restore the application without giving notice to the judgment-debtor. Even if the application for restoration is treated as one for review, notice to the judgment-debtor is not necessary.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 47, R. 8.

(Scott Smith, J.) ABDUL KARIM v. CHAUDHRI RAMSINGH. 69 I C. 506 : A. I. R. 1924 Lah. 350.

——0. 47, R. 7 and S. 152—Application challenging system of calculation only granted—Nature of order.

Where a Court purported to act under S. 152 on an application which challenged the whole system of calculation adopted by a Court but there was no allegation that there was an arithmetical or clerical mistake really, the order is an order under O. 47, R. 7 of the Code and an appeal lies from it. (Wilberforce, J.) RAMJI LAL v. GIYANI. 3 Lah. L. J. 341 : 66 I. C. 992 : 4 U. P. L. R. (Lah.) 54.

——0. 47, R. 7—Review—Order granting—Appeal against—Grounds of—Grounds specified in—Final decree—Appeal from—Scope of—Appellant if can argue appeal on its merits.

An appeal against order granting review may be challenged only on one of the grounds specified in O. 47, R. 7, C. P. Code.

In an appeal from the final decree itself, if the grounds of appeal relate to the granting of the review, the grounds must be those that are set out in R. 7. The appellant will not, however, be precluded from arguing the appeal on its merits. (Venkatasubba Rao, J.) KOLACHINA VENKAT SEETHARAMAYYA v. VEENA TOLASI BABU. (1924) M. W. N. 355 (1) : 34 M. L. T. 224 : 19 L. W. 649 : 83 I. C. 548 : (1) : A. I. R. 1924 Mad. 602 (2) : 46 M. L. J. 463.

——0. 47, R. 7—Decree not open to objection under R. 7—Leave cannot be granted under C. P. Code, S. 109 (c).

Where a decree passed by the High Court on review was not open to objection on some ground recognised by O. 47, R. 7 the case cannot be certified as a fit case under C.P. Code, S. 109 (c). (Wazir Hasan and Simpson, A. Js.) JAGMOHAN SINGH v. SHEO MANGAL SINGH. 90 I. C. 332: A. I. R. 1926 Oudh 17 (2).

——0. 47, R. 7—No revision lies from order of Appellate Court upholding the grant of review by trial Court.

Where the trial Court found that a decree had been given to a party as if he had been alive, when as a matter of fact he was known to be dead, and granted, an application for review on that ground and set aside the decree and the order was upheld in appeal, Held, that there was a mistake apparent on the face of the record and that the Appellate Court did not act without jurisdiction, or illegally or with material irregularity in upholding the order of the trial Court so as to justify interference. (Kendall, A. J. C.) RAM LAL v. RAM DHANI. 11 O. L. J. 700 : 87 I. C. 204 : A. I. R. 1925 Oudh. 223.

——0. 47, R. 7 (1)—Appeal—C. P. Code, O. 43, R. 1 (w).

O. 47, R. 1 restricts the scope of O. 43, R. 1 (w) as regards grounds of appeal from an order granting review of judgment. (Wazir Hasan, A.J.C.) KUNJAN v. CHANDRA HAS. 11 O. L. J. 682 : 84 I. C. 515 : 28 O. C. 4 : A. I. R. 1925 Oudh 266.

——0. 47, Rr. 8 and 11—Review—Grant of—Appeal—Effect on original decree.

A review commences ordinarily with an ex parte application. The Court then may either reject the application at once or may grant a rule calling on the other side to show cause why the review should not be granted. In the second stage, the rule may either be admitted or rejected and it is obvious that the hearing of this rule may involve to some extent an investigation into the merits. If the rule is discharged then the case ends. If, on the other hand, the rule is made absolute, then the third stage is reached ; the case is reheard on the merits and may result in a repetition of the former decree or in some variation of it Though, in one respect, the result is the same whether the rule be discharged or on the rehearing the original decree be repeated, in law there is a material difference, for in the latter case, the whole matter having been reopened, there is a fresh decree : in the former case, the parties are relegated to and still rest on the old decree. Consequently the order appropriate to a discharge of the rule is the rejection of the application ; an order so made terminates the second stage of the proceedings, and there is no third stage for the rehearing of the case. When the application for a review is granted, the decree previously made is vacated, with the consequence that an appeal preferred against that decree can no longer be prosecuted. But the parties can appeal from the final decree passed on review. Cases reviewed. (Mookerjee and Rankin, JJ.) GOURKRISHNA SARKA v. NILMADHAB SHA. 36 C. L. J. 484 :73 I. C. 34 : A.I.R. 1923 Cal. 113.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), O. 47, R. 27.

——O. 47, R. 27—Inherent lacuna.

Where any point is required to be cleared in the interest of justice an appellate Court has got power to take additional oral evidence. (Mockejee and Ranfin, JJ) BANK OF BENGAL v. W. A. LUCAS. 51 Cal. 185 : 28 C. W. N. 497 : 81 I. C. 471 : 41 C. L. J. 1 : A. I. R 1924 Cal. 578.

——O. 48, R. 1—No time fixed for payment of process fees—Dismissal—Propriety of.

Under the new Code, the Court should in all cases fix a time for the payment of process fee and it is only in default of payment within the time fixed that it can dismiss the suit. Where no time is fixed in the order dismissal for non-payment of process fees is not proper. (Kinkhede, A. J. C.) AJODHYA PRASAD v. SECRETARY OF STATE. A. I. R. 1924 Nag. 298.

——O. 48, R. 1 (2)—Order directing process to be paid "at once"—Propriety of.

An order directing a party to a suit to pay process fees for witnesses "at once" is contrary to the spirit of the C. P. Code and to dismiss the suit for default because no witnesses appeared on account of process fees being paid late is to defeat justice. (Kinkhede, A. J. C.) PANDU v. RAJESHWAR. 20 N. L. R. 131 : 78 I. C. 996 : A. I. R. 1924 Nag. 271.

——Sch. I—Appendix D—Form No. 4—Subsequent mortgage held by same mortgagee at time of decree over other property—Form No. 4 does not apply.

Form No. 4 given in appendix (d) of the first schedule of the C P. Code, would not be applicable in a case where there was a second mortgage which the mortgagee held at the time of the decree covering property other than that included in his first mortgage. The form must be construed to mean all documents relating to the mortgaged property and having reference to the mortgage in respect of which the decree is given. (Wazir Hasan and Ashworth, A. J. C's) BANSIDHAR v. JAGMOHAN DAS. 86 I. C. 748 : 12 O. L. J. 127 : A. I. R. 1925 Oudh 379. (2).

——Sch. II—Applicability—Rules under by U.P. Government—Rule 20—Reference to arbitration under Code—Rule does not cover.

A reference to arbitration under the provisions of the second schedule of the Code is entirely distinct from the procedure contemplated by R. 20 of the Rules. (Ryves and Daniels, JJ.) GOPINATH v. RAM NATH. 23 A. L. J. 129 : L. R. 6 A. 208 (Civ.) : 86 I. C. 585 : 47 A. 374 : A. I. R. 1925 All. 356.

——Sch. II—Arbitration—Agreement to refer to—Withdrawal from.

A party to an agreement to submit a matter to arbitration cannot, after the arbitrator proceeds to evidence, withdraw from the arbitration. The Court cannot compel a private arbitrator to arbitrate against his will. (Sulaiman and Kanhaiya Lal, JJ.) BASUDEO MAL v. KANHAIYA LAL. 43 All. 101 : 59 I. C. 667 : 18 A. L. J. 952.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), Sch. II, Para. 1.

——Sch. II—Appointment of fresh arbitrators—Effect.

An application to Court to appoint fresh arbitrators amounts to an abandonment of the previous proceedings. (Macleod, C. J. and Coyajee, J.) KHIMCHAND NAROTHAMDAS v. BHOGILAL HIRACHAND SHAH. 46 B. 854 : 67 I. C. 913 : 24 Bom. L. R. 361 : A. I. R. 1922 Bom. 436.

——Sch. II—Applicability.

Where the parties intend that no further steps should be taken in Court and that the arbitration should be one without the intervention of Court, the rules in Second Schedule apply to such cases also. (Newbould and Pearson, JJ.) HEMCHANDRA v. JNANENDRA CHANDRA. 90 I.C. 624: A.I.R. 1926 Cal. 116.

——Sch. II and S. 141—Schedule does not apply to execution proceedings.

The execution Court has no jurisdiction to refer the dispute between the parties to arbitration under the Second Schedule of the C P. Code. (Suhrawardy and Cuming, JJ.) T. WANG v. SONA WANGDI. 52 Cal. 559 : 42 C. L. J. 26 : 87 I. C. 633 : 29 C. W. N. 886 · A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 812.

——Sch. II, Paras. 1 and 15—Order of reference made—Court retains its power of superintendence—Award otherwise than in accordance with the order of reference is 'otherwise invalid' within S. 15.

It is incumbent upon arbitrators acting under an order made in pursuance of paras 1 and 2 strictly to comply with its terms. The Court does not thereby part with its duty to supervise the Proceedings of the arbitrators acting under the order. An award made otherwise than in accordance with the authority by the order conferred upon them is an award which is "otherwise invalid" and which may accordingly be set aside by the Court uuder para 15. (Lord Blanesburgh). RAM PRATAB v. DURGA PRASAD. 3 O. W. N. 127 : A. I. R. 1925 P. C. 293 (P. C.) : 49 M. L. J. 812.

——Sch. II, Para. 1—Same arbitration cannot relate to matters within and without jurisdiction between parties and non-parties and partly under agreement and partly upon order of reference—C.P.Code, Sch. 2, para. 15.

An award not contemplated or authorised by the order of reference is invalid. It is impossible according to the Statute Law of India that one and the same arbitration should be held as to matters within the jurisdiction of the Court and matters without the jurisdiction of the Court, between the parties to the suit and between them and other persons and partly upon an order of reference and partly under an agreement. (Lord Blanesburgh). RAM PROTAP v. DURGA PRASAD. 3 O. W. N. 127 : A. I. R. 1925 P. C. 293 (P. C.) : 49 M. L. J. 812.

——Sch. II, Para. 1—Pending suit—Reference to arbitration—Oral consent of both parties recorded by Court—Effect of.

On the day of hearing of a suit the pleaders for both the parties stated that they had agreed to arbitration and wanted to refer the matter in dispute to a certain pleader named by them for decision. Their statements were recorded by the Court and a reference was made in accordance with their agreement. The arbitrator made an award. Subsequently it was objected that the award was bad because the agreement to refer was not in writing. Held, that the objection was unsustainable A record taken down of an oral statement made by the parties or their pleaders is as much an agreement in writing as a written application made by the parties or their pleaders themselves. 27 C. 61; 30 A. 32 ; 43 C. 290 Ref. (Kanhaiya Lal, J.) MAHABIR v. MANOHAR SINGH.

46 A. 208 : 22 A. L. J. 67 : 79 I. C. 816 : A. I. R. 1924 All. 540.

——Sch. II, Para. 1—Arbitration—Submission to, if "Spent itself."

Where the defendant contended that there could be no arbitration upon the agreement because the submission therein contained had somehow "spent itself" in an arbitrator's abortive award or because his supplementary award was lying unadjudicated upon in the Court of the District Judge when the arbitration proceedings began. Held, the parties are under a binding agreement to refer the dispute to arbitration in accordance with the terms of agreement itself and the obligation continues until it has been carried out. (Piggott and Walsh, JJ.) B. SHUSHIL CHANDRA DAS v. SUKHAMAL BANSIDHAR. 20 A. L. J. 377 : 44 All. 472 : A. I. R. 1922 All. 219.

——Sch. II, Paras. 1 and 3 (2)—Validity of reference—Pending reference to High Court—Jurisdiction—Separate suit, if lies.

During the pendency of a reference to the High Court under S. 17 of the Ajmere Courts Regulation, the Ajmere Court on an application by the parties, referred the case to arbitration and the award was made the rule of Court. A party dissatisfied with the award filed a suit to declare that the order of reference to arbitration was ultravires and proceedings under it void, held, that notwithstanding the reference to the High Court, the Ajmere Court had jurisdiction to refer the case to arbitration inasmuch as pending the answer by the High Court, to the reference, the suit was still pending judgment within the meaning of Para. 1 to Sch.II to the Code, held, also that no suit as here would lie under Para. 3 (2) of Sch. II to the Code. (Walsh and Wallach, JJ.) RAM LAL v. DEORAJ.

19 A. L. J. 876 : 64 I. C. 601 : 44 A. 91 : A. I. R. 1922 All. 173.

——Sch. II, Para. 1—"Dispute", meaning of.

Whether or not the Court can legally enquire into any question on which the parties join issue is a dispute within the meaning of Para. 1. (Suhrawardy and Cuming, JJ.) T. WANG v. SONA WANGDI.

52 Cal. 559 : 42 C. L. J. 26 : 87 I. C. 633 : 29 C. W. N. 886 : A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 812.

——Sch. II, Para. 1—Parties—All persons interested in suit to be parties.

Where all the persons interested in the subject-matter of the suit do not join in this application for reference to arbitration the Court has no jurisdiction to make the reference. 21 C. W. N. 387 relied on. (Walmsley and Suhrawardy, JJ.) HARA PRASANNA BANDOPADHYA v. ARAB ALI. 71 I. C. 326 : A. I. R. 1924 Cal. 353 (1).

——Sch. II, Para. 1—Parties—Omission of some of the parties to join—Validity of award.

All the parties interested in a suit must join in the reference to arbitration and where only some of the parties agree to refer the award on such reference is void. (N. R. Chatterjee and Newbould, JJ.) DEBENDRA NATH BISWAS v. JOGENDRA NATH BISWAS. 64 I. C. 221 (Cal.)

——Sch. II, Para. 1—Validity of reference—Pleader signing without authority—Reference invalid.

The provisions of Para. 1 of Sch. II must be strictly complied with, in order that there might be a valid reference. Where a pleader signed a reference on behalf of a party but his vakalatnama did not contain a power to refer to arbitration, held, the reference was not valid so far as that party is concerned. (Woodroffe and Chatterjee, JJ.) FANINDRA v. DWARKA NATH. 25 C. W. N. 832.

——Sch. II, Para. 1—Validity of reference—Agreement to refer all disputes arising out of a contract—Successive awards.

Where the parties agree to refer all disputes arising out of a contract to arbitration, the right to submit is not exhausted though one dispute is finally decided. Successive disputes as they arise may be referred and successive awards passed. (Rankin, J.) BAL MUKAND RUIA v. GOPISAN BHOTEA.

60 I. C. 195 : 24 C. W. N. 775.

——Sch. II, Para. 1—Want of consent of parties interested ousts jurisdiction.

If a Judge refers a case to arbitration, without the consent of the parties interested, he is exercising a jurisdiction not vested in him by law. 42 Mad. 632 ; Foll ; 29 I. C. 747, Expl. (Jackson, J.) PARASURAMA MUDALIAR v. MUTHUSWAMY PILLAI.

22 L. W. 395 : (1925) M. W. N. 744 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 1209.

——Sch. II, Para. 1—Even party ex parte must be consulted if interested.

Where agreement to refer to arbitration is not signed by a party who is ex parte, the award is without jurisdiction if the party is interested in the result of the suit. [39 All, 489 Not Foll. ; 42 Mad. 632 and 27 C. L. J. 339. Foll] Where vendor had covenanted to convey a title to the plaintiff vendee and was interested in the plaintiff's suit to establish that title, as otherwise he might be sued for damages, he is interested in the result of the suit. (Jackson, J.) PARASURAMA MUDALIAR v. MUTHUSWAMY PILLAI.

22 L. W. 395 : (1925) M. W. N. 744 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 1209.

——Sch. II. Para. 1—'Parties interested' may include parties against whom no relief is claimed.

The words 'parties interested in the suit' should not be restricted only to those persons against whom relief is claimed. A person against whom no relief is claimed may be interested in the result of the suit inasmuch as his liability to the plaintiff may ultimately arise by reason of any decision that may be given in that suit. (Devadoss, J.) T. S. SUBBA RAO v. APPADURAI AIYAR. 21 L. W. 498 : 86 I. C 839 : (1925) M. W. N. 97 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 621 : 48 M. L. J. 142.

——Sch. II, Para. 1—Ex parte defendant not joining—Reference is invalid.

Reference without a party interested in the litigation joining in it is not a valid reference though he may be a defendant who is ex parte. (Devadoss, J.) T. S. SUBBA RAO v. APPADURAI AIYAR.

21 L.W. 498 : 86 I.C. 839 : (1925) M.W.N. 97 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 621 : 48 M. L. J. 142.

——Sch. II, Para. 1—All parties not joining in reference—Subsequent consent cannot validate award—Award need not be set aside—Suit on same matter is not barred by such award.

In order to make a valid reference it is necessary that all the parties should give their consent. But after a reference is made, subsequent consent by one of the parties who did not join in the reference at the time it was made cannot make the proceedings valid; for the foundation of the Court's jurisdiction is the consent of all the parties. The award passed in such proceedings is void and it need not be set aside. Its existence does not preclude a subsequent suit on the same subject-matter. (Devadoss, J.) T. S. SUBBA RAO v. APPADURAI AIYAR.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), Sch. II, Para. 1.

21 L.W 498 : 86 I. C. 839 : (1925) M. W. N. 97 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad 621: 48 M. L. J. 142.

——Sch. II, Para. 1—Validity of reference—Parties to reference—Exhonerated defendants—Validity of award.

To constitute a valid reference to arbitration it is enough if all the parties to suit interested in the subject matter agree to the reference. From the mere fact that certain defendants did not appear and the suit proceeded ex parte so far as they were concerned, it could not be assumed they were not interested parties. 42 M. 632 ; 47 Cal. 555 Ref. The High Court will not interfere in revision with an award on the ground that certain exhonerated defendants were not parties to the reference when no such objection had been taken to the award in the Court below. (Spencer, J.) BHAGAVANULU v. SEETHARAMASWAMI.
17 L. W. 424 : (1923) M. W. N. 296 : 32 M. L. T. (H. C.) 298: 73 I. C. 202 : A. I. R. 1923 Mad. 502 : 44 M. L. J. 359.

——Sch. II, Paras. 1 and 16—Award—Decree in accordance with—Objection—Appeal—Revision.

No appeal or revision lies from the decree which is in accordance with the award. Arbitration proceedings are not compulsory and when parties agree to refer their dispute to a tribunal other than that of recognised Courts, they must abide by the consequences of their procedure. It is immaterial whether the Court does or does not give proper opportunities for hearing all the objections to the award or whether it is right or wrong in deciding that the objection statement put in was not a proper application to set aside the award. (Sadasiva Iyer and Napier, JJ.) VE. N. K. R. M. A. VENKATACHELLAM CHETTIAR v. VE. N. K. RM. A. RAMANATHAM CHETTIAR. 15 L. W. 111 : 31 M. L. T. 52 : A. I. R. 1922 Mad. 429.

——Sch. II, Para. 1—Claim relating to public office—Agreement to refer to arbitration—Validity.

An agreement to refer to an arbitration, even if relating to an office, is not necessarily unlawful or opposed to public policy, but must be scrutinised by the Court before which it is pleaded for the purpose of ascertaining whether it is in violation of the trusts of the institution or affects adversely the interests of the public. 32 M. L. J. 271, Foll. (Sadasiva Iyer and Napier, JJ.) VE. N. K. R. M. A. VENKATACHELLAM CHETTIAR v. VE. N. K. RM A. RAMANATHAN CHETTIAR. 15 L. W. 111 : 31 M. L. T. 52 : A. I. R. 1922 Mad. 429.

——Sch. II, Para 1—Subject to reference—Jurisdiction to make reference—Extent of—Invalid award—If valid as compromise.

The jurisdiction of Courts to refer to arbitration is confined to matters in difference in the suit itself. An award under an invalid reference, being itself invalid gives no rights either as an award or as a compromise. (Krishnan and Odgers, JJ.) PEDDAPALAYAM BODACHARI v. MUNIYACHARI. 14 L. W. 663 : 65 I. C. 92 : (1921) M. W. N. 756.

——Sch. II, Para. 1—Validity of reference—Absence of one arbitrator at a meeting at which nothing particular was done.

Absence of one of the arbitrators at one of the meetings, at which, it is shown, that nothing material was done, does not make the award invalid. (Krishnan, J.) VARANASI RAMANNA v. KILLAIN SETHI APPANA. 60 I. C. 181 : 12 L. W. 505.

——Sch. II, Para. 1—Parties may agree to refer otherwise than under orders of Court.

The provisions of Sch. II as to an agreement to refer to arbitration are practically all permissive and it is nowhere laid down or even suggested that such agreement made between the parties to a pending suit cannot be carried out except under the orders of the Court. (Hallifax, A. J. C.) PYARELAL v. GHANARAM. 83 I. C. 22 : A. I. R. 1925 Nag. 203.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), Sch. II, Para. 1

——Sch. II. Para. 1—Failure of all parties to agree to reference—Effect.

Where all parties interested do not agree to a reference to arbitration, the same is illegal and the award made therein invalid. (Kinkhede, A. J. C.) HUSSAINBHAI BHORA v. BANSILAL.
A. I. R. 1924 Nag. 338.

——Sch. II, Para. 1—Reference to contents of.

Only matters in dispute between the parties to a litigation which affect private rights can be referred to arbitration. (Prideaux and Kotval, A.J.Cs.) GANOBA v. NARAYAN. 6 N. L. J. 7 : 72 I. C. 1016 : A. I. R. 1923 Nag. 112.

——Sch. II, Para. 1—Scope.

An award cannot be set aside merely because the reference to arbitration is not made in writing. (Pullan, A. J. C.) WALIULLAH v. BHAGGAN.
11 O. L. J. 570 : 80 I. C. 7 : 28 O. C. 74 : A. I. R. 1925 Oudh 269.

——Sch. II, Para. 1—Defendant unconditionally admitting a claim is not a necessary party to a reference to arbitration between the plaintiff and the other defendants.

Where a person admits the plaintiff's claim unconditionally without reference to the liability of his co-defendants and absents himself from subsequent proceedings he is not interested in the suit within the scope of Sch. II, para. 1 and it is not necessary to implead him with respect to a reference to arbitration as between the plaintiff and the other defendants. (Dalal, J. C.) MT. BRIJ RAJ KUAR v. RAM NATH.
80 I. C. 821 : A. I. R. 1925 Oudh 201.

——Sch. II, Para. 1—Reference to arbitration—Oral application—Parties attending arbitration proceedings—Award—Estoppel.

During the pendency of an appeal the parties thereto agreed to refer the matter in dispute to arbitration but no application in writing under Sch. II, Para. 1, cl. (2) of the C. P. Code was made. The plaintiffs however signed their names on the order sheet of the Court in relation to the order of reference, attended the proceedings before the arbitrator who however did not admit the evidence produced by them. The award of the arbitrator was objected to by the plaintiffs on the ground that there was no application in writing asking for a reference. Held, that the plaintiffs were estopped from objecting to the award on the ground of want of a written application for reference. Where an award of arbitrators is good on the face of it the parties cannot object to the arbitrator's decision either upon law or on fact and the Courts will not ordinarily review his decision provided he acts within his authority and acts in accordance with the principles of natural justice. Nor is a mere mistake a ground for interference with an award. (Wazir Hasan, A. J. C.) MIRZA MAHOMED HASAN BEG v. MIRZA SHAKIR BEG. 10 O. & A. L. R. 55 : 78 I. C. 378 : 11 O. L. J. 142 : A. I. R. 1924 Oudh 400.

——Sch. 2, Para. 1—Award—Validity of—Parties to reference—Subject matter—Parties interested in—Award—Partly valid—Enforcement of.

Where there were a number of matters in difference between the plaintiffs and the various defendants to the suit, it can hardly be suggested that the submission to arbitration is bad on the ground that it does not refer to arbitration all the matters that may be in dispute between the parties. Sch. II, para. 1, C. P. Code, in terms provides that where all the parties interested agree that any matter in difference between them shall be referred to arbitration, they may apply to the Court for a reference, and sub-cl. (2) provides that the application shall state the matter sought to be referred. It may well be that some of the parties are interested in certain of the matters in dispute only, whilst others are interested in other matters and there is no reason why all the parties interested in one or other of the matters in difference between them, should not agree to refer their disputes, if there are other matters still to be determined in the suit. Where the arbitrators, however, made an award not only in respect to the matters properly referred but in respect to the matters in dispute between the plaintiffs and the two minors which were not validly referred at all, it cannot be said then that the whole award is bad merely because the arbitrators have dealt with matters outside the terms of the reference ; the award is valid in so far as the reference was legal and binding. The rules in the schedule clearly contemplate a case where the arbitrators in making their award have gone outside the legitimate subject-matter of the reference. If that part of the award which deals with matters outside the reference can be separated from the other part, without affecting the decision on the matters referred, the Court may in such a case modify or correct the award. (Miller, C. J. and Kulwant Sahay, J.) RAGHUNATH SUKUL v. RAM RUP RAUT. 2 Pat. 777 : 76 I. C. 2 : 5 P. L. T. 239 : 2 P. L. R. 76 : 1923 P. H. C. C. 225 : A. I. R. 1924 Pat. 33.

——— Sch. II, Para. 1—Award by Judge who had ceased to be Judge is valid only if parties fully understood the effect thereof.

Where a Judge who has ceased to be a Judge is alleged to have been appointed arbitrator, it must be shown not merely that the parties wished him to write and pronounce judgment but that they understood what they were agreeing to. It would not be a question of their making a mistake of law. For a consent to be valid, the consenting parties must agree upon the same thing in the same sense. Unless the parties understood that, if he wrote and pronounced a judgment, that judgment would amount only to an award and that they would have no right of appeal, their agreement would be void. (MacColl, J.C.) MAUNG BA v. MAUNG YE. 4 U. B. R 171 : 76 I. C. 170 : A. I. R. 1924 Rang. 358.

——— Sch. II, Para. 1—Oral award—Effect of—Bar to fresh suit.

In law, an oral award is good and binding on the parties to the reference. Where the actual award is an oral award the drawing up of a formal award is purely a subsidiary act for giving effect to the previously completed judicial act. If the parties desiring to have the award, made a decree of the Court, it may be necessary for them to get the award reduced to writing to be filed in Court; but so far as the effect of the award on a subsequent suit dealing with the subject-matter of the award is concerned, the award will bar the suit whether it be oral or whether it be in writing. (Robinson, C. J. and May Oung, J) MA MYA v. KO PO SA.

2 Bur. L. J. 163 : A. I. R. 1924 Rang 60.

——— Sch. II, Para. 1—Absence of dispute as to a point precludes reference of that point to arbitration.

A point as to which there is no dispute cannot be referred to arbitration. A mere failure or refusal to pay on demand any amount admitted to be due may be a dispute. But where there is no allegation that the one party had made a demand on the other to pay the sum it cannot be said that there is a dispute with regard to the item. (Rupchand Bilaram, A. J. C.) FIRM OF BRIJLAL JAGANNATH v. FIRM OF ALLAH DITTA. 86 I. C. 393 : A. I. R. 1925 Sind 242.

——— Sch. II, Para. 1—Contract providing that any dispute arising should be referred to arbitration—Disputes arising at different times—Arbitration can be held at different times in respect of the same contract.

Where the submission clause in the contract provides that any dispute arising from the contract would be referred to arbitration, it is open to the construction that there can be more than one award in respect of the same contract, if different disputes arise at different times, and the submission of any one dispute which may have arisen at any one time cannot be pleaded as a bar to a reference of any subsequent dispute to arbitration under the clause. (Rupchand Bilaram, A. J. C.) FIRM OF BRIJLAL-JAGANNATH v. FIRM OF ALLAH DITTA.

86 I. C. 393 : A. I. R. 1925 Sind 242.

——— Sch. II, Para. 1—Submission to arbitration requires agreement in writing though unsigned by either party—Invalid submission vitiates arbitration—Arbitration.

A valid submission must be supported on the basis of a previous agreement in writing between the parties to submit their disputes to arbitration. But the parties need not have signed the writing The invalidity of a submission infects also the reference to arbitration on the basis of such submission. (Rupchand Bilaram, A. J. C.) KISHANDAS PURSUMAL v. MEGHRAJ KHIALDAS.

81 I. C. 834 : A. I. R. 1925 Sind 144.

——— Sch. II, Para. 1—Matter in difference.

A failure to pay a claim constitutes a matter in difference between the parties to a submission. (1911) 5 S. L. R. 4, Foll. (Raymond, A. J. C.) MESSRS. BEITH STEVENSON & CO., LTD. v. FIRM OF NAROOMAL KHEM CHAND. 17 S L. R. 86 : 80 I. C. 1009 : A. I. R. 1924 Sind, 117.

——— Sch. II, Para. 1—Submission if to be in writing.

Where parties have agreed in writing to submit any differences that may arise to arbitration, a subsequent submission to arbitration need not be in writing. (Raymond, A. J. C.) TAYABALLY ABDUL HUSSAIN v. JAMES FINLAY & CO. 80 I. C. 969 : 17 S. L. R. 15 : A. I. R 1924 Sind. 105 (2).

——— Sch. II, Para. 1—Differences—Failure to pay claim—If amounts to—Plurality of references,

Where parties agree that all differences that may arise between them should be settled by arbitration, a failure to pay a claim arising out of the contract amounts to a difference which falls within the agreement. There can be as many awards as there are disputes and the mere fact that one award has issued does not exhaust the powers under the agreement. (Raymond, A. J. C.) TAYABALLY ABDUL HUSSAIN v. JAMES FINLAY & CO 17 S. L. R. 15 : 80 I. C. 969 : A. I. R. 1924 Sind 105 (2).

——— Sch. II, Para. 1—Minor Parties—Duty of Court.

Where some of the parties to a reference to arbitration are minors, it is the duty of the Court to ascertain if the reference is for the benefit of the minors. (Kennedy, J. C. and Raymond, A. J. C.) EMNABAI v. FAKIR MAHOMED. 15 S. L. R. 165 : 65 I. C. 50 : A. I. R. 1922 Sind 1.

——— Sch. II, Para. 1—Duty of Judge before allowing awards to be filed.

It is the duty of every Judge before he allows arbitration awards to be filed in Court, to satisfy himself that there has been some point of real difference which was submitted to arbitration and that there was an arbitration on that point of real difference. (Kincaid J. C. and Kemp, A. J. C.) JUMNOMAL v. GARDINOMAL. 83 I. C. 913 : 17 S. L. R. 211

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), Sch. II, Para. 1.

——— Sch. II, Para. 1—Validity of reference — Court when to restrain defendant from proceeding to arbitration.

It is within Court's jurisdiction on equitable grounds to restrain the defendant from proceeding to arbitration when an action brought impeaches the instrument containing the agreement for reference. (Raymond, A. J. C.) FIRM OF KRIPALDAS KAHANDAS v FIRM OF GAJANMAL BHAGWANDAS. 70 I. C. 864 : 15 S. L. R. 5.

——— Sch. II, Para. 1—Parties— Reference to arbitration—Parties—Interested—Assent of.

A Court has no jurisdiction to make an order of reference to arbitration unless all the parties interested assent to such reference. An order of reference made without such assent is invalid and an award based thereupon is liable to be set aside. (Raymond, A. J. C.) CHOITH RAM v. LAL CHAND. 61 I. C. 451 : 14 S. L. R. 156.

——— Sch. II, Para 1 (1) and (2)—Form of reference— Agreement to abide by the statement of one.

From the way in which an agreement was entered in the robkar of the Court and the application of the defendant, it appeared that the parties had agreed to abide by the statement of one H. and not that they had agreed to refer the matter in dispute for decision by H. Where no application in writing showing the agreement to refer the matter in dispute was ever filed in Court nor did the defendant ever apply to the Court to refer the matter to H, Held, the provisions of S. 1, sub-clauses (1) and (2) of Schedule II C. P. Code, were therefore not complied with, and accordingly the Court was not deprived of its jurisdiction to hear the appeal. (Sulaiman, J.) MT. MASITA BIBI v. KHUDA BAKSH. A. I. R. 1923 All. 65.

——— Sch. II, Para. 2—Appointment of arbitrators appointed by parties, cancelled by the parties' pleaders and sole arbitrator appointed without express instructions—Appointment whether valid.

Power of a pleader to make an appointment of an arbitrator in the first instance in the absence of instructions to the contrary is one thing, and power to undo the appointment made by his client is another thing. On this view, the cancellation of the Panchas by the Court, based as it is upon the pleader's request, is unwarranted and invalid, and the subsequent appointment of a sole arbitrator must be held to be such. (Kotval, A. J. C.) KASHI RAM v. MT. GUDDOO. 5 N. L. J. 229 : 18 N. L. R. 140 : A. I. R. 1922 Nag. 39.

——— Sch. II, Para 2. (12)—Decree—O. 9, R. 13

The decree under para. 2 (12) of Sch. II is a decree under S. 2 (2) and the provisions of O. 9, R. 13 apply to it. The provisions of the C. P. Code apply so far as may be, to proceedings under Sch. II save where a special procedure is laid down in the Schedule. (Coutts and Macpherson, JJ.) MAHABIR v. BALKISUN. 3 P. L. J. 29 : 1922 P H. C. C.76 : 1 P. 48 : A. I. R. 1922 Pat. 376.

——— Sch. II, Para. 3—Leave to revoke order of reference is not to be granted save when substantial injustice will otherwise result—Principles underlying exercise of power to grant leave discussed.

Obiter :—In giving leave to revoke a submission the Court shall be satisfied that a substantial miscarriage of justice will take place in the event of its refusal. It would be contrary to justice to give leave to revoke a submission to a party who as a consideration for a contract had agreed to submit any disputes whether of law or fact, which might arise, to arbitration when he found the case going against him. The exercise of the power of giving leave to revoke is in general limited to cases where the arbitrators are exceeding their jurisdiction or refusing jurisdiction or failing to do all that their jurisdiction requires them to do. The principle underlying the exercise of the power to revoke is that the parties take the arbitrators for better or for worse, and that their decision is final both as to law and fact; unless a substantial miscarriage of justice may take place, leave ought not to be given. It is no miscarriage of justice for a party to be injured by bad law which he has agreed to be bound by. (Walsh and Ryves, JJ.) GAYA PRASAD v. FIRM MATHU LAL BUDHA LAL. 5 L. R. A. (Civ.) 319. 78 I. C. 1050 : A. I. R. 1925 All. 202

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), Sch. II, Para. 3.

——— Sch. II, Para. 3 (2)—Reference to arbitration —Jurisdiction to try suit.

When a Court refers a pending suit to arbitration, its jurisdiction to try the case is suspended and it revives only in the event of the arbitration being ordered to be superseded under paras. 5, 8 or 15 of Sch. II. It cannot until that event takes place assume any jurisdiction to deal with the suit. The words "shall not, save in the manner and to the extent provided in this Schedule, deal with such matter in the same suit" are imperative and convey prohibition, and limit the scope of the Court's jurisdiction. (Kinkhede, A. J. C.) SHANKER v. CHUNILAL MULCHAND. 89 I. C. 782.

——— Sch. II, Para. 3—Award—Validity—Objection to award—Appeal—Revision.

There was a reference to arbitration and an award was made. Objections were taken to the validity of the award. One of the grounds taken was that there was no valid reference to arbitration as one of the defendants in the case did not at all join in the reference. The objections to the award taken by the plaintiffs were not properly heard. There was no necessity for any evidence to be adduced and the objections were not frivolous. Held, that though no appeal lay from the order of the Lower Court passing a decree on the award, still the High Court could interfere in revision. (Mukerji, J.) SIDH NATH RAUT v. JARBANDHAN PRASAD. L. R. 5 A. 191 : A. I. R. 1924 All. 688.

——— Sch. II, Para. 3—Time for submission of award—Extension by arbitrators themselves —Propriety of—Misconduct of arbitrator.

Matters in dispute between the parties in a pending suit were by their consent referred by Court to two arbitrators and the order of reference provided that the arbitrators should make their award within 6 months from the date on which an office copy of the said order should be served on them or within such further time as they might allow themselves by endorsement on the said office copy. The arbitrators enlarged the time for making their award under the order from time to time and after a large number of sittings extending over a period of 2 years they adjourned the hearing sine die. On an application by the plaintiff to the Court for superseding the reference and for proceeding with the trial of the suit, held, that the order of the Court giving unlimited authority to the arbitrators to extend the time was bad and of no effect and that under the mandatory provisions of Sch. II, cl. 3, C. P. Code, it was the Court that had to fix the time and enlarge it. Consequently it was open to the plaintiff to apply to the Court to supersede the reference and proceed with the trial of suit. 30 A. 169: 36 A. 354, Foll. 19 C. W. N. 165 dissented. The appropriate time for entertaining charges of misconduct against an arbitrator is when the award has been filed. (Rankin, J.) ROBINDRA DEB MANNA v. JOGENDRA DEB MANNA.

27 C. W. N. 420 : A. I. R. 1923 Cal. 410.

——Sch. II, Para. 3—Reference implies dispute.

The existence of a "dispute" is essential to the validity of a reference to arbitration under the terms of a contract. A dispute involved the assertion of a right by one party and its denial by the other. Where the parties do not reach that stage and the vendors merely refuse to comply with the request of the buyer prior to the sale regarding incidental matters, there is no "dispute" within the meaning of the arbitration clause in the contract. (Mookerjee and Fletcher, JJ.) CHANDMULL GANESHMULL v. NIPPON MUNKWA KARBUSKHIKI. 64 I. C. 798 : 33 C. L. J. 545.

——Sch. II, Para. 3—Reference by the Court—Reference not in express terms—Action of Court and parties, inference from.

The plaintiff and the only defendant interested in the subject-matter of the suit agreed in writing to refer their disputes, including those in suit, to arbitration and the plaintiff presented an application that, as the matter in suit as well as other matters had been referred to arbitration, the suit should be kept pending and adjourned till an award was made, and the Court accordingly granted the adjournment and kept the suit pending. Further adjournments consented to by the defendant, were applied for by the plaintiff and granted by the Court for the purpose of enabling the arbitrators to submit their award, and the Court wrote to the arbitrators to expedite and the arbitrators requested for further time, which was granted by the Court on the terms, that if they could not finish by the adjourned date, the suit would be posted for enquiry before the Court, that the parties should endeavour to get the arbitrators to pass the award and file the same within the time specified and that the arbitrators should be informed accordingly. After further adjournments the Court, on the application of the arbitrators, got certain accounts filed in another Court and after some more similar adjournments, to all of which the defendant was a consenting party, the award was filed and a decree was passed in accordance with it. Held, there has been substantially, though not in form, a reference by Court with the consent of the parties. (Sadasiva Iyer and Napier, JJ.) VENKATACHELLAM CHETTIAR v. RAMANATHAM CHETTIAR.

15 L. W. 111: 31 M. L. T. 52; A. I. R. 1922 Mad. 429.

——Sch. II, Para. 3 (2)—Reference to arbitration—Cases appearing in the special list—Power of Court to make necessary orders.

It does not necessarily follow that when a case referred to arbitration appears in the special list, the order for arbitration cannot be superseded by the Court for proper reasons and the necessary orders passed for the trial of the suit. Parties who wish to take advantage of the 2nd Schedule to the C. P. Code and agree to refer suits to arbitration rather than have them tried by Court, may not thereby make opportunity to delay the solution of their differences. (Buckland, J.) SARUPCHAND HUKUMCHAND v. MADHORAM.

28 C. W. N. 755 : 83 I. C. 128: A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 83.

——Sch. II, Para. 3 (2)—Compromise effected after reference without applying for superseding the reference can't be recorded—C. P. Code, O. 23, R. 3.

Where after the parties to a suit referred it to arbitration, a compromise was arrived at between them, but there was no order superseding the arbitration.

Held, the Court had no jurisdiction to record the compromise. (Sanderson, C. J. and Richardson, J.)

DOOLY CHAND v. MOHANLAL. 51 Cal. 432 : 83 I. C. 606 : A. I. R. 1924 Cal. 722.

——Sch. II, Para. 3 (2)—Court has inherent power to cancel order under para. 3—C. P. Code, S. 151.

Although there is no specific provision in the second Schedule to the C. P. Code, authorising a Court to cancel an order made by it under para. 3 of the Schedule, yet in a proper case and for good cause the Court has inherent power to cancel that order. (Case-law discussed.) 10 Bom. 381. Not Foll. (Kulwant Sahay, J.) LACHMAN MUCHHNA v. MOGHAL MIAN.

6 P. L. T. 488 : 86 I. C. 540 : A. I. R. 1925 Pat. 720.

——Sch. II, Para. 3 (2)—Arbitration—Power of Court to appoint Receiver.

Where arbitration is actually proceeding, the Court is not to appoint a Receiver except in exceptional circumstances without the concurrence of the arbitrator. Where the arbitrator is functus officio and the award has been passed, the Court has power to appoint a Receiver in the interim between the submission of the award and the final acceptance or rejection of it. (Kennedy, J. C.) CHETANSINGH BAGASINGH v. GULIBAI. 78 I. C. 84 : A. I. R. 1925 Sind 102.

——Sch. II, Para. 4—Power to appoint umpire.

Where the question was whether the Committee of the Delhi Piece goods Association had jurisdiction to appoint an umpire until the two arbitrators appointed by the parties had not only failed to agree as to the merits of the disputes but also had differed as to the choice of the umpire, held, enough had occurred to give the Committee, Delhi Piece goods Association under the rules accepted by the parties, jurisdiction to appoint an umpire, because the arbitrators had differed in such conclusive fashion as to put it beyond doubt, that they were not going to deliver a joint award. (Piggott and Walsh, JJ.) B. SHUSHIL CHANDRA DAS v. SUKHAMAL BANSIDHAR. 20 A. L. J. 377 : 44 All. 472 : A. I. R. 1922 All. 219.

——Sch. II, Para. 4—Reference to arbitration by Court—Award by majority of arbitrators is valid if so agreed upon.

Where the matter in dispute in a pending suit was referred to the arbitration of two arbitrators and an umpire and the terms of the reference provided for a decision according to the opinion of the majority in the event of there being any dissent, and after the proceedings were over the dissenting arbitrator left the place after expressing his dissent from the opinion of the majority and the award was reduced to writing the next day, held, the award was in accord with the terms of the reference and was perfectly valid. (Dalal and Wazir Hasan, A. J. Cs.) DHURMAN SINGH v. SURAT SINGH. 88 I. C. 547 : A.I.R. 1925 Oudh 712.

——Sch. II, Paras. 4 and 5—Arbitrators not acting together—Award not legal.

An agreement of reference to arbitration provided for the settlement of disputes by four arbitrators and an umpire acting together. There was no provision that in case of difference of opinion amongst the arbitrators, the opinion of the majority was to prevail. All the five arbitrators entered into the reference but the award made was signed by only four of them. The fifth man did not sign because he did not concur in the award. Held, that the award, as filed, was invalid. On a reference to several arbitrators together when there is no clause provided for an award made by less than all being valid, each of them must act personally in performance of the duties of his office, as if he were the sole arbitrator : for as the office is joint, if one refuse or omit to act, the others can make no award. (Kanhaiya Lal, J. C.) NAND KISHORE

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), Sch. II, Para. 4.

v. KISHORI LAL. 10 O. L. J. 29 : 9 O. & A.L.R. 545 : 74 I. C. 299 : 26 O. C. 350 : A. I. R. 1923 Oudh 181.

——— Sch. II, Para 4 (b)—Decision of majority only is invalid.

Where a reference to arbitration by four named persons without the intervention of Court, provides for a decision by all the arbitrators and not merely by a majority of them, the refusal of any of the arbitrators to take part in the arbitration invalidates the award. The submission to arbitration no longer remains in force and cannot be pleaded as a bar to a suit with reference to the subject-matter of the arbitration. (Daniels, J. C.) LACHMAN PRASAD v. PRAN NATH. 8 O. L. J. 585 : 65 I.C. 339 : A.I.R. 1922 Oudh 108

——— Sch. II, Para. 5—Agreement filed under para. 17—Arbitrators nominated and appointed, but refusing to act—Court not observing proper procedure but parties not objecting—Dismissal of application by Court was confirmed where defendant filed regular suit to enforce his rights under ordinary law.

Where the procedure in para. 5 was not strictly observed, but the parties acquiesced therein, and where on superseding the arbitration appointed under para. 17, the defendant filed a suit to enforce his rights which were referred to arbitration under the agreement and the suit was dismissed, the High Court in revision refused to set aside the order of dismissal. (Sulaiman and Daniels, JJ.) HAFIZ ZAHUR AHMAD v. TASLIM-UN-NISSA. 23 A.L.J. 891 : 6 L.R. A. (Civ.) 575 : A. I. R. 1926 All. 55.

——— Sch. II, Paras. 5 and 17—Reference to arbitration—Refusal by one arbitrator—Remedy—Action.

Where a reference to arbitration has been made without the intervention of the Court and during the proceedings one of the arbitrators refuses to act further, any of the parties may apply to the Court under Para. 17 of Sch. II of the Code to file the reference or agreement and the Court can take action under Para. 5 and appoint a new arbitrator. (Walsh and Wallach, JJ.) BAGWANDAS v. GURDAYAL. 64 I. C. 459 : 19 A. L. J. 823.

——— Sch. II, Paras. 5, 15 and 16—Arbitration—Award—Setting aside—Personnel of arbitrators changed by parties without reference to Court—Award, if valid.

Where during the pendency of an arbitration proceeding a change in the personnel of the arbitrators is made with the consent of both the parties but without the intervention of the Court, this cannot be said to be a defect which strikes at the root of the arbitration. The foundation of proceedings by arbitration is the consent of the parties to a decision by an extra-judicial tribunal and where there is such consent the omission to move the Court under para. 5 (2), Sch. II, C. P. Code, does not render the award a nullity. As an award it can only be set aside on any of the grounds specified in Sch. II, para. 15, C. P. Code. (Walmsley and Suhrawardy, JJ.) MAHOMED SHEIKH v. KANKINARAH & CO., LTD. 28 C W. N. 634 : 91 I. C. 574 : A. I. R. 1924 Cal. 665.

——— Sch. II, Paras. 5 and 8—No notice to opposite party—Action under para. 5 cannot be taken—Inordinate delay in proceedings—Arbitration can be superseded.

The Court cannot take action under para. 5 where neither party has served a notice upon the other for the removal of an arbitrator and the substitution of another. Even if the Court takes action under para. 5 it is within the discretion of the Court to refuse to appoint a fresh arbitrator and to supersede the reference. In a case where there has been a reference to arbitration but where nothing has been done for over a long time, it is very desirable that the reference to arbitration should be superseded and the case be dealt with by the Court itself. (Le Rossignol, J.) THAKUR DASS v. RAM DASS. 7 L. L. J. 163 : 26 Punj. L. R. 476 : 88 I. C. 975 (1) : A. I. R. 1925 Lah. 374.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), Sch. II, Para. 8.

——— Sch. II, Para. 5—Death of one of the two arbitrators—Application by a party to appoint a sole arbitrator is written notice.

Where one of two arbitrators dies and one of the parties applies to the Court to appoint the surviving arbitrator as the sole arbitrator the application is "written notice" within the meaning of para. 5. (Dalal Ag. J. C. and Wasir Hasan, A. J. C.) MT. HASAN BANU BEGAM v. WASI ALI KHAN. 12 O. L. J. 174 : 86 I. C. 613 : 2 O. W. N. 64 : A. I. R. 1925 Oudh 361.

——— Sch. II, Para. 5—Reference by surviving arbitrator—Mistake of judgment in construing reference—No revision lies.

A mistake of judgment in construing the original reference cannot be rectified by the High Court on an application for revision. (Dalal Ag. J. C. and Wazir Hasan, A.J.C.) MT. HASAN BANU BEGAM v. WASI ALI KHAN. 12 O. L. J. 174 : 86 I. C. 613 : 2 O. W. N. 64 : A. I. R. 1925 Oudh 361.

——— Sch. II, Para. 5—"Appoint" means "concur in appointing."

"Appoint" means "concur in appointing" and therefore to concur in the appointment of an arbitrator is good though no arbitrator is named in the notice. The rule of English law is also the same. Where the condition of the rule as to the notice to concur in the appointment has been satisfied and no concurrence has been arrived at by the parties to the reference the Court has no discretion left but (1) to appoint an arbitrator, or (2) to supersede the arbitration. (1892) 1 Q. B. 136 Foll. (Dalal Ag. J. C. and Wazir Hasan, A. J. C.) MT. HASAN BANU BEGAM v WASI ALI KHAN. 12 O. L. J. 174 : 86 I. C. 613 : 2 O.W.N. 64 : 11 O. & A. L. R. 53 : A. I. R. 1925 Oudh 361.

——— Sch. II, Para. 7—Taking evidence in absence of party is illegal

Taking evidence in the absence of the party by an arbitrator is illegal. (Devadoss, J.) R. PALAVESAM CHETTIAR v. NARAYANA AIYAR. (1925) M. W. N. 503 : 88 I. C. 660 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 1086 : 49 M. L. J. 115.

——— Sch. II, Para. 7—Absence at the time of evidence of arbitrator.

Where all the arbitrators do not attend at all the meetings and where the evidence is taken in the absence of one or more of the arbitrators the award is invalid. (Ashworth and Simpson, A.J.Cs.) SANKATA PRASAD v. JAGANNATH. 9 O. L. J. 410 : A. I. R. 1922 Oudh 276.

——— Sch. II, Para. 7—Award—Passed ex parte.

An award passed ex parte will not be set aside in absence of sufficient cause for absent party's non-appearance. (Rupchand Bilaram, A. J. C.) FIRM MOTHARAM DOWLATRAM v. FIRM MAYADAS DOWLATRAM. 78 I. C. 521 : A. I. R. 1925 Sind. 150.

——— Sch II, Para. 8—Award—Time for—Extension of—Oral application.

An oral application for extension of the period for submission on the award by arbitrators is valid 3M. 59 Dist. (Macleod, C. J. and Shah, J.) SAKAL CHAND-MOTI v. AMBARAM. 26 Bom. L. R. 280 : 80 I. C. 260 : A. I. R. 1924 Bom. 380.

——— Sch. II, para. 8—Extension of time for making award—Limitation Act, Art, 158.

The time for filing an award may be extended by the Court either before or after the expiration of the period fixed for the making of the award. But the extension must be made before the award is delivered. Where the parties signed a consent order before the award was made for extension of the period, but the order was signed only after the making of the award, held, that the Court's signature related back to the date of application and that the award could not be objected to on the ground that it was made after the expiry of the period fixed by the Court. (Macleod, C. J. and Shah, J.) GOPALAJI KALLIANJI v. CHHAGANLAL VITHALJI. 45 Bom. 1071 : 63 I. C. 929 : 23 Bom L. R. 614.

——Sch. II, Para. 8—Arbitrators have not submitted award—Issue Takid at once was held order extending time.

Where a date was fixed for filing the award but the award was not filed on that date, and where the order passed thereupon was as follows :—"The arbitrators have not submitted their award. Issue Takid at once, fixing the 10th November, for hearing" and where the officer who had passed the decree filing the award said that his intention in passing that order was to extend time for filing of the award though he had not said so in so many words, held, that an order like this may be taken as an order extending the time for filing the award. (Suhrawardy and Page, JJ.) DEBRI-UL-DIN v. AMINA BIBI. 78 I. C. 335 : A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 475.

——Sch. II, Para. 8—Date fixed for filing of award—Non-appearance of parties—Dismissal of suit is bad.

Where a Judge dismissed a suit for failure of the parties to attend on the date fixed for filing of the award even though the award was not filed on that date, the order of dismissal is improper and would be set aside. Since the filing of an award is an act of the arbitrator, the parties need not be present in Court. A Court has no power to supersede an arbitration in anticipation that the award will not be filed before the due date. (Das, J.) MAHARAJ BHAGAT v. HARIHAR BHAGAT. 3 Pat. L. T. 346 : 65 I. C. 144 : A.I.R. 1923 Pat. 115.

——Sch. II, Para. 10 and S. 115—Omission to give notice entitles a party to have the decree on the award set aside in revision, though party was aware of the date of filing of award.

The provisions of cl. 10 are mandatory and the parties are entitled to notice even if they have knowledge of the date on which the award is filed. The omission to give such notice is a material irregularity which entitles the party to have the decree passed on the award set aside in revision. 11 Mad. 144 and 20 All. 474, Foll. (Moti Sagar, J.) GURDITTA MAL v. FIRM OF BASANTA MAL PANNALAL. 89 I. C. 240 : A. I. R. 1925 Lah. 619 (1).

——Sch. II, Para. 10—Decree not to be passed before 10 days.

The Court cannot pass a decree in terms of an award before the expiry of 10 days allowed by Art. 158 of the Limitation Act. An agreement not to object to the award does not cover illegalities. The rejection of an application for further time to file objections does not amount to an application to set aside the award. (1912) M.W.N. 1232, Foll (Odgers, J.) RANGIAH CHETTY v. GOVINDASAMI. (1921) M. W. N. 793 : 15 L. W. 160 : 45 Mad. 466 : 71 I.C. 266 : A. I. R. 1922 Mad. 179.

——Sch. II, Para. 10—Decree on award without notice is bad.

A decree passed on award without notice to the opposite party and before the expiration of the time allowed by Art. 158 of the Limitation Act is bad in law. (Kanhaiya Lal, A. J. C.) MANI RAM v. RAM ASRAY. 24 O. C. 234 : 64 I. C. 90 (2) : 8 O. L. J. 626.

——Sch. II. Para. 10—Notice of filing of award before passing a decree is necessary.

Under Para. 10, a Court must give notice to the parties of the filing of the award, before passing a decree in its terms, and such notice to the deft. is necessary though he failed to appear before the arbitrators or the Court. (Lindsay, J. C.) SOHAN LAL v. MUNNA LAL. 24 O. C. 263 : 62 I. C. 849 : 8 O. L. J. 280.

——Sch. II, Para. 11—Scope is limited to questions of law.

The scope of paragraph 11 is really limited to questions of law. It is true that it is not expressly stated in this paragraph that the statement of the special case must relate to questions of law ; but sufficient indication in this direction is given as to the scope of this rule by the wording of the form No. 4 of the Appendix to this schedule which expressly refers to questions of law to be stated for opinion of the Court. (Shah, A. C. J. and Fawcett, J.) LAKSHMAN BABURAO SONAR v. RAMCHANDRA RAJARAM SONAR. 26 Bom. L. R. 836 : 48 Bom 663 : 84 I. C. 378 : A. I. R. 1925 Bom. 22.

——Sch. II, Para. 12—Award—Application for filing—Correction of mistakes—Execution proceedings.

The decision of the arbitrators is final. If there is on the face of the award a patent inconsistency such as a flat contradiction in measurement, or a mistake of arithmetical calculation, it is open to the Court to which application is made for filing the award on a patent error of that sort being pointed out, to send the award back to the arbitrators to correct it before a decree is passed in accordance with it. But anything of this kind cannot be done in execution proceedings. (Walsh and Kanhaiya Lal, JJ.) HAR PRASAD v. RAGHUBAR DAYAL. 21 A.L.J. 541 : 45 A. 628 : L. R. 4 A. 553 : 74 I. C. 817 : A.I.R. 1924 All. 62.

——Sch. II, Para. 12—Award—Reference to Commissioner for taking accounts—Report—Procedure bad.

On a reference by the Court, the arbitrators prepared their award and submitted it to the Court. Both parties filed objections and Court remitted the award to the arbitrators for rectification under Para. 13. The arbitrators considered the objections and submitted their opinion regarding the alleged errors. The Court, however, appointed two Commissioners to examine the accounts prepared by the arbitrators to see if they involved arithmetical or clerical error. The Commissioners did so and made a report which supported the opinion of the arbitrators. When the report came up to the Court, it reversed the report on certain disputed items and asked the Commissioners to recalculate on the basis of its judgment. On the report finally made by the Commissioners the Court passed its decree. Held that a decree must be passed in terms of the arbitrators' award, that from the very commencement the Court had followed an absolutely wrong procedure under Para. 12 since it could neither be said that the Court had amended an obvious error which could be amended without affecting such decision, nor could it be said that the Court had rectified a clerical mistake or an error arising from an accidental slip or omission. (Macleod, C. J. and Fawcett, J.) GOPAL v. GANESH. 22 Bom. L. R. 1416 : 59 I. C. 785 : 45 Bom. 512.

——Sch. II, Para. 12—Award can't be modified unless imperfect in form or for obvious error it can be amended without affecting arbitrator's decision.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), Sch. II, Para. 12.

The Court has no power to rectify or correct an award unless the award is imperfect in form or the obvious error is of such a character that it can be amended without affecting the decision of the arbitrator. It is well settled that the Court acts without jurisdiction if it modifies an award because it takes a view different from that held by the arbitrator. (Mookerji, J.) MAHENDRA NATH KHUNDU v. SURESH CHANDRA PRAMANIK. 80 I. C. 10 : A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 332.

——Sch. II, Paras. 12, 14 and 15—Reference to arbitration pending suit—Award going beyond matters in dispute in the suit—Decision on rights of strangers.

The C. P. Code deals with arbitrations under three heads :—1. Where the parties to a litigation desire to refer to arbitration any matter in difference between them in the suit, in that case all proceedings from first to last are under the supervision of the Court. 2. Where parties without having recourse to litigation agree to refer their differences to arbitration, and it is desired that the agreement of reference should have the sanction of the Court, in that case all further proceedings are under the supervision of the Court. 3. Where the agreement of reference is made and the arbitration itself takes place without the intervention of the Court and the assistance of the Court is only sought in order to give effect to the award. Full directions are to be found in the Code as to the course of procedure in cases falling under head No. 1, and large powers are given to the Court with the view of making the award in such cases complete, operative and final. The Court makes an order of reference on the agreement (which must be the agreement of all parties to the suit), being brought before it and fixes a time for delivery of the award with power to enlarge the time, if necessary. When the award is submitted to the Court, the Court may in certain specified cases correct or modify it, subject to a right of appeal. In certain specified cases, it may remit the matter to the arbitrators or to the umpire, as the case may be. No award is to be set aside except in one of three cases specified and defined, In cases falling under heads 2 and 3, the provisions relating to cases under head 1 are to be observed, so far as applicable. But there is this difference. In cases falling under head 1, the agreement to refer and the application to the Court founded upon it must have the concurrence of all parties concerned, and the actual reference is the order of the Court, so that no question can arise as to the regularity of the proceedings up to that point. In cases falling under heads 2 and 3, proceedings described as a suit and registered as such must be taken in order to bring the matter, the agreement to refer or the award, as the case may be, under the cognizance of the Court. That is or may be a litigious proceeding, cause may be shown against the application and it would seem that the order made thereon is a decree within the meaning of that expression as defined in the Civil Procedure Code. The Indian Arbitration Act, on the other hand, relates exclusively to arbitration by agreement without intervention of a Court of Justice, and subject to the provisions of S. 23, applies only in cases where if the subject-matter submitted to arbitration were the subject of a suit, the suit could, whether with leave or otherwise, be instituted in a Presidency Town. An examination of the provisions of the second schedule of the Code of Civil Procedure and of the Indian Arbitration Act leaves no room for controversy that the legislature has made clear and distinct provisions to regulate the procedure in respect of each of the four types of arbitration which have special characteristic features. The jurisdiction thus created in respect of each type of arbitration must be exercised through the machinery provided and in conformity with the procedure prescribed. The Legislature never contemplated a confusion of these jurisdictions. No provision can be traced for simultaneous arbitration, by private agreement and on reference by Court, in respect of subject-matters within and beyond the scope of a suit and amongst persons, some parties and some strangers to a litigation. What has happened in the present case is, in essence, an arbitration in a manner neither known to nor contemplated by the law, and the Court must consequently decline to affix the stamp of its authority on the product of the labour of the arbitrators, From this standpoint, the award must be treated as invalid. The arbitrators on such a reference are consequently limited to questions in dispute between the parties in the cause referred to, and they are not competent to mix up, in their investigation and determination, other controversies wherein strangers to the suit are interested. When an award has resulted from proceedings so carried on in a manner not contemplated by the law, the Court cannot be called upon to invoke the aid of the doctrine of separability. This is not a case where the arbitrators have failed to act with regularity from lack of care or knowledge ; the proceedings have been deliberately organised and carried on by the parties in a manner not contemplated by law and they have thus contrived to defeat the object they had at heart, namely, to settle their differences, in a tribunal of their choice. It is quite impossible that one and the same arbitration should be held as to matters within the jurisdiction of the Court and matters without the jurisdiction of the Court ; between the parties to the suit and between them and other persons : under the Code provided by the Indian Arbitration Act and under the Code provided by the Second Schedule ; under the superintendence and control of the Judge who has seizing of the suit and of the Judge disposiug of business under the Indian Arbitration Act ; partly upon an order of reference and partly under an agreement. (Mookerjee and Rankin, JJ.) RAM PRATAP CHAMARIA v. DURGA PRASAD CHAMARIA. 28 C. W. N. 424 : 83 I. C. 300 : A. I. R. 1924 Cal. 567

——Sch. II, Para. 12—Award partly valid—Effect.

All the matters in dispute between the parties need not be referred to arbitration. Sch. II, Para. 1, C. P. Code, provides clearly that where all the parties interested agree that any matter in difference between them shall be referred to arbitration, they may apply to the Court to that effect, while sub-clause (2) provides that the application shall mention the matter desired for reference. It is quite possible that each of the party has his own differences to be settled before an arbitration. The award is valid if the reference is legal and binding. If some portion of the award refers to extraneous matters it can be separated from other portion, provided it does not attack the decision relating to matters of reference. Under the circumstances, the Court may modify or correct the award. (Miller, C. J. and Kulwant Sahay, J.) RAGHUNATH SUKUL v. RAM RUP RAUT. 2 Pat. 777 : 76 I. C. 2 : 2 P. L. R. 76 : 1923 P. H. C. C. 225 : 5 Pat. L. T. 239 · A. I. R. 1924 Pat. 33.

——Sch. II, Para. 12—Award should not be disturbed save in case of misconduct by arbitrator or patent error though arbitrator may be an officer of the Court.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), Sch. II, Para. 14.

The fact that the arbitrator was an officer of the Court does not affect the power or its exercise. Where no misconduct is proved, except for a patent error apparent on the very face of the award as made, the award is final and the Courts cannot set it aside. A. I. R. 1923 P. C. 66, Foll. (Kennedy, J. C. and Madgavkar, A. J. C.) JAN MAHOMED v. HAZI MUKHI GAZI. 78 I. C. 60 : A. I. R. 1925 Sind 89.

——Sch. II, Paras. 14 and 15—Award—Plea of payment—Effect.

Where the defendant has put in a plea of payment which the arbitrators have not considered, it would not be a ground for setting aside the award but for remitting it for reconsideration under Para 14 of Schedule II. The ground on which an award can be set aside is given in Para 15 and this is not such a ground. (Daniels, J.) HAKIM ULLAH v. KARIM BUX. 86 I. C. 788 : L. R. 6 A (Civ.) 158 : A. I. R. 1925 All. 393.

——Sch. II, Paras. 14 and 15—Slip on the part of arbitrator is not material.

An obvious slip on the part of the arbitrator is no ground for setting aside or remitting an award. (Sanderson, C. J. and Walmsley, J.) SREELAL MANGTULAL v. J. F. MADAN. 52 Cal. 100 : 88 I. C. 49 : A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 599.

——Sch. II, Para. 14—Award—Error on the face of the award, meaning of—Sale of goods—Objection to quality—Burden of proof—Award made without surveying goods as provided by the rules of the Bengal Chamber of Commerce—Legality of.

In a suit by the plaintiffs against the defendants for a declaration that an award made by the Bengal Chamber of Commerce was invalid and inoperative, the grounds on which the claim was based were first that the award was bad on the face of it and secondly, that the arbitrators had no jurisdiction to make the award. In the contract for the sale and purchase of goods between the plaintiffs and the defendants it had been agreed that in the event of any dispute arising as to inferiority of quality, defects or differences in the goods, the same should be referred to the Bengal Chamber of Commerce. The dispute having arisen as regards the quality of the goods tendered, the parties referred the same to arbitration. The award was as follows :—" Complaint—Inferior quality and other defects as per buyers' statement, dated 1st March, 1921. Award :—We have considered the papers and as the buyers are unwilling to produce the bales required for inspection their claim cannot be upheld and we award that they pay for and take delivery of the goods in terms of the contract." Held, (1) that the buyers having failed to produce the goods for inspection before the arbitrators could not rely on the abstract doctrine of burden of proof and seek to invalidate the award as being erroneous on the face of it ; and (2) that it was not a proper or legitimate inference from the terms of the award that the arbitrators had decided against the buyer relying upon the mere fact of their omission to produce the goods, inasmuch as the award itself stated that the arbitrators had considered the documentary evidence in the case. Though the rules of the Bengal Chamber of Commerce contemplated the making of the survey, the award of the arbitrators made without such a survey is not invalid because it was only one mode of settling the dispute and it was not contemplated that that should be the only means of settling the dispute. (Sanderson, C. J. and Walmsley, J.) S. & C. NORDLINGER v. CHANDMULL MULCHAND. 28 C. W. N. 888 : 82 I. C. 341 · A.I.R. 1924 Cal. 1051.

——Sch. II, Paras. 14 and 15—Award—When to be remitted—Arbitrator, powers of.

An arbitrator has a wide discretion in the conduct of the proceedings. His award will not be set aside merely because his opinion differs from that of the Court. But where there are irregularities which affect the decision, it will be remitted to him for a fresh decision. In arbitration proceedings, both sides have to be heard in the presence of the other. An arbitrator should not examine a party or his witness in the absence of the other and, failure so to do, is an irregularity which necessitates the remitting back of the proceedings to him for fresh consideration. (Mookerjee and Fletcher, JJ.) HARI SINGH v. KANKINARAH & CO., LTD. 66 I. C. 389 : 34 C. L. J. 39.

——Sch. II, Paras. 14 and 16—Appeal from decree passed on an award—Order of remittal cannot be challenged therein.

Where the Courts remit an award and the arbitrators submit a fresh award, and the Court passes a decree in accordance with such revised award, no appeal lies against such decree on the ground that the order of remittal was wrong and that the original award ought to have been accepted and acted upon. 31 M. 479, Foll. (Abdul Raoof, J.) BALAND BAKSH v. RAMCHANDRA 6 L. L. J. 500 : 84 I. C. 693 : 26 Punj. L. R. 77 : A. I R. 1925 Lah. 267.

——Sch. II, Paras. 14 and 15—A Court cannot amend arithmetical mistake in a private award or remit award with such mistake for re-consideration.

A private award cannot be amended by the Court on the ground that the arbitrator has made an arithmetical mistake in arriving at the sums due by one party to another ; and it also cannot remit such an award for re-consideration 42 A. 277, Foll, 13 Q. B. D. 955 Dist. (Le Rossignol, J) RIAZ-UD-DIN v. SHIYA-UD-DIN. 78 I. C. 1042 : A. I. R. 1925 Lah. 86.

——Sch. II, Paras. 14 and 15—Misconduct—Acting on evidence adduced by one party behind the back of the other.

If an arbitrator receives documents from one party and bases his award upon those documents without giving the other party an opportunity of seeing those documents and of meeting the inferences deducible therefrom, he is guilty of breach of duty and the other party can appeal to have the award set aside on that ground. (Martineau, J.) DELHI CLOTH & GENERAL MILLS CO. v. KIDARI PERSHAD. 4 U. P. L. R. (Lah.) 15 : 64 I. C. 363 : 22 P. L. R. 1922.

——Sch. II, Para. 14—Award on matters not referred is without jurisdiction—Court should remit it to arbitrators.

Misconduct must be misconduct in carrying out the terms of the reference and within the scope of it. Anything beyond that, is action without jurisdiction whether or not it may amount also to misconduct. If the arbitrators' award is beyond their jurisdiction and therefore made without jurisdiction, then obviously the decree which embodies it is also made without jurisdiction. The duty of the Court when an award sent to it is beyond the jurisdiction of the arbitrators, is not to pass a decree in accordance therewith but to remit it back to the arbitrators under the terms of para. 14 of Sch. II. (Wallace and Madhavan Nair, JJ.) RAMASWAMI CHETTIAR v. VENKATARAMA AIYAR. A. I. R. 1926 Mad. 201 : 49 M. L. J. 523.

——Sch. II, Paras 14 and 15—Authority not express.

Where the reference recited " you will make a division of the moveable and immoveable property having considered what is proper and having made a just settlement. That division we accept in every respect." Held: in making a division, not only was it open to the arbitrators to allot a definite share of the estate to each of the referring parties but it was also open to them to make the allotment subject to conditions which affect its tenure or devolution. The insertion of the condition was not the introduction into the award of a matter not referred by the parties but was merely an attachment of a condition of quality to a division which was authorised. Therefore the absence of any express mention of the condition in the reference did not exclude the power to make the division subject to the condition in dispute. 23 All. 283 (P. C.) Dist. Where according to Hindu Law, the co-parceners could have validly agreed amongst themselves to exclude the widows from succession. Held: the arbitrators could do the same. 29 M. L. J. 214: 42 All. 30, at p. 36 foll. (Kotval A. J. C.) MT. PHULA v. KUSAMSINGH. A. I. R. 1923 Nag. 70.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), Sch. II, Para. 14.

——Sch. II, Paras. 14 and 15—Arbitrators deciding entirely from personal knowledge—Award cannot be attacked if parties intended that arbitrators should decide like that.

Where parties intend that arbitrators should decide from their personal knowledge and purposely abstain from producing any evidence the award cannot be impeached on the ground that the arbitrators only decided from personal knowledge without taking evidence. (Simpson, A. J. C.) RAMLAL v. MAHADEO PRASAD. 89 I. C. 832 : A. I. R. 1925 Oudh 741.

——Sch. II, Paras. 14 and 15—Award by majority—Minority not signing—If valid.

Under the terms of a reference to arbitrators the majority opinion has to prevail in cases of dissent. All the three arbitrators heard the evidence and discussed the award, two of them being of one opinion and the other of a contrary opinion. The latter thereupon left the place, and the award was written and signed by the former alone. A note was added that the third arbitrator dissented. Held, the award was valid. (Dalal and Wazir Hasan, A. J. Cs.) DHARMUN SINGH v. SURAT SINGH. 88 I. C. 547 : A. I. R. 1925 Oudh 712.

——Sch. II, Paras. 14 and 5—Arbitration and award—Death of an arbitrator—Meaning of 'written notice'—Court's discretion.

Where two arbitrators were appointed who filed their award in Court and the Court acting under para. 14 of Sch. II, C. P. Code, remitted the award for reconsideration of certain points to the arbitrators, and one of them died before submission, and on the application of the surviving arbitrator in the presence of the defendants and plaintiffs, the Court under a mistaken belief that the deceased arbitrator belonged to the defendant's side directed the defendants to nominate another, and rejected the plaintiff's objection on the ground that it was the defendant's right to nominate the new arbitrator. In an application for revision under S. 115 challenging the legality of the order on the ground that there was no sufficient notice as required under para. 5 of the second Schedule. Held, that the meaning of the expression 'to appoint an arbitrator' in para. 5 of the second Schedule is to concur in appointment and therefore to concur in appointment is good though no arbitrator is mentioned in the notice, held, further, that the defendant's application was a 'written notice' within the requirements of the paragraph in the second Schedule, that the order of the Court was therefore within the jurisdiction with which it was vested that the unfortunate error committed by the Court was a mistake of judgment and could be rectified on revison. (Dalal, J. C. and Wazir Hasan, A. J. C.) HASAN BANO BEGUM v. WASI ALI KHAN. 11 O. & A. L. R. 53 : 2 O. W. N. 64 : 86 I. C. 613 : 12 O. L. J. 174 : A. I. R. 1925 Oudh 361.

——Sch. II, Para. 14—Powers of arbitrator—Partition—Provision for maintenance can be made.

If the arbitrators have authority to make a partition, they have authority to determine everything incidental or consequential with reference to the mode in which the partition is to be effected and the rights of the female members of the family cannot be disregarded. (Kanhaiya Lal, J. C.) MURLI DHARI v. MOOLCHAND. 10 O. L. J. 226 : 9 O. & A. L. R. 875 : 73 I. C. 39 (2) : A. I. R. 1924 Oudh 54.

——Sch. II, Para. 14—Parties representing whole property to be theirs—Third persons interested in the property but arbitrator unaware of the fact and deciding the dispute—Party to reference cannot challenge the award—Evidence Act, S. 115.

When all the parties to the reference represent to the arbitrator that whole of the properties in dispute belonged to them and that third persons had no interest in such properties, the arbitrator is justified in treating the whole of such properties as belonging to the parties to the reference. If, as a matter of fact, third persons had any interest in those properties, and the parties to arbitration agreed to have such properties partitioned between them by the arbitrator, it is not open to any one of them to contest the validity of the award on the ground that it deals with matters in which third parties are interested. (Mullick and Kulwant Sahay, JJ.) MAHOMED KHATIL v. ABDUL RAHIM. 4 Pat. 670 : A. I. R. 1925 Pat. 810.

——Sch. II, Para. 14—Award partly bad—Not valid.

Where an arbitration is made without the intervention of a Court and an application is made to file the award, then if the award is good in part, the Court cannot remit to the arbitrator for amendment or declare valid the part to which no exception is taken even if it is separable from the bad part. 19 C. W. N. 476 and 4 P. L. J. 394 Foll. (Mullick and Bucknill, JJ.) JALDHARI RAI v. MAHOMED ABDUL KABIR. 1 Pat. L. R. 244 : 4 P. L. T 669 : 74 I. C. 649 : A. I. R. 1923 Pat. 470.

——Sch. II, Paras. 14 and 15—Award—Validity of—Disputes between landlord and tenant referred to arbitration—Award thereon—Jurisdiction of Revenue Court to set aside the award.

Where the relations between a certain landlord and his tenants were strained on account of a criminal case a commutation proceeding and a civil suit pending in the respective tribunals, and by consent of both the parties the matter was referred to an arbitration to settle their disputes, and after a valid award was made by him on the question at issue the landlord sued to set aside the award in a Revenue Court. Held, having once agreed to an award the petitioner had no business to attack the award, once it had been given; under Sch II, paras. 14 and 15, C. P. Code, no award could be set aside except on the ground of fraud or misconduct (neither of which was alleged in the case) and that it was beyond the powers of the Revenue Court to set aside or amend the award. (Foley, Esq.) DALIP NARAIN v. MAHABIR SINGH. 3 Pat. L R. 139 (Rev.).

——Sch. II, Para. 14—Award should not be remitted to arbitrator when circumstances in his situation is likely to prejudice him.

When any circumstance in the situation of the arbitrator is such, as to tend to produce a bias in his mind the Court should in its discretion decline to remit an award to an arbitrator. 114 R. R. 429, Foll. (Rupchand Bilaram, A. J. C.) FIRM OF MAHOMED ALI A. KARINJI & SONS v. CHARAT SING BUD SING.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), Sch. II, Para. 14.

80 I C. 596 : A. I. R. 1925 Sind 51.

——Sch. II Para. 14 (a)—Mining of matters—Award can be remitted for correction.

The arbitrators, who were three in number, were to report their decision qua the Tohana house in question to the Court, and the parties were to be bound by the award qua the other property. The award filed was remitted as it was considered that the arbitrators should omit that part which related to the Kabai property, Held, when an award deals which a matter extraneous to the reference which matter can be separated therefrom the Court may modify the award or may remit it to the arbitrators for correction. (Broadway, J.) MANSA RAM v. KARLA RAM.
76 I. C. 1007 : A. I. R. 1923 Lah. 411.

——Sch. II, Paras. 14 (c) and 15—Illegality—Compulsion of Court.

A Court has no power to compel an arbitrator to give a decision against his will, if the arbitrator after deciding some of the issues refuses to arbitrate further. Where a Court passed an order threatening the arbitrator with contempt proceedings and thereby forced out an award from him, the award is invalid and will be set aside on revision. (Sulaiman and Kanhaiya Lal, JJ.) BASDEO MAL v. KANHAIYA LAL.
18 A. L. J. 952 : 59 I. C. 667 : 43 All. 101.

——Sch. II, Para. 14 (c)—Legal error—Must form part of award and be its basis.

An error in law on the face of the award means that there can be found in the award or a document actually incorporated thereto, as for instance a note appended by the arbitrator, stating the reasons for his judgment, some legal proposition which is the basis of the award and which can then be said to be erroneous. (Sanderson, C. J. and Walmsley, J.) SREELAL MANGTULAL v. J. F MADAN. 52 Cal. 100 : 88 I. C. 49 : A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 599.

——Sch. II, Para, 14 (c)—Awarding excess as jeshtabagam—If illegal.

Where arbitrators in partitioning joint family property gave an excess amount to the eldest brother for his trouble in managing the estate the award cannot be said to be illegal on the face of it. (Krishnan and Waller, JJ.) VAITHIANATHA AIYAR v. SUBRAMANIA AIYAR. 78 I. C. 238 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 301.

——Sch. II, Para. 15.

Absence of one party.
Apparent error.
Interpretation.
Jurisdiction.
Minor.
Private inquiry.
Procedure.
Time of filing award.
Time of objecting.
Miscellaneous.

Absence of one party.

——Sch. II, Paras. 15 and 16—Absence of one party—Decree on award—Appeal—Suit for partition—One of the defendants not a party to arbitration—Objections to award by plaintiff.

In a suit for partition all the parties excepting one of the plaintiffs and one of the defendants agreed to refer the litigation to arbitration. An award was given and the plaintiff who was a party to the arbitration preferred objections to the award. The Court, however, passed a decree in terms of the award. Held,

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), Sch. II, Para. 15—Apparent Error.

that there was no appeal from the decree on the award. 39 A. 69 followed. (Rafique and Lindsay, JJ.) HARI SHANKER v. RAM PYARI. 45 All. 441 : 21 A. L. J. 326 : L. R. 4 A. 543 : 74 I. C. 834 : A. I. R. 1923 All. 502.

——Sch. II, Para. 15—Absence of arbitrators—Joint deliberation essential—Absence of one or some of the arbitrators—Effect on award—Waiver.

No doubt all the arbitrators must be present during the whole of the deliberations but it is open to the parties to waive the absence of one of them both at the time when the evidence is taken and the time when their conclusion is reached (Greaves and Ghose, JJ.) RAMA NATH MISRA v. RAMRANJAN MISRA.
67 I. C. 866 (2) : A. I. R. 1922 Cal. 181 (1).

——Sch II, Para. 15 (1) (a)—Absence of one party—Conduct amounts to a judicial misconduct vitiating proceedings.

The evidence must be recorded by the umpire in the presence of both parties allowing each to examine and cross-examine the witnesses. Recording evidence in the absence of one party amounts to judicial misconduct on the part of the umpire and vitiates his proceedings. (Jai Lal, J.) MOHAMMOD AFZAL v. ABDUL HAMID. 7 L. L. J. 463: 88 I. C 161 : A. I. R. 1925 Lah. 570.

——Sch. II, Para. 15 (1)—Absence of one party—does not make decree an ex parte decree.

Where defendants were not present to prosecute their application to set aside their award the decree passed against them is not an ex parte decree but their application is only dismissed for default. (Das and Adami, JJ.) ROSHAN LAL v. FIRM OF BRIDHI CHAN. 1924 P. H. C. C. 170 : 3 P 839 : 83 I. C. 26 : A. I. R. 1924 Pat. 603.

——Sch. II, Para. 15—Absence of arbitrators—Agreement to abide by majority alone acting—Award if valid.

When the arbitration was to consist of five members but those who actually took part were three, the decision was not binding. (Po Han, J.) SHEIKH ABDULLA v. M. V. R. S. FIRM. 2 Bur. L J. 229 : A. I. R. 1924 Rang. 153.

——Sch. II, Para. 15—Absence of one party—Arbitrator adopting special procedure without consent of all parties affected—Award should be set aside.

An arbitrator is not entitled to adopt the procedure of a special nature unless all parties affected by it agree to the adoption of such procedure. To do so is to abrogate his function as an arbitrator, and that would be a technical misconduct. One of the parties was not present at the hearing before the arbitrator. With the consent of the other parties who were present the arbitrator disposed of the suit on the evidence of a particular witness. The absent party had not authorised anybody among the parties who were present to consent to the procedure adopted by the arbitrator. Held, that the absent party had suffered " at any rate, technical injustice " and that the award should be set aside. (Kinnedy, J. C. and Raymond, A.J.C.) DITAL v. DHANRAJMAL.
A. I. R. 1925 Sind 287.

Apparent Error.

——Sch. II, Para. 15—Apparent error of law on the face of the award—Meaning.

An error in law on the face of the award means, that you can find in the award or a document actually incorporated thereto, as for instance, a note appended by the arbitrator stating the reasons for his judgment,

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), Sch. II, Para. 15—Apparent Error.

some legal proposition which is the basis of the award and which you can then say is erroneous. (Lord Dunedin.) CHAMPSEY BHARA CO. v. JIVRAJ BALLOO SPINNING & WEAVING CO. 47 Bom. 578 : 50 I. A. 324 : 38 C. L. J. 130 : (1923) M. W. N. 596 : L. R. 4 P. C. 99 : 33 M. L. T. 419 : 28 C. W. N. 397 : A. I. R. 1923 P. C. 66 : 44 M. L. J. 706 (P. C.).

——Sch. II, Para. 15—Apparent error on the face of the award—Illegality—Arbitration by Bengal Chamber of Commerce—Sale of goods—Breach of contract—Damages—Award without inspection of goods.

The parties to a contract for the sale of goods entered into an agreement containing terms under which they would conduct business with each other, and amongst other terms the second provided that "in the event of any dispute arising as to inferiority of quality, defects or differences in the goods, the same shall be referred within 90 days of the arrival of the goods in Calcutta to the Bengal Chamber of Commerce and no claim would be entertained if made after 90 days from date of arrival of the goods." The latter part of the same clause provided that "the Chamber shall arrange for survey in accordance with its rules, that surveys shall be held on the actual goods and not on shipment samples and that all survey reports, accompanied by samples, signed and sealed by the surveyors, showing the basis on which their award has been made must be forwarded to the sellers whenever the award has been given against them. A dispute having arisen as regards the quality of goods supplied, the arbitrators passed an award to the following effect:—"We have considered the papers and as the buyers Messrs. C. & M. are unwilling to produce the bales required for inspection their claim cannot be upheld and we award that they pay and take delivery of the goods in terms of the contract." In a suit by the buyers to set aside the award on the ground of an error apparent on the face of the award. Held, that in a dispute as to the quality of the goods contracted for, it is the duty of the seller to prove that the goods are of the quality contracted for and that the award was erroneously in law on the face of it and liable to be set aside. (1923) A. C. 480 followed. (Buckland, J.) CHANDMUL MULCHAND v. NORDLINGER. 28 C. W. N. 261 : 80 I. C. 151 : A. I. R. 1924 Cal. 490. [See on appeal 28 C. W. N. 888 : 82 I. C. 341 : A. I. R. 1924 Cal: 1051]

——Sch. II, Para. 15—Apparent error—Award, setting aside—Error must appear on face of award or document forming part thereof.

An error of law on the face of the award does not mean that, if in a narrative a reference is made to a contention of one party, that opens the door to seeing, first, what that contention is and then going into the contract on which the parties' rights depend to see if that contention is sound. An error of law which vitiates an award should be apparent on the face of the award itself or of any document so connected with the award as to form part of it, as for instance, a note appended by the arbitrators stating reasons of their judgment, some legal proposition which is the basis of the award and which the Court can say is erroneous. Where the buyers were bound to take delivery of the goods in the event of late shipment owing to force majeure and the buyers alone had the option to cancel the contract in the case of late shipment due to causes other than force majeure and where the sellers had rescinded the contract of their own motion, but where all the differences between the parties were referred to arbitration, Held, that the fact that arbitrators did not grant damages to the buyers did not amount to an error apparent on the face of the award. (Rupchand Bilaram, A. J. C.) FIRM OF MADHOWRAM HARDENDAS v. MITSUI BHUSAN KAISHA, LTD. 78 I C. 230 : A. I. R. 1925 Sind 186.

——Sch. II, Para. 15—Apparent error—Award can be set as de for error in law in reasons stated in award.

An award in which an arbitrator gives his reasons for his decision which reasons are erroneous on a point of law is an award in which there is an error of law on the face of the award and should be set aside. 47 Bom 578, A. I. R. 1923 P.C. 66, Foll. (Rupchand Bilaram, A.J.C.) FIRM OF MAHOMEDALI A. KARIMJI AND SONS. v. CHARAT SING BUDSING. 80 I. C. 596 : A. I. R. 1925 Sind 51.

——Sch. II, Para. 15—Apparent error—What amounts to.

Courts cannot investigate beyond the award of arbitrators and the documents actually incorporated therein and where no error is patent on these, the Court cannot go into the proceedings of the arbitrator. (Kennedy and Rupchand Bilaram, A. J. Cs.) RAMJIBHOY & Co. v. YUSUFALI MAHOMEDALI. 80 I. C. 403 : A. I. R. 1924 Sind 151.

——Sch. II, Paras. 15 and 14—Apparent error on the face of the award—Damage granted in Pounds—Exchange rate not specified—Award not uncertain.

An error in law on the face of the award must be distinctly collected from the face of the award or from any paper so connected with the award as to form any part of it. Where, in an arbitration the arbitrator had awarded the amount claimed in pounds sterling and the rate of exchange for payment was not specified. Held that the award was not bad for uncertainty. (Raymond, A.J.C.) MESSRS. BEITH STEVENSON CO. LTD. v. FIRM OF NAROOMAL KHEMCHAND. 80 I. C. 1009 : 17 S. L. R. 86 : A.I.R. 1924 Sind 117.

——Sch. II, Para. 15—Apparent error of law vitiates award—Breach of duty though honestly caused is legal misconduct—Arbitration Act, S. 14.

The Court will set aside an award if there is an error of law patent on the face of it. The term misconduct has in the legal sense a wider significance than personal misbehaviour. "Legal misconduct" means misconduct in the judicial sense of the word not from a moral point of view and means some honest though erroneous breach of duty causing a miscarriage of justice. Where the arbitrators had admitted improper evidence and were misled by it; Held, that they had committed an error of law patent on the face of the award and that this could amount to legal misconduct.

Per Madgavkar, A. J. C.—Patent errors of law are legal misconduct on which Courts can in their inherent power, set aside the award under S. 14 of the Arbitration Act. Whether the Courts should do so or should only remit the award is a matter on which no hard and fast rules can be laid down, depending as it does on the peculiar circumstances of each case. 13 S. L. R. 201 Foll; 44 Bom. 780 Ref. 1 S. L. R. 86 Ref. (Kincaid, J. C., Aston and Madgavkar, A.J Cs.) GUNNIS & CO., LTD v. AMANMAL TULSI DAS. 17 S. L. R. 133 : 83 I. C. 353 : A. I. R. 1924 Sind 75 (F.B.)

——Sch. II, Para. 15—Apparent error—Award—"Error of law on the face of award"—Meaning of.

So long as an arbitrator acts within jurisdiction and without fraud or misconduct an award cannot be set aside unless there is an error of law which appears on the face of the award or in some document so closely connected that it must be regarded as part of the award. The expression means some legal proposition which is the basis of the award and which can be said to be erroneous. (Raymond and Rupchand Bilaram, A. J. Cs.) DUTTON MESSEY & CO. v. JAMNADAS HARPRASAD. A. I. R. 1924 Sind 51.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), Sch. II, Para.15—Interpretation.

Interpretation.

——Sch. II, Paras. 15 and 16—Interpretation—Sections do not operate where reference underPara. 1 is itself invalid.

Paras. 15 and 16 depend for their operation on a valid reference under Para. 1 of the Schedule. (Suhrawardy and Canning, JJ.) T. WANG v. SONA WANGDI. 52 Cal. 559 : 42 C. L. J. 26 : 87 I. C 633 : 29 C. W. N. 886 : A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 812.

——Sch. II, Paras. 15 (1) (c) and 16—Interpretation—Judgment according to—Award—No appeal.

The words "being otherwise invalid" in Sch. II, Para. 15 (1) (c) are intended to give effect to the principle of finality to awards. Where the judgment is according to the award there is no appeal nor a revision. 29 C. 167 Ref. (Kennedy, J. C. and Raymond, A.J.C.) EMNABAI v. FAKIR MAHOMED.
65 I.C. 50 : 15 S. L. R. 165 : A. I. R. 1922 Sind 1.

Jurisdiction.

——Sch. II, Para. 15—Jurisdiction—Submission to—Revocation—Rights of parties.

In giving leave to revoke a submission to arbitration the Court should be satisfied that a substantial miscarriage of justice will take place in the event of its refusal. It would be contrary to justice to give leave to revoke a submission to a party who, as a consideration for a contract, had agreed to submit any disputes, whether of law or fact, which might arise to arbitration, when he found the case going against him. The exercise of the power of giving leave to revoke is in general limited to cases where the arbitrators are exceeding their jurisdiction, or refusing jurisdiction, or failing to do all that their jurisdiction requires them to do, and the principle underlying the exercise of the power to revoke is, that the parties take the arbitrators for better or for worse, that their decision is final both as to law and fact, that unless a substantial miscarriage of justice may take place, leave ought not to be given, and it is no miscarriage of justice for a party to be injured by bad law which he has agreed to be bound by. (Walsh and Ryves, JJ) GAYA PRASAD v. FIRM OF MATHU LAL BUDHA LAL.
78 I. C. 1050 : L. R. 5 A. 319 : A. I. R. 1925 All. 202.

——Sch. 2, Paras. 15 and 16—Jurisdiction—Arbitration—Award—When open to attack—Jurisdiction of Court.

An arbitration, in substance, ousts the jurisdiction of the court, except for the purpose of controlling the arbitrators and preventing misconduct and for regulating the procedure after the award. So far as the hearing of the merits is concerned and the decision contained in the award, the Court has nothing to say, good, bad or indifferent. It has no right to review it or to consider it and in substance hear an appeal therefrom. (Walsh, A.C. J. and Ryves, J.) AFTAB BEGAM v. HAJI ABDUL MAJID KHAN.
22 A. L. J. 816 : 81 I.C. 525 (1) : L. R. 5 A. (Civ.) 783 : A.I.R. 1924 All. 800 (1).

——Sch II, Paras. 15 and 16—Jurisdiction—Award—Acquiescence—Objection to jurisdiction.

Where parties submitted themselves to the decision of arbitrators and a decree was passed in terms of the award, it was not open to them to seek to reverse the award on the ground of want of jurisdiction. (Piggott and Kanhaiya Lal, JJ.) SUKHNATH RAI v. NEHALCHAND. 42 All. 661 : 18 A. L. J. 644 : 59 I. C. 801 :

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), Sch. II, Para. 15—Minor.

2 U.P.L.R. (All.) 240

——Sch. II, Para. 15—Jurisdiction.

Arbitrators are judges of law as well as of fact and error of law does not vitiate the award of the arbitrators. (Das and Ross, JJ.) KOKIL SINGH v. RAMASRAY PROSAD. 3 P. 443 : 1924 P. H. C. C. 110 : 6 P. L. T. 122 : 81 I. C. 994 : A.I.R. 1924 Pat. 488.

——Sch. II, Para. 15—Jurisdiction—Award—Error in law—Question of law specifically referred—Error is not fatal—Otherwise error is fatal if apparent on face of award.

Where the arbitrators are judges both of facts and of law, error in law, if any, does not vitiate the award. Where a specific question of law is specifically referred by the parties to the arbitrators who arrived at a wrong decision of law, their award cannot be challenged though the error of law is apparent on the face of the award itself. Where, however, a specific question of law is not so referred, an erroneous decision of law may be attacked provided such error appears on the face of the award itself, or any document so closely connected as to form part of the award. (Rupchand Bilaram, A. J. C.) FIRM OF MADHOWRAM HARDEODAS v. MITSIN BHUSANI KAISHA, LTD.
78 I. C. 230 : A. I. R. 1925 Sind 186.

——Sch. II, Para. 15—Jurisdiction—Filing of suit to set aside award—Effect on pending proceedings.

The filing of a suit for declaring an arbitration invalid does not render the arbitrators functi officio or the award void. (Raymond, A. J. C.) TAYABALLY ABDUL HUSSAIN v. JAMES FINLAY & CO.
17 S. L. R. 152 : : 80 I. C. 969 A. I. R. 1924 Sind 105 (2).

Minor.

——Sch. II, Para. 15—Minor—Enforcibility—Dismissal of application to file award on ground of some parties being unrepresented minors does not render award void or otherwise unenforceable.

Dismissal of application to file an award on the ground that certain parties were minors and were not properly represented may per se deprive the adult parties to the award, of the power of enforcing it by certain effective statutory methods, but it does not render the award void or otherwise unenforceable as against those parties. (Lord Atkinson) KIRKWOOD alias MA THEIN v. MAUNG SIN. 52 I. A. 265 : L. R. 6 P. C. 160 : A. I. R. 1925 P. C. 216 (P. C.)

——Sch. II, Para. 15—Minor—Setting aside of award—Minor—Duty of Court.

A suit by some minors was referred to arbitration which ended in an award in their favour. Before the objections of the defendant were taken up for consideration, on an oral request of the parties, the court set aside the award and referred the matter to the counsel of the parties for fresh arbitration. Held, the award was valid and binding, unless set aside for one of the reasons mentioned in the C. P. Code. The Court ought to have addressed itself to the question whether the next friend of the minors could so compromise the disputes as to give the court no option but to accept the compromise and therefore to preclude the court from considering if it was to the benefit of the minors. Jurisdiction of equity courts over the interests of minors adverted to. (Piggott and Walsh, JJ.) JHINKU SINGH v. SITAL SINGH.
45 A. 263 : 21 A. L. J. 81 : L. R. 4 A. 329 : 74 I. C. 133 : A. I. R. 1923 All. 267 (2).

——Sch. II, Para. 15—Minor—Legal misconduct

It is improper on the part of an arbitrator to get the information from one side in the absence of the other or to utilise information not accessible to others

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), Sch. II, Para. 15—Private Inquiry.

but consent of parties who are sui juris will cure the defect but a minor's guardian cannot waive the minor's right to object to irregular procedure. (Spencer and Venkatasubba Rao, JJ.) (CHINTALAPUDI) SANYASI-RAO MINOR BY NEXT FRIEND VANA PILLAI ATCHAYYA v. (CHINTALAPUDI) VENKATRAO MINOR BY GUARDIAN AD LITEM CHINTALAPUDI CHINNAYYA. 17 L. W. 71 : (1923) M. W. N. 7 : 32 M.L.T. 32 : 47 Mad. 30 · A. I. R. 1923 Mad. 301 : 44 M. L. J. 263

Private Inquiry.

——Sch. II, Para. 15—Private enquiries by arbitrators—Court superseding arbitration and taking up case—Propriety of.

When an appeal was pending the parties agreed to refer their disputes to arbitrators who made an award. The award was attacked as vitiated by misconduct on the ground that the arbitrators made secret enquiries. The Court below held this to be misconduct and therefore entertained and decided the appeal on its merits without reference to the arbitration. Held, that it could not be said that the Court below acted without jurisdiction or illegally or with material irregularity in the exercise of its jurisdiction. (Daniels, J.) BABU RAM LAL v. BEHARI SINGH. L. R 5 A. 367 : A. I. R. 1924 All. 761.

——Sch. II. Para. 15—Private enquiries by arbitrator—Effect of.

Where the parties had given the arbitrator the widest possible powers and had expressly bound themselves to abide by his decision in whatsoever manner he might see fit to arrive at, the arbitrator cannot be said to be guilty of misconduct if he bases his award on private inquiries and the court acts without jurisdiction if it refuses to pass a decree in terms of the award on that ground. (Piggott and Walsh, JJ.) HUSAIN BAKSH v. LACHHMAN DAS MATHURA DAS. 20 A. L. J. 125 : 64 I. C. 934 : L. R. 3 A. 106 : A. I. R. 1922 All. 69.

——Sch. II, Para. 15—Private enquiry by arbitrator.

Where the terms of a reference to arbitration do not authorise the making of private enquiries by the arbitrator behind the back of the parties, the arbitrator making such inquiries is guilty of misconduct. If a court in such a case supersedes the arbitration, it cannot be said to act illegally or with material irregularity. (Piggott and Walsh, JJ.) GANGASAHAI v. BALDEO SINGH 20 A. L. J. 117 : L. R. 3 A. 104 : 65 I. C. 779 : A. I. R. 1922 All 64.

——Sch. II, Para. 15—Private inquiry—Private communication with parties.

An award can be justifiably set aside if in the course of the arbitration proceedings the arbitrator makes a private communication with one of the parties unknown to the other. The arbitrator renders himself guilty of legal misconduct except when such communication has been authorised by the reference itself. 4 A. L. J. 159 foll. (Piggott and Walsh, JJ.) SIA RAM v. CHET RAM. L. R. 3 A. 84.

——Sch. II, Para. 15—Private enquiries—Making of—When objectionable.

Where the parties produced no evidence and the arbitrators made enquiries from the neighbours of the parties and there was nothing to show that the inquiries were not made in the presence of the parties, the award, though no doubt based on hearsay and conjecture must be upheld. (Le Rossignol, J.) BUDH RAM v. CHANDU. 67 I.C. 866 : A.I.R. 1922 Lah. 480 (1).

——Sch. II, Para. 15—Private inquiry—Decision of arbitrator on broad principles cannot be impeached.

Where a dispute relating to joint family property is referred to an arbitrator who has special knowledge of the circumstances of the family, without any stipulation that he should decide according to any custom of Hindu Law, his decision on broad principles, cannot be impeached as arising from any misconduct (Chevis and Scott-Smith, JJ.) DWARKA DAS v. KISHAN KISHORE. 2 Lah. 114 : 61 I. C. 628 : 3 Lah. L. J. 349.

——Sch. II, Para. 15 (1) (a)—Private inquiry—Importation of personal knowledge by arbitrators depends upon agreement to refer, by parties—If option given to arbitrators to import their own knowledge or to take evidence, they are entitled to import their personal knowledge but not otherwise.

Whether the arbitrators can import their own personal knowledge into the consideration of the case before them will depend upon the terms of submission to arbitration. If the submission simply asks the arbitrators to decide a case that will not give them a right to import their own personal knowledge into the consideration of the case. But where the submission to arbitration gives them an option either to take evidence or to decide the case upon their own personal knowledge they would be entitled to import into the consideration of the case their own personal knowledge 42 All. 185 Applied. Where the reference to arbitration does not say that the arbitrators were to decide the matter in controversy upon their own personal knowledge ; but on the other hand the reference to arbitration simply asks them to decide the dispute between the plaintiff and the defendants. Held, that they cannot import into the consideration of the case anything derived from their own personal knowledge. (Devadoss, J.) R. PALAVESAM CHETTIAR v. NARAYANA AIYAR. (1925) M. W. N. 503 : 88 I. C. 660 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 1086 : 49 M. L. J. 115.

——Sch. II, Para. 15—Private enquiries.

An award passed on reference by a guardian, when the arbitrator acted upon information received in the absence of parties or on his own knowledge of facts, is vitiated by legal misconduct and would therefore be invalid. Ordinarily, an award based on information received in the absence of the parties or on the arbitrator's own knowledge of the facts in regard to the matters in issue between the parties would be invalid. But parties who are sui juris may agree to a reference that the arbitrator shall decide the dispute on his own knowledge or that there is no need for him to take any evidence : and they will be bound by such a reference and no legal misconduct can be imputed to the arbitrator, if he based his award on such materials. 42 A. 185 followed. (Spencer and Venkatasubba Rao, JJ.) CHINTALAPUDI SANYASI v. CHINTALAPUDI VENKATARAO. 73 I. C. 470 : 32 M.L.T 32 : (1923) M W. N. 7 : 17 L. W. 71 : A. I. R. 1923 Mad. 301 : 44 M. L. J. 263.

——Sch. II, Para. 15—Private enquiries—Arbitrator getting private information—Communication to other arbitrators—Effect—Revision.

Where a private information got by an arbitrator was, in the presence of the parties communicated to the other arbitrators, an award by them is not invalid. Courts proceed very warily in allowing revision in awards. (Odgers, J.) SHEIK MOHIDIN SAHEB v. RAMASAMI CHETTI. 65 I. C. 676 : (1921) M. W. N. 509 : 14 L. W. 349 : 41 M. L. J. 490.

——Sch.II, Para.15—Private enquiries—Legality of.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), Sch. II, Para. 15—Private Enquiries.

It is in no case open to an arbitrator to make private enquiries. It may be that in some cases the parties contemplate that the arbitrator should do so. Even if the parties did not contemplate it, where the Court below has found as a fact that the decision of the arbitrator was based exclusively on the evidence which he recorded in the presence of both parties there is no ground for interference. (Daniels, A. J. C.) SHEO PALTON v. SUKHDEO SINGH.

26 O. C. 107 : 74 I. C. 401 : A. I. R. 1923 Oudh 235.

——Sch. II, Para 15 (a)—Private inquiry—Consulting strangers on law point, style, etc., is not misconduct—Consulting on facts, is misconduct.

In the award the arbitrator who had been made sole arbitrator stated that he began the arbitration, in the presence of four persons whom he named and whom, he said he associated with himself in one assembly for the purpose of strengthening his own opinion. He did not get any information from those persons or made use of it in arriving at the findings of fact, held : that if he asked them questions of law, or if he consulted them as to the style, syntax or grammar of his award, he was quite within his rights as an arbitrator, but if he arrived at any findings of fact by consulting the people and if he allowed the persons sitting with him to affect his decision as assessors then it must be held that there had been misconduct. (Foster, J.) ABDUL HAKIM v. ISMAIL MOMIN. 3 Pat. L. R. 59 : 86 I. C. 773 : 6 P. L. T. 544 : A. I. R. 1925 Pat. 465.

——Sch. II, Para. 15 (a)—Private enquiry is misconduct.

No arbitrator performing his functions, which are in a sense the functions of a Judge, can listen to confidential information adverse to the one or the other party without committing grave misconduct. The words of the petition of the parties allowing the arbitrator full latitude in his method of coming to a decision cannot be interpreted as including unfair conduct. 13 C. L. J. 399 at p 402 and 14 Bom. L. R. 1007 Foll. (Foster, J.) ABDUL HAKIM v. ISMAIL MOMIN. 3 Pat. L. R. 59 : 86 I. C. 773 : 6 P. L. T. 544 : A. I R. 1925 Pat 465.

——Sch. II, Para. 15 (1)—Private inquiries—Award must not exceed submission in substance or form.

An arbitrator has no right to traverse beyond the limits of the particular matters submitted to him for decision. His award must strictly conform both in substance and in form to the submission. (Rupchand Bilaram, A. J. C.) FIRM OF MAHOMED ALI A. KARIMJI AND SONS v. CHARAT SING BUD SING. 80 I. C. 596 : A. I. R. 1925 Sind 51.

Procedure.

——Sch. II, Para. 15 (1) (a)—Procedure—Misconduct of the arbitrator.

Where after a reference to arbitration and before the making of award, the parties make an agreement about the matter in controversy and the arbitrator omits to decide that matter, or record the agreement as part of the award, such omission does not amount to a misconduct on the part of the arbitrator nor does the award become invalid. (Mears, C. J. and Ryves, J.) HARAK RAM JANI v. LAKMI RAM JANI. 43 All. 108 : 2 U. P. L. R. (All.) 310 : 60 I. C. 626 : 18 A. L. J. 960.

——Sch. II, Para. 15—Procedure—Not hearing parties.

The ordinary rule is that the enquiry before the arbitrator is assimilated nearly to the proceedings on a trial in the courts. If irregularities in procedure can be proved which would amount to no proper hearing of the matters in dispute there would be misconduct sufficient to vitiate the award without any imputation on the honesty or impartiality of the arbitrator. Therefore if the parties are not informed of any meeting, in the ordinary case that would clearly amount to misconduct on the part of the arbitrators. (Fawcett, J.) TYEBBHAI ESSUBHAI v. ABDUL HUSEIN. 25 Bom. L. R. 392 : A. I. R. 1924 Bom. 149.

——Sch, II, Para. 15—Procedure—Award not published by arbitrators—Arbitrators not guilty of misconduct nor the award invalid.

It is only where the submission provides for the making and publishing of the award that the award is not valid unless it is published. Where therefore there is not such provision in the submission, neither is the award invalid nor are the arbitrators guilty of misconduct if they do not publish the award. (Kinkhede, A. J. C.) ANANTRAM v. MURLIDHAR. 78 I. C. 194 : A. I. R. 1924 Nag. 204.

——Sch. II, Para. 15—Procedure—Decision by umpire by drawing lots does not amount to misconduct.

A dispute was referred to four arbitrators, two being appointed by each side, and a sirpanch who was appointed by both parties. The two arbitrators appointed by the plaintiffs took one view and those appointed by the defendant another. The umpire being unable to decide between them drew lots and gave a decision accordingly. Held that though the reference to lot can hardly be tolerated in an ordinary Court the action of the umpire in such a case cannot be said to amount to misconduct. (Pullan, A. J. C.) PURAN CHAND v. RAM NATH. 11 O. L. J. 685 : 84 I. C. 490 : A. I. R. 1925 Oudh 227 (2).

——Sch. II, Para. 15—Procedure—Refusal to allow evidence under honest belief of want of jurisdiction to admit it, is not misconduct.

Where a case was submitted to arbitration in the appellate stage and therefore the arbitrator refused to allow documentary evidence tendered by one party, being of opinion that his jurisdiction over the matter was the same as the Appellate Court, Held, that his award was not vitiated by misconduct. (Wazir Hasan, A. J. C.) MIRZA MUHOMED HASAN BEG v. MIR SHAKIR BEG. 11 O. L. J. 142 : 78 I. C. 378 : A. I. R. 1924 Oudh 400.

——Sch. II, Para. 15—Procedure — Arbitrator must decide according to legal rights of parties and not according to his notions as to the equities of the case.

An arbitrator has no jurisdiction to pass an award according to what he considers to be an equitable arrangement under the circumstances of the case but he is bound to decide according to the legal rights of the parties. (Rupchand Bilaram, A. J. C.) FIRM OF MAHOMED ALI A. KARIMJI AND SONS v. CHARAT SINGH BUD SINGH. 80 I. C. 596 : A. I. R. 1925 Sind 51.

——Sch. II, Para. 15—Procedure—Misconduct.

Where all that was done was that the documents and the correspondence had been perused, Held, this fact by itself did not constitute misconduct on the part of the arbitrators, but an arbitrator would entirely misconceive his duty if he takes upon himself to hear evidence behind the back of the party interested in controverting it. (Raymond, A. J. C.) JAMES FINLAY & CO., v. GUDAYAL PAHLAJRAJ. 17 S. L. R. 93: 76 I. C. 660 : A. I. R. 1924 Sind 91.

——Sch. II Para, 15—Procedure.

On a question of construction being referred to arbitration, his award cannot be set aside merely

C P. CODE (V OF 1908), Sch. II, Para. 15—Procedure.

because the Court itself would have come to a different conclusion unless he has proceeded illegally, e. g., on inadmissible evidence. (Raymond and Rupchand Bilaram, A. J. Cs.) DUTTON MASSEY & CO. v. JAMNADAS HARPRASAD. 76 I. C. 84 : A. I. R. 1924 Sind 51.

——Sch. II, Para. 15—Procedure—Award would be set aside if umpire does not inform the parties the date of hearing.

The arbitrators to whom a dispute was referred having differed, appointed an umpire under the express terms of the contract. The umpire informed both the parties of his appointment, but fixed no date of hearing. No further steps were taken by any of the parties concerned and the umpire made his award whereupon the applicants objected on the ground that they had desired to lead evidence before him but had no opportunity to do so. Held, that the duties of an umpire are identical with those of an arbitrator. And therefore the parties are entitled to a hearing before an umpire no less than before the arbitrator and it is incumbent on the umpire on appointment, to fix a day of hearing and apprise the parties of it (5 S. L. R. 89 Foll.) And in the absence of an opportunity of hearing of the parties before the umpire, the decision filing the award must be set aside (Kennedy, J. C. and Madgawkar, A. J. C.) FIRM OF DHANASING v. FIRM OF RAM CHAND. 17 S. L. R. 172 : A. I. R. 1924 Sind 27.

Time of filing Award.

——Sch. II. Para. 15 (1) (c,—Time of filing award—Filing too late—Reference—Cancellation of—Power of Appellate Court to look and treat as Commissioner's report.

Where the award was received too late and the first Court therefore cancelled the reference to arbitration, Held, the Judge had no power to look at the award at all and treating the award of an arbitrator as if it were the report of a Commissioner, when the reference to arbitration had been cancelled. (Chevis, Ag. C.J.) ARUR CHAND RAGHUNATH RAI v. AHMAD. 4 L. L. J. 48 : A. I. R. 1922 Lah. 194 (2).

——Sch. II, Para. 15 and O. 23, R. 3—Time of filing award—Partial Award—Submission after time.

There is no rule of law that a partial award is invalid but the question has to be decided on the intention of the parties, the matter being a subject of contract between them, i. e., it is valid unless there was an implied agreement that the award should be void unless an award were given in respect of all the matters referred for decision. Where after the time for submission of the award had expired. the Court passed its order, Held, it must be deemed to have exercised its power to supersede the arbitration and to deal with the suit. When a reference is made to arbitration, Court is not bound to act under Sch. II. (Phillips and Devadoss, JJ.) ALAGU PILLAI v. VELUCHAMI alias MAYILAPPA PILLAI. 18 L. W. 26 : 32 M. L. T. 369 : (1923) M. W. N. 331 : (1923) M. W. N. 509 : A. I. R. 1923 Mad. 576 : 45 M. L. J. 76.

Time of Objecting.

——Sch. II, Para. 15—Time of objecting—Objection to proceedings before reference cannot be made.

After an order of reference to arbitration is made, neither party can object to the form of proceedings anterior to the reference or to the form of issues. (Piggott and Walsh, JJ.) KANHAIYA LAL v. JAGANNATH PRASAD HANUMAN PRASAD. 43 All. 305 : 60 I. C. 857 : 19 A. L. J. 33.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), Sch. II, Para. 15—Miscellaneous.

——Sch. II, Para. 15—Time of objecting to award—Invalidity—Objection to, when to be taken—Appeal against decree on award.

An objection to an award on the ground that it is not an award or on the ground it is invalid must be made at the time when it is filed. If no objection is then taken or if it is made and disallowed, the party objecting cannot reagitate the matter by way of appeal from the decree. 26 M. 47 ; 31 A. 450 dist. 36 B. 105 Rel. (Pratt and Fawcett, JJ.) MAHOMED VALLI ASMAL v VALLI ASMAL. 26 Bom. L. R. 171 : 79 I. C. 723 : A. I. R. 1924 Bom. 324.

——Sch. II, Para. 15—Time of objecting -Charge of misconduct against arbitrator, when award is filed.

Under the second Schedule, C. P. Code, the only time for entertaining the charge of misconduct against an arbitrator is when the award has been filed. (Rankin, J.) ROBINDRA DEB MANNA v. JOGENDRA DEB MANNA. 27 C.W.N. 420 : A. I. R. 1923 Cal. 410.

Miscellaneous.

——Sch. II, Para. 15—Award—Application to set aside—Form of.

No form is prescribed for an application to set aside an award. It is sufficient if some notice of the objections to an award is given to the proper office or Court. (Macleod, C. J. and Shah, J.) GOPALJI v. CHHAGAN LAL. 45 Bom. 1071 : 63 I. C. 929 : 23 Bom. L. R. 614.

——Sch. II, Para. 15—An arbitrator is not bound to consider the decision of a Court, when such decision is referred to arbitration on appeal.

Where parties prefer an amateur Court to a professional Court, they take the risk that the decision may not be technically perfect. The law is not supposed to assist such persons to get a second decision from a professional Court, because they are dissatisfied with the decision of the amateur tribunal which they themselves have chosen. An arbitrator cannot hear an appeal against a Court and can only decide the points referred to him. Where an arbitrator was entrusted with the decision of a case, he is not bound to consider in any way the decision of a Court whose decision is referred to arbitration on appeal. (Pullan, A. J. C.) WALIULLAH v. BHAGGAN. 11 O. L. J. 570 : 80 I. C. 7 : 28 O. C. 74 : A. I. R. 1925 Oudh 269.

——Sch. II, Para. 15—Misconduct—Arbitration—Reference—Dispute as regards management—Scheme—Arbitrators appointing themselves as managers—Propriety of—Delegation of functions.

Where the parties referred a dispute as regards the management of a trust to arbitration the arbitrators in stead of deciding the dispute in favour of one or other of the parties, appointed themselves into a committee of management, Held, that the arbitrators were not themselves the best judges of whether they were fit persons to be members of a committee of management and it was impossible for them to avoid personal considerations when they came to consider the suitability of themselves as members. The award was therefore bad. An arbitrator may delegate to a third person the performance of acts of a ministerial character but this doctrine cannot be invoked to cover a case where evidence was taken in the absence of one or more of the arbitrators. (Ashworth and Simpson, A. J. Cs.) PANDIT SANKATA PRASAD v. JAGANNATH. 9 O.L.J. 410 : 26 O.C. 1 : A.I.R 1922 Oudh 276.

——Sch. II, Para. 15—Award should not be set aside on the ground of technical error.

When the parties have agreed to abide by the decision of a tribunal of their own selection, unless there has been something radically wrong and vicious in the proceeding it must not be set aside. An award should not be set aside on the ground of failure to observe the highly technical web of procedure and rules of evidence which surrounds judicial procedure. Andrews and Mitchell (1905) A. C. 78; In re. Hopper (1867) 2 Q. B. 367 Appl. (Heald and Rutledge, JJ.) MAUNG SHWE HPU v. U. MIN NYUN.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), Sch. II, Para. 15—Miscellaneous.

3 Rang. 387 : A. I. R. 1925 Rang. 383.

——Sch. II, Para. 15—Award—Setting aside—Award can be set aside—Where the arbitrator has been paternal cousin to one of the parties and the other has not known this.

A person who is related to one of the parties as his first paternal cousin is disqualified from sitting as an arbitrator if the other party was not aware of such relationship existing between him and the party mentioned. In such a case the fact of the relationship affords a real likelihood of an operative prejudice on his part. It is not necessary when the award is sought to be set aside to prove actual bias or partiality on the arbitrator's part or that the existence of the relationship produced any influence on his mind. (Rupchand Bilaram, A. J. Cs.) FIRM MOTHARAM DOWLATRAM v. FIRM MAYADAS DOWLATRAM. 78 I. C. 521 : A. I. R. 1925 Sind 150.

——Sch. II, Para. 16—Decree duly passed—No revision lies.

No revision lies against a decree which has been passed in accordance with an award under para. 16 of the second schedule, after hearing and determining in accordance with law the objections raised against the validity of the award. (Daniels, J.) JAI MANGAL CHAND v. GANPAT CHAND. L. R. 6 A. (Civ.) 156 : 86 I.C 942 : A. I. R. 1925 All. 541.

——Sch. II, Para. 16—Where application to set aside award is refused a decree must be passed in accordance with it.

An award having been made and an application to set it aside on the ground of misconduct or any other illegality having been refused the Judge has no option but to pronounce a decree in accordance with it. (Walsh, A. C. J. and Ryves, J.) GOBIND SINGH v. BHIRGUNATH SINGH. 22 A. L. J. 676 : L. R. 5 A. 465 : 82 I. C. 16 : 10 O. & A. L. R. 820 : 46 All. 686 : A. I. R. 1924 All. 788.

——Sch. II, Paras. 16 and 21—Illegal part inseparable from legal part.

Where the award does not state either the facts found by the arbitrators or the grounds for their decision and it is, consequently, impossible to hold that the award proceeded solely on these grounds which entitled the arbitrators to exercise their jurisdiction under the arbitration clause, and not on any of the grounds which did not afford a basis for the exercise of that jurisdiction. Held, that if the bad is not separable from the good, the whole is bad and the award is null and void. (Mookerjee, Ag. C. J. and Fletcher, J.) HURMUKHROY RAM CHUNDER v. THE JAPAN COTTON TRADING CO., LTD. A. I. R. 1922 Cal. 399.

——Sch. II, Para. 16—Appeal where lies.

An order adjudicating upon objections to an award under the Arbitration Act is nowhere described as an order filing or refusing to file an award and is not appealable under any law. 45 Cal. 502; 17 I. C. 90; 10 I. C. 211 followed. 43 All. 348 dissented from. (Shadi Lal, C. J. and Campbell, J.) FIRM JAI NARAIN v. FIRM NARAIN DAS. 3 Lah. 296 : 69 I. C. 583 : A. I. R. 1922 Lah. 369.

——Sch. II, Para. 16—Reference to arbitration—Decree on award—Appeal.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), Sch. II, Para. 16.

Held, on the facts that there was substantially, though not in form, a reference to arbitration by Court with the consent of parties and consequently no appeal lies against the decree passed in terms of the award. Per Napier, J. Any of the parties interested in any matter of difference in the suit may get the matter referred to arbitration without all the parties joining in the reference. (Sadasiva Aiyar and Napier, JJ.) VENKATACHALAM v. RAMANATHAN CHETTY.

15 L. W. 111 : 31 M. L. T. 52 : 70 I. C. 410 : (1921) M. W. N. 423 : A. I. R. 1922 Mad. 429.

——Sch. II, Para. 16—Power of court.

The court hearing objections against an award is not a court of appeal sitting in judgment over the award. (Wazir Hasan, A. J. C.) MIRZA MAHOMED HASAN BEG. v. MIR SHAKIR BEG. 11 O. L. J. 142 : 78 I. C. 378 : A. I. R 1924 Oudh 400.

——Sch. II, Para. 16—Appeal from decree in terms of award—Grounds of appeal.

Where a decree is passed in terms of an award under the provisions of para. 16 of Sch. II to the C. P. Code, no appeal lies against the decree on any ground except that it is in excess of the award. (Das and Ross, JJ.) SAGAR MULL v. HIRA MAHARAJ. 1925 P. H. C. C. 324.

——Sch II, Para. 16—A decree passed within ten days of filing the award is liable to be set aside in revision.

Ten days are allowed for filing objections and therefore, a Court has no jurisdiction to pass a decree in accordance with the award before the expiry of the period. A decree passed in contravention of the rule is liable to be set aside in revision. (Young, J.) ACHABER PANDE v. KULDIP SINGH. 76 I. C. 307 : A. I. R. 1925 Rang 103.

——Sch. II, Para. 16 (1)—Award without giving time for objections—Revision.

Where a Court receives an award, and without allowing time to parties to make objections, passes immediately decree in its terms, no appeal can lie from the decree so made; but the High Court can under S. 115, C. P. Code, set aside the decree and send the case back to the first Court to enable the parties to file their objections to the award. 29 All. 584 not foll. (Macleod, C. J. and Fawcett, J.) RAVJIBAI KASHIBAI v. DAHYABHAI ZAVERBHAI.

22 Bom. L. R. 1454 : 59 I. C. 811 : 45 Bom. 832.

——Sch. II, Para. 16 (2)—Revision lies from decree in accordance with award where arbitrators or Court have exceeded jurisdiction or acted with material irregularity.

It cannot be laid down as a general rule that in no case in which an award has been filed and decree passed in accordance therewith can the High Court interfere under S. 115, C. P. Code. Revision is permissible in cases in which the arbitrators or the Court may have exceeded their jurisdiction or acted with material irregularity in the conduct of the proceedings. (Suhrawardy and Page, JJ.) DEBIR-UL-DIN v. AMINA BIBI. 78 I. C. 335 : A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 475.

——Sch. II, Para. 16 (2)—Appeal—Revision—Decree on award without hearing objections.

Decree on an award overruling the objections of a party without giving him an opportunity to substantiate them by evidence, is revisable but not appealable. 89 P. R. 1902 foll. 12 A. 422; 29 A. 584 dist. (Abdul Raoof, J.) BHAGAT DARBARI RAM v. BHIKHA RAM. 3 Lah. L. J. 487 : 20 P. L. R. 1922.

——Sch. II, Para. 16 (2)—Appeal—Maintainability—Test of—Validity of reference.

A restrictive provision like the one in Sch. II, para. 16 (2), C. P. Code must be strictly construed. The decree in respect of which that section prohibits an appeal must be one which has been passed after a substantial compliance with the preceding provisions of Sch. II. In a case where the validity of the reference is attacked, the Court in order to determine whether an appeal lay must decide whether the reference was valid or not. If the reference is valid and decree is passed in terms of the award no appeal lies therefrom but if the reference is not valid it is not a decree under Sch. II and an appeal will lie as from any other decree. (Kinkhede, A. J. C.) HUSSAINBHAI BHORA v. BANSILAL. A. I. R. 1924 Nag. 338.

——————Sch. II, Para. 16 (2)—Decree on award passed without giving opportunity to objector to produce evidence—Appeal lies.

When a court has passed a decree in terms of an award after having heard arguments only, but without having given sufficient opportunity to the objector to produce evidence to substantiate his objections, an appeal to set aside the decree is competent. 15 W. R. 37 (P. C.) and 18 All. 422 (F. B.) Foll. (Carr and Brown, JJ.) DAWOODJI AND SON v. SHERWAN. 4 Bur. L. J. 39 : A.I.R. 1925 Rang. 238.

——————Sch.II, Paras. 17 and 19—Order filing agreement of reference—Refusal of arbitrators to act—Order revoking reference—If appealable.

An agreement referring disputes to arbitration was filed under para. 17 of Sch. II, but after a number of futile attempts at making the Arbitrators Act and appointing new Arbitrators to act, the court revoked the order of reference and dismissed the suit. Held the order of revocation was not appealable.

Where however an appeal is erroneously accepted and the case remanded, it is a final order and as such revisable. (Sulaiman and Daniels, JJ.) ZAHUR AHMAD v. TASLIMUN NISSA. 23 A L. J. 891 : 89 I. C. 404 : L. R. 6 A. 575.

——————Sch. II, Para. 17—Right to obtain reference through court.

Where a party has gone to arbitration in which if he had refused to go to arbitration, an order of reference would have been made under para. 17. Sch. II, C. P. Code, it is too late for him, when a difficulty arises at a later stage of the proceedings which has not been provided for unless an order of reference has been made to dispute the right of his opponent to obtain an order of reference under para. 17, Sch II, C. P. Code. (Walsh and Ryves, JJ.) FAZAL ILAHI v. PRAG NARAIN. 44 A. 523 : 20 A. L. J. 327 : L. R. 3 A. 434 : 4 U.P.L.R. (All) 156 : 67 I. C. 739 : A. I. R. 1922 All. 133.

——————Sch. II, Paras. 17 and 20—Reference to arbitration after suit—Procedure.

Where parties to a suit agree to refer the matters in dispute to arbitration without the intervention of the Court they may make the agreement an order of Court and if they do not do so, they cannot file the agreement under para. 17, nor can they file the award (if made) under paras. 20 and 21. If the parties accept the award they can get a consent decree in terms thereof. If one party disputes the award the other party can plead the award as an adjustment binding on the plff Either party can also file a suit to enforce the award and apply for a stay of the Original Suit. (Macleod, C. J and Fawcett, J.) MANILAL MOTILAL v. GOKALDAS ROWJI. 45 Bom. 245 : 59 I. C. 53 : 22 Bom. L. R. 1048.

——————Sch. II, Para. 17—Resignation of one of the arbitrators is no ground for not filing agreement.

The resignation of one of the arbitrators does not render the agreement void nor is the resignation sufficient to justify refusal to file the agreement in Court where there is a distinct provision that the party who has selected the arbitrator would be competent to appoint another in case of the disability of the resignation or death of any arbitrator. 71 P. R. 1918 dist. (Scott Smith and Dundas, JJ.) SRI RAM v. SORABJI. 3 Lah. L. J. 276.

——————Sch. II, Para. 17—Award—Award on a reference in a pending suit emb dying compromise is valid.

An award passed by arbitrators in a pending suit which merely embodies a compromise of the parties themselves before the arbitrator is a valid award and the arbitrators are not powerless to do anything more than recording the compromise and passing it on to the Court to deal with it. Accepting compromise is an adjudication of the case as is a decree of the Court founded on a compromise and to admit that an award may be challenged on the ground as the arbitrators did not themselves independently consider and decide the matter will be contrary to the principle of paragraph 15 of C. P. Code, Sch. II. (Wallace, J) L. RAMU NAIDU v. V. NAYANAPPA. 19 L. W. 562 : 1924 M.W.N. 356 : 80 I. C. 571 : A.I.R. 1925 Mad. 56.

——————Sch. II, Para. 17—Arbitration—Reference to—Application is not a suit—Award set aside—Court if can proceed.

An application under Para. 17 (1) of Sch. II, though it has to be registered as a suit, is not in fact a suit within the meaning of the Code. Where in such a case the reference proves abortive, the Court has no power to make a fresh reference. The Court has no discretion to refuse to make the reference to the arbitrators nominated by the parties. It is only when the parties cannot agree that it can exercise any discretion in the matter. (Das and Ross, JJ.) SATISH CHANDRA BOSE v. PALIRAM. 2 P.L.T. 277 : 61 I.C. 390: 6 P. L. J. 287 : 1921 P.H.C.C. 170.

——————Sch. II, Para 17—Reference pending suit—Award if can be filed—Dispute decided by Court—Effect of.

Pending a suit, parties referred to arbitrators the dispute in the suit as well as other matters. No award having been made within the time fixed or extended later, the court decided the suit. Held, the arbitrators had thereafter no authority to make an award, as it would amount to ousting the jurisdiction of the court. The remedy of the aggrieved party is only to sue the other side for damages for breach of the agreement to abide by the award. Parties cannot have an agreement to refer to arbitration disputes in a pending suit filed under Sch. II, para. 17. (Kennedy J.C. and Aston, A. J. C.) DEOMAL v. KHANOOMAL JOTHMAL. 89 I.C. 335.

——————Sch. II, Para. 17—Nomination "without prejudice—Effect—Signature to reference—Absence of.

The nomination of an arbitrator "without prejudice" is not a proper compliance with the terms of an agreement to refer disputes to arbitration each party nominating one arbitrator. It is not clear and unequivocal and if as a result the other party nominates an arbitrator for the defaulter, the latter cannot exercise his right again. The fact that thereafter the reference is signed only by the first party does not vitiate the award. (Aston, A. J. C.) RAMJIBHAI & CO. v. YUSUF ALI MAHOMED ALI & BROTHERS. 76 I.C. 261 : A.I.R. 1925 Sind 12.

——————Sch. II, Paras. 17 and 20—Application under a suit within Deccan Agriculturists Relief Act, S. 3.

An application to file a reference under clause 17 of Sch. II, C.P. Code, is not a suit and it is doubtful if an application under clause 20 to file an award even when an agriculturist is a party can be called a suit: but in any case it is not a suit of the description mentioned in S. 3, Cl, (w), (y) or (z) of the Deccan Agriculturists' Relief Act and the Court can file the award to which an agriculturist is a party and on whose property a mortgage is created by the award without adjusting accounts under Ss. 12 and 13 of the Act, (Kennedy, J.C. and Madgavkar, A.J.C.) HOT CHAND BAL CHAND v. KISHIN CHAND.

17 S.L.R. 178 : A. I R. 1924 Sind 23.

——Sch. II, Paras. 17 (1) and 18—Parties prosecuting case before arbitrators—Cannot challenge award on ground of jurisdiction.

Where the parties accepted the decision of the Court who referred the matter in suit to arbitrators and appeared and fully prosecuted their case before the arbitrators. They could not afterwards, challenge the award on the ground of want of jurisdiction in the tribunal chosen by themselves. 41 Mad. 115 Ref, (Piggott and Kanhaiya Lal, JJ.) SUKHNATH RAI v. NEHAL CHAND. 42 All. 661 : 18 A. L. J. 644 : 59 I. C. 801 : 2 U.P.L.R. (A) 240.

——Sch. II, Para. 18—Suit after—Reference—No application for stay by deft.

Where after a reference to arbitration one of the parties brings a suit against the other and the latter deliberately refrains from applying for stay of the suit, he must be deemed to have waived his right to arbitration. 47 Cal. 752, 41 Mad. 115 not foll. (Piggott and Walsh, JJ.) CHUNNI LAL POSTI MAL v. FIRM PHOOL CHAND FATEHCHAND.
44 A 292 : L.R. 3 A. 96 : 65 I. C. 795 : 20 A.L.J. 128 : A. I. R. 1922 All. 48.

——Sch. II, Paras 18 and 22—O. 17, R 3—Reference to arbitration—Stay of suit

Where in spite of an agreement to refer to arbitration, the plff. filed the suit and after it was stayed by the Court one of the arbitrators refused to act, held, that the plff. is entitled to a removal of the stay. The suit was not barred by the agreement to refer to arbitration. (Macleod, C.J. and Shah, J.) LAXMAN v. MANJUNATH. 45 Bom. 1181 : 64 I.C. 289 : 23 Bom. L.R. 511, ——Sch. II, Paras. 18 and 20—Award—Institution of suit pending arbitration—Effect of—Power of arbitrators.

If the Court has refused to stay the action or if the defendant has abstained from asking it to do so the Court has seisin of the dispute and it is by its decision and by its decision alone that the rights of the parties are settled. As soon as the suit is instituted the arbitrators lose their authority. If the defendant still desires that the controversy should be decided by arbitration, he must endeavour to obtain a stay of the suit by an appropriate application under para. 18. If the application is refused by the Court in the exercise of its discretion, the remedy by arbitration ceases to be available. If the suit is stayed, two possible contingencies may require consideration. If the arbitrators have not yet made an award they are free to bring their proceedings to a termination and make an award in accordance with law. If, on the other hand, the arbitrators have made an award after the institution of the suit, the award cannot be pleaded as an effective bar to the suit. The award so made should be brought up before the Court under para. 20 : the Court will refuse to enforce it under para. 21 read with para 14 (c) ; and as the award will thus stand cancelled because made without jurisdiction the arbitrators will be left free thereafter to resume their proceedings on the basis of the original reference. If this view were not adopted, the result would follow that a party to a submission who had appeared throughout and had taken his chance before the arbitrators might at the very last moment, when the award, possibly an adverse award, was about to be made and when there would be no time left for his opponent to obtain a stay order, institute a suit and thereby render infructuous the entire proceedings. Where the defendant did not take recourse to the proper procedure namely. to apply for stay of the suit cancellation of the award as made without jurisdiction and thereafer remission of the matter to the arbitrators even if his failure was possibly attributable to ignorance of the law. Held, the agreement to refer to arbitration not having provided for reconstitution of the committee of arbitrators, if one of them should die, the award must be rejected as made without jurisdiction and the suit should be tried on the merits by the Court. (Mookerjee and Chotzner, JJ.) SARAT CHANDHA SEN v. RAJKUMAR MOOKERJEE. 26 C. W. N. 967 : 35 C. L. J. 432 : 69 I. C. 863 : A. I R. 1923 Cal. 135 (2).

——Sch. II, Para. 18—Stay of suit—Arbitration clause in indent—Bills of Exchange—Acceptance by buyer.

A buyer placed an indent for the purchase of certain cotton goods with the seller, who, after shipment of the goods drew bills of exchange against the buyer. The buyer accepted the bills but subsequently refused to pay. In a suit by the seller upon the accepted but unpaid bills, the buyer relied on a clause in the indent that if any claim or dispute arose in connection with the contract it should be referred to arbitration and applied for stay of proceedings under Sch. II, para 18 of the C. P. Code. The seller relied on a clause in the indent to the effect that the bills drawn by the sellers on the buyers must be accepted and paid at maturity notwithstanding any objection the buyers may have regarding any variation in the terms of the indent. Held, that the buyer could not claim a stay of proceedings in the suit. 2 Lah. 19 dist. (Scott Smith and Abdul Qadir, JJ.) RADHA BIHARI DIWAN SINGH v. G. B. ALEXANDER 66 I. C. 43 : 2 Lah. 335 : A. I. R. 1922 Lah. 3.3.

——Sch. II, Para. 18—Agreement to refer disputes to arbitration—Suit by one party for damages for short supply of goods—Suit if should be stayed.

When a Court is apprised that a suit has been instituted in contravention of an arbitration agreement, the Court has a discretion to stay the suit and the burden lies on the plaintiff to show that some sufficient reason exists why the matter should not be so referred and not on the defendant to show that no such reason exists. (Shadi Lal, C, J. and Leslie Jones, J.) GANESH DAS ISHAR DAS v. DURGA DAT JAGANNATH. A. I. R. 1922 Lah. 97 (1).

——Sch. II, Para. 18—Suit in contravention of agreement—Court can stay.

A Court has discretion to stay a suit instituted in contravention of an arbitration agreement unless there is sufficient reason and the burden of proving that there is sufficient reason lies on the plaintiff. (Leslie Jones and Broadway, JJ.) VOLKART BROTHERS v. FATEH MUHAMMED. 61 I. C. 322 : 3 U. P. L. R. (Lah) 48.

——Sch. II, Para. 18—Suit in contravention of an agreement to refer—Stay.

Where a suit is filed in contravention of the arbitration agreement and the Court comes to know of the agreement, it may stay the suit and in such case, the plff. has to prove sufficient reasons for filing the suit and the deft. is not bound to show absence of such reason. (Shadilal, C. J. and Leslie Jones, J.) GANESA DAS ISAR DAS v. DURGA DATTA JAGAN NATH. 2 Lah. 19 : 60 I. C 776 : 3 Lah. L. J. 61.

——Sch. II, Para. 18—Arbitration—Pendency of

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), Sch. II, Para. 18.

—Institution of suit—Effect of.

The institution of a suit does not by itself supersede a previous reference to arbitration, dealing with the same subject matter; but if, after the institution of the suit, neither party applies for a stay of the hearing of the suit under Sch. II, para. 18 either at the time of the settlement of issues or before, such a failure has the effect of superseding the arbitration for good; and any decision which might be arrived at in that suit would be binding on the parties as if no such reference to arbitration had been made prior to the suit. 41 Mad. 115, 12 A. L. J. 75 Ref. If an application is made under Sch. II, Para. 11 for the stay and the stay is granted, the arbitration can proceed; but if such stay is refused and the order refusing the stay becomes final, the arbitrator becomes functus officio. There is, however, a third contingency, viz. where no application for stay is made within the time allowed by law. The effect of the institution of the suit and its decision would in such a case equally be to supersede the arbitration and render any award made therein after the institution of the suit unenforceable at law. (Kanhaiya Lal, J. C.) ZAINAB v. BUDHUA.
25 O. C. 63 : 68 I C. 235 : A. I. R. 1922 Oudh 158.

———Sch. II, Para. 18—Stay of suit—Grounds.

In case of an agreement to allow disputes to be tried by another tribunal, the court will take into consideration all those grounds as in a case of submission to arbitration. Where the plffs'. residence, place of contract and the inspections of the ship happen to be in one place there are no grounds for staying the suit or refusing to entertain it at that place. (Crouch, A. J. C.) KIJRSESHI AND SONS v. SOOMAR HAJI.
15 S. L. R. 88.

———Sch. II, Para. 19—Provisions of C. P. Code apply to proceedings under.

C. P. Code Sch. II is not complete in itself. Per Macpherson, J The provisions of C. P. Code apply as far as possible, to the proceedings under Sch. II, of the Code. (Coutts and Macpherson, JJ.) MAHABIR PRASAD v. BAL KISHAN DAS. 62 I. C. 927. (P.)

———Sch. II, Para. 20—Jurisdiction over subject-matter—What is.

Where the facts were that there was no substantial question decided by the award affecting property within the jurisdiction of the Berar Court and no one of the three temples to the management of which the award related, was within that jurisdiction, and two of them were within the dominions of the Nizam and outside British India and a large part of the award related to family questions and money payments to be made by members of the family, and all the members of the family were residing within the Nizam's Dominions but merely two of the villages which formed the principal endowments of the temples were situated in Berar, Held, that does not give the Berar Courts jurisdiction to file the award especially when there was no dispute concerning the ownership or management of the villages nor any denial that the revenues must be appropriated to the three temples. (Lord Phillimore). RAMLAL HARGOPAL v. KISAN CHANDRA. 51 Cal. 361 : 7 N. L. J. 62 : 20 N. L. R. 33 : 34 M. L. T. 62 : 19 L. W. 549 : 22 A. L. J. 386 : 26 Bom. L. R. 586 : 51 I. A. 72 : (1924) M. W. N. 79 : 28 C. W. N. 977 : L R 5 P. C. 216 : A. I. R. 1924 P. C. 95 : 46 M. L. J. 628 (P. C.).

———Sch. II, Paras. 20 and 14—Order rejecting an application to file an award—Effect.

An order rejecting an application to file an award is not a decision that the award is bad in law. (Mears, C. J. and Ryves, J.) HARAKH RAM JANI v. LAKSHMI RAM JANI. 43 All. 108 : 2 U. P. L. R. All. 310 : 60 I. C. 626 : 18 A. L. J. 960.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), Sch. II, Para. 20.

———Sch. II, Para. 20—Suit to enforce award is maintainable though no order for filing the award is obtained.

A suit can be filed to enforce an award without the plaintiff first obtaining an order that the award itself shall be filed. The validity of the award can be assailed in that suit. (Macleod C. J. and Coyajee, J.) ABDUL AZIZ v. CHANDU SONU.
27 B. L. R. 652 : 89 I. C. 68 : A. I. R. 1925 Bom. 418.

———Sch. II, Para. 20—Submission pending probate proceedings.

There is nothing to prevent the parties going to private arbitration with regard to the division of the estate although probate proceedings are pending in a Civil Court in respect of a will concerning the same estate. (22 Bom. L. R. 1048 Ref.) The mere fact that it was entered upon before the probate proceedings had come to an end cannot possibly affect the question of its legality. (Macleod, C. J. and Crump J.) SHANKAR v. RAMCHANDRA. 25 Bom. L. R. 437 : A. I. R. 1923 Bom, 365.

———Sch. II, Para. 20—Suit to enforce award—Award not filed.

An award was made on an arbitration out of Court. An application to file was numbered as a suit but was summarily rejected as being time-barred. Plff. filed a regular suit to enforce the award. Held, that the bar of res judicata did not apply. (Macleod, C. J. and Fawcett, J.) RAJMAL v. MARUTI.
22 Bom. L. R. 1377 : 59 I. C. 755 : 45 Bom. 329.
See also (Mears, C. J. and Ryves, J.) HARAKH RAM JANI v. LAKSHMI RAM JANI. 18 A. L. J. 960.

———Sch. II. Paras. 20 and 21—Matters referred already—Subject-matter of suit—Paras do not apply.

Paras. 20 and 21 do not apply were the matters referred to arbitration are already the subject matter of a suit between the parties to the reference. (Macleod, C. J. and Fawcett, J.) MANILAL MOTILAL v. GOKALDAS ROWJI. 45 Bom. 245 : 59 I. C. 53 : 22 Bom. L. R. 1048.

———Sch. II, Para. 20—Compromise decree—Provision to work out details by arbitration—Law applicable.

A compromise decree in a partition suit provided for the details being worked out by arbitration. Held it must be construed to mean arbitration without the intervention of court and hence the provisions of the second Schedule C. P. Code applied. (Newbould and Pearson, JJ.) HEM CHANDRA KUNDU v. JNANENDRA CHANDRA KUNDU. 90 I. C. 624.

———Sch. II, Para. 20—Absence of arbitrator—Objections—Waiver.

If a party to an arbitration proceeding fails to take an objection to the absence of one out of several arbitrators, he will be deemed to have waived his right to take objection to the whole of the irregularity caused thereby and the award must be filed. (Greaves and Ghose, JJ.) RAMNATH MISRA v. RAMRANJAN MISRA. 67 I. C. 866 (2) : A. I. R. 1922 Cal. 181. (1).

———Sch, II. Para. 20—Court in accepting the award must accept or refuse it as a whole, but it cannot correct the same itself.

Where the arbitration was without the intervention of the Court and where the award had been given on such reference. Held : that the only course open to the Court was to order the award to be filed and to pronounce judgment according to the award or to refuse to order that the award be filed, and that it was not open to the Court to correct the award itself. (Jai Lal, J.) MOHAMMOD AFZAL v. ABDUL HAMID.
7 L. L. J. 463 : 88 I. C. 161.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), Sch. II, Para. 20.

A. I. R. 1925 Lah. 570.

——— —Sch. II, Paras. 20 and 21—Award on Private reference—Institution of suit prior to commencement of proceedings by arbitrators—Jurisdiction of arbitrators—Legality of the contract of submission—Enquiry into—Suit to set aside the award—Maintainability.

Where an action has been commenced on a contract containing a provision for reference to an arbitrator of any dispute arising under the contract and is pending, no application to stay the action having been made or such application having been made and refused, an award made by the arbitrator under the provision for reference upon the subject matter of the action, subsequent to the commencement thereof and without the consent of the plaintiff is invalid and will not afford defence to the action. When the same matter comes before two tribunals a public tribunal appointed by the sovereign and, domestic forum chosen by the parties and no order is made staying the proceedings before the one or the other, the public tribunal alone must decide that matter and cannot be hampered by any adjudication by the private tribunal. Neither can that adjudication be pleaded as a bar to the action, nor can it be allowed to affect the merits of the decision given by the public tribunal. The law does not permit the same question to be decided by a court of law as well as by an arbitrator, and it is only when the dispute between the two tribunals is identical that a decision given by the arbitrator must be treated as ultra vires. There is no authority in support of the proposition that an award made after the commencement of an action must be treated as invalid even though the award deals with a question which is not in controversy in the action. 47 C. 752; 47 C. 849; 41 M. 115; 56 I. C. 150 dist. An award made after the commencement is not invalid if it deals with a question not in controversy in the action. (Shadi Lal C. J. and Campbell, J.) JAI NARAIN BALEN LAL v. NARAIN DAS JAINI MAL. 3 Lah. 296: 69 I C. 583: A. I. R 1922 Lah. 369.

———Sch. II, Para. 20 and O. 23, R. 3—Filing award—If overrides power to adjust disputes.

The power given by Sch. II, Para. 20 to any person interested to apply to a court to have an award filed in court does not override the general power under O. 23, R. 3, to adjust disputes by a lawful compromise at any time after the institution of a suit. (Spencer and Devadoss, JJ.) CHINTALAPALLI CHINNA DORAYYA v. VENKANNA. A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 50.

———Sch. II Para. 20—'Person interested'—Stranger to arbitration.

A person who is a stranger to the submission to reference and under no obligation to abide by the award could not avail himself of it and could not be said to be a person interested in the award within Sch. II. para 20, C. P. Code. (Ashworth and Simpson. A. J. Cs.) PANDIT SANKARA PRASAD v. JAGANNATH. 9 O. L. J. 410: 69 I. C. 714: 26 O. C. 1: A I. R. 1922 Oudh 276.

———Sch. II, Paras. 20 and 21—Private reference—Compromise modifying award—Decree on award—No appeal lies.

Held by Daniels and Lyle, A. J. Cs. (Kanhaiya Lal J. C. dissenting) that a court is competent on an application under Sch. II, para. 20, C. P. Code to pass a decree on an award as modified by a lawful compromise filed by the parties and that from a decree so passed no appeal lies except in so far as the decree is in excess of or not in accordance with the award so modified. 31 C. 516: 45 B. 245: 37 B. 639: 2 Lah. 114: 27 A. 526: 29 M. 303: 4 Pat. L. J. 394; 30 P. R. 1914; 21 C. L. J. 248 Ref. (Kanhaiya Lal, J.C. Lyle and Daniels. A.J.Cs.) HAKIM FAZAL AHMAD v. ENAYAT AHMAD 25 O. C. 213: 9 O. L. J. 219: 68 I. C. 209: A. I. R. 1922 Oudh 189.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), Sch. II, Para. 20.

———Sch., II, Paras. 20 and 14—Portion of award not within the arbitrator's jurisdiction—Portion separable from the rest—It is invalid but the rest of the award may be filed.

Even in cases of a reference to arbitration without the intervention of a Court, when an application is made under paragraph 20 to file an award, the Court is competent to make an order to file an award even where the award deals with matters in excess of the authority conferred upon the arbitrator, where the portion of the award dealing with such matters can be separated from the rest of the award. 36 All. 336 (P. C.) Foll.; 1923 Patna 470, Not Foll. The ground upon which the Court can refuse to file an award under paragraph 21 is the ground upon which the Court should remit an award under paragraph 14, and as the Court cannot remit an award under paragraph 14 if the portion in excess of the arbitrator's authority be separable from the rest, it follows that it cannot refuse to file the award under paragraph 21 in those circumstances. (Mullick and Kulwant Sahay, JJ.) MAHOMED KHALIL v. ABDUL RAHIM. 4 Pat. 670 A. I. R. 1925 Patna 810.

———Sch. II, Paras. 20, 1, 16, 17, and 21—Reference to arbitration pending suit without sanction of court—Suit subsequently withdrawn—Decision by arbitrators—Error of law—Effect—Enlargement of time for award—Fresh submission.

Para. 1 of Sch. II, C. P. Code is not mandatory; it is permissive. If the parties apply to the Court for an order of reference then the Court must keep control over the proceedings up to the end. But it is not necessary for the parties to take this course, and there is nothing to prevent their getting the suit dismissed by consent. Then the whole matter is at large and the parties can go on with the arbitration. Where there is no suit pending when an application is made to the Court under para. 20, Sch. II, C.P. Code there is nothing to bar the procedure under Para. 20 in the fact that the original agreement to arbitrate was made while a suit was pending. Paras. 20 and 21 provide for an adequate check of the proceedings before the award becomes a rule of the Court. This is all that is necessary. Held, that where pending a suit a reference to arbitration was made without the intervention of the court and subsequently the suit was withdrawn proceedings fell directly within the terms of para. 20 because the matter was referred to arbitration without the intervention of the Court. The Court made no order in the matter of arbitration in the original suit which was simply dismissed. 29 C. 167 : 30 C. 218 · 38 B. 687: 36 M. 358 Ref. An enlargement of time for the award is equivalent to a fresh submission to arbitration. Arbitrators are Judges of law as well as judges of fact and error of law certainly does not vitiate their award. (Das and Ross, JJ.) KOKIL SINGH v. RAMESRAY PRASAD CHOWDHARY.

3 Pat. 443 : 1924 P. H. C. C. 110 : 6 P. L. T. 122 : 81 I. C. 994: A. I. R. 1924 Pat. 488.

———Sch. II, Paras. 20 21 and 14—Award—Partly in excess of reference—Filing of a portion of the award.

Where a portion of the award is in excess of the reference, it is open to the Court to pass a decree and enforce the award so far as it relates to the dispute between the parties. (Brown, 4. J. C.) MAUNG TIN v. MAUNG POYA. 1 Bur. L. J. 265 : 72 I. C. 193 : 4 U. B. R. 157 : A. I. R. 1923 Rang. 130.

———Sch. II, Para. 20 (2)—Application to file an award—Limitation Act, S. 6 is not applicable.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), Sch. II, Para. 20.

An application to file an award does not become a suit by the provision of para. 20 (2), Sch. II, C.P. Code and hence the applicant cannot claim the benefit of S. 6 of the Limitation Act. (Pratt and Carr, JJ.) MA THEIRN TIN v. MAUNG BA THAN.

1 R. 256: 76 I. C. 493: A. I. R. 1923 R. 226.

———Sch. II, Para 20 (3)—Arbitrator changed with consent of parties, but without Court's intervention—Award is valid.

Where a change in the personnel of the arbitrators was made with the approval of the Defendant, but without the intervention of the Court. Held, that defendants cannot object to the validity of the award. (Walmsley and Suhrawardy, JJ.) MAHMAD SHEIKH v. KENKINARAH CO. LTD.

28 C. W. N. 634: 81 I. C. 574: A.I. R. 1924 Cal. 665.

———Sch. II. Para. 21—Private reference—Power of Court to amend award.

Where a reference to arbitration is made without reference to Court and an award is given, the courses open to the Court are to order it to be filed and pronounce judgment on its basis or to refuse to order that the award be filed. It is not open to the Judge to correct the award. (Jai Lal, J.) MAHOMED AFZAL v. ABDUL HAMID.

7 Lah. L. J. 463 : 88 I. C. 161 : 26 Punj. L. R. 706 : A. I. R. 1925 Lah. 670.

———Sch. II, Para 21—Award must be enforceable at law.

A Court must, before enforcing award, satisfy itself that it is enforceable in the same way as a decree is enforceable if it were a decree. Where an award is a mere declaration of the respective rights and liabilities of the parties or is an attempt to pass a sort of order for specific performance in a matter where no such decree can be passed in law, it would not be enforceable. (Piggott and Walsh, JJ.) SUKHAMAL BANSIDHAR v. BABULAL.

42 All. 525 : 18 A. L. J. 652 : 59 I. C. 75 : 2 U. P L. R. (All.) 243.

———Sch. II, Para. 21—Award—Death of parties pending hearing—Minor representatives not impleaded—Effect of—No prejudice.

The parties to a dispute referred it to arbitration agreeing that they and their heirs would be bound by the award. The adult parties adduced all the oral evidence and filed all the documents before the arbitrators. During the hearing of the arguments it was brought to the notice of the arbitrators that one of the parties had died, thereupon the arbitrators gave time to bring on record the minor representatives of the deceased and for appointment of a guardian. Nothing was done within the time and thereupon the arbitrators gave their award. On an application to the court to file the award, it was objected that the award was not binding because the minors had not been represented in the proceedings. Held, that having regard to the terms of the reference and to the fact that the interests of the minor were properly represented by the other parties on record, the award was binding on all the parties. It is true as a general principle that a person who is not a party to or properly represented in any proceedings should not be bound by those proceedings. But proceedings before arbitrators are not intended to be carried on according to the rules of procedure contained in the C. P. Code. If there is a binding reference to arbitration all that is necessary to be seen is that there is a substantial representation of the different interests before the arbitrators. There is no rule of procedure by which the arbitrators could substitute the legal representatives of a deceased party or appoint guardians ad-litem for infants. If it be held that the arbitrators could not go on with the arbitration if the representatives or some other persons did not choose to come before the arbitrators, the result would be that although the reference would not abate on the death of a party under the law, the arbitrators would in fact be unable to make an award and the arbitration would come to an end. The question therefore whether the award given in the absence of the representatives of a deceased party would be binding or not depends on the circumstances of the case. If there has been a substantial representation of the interests of the legal representatives by the other parties on the record and if the enquiry is full and fair, the award will be binding and a decree could be passed thereon. 31 All. 572 : 15 C. L. J. 360 dist. (Woodroffe and Ghose, JJ.) BINAYAKDAS ACHARYA CHOWDHURY v. SASI BHUSAN CHOUDHARY.

26 C. W. N. 804: A. I. R. 1922 Cal. 226.

———Sch. II, Para. 21—Award—Subsequent suit to set aside the award does not lie.

Matters heard and determined in proceedings under para 21 cannot be reopened in a subsequent suit between the same parties brought for the purpose of setting aside the award and the decree following upon the judgment delivered in accordance therewith. 25 C. 757 Ref. (Teunon and Richardson, JJ.) GURU CHARAN SIRCAR v. UMA CHARAN SIRCAR.

70 I. C. 985 : 26 C. W. N. 940.

———Sch II, Para 21—Validity of award—Disputes arising from contract—Power of arbitrator to determine existence of contract.

Where a contract provides for submission of disputes to arbitration it is competent for the arbitrators under the terms of the submission to decide whether or not an alleged interpolation was in the contract as originally made. (Greaves, J.) In the matter of an Arbitration between, ALIBHOY MAHOMMAD AND BAIJA NATH.

59 I. C. 439 : 24 C W. N. 567.

———Sch. III, and S. 47—Sale by Collector—Objection—Effect of Suit by purchaser for title—If barred by S. 47.

If an objection has been raised as to a sale by a Collector, his powers to confirm the sale are suspended and he must refer the objector to the Civil Court. A purchaser's suit to establish his title to the property sold, is not barred by S. 47 of the Code. (Macleod, C. J. and Shah, J.) BALWANT DASS v. UMA BAI SHANKAR RAO.

45 Bom. 812 : 61 I. C. 287 : 23 Bom. L. R. 254.

———Sch. III—Collector in management—Sale with the permission of Collector—Not an execution sale.

A sale by a judgment-debtor with the permission of the Collector who is in management of the property under Sch. III, C. P. Code, has not the same effect as a sale by the Collector in execution but only amounts to a private sale. (Baker, J. C.) SHEOKISAN v. DOMA.

87 I. C. 995 : A. I. R. 1925 Nag. 341.

———Sch. III—Amended C form is not now C form.

Because a new number is given to the proceedings on the corrected "Form C", the original proceedings received by the Collector are not terminated when the "Form C" is returned for amendment but remains pending while it is with the Civil Court and continues on its return. (Hallifax, A. J. C.) HAR LAL v. NARAYAN.

18 N. L. R. 152 : A. I. R 1922 Nag 267.

———Sch. III, Para. 1—Transfer of decree for execution—Powers of Collector.

Where the decree of a Civil Court is sent to the Collector for execution, the Collector has absolute jurisdiction to find out the best method for raising money in order to satisfy the Civil Court decree, but beyond that he had no jurisdiction to decide how much money was due to the decree-holder and how much of the decree had been satisfied. (Stuart and Mookerjee, JJ.) ABDUL SHAKUR v. MAHOMED MATIN. 22 A. L. J. 202 : L. R. 5 A. 93 : 78 I. C. 429 : 46 A. 414 : A.I.R. 1924 All. 307.

———Sch. III, Para. 1—Mortgage decree—Executing authority may mortgage the property to satisfy decree.

It is open to the executing authority to effect a mortgage of a part of the property to satisfy a mortgage decree. (Shah, A. C. J. and Kincaid, J.) BECHARSANG BHUPATSANG v. NARAN MOTI MEGHJI. 27 B. L. R. 217 : 86 I. C. 846 : A. I. R. 1925 Bom. 277.

———Sch. III, Para. 11—Award in the form of a special case—Leave of Court.

If there is any difficulty in point of law as to which the opinion of the Court should be taken, provision is made in cl. 11 of the 2nd schedule of C. P. Code for making the award in the form of a special case with the leave of Court. (Sanderson, C.J. and Walmsley, J.) SREE LAL MANGTULAL v. MADAN. 52 Cal. 100 : 88 I. C. 49 : A. I. R 1925 Cal. 599.

———Sch. III, Para. 11—Execution before Collector—Satisfaction by taking a lease—Surrender of tenancy right to landlord—If an alienation.

Where a decree is sent to the Collector for execution and the decree-holder accepts a 15 years' lease in full satisfaction, the execution proceedings are ipso facto put an end to. The mere fact that the Collector keeps the proceedings pending does not make any alienation subsequent thereto invalid. A surrender of a tenancy right in favour of the landlord is not an alienation within the meaning of Rule 11. (Findlay, O. J. C.) MAROTI v. KRISHNA RAO. 89 I. C. 174 : A. I. R. 1925 Nag. 455.

———Sch. III, Para. 11—Incompetency to alienate—Extent of.

Where a decree is transferred to a Collector for execution, the incompetency to alienate prescribed by para. 11 of Sch. III, C. P. Code, exists till the decree is satisfied and proceedings in appeal or revision therefrom are completed. (Baker, J. C.) SETH BALLABHDAS v. SOBHA SINGH. A. I. R. 1924 Nag. 216 (2).

———Sch. III, Para. 11—Sale in contravention of—Obligation to refund.

Where a sale takes place in contravention of para. 11, Sch. III, C. P. Code, without either party knowing he was violating the law, equity requires that money paid should be refunded. (Prideaux, A. J. C.) NARAYAN v. MOTISA. 20 N. L. R. 87 : 78 I. C. 343 : A. I. R. 1924 Nag. 132.

———Sch. III, Para. 11—Scope of--Attachment and sale of an unexpired portion of the lease granted by the Collector not void undar para. 11 if lease is under para. 1.

The assumption, that, under paragraph 11, Sch. III of the C. P. Code in every case where the Collector exercises any powers or duties under preceding paras. 1 to 10, the whole of the judgment-debtor's immoveable property comes under the jurisdiction of the Collector and the judgment-debtor becomes incompetent to deal with it without the Collector's written permission, is not correct. When the Collector proceeds under para. 1 of the Schedule, his jurisdiction only extends to the property ordered to be sold and the lease of his whole property is outside his jurisdiction. There is therefore no infringement of the provisions of para. 11 if unexpired portion of the lease is attached and the attachment is not void. 16 N. L. R. 64 App. (Kotval, A. J. C.) GANGARAM v. RAMGOPAL. 18 N. L. R. 131 : A. I. R. 1922 Nag. 243.

———Sch. III, Para. 11—Object of—Attachment before judgment—Mortgage during pendency of.

The object of Sch. III, para. 11, C. P. Code, is to protect the debtor as far as possible from the risk of losing his property wholly or for all time and mere attachment before judgment cannot defeat that object for by such attachment alone the property is not exposed to the risk of such loss. Attachment before judgment is not a process in execution of decree for at the time of attachment there is no decree and no process that could be issued in execution of the same is consequently an attachment before judgment is not prohibited by Sch. III, para. 11, C.P. Code. 26 C. 531 Ref. (Kotval, A. J. C.) BANSILAL v. SITARAM. 68 I. C. 188 : A. I. R. 1922 Nag. 238.

———Sch. III, Para. 11—Scope.

The judgment-debtor does not charge the property by agreeing to sell it or accepting the purchase-money, but the charge arises by operation of the law out of that transaction and therefore the paragraph 11, Sch. III, does not apply to the case. (Hallifax, A. J. C.) AMOLAK RAO v. MAHIPAT RAO. A I. R. 1922 Nag. 81

———Sch. III, Para. 11—Judgment-debtor—Incompetency to transfer.

The Collector's powers under Para. 11 do not come to an end as soon as the property is sold by auction and fetches more than the decretal amount. They exist at least till the confirmation of the sale. (Mitra, A. J. C.) MAHDEO v. KRISHNAJI. 60 I. C. 310 : 16 N. L. R. 194.

———Sch. III, Para. 11—Civil Court cannot direct execution against property under Collector's control.

No Civil Court can order, in execution of a money decree, the appointment of a Receiver to take the annual income of a property which is within the control of the Collector under S 68. But in the particular circumstances of the case, as the objection was raised by the judgment-debtor and that at very late stage, the Court refused to order the refund of the moneys actually collected but directed the removal of the receiver. (Dalal, J. C. and Wazir Hasan, A. J. C.) JANG BAHADUR v. BANK OF UPPER INDIA LTD., LUCKNOW. 12 O. L. J. 146 : 87 I. C. 21 : 2 O. W. N. 73 : A. I. R. 1925 Oudh 448.

———Sch. III, Para. 11 and S. 68—Property under management of Collector—Mortgage without sanction—Validity of—Payment of debts by mortgagee—Right to subrogation.

Where property is under the management of the Collector entrusted with the execution of a decree under S. 68, C. P. Code, a mortgage of the property without the permission of the Collector is void under Sch. III, para. 11, C. P. Code. Consequently if the mortgagee pays off prior encumbrances on the property, he does not become a transferee of the charge and the utmost that the mortgagee would be entitled is to recover the money spent in paying off the debts from the mortgagor. (Dalal, J.C. and Neave, A.J.C.) AKBAR HUSAIN v. SHAHANSHAH BEGAM. 27 O. C. 56 : 11 O. L. J. 82 : A. I. R. 1924 Oudh 302.

———Sch. III, Para. 11—Execution of decree by Collector—Power of debtor to alienate property—Scope of the restriction—Permission of Collector.

While a decree is under execution by the Collector it is illegal for a civil court to issue process against the property and this illegality is not cured by the mere fact that subsequently the Collector ceased to have charge of the execution proceedings. The permission of the Collector for a mortgage by the judgment-debtor need not take the form of a certificate under O. 21, R. 83, C. P. Code. It is enough if the Collector knows of the mortgage and gives sanction to it in writing. (Daniels, J. C. and Dalal, A. J. C.) SHEIKH MAHOMED MUZAFFAR ALI v. BHAGWATI PRASAD SINGH. 66 I. C. 642 : 8 O. L.J. 358.

C. P. CODE (V OF 1908), App. A, Form I.

——— Appendix A, Form (1)—Title of insolvent-defendant in plaint.

Obiter :—Where the plaintiff desired to sue the defendant as well as his Official Assignee, held, the title of the suit as "Govindji Jivabhai insolvent and on behalf of him Official Assignee" is absolutely wrong. The Official Assignee ought to have been sued personally so that if the plaintiff wished to sue him, Govindji would have been the first defendant, and the Official Assignee as assignee of the estate and effects of the insolvent Govindji the second defendant. (Macleod, C. J. and Crump, J.) DAMODAR JAGJIWAN v. GOVINDJI. 25 Bom. L. R. 378 : A. I. R. 1923 Bom. 392.

CIVIL RULES OF PRACTICE.
See UNDER THE RESPECTIVE PROVINCES.

CIVIL SUIT.
See (1) C. P. CODE, S. 9, PRACTICE.
(2) CRIMINAL TRIAL.

CLAIM.
See C. P. CODE, O. 21, RR. 58 TO 63.

CLAIM PETITION. See C. P. CODE, O. 21.

CLASS—Gift to a class. See T. P. ACT, S. 15.

CLERICAL MISTAKE. See C. P. CODE, S. 152.

CLIENT.
See (1) EVIDENCE ACT, SS. 126—129.
(2) PRACTICE.

CLOG.
——— On the equity of redemption.
See (1) DEED—CONSTRUCTION.
(2) MORTGAGE—REDEMPTION.
(3) T. P. ACT, S. 60.

CLUB.
See (1) ASSOCIATION.
(2) COMPANY.
(3) COMMUNITY.
(4) CORPORATION.

CO-ACCUSED. See EVIDENCE ACT, SS. 30, 114, 133.

CO-DEFENDANTS. See C. P. CODE, S. 11, O. 41, R. 22.

CODICIL.
See (1) SUCCESSION ACT.
(2) WILL—CONSTRUCTION.

CODIFICATION. See INTERPRETATION OF STATUTES.

COERCION.
See (1) CONTRACT ACT, S. 16.
(2) PARDANASHIN LADY.
(3) WILL.

CO-EXECUTORS.
See (1) EXECUTORS.
(2) PROBATE AND ADMINISTRATION ACT.

COGNIZABLE OFFENCE. See CR. P. CODE.

CO-HABITATION.
(1) MAHOMEDAN LAW—MARRIAGE.
(2) PENAL CODE.

CO-HEIR.
See (1) CONTRACT ACT, SS. 43—45.
(2) CO-SHARER.
(3) MAHOMEDAN LAW.

COMMISSION.

COIN.
——— Counterfeiting of. See PENAL CODE.

CO-LESSOR.
See (1) LEASE.
(2) CO-SHARER.

COLLATERAL.
——— Agreement.
See (1) CONTRACT ACT, SS. 30, 58.
(2) EVIDENCE ACT, SS. 92—96.
——— Security. See T. P. ACT, S. 59.

COLLECTION.
——— Charges.
See (1) CONTRACT.
(2) CONTRACT ACT.
(3) PRINCIPAL AND AGENT.
——— Papers.
See (1) EVIDENCE ACT.
(2) EVIDENCE — CIRCUMSTANTIAL EVIDENCE.

COLLECTOR. See C. P. CODE, SS. 68—72, 92, SCH. III.

COLLISION. See ADMIRALTY.

COLLUSION.
See (1) BENAMI.
(2) BENAMIDAR.
(3) PRACTICE.

COLOURABLE.
——— Imitation.
See (1) COPYRIGHT ACT.
(2) PENAL CODE.
——— Transaction.
See (1) BENAMI.
(2) FRAUDULENT TRANSFER.
(3) PENAL CODE.
(4) T. P. ACT, S. 53.

COMMENSALITY. See HINDU LAW — JOINT FAMILY—PARTITION.

COMMERCIAL DOMICILE.
———Prize of war.

Every act of claimant at the time of the breaking of the war was consistent with intention to retain his commercial domicile at Constantinople and inconsistent with any intention to divest himself of it. He did his best to continue the voyage of the "Kare Deniz" to a Turkish port although he was not able to show that there was any particularly pressing commercial object in sending her to Basra where there was no cargo engaged, where no agent had been appointed and where there was no trade to be expected, he being in the Piraeus and his ships being in the hands of the Turkish Government. Held, the claimant had not discharged the burden of proof which lay upon him of showing that he was no longer commercially domiciled in Turkey as he had been before. The condemnation must therefore stand. (Lord Sumner.) SOCRATES ATYCHIDES v. THE SECRETARY OF STATE. 46 Bom. 857 : 25 Bom. L. R. 116 : 18 L. W. 664 : (1923) M. W. N. 846 : 32 M. L. T. 81 : 27 C. W. N. 557 : A. I. R. 1922 P. C. 371.

COMMISSION.
See (1) C. P. CODE.
(2) CONTRACT.
(3) CONTRACT ACT.
(4) PRINCIPAL AND AGENT.
——— Agent.
See (1) CONTRACT.
(2) CONTRACT ACT, S. 182.
(3) PRINCIPAL AND AGENT.
——— For Examination of Witnesses. See C. P. CODE, O. 26.

COMMISSION

——To executor.
See (1) MAHOMEDAN LAW—WILL.
(2) WILL.
——To Trustees.
See (1) TRUST.
(2) TRUSTS ACT.

COMMISSIONER. See C. P. CODE, O. 26.

COMMITMENT TO SESSIONS COURT. See CR. P. CODE, SS. 206—220.

COMMON.

——Ancestor. See HINDU LAW.
——Carriers.
See (1) CARRIERS.
(2) CARRIERS ACT.
(3) RAILWAYS ACT.
——Employment. See MASTER AND SERVANT.
——Land.
See (1) CO-SHARERS.
(2) DEEDS—CONSTRUCTION.
(3) PARTITION.
——Law.
See (1) CO-SHARER.
(2) PRACTICE—PRECEDENTS.
(3) SHAMILAT LAND.
——Manager.
See (1) ADVERSE POSSESSION, ETC.
(2) BENGAL TENANCY ACT, SS. 93—100.
(3) CO-SHARER.

COMMON INTENT OR OBJECT. See PENAL CODE (1) S. 34, (2) S. 141, ETC.

COMMUNICATION. See CONTRACT ACTS, S. 2.

COMMUNITY.
See also (1) ADVERSE POSSESSION.
(2) CUSTOM, PUNJAB.

COMMUTATION.
See (1) LANDLORD AND TENANT—RENT.
(2) MADRAS ESTATES LAND ACT, SS. 40 AND 41.

CO-MORTGAGEES.
See (1) CONTRACT ACT, SS. 38 AND 45.
(2) MORTGAGE.
(3) T. P. ACT, S. 60.

COMPANIES ACT (VI OF 1882).

——S. 4—Unregistered Company of more than 20 persons is illegal.

A Company of more than twenty members, if unregistered under S. 4 of the Act, is an association prohibited by law and is therefore illegal. (Gokul Prasad and Lindsay, JJ.) RAM KUMAR v. NEMCHAND. 64 I. C. 417 : 19 A. L. J 836.

——S. 146—(VII of 1913), S. 181—Want of sanction to appoint pleader does not invalidate suit if sanction was obtained to file the suit.

The omission of the official liquidators to obtain sanction under S. 146 of the Act for the payment of a pleader might possibly render them personally liable for the payment of the pleader's fee, but it would not affect the validity of the acts done by the pleader in instituting or conducting the case if they had obtained sanction of the Court to institute the suit. London Metallurgical Company, In re, (1897) 2 Ch. 262, Dist. (Martineau and Moti Sagar, JJ.) KATHIAWAR AND AHMEDABAD BANKING CORPORATION, LTD. v. GURDAS RAM. 5 Lah. 414 : 84 I. C. 510 : A. I. R. 1925 Lah. 222 (1).

——Ss. 150 and 166—Order for payment—Right of transferee to enforce—Dissolution—Liquidation—Effect of.

COMPANIES ACT (VI OF 1882), S. 169.

A person to whom the liquidator has transferred a payment order made by the Court under S. 150 of the Companies Act against a contributory is entitled to invoke the summary jurisdiction of the Court for the purpose of recovering money due from the latter. The circumstance that the company has been finally dissolved does not prevent the assignee from seeking relief from the liquidation Court and render it necessary for him to bring an action for the recovery of the money. (Shadi Lal, C. J. and Wilberforce, J.) PARDUMAN SINGH v. PIONEER JEWELLERY COMPANY, LTD. 67 I. C. 443 : 3 Lah. L. J. 382.

——S. 150—Payment order when can be made—Validity of a payment order.

The Court in liquidation proceedings should realise the assets and discharge liabilities of a company as far as possible but it is not bound to help third persons who have purchased the debts to realize them. The Court cannot evidently make a payment order in respect of a debt which has been sold to a third person. A payment order, similar to a decree, can be disregarded by the Court which is applied for execution provided the order is nullity. (Scott-Smith, J.) SALIG RAM v. OFFICIAL LIQUIDATOR, INDIAN EXCHANGE BANK, LTD. 60 I. C. 506 : 3 Lah. L. J. 178.

——S. 150—Payment order who can obtain.

A Liquidator of a Bank transferred with the Court's sanction certain book debts, to certain persons and subsequently agreed with the vendors to execute power-of-attorneys in their favour to enable them to obtain a payment order. The vendees applied under S. 150 for an order of payment, held, that as the application was made for the benefit of third parties and not 'in the name and on behalf of the company', it was not maintainable. (Abdul Raoof and Martineau, JJ.) DOABA BANK, LTD. v. KUNDUN LAL. 3 L. L. J. 80 : 59 I. C. 588 : 18 P. W. R. 1921.

——S. 169—Limitation—Application to set aside ex parte order.

S. 169 of the Companies Act is no bar to an application to set aside an ex parte order. 16 A. 53, Foll. (Piggott and Walsh, JJ.) SHAH MUHAMMAD ESHANULLAH v. THE PEOPLES INDUSTRIAL BANK, LTD., ALLAHABAD. 9 O. & A. L. R. 477 : 72 I. C. 106 : L. R. 4 A. 154 : A.I.R. 1923 All. 429 (1).

——S. 169—Interpretation—"Notice"—Limitation for appeal—Extension of time.

In connection with the liquidation of a Company an order was passed by the Court on 6—2—1914. The Official Liquidator applied for leave to appeal the same day and got it and on 18—2—1914 gave notice under S. 169 of the Act to the opposite party that the order would be appealed against. The appeal was actually filed on the 20th May, 1914. It was objected that the appeal was time-barred under S. 169 of the Act, held, that the literal construction of S. 169 makes the Act unworkable in practice and that in any event the Official Liquidator having done all he could in reason, to comply with the provisions of the law was entitled to an extension of time under that section. (Walsh and Ryves, JJ.) THE PEOPLES INDUSTRIAL BANK v. GOVINDAS DUBE. 63 I. C. 607 : 19 A. L. J. 371.

——S. 169—Appeal—Time for—Delay when excused—Sufficient cause.

The carelessness or ignorance of a Pleader is not a sufficient reason to extend the time fixed by S. 169 of the Companies Act. Appeals under the Indian Companies Act, 1882 ought to be filed with such promptitude as to render service of notice upon the respondent possible within three weeks prescribed by S. 169 of the Act, and the Appellate Court will not extend the time for appealing unless the delay is caused either by the conduct of the respondent or by mistake of the officials of the Appellate Court. (Broadway, J.) NARINDRA NATH SAHU v. KISHEN LAL. 73 I. C. 211 (2) : A. I. R. 1924 Lah. 379.

COMPANIES ACT (VII OF 1913).

——(VII OF 1913).

——Fraud—Winding up—Waiver of fraud.

Mere fact of there having been fraud in the promotion, or fraudulent misrepresentation in the prospectus, will not be sufficient to found a winding up order for the majority of the shareholders may waive the fraud. (Sanderson, C. J. and Richardson, J.) ORIENTAL NAVIGATION CO., LTD. v BHANARAM AGARWALLA. 49 C. 399 : 69 I. C. 241 : A. I. R. 1922 Cal. 365.

——S. 2 (14), S. 92 (5)—Advertisement offering for sale of certain shares of a limited company, whether falls within the definition of 'prospectus'—Omission to deposit the same with the Registrar—Whether an offence.

The petitioner as representing a limited company registered under the Indian Companies Act was convicted for issuing an advertisement in a newspaper offering to the public some shares of the company for sale, without filing a copy thereof with the Registrar of Assurances. Held, that the advertisement came within the definition of 'prospectus' as contained in S. 2, cl. 14 of the Act, and the omission to file a copy with the Registrar of Joint Stock Companies for registration before issuing it was an offence under S. 92, cl (5). (Suhrawardy and Mukerjee, JJ.) PRAMATHANATH v. KALI KUMAR DUTT. 52 Cal. 440 : 29 C. W N. 523 : 88 I. C. 5 (2) : 26 Cr. L. J. 1061 (2) : A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 714.

——S. 3 (1)—Moffussil companies—Application lies to High Court in Original Side.

Applications under the Companies Act relating to companies doing business in the moffussil should be made in the Original Side of the High Court. (Suhrawardy and Cuming, JJ.) MOHINI MILLS, LTD. v. SUSAMA DEBI. 52 Cal. 586 : 29 C. W. N. 403 : 86 I. C. 833 : 41 C. L. J. 191 : A. I. R. 1925 Cal 626.

——S. 3 (1)—Moffussil companies—Applications lie to High Court on Original Side.

The expression "High Court" in the Act of 1913 is intended to include all the sides of the High Court and is as equally applicable to High Courts having original Civil Jurisdiction as to High Courts which have no Original Side. Applications under the Companies Act relating to Companies doing business in the moffussil should be made in the Original Side of High Court. (Suhrawardy and Cuming, JJ.) JAGADISHPORE TEA CO., LTD. v. MESSRS. MCLEOD & CO. 29 C. W. N. 404 : 86 I. C. 910 : A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 606 (2).

——S. 4—"Person"—Meaning of—Collection of persons—Person figuring in different capacities if can be treated as one person.

A person who was shown as beneficially interested in one block of shares in a company and as holding shares on behalf of his two grandsons in another block. The entry against another person's name was "for self and as guardian of a minor." Held, that each of the two persons should be counted as one member for the purposes of S. 4 of Companies Act, although his name figured in different capacities and the Company must be held accountable to him alone although he in his turn was responsible to a number of other persons. 'Person' can be used to include a collection of people and an appropriate illustration is that the association of individuals known as a joint Hindu family. (Mears, C. J. and Piggott, J.) MOTI RAM v. KUNWAR MD. ABDUL JALIL KHAN. L. R. 5 A. 235 : 22 A. L. J. 487 : 78 I. C. 441 : 46 A. 509 : A. I. R. 1924 All. 414.

COMPANIES ACT (VII OF 1913), S. 28.

——S. 4—Number of shareholders.

An unregistered company of nine shareholders does not require registration for its valid existence. (Krishnan, J.) MOHIDEEN KARIYA PULAVAR v. PERIYANAYAKAM PILLAI. 20 L. W. 430 : (1924) M. W. N. 82 : 84 I. C. 118 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 233 (2).

——S. 4 (1)—Partnership—Test of—Debtor and creditor—Agreement between—Creditor's interest.

The word "partner" or "partnership" in an agreement between several persons jointly advancing money does not necessarily show that there was a partnership between them. The parties may call themselves partners, but if one party is to do nothing more than advance money to the other and is to be repaid by a share of the profits they must be treated as debtor and creditor. 4 All. 74, Foll. (Dhobley, A. J. C.) MAHOMED JUSUF v. PIR MAHOMED. 65 I. C. 368 : A. I. R. 1922 Nag. 67.

——Ss. 10, 12 and 14—Alteration of memorandum of association—Revocation of appointment of managing agent—Confirmation by Court.

The only power that the Court has to confirm resolutions of a company in regard to an alteration of the memorandum of association is in respect of matters covered by S. 12. The memorandum of association of a company formed for the purpose of carrying on a banking business had a clause appointing a particular person as agent, principal and secretary to the bank and he was given powers to enter into any agreement, contract or transaction with other banks or traders. Subsequently, by a special resolution, the company purported to alter the clause by removing the agent and applied for confirmation of the special resolution under S. 12 of the Companies Act. Held, that the Court should not confirm the resolution. Firstly, the clause was not one relating to the objects of the Company alterable under S. 12 (1) (a) of the Companies Act as one relating to a detail of management but was a condition under S. 10 of the Act. Secondly, even if the clause related to the object of the Company, the Court had a discretion in confirming it and the Court did not think it beneficial to the interests of the shareholders to confirm the resolution. (Schwabe, C. J. and Ramesam, J.) VENKATARAMA AIYAR v. THE COIMBATORE MERCANTILE BANK, LTD. 18 L. W. 304 : (1923) M. W. N. 568 : 74 I.C. 966 : A I. R. 1924 Mad. 126.

——Ss. 28 and 29—Delivery of share certificate in blank—Transferee's legal and equitable title.

Delivery of share certificates with the transfers executed in blank, passes not the property in the shares but a title legal and equitable which will enable the holder to vest himself with the shares without the risk of his right being defeated by the registered owner or any other person deriving title from the registered owner. 15 A. C. 267, Foll. (Kanga, J.) FAZAL D. ALLANA v. MANGALDAS 46 Bom. 489 : A. I. R. 1922 Bom. 303.

——S. 28—Transfer of shares—Registration—Necessity for.

Every shareholder in a company has an absolute right to transfer his share to another and the transfer is complete on the day the deed is signed by both parties. The provision in the Articles of Association that no transfer would be valid and recognised unless registered in the books and that the company could refuse to register a transferee without assigning reasons is one for the protection of the company and does not prevent the passing of title. (Broadway and Abdul Quadir, JJ.) FIRM OF SAWAN MAL GOPI CHAND v. SHIV CHARAN DAL. 71 I. C. 814 : A. I. R. 1924 Lah. 173.

COMPANIES ACT (VII OF 1913), S. 28.

——— S. 28—Transfer of shares.

The transfer of shares of a company is incomplete until the name of the transferee is entered in the Company's Register. Such a transfer does not operate as a declaration of trust. (Rankin, J.) AMERENDRA KRISHNA DUTT v. MONIMUJARY DEBI. 66 I. C. 586 : 48 Cal. 986.

——— Ss. 28 and 34—Transfer of shares—Formalities, necessity for—Inchoate transfer—Rights of transferee—Discretion of directors in recognising transfer.

A deed of transfer of shares in a company not complying with the formalities prescribed by the Indian Companies Act and the Articles of Association of the Company is invalid as against a person, who has purchased the shares in a sale in execution held under the provisions of the C. P. Code. When the law prescribes a mode of transfer for shares in a limited company, compliance with that mode is necessary before property can pass so as to confer title on the transferee as against third persons. A transfer of shares in a company otherwise than as is provided by the Indian Companies Act and the Articles of Association may confer a right in equity on the transferee to compel the vendor to execute a proper conveyance and the transaction evidenced by a transfer can be regarded as an agreement to convey capable of being perfected into an absolute conveyance by compliance with the prescribed formalities. Until then, the transfer is inchoate and transferee cannot claim priority over a Court auction purchaser of the shares. (1902) 2 K.B. 427 and 40 Mad. 1134 Foll. 31 Bom. 76 Not Foll.

Obiter :—It is open to the Directors of a Company in the bona fide discretion vested in them under the Indian Companies Act and the Articles of Association to refuse to recognise the purchaser of the shares of the company in a Court auction, as a shareholder in the Company. (Kumaraswami Sastri and Devadoss, JJ.) TADEPALLI NAGABHUSHANAM v. SRI RAM RAMACHANDRA RAO. 45 M. 537 : 15 L. W. 470 : 30 M. L. T. 231 : 70 I. C. 659 : (1922) M. W. N. 331 : A I. R. 1923 Mad. 241 : 42 M. L. J. 449.

——— S. 34—Passing of property.

Plaintiff sold some shares of a Bank to defendant, but did not take the purchase money. A deed of transfer was duly executed and signed by the parties and was made over to the defendant to enable him to have his name registered in the books of the Bank in place of transferor. Later on the Bank failed and went into liquidation before the transferee had presented his deed of transfer to the Bank and thus the shares continued to stand in the name of transferor, as before. Held, that the contract was complete on the day that the deed of transfer was signed by both parties and that by virtue of that the defendant stepped into the shoes of the transferor and became an owner of the shares in the company in his place, with all the advantages and disadvantages attached to that status. (Broadway and Abdul Qadir, JJ.) FIRM SAWAN MAL GOPI CHAND v. SHIV CHARAN DAS. A. I. R. 1924 Lah. 173.

——— S. 38—Court not bound to try serious question of title—Appeal—Duty of Company.

A Judge is not bound to decide in a proceeding under S. 38 of the Act a serious question of title An appeal lies on a point of law from an order passed under the section. A Company has always a right to waive compliance with its rules. (Walsh and Wallace, JJ.) UNION SUGAR MILLS CO., LTD. v. JAI DEO. 19 A. L. J. 937 : 65 I. C. 291 : 44 A. 151 : L. R. 3 A. 56 : A. I. R. 1922 All. 258.

COMPANIES ACT (VII OF 1913), S. 78.

——— Ss. 38 and 91 (b)—Allotting unissued shares to some directors.

By one resolution three shares were allotted by five directors to three directors. Held, that allotment of shares is but a contract and where three shares were allotted by one vote recorded in one resolution the one vote is not divisible into three votes. Because it is really one vote and not three votes and because each of the allotments was not considered separately on its own merits and because each director was interested in the allotments to the other two and probably voted for them in consideration of an allotment to himself. A quorum of three directors being necessary the directors in whose favour the allotment was made could not validly vote and thus the remaining two directors could form no quorum and the resolution and the allotment were therefore invalid. (Pratt, J.) SIR HORMUSJI A. WADIA, In re. 64 I. C. 933 : 23 Bom. L. R. 1104.

——— S. 38—Application for removal of name—Mortgagee of the uncalled share capital can oppose.

If a shareholder applies to have his name removed from the register of members, the mortgagee of the uncalled share capital can oppose the application. Though persons are not entitled to an order ex debito justicae, the discretion of the Court under S. 38 is unlimited and should be used according to the circumstances of each case. (Mookerjee and Fletcher, JJ.) RAMESH CHANDRA MITTER v. JOGINI MOHAN CHATTERJI. 60 I. C. 946 : 47 Cal. 901.

——— S. 73—Promissory note—Signed by Secretary, Treasurer and Agent—Liability of company.

A Company purchased certain machinery and in lieu thereof one of its secretaries and treasurers executed a pronote signing it in his own name. The pronote was on a sheet of paper printed with the name of the company and bearing a stamp impression of the company. Held, the pronote was signed on behalf of the company and it was therefore liable on the note. (Macleod, C. J. and Coyajee, J.) POONA CHITRASHALA STEAM PRESS v. GAJANAN INDUSTRIAL AND TRADING CO. 24 Bom. L. R. 355 : 67 I. C. 941 : A. I. R. 1923 Bom. 29.

——— Ss. 76 and 131—Omission of Directors to hold general meeting—Effect of—Holding of extraordinary meeting—Offence.

On 27-2-1920 the Standard Aluminium and Brass Works Company, Ltd , was registered in Bombay. On 30-3-1921 the statutory meeting of the Company as required by S. 77 of the Companies Act was held. A general meeting was also held on that day. Subsequent to this there was no general meeting held nor was any balance sheet audited by the auditors of the Company, prepared and read before the Company in a general meeting. On the requisition of certain shareholders an extraordinary meeting was held on 29-6-1922. On a complaint being preferred against the directors of the Company for not complying with the requirements of S. 76 of the Companies Act. Held, that the directors were guilty of an offence under the section and that the holding of an extraordinary meeting on the requisition of the shareholder was not a sufficient compliance with S. 76. (Macleod, C. J. and Crump, J.) EMPEROR v. NASURBHAI ABDULLABHAI. 24 Cr. L.J. 349 : 72 I. C. 349 : 25 Bom. L. R. 224 : A. I. R. 1923 Bom. 194 (2).

——— Ss. 78 and 162—Compulsory winding up—Resolution for voluntary winding up.

COMPANIES ACT (VII OF 1913), S. 79.

The Judge had not decided whether there was a valid resolution for voluntary winding up: he had not decided whether there was any valid ground for making a winding up order, but he directed the meeting of shareholders to be held and then, because there was a considerable majority of the shareholders who voted at that meeting in favour of winding up, he made the compulsory winding up order. Held, that it is not a sufficient ground for the compulsory winding up order. The mere fact that a majority of the shareholders, who voted at the meeting were in favour of winding up the company either under supervision of the Court or by the Court compulsorily is not sufficient to justify the Court in making the compulsory winding up, especially where there was no valid resolution for voluntary winding up. (Sanderson, C. J. and Richardson, J.) ORIENTAL NAVIGATION CO., LTD. v. BHANARAM AGARWALLA.

49 C. 399 : 69 I C. 241 : A. I. R. 1922 Cal. 365.

———S. 79 (i) and of Sch. T, Table A, cl. 45 —Notice calling general meeting to consider amalgamation of Bank with another bank is bad for not disclosing secret benefit received by the Directors under the arrangement. But where such secret arrangement is not proved, proceedings taken on notice cannot be upset for some defect in the notice which might have been avoided but which was not avoided due to some honest mistake.

Where there is any secret agreement or any interest of the directors in the agreement not disclosed in the circular, or in the notice, the Court will view with strictness any omission to refer to it in the notice or in the circular accompanying the notice; and the omission to mention any secret arrangement would constitute a serious defect in the notice. But where no secret agreement is proved or suggested anywhere there is no indication that there was anything to conceal, the Court will as far as possible take a liberal view of the terms of the notice and will not upset the proceedings taken on a notice for some defect which might have been avoided but which was not avoided on account of some honest mistake. A meeting ought not to be treated very critically in order to see whether we cannot pick out some defect in it. Notice calling an extraordinary general meeting of the shareholders of a Bank to consider the proposal of amalgamating it with another Bank was held not so defective as to upset the proceedings at the meeting, though it failed to disclose the difference of opinion that existed among the directors in the matter and the basis of calculation on which the terms of union were settled, and although no copy of the agreement between the Banks was sent to the shareholders along with the notice. (Shah, A. C. J. and Fawcett, J.) PARSHURAM DATTARAM SHAMDASANI v. TATA INDUSTRIAL BANK, LTD.

26 Bom. L. R. 987 : A. I. R. 1925 Bom. 49.

———S. 81 — Amendment may be allowed subject to the nature of the resolution and that of the amendment.

Amendments can be allowed, but it must depend upon the nature of the resolution and the nature of the amendment whether it could be or should be allowed by the Chairman. (Shah, A C. J. and Fawcett, J.) PARSURAM DATTARAM SHAMDASANI v. TATA INDUSTRIAL BANK, LTD. 26 Bom. L. R. 987 : A. I. R. 1925 Bom. 49.

———S. 89—Company's liability on a given endorsement is a matter of construction of that endorsement—Where responsibility of Company is not made quite plain, Company is not liable.

The question as to the liability of a Company on a particular endorsement is in every case one of construction. If on the true construction of the instrument, the bill or note is the bill or note of the Company, the Company will be liable upon it, and not the individuals whose names are on it, unless the bill or note is the bill or note of both. On the other hand, if on the true construction of the bill or note it is not the bill or note of the Company, the persons whose names are upon it will be liable upon it whether they intended to be so or not. It is of the utmost importance that the name of a person or firm to be charged upon a negotiable document should be clearly stated on the face or on the back of the document, so that the responsibility is made plain and can be instantly recognised as the document passes from hand to hand. Where the endorsement was "M. and Sons, Managing Agents of L. A. Company," held, that it would not necessarily be clear to any one that the responsibility of L. A. Company was involved and that L. A. Company therefore was not liable. (Sanderson, C. J. and Rankin, J.) SREELAL MANGTULAL v. LISTER ANTISEPTIC DRESSING CO. 52 Cal. 802 : 29 C. W. N. 828 : 89 I. C. 328 : A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 1062.

———S. 89—Manager can transfer a promissory note on behalf of the company.

The ignorance of the Manager of the Bank of the terms of the Articles of Association does not affect his power to make a transfer of negotiable instruments. He is the agent of the Bank for performing all ordinary banking transactions, and a transfer of such an instrument is a very ordinary transaction. (Scott-Smith and Fforde, JJ.) HINDUSTAN ASSURANCE AND MUTUAL BENEFIT SOCIETY, LTD. v. GURDIT SINGH. 6 L. L. J. 183 : 80 I. C. 741 : A. I. R. 1924 Lah. 462.

———S. 92 (5)—Advertisement in newspaper inviting public to purchase shares is 'prospectus'.

An advertisement in a newspaper offering to the public some shares of the Company for sale is a "prospectus" as defined in S. 2, cl. 14 of the Act and a copy of an advertisement of this nature must be filed with the Registrar before issuing it. (Suhrawardy and Mukerji, JJ.) PRAMATHA NATH SANYAL v. KALI KUMAR DUTT. 52 Cal. 440 : 88 I. C. 5 : 29 C. W. N. 523 : 26 Cr. L. J. 1061 (2) : A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 714.

———S. 109—All present and future moveables pledged by director but himself remaining in possession as agent of pledgee—No pledge of specific moveables but only floating charge is created.

Where the director of a Company pledged the moveable assets of the company but remained himself in possession as agent of the pledgee, held, that only a floating charge was created and it not being registered as required by S. 109, was void against the liquidator. (Macleod, C. J. and Coyajee, J.) D. PUDUMJEE AND CO. v. H. N. MOOS.

27 Bom. L. R. 1218 : A. I. R. 1926 Bom. 28.

———S. 134— Fine—Imposition of —Realisation from Directors.

An order directing the Directors individually to pay fine imposed on the company is illegal. (Broadway, J.) DWARKA DAS v. EMPEROR.

6 L. L. J. 160 : 86 I. C. 431 : 26 Cr. L. J. 799 : A. I. R. 1924 Lah. 489.

———S. 136—Company—Publication of statements—Limited Company—Omission to publish statements—Liability.

Under S. 136, sub-sec. (1) of the Indian Companies Act, 1913, every limited banking company is bound to publish a statement provided in the third schedule on the dates specified in the section and failure to comply with its provisions is punishable under S. 136, sub-sec. (4). The fact that statements could not be published in time on account of the change in the closing date of the financial year of the company is not a valid answer to the charge. (Shah, A. C. J. and Crump, J.) PARASHURAM D. SHAMDASANI, In re.

COMPANIES ACT (VII OF 1913), S. 145.

26 Bom. L. R. 68 : 48 Bom. 305 : 82 I. C. 58 (2) : 25 Cr. L. J. 1194 (2) : A. I. R. 1924 Bom. 308.

——S. 145—Auditor should satisfy himself whether the books submitted to him show a true state of affairs—Honesty does not exempt from liability.

Unless Auditors are to be held strictly to their legal liability, however honest they may be, the object of the Legislature in requiring a certificate from them is absolutely defeated. It is nothing to an auditor whether the business of a company is being conducted prudently or unprofitably. It is nothing to him whether dividends are properly or improperly declared, provided he discharges his own duty to the shareholders. His business is to ascertain and state the true financial position of the company at the time of the audit and his duty is confined to that. He is to ascertain that position by examining the books of the Company. But his first duty is to examine the books not merely for the purpose of ascertaining what they do show, but also for the purpose of satisfying himself that they show the true financial position of the Company. If he fails in his duty he will be jointly and severally liable with those who are responsible for the management of the Company, although he is not guilty of any dishonesty. (Walsh and Mukerji, JJ.) THE UNION BANK, ALLAHABAD (IN LIQUIDATION), In the matter of.
47 All. 669 : 88 I. C. 785 : 23 A. L. J. 473 : L. R. 6 A. (Civ.) 425 : A. I. R. 1925 All. 519.

——S. 150—Payment order when can be made—Validity of payment order.

The Court in liquidation proceedings should realize the assets and discharge liabilities of a company as far as possible but it is not bound to help third persons who have purchased the debts, to realize them. The Court cannot evidently make a payment order in respect of a debt which has been sold to a third person. A payment order, similar to a decree, can be disregarded by the Court which is applied for execution provided the order is nullity. (Scott-Smith, J.) SALIG RAM v. OFFICIAL LIQUIDATOR, INDIAN EXCHANGE BANK. 60 I. C. 506 : 3 Lah. L. J. 178.

——S. 150—Payment who can obtain.

A Liquidator of a Bank transferred with the Court's sanction certain book debts to certain persons and subsequently agreed with the vendors to execute power-of-attorneys in their favour to enable them to obtain a payment order. The vendees applied under S. 150 for an order of payment, held, that as the application was made for the benefit of third parties and not in the name and on behalf of the company, it was not maintainable. (Adbul Raoof and Martineau, JJ.) DOABA BANK, LTD. v. KUNDUN LAL. 3 L. L. J. 80 : 59 I. C. 588 : 18 P. W. R. 1921.

——Ss. 153 and 202—Company—Scheme for reconstruction—Order in—No liquidation under—Appeal under S. 202 to High Court—Maintainability.

There are two classes of orders which can be made under S. 153 of the Companies Act, (1) while the Company is in existence which can be made on application either by the Company or by a creditor, or by a member of the Company, (2) the second after a winding up order has been made which can be made on an application by the liquidator. When an order is made on an application by the Company which is not in the course of being wound up there is no provision which provides for such an order being appealable. It is only if the order is made in the course of liquidation by the Court that an appeal under S. 202 lies. (Macleod, C. J. and Coyajee, J.) VIRAMGAM SPG. & MANUFG. CO., LTD. v. INDUSTRIAL BANK OF WESTERN INDIA. 27 Bom. L. R. 655 : 89 I. C. 108 (1) : A. I. R. 1925 Bom. 442.

COMPANIES ACT (VII OF 1913), S. 162.

——S. 156 (4)—Voluntary liquidation—Shareholders—Surrender of shares in exchange for other sharers—Meeting of shareholder—Transaction of business—Transfer of assets—Unregistered deed—Effect of.

A Bank went into voluntary liquidation and the respondents who held certain fully-paid up shares in the Bank surrendered them to another company in lieu of certain preference shares in that other company which had in the meantime by an unregistered deed of assignment taken over the assets of the Bank in liquidation. Held, that after the surrender of their shares the respondents had ceased to be shareholders and that any meeting convened by them or proceedings taken by a meeting in which they took part were invalid and inoperative. (Walsh, A.C.J. and Ryves, J.) HUNTER v. DAMODAR DAS. 46 A. 759 : 22 A. L. J. 719 : L. R. 5 A. 518 : 81 I.C. 508 : A.I.R. 1924 All. 772.

——S. 158—Debtor—If a contributory.

A debtor of a company is liable to pay at all times whether the company goes into liquidation or not, and hence is not a contributory within the meaning of S. 158. (Mukerjee, J.) In re LAKSHMI FLOUR MILLS CO., LTD. L. R. 6 A. 565 : 89 I. C. 994 : 23 A. L. J. 934.

——S. 162—Compulsory winding up—Majority of shareholders voting in favour of, is no ground for ordering it—Fraud in promotion is not a ground.

Where the Judge had not decided whether there was a valid resolution for voluntary winding up; or that there was any valid ground for making a winding up order, but he directed the meeting of shareholders to be held and then, because there was a considerable majority of the shareholders who voted at that meeting in favour of winding up and then made the compulsory winding up order, held, it was not a sufficient ground for the compulsory winding up order. The mere fact that a majority of the shareholders, who voted at the meeting, were in favour of winding up the company either under supervision of the Court or by the Court compulsorily is not sufficient to justify the Court in making the compulsory winding up, especially where there was no valid resolution for voluntary winding up. The mere fact that there has been a fraud in the promotion or fraudulent misrepresentation in the prospectus will not be sufficient to found a winding up order as the majority of shareholders may waive the fraud. (Sanderson, C. J. and Richardson, J.) ORIENTAL NAVIGATION CO. v. BANARAM AGARWALLA. 49 Cal. 399 : 69 I. C. 241 : A. I. R. 1922 Cal. 365.

——S. 162—Interference by Court—Discretion when to be exercised.

The Companies Act creates as between the shareholders, a domestic tribunal, and unless a clear case is made out, the Court will be slow to withdraw from it the decision whether the company's business shall or shall not be carried on. When an application to wind up a company is supported on the ground that the company has suspended business for a whole year, the power granted by the law to the Court to use its discretion while deciding whether such application should be refused or granted, should be exercised only when there is a fair indication that there is no intention to carry on business. If the suspension is satisfactorily accounted for and appears to be due to temporary causes, the order may be refused. Where the firm of managing agents of a company is dissolved, the fact that steps were taken since the dissolution, at extraordinary general meetings to appoint new managing agents is sufficient to indicate that it is possible to carry on the business of the company and there is no complete deadlock, necessitating the compulsory winding up of the Company. The principle of 'substratum gone' cannot be applied to a case where it is not proved that the object of the company as set out in the memorandum cannot be fulfilled in other ways or by the employment of other agencies. (Mookerjee and Fletcher, JJ.) MURLIDHAR ROY v. THE BENGAL STEAMSHIP CO., LTD. 59 I. C. 542 : 47 C. 654.

——S. 162—Management for individual benefit of one family — Dominating position—Winding up is proper.

It is good reason for making a winding up order that there is a justifiable lack of confidence in the conduct and management of the Company affairs owing to the management being held in one family which is in a position to dominate the other shareholders and monopolise the company affairs for its own individual benefit. (Spencer and Devadoss, JJ.) V. GOPAL CHETTI v. RIPON PRESS AND SUGAR MILL CO., LTD., BELLARY. 21 L. W. 367 : 86 I. C. 914 : A I.R. 1925 Mad. 633 : 48 M.L.J. 232.

——S. 162 (5)—Essentials.

Where a company has a bona fide defence to a creditor's claim the creditor's application for its winding up must be dismissed. (Young and Carr, JJ.) COAL FIELDS OF BURMA, LTD. v. H. H. JOHNSON. 2 Rang. 575 : 3 Bur. L. J. 326 : 84 I. C. 1021 : A. I. R. 1925 Rang. 128.

——S. 162 (6)—Clause 6 not ejusdem generis with cls. 1 to 5—Directors dominating minority—Balance sheet not supplied—Dividends not paid—Winding up proper.

Cl. 6 provides that a company may be wound up if the Court is of opinion that it is just and equitable that the company should be wound up. Loch v. John Blackwood, Ltd., (1924) A. C. 783 Rel. on. The reasons for a Court considering it to be just and equitable that a company should be wound up are not necessarily ejusdem generis with the reasons given in cls. 1 to 5.

Where the directors of a company were able to exercise a dominating influence on the management of the company and the managing director was able to outvote the minority of the shareholders and retain the profits of the business between the members of the family, and there were several complaints that the shareholders did not receive a copy of the balance sheet, nor was the auditor's report read at the general meeting or attached to the balance sheet, as required by S. 131 of the Act and that dividends were not regularly paid and the rate of dividend had been steadily diminishing, held, that there were sufficient grounds to allow a winding up application and to call upon the directors to enter upon their defence. (Spencer, Offg. C. J. and Srinivasa Aiyangar, J.) R. SABAPATHY RAO v. SABAPATHY PRESS CO., LTD. 48 Mad. 448 : 86 I. C. 135 : 21 L. W. 359 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 489 : 48 M. L. J. 118.

——S. 162 (6)—Scope of—Winding up—When to be ordered.

Though S. 162 (6) need not be construed ejusdem generis with cls. (1) and (5) of the section it will yet require grounds of like magnitude before acting under the clause and it is only in extreme cases that a Court will at the suggestion of the minority disregard the wishes of the domestic forum and condemn the Company to extinction. (Rutledge, J.) B. COWASJI v. NATH SINGH OIL COMPANY, LTD. 13 Bur.L.T. 51 : 59 I. C. 524.

——S. 164—Additional District Judge—Jurisdiction.

The Additional District Judge has jurisdiction to make all orders which the District Judge can make in the winding up of a company. (Lord Phillimore.) BEHARI LAL BULAKI RAM v. KUNDAN LAL. 32 M. L. T. 15 : 27 C. W. N. 509 : 69 I. C. 356 : (1923) M. W. N. 388 : A. I. R. 1922 P.C. 361: 47 M. L. J. 322 (P.C.).

——S. 166—Petition to wind up—Opposition by other creditors.

An application to wind up a company was adjourned to see if the agreement to sell the property would be effected to the advantage of the majority of the creditors who opposed the petition of creditors having interest. (Beasley, J.) IRRAWADDY FLOTILLA CO., LTD. v. MERGUI TIN DREDGING CO. 2 Bur. L. J. 296 : A. I. R. 1924 Rang. 108.

——S. 167—Winding up order—Secured creditor is not affected.

In matters of liquidation the rules relating to bankruptcy are, as far as possible, applicable. When a company goes into liquidation a secured creditor may realise his security and prove for any outstanding balance. The remaining assets would be liable for such principal and interest as was due on the date of the winding up order. A secured creditor is in the case of liquidation on the same footing as in that of insolvency proceedings. The property hypothecated is liable for the whole claim, principal and interest, up to date of realisation, and it is only the liability of the remaining assets that could be affected by the winding up order. 7 B. 455 : 12 B. 272 : 15 I. C. 860 : 38 B. 359 Rel. (Broadway and Martineau, JJ.) RAM CHAND v. BANK OF UPPER INDIA. 3 Lah. 59 : 74 I. C. 187 : 24 P. W. R. 1922 : 5 L. L. J. 558 : A.I.R. 1922 Lah. 281.

——Ss. 169, 207, 215—Even in voluntary liquidation Court has same power as under S. 169.

Under Ss. 207 and 215, read with S. 169, the Court has power, in order to protect the assets of the Bank for its other creditors even in cases of voluntary liquidation, to stay the execution of the decree for costs passed against the bank after liquidation, in a suit by the Bank prior to its going into liquidation. (Neave and Kendall, A. J. Cs.) NATIONAL BANK OF UPPER INDIA v. GOPAL DAS. 28 O.C. 197 : A. I. R. 1925 Oudh 630.

——S. 171—Properties sold by winding up Court without prejudice to rights of secured creditors to proceed in usual way—Secured creditors' suits, previously permitted to be prosecuted, should not be stayed.

Where sale of the property by the winding up Court was a proceeding, which was carried out for the sake of convenience and with the object of getting the property sold at a time and in a place where a good price might be obtained for it and it was not intended that secured creditors should thereby be debarred from enforcing their rights in the usual way if they were so advised, held, that suits which such secured creditors had previously been granted leave to prosecute should not be stayed pending the adjudication on priority among the creditors by the winding up Court. In re Pacaya Rubber and Produce Company, Ltd., (1 Ch. 218) Dist. Per Buckland, J.—The argument that the Court has no power to recall leave once granted or that the machinery at the disposal of the Judge in the winding up would be inadequate to enable him to decide the questions which may arise in the mortgage suits should they come before him is not impressive. (Sanderson, C. J. and Buckland, J.) HUKUMCHAND v. RADHAKISSEN. 29 C. W. N. 715 : 88 I. C. 754 : A. I. R 1925 Cal. 916.

COMPANIES ACT (VII OF 1913), S. 173.

——Ss. 173, 174—Petition for compulsory winding up by creditors—Opposition by other creditors—Petition was stayed to enable Company to sell assets to new company.

A petition was filed by a creditor of a company for compulsory winding up. The petition was opposed by the Company and certain other large creditors on the ground that the Company though involved, had, since the petition, entered into an agreement for sale of its property to a new company which was proposed to be formed and that the order if made would cause loss to the creditors and shareholders. The Court ordered the petition to stand over and allowed time upon the company undertaking not to part with any portion of the purchase money except for preliminary expenses and the company was allowed to complete the sale in the meantime with liberty to parties to apply in the meantime. (Beasley, J.) IRRAWADDY FLOTILLA CO., LTD. v. MERGUI TIN DREDGING CO., LTD. 2 Bur. L. J. 296 : A. I. R. 1924 Rang. 108.

——S. 179 (c)—Sale—Lessee as buyer—Validity.

In the course of the winding up of a company the Official Liquidator found it convenient to let out a mill for a fixed period, and sell it when the market was favourable. Before the expiry of the lease, circumstances occurred which made a sale necessary and so the Court gave the lessees an option to purchase and sanctioned a sale. Held, under the circumstances, it was the only possible course for the Court to follow. (Lord Phillimore.) BEHARI LAL v. KUNDAN LAL. 27 C. W. N. 509 : (1923) M.W. N. 388 : 69 I. C. 356 : 32 M. L. T. 15 : A. I. R. 1922 P. C. 361 : 47 M. L. J. 322 (P. C.)

——S. 186—Summary process—Recovering money from firm of which contributory a partner—Contract Act, S. 43—Applicability.

The summary procedure under S. 186, Companies Act, can be resorted to to recover money from firm, by selecting from among the partners one who is a contributory and calling upon him to liquidate the whole debt. The principle of S. 43, Contract Act, is applicable to such a case. (Shadi Lal, C. J. and Le Rossignol, J.) LIQUIDATOR, UNION BANK OF INDIA v. GOBIND SINGH. 4 Lah. 239 : 77 I. C. 338 : A. I. R. 1924 Lah. 148.

——S 186—Scope of—Contributory must be personally liable—List of contributories is final and cannot be questioned.

In order to make a contributory liable, under S. 186, for payment of debts other than calls, the said debts must be due by the said contributory in his own personal capacity and not as a member of a firm, which is not a contributory. Where on liquidation of a company, a shareholder is settled on the list of contributories he cannot, in proceedings under S. 186, plead that he was improperly so settled. (Broadway, J.) GOBIND SINGH v UNION BANK OF INDIA. 71 I. C. 724.

See On appeal. 4 Lah. 239 : A. I. R. 1923 Lah. 85.

——S. 186—Transferee of payment order—Can invoke summary process.

A transferee from the liquidator of a payment order made by a Court under S. 150 against the contributory can invoke the summary jurisdiction for recovering the money due from the latter. (Shadi Lal, C. J. and Wilberforce, J.) PARDUMAN SINGH v. PIONEER JEWELLERY COMPANY. 3 Lah. L. J. 382.

COMPANIES ACT (VII OF 1913), S. 203.

——S. 186 (a) (1882) and Ss. 150 and 144—Application by transferees does not lie.

An application by the transferees of debts and calls due from contributories as the attorney of the liquidator is not one on behalf of the Company or for his benefit and is therefore incompetent. (Abdul Raoof and Martineau, JJ.) THE DOABA BANK, LTD. v. KUNDAN LAL. 18 P. W. R. 1921 : 59 I. C. 588 : 3 Lah. L. J. 80.

——S. 186 (1)—Time-barred debt—Cannot be enforced against contributory.

S. 186 of the Companies Act does not override the provisions of the Limitation Act and does not enable the Court to enforce by a summary order the payment of a debt which it could not have enforced in an action at law. The section does not create new liabilities or confer new rights. It merely provides a summary procedure for enforcing existing legal liabilities. The words "at any time" can only mean at any time in the courts of liquidation proceedings commencing from the date of the winding up order. The section creates a new machinery for bringing in debts due by a contributory to the company and nothing more. (Shadi Lal, C. J. and Fforde, J.) SRI NARAIN v. LIQUIDATOR, UNION BANK OF INDIA. 4 Lah. 109: 74 I. C. 600 : 5 Lah. L. J. 569 : A. I. R. 1924 Lah. 53.

——Ss. 194 and 159 (1882)—Dissolution, effect of.

The final dissolution of the Company does not preclude the assignee of a payment order from the liquidation Court, from seeking relief from that Court nor does it render it necessary for him to bring an action for the recovery of the money. (Shadi Lal, C. J. and Wilberforce, J.) PARDUMAN SINGH v. PIONEER JEWELLERY CO. 3 Lah. L. J. 382.

——S. 195—Examination— Petitioning creditor should not be allowed to attend.

The examination under S. 195, Companies Act, is a private one and a petitioning creditor should not be allowed to attend the same, particularly when the creditor who seeks to attend is engaged in litigation with the company in liquidation. (Beasley, J.) MOOLLA DAWOOD COTTON MANUFACTURING COMPANY, LTD., In re. 1 Rang. 384 : 83 I. C. 3 : A. I. R. 1924 Rang. 24.

——S. 202—Application under S. 153 by Company which is not being wound up—Order on application not appealable.

There is no appeal under S. 202 of the Act from an order made on an application by the company under S. 153 which is not in the course of being wound up. (Macleod, C J. and Coyajee, J.) VIRAMGAM SPG. AND MANFG. CO. v. INDUSTRIAL BANK. 27 Bom. L. R. 655 : 89 I. C. 108 : A. I. R. 1925 Bom. 442.

——Ss. 202 and 247 (6)—Order under S. 247 (6)—No appeal but revision lies.

An order passed under cl. (6) of S. 247 refusing to restore the Company on to the register cannot be construed into an order made or given in the matter of the winding up of a Company by the Court and hence is not appealable. But where the order is based on an erroneous view of the law it is open to revision by the High Court. (Broadway, J.) SURJAN DAS v. THE CHABBA COTTON CO. 26 Punj. L. R. 68 : 86 I. C. 652 : A. I. R. 1925 Lah 443.

——S. 203 (2)—Mixing up of different matters in same resolution is legal—Companies Act, S. 213 (5).

A resolution in which the voluntary winding up of the company is mixed up with other matters relating to the agreement of amalgamation with another company is legal. (Shah, A. C. J and Fawcett, J.) PARSHURAM DATTARAM SHAMDASANI v. TATA INDUSTRIAL BANK, LTD.

COMPANIES ACT (VII OF 1913), S. 207.

26 Bom. L. R. 987 : A. I. R. 1925 Bom. 49.

——S. 207 (9)—Voluntary liquidation—Removal of liquidators—Measure of 'due cause.'

The power of the Court to remove a liquidator under S. 207, Cl. (9) of the Indian Companies Act is not confined to cases of unfitness on the part of the liquidator, but, also extends to cases where 'due cause' is shown, which, in its turn must be measured to the real interests of the liquidation. (1887) Ch. D. 299 cited and followed. (Macleod, C. J. and Shah, J.) KAI KUSHRU NUSSERWANJI v. TATA INDUSTRIAL BANK, LTD.

48 Bom. 471 : 80 I. C. 515 : 26 Bom L. R. 237 : A. I. R. 1924 Bom. 339.

——S. 209 (2)—Court cannot make an appointment with retrospective effect—Person not appointed liquidator, but assuming duties of liquidator has no rights.

The Court can extend the time for making an application for the appointment of a person as joint liquidator but the Court has no jurisdiction to make an appointment with retrospective effect. When an application is made under sub-clause (2) of S. 209 of the Companies Act, the Court is not required to register by a formal order the recommendation of the creditors of the Company as to the person to be appointed joint liquidator. The Court may or may not act under sub-clause (3) of S. 209, on the resolution of the creditors. The matter is entirely discretionary with the Court. Till an order is made appointing a person to act as joint liquidator such person cannot take upon himself the duties of a joint liquidator and therefore the assumption of the duties of the joint liquidator on the part of such a person does not give him any rights whatever. (C. C. Ghose J.) BHAGAT BROS. LTD., In re.

41 C. L J. 521 : A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 809.

——S. 213—Limited company has statutory right to amalgamate itself with another company and no express power in the Memorandum of Association is necessary for the purpose.

Every limited company has under S. 213 a statutory right of effecting an arrangement whereby it is amalgamated with another company. No express power need be contained in the Memorandum of Association of the company. (Shah, A. C. J. and Fawcett, J.) PARSHURAM DATTARAM SHAMDASANI v. TATA INDUSTRIAL BANK, LTD,, 26 B. L. R. 987: 90 I. C. 580 : A. I. R. 1925 Bom. 49.

——S. 213—Mere permission to authorise in terms the liquidators to receive compensation and distribute it among share-holders does not make a resolution illegal under the section where the resolution authorises the liquidators to carry into effect the arrangement under which the company is amalgamated with another company.

The mere fact that in terms there are no words authorising the liquidators to receive compensation and distribute it amongst the shareholders does not make a resolution illegal. Where the pertinent part of the resolution was " they (the liquidators) are hereby authorised pursuant to S. 213 of Companies Act, to adopt the said agreement (relating to the amalgamation of the company with another) and carry the same into effect." Held that the resolution was legal.

Per Fawcett, J.—The appointment of liquidators is not required to be by "special resolution," the latter being necessary only in regard to the proposed voluntary winding up of the company and amalgamation under S. 213. If any liquidators are proposed in the special resolution, the proposed liquidators may be changed at the confirmatory meeting. Therefore,where the resolution omits saying that such and such persons are hereby appointed liquidators for the purpose of the winding up, and instead of this the notice calling the meeting says that the confirmatory meeting would among other matters consider the question of appointing liquidators, the resolution is quite legal. (Shah, A. C. J. and Fawcett, J.) PARSHURAM DATTARAM SHAMDASANI v. TATA INDUSTRIAL BANK, LTD.

COMPANIES ACT (VII OF 1913), S. 232.

26 B. L. R. 987 : 90 I. C. 580 : A. I. R. 1925 Bom. 49.

——Ss. 215 and 207 (1)—Decree held by Company attached in execution of decree passed against Company after its voluntarily going into liquidation--Application by liquidators for removal of attachment should be granted.

Where a Bank has gone into voluntary liquidation and a mortgage decree which it holds has been attached in execution of a decree passed against the Bank after its going into liquidation and the liquidators apply to the High Court under S. 215 of the Companies Act for the removal of the attachment, the High Court can and ought to order the removal of such attachment. (Simpson, A. J. C.) NATIONAL BANK OF UPPER INDIA v. LAKHPAT RAI.

2 O. W. N. 508 : A. I. R. 1925 Oudh 483.

——S. 219—Application for compulsory winding up pending—Voluntary winding up decided at Company's meeting and carried into effect—No prejudice caused to creditor or contributories—Compulsory winding up would not be ordered.

Where the rights of the creditors or the contributories are not shown to be prejudiced by a voluntary winding up, the Court is not justified in ordering a compulsory winding-up, though the application to that effect was filed before the company decided to go in a voluntary liquidation. In re New York Exchange, Ltd. (39 Ch. D. 415) Foll. (Scott-Smith and Martineau, JJ.) SANSAR CHAND v. KARAM CHAND.

26 Punj. L. R. 654 : 89 I. C. 613 : 6 Lah. 340 : A. I. R. 1925 Lah 527.

——Ss. 229, 230 and 233—Applicability---Floating charges—Insolvency Act, S. 52.

S. 52 of the Insolvency Act has no application to cases of floating charges. (Kumarasamy Sastri, J.) In the matter of INDIAN COMPANIES ACT, 1913 AND In the matter of MORRISONS LTD.

20 L. W. 861 A. I, R. 1925 Mad. 271.

——S. 232—Application for winding-up—Subsequent to attachment—Sale of proprerty—Validity.

Long before applying for windingatpup the immove able property of the Company was attached in execution and it was sold after a winding up order had been passed. The Official Liquidator applied to have the sale set aside on the ground that the sale was a putting in force of an execution within S. 232, Held, that the sale was valid as the execution was put in force on the date of attachment which was long before the date of application for winding up. If a liquidator appeals in a case without the permission of the winding-up Court, he runs the risk of having had to pay the costs in case of failure. (Piggott and Walsh, JJ.) OFFICIAL LIQUIDATOR, KAYASTHA TRADING AND BANKING CORPORATION v. SANT NARAIN SINGH.

19 A. L. J.262 : 60 I. C. 763 : 43 All. 433.

——S. 232—Execution—Voluntary winding up—Effect of.

A voluntary winding up of a company does not have the effect ipso facto of putting an end to an attachment already in force, (Daniels, J. C.) THE NATIONAL BANK OF UPPER INDIA v. SHEO MANGAL BAJPAI.

10 O. & A. L. R. 115 : 11 O. L. J. 349

COMPANIES ACT (VII OF 1913), S. 234.

1 O. W. N. 118 : 79 I. C. 968 : A. I. R. 1924 Oudh 406.

——S. 234 (ii)—Compromise by liquidator—Validity.

If a bank has gone into voluntary liquidation, S. 234 provides that a liquidator could compromise all calls, liabilities to calls, debts, liabilities, etc., with the sanction of an extraordinary resolution of the Company but if no such extraordinary resolution was passed sanctioning the compromise by the liquidator and if the compromise was actually entered into, the Bank should be held bound thereby so far as the debtor is concerned, any loss occurring thereupon being recoverable from the liquidator, who had ignored or exceeded his powers. (Broadway, J.) GOBIND SINGH v. OFFICIAL LIQUIDATOR OF UNION BANK OF INDIA, LTD. 71 I. C. 724 : A. I. R. 1923 Lah. 85.

—— S. 235—Distribution of dividends when no profits are earned is misapplication of funds.

Distribution of the monies of a Company to the share-holders in the shape of dividends or profits when in fact no profits are being earned is misapplication of the company's funds. (Walsh and Mukerji, JJ.) THE UNION BANK, ALLAHABAD. (IN LIQUIDATION) In the matter of. 23 A. L. J. 473 : L. R. 6 A. (Civ.) 425 : A. I. R. 1925 All. 519.

——S. 235—Managing Director mixing up company's money with his own money and acquiring mortgage for himself with the whole sum is liable, though the fact was intimated to the auditors.

A Managing Director occupies the position of a trustee for the company and he is bound to exercise his powers for the benefit of the company and for that alone. He cannot in law withdraw from the bill of the company any sum and mix the same with moneys belonging to him and take a mortgage in his name in lieu of the whole amount, representing to the mortgagor, that the entirety of the moneys advanced on the mortgage were moneys belonging to himself. If he does so, he is guilty of breach of trust. The fact that the act was not concealed from the auditors does not obviate the guilt. The touch-stone by which such cases are to be tried is whether the trustee has been guilty of a breach of trust or not. If he has been guilty of gross negligence, it is as bad in its consequences as fraud and is a breach of trust and such a transaction cannot be ratified by the Board of Directors. But an order under S. 235 of the Indian Companies Act should only be made on a clear case being made out. In re Property Insurance Co., Ld. (1914) 1 Ch. 775, Foll. (C. C Ghose, J.) A. E. ALEXANDER & Co., LTD. (IN LIQUIDATION), In re. 88 I.C. 672 : 41 C. L. J. 443 : A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 852.

——S. 235—Section does not apply to recover rent due from a director who rented company's premises in his private capacity.

The terms of S. 235 show that that section is intended to provide a summary procedure for the recovery of money or property mis-applied or retained by a director or other officer of the company or money or property which such officer or director has become liable for by misfeasance or breach of trust in relation to the company, but it is not in terms meant to be applied for the purpose of enforcing sums due under contracts between the company and other persons, whether such persons happen to be directors or not and therefore, arrears of rent due by a director to the company upon foot of an ordinary contract of tenancy, entered into in his private capacity cannot be held to be money of the company and thus is not recoverable under this section. (Scott-Smith and Fforde, JJ.) SRI RAM v. NUR MUHAMMAD. 5 Lah. 461 : 85 I. C. 126 : A. I. R. 1925 Lah. 194.

COMPANIES ACT (VII OF 1913), S. 247.

——S. 235—Misfeasance—Claim for compensation—Limitation—Commencement—Limitation Act, Art. 36—Applicability.

A claim for compensation for misfeasance under S. 235 of the Companies Act is governed by Art. 36 of the Limitation Act, the provisions of which are made applicable by S. 235 (3). S. 235 does not create any new right or liability and time begins to run from the date of the misfeasance for which compensation is sought. (Martineau, J.) HUKAM CHAND v. BANK OF MULTAN. 69 I. C. 255 : A. I. R. 1924 Lah. 285.

——S. 235—Directors of a Bank—Acts of misfeasance and breach of trust—Advance by directors on a promise to execute a mortgage instead of the mortgage itself—Personal liability—Director accepting fixed deposit receipt from the Bank in lieu of his claim against a person who is allowed over-draft by the Bank—Liability to refund the amount realised—Managing Director allowing overdraft with motives of personal gain—Liability to compensate the Bank.

The mere fact that the directors allow advances to be made on the strength of a promise to execute a mortgage instead of the mortgage itself does not amount to an act of misfeasance so as to make them personally liable to the extent of the advances made. Facts which show imprudence in exercise of powers conferred upon the directors will not subject them to personal responsibility ; the imprudence must be so great and manifest as to amount to Crassa negligenta. The directors of a Company acting within their powers, and with reasonable care, and honestly in the interest of the Company are not personally liable for losses which the Company may suffer by reason of their mistakes or errors of judgment. Where, however, a director accepts a fixed deposit receipt from the Bank in lieu of his claim against a person who is allowed an overdraft by the Bank and subsequently cashes the fixed deposit receipt out of the funds of the Bank, he cannot be allowed to retain that money to the detriment of the share-holders and the creditors of the Bank and must refund it. The fact that he is not a director of the Bank on the date he cashes the deposit receipt does not relieve him of the obligations which arise out of his fiduciary relationship with the Bank.

The duties of a Managing Director of a Bank are of a higher standard than of an ordinary director. Where, in allowing an overdraft to be made the Managing Director is clearly impelled by motives of personal gain and dishonestly conceals the transaction from the Directors of the Bank, he is guilty of breach of trust and liable to compensate the Bank for the loss which the Bank suffers in consequence of the overdraft. (Wazir Hasan, J. C.) S. C. MITTRA v. NAWAB ALI KHAN. 2 O. W. N. 920.

——S. 235 (3)—Lim. Act, Art. 120 alone applies—Time runs from appointment of liquidators—Lim. Act, Art. 120.

Article 120 is the only article applicable to an application under S. 235 of the Companies Act and time begins to run only after the appointment of the liquidator (Walsh and Mukerji, JJ.) THE UNION BANK, ALLAHABAD (IN LIQUIDATION), In the matter of. 23 A. L. J. 473 : L. R. 6 A. (Civ.) 425 : A. I. R. 1925 All. 519.

——S. 247—Registrar is not bound to remove Company from register when it is not carrying on business or has less than 7 members—Object of application for removal of Company being to avoid liability in suit pending against Company application should not be granted.

The Registrar is not bound to remove the Company from the register on discovering that it is not functioning or that its members have been reduced to less than seven. Even though an application is made for the removal of a Company from the registrar on the necessary grounds, the Registrar may refuse to remove the said Company from the register. The mere fact of the share-holders of a Company becoming less than seven persons does not render a Company defunct. Where an application is made to the Register under S. 247 for the removal of the Company from the register, and the object of the application is to avoid liability in a suit pending against the Company, the application must be rejected. If the application is granted, the order is liable to be set aside by the Court. (Broadway, J.) SURJAN DAS v THE CHABBA COTTON CO. 86 I. C. 652 : A. I. R. 1925 Lah. 443.

COMPANIES ACT (VII OF 1913), S. 281.

——S. 281—Directors being required by Articles of Association to control management of company but blindly trusting dishonest manager are not exempt though honest

Under the Articles of Association of a company the directors were made responsible for the management of the company. The manager was to be entirely under their control and they had even the power to dismiss him. The directors blindly trusted a dishonest manager and allowed themselves to be in utter ignorance of the affairs of the company. The directors were not dishonest. Held: "that the directors had not acted reasonably" and so could not escape liability for any charge against them. (English case law discussed.) (Walsh and Mukerji, JJ.) THE UNION BANK, ALLAHABAD (IN LIQUIDATION), In the matter of. 23 A. L. J. 473 : L. R. 6 A. (Civ.) 425 : A. I. R. 1925 All. 519.

——S. 282—Limited Company—Prospectus sent to Registrar—Directors undertaking to subscribe certain shares—Failure to discharge obligation by two Directors—Application to start business with incorrect declaration—Offence.

According to the prospectus for the floatation of a limited company sent by the accused to the Registrar of Joint Stock Companies it appeared that five persons who had agreed to be Directors of the Company had as such undertaken to subscribe for 500 shares. Two of these Directors never paid any sum due from them but in spite of this the accused applied to the Registrar for permission to commence business after making the necessary declaration that the Directors had taken 500 shares and paid for them. Held, that the accused led the Registrar to believe that even the two Directors who never paid any money had taken the shares and paid for them and he was therefore guilty under S. 282 of the Companies Act. (Mears, C.J.) BOSE v. EMPEROR. 46 A. 218 : L. R. 5 A. 71 (Cr.) : 77 I. C. 826 : 22 A. L. J. 83 : 25 Cr. L. J. 474 : A. I. R. 1924 All. 314.

——S. 284—Winding up commenced before new Act came into force—Procedure is that under the old Act.

When proceedings in winding up were commenced, Act VII of 1913 came into force. S. 284 lays down that for all purposes connected with the winding up, the old Act should be regarded as in force. An appeal against the order of the District Judge must be filed and notice served in such a case within 3 weeks of the order as laid down in S. 169 of the old Act. (Chevis, J.) HEMRAJ v. PUNJAB TANNERY COMPANY. 68 I. C. 792 : A. I. R. 1923 Lah. 98.

——Ss. 286 and 234—Compromise between liquidator and contributory—When binding.

Sanction by extraordinary resolution as under S. 234 is necessary in order that a compromise between a liquidator of a Company and a contributor though it might, if found, be binding on the former person, will be binding on the Company. (Shadi Lal and Le Rossignol, JJ.) LIQUIDATOR, UNION BANK OF INDIA v. GOBIND SINGH. 4 Lah. 239 : 77 I.C. 338 : A. I. R. 1924 Lah. 148.

COMPANY.

COMPANY.

——Directors—Powers of Acts when binding—Articles of Association.

The powers of the Directors of a Company are as defined by the Articles of Association and they cannot go behind the same. Act as done beyond their powers are ultra vires and not binding. Strangers acting bona fide with the directors within their apparent authority are protected. (Kanhaiya Lal, J.) RAM BARAM SINGH v. THE MUFASSIL BANK. L. R. 6 A. 29 : 83 I. C. 142 : A. I. R. 1925 All. 206 (2).

——Director—Additional remuneration is not due for doing what is his duty as director.

A director of a company is not entitled to any remuneration beyond what has been sanctioned by the Articles of Association for doing an act which would be his duty as a director to do. (Mukerji and Dalal, JJ.) DIKSHIT AND CO., LTD. v. MATHURA PRASAD. 22 A L. J. 883 : L. R. 5 A. (Civ.) 722 : 82 I.C. 21 : 47 All. 94 : A. I. R. 1925 All. 71.

——Director—Payment by, of uncalled capital due.

Where the Directors of a company knowing that the Company is insolvent make payment of money representing the uncalled capital due as shares, the payment must be treated as payment towards capital and not as loan to the company. (Walsh and Ryves, JJ.) HARI RAM v. THE COMMERCIAL BANK, LTD. 62 I. C. 889 : 19 A. L J. 445.

——Director—Powers—Articles of Association.

Where the Articles provide for notice in writing to a member whose share the Company desires to forfeit, it cannot work forfeiture without such notice. The Director of a Company has no power to cancel or forfeit shares or release share-holders in the absence of such special power. A resolution authorizing the return of the money of those who have not paid the allotment money and who do not desire to remain as members is ultra vires. (Walsh and Ryves, JJ.) PEOPLES INDUSTRIAL BANK, LTD. v. JALPA PRASAD. 3 U P. L. R. (All.) 57 : 62 I. C. 450 : 19 A. L. J. 351.

——Shares applied for on misreading of prospectus—Applicant cannot resile—"Friends of directors" include business friends.

The plaintiff company issued a prospectus. It contained two representations (1) That applications for shares would be received only up to a certain date; (2) that a certain number of the shares were to be taken up by the directors, agents and their friends. The defendant applied for and was allotted certain shares. The plaintiff company accepted applications, long after the date fixed. The Directors, and their agents and friends took up a smaller number of shares than it was alleged that they would take up. The defendant admitted that the fact that the latest date for applications for shares was fixed in the prospectus had not induced him to apply for shares. But he contended that he had understood from the first that the Directors, etc., had taken up the shares that it had been announced they would take up. Held, that the defendant had applied for shares, on a misreading of the prospectus and not on the faith of the representations which had been made and that he was not entitled to resile from the contract, Held: further that the terms 'friends' in the prospectus included business as well as social friends, and that it would not be misrepresentation if the promoters guaranteed that so many shares were to be taken up by their friends, when they knew perfectly well that those friends intended to make what they could of the favour shown to them by the reservation, by distributing the shares among their own friends. (Macleod, C. J. and Crump, J.) BANSIDHAR DURGADATT v TATA POWER COMPANY, LTD. 87 I. C. 547 : 27 B. L. R. 330 : A. I. R. 1925 Bom. 272 (2).

COMPANY.

———Share-holder misappropriating company's goods--Majority supporting the act—Minority can sue.

Minority has a right to sue one of the share-holders forming majority for acts of misappropriation of company's goods on the part of that share-holder, even though the majority approved of his acts. (Marten and Fawcett, JJ.) VADILAL RAGHAVJI v. MANEKLAL MANSUKHBHAI. 49 Bom. 291 : 27 B. L. R. 48 : 89 I. C. 35 : A. I. R. 1925 Bom. 188.

Meeting.

———Meeting—Amendment—Rejection is proper if contrary to Court's order.

Amendment may be rejected if it is contrary to the terms of the order of the Court, under which the meeting takes place, or if it is an integral amendment naming four persons as substitutes for the four persons mentioned in the principal resolution for certain offices and three out of the four persons mentioned in the amendment, intimate that they decline to accept the offices. (Shah, A. C. J. and Fawcett, J.) F. A. C. REBELLO v. CO OPERATIVE NAVIGATION AND TRADING CO., LTD. 26 B. L. R. 907 : 84 I.C. 363 : A. I. R. 1925 Bom. 105.

———Meeting—Minutes are prima facie though, not conclusive, evidence of proceedings—Chairman's declaration of the result of polls will be presumed to be correct until the contrary is proved. Also, when meeting is held and chairman acts under orders of Court, Court has some control as to evidence attacking the validity of the proceeding.

The minutes in the books are to be received though not as conclusive, yet, as prima facie evidence of resolution and proceedings at general meetings; inasmuch as the chairman who presides at such meetings, and has to receive the poll and declare its result, has prima facie authority to decide all emergent questions which necessarily require decision at the time, his decision of those questions will naturally govern, and properly govern the entry of the minutes in the book ; and though in no sense conclusive, it throws the burden of proof upon the other side, who may say, contrary to the entry in the minute-book, following the decision of the chairman, that the result of the poll was different from that there recorded. This principle all the more applies where a meeting is held and the chairman acts under the order of a Court.

Per Fawcett, J.—If the meeting had been held under the Court's orders and under the chairmanship of an officer appointed by the Court specially for that purpose, the result cannot be attacked as freely as otherwise. The case is like that of the report of a commissioner for a local investigation falling under Order 26, R. 10, C. P. Code, and although that particular rule does not in terms cover the present case, it does afford a useful guide as to the situation arising. The adducing of evidence in regard to objections to a commissioner's report is subject to the discretion of the Court. The Court has, therefore, a certain control as to the kind and amount of evidence that should be allowed to be adduced in regard to the objection taken to the result of the voting as reported by the Chairman. (Shah, A. C. J. and Fawcett, J.) F. A. C. REBELLO v. CO-OPERATIVE NAVIGATION AND TRADING CO., LTD. 26 B. L. R. 907 : 84 I. C 363 : A. I. R. 1925 Bom. 105.

———Meeting—Validity of Votes--Plaintiff disputing validity can claim inspection and discovery of documents—But refusal of inspection is not wrong so as to merit reversal by superior Court, where delay is bad and where inspection is not likely to benefit plaintiff—C. P. Code, O. 11, R. 12—C. P. Code, S. 99.

When the plaintiff disputes the validity of the votes recorded in a meeting, he is entitled to inspection of the documents concerned. But when such inspection will cause delay which the nature of the case will not permit and when the plaintiffs do not show that the inspection would yield any result in their favour, refusal of inspection is not wrong so as to merit reversal by the superior Court. The restrictions in England in regard to the inspection of ballot papers in elections both to the House of Commons and in regard to Municipal elections, show there are some considerations against a free right of inspection of voting papers in a case like the present, though those restrictions being statutory, cannot apply in India. (Shah, A. C. J. and Fawcett, J.) F. A. C. REBELLO v. CO-OPERATIVE NAVIGATION AND TRADING CO., LTD. 26 B. L. R 907 : 84 I.C. 363 : A. I. R. 1925 Bom. 105.

———Meeting—Closing doors during taking of poll—Chairman is justified if special precautions are necessary.

The chairman is justified in closing the doors during the taking of the poll if it is not an ordinary meeting of a company, but a meeting in which special precautions have to be taken in view of the rivalry between two groups. Although in an ordinary meeting the doors may be kept open, yet in such cases it is open to the chairman, if he thinks it advisable to close the doors during the taking of the poll. (Shah, A. C. J. and Fawcett, J.) F. A. C. REBELLO v. CO-OPERATIVE NAVIGATION AND TRADING CO., LTD. 26 B. L. R. 907 : 84 I.C. 363 : A. I. R. 1925 Bom. 105.

———Meeting—Presumption is in favour of validity of proceedings unless the invalidating fact is established beyond reasonable doubt.

Court should incline more in favour of the validity of the proceedings than in favour of their invalidity, if the fact which would go to invalidate the proceedings is not established beyond reasonable doubt. The Court should not interfere on the ground of an irregularity in the case of acts which are valid if done with the approval of the majority of share-holders unless the acts complained of are of a fraudulent character or are ultra vires. A case of fraud or overbearing influence is necessary for interference by the Court. (Shah, A. C. J. and Fawcett, J.) PARSHURAM DATTARAM SHAMDASANI v. TATA INDUSTRIAL BANK, LTD. 26 B. L. R 987 : A. I. R. 1925 Bom. 49.

———Amalgamation with another company is not confined to formation of new company to carry on business of the old—There must be sale of assets as a whole in return for shares in purchasing company.

The amalgamation of a company with another company includes the formation of a new company but is not confined to that. The company in some way or other must sell its assets as a whole not for money but for shares in the purchasing company. (Shah, A. C. J. and Fawcett, J.) PARSHURAM DATTARAM SHAMDASANI v. TATA INDUSTRIAL BANK, LTD. 26 B. L. R. 987 : A I. R. 1925 Bom. 49.

———Meeting—Point of order assailing competency of the meeting to consider the proposed resolution which is long enough to form a speech against the resolution is properly ruled out as a point of order.

COMPANY.

A point of order which is a request to the chairman to hold that the meeting is not competent to consider and confirm the arrangement, contained in the resolution as it is ultra vires of the company and which is long enough to form a decent speech against the resolution, is properly rejected as a point of order as it is for the shareholders to consider whether to accept or reject the resolution. (Shah, A. C.J. and Fawcett, J.) PARSHURAM DATTARAM SHAMDASANI v. TATA INDUSTRIAL BANK, LTD. 26 B. L. R. 987 : A. I. R. 1925 Bom. 49.

———Meeting—Amendment — Disallowing proper amendment vitiates resolution—But amendment which amounts to rejection of the resolution is illegal.

Any proper amendment, which is moved by any member at a meeting, should be put to the meeting for consideration and if the chairman rules out any such amendment, the resolution is liable to be set aside. But if an amendment though in form an amendment is really a counter-proposal of a different nature involving either adjournment of the consideration of the resolution or the rejection of the resolution proposed before the meeting, or goes beyond the scope of the subject matter of the resolution, it should be ruled out. Where the matter for consideration before a meeting of the shareholders of a company is whether a particular offer made by another company in connection with the amalgamation of the two companies, is to be accepted, an amendment which in effect asks the shareholders to consider that the proposed amalgamation may be modified and which requires something to be done by the other company after the amalgamation is effected, is illegal. But it is open to the shareholders to adjourn the consideration of the question before the meeting, with a view to further negotiate with the other company and to see whether any counter-offer made by their company would be accepted by the other company. (Shah, A.C.J. and Fawcett, J.) PARSHURAM DATTARAM SHAMDASANI v. TATA INDUSTRIAL BANK, LTD. 26 B. L. R. 987 : A. I.R. 1925 Bom. 49.

———Meeting—Right of speech—A shareholder is entitled to be heard in reasonable terms for a reasonable time—The question whether the denial of this right vitiates the resolution itself intended to be opposed by him, depends on the circumstances of each case—If it is practically certain that his speech would not have made any difference in the situation, the resolution will stand—Though technically a speaker may seem to elect not to speak as when he resumes his seat when the audience shouts "no" to his appeal to them to hear him, yet, if it may be inferred from the circumstances that if he speaks, he would be prevented from doing so, he should be held to be prevented from speaking.

A share-holder is not entitled to speak at a meeting as much as he pleases, but has a right to be heard in reasonable terms for a reasonable time. As to whether the denial of this right vitiates the resolution, the proper test is to consider the facts and circumstances of each case and to determine the question in the light of those circumstances. Though it is a difficult thing to say whether a particular speech will impress the audience in the direction desired by the speaker, yet, having regard to the definite hostile attitude which the majority of the share-holders maintain at the meeting with reference to the speaker, as also to the fact that all that he could have said, was really said in the point of order raised by him which was already read to the meeting, though the right of speech is denied to him when he desires to speak to the resolution, the circumstance cannot be accepted as affording a sufficient basis for setting aside a resolution, which represents the ascertained views and wishes of an overwhelming majority of the share-holders. As regards the question as to what constitutes denial of the right of speech, where the speaker appeals to the share-holders. "Brother share-holders, will you care to listen to me," and when they say 'no'; he elects not to speak, in substance he is prevented from speaking, if, from the attitude of the share-holders and other circumstances, it may be inferred that if the person thinks of speaking he would be prevented from doing so. (Shah, A. C. J. and Fawcett, J) PARSHURAM DATTARAM SHAMDASANI v. TATA INDUSTRIAL BANK, LTD. 26 B L.R. 987 : A. I. R. 1925 Bom. 49.

———Meeting—Evidence of proceedings—Evidence.

The minutes of a meeting are prima facie evidence of what happened at the meeting. (Shah, A. C. J. and Fawcett, J.) PARSHURAM DATTARAM SHAMDASANI v. TATA INDUSTRIAL BANK, LTD. 26 B. L. R. 987 : A. I. R. 1925 Bom. 49.

———Meeting—Objection to validity of votes must be handed in before the commencement of the poll—It must particularise the votes objected to.

A point of order objecting to the validity of votes tendered for resolution must be handed to the chairman before he commences to take the poll. Also, it should be directed to particular votes. It is futile for any member to raise a general objection without indicating the nature of the objection and without any attempt to particularise the votes objected to. It can only be interpreted as a sort of invitation on the part of the member to adjourn the proceedings of the meeting to examine the votes over again. If the amendment simply says that the person objects to all the votes and if it does not enable the chairman to consider the validity of any particular vote, it is too general to be of any effect and is completely useless. (Shah, A. C, J. and Fawcett, J.) PARSHURAM DATTARAM SHAMDASANI v. TATA INDUSTRIAL BANK, LTD. 26 B.L.R. 987 : A. I. R. 1925 Bom. 49.

———Meeting—Amendment to resolution lost on show of hands—Poll demanded and taken—But before declaration of result of poll, demand for poll and other amendments withdrawn and new amendment allowed—Original resolution is not invalidated.

The proposal to appoint two liquidators was subject to two amendments, which were duly proposed and seconded. The second amendment was lost on a show of hands. A poll was demanded. The poll was taken, but before the result of the poll was declared, a new amendment was allowed to be proposed, the demand for poll and the other amendments being withdrawn. Held, it was perfectly open to meeting to adopt that course. Even if there was any irregularity it was a matter for the meeting or the chairman to control and the irregularity had not the slightest effect upon the validity of the appointment of the liquidators named at that meeting. (Shah, A. C J. and Fawcett, J.) PARSHURAM DATTARAM SHAMDASANI v. TATA INDUSTRIAL BANK, LTD. 26 B. L. R. 987 : A. I. R. 1925 Bom. 49.

———Shareholders—Rights of—Courts when can interfere—Adjournment—Chairman's right.

Irregularity in the proceedings of a limited company are not a matter for the Court but it is dealt with by the majority of the shareholders. The Courts will interfere only if the rights of the share-holders are infringed or if a case of fraud or ultra vires is made out. Where the Articles of Association empower the Chairman to adjourn meetings with its consent, he is not bound to do it even if the meeting desires an adjournment. A shareholder is not entitled to operate as much as he pleases, but for a reasonable time.

COMPANY.

(Pratt, J.) PARSHURAM DATTARAM v. TATA INDUSTRIAL BANK, LTD. 47 Bom. 915 : 25 Bom. L. R. 1083 : A. I. R. 1924 B. 102.

———Meeting not held in accordance with Articles of Association or by direction of Court to liquidator in winding up proceedings is not meeting of Company.

There are proper ways in which a meeting of a company can be called either by the directors in accordance with the provisions of the Articles of Association or by the shareholders on requisition, also in accordance with the provisions of the Articles of Association. There is only one other way apart from any special Article of Association, that a meeting of a company can be called and that is by a direction of a Court to the liquidator in winding up proceedings. The mere fact that certain persons who happened to be shareholders of the Company met together at a private —house and purported to pass resolutions appointing directors and so on, does not make that a meeting of the Company. For a meeting to be a meeting of the Company it must be a meeting convened in one of the ways referred to above and convened strictly in accordance with the Articles of Association. (Greaves and Chakravarti, JJ.) KAILASH CHANDRA DATTA v. SADAR MUNSIF SILCHAR. 52 Cal. 513 : 88 I. C. 826 : A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 817.

———Receiver of Company cannot be appointed—C. P. Code, O. 40, R. 1.

There is no jurisdiction in a Court to appoint a Receiver of a Company except in a debenture holders' action when the business and assets of the Company are charged with payment of the claims of the debenture holders. If it is necessary to protect the assets of a company other means must be sought which are provided by the provisions of the Companies Act. (Greaves and Chakravarti, JJ.) KAILASH CHANDRA DATTA v. SADAR MUNSIF SILCHAR.

52 Cal. 513 : 88 I. C. 826 : A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 817.

———Articles of Association—Bona fide alteration not opposed to memorandum is permissible—Inconsistency with special contract — Contractee, even if shareholder, is not bound.

A share-holder in the company must be taken to know that one of the incidents of membership of a company is that the company may, by adopting the proper method, bona fide alter its articles in a way which may prejudicially affect his interest, and provided that the alteration in the article is not inconsistent with the objects set out in the Memorandum of Association, and is bona fide made in the interest of the company, the plaintiff, as a share-holder, in ordinary circumstances would be bound by such an alteration. But a special contract may be made with the Company, in the terms of or embodying one or more of the articles and if an alteration of the articles so embodied is inconsistent with the real bargain between the parties, the contractee, even though he might be a shareholder in the Company will not be bound. A company cannot break its contracts by altering its articles. The company was a Life Insurance Company. The insured was allotted shares. The insured was entitled under the contract to draw from the company a certain sum on a certain date. In the meanwhile the company altered its Articles of Association, by which such sums were made payable out of a special fund. At the time that the amount became payable to the insured, that fund was insolvent and was not in a position to clear the debt in a lump. Held : that the effect of the alteration of the articles was that it involved a fundamental breach of a contract which the company had previously entered into with the insured and in respect of that contract the article was inapplicable. In respect of that contract, although the insured was a shareholder in the company, in respect of this debt the directors would not be acting ultra vires in paying the sum out of the general assets of the company which the directors were at liberty to allocate for the purpose of liquidating this and other business claims. Alen v. Gold Reefs of West Africa (1900) 1 Ch. 656, Baily v. British Equitable Assurance Company (1904) 1 Ch. 374, Ref. to. British Murac Syndicate, Held v. Alperton Rubber Co., Ltd. (1915) 2 Ch. 186 Ref. to. (Page, J.) HARICHANDAN JOGA DEVA v. HINDUSTAN CO-OPERATIVE INSURANCE SOCIETY, LTD.

52 Cal. 239 : 90 I. C. 86 : A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 690.

———Liquidation—Members of a provident fund maintained by company—Subscriptions paid by members supplemented by contributions from company—Right of provident fund holders—Priority—Unsecured creditors—Share holders—Fiduciary relationship—Payment of interest—Effect of.

The Alliance Bank of Simla had created and controlled a Provident Fund for its employees. The Bank suspended payment and went into liquidation. The question arose whether the members of the Provident Fund had priority over the unsecured creditors or whether they were only to rank pari pasu with them. Under the rules those of the Bank's employees who fulfilled the conditions required for membership of the fund were compelled to subscribe thereto and every half year the Bank contributed a sum equal to the aggregate amount of the subscriptions of the members during the preceding half year. Every half year the Bank also contributed interest at a rate not exceeding the rate at which interest was paid on fixed deposit and not exceeding 5 per cent. per annum. The half-yearly contributions of capital were divided (by book entry) among the members in proportion to amount of their subscriptions and the half-yearly interest was paid upon the capital amount from time to time standing to the credit of each member. The account of the fund was kept in the general books of the company at their head office where a subsidiary ledger was also maintained showing the amount from time to time standing to the credit of each member. Each member was supplied with a pass book which was made up and balanced half yearly. In the case of a member who was also a customer of the Bank in the ordinary sense, his Provident Fund Account was wholly distinct from his personal account. As regards the mode of collecting subscriptions those who had no personal accounts received their salaries in full and returned their subscriptions to an office of the Bank whose duty it was to collect them. Members with personal accounts were credited in those accounts with their salaries in full and debited with their subscriptions. Held, that there was a fiduciary relationship between the bank and its employees who were members of the Provident Fund, that the provision as to interest was not wholly inconsistent with the existence of a fiduciary relationship and that the money in this fund so constituted never became the property of the bank in the sense that the relationship between the Bank and the members was merely that of debtor and creditor. The amount standing to the credit of each member was his property in the possession and under the control of the Bank. The members of the fund were entitled to priority not only in respect of the contributions made by them but also in respect of the contributions made by the Bank which contributions included the sums equivalent to the aggregate sums subscribed by the members and the interest provided by the Bank. Consequently the members of the Provident Fund were entitled to receive payment in full of the amounts standing to their credit in respect of the fund in priority to the unsecured creditors and share-holders of the Bank. Gee v. Liddell 35 Bead 629 ; In re Hallets' Estate 13 Ch. D. 696 : Exparte Blave (1894) 2 Q. B. 237 ; Sinclair v. Brougham (1914) A. C. 398 Ref. (Sanderson, C. J. and Richardson, J.) In re ALLIANCE BANK OF SIMLA, LTD.

28 C. W. N. 721: A. I. R. 1924 Cal. 818.

———Management—Interference by Court with internal management when justified—Rights of share-holders and their minority.

The Court will not interfere with the internal management of the companies acting within their powers, and in fact has no jurisdiction to do so. Burland v. Earl ; (1902) A. C. 83 ; Foster v. Foster (1916) 1 Ch. 532 Rel. on. In order to redress a wrong done to the company or to recover moneys or damages alleged to be due by the company, the action should prima facie be brought by the company itself. But an exception is made to the second rule, that is to say, that the company ought to bring the action "where the persons against whom the relief is sought themselves hold and control the majority of the shares in the company and will not permit an action to be brought in the name of the company. In that case the courts allow the share-holders complaining to bring an action in their own names. This, however, is mere matter of procedure in order to give a remedy for a wrong which would otherwise escape redress, and it is obvious in such an action the Plaintiffs cannot have a larger right to relief than the company itself would have if it were Plaintiff, and cannot complain of acts which are valid if done with the approval of the majority of the share-holders, or capable of being confirmed by the majority. The cases in which the minority can maintain such an action are therefore, confined to those in which the acts complained of are of a fraudulent character or beyond the powers of the company. A familiar example is where the majority are endeavouring directly or indirectly to appropriate to themselves money, property, or advantages which belong to the company, or in which the other share-holders are entitled to participate. No mere informality which can be remedied by the majority will entitle the minority to sue, if the act when done regularly would be within the powers of the company and the intention of the majority of the share-holders is clear. (Mookerjee and Rankin, JJ.) BHANDY v. L. P. E. PUGH. 28 C. W. N. 479 : A. I. R. 1924 Cal. 598.

———Winding up—Fraud—Waiver.

The mere fact that there has been a fraud in the promotion or fraudulent misrepresentation in the prospectus, will not be sufficient to found a winding up order as the majority of share-holders may waive the fraud. (Sanderson C. J. and Richardson, J.) ORIENTAL NAVIGATION COY. v. BANARAM AGARWALLA. 49 Cal. 399 : (1922) Cal. 865.

———Winding up — Shareholders — Liability as contributory—Fraud.

A share-holder cannot be relieved of his liability as contributory in the winding up proceedings on the ground he was induced to buy the shares by a fraudulent misrepresentation. (Le Rossignol and Broadway, JJ.) THE ORIENTAL BANK OF INDIA v. HABIBULLAH KHAN. A. I. R 1924 Lah. 649.

———Contract by promoters before incorporation—Cannot be ratified.

A Company cannot ratify or adopt a contract entered into by a person on its behalf before in corporation though it may enter into a new contract embodying the terms of the old one or adopting the old one.

(Chevis, J.) SURENDR AAND COY. v. PUNJAB TANNERY COY. 68 I. C. 787 : A. I. R. 1923 Lah. 100.

———Shares—Liability of share-holders—Transfer or forfeiture of shares—Liquidation—Contributaries—Transaction of business of company—Absence of quorum provided by rules—Business done by Circulation—Legality of.

A company cannot purchase the shares from a share-holder. It can accept a surrender of the shares subject to the conditions and limitations applicable to a forfeiture of the shares. Where the facts are against it, no presumption arises that an entry of forfeiture of shares in the books of the company has been properly made. Even after a transfer, surrender or forfeiture of the shares, the liability of the shareholder continues and he is liable as a contributory on liquidation of the Company if it takes place within a year. It is not necessary that a list of contributories should have been placed before a meeting of the creditors to make the share-holder liable as a contributory. Where under the rules of business of a company a quorum for a meeting of directors is required before they can transact business, it is not open to a less number of directors by themselves to transact business by circulation even though the rules authorising the transaction of business by circulation do not fix any number of directors among whom the matter should be circulated. (Devadoss, J.) INDIAN COMPANIES ACT, In the matter of. 20 L. W. 74 : (1924) M. W. N. 582 : 83 I. C. 94 : A. I. R. 1924 Mad. 703.

———Shares—Transfer of—Formalities necessity for—Inchoate transfer—Rights of transferee—C. P. Code, O. 21, Rr. 46, 76, 79 and 80—Discretion of Directors in recognising transfer.

A deed of transfer of shares in a company not complying with the formalities prescribed by the Indian Companies Act and the Articles of Association of the Company, is invalid as against a person who has purchased the shares in a sale in execution held under the provisions of the C.P. Code. When the law prescribes a mode of transfer for shares in a limited company, compliance with that mode is necessary before property can pass so as to confer title on the transferee as against third persons. A transfer of shares in a company otherwise than as is provided by the Indian Companies Act and the Articles of Association may confer a right in equity on the transferee to compel the vendor to execute a proper conveyance and the transaction evidenced by transfer can be regarded as an agreement to convey capable of being perfected into an absolute conveyance by compliance with the prescribed formalities. Until then, the transfer is inchoate and the transferee cannot claim priority over a Court auction-purchaser of the shares. (1902) 2 K. B. 427 and 40 Mad. 1134, Foll. 31 Bom. 76, Not Foll.

Obiter :—It is open to the Directors of a Company in the bona fide discretion vested in them under the Indian Companies Act and the Articles of Association to refuse to recognise the purchaser of the shares of the company in a Court auction as a shareholder in the company. (Kumaraswami Sastri and Devadoss, JJ.) TADEPALLI NAGABHUSHANAM v. SRI RAM RAMACHANDRA RAO. 45 Mad. 537 : 30 M. L. T. 231 (H. C.) : 15 L. W. 470 : (1922) M. W. N. 331 : 42 M. L. J. 449.

———Liquidation proceedings—Only two Directors—One of them disqualified to vote—The other Director alone can represent company.

The appellant company consisted of only two share-holders. These were also the Directors of the Company. The articles contained a clause which provided that any Director who was interested in any contract with the company was disqualified to vote on questions in which he was interested. One of the Directors was the Governing Director of the respondent company who was a creditor of the appellant company and who presented a petition for the winding up of the appellant company. The other Director opposed the winding up of the company. Held, that the other Director alone was competent to act for the company as a whole in the proceedings. (Carr and Maung Gyi, JJ.) BOWDENS, LTD v BRITISH PLUMBING AND SANITARY ENGINEERING CO., LTD. 4 Bur. L. J. 36 : 88 I. C. 331 : A. I. R. 1925 Rang. 241.

COMPARTMENT. See RAILWAYS ACT.

COMPENSATION.

See (1) CR. P. CODE, S. 250.
(2) LAND ACQUISITION ACT.
(3) T. P. ACT, S. 51.

COMPETENT COURT.

See (1) CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE, S. 11.
(2) PRACTICE—JURISDICTION.

COMPETENT PERSONS TO DEPOSE AS WITNESSES. See EVIDENCE ACT, S. 118.

COMPLAINT. See CR. P. CODE, SS. 4 AND 199 TO 203.

COMPLETION OF TRANSFER. See T. P. ACT, S. 54.

COMPOSITION.

See (1) DEBTOR AND CREDITOR.
(2) T. P. ACT, S. 53.

COMPOUNDING OFFENCE. See CR. P. CODE, S. 345.

COMPOUND INTEREST. See INTEREST.

COMPROMISE.

See also (1) C. P. CODE, O. 23, R. 3.
(2) REGISTRATION ACT, S. 17 (2) (vi).

———Construction—A provisional compromise confers no title unless the provision is satisfied.

Where a compromise was arrived at between the alleged sharers in a certain property, by which the question as to giving share to appellant was to be referred to arbitration but the question was never so referred, held, that such a compromise is not effective as it was only a provisional one. (Lord Sumner.) KARIMUNNESSA KHATUN v. MAHOMED FAZLUL KARIM. 88 I. C. 149 : A. I. R. 1925 P. C. 70 (P.C.).

———Binding character of—Consensus ad idem—Necessity for—Interposition of third party to fix amount—Conclusive or leading element in contributing to compromise—Compromise by counsel—Compromise empowering counsel for opposite party to fix amount—Legality of.

A suit, which had been heard for two days, was on the representation of counsel on both sides that it was likely to be settled, passed over. Later in the day counsel for the defendant stated that the case was settled and that the terms would be put in later. What happened was that counsel for both parties left the amount to which the plaintiff was entitled to be fixed by the counsel for the defendant. The counsel named a certain sum, but on the plaintiff being informed of it, he repudiated the suggestion that the counsel's opinion was final. On an application by the defendant asking that the terms of the settlement arrived at might be recorded and decree passed in accordance therewith, the question arose whether the parties to the compromise were truly ad idem. Held, that though the impression upon the minds of counsel for both parties was that the settlement had been achieved, yet in point of fact there was a misapprehension as to the exact ambit of the terms of that agreement, that as the defendant's counsel was under the impression that his interposition was merely to be accepted as a leading and predominant element in contributing to the compromise, while the plaintiff's counsel thought that it was to be conclusive, the parties were not ad idem in connection with the compromise and that the same had failed as a settlement of the suit between the parties. Semble: Express authority on the part of counsel from the client is necessary to entitle counsel to commit the fortunes of his client to the determination of the counsel for the other side. (Lord Shaw.) JAGATPUT SINGH DUGAR v. PURAN CHAND.

35 M.L.T. 136 : 26 Bom. L. R. 772 : 20 L. W. 571 : (1924) M. W. N. 646 : L. R. 5 P. C. 145 : 10 O. & A. L. R. 1011 : 1 O. W. N. 598 : 83 I. C. 380 : A.I.R. 1924 P. C. 200 : 47 M. L. J. 136 (P.C.).

———Effect on other suits.

When parties are competent to put an end to litigations and do put an end to one litigation by which other litigations are also put an end to, no Court with judicial notice of the compromise can proceed with the hearing in other suits. Where the filing of further and special vakalatnamas was intended in the minutes of compromise, but the parties knew what the terms were on which the suit was to be compromised and had assented to these terms and did not consider that it was necessary to file any further and special vakalatnamas and treated the compromise as binding upon them and acted upon it held, that the compromise bound the parties. (Sir John Edge.) SOURENDRA NATH v HERAMBA NATH. (1923) M.W.N. 734 : 33 M.L.T. 294 : L. R. 4 A. (P.C.) 138 : 84 I. C. 721 : A. I. R. 1923 P. C. 98 : 45 M.L.J. 453 (P.C.).

———Construction.

On the construction of the words "the bond is allowed to stand good as before, i. e., the principal interest and compound interest will remain due from me." Held, that they constitute no more than a reservation of the rights whatever they may be, and that they do not constitute an admission of a legal necessity either of the principal amount or of the rate of interest or compound interest. The compromise terms would not constitute such proof of a justifying family necessity as would be sufficient to discharge the plaintiffs (mortgagees) from the onus of proving that there were special circumstances which entitled mortgagor to pledge the joint family property on excessive terms of interest or compound interest. (Lord Parmoor.) RAM BUJHAWAN v. NATHU RAM.

2 Pat. 285 : 50 I. A. 14 : 4 P. L. T. 29 : 32 M. L. T. 129 : (1923) M. W. N. 382 : 38 C.L.J. 25 : 25 Bom. L. R. 568 : L. R. 4 P. C. 75 : 18 L. W. 768 : 1 Pat. L. R. 445 : 28 C.W.N 446 : A. I. R. 1923 P. C. 37 : 44 M. L. J. 615 (P. C.).

———Construction—Easement—Light and air—Obstruction to—Ancient light.

In a prior suit between the parties for the closing of two windows alleged to have been unauthorisedly opened, the parties entered into a compromise under which the plaintiff secured the closing up of one of the windows and the defendant secured the maintenance of the other window with liberty to heighten it by one foot, if that were possible, otherwise to leave it as it was before suit. Held, that the effect of the compromise was to give to the window that was maintained the character of an ancient light together with all the advantages and disadvantages attaching to such light. (Mears, C. J. and Piggott, J.) GUR PRASAD MUKERJI v. BISHUN DAT. L. R. 5 A. 262 : 79 I. C. 349 : A. I. R. 1924 All. 816.

———Parties agreeing to abide by decision of Court—No appeal.

Where parties to a suit agree to abide by the decision of the Court it is not open to either to question the correctness of the decision in appeal. (Banerjee and Gokul Prasad, JJ.) SHAHZADI BEGUM v. MUHAM-

COMPROMISE.

MAD IBRAHIM. 19 A.L.J. 14 : 59 I. C. 787 : 43 A. 266.

——One party agreeing to accept the other as tenant—Agreement to lease—Registration.

A solenamah which was for all intents and purposes a mere record of certain agreement which the parties had come to out of Court for the settlement of their differences existing at that time and whereby the plaintiffs agreed to accept the defendant as tenant with certain rights and a certain rate of rent and to give effect to which a formal document in the shape of a Kabuliyat would in future be executed by the defendants, is not a lease or agreement to lease and is not compulsorily registrable. 39 C. 663 Ref. The document was in effect merely a record of an oral agreement between the parties which was reduced to the form of writing only by way of a memorandum. (Suhrawardy and Cuming, JJ.) ALAM MULLA v. SURENDRA KUMAR KARFORMA. 71 I. C. 307 : 50 Cal. 79 : A. I. R. 1923 Cal. 432.

——Matters outside suits.

Compromise embodying terms beyond the subject-matter of the suit may be recited in the decree which should be passed in accordance with that part of the compromise which relates to the suit. (Mukerjee and Panton, JJ.) JIVAN KRISHNA v. RAMESH CHANDRA DAS. 65 I. C. 47 (Cal.).

——Construction of agreement not barred.

Though a party to a compromise cannot contest its binding character, he is not precluded from raising a question which turns on the construction of the agreement then arrived at. (Richardson and Huda, JJ.) MATHURA DEBYA v. BEJOY SINGH 62 I.C. 627 (Cal).

——Interpretation of the word "aulad".

Where the words in the compromise were "uski aulad jo hogi wo sab malik hogi", the word "aulad" is used in its generic sense and includes male and female children. 114 P. R. 1900 offers a better guidance for the interpretation of the word "aulad" than 89 P. R. 1889. (Le Rossignol, and Abdul Qadir, JJ.) SAIDAN v. FAZAL. A. I. R. 1922 Lah. 215.

——Binding nature of—Alienation by widow—Suit to set aside—Compromise—Subsequent claimants when affected.

A Hindu widow in possession of husband's estate alienated it in favour of her son-in-law. The reversioner brought a suit for declaration that the alienation was null and void. To avoid a costly and protracted litigation, the parties entered into a compromise as a result of which they made certain arrangements for the enjoyment and disposal of the properties. Held, that the compromise was valid and binding on persons deriving titles from the alienee. It was also not competent to plaintiff who had not been born at the date of the compromise to impeach it by a suit. (Broadway and Abdul Qadir, JJ.) MT. MALTO v. FAKIRIA. 4 Lah. L.J. 27 : A. I. R. 1922 Lah. 115 (2).

——Doubtful questions of law or fact—Waiver—Compromise.

When doubtful questions of law or fact have arisen between two parties and each of them has agreed to waiver what he honestly believes to be his lawful claim in whole or in part, the transaction amounts to a compromise, the waiver or abandonment on either side furnishing the consideration, provided of course that both parties had equal knowledge of the facts and equal opportunities of ascertaining their rights. A compromise entered into in good faith and with belief that it is best in the circumstances by a collateral having right to object to an alienation, is binding on the persons succeeding to his interest. (Broadway and Raoof, JJ.) JAIRAM v. TELU. 67 I. C. 362 : 1 Lah. L. J. 133.

COMPROMISE.

——Compromise finally settling parties' rights—Retraction by one party does not release the other.

Where there is a compromise, which finally settles the rights of the parties and nothing more has to be done to give effect to it, the conduct of the executant, in acting in a manner inconsistent with the compromise, will not justify the other party in repudiating it. 31 Cal. 584, Dist. and 7 M. L. T. 33, Foll. Plaintiff granted a permanent lease to the defendant in a compromise between the two. Subsequently, plaintiff sued for possession of the land. Held, that plaintiff was not debarred on account of this from suing for rent. (Spencer and Ramesam, JJ.) KUPPUSWAMY AIYAR v. B. R. R. SETHUPATHI. 22 L. W. 258 : 90 I. C. 973 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 1282 : 49 M. L. J. 462.

——Doubtful claims—Even limited owner representing estate can validly compromise so as to bind reversioners.

Where the defences raised by a limited owner while to a certain extent personal to him were in a large measure inseparable from the estate which he represented, and the claim that was put forward was a claim against the estate and if the claimant succeeded in making out that the family was undivided, the limited owner would get nothing, Held, that the limited owner can validly compromise claims of this nature. 38 I. A. 87 ; 33 All. 356 (P. C.) ; 49 I. A. 342 (P. C.), Foll. (Spencer and Venkatasubba Rao, JJ.) P. RAJAGOPALAN v. V. RAMAMURTHY. 18 L. W. 491 : 73 I. C. 284 : A. I. R. 1924 Mad. 301.

——Effect of—Not a transfer.

Where there is a bona fide compromise of disputed claims under which each party gets a portion of the property in dispute, the proper view is to hold that whatever each got under it, was in recognition of his antecedent right and not by way of transfer by one to the other. 1 I. A. 157 ; 38 I. A. 87 Rel. (Dalal, J. C. and Wazir Hasan, A. J. C.) MT. INDARKUAR v. MT. NAND RANI KUAR. 10 O. L. J. 657 : 1 O. W. N. 67 : 80 I. C. 333 : A. I. R. 1924 Oudh 273.

——Mistaken view of law.

A compromise of a disputed title or a doubtful right is not rendered invalid because it proceeds on a wrong legal ground. The justification for the compromise is that the parties do not know what the Courts will ultimately decide and prefer to settle the matter amicably and avoid the expense of further litigation. If a compromise could be attacked on the ground that if the issue had gone to trial the Court would have decided it differently, the whole object of the agreement would be defeated and no compromise would be safe from attack. (Daniels and Lyle, A. J. Cs.) KUAR NAGESHAR SAHAI v. KUAR MATA PRASAD. 9 O. L. J. 235 : 69 I. C. 730 : 25 C. C. 189 : A. I. R. 1922 Oudh 236.

——Admission—Evidential value is title.

Where the compromise is not binding on the parties, any recital in it is not of much value as evidence. Parties are often willing to make admissions for the purpose of effecting compromise, to which it would be unfair to hold them, if compromise falls through. (Daniels and Lyle, A. J. Cs.) KUAR NAGESHAR SAHAI v. SHIAM BAHADUR. 9 O. L. J. 262 : 74 I. C. 255 : 26 O. C. 33 : A. I. R. 1922 Oudh 231.

——Inchoate—Actings of the parties—Estoppel.

Even where a compromise or settlement is considered to be defective or inchoate and insufficient to make a final and validly concluded agreement, the subsequent acts of the parties may be such as to supply all defects. In fact, when the actings and conduct of the parties are founded upon it, as in the case of a part performance of an agreement the locus penitentiae which exists in a situation where the parties started upon nothing but an engagement which is not final or complete is excluded, for equity will support a transaction, clothed imperfectly, in those legal forms to which finality attaches after the bargain has been acted upon. The conduct of minors however cannot be pleaded in defeasance of their rights to repudiate the act of their guardians during their minority. But if their guardians had acted for their benefit and after attaining majority they continued to derive the benefit which the transaction conferred on them, it is not open to them to take advantage of the absence of registration, particularly when the parties can no longer be restored to their old positions without material prejudice to the interest of one of them. (Kanhaiya Lal, J. C.) RAGHUBAR v. RAM BHAROSE.

8 O. L. J. 392 : 66 I. C. 412 : A. I. R. 1922 Oudh 217.

———Parties—Obligations—Conditional decree.

Where several obligations are imposed upon parties to a compromise, who also get several rights, and a party comes to a Court to enforce his rights alone, the Court has power to pass a decree in his favour, conditional on his performing his obligations towards the other parties. (Wazir Hasan, A. J. C.) AMIR ALI v. IQBAL ALI. 24 O. C. 22 : 61 I. C. 312 : 8 O. L. J. 287.

———Effect of—Parties cannot resile from.

Where a dispute is settled and the terms of the settlement are embodied in a compromise, none of the parties can resile from the conditions. (Daniels and Wazir Hasan, A. J. Cs.) RAMPAT v. DURGA BHARTI. 7 O. L. J. 547 : 60 I. C. 440 : 23 O. C. 303.

———Hindu Law—Compromise between limited owner and persons who have no bona fide claim at the time of compromise—Not binding on reversioners.

An alienation by way of compromise entered into between a limited owner and persons who have no bona fide claim to the property at the time of compromise is not binding on the reversioners. 3 Pat. L. J. 83 Ref. to. (Adami and Sen, JJ.) BAIJ NATH RAI v. MANGLA PRASAD. 1925 P. H. C. C. 271 : 90 I. C. 732 : 6 Pat. L. T. 731.

———Doubtful claim and bona fide settlement thereof bind the parties though suppositions turn out later to be wrong.

An agreement entered into upon supposition of right or of a doubtful right though it afterwards comes out that the right was on the other side shall be binding and the right shall not prevail against the agreement of the parties ; for the right must always be on one side or the other, and therefore the compromise of a doubtful right is a sufficient foundation of an agreement. "Undoubtedly parties entitled under different events may, while the uncertainty exists, each taking his chance effect a valid compromise." The Courts recognise the rule of equity as to agreements by way of compromise particularly in family arrangements and agreements entered into with good faith, honest intentions and full disclosures between the members of a family. The adjustment of the rights among themselves will not be disturbed because it is founded upon a supposition which ultimately turns out to be incorrect. (Jwala Prasad and Foster, JJ.) JAGRAM SAHAY v. RUPNARAIN MAHTON. 5 P. L. T. 375 : 84 I. C. 208 : A.I.R. 1924 Pat. 736.

———Counsel exceeding power.

Where the applicant challenged the consent decree on the ground that his counsel misapprehended against instructions :—Held, on the facts proved that the agent of the appellant acquiesced in the settlement though under protest proposed by the counsel in the interest of his chief and that he accepted it when every attempt to raise money necessary to satisfy plaintiff's claim failed, the decree was binding on him. Two propositions are well settled : first, that express authority is not needed for a counsel to enter into a compromise within the scope of the suit ; and secondly, where there is limitation of authority and that limitation is communicated to the other side, consent by counsel outside the limits of his authority would be of no effect. (Das and Bucknill, JJ.) NILMONI CHAUDHURI v. KEDAR NATH DAGA. 3 P. L. T. 371 : 1 P. 489 : 67 I. C. 96 : A. I. R. 1922 Pat. 232.

COMPROMISE DECREE.

See also (1) C. P. CODE, O. 23, R. 3.
(2) COMPROMISE.
(3) DECREE.
(4) REGISTRATION ACT, S. 17 (2) (vi).

———Settlement by limited owner—Reversioner when bound.

Settlement of bona fide dispute made on compromise by a limited owner is binding on reversioner. (Ryves and Gokul Prasad, JJ.) NARAIN SINGH v. RAJ KUMAR. 20 A. L. J. 251 : L. R. 3 A. 229 : 66 I. C. 62 : 44 A. 428 : A. I. R. 1922 All. 217.

———Failure to comply with terms and consequent forfeiture of rights thereunder—Court can relieve in proper cases.

One Court cannot bind all Courts in future by deciding that no consent decree can possibly be departed from even when justice and equity demand it. It is the privilege of the High Court to administer equity, and, in following the principles of equity, to relieve against forfeiture, if it considers the nature of the case requires it. 16 Bom. L. R. 668, Not Foll. (Macleod, C. J. and Coyajee, J.) NARAYAN BAPUJI v. RAJIMAL MOTIRAM. 27 Bom. L. R. 1453 : A. I. R. 1926 Bom. 81.

———Execution beyond time allowed by the decree is barred—Time of essence—Varying terms.

It cannot be laid down in the hard and fast way as being a universal proposition capable of no explanation or deviation, that a consent decree differs from a contract inasmuch as its terms can never be varied except by consent. On January 29, 1920, the parties arrived at the compromise in question. There was a provision in that compromise for the payment by the defendant of a certain sum of money and the building of a new wall within two months from the date of that compromise. Admittedly the money was not paid nor the wall built within the two months. Nothing was done by either party until the defendant took out the execution. There was no evidence at all of any intervening acts of the parties after the date of the decree. There was, therefore, a lapse of time of just over one year from the date fixed by the compromise for the performance of the acts. Held, that time was the essence of the contract; the defendant was out of Court because he was a year out of time and no waiver or a new agreement had been shown to have taken place. But supposing time was not of essence of the contract the defendant could not even then, after an unexplained delay of one year obtain specific performance of this agreement. (Marten and Fawcett, JJ.) SHANKER SAKHARAM v. RATANJ PREMJI.
47 B. 607 : 25 B.L.R. 328 : A.I.R. 1923 Bom. 441.

———Alteration—Powers of Court—Dekhan Agriculturists' Relief Act, S. 15-B.

A Court cannot alter the terms of a consent decree.

COMPROMISE DECREE.

A consent decree made without complying with the special provisions of S 15-B is not bad in law. (Macleod, C. J and Shah, J.) MADHAV v. APPAJI.
45 Bom. 1123 : 62 I. C. 634 : 23 Bom. L. R. 503.

———Mortgage suit—No final decree necessary.

Compromise decree makes it unnecessary to pass a final decree and property can be sold without a final decree. (Ghose and Panton, JJ.) HEMENDRA LAL SINGH DEO v. FAKIR CHANDRA DATTA.
27 C. W. N. 621 : 74 I. C. 929 : 50 C. 650 : A. I. R. 1923 Cal. 626.

———How far binding.

A compromise decree is just as binding on the parties as a decree on contest, but the decree has no greater validity than the compromise itself. (Chatterjee and Panton, JJ.) RAJENDRA KUMAR BOSE v. BISWARUP DEY. 64 I. C. 603 : 35 C. L. J. 173.

———Matters not directly in issue.

A compromise decree, as regards matters not directly in issue in the suit cannot be enforced in execution but the decree evidences the agreement entered into as regards those matters. (Newbould and Suhrawardy, JJ.) JAGABHANDU SAHA v. HARI MOHAN ROY. 62 I. C. 63 : 25 C. W. N. 990.

———Right to forfeiture—Equitable jurisdiction,

Although a consent decree embodies a right to forfeiture, the Court can grant relief against forfeiture, as it would, in the absence of such a consent decree and in case of suit to enforce the compromise. Where a consent decree directs payment on a certain date, time is not the essence of the contract and the Court can extend time for payment. (Mookerjee, A. C. J. and Fletcher, J.) KANDAPPA NAG v. BANWARI LAL NAG. 60 I. C. 864 : 33 C. L. J. 244.

———Consent by pleader without defendant's permission—No loss caused to the defendant—Order was allowed to stand

A consent order was allowed to stand where the defendant did not suffer any loss of right by such order though the defendant contended that his pleader who consented to the order being passed by the Court was not given any permission by him to consent to the order. (Madhavan Nair, J.) V. DALEPPADU v. T. SURANNA. 20 L. W. 900 : 85 I. C. 408 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 278.

———Setting aside—Fraud of Agent—Contents—Remedy by suit—Application for.

An application under S. 151 for setting aside the decree on compromise, the consent of the party to which, was obtained by fraud of agent and in ignorance of the contents is not maintainable. The remedy open to the party is an application for review or separate suit. (Oldfield and Venkatasubba Rao, JJ.) ALAMELU AMMAL v. RAMA IYER.
16 L. W. 440 : (1922) M. W. N. 495 : 70 I. C. 425 : 31 M. L. T. 132 : A.I.R. 1922 Mad. 446 : 43 M. L. J. 290.

———Nature of.

A compromise decree only represents a contract between the parties with the order of the Court superadded to it. (Baker, J. C.) MIRA MOTI JU DEO v. MT. JANKI. 89 I. C. 926.

———Execution—Decree creating charge—Charge can be enforced in execution.

Where a decree was passed in terms of a compromise which directed that in case of failure in payment up to a certain date by judgment-debtor of the decretal amount, the amount was to be a charge on certain property of his. Held, that that charge was enforceable in execution of that decree and no separate suit was necessary. (Kinkhede, A. J. C.) MT. SARJABAI v. DHANRAJ. 8 N. L. J. 9 : 86 I C. 11 : A. I. R. 1925 Nag. 239.

COMPROMISE DECREE.

———Cannot be set aside only as to a part onerous to plaintiff, and retained intact as regards the rest.

Plaintiff sued M alleging that he was adopted by M to her deceased husband D. The suit ended in a compromise. The terms of the compromise were that the plaintiff be declared the adopted son of the deceased D, that the plaintiff and the defendant divide D's property between themselves and each manage his or her own share unhampered by the other ; and that on the death of either one of them, the other should succeed to his or her share. The plaintiff subsequently sued M alleging that the compromise was void and not binding on him for the reasons amongst others that it created a novel line of descent repugnant to Hindu Law and sentiment. Held, that the terms said to be contrary to Hindu Law were agreed to on his behalf as an inseparable part of the compromise which was to his benefit and he must be held bound by them. (Kotval and Prideaux, A. J. Cs.) YADORAO v. MIRABAI.
76 I. C. 368 : A. I. R. 1924 Nag. 180.

———No fraud or collusion—Decree is effective.

Where there is no allegation of fraud or collusion, a compromise decree is as effective as one after contest. (Dalal, J. C. and Simpson, A. J. C.) MAHA DEO BAKHSH SINGH v. SURAJ BAKHSH SINGH.
10 O. L. J. 252 : 80 I. C. 447 : A. I. R. 1924 Oudh 34.

———Date of operation of.

A compromise becomes operative when it is embodied in the decree. Therefore if the compromise fixes any time for the doing of an act, the time is to be calculated from the date of the decree and not from the date of the compromise. (Daniels, J. C.) ILAHI RAZA KHAN v. MT. TAIBA BEGAM.
9 O. L. J. 53 : 66 I C. 273 (1) : A. I. R. 1922 Oudh 145 (1).

———Extension of time to pay money—Power of Court.

Where a compromise decree providing for payment of money on a prescribed date and in case of failure the forfeiture is to result, Courts should consider in each case whether time was of the essence of the transaction and if relief against forfeiture should be given or not. If time is not of the essence, Courts have power on equitable grounds to extend the time. (Mullick and Bucknill, JJ.) MT. NAND RANI KUER v. DURGA DAS NARAIN. 2 Pat. 906 : 1924 P. H. C. C. 122 : 5 Pat. L. T. 401 : 82 I. C 505 : A. I. R. 1924 Pat. 387.

———Construction—Decree for delivery of lands with rents and profits—Collection of rent before such delivery—Liability to account.

Where under a compromise decree the respondent undertook to deliver possession of certain lands as they then existed together with the rents and profits which had accrued till then, the respondent must be held to hold the property thereafter in a fiduciary capacity and for the purpose of handing over the property to the appellant. Where therefore the respondent cut down certain trees on the land and appropriated them to his own use then he was acting in breach of the obligation he was under by reason of the decree and was in fact committing a breach of trust. Further the respondent was liable to account to the appellant for all the rents that he had collected from the tenant since the date of the decree. (Miller, C. J. and Jwala Prasad, J.) MAHADEO PRASAD SAHU v. GAJADHAR PRASAD SAHU. 1 Pat. L. R. 145 : 73 I. C. 359 : A. I. R. 1924 Pat. 362.

———Compromise by pleader without instructions.

COMPROMISE PETITION.

from party and without his consent—Valid if bona fide, in the interests of the party.

On principle, there does not seem to be any reason for interfering with a compromise consented to by a pleader duly authorised in this behalf, unless fraud or collusion is imputed to the pleader. (Jwala Prasad, J.) LAURENTIUS EKKA v. DUKHI KOERI.
4 Pat. 766 : A. I. R. 1926 Pat. 73.

COMPROMISE PETITION.
See (1) C. P. CODE, O. 23.
(2) COMPROMISE.

COMPULSION.
See (1) CONTRACT ACT, S. 16.
(2) PARDANASHIN LADY.

COMPULSORY DEPOSIT—See C. P. CODE, O. 21, R. 84.

COMPUTATION OF TIME.—See LIMITATION ACT, S. 12.

CONCEALMENT OF BIRTH.—See PENAL CODE, S. 318.

CONCILIATION.
See (1) ARBITRATION.
(2) AWARD.
(3) C. P. CODE, SCH. II.
(4) DEKHAN AGRICULTURISTS' RELIEF ACT.

CONCURRENT FINDINGS.
See (1) PRACTICE.
(2) PRIVY COUNCIL.

CONCUBINE.—See HINDU LAW—MAINTENANCE.

CONDITION.
See (1) DEED—CONSTRUCTION.
(2) EVIDENCE ACT, S. 92.
(3) SUCCESSION ACT, SS. 99—124.
(4) TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT, SS. 10—20.
(5) WILL—CONSTRUCTION.

CONDITIONAL GIFT.
See (1) SUCCESSION ACT, SS. 113—124.
(2) T. P. ACT, SS. 25—29.

CONDITIONAL SALE.
See (1) MORTGAGE.
(2) T. P. ACT, S. 58.

CONDUCT.—See EVIDENCE ACT, S. 115.

CONFESSION.
See (1) EVIDENCE ACT, SS. 24—30.
(2) CR. P. CODE, SS. 164, 364.
(3) CRIMINAL TRIAL.

CONFIDENCE—See EVIDENCE ACT, SS. 126—129.

CONFIDENTIAL COMMUNICATIONS.—See EVIDENCE ACT, SS. 122, 126—129.

CONFIDENTIAL RELATION.
See (1) CONTRACT ACT, S. 16
(2) EVIDENCE ACT, S. 111.
(3) TRUST.
(4) TRUSTS ACT.

CONFIRMATION OF AUCTION SALE.—See C. P. CODE, O. 21, RR. 90—92.

CONFISCATION.
See (1) ACT OF STATE.
(2) CROWN.
(3) GRANT.
(4) HINDU LAW—JOINT FAMILY.
(5) PENAL CODE, SS. 121, 122 AND 124-A.

CONFLICT.
——— of decision See C. P. CODE, S. 11.
——— of Equity. See PRACTICE.
——— of Evidence. See PRACTICE.

CONTEMPT.

CONFLICT OF LAWS.
See (1) INTERNATIONAL LAW.
(2) INTERPRETATION OF STATUTES.
(3) NEGOTIABLE INSTRUMENTS ACT, SS. 134—137.
(4) PRACTICE.
——— of Rulings. See PRACTICE—PRECEDENT.

CONJUGAL RIGHTS.
See (1) HUSBAND AND WIFE.
(2) RESTITUTION OF CONJUGAL RIGHTS.

CONNIVANCE.
See (1) ABETMENT.
(2) ACQUIESCENCE.

CONSENT.
See (1) ACQUIESCENCE.
(2) ESTOPPEL.
——— Decree.
See (1) C. P. CODE, S. 96 AND O. 23, R. 3.
(2) COMPROMISE.
——— Order. See C. P. CODE, S. 96 AND O. 23, R. 3.

CONSEQUENTIAL RELIEF.—See SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT, S. 42.

CONSIDERATION.
See (1) CONTRACT ACT, SS. 2 AND 25.
(2) EVIDENCE ACT, SS. 102 AND 103,
(3) FAMILY ARRANGEMENT.

CONSIGNMENT.—See RAILWAYS ACT, S. 72.

CONSIGNOR AND CONSIGNEE.—See RAILWAYS ACT, S. 72.

CONSOLIDATION.
See (1) MORTGAGES.
(2) T. P. ACT, SS. 60 AND 61.
——— of appeals. See C. P. CODE, S. 151.
——— Suits.
See (1) C. P. CODE, S. 151.
(2) PRACTICE.

CONSPIRACY.
See (1) TORT.
(2) PENAL CODE, SS. 109 to 114.

CONSTRUCTION.
See (1) CONTRACT—CONSTRUCTION
(2) DEED—CONSTRUCTION.
(3) HINDU LAW—WILL.
(4) LEASE—CONSTRUCTION.
(5) MORTGAGE—CONSTRUCTION.
(6) WILL—CONSTRUCTION.

CONSTRUCTION OF STATUTES.—See INTERPRETATION OF STATUTES.

CONSTRUCTIVE ESTOPPEL.
See (1) C. P. CODE, S. 11.
(2) EVIDENCE ACT, S. 115.

CONSTRUCTIVE NOTICE.—See T. P. ACT, S. 3.

CONSTRUCTIVE TRUST.
See (1) TRUST.
(2) TRUSTS ACT, SS. 80—94.

CONSUMMATION OF MARRIAGE.—See MAHOMEDAN LAW—MARRIAGE.

CONTEMPORANEOUS AGREEMENT.
See (1) DEED—CONSTRUCTION.
(2) EVIDENCE ACT, S. 92.

CONTEMPT.
———Newspaper criticism—Immediate apology—Effect of.

It is not always a defence to a rule for contempt of Court that a newspaper guilty of contempt immediately afterwards published an apology to the Court. (Macleod, C. J. and Crump, J.) MARMADUKE PICKTHALL, In re. 25 Bom. L. R. 107 : 24 Cr. L. J. 313 : 72 I. C. 73 : A. I. R. 1923 Bom. 242.

———Repetition of negligence condoned in the past cannot be remedied by apology.

An apology does not remedy the evil caused by publication of objectionable matter. If High Court acts in the interests of the administration of justice, it is clear that while an apology may be to some extent reparation on the part of the offender ; it cannot overtake and counteract the mischief already done by the original publication. Where the publication is due to a repetition of negligence which has been condoned in the past, an apology becomes little more than an idle form. (Macleod, C. J. and Crump, J.) MARMADUKE PICKTHALL, In re. 25 Bom. L. R. 107 : 24 Cr. L. J. 313 : 72 I. C. 73 : A. I. R. 1923 Bom. 242.

———Criticism in newspaper imputing judicial dishonesty to Judges is contempt.

Where the article as a whole would leave on the mind of an ordinary reader the clear impression that injustice had been deliberately done on political grounds to some of the accused who were apparently innocent, in other words, it attributes judicial dishonesty to the Judges, held, such an article constitutes a contempt of Court. The Court has to consider the natural and probable effect of the article and not only the intention of the editor. Any unfair criticism of Courts or Judges constitutes such an interference with the administration of justice as should be punished. The tendency of such criticism is to undermine the dignity of the Court and in the end to embarrass the administration of justice. The High Court will not act so much to protect the dignity of its Judges, as in the interest of the administration of justice. Macleod, v. St. Aubryn, (1899) A. C. 549 ; Reg. v. Gray, (1900) 2 Q. B. 36 ; 33 Bom. 240 Foll. (Shah, Ag. C. J. and Crump, J.) EMPEROR v. MARMADUKE PICKTHALL. 25 Bom. L. R. 15 : 24 Cr. L. J. 289 : 72 I. C. 17 : A. I. R. 1923 Bom. 8.

———Scandalous attacks on Court's integrity—High Court can commit for contempt.

In matters of contempt the Court acts not to defend the dignity of any Court or Judge but to safeguard the proper administration of justice and to ensure that the confidence of the public in that administration shall not be in any way impaired. The High Court has jurisdiction to punish for contempt a person who makes scandalous attacks on its integrity and impartiality. (Marten and Crump, JJ.) SATYABODHA RAM CHANDRA ADA BADDI, In re. 24 Bom. L. R. 928 : 23 Cr. L. J. 644 : 69 I. C. 84 : 47 Bom. 76: A. I. R. 1922 Bom. 426.

———Ill-treating attorney's clerk who has come to serve notice is contempt—Positive denial by party of charge does not in itself exempt him from punishment.

The jurisdiction to punish for contempt of Court is inherent in the High Court as a Court of Record. But the Court always exercises its power of punishing for contempt with great forbearance and acts with scrupulous care. It is ordinarily very chary in punishing people for contempt, and when the occasion arises, it deals with such questions in the interest of the public, bearing in mind that the greater the power it possesses, the more caution it is necessary to use in exercising it. In other words, the Court does not interfere where the offence is of a slight or trifling nature and it only interferes where there is a real attempt to obstruct the course of justice. From the very early times, it has been held to be contempt of Court to assault, ill-treat or threaten a process-server engaged in his duty. The object of punishing for contempt where a process-server in the execution of his duty has been abused and assaulted is not to vindicate the dignity of the Court but to prevent undue interference with the administration of justice. The law has armed the Court with the power and imposed on it the duty of preventing brevi manu and by summary proceedings any attempt to interfere with the administration of justice. It is on that ground and not on any exaggerated notion of the dignity of individuals, that insults to witnesses, jurymen and process-servers are not allowed. The principle is that those who have duties to discharge pursuant to orders of Court are protected by the law and shielded on their way to the discharge of such duties while discharging them, and on their return therefrom in order that such persons may safely have resort to Courts of justice and carry out their orders. Notwithstanding the positive denial of the party, yet it is the duty of the Court to look into all the affidavits and see on which side the truth lies. Peachey v. Peachey, Foll. The Court does not and will not ordinarily take notice of mere rude behaviour on the part of the person against whom the allegation is made. The test is : Did the person in question abuse or maltreat the serving clerk, while he was engaged in the execution of his duty. Where an attorney's clerk went to serve a notice on a party and the latter maltreated and insulted him but the clerk was not prevented from affixing a copy of the notice on the door of the party's residence. Held, that he was maltreated and abused while he was engaged in the execution of his duty. (C. C. Ghose, J.) V. M. BASON v. A. H. SKONE. 41 C. L. J. 515 : 29 C. W. N. 766 : 88 I. C. 725 : A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 945.

———Injunction to company not to hold meeting—Some shareholders holding meeting—Meeting not held in accordance with Articles of Association—Persons holding meeting are not liable for contempt.

A meeting of a Company was announced to take place on a certain day. Previous to that day a suit was instituted for declaring that the petitioner and certain other persons were not competent to act as shareholders. A temporary injunction was asked for, restraining the defendants from acting as shareholders of the Company. No notice was given to the petitioner (who was one of the defendants). The Court passed an injunction not restraining the shareholders in question from voting at the meeting but restraining the Company from holding a meeting until further orders. This injunction was not served on the petitioner. On the day of the meeting some of the shareholders including the petitioner proceeded to a private house and held a meeting whereby they purported to appoint directors, etc. Held, that the meeting was not a meeting of the Company and therefore was not a breach of the injunction and that, therefore, even assuming that it was not necessary to serve the injunction order on the petitioner or give notice to him before proceedings in contempt could be taken against him, he was not liable to such proceedings. (Greaves and Chakravari, JJ.) KAILASH CHANDRA DATTA v. SADAR MUNSIF SILCHAR. 88 I. C. 826 : 52 Cal. 513 : A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 817.

———Misconduct of litigant—Penalty—Right of audience—Refusal of—Appeal—Rejection of.

The breach of an undertaking given to a Court by a litigant, pending proceedings, on the faith of which the Court sanctions a particular course of action or inaction is misconduct amounting to contempt. It is well settled that when a person is guilty of such contempt, he places himself in a perilous situation so as not to be heard by the Court till he has purged his contempt. It is in fact an elementary rule that one in contempt may be denied certain favours of the Court and privileges, until he has purged himself of contempt. The rule denying privileges is limited to proceedings in which contempt occurs. A litigant in contempt has no standing in the Court. Where the attitude of the plaintiff in the case in refusing to pay the deficit Court-fee in spite of his undertaking to do so put him in contempt he cannot appeal from the decree nor would he be heard on the appeal. (Mookerjee and Chotzner, JJ.) RAJ RAJESWARI JIU v. GATI KRISHNA CHAKRABARTI. 39 C L. J. 217: 82 I. C. 292 (2): A. I. R. 1924 Cal. 953.

CONTEMPT.

———High Court—Powers of—What constitutes contempt—Apology if sufficient.

The Lahore High Court as a Court of Record has jurisdiction to deal summarily with contempts of Court. Where a newspaper comments on a case as decided not according to dictates of justice but in order to please and carry favour with others, it amounts to contempt. The principle underlying is not to protect the Court as a whole or the individual Judge but to protect the public. The impartiality of Judges should be recognised by the public at large. The mere fact that an apology is tendered does not secure the offender from punishment. (Broadway, Addison and Colastream, JJ.) In the matter of HABIB. 26 Cr. L. J. 1409 : 89 I. C. 833 : 26 Punj. L. R. 772.

———Disobedience of order of Court—Communication—Absence of formal order—Effect.

The High Court stayed proceedings in a criminal trial. A telegram was sent by the vakil and this was supported by an affidavit, but still the Magistrate proceeded with the trial. Held, even in the absence of a formal communication of the stay order, the magistrate was bound to obey the order of the High Court. He would be guilty of contempt if he wilfully disobeyed the same. Where there is possible to construct two inferences upon the magistrate's conduct, the inference which discloses favourable view should be taken. (Venkatasubba Rao, J.) PONNUSWAMI AIYAR v. GANAPATHY AIYAR. (1923) M. W. N. 919 : 18 L. W. 809 : 33 M.L.T. (H.C.) : 130 : A. I. R. 1924 Mad. 393 : 45 M. L. J. 742.

CONTEMPT OF COURT—See also PENAL CODE, SS. 172-190.

CONTEMPT OF LAWFUL AUTHORITY—See also PENAL CODE, S. 185.

CONTENTIOUS SUIT. See T. P. ACT, S. 52.

CONTINGENT BEQUEST.

See (1) SUCCESSION ACT, S. 111.
(2) T P. ACT, SS. 21—26.
(3) WILL—CONSTRUCTION.

CONTINUING OFFENCE.—See PENAL CODE, S. 363.

CONTRACT.

C. I. F. Terms.
Breach.
Construction.
Hire purchase. See also CONTRACT ACT, S. 78.
Implied terms.
Interpretation of. See CONTRACT—CONSTRUCTION.
Liability.
Novation.
Right to enforce.

CONTRACT—C. I. F. Terms.

Shipping.
Stranger. See also (1) CONTRACT— RIGHT TO ENFORCE.
(2) CONTRACT ACT, S. 2 (d).
Teji Mundi Contracts.
Variation.

C. I F. Terms.

———Avoidance of— Misrepresentation, etc.—Election—Laches—Effect.

A contract entered into through misrepresentation, undue influence, non-disclosure of material facts, etc. is valid till the party defrauded elects to avoid it. The right to avoid subsists so long as innocent third parties have not acquired interests or the delay is such that it amounts to waiver. 7 Ex. 26 and 5 P. C. 221 followed. (Schwabe, C.J. and Coutts-Trotter, J.) BRUNTON v. BRUNTON. 78 I. C. 299 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 360.

———Breach of contract to marry— One party interned during the war and unable to communicate with other—Rescission of contract cannot be presumed.

In certain circumstances silence, absence, conduct or expression in letters may be amply sufficient to lead a Court of Law to conclude that a contract of marriage was dissolved by agreement of both parties. But where circumstances were altogether extraordinary in that the parties were entangled and embarrassed by difficulties not of their making but by war breaking out and one of the parties being interned during the war being suspected as German subject. Held, that even then to prove that this contract was rescinded by mutual agreement is a burden of which the respondent must discharge himself. If he does not so prove he must make amends to the other party. (Lord Darling,) LUCIA JACOB v. DAVID ALEXANDER WILLAS. 2 O. W. N. 695 : 89 I. C. 824 : 22 L. W. 726 : A. I. R. 1925 P. C. 194 (P. C.).

———Breach of—Damages—Measure.

The usual practice in produce markets is that where there is a claim of sellers and buyers, the damages as ascertained between the last buyer and seller would probably without further litigation form the measure of the damages to be recovered all along the chain. (Lord Phillimore.) HOPE PRUDHOMME & CO. v. HAMEL & HORLEY, LTD. L. R. 6 P. C. 129 : 88 I. C. 307 : A. I. R, 1925 P. C. 161 (P. C.).

———Breach of contract—Damages—Breach of two contracts by one act—One benefiting, the other damaging the other party— Defaulting party can't take advantage of benefit.

Where there are two contracts and a party commits by one act breach of both, the fact, that as the result of the wrongful act a benefit may have accrued to the other in connection with the other, is a fact for which no credit can be claimed by the defaulting party. 8 Ch. Apps. 921 Foll. (Lord Blanesburgh.) DIWAN CHAND KIRPA RAM & CO. v. WELD & CO. (1925) M. W. N. 459 : 88 I. C. 54 : A. I. R. 1925 P. C. 150 (P. C.).

———Breach, Vendor's failure to tender the documents—Vendor's right to compensation for short delivery.

Under a C. I. F. contract, it is the duty of the vendor to tender the documents which would include the contract of affreightment, insurance policy and invoice to the vendee. Where the vendor does not follow this course, and eventually the vendee in taking delivery finds that there is shortage in the delivery, the vendee is entitled to compensation from the vendor in respect of the same. For, if the vendor had delivered the necessary documents to the vendee, the vendee would have had his remedy either against the ship or against the Insurance Company. (Sanderson, C. J and Buckland, J.) J. D. KUMAR & BROS. v. BERUCK & COMENS. 41 C. L. J. 500 : 89 I. C. 636 : A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 941.

——Breach of covenant—Right to sue—Cause of action.

When a contract had been entered into and repudiated by one of the parties before the time for fulfilment the repudiation gives rise to a cause of action to sue at once and he need not wait till the date fixed for the performance ; for a right to sue accrues whenever a person becomes clothed with a legal character entitling him to relief which a Court is competent to grant. (Broadway and Campbell, JJ.) ALI NAWAZ v. FAZIL ALI. 79 I. C. 165 : A.I. R. 1925 Lah. 79.

——Breach of—Suit for damages—Implied condition in charter-party as to route—Whether deviation justified.

Where a master of a ship is guilty of deviation which is not justified in a case, it follows that he is bound to compensate the plaintiff by way of damages for deviation. (Ramesam and Jackson, JJ.) ARAB FARAJ BEN ALI BANAMEEN v. JETTA MEGHJI. 21 L. W. 249 : 86 I. C. 751 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 770.

——Breach—Forfeiture—Advance paid — Forfeiture for breach—When allowed.

Whenever money is paid in advance on account of a contract, the vendor is entitled on breach of the contract to retain the whole sum, if the money has been paid as deposit. Every payment made by a purchaser is not in the nature of a deposit, but in each case the real intention of the parties must be ascertained from all the terms of the contract. (Phillips, J.) PASUMARTI SEETHANNA v. YASIKALAPPA. 22 L. W. 634.

——Breach of—Repudiation by one party—Promisee's remedies in case of—Promisee if can sue upon breach and also keep contract open—Abandonment of contract — Implication of— Repudiation of contract coupled with delay in suing for its performance—Implication from.

If one party to a contract repudiate it, the promisee may treat the repudiation as inoperative, and at the end of the period of the contract, treat the other party as responsible for all the consequences of non-performance, thereby keeping the contract alive ; or, on the other hand, he may treat the repudiation as a wrongful putting an end to the contract, and may at once bring his action as on a breach of it. The promisee cannot, however, both sue upon the breach and also keep the contract open. A party to a contract cannot repudiate it, wait a year, and then suddenly insist upon its performance. The question turns upon whether his conduct gives rise to an implication of abandonment. Delay coupled with repudiation does give rise to such an implication. (Jackson, J.) NARASIMHA MUDALI v. NARAYANASWAMI CHETTY. 22 L. W. 637 : 49 M. L. J. 702.

——Breach of—Suit for damages—Readiness to perform—Repudiation—Effect of.

A plaintiff who brings a suit for damages for breach of contract is absolved from showing that he was ready and willing to perform his part of the contract when the defendant has repudiated the contract before suit. (Walmsley and Chakravarty, JJ.) SREE LAL CHAMARIA v. HARIRAM GOENKA. 88 I. C. 737 (Cal).

——C. I. F. Terms—Property in goods—When passes—Bank draft what can be included in.

Where goods are shipped on C. I. F., C. I. (cost, insurance, freight, commission, interest) terms and documents of title sent to a Bank to be handed over to consignee on bank draft being accepted, property in the goods does not pass the moment the goods are shipped. The consignor cannot include in the bank draft amounts due in respect of a different transaction and if included. consignee can refuse to accept it. (Macleod, C. J. and Shah, J.) MEHTA & CO. v. JOSEPH HEUREUX. 26 Bom. L. R. 382 : 48 Bom. 531 : 80 I. C. 766 : A. I. R. 1924 Bom. 422.

——C. I. F. Terms—Sale of goods—Contract—Breach—Shipment delayed—Reasonable delay—Document sent to Bank against payment—Non-payment—Rights of Seller—Damages.

On 17—12—1919 the defendant in Bombay ordered out from the plaintiffs at Manchester goods on C. I. F. terms June—July shipment. The plaintiffs in accepting the order added that in the then state of affairs they could not guarantee delivery in time and it was understood that in case the goods were late, there should be no claim for late delivery. The goods were shipped in different dates up to 26—8—1920 and reached Bombay in October. The first ten bales were taken delivery of by the defendant. But the drafts were sent through plffs'. which bank, for the remaining three shipments, when presented to the defendant were dishonoured. The plaintiffs thereupon sued the defendant for the price of the goods or in the alternative for damages. Held, that the defendant had no right to refuse to take delivery of the goods he having agreed to extend the time therefor. The plaintiffs were entitled to and did send the goods within a reasonable period beyond the contract time. The property in the goods not having passed to the defendant, the plaintiffs were not entitled to sue for the price but only to claim damages represented by the market rates at the date of breach. (Macleod, C. J. and Crump, J.) BANK OF MORVI, LTD. v. BAERBIN BROS. 48 Bom. 374 : 26 Bom. L. R. 155 : 79 I. C. 1012 ; A. I. R. 1924 Bom 325.

——C. I. F. terms—Sale of goods—Passing of property.

In the case of a C. I. F. contract, the question whether the property in the goods has passed from the seller to the buyer depends entirely on the question whether the seller has parted with the control over the disposal of the goods. He may intend to do this if he endorses the bill of lading over to the purchaser. But if he endorses the bill of lading in blank and hands it over to his agent for delivery with instructions that he shall not hand it over until the goods are paid for then the seller has shown his intention to retain the disposal of the goods under his control. (Macleod, C. J. and Crump, J.) BANK OF MORVI, LTD. v. BAERLEIN BROS. 48 Bom. 374: 26 Bom. L. R. 155: 79 I. C. 1012: A. I. R. 1924 Bom. 325.

——C. I. F. Terms—C. I. F. S. W.—Delivery of goods—Payment—Conditions precedent—Survey of goods—Right to.

It is the duty of the consignors of goods under a C. I. F. S. W. contract to tender to the consignee the bill of lading and insurance policy before the price is demanded and a delivery telegram sent by the shipping company is not equivalent to the bill of lading. In the absence of the usual documents of title, the consignee is entitled to inspect the goods and satisfy himself as to the same. (Mulla, J.) STEEL BROTHERS & CO., LTD. v. DAYAL KHATAV & CO. 47 Bom. 924 : 25 Bom. L. R. 1063 : 87 I. C. 67 : A. I. R. 1924 Bom. 247.

——C. I. F. Terms—Terms and incidents of.

Under a C. I. F. contract for the sale of goods, the seller undertakes to sell the specified goods, to ship them to the place agreed upon, to obtain a contract of affreightment and policies of insurance and to hand over the bill of lading and the policies to the buyer. Such a contract provides for the delivery of the goods to be made by handing over the documents to the buyer and when this is done, the seller has performed the contract in full and is relieved of further liability. English cases reviewed. (Robinson, C. J. and Duckworth, J.) S. K. S. S. L. CHETTY FIRM v. AMARCHAND MADHOWJEE & CO. 66 I. C. 579: 11 L. B. R. 141.

CONTRACT—C. I. F. Terms.

————C. I. F. Terms—Indent—Construction.

If the importer buys on his own account as well as for his constituent, he ought to make clear what his liabilities are under his contract with them. If he does not do so, he cannot, afterwards as the market falls, decide whether he shall deliver goods bought on his own account or goods which he says he has brought against a particular indent. The importer may, however, confine himself to buying only against orders received. He may in this case undertake to supply at the indent price charging his own profit and commission as agreed. Or he may establish direct connection with the vendor in which case he only gets his commission. Whether he gets from both the vendor and the purchaser or from one of them is immaterial for determining whether privity of contract exists between vendor and purchaser. (Macleod, C. J.) N. ROY & CO. v. SURANA DALAL & CO. 64 I. C. 935: 23 Bom. L. R. 1119.

————C. I. F. Terms—Vendor is liable for short delivery if he fails to tender documents.

Under the C. I. F. contract the vendor must tender the documents, which would include the contract of affreightment, insurance policy and invoice, to the vendee. If on account of not fulfilling this duty, there has been a short delivery, the vendee is entitled to compensation from the vendor. (Sanderson, C. J. and Buckland, J.) T. D. KUMAR v. BERUCK AND COMENS. 41 C. L. J. 500: 89 I. C. 336: A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 941.

————C. I. F. Terms—Bills of lading to be delivered on payment of price—Property when passes.

When a seller deals with, or claims to retain, the bill of lading in order to secure the price, as when he sends forward the bill of lading with a bill of exchange attached, with directions that the former is not to be delivered to the buyer till acceptance or payment of the bill of exchange, the appropriation is not absolute, but until acceptance of the draft, or payment or tender of the price, is conditional only and until then the property in the goods does not pass to the buyer. (Martineau and Moti Sagar, JJ.) GULAB RAISAGAR MAL v. MIRBHE RAM-NAGAR MAL.

4 Lah. 423: 79 I. C. 194: A. I. R. 1924 Lah. 239.

————C. I. F. Terms—Mercantile custom—Payment.

When goods have been sold upon C. I. F. terms, the contract of the seller is performed by tendering to the buyer the documents which would enable the latter to obtain on the ship's arrival the delivery of the goods contracted for. These documents must of course be tendered within a reasonable time from the date agreed upon for shipment of the goods which they represent. If the contract of sale provides that payment is to be drawn on the buyer, the latter is bound to accept the draft upon tender of the proper documents. This he must do even though the goods be lost or destroyed at the time the draft is presented. The delivery he is entitled to as against payment of the contract price is not the goods contracted for but their symbol represented usually by the bill of lading, charter-party, invoice and policy of insurance. Upon payment, he can upon arrival of the ship, demand the goods themselves and should these not be forthcoming, or, when forthcoming, not be of nature contracted for, all his remedies at law are then open to him. (Shadi Lal, C. J. and Fforde, J.) BUBLEY HURRY AND CO. v. HERTZ AND CO. 4 Lah. 215: 72 I. C. 421 : A. I. R. 1923 Lah. 541.

CONTRACT—Construction.

————C. I. F. Terms—Property passes to purchaser on putting articles on board.

The obligations of a seller under a C. I. F. contract are that he secures the freight for the carriage of the goods in question to their destination, has the goods covered by an Insurance policy for the voyage, places the goods on board the ship proceeding to the destination mentioned in the contract, and then tenders the necessary documents to the buyer. When he has done this, he has done all that he need do to entitle him to the payment of the price at which the goods have been agreed to be purchased. The insurance of the goods is clearly intended for the protection of the buyer and if the goods are lost in transit, it is the buyer that recovers the amount of the insurance policy. The buyer therefore protects himself against the loss of the goods by getting the seller to insure them as soon as they are placed on board and the property in the goods therefore which are appropriated to the buyer passes to him as soon as the seller puts the goods on board a ship bound for the place of destination. (Raymond, A. J. C.) MEHTA & CO. v. PARMESHARDAS PARSHOTAMDAS. 16 S. L. R. 293: A. I. R. 1924 Sind 4.

Construction.

———Construction—Contract to supply sleepers.

The material portion of a contract to cut sleepers from a jungle was as follows :—

"We, the second party, shall during the term of each year from the month of Kartik up to the end of Asarh, get 15,000 sleepers of every measurement prepared every month, and shall, after they are counted according to the contract, pay to the first party the price thereof according to the rates mentioned above, without any objection to this. Neither we, the second party, nor our representatives shall raise any objection. If we do so, the first party shall be competent to cancel this deed and stop the cutting of the trees in the lands specified below without waiting for the expiry of the term of this agreement.....Let it be known that we, the second party, will have to prepare 135,000 sleepers of different measurements every year during the nine months from Kartik to Asarh, in accordance with the terms specified above." The contractors failed to cut 15,000 sleepers each in the first two months and therefore the first party cancelled the contract. Held : that the cancellation was not justified as the cutting of 15,000 sleepers in any particular month was not obligatory but cutting 135,000 sleepers in nine months was obligatory and therefore the first party was liable for breach of contract. (Lord Phillimore.) HOMESHWAR SINGH v. JUGAL KISHORE MARWARI. 90 I. C. 596 : A. I. R. 1925 P. C. 223 : 49 M. L. J. 800 (P. C.).

———Construction — Retaining undated invoice from seller after denying contract does not prove contract.

Where the plaintiff alleged that a broker contracted on behalf of defendant to purchase certain goods while defendant denied authority of the broker and the broker who had signed the contract also supported the defendant on the point and at a certain conference owing to dispute between parties, the invoice (patti) which was undated was alleged to have remained in possession of defendant. Held, such retention was not either an admission of the contract or the creation of a new contract. (Lord Carson.) N. S. P. K. L. PALANIAPPA CHETTIAR v. K.V. KATHIRESAN CHETTIAR.

CONTRACT—Construction.

22 L. W. 309 : 88 I. C 351 : A. I. R. 1925 P. C. 172 (P. C.).

———Construction—Sale of land—Time—When of the essence of contract—Negotiations—Notice—What is reasonable time.

In a contract, dated the 27th February, 1919, for the sale of land, it was stipulated that completion was to be within two (subsequently extended to three) months, and that time was of the essence of the contract. Subsequently, owing to the purchaser's further delay, the vendor gave him notice determining the contract on the 13th May, but, on discovering his mistake, allowed the contract to continue beyond the three months. Held, that the condition as to time being of the essence of the contract was, by the conduct of the parties, abandoned. After certain correspondence between the solicitors for the parties, in August, 1919 (by which time the requisition on title had long since been answered, and the draft conveyance approved, and the balance of the purchase-price remained to be paid), the vendor gave the purchaser notice that he must complete the contract it within five days failing which the contract would be treated as cancelled. The purchaser failed to comply with the notice, and later when he had found a sub-purchaser, sued the vendor for specific performance, alleging that the notice was too short and therefore unreasonable. Held, that in the circumstances, the notice was reasonable, especially as the purchaser had himself, in the course of the correspondence, asserted that the engrossment of the conveyance and the purchase-money were ready. (Lord Shaw). MOTILAL ITCHHALAL GANDHI v. HAJI MOOSA HAJI MAHOMED.

(1925) M. W. N. 314 : 26 Punj. L. R. 209 : 41 C. L. J. 334 : 3 Pat. L. R. 152 : L. R. 6 P C. 106 : 27 Bom. L. R. 814 : 88 I C. 440 (2) : A. I. R. 1925 P. C. 124 : 48 M. L. J. 484 (P. C.).

———Construction—Agreement to finance litigation—Propertyexistent but title to which is subject-matter of pending suit—Agreement as regards — Validity—Disbursements by borrower of amounts advanced—Vouchers of—Condition to furnish —Breach of—Rights of parties on—Compromise of litigation—Consent of lender and borrower's Vakil— If a condition precedent—Property obtained by compromise—Rights of creditor—Assignment of fruits of—Legality of—Agreement to assign—Property coming into existence subsequently.

R and others who had instituted a suit in the District Court to establish R's title to the absolute estate in a zemindari, subject to the life interest of C, being in want of funds to carry on the said litigation approached T for financial aid and entered into an agreement with him, which provided, inter alia, as follows:—"(1) It is therefore agreed that you T should advance for the proceedings of the said suit and appeal, money up to a sum not exceeding two lakhs of rupees and within that limit as per the conditions mentioned below; that in respect of the money advanced by you from time to time detailed receipts for the vakil's fees, printing, stamps, etc., should be furnished to you; that as regards the whole of the balance, accounts of receipts and expenses should be rendered to you and for the sum so ascertained you should obtain receipt from R out of us and with respect to the money that may again be required, you should at the request of R out of us advance money, look into accounts, and get detailed vouchers for moneys spent as above stated and settle the accounts then and there without giving room for disputes in future. (10) We shall not compromise with the deft. or file razinama or withdrawal without your consent. (11) It is agreed that if K, High Court Vakil, who is our working on our behalf in this suit advises us from the then existing circumstances of this suit, that it would be better for us to compromise we should agree to it and compromise or, withdraw the suit. (12) Moreover out of the moveable and immoveable properties that may be obtained by such compromise, we shall first pay to you the principal money advanced by you together with interest at one rupee per mensem from the respective dates and out of the moveable and immoveable properties that remain after so giving away to you, we shall at once execute and give you a proper sale-deed and place you in possession of 3/32 share. All of us and our heirs are liable to you and your family members according to all the aforesaid terms and are also bound to give effect to them without fail." T advanced a portion of the amount which he undertook by the agreement to advance, and before making any further advances, insisted upon the vouchers being furnished to him as regards fees alleged to have been paid to pleaders and as regards amounts spent on lodging expenses, etc. R. the settler sent a reply, dated 14—2—1908 to T's demand for vouchers which reply ran as follows:—"while not even one half of the amount agreed to be expended for the suit has yet been spent and while you are liable to pay the entire amount for the expenses of the suit and though the arrangement is that you should not fail to spend the amount required for expenses in this Court (Court of first instance), and though you are fully aware of the fact that in the event of your failing to do so, the agreement would be cancelled, you have, without sending money when required by us, written this letter containing false and unnecessary reasons. I do not know what reply you expected to be given thereto. For the money spent previously, the necessary explanations, accounts of credit and debit and receipts bearing my signature have been sent; when credit and debit accounts have been sent under my signature and on my responsibility, I do not see proper reasons for the transaction being stopped. Held, on a construction of the agreement set out above (1) that T was entitled to insist upon vouchers of the disbursements made by R out of the sums advanced by T, under the agreement, the settler R was bound to send vouchers of those disbursements whether demanded by T or not. R's letter, dated 14—2—1908 amounted to a refusal by him to send them, coupled with an intimation that if money was not sent, though the vouchers should not be furnished in the first instance, he, R would treat the contract evidenced by the agreement at an end: the settler R in sending the letter broke the contract and T might, if he wished have taken the refusal of R, to furnish vouchers as a repudiation by him of the contract and have elected to treat the contract at an end: but if T did not do so, it was not open to R to put an end to the contract merely by committing a breach of it; (2) that the agreement embodied in Cl. 12 of the agreement was an agreement by the plaintiff in O. S. No. 18 of 1903 to assign to others part of the fruits they might acquire in an action at law and therefore perfectly legal; and there could be no distinction on the point between the fruits of an action which the plaintiffs got by compromise and the fruits he would receive by a decree or verdict in his favour; (3) that even if the money given to the plaintiffs in the compromise was a non-existing thing at the date of the agreement and only came into existence subsequently at the date of the compromise decrees contemplated by the agreement, the agreement attached to the things so coming into existence subsequently and (4) that on the true construction of cls. 10 11 and 12 of the agreement the giving of the consent of T and his vakil K, was not a condition precedent which must be performed before any compromise should be made. "Moveable or immoveable property" in cl. 12 of the agreement included almost every conceivable kind of property and the words of that clause would be satisfied if half the estate sued for or another estate or the jewels of the tenant for life C, deposited in his safe, and the money in his chest had been awarded under the compromise. As regards the clause relating to the consent of T or the vakil to the compromise, it would be unbusinesslike and indeed irrational for the parties in 1907, the date of the agreement, to have entered into a contract making such consent a condition precedent to the compromise which might be entered into years after. A term must, therefore, be implied to exist in the contract to the effect that the consent mentioned should be given when possible. (Lord Atkinson.) VATSAVAYA VENKATASUBHADRAYAMMA v. VENKATAPATHI RAJU. 52 I. A. 1: 48 Mad. 230 : 20 L. W. 298 : 26 Bom. L. R. 786 : (1924) M. W. N. 607 : 35 M. L. T. 210 : L. R. 5 (P.C.) 147 : 29 C. W. N. 57 : 80 I. C. 807 : A. I R. 1924 P. C. 162 : 47 M. L. J. 93 (P. C.).

CONTRACT—Construction.

——Construction—Previous negotiations if constitute a condition precedent—Effect of.

If the documents or letters relied on as constituting a contract contemplate the execution of a further contract between the parties, it is a question of construction whether the execution of the further contract is a condition or term of the bargain ; or whether it is a mere expression of the desire of the parties as to the manner in which the transaction already agreed to will in fact go through. In the former case there is no enforceable contract either because the condition is unfulfilled or because the law does not recognise a contract to enter into a contract. In the latter case there is a binding contract and the reference to the mere formal document may be ignored. (Lord Shaw.) HUKAM CHAND v. RAM BAHADUR SINGH. 51 I. A. 208 : 34 M. L. T. 336 : 3 Pat. 625 : L. R. 5 (P.C.) 190 : 80 I. C. 841 : 21 L. W. 1 : 5 Pat. L. T. 639 : (1924) M. W. N. 710 : 3 Pat. L. R. 157 : 22 A. L. J. 935 : 29 C. W. N. 342 : A. I. R. 1924 P. C. 156 : 47 M. L. J. 562 (P.C.).

——Construction.

Where a contractor agreed to construct ' kothi ' in the bagh at the rate specified less Rs. 10 per cent. for commission, and the work was to be done within one year and where within a few weeks of the acceptance of this contract radical changes began to be ordered by the owner. Held, the arrangement by way of rebate or a reduction of 10 per cent. commission in favour of the owner, was an arrangement which was only exigible and became crystallised when the work was completed and the final accounts at the end of the year were to be made up. As the contract was not possible of completion within the year and as it in point of fact was not completed and as the failure to complete was not due to any fault on the contractor's part the stipulation accordingly disappeared. A fortiori such a deduction was never agreed to with regard to the further work. (Lord Shaw.) SAHU RAM KUMAR v. MAHOMED YAKUB. 26 Bom. L. R. 631 : L. R. 5 P. C. 89 : 34 M. L. T. 102 : 20 L W. 82 : (1924) M. W. N. 431 : 80 I. C. 203 : A. I. R. 1924 P. C. 123 : 47 M. L. J. 180 (P.C.).

——Construction.

Where the contract provided that goods are to be delivered as and when same may be delivered from the mills, Held, this should not be construed to mean " if and when the same may be received from the mills. " To construe in this way is to convert words, which fix the quantities and times for deliveries by instalments into a condition precedent to the obligation to deliver at all, and virtually make a new contract. The words certainly regulate the manner of performance, but they do not reduce the fixed quantity sold to a mere maximum, or limit the sale to such goods, not exceeding the agreed bales as the Mills might deliver to the defendants during the agreed period. (Lord Sumner). HARNANDRAI FATCHAND v. PRAG DAS. 47 Bom 344 : L. R. 4 P. C. 61 : 32 M. L T. 171 : 72 I. C. 485 : 25 Bom. L. R. 537 : 27 C. W. N. 878 : (1923) M. W. N. 547 : 18 L. W. 441 : 38 C. L. J. 248 : 50 I. A. 9 : A. I. R. 1923 P.C. 54 (2) : 44 M. L. J. 498 (P.C.).

——Construction—Condition.

The term 'conditions of sale' in connection with the preparation of bargain paper means 'terms of sale' and not conditions to which the bargain is subject. Whether an agreement is a completed bargain or merely a provisional arrangement depends on the intention of the parties as deducible from the language used by the parties on the occasion when the negotiations take a concrete shape. As observed by the Lord Chancellor (Lord Cranworth) in Ridgway v. Walton, 6 H.L. Cas. 289, the fact of a subsequent agreement being prepared may evidence that the previous negotiation did not amount to an agreement, but the mere fact that persons wish to have a formal agreement drawn up does not establish the proposition that they cannot be bound by a previous agreement. (Mr. Ameer Ali.) HARICHAND MANCHARAM v. GOVIND LUXMAN. 47 Bom. 335: 28 C. W. N. 73: 17 L. W. 572 : 32 M. L. T. 175: L. R. 4 P. C. 84: 37 C. L. J. 440 : 25 Bom. L. R. 531: 50 I. A. 25 : 4 L. R. P. C. 84: 71 I. C. 763 : A. I. R. 1923 P. C. 47 : 44 M. L. J. 608 (P. C.).

——Construction of.

The terms of contract of 1888 were as follows :— 'under the orders of Sri Maharajalangaru (plaintiff) the accounts were looked into in their presence in respect of items due to the said Saravana Pillay (defendant) relating to the said villages and also relating to all money transactions between Saravana Pillai and Sri Maharajalangaru. On looking into the accounts the amount found due to the said Saravana Pillai was Rs. 99,568-15-6. Saravana Pillai consented to receive the sum of rupees etc., and sell the aforesaid villages to Sri Maharajalangaru " Held : This contract was a settlement of questions of account in relation to the said villages and other matters and under the terms of it, deft. (Pillai) is treated as the legal and beneficial owner. No charge is created by the contract over the villages in question and the plff. the Raja, had no right to recover possession of the property absolutely or conditionally. (Lord Carson). E. SUBBARAYA PILLAI v. RAJAH KUMARA VENKAT PERUMAL RAJU BAHADUR. 45 Mad. 641: 16 L. W. 169: 31 M. L. T. 146. 68 I. C. 172 : 49 I. A. 335 : 27 C. W. N. 408 : A. I. R. 1922 P. C. 345 (P.C).

——Construction—Contract for conveyance—Duty to make out marketable title—Execution of conveyance —Delay.

According to the terms of an agreement for sale the purchaser bound himself to complete the purchase within one month from the date of agreement and in case of default was to bear the burden of certain charges. He tendered the draft conveyance three days after the fixed period but the vendor refused to execute it on the ground of its belated tenders. Held that the provision relating to the purchaser's default being in the nature of a penalty and no loss from delay in the tender having been proved by the vendor the latter was bound to execute the conveyance. (Mr. Ameer Ali). BANKU BEHARI DHUR v GALSTAUN.

CONTRACT—Construction.

21 A. L. J. 9: 9 O. & A. L. R. 237: 69 I. C. 162 : 31 M. L. T. 159 : 27 C. W. N. 77 : A. I. R. 1922 P. C. 339 : 47 M. L. J. 145 (P. C.).

———Construction — Performance, condition for avoiding—Breach of contract.

A contract for the purchase of Alizarine provided that if there was any fluctuation in the Syndicate rates the conditions of the contract regarding price would become void. The syndicate was composed of a German firm and English members and after the Great War broke out, the syndicate ceased to the operative. In a suit by the purchasers against the sellers for damages for breach of contract to continue the deliveries, Held, that the obligation of sellers did not depend upon the continuance of the syndicate and that as the condition avoiding the contract, namely, fluctuation of rates, never came into operation the contract continued on the footing of the rates specified and that the buyers were entitled to recover damages. (Viscount Haldane). TOOLSIDAS TEJPAL v. VENKATACHALAPATHY IYER. (1920) M. W. N. 557 : 25 C. W. N. 26: 28 M. L. T. 410 : 59 I C. 27 : 13 L. W. 1 (P. C.).

———Construction—Court is not entitled to see what the parties might have intended.

The Court must construe the contract which the parties have made and is not at liberty to make a fresh contract on their behalf because it thinks that they might have intended to do certain things which they have not expressed in their written agreement. Sale and mortgage are two quite different things and prohibition against one does not necessarily import prohibition against the other. (Daniels, J.) GULZARI LAL v. HAR PRASAD. L. R. 5 A. (Rev.) 260 : 85 I. C. 99 : A. I. R. 1925 All. 97.

————Construction—"Deposit for profit or loss" Meaning of.

Plaintiff entered into a contract with the 1st defendant to buy 2,000 bags of cotton seeds to be delivered at the defendant's factory within one month. The plaintiff agreed to pay the full amount in respect of the said bags, and remove the goods within the said time ; and if he failed to remove the same within the same period, he undertook to make good the loss which the defendant might suffer, and treat the contract as cancelled. The contract also contained "In respect of this contract a total sum of Rs. 1,025 has been deposited for profit or loss, and the said deposit amount should after the completion of the contract be returned to us." Held, that Rs. 1,025 was to be security for any loss that defendant might suffer on the plaintiff's failing to take delivery of the goods. (Macleod, C. J. and Crump, J.) SHRICHAND ANOPCHAND v. BOYCE & SONS.
A. I. R. 1924 Bom. 62.

———Construction—Mutuality.

Stipulation in a contract, "to cancel or not to cancel the sold goods for any reasons depends upon you" (i.e. seller,) does not destroy the mutuality necessary for the formation of a contract. The stipulation referred to above confers upon the sellers-plaintiffs the power to determine the contract if they could assign good reasons for so doing and therefore the contract is not void, but a valid and binding contract. (Mulla, J.) CHOTELAL v. CHAMPSEY UMERSEY & SONS.
24 Bom. L. R. 877 : A. I. R. 1923 Bom. 75.

———Construction—Sale of land—Contract for sale of immoveable property—Time made essence of the contract by notice—Breach—Notice unreasonable—Specific performance.

By an agreement, dated 27th February, 1919 the defendant agreed to sell to the plaintiff certain immoveable property and the plaintiff paid to the defendant Rs. 500 as earnest money. Clause (3) of the agreement provided that the sale should be completed within three months from the date thereof and time was made of the essence of the contract. Subsequently both the parties agreed that the time for completion of the contract should be extended beyond the three months mentioned in the clause. There was considerable delay on both sides in preparing requisitions for title, in answering requisitions, and in the preparation and approval of the draft conveyance. After some correspondence as to the engrossment of the conveyance, the defendant wrote to the plaintiff on 27th August 1919, that unless the sale was completed before 1st September 1919, time being of the essence of the contract, the contract would be treated as broken by the plaintiff and the earnest money would be forfeited. The plaintiff did nothing further until the 2nd September 1919 on which date he sent the engrossment of the conveyance to the defendant who in reply wrote on the same day that he had forfeited the earnest money. The plaintiff, thereafter, tendered the purchase-money but it was refused. The plaintiff, thereupon, filed a suit for specific performance of the agreement of 27th February 1919. Held. (1) that as there were no special circumstances which would demand that the contract should be completed on the 1st September 1919, the notice given on 27th August 1919 to complete the contract in four days was not a reasonable notice : (2) that considering the extremely leisurely way in which both the parties had proceeded from the date of contract, there was no reason why the defendant should be entitled to demand of the plaintiff that the matter should be completed within four days and that in default the contract should be considered as broken ; (3) that there was nothing in the surrounding circumstances to indicate that the defendant would be so prejudiced by further delay in the completion of the contract that equity would not assist the plff. in getting it performed; and (4) that the plff. was, therefore, entitled to the assistance of the Court in obtaining specific performance. 40 Bom. 289 Foll. (Macleod, C. J. and Shah, J.) MUSSA MAHOMED v. MOTILAL ITCHALAL.
24 Bom. L. R. 203 ; 69 I. C. 13 : A. I. R. 1922 Bom. 14.

————Construction— Sale of goods—Delivery to be taken within a specified period.

Where no delivery was taken or given within the specified period, delivery of part of goods after the fixed period is a separate transaction and is no part of the original contract and therefore refusal to take delivery does not give rise to liability in damages. (Macleod, J.) THE PHOENIX MILLS, LTD. v. MADHAV DAS RUPCHAND. 69 I. C. 9 : 24 Bom. L.R. 142.

———Construction—Each contract to be construed on its own terms.

It is not proper that a contract in one case should be interpreted in the view taken with regard to another contract which is differently worded and under consideration in another case. (Suhrawardy and Cuming, JJ.) HARA MOHAN BANIKYA CHOUDHURY v. HEMCHANDRA CHAKRAVARTHY. 42 C. L. J. 172 · A. I. R. 1925 Cal 1248.

———Construction—' F. O. B. New York "— Express instructions to ship at New York were held to be present.

CONTRACT—Construction.

The material portions in the indent placed by the defendants with the plaintiffs were as follows :—"Fill at manufacturers' best prevailing prices. F. O. B. New York". Held : that the indent contained express instructions to ship at New York. (Sanderson, C.J. and Rankin, JJ.) DAYTON PRICE & CO. v. S. ROHOMOTOLLAH & CO. 29 C. W. N. 422 : 86 I. C. 571 : A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 609.

———Construction—Sale — Agreement subject to approval of solicitors— If valid—Enquiry into title.

An agreement to purchase property subject to title being approved by the vendee's solicitors is perfectly valid. It is open to a vendee to claim in the plaint an enquiry into the vendor's title ; only he must accept the title as it is, if he chooses to purchase the property. (Chatterjee and Cuming, JJ.) KAMAL KRISHNA KUNDU CHOWDHURY v. CHATURBHUJ DASSA. 78 I. C. 962 : A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 324.

———Construction—Contract enabling plaintiff to resell on defendant's default goods ordered by latter—Plaintiffs claiming difference between contracted price and price realised—Plaintiff must prove that goods resold were such as defendants would have been obliged to accept Undue delay in reselling vitiates plaintiff's claim.

Where a contract entitled plaintiffs on defendant's refusal to accept bills for goods ordered by them, to dispose of the goods and recover from the defendants any loss to which the plaintiffs were put, Held : that the plaintiffs should not unreasonably delay before they resold the goods and that before they could substantiate their claim to recover the difference between the contracted price and the price actually realized by them, they must show that the goods which they purported to resell and had resold the goods which the defendants would have been obliged to take under the terms of the contract but failed to do so. Braithwate's case, (1905) 2 K. B. 543 Cons. (Coutts-Trotter, C.J. and Krishnan, J.) PARTHASARATHY CHETTY & CO v. T. M. GAJAPATHI NAIDU & CO. 48 M. 787 : 22 L. W. 417 : (1925) M. W. N. 756 : A. I R. 1925 Mad. 1258 : 49 M. L. J. 215.

———Construction—Contract for purchase - Time being of essence of contract— Custom extending time to take delivery pleaded—Custom must be specifically alleged and proved.

Where in the case of a contract for sale and purchase the time is the essence of contract and a custom is alleged that the purchaser could take delivery of the goods contracted for after some days of the date fixed for taking delivery, definite custom has to be alleged and proved by the purchaser. (Phillips, J.) BALARAM PARAMSUKHDAS FIRM v. G. GOVINDA CHETTY. A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 1232 : 49 M. L. J. 200.

———Construction—Time if essence of—Rule as to— Applicability to contract for resale—Contract of sale and agreement to re-sell—What amounts to—Vendor allowed to remain in possession as tenant at a rate of rent fixed—Acceptance of rent fixed from vendor —If part performance of contract to re-sell—Acts of part-performance which will attract operation of principle.

The plff.'s husband, the original owner of the suit property, sold it to A. A, being anxious to sell the property in his turn, applied to plff.'s husband to find another purchaser. The defendant agreed to purchase and the plaintiff's husband caused A to sell the property to the defendant. At the time of the sale, the plaintiff, her husband, and the defendant entered into an arrangement that the defendant should execute an agreement in favour of the plaintiff containing the following terms, viz., that the plaintiff should keep the suit house in her possession, that the plaintiff and her husband should pay regularly Rs. 4-8-0 every month or once in two months at the same rate, being the amount due at 0-12-0 per cent. per mensem for the sale amount of Rs. 600, that the plaintiff should pay the defendant the principal sum of Rs. 600 before 14th December. 1914, and that, if payment be made in that manner, the defendant should execute and register a sale deed for the suit house. Such an arrangement was executed by the defendant. No money was tendered by plaintiff within 14th December, 1914. She continued to occupy the house and to pay the rent up to June, 1918. On 11th June 1918 the defendant issued a notice to quit and the plaintiff replied relying upon the agreement and sent Rs. 600 and arrears of rent Rs. 22-8-0 which the defendant rejected.

In a suit brought by the plaintiff for specific performance of the agreement, held, (1) that the agreement though one-sided was a contract, (2) that the transaction between the parties was substantially a contract of sale with an agreement to re-sell ; (3) that the principle that, in contracts of sale of real property, time is not generally of the essence of the contract, was not applicable to contracts to re-sell ; and (4) that the acceptance of rent beyond 14th Dec. 1914 up to June, 1918, was not though the rent fixed represented a rate of interest at 9 per cent. on the purchase money stipulated, such part performance as to attract the operation of the principle of part performance. The main contract was one of re-sale and there was a subsidiary contract of tenancy up to the resale and all the acts of part-performance are explainable either as due to mere inaction or a willingness to continue the tenancy as one from month to month. Held, therefore that the plaintiff's suit must fail. (Ramesam, J.) DAKSHINAMURTHI MUDALIAR v. DHANAKOTI AMMAL. 87 I. C. 552 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 965 : 48 M. L. J. 661.

———Construction—Priority of change in management of school—All obligations if transferred—Dismissal of employee—Suit for damages.

Unless there be some evidence to that effect it is not right to presume that the contract entered into by any one with a particular Society was transferred to another institution or body which took over the management of the concern conducted by the former in respect of which the contract was entered into. (Devadoss, J.) MUNICIPAL COUNCIL, CALICUT v. KESEVA MENON. 86 I. C. 509 (2) : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 943.

———Construction — Covenant itself providing remedy for breach—Whether other remedies are barred is question of intention.

The question whether a person is entitled to have a covenant enforced or to any remedies other than the remedy indicated in the contract, is a question of the intention of the parties to be deduced whether on a proper construction of the entire document the remedy provided is cumulative or exclusive. (Srinivasa Aiyangar, J.) LODD GOVINDOSS KRISHNA VARU v. MUTHIAH CHETTY. A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 660 : 48 M. L. J. 721.

———Construction—Purchaser under contract to sell land imposing conditions not agreed to cannot back out for non fulfilment of conditions.

Under an agreement to sell land the sale was to be effected on 31-8-1919. The purchaser knew that his vendor was only a joint owner of the property with another and that the entire property was in the occupation of a tenant. On 30-8-1919 the purchaser gave a notice to the vendor requiring him to obtain a division of the land in definite shares within 24 hours. This condition was not contained in the agreement to sell. The purchaser did not tender the money or the sale-deed for the execution on 31-8-1919 and even when given notice on 1-9-1919 by the vendor, fixing a time within which he should do so, he did not do so. Held: that the purchaser made default. (Devadoss, J.) K. SURYANARAYANA MURTHI v. B. SATYANARAYANA MURTHI.

20 L. W. 832 : 85 I. C 521 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 211 : 48 M. L. J. 150.

———Construction—Clause for arbitration—Breach of Contract.

A contract of sale between the vendors and purchasers of certain goods contained the following arbitration clause: "should any dispute arise as to the interpretation of this contract or any matter in connection therewith or with the carrying out thereof the same shall be submitted to arbitration" Held, on a construction of the contract that a claim for damages for breach fell within the clause requiring a submission to arbitration. (Schwabe, C. J. and Ramesam, J.) SUBBIAH & CO. v. TETLEY AND WHITLEY.

75 I. C. 673 : 32 M. L. T. 380 (H. C.) : 18 L. W. 77 : (1923) M. W. N. 445 : A. I. R. 1923 Mad. 693 : 45 M. L. J. 39.

———Construction—Commercial contracts—Mode of delivery—Stipulation as to.

In construing mercantile contracts courts will assume that every clause inserted therein was inserted by the parties to some good purpose and with some definite meaning as merchants are not in the habit of inserting in their contracts stipulations to which they do not attach some value and importance. A party to the contract is entitled to delivery of goods in the manner stipulated and he cannot be compelled to take something else in substitution for it however effective a substitute it might be. (Schwabe. C. J. and Krishnan, J.) ADAM HAJI PEERA MAHOMED ISHAIK v. HUSSAIN AKBARI.

(1922) M. W. N. 434 : 31 M. L. T. 40 : 70 I. C. 736 : A. I. R. 1923 Mad. 103 : 43 M. L. J. 199.

———Construction—Sale of goods—Contract to purchase from plaintiffs goods which plaintiff had previously thereto purchased from another—Tender by plff. of similar goods relating to other contracts—Repudiation.

Plaintiff had agreed to purchase from B and Co. certain bales of yarn of specified shipments. The contract between plaintiff and B and Co. provided as follows: "B and Co. are relieved from liability for non-shipment owing to causes specified herein and buyers are not entitled to cancel the contract owing to delay caused by any of the specified causes provided that such delay in shipment shall not exceed three months. The buyers are also debarred from objecting to goods being shipped prior to the contract." The defendants in their turn agreed to purchase these very goods from plaintiffs and the contract while incorporating by reference the terms of plaintiffs' contract with B and Co. went on to provide. "Please note that you have to take delivery of goods as received by us and we are not responsible for the late shipment or non-shipment of the goods or part of the goods." The plaintiffs tendered other goods of similar quality but forming part of some other contract of plaintiffs with B and the defendants wanted better particulars about shipment, etc., before they would accept the goods. Held, that the defendants were bound to take the goods as and when they were received by the plaintiffs without reference to the date of shipment, but the defendants were not bound to accept goods relating to other contracts of plaintiffs with B and Co., even though they are of the same quality, make and quantity. Held, further, that the defendants' letter asking for fuller particulars in the absence of which they declined to accept the goods was not a repudiation of the contract which disentitled them from raising in defence in the suit that the goods were not such as they were bound to accept under their contract. Braithwaite v. Foreign Hardwood Co., 2 K. B. 543; Consorozio v. Northumberland, 88 L. J. K B. 1194, Bowes v. Shand. L. R. 2 A. C. 455; Ref. to. (Wallis, C. J. and Ramesam, J.) S. V. SIVARAM AIYAR v. K. M. SUBBIAR & SONS.

70 I. C. 346 : 15 L. W. 9 : A. I. R. 1922 Mad. 28.

———Construction—Railway demanding excess and demurrage.

Plaintiff consigned timber at Quilon to Negapatam and charges were levied at Quilon according to weight. On arrival of timber at Negapatam, the Railway authorities purpoting to act under R. 22, authorizing re-classification and re-calculation of rates, charged at waggon rate and refused delivery till the excess was paid. They also claimed demurrage and wharfage. The plaintiff paid under protest and sued to recover. Held, that the rules as to re-calculation related to errors in calculation and not to a change in the fundamental basis of calculation. Quaere: whether the Company could claim demurrage. (Seshagiri Aiyar, J.) VENUGOPALA AIYANGAR v. S. I. RAILWAY CO.

62 I C. 602 : 13 L. W. 309.

———Construction—Auction sale is a contract.

There can be no doubt whatever that the sale by auction is a contract when the conditions of sale provide that the highest bidder shall be the purchaser; the person who makes the highest bid has a right of action against the seller on his refusing to act in accordance with the conditions. (Baker, J. C.) ABDUL AZIZ KHAN v. MUNICIPAL COMMITTEE, KHANDWA.

78 I. C. 1052 : A. I. R. 1924 Nag. 227.

———Construction—Transfer of actionable claim.

One M agreed to deliver 2,000 tons of Manganese at Rs. 6-8-0 a ton "within two years from date in about equal monthly quantities." This contract was assigned to the plaintiff on the 9th of December 1916. No deliveries having been made till then, there had been eleven defaults in making deliveries. The words as to the time of delivery very clearly import that the essential condition was that delivery of the whole 2,000 tons was to be made within two years, and the words referring to the monthly deliveries were nothing more than a statement of the times of delivery within those two years which, if possible, would be most convenient to both parties. One twenty-fourth of 2,000 is 83·33 but if the seller had delivered only 43·33 tons in any particular month the buyer could not have sued him for the balance of forty tons until the expiry of the two years. (Hallifax, A. J. C.) MOHANLAL v. SIR BISHESWARDAS DAGA.

A. I. R 1923 Nag. 121 (2).

———Construction—Carriage of goods—Rate fixed—Railway authorities using bigger waggon for their own convenience—Higher rate cannot be demanded.

A Railway Company though it has a right to re-measure and recalculate the freight on goods after it reaches its destination, cannot after making a contract with a party to carry goods at a certain rate subsequently alter the entire basis of calculation merely because to suit their own convenience they have used a much bigger waggon than was actually necessary. (Daniels, J.) MT. GULAB DEI v. G. I. P. RY.

90 I. C. 99: L. R. 6 A. 615.

———Construction—Agreement—Where terms are being negotiated and a document is contemplated to be signed, parties are not bound till the signing of the document. But in absence of intention to sign such document the principle does not apply.

CONTRACT—Construction.

Where parties are negotiating as to the terms of an agreement and it is contemplated that a written document shall eventually be signed, everything which takes place until the document is finally signed amounts merely to negotiation. But where at the time of agreement it was not contemplated that any document should be signed, the principle does not apply. (Dawson Miller, C. J., Mullick and Foster, JJ.) HARIHAR PRASAD SINGH v. MAHARAJ KESHAV PRASAD SINGH. 5 P. L. T. Sup. 1 : A. I. R. 1925 Pat. 68.

——Construction—Exception and Proviso.

The general rule is, that where a contract contains an exception and proviso, the party who desires to take the benefit of the former must not only plead it but prove it and that when that has been done the other party who desires to take the benefit of the proviso, which is in reality an extensive covenant by way of defeasance must prove that the subject-matter is not within the exception. (Mullick and Bucknill, JJ.) G. I. P. RY. CO. v. GITAN RAM NIRMAL RAM. 2 P. 442 : 1 P. L. R. 169 : 72 I. C. 440 : 1923 P. H. C C. 82 : 4 P. L. T. 173 : A. I. R. 1923 Pat. 285.

——Construction—Delivery of goods.

A contract for the sale of goods "delivery to be taken ex scale in all October" means that the goods are to be taken whenever in all that month sellers call upon buyers to do so. Consequently 31st October is the last day for the performance of the contract and a breach of the contract takes place only on that date. (Maung Kin and Pratt, JJ.) HUNT HUAT & CO. v. SIN GEE MOH & CO. 66 I. C. 510 : 11 L. B. R. 182.

——Construction—Contract for purchase of goods—Vendee asking for time for payment of price—Vendor asking for interest but not treating vendee's action as repudiation of contract—Vendee is not guilty of breach of contract.

Where the vendees merely asked for time for payment for goods till the arrival of other goods ordered from the same vendors, and the vendors did not treat this as vendees' repudiation of the contract but only asked for payment of interest, Held: that the vendees had not refused to take delivery of the goods at the proper time, and had not committed breach of contract. (Kennedy, J. C. and Rupchand Bilaram, A. J. C.) PREMJI MULJI v. GURLICK & CO. 90 I. C. 573 : A. I. R. 1925 Sind 254.

——Construction—Contract for sale of goods—Defendant failing to take delivery on due date—Resale after undue delay—Demand for damages on basis of resale is untenable but plaintiff must be permitted to amend plaint so as to claim damages on market price—C. P. Code, O. 6, R. 17.

Where the plaintiff had made undue delay in reselling the goods, which the defendant had failed to take delivery of as per the contract of sale between the parties, and where the plaintiff claimed damages on the basis of the actual price realised by him. Held, that he was entitled to damages only on the basis of the market price on the date of the breach but that he should be allowed to so amend his plaint as to claim damages on that basis. A. I. R. 1924 Bom. 390 and 1 S. L. R. 81, Foll. (Kennedy, J. C. and Lobo, A J. C.) FIRM OF GANGARAM v. KODOOMAL. 88 I. C. 571 ; A. I. R. 1925 Sind 222.

——Construction — Karachi Bazar dealers—"Office dhara" and "usual terms" mean what importing firms do as seen from printed forms of contract used by them.

CONTRACT—Implied term.

The expressions "office dhara" and "usual terms" as used in the contracts of the Bazar dealers mean "what the importing firms do" to be seen from the printed forms of contracts used by them. 13 S. L. R. 100, Foll. (Kennedy, J. C. and Rupchand Bilaram, A. J. C.) FIRM OF DASSO MAL RAMCHAND v FIRM OF YUZAFALI ADAMJI. 86 I. C. 364 : A.I.R. 1925 Sind 80.

——Construction—Contract should be read as a whole.

The general rule of construction of a written contract is that the language of an instrument is to be understood in its ordinary and natural meaning but at the same time the whole of the contract must be considered in order to ascertain the meaning of any particular part thereof. (Kaymond, A. J. C.) TYEBALLY ABDUL HUSSAIN v. MESSRS. JAMES FINLAY & CO. 80 I. C. 969 : 17 S.L.R. 12 : A. I. R. 1924 Sind 105 (2).

——Cross contracts—Effect of.

In the case of cross contracts to supply the same goods, the secured contract does not operate as a novatio. Each is separate and even if the parties intended only to pay differences, different legal consequences arise. (Bilaram, A. J. C.) KISHINDAS PURSUMAL v. MENGHRAJ KHIALDAS. 81 I. C. 834 : A. I. R. 1925 Sind 144.

——Enforceability—Right to enter into a contract.

Law does not recognize a contract to enter into a contract and hence it cannot be specifically enforced. (Jwala Prasad and Kulwant Sahay, JJ.) RUDRA DAS CHAKRAVARTHY v. KUMAR KAMAKHYA NARAYAN SINGH. 3 Pat. 968 : 84 I. C 178 : A. I. R. 1925 Pat. 259.

Hire Purchase.

——Hire purchase—An agreement is not a hire purchase agreement unless hirer has option not to complete purchase.

A hire purchase agreement and an agreement to sell are different. In the latter the property in the thing sold passes immediately to the purchaser while in the former there is not only no such immediate transfer of title but also the hirer is not bound to complete the purchase and can at his option return the thing at any time before the instalments are paid. An agreement is only one of sale though it may profess to be a hire-purchase one if it contains an obligation to pay the purchase money. Helby v. Matthews (1895) A. C. 471 and Lee v. Butter (1893) 2 Q. B. 318 Cons. (Marten, J.) A. CECIL COLE v. NONDLAL MORAJI DAVE. 49 Bom. 172 : 26 B. L. R. 880 : A. I. R. 1925 Bom. 18.

Implied Term.

——Implied terms—Deposit by purchaser with seller—Repudiation of contract by purchaser—Whether entitled to return of deposit.

There is nothing either in the Specific Relief Act or in the Contract Act which touches the question of deposit. But it is clear that, even when there is no clause in the contract as to the forfeiture of deposit if the purchaser repudiates the contract, he cannot get back the money as the contract has gone off through his default. This will equally be so even though the buyer is not put to any loss by the repudiation. L. R. 10 Ch. App. 512 and 24 Cal. 897 Ref. to. (Chatterjee and Pearson, JJ.) MANGOBINDA DUTTA v. BAISOGOMAFF. 67 I. C. 714 : A. I. R. 1922 Cal. 104.

——Implied term.

Contract whether implied or express, gives an equal cause of action. (Martineau, J.) IMAN DIN v.

CONTRACT—Implied term.

DITTU. 78 I. C. 445 : A. I. R. 1925 Lah. 174 (1).

———Implied term—Agreement between two temples regulating processions—Construction.

Per Chief Justice :—The law on the subject of the implication of terms in a contract has frequently been misunderstood and misapplied. The Court ought not to imply terms in a contract unless there arises from the language of the contract itself and the circumstances under which it is entered into, such an inference that the parties must have intended the stipulation in question, that the Court is necessarily driven to the conclusion that it must be implied. Held, on a construction of an agreement between two temples regulating the processions of idols on particular days that there was no implied term that one of them would limit its procession to those particular days. (Schwabe, C. J. and Wallace, J.) GOVINDA CHARIAR v. NATU KESAVA MUDALIAR. 17 L. W. 79 : (1923) M. W. N. 186 : 72 I. C. 243 : A. I. R. 1923 Mad. 344.

Liability.

———Liability—Sale of goods—German steamers carrying goods seized during war—Arrival in a different ship long after—Doctrine of frustration.

In pursuance of a contract for sale of goods headed "contract shipment and arrival" goods were sent in a German steamer, which on the outbreak of war was seized and condemned as prize. Two years later the goods arrived in a different steamer, but were not given to the buyer. In a suit for damages for non-delivery held plaintiff was not entitled to delivery of the goods.

Per Sanderson, C. J.—The arrival of the goods under the particular circumstances was not such an arrival as was thought by the parties to the contract. The purpose of the contract and the intention of the parties had been up set by the capture and the prolonged delay.

Per Richardson, J.—According to the doctrine of "frustration" a subsequent event or contingency beyond the ken of the parties at the time of the transaction, for the occurrence of which neither of them is responsible and for which they have not provided may sometimes operate to undermine and avoid the contract. English case-law referred to. (Sanderson, C. J. and Richardson, J.) GOURI SHANKAR AGARWALLA v. H. P. MOITRA. 70 I. C. 379 : 26 C. W. N. 573.

———Liability—Date of operation of.

An agreement when confirmed becomes operative with effect from the date when originally made. (Mookerjee and Fletcher, JJ.) DINA NATH v. METHARAM. 64 I. C. 785 : 33 C. L. J. 577.

———Liability—Failure to complete contract—Earnest money when forfeited.

Where a purchaser was, under the contract of sale, bound to pay up the balance of consideration within a certain time in default of which he was to forfeit the earnest money, and it is found that not only was he not in a position to pay that money but he never offered to pay it, he is not entitled to recover the earnest money paid by him. (N. R. Chatterjee and Panton, JJ.) ATUL CHANDRA KUNDU v. SARAT CHANDRA LAHA. 59 I. C. 215 : 24 C. W. N 967.

———Liability—Negotiable instrument.

There is a difference between the law relating to liability on ordinary contracts and that on negotiable instrument. (Wazir Hasan, A. J. C.) JAGRUP SINGH v. RAMA KISHAN DAS. 7 O. L. J. 705 : 59 I. C. 596 : 23 O. C. 353.

———Liability—Marriage—Securing a girl for marriage—Money paid to be given to girl's guardian—Girl not secured—Money recoverable.

CONTRACT—Right to enforce.

Defendant asked for Rs. 200 for the purpose of settling the plaintiff's marriage. The plaintiff however sent only Rs. 175 by money order. Defendant did not spend that sum in connection with the plaintiff's marriage in accordance with the agreement come to and therefore plaintiff sued to get the money back. Plaintiff's pleader stated that girls were scarce and plaintiff wanted the defendant to secure a girl for him and the money was given to him to be paid to the guardian of the girl selected, should money be demanded. Held, that plaintiff can recover. 41 M. 197 and 33 Bom. 411, Foll. (Prideaux, A.J.C.) GANGADHAR v. GOVIND. 8 N.L.J. 66: A.I.R. 1923 Nag. 296.

Novation.

———Novation—Partnership—Debt due by—Mortgage by one of partners for—Effect—Where no extinguishment of firm's debt or release of partner's liability.

Where during the continuance of a partnership one of the partners executed to a creditor of the firm a mortgage to secure inter alia, the debt due to him from the firm, held, on the evidence in the case that the mortgage did not work either as a novation of the firm's debts to the creditor or a release of any of the partners from full liability in respect of it. (Lord Blanesburgh.) VEERAPPA CHETTY v. ARUNACHALLAM CHETTY. 26 Bom L.R. 661 : (1924) M. W. N. 559 : 20 L.W. 368 : 35 M. L. T. 161 : 29 C. W. N. 438 : 86 I. C. 259 : A.I. R. 1924 P. C. 192 : 47 M. L. J. 168 (P. C.).

———Novation—Fresh and independent cause of action—Amount due on previous account—Consideration, proof of.

The balance due cannot be recovered until it is proved that the sum was due within limitation. But where there is a novation of contract and a promise to pay within a specified period, a fresh and independent cause of action accrues on the date on which payment is promised to be made. (Dalal, J. C.) MENDI LAL v. RAM CHANDER. 1 O. W. N. 797.

———Novation—What it consists of—Parties—Tenancy—Change of terms.

The novation of a contract implies a fresh contract, directly, or by implication in place of the original one and all the parties to the old contract must agree to it. The terms of a tenancy cannot be changed unless the landlord is a party thereto. (Jwala Prasad and Macpherson, JJ.) GOPAL OJHA v RAMADHAR SINGH. 82 I. C. 204.

Right to enforce.

———Right to enforce—Suit to enforce payment—Minority, plea of—Onus.

The burden of proof must be laid on the party who says that at the time of contract he was a minor. (Mukerjee, J.) KANDHAI LAL v. DEBI PRASAD. L. R. 6 All. 219 : 87 I. C. 778 : A. I. R. 1925 All. 399.

———Right to enforce—Agreement to abide by oath.

If the parties have made a binding agreement it does not matter to a Court how foolish it is, and after all the parties probably know their business better than the Court and it may not be so foolish in the eyes of the parties as in the eyes of the Court. Consequently where the parties contracted to abide by the statement of the defendant on oath, there is nothing illegal in such contract and the parties are bound to abide thereby. (Walsh, J.) KESHO RAM v. PEARE LAL. 21 A. L. J. 209 : L. R. 4 A. 368 : 71 I. C. 761 : A. I. R. 1923 All. 443 (2).

CONTRACT—Right to enforce.

——Right to enforce—Bearer a minor—Whether can sue on the Hundi.

The bearer of a Shah Jog Hundi, although a minor is entitled to sue on the Hundi. (Macleod, C. J. and Coyajee, J.) RAM PRASAD v. SHRINIVAS.
27 Bom. L. R. 1122 : 90 I. C. 685 : A. I. R. 1925 Bom. 527.

——Right to enforce—Minor's rights to enforce contract of marriage—Minor.

Contract made by the natural guardian of a minor so as to be binding on the minor, which is for the minor's benefit, is enforceable at law.

Minor can maintain suit for damages for breach of contract of marriage entered into on minor's behalf by the minor's natural guardian. (Case law discussed.) (Taraporewala, J.) ROSE FERNANDEZ v. JOSEPH GONSALVES. 48 Bom. 673 : 26 B. L. R. 1035 : 85 I. C. 587 : A. I. R. 1925 Bom. 97.

——Right to enforce—Waiver must be with intention to waive and with knowledge of all circumstances—Payment by vendee of purchase money, due to mistake induced by advice of solicitors is not waiver of right under covenant for title.

In order that there may be an effectual waiver of any stipulation in an agreement, it must be intentional and based upon full knowledge of the circumstances. Where there has been no independent investigation of title on behalf of the plaintiff-vendee, but, due to a mistake induced by the advice of his solicitors, he pays portion of the purchase money, he does not thereby waive his right to the enforcement of the stipulation by the vendor to make out marketable title. (Shah, A. C. J. and Kincaid, J.) MEGHJI MOORJI v. TYEBALLI KAMRUDDIN.
26 B. L. R. 1019 : A. I. R. 1925 Bom. 64.

——Right to enforce—Mahabrahmans—Offerings to—Contract to divide.

A contract to divide offerings to Mahabrahmans is not enforceable except as between the immediate parties to it. (Lindsay, J. C.) MAHESH PRASAD v. BHARATH. 59 I. C. 677 : 23 O. C. 252.

——Right to enforce—Forward contract in Karachi—Clause 9—Clause 6 is not affected by clause 9.

Clause (6) which gives option to the seller to retain the goods under lien till payment, is not affected by clause (9); clause (9) of the usual contract is not intended to require the seller not to part with the goods at all where delivery is to be made to an Indian Merchant, but to further restrict the right of the seller to exercise his option of retaining the goods where delivery is to be made to a European Office. Parting with goods without full payment therefore does not by itself divest the vendors of their right to enforce payment of the purchase money. (Rupchand Bilaram and Kennedy, A. J. Cs.) FIRM OF BUDHURAM v KIMATRAL BHOJRAJ. A. I. R. 1924 Sind. 137.

Shipping.

——Shipping—Construction—F.O. B. New York—Shipping soonest—Goods must be shipped only at New York as soon as possible.

The defendant's indent to the plaintiffs required the goods to be shipped soonest and contained instructions to ship at New York. Held, that the plaintiffs were to ship the goods as soon as possible at New York and were not at liberty to ship them at any other port on the ground of their inability to ship at New York without great delay. L. R. 5 H. L. 395 Ref. (Sanderson, C J. and Rankin, J.) DAYTON PRICE & CO. v. S. ROHOMOTOLLAH & CO. 29 C. W. N. 422 : 86 I. C. 571 : A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 609.

——Shipping—Charter party—Unjustified deviation leading to loss of cargo—Suit for damages—Maintainability.

A contract of charter party was entered into between the parties by which goods ought to be loaded and unloaded between C. and S. with the usual clauses of exemption from liability on account of King's enemies and Act of God. The ship deviated from the usual route and in a storm, some goods belonging to the plaintiff were jettisoned, and a suit was filed for damages on account of loss. Held, (1) it is settled law that if the charter party says nothing more than that the cargo should be carried, from one port to another, it is an implied condition that the ship must go according to the nearest route between the ports; (2) in a case of unjustified deviation, a plaintiff is entitled to recover all damages caused by deviation. (Ramesam and Jackson, JJ.) BANA MEEN v. JETTA MEGHJI. 21 L. W. 249 : 86 I. C. 751 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 770.

Stranger.

——Stranger—Right to enforce—Privity—Subsequent dealings.

Though at the outset a person was a stranger to a contract, still, if subsequent dealings have brought him into privity with the parties, it is open to the Courts to grant relief to him on the contract. 41 Cal. 137 Ref. (Lindsay and Kanhaiya Lal, JJ.) NEHAL SINGH v. FATEH CHAND. 20 A. L. J. 708 : 44 A. 702 : 68 I. C. 778 : A. I. R. 1922 All. 426.

——Stranger—Sale of land—Agreement by vendee to discharge debt of vendor—Right of suit—Privity of contract—Rule as to Exception—All parties before Court—Effect.

The vendee of a property undertook to discharge a debt due by his vendor to a third party. The plaintiff alleging that the third party was a benamidar for him sued for the amount due impleading as defendants the benamidar, the vendee and the vendor. It was proved that the third party was a benamidar for the plaintiff, but the vendee pleaded that he was not liable as there was no privity between him and the plaintiff. Held, the ordinary rule of law that a stranger to a contract though beneficiary thereunder could not sue upon it does not prevent a Court, in the exercise of its equitable jurisdiction from passing a decree in his favour, when all the parties affected by the contract are before the Court. 3 Mer. 582; 31 I. C. 792 : 41 Cal. 137; 45 M. L. J 693, Foll. 41 M. 488; 38 M. 753, Ref. to. (Devadoss, J.) ARETI SINGARAYYA v. ARRETI SUBBAYYA. 20 L. W. 721 : 35 M. L. T. 103 : (1924) M. W. N. 838 : A. I. R. 1924 Mad. 861 : 47 M. L. J. 517.

——Stranger can enforce.

Per Krishnan, J.—Stranger can enforce contract if parties to contract are parties to suit and stranger is supported by the interested party. 34 A. 3. (P.C.) Dist. 34 Mad. 119 partly Foll. (Krishnan and Venkatasubba Rao, JJ.) THIRUVADI AYYANGAR v. P. JANAKI. 18 L. W. 530 : 75 I. C. 1016 : A. I. R. 1924 Mad. 103 : 45 M. L. J. 693.

——Stranger—Right to enforce—Assignment of all the property of the transferor—Credit of transferor—Suit for recovery of debt from transferee—Maintainability.

Where a person gets a transfer of all the assets of his transferor and subjects himself to the payment of his debts, a creditor of the transferor to whom such a transfer is communicated has a right to proceed against the transferee. A suit by the creditor against the transferee is in such a case not open to the objection that there is not privity of contract between the parties. 41 Cal. 157 ; 41 Mad. 488 ; 26 Mad. 686. Ref. 4 Cal. 897 ; 8 Cal. 79 Foll. (Kumaraswamy Sastri, J.) G RAMASWAMI AIYAR v. DEIVASIGAMANI PILLAI. (1922) M. W. N. 442 : 16 L.W. 282 : 69 I. C. 957 (2) : 31 M. L. T. 156 (H.C.) : A. I. R. 1922 Mad. 397 : 43 M. L. J. 129.

CONTRACT—Stranger.

———Stranger—Enforceability by stranger depends on his having actual beneficial interest under contract.

To entitle a third party not named as a party to the contract to sue either of the contracting parties, the third party must possess an actual beneficial right which places him in the position of cestui que trust under that contract. (Baker, J. C.) MT. JANKI v MOHAN LAL. 80 I. C. 405 : A. I. R. 1925 Nag. 29.

Teji Mandi Contracts.

———Teji Mandi Contracts—Sale of goods—Contract to pay differences—Wagering transactions—Teji-mandi contracts—Kaccha Adatia dealing with up-country constituents.

It cannot be disputed that a Kaccha Adatia in Bombay enters into transactions on behalf of his up-country constituent with third parties in Bombay and that when he enters into such transactions under instructions from his up-country constituent, the third party is responsible for the losses to the up-country constituent. To the third party in Bombay both the Kaccha Adatia and his constituent would be responsible. The name of the up-country constituent is not communicated to the third party in Bombay but the name of the third party with whom the Kaccha Adatia transacts business on behalf of the up-country constituent is communicated to the up-country constituent. The Adatia enters into contracts with the third parties in Bombay on behalf of his up-country constituent as an agent, the name of the principal not being disclosed. Where the plaintiff is employed as a Kaccha Adatia by an up-country constituent and where transactions are entered into by the Adatia with third parties in Bombay and where there is the circumstance that the intention of the third parties, is not shown to be to deal in differences only, it is not enough for the defendant to prove an agreement between himself and his Adatia that the Adatia would so arrange business for him as not to require him to give or take delivery. In order that a transaction may be treated as a wager, it is essential that the common intention of the two parties should be to deal in differences only. The two parties to the contract in the case would be the defendant and his agent on the one hand and the third party with whom the Adatia enters into the contract on behalf of the defendant on the other. (Shah, A. C. J. and Kincaid, J.) MUKUND CHAND v. SOBHAGMAL. 26 Bom L. R. 1097 : 85 I. C. 613 : A. I. R. 1925 Bom. 79.

———Teji Mandi transactions—Wagering contracts.

There is no presumption as regards Teji Mandi transactions that they are wagering transactions. 1922 Bom. 408 Foll. (Shah, A. C. J. and Kincaid, J.) MUKUNCHAND BALIA v. SOBHAGMAL GIANMAL. 26 B.L.R. 1097 : 85 I.C. 613 : A.I.R 1925 Bom. 79.

CONTRACT—Variation.

Variation.

———Contract—Variation—Breach of contract—Where date of sale is postponed by consent, old contract continues but date of breach is the postponed date if date is fixed, or the date when plaintiff refused to extend time or after reasonable time from last date of grant of indulgence.

Where the time for performing a contract of sale has been postponed, at the request either of vendor or purchaser, and the contract is ultimately broken, this has the effect of deferring the period at which the breach takes place, and therefore alters the date with reference to which the damages are to be calculated. The old contract continues, but the date of the breach is shifted. The damages for non-delivery or non-acceptance of the goods will be calculated at the market price of such goods on the last day to which the contract was extended if a date was fixed, or at the date when the plaintiff refused to grant further indulgence, or at a reasonable period after his last grant of an indulgence. (Marten, J.) COORLA SPINNING AND WEAVING MILLS CO. v. VALLABHADAS KALLIANJI. 27 B. L. R. 1168 : A. I. R. 1925 Bom. 547.

———Variation—Power to vary terms.

Where one party to a contract is authorized to vary terms, the powers should be strictly construed and the indulgent party should not be allowed to travel beyond the plain words of the power. (Seshagiri Aiyar, J.) VENUGOPALA AIYANGAR v. S. I. RAILWAY CO. 62 I. C. 602 : 13 L. W. 309.

———Variation—Novation—Essentials.

The main element in a novation of a contract is that the right against original contractor is relinquished and the liability of the new contracting party accepted, provided that the new contract is legally enforceable. (Das and Adami, JJ.) BARKUARIN ALAK v. SIRKAR BARNARD & CO. 2 Pat. L. T. 761 : 62 I. C. 668 : 6 P. L. J. 473.

———Waiver must be with intention to waive and with knowledge of all circumstances.

Payment by vendee of purchase money, due to mistake induced by advice of solicitors is not waiver of right under covenant for title. (Shah, A, C. J. and Kincaid, J.) MEGHRAJ MOORJI v. TYBALLI KAMRUDDIN. 26 Bom. L. R. 1019 : A. I. R. 1925 Bom. 64.

———Waivers—Sale of goods—Acceptance of portion—Refusal of rest—Portion accepted not of the description contracted for—Presumption—Damages.

A portion of the goods contracted for were accepted and the rest refused. It was found that the goods accepted did not correspond to the goods ordered and in a suit for damages for acceptance of the remainder, the vendee pleaded that the portion accepted was not of the sort ordered. Held, the plaintiffs were entitled to damages, and the vendees had waived performance of all conditions precedent. (Ramesam, and Reilly, JJ.) KAYALU AYYAR v. KUPPU AIYAR. 21 L. W. 503 ; 88 I. C. 241 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 974 : 49 M. L. J. 1

CONTRACT ACT (IX OF 1872).

STATUTE INDEX.

Acceptance, Communication of, when complete, S. 4
Acceptance of performance from third person, S. 41
Acceptance of proposal, Communication of, defined, S. 8
Acceptance of proposals, defined, S. 3
Acceptance, revocation of, S. 5
Accomplishment of purpose, S. 160
Accounts of agent, S. 213
Account to firm, of benefit of business other than partnership, S. 258
Acts in good faith, S. 223
Acts lawful, consequences of, S. 222
Acts not expressly repealed, not affected, S. 1
Advancement of money for share of profits, not partner, S. 240
Advances, subsequent presumption for, S. 174
Agency, Ss. 182—238 (Ch. X.)
Agency, business of, S. 194
Agency, termination of Agent, agreement of misrepresentation by, S. 238
Agent, compensation to, S. 225
Agent, defined, S. 182
Agent, employment of, S. 183
Agent, falsely contracting as, S. 236
Agent, indemnification of, Ss. 222, 223
Agent, non-enforcement by, S. 230
Agent, pretended liability of, S. 235
Agent, principal's duty to, Ss. 222—225
Agent, qualifications of, S. 184
Agent remunerated by share of profits, not a partner, S. 242
Agent's accounts, S. 213
Agent's authority, S. 188
Agent's authority, excess of, S. 227
Agent's authority, in emergency, S. 189
Agent's authority, non-separation of, S. 228
Agent's authority, revocation by, S. 203
Agent's authority, termination of, Time for, S. 208
Agent's contract, consequences of, S. 226
Agent's contract, enforcement of, S. 226
Agent's dealing, S. 215
Agent's diligence, S. 212
Agent's duty to principal, Ss. 211—221 (Ch. X.)
Agent's express authority, S. 186
Agent's implied authority, S. 186
Agent's lien, S. 221
Agent's misconduct of business, S. 220
Agent's naming person, S. 195
Agent's non-disclosure of contract, S. 231
Agent's not delegating, S. 190
Agent's personal liability, S. 233
Agent's remuneration, S. 219.
Agent's responsibility for sub-agent, S. 192
Agent's right of retainer, S. 217
Agent's skill, S. 212
Agreement by way of wager, exception to, S. 30
Agreement, consideration of, when lawful, S. 23
Agreement defined, S. 2 (e).
Agreement in restraint of marriage, void, S. 26
Agreement in restraint of trade, void, S. 27
Agreement not void, though consideration inadequate, S. 25, Expl. 2
Agreement, object of, when lawful, S. 23
Agreement of misrepresentation by agent, S. 238
Agreements by way of wager, S. 30
Agreements in restraint of legal proceeding, S. 28
Agreements in restraint of legal proceedings, Exceptions to, S. 28 (i), (ii).
Agreements in restraint of trade, exceptions to, S. 27 (Except, 1, 2, 3).
Agreements void for uncertainty, S. 29
Agreements when contracts, S. 10
Agreement through mistake, void, S. 20
Agreement to do impossible act, S. 56
Agreement valid without consideration, if it is a promise to compensate for something done, S. 25 (ii)
Agreement valid if without consideration if it is a promise to pay a debt barred by Limitation law, S. 25 (iii)
Agreement valid without consideration if it is in writing and registered, S. 25 (i)
Agreement void, defined, S. 2 (g)
Agreement void if consideration unlawful in part, S. 24
Agreement void if object unlawful in part, S. 24
Agreement void without consideration, S. 25
Alternative promise, one branch being illegal, S. 58
Annuity to child of deceased partner, S. 243
Annuity to widow of deceased partner, S. 243
Annulment of contract of partner's obligations, S. 252,
Annulment of contract of partner's rights, S. 252
Appointment of sub-agent without authority, S. 193
Appointment, proper, of sub-agent, S. 192
Apportionment of relief, S. 181
Appropriation of payments, Ss. 58—61 (Ch. IV.)
Ascertained kind, warranty of, S. 115
Ascertainment of goods, S. 83
Ascertainment of goods by seller's selection, S. 84
Auction, by sale of lots, S. 122
Auction, by transfer of lots, S. 122
Authorisation of unauthorised acts, S. 237
Authority, express, defined, S. 187
Authority, express, of agent, S. 186
Authority, implied, defined, S. 187
Authority, implied, of agent, S 186
Authority of agent, S. 183
Authority of agent, excess of, S. 227
Authority of agent in emergency, S. 189
Authority of agent, non-separation of, S. 228
Authority of Agent, Revocation by, S. 203
Authority of Sub-agent, termination of, S. 210
Authority, partly exercised, revocation of, S. 204
Authority, Sub-agent's appointment without, S. 193
Authority, Revocation of, Ss. 201—210
Bailed goods, return of, S. 160
Bailed goods, unauthorised use of, S. 154
Bailee, bailor's responsibility, S. 164
Bailee, care by, S. 151
Bailee, defined, S. 148
Bailee, delivery to, S. 149
Bailee, liability of, S. 154
Bailee, non-responsibility of, S. 166
Bailee's death, S. 162
Bailee's duty, S. 163
Bailee's Goods, mixture with, S. 155
Bailee's non-liability, S. 152
Bailee's particular lien, S. 170
Bailee's responsibility, S. 161
Bailee, suit by, S. 180
Bailment, Ss. 148, 181 (Ch. IX)
Bailment by several joint owners, S. 165
Bailment, defined, S. 148
Bailment, Gratuitous, termination of, S. 162

Bailments of pledge, Ss. 172-181 (Ch. IX)
Bailment, termination of, S. 153
Bailor defined, S. 148
Bailor, repayment by, S. 158
Bailor's consent, S. 155
Bailor's death, S. 162
Bailor's directions, S. 163
Bailor's duty, S. 150
Bailor's non consent, Ss. 156—157
Bailor's responsibility to bailee, S. 164
Bailor, suit by, S. 180
Benefit, account to firm of, for business other than partnership, S. 258
Benefit, principal's right to, S. 216
Biddings pretended, S. 123
Bill of Lading, stoppage of, S. 103
Breach of contract, compensation of, S. 73
Breach of Contract, consequences of, Ss. 73, 74, 75, (Ch. VI)
Breach of warranty, S. 117
Bulk, warranty of, S. 112
Business, misconduct of, by agent, S. 220
Business of agency, S. 194
Business of principal, conducting of, S. 211
Business, usual hours of, for performance, S. 47
Buyer's failure, S. 107
Buyer's refusal, S. 119
Buyer's right, Ss. 117—118
Buyer to suffer loss, S. 86 are by bailee, S. 151
arrier or wharfinger, delivery to, S. 91
Cessation of right, S. 102
Child of deceased partner receiving annuity, S. 243
Claim of seller, notice of, S. 105
Coercion, defined, S. 15
ercion, I. P. C., in force or not immaterial, S. 15 (Expl.)
Commencement of the Act, S. 1
Communication of acceptance, when complete, S. 4
Communication of proposals, defined, S. 3
Communication of proposals, when complete, S. 4
Communication of revocation, when complete, S. 4
Communication with Principal, S. 214
Companies, joint stock, S. 266
Compensation by breach of contract, S. 73
Compensation by suit, S. 181
Compensation for renunciation, S. 205
Compensation for revocation, S. 205
Compensation in quasi-contracts, S. 73
Compensation in reciprocal Promise, S. 54
Compensation through non-performance act known to be impossible or unlawful, S. 56
Compensation to agent, S. 225
Compensation when intention to do not gratuitous, S.70
Compensation where penalty stipulated for, S. 74
Competency for making contracts, S. 11
Completion of sale, Ss. 80-83
Compounding by creditor, S. 135
Compounding with surety, S. 135
Compulsion of contribution, S. 43
Compulsion of Joint promisor to perform, S. 43
Concealment, guarantee by, S.143
Condition, guarantee on, S. 144
Conditions of offer, S. 38 (i) (ii) (iii)
Conducting of Principal's business, S. 211
Consent defined S. 13
Consent free, defined, S. 14
Consent free effect of when not given, S. 19
Consent of bailor, S. 155
Consent of Principal, S. 215
Consent valid if fraud or misrepresentation though practised has no effect of causing consent, S. 19 (Expl.)
Consent valid though caused by misrepresentation or silence, S. 19 (Excep.)
Consequence of inducement, S. 234
Consequence of notice, S. 229
Consequences of agent's contract, S. 226
Consequences of breach of contract, Ss. 73, 74, 75 (Ch. VI)
Consequences of lawful acts, S. 222
Consequences of rescission of voidable contract, S. 64
Consideration, absence of effect, S. 25
Consideration defined, S. 2 (d)
Consideration for guarantee, S. 127
Consideration, inadequate effect of, S. 25 (Expl 2.)
Consideration not necessary, S. 185.
Consideration not required if agreement is a promise for something done, S. 25 (ii)
Consideration not required if agreement is a promise to pay a debt barred by Limitation Law, S. 25 (iii)
Consideration not required if agreement is in writing and registered, S. 25 (i)
Consideration of an agreement when lawful, S. 23
Consideration unlawful in part, effect of, S. 24
Contingent contract defined, S. 31.
Contingent contract impossible, S. 34
Contingent contracts on an event not happening, Enforcement of, S. 33.
Contingent contracts when become void, Ss. 35, 36
Contingent contracts when to be enforced.
Continuance of Partners' rights after dissolution, S.263
Continuance of right of stoppage, S. 101
Continuing guarantee defined, S. 129
Continuing guarantee, revocation of, S. 130
Continuing guarantee revoked by change in firm, S.260
Contract, agent's non-disclosure of, S. 231
Contract, breach of, compensation of, S. 73.
Contract, breach of, consequences of, Ss. 73, 74, 75, (Ch. VI.)
Contract caused by mistake of one party as to matter of fact, S. 22
Contract, conditions for purposes of, Ss. 12, 30 (Ch. II).
Contract, contigent defined, S. 31
Contract, contingent, impossible, S. 34
Contract contingent on an event not happening, enforcement of, S. 33
Contract defined, Ss. 2 (h), 10
Contract for the sale of future goods, S. 88
Contract, obligations of parties to, S. 37
Contract of agent consequences of, S. 226
Contract of agent, enforcement of, S. 226
Contract of guarantee defined, S. 126
Contract of indemnity defined, S. 124
Contract, performance of, when time essential, S. 55
Contract, performance of, when time not agreed, S. 55
Contract, performance of, when time not essential, S. 55
Contract, presumption of, S. 230
Contract, quasi, compensation in, S. 73
Contract, rescission of when right, S. 75
Contracts by whom must be performed, Ss. 40-45 (Ch. IV)
Contracts contingent when become void, Ss. 35, 36
Contracts contingent when to be enforced, S. 35
Contract sound mind necessary for, S. 12
Contracts performance of, Ss. 37-40 (Ch. IV)
Contracts quasi, Ss. 68—72
Contracts which need not be performed, Ss. 61—67 (Ch. IV)
Contract, terms of variance in, S. 133
Contract to be set aside when induced by undue influence, S. 19 A Contract voidable defined, S. 2 (i)
Contract voidable rescission of, S. 64

Contract, voidable, rescission of, mode of, S. 66
Contract when afterwards becomes impossible, S. 56
Contract who can make, S. 11
Contract with Government. S. 74 (Expl. II)
Contribution, compulsion of, S. 43
Contribution equal, S. 146
Contribution, sharing of loss by default in, S. 43
Conveyance of title, S. 108
Co-partner, partner's liability to third person for fraud of S. 250
Co partner partner's liability to third person for neglect of, S. 250
Co-partners' partner's power to bind, S. 251
Co-sureties' liability, Ss. 146, 147
Co-surety's release, S. 138
Court's Winding up after dissolution, S. 265
Court's Winding up after termination, S. 265
Court to dissolve partnership, S. 254
Creditor compounding by, S. 135
Creditor defined, S. 126
Creditor's forbearance, S. 137
Custom of trade not affected, S. 1
Damages, estimate of, means for, S. 73 (Expl.)
Dealing of agent, S. 215
Death of bailee, S. 162
Death of bailor, S. 162
Death of principal, S. 209
Death of surety, effect of, S. 131
Debt, partners' liability for partnership, S. 249
Debt, payment of, partnership, S. 262
Debt, payment of, separate, S. 262
Debtor, principal defined, S. 126
Deceased partners' estates non-liable for subsequent obligations, S. 261
Deceased partners' representative, property left in business by, S. 241
Defaulting pawner, S. 177
Definitions, S. 2
Delivery of goods how made, S. 90
Delivery, part effect of, S. 92
Delivery, place of, S. 94
Delivery to bailee, S. 149
Delivery to wharfinger or carrier, S. 91
Denomination, certain, implied warranty of, S. 113
Determination of price not final by contract, S. 89
Devolution of joint liabilities, S 42
Devolution of joint rights, S. 45
Diligence of agent, S. 212
Directions of bailor, S. 163
Discharge of principal debtor, S. 134
Discharge of surety, Ss. 133, 134, 135—139
Disclosure of faults, S. 150
Dispensing with performance of promise, S. 63
Dissolution, notice of, S. 264
Dissolution of partnership by court, S. 254
Dissolution of partnership by prohibition of business, S. 255
Documentary title to goods, S. 178
Duties, Partner's General, S. 257
Duty of agent to principal, S. 211—221 (Ch. X)
Duty of bailee, S. 163
Duty of bailor, S. 150
Duty of principal to Agent, Ss. 222—225
Duty of promisor for performance, S. 49
Effecting of sale, S. 78
Effecting of stoppage, S. 104
Effect of part delivery, S. 92
Effect of ratification, S. 197
Emergency, agent's authority in, S. 189
Employers' non-liability, S. 224
Employment of agent, S. 183
Enactments repealed by Contract Act, S. 1
Enforcement of agent's contracts, S. 226
Enforcement of contracts, contingent on an event happening, S. 32
Enforcement of contracts contingent on an event not happening, S. 33
Equal contribution, S. 146
Estimate of damages, means for, S. 73 (Expl.)
Exception to wagering agreement, S. 30
Excess of Agent's authority, S. 227
Expenses extraordinary, S. 175
Expenses necessary, S. 158
Expiration of time, S. 160
Express authority defined, S. 187
Express authority of agent, S. 186
Express promise defined, S. 9
Express ratification, S. 197
Express renunciation, S 207
Express revocation, S. 207
Extent of the Act, S. 1
Extraordinary expenses, S. 175
Failure of buyer, S 107
False contracting as agent, S. 236
Faults, disclosure of, S. 150
Finder of goods, responsibility of, S. 71
Finder of goods, right of, S. 168
Firm defined, S. 239
Firm, obligations of partners carrying competing business to, S. 259
Forbearance of creditor, S. 137
Found goods, sale of, S. 169
Fraud defined, S. 17 (i), (ii), (iii), (iv), (v)
Fraud when silence amounts to speech, S. 17
Free consent defined, S. 14
Future goods, sale of, contract for, S. 88
General duties of partners, S. 257
General lien, S. 171
Good faith, Acts in, S. 223
Good faith, Passing of Title, S. 108 (Excep. II)
Goods, ascertainment of, S. 83
Goods, ascertainment of, by seller's selection, S. 84
Goods bailed, return of, S. 160
Goods bailed, unauthorised use of, S. 154
Goods defined, S. 76
Goods, delivery of, made, S. 90
Goods, documentary, Title to. S. 178
Goods, finder of, responsibility of, S. 71
Goods, finder of, right of, S. 168
Goods found, sale of, S. 169
Goods future sale of, contract for, S. 88
Goods in transit, S. 100
Goods, non-separation of, S. 157
Goods of bailee, mixture with, S. 155
Goods, possessor of, pledge by, S. 178
Goods seller of, not bound, S. 93
Goods, Separation of, Ss. 156, 159
Goods when non-existent, transfer of ownership of, S. 87
Good will, person receiving portion of profits as a sale of, no partner, S. 244
Government contract with, S. 74 (Expl)
Gratuitous bailment, termination, S. 162
Gratuitous lending, S. 159
Guarantee by cancelment, S. 143
Guarantee by misrepresentation, S. 142
Guarantee continuing defined S. 129
Guarantee continuing revocation of, S. 131
Guarantee continuing revoked by change in firm, S. 260
Guarantee contract of, defined, S. 126
Guarantee, on condition S. 144
Implied authority defined, S. 187
Implied authority of agent, S. 186
Implied promise, S. 145
Implied promise defined, S. 9
Implied ratification, S. 197

Implied renunciation, S. 207
Implied revocation, S. 207
Implied warranty, S. 110
Implied warranty of certain denomination, S. 113
Implied warranty, where not, S. 113.
Incorporated Partnership, S. 266.
Indemnification of agent, Ss. 222-223.
Indemnity, Ss. 124-125 (Ch. VIII)
Indemnity, contract of, defined, S. 124
Indemnity holders, rights of, S. 125 (i), (ii), (iii)
Indemnity of surety, S. 145
Inducement, consequence of, S. 234
Influence, undue, defined, S. 16
Influence undue, provisions of, S. 111, I. E. Act, 1872 not affected, S. 16.
Insanity of principal, S. 209
Insolvency defined, S. 96 (Expl.)
Intention not to do gratuitously, compensation, S. 70
Interest in subject-matter, S. 202
Interest, limited, pledge of,
Joint liabilities, devolution of, S. 42
Joint liability of surety, S. 132
Joint owner, passing of title, S. 108 (Except. II.)
Joint owners, several, bailment by, S. 165
Joint promisor compelled to perform S. 43
Joint promisor, release of, S. 44
Joint rights, devolution of, S. 45
Joint-stock companies, S. 266
Knowledge for valid ratification, S. 198
Lading, bill of, stoppage, S. 103
Lawful acts, consequences of, S. 222
Lender, when not partner, S. 240
Lending gratuitously, S. 159
Liabilities joint, devolution of, S. 42
Liability, joint, of surety, S. 132
Liability of bailee, S. 154
Liability of co-sureties, Ss. 146, 147
Liability of minor partner, becoming major, S. 248
Liability of partner for co-partner's fraud to third person, S. 250
Liability of partner for co-partner's neglect to third person, S. 250
Liability of partner for partnership debt, S. 249
Liability of person permitting himself to be shown as partner, S. 246
Liability of pretended agent, S. 235
Liability of surety, S. 128
Liability, personal, of agent, S. 233
Liability when event prevented, S. 53
Lien, general, S. 171
Lien of agent, S. 221
Lien of seller, Ss. 95, 98 (Ch. VII)
Lien of seller against subsequent buyer, S. 98
Lien of seller when payment future but goods in seller's possession, S. 97
Lien particular, of bailee, S. 170
Lien where future payment but no time, S. 96
Limited interest, pledge of, S. 179
Limited liability, partnership, S. 266
Loss to be suffered by buyer, S. 86
Lots, sale of, by auction, S. 122
Lots, transfer of, by auction, S. 122
Majority, minor partner liability when attaining, S. 248
Means for estimating damages, S. 73 (Expl.)
Mind sound necessary for making a contract defined, S. 12
Minor partner not personally liable, but his share is, S. 247
Minor partner when major, liability of, S. 248
Misconduct of business by agent, S. 220
Misrepresentation, agreement of, by agent, S. 238
Misrepresentation defined, S. 18 (i), (ii), (iii)
Misrepresentation, guarantee by, S. 142
Mistake, effect on contract caused by one party as to matter of fact, S. 22
Mistake, effect of, on agreement, S. 20
Mistakes, effect of, as to law, S. 21
Mistake when not to be deemed as to matter of fact, S. 20 (Expl.)
Mixture of, with bailee's goods, S. 155
Mode of rescission of voidable contract, S. 66
Naming person of agent, S. 195
Necessaries when supplied, reimbursement of, S. 68
Necessary expenses, S. 158
Neglect of principal, S. 225
Negligence of non-performance effect of, S. 67
Non-appropriation of payment, S. 61
Non-consent of bailor, Ss. 156, 157
Non-delegation of agent, S. 190
Non-discharge of surety, Ss. 136, 137, 138
Non-disclosure of contract by agent, S. 231
Non enforcement by agent S. 230
Non-liability of bailee, S. 152
Non-liability of dead partner's estate for subsequent obligations, S. 261
Non-liability of employer, S 224
Non-performance of contracts, Ss. 61, 67 (Ch. IV)
Non-performance, refusal and negligence of, effect of, S. 67
Non-responsibility of bailee, S. 166
Non-responsibility of seller, S. 116
Non-retention by pawnee, S. 174
Non-separation of agent's authority, S. 228
Non-separation of goods, S. 157
Notice, consequences of, S. 229
Notice of dissolution, S. 264
Notice of renunciation, S. 206
Notice of revocation, S. 206
Notice of seller's claim, S. 105
Object of an agreement when lawful, S. 23
Object unlawful in part, effect of, S. 24
Obligations of parties to contract, S. 37
Obligations of partners in partnership after its expiry, S. 256
Obligations of partner to firm carrying competing business, S. 259
Obligations subsequent, deceased partner's estates, non-liability for, S. 261
Obligation when advantage derived under void agreement, S. 65
Occasional soundness, S. 12
Occasional unsoundness, S. 12
Order of performance of reciprocal promises, S. 52
Owner joint, passing of title, S. 108 (Excep. II)
Ownership, transfer of goods when non-existent, S. 87
Ownership, transfer of, of moveables with immoveables, S. 85
Ownership when transferred, S. 79
Owners joint, several bailment by, S. 165
Part delivery, effect of, S. 92
Particular lien of bailee, S. 170
Partner, minor, but personally liable, lent his share only, S. 247
Partner, person receiving share of profits for sale as good will, not, S 244
Partner's general duties, S. 257
Partnership, Ss. 239—266 (Ch. XI)
Partnership debt, partner's liability for, S. 249
Partnership debt, payment of, S. 262
Partnership, defined, S. 239
Partnership, dissolution of, by prohibition of business, S. 255
Partnership, incorporated, S. 266
Partnership, limited liability, S. 266
Partnership property, defined, S. 253 (i)
Partnership, when Court may dissolve, S. 254

Partner's liability for co-partner's fraud to third person, S. 250
Partner's liability for co-partner's neglect to third person, S. 250
Partner's liability for partnership debt, S. 249
Partner's mutual relations, rules determining, when no contract to contrary, S. 253
Partner's obligations, annulment of contract of, S. 252
Partner's obligations in partnership after its expiry, S. 256
Partner's obligations to firm carrying competing business, S. 259
Partner's power to bind co-partner, S. 251
Partner's rights, annulment of contract of, S. 252
Partner's rights continued after dissolution, S. 263
Partner's rights in partnership after its expiry, S. 256
Passing of title, S. 108 (Except. I)
Passing of title by a joint owner, S. 108 (Except. II)
Passing of title in good faith, S. 108 (Except. II)
Pawnee defined, S. 172
Pawnee's non-retention, S. 174
Pawnee's right, S. 176
Pawnee's right of retainer, S. 173
Pawner defaulting, S. 177
Pawner defined, S. 172
Payment of partnership debt, S. 262
Payment of separate debt, S. 262
Payment of sums for principal, S. 218
Payments, appropriation of, Ss. 58—61 (Ch. IV)
Payment when debt not indicated S. 60
Payment where neither party appropriates, S. 61
Penalty by way of, stipulation, S. 74 (Expl. I)
Penalty stipulated for compensation, S. 74
Performance, acceptance of, from third person, S. 41
Performance at a proper time and proper place, S. 48
Performance during usual hours of business, S. 47
Performance, duty of promiser, S. 49
Performance of contract, Ss. 37—40 (Ch. IV)
Performance of contract when time not agreed, S. 55
Performance of contract when time not essential, S. 55
Performance of promise to be dispensed with, S. 63
Performance of reciprocal promises, Ss. 51—58 (Ch. IV)
Performance of reciprocal promises, order of, S. 52
Performance, time and place for, Ss. 46—50
Performance, when not claimed in reciprocal promise, S. 54
Performance when time essential, S. 55
Performance within reasonable time, S. 46
Personal liability of agent, S. 233
Person leading another to believe him a partner, responsibility of, S. 245
Person naming of agent, S. 195
Person permitting himself to be shown as partner, liability of, S. 246
Person receiving profit's portion for sale of good will, no partner, S. 244
Person, third, right of, S. 167
Person who can perform promise, S. 40
Place and time for performance, Ss. 46—50
Place of delivery, S. 94
Place proper and proper time for performance, S. 48
Pledge by possessor of goods, S. 178
Pledge defined, S. 172
Pledge of limited interest, S. 179
Pledges, bailments of, Ss. 172—181 (Ch. IX)
Possessor of goods, pledge by, S. 178
Presumption for subsequent advances, S. 174
Presumption of contract, S. 230
Pretended agent's liability, S. 235
Pretended biddings, S. 123
Price, determination of, not final by contract, S. 89
Principal, agent's duty to, S. 211—221 (Ch. X)
Principal, communication with, S. 214
Principal debtor defined, S. 126
Principal debtor, discharge of, S. 134
Principal defined, S. 182
Principal, payment of sums for, S. 218
Principal's business, conducting of, S. 211
Principal's consent, S. 215
Principal's death, S. 209
Principal's duty to Agent, Ss. 222—225 (Ch. X)
Principal's insanity, S. 209
Principal's neglect, S. 225
Principal's property, S. 221
Principal's relation, S. 194
Principal's representation, S. 192
Principal's right to benefit, S. 216
Principal, Supposition for, S. 232
Prohibition of business dissolution of partnership by, S 255
Promise alternative, one branch being illegal, S. 58
Promise defined, S. 2 (b), (c)
Promise express defined, S. 9
Promise implied, S. 145
Promise implied defined, S. 9
Promise performance of, to be dispensed with, S. 63
Promise reciprocal, Compensation in, S. 54
Promise reciprocal to do things legal and illegal, S. 57
Promise reciprocal when performance cannot be claimed, S. 54
Promises reciprocal defined, S. 2 (f)
Promises reciprocal, order of performance of, S. 52
Promises reciprocal, performance of, Ss. 51—58 (Ch. IV)
Promises reciprocal when to be performed, S. 51
Promise when complete, S. 7 (i) (ii)
Promise, who can perform, S. 40
Promisor, duty of, for performance, S. 49
Promisor joint, compelled to perform, S. 43
Proper appointment of sub-agent, S. 192
Proper time and proper place for performance, S. 48
Property in business by deceased partner's representative, S. 241
Property in business by retiring partner, S. 241
Property of partnership, defined, S. 253 (i)
Property of Principal, S. 221
Proposal, acceptance of, defined, S. 8
Proposal defined, S. 2 (a)
Proposal revocation of, S. 6 (i), (ii), (iii), (iv)
Proposals, acceptance of, defined, S 3
Proposals, communication of, defined, S. 3
Proposals communication of when complete, S. 4
Proposals, revocation of, S. 5
Proposals, revocation of, defined, S. 3
Proposal, when becomes promise, S. 7 (i), (ii)
Purpose, accomplishment of, S. 160
Purpose, specified warranty for, S. 114
Qualifications of agent, S. 184
Quasi-contract, compensation in, S. 73
Quasi-contracts, Ss. 68—72 (Ch. V)
Ratification, Ss. 196—200 (Ch. X)
Ratification, effect of, S. 197
Ratification, express, S. 197
Ratification, implied, S. 197
Ratification of unauthorised act, Ss. 199—200
Ratification valid, Knowledge for, S. 198
Reasonable time for performance, S. 46
Reciprocal promise, Compensation in, S. 54
Reciprocal promises defined, S. 2 (f)
Reciprocal promises, order of performance of, S. 52
Reciprocal promises, performance of, Ss. 51—58 (Ch. IV)
Reciprocal promises when to be performed, S. 51
Reciprocal promise to do things legal and illegal, S. 57

Reciprocal promise when performance cannot be claimed, S. 54
Redemption, right of, S. 177
Refusal by buyer, S. 119
Refusal of non-performance, effect of, S. 67
Refusal to accept offer of performance, S. 38
Refusal to perform promise wholly, S. 39
Refusal wrongful, S. 120
Reimbursement for supplying necessaries, S. 68
Reimbursement when interested, S. 69
Relation of principal, S. 194
Release of co-surety, S. 138
Release of joint promisor, S. 44
Relief, apportionment of, S. 181
Remuneration of agent, S. 219
Remuneration to agent by share of profits, no partnership, S. 242
Remuneration to servant by share of profits, no partnership, S. 242
Renunciation, compensation for, S. 206
Renunciation, express, S. 207
Renunciation, implied, S. 207
Renunciation, notice of, S. 206
Repayment by bailor, S. 158
Repayment when by mistake or under coercion, S. 72
Repeal of enactments, S. 1
Representation of Principal, S. 192
Resale, Ss. 107—108 (Ch. VII)
Rescission of contract when right, S. 75
Rescission of voidable contract, consequences of, S. 64
Rescission of voidable contract, mode of, S. 66
Responsibility of agent for sub-agent, S. 192
Responsibility of bailee, S. 161
Responsibility of bailor to bailee, S. 164
Responsibility of finder of goods, S. 71
Responsibility of person making another believe him a partner, S. 245
Responsibility of seller, S. 109
Restoration of goods, S. 159
Restraint of legal proceedings, effect of, S. 28
Restraint of legal proceedings, exceptions to, S. 28 (i) (ii)
Restraint of marriage, effect of, S. 26
Restraint of trade, effect of, S. 27
Restraint of trade, exceptions to, S. 27 (Exceps. 1, 2, 3)
Retainer, agent's right of, S. 217
Retainer, Pawnee's right of, S. 173
Retiring partner, property left in business, S. 241
Return of bailed goods, S. 160
Revocation, communication of, when complete, S. 4
Revocation, Compensation for, S. 205
Revocation, express, S. 207
Revocation, implied, S. 207
Revocation, notice of, S. 206
Revocation of acceptance, S. 5
Revocation of agent's authority, S. 203
Revocation of authority, Ss. 201—210
Revocation of continuing guarantee, S. 130
Revocation of continuing guarantee by change in firm, S. 260
Revocation of partly exercised authorities, S. 204
Revocation of proposal, S. 6 (i), (ii), (iii), (iv)
Revocation of proposals, S. 5
Revocation of proposals defined, S. 3
Reward specific, S. 168
Right, Cessation of, S. 102
Right of agent, retainer of, S. 217
Right of buyer, Ss. 117—118
Right of finder of goods, S. 168
Right of pawnee, S. 176
Right of pawnee, of retainer, S. 173
Right of principal to benefit, S. 216
Right of redemption, S. 177
Right of seller as to rescission, S. 121
Right of seller on stoppage, S. 106
Right of stoppage, continuance of, S. 101
Right of third person, S. 167
Right, rescission of Contract, S. 75
Rights of indemnity-holder, S. 125 (i), (ii), (iii)
Rights of partners in partnership after its expiry, S. 256
Rights of surety, Ss. 140—141
Rules of partner's mutual relations, where no contract to contrary, S. 253
Sale, completion of, Ss. 80—83
Sale defined, S. 77
Sale how effected, S. 78
Sale of found goods, S. 169
Sale of future goods, Contract for, S. 88
Sale of lots by auction, S. 122
Seller of goods not bound, S. 93
Seller, right of, on stoppage, S. 106
Seller's claim, notice of, S. 105
Seller's lien, Ss. 95, 96, 97, 98 (Ch. VII)
Seller's lien against subsequent buyer, S. 98
Seller's lien when payment future but goods in seller's possession, S. 97
Seller's responsibility, S. 109
Seller's right as to rescission, S. 121
Seller to stop in transit, S. 99
Seller when not responsible, S. 116
Separate debt, payment of, S. 262
Separation of goods, S. 156
Servant remunerated by share of profits not partner S. 242
Several joint owners, bailment by, S. 165
Share of minor partner liable but not himself, S. 247
Skill of agent, S. 212
Soundness, occasional, S. 12
Soundness, Warranty of, S. 111
Specific reward, S. 168
Specified purpose, Warranty for, S. 114
Statutes not expressly repealed not affected, S. 1
Stipulation by way of penalty, S. 74 (Expl. I)
Stoppage—Bill of lading, S. 103
Stoppage effected, S. 104
Stoppage in transit, Ss. 99—106 (Ch. VII)
Stoppage, right of, continuance of, S. 101
Stoppage, right of seller on, S. 106
Sub-agent—Agent's responsibility for, S. 192
Sub agent defined, S. 191
Sub-agents, Ss. 190—200
Sub-agent's appointment without authority, S. 193
Sub-agent's authority, Termination of, S. 210
Sub-agent's proper appointment, S. 192
Subject-matter, interest in, S. 202
Subsequent advances, presumption for, S. 174
Suit by bailee, S. 180
Suit by bailor, S. 180
Suit, compensation by, S. 181
Sums, payment of, for principal, S. 218
Supply of necessaries, reimbursement of, S. 68
Supposition for principal, S. 232
Surety compounding with, S. 135
Surety defined, S. 126
Surety, discharge of, Ss. 133, 134, 135, 139
Surety, non-discharge of, Ss. 136, 137, 138
Surety, rights of, Ss. 140, 141
Surety's death, effect of, S. 131
Surety's indemnity, S. 145
Surety's joint liability, S. 132
Surety's liability, S. 128
Termination of agency, S. 201
Termination of agents' authority, Time for, S. 208
Termination of bailment, S. 153

Termination of gratuitous bailment, S. 162
Termination of sub-agent's authority, S. 210
Terms of contract, Variance in, S. 133
Third person, right of, S. 167
Time and place for performance, Ss. 46—50
Time essential in performance of contract, S. 55
Time, expiration of, S. 160
Time for termination of agent's authority, S. 208
Time not agreed in performance of contract, S. 55
Time not essential in performance of contract, S. 55
Time, proper and proper place for performance S. 48
Time reasonable for performance, S. 46
Title, conveyance of, S. 108
Title documentary to goods, S. 178
Title of the Act, S 1
Title when passes, S. 108 (Except. I)
Title when passes by a joint owner, S. 108 (Except.II)
Title when passes in good faith, S. 108 (Except. II)
Transfer of lots by auction, S. 122
Transfer of ownership, S. 79
Transfer of ownership of goods when non-existent, S. 87
Transfer of ownership of moveables with immoveables, S. 85
Transit, goods in, S. 100
Transit, seller to stop in, S. 99
Transit, stoppage in, Ss. 99—106 (Ch. III)
Unauthorised act, ratification of, Ss 199—200
Unauthorised acts, authorisation of, S. 237
Unauthorised use of bailed goods, S. 154
Uncertainty, effect of, S. 29
Undue influence defined, S. 16
Undue influence, provisions of S. 111 of I. E. Act, 1872, not affected, S. 16
Unsoundness occasional, S. 12
Usage of trade not affected, S. 1
Use, unauthorised, of bailed goods, S. 154
Usual hours of business for performance, S. 47
Voidable contract defined, S. 2 (i)
Voidable contract, rescission of, S. 64
Voidable contract, rescission of, mode of, S. 66
Void agreement defined, S. 2 (g)
Valid ratification, knowledge for, S. 198
Variance in terms of contract, S. 133
Wagering agreement, exception to, S. 30
Wagering agreements, S. 30
Warranty, Ss. 109—118 (Ch. VII)
Warranty, breach of, S. 117
Warranty for specified purpose, S. 114
Warranty implied, S. 110
Warranty implied, of certain denomination, S. 113
Warranty implied, where not, S. 113
Warranty of ascertained kind, S. 115
Warranty of bulk, S. 112
Warranty of soundness, S. 111
Wharfinger or Carrier, delivery to, S 91
Widow of deceased partner receiving annuity, no partner, S. 243
Winding up by Court after dissolution, S. 265
Winding up by Court after termination, S. 265
Wrongful refusal, S. 120

CONTRACT ACT (IX OF 1872).

———Scope.

See CONTRACT—CONSTRUCTION.

———If exhaustive.

The Indian Contract Act deals only with a part of the law of contract applicable to British India. (Mukerjee, J.) JATINDRA CHANDRA CHOWDHURY v. RANGPUR TOBACCO CO. A. I. R. 1924 Cal. 990.

———S. 2—Boy running away from home—Boy's father advertising reward to any one tracing boy and bringing him home—Taking boy to Ry. Police Station, making report and sending telegram to boy's father are substantial performance of condition—Advertisement of reward is offer capable of an acceptance by any person fulfilling the condition.

A young boy ran away from his father's home. The father eventually issued a pamphlet, offering a reward in these terms: "Anybody who finds trace of the boy and brings him home, will get Rs. 500." The plaintiff was at the dharmashala of a railway station, there he saw a boy, overheard part of a conversation, realised that the boy was the missing boy and promptly took him to the Railway Police Station where he made a report and sent a telegram to the boy's father saying that he had found his son. Held, that the hand-bill was an offer open to the whole world and capable of acceptance by any person who fulfilled the condition and that the plaintiff substantially performed the condition and was entitled to the amount offered. (Mears, C. J.) HAR BHAJAN LAL v. HAR CHARAN LAL. 23 A. L. J. 655 : L. R. 6 A. (Civ.) 486 : 88 I. C. 908 (1) : A. I. R. 1925 All. 539.

———S. 2—Forbearance to enforce legal rights is good consideration.

Walsh, J.—Forbearance to sue and forbearance to take definite steps to enforce legal rights have always been held to be adequate consideration to support an agreement, particularly an agreement where there are mutual considerations and both parties are intending, and agree, to make an end of their dispute. (Walsh, Kanhaiya Lal and Mukerjee, JJ.) GAJENDRA SINGH v. DURGA KUMARI. 47 All. 637 : 88 I. C. 768 : 23 A. L. J. 561 : A. I. R. 1925 All. 503 (F. B.).

CONTRACT ACT (IX OF 1872) S. 2.

——— S. 2—Alteration of position.

Alteration of position of one party on faith of offer by the other is good consideration. (Newbould and B. B. Ghose, JJ.) SHAILESH CHANDRA GUHA v. BECHAI GOPE. 40 C. L. J. 67 : 84 I.C. 124 : A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 94.

———S. 2—Stranger to—Right to take benefit.

There is no universal rule that a stranger to a contract can in no circumstance claim a benefit thereunder. 32 A. 410 : 41 C. 737 : 46 Cal. 160 Rel. It is competent to a tenant to invoke the benefit of a contract between the Govt. and the settlement-holder even though he may not be a party thereto. 11 C. L. J. 68 ; 37 C. 449 : 3 Pat. L. J. 394 : 17 C. L. J. 70 Ref. (Mukerjee and Cuming, JJ.) RANI HEMANTA KUMARI DEBI v. THE MIDNAPORE ZEMINDARY CO. 35 C. L. J. 493 · 77 I. C. 261 : A. I. R. 1923 Cal. 25.

———S. 2—Consideration—Omission to sue—Effect of.

Where a person in consideration of a promise desists from enforcing by suit a claim for an alleged infringement of his right the promise is one supported by consideration and can be enforced as a contract. (Abdul Raoof and Campbell, JJ.) PARSHOTTAM SINGH v. RALLIA SINGH. 4 U. P. L. R. (L.) 36 : 65 I. C. 52 : A. I. R. 1922 Lah. 269.

———S. 2—Offer—Invitation to offer—Quotation of prices.

An offer must be distinguished from an invitation for an offer. A letter from a prospective buyer asking for quotations from a merchant is an invitation for an offer. If the merchant sent his quotations and the buyer accepts them and orders goods that constitutes the proposal, which the seller may or may not accept. (Wilberforce, J.) FIRM OF DURGA PARSHAD MUTSADDI LAL v. FIRM OF RULIA MAL DOGAR

CONTRACT ACT (IX OF 1872). S. 2.

MAL. 4 L. L J. 176 : 29 P. L. R. 1922 : 65 I. C. 282 : A. I. R 1922 Lah. 100.

———S. 2—Contract—Consideration—Bonus to employee—Promise to pay—Suit to enforce—Maintainability—Transfer of ownership in bonus to employee by employer—Suit to recover bonus in case of—Maintainability.

In a suit which was dismissed for want of a cause of action the allegations in the plaint were that the plaintiff, a godown keeper in the employment of a Mahomedan firm, was credited with a bonus of Rs. 3,500 out of the profits of the firm in consideration of the good services rendered by him and of the final profits made by the firm, that bonus was carried to plaintiff's credit in the firm's books in 1919, and that in 1920 he was allowed to draw out of it Rs. 420 but that the defendants refused, in spite of his demand to pay the balance. Held, by the Officiating Chief Justice. —The allegation in the plaint disclosed a case of a completed gift and a transfer of ownership in favour of the plaintiff ; if ownership in the bonus was completely transferred, and there was more than a mere promise without consideration to give the plaintiff a bonus, it was immaterial that the amount was originally of the nature of a bonus; and the suit was wrongly dismissed on the ground that the plaint disclosed no cause of action. Held, by Srinivasa Aiyangar, J. (Concurring). —The plaintiff's claim should be deemed to be based on a contract, apart from any question whatever of a contemplated gift and apart from any relationship between the parties of depositor and depositee or creditor and debtor, and the plaintiff had a case on the footing of a contract which was clearly sustainable. (Spencer, O. C. J. and Srinivasa Aiyangar, J.) KANAKASABAPATHY MUDALIAR v. HAJEE OOSMAN SAHIB.
20 L. W. 910 : (1925) M. W. N. 279 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 192 : 47 M. L. J. 791.

———S. 2—Auction bid—Withdrawal before fall of hammer.

A bid at an auction is nothing more than an offer and can be withdrawn like all other offers before it is accepted by the other party which, in the case of an auction, is signified by the fall of the hammer. (Coutts-Trotter and Ramesam, JJ.) CHAMPALAL v. JEYGOPAL DAS.
16 L. W. 816 : (1922) M. W. N. 564 : 45 M. 799 : 31 M. L. T. 401 : 70 I. C. 977 : A. I. R. 1922 Mad. 486 : 43 M. L J. 132.

———S. 2—Receipt—If requires consideration.

A receipt is merely evidence of a fact. It is not an agreement requiring consideration to make it a valid contract. (Hallifax, A. J. C.) SALE MUHAMAD v. RAMRATAN TIWARI. A. I. R. 1924 Nag. 156.

———S. 2—Existence of a bona fide dispute is a good consideration though the claim causing dispute is found later on to be devoid of foundation.

The existence of a bona fide dispute is a good and sufficient consideration to support a contract even though the claim which causes the dispute turns out afterwards to have had no foundation. 22 O. C. 300, Foll. (Dalal, J.C.) RAMCHARAN v. MT. SARTAJI.
2 O.W.N. 849 : 90 I. C. 766 : A.I.R. 1926 Oudh 22 (2).

———S. 2—Less consideration.

Where the mortgagor had agreed to pay a larger sum than what he had actually received, held, the contract was perfectly a legitimate one and the mortgagor was bound to pay the entire sum he had agreed to pay. (Wazir Hasan, A. J. C.) BALBHADAR PRASAD v. DHANPAT DAYAL. 27 O. C. 4 : 10 O. L. J. 447 : 80 I. C. 213 . A. I. R. 1924 Oudh 193.

———S. 2 (a)—Auction bids are mere offers until accepted.

CONTRACT ACT (IX OF 1872). S. 2.

The Tahsildar of Madura acting on behalf of Government held an auction of certain lands in July 1915. The 1st defendant purchased the property at the auction and deposited 15 per cent. of the purchase-money on the day of sale. There was a stipulation in the conditions of sale that the sale was to be subject to confirmation by the Collector. In spite of several applications by the 1st defendant the sale was not confirmed and the Government cancelled the sale in 1917. Held, that the effect of the 1st defendant's bid at the auction was a mere offer by him which was to be accepted by confirmation of the Collector and that, in the absence of such confirmation, there was not a completed contract of sale in favour of the 1st defendant. (Phillips and Devadoss, JJ.) MUTHU PILLAI v. SECY. OF STATE FOR INDIA.
17 L. W. 531 : (1923) M. W. N. 317 : 32 M. L. T. (H.C.) 309 : 72 I. C. 436 : A. I. R. 1923 Mad. 582 : 45 M. L. J. 67.

———S. 2 (d) See also CONTRACT—STRANGER.

———S. 2 (d)—Consideration—Agreement by purchaser at Court sale to reconvey the properties to the judgment-debor for the same price—"At the desire of the promisor".

A Court auction-purchaser at an execution sale entered into an agreement with the judgment-debtor that he would reconvey the properties purchased to him on his repaying the purchase-money. Held, that the agreement was not supported by consideration, for the promise of the judgment-debtor to repay the sale price was not one made at the "desire of the promisor" within S. 2 of the Contract Act, which words imply a promise which has a real effect in conducing to the contract. (Fawcett and Madgavkar, JJ.) VISHVESHVAR v. SADASHIV. 27 Bom. L. R. 1456.

———S. 2 (d)—Broker's undertaking to pay the premium is good consideration in marine insurance contract

In marine insurance the consideration for the contract is the broker's undertaking to pay the premium and that consideration, though it moves from a third person, is good consideration as the law stands in India. (Crump, J.) RAMCHANDRA RAMVALLABH v. GOMTIBAI.
27 Bom. L. R. 1310 : A. I. R. 1926 Bom. 82.

———S. 2 (d)—Agreement to drop prosecution against promisor's brother—Agreement held valid by Court—Agreement is good consideration.

Where the complainant in a case of criminal breach of trust agrees to the prosecution being dropped in consideration of a portion of the embezzled money being paid to him in cash, and of a mortgage being executed in his favour, by the accused and his brother, and where the agreement is held to be legal, there is consideration for the mortgage as against the accused's brother, and he is bound by the mortgage. (Walmsley and Mukerjee, JJ.) DWIJENDRA NATH v. GOPIRAM GOBINDRAM.
42 C. L. J. 90 : 29 C. W. N 855 : A. I. R. 1926 Cal. 59.

———S. 2 (d)—Agreement by creditor to give up part of his claim—No consideration is necessary.

Under the Indian Law the creditor is entitled to give up a portion of his claim, and there need be no consideration nor any agreement by him so to give up. (Srinivasa Aiyangar, J.) LODD GOVINDOSS KRISHNA VARU v. MUTHIAH CHETTY.
A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 660 : 48 M. L. J. 721.

———S. 2 (d)—Consideration.

Where the members of a community, who had rendered some help to the defendant, stipulated for payment by him of a certain sum of money to the community as a whole, and he promised to do so, held, that the promise was for consideration and was enforceable. (Krishnan, J.) BUDAVARAM NARASIMHULU CHETTY v. NOOTA IBBUNDRUM NAGESAM VARU. (1923) M. W. N. 237 : 72 I. C. 95 : A.I. R. 1923 Mad. 434 : 44 M. L. J. 240.

CONTRACT ACT (IX OF 1872), S. 2.

——S. 2 (d)—Consideration—Benefit to one co-promisor—If enough.

To amount to consideration, it is not necessary that the promisor should himself benefit ; it is sufficient if the promisee did any act from which a third person is benefited and which he would not have done but for the promise. Consideration paid to any one of several joint promisors is legally sufficient to support the promise of all the joint promisors. (Kinkhede, A. J. C.) MUNNALAL v. MT. DUKLO. 89 I. C. 819.

——S. 2 (d)—Consideration—Decree-holder accepting leave in full satisfaction of decree.

Where a decree-holder accepts a term lease in full satisfaction of his decree such a promise is consideration within S. 2 (d). (Findlay, O. J. C.) MAROTI v. KRISHNA RAO. 89 I. C. 174 : A. I. R. 1925 Nag. 455.

——S. 2 (d)—A time-barred debt can be valid consideration or transfer of property.

A transfer of property is valid despite the fact that the debt in consideration of which it is made is barred by time. (Wazir Hasan, A. J. C.) MT. ZOHRA BIBI v. GANESH PRASAD. 78 I. C. 106 : A. I. R. 1925 Oudh 267.

——S. 2 (d)—Mortgage executed to make good to mortgagee the loss sustained by him for having lost a property by pre-emption is valid.

Where the plaintiff had purchased certain property from A, but the property was lost by plaintiff because it was pre-empted by A's relation, and therefore A gave in mortgage certain property to A to make up the difference between the pre-emption money and original purchase money, held, the mortgage was valid. (Wazir Hasan, J. C. and Pullan, A. J. C.) MT. CHANDRA KUNWAR v. PT. SHEO DAYAL. 11 O. L. J. 707 : 84 I. C. 539 : A. I R. 1925 Oudh 215.

——S. 2 (d)—Consideration—Pro-note executed in lieu of a previous pro-note.

A pro-note was executed by the defendant in favour of S, wife of the second plaintiff R, on 8th December 1917. It was in renewal of a pro-note previously executed by the deft. in favour of R's uncle K, on 16th December 1914. It was executed just before limitation on the earlier pro-note expired. K died childless and made a will in favour of S. It was found that it was at the request of the second plaintiff that the pro-note was renewed in favour of S. Held, that the second plaintiff's forbearance to sue on the original instrument is sufficient consideration for the renewal. (Daniels, A. J. C.) SYED MUHAMMAD v. RAMCHARAN. 10 O. L. J. 43 : 74 I. C. 316 : 26 O. C. 204 : 9 O. & A. L. R. 155 : A. I. R. 1923 Oudh 176.

——S. 2 (d)—Compromise of doubtful right is enough basis for agreement—Contract Act, S. 25.

If an agreement is entered into upon a supposition of a right or of a doubtful right it shall be binding. The compromise of a doubtful right is a sufficient foundation for an agreement. 1 Atk. 2, Foll. 5 H.L. 85 Dist. (Dawson Miller, C. J., Mullick and Foster, JJ.) HARIHAR PRASAD SINGH v. MAHARAJ KESHAR PRASAD SINGH. 5 P. L. T. (Supp.) 1 : A. I. R 1925 Pat. 68.

——S. 2 (d)—Agreement with minor's father to confer benefit on minor—Minor can enforce agreement.

Where some persons agree with another that in consideration of the latter's services to their firm they would allow a certain share of the profits to his minor son, the contract may be enforced by the minor as he becomes a cestui que trust under the agreement, (Kennedy, J. C. and Rupchand Bilaram, A. J. C.) TULSIDAS v. GANGARAM. 18 S. L. R. 96 : 86 I. C. 944 : A. I.R. 1925 Sind 272.

CONTRACT ACT (IX OF 1872). S. 7.

——S. 2 (e)—Consideration — Essentials of—Stranger if can enforce performance.

Under S. 2 (e) it is not necessary that consideration should move from the promisee himself, but it is still necessary that the proposal should be made to him and he should signify assent thereto. A stranger cannot therefore enforce a contract to which he was not a party unless there is a family arrangement or trust or charge created. (Mears, C. J. and Sulaiman, J.) MITTAR SAIN v. DATA RAM. 90 I. C. 1000.

——S. 2 (e)—Municipality taking over management of school belonging to another institution—Definite appointment by Municipality is essential, for making any member of the staff a municipal servant.

A Municipality took over the management of a school belonging to another institution. The Municipality then gave notice to the teachers that their services would not be required after a certain date. One of the teachers was willing to continue in the service and the Municipal Chairman authorised him to appoint a peon as a night watchman. Held, that this would not constitute the appointment of the teacher in the Municipal service and that in the absence of definite appointment he could not be held to be a servant of the Municipality. (Devadoss, J.) MUNICIPAL COUNCIL, CALICUT v. KESAVA MENON. 86 I. C. 509 (2) : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 943.

——S. 3—Revocation of contract requires concurrence of both parties.

A contract is concluded when in the mind of each contracting party there is a consensus ad idem and a modification or revocation of the contract requires a like consensus. (Lord Wrenbury.) Y. A. J. NOORBHAI v. S. P. L. K. R. KARUPPAN CHETTY. A. I R. 1925 P. C. 232 (P. C.).

——Ss. 3 and 7—Acceptance, place of.

When the proposal and acceptance are made by means of letters the contract must be deemed to have been made at the place where the letter of acceptance is posted. Where the customers could have no control over the goods until they had paid the price at Amritsar and had thus obtained the railway receipt and endorsement in their favour and though the railway would be deemed to take delivery at Calcutta on behalf of the customers of goods despatched from there and consigned to the customers ; it is not easy to see how the railway could take delivery on behalf of the customers of goods which were not consigned to the latter and not in any way under their control. But where it must have been understood between the parties that the goods should be delivered and paid for at Amritsar, the cause of action arose at Amritsar. (Moti Sagar, J.) FIRM OF HIRA NAND MURLIDHAR v. FIRM OF GURMUKH RAI. 73 I. C. 205 : A. I. R. 1923 Lah. 427.

——S. 3—Quotation cards are mere invitations for offers and not themselves offers. (Rupchand Bilaram, A.J.C.) FIRM OF PREMJI MULJI v. FIRM OF TARACHAND THAWERDAS. 76 I. C. 353 : A. I. R. 1924 Sind 64.

——S. 7—Acceptance.

The letter of the plaintiff firm began with the words "We have the pleasure to accept your indents," then follow particulars, and finally comes the phrase upon which the dispute has hinged : "The abovementioned acceptance is subject to revision and confirmation by mail if required," which meant only if there was mistake in a telegram according to the usal practice of the parties, held, there is a complete contract subject to the possible discovering of mistake and that under this contract the defendant firm is under an obligation to submit the dispute to arbitration in the manner provided by the printed conditions on the indent form. F.A. 438 of 1917 All. Dist. (Piggott and Walsh, JJ) B. SHUSHIL CHANDRA DAS v. SUKHAMAL BANSIDHAR. 44 All. 472 : 20 A. L. J. 377 : A. I. R. 1922 All. 219.

——S. 7—Instrument showing agreement of both parties—Construction of.

Until acceptance, even though an instrument is so worded as to express that both parties agree, it is in point of law only an offer and until both parties are bound, neither party is bound. Where the agreement is executory on both sides, with an option to one of the parties to do as he likes, there is nothing more than a standing offer though it may be that, during the lifetime of the promisor, the distinction between a binding offer and a complete agreement is not of much importance as between the parties. (Ayling and Ramesam, JJ.) IGALA NAGAPPA v. P. MUNISWAMY. 15 L. W. 409 : (1922) M. W. N. 201 : 30 M. L. T 175 : A. I. R. 1922 Mad. 16 : 42 M. L. J. 432.

——S. 7—Offer refused—Subsequent acceptance no effect.

To convert a proposal into a promise, the acceptance must be unqualified and without condition. When once a proposal is practically refused it does not hold good and no acceptance after the refusal could convert the proposal into a promise so as to create a contract. (Jwala Prasad and Adami, JJ.) NIROD CHANDRA ROY v. RAJA KIRTYA NANDA SINGH. A. I. R. 1922 Pat. 24.

——S. 10—Minor—Suit on pro-note.

A minor can sue on a promissory note for its enforcement. (Po Han, J.) SHARFATH ALI v. NOOR MAHOMED. 2 Bur. L. J 227 : 76 I. C. 810 : 2 Rang. 1 : A. I. R. 1924 Rang. 136.

——S. 11—Minor—Estoppel. See also EVIDENCE ACT, S. 115.

——S. 11—Minority—Burden of proof is on party setting up minority.

The burden of proof should be laid on the party who says that at the date of contract he was a minor. Although it is for the plaintiff to prove the validity of a contract on which he relies, yet, the age of a person entering into a contract is not such an essential part of the contract as must be proved by the plaintiff. 34 All. 189 and 6 A. L. J. 693, Not Foll. A. I. R. 1924 All. 730 and 45 Cal. 909, Foll. (Mukerjee, J.) KANDHAI LAL v. DEBI PRASAD. L. R. 6 A. (Civ.) 219 : 87 I.C. 778 : A. I. R. 1925 All. 399.

——S. 11—Money paid to minor—Agreement to pay on attaining majority—Legality of.

If a minor accepts money except for necessaries he cannot be compelled to repay this and any contract to do so made by him as a minor is void against him but if when of full age he takes it upon himself to repay, there is no reason either in law or in equity why this agreement should be deemed unlawful. (Daniels and Dalal, JJ.) NARAIN SINGH v. CHIRANJI LAL. 22 A. L. J. 461 : 46 A. 568 : 79 I. C. 945 : L. R. 5 A. 353 · A. I. R. 1924 All. 730 (2)

——S. 11—Minor promisor—Sale—Setting aside—Decree for repayment of money.

Setting aside of a sale deed executed by a minor or refund of the consideration money is within the power and competence of a Court, but this power should not be used if the vendee has been unscrupulous in his dealings with the minor. (Mears, C. J. and Piggott, J.) MAHOMED SAID v. BISHAMBAR NATH. 21 A. L. J. 596 : 45 All. 644 : 85 I. C. 79 : A. I. R. 1924 All. 156.

——S. 11—Agreement to pay dower—Mahomedan husband—Minor under Majority Act but major under personal law—Validity. See MAJORITY ACT. (Suhrawardy and Duval, JJ.) MOZHARUL ISLAM v. ABDUL GANI ALA. 80 I. C. 914 : A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 322.

——Ss. 11 and 17—Fraud by minor—Misrepresentation as to age, effect of—Estoppel.

A mortgage made by a minor is wholly void. 30 Cal. 539, Foll. A minor who makes a false representation made to a person who knows it to be false is not estopped from taking away the privilege of infancy. (Abdul Raoof, J.) HARNAM SINGH v. NARAINA. 66 P. W. R. 1921.

——S. 11—Minor promisee—Sale in favour of minor is enforceable.

There is nothing in law to prevent a sale of immoveable property in favour of a minor and the minor can sue for possession of the property as such vendee. 33 M. 312 Not Foll; 40 M. 308 : 38 A. 61 : 38 A. 154 Ref. (Prideaux A.J.C.) BALKRISHNA v. LAKHU. 68 I. C. 191 : A. I. R. 1922 Nag. 239.

——S. 11—Minority at the time of contract pleaded—Minority must be proved beyond reasonable doubt by the party pleading.

When a deed is executed by a person who alleges himself to be a major at the time of execution, a heavy burden rests upon him or his representatives when they set up the defence of minority. It is not enough that they leave the matter in doubt. They must satisfy the Court beyond reasonable doubt that the minority is a fact. 45 Cal. 909 (P. C.) Foll. (Simpson and Gokaran Nath Misra, A.J. C.) JAI KISHORI v. ALI AHMAD KHAN. 12 O. L. J. 395 : 89 I. C. 108 (2) : A. I. R. 1925 Oudh 487.

——S. 11—Lunatic or minor can purchase or can be mortgagee of immoveabl. property.

An executory contract cannot be validly entered into by a lunatic or a minor. But a minor or a lunatic is not disqualified, as such, from being the transferee of immoveable property, as purchaser or mortgagee, under an executed contract. 39 Cal. 232 Dist. ; 18 O. C. 115 ; 38 All. 62 ; 40 Mad. 308, Foll. (Kendall, A. J. C.) SHEORATAN SINGH v. KALI CHARAN. 11 O. L. J. 498 : 79 I. C. 955 : 27 O. C. 214 : A. I. R. 1925 Oudh 37.

——S. 11—Agreements by disqualified persons or by minors are void and compensation cannot be claimed under Contract Act, S. 65. (Neave and Kendall, A. J. Cs.) HARI KISHUN DAS v. MAHOMED SHAFI JAN. 11 O. L. J. 502 : 80 I. C. 800 : A. I. R. 1924 Oudh 438.

——Ss. 11 and 65—Minor promisor—Execution of bond—Consideration paid—No misrepresentation—Suit for cancellation of bond—Duty to restore benefit.

A person of the age of 19 for whom a certificated guardian had been appointed under the Guardians and Wards Act, executed a bond on obtaining in cash the consideration therefor. There was no fraud or misrepresentation on the part of the minor and the creditor bona fide believed that the executant of the bond was a major. In a suit by the minor for cancellation of the bond held, that the plff. was entitled to a decree only on his returning the money he got from the defendant but without interest and cost. (Simpson. A. J. C.) MUHAMMAD ANWAR KHAN v.

CONTRACT ACT (IX OF 1872), S. 11.

JHANDA SINGH. 9 O. L. J. 404 : 69 I. C. 888 : 25 O. C. 237 : A. I. R. 1922 Oudh 271.

——S. 11—Lease by minor is void and confers no right to possession in the lessee. 30 C. 539 (P. C.); 28 B. 181, Rel. on. (Young, J.) DOO DOO MEAH v. KASIM ALI. 3 Bur. L. J. 76 : 82 I. C. 250 : A. I. R. 1924 Rang. 288.

——S. 11—Scope.

A minor has no right to enforce a fraudulent contract of his guardian. (Robinson, C. J. and Heald, J.) MAUNG TIN v. MAMAI MYINT. 65 I. C. 409 : 11 L B. R. 83.

——S. 12—Sound mind.

Where the rent reserved by the lease was disproportionate to the net proceeds and no money was paid and the lessor was a man of deranged intellect, incapable of understanding the nature of the transaction and its effect upon his interests, the lease must be held to be void and unenforceable. (Lindsay and Kanhaiya Lal, JJ.) MT. AMINA BIBI v. SAIYID YUSUF.

44 A. 748 : 20 A. L. J. 731 : A. I. R. 1922 All 449.

——S. 12—Soundness of mind—Contractual capacity—Presumption in favour of sanity—Mere weakness of mind—Effect on contract.

The test of soundness of mind under S. 12 of the Contract Act is that the contractor or donor is capable of understanding the business and of forming a rational judgment as to its effect upon his interest. There being a presumption in favour of sanity, the person who relies on the unsoundness of mind must prove it sufficiently to satisfy this test. Mere weakness of mind is not sufficient as laid down in 27 A. 1 (P. C.) Although it is not necessary to prove utter mental darkness or congenital idiocy, there must be proof that the donor or contractor was incapable of understanding business, and forming rational judgment as to its effect. Even if occasional aberrations are proved they would not vitiate transactions not entered into under their influence. (Jwala Prasad and Adami, JJ.) MAHOMED YAKUB v. ABDUL QUDDUS.

68 I.C. 372 : 4 P. L. T. 7 : A I. R. 1923 Pat 187.

——S. 16—Provision in deed for emoluments and expenses of mutwalli is not unreasonable.

Where a Mahomedan aged 67 made a waqf reserving a portion for himself and his wife and nominating one of his nephews as mutwalli after him and the other as supervisor and also made arrangements for their expenses and emoluments, held, that the waqf was reasonable and cannot be said as brought about by the domination or undue influence on the part of nephews. (Lord Sumner.) MIRZA FIDA RASUL v. YAKUB BEG. 27 O. C. 346 : L. R. 6 P. C. 55 : 12 O. L. J. 98 : 87 I. C. 702 : A. I. R. 1925 P. C. 101 (P. C.).

——S. 16—Amending Act of 1899, S. 2—Unconscionableness of bargain—If can be gone into—Position to dominate will.

By Sub-S. 3 of S. 16 three matters are dealt with. In the first place the relations between the parties to each other must be such that one is in a position to dominate the will of the other. Once that position is substantiated the second stage has been reached, viz., the issue whether the contract has been induced by undue influence. Upon the determination of this issue a third point emerges, which is that of the onus probandi. The burden of proving that the contract was not induced by undue influence is to lie upon the person who was in a position to dominate the will of the other. Error is almost sure to arise if the order of these propositions be changed. The unconscionableness of the bargain is not the first thing to be considered. The first thing to be considered is the relations of the parties. Even though a bargain had been unconscionable a remedy under the Contract Act does not come into view until the initial fact of a position to dominate the will has been established. Once that fact is established, then the unconscionable nature of the bargain and the burden of proof on the issue of undue influence come into operation. The decision in 42 Cal. 690 which lays down that "where there is ample security, the exaction of excessive and usurious interest in itself raises a presumption of undue influence which it requires very little evidence to substantiate," is wrong. (Lord Shaw.) RAGHUNATH PRASAD SAHU v. SARJU PRASAD SAHU.

CONTRACT ACT (IX OF 1872), S. 16.

22 A. L. J. 105 : 19 L. W. 470 : 2 Pat. L. R. 87 : 34 M. L. T. 57 : 26 Bom. L. R 595 : 3 Pat. 279 : 28 C. W. N. 834 : 51 I. A. 101 : 5 Pat. L. T. 72 : 1 O. W. N. 210 : 82 I. C. 817 : (1924) M. W. N. 638 : 11 O. L. J. 122 : L. R. 5 P. C. 206 : A. I. R. 1924 P C. 60 : 46 M. L. J. 610 (P.C.).

——S. 16—2 per cent per mensem compound interest as held unconscionable—Usurious Loans Act, S. 3.

Where the mortgagors were illiterate persons and ignorant of the technicalities of law and legal expressions, held, that a stipulation to pay the interest at the rate of 2 per cent per mensem compound interest with monthly rests was unusual, hard and unconscionable. (Kanhaiya Lal, J.) PANDIT SHYAM LAL v. BADRI. 75 I. C. 784 : A. I.R. 1925 All. 31.

——S. 16—Position—Undue influence.

A creditor can ask his debtor to execute documents in a particular form and where a creditor writes to his debtor's servant to get his master's signature to such a form, no inference that undue influence was used can arise. (Mears, C. J. and Banerjee, J.) BHAGWAN BAKSH SINGH v. DAMODHARJI JOSHI.

42 All. 230 : 59 I. C. 20 : 18 A. L. J. 100.

——Ss. 16 and 19-A—Debtor agreeing with free will to pay high rate of interest—No question of undue influence or misrepresentation arises.

Where the debtors wanted money for their business and expected to make a good profit out of the business when assisted by the loan from the creditor, and where the debtors consented freely and willingly to pay a high rate of interest in anticipation of realizing a bumper profit out of their own business, there cannot be any question of undue influence or misrepresentation. (Macleod, C. J. and Coyajee, J.) CHUNILAL MOKAMDAS MARWADI v. E. CHRISTOPHER.

27 Bom. L. R. 1462 : A. I. R. 1926 Bom. 65.

——S. 16—Undue influence—Suit for money—Execution admitted—Relation between debtor and creditor, whether conclusive proof of domination.

The relation between a debtor and creditor is not one in which the former is to be taken as being situated in such a position that his will is bound to be dominated by the latter. (Greaves and Mukerjee, JJ.) RAMESHWAR MARWARI v. UPENDRANATH DAS 90 I. C. 463 : 29 C. W. N. 1029.

——S. 16—High rate of interest charged—Undue influence would not be presumed but must be proved.

Where a contract is challenged on the ground of a very high rate of interest, it is necessary to prove that one party had undue advantage over the other in the matter of the settlement of the rate of interest. 48 I. C. 933 (P.C.) and 48 (I.C.) 1 P.C. Foll. (Suhrawardy and Cuming, JJ.) RAJ KUMAR BASU v. GIRINDRA KUMAR BANDOPADHYA.

41 C. L. J. 453 : 87 I. C. 178 : A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 722.

——S. 16—Reduction of rate of interest fixed—Undue influence—Proof.

The rate of interest fixed in a contract cannot be reduced by a court merely because it finds that the rate fixed is excessive or that the parties are relations and that there is good security for the debt. Unless it can be shown that undue advantage had been taken or that one party dominated the other, the contract rate should not be interfered with. (Cuming, J.) PANCHI DASI v. KSHIRODA DASI. 90 I. C. 727.

CONTRACT ACT (IX OF 1872), S. 16.

——S. 16—Lending money to a profligate young man—No undue influence can be presumed.

Where the defendant was a profligate young wastrel unaccustomed to the possession of any money and on his father's death he embarked upon a career of debauchery and the plaintiff, a professional money-lender, advanced him monies on various documents which debts were subsequently consolidated in the mortgage in suit, held, there was no question of undue influence or fraud and the plaintiff must succeed. Undue influence of a third person is no defence to a claim. (Le Rossignol and Fforde, JJ.) SARDARI MAL v. ABDUL SAMAD. 7 Lah. L. J. 208 : 90 I. C. 39 : 26 Punj. L. R. 506 : A. I. R. 1925 Lah. 430.

——S. 16—Question as to undue influence depends upon circumstances.

Where a pardha lady aged 63 years and suffering from paralysis gifted her property to her brother's son out of natural love and subsequently sought to rescind the gift on the ground of undue influence, held, on facts, that the transaction was free and voluntary and no case of undue influence was made out. (Scott-Smith and Fforde, JJ.) SRI RAM v. NAND KISHORE. 85 I. C. 169 : 5 Lah. 465 : A. I. R. 1925 Lah. 196 (2).

——S. 16—Mental distress—Undue influence—Proof of.

It is not enough to prove undue influence that a vendor of property was in a distressed state of mind and anxious to dispose of his property at the time of sale. (Broadway and Harrison, JJ.) INDER SINGH v. DYAL SINGH. 6 Lah. L. J. 446 : 72 I. C. 1032 : A. I. R. 1924 Lah. 337.

——Ss. 16 and 74—High rate of interest—Power of Court to reduce.

Though the rate of 25 per cent. compound interest on a mortgage is high, it is not within the power of the court to reduce the interest in the absence of proof of undue influence on the part of the mortgagee. 101 P. R. 1918 : 124 P. R. 1918 Foll. (Martineau and Campbell, JJ.) KHOTA RAM v. NAWAZ. 4 Lah. 76 : 5 Lah. L. J. 238 : 72 I. C. 765: A. I. R. 1924 Lah. 21.

——S. 16—High rate of interest.

There is nothing inherently wrong or oppressive in an agreement to pay compound interest. The rate of 1½ per cent. is not exorbitant and the mere fact of its being high, would not be sufficient to raise a presumption of undue influence. 124 P. R. 1918 : 96 P. R. 1901, Ref. (Martineau and Zafar Ali, JJ.) CHIRANJI LAL v. DOST MAHOMED. A. I. R. 1923 Lah. 634.

——S. 16—Who can plead—Position of obligor's donee.

It would not be open to a plaintiff to plead that a mortgage contract is bad for undue influence where he is only a donee from the mortgagor's widow. He is not entitled to the equities which existed in favour of the mortgagor. 20 I. C. 812, Ref. (Martineau and Zafar Ali, JJ.) CHIRANJI LAL v. DOST MAHOMED. A. I. R. 1923 Lah. 634.

——S. 16—Youth—Vendor youthful and inexperienced—Vendee taking advantage—Major portion of consideration valid.

Where in a particular case the vendees take advantage of the youth and inexperience of the vendor and all the transactions are suspicious, the Court would not uphold the sale merely because it is held to be good in respect of a major portion of the consideration. There is however no hard and fast rule. 83 P. R. 1911 (F. B.) and 6 I. C. 984 Ref. to. (Wilberforce and Abdul Qadir, JJ.) BER SINGH v. HAZARA SINGH. 3 Lah. 99 : A. I. R. 1922 Lah. 275.

——S. 16—Burden of proof—Avoidability for undue influence, fraud, etc., does not affect validity until party entitled to avoid, exercises right—Such exercise cannot affect innocent third parties' rights in the property or even the wrong-doers' rights themselves when the delay has altered his position.

A party who is entitled to avoid a contract by reason of misrepresentation, fraud, non-disclosure of material facts or undue influence, must exercise his election before an innocent third party has acquired an interest in the property or in consequence of his delay, even the wrongdoer's position is affected. Otherwise the party entitled to resign will forfeit his right. Subject to this, so long as no election either way is made by the party entitled to avoid a contract of the abovementioned description, the contract continues valid. (Schwabe, C.J. and Coutts-Trotter, J.) WILLIAM BRUNTON v. JOHN E. C. BRUNTON. 78 I. C. 299 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 360.

——S. 16—Burden of proof — Bequest under undue influence.

Where a legacy under a will is sought to be set aside on the ground of undue influence, it must be proved not only that the legatee was in a position to exercise influence but that the influence was unduly exercised, the burden of proving both being on the party attaching the legacy. Courts do not look with favour on attempts to attack bequests on the ground of undue influence. (Sadasiva Aiyar and Spencer, JJ.) RAJARAJESWARA SETHUPATHI v. KUPPUSAMI AIYAR. (1921) M. W. N. 722 : 68 I. C. 352 : 41 M. L. J. 474.

——S. 16—Burden of proof—Active confidence.

The plaintiff setting up a plea of undue influence in a suit to avoid an instrument, must prove that there was active confidence between the person executing the document and the person under whose influence the document is said to have been executed. (Abdul Rahim, O. C. J. and Odgers, J.) RAMA KRISHNA PRABHU v. NARAINA. 62 I. C. 215 : 11 L. W. 112.

——S. 16—Use of influence to obtain unfair advantage must be proved—Mortgagor being servant of mortgagee, mortgage is not necessarily the result of undue influence.

Where it has been shown that one party was in a position to dominate the other, it must also be established that the person in a position of domination has used that position to obtain unfair advantage for himself, and so to cause injury to the person relying upon his authority or aid. 43 Mad. 546 (P. C.) Rel. on ; 1922 P. C. 14 Dist. The mere fact that the mortgagor was a servant of the mortgagee is not sufficient in the absence of other evidence to show that undue influence was used in getting the mortgage executed. (Baker, J. C.) DAULAT v GULAB RAO. 88 I. C. 295 : A. I. R. 1925 Nag. 369.

——S. 16—Excessive rate of interest is evidence of undue influence

Excessive rate of interest can of itself be evidence of the fact that there was undue influence, 1906 A. C. 461, Foll. (Kinkhede, A. J. C.) GHASI v. GANGABISAN. 83 I. C. 239 : A. I. R. 1925 Nag. 211.

——S. 16—Deed—Execution by illiterate person—Creditor must prove good faith.

CONTRACT ACT (IX OF 1872), S. 16.

The law casts a veil of protection upon ignorant agriculturists just like Pardanashin ladies when they deal with professional moneylenders and every fact establishing the perfect good faith of the transaction and its consideration must be proved by the creditor who seeks to obtain the benefit of contract. 1 N. L. R. 76 Ref to. (Kinkhede, A. J. C.) GHASI v. GANGABISAN. 83 I. C. 239 : A. I. R. 1925 Nag. 211.

——S. 16—Position—Undue influence—Indebtedness—Effect of.

The fact that one party to a contract stands in the relation of a debtor to the other is not by itself sufficient to prove undue influence. (Prideaux, A. J. C.) MAHADEO v. KISANLAL. 68 I. C. 597 : A. I. R. 1922 Nag. 219.

——S. 16—Position to dominate must be first proved—Excessive and usurious interest is no ground for relief.

In the first place the relations between the parties to each other must be such that one is in a position to dominate the will of the other. Once that position is substantiated the second stage has been reached namely, the issue whether the contract has been induced by undue influence. Upon the determination of this issue a third point emerges, which is that of the onus probandi. Error is almost sure to arise if the order of these propositions be changed. The unconscionableness of the bargain is not the first thing to be considered. The first thing to be considered is the relations of these parties, 1924 P. C. 60 ; 28 All. 570 and 31 All. 386 Foll. The mere fact that a mortgage deed provided for excessive and usurious interest and that the security given was ample would not justify a presumption being raised that the contract was induced by undue influence in the absence of proof by the mortgagor that the mortgagee was in a position to dominate his will. Excessive interest in itself is not a ground for relief but it might be evidence of the fact that the debtor must have been in a very helpless condition to accept the terms imposed by the creditors. 42 Cal. 690 Diss., 20 O. C. 319 Foll. (Simpson and Gokaran Nath Misra, A. J. Cs.) RUDRA PRATAP SINGH v. RAJESHWARI PRASAD. 12 O. L. J. 434 : A. I. R. 1925 Oudh 661.

——S. 16—Excessive rate—No fraud or undue influence—Contracted rate cannot be cut down.

A Court has no power to reduce the contract rate of interest solely on the gronnd that it is excessive, apart from any question of undue influence of fraud. (Dalal, J. C., Gokaran Nath Misra, A. J. C.) BIBI BATUL v. DEBI PRASAD. 12 O. L. J. 379 : 89 I. C. 348 : A. I. R. 1925 Oudh 535.

——S. 16—Position to dominate the will of the promissor is essential for plea of undue influence.

A party to a contract cannot avoid it on the ground of undue influence unless he proves that the other party was in a position to dominate his will. The mere fact that a man is indebted to another's brother does not put the other in a position to dominate the will of the former. (Dalal, J. C. and Gokaran Nath Misra, A. J. C.) BIBI BATUL v. DEBI PRASAD 12 O. L. J, 379 : 89 I. C. 348 : A.I.R. 1925 Oudh 535.

——S. 16—Helplessness of borrower—Caused by lender—Mortgage—High rate of interest.

Defendant, a pardanashin lady, had her properties attached in execution. She approached the plaintiffs for a loan and one of them promised a loan on the security of the property at 12 per cent. The defendant thereupon obtained an adjournment of the court sale, but the plaintiffs did not advance the loan. Subsequently on the last adjourned date for the sale, the defendant obtained money on mortgage from the plaintiffs at 24 per cent. with 3 monthly rests and containing a condition of foreclosure. Held, that the helplessness of the defendant was to a large extent caused by the plaintiffs having promised to lend her at a reasonable interest almost up to the date of sale and thus preventing her from going to other money-lenders that she was forced to consent to these onerous terms by reason of the last day for sale having approached, and that the terms of the mortgage were hard and unconscionable. (Wazir Hasan and Pullan, A. J. Cs.) GHANISHAM DAS v. MT. MASJIDA NARAIN BIBI. 10 O. & A. L. R. 612 : 11 O. L. J. 523 : 1 O.W.N. 275 : 83 I. C. 1019 : 27 O. C. 374 : A. I. R. 1924 Oudh 423.

——S. 16—Urgent need of money does not mean position to dominate—Plaintiff must prove dominating position then defendant must prove absence of undue influence.

Urgent need of money does not place the lender in a position to dominate the will of the borrower. The burden of proving the absence of undue influence can lie on the defendant only in the event ot the plaintiffs discharging the initial onus of satisfying the Court that the defendant was in a position to dominate the will of the plaintiff. (Wazir Hasan, A. J. C.) BALBHADDAR PRASAD v. DHANPAT DAYAL. 27 O. C. 4 : 10 O. L. J. 447 : 80 I. C. 213 : A. I. R. 1924 Oudh 193.

——S. 16—High rate of interest—Undue influence—Mortgage.

Neither prior indebtedness nor a high rate of interest would be sufficient to prove undue influence by the mortgagee on the mortgagor. There is undue influence if the debt constitutes a large amount and the money lender puts pressure on the debtor for its payment. (Dalal, A. C. J.) RAZA HUSAIN KHAN v. GANESH PRASAD. 10 O. L. J. 390 : 77 I. C. 383 : A. I. R. 1924 Oudh 118 (2).

——S. 16—Youth or sex—Undue influence—Old man—Gift of an agent.

Undoubtedly, if a person of competent capacity signs a deed, it is to be presumed that he understood the instrument to which he has fixed his name. The principles of law applicable to a pardanashin woman will not be extended to a man on the ground that he happened to be old and not in robust health. But even in a case where an agent was the object of the bounty of his principal there is nothing to prevent this and if an agent can clearly show that a gift was made in his favour by a donor who was in a position to exercise a free and unfettered judgment with full knowledge of what he was doing, the gift will be upheld. (Daniels and Dalal, A. J. Cs.) MIRZA YAQUB BEG v. MIRZA RASUL BEG. 10 O. L. J. 86 : 74 I. C. 517 : A. I. R. 1923 Oudh 254.

——Ss. 16 and 74—High rate of interest—Undue influence—Presumption—Mortgage.

It is not a universal proposition of law that wherever there is a security for the debt a rate of interest over ten per cent. per annum is penal. Where a certain rate of interest is excessive or not is a question which must depend upon the particular circumstances of each case and a rate of interest at 15 per cent. per annum compoundable every year is not sufficient to raise the presumption that undue influence was exerted by the mortgagee on the mortgagor in obtaining the mortgage, 42 C. 690 ; 18 A. L. J. 344 referred to. (Simpson and Wazir Hasan, A. J. Cs.) BABU BASANT RAI v. LALA KESHO RAM. 9 O.L.J. 612 : 74 I. C. 346 : A.I.R. 1923 Oudh 139.

——S. 16—High rate of interest—Power of Court to reduce—Undue influence—Costs.

In cases where there is no proof of undue influence a court has no power to reduce the contract rate of interest merely on the ground it is very high. 28 A. 570 P. C.; 20 O. C. 318 : 8 O. L. J. 418; 24 O.C. 313 foll. But the court disallowed costs on the ground that the interest decreed was high. (Daniels, A. J. C.) SHEIKH FAZAL AZIM v. LALA GIRDHARI LAL. 9 O. L. J. 442 : 69 I. C. 657 : A. I. R. 1923 Oudh 8 (1).

CONTRACT ACT (IX OF 1872), S. 16.

——S. 16—Burden of proof.

Where the alienee was in a position to dominate the will of the alienor and the terms of the deed were hard and unconscionable and unfair advantage was taken of the alienor, held the burden lay on the alienee to show that undue influence was not exercised (Daniels and Lyle, A. J. Cs.) KUNJ BEHARI LAL v. PT. PRAG NARAIN. 9 O.L.J. 294 : A. I. R. 1922 Oudh 283.

——S. 16—Urgency—Undue influence—Evidence of.

Urgent need of money on the part of the borrower is not by itself sufficient to prove undue influence or to show that the lender was in a position to dominate the will of the borrower 34 C. 150 : 3 O. L. J. 418 Rel. (Daniels, A. J. C.) MT. BASHIRAM v. BISHAMBHAR NATH. 9 O. L. J 439 : 69 I. C. 667 : A. I. R. 1922 Oudh 268.

——Ss 16 and 19—Burden of proof—Pardanashin lady—Deed of gift.

Where undue influence is alleged it is necessary to examine very closely all the circumstances of the case. Where a deed of gift by a pardanashin lady is impeached on the ground of undue influence the questions that arise are (1) was the transaction a righteous transaction, i.e., was it a thing which a right-minded person might be required to do? (2) was it an improvident act? (3) was it a matter requiring advice? (4) did the intention of making the fact originate with the donor? Where the relation between the parties is such that one of them is in a position to influence the other and the bargain is with the influencer and in itself unconscionable then, the person in a position to use his dominating power has the burden thrown on him of establishing affirmatively that no domination was practised so as to bring about the transaction, but that the grantor of the deed was scrupulously kept separately advised in the independence of a free agent. 43 Mad. 546; 18 Cal. 545 ref. (Dalal and Wazir Hasan, A. J. Cs.) CHAURAS KUAR v. ABHAIRAJ KUAR. 65 I. C 380 : 8 O. L. J. 681 : A. I. R. 1922 Oudh 59.

——S. 16—Urgency—Necessity—Need of money.

The mere fact of the existence of an urgent necessity on the part of the borrower is not sufficient to raise the presumption that undue influence was exercised, 34 C. 150 : 8 O.C. 193 Rel. Nor does the existence of urgent need accompanied by a high rate of interest establish such a presumption. In ordinary circumstances, the more pressing the necessity, the higher the rate of interest, is likely to be, for, the borrowers have no time to make such inquiries as will ensure that they are borrowing at the cheapest rate obtainable. In order to establish undue influence, as defined by S. 16 of the Contract Act it must be shown that the lender took advantage of the necessity and of the position of the borrower and imposed unconscionable terms (Daniels and Lyle, A. J. Cs.) MAHRAJ PRAG DIN v. BHAGWATI SAHAI. 66 I. C. 687 : 8 O. L. J. 418.

——S. 16—Essentials—Plea of—Proof—Need of money—High rate of interest.

To establish a plea of undue influence it must be shown that plff. (mortgagee) was in a position to dominate the will of the defendants (mortgagors) and secondly that he used that position to obtain an unfair advantage. If the terms of the contract appear on the face of them to be unconscionable or are shown to be so, the second point may be presumed. Urgent need of money on the part of the borrower is not in itself sufficient to place the lender in a position to dominate his will. (Daniels, J.C. and Dalal, A.J.C.) SHEIK MAHOMED MUZAFFAR ALI KHAN v. BHAWATI PRASAD SINGH. 66 I. C. 642 : 8 O. L. J. 358.

——S. 16—Unconscionable bargain—Champertous bargain—Relief against—Power of Court.

Champertous bargains not having been held in the country contrary to public policy stand on the same footing as any other contract. The fact of a bargain being unconscionable is treated not in itself a sufficient ground for setting it aside but as one of the two elements which when combined will throw the burden of rebutting undue influence on the person seeking to profit by the contract (Daniels, A. J. C.) ABDUL KASIM BEG v. ESHANUL GHANI. 65 I. C. 129 : 24 O. C. 313.

——S. 16—Mere exorbitant rate of interest is no ground of relief in absence of proof of lender having been in a position to dominate the will of the borrower.

The fact that the borrower is under a pressing necessity for money does not of itself place the lender in a position to dominate the will of the borrower within the meaning of S. 16 of the Contract Act, (34 Cal. 150 Foll.) No relief can be claimed by a borrower unless it is proved by him first that the lender was in a position to dominate his will and secondly that the bargain was unconscionable within the meaning of Cl. 3 of S. 16 of the Contract Act. Unless there is the concurrence of these two elements the borrower cannot be properly granted relief. The mere fact that the rate of interest is exorbitant is not a ground for relief unless it be shown that the lender was in a position to dominate the will of the borrower (Das and Ross, JJ.) DEBI BAKCHAND v. BARAKATUNISSA. 78 I. C. 565 : A. I. R. 1925 Pat. 326.

——Ss. 16 and 74—High rate of interest—Penalty—Relief against.

The rate of interest, however exorbitant, cannot be abrogated unless the agreement was tainted by undue influence, fraud or misrepresentation such as are mentioned in the Contract Act. A solemn agreement duly and freely entered cannot be allowed to avoid the terms thereof which they agree to with their eyes open and with no restraint upon their freedom of will. Upon this principle, contracts for payments of exorbitant rates of interest, such as 75 per cent. in some cases were upheld and were not allowed to be disturbed; but in those cases the contract were upheld against the party to the contract being allowed to trip up the terms of the contract when he agreed to them voluntarily and with his eyes open. (Jwala Prasad and Ross, JJ.) MAHADEO PRASAD v. BISSESSAR PRASAD. 2 Pat. 488 : 4 Pat. L. T. 707 : 74 I. C. 695 : A. I. R. 1924 Pat. 71.

——S. 16—Gift to children.

Where a father is old but capable of exercising independent and intelligent judgment, there is no presumption of undue influence which would invalidate a gift by him to his son. (Jwala Prasad and Adami, JJ.) MAHOMED YAKUB v. ABDUL KUDDUS. 4 Pat. L. T. 17 : 68 I. C. 372 : A. I. R. 1923 Pat. 187.

——S. 16—Urgency.

Because the debtor was in need of money it does not follow that the creditor was in a position to dominate his will. (Das and Adami, JJ.) CHOTA NAGPUR BANKING ASSOCIATION, LTD v. BHAGWAT BUX

CONTRACT ACT (IX OF 1872), S. 16.

RAI. 1 P. 263 : 69 I. C. 697 : A. I. R. 1922 Pat. 491.

——S. 16 (3)—Non-contest by the aggrieved co-defendant disentitles others to relief.

When contesting defendants are not the same as the one whose account was alleged to have been caused by undue influence, and the latter did not at any time avoid the contract nor did he seek to do so, then the former are not competent to avoid the same. (Newbould and B. B. Ghosh, JJ.) SHAILESHCHANDRA GUHA v. BECHAI GOPE. 40 C. L. J. 67 : 84 I. C. 124 : A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 94.

——S. 17—Fraud—Plea of—Allegation and proof—Particulars.

To prove a case of fraud, it must be proved that representations were made which were false to the knowledge of the party making them or were such that the party making them could have no reasonable belief that they were true that they were made for the purpose of being acted upon and believes, that they were believed and acted upon and caused the actual damage for which relief is claimed. (Mears, C. J. and Piggott, J.) GAURI SHANKER v. MANKI KUNWAR. 45 A. 624 : 21 A. L. J. 571 : L. R. 4 A. 464 : 74 I. C. 466 : A. I. R. 1924 All. 17.

——S. 17—Fraud not carried out—Third person.

A fraud cannot be pleaded successfully against an innocent person. It is only where the attempted fraud has been wholly or partially carried into effect that the court will give effect to the fraudulent transaction as between transferor and transferee. (Stuart, J.) MUSAMMAT MUSTAFAI BIBI v. SHAIK MAHOMED SHABBIR. A. I. R. 1923 All. 164.

——S. 17—Fraud, avoidance of—Contract—Performance—Effect.

If a contract is obtained by fraud or cheating, it is voidable at the instance of the person defrauded or cheated. But where a performance has been obtained by fraud or cheating, the contract cannot be avoided. (Kanga, J.) FAZAL v. MANGALDAS. 23 Bom. L. R. 1144 : 66 I. C. 726 : 46 Bom. 489 : A. I. R. 1922 Bom. 303.

——Ss. 17 and 18—Agreement to withdraw appeal in consideration of a sum less than one actually due in full satisfaction—Subsequently agreement not acted upon—No fraud under S. 17 or 18.

Where in a suit to set aside an ex parte decree on the ground of fraud, it was alleged that there was fraud in connection with the agreement that the defendant would withdraw an appeal which was pending against the plaintiff in consideration of a sum less than what was actually due by the plaintiff to the defendant in full satisfaction of his claim, but the defendant did not withdraw the appeal but prosecuted it and got against plaintiff a decree ex parte. Held, that it was not a fraud of the description under S. 17 or 18, sufficient for setting aside the ex parte decree obtained by the defendant against the plaintiff. (M. N. Mukerji, J.) PRITHURAM KALITA v. MAYARAM SARMA. 79 I. C. 330 : A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 555.

——S. 17—Wrong belief—Does not vitiate contract.

That a party misreads, the acceptance memo and believed it to be something different from what it was, would not vitiate the contract. (Kemp, A. J. C.) SODAWATERWALA v. VOLKART BROTHERS. A. I. R. 1923 Sind 25.

——S. 18—Signing of document is not consenting—Document signed by blind man—Contents of document misrepresented—Plea of non-est factum can be raised—Bona fide purchaser for consideration is not affected.

Mere signing of a document does not necessarily imply consent. Thus if a blind man, or a man who cannot read, has a written contract falsely read over to him, the reader misreading to such an extent that the written contract is of a nature altogether different from the contract pretended to be read from the paper which the blind or illiterate man afterwards signs, or if the contents of the document are otherwise misrepresented to the person signing it, then at any rate if there is no negligence the signature so obtained is of no force. The rule does not apply to a man who can read but who forbears to read the document. But the question is important only when it is raised between two innocent parties, for unless the document is wholly void, as it would be if the plea of non-est factum succeeds, an innocent party giving consideration cannot be deprived of an interest which he has taken under the deed ; but where the question arises between a party deceiving and a party deceived it is immaterial whether the deed is void or voidable ; and even if the party deceived falls in his plea of non-est factum, that is to say, that there was no consent on his part within the meaning of the term as defined in the Contract Act, it is still open to him to prove that there was a misrepresentation and to ask the Court to relieve him from the consequences of the transaction. (Das and Ross, JJ.) HEM SINGH v. BHAGAWANT SINGH. 80 I. C. 67 : A. I. R. 1925 Pat. 140.

——Ss. 18 and 17—Failure to make enquiry—Presumption.

Failure to make such inquiries as an ordinary prudent man would make, may under certain circumstances be evidence that the person to whom misrepresentation was made was not actually deceived. (Kennedy, J. C., Raymond and Kemp, A. J. Cs.) MT. HURI v. ROSSEN KHUDABUX. 16 S. L. R. 112 : 71 I. C. 161 : A. I. R. 1923 Sind 5 (F. B.).

——S. 19—Partnership—Fraud of one partner—Rights of partner defrauded—Liability for loss.

If a person is induced by fraud to become a partner, the Court will rescind the contract and order the person defrauded to be reimbursed with the amount he might have paid owing to the fraudulent misrepresentation. (Scott-Smith and Leslie Jones, JJ.) GOLA SINGH v. HAKAM RAI. 3 Lah. L. J. 306 : 3 U. P. L. R. 26 (Lah.) : 60 I. C. 709 . 23 P. W. R. 1921.

——S. 19—Suit on acknowledgment—Intimidation—Effect of.

A person is not liable on an acknowledgment, where the money has been paid and his signature to the acknowledgment had been obtained by intimidation. (Wilberforce, J.) BISRAM v. KEWALRAM. 59 I. C. 781 : 24 P. W. R. 1921.

——Ss 19 and 23—Licensed vendor of rice—Contract against the terms of license.

The defendant, under the terms of his license, was forbidden to sell his rice to other wholesale merchants in the port on entry than those who were approved by the Collector of the District. The plaintiff who was not one of those approved dealers and was a wholesale merchant, contracted to purchase rice from defendant and paid the price. The contract was " I have settled price with you at the controller's rate for the rice coming for me by the Viravu Steamers and marked ' N. R.' If perhaps the Madras Director of Supplies should ask the said bags from me and if I should have to give the bags to him, I shall return you the money you have given with one per cent interest." The rates agreed upon were much higher than the controlled rates. Held, plaintiff being a merchant in the place must have known that he could not purchase rice except by permission from Government and, therefore, he was probably very willing to pay defendant these higher rates in order to secure the rice. Where there was control of rice imports and rice sales set up in Negapatam as in other places, it is impossible to believe that the plaintiff, who was himself a big rice merchant did not know of these facts. The mention in the contract of the probability of the rice being taken by the Director of Civil Supplies is quite sufficient to put him upon notice of the control and of the various regulations which had been prescribed with reference to the sale of rice. And therefore under Ss. 23 and 24 of the Contract Act, the contract is void and the plaintiff can base no claim upon it. (Phillips and Devadoss, JJ.) JANU SAIT v. RAMASWAMI NAIDU. (1923) M. W. N. 335 : 32 M. L. T. 330 : 18 L. W. 564 : A. I. R. 1923 Mad. 626.

CONTRACT ACT (IX OF 1872), S 19.

——S. 19—Dishonest concealment of identity of contracting party—Agent secretly procuring a running contract with his principal—Contract voidable.

When fraud has to be used in inducing a contract as to the contracting party and his identity, the contract is repudiable by the party defrauded. A contract is voidable where the agent dishonestly conceals the fact that he intends to cause wrongful gain to himself from the principal. (Schwabe, C. J. and Wallace, J.) ACHUTHA NAIDU v. MESSRS. OAKLEY BOWDEN. 16 L. W. 345 : 69 I. C. 927 : (1922) M. W. N. 576 : 45 M. 1005 : 31 M. L. T. 487 : A. I. R. 1922 Mad. 497 : 43 M. L. J. 444.

——S. 19—Finding as to—Misrepresentation—Inducing consent—Second Appeal.

Illustration (b) of S. 19 is not exhaustive of the class of cases which could come under the explanation. A finding on the question whether a misrepresentation induced the consent of the party who relied on it, is one of fact and the High Court will not interfere with it in Second Appeal, though the finding may not be quite satisfactory. (Sudasiva Aiyar and Spencer, JJ.) PANNIKATTU RAGHAVA MANNIDIYAN v. PARAKKAL PATHAYAPURA VEETIL SIVASANKARA MENON. 13 L. W. 525 : 29 M. L. T. 230 : 62 I. C. 764 : (1921) M. W. N. 340.

——Ss. 19 and 24—Pardanashin lady—Deed of gift—Validity.

It was argued for the appellants donees that the deed of gift of 1908, the execution of which the donor admitted but the knowledge, as to the contents of which she denied, was not void but voidable only and must be treated as valid until set aside in a suit properly framed for that purpose, and that the deed of gift of 1917 in favour of respondents transferred a mere right to sue. Held, if the facts alleged by the respondents, that the gift of 1908, was under undue influence and fraud and that, when the donor came to know that she was imposed upon she cancelled it, should be made out, there was never any consent at all to the gift within the meaning of S.19 and although the donor may have permitted her signature to be written on the documents in question she never in fact consented thereto. If the contract were voidable and not void ab initio it would have to be set aside before a suit for possession could be maintained and further the donor could not transfer the mere right to sue. (Miller, C. J. and Mullick, J.) BAIJNATH SINGH v. BRIJRAJ KUAR. 2 P. 52 : A. I. R. 1922 Pat. 514.

——S. 19 A—Nature of pleadings in the case of undue influence.

Undue influence must be pleaded with precision and unless a case is made out in the pleadings, the Court will not investigate it. (Das and Adami, JJ.)

CONTRACT ACT (IX OF 1872), S. 23—Acts defeating Statute.

INDARCHAND v. BUDIADHAR PANDE. 2 Pat. L. T. 111 : 5 Pat. L. J. 744 : 60 I. C. 282 : 1921 P. H. C. C. 107.

——S. 20—Mistake.

Where both the vendor and vendee of land did not know that the land had already become the subject of proceedings under the Calcutta Improvement Act, and as such might any day come under the Act there is a mistake as to a matter of fact essential to the agreement and the agreement is void. (Sanderson, C.J. and Richardson, J.) NURSING DASS KOTHARI v. CHUTTOO LALL MISSER. 50 Cal. 615 : 74 I. C. 996 : 27 C. W. N. 639 : A. I.R. 1923 Cal. 641.

——S. 20—Scope of—Doctrine of frustration.

S. 20 deals with the question of common mistake; perhaps the general principle of frustration may govern such cases. (Sanderson, C. J. and Richardson, J.) GOURI SHANKAR AGARWALLA v. MOITRA. 70 I. C. 379 : 26 C. W. N. 573.

——Ss. 20 and 22—Mistake of fact—Mistake must be of both parties to the contract.

To avoid a contract on the ground of mistake of fact, the mistake must be as between the plff. and the defendant. If one of the parties has nothing to do with the mistake of fact, it cannot be avoided. Kelly v Solari, 9 M. and W. 54; Townsend v. Crowdy, 8 C. B. and S. 477, Dist. Chambers v. Mover, 32 L. J. (C. P.) 30, Foll. (Robinson, C. J. and Maung Ba, J.) CHINA AND SOUTHERN BANK LIMITED v. TE THOE SENG. 3 Rang. 477.

——S. 22—Contract can't be avoided on ground of its becoming more onerous than supposed, owing to increase in duty.

Under certain circumstances a party may avoid a contract on the ground of mutual mistake and the like. It is not open to a seller to avoid performance of his contract on the plea that the contract had become commercially impossible or was more onerous than what he considered it to be, on account of the duty having been increased. (Kennedy. J. C. and Rupchand Bilaram, A. J. C.) FIRM OF DASSO MAL RAMACHAND v. FIRM OF YUSAFALI ADAMJI. A. I. R. 1925 Sind 80.

——S. 23.

Acts defeating statute.
Acts prohibited by statute.
Bribe to public officers.
Burden of proof.
Champerty and maintenance.
Collateral contract.
Contrary to Public Policy.
Excise contract.
Indemnifying surety.
Marriage contract.
Partial illegality.
Parties to illegal acts.
Prostitution.
Religious purposes.
Stifling prosecution.
Unlawful object.
Miscellaneous.

Acts defeating statute.

——S. 23—Acts defeating statute—Clause tending to defeat the provisions of the Agra Tenancy Act—Enforceability.

A sale deed which tends to defeat the provisions of the Agra Tenancy Act on the subject of the creation of exproprietary tenancies is void and unenforceable. Where the defendants, the executant of the deed, expressly stipulated that they would surrender actual possession and enjoyment of the Sir and Khudkasht lands in respect of which they became by statute exproprietary tenants from the date of the execution of the deed of sale, such a stipulation is void as being contrary to public policy. Any stipulation by way of penalty, inserted in a sale deed in order to enforce the fulfilment of such a covenant on the part of the vendor is also void and unenforceable. Where the entire clause stipulating for the surrender of the exproprietary tenure and for a penalty in the event of the failure of the vendor to make such a surrender can be wiped out of the document without interfering in any way with the other stipulations, the latter can be enforced. (Piggott and Walsh, JJ.) BITHAL DAS v. RAGHUNATH DAS.

CONTRACT ACT (IX OF 1872), S. 23—Acts defeating Statute.

L. R. 3 A. 464 (Rev.) : A. I. R 1922 All. 430 (2).

——S. 23—Acts defeating statute—Contract.

If the contracts for reconveyance or pre-emption in respect of a land offered the rule against perpetuities by having no time or a remote time fixed for their performance they are against public policy and void. (Macleod, C. J. and Kanga, J.) DINKAR RAO v. NARAYAN. 24 Bom.L.R. 449 : A. I. R 1922 Bom. 84

——S. 23—Acts defeating statute—Waiver.

Where a statute is not intended only for the benefit of a particular class of persons the advantage cannot be waived. 35 Cal 64 Dist. (Chatterji and Panton, JJ.) JOGESHVAR MEHTA v. ZAPAL SANTAL.
51 Cal. 224 : 28 C. W. N. 556 : 82 I. C. 848 : A. I. R. 1924 Cal. 638.

——S. 23—Acts defeating statute—Object to defeat Rent Act makes contract void.

Where the object of the lease is of such a nature that, if permitted, it would defeat the provisions of the Rent Act, the object is unlawful and the object being unlawful, the lease is void. (Sanderson, C. J. and Richardson, J.) SALEH IBRAHIM v. MANEKJI COWASJI.
50 Cal. 491 : 75 I. C. 521 : A. I. R. 1924 Cal. 57.

——S. 23—Acts defeating statute—One of several judgment-debtors getting assignment of decree.

One of several judgment-debtors got an assignment of the decree in the name of his agent who was to be paid commission for executing the same against the remaining judgment-debtors. The agent realized the moneys but refused to pay them to his principal. In a suit by principal for the money held that the suit is not barred by S. 23. (Abdur Rahim and Oldfield, JJ.) PALANIAPPA CHETTIAR v. CHOCKALINGA CHETTIAR.
44 Mad. 334 : 12 L. W. 609 : (1920) M. W. N. 776 : 60 I. C. 127 : 29 M. L. T. 59 : 39 M. L. J. 692.

——S. 23—Acts defeating statute—Oral agreement with prohibited object.

Where the object of the agreement to postpone the registration of the deed of lease is obvious enough from the circumstances and scarcely needs specific admission, and is to conceal the actual sivai amdani of the village, and so to reduce the assessment of land revenue. Held, this would defeat the provisions of the Registration Act and probably the Transfer of Property Act and the Stamp Act as well; it was fraudulent in that it attempted to conceal the assets of the village and so to reduce the assessment; it involved injury to all other members of the community in that they would get as land revenue less than their proper share of the income of the village ; and it was obviously opposed to public policy. (Hallifax, A. J. C.) CHAGAN LAL v. KASHIRAM.
A. I. R. 1923 Nag. 76.

——S. 23—Acts defeating statute—Transfer of occupancy tenure.

CONTRACT ACT (IX OF 1872), S. 23—Acts prohibited by Statute.

Transfers of occupancy and ordinary tenant rights are voidable in the manner and to the extent provided for by the Tenancy Act. Such transfers are not unlawful within the meaning of S. 23. The transfers are not absolutely void even under the Tenancy Act. (Mitra, A. J. C.) SHALIGRAM v. NARAYAN.
4 N. L. J. 221.

——S. 23—Acts defeating statute—Illegal transfers.

Transfer of items declared untransferable by T. P. Act, S. 6, is void. Thus mortgage of a mere chance of inheritance is void. (Wazir Hasan and Neave, A. J. Cs.) DWARKA PRASAD v. NASIR AHAMAD.
11 O. L. J. 219 : 78 I. C. 850 : A. I. R. 1925 Oudh 16.

——Ss. 23 and 24—Acts defeating statute—Contract infringing Abkari law is void.

The Collector of a certain place gave one of the parties a license empowering him to sell intoxicating drugs. One of the clauses in the license required that a licensee if he took a partner should submit his name for approval to the Collector. Without regard to this provision, the licensee entered into an agreement with another to conduct that business for selling intoxicating drugs as his partner. A dispute arose between the parties and the plaintiff, that is to say, the licensee brought an action in the Court for settling partnership accounts. Held, that if the clause referred to in the license were alone relied on it might perhaps be argued that although an infringement of that clause might lead to penalty being inflicted by the Collector on an erring licensee, yet that infringement would not render an agreement of that kind illegal between the plaintiff and the defendant. But the matter went further than that because under the ordinary law of the country no person is allowed to sell drugs except with the permission of the Collector. And a person who entered into a partnership with the licensee in disregard of the terms of the above-mentioned clause in the license was as a matter of fact entering into an agreement which made him a person who undertook himself to sell intoxicating drugs without the permission of the Collector. Held, further, that it is not the case that an infringement of an Abkari Act is an infringement of a mere fiscal or administrative regulation but it verges on the commission of an act which is malum in se; hence the contract was illegal and unenforceable in a court of law. (Kennedy, J. C. and Lobo, A. J. C.) DEWANDAS KIMATMAL v. KESOMAL PAHLAJMAL.
18 S. L. R. 16 : 87 I. C. 353 : A. I. R. 1925 Sind 55.

Acts prohibited by Statute.

——S. 23—Acts prohibited by statute—Contract of pre-emption is not against public policy.

In view of the fact that in the United Provinces contracts for pre-emption have been enforced for several years the contract of pre-emption cannot be deemed to be against public policy. (Case-law discussed.) (Lindsay and Sulaiman, JJ.) BUSDEO RAI v. JHAGRU RAI.
46 All. 333 : 22 A. L. J. 265 : L. R. 5 A. (Civ.) 161 : 83 I. C. 390 : A. I. R. 1924 All. 400.

——S. 23—Acts prohibited by statute—Court should enforce contract as between parties to it notwithstanding statute prohibiting real beneficiaries under the contract from entering into such a contract.

A Civil Court has no power to decline to enforce a contract which is legal and binding in every respect on the face of it as between the parties, on a mere assumption that in reality it is intended for the benefit of a third person against whom a statutory prohibition to enter into such contract exists. (Moti Sagar, J.) SHAMS-UD-DIN v. ALLAH DAD KHAN.

CONTRACT ACT (IX OF 1872), S. 23—Acts prohibited by Statute.

6 Lah L. J. 351: 82 I. C. 603 : A. I. R 1925 Lah. 65.

——— S. 23—Acts prohibited by statute.

Purchase by a Judge of a house is not trafficking in an actionable claim. (Campbell and Moti Sagar, JJ.) AKHTAR BEG v. HAQ NAWAZ.
A. I. R. 1924 Lah. 709.

——— S. 23—Acts prohibited by statute— Written contract challenged on the ground of its being forbidden by law as it operates as a transfer—Such transfer must appear in the terms of the contract.

When the terms of a contract are reduced to writing and the question is whether the contract is illegal by reason of its seeking to do what is forbidden by law and the contention is that the agreement operates as a transfer, such a transfer should not merely be presumed, but must appear in the document if not in terms at least as necessarily involved. (Srinivasa Aiyangar, J.) GANGADARA SAH v. SWAMINADHA MUDALI.
22 L. W. 679 : A. I. R. 1926 Mad. 218.

——— S. 23—Acts prohibited by statute—Public policy—Money-lending by Pleader.

Where a pleader took a mortgage in his wife's name as consideration for pro-notes, held, there is a wide distinction between a contract which it may be improper for a pleader to enter into without the sanction of J. C.'s Court and a contract the operation of which is so injurious to the public welfare that even as between the parties who have voluntarily entered into it, the Courts will refuse to enforce it. The question in such cases is really one of professional etiquette rather than of public policy and the contract cannot be regarded as invalid. (Kanhaiya Lal, J.C.) RAM SINGH v. MT. RAGHUBANSA.
26 O. C. 201 : 9 O. & A. L. R. 29 : 72 I. C. 877 : A. I. R. 1923 Oudh 3.

Bribe to Public Officers.

——— S. 23—Bribe to public officers—Money paid under coercion can be recovered.

The plaintiff purchased his release by payment to the defendant, a police officer, of the sum of Rs. 75 under coercion, or putting it in other words, that the Rs. 75 were extorted from the plaintiff by placing him under a wrongful arrest, taking him to the Thana and detaining him there. Held, that the money can be recovered. (Sanderson, C. J. and Richardson, J.) DAKSHINA RANJAN v. OMAR CHAND.
50 Cal 992 : 38 C. L. J. 104 : 28 C. W. N. 10 : 75 I. C. 173 : A. I. R. 1924 Cal. 145.

Burden of Proof.

——— S. 23—Burden of proof—Onus of proving illegality is on contestor.

A presumption of lawfulness exists in first instance in favour of every consideration and the law presumes against illegality to begin with. Therefore, the onus of establishing that a particular consideration is illegal as a matter of fact is on the person who asserts so. (Kinkhede, A. J. C.) NARAYAN v. LAXMAN.
80 I C. 885 : A. I. R. 1925 Nag. 111.

——— S. 23—Burden of proof—Suit for money advanced—Defendant pleading illegality of contract—Defendant must clearly plead and prove illegality.

Where the defendant in an action for recovery of money intends to show that the contract was illegal under S. 23, the burden lies on him to show clearly that it was intended to effect the purpose for which the money was borrowed and it is not sufficient for him to use indefinite expressions when demanding the money from the plaintiff and then to ask the Court to presume that the defendant had intended to act fraudulently, illegally or otherwise in contravention of any law. 23 M. 227 (P. C.) Foll. (Lentaigne, J.) MAUNG SEIN HTIN v. CHEE PAN NGAW.

CONTRACT ACT (IX OF 1872), S. 23—Champerty and Maintenance.

3 Rang. 275 : A. I. R. 1925 Rang. 275.

Champerty and Maintenance.

——— S. 23—Champerty—Maintenance.

In India, champerty or maintenance is not illegal. (Lord Atkinson.) VATSAVAYA VENKATA SUBHADRAYAMMA v. VENKATAPATHI RAJU.
20 L. W. 298 : 26 Bom. L. R. 786 : (1924) M. W. N. 607 : 80 I C. 807 : 35 M.L. T. 210 : L. R. 5 P. C. 147 : 29 C. W. N. 57 : 52 I. A 1 : 48 Mad. 230 : A. I. R. 1924 P. C. 162 : 47 M. L. J. 93 (P. C).

——— S. 23—Champerty—Consideration— Legality of.

A fair agreement to supply funds to carry on a suit in consideration of having a share of the property, if recovered, ought not to be regarded as being opposed to public policy. Indeed, cases may be easily supposed in which it would be in furtherance of right and justice, and necessary to resist oppression, that a suitor who had a just title to property, and no means except the property itself would be assisted in this manner. But agreements of this kind ought to be carefully watched, and when found to be extortionate and unconscionable, so as to be inequitable against the party financed ; or to be made, not with the bona fide object of assisting a claim believed to be just and of obtaining a reasonable recompense therefor, but for improper objects, as for the purpose of gambling in litigation, or of injuring or oppressing others by abetting and encouraging unrighteous suits, so as to be contrary to public policy, effect ought not to be given to them. 2 Cal. 233, Foll. Where the reward stipulated was out of all proportion to the actual expenses incurred, held, that the agreement was unconscionable and therefore illegal as against public policy. (Moti Sagar, J.) KESHO DAS v. TULSHI DASS.
89 I. C. 229 : A. I. R. 1926 Lah. 43.

——— S. 23—Champerty—Pleader agreeing to take as fees part of suit property in case of success—Agreement is void.

An agreement taken by a pleader that he shall be given part of the property in dispute in the suit in which he is engaged must necessarily be contrary to public policy and therefore unlawful under S. 23. 4 C. L. J. 259 and 32 Bom. 449, Appr. (Macleod, C. J. and Coyajee, J.) KATHU JAIRAM v. VISHVANATH GANESH.
49 Bom. 619 : 27 B. L. R. 682 : 89 I. C. 199 : A. I. R. 1925 Bom. 470.

——— S. 23—Champerty—English Law.

The English Law of Champerty is not in force in India and fair agreements to share property in litigation with others in consideration of their supplying the funds for carrying on suits are not opposed to public policy and such agreements should receive effect except when extortionate or inequitable, 20 Cal. 145 (P. C.); 15 All. 35 (P. C.) Foll. (Scott-Smith and Martineau, JJ.) INDAR SINGH v. MUNSHI.
1 Lah. 124 : 56 I. C. 272 : 4 Lah. L. J. 301 :

——— S. 23—Champerty—English and Indian law.

There is no law in India corresponding to the English Law of Champerty and Maintenance so as to render an agreement which in England would be champertous void in India. (Prideaux. A. J. C.) LATIF v. PANDHARI.
A. I. R. 1923 Nag. 214.

——— S. 23—Champerty, validity of.

An agreement to obtain, for a nominal sum, the right to carry on a litigation with a very poor chance of success, is champertous and cannot be given effect to on principles of equity and good conscience. (Macnair, A. J. C.) HARI v. BALIRAM.

CONTRACT ACT (IX OF 1872), S. 23—Champerty and Maintenance.

63 I. C. 356 (Nag).

——— —S. 23—Champerty—Public policy.

Contract made for the purpose of gambling in litigation should not be given effect to as being champertous and against public policy. (Macnair, A. J. C.) ANANDA v. LAXMAN. 61 I. C. 884 (Nag.).

———S. 23—Champerty—Property transferred for mere costs of litigation to recover it—Transferee's claim to recover the property is not invalid—T. P. Act, S. 6.

Making over of property by a person who lays a claim to it, to another person who is prepared to pay the costs of the litigation amounts to transfer of the property and does not convey a mere right to sue. No doubt, transferee's claim to recover the property is, in a sense, a case of speculation in litigation but it is not of such a nature as to be rendered invalid in law. (Pullan, A. J. C.) INDAR PAL SINGH v. RAMESHWAR BAKSH SINGH. 80 I. C. 285 : A. I. R. 1925 Oudh 71.

———S. 23—Champerty—Agreement by vendee to finance litigation is not invalid.

Borrowing money for the purposes of litigation on a promise by the vendee to run a law suit is not unlawful. (Dalal, A. J. C.) DURGA v. JAMNA PRASAD. 26 O. C. 368 : 77 I. C. 109 : A. I R. 1924 Oudh 234.

———S. 23—Champerty and maintenance—Money advanced for purposes of litigation—Enforceability of contract.

The specific law of maintenance and champerty has not been introduced into India and while fair agreements to supply funds to carry on litigation in consideration of having a share of the property if recovered, should not be regarded as per se opposed to public policy yet such agreements should be carefully watched and if, extortionate, and unconscionable or made not with the bona fide object of assisting for a reasonable recompense a claim believed to be just, but for the purpose of gambling in litigation, or of injuring and oppressing others by encouraging unrighteous suits, should be held contrary to public policy and not enforced. The question is one essentially between the vendor and the vendee. Reasonable compensation for the expenses incurred and the services rendered if substantial may, however, be awarded in such cases. (Duckworth and Po Han, JJ.) U PE GYI v. MAUNG THEIN SHIN. 1 R. 565 : 2 Bur. L. J. 177 : 77 I. C. 372 : A. I. R. 1924 Rang. 48.

———S. 23—Champerty and maintenance—Agreement to supply funds.

A fair agreement to supply funds to carry on a suit in consideration of having a share of the property if recovered, ought not to be regarded as being per se opposed to public policy. No doubt agreements of this character are to be carefully scrutinized and they are not to be tolerated if their motive is improper or if the immediate object is merely to promote gambling in litigation. (Kennedy, J. C. and Raymond, A. J. C.) BEGRAJ v. ALISHER. 16 S. L. R. 278 : A. I. R. 1923 Sind 50.

Collateral Contract.

——— —S. 23—Collateral contract—Public policy.

Mortgage of occupancy holding will not be recognized even collaterally under T. P. Act, S. 68, if it is illegal. A.I.R. 1922 All. 134, Foll. (Daniels, J.) DAYER RAM v. THAKURI. 46 All. 622 : 22 A. L. J. 506 : L. R. 5 A. (Cr.) 170 : 83 I. C. 21 : A. I. R. 1924 All. 668 (1).

CONTRACT ACT (IX OF 1872), S. 23—Indemnifying Surety.

——— —Ss. 23 and 24—Collateral contract—Punjab Government Tenants Act, S. 8—T. P. Act, S. 43—Agreement by Government tenant to share whatever right may be acquired by him.

An agreement by a Government tenant with plaintiff to the effect that if the plaintiff helped the former in bringing the land under cultivation the former would give to the plaintiff one-half of whatever rights he might acquire in the land not opposed to public policy. (Abdul Raoof and Harrison, JJ.) NATHU v. ALLAH DITTA. 3 Lah. 92 : 64 I. C. 18 : 3 Lah. L. J. 505 : A. I. R. 1922 Lah. 287.

Contrary to Public Policy.

———Ss. 23 and 24—Contrary to public policy—Pleader and client—Agreement—Consideration unlawful in part—Void.

Where a client agreed to pay his pleader Rs. 500 in cash, and further undertook to convey him certain immoveable properties, for charitable purposes, in the event of his carrying on the litigation to full success. Held, that such an agreement was contrary to public policy and was unlawful under S. 23. That as part of the single consideration for one object was unlawful the whole agreement was void under S. 24. (Macleod, C. J. and Coyajee, JJ.) KATHU JAIRAM v. VISHWANATH. 49 Bom. 619 : 27 Bom. L. R. 682 : 89 I. C. 199 (2) : A. I. R. 1925 Bom. 470.

Excise Contract.

———S. 23—Excise contract.

An agreement to sub-lease salt pan in contravention of terms of license is not specifically enforceable. (Macleod, C.J. and Shah, J.) RABIABIBI v. GANGADHAR. 24 Bom. L. R. 111 : 46 Bom. 651 : 66 I. C. 393 : A. I. R. 1922 Bom 78.

———S. 23—Excise contract — Partnership by licensee is not illegal in all cases.

A partnership agreement with a licensee is not necessarily in all cases and under all circumstances illegal. 20 M. L. J. 337, Foll. (Srinivasa Aiyangar, J.) GANGADARA SAH v. SWAMINADHA MUDALI. 22 L.W. 679 : A. I. R. 1926 Mad. 218.

——— —S. 23—Excise contract — Partnership by Abkari licensee according to Mysore Law is not illegal.

According to the law of the Mysore State a partnership agreement with reference to an Abkari license is not an agreement the consideration or object of which is unlawful. (Srinivasa Aiyangar, J.) GANGADARA SAH v. SWAMINADHA MUDALI. 22 L. W. 679 : A. I. R. 1926 Mad. 218.

——— —S. 23—Excise contract—Lease to unlicensed person for tapping toddy.

A lease to a person not licensed under the Madras Abkari Act for tapping toddy is not illegal and can be enforced. (Odgers, J.) SANTHANARAMA MUDALIAR v. SAMI KARUPPU NADAR. 61 I. C. 537 : 14 L. W. 226.

Indemnifying Surety.

———S. 23—Indemnifying surety—Accused's agreement with surety giving bail, to indemnify the latter if the bail is forfeited on account of accused's non-appearance, is void.

Sureties on a bail bond are required in order that the failure of the principal to appear may be at the peril of others besides himself, and the whole object of that provision is defeated if the principal and surety are allowed to relieve the latter of the peril and confine it to the former by an arrangement among themselves. Agreement by an accused with the surety who gives bail to him, that he will indemnify the surety if the bail is forfeited on account of the accused's non-appearance, is void. (Hallifax, A. J. C.) JODHRAJ v. BISANLAL. 20 N. L. R. 166 : 82 I. C. 1036 : A. I. R. 1925 Nag. 59.

CONTRACT ACT (IX OF 1872), S. 23—Marriage Contract.

Marriage Contract.

——S. 23 — Marriage contract — Ante-nuptial agreement securing maintenance to wife.

An ante-nuptial agreement whereby a suitable maintenance is provided for the wife in case the husband ill treated or behaved improperly towards her or capriciously turned her out, is not opposed to S. 23 of the Act and is enforceable. (Lindsay and Kanhaiya Lal, JJ.) MUHAMMAD MUIN-UD-DIN v. JAMAL FATIMA 19 A. L. J. 675 : 43 A. 650 : 63 I. C. 883 : L. R. 3 A. 21.

——Ss. 23 and 26—Marriage contract—Agreement by Muhammadan husband not to contract second marriage—Validity of.

An ante-nuptial agreement by a Muhammadan husband not to contract a second marriage is not illegal nor invalid as immoral or opposed to public policy or in restraint of marriage. (Robinson, J.) KHALILAL RAHAMAN v. MARIAN BIBI. 10 L. B. R. 194 : 59 I. C. 804 : 13 Bur. L. T. 89.

Partial Illegality.

——Ss. 23 and 24—Partial illegality—Document containing legal and illegal engagements—Enforceability.

One cannot ask the Court to make a new contract in plea of that which is illegal, but where in the same instrument there are distinct engagements, some of which use legal and some illegal, the performance of those which are legal can be enforced. (Miller, C. J. and Adami, J.) GRANT v. EKLAL JHA. 1922 P. H. C. C. 177 3 Pat. L. T. 386 : 67 I. C. 49 : A. I. R. 1922 Pat. 171.

Parties to illegal acts.

——S. 23—Parties to illegal acts— Judgment-debtor—Transfer of decree—Object to defraud—If can be enforced.

Where a judgment-debtor got a decree against him assigned to a relation for a small amount with a view to induce other creditors to come to terms, and the understanding was that the transferee was not to sue on the assignment, the agreement is against public policy and the agreement is not enforceable in the court. The doctrine of in pari delicto will apply. (Spencer and Venkatasubba Rao, JJ.) KALAGARA SRIRAMA RAO v. BAPAYYA. 18 L. W. 453 : 76 I. C. 845 : A. I. R. 1924 Mad. 189.

——S. 23—Parties to illegal acts—Contract opposed to public policy - Restrictions on dealing in rice—Contract in contravention of—Enforceability.

Where in contravention of the rules framed by the Government and of the terms of a license issued to one of them the parties entered into a contract for wholesale supply of rice, the contract is illegal as opposed to public policy and where the plaintiff knew of restrictions on the defendant's capacity to contract, both are in pari delicto and the plaintiff cannot recover monies advanced to the defendant on the basis of such contract. (Phillips and Devadoss, JJ.) JANU SAIT v. RAMASWAMI NAIDU. (1923) M. W. N. 335 : 32 M. L. T. (H. C.) 330 : 18 L. W. 564 : 72 I. C. 735 : A. I. R. 1923 Mad. 626.

——S. 23—Parties to illegal acts—Plea of illegality—Duty of Court to take notice.

If the illegality of a transaction is brought to the notice of the Court and the person invoking the aid of the Court is himself implicated in the illegality, the Court will not assist him.

CONTRACT ACT (IX OF 1872), S. 23—Prostitution.

Contracts which are expressly prohibited by statute, contracts that are illegal at Common Law as involving the commission of a crime or tort and contracts which are unlawful as being contrary to the public policy are distinguishable from contracts which are not actually unlawful but merely void, either by statute, such as gaming or wagering contracts or on grounds of public policy such as contracts in general restraint of trade. (Ross, J.) JHINGUR OJHA v. MEGHNATH PANDY. 72 I. C. 653 : A I. R. 1924 Pat. 321.

Prostitution.

——S. 23—Prostitution—Past illegal co-habitation is not illegal consideration.

Where a Mahommedan transfers certain property in lieu of a dower to a woman who has been his wife but with whom his marriage has been illegal, the consideration is not illegal though it may be void. (Sulaiman, J.) MT. MAHTAB-UN-NISSA v. RIFAQAT ULLAH. L. R. 6 A. (Civ.) 145 : 85 I. C. 459 : A. I. R. 1925 All. 474.

——S. 23—Prostitution—Gift in consideration of future illicit intercourse—Gift is void.

Where the donor made a gift of the property to a husband and wife, on condition that he should have physical enjoyment of the latter, held, that the consideration for the transfer, being the future illicit connection, the agreement was obviously both immoral and opposed to public policy within the meaning of S. 23. 28 Mad. 413 Rel. on. (Sulaiman and Boys, JJ.) GHUMNA v. RAMCHANDRA RAO. 23 A. L. J. 376 : 47 All. 619 : 88 I. C. 411 : L. R. 6 A. (Civ.) 331 : A. I. R. 1925 All. 437.

——Ss. 23, 24 and 25—Prostitution — Past co-habitation.

An agreement for paying a sum of money in consideration of services being rendered by a kept mistress of the promisor is not enforceable owing to the consideration being illegal. 3 A. 387. Foll. (Macleod, C. J. and Crump, J.) HUSSEINALI CASAM MAHOMED v. DINBAI. 25 Bom. L. R. 252 : 86 I. C. 240 (2) : A. I. R 1924 Bom. 135.

——S. 23—Prostitution—Transfer of property—Illegal or immoral object—Rights of vendor to recover property—In pari delicto.

It is a well-established rule of equity that a person who has transferred a property to another for an illegal or immoral purpose cannot get it annulled if the intended purpose has been carried out. A gift of property to a female in respect of past and future cohabitation cannot be set aside at the instance of the donor when the object of the gift has been accomplished. 28 M. 413, Foll. (Krishnan, J.) IVATURI BRAHMAYYA LINGAM v. KAMISETTI MALLAMMA. 20 L. W. 323 : (1924) M. W. N. 600 : 82 I. C. 14 : A. I. R. 1924 Mad. 849 : 47 M. L. J. 652.

——S. 23—Prostitution—Bond for future adulterous intercourse—Validity.

Where the consideration for a bond was future adulterous cohabitation, the agreement is void under S. 23, Contract Act, and is not enforceable. The fact that the defendant in a suit to enforce the bond has already received the consideration does not disentitle him to raise the plea, and the Court cannot enforce it. (Phillips, J.) KANDASAMI GOUNDEN v. NARAYANASWAMI GOUNDEN. (1923) M. W N. 566 : 76 I. C. 306 : 19 L. W. 617 : A. I. R. 1924 Mad. 159 : 45 M. L. J. 551.

——S. 23—Prostitution—Money advanced—Suit

CONTRACT ACT (IX OF 1872), S. 23—Prostitution.

for recovery—Maintainability.

Where it is no part of the contract between the lender and the borrower that the money lent should be utilised for immoral purposes and the lender has no control over the application of the money, he is not prevented from recovering the money on the principle of Ex turpi cause non oritur actio. (Spencer and Devadoss, JJ.) NATARAJULU NAICKER v. SUBRAHMANIAN CHETTIAR. (1922) M. W. N. 450 : 16 L. W. 705 : 69 I. C 939 : 45 M. 778 : A. I. R. 1922 Mad. 181 : 43 M. L. J. 695.

———S. 23—Prostitution—Past illicit cohabitation is not immoral consideration.

The plaintiff was a widowed sister of the defendant's wife. The defendant took her into his house when she was only 8 or 10 years of age and kept her as his mistress as soon as she attained the age of puberty. With the woman getting older and there being disputes between this woman and her sister, (the defendant's wife), the defendant thought it better to get rid of her and executed an agreement promising to pay her a monthly allowance.

Held, that the consideration for the agreement was not immoral and that the agreement was binding. (Dalal, J. C.) KRISHNA NAND v. MT SHIVRAJI. 12 O L. J. 510 : 2 O. W. N 503 : 89 I. C. 573 : A. I. R. 1925 Oudh 536.

Religious Purposes.

———S. 23— Religious purposes — Offerings — Agreement for division—Public policy.

An agreement between the panda and pariwal of a temple to participate in the offerings made by pilgrims is not contrary to public policy. (Kanhaiya Lal and Sulaiman, JJ.) KALLU TEWARI v. RAJINDER PRASAD. 20 A. L. J. 807 : L. R. 3 A. 474 : 70 I. C. 124 : 45 A. 79 : A. I R. 1923 All. 56.

Stifling Prosecution.

———S. 23--Stifling prosecution—Consideration—Abandonment of prosecution in non-compoundable case—Document void.

Where the consideration for a bond is found to be an agreement to abandon the prosecution in a matter, and if the court comes to the conclusion that the parties were acting together with a view to perpetrate a fraud and did in fact perpetrate that fraud and that there is no difference in the degree of guilt of the plaintiff (who is asking the court to give him some help) and that of the defendant, the duty of the Court is not to assist either party ; in other words, the duty of the court is to dismiss the claim, because the Court having then in its knowledge that it has before it, two persons equally guilty of fraud, will not assist either of them. Once it is established that the parties are pari delicto, the Courts will not assist an illegal transaction in any respect, that is to say, the person who asks the Court to do something will fail. (Mears, C. J. and Banerji, J.) VILAYAT HUSAIN v. MISRAN. 45 A. 396 : 21 A. L. J. 303 : L. R. 4 A. 418 : 72 I. C. 92 : A.I.R. 1923 All. 504.

———S. 23, Ill. (h)—Stifling prosecution—Agreement to drop prosecution for breach of trust on receipt of part of embezzled money in cash and in the shape of a mortgage by accused and his brother—Prosecution dropped by police upon representation by the complainant—No intention on the complainant's part to spoil proceedings if police did not agree—Agreement is not to stifle prosecution.

Defendant No. 1, whilst on trial for criminal breach of trust in respect of Rs. 30,000 belonging to plaintiff firm, pressed plaintiff firm to drop the prosecution upon receipt of Rs. 15,000 in cash and a mortgage for CONTRACT ACT (IX OF 1872), S. 23—Stifling Prosecution.

Rs. 5,000 to be executed by Defendant No. 1 and his brother, Defendant No. 2. Plaintiff firm agreed and laid all the facts before the Commissioner of Police, and representing to him that they could not afford to lose the whole sum and that it would be to their advantage to get a portion, asked his permission to withdraw the case against Defendant No. 1. Plaintiff did nothing further. Defendant engaged a solicitor to persuade the Commissioner to allow the case to be withdrawn. Defendants succeeded. In a suit to enforce the mortgage bond, held, that the consideration of the agreement was not opposed to public policy and was not illegal within the meaning of S. 23. Plaintiffs were not making "a trade of felony." They did not take the administration of justice out of the hands of the authorities and themselves determine what should be done. Held, also, that the consideration of the agreement was valid for the purpose of binding the Defendant No. 2.

Per Walmsley, J.—The decision to withdraw the prosecution was the Commissioner's. Plaintiffs did not abate any part of their charge against accused and did not suggest that they would withhold evidence if the case proceeded. They merely laid all facts before the Commissioner and left it to him to decide. As they did not attempt to take the administration of justice into their own hands, their conduct was not against public policy.

Per Mukerji, J.—The general head of public policy covers a wide range of subjects and the doctrine of public policy is one which must always be applied with caution. At the same time, the doctrine may legitimately be invoked if the real object of the agreement is to interfere with the course of justice. An agreement to stifle a prosecution is distinguishable from the lawful compounding of a compoundable offence. If the offence is not compoundable under the law, a compounding of it must be held to be illegal and opposed to public policy. If the effect of an agreement is to take the administration of the law out of the hands of the Judges, and to put it into the hands of a private individual to determine what is to be done in the particular case, it is opposed to public policy. [Collins v. Blantoon (1 Sm L. C. 11th Edn. 369) ; Keir v. Leeman (9 Q.B. 371) ; and Williams v. Bayley (L. R. 1, H. L. 200) Foll.] On the other hand, there is nothing to prevent a creditor from taking a security from his debtor for the payment of a debt due to him, even if the debtor is induced to give the security by a threat of criminal proceedings, so long as there is no agreement not to prosecute. Flower v. Sadler (10 Q. B. D. 572) Foll. In the present case the motive for the execution of the bond and the payment of the money was the withdrawal; but there is a good deal of difference between the motive for the act and the consideration or object of the agreement. It is necessary to keep this distinction in view all the more in a case where there is a civil liability already existing which is discharged or remitted by the agreement. A guarantee for the payment to creditors of debts due to them in consideration of the creditors abstaining from taking criminal proceedings is void as being against public policy ; but a man to whom a civil debt is due may take securities for that debt from his debtor, even though the debt arises out of a criminal offence, and he threatens to prosecute for that offence, provided he does not, in consideration of such security, agree not to prosecute, but he must not by stifling a prosecution obtain a guarantee from third parties. 11 Bom. 566 and 28 A. 718, Foll. (Walmsley and Mukerjee, JJ.)

CONTRACT ACT (IX OF 1872), S. 23—Stifling Prosecution.

DIVIJENDRA NATH v. GOPIRAM.
42 C. L J. 90 : 29 C. W. N. 855 : 89 I. C 200 : A. I. R. 1926 Cal. 59.

——S. 23—Stifling prosecution—Non-compoundable—Parties not in pari delicto.

Money paid on illegal contract cannot be recovered in the absence of fraud, duress or undue influence or oppression, where the payment was obtained by the innocent misrepresentation of the other party. The generality of the rule is, however, subject to some qualification e.g., where contracts or transactions are prohibited by law for the sake of protecting one set of men from another set of men, the one from their situation and condition being liable to be oppressed or imposed upon by the other ; there the parties are not in pari delicto : and it has therefore been held that the person injured after the transaction is finished and completed, may bring his action and defeat the contract. If one person has paid money to another or has executed deeds in favour of another in pursuance of an illegal agreement, e.g., to stifle as non compoundable criminal prosecution though both parties are in delicto, yet they are not in pari delicto and the person who has paid the money or has executed the deeds may recover it back in an action for money paid and received or may apply for the setting aside of the deed respectively. (Case-law discussed.) (C. C. Ghose and Panton, JJ.) RAM KUMAR DAS v. NANDA KUMAR SAHA.
50 C. 639 : 75 I. C. 27 : A. I. R. 1924 Cal. 248.

——S. 23—Stifling prosecution—Agreement void.

Where the consideration of the bond is an agreement on the part of the plaintiff to abandon the prosecution of the defendant in a non-compoundable case, the bond is void even if part of the consideration is good in law. (Newbould and Panton, JJ.) KARUNA KRISHNA CHAUDHURY v. RAKHALDAS MUKERJEE.
68 I. C. 721 : A. I. R. 1923 Cal. 292 (1).

——S. 23—Stifling criminal prosecution—Bond—Consideration—Debt due and agreement to withdraw prosecution—Legality.

A bond, the consideration for which was partly a debt due and partly an agreement to withdraw non-compoundable criminal proceedings is not invalid for failure of consideration. (Stott-Smith, J.) RAM GOPAL v. GANESHI LAL.
85 I. C 610 : A. I. R. 1925 Lah. 364.

——S. 23—Stifling prosecution—Pronote executed for stifling criminal prosecution is void—Original debt is not provable when suit has proceeded in two Courts entirely on basis of pro-note.

A pro-note executed for stifling a prosecution is void under section 23. When a plaint is clearly based upon such a pro-note and the suit has run through two Courts on that footing, the case cannot be remanded to see whether plaintiff cannot succeed in proving the original debt. A. I. R. 1924 Oudh 243, Dist. (Simpson, A. J. C.) MT. THAKURAIN v. TOTARAM.
2 O. W. N. 791 : A. I. R. 1926 Oudh 40.

——S. 23—Stifling prosecution—Non-compoundable case—Consideration, if can be recovered.

Where in a case of theft the complainant dropped the proceedings on account of an agreement to pay a sum of money, he cannot sue to recover the same, as the agreement is opposed to public policy. (Campbell, J.) NAZAR v. MT. PARAS.
73 I. C. 668 : A. I. R. 1923 Lah. 689 (2).

——S. 23—Stifling prosecution—Pronote executed on plaintiff promising to withdraw a criminal proceeding, is void.

Defendant passed hundis for debts due to the plaintiff which were dishonoured on which plaintiff instituted a criminal prosecution against one of the defendants for forgery. The parties came to terms and the defendants executed a pronote on the plaintiff promising to withdraw the prosecution. Held, that the stifling of the criminal prosecution was the consideration for the pronote and therefore the pronote was void. (Dalal, J. C.) BHOLA NATH v. RASOOL BAKHSH.
26 O. C. 378 : 77 I. C. 78 : A. I. R. 1924 Oudh 243.

CONTRACT ACT (IX OF 1872), S. 23—Unlawful Object.

——S. 23—Stifling prosecution—Withdrawal of non compoundable case—Consideration—Validity.

Where the consideration for a bond is the withdrawal of a non-compoundable case, the bond is unenforceable under S. 23. (Miller, C. J. and Kulwant Sahay, J.) BION v. SHEOGULAM LAL.
74 I. C. 843 ; A. I. R. 1924 Pat. 305.

Unlawful Object.

——S. 23—Unlawful object—Consideration if lawful.

A promissory note executed by a minor under the Court of Wards though void, is not unlawful consideration for a bond executed by his son after his death and after the estate had ceased to be under the Court of Wards. (Lindsay and Sulaiman, JJ.) BINDESHRI PRASAD v. SARJU SINGH.
21 A. L. J. 446 : L. R. 4 A. 241 : 73 I. C. 458 : A. I. R. 1923 All. 590

——S. 23—Unlawful object—Agreement by Parsi husband and wife to live separately—Legal—Reference to arbitration as to the quantum of maintenance—Award—Enforceable.

An agreement by a Parsi husband with his wife that they should live separately is lawful and a reference to arbitration on the question as to the amount of maintenance to be paid to the wife is quite legal. 23 Bom. 279, Foll. (Macleod C. J. and Fawcett, J.) ERUCHSHAW DOSABHAI v. BAI DINBAI.
45 Bom. 318 : 59 I. C. 189 : 22 Bom. L. R. 1293.

——Ss. 23 and 30—Unlawful object—Suit to recover money on a hundi drawn to cover betting losses.

Defendant was an owner of race horses and betted on horse races in considerable amounts. On 20-10-20 he owed a sum of Rs. 8,500 which he had lost to the plaintiff's firm. As he did not pay, the plaintiffs reported him to the Turf Club whose Secretary intimated that he would publish the defendant's name as a defaulter. On 20—12—1920 defendant executed a hundi for Rs. 8,500 in consideration of his name being withdrawn from the defaulters' list and is being permitted to run his horses and make his bets. In a suit by the plaintiffs (who were a firm) to recover the money due under the Hundi, held, that the consideration for the Hundi was legal and that it could be enforced. Contracts by way of wagering and gaming are void but not illegal. There is nothing illegal in the agreements made by a partnership firm of bookmakers nor are such agreements prohibited by law. Consequently a suit by such a firm is maintainable. (1908) 2 K. B. 696 ; (1920) 3 K. B. 451. Ref. (Buckland, J.) LEICESTER & CO. v. MULLICK.
27 C. W. N. 442 : A. I. R. 1923 Cal. 445.

——S. 23—Unlawful objects—Commissioner appointed by Court—Taking bond from party—Propriety of—Enforceability of bond.

Where a pleader is appointed by Court in a suit as Commissioner, the work done by the Commissioner is no work done for the party but for the Court. Consequently where a Commissioner who had been appointed at the instance of a party to a suit took a bond from that party for a certain sum of money and subsequently sued upon it, held, that the consideration for the bond was illegal and that it represented an improper advantage obtained by an officer of Court by abuse of his position as such. Consequently the bond was unenforceable. 4 M. 399 Dist. (Rankin and Panton, JJ.) PRAMATHA NATH SEN GUPTA v. SHEIKH ABDUL AZIZ MEAH. 27 C. W. N. 430 : 75 I. C. 443 : 37 C. L. J. 406 : A. I. R. 1923 Cal. 436.

CONTRACT ACT (IX OF 1872), S. 23—Unlawful Object.

——S. 23—Unlawful object—Contract to pay brokerage.

A contract to pay brokerage is neither immoral nor opposed to public policy. (Chevis, J.) KISHEN CHAND v. KHUDA BAKSH. 60 I. C. 727.

——S. 23—Unlawful object—Marriage and adoption agreement—Consideration—When opposed to public policy.

Agreement to marry or adopt in consideration of something of value is void as opposed to public policy only when they tend to a conflict of interest and duty. (Madhavan Nair, J.) PENUMATSA SUBBA RAJU v. NARAYAN RAJU. 83 I. C. 56 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 321.

——S. 23—Unlawful object—Contract opposed to law of public policy—Contract legal according to French Law but not according to law of British India—Enforceability.

Contract opposed to law on public policy is legal according to French Law but not according to law in British India and hence not enforceable. (Coutts-Trotter, J.) VENKATA SUBRAMANIA AIYAR v. SYED USUFF. 18 L. W. 314 : (1923) M. W. N. 721 : 74 I. C. 1006 : A. I R. 1923 Mad. 708 : 45 M. L. J. 59.

——S. 23—Unlawful object—Alienation of service inam lands.

Under Sec. 60 of the T.P. Act, a service inam granted to Swasthivachakam Service is inalienable and is opposed to public policy because it is burdened with the performance of a service of a Public nature. (Schwabe, C. J., Coutts-Trotter and Kumaraswami Sastri, JJ.) NETI ANJANEYALU v. SRI VENUGOPAL RICE MILL. 15 L. W. 513 : 30 M. L. T. 255 : (1922) M. W. N. 307 : 45 M. 620 : 70 I. C. 466 : A. I. R. 1922 Mad. 197 : 42 M. L. J. 477 (F. B.).

——S. 23—Unlawful object—Transfer for purpose achieved—If transferor can get relief.

When a transaction has been entered into for unlawful or immoral purpose and that purpose has been achieved, the Court would not interfere at the instance of a Particeps criminus to relieve him from the legal effect of the transaction. (Abdur Rahim and Oldfield, JJ.) DEIVANAYAGA PADAYACHI v. MUTHU REDDI 44 Mad. 329 : 12 L. W. 291 : (1920) M. W. N. 547 : 59 I. C. 1003 : 28 M. L. T. 255 : 39 M. L. J. 525.

——S. 23—Unlawful object—Advancing money for compensating husband willing to divorce when compensated, is legal.

Where a creditor advances money with the knowledge that the object of the debtor in taking the loan is to use the money for paying compensation to a husband who is prepared to divorce his wife in the event of his marriage expenses being made good to him the creditor is not disentitled from recovering the amount by suit from the debtor. (Kinkhede, A. J. C.) NARAYAN v. LAXMAN. 80 I. C. 885 : A. I.R. 1925 Nag. 111.

——S. 23—Unlawful object—In absence of proof of absence of custom, contract to compensate husband for expenses of marriage upon his consenting to divorce wife is not void.

In order to prove that a contract to compensate the husband with the expenses of his marriage upon his assenting to divorce his wife is immoral or opposed to public policy and therefore unlawful, it must be established beyond doubt that there is no custom of compensating the husband. The reason for this is that the custom of re-imbursing the late husband's relations for the expenses of a woman's first marriage is so well-known. (Kinkhede, A. J. C.) NARAYAN v. LAXMAN. 80 I C. 885 : A. I. R. 1925 Nag. 111.

——S. 23—Unlawful object—Documents forming part of one illegal transaction—Enforceability.

Where a bond is executed as part and parcel of an illegal transaction the bond cannot be enforced. 32 B. 449 Ref. (Baker, O.J.C.). KASHI RAM v. BARKYA. 7 N. L. J. 13 : 77 I. C. 46 : A. I. R. 1924 Nag. 101.

Miscellaneous.

——S. 23—Compromise—Husband and wife—Complaint of non-compoundable offence pending—Effect.

While a complaint under S. 363, I. P. C. was pending against a husband, a compromise was arrived at through the advice of panchayatdars by which the husbad agreed to pay maintenance at a certain rate to the wife in case he ill treated her and made it uncomfortable for her. The dismissal of the complaint was not made a condition of the compromise, but the complaint was a few days later ordered to be filed. Held, the compromise was not bad in law under S. 23, Contract Act. (Abdul Raoof, J.) FEROZE DIN v. MT. GHULAM FATIMA. 89 I. C. 434.

——S. 23—Insurance Policy.

A Clause in an insurance policy cutting down limitation period for bringing suit for rejection of claim is enforceable. (Greaves and Buckland, JJ.) GIRIDHARILAL HANUMAN BUX v. EAGLE STAR AND BRITISH DOMINIONS INSURANCE CO., LTD. 27 C. W. N. 955 : A. I. R. 1924 Cal. 186.

——S. 23—Public policy.

It is a paramount public policy that courts are not lightly to interfere with freedom of contract. (Wazir Hasan and Pullan, A. J. Cs.) BANSI DHAR v. AJUDHIA PRASAD. 27 O. C. 175 : 82 I. C. 333 : 11 O. L. J. 619 : A. I. R. 1925 Oudh. 120.

——Ss. 23, 26 and 27—If exhaustive—Agreement to associate for life with one body of men and not another—If contrary to public policy.

Ss. 23, 26 and 27 of the Contract Act cannot be regarded as exhausting all the instances of agreements which are contrary to public policy. An agreement by which a man binds himself to associate for the whole of his life only with a certain body of his fellow-men and to abstain completely from associating with another body is one which ought not to be enforced and for the breach of which no penalty can be claimed. (Neave, A. J. C.) LAL KHAN v. KIMMAN KHAN. 10 O. & A. L. R. 111 : 27 O. C. 100 : 11 O. L. J. 408 : A. I. R. 1924 Oudh 404 (2).

——S. 23—(Per Lentaigne, J.) If illegal contract is totally unperformed, party can recover money paid thereunder.

If an illegal contract has not been carried out and remains totally unperformed, it is open to a party to repudiate it and on the avoidance of the contract to recover any money deposited thereunder. Even if the party institutes a suit in order to enforce the illegal transaction, he will not thereby lose his right to repudiate the transaction and to avoid it, at least in a subsequent suit, or, if he has elected to do so, by an application to the Court to be allowed to amend in the same suit. For example, if a party has a doubt as to the legality or otherwise of a contract, he may request the Court to decide on that question and to decide on the alternative questions as to what relief he should get, that is, to give him relief on the affirmation of the contract if the Court finds the contract to be valid, or in the alternative to give relief on the basis of the invalidity of the contract if the Court holds that the contract is invalid.

CONTRACT ACT (IX OF 1872). S. 24.

Per Carr, J.—If the plaintiff seeks to enforce the illegal contract, he cannot recover, at any rate in the same suit, the moneys paid by him thereunder. (Lentaigne and Carr, JJ.) HIRJEE DEORAJ AND CO. v. HAUNG NYUN SHEIN. 2 Rang. 414 : 84 I. C. 295 : A.I.R. 1925 Rang. 49 (1).

——— S. 24—Mortgage of occupancy holding and other lands for single consideration—Mortgagee in possession of occupancy holding suing for possession of other land—Suit should fail as otherwise result would be to enforce entire contract part of which is illegal.

Where a mortgage was made of occupancy holdings, along with certain other properties which were legally transferable, for a single consideration and the mortgagee was given, and he admittedly retained possession, of the occupancy lands which were not transferable and he sued to recover possession of the remaining lands, Held : that if the suit were to be decreed, the result substantially would be to enforce the entire mortgage contract, part of which was illegal and that therefore he was not entitled to seek any relief in Court at all. 39 All. 539 Dist. (Sulaiman and Daniels, JJ.) SITAL RAI v. RAM KHELAWAN. 88 I. C. 431 : 23 A. L. J. 521 : A. I. R. 1925 All. 543.

——— S. 24—Out and out transfer—S. 24 does not apply.

S. 24 of the Contract Act would not by implication apply to cases of an out and out transfer. (Sulaiman, J.) MT. MAHTAB-UN NISSA v. RIFAQAT ULLAH. 85 I. C. 459 : L. R. 6 A. (Civ.) 145 : A. I. R. 1925 All. 474.

——— S. 24—Mortgage void—Personal covenant is void.

Where a usufructuary mortgage of an occupancy holding is void as personal covenant to that effect is also void and unenforceable. (Lindsay and Stuart, JJ.) HAR PRASAD v. SHEO GOVIND. 20 A. L. J. 318 : 44 A. 486 : 67 I. C. 793 : A. I. R. 1922 All. 134.

——— S. 24—Agreement by client to pay to pleader a sum of money and part of suit property as "inam for religious purposes."—Agreement is inseparable and whole is void.

A client executed a bond in favour of his pleaders as follows : "I have this day given you a vakilpatra in the above suit and agree to give you both Rs. 500 as inam or reward in case you obtain full success for me in this or in the High Court, and would further give over to you possession of survey No. 58 for religious or charitable purposes." Survey No. 58 was part of the property in dispute in the suit. Held : that the agreement to give land to the pleaders though for religious or charitable purposes was void, and as it cannot be separated from the agreement to give them Rs. 500 for their services in the case as pleaders the whole agreement is void under S. 24. (Macleod C. J. and Coyajee, J.) KATHU JAIRAM v. VISHVANATH GANESH. 49 Bom. 619: 27 B. L. R. 682 : 89 I. C. 199 : A. I. R. 1925 Bom. 470.

——— S. 24—Agreement to give in adoption—Annuity as consideration.

The promise to pay an annuity as consideration for the agreement to give a boy in adoption invalidates the agreement. (Macleod, C. J. and Coyajee, J.)

CONTRACT ACT (IX OF 1872), S. 25.

NARAYAN LAXMAN v. GOPALRAO TRIMBAK. 24 Bom. L. R. 414 : 46 Bom. 908 : A. I. R. 1922 Bom. 382.

——— S. 24—Promissory note purporting to be by two persons—One executant forging signature of the other—Plaintiff consenting—No intention to cheat—Plaintiff can succeed against real executant.

Where a promissory note purported to be executed by two persons but it was found that the signature of one of them had been forged by the other executant and the plaintiff had concurred in this, Held : that if the intention of the parties was not to cheat the person whose signature was forged, the contract was not wholly void and the plaintiff could succeed as against the party who had really executed the promissory note. (Devadoss, J.) MADAM PILLAI v. ATHINARAYANA PILLAI. 87 I. C. 48 : 21 L. W. 532 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 929.

——— S. 24—Void part separable from legal part—Legal part is not invalidated.

Where the legal and illegal objects, or the legal and illegal transactions, cannot be separated, the whole transaction is void; but it is otherwise where the legal and illegal portions can be separated. Where the sale of lands and surrender of occupancy rights therein were both contended to be void as being one transaction and intended to defeat the Tenancy Law. Held : that the surrender was separable from the sale and the former alone was void. 39 All. 173 (P. C.) Foll. (Baker, J. C. and Prideaux, A. J. C.) BHAGWAT v. ANUNDRAO. 86 I. C. 515 : A.I.R. 1925 Nag. 302.

——— S. 24—Part of the consideration illegal—Effect.

Under S. 24 if any part of a single consideration for one or more objects or any one or any part of several considerations for a single object is unlawful the agreement is void. This applies where the whole contract is one and the legal part cannot be separated from the illegal. Where the legal and illegal parts can be separated, the legal part can be enforced. (Baker, J. C.) CHOONI LAL v. NANI SINGH. A. I. R. 1924 Nag. 284.

——— S. 24—Champertous agreement not void.

Plaintiff who married her mother's servant made an agreement with a certain person that if she succeeded in her suit for her mother's property he would get half the property and if she failed he was to bear the costs. Held the suit was not a speculative one at all. The plaintiff respondent had a natural right to succeed to her mother's estate and the burden of proving that she had lost the right by her marriage with the servant was on the defendants appellants. (Mc Coll, A. J. C.) MAUNG NYI MAUNG v. MANU. 4 U. B. R. 104 : 70 I. C. 904 : 1 Bur. L. J. 78 : A. I. R. 1922 U. B. 12.

——— S. 24— Scope.

If the various promises of the two parties are quite interdependent, the fact that one large part of the contract is void must vitiate the whole. (Brown, A. J. C.) MOHAMED v. ONA MAHOMED EBRAHIM. 70 I. C. 881 : 1 Bur. L. J. 72 : 4 U. B. R. 110 : A. I. R. 1922 U. B. 9 (2).

——— S. 25—Surrender—No consideration except freedom from liability to pay rent, effect of.

Freedom from liability to pay rent is a sufficient consideration for a surrender. Absence of any other consideration does not render the surrender void under Section 25 of the Contract Act. (Fremantle, S. M.) MANPAL v. MAWASI RAM. L. R. 6 All. 224 (Rev.).

——— S. 25—Valid contract—Writing—Signed by agent—Pleader if authorised to admit liability.

CONTRACT ACT (IX OF 1872), S. 25.

In order that a valid contract may be constituted under S. 25 (3) of the Contract Act it is necessary that the statement should be in writing and should be signed by the person charged therewith or by the agent generally or specially authorized. Where there was no proof at all that a pleader who made the statement relied upon as a contract had any general or special authority from the defendant which would entitle him to enter into a contract on their behalf to pay a time-barred debt, and the pleader's authority was confined to conduct of the case, his statement that if during the pendency of the suit the plaintiff obtained a succession certificate, the defendants were ready to submit to a decree for the amount claimed together with interest for six months did not constitute an unqualified admission of liability within the meaning of S. 25 of the Contract Act. Nor could the court treat the statement as showing in any way that the pleader who made it had authority to bind the defendant by a fresh contract under section 25 of the Contract Act. (Lindsay and Sulaiman, JJ.) BANSIDHAR v. BABU LAL.
21 A. L. J. 713 : 75 I. C. 309 : L. R. 4 A. (Civ.) 473 : A. I. R. 1924 All. 12.

——S. 25—Adequacy of consideration.

Adequacy of consideration is not under explanation 2 to S. 25, Contract Act a matter to be taken into consideration in deciding whether an agreement is valid. (Lindsay and Sulaiman, JJ.) BINDESHRI PRASAD v. SARJU SINGH. 45 A. 590 : 21 A. L. J. 446 : L. R. 4 A. 241 : 73 I. C. 458 : A. I. R. 1923 All. 590.

——S. 25—Consideration—Forbearance to sue.

The forbearance to enforce in a Court of law a claim bona fide believed to exist and to be enforceable, would be a good consideration for a contract. (Gokul Prasad and Stuart, JJ.) GULAB CHAND v. KAMAL SINGH. 44 All. 424 : 20 A. L. J. 285 : 4 U. P. L. R. (A) 154 : 67 I. C. 4 : L R. 3 A. 242 : A. I. R. 1922 All. 260.

——S. 25—Post-obit bond requires unconditional and certain terms.

The first requisite of a bond is that the obligor must be bound in a certain sum of money. But if the payment depends on a contingency as in the event of obligor surviving a relative from whom he has expectations, or if the payment is certain but the terms of payment uncertain as in the case of a bond conditioned for payment of a certain sum on the death of the obligor, the bond is called a Post obit-bond. (Macleod, C. J. and Crump, J.) HUSSEIN ALI v. DINBAI. 25 Bom. L. R. 252 : A. I. R. 1924 Bom. 135.

——S. 25—Mablakhandi—If a promise to pay.

Mablakhandi is not a promise to pay under S. 25, Contract Act, so as to revive any debt which was barred at the date of it. (Rankin and Mukherjee, JJ.) KSHITISH CHANDRA DAS v. UMED MANDAL. 78 I. C. 139 : A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 338.

——S. 25—Oral settlement—Barred debt promised to be paid—Promise is not binding.

An oral settlement of account under which a barred debt is promised to be paid is not binding on the promisor. (Srinivasa Iyengar, J.) ASIRVADA NADAN v. VEDAMUTHU NADAN. 86 I. C. 942 (2) : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 1147.

——S. 25—Promissory note—Barred debts.

When a promissory note is executed in respect of transactions which have gone on for some years and the items consist of advances which would be barred and of subsequent dealings, the settlement cannot be impeached as to the items which would but for the settlement, be barred so long as there is no fraud or mistake. (Kumaraswami Sastri, Krishnan and Odgers, JJ.) P. RAMA PATTER v. A VISVANATHA PATTER. 15 L. W. 130 : (1922) M. W. N. 27: 30 M. L. T. 209: 45 Mad. 345: 66 I. C. 155 : A. I. R. 1922 Mad 23 : 41 M. L. J. 567.

CONTRACT ACT (IX OF 1872), S. 25.

——S. 25—Acknowledgment—Can form basis of suit.

A suit is maintainable on the basis of a Ruju or acknowledgment as every acknowledgment implies a promise to pay. (Kinkhede, A. J. C.) SITARAM v. NANDARAM. 78 I. C. 234 : A. I R. 1925 Nag. 9.

——S. 25—Compromise of doubtful right is enough basis for agreement—Contract Act, S. 25.

If an agreement is entered into upon a supposition of a right or of a doubtful right it shall be binding. The compromise of a doubtful right is a sufficient foundation for an agreement. 1 Atk. 2 Foll. 5 H. L. 85 Dist. (Dawson Miller, C. J. Mullick and Foster, JJ.) HARIHAR PRASAD v. KESHEO PRASAD. 5 Pat. L. T. Supp. 1: A. I. R. 1925 Pat. 68.

——S. 25—Debt due by joint Hindu family—Division into three parts—Acknowledgment by members, Lim. Act, S. 19—Distinction between.

There is a difference between acknowledgment sufficient for Lim. Act, S. 19 and Contract Act, S. 25. In order to create a new contract as required by the latter, the promise to pay must be expressed. A debt due by a joint Hindu family was divided into three equal parts and each of three branches acknowledged severally to pay each portion. Held, a new contract might be implied from the terms of the acknowledgment, apart from the terms of S. 25. (Das and Ross, JJ.) RAM BAHADUR SINGH v. DAMODAR PRASAD SINGH. 6 Pat.L J. 121 : 60 I.C. 514 : 2 Pat. L. T. 308.

——S. 25—Good consideration.

Relinquishment by a party of his counter-claims is a good consideration for the withdrawal by the plaintiff of his claim. (Raymond, A. J. C.) FIRM MAYADAS LUKHMICHAND v. FIRM BHAGWANDAS PARMANAND. 76 I. C. 359: A. I. R. 1924 Sind 41.

——Ss. 25 (2) and 11—Minor—Benefit done to—Promise to pay after majority.

An agreement by a person to compensate a promisee who had already done something to him even while he was a minor, falls within S. 25 (2) and is binding on the promiser. (Abdul Raoof and Moti Sagar, JJ.) RAM RATTAN v. BASANT RAI. 2 Lah. 263: 64 I. C. 121 : 3 Lah. L. J. 563.

——S. 25 (2)—Voluntary promise.

The plaints only alleged that according to a village custom subscriptions are realised from persons of the caste of the plaintiff and defendants for conducting a festival, and it was alleged that it was in consequence of any prior agreement by these defendants that plaintiff incurred obligations. And it was also neither alleged nor proved that there was any promise by defendants to compensate plaintiff for something which plaintiff had already voluntarily done for the petitioners. Held, the promise by the defendants to pay was purely voluntary, for no legal consideration, and payment is not therefore enforceable in law as payment of money due under a contract. (Wallace, J.) KOSALAI RAMU PILLAI v. PULASTHIAM PILLAI. (1923) M. W. N. 86: 17 L. W. 321 : 72 I. C. 774 : A. I. R. 1923 Mad. 330.

——S. 25 (3)—Debt barred by time—Acknowledgment deed—Hindu Law.

According to the Hindu Law as well as under S. 25 (3) Contract Act, the execution of bonds by the father in exchange of time-barred debts is binding on the son. (Gokul Prasad and Stuart, JJ.) RAM KISHEN RAI v. CHHEDI RAI. 44 A. 628: 68 I. C. 235 : 20 A. L. J. 577 : A. I. R. 1922 All. 402.

CONTRACT ACT (IX OF 1872), S. 25.

———S. 25 (3)—Accounts—Barred items—Balance promised to be paid—Signature—Effect of.

The words "The balance of the old account has to be paid" entered at the commencement of a fresh account, opened after the previous one has been checked and signed, constitute an agreement within the meaning of S. 25 (3) of the Contract Act and is enforceable. (Ryves and Gokul Prasad, JJ.) BENAYAK PRASAD PANDEY v. BISHEN DUTT PATHAK. L. R. 3 A. 308.

———S. 25 (3)—Scope of—If includes judgment debt.

A judgment debt comes under the meaning of S. 25 (3). (Newbould and Rankin, JJ.) IBRAHIM MULLICK v. LALIT MOHAN ROY. 50 Cal. 974 : 28 C. W. N. 322: 79 I. C. 489 : A. I. R. 1924 Ca . 388.

———S. 25 (3)—Written promise to pay a barred debt under—Suit on.

A suit on a written promise to pay a barred debt under S. 25 (3) of the Contract Act lies as it is a contract. 23 Mad. 94 foll. (Abdul Raoof and Campbell, JJ.) DAVID SUTHERLAND CLARK v. ROSE GRIMSHAW. 73 I. C. 652 : A. I. R. 1923 Lah. 481.

———S. 25 (3)—Joint Hindu family—Debt by Manager—Promissory note by junior members—Validity.

A debt contracted by the Manager of a joint Hindu family for a joint family purpose is a debt due by the other members of the family within the meaning of S. 25 (3) of the Act and a promissory note executed by the latter, undertaking to pay such debt after it had become barred, is valid and binding on them. (Kumaraswami Sastri, Krishnan, and Odgers, JJ. dissenting.) RAMA PATTAR v. VISWANATHA PATTAR. 66 I. C 155: 45 Mad. 345: 15 L. W. 130 : (1922) M. W. N. 27: 30 M. L. T. 209 : A. I. R. 1922 Mad. 23 : 41 M. L. J. 567.

———S. 25 (3)—Debt of Guardian—Minor agreeing to pay.

S. 25 (3) applies to the case of a minor executing a promise in writing to pay a debt of his guardian. (Batten, A. J. C.) NANDRAM v. RANCHHODDAS. 5 N. L. J. 178: 65 I. C. 716 : A. I. R. 1922 Nag. 250.

———S. 27—'Good will'—Sale of—Construction of documents.

Under an agreement called the kisti bandi bond, executed by an owner of a ferry boat on a river, in favour of another person having a ferry boat on the same river, the former purported to buy from the latter the goodwill of his trade in plying the ferry boats and every description of interest and ownership which the latter had acquired in several river landing places for plying the boats as well as the settlement obtained for the collection of tolls. The price was to be paid by instalments and if default was made in payment of any instalment the entirety was to become due at once. No question of title was to be raised by the buyer of the goodwill. In addition to the transfer of good will, there was an agreement or kobala executed about the same debt by the person selling the goodwill in favour of the buyer purporting to transfer the rights of the former, in the landing places and settlements and in the goodwills of the business and plying the ferry boats, in consideration of the price promised to be paid under the first document. The transferee was to be able to enjoy and possess these rights by exercising whatever rights the transferor had in them and the latter undertook to close the business of plying further ferry-boats and promised to return the whole amount, if he ever carried on the business again. The buyer made a default in paying instalments and a suit was brought by the seller. The other side contended that the agreement was in restraint of trade and therefore was void. Held that as the documents showed it amounted to a sale of good will and therefore was valid. (Viscount Haldane.) CHANDRA KANTA DAS v. SARASULLAH MULLICK. 26 C. W. N. 345 : 3 U. P. L. R. (P. C.) 92 : 48 C. 1030 : 24 Bom. L. R. 602 : 48 I. A. 508 : 30 M. L. T. 115 · 65 I. C. 271 : A. I. R. 1922 P. C. 167 : 47 M. L. J. 657 (P.C.).

CONTRACT ACT (IX OF 1872), S. 28.

———S. 27—Contract in restraint of trade is void.

Contracts in restraint of trade whether partial or total is void under S. 27 of the Contract Act. Where the plaintiffs entered into an agreement with the defendant to the effect that the former would sell beef for 14 days in the month and the latter for 16 days and that each party should sell goat's flesh for 15 days only in the month. Held, the contract is void and unenforceable under S. 27 of the Contract Act. (Brown, A. J. C.) MOHAMMED v. ONA MOHAMED. 4 U. B. R. 110 : 70 I. C. 881 : 1 Bur. L. J. 72 : A. I. R 1922 U. B. 9 (2).

———S. 27—Contract of personal service—Provision against service elsewhere.

Where a contract of personal service for a specified period contains a stipulation prohibiting the servant from serving a third party during that period, the stipulation is valid and does not offend S. 27 of the Contract Act. (Robirson, C. J. and Heald, J.) INDO-BURMA OIL FIELDS, LTD. v. BURMA OIL COMPANY, LTD. 64 I. C. 794 : 11 L. B. R. 26.

———S. 28—Insurance policy.

Clause cutting down period of limitation for suit is enforceable. (Greaves and Buckland, JJ.) GIRIDHARILAL HANUMANBUX v EAGLE STAR AND BRITISH DOMINIONS INSURANCE CO., LTD. 27 C.W N. 955 : A. I. R. 1924 Cal. 186.

———S. 28—Where two Courts have jurisdiction to try a suit, an agreement restraining a party to sue the other in one of them particularly, is not in absolute restraint of legal proceedings and must be given effect to.

Where there are two Courts both of which would normally have jurisdiction to try the suit, the parties may be allowed to agree among themselves that a suit should be brought in one of those Courts and not in the other. Such an agreement does not contravene the provision of S. 28 because the plaintiff is not thereby restricted absolutely from enforcing his rights under or in respect of the contract by the usual legal proceedings in the ordinary tribunals, as the restriction is only partial ; 1 Agra. 129, Dist. (Madhavan Nair, J.) ACHRAPLAL KESAVLAL v. VIJAYAM & CO. 22 L. W. 70 : 90 I. C. 1019 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 1145 : 49 M. L. J. 189.

———S. 28—Contract by plaintiffs to purchase—Readiness to deliver goods intimated to plaintiffs by defendants though defendants were not in actual possession of the goods—Plaintiffs keeping silent—Plaintiffs cannot recover advance money, where defendant's claim for damages exceeds the advance.

Plaintiffs agreed to purchase 50 bales from defendants. Defendants offered to deliver the goods to plaintiffs though they had not taken delivery from their own vendors. Plaintiffs did not reply though repeatedly asked to take delivery. In a suit by plaintiffs to recover the advance paid, Held, that by refusing to accept the goods plaintiff committed a breach of contract and that the defendants rightly treated the contract as at an end. The fact that the defendants had not taken actual delivery of the bales of yarn from their own sellers did not vitiate their tender to the plaintiffs, and the plaintiffs were not entitled to any refund of the advance, because, defendants' claim for damages exceeded the advance. Appeal No. 150 of 1922. Foll. 19 L.W. 654 Diss. from. (Phillips and Krishnan, JJ.) L. N. LAKSHMANA AIYAR v. RAMALINGA MUDALIAR.

CONTRACT ACT (IX OF 1872), S. 28.

A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 888 : 48 M. L. J. 522.

——S. 28—Restraint on execution is void.

An agreement between a transferor and a transferee that the transferee shall not in any way enforce his rights under the transfer. e. g., execute or intervene in execution is void under S. 28 of the Contract Act. (Wallis, C.J., Spencer and Kumaraswami Sastri, JJ.) MUTHIAH CHETTIAR v. GOVINDDOSS KRISHNADOSS. 44 Mad. 919 : 14 L. W. 287 : 69 I. C. 337 : (1921) M. W. N. 6.9 41 M. L. J. 316 (F. B.).

——S. 28—Agreement—Promise not to prosecute—Consideration—Validity.

Where the consideration for an agreement is a promise not to prosecute for an offence which is not compoundable, the agreement is not enforceable by law, but this limitation to freedom of contract should only be enforced, where it is quite clear that the considera tion for the agreement was such an illegal promise. When on a mere threat to prosecute or an apprehension that prosecution would take place, an agreement has been come to, this threat or apppprehension is not sufficient to vitiate the agreement. The distinction between the motive for coming to an agreement and the actual consideration for the agreement must be kept carefully in view and this care must be particularly exercised in a case where there is a civil liability already existing which is discharged or remitted by the agreement". (Das and Adami, JJ.) ADHIKANDA v. JOGI SAHU. 1 P. 164 : A. I. R. 1922 Pat. 502.

——S. 28—Insurance policy—Condition limiting period of time for enforcing claim—Validity of.

A clause in a policy of insurance that if a claim is made and rejected, and an action or suit be not commenced within three months after such rejection, all benefit under the policy would be forfeited, is not void under S. 28, Contract Act. S. 28 applies only to the loss of remedy, while the condition in the policy refers to the extinction of a right. (Robinson, C. J. and Maung Ba, J.) RAINEY v. BURMA FIRE AND MARINE INSURANCE COY., LTD 3 Rang. 383 : 3 Bur. L.J. 104 · 82 I. C. 814 : A.I.R. 1924 Rang. 351.

——S. 29—If enforceable against representatives of parties—No time fixed for performance—Effect.

A compromise decree was passed in a partition suit under which a pre-emption right was reserved in favour of one party in case of sale by the other. The latter died and his heir sold the estate, whereupon a right of pre-emption was claimed. Held, by Lindsay, J. the contract was enforceable against purchasers with notice. (Lindsay and Sulaiman, JJ.) MIRZA MAHOMED JAN v. SHAIKH FAZALUDDIN.

46 All. 514 : 22 A. L. J. 400 : L. R. 5 A. (Civ.) 761 : A. I. R. 1924 All. 657.

——S. 29—Document capable of two meanings.

Where a document is capable of two contrary interpretations and practically incapable of interpretation at all, and therefore it is not possible for the Court to allow the document to be enforced, it is void for uncertainty within S. 29. (Findlay, A. J. C.) GOPAL RAO v. GANA. 63 I. C. 48 : 4 N. L. J 67.

——S. 30—Plaintiff alleging agency—Clear proof that plaintiff acted as agent between the defendant and third parties is necessary.

The plaintiff sued the defendant on a balance of account on a series of transactions of the sale and purchase alleged to have been effected by the defendant through the plaintiff. The transactions were admitted wagering transactions. Held, that before the applicability of the rule that though wagering transactions are void in themselves the collateral liabilities between the plaintiff as agent and defendant as principal are unaffected has to be considered, it must be clear that the plaintiff was not acting for himself as principal and with the defendant as the other principal but was acting merely as agent between the defendant as one principal and the plaintiff as agent and one or more other principals, as third parties and that where the plaintiff had failed to establish a ingle instance of dealings with any other party than the defendant in regard to the transactions of the subject-matter of the suit, it followed that the plaintiff must himself have been a principal and not an agent. (Boys, J.) FIRM HIRALAL UMRAO SINGH v FIRM SRI RAM BRIJ MOHAN LAL. L. R. 5 A. Civ. 642 : 86 I. C. 656 : A. I. R. 1925 All. 102.

CONTRACT ACT (IX OF 1872), S. 30.

——S. 30—Collateral contracts—If enforceable.

Even in the case of wagering contracts, S. 30 of the Contract Act does not prevent a person who is employed as agent in connection with them, from recovering sums due to him by his principal. (Lindsay and Daniels, JJ.) BIDHI CHAND v. KACHHU MAL.

45 A. 503 : 73 I. C. 477 : A. I. R. 1923 All. 558.

——S. 30—Wager—Speculative contract—Contract to supply goods at a future date.

A contract for the supply of goods at a future date at fixed prices, though speculative, is not a wager and a suit for damages for its breach would be maintainable. 42 B. 373 Ref. (Ryves and Daniels, JJ.) FIRM OF HAZARI LAL v. FIRM OF KESHO DAS.

L. R. 4 A. 119 : 21 A. L. J. 153 : A. I. R. 1923 All. 273.

——S. 30—Wagering contract—Intention.

To determine whether a contract is one of wager it must be seen whether the parties intend to take delivery and whether the parties are dealing with actual commodities that they are handling or expecting to handle or agreeing to settle an account according to fluctuation in prices of commodities in which they do not have and cannot expect to have any real title. When persons, in a position to carry out a contract and expected to be in that position at the time of performance, contract to receive or deliver goods at a future date, such contracts are not necessarily wagering contracts because there is an element of speculation in them, even if the contracts provide for the alternative of receiving or paying on differences instead of for actual delivery. (Gokul Prasad and Stuart, JJ.) SRINIVAS v. RAMDEO. 43 All. 585 : 64 I.C. 65 : 19 A. L. J. 522 : A. I. R. 1922 All. 360.

——S. 30—Wager—Agreement to pay differences—Settlement by cross contract Bombay Act III of 1865, Sec. 1.

A contract for forward delivery wherein neither party intends to give or take delivery and differences only are to be paid or received according to the market rate on the due date, and which is settled by a cross-contract is a wagering contract within S. 1 of Bombay Act III of 1865, though not under S. 30 of the Contract Act. (Macleod, C. J. and Coyajee, J.) JIVANCHAND v. LAXMINARAYAN. 49 Bom. 689 : 27 Bom. L.R. 941: 89 I.C. 885: A. I. R. 192. Bom.511.

——S. 30—Wagering contract—Contract containing stipulation to pay difference between contract price and market price in event of breach of contract by either party—Nature.

The agreement between the plaintiff and the defendant was to the effect that the plaintiff was to sell cotton to the defendant at the rate of 160 rupees per kandi and the plaintiff received ornaments as earnest money. On failure of defendant to take delivery on due date he was to pay the loss in accordance with the then prevailing rate. There was also a stipulation on the part of the plaintiff as follows :—" If the price be above Rs. 150 then I will give you the profits." On the due date the price fell down to Rs. 130 and the defendant did not take delivery. In a suit to recover damages for breach of a contract the defence set up was that the transaction was of a wagering character. Held, that the contract was not a wagering transaction. The fact that the parties had unnecessarily provided for the consequences of a breach namely that if the market price on the due date fell and the purchaser did not take delivery, then he was to pay the loss and that if the market went up and the vendor failed to give delivery then the vendor was to pay the loss did not make difference. (Shah, A. C. J. and Fawcett, J.) BALWANT VISHNU v. MISHRILAL SHIVNARAYAN. 26 B. L. R. 1194 : 85 I. C. 177 : A. I. R. 1925 Bom. 115.

——— S. 30—Wagering Contract—Intention to deal only in differences must be common to both parties.

Where an agent makes contracts on behalf of his principal, with third parties who do not intend to deal only in differences, the contracts are not wagering contracts though between the agent and principal there is an understanding that the agent should manage to see that the principal is not called on to take or give delivery, but merely to pay differences. In order that a transaction may be treated as a wager, it is essential that the common intention of the two parties should be to deal in differences only. Where there is an understanding between a principal and an agent that the latter while making contracts on behalf of his principal, should manage to see that the principal is not required to take or give delivery but only to pay differences, but where the intention of the third parties with whom the agent makes the contracts is not to deal in differences only, there is no wagering contract, as the understanding between the agent and the principal alone is not enough, but the third parties on the one side and the agent and principal on the other must together agree to deal only in differences. (Shah, A. C. J. and Kincaid, J.) MUKUNDCHAND BALIA v. SOBHAGMAL GIANMAL. 26 B. L. R. 1097 : 85 I. C. 613 · A. I. R. 1925 Bom. 79.

——— S. 30—Wagering contract—Intention of parties—Question of fact.

The question whether the contracts between the parties are of a wagering nature is really a question of fact, that is to say, the party disputing that he was liable under the contracts would have to show that at the time the contracts were entered into the parties did not intend to carry on the contracts but agreed to abide by the prices at the due dates, when differences would be received. (Macleod, C. J. and Crump, J.) GANGA DAS v JEKISONDAS. 73 I. C. 1032 : 25 Bom. L. R. 520 : A. I. R. 1923 Bom. 458.

——— S. 30—Tejimundi contracts when void as a wager.

The mere fact that a contract is a teji contract or a mundi contract or a teji mundi contract with double option does not give rise to an inference that it is a wagering contract and therefore void. The question depends on the common intention of the parties and is one of fact. It may be that if a party desires to prove that a particular contract of the above description was a wagering contract, he may be able to do so with slight proof. The mere fact of a contract being a teji mundi contract is not by itself sufficient to take it out of the ordinary rule that the party who pleads that the contract is void as being in the nature of a wager as to prove that fact. 37 B. 264 ; 12 Bom. L. R. 590 : 24 Bom. L. R. 60 Ref. (Shah, A. C. J. and Crump, J.) MANI LAL DHARAMSI v. ALLIBHAI CHAGLA. 24 Bom. L.R. 812 : 68 I.C. 481 : A. I. R. 1922 Bom. 408.

——— S. 30—Wagering contract—Burden of proof— Onus on defendant.

The plaintiff sold two bales of yarn to the defendant, who at a later date re-sold them to the plff. at lower rates. The plaintiff sued to recover the difference between the two bales as damages. The defendant contended that the plaintiff was not entitled to recover, the contract being a wagering one. At the hearing the Court examined both the plaintiff and the defendant, neither of them was cross-examined by the other side. As neither party produced any evidence, the Court decided the suit on the pleadings and statements of parties and dismissed the suit. Held, that the suit should be decreed inasmuch as the defendant has absolutely failed to prove, what he was bound to prove in order to succeed, in his defence, that the suit transactions were of the nature of wagering contracts. If the defendant does not choose to go into the witness box on his own behalf that is a matter for himself to decide. In any ordinary case, however, the Court is entitled to consider that as a point against the defendant. The plaintiff is not bound to issue a summons to the defendant and unless the defendant gives evidence on his own behalf so as to give the plaintiff an opportunity of cross-examining him, then the Court is entitled to infer everything against the defendant (Macleod, C. J. and Shah, J.) RAJMAL RAMNARAYAN v. BUDNASAHEB ABDULSAHEB. 24 Bom. L. R. 115 : 66 I. C. 943 : A. I. R. 1922 Bom. 81.

——— S. 30—Wagering contract—Defence of wager —Onus on defendant to prove that both parties agreed neither to ask for nor to give delivery—Tejimandi transactions.

In the transaction known as teji the buyer of the teji pays the seller a premium or teji over and above the contract price of the commodity or goods. If the market raises the buyer of the teji who is also a buyer of the commodity or goods can ask the seller of the teji to give him the commodity or goods or the value of such commodity or goods at the market rate on the settling day. If the market falls the buyer of the teji merely loses his premium. Teji and vaida transactions are on exactly the same footing and unless it can be positively proved that the parties agreed neither to ask for nor to give delivery, the transactions are not wagering contracts. On 6th January 1919, the plaintiff bought from the defendant twenty-five cases of Japanese camphor at the rate of Rs. 2-12-0 a tin for delivery on the 15th April 1919. He paid the defendant Rs. 125 as teji at the rate of one anna on every Rs. 2-12-0. On 7th February 1919, he further bought for the same delivery one hundred cases of camphor at Rs. 2-13-0 a tin and paid the defendant Rs. 500 as teji at the rate of one anna on every Rs. 2-13-0. On 15th February, he again bought one hundred and fifty cases of camphor for the same delivery at Rs. 2-15-0 a tin and paid the defendant Rs. 750 as teji at the rate of one anna on every Rs. 2-15-0. The price of the camphor rose to Rs. 5-2-0 per tin and the plaintiff wrote to the defendant, on the 14th April 1919, that he would take delivery on the next day. On the 15th of April 1919, he went to the defendant and tendered the contract price and asked for delivery of the camphor. The defendant had no camphor to deliver and he replied to the plaintiff's letter that the plaintiff was not entitled to any delivery as the transactions were wagering and therefore invalid. The plaintiff sued the defendant claiming the difference between the rate at which he bought the camphor and its price on the settling day. Held, that, as the defendant had failed to prove that there was an agreement or understanding between him and the plaintiff that in case the market rose the plaintiff should not require the defendant to deliver to him any camphor the transactions were not wagering contracts. The transactions known as teji mandi, teji and mandi explained and discussed. (Kincaid, J.) MANUBHAI PREMANAND v. KESHAVJI RAMDAS.

24 Bom. L. R. 60 : 65 I. C. 682 : A. I. R. 1922 Bom. 66

——S. 30—Pakka adatia—Wagering contract—Relation between Pakka adatia and principal and third persons.

A contract between Pakka adatia and an ordinary broker cannot be a wagering contract and the adatia must win unless the constituent can bring within Bombay Act III of 1865. In dealing with third persons the Pakka adatia deals as principal and the constituent has no right to be brought into contract with third parties. Also the transactions between Pakka adatia and third parties have no connection with transactions between constituents and third parties. (Macleod, C.J. and Fawcett, J.) MANALAL RAGHUNATH v. RADHAKISHAN RAMJIVAN.

45 Bom. 386 : 62 I. C. 361 : 22 Bom. L. R. 1018.

——S. 30—Betting transaction—Legality of.

Neither in India nor in England has the Legislature gone so far as to enact in express terms that betting transactions are illegal, but it is clear that both in India and in England the Legislature regards it as undesirable in the public interest that any assistance should be afforded by Courts of law to enforce obligations which have been created in connection with betting or wagering transactions. In India it has expressly been enacted that "agreements by way of wager" are void. Similar provisions obtain in England, but up till 1892 it was not deemed necessary on grounds of public policy in England to include within the ambit of the legislation relating to betting and wagering transactions in which a principal had instructed an agent to back a horse for him. (Page, J.) WALTER MITCHELL v. A. K. TENNENT. 52 Cal. 677 : 90 I. C. 59 : A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 1007.

——S. 30—Wagering contract—Speculation.

A common intention to wager is essential in a contract by way of wager within the meaning of S. 30 of the Act. Speculation does not necessarily involve a contract by way of wager ; whether a contract is speculation or wager is to be determined by the Court. It must look behind the form of the contract to the real intention of the parties gathered from the oral evidence and the transactions between the parties. A Court should scrutinize the evidence of the defendant when he accepts payments when the dealings are successful but pleads wagering contract when the transaction ends in loss. (Mookerjee and Fletcher, JJ.) BISSESWAR v. BASIR ALI. 64 I. C. 809 : 33 C. L. J. 533.

——S. 30—Intention to give and take delivery absent—Contract is one by way of wager.

Where a contract for the purchase of salt from Salt authorities was successively transferred from one to another, every transferee paying the amount of profits as ascertained from the prevailing market price, and it was found that the delivery was obviously likely to be much delayed and the actual date of delivery was doubtful, Held : the contract was one by way of wager. (24 Bom. 227 Foll.) The intention of the parties is to be gathered from the position of the parties and history of dealings. (Abdul Raoof, J.) FIRM GURDAS MAL-RAM LAL v. RAM LAL.

7 Lah. L. J. 402 : A. I. R. 1925 Lah. 564.

——Ss. 30 and 222—Commission agent—Wagering contract—Indemnity.

Where an agent enters into a wagering contract he cannot claim to be indemnified by the principal for losses incurred thereby. In the case of a commission agent the onus is on him to show that he entered into the contract as agent and not principal. (Martineau, J.) SHIB LAL RAM LAL v. HARI RAM CHHADAMILAL. 67 I. C. 959 : A. I. R. 1922 Lah. 408.

——Ss. 30 and 65—Chit transaction—When a lottery.

Where in a chit transaction, 500 persons undertook to subscribe each Rs. 2 a month and there were to be 50 drawings one in each month and the winner at each drawing was to get Rs. 100 and cease to be liable for the rest of the subscriptions for subsequent months and the 450 persons were to get their subscriptions without interest after the end of the 50 months, held, that the transaction was a wagering contract under section 30 of the Contract Act and a lottery and consequently a subscriber was not entitled to get back his subscription from the stake-holder even though it was provided by the rules of the chit transaction. (Spencer and Madhavan Nair, JJ.) VEERANAN AMBALAM v. AYYACHI AMBALAM.

(1925) M.W.N. 857 : 22 L. W. 772 : 49 M. L. J. 791.

——S. 30—Wagering contract—Breach—Suit for damages does not lie.

A suit for damages for breach of a wagering contract cannot be brought. (Venkatasubba Rao and Jackson, JJ.) CHINGARAVELU & SONS. v. VENKANNA & SONS. 86 I. C. 299 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 971 : 49 M. L. J. 300.

——S. 30—Wager or lottery—Chit transaction—Promissory note executed by one stake-holder to another for sums due under the chit—Suit on—Maintainability.

In a chit transaction, there were 500 subscribers each of whom subscribed 1 Rupee per month. The transaction was to close after 50 months. At the end of every month there was a drawing by lot and the subscriber who won at the drawing was paid Rs. 50 and his connection with the transaction forthwith ceased. At the close of the 50th month each of the remaining subscribers was paid Rs. 50 and the stake-holders divided the profits. The plaintiff and defendants were stake-holders and on settlement of accounts a certain amount was found due to the plaintiff by the defendants and a promissory note was executed for the same. Held, that the chit fund did not amount to a lottery and the suit on the pro-note was maintainable. (Ramesam and Venkatasubba Rao, JJ.) SHUNMUGA MUDALI v. KUMARASAMI MUDALI.

(1925) M. W. N. 655 : 48 M. 661 : 90 I. C. 420 : 21 L. W. 403 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 870.

——S. 30—Where both parties are members of Stock Exchange, onus of proving transaction to be wagering one is on defendant.

Where the plaintiff and the defendant are both members of the Stock Exchange, the onus of proving that there was a mutual understanding that shares should not be delivered lies upon the defendant, who asserts the same. When, as here, both parties themselves are stock-brokers, that onus is greatly increased. (Spencer, O.C.J. and Beasley, J.) G. SIRUR v. A. M. BHAMIA. 20 L. W. 971 : 85 I. C. 410 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 330.

——S. 30—Chit fund with arrangement for payment of prize every month by casting lots, illegal as lottery.

CONTRACT ACT (IX OF 1872), S. 30.

Contract Act, S. 65. Held by Krishnan, and Odgers, JJ. dissenting that as the prize arrangement was severable from the rest of the contract, money paid could be sued for by way of refund.

A chit fund was carried on by the defendant. There were five hundred subscribers, each paying one rupee per mensem. The period of the chit fund was to be fifty months and every month two prizes were to be drawn by lot of Rs. 25 each would at once be paid to any subscriber who won the prize and afterwards he had only to pay eight annas a month. While if he won a second prize he would be given another Rs. 25 and thereafter his subscriptions would cease and his name would no longer be included in drawing the prize. When the fifty months were over all the subscribers who had won no prize would be paid back the whole of the money they had subscribed. Held, the arrangement was a lottery. In the above case the chit was discontinued by the stakeholder after 27 months. Thereupon a subscriber filed a suit against him for refund of the subscriptions he had paid. Held Per Krishnan, J. (Odgers, J. dissenting) that the main contract was to pay the total amount of subscriptions paid. The arrangement to give prizes was only a collateral one serving as an inducement to join the chit and it was severable from the main object of the fund and its illegality did not affect the main object of the fund. Hence the suit for refund was maintainable. (1919) M. W. N. 570, Not Foll. Per Odgers, J.—The subscriber was not entitled to recover the amounts paid inasmuch as a material part of the illegal purpose had been carried out and as both the plaintiff and the defendant were in pari delicto and there was no ground for holding they were not Potir est Conditio Possidentis. As the contract was illegal from the beginning it was not also a case where S. 65 of the Contract Act would apply. (Krishnan and Odgers, JJ.) NAGAPPA PILLAI v. ARUNACHALAM CHETTY.

47 M. L. J. 876 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 281.

——— S. 30—Sale of goods—No delivery contemplated—Wagering.

A transaction which is a sale of goods does not become a wagering agreement merely because both parties do not contemplate that delivery is likely to be demanded. A definite agreement that delivery cannot in any event be demanded without a breach of the understanding between the parties constitutes a gaming or wagering contract. (Coutts Trotter, J.) SUKDEVADOSS RAMPRASAD v. GOBINDOSS CHATURBHUJDOSS. 18 L. W. 911 : 76 I. C. 893 : 33 M. L. T. (H. C.) 223 : 1924 M. W. N. 133 : A. I. R. 1924 Mad. 378 : 45 M. L. J. 716.

——— S. 30—Wagering contract—Suit on—What defendant has to prove.

In a suit on a contract which defendant alleges to be by way of wager, it is not sufficient for the defendant to show that neither party intended or contemplated that there should be any delivery of goods. He has to show further that there was an agreement that neither party should make or demand delivery. Where both parties took pains to create evidence to clothe the transaction with the appearance of a valid contract, much stronger evidence than was created is necessary to rebut its effect. (Hallifax, A. J. C.) KUNDAN LAL v. QADIR AHMED ALI.

A. I. R. 1924 Nag. 290.

——— S. 30—Contract to pay differences is wagering contract.

Where the parties never intended to deliver the goods but only meant to pay differences and that was the understanding between the parties, Held, that the contracts between the parties were wagering. (Kotval, A. J. C.) HARNARAYAN JODH RAJ v. RADHAKISAN CHANDRABHAN. 75 I. C. 906 : A. I. R. 1923 Nag. 324.

——— S. 30—Wagering contract—Essentials of—Sale of a crop.

The essence of gaming and wagering is that one party to win and the other to lose on a future event, which at the time of the contract, is of an uncertain nature, that is to say, if the event turns out one way he will lose, but if it turns the other way he will win. Richards v. Storck (1911) 1 K. B. 296 foll. The sale of a growing crop for cash is not gaming or wagering though the consideration is to be paid in kind out of the proceeds of the harvest. (Macnair, A. J. C.) VITHOBA v. SITARAM. 19 N. L. R. 21 : 65 I. C. 324 : A. I. R. 1923 Nag 291.

——— S. 30—Scope of—Collateral transaction—Copartner—Right of re-imbursement.

S. 30 of the Contract Act does not affect agreements or transactions collateral to wagers. Where two partners enter into a contract, even assuming it to be one of a wagering nature, and one of them satisfies the whole liability under the contract, he has a right of reimbursement against the other. (Prideaux, A.J.C.) MOHAMMAD GULAM MUSTAFA v. PADAMSI.

69 I. C. 186 : A. I. R. 1923 Nag. 48.

——— S. 30—Wagering contract—Speculative contract—Distinction between.

A contract may be unenforceable, if it only amounts to a wager on the rise or fall of the market, and it is not accompanied by an intention to sell or to purchase goods, at a given time and place at a certain rate. To some extent, speculation forms an element in many transactions relating to the sale and delivery of goods at a certain rate, and because the market-rate for those goods may be liable to fluctuation ; but the existence of such an element does not make the contract void, because it may yet be accompanied by a real desire on the part of the vendor to sell and the buyer to purchase the goods agreed to be sold, at the contracted rate. Where such an intention exists, the contract is not a wagering contract and can be enforced. (Kanhaiya Lal, J. C.) NARAYAN DAS v. MAHESHI LAL. 9 O. & A. L. R. 538 : 9 O. & A.L.R. 567: 73 I.C. 309 : A.I.R. 1924 Oudh 186.

——— S. 30—Wagering contract—What amounts to.

Where the plaintiff expects that the goods would be delivered to him and he enters into the contract with that expectation, and also in the hope of making some profit upon the difference in price, Held : the defendants might or might not have intended to deliver the goods, but that would not make the contract as a contract of wager. In order to bring a contract under S. 30 of the Contract Act it is necessary to show that both parties intended that no delivery or acceptance shall take place and agreed that the mere difference between the price at the time of the bargain and the price at some later time shall be paid ; but if only one of the parties intends that no delivery shall take place the contract is not vitiated. Speculation does not necessarily involve a contract by way of wager and to constitute such a contract a common intention to wager is essential. 44 Bom. 373 followed and referred to. (Juala Prasad, J.) SANEHIRAM BAIJNATH v. SURAJMAL MARWARI. 69 I. C. 769 : A. I. R. 1922 Pat. 220.

——— S. 30—Wagering contracts—Plaintiff entering into wagering contract on defendant's behalf as agent—Plaintiff is entitled to his commission.

Where a plaintiff, on behalf of a defendant, (a) limited liability company represented by a manager) enters into gambling transaction with third parties, the defendant is nevertheless bound to make good the losses incurred in those transactions to the plaintiff and pay the commission claimed. (Robinson, C. J. and Brown, J.) ALLY MOOLA INDUSTRIAL CORPORATION, LTD. v. M. A. ESMALI.

CONTRACT ACT (IX OF 1872), S. 30.

4 Bur. L J. 131 : A. I. R. 1925 Rang. 284.

——S. 30—Wagering contract— All speculative contracts are not necessarily wagering—Intention to treat them as wagering must be present.

The fact that forward contracts are made in the rice trade is not one which of itself indicates anything at all. No doubt, such contracts must, in the nature of things, be speculative to a large extent. But the fact that they are speculative does not render them wagering contracts, and there can be no wagering contract where there is not an intention common to both parties that the dealing should be by way of wager or gambling in differences 42 Bom. 373 (P. C.) Foll. (Robinson, C. J. and Brown. J.) ALLY MOOLA INDUSTRIAL CORPORATION LTD. v. M. P. ESMAIL

4 Bur. L. J. 131 : A. I. R. 1925 Rang. 284.

——S. 30—Wagering contract—Intention of parties.

To constitute wagering contracts, the intention of both contracting parties at the time of entering into the contracts must be not to call for or give delivery from and to each other under any circumstances. (Roymond, A. J. C.) FIRM OF KIRPALDAS v. FIRM OF GAJANMAL. 70 I. C. 864 : 15 S. L. R. 5.

——S. 30—Common intention—Onus of proof.

Where a plea of wager is set up in defence, the onus of proof is on defendant ; and he has to prove that the common intention of the parties was to pay by way of difference and not by way of delivery. The question of common intention is one of fact in every case. (Kennedy, J. C. and Madgaonkar, A. J. C.) RADHOMAL KESHOWDAS v. HOLOMAL KESUMAL.

66 I. C. 489 : 15 S. L. R. 193.

——S. 30—Wagering contract—Broker incurring losses—Presumption—Burden of proof.

In a wagering contract, a common intention between the principal and broker to wager is essential and the burden of proving it is on the principal. Where the broker is entitled to commission and any losses incurred, which he has paid, the transaction is not a wager. (Fawcett, J. C. and Kennedy, A. J. C.) DWARKOMAL v. HARCHUMAL. 60 I. C. 944 : 14 S. L. R. 227.

——Ss. 31, 32, 33 and 34—Contract to purchase shares on condition of being made sole agent of Company—Company going into liquidation before appointing purchaser sole agent—Latter is not liable as contributory.

The agreement was that R would become a member of a sugar manufacturing Company by purchase of shares in case he was appointed the sole agent of the Company for sale of sugar at a certain centre. The Company was not manufacturing any sugar at the time of the agreement. The terms of the agency were not settled when R signed the application for shares. The Company either declined or failed to appoint R their sole agent at the said centre, and later went into liquidation. Held ; that there was nothing in law to prevent the Company from appointing R their sole agent by settling the terms although sugar was not being manufactured at the time and the agreement on the part of R to become a member of the Company was contingent, i. e., dependent for its validity and enforcement on the condition of the Company appointing him their sole agent, and as the Company either declined or failed and later made it impossible to appoint R their sole agent, R was not liable to contribute towards the liquidation. (Mukerjee, J.) JAUNPUR SUGAR FACTORY LTD, In re. 23 A. L. J. 608 : L. R. 6 A. Civ. 472 : 89 I. C. 438 : A. I. R. 1925 All. 658.

CONTRACT ACT (IX OF 1872), S. 38.

——S. 33—Agreement to sell goods and claim difference if not accepted—Condition subsequent.

The provisions of clause 3 of the indent form are : Any claim or dispute arising in connection with this contract including claims of dispute in connection with "non-delivery" these words are decisive. It seems that the provisions of clause 3 do no more than authorise the importers to take certain action in certain event without thereby shutting them out to any other remedy lawfully opened to them. The condition is what is known as condition subsequent. The question was one for the determination of the arbitrators (or umpire) whose decision is final and binding on both parties. The umpire, therefore, was within his jurisdiction in interpreting the terms of the contract, and in deciding that the plaintiff firm could support a claim for damages apart from the special provisions of Cl. 3. (Piggott and Walsh, JJ.) SHUSHIL CHANDRA DAS v. SUKHAMAL BANSILDHAR. 20 A. L. J. 377 : 44 All. 472 : A. I. R. 1922 All. 219.

——Ss. 37 and 38.

Where payee does not agree to accept payment to third party as equivalent to payment to himself there is no proper tender. (36 All. 139 ; 42 All. 420, Foll.) (Harrison, J.) KESHO RAM v. THAKUR DAS.

78 I. C. 80 : A. I. R. 1925 Lah. 180 (2).

——S. 38—Tender.

The practice of the Courts is not to require a party to make a formal tender wherefrom the facts stated or from the evidence, it appears the tender would have been a mere form and that the party to whom it was made would have refused to accept the money. (Lord Buckmaster.) VENKATARAYANIM v. SUBADRAYAMMA. 46 Mad. 108 : 50 I. A. 41 : 32 M. L. T. 70 : 17 L. W. 383 : 25 Bom. L. R. 541 : 38 C. L. J, 34 : 28 C. W. N. 25 : A. I. R. 1923 P. C. 26 (P. C.) : 44 M. L. J. 631.

——S. 38—Tender with condition is not valid.

If the tender is accompanied by a condition which prevented its being a perfect and complete tender, the other parties are under no obligation to accept it ; it follows therefore that that cannot be regarded as the equivalent of payment. (Lord Buckmaster.) NARAIN DAS v. ABINASH CHANDAR. : L. R. 3 P. C. 129 : 31 M. L. T. 217 : 16 L. W. 780 : (1922) M.W.N. 791 : 27 C. W. N. 299 : 21 A. L. J. 201 : 37 C. L.J. 457 : 69 I. C. 273 : 4 U. P. L. R. (P. C.) 111 : A. I. R. 1922 P. C. 347 (P. C.) : 44 M. L. J. 728.

——S. 38—Money order to both—Acceptance by one absolves debtor.

Acceptance by one of joint promises absolves debtor from liability to the other where postal money order is addressed to both. (Daniels, J.) BHOLA NATH v. RAM SAHAI. A. I. R. 1923 All. 465 (2).

——S. 38—Tender—Debtor and creditor—Tender of a portion of the debt—Conditions attached to tender.

A debtor when tendering to a creditor really part of his debt, not the entire debt, and asking him to take that in full satisfaction of the debt, it is clear law that the creditor is entitled to refuse to accept the tender, because otherwise he would virtually preclude himself from saying that he had not been paid the full amount due. If you go and attach your offer to pay a debt the condition that the creditor must accept it as full satisfaction although really it is not the whole amount due, you attach a condition to your offer and the creditor is entitled to reject it. (Fawcett

CONTRACT ACT (IX OF 1872), S. 38.

J.) NADERSHAW v. SHIRINBAI.
25 Bom. L. R 839 : A. I. R. 1924 Bom. 264.

——S. 38—Tender—Validity of—Portion of debt—Acceptance by creditor—Effect of.

A creditor is not bound to accept less than his whole debt, and there can be no valid tender of part of an entire and indivisible debt. But there is nothing to prevent the creditor from accepting the amount tendered in part payment, and his doing so will not preclude him from afterwards claiming the residue of his account, provided that the debtor did not make it a condition of his tender that it be accepted in discharge of the whole. A tender must be unconditional or, at all events, free from any condition to which the creditor may rightfully object. (Mukerjee and Rankin JJ.) BEHARI LAL BISWAS v. NASMUNNISSA BIBI.
37 C. L. J. 222 : A. I. R. 1923 Cal. 527.

——S. 38—Breach of contract—Plaintiffs willing to do their part—Defendant keeping silent—Defendants were held liable.

Where plaintiff (vendors) were ready and willing to supply goods as per defendant's order but the defendants, after having received a part of the goods and complaining that they were not of the description, kept silent and thus refused to take the remainder though the plaintiffs intimated their willingness to set right the defect if any were found. Held : that the defendants were liable in damages for breach of contract. (Ramesam and Reilly, JJ.) RAYULU AIYAR v. KUPPU AYYAR & SONS. 21 L. W. 503 :
A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 974 : 49 M. L. J. 1.

——S. 38—Physical possession of goods is unnecessary for seller to be held ready to deliver.

In order to be considered to be ready and willing to deliver, a seller need not be in physical possession of the goods. (Venkatasubba Rao and Jackson, JJ.) SINGARAVELU & SONS v. VENKANNA & SONS.
86 I.C. 299 : A.I.R. 1925 Mad. 971 : 49 M.L.J. 300.

——S. 38—Tender ; when not good.

The tender of goods priced higher than at the contract price cannot be a performance of the contract. (L. R., 2 A. C. 455.) Followed. (Wallis, C. J. and Ramesam, J.) SIVARAMA AYYAR v. SUBBA AYYAR.
15 L. W. 92 : A. I. R. 1922 Mad. 28.

——S. 38—Contract of sale with condition of repurchase—Actual production of cash only is strict compliance but conduct of vendee may dispense with strict compliance—T. P. Act, S. 59.

The strict compliance which is necessary in the contracts of repurchase would be the production by the plaintiff of the sum of consideration and the conduct of a creditor may amount to a dispensation with the literal compliance of the condition contained in the contract. (Dalal and Wazir Hasan, A. J. Cs.) SUMESHAR DATT SINGH v. KAMTA SINGH.
2 O.W.N. 386: 12 O. L. J. 534 : A.I.R. 1925 Oudh 533.

——S. 38—Applies to mortgages.

A tender to be valid must be a tender of the whole amount due and not of a part only and there is nothing to prevent this general law as to tenders applying to payments decreed in respect of a mortgage. (Ashworth, J. C. and Simpson, A. J. C.) NAWAB MIRZA FAGHFUR MIRZA v. KHUSHAL CHAND.
26 O. C. 59 : 74 I. C. 246 : A. I. R. 1923 Oudh 241.

——S. 38—Applicability—Joint principals—Liability of agent to amount.

The liability of an agent to account to two principals who jointly appointed him is not a liability that arises by virtue of a contract between the parties but is a liability that is annexed by law to the office of the agent. S. 38 of the Contract Act does not apply to such a case. (Das and Kulwant Sahay, JJ.) JAGDIP

CONTRACT ACT (IX OF 1872), S. 39.

PRASAD SAHI v. MT. RAJU KUER 2 P. 585 :
4 Pat. L. T. 531 : 75 I. C. 1022 : 1923 P. H. C. C. 177:
A. I. R. 1923 Pat. 464.

——S. 38 (2)—Goods need not be in physical possession of plaintiff.

It is not necessary that a vendor of goods should reduce to his actual physical possession the goods in order to give notice to the vendee to take delivery of them. Delivery is usually given on delivery orders in the trade. (Phillips and Krishnan, JJ.) ARUNACHELLAM CHETTIAR v. KRISHNA AYYAR.
22 L. W. 265 : (1925) M. W. N. 324 : 90 I C. 481 :
A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 1168 : 49 M. L. J. 530.

——S. 38 (3)—Promisor has only to give promisee opportunity to satisfy himself as to the identity of the articles promised to be delivered.

Section 38, Cl. (3) only requires that the promisee must have a reasonable opportunity of seeing that the thing offered is the thing which the promisor is bound by his promise to deliver. The promisor is under no obligation to prove the identity of the thing offered to the promisee's satisfaction. It is the promisee's duty to take the steps necessary to satisfy himself. Promisor has only to give him an opportunity for it. (Phillips and Krishnan, JJ.) ARUNACHELLAM CHETTIAR v. KRISHNA AYYAR. 22 L. W. 265 :
(1925) M. W. N. 324 : 90 I. C. 481 :
A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 1168 : 49 M. L. J. 530.

——S. 39—Repudiation.

Repudiation must be total, absolute and clear. (Mulla, J.) STEEL BROS. & CO. v. DAYAL KHATAV & CO. 47 Bom. 924 : 25 Bom. L. R. 1063 :
A. I. R. 1924 Bom. 247.

——S. 39—Refusal to perform—Right to cancel.

To enable a party to a contract to be relieved from its future performance by the conduct of the other, the conduct must amount to a renunciation or absolute refusal to perform the contract, such as would amount to a revision if he had the power to rescind. Where a party to a contract complains about the delay in carrying out the contract and protest against the other party's right to put an end to it, refusal to perform is not effected. (Sanderson, C. J. and Richardson, J.) BURN & CO. LTD. v. THAKUR SAHEB SREE LUKHDIRJEE. 28 C. W. N. 104 :
83 I. C. 260 : A. I R. 1924 Cal. 427.

——S. 39—Repudiation of contract before time fixed for performance if accepted by the other party terminate the contract—English cases reviewed.

If one party to the contract, by words or by conduct, expresses to the other party an intention not to perform his obligation under the contract when the time arrives for its performance or even before that time, the other may accept or may decline that offer. If he accepts, then by consensus the contract is determined and then the party offering to repudiate cannot turn round and insist on its performance by the other or sue for damages for non-performance—English Cases reveiwed. (Scott Smith and Fforde, JJ.) JHANDOO MAL JAGAN NATH v. PHUL CHAND FATESH CHAND. 5 Lah. 497 : 7 Lah. L. J. 19 :
85 I. C. 118 : A. I. R. 1925 Lah. 217.

——S. 39—Implied repudiation of contract.

The defendants who contracted to purchase 25 bales of yarn from the plaintiff and take delivery of the bales one day after, the plaintiff gave intimation of the arrival of the bales from the mills took delivery only of 3 bales but did not take delivery of 7 bales though notice was given by the plaintiff about their arrival. The plaintiffs treated this action on the part of the defendants as a repudiation of the entire contract and did not give notice of arrival as regards the remaining 15 bales. In a suit by the plaintiff for damages for breach of contract in respect of all the 22 bales, Held, that the plaintiffs were not entitled to treat this conduct on the part of the defendants as a repudiation of the entire contract and were bound to give notice to the defendant that they had the 15 bales ready for delivery or inform them that if they failed to their letter they would treat the whole contract as having been broken by them.

CONTRACT ACT (IX OF 1872), S. 39.

Per Ramesam, J.—Possession of the goods in the godown is not a condition precedent to the plaintiff intimating to the defendants asking them to take delivery of the goods. It is enough if the plaintiff had practically the goods at their disposal in the custody of the mills. (Spencer and Ramesam, JJ.) OBLA K. SUBBIER v. VENKATACHALAPATHI. 1925 M. 129 : (1925) M. W N. 592.

——S. 39—Repudiation what is.

When the defendants talk of refusing to perform but ask for further information and speak of sending a definite answer when it arrives, it does not amount to a clear repudiation. 88 L. J. K. B. 1914. Followed. (Wallis, C. J. and Ramesam, J.) SIVARAM AYYAR v. SABBIER. 15 L. W. 9 : A. I. R. 1922 Mad 28.

——S. 39—Sale of immovable property—Postponement of performance—Rescission by vendor—Damages.

Where under a contract the vendee is required to purchase within a certain date and he defers performance till a litigation between the vendor and a third party, no suit by the vendee in consequence of which the vendor rescinds the contract comes to an end, is maintainable after a long lapse of time for damages for breach of contract. (Wallis, C. J. and Odgers, J.) SURI CHETTY RANGANATHAN CHETTY v. GADALA PARTHASARATHY. 13 L. W. 77 : 29 M. L. T. 67 : 61 I. C. 457 : (1921) M. W. N. 94 : 40 M. L. J 13.

——S. 39—Scope.

The lessor contracted with the lessee to allow him to cut trees from his jungle The lessee at the time of the agreement gave Rs. 25,000 and agreed to pay instalments each quarter but in no case was he to cut trees more than that he had paid for. The rate was Rs. 29 per Bigha. The lessee failed to make any further instalments after the Rs 25,000, when he cut down the 400 bighas 7 biswas and as he had already cut down 598 bighas 12 biswas before the agreement was signed this area plus 400 bighas 7 biswas multiplied by 29 which was the rate per bigha would exceed the Rs. 25,000. Held, as soon as the lessee cut anything in excess of 862 bighas (that is to say Rs. 25,000 divided by 29) he committed a breach of the agreement not to cut anything in excess of the area covered by the Rs. 25,000 and the lessor was entitled to rescind the agreement under section 39. (Lyle and Ashworth, A. J. Cs.) MD. MUMTAZ ALI v. ALTAF-UL-RAHAMAN. 25 O. C. 169 : A. I. R. 1922 Oudh 209.

——S. 43—Suit against several defendants—One defendant only present—Plaintiff and other defendant absent—Suit dismissed for default—Plaintiff can bring fresh suit against absent defendants for whole amount if cause of action be joint and several.

Where on the day fixed for hearing only one of several defendants appears and the plaintiff also fails to appear, and the suit is consequently dismissed for default, the plaintiff can bring a fresh suit on the same cause of action against the absent defendants and can get a decree for the whole amount if the cause of action be joint and several against all defendants. 10 N. L. R. 39 Foll. (Kanhaiya Lal, J.) PARBHU DAYAL v. TRIBHUWAN SINGH. L. R. 6 A. 71 (Rev.) : 85 I. C. 788 ; A. I. R. 1925 All. 425.

CONTRACT ACT (IX OF 1872), S. 43.

——S. 43—Rent suit—Some heirs of deceased tenant not joined—Suit is not bad for non-joinder and is maintainable.

Per Curiam (C.C. Ghose and Mukerjee, JJ. dissenting)—A suit for rent is maintainable against some of the heirs or successors-in-interest of a deceased tenant without bringing all the heirs or successors-in-interest on the record. B. B. Ghose, J.—The heirs of a deceased tenant do not take the tenancy as an entire body forming as it were partnership or a corporation, the individual members of which have no definite interest but they take as tenants-in-common, each having a definite share in the whole which he might deal with in any he pleases.

Mukerjee. J.—When a person obtains a share of a tenure either by assignment or by inheritance he becomes a co-tenant with the other tenant or tenants in the whole tenure, and in so far as the relations between him and his landlord are concerned, he cannot be deemed to hold any estate in severalty. There is no valid reason why tenants-in-common should be in a position as regards liability for rent different from that of joint tenants. On the contrary each of the tenants-in-common has the privity of estate with the landlord in the whole of the land leased. A suit, however, against some of such tenants need not be dismissed on that ground. The Court must proceed under O 1, R. 10 (2). C. P. Code, to make an order for the addition of such of these persons as are not already on the record as defendants, and it is only in the event of the necessary amendments not being made that the suit is liable to be dismissed. Persons who are under a joint liability to pay the rent are necessary parties in a suit for rent, from more points of view than one. They are necessary for determining whether the liability which prima facie joint is also joint and several for protecting the defendant from being made to pay what may have already been paid by others for safeguarding against the eventuality of his being defeated in a suit for contribution as the co-tenant against whom a suit for contribution is brought will not be bound by the result of the earlier suit, for preventing conflicting decisions as to the character and incidents of the same tenancy being arrived in different suits, and for various other reasons. (Walmsley, Greaves, C.C. Ghose, B.B. Ghose and Mukerjee, JJ.) KAILASH CHANDRA MITRA v. BROJENDRA K. CHAKRVARTI. 29 C. W. N. 1000 : 42 C. L. J. 232 : 90 I. C. 211 : A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 1056 (F. B.)

——Ss. 43 and 44—Co-mortgagors—Release of one—Effect.

A release of one of two mortgagors does not release the other. (Mukerjee and Rankin, JJ.) CHAND MALL BABU v. BAN BEHARI BOSE. 50 Cal. 718 : 74 I. C. 1021 : A. I. R. 1924 Cal. 209.

——S 43—Joint tenants—Liability for rent.

Where one of several joint tenants is liable for the whole rent on the death of one of such joint tenants leaving several heirs no question can arise as to whether the liability is joint or several. All the parceners constitute in law one heir. (C. C. Ghose and Panton, JJ.) ABINASH CHANDRA ROY v. FULCHAND CHAUDHURI, 50 Cal. 737 : 74 I. C. 1032 : A. I. R. 1924 Cal. 165.

——S. 43—Rent and cesses—Lessees—Liability of heirs of original lessee.

A suit for rent and cesses was instituted against the heirs of the original lessees without serving some of them by proper notices. Held, that so far as the original lessees were concerned, their liability for rent was, in the absence of a contract to the contrary, joint and several and any one of them could be sued for the entire rent. 11 C. W. N. 1026: 12 C. L. J. 591: 22 C. W. N. 289: 5 Pat. L. J. 32 Rel. A suit for cesses is maintainable against all the heirs of one of the original lessees although the heirs of the other original lessees are not properly made parties. (Chatterjee and Cuming, JJ.) MAHENDRA NATH BOSE v. ABINASH CHANDRA BOSE. 27 C. W. N. 521 : 77 I. C. 364 : A. I. R. 1923 Cal. 615.

CONTRACT ACT (IX OF 1872). S. 43.

——— S. 43—Applicability—Debt due from firm—One of the parties or contributory—Liability to pay.

S. 186 of the Companies Act can be resorted to to recover money from the firm by selecting one of the partners who is a contributory and calling upon him to liquidate the whole debt. The principle of S. 43, Contract Act applies to such a case. (Broadway, J.) GOBIND SINGH v. UNION BANK OF INDIA. 4 Lah. 239 · 77 I. C. 338 : A. I. R. 1924 Lah. 148 (On appeal from A. I. R. 1923 Lah. 85).

——— S.43—Joint vendees—Major and minor—Enforceability.

A contract of sale entered into by a major and minor vendee, in which shares were fixed but not the portion of purchase money to be paid by each, is a joint transaction which can be enforced against the major vendee. (Harrison and Zafar Ali, JJ.) SAIN DAS v. RAM CHAND. 4 Lah. 334 : 5 Lah. L. J. 469 : A. I. R. 1924 Lah. 146.

——— S. 43—Joint judgment-debtors—Decree discharged by one—Contribution.

If a decree is passed jointly against three persons, in the absence of any direction to the contrary, it is obvious that each of them should contribute equally towards the satisfaction of the decree. One of the judgment-debtors alone having paid the whole amount decreed, is entitled to one-third of that amount from each of the joint judgment-debtors, and if nothing can be realised from either of them, he is obviously entitled to get half the total amount from the other. Though S.43, according to which section if any one of two or more joint promissors makes default in such contribution, the remaining joint promissors must bear the loss arising from such default in equal shares, is not directly applicable to such a case, it is obviously founded upon equity and its principles should be applied to the case of joint judgment-debtors. (Scott-Smith, J.) SHAH MUHAMMAD v. MUHAMMAD ROSHAN KHAN. 4 P. W. R. 1922 : 65 I. C. 128 : 31 P. L. R. 1922 : A. I. R. 1922 Lah. 148.

——— S. 43—Payment to joint promisee discharges joint debt.

A payment made to one of two joint mortgagees is a valid discharge of the mortgage liability. But a mere undertaking to pay the amount at some future date is not equivalent to payment. (20 M. 461 : 36 M. 544. Foll.) It is open to the parties to a contract to supersede that contract by another contract. But in order to do so, all the parties to the first contract must be parties to the second contract. (Devadass and Jackson, JJ.) P. RAMASWAMI v. CHANDRA KOTTAYYA. A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 261 : 47 M. L. J. 840.

——— S. 43—Registered Pattadar with limited interest in land paying Government Revenue can recover from other persons having interest.

A registered pattadar of land with a limited interest therein, who pays the whole of the Government assessment is in the position of a co-mortgagor and has a right of contribution as against other persons interested in the land on which the revenue was a charge. (Wallis, C. J. and Krishnan, J.) MUHAMMED KHALI v. ALATHADU MALWA KUNHI RAMA NAIR. 12 L. W. 180 : 59 I. C. 262 : (1920) M. W. N. 477.

CONTRACT ACT (IX OF 1872), S. 45.

——— S. 43—Liability under joint contract—Enforceability—Consideration only to one—Effect.

If an alleged joint contract by A and B is unenforceable against A on the ground that he was not privy to it, or did not sign it, it is not unenforceable against B who has signed it and received consideration under it. (Kinkhede, A. J. C.) SANKOLE v. BADRIDAS. 89 I. C. 977 (2).

——— S. 43—Joint and several liability under decree—Apportionment in execution—Remedy.

Where a decree creates a joint and several liability, the judgment-debtors cannot in executiou claim an apportionment. If executed for the whole against any one his remedy is to sue for contribution. (Mullick and Bucknill, JJ.) SIA SHACHARI PEARI v. RAM KISHORI KUER. 2 Pat 796 : 74 I. C. 867 : A. I. R. 1924 Pat. 262.

——— S. 43—Handnote—Suit against one of two joint promisors is competent.

A suit on a hand-note executed by several persons is not bad simply because one only of the joint promisors has been sued. In such a case each of those liable under the hand-note is liable to the full extent of the loan if not there are some special terms in the contract which in some way limit or restrict their liability, and under the provisions of S. 43 of the Contract Act, the lender is quite competent to sue all or any, as he may choose, of those who have incurred the liability. (Miller, C. J. and Foster, J.) BISHUNNATH SAHAY v. NANKU PRASAD. 76 I. C. 988 : 2 Pat. 466 : A. I. R. 1924 Pat. 164.

——— S. 43 (2)—One judgment-debtor paying full decree amount—Right to contribution—Basis of.

Where one of several judgment-debtors satisfies the whole decree, he can ask for contribution founded not on contract but on a general principle of equity. The community of burden and benefit is the real ground of the right to contribution, (Phillips and Venkatasubba Rao, JJ.) ABBOY NAIDU v. RAMCHANDRA NAIDU. 19 L. W. 686 : 76 I. C. 905 : 1923 M. W. N. 925 : A. I. R. 1924 Mad. 279.

——— S. 45—Co-parcener—Tender to Manager of Hindu family is valid.

Where a mortgage is really entered into by a joint Hindu family though it is in the name of a minor member, tender of the mortgage-money to the managing member is a good and valid tender in law. (Lindsay and Stuart, JJ.) SHEO SARAN v. RAM LAGAN. 19 A. L. J. 852 ; 64 I. C. 413 : 44 A. 64 : A.I.R. 1922 All. 355.

——— S. 45—Firm—Debt due to—Partnership—Death of partner—Rights of surviving partners.

The rule of Law is firmly established that debt due to trading partnerships stand on a different footing from debts due under ordinary contracts and that when one of the partners in a firm dies the surviving partners can sue for the recovery of the debts due to the firm without making the legal representatives of the deceased partners parties to the suit. 9 A. 486 ; 17 C. L. J. 648; 20 A. 365; 32 A 638 : referred to: 18 C. 86 dissented. (Abdur Raoof and Moti Sagar, JJ.) MULCHAND v. MULCHAND. 4 Lah. 142 : 71 I. C. 951 : A. I. R. 1923 Lah. 197.

——— S. 45—Co-mortgagees—Payment to one—Not effective as a discharge.

Payment of the entire mortgage money to one of several co-mortgagees without the consent of the other does not operate as a good discharge of the liability of the mortgagor. 68 P. R. 1217 Foll. (Shadi Lal, C.J. and Harrison, J.) MT. MALAN v. TARA SINGH. 4 Lah. L. J. 23 : A. I R. 1922 Lah. 64.

——— S. 45—Co-mortgagees—Payment to one—Not effective as a discharge.

CONTRACT ACT (IX OF 1872), S. 45.

The mortgage debt is not completely discharged by the payment of the mortgage money to one of several co-mortgagees without the consent of the others even though the name of the payees was entered in the revenue record as sole mortgagees. 68 P. R. 1917 foll. 7 P. R. 1913 : 35 P. L. R. 1916, Ref. (Broadway, J.) MAYA RAM v. HABIB. 3 Lah. L. J. 502.

——S. 45—Joint promisees—Suit by each for his share—Maintainability.

Under S. 45, Contract Act, in regard to a promise made to two or more persons jointly, proceedings to enforce the claim must be taken by all promisees and a suit brought by one of several creditors or partners is liable to be dismissed. (Prideaux, A.J.C.) KISEN LAL v. CHANDRA. A. I. R. 1924 Nag. 196.

——S. 45—Debt due to partnership—Suit for—Parties—Assignment of debt to one partner—Effect of.

In the case of a partnership all the individuals constituting it are necessary parties to a suit in which a debt due to the partnership is claimed. But when under a decree of Court the proprietary rights in the firm;are after its dissolution vested in one of the partners solely, and the other partners disclaim all rights to the debt, a suit is maintainable by that partner alone for the debt. (Raymond, A.J.C.) MALIBAI v. SHEWARAM MENGHRAJ. 90 I. C. 111.

——S. 46—Whether, where time is not of essence of contract it can be made so by notice and whether time allowed by such notice is reasonable are all questions of fact answerable from the circumstances of each case.

Where in a contract of sale of immoveable property which sale can be completed only on the completion of certain other transactions, a time limit of two months for completing the sale was fixed, but where the vendor did not complete the sale for four or five months and the vendee was not aware of the vendor's difficulties in his way of fulfilling the contract : and where also it was found that the vendor could not be completely held to be not indifferent. Held : that time was not of the essence of the contract, but that the vendee in the present case was justified in giving notice to the vendor to perform the contract within a definite time and that three weeks' time was reasonable. (Shah, A. C. J. and Crump, J.) KARSANDAS PURSHOTHAMDAS v. GOPALDAS TRIKAMJI.
25 Bom. L. R. 1144 : A. I. R. 1924 Bom. 282.

——S. 46—Mortgagee undertaking to pay debts of mortgagor—Failure to discharge—Effect.

Where the major part of the consideration for a mortgage was left with the mortgagee himself for the payment of debts due by the mortgagor and where the object of the mortgage was to consolidate the debts of the mortgagor and to prevent interest running at a high rate. Held, that the mortgagee was bound to pay off the debts as soon as possible and his failure to do so disentitled him from right to possession under the terms of the deed of mortgage but his security was good for the money actually paid by him. (Kendall, A. J. C.) COLLECTOR SINGH v. MADAN LAL.
78 I. C. 738 : A. I. R. 1925 Oudh 132 (2).

——S. 47—Acceptance of part of mortgage money after the agreed period is not a new contract—Contract Act, S. 62.

Where mortgagor agreed to accept part of the mortgage money by a certain period and actually accepted it after that period there is no new contract at the time of the acceptance of the part amount but there is merely an acquiescence in the late payment. (Jwala Prasad and Ross, JJ.) MT. BIBI HAFIZUNNISSA v. IMAMUDDIN KHAN. A. I. R. 1924 Patna 825.

——S. 50—Payment of revenue—Revenue money order—Bengal Touji Manual, R. 61—Payment to post office—If different.

Reading S. 50, Contract Act, along with R. 61 of the Bengal Touji Manual, where land revenue is sent to the Collector through the Post Office by means of a Revenue Money Order before the last day it is payable, it is a valid payment. (Newbould and Ghose, JJ.) BILAST CHANDRA ROY v. RAJENDRA CHANDRA DAS ROY. 78 I. C. 661 : 51 Cal. 776 : A. I. R. 1924 Cal. 839.

——S. 50—Payment not by cash but by transfer of figures in account is valid.

The method of payment in discharge of a contract is not confined to paying in cash but includes also mere transfer of figures in accounts without the transfer of any money actually taking place. Case law discussed (Rupchand Bilaram, A. J. C) KISHANDAS PURSUMAL v. MEGHRAJ KHIALDAS. 81 I. C. 834 : A. I. R. 1925 Sind 144.

——S. 51—Non-delivery by seller without payment.

Unless a special contract to the contrary is definitely proved it must be presumed that the goods were to be paid for at delivery and that the buyer in refusing to make such payment is guilty of a default. The onus is upon the buyer to prove his assertion contrary to usual practice. Very strong and cogent evidence on the part of the buyer would be required to prove that the parties intended to depart from the general practice. (Abdul Raoof and Motisagar, JJ.) VERMAN AND CO v. FIRM OF GOPAL DAS RAM LAL. A. I. R. 1923 Lah. 363.

——S. 51—Contract for sale of goods—Conditions are concurrent unless otherwise agreed.

In a contract for the sale of goods, unless otherwise agreed, delivery of the goods and payment of the price are concurrent conditions. (Venkatasubba Rao and Jackson, JJ.) SINGARAVELU & SONS v. VENKANNA & SONS. 86 I.C. 299 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 971 : 49 M. L. J. 300.

——S. 51—Concurrent conditions—Suit for damages for breach of contract—Plaintiff cannot succeed unless he proves he was ready and willing to perform his part.

Where the parties have agreed that the performance of their respective promises is to be simultaneous, i.e., that each shall be ready and willing to perform his promise at one and the same time one party cannot sue the other for damages for breach of contract unless he alleges and proves that he was ready and willing to perform his part of the contract at the appropriate time. Thus where such contract relates to sale of goods, the plaintiff if he happens to be a buyer must allege and prove that he was ready and willing to pay for the goods and likewise if the seller be the plaintiff, he must allege and prove that he was ready and willing to deliver the goods. (Venkatasubba Rao and Jackson, JJ.) SINGARAVELU & SONS v. VENKANNA & SONS. 86 I. C. 299 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad: 971 : 49 M. L. J. 300.

——Ss. 51 and 54—Vendee not completing sale due to vendor's defective title—Vendee need not pay brokerage.

Where a sale was not completed owing to the vendor's title being doubtful and the broker was helping the vendor. Held : that in view of the fact that the purchaser could not go on with the purchase and obtain possession of the property the broker in effect committed breach of the contract, by joining with the vendor in proposing a sale, which could not in fact be carried out and was not entitled to any brokerage. (Kennedy, J. C. and Percival, A. J. C.) SHARAFDIN

CONTRACT ACT (IX OF 1872), S. 51.

v. ALLAHBUX. 88 I.C. 569 : A.I.R. 1925 Sind 220.

——S. 51—Vendor not bound to tender if vendee unwilling.

Vendor is not bound to tender the purchase price unless the purchaser is ready and willing to perform his part of the promise. In a suit for specific peformance the strict law as to tender is not applicable. (Kennedy, C. J. and Raymond, A. J. C.) BEGRAJ v. ALISHER. 16 S. L. R. 278 : A. I. R. 1923 Sind 50.

——S. 53—Fraudulent transfer of a substantial portion—Effect.

Where a substantial portion of the consideration for the transfer is fraudulent and fictitious, the whole transfer must be treated as fraudulent. (Broadway and Harrison, JJ.) MULA RAM v. JIWINDA RAM. 5 L. L. J. 200 : 72 I. C. 452 : 4 Lah. 211 : A. I. R. 1923 Lah. 423.

——S. 54—Failure of promisor to perform his part of the contract—Promisee if can rescind the whole contract.

By the contract the defendant company agreed to manufacture and to deliver to the Morvi State Railway 50 railway wagons in all at the price of Rs. 1,825 for each covered wagon and at the price of Rs. 1,875 for each open wagon, the wagons to be in accordance with certain specifications and drawings, and the 50 wagons to be delivered in six months from the date of the receipt by the defendant company of an order for the wagons. The terms of payment were that His Highness of Morvi should pay to the defendant company one-third of the contract price on the order for the wagons being given, and one-third of the contract price when the underframes of the wagons should be wheeled, and the remaining one-third when the wagons should be delivered. The contract contained no provision that the contract time for the delivery of the wagons should be extended in case the defendant company should be delayed in completing the wagons owing to the war or any other cause beyond the company's control. Held: having regard to the times when the three instalments of the contract price were according to the contract to become payable, and to the fact that the manufacture of the 50 wagons would involve considerable expenditure by the defendant company in providing materials for their construction and in the payment of men who would necessarily be employed in constructing them, and to the fact that it might be difficult to enforce in a British Court or in a Court of the State of Morvi payment by His Highness of Morvi of the contract price, it must have been the intention of the parties when the contract was made that time should be of the essence of the contract as to the times when the three instalments of the contract price should be paid. When His Highness of Morvi had, after he had notice that the underframes of the wagon had been wheeled, made default in payment of the second instalment of the contract, which was, in effect a refusal by him to perform the contract in its entirety, the defendant company was entitled to treat the contract as void and to rescind it, but the defendant company by delivering 8 of the wagons treated the contract as a subsisting contract. Therefore the defendant company was not on that delivery of the 8 wagons entitled to insist on a then payment for them as the contract price was not payable until the 50 wagons had been delivered. (Sir John Edge.) BURN AND CO. LTD. v. HIS HIGHNESS THAKUR SAHIB SREE LUKHDHIRJI OF MORVI STATE.

30 C. W. N. 145 · 90 I. C. 52 : 23 A. L. J. 806 : 6 L. R. P. C. 147 : A. I. R. 1925 P. C. 188 (P.C.).

——S. 54—Breach of contract—Defence by party committing a breach.

CONTRACT ACT (IX OF 1872), S. 55.

A party cancelling a contract without any justification is precluded from making any defence which would have been open to him in an action for damages by the other party. (Macleod, C. J.) RUSTOMJI v. HAJI. 59 I. C. 515 : 22 Bom. L. R. 1165.

——S. 54—Party cannot insist on the other doing his part without party doing his own part.

Where promises are reciprocal each party has always the option to perform his part of the contract but one party cannot insist on the other performing his promise without himself performing what he has agreed to do. (Madhavan Nair, J.) VAIRAVAN CHETTIAR v. KANNAPPA MUDALIAR. 86 I. C. 436 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 1029.

——S 54—Reciprocal promises—Sale of goods—Delivery of telegram—Condition of contract.

Where on a contract for the sale of goods, the seller agrees to give the buyer a delivery telegram for the goods sold, the provision as to the delivery telegram is a condition of the contract and if for any reason, it is broken, the buyer is entitled to rescind the contract and sue the seller in damages. A covenant as to delivery is as much an essential part of a contract for the sale of goods as a covenant for payment of price or any other condition in the contract. (1919) 1 K. B. 198 ; 1920 2 K. B. 1 (9). (Schwabe, C. J. and Krishnan, J.) ADAM HAJI PEERA MAHOMED ISHAK v. HUSSAN AKBARI. 31 M. L. T. 40 : 70 I. C 736 : (1922) M. W. N. 434 : A. I. R. 1923 Mad. 103 : 43 M. L. J. 199.

——S. 54—Agreement between two chelas of a deceased mohunth of muth—One to be mohunt and other adhikari—Latter entitled to maintenance in event of difference—Latter suing for mohunthship—Suit failing—Maintenance cannot be claimed.

The appellant and respondent were both chelas of the late mohunth of a muth. According to custom and practice of the muth there was one mohunt only and two chelas cannot become mohunts at the same time. After the death of the late mohunt, both the chelas had become mohunts with the result that dispute had arisen between them. They therefore executed an ekrarnama. They agreed that the appellant should be declared to be the mohunt and the respondent adhikari of the said muth : and they declared that they should, to the end of their lives, be bound to act according to the terms set forth in the ekrar-nama. The material terms set forth in the ekrarnama were that the appellant should remain mohunt and malik of all the properties of the muth during his life-time ; and the respondent adhikari during his life-time : and that in the event of difference between the parties, the appellant would give to the respondent Rs. 40 a year for maintenance out of the income of the properties of the muth and this should remain a charge on the muth properties. Notwithstanding the terms of this agreement, the respondent brought a suit against the appellant in the Court of the District Judge claiming the mohunthship. That suit was dismissed. Held, that the respondent by his action in bringing a suit for mohuntship broke his promise and defeated the whole intention of the agreement ; and that he could no longer hold the appellant to his part of the contract, and that he could not therefore maintain a suit for maintenance as vouchsafed by the ekrarnama. (Mullick and Ross, JJ.) RAMCHARAN DAS v. RAMLAKHAN DAS. 6 Pat. L.T. 830 : 83 I.C. 697 : 1925 P H. C. C. 157 : A. I. R. 1925 Pat. 496.

——Ss. 55 and 63—Effect of failure—Contract—Time, essence of—Failure to perform—Extension of time.

Where time is of the essence of a contract and there is a breach thereof, the promisee may under S. 63 of the Act avoid the contract but if he extends the time for performance, he cannot claim damages for non-performance at the original agreed time. (Lord Dunedin.) MUHAMMAD HABIBULLAH v. BIRD & CO. 43 All. 257 : 14 L. W. 350 : 48 I. A. 175 : 63 I. C. 589 : 24 Bom. L. R. 687 : A. I. R. 1922 P. C. 178 (P. C.)

——Ss. 55 and 63—Contract—Time essence of—Failure to perform—Extension of time.

Where time is of the essence of a contract and there is a breach thereof, the promissee may under S. 63 of the Act avoid the contract but if he extends the time for performance, he cannot claim damages for non-performance at the original agreed time. (Lord Dunedin.) MUHAMMAD HABIBULLAH v. BIRD & CO. 43 All. 257 ; 14 L. W. 350 : : 63 I C. 589 : 43 I. A. 175 (P. C.).

——S. 55—Time can be subsequently made as essence of contract.

Time may be made of essence of contract where it was not originally so by reasonable notice to the other party. Notice may be reasonable despite promisor's difficulties. (Shah A. C. J. and Fawcett, J.) DHAN RAJGIRJI NARSINGGIRJI v. TATA SONS, LTD. 49 Bom. 1 : 26 Bom. L. R. 858 : A. I. R. 1924 Bom. 473.

——S. 55—Test Time—When of the essence.

Where time for performance is fixed but time is not made the essence of the contract either party can give notice to the other fixing reasonable period for performance. (Fawcett, J.) SHAMSUDEIN TAJBHAI v. DAHYABHAI MAGANLAL. 48 Bom. 368 : 26 Bom. L. R. 105 : A. I. R. 1924 Bom. 357.

——S. 55—Though time not made of essence of contract yet a party can limit time where the other party delays unnecessarily-

Although the parties did not by the terms of their agreement make time of the essence of the contract, yet if unnecessary delay is created by one party the other has a right to limit a reasonable time within which the contract should be perfected by the other. What is a reasonable time must depend upon the facts of each particular case. The question of reasonableness of notice should be considered with reference to the past attitude of the parties. (Fawcett and Coyajee, JJ.) KARSANDAS v. CHHOTALAL 48 B. 259 : 25 Bom. L. R. 1037 : 77 I. C. 275 : A. I. R. 1924 Bom. 119,

——S. 55—Test of time being essence of contract—Intention.

The question whether time is of the essence of the contract depends on the intention of the parties. Equity has never laid it down that a man must never be allowed to mean what he says. (Marten and Fawcett, JJ.) SHANKAR SAKHARAM v. RANTANJI PREMJI. 47 B. 607 ; 25 B. L. R. 328 : A. I. R. 1923 Bom. 441.

——S. 55—Effect of failure—Contract—Construction—Sale of goods—Delivery to be taken within a specified period—Default—Delivery of part of goods after expiry of time fixed—Refusal to take delivery of the rest—Damages

On 18th September 1913, the plaintiffs entered into a contract with the defendants for the sale of two hundred bales of yarn No. 20,s and 20½s. The yarn was to be delivered in October-November 1913 as manufactured. Under the terms of the contract, if the defendants failed to take delivery of the bales from time to time as they became ready, the plaintiffs were entitled to resell them on the defendants' account and risk by public auction or private sale and the defendants were bound to make good to the plaintiffs any loss that they might suffer by the re-sale. No delivery was asked for by the defendants during October-November 1913 and the goods were manufactured by the plaintiffs against this contract. Up to July 1914 the defendants took delivery in small quantities of sixty-six bales of 20s and forty-two bales of 20½s. On 9th July 1914, the plaintiffs wrote to the defendants to arrange to take immediate delivery of the remaining ninety-two bales. On 13th January 1915, the plaintiffs gave the notice to the defendants that if they did not take delivery within twelve days they would resell the bales by public auction. On 10th of February 1915, the bales were sold by auction and they realised Rs. 9,951—1—6 against the contract price of Rs. 14,946-1-6 leaving a difference of Rs. 4,995. The plaintiffs claimed from the defendants this amount together with interest and godown rent and fire insurance as per terms of the contract, in all Rs. 5,858-6-3. The defendants replied that under the contract, the delivery was to be in October-November 1913 that the d fendants were ready and willing to take delivery of the bales but as the bales were not ready the plaintiffs were not in a position to give delivery and the defendants therefore repudiated their liability in the matter. The plaintiffs having sued the defendants to recover the amount. Held, (1) that, as there was no evidence to show that the terms of the contract were altered by mutual consent and therefore the contract remained in existence after the end of November as altered by the parties, the Court could not say what was the altered contract ; (2) that whenever after the end of November 1913 the defendants asked for delivery it was optional to the plaintiffs to give them delivery and if the plaintiffs chose to give them delivery at the rates mentioned in the previous contract, that was a separate transaction, and the Court could not imply from the plaintiffs having given delivery of some bales in December 1913 to the defendants, that the parties had entered into a new contract whereby the plaintiffs agreed to give delivery to the defendants of the remaining bales according as the defendants should choose to ask for them. (3) that the Court could only read the contract according to the plain intention of the words in the written contract, and that as the parties did nothing under the contract within the contract period, the written contract thereby came to an end. (Macleod, J.) THE PHOENIX MILLS, LTD. v, MADHAV DAS RUPCHAND. 69 I. C. 9 : 24 Bom. L. R. 142.

——S. 55—Waiver — Contract for sale— Time made essence of contract—Waiver—Parties continuing negotiations for completion of the contract—Time ceases to be of essence of contract—Extension of time does not change the character of its being of the essence.

Purchaser may by his conduct waive although time is made the essence of the contract and where the time is once allowed to pass and parties continue to negotiate for completing the purchase then time no longer remains the essence of the contract. But simple extension of time without anything more amounts only to a waiver to the extent of substituting such extended time for the original time and does not destroy the essential character of the time. (Chatterjee and Cuming, JJ.) KAMAL KRISHNA KUNDU v. CHATURBHUJ DASSA. 78 I. C. 962 : A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 324.

——S. 55—Test of—Time being essence of contract—Waiver—Notice.

In a contract to supply wagons, the price was to be made in 3 instalments, the last being on delivery,

CONTRACT ACT (IX OF 1872), S. 55.

There was default in payment of the second instalment, still a number of wagons were completed and delivered. Held, such delivery showed time was not of the essence of the contract. It is open to the parties in such a case to give reasonable notice of the default and is made time the essence of the contract. (Sanderson, C. J. and Richardson, J.) BURN AND CO. LTD. v. THAKUR SAHEB OF MORVI.
28 C. W. N. 104: A. I. R. 1924 Cal. 427 : 83 . C. 260.

——S. 55—Contract for sale of immoveable property—Time is not essential.

In a contract for the sale of immoveable property time is not of the essence of the contract. (Shadi Lal, C. J. and Harrison, J.) SRI RAM v. KIDARI PRASAD CHEDDI LAL. 6 Lah. 308 : 88 I. C. 743 : 26 Punj. L. R. 488 : A. I. R. 1925 Lah. 481.

——S. 55—Effect of rescission.

The vendors cannot rescind a contract by reselling the goods and thus putting an end to the Arbitration clause. (Shadi Lal, C. J. and Campbell, J.) FIRM JAI NARAIN v. FIRM NARAYAN DAS. 3 L. 296 : A. I. R. 1922 Lah. 369.

——S. 55—Contract to sell—Delay—Rescission—Liability.

Under a contract for the sale of yarn, the goods were to be delivered on steamer at Madras in July, August and September, in three shipments. No yarn was shipped in July and August but ten bales were shipped together in September. The defendant had made no complaint of even the delays in the deliveries but just before the tender of the goods, gave notice to the plaintiffs of his intention to put an end to the entire contract. In a suit by plff. for damages for breach of the contract: Held, the partial breach did not go to the root of the contract, as by non-delivery of the thing contracted for, the whole object of the contract was not frustrated. Hence defendant was not entitled to rescind the entire contract but plaintiffs should be awarded damages in respect of the bales allocated for the September shipment. (Ayling, Offg. C. J., and Odgers, J.) MESSRS SWAMI & CO. v. NUKALA VENKATASUBBIAH. 69 I. C. 41: (1922) M W. N. 47.

——S. 55—Sale of land—Time essence of contract—Sale of immoveable property.

In contracts for the sale of immoveable property, time is not ordinarily considered to be of the essence of the contract unless there is anything in the express stipulation between the parties, the nature of the property and the surrounding circumstances which would make it inequitable to apply the rule. (Wallis, C. J. and Odgers, J.) SURI CHETTY RANGANATHAN CHETTY v. GADALA PARTHASARTHY.
13 L. W. 77: (1921) M. W. N. 94: 61 I C. 457: 29 M L. T. 67: 40 M. L J. 13.

——S. 55—Waiver—Mere delay is not—Delay is immaterial where time is not essence of contract—Undue delay coupled with notice by other party will bar equitable relief.

Mere delay on the part of a party to the contract should not be taken to amount to waiver or abandonment by him. Unless the parties have expressly or impliedly by their conduct, made time the essence of the contract, delay is no valid plea in a suit on contract. Undue delay on the part of one party to a contract coupled with reasonable notice given to him by the other party will disentitle the party delaying from claiming any relief in equity. (Kinkhede, A. J. C.) ABDUL MAJID KHAN v. BALAPPA.
82 I. C. 105: A. I. R. 1925 Nag. 58.

——S. 55—Test—Agreement for re-purchase—Time is essence.

In an agreement for re-purchase time is of the essence of the contract. (May Oung and Duckworth, JJ.) MAUNG WALLA v. MG SHWE GUN.
1 R. 472 : 2 Bur. L. J. 188: A. I. R 1924 Rang. 57.

——S. 55—Sale of land—Option to repurchase land under contract of sale—Time if of the essence of the contract.

Though in the case of a contract for sale of land, time may or may not be of the essence of the contract in the case of an option for repurchase before a fixed date, time is of the essence and option must be exercised before that date. 42 Mad. 802: 30 M. L. J. 186 Ref. (Maung Kin, J.) MAUNG POYIN v. MAUNG SHWE KIN. 11 L. B. R. 441 : 70 I. C. 126 : 1 Bur. L. J. 167: A. I. R. 1923 Rang. 42.

——S. 55, Cl. 2—Effect of failure—Contract for completion of building work within stipulated period—Default—Damages.

Where under a building contract it was agreed that the work was to be completed within 4 months and a fine of Rs. 5—was to be paid for every day after the date that the work remained incomplete. Held, that time was not of the essence of the contract in the case. The very fact that a penalty was stipulated for in case of failure to complete the work within the stipulated time indicated that in case of such failure it was not the avoidance of the contract that was contemplated but acceptance of performance after the stipulated time subject to payment of damages which were fixed. (Kotwal, A. J. C.) ROBERTS v. SHAIKH HYDER. 6 N L. J. 91 : 69 I. C. 894: A. I. R. 1923 Nag 140.

——S. 56—'Becomes Impossible.'

Where a contract for supply of coal within a certain time was entered into by the defendants but failed to make the delivery in accordance with its terms owing to Government restriction on the transport of coal from collieries but it was admitted that coal was available and could be purchased in the local market. Held, as the contract had not become impossible of performance the defendants are liable to the plaintiffs for the damages claimed by them. (Atkinson, J.) KESHAV LAL BROTHERS AND CO. v. DIWAN CHAND AND CO. 50 I. A. 142 : 74 I. C. 396 : 25 Bom. L. R. 854: 27 C. W. N. 974: 47 B. 563: 33 M. L. T. 342: 1 P L. R. 434 : 1923 M. W. N. 583: A. I. R. 1923 P. C 105 (P. C.) : 45 M. L. J. 630.

——Ss. 56 and 65—Becomes Impossible—Contract of lease.

Where in a contract to lease lands, the performance of contract becomes impossible by acquisition of land by Government, the promisee is entitled to compensation for loss. (Banerjee, J.) MUHAMMAD HASHIM v. MISRI. 20 A L. J. 41: 65 I. C 253: L R. 3 A. 575: 44 A. 229: A. I. R. 1922 All. 6.

——S. 56—Becomes impossible—Frustration.

Per Richardson, J.—S. 56 of the Contract Act is applicable only to the physical impossibility and therefore does not cover every case of frustration. S. 9 however recognises that promises may be implied. (Sanderson, C. J. and Richardson, J.) GOWRI SHANKAR AGARWALLA v. MOITRA. 70 I. C. 379: 26 C. W. N. 573.

——S. 56—'Becomes Impossible'—*When a discharge—Economic unprofitableness—Rise in freight—*Force majeure.

Impossibility as an excuse for non-performance of a contract, must be a physicial or legal impossibility and not merely an impossibility with reference to the ability and circumstances of the promiser, a mere economic unprofitableness is not equivalent to impossibility of performance; but a rise in freights may be equivalent to such a scarcity of ships as to amount to physical impossibility. The expression 'force majeure' has more extensive meaning than 'act of God' or 'vis major' though it may not include all, "causes you cannot prevent and for which you are not responsible." (Mookerjee, C. J. and Fletcher, J.) GUBBAY v. RAMJUS RAY. 63 I. C. 267: 33 C. L. J. 151.

CONTRACT ACT, S. 56.

——S. 56—Portion of contract becoming impossible—Contract does not become void.

When a portion of the contract becomes incapable of performance, the contract does not become void or unenforceable. (1903) 2 K. B. 683 Foll. Plaintiffs purchased from a District Board, the right to collect tolls at certain toll gates. Owing to a Government ordinance the traffic of food grains was stopped and plaintiffs suffered loss. The traffic of food grains was not the only traffic that passed the toll gates. Held, that the plaintiffs could not recover the purchase money from the District Board. (Devadoss, J.) PRESIDENT, D. B., S. KANARA v. SANTHAPPA. 86 I. C. 362 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 907.

——S. 56—Force majeure—C. I. F. Contract to ship goods of particular branch—Steamer commandeered for war—Impossibility to procure tonnage in other steamers—" Force majeure" arises.

The defendant entered into a contract on C. I. F. terms to ship certain goods of a certain brand to a certain port in a certain period. The contract contained a force majeure clause which exempted the parties from liability in case of war, revolution, strikes, epidemics and other unforeseen circumstances which might prevent the goods from reaching the port of embarkation or from being shipped or despatched. The defendant booked the necessary tonnage on a certain steamship. But the steamer was commandeered by the Government for purposes connected with the War of 1914. In spite of his best endeavours, the defendant was unable to obtain accommodation for that cargo on any other steamer leaving the ports from which the goods to be sent were usually shipped and calling at the port mentioned in the contract in the period stipulated therein. Held, that the defendant was prevented by force majeure within the meaning of the contract, from performing his contract and that he was not liable for damages for the non-performance of the contract. The defendant could not have fulfilled the contract by trying to purchase the articles in some other market and supplying the plaintiffs, because the contract was on C. I. F. terms and in respect of goods of a particular brand to be selected by the defendant and the plaintiffs could not be compelled to accept goods when the requirements of the contract were not strictly satisfied. The meaning of the term "Force majeure" discussed. Per Srinivasa Aiyangar, J.—In cases of force majeure it is not sufficient for the contracting party to point to something in the nature of a force majeure and seek to escape liability. It is absolutely necessary to go further and establish by satisfactory evidence that the circumstance or occurrence which is called force majeure was the real cause, which prevented the performance of the contract. In the circumstances such as were present in the case on hand, when a commercial man finds himself face to face with an upsetting of his plans and calculations brought about by force majeure he is not bound to prove more than that he made his best endeavours as a man of ordinary prudence would and should, who was anxious to procure some tonnage for himself in such circumstances, (Spencer and Srinivasa Aiyangar, JJ.) EDMUND BENDIT v. EDGAR RAPHAEL PRUDHOMME. 48 Mad. 538 : 87 I. C. 681: A. I. R 1925 Mad. 626 : 48 M. L. J. 374

CONTRACT ACT, S. 60.

——S. 56—Applicability—Impossibility due to default of contracting party.

S. 56, Contract Act, has no application to a case where the impossibility is due to the default of the contracting party himself. (Ross and Das, JJ.) BANARSI PRASAD v. MOHI-UD-DIN AHMED. 3 Pat. 581: A. I. R. 1924 Pat. 586.

——Ss. 56, 35 (2)—'Becomes impossible'—Surety for production of judgment-debtor—Imprisonment—Effect.

Where a person stands surety to produce a person in Court on a particular day, but by that time the person had been convicted and lodged in jail, the promise becomes impossible to perform and the agreement becomes void. The agreement is not one falling under the second part of S. 35 of the Contract Act. (MacCell, J. C.) MAUNG KY WE v. MAUNG SAN TIN. 4 U. B. R. 99 : 1 Bur. L. J. 236 : 70 I. C. 870 : A. I. R. 1923 Rang. 26.

——Ss 59 and 60—Appropriation—Principles.

A creditor is entitled to appropriate an indefinite payment to the payment of interest. A debtor may stipulate that a payment should be applied to the principal. If the creditor accepts the money he must appropriate it in the manner directed by the debtor. If he is not willing so to receive it he must return the money. (Lord Dunedin.) TEEKAM CHAND v. RADHA KISHEN. 14 L. W. 391 : 26 C. W. N. 153 : 63 I. C. 904 : 30 M. L. T. 39 : (1921) M. W. N. 411 (P. C.)

——Ss. 59 to 61—Decree debt—Payment of portion—How to be appropriated—Principal or interest.

In the absence of any agreement to the contrary, payments made by a judgment-debtor have first to be appropriated towards the interest and the balance of the payment, if any, is then to be credited to the principal. Ss. 59 to 61 of the Contract Act do not expressly deal with interest, but the principle underlying these sections can well apply to interest as well. 8 B. L. R. 110 (P. C.) relied upon. (Jwala Prasad and Bucknill, JJ.) MALIK MOKHTAR AHMED v. MT. BIBI RAHIM UNNISSA BEGUM. 67 I. C. 606 : 4 P. L. T. 58 : 1922 P. H. C. C. 66 : A. I. R. 1922 Pat. 369.

——S. 59—Payment by joint debtor.

Payment by joint-debtor with discretion to adjust it against joint debt extinguishes same ipso facto against all the debtors and any arrangement subsequently come to between the creditor and the person who paid cannot revive the joint liability. The creditor has the option of refusing to accept the payment at all with the direction as to appropriation. But once he accepts the payment he must obey the direction and even if he accepts the payments under protest, he will still be liable. (Lentaigne and Carr, JJ.) T. D. FOSTER v. R. M. A. L. CHETTY FIRM. 2 Rang. 204 : 82 I. C. 660 : A. I. R. 1925 Rang. 4.

——S. 60—Principal and interest both due—Indefinite payment by debtor—Creditor whether entitled to appropriate it to interest—Course to be followed by creditor if debtor's appropriation unacceptable—Entries in the creditor's book indicative of acceptance of debtor's appropriation.

A creditor to whom principal and interest are owed is entitled to appropriate any indefinite payment which he gets from a debtor to the payment of interest. A debtor might in making a payment stipulate that it was to be applied only to principal. If he did so, the creditor need not accept the payment on these terms, but then he must give back the money or the cheque by which the money is proffered. If he accepts it he would then be bound by the appropriation proposed by the debtor. That entries in the books of the creditor may be taken as indicative of agreement to a proposed appropriation by the debtor need not be denied and is in accordance with the law as above stated. 26 C. W. N. 33 (P. C.) Foll. (Lord Dunedin.) NEMICHAND v. RADHA KISHEN.

30 M. L. T. 39 : 26 C. W. N. 153 : A. I. R. 1922 P. C. 26 (P. C.).

——S. 60—Creditor may apply payment to any debt he chooses unless debtor has appropriated payment to any particular debt.

Where there are two bills and the amount paid by the debtor does not even cover the first bill, nevertheless, the creditor is in law entitled to credit the payment to both the bills so as to save, if necessary, limitation in respect of each, unless an appropriation has been made by the person making the payment. (Buckland, J.) MAURICE MAYAHAS v. MORLEY.
29 C. W. N. 496 : 87 I. C. 508 : A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 937.

——Ss. 60, 61—Instalment—Decree—Interest.

The decree-holder in the case of an instalment decree has the right to appropriate the payments first towards satisfaction of the interest due to him under sections 60, 61, Contract Act. There is no distinction between an ordinary decree and an instalment decree. (Jwala Prasad and Ross, JJ.) BARCLAY v. MT. DHANDEI.
4 P. L. T. 112 : 1923 P. H. C. C. 194 : A. I. R. 1923 Pat. 322.

——S. 61—Principal and interest due—No definite appropriations.

Where moneys are received by the creditor without any definite appropriation on either side, the money so received must first be applied in payment of interest and then in payment of the capital. (Lord Buckmaster.) VENKATADRI APPA RAO v. PARTHASARATHY APPA RAO.
44 Mad. 570 : 48 I. A. 150 : 19 A. L. J. 465 : 23 Bom. L. R. 644 : 33 C. L. J. 447 : 14 L. W. 25 : (1921) M W. N. 347 : 3 U. P. L. R. 27 : 61 I. C. 31 : 26 C. W. N. 33 : 40 M. L. J. 549 (P. C.).

——S. 61—Time-barred items.

Where there is a running account there is no reason why the payments within three years should not be treated as appropriated to the satisfaction of the earlier advances even though these advances may be time-barred at the date of the suit or at the date of the payment. (Shah, C. J. and Crump, J.) SATAPPA v. ANNAPPA.
47 Bom. 128 : 24 Bom. L. R. 1284 : A. I. R. 1923 Bom. 82.

——S. 61—Debts of equal standing.

Per Daniels, A. J. C.:—It is only where the debts are of equal standing in point of time that the payment is to be applied in discharge of each proportionately. There is no authority for the suggestion that the money should be applied first in payment of the most onerous debt.

Per Ashworth, A. J. C.:—Notwithstanding anything in Section 61 of the Contract Act, in the absence of appropriation, payments of surpluses should be appropriated to interest before they are appropriated to principal of any particular debt. (Kanhaiya Lal, J. C., Daniels and Ashworth, A. J. Cs.) SARSUTI PRASAD v. EHTISHAM ALI.
25 O. C. 349 : 77 I. C. 310 : A. I. R. 1923 Oudh 123.

——S. 61—Appropriation of payments—Rule as to.

Under S. 61, Contract Act, where neither party makes any appropriation, payments are to be applied in the discharge of debts in order of time. (Ross, J.) FIRM AMRIT PAIYAR BILAT MANDAL v. FIRM SUNDAR RAM RAMPHAL RAM.
78 I.C. 910 (Pat.).

——S. 61—Creditor can appropriate in absence of presumed or express intention of debtor.

A creditor can appropriate a payment made by the debtor towards payment of his debts and accepted by the creditor as such in the absence of any express or presumed intentions of the debtor to the contrary: but ex post facto appropriation of payment by the creditor cannot prevail. (Rupchand Bilaram and Kennedy, A. J. Cs.) FIRM OF BUDHURAM v. KIMATRAL BHOJRAJ.
84 I.C. 672 : A.I.R. 1924 Sind 137.

——S. 62—Essentials of novation—Partnership—Debt due by—Mortgage by one of partners for—Effect—When no extinguishment of firm's debt or release of partners' liability for it.

Where during the continuance of a partnership one of the partners executed to a creditor of the firm a mortgage to secure, inter alia, the debt due to him from the firm, held that the mortgage did not work either as a novation of the firm's debt to the creditor or a release of any of the partners from full liability in respect of it. (Lord Blanesburgh.) VEERAPPA CHETTY v. ARUNACHALAM CHETTY.
26 Bom. L. R. 661 : (1924) M. W. N. 559 : 20 L. W. 368 : 35 M. L. T. 161 : 29 C. W. N. 438 : A. I. R. 1924 P. C. 192 : 47 M. L J. 168 (P. C.).

——S. 62—Effect of novation—Contract—Rescission—Stipulation empowering a party to rescind—Legality of.

Parties to a contract may stipulate that one or both of them shall have the power to rescind the contract on the happening of some specified contingency. Such a stipulation is to be construed according to its natural meaning; subject to the principle of law that a party shall not take advantage of his own wrong, 1919 A. C. 1 Ref. The mere fact that the option to rescind the contract is not made dependent on the happening of any specified contingency, but an option to terminate the contract for any reasons whatsoever does not render the contract void for want of mutuality. (Mulla, J.) CHOTALAL LALLUBAI v. CHAMPSEY UMERSEY AND SONS.
24 Bom. L. R. 877 : 75 I. C. 233 : A. I. R. 1923 Bom. 75.

——S. 62—Invalid novation — Insufficiently stamped hundi—Effect of—Suit on original cause of action.

Where an insufficiently stamped hundi was given in renewal of a prior hundi, the plaintiff could fall back on the prior hundi. The giving of the second hundi would have operated as a discharge of the first one only if the new contract could have been legally enforced and as the plff. could not sue on the second hundi as being unstamped, he could fall back on the first one; and S. 62 of the Contract Act was no bar to his doing so. 27 M. 540 Rel. (Martineau, J.) SUNDAR DAS v. PURAN SINGH.
11 P. W. R. 1922 : 67 I. C. 856 : A. I. R. 1922 Lah. 56.

——S. 62—Effect of novation—Substituted contract falling through—Rescission—Right to enforce old contract.

Where a debtor has disabled himself from performing his promise under a later contract which had been intended to be a substitute for an earlier one it is open to the creditor to enforce the earlier contract rescind ing the later and S. 62 of the Contract Act is no bar. 66 P. R. 1888 Foll. : 15 P. W. R. 1918 : 63 P. R. 1917 : 53 P. R. 1916 : 41 Cal. 137 Dist. (Wilberforce and Martineau, JJ.) NAJAF SHAH v. RANGU RAM.

66 I. C. 47 : 2 Lah. 323.

——— S. 62—Decree on compromise—Compromise itself stating that such decree should be obtained—Decree supersedes compromise.

Whether an earlier contract is superseded by a later contract, on account of a certain alteration, depends on whether the parties intended to rescind the original contract. It is possible to vary a term of an original contract by a subsequent parol contract in such a way as to keep alive the original contract. Where a decree was passed on a compromise : Held, that the decree and not the compromise in the decree bound the parties especially in view of the parties' intention indicated in the compromise preceding the decree itself, that a decree should be obtained on the basis of the compromise. (Spencer, Offg. C. J. and Srinivasa Aiyangar, J.) ARUNACHALLAM CHETTI v. R. R. SETHUPATHI.
22 L. W. 195 · A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 1260.

——— S. 62—Lease originally in manager's name—Adding one coparcener's name does not give rise to new lease.

The mere circumstance that a coparcener's name is added to the name of the manager, while getting the lease confirmed by the widow of the lessor after his death does not make the lease a new one. (Madhavan Nair, J.) ELAGAN v. NANJAPPAN.
85 I. C. 964 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 919.

——— S. 62—Effect of novation—There can be novation even after breach.

Under S. 62 of the Act, there can be an agreement to cancel or vary the old contract or substitute a new contract, even after the breach of the original contract. 15 Cal. 319 Dis. from. (Ayling, O. C. J. and Odgers, J.) K. M. P. R. N. FIRM v. THEPERUMAL CHETTY.
14 L. W. 660 : (1921) M. W. N. 861 : 45 Mad. 180 : 67 I. C. 905 : 31 M. L. T. 478 : A. I. R. 1922 Mad. 314 : 42 M. L. J. 236.

——— S. 62—Debtor's undertaking at creditor's request to pay a debt to a third person operates as substitution of new contract based on consideration of original creditor's forbearance to sue debtor.

If the promiser being requested by the promisee, agrees to pay the debt to a third party, the original contract is replaced by a new one and the original promisee cannot enforce his claim against the promiser. The substituted contract is supported on this consideration, namely, the original promisee's forbearance to demand the payment from the promiser. (Kinkhede, A. J. C.) GANAPATI v. JAIRAM.
81 I. C. 1019 : A. I. R. 1925 Nag. 66 (2).

——— S. 62—Merger—Debt on hatchitta—Mortgage for the same debt.

Whether the parties agreed to substitute one contract for the other under Section 62 of the Contract Act is a question of fact and intention. Where a mortgage was executed for the purpose of securing the amount lent on a hatchitta, held that the original debt had not become merged in the mortgage deed. (Buckland, J.) RAMLAL MURLIDHAR v. JOGENDRA KRISHNA ROY.
30 C. W. N. 58.

——— S. 62—If the new contract that is substituted for the original one turned out to be void, the latter cannot be enforced unless there is express abandonment of rights under old contract—Mere returning of mortgage deed when a registered deed of surrender is taken in lieu of the mortgage, is not abandonment so as to debar the enforcement of the mortgage when the surrender is set aside.

What is needed or essential for a novation is the wiping out of the original contract as well as the creation of a new valid contract. If the new agreement is held or declared by law to be in contravention of the provisions of any statute it is not contract and therefore it cannot serve as novatio, and the original contract continues unless the rights thereunder are expressly abandoned. Where a mortgagee accepts a registered surrender of a portion of the land in lieu of the mortgage and hands over to the mortgagor the mortgage bond and where subsequently the surrender is set aside by the Court, the mortgagee's action in returning the mortgage deed to the mortgagor is not abandonment of his rights under the original mortgage and he can enforce the same. Case-law discussed. (Kinkhede, A. J. C.) GANAPAT v. MAHADEO.
85 I. C. 264 : A. I. R. 1925 Nag. 26.

——— S. 62—Essentials of novation—Settlement of damages is not novation.

Where the contract subsisted and had failed the cause of action would be the failure of the contract. The settlement that a certain amount of money was payable for the failure is not a new contract. (Prideaux, A. J. C.) KAMAL NARAYANA v. BANIRAM.
75 I. C. 440 : A. I. R. 1923 Nag. 332.

——— S. 62—Essentials of novation—Mortgage—Sale with a view to discharge mortgage—Nature of the transaction.

A suit was brought for foreclosure of a mortgage executed on 14th of August 1908. It was of the simplest possible character, being a claim for the amount still due on the mortgage after making allowance for a payment of Rs. 9,000 made on 17th October 1917. On that date the mortgagor sold a portion of the property and paid the Rs. 9,000 he received for the sale to the mortgagees towards satisfaction of the mortgage-debt. The purchasers happened to be the mortgagees. The mortgagor originally agreed to sell the property for Rs. 9,000 on the 9th January 1916, and he agreed also that the purchaser might retain enough of the purchase-money to pay off the mortgage. But the defendant mortgagor did not carry out his agreement till he was compelled to do so by a decree of a Civil Court in a suit instituted under the Specific Relief Act. The sale-deed was eventually executed by the Court for him on 17th October 1917, by which time the amount due on the mortgage was considerably in excess of Rs. 9,000. Held the effect of the sale was not to relieve the mortgagor of his liability to pay the mortgage debt. (Hallifax, A. J. C) NARAYAN v. VENKATA RAO.
72 I. C. 422 : A. I. R. 1923 Nag. 213.

——— S. 62—Limitation starts from breach of new promise.

Where there is novation of contract a fresh and independent cause of action accrues on the day on which the new promise is broken. (Dalal, J. C.) MENDI LAL v. RAM CHANDER.
A. I. R. 1925 Oudh 632 (2).

——— S. 62—Test is intention of parties and not dissimilarity of terms.

The essence of the innovation of a contract lies not in the dissimilarity of the terms between the old and the new contract but in the intention of the parties to supersede the old by the new. (Wazir Hasan, A. J. C.) BALDEO v. B. SHER BAHADUR KHAN.
74 I. C. 42 : A. I. R. 1924 Oudh 169.

——— S. 62—No novation takes place without the substitution of a fresh contract for the original one.

When a contract is novated there is a fresh contract coming into existence directly or by implication in place of the original contract. Hence the fact of the holders of a perpetual and heritable grant, partitioning subsequent to the grant, the subject-matter of the grant without reference to the grantor, so as to entitle the respective heirs to the specific properties, does not invite the operation of the principle of novation. (Jwala Prasad and Macpherson, JJ.) GOPAUL OJHA v. RAMADHAR SINGH. 82 I. C. 804 : A. I. R. 1925 Pat. 228.

——— S. 62—New contract.

A compromise decree passed in the suit based on a mortgage, does not create a new contract. 46 C. 76 and 19 C. W. N. 1228 Dist. (Mullick and Kulwant Sahay, JJ.) ISHAN CHANDRA v. NILRATAN. 2 P. 538 : 1923 P. H. C. C. 184 : 72 I. C. 1049 : 1 P. L. R. 217 : 4 P. L. T. 311 : A. I. R. 1923 Pat. 375.

———S. 62—"Cross contracts" no extinction by process of novatio takes place.

In the case of "cross contracts" the second contract does not operate to extinguish the first contract completely nor is it effective of a novatio. The two contracts are distinct and separate and the fact that the parties intended only to pay differences does not extinguish them. Where cross contracts contain a submission clause and they are settled, failure to pay the amount found due by such settlement is referable to such arbitration. But if the parties to a contract in which there is a submission clause, settle the amount due under it and the party who has to pay such amount enters in the cash book details showing the payment of the amount due from him in cash in full settlement and discharge of the contract and showing that he has received a dusti or temporary loan of the amount from the other party such entry gives rise to a new and separate cause of action and can completely answer a suit on the original cause of action. In any case the settlement has the effect of a novatio and precludes the parties from resorting to arbitration under the submission clause contained in the original contract. (Rupchand Bilaram, A. J. C.) KISHINDAS PURSUMAL v. MENGHRAJ KHIALDAS. 81 I. C. 834 : A. I. R. 1925 Sind 144.

——— S. 63—Acceptance of performance—Cheque for smaller amount accepted and cashed—Effect of.

Defendant sent a cheque to plff. for a portion of the sum claimed by the latter with a condition that this sum was being paid in full discharge of the total amount due to plff. The plff. retained the cheque and eventually cashed it. Two days after cashing the cheque, plff. wrote to the deft. that the cheque had been cashed but he did not agree to receive the amount in full discharge of the payment of the sum due to him. Held, that the mere fact that the plff. retained the cheque and cashed it and at the same time refused to receive the amount in full discharge of the payment of his debt, does not raise any conclusive presumption that they had accepted it as a conditional offer made by deft. 6 A. L. J. 67 : 22 Q. B. D. 610 Ref. (Stuart and Sulaiman, JJ.) BASDEO RAM SARUP v. DILSUKHRAI SEWAK RAM. 20 A. L. J. 717 : L. R. 3 A. 548 : 68 I. C. 783 : 44 A. 718 : A. I. R. 1922 All. 461.

———S. 63—Scope of.

S. 63 of the Contract Act does not entitle a promisee for his own purposes and without the consent of the promiser to extend time to his own advantage. There must be an agreement or mutual understanding to waive. (Abdul Raoof and Campbell, JJ.) ASMAD ULLAH v. MESSRS. BEHARI LAL & SONS. 68 I. C. 912 : A. I. R. 1923 Lah. 117.

———S. 63—Promisee—Not bound to accept part performance.

A promisee is not bound to accept part performance of a contract. (Le Rossignol and Wilberforce, JJ.) SHAMS DIN MEHR BAKSH v. MUHAMED KHALIL. 59 I. C. 971 : 3 Lah. L. J. 141.

———S. 63—Waiver—Evidence of—Mortgage—Discharge of.

Waiver may be evidenced by conduct inconsistent with the continuance of the rights waived. There is nothing in law to prevent a discharge by acceptance of something in lieu of the performance of the contract. (Prideaux, A.J. C.) KAWA DAJI v. GANGARAM. 64 I. C. 461.

———S. 63—Promisor accepting cash from promisee—Breach of contract—Effect.

Where a party to a contract of marriage having accepted cash and jewels repudiates the marriage he is bound to return what he has taken. 15 Cal. 319. (Coutts and Bucknill, JJ.) MATHURA PRASAD SINGH v. SATYA NARAIN PRASAD SAHAI. 65 I. C. 812 (Pat.).

———Ss. 64 and 65—Minor's property—Sale by step-mother—Purchase money applied in discharging mortgage executed by minor's father—Marriage expenses of minor defrayed out of the money—Sale can be set aside but purchase money must be refunded—Guardian and Ward—Sp. Rel. Act, S. 41.

Where the step-mother of a minor sold property belonging to the minor in order to pay off a mortgage executed by his father and to meet the marriage expenses of the minor. Held: that the sale could be set aside at the instance of the minor, but the minor was bound to refund the consideration money. (Macleod, C. J. and Crump, J.) LIMBAJI RAVJI v. RAHI RAVJI. 49 Bom. 576 : 27 Bom. L. R. 621 : 88 I. C. 643 : A. I. R. 1925 Bom. 499.

———S. 64—Alienation by minor—Alienation set aside—Minor's liability to restore benefit received.

If an alienation is set aside at the instance of the alienor on the ground that he was minor at the time of alienation, the alienor is not bound to restore the benefit received by him except in the case of fraud. 30 Cal. 539 (P.C.) and 38 Mad. 1071 Rel. (Chevis, J.) KESHOR SINGH v. ASA SINGH. 60 I. C. 519 : 3 U. P. L. R. (Lah.) 94.

———S. 64—Voidable contract—Rescinding—Effect of further performance dispensed with.

Where an agreement is rescinded its further performance cannot be enforced. S. 64 of the Contract Act will apply where an agreement has been rescinded. S. 64 is not restricted to contracts voidable under S. 39 but extends also to cases of contracts voidable by reason of breach under S. 39. (Lyle and Ashworth, A. J. Cs.) MAHAMMAD MUMTAZ ALI KHAN v. ALTAFUL RAHMAN. 25 O. C. 169 : 69 I. C. 789 : 10 O. L. J. 166 : A. I. R. 1922 Oudh 259.

———Ss. 64 and 65—Mistake—Restoration of benefit.

Where the parties are found to have been in ignorance of any discrepancy, then it follows that both of them were labouring under a mistake of fact and when restoration of one party to his original position takes place he cannot recover from the other party without surrendering the benefit which he derived under the mistaken act. This principle is not limited only to cases of agreements, which are provided for by Ss. 64 and 65 of the Contract Act but extends even to acts committed under a common mistake of fact. (Wazir Hasan, A. J. C.) MAQBUL AHMED v. FARHAT ALI. 4 U. P. L. R. (J. C.) 6 : 66 I. C. 461 : 8 O. L. J. 546 : A. I. R. 1922 Oudh 152.

——S. 65—Scope of.

The section deals with (a) agreements and (b) contracts. S. 65 deals with (a) agreements enforceable by law and (b) with agreements not so enforceable. By clause (g) of S. 2 an agreement not enforceable by law is said to be void. An agreement discovered to be void is one discovered to be not enforceable by law and on the language of the section, would include an agreement that was void in that sense from its inception as distinct from a contract that becomes void. The agreement to sell the right of reversioner is manifestly void from its inception, because its subject-matter is incapable of being bound by sale. The vendee in this case was given the purchase money and interest at 6 per cent. from the date of suit. (Sir Lawrence Jenkins.) HARNATH KUAR v. INDAR BAHADUR SINGH. 45 A. 179 : 50 I. A. 69 : 26 O. C. 223 : 18 L. W. 383 : 2 Pat. L. R. 237 : 37 C. L. J. 346 : 9 O. L. J. 652 : 27 C. W. N. 949 : 9 O. & A. L. R. 270 : 71 I. C. 629 : 33 M. L. T. 216 : 5 P. L. T. 281 : A. I. R. 1922 P. C. 403 : 44 M. L. J. 489 (P. C.).

——S. 65—'Discovered to be void.'

A Hindu reversioner to an estate in Oudh sued for a declaration that a will alleged to have been made by the last male owner directing his widows to adopt was invalid and void and obtained a decree to that effect. He was also declared entitled to succeed to the estate on the death of the last surviving widow. Subsequently the reversioner transferred his right to half the estate in favour of the plaintiff's predecessor-in-title, for a consideration of Rs. 25,100—agreeing to put the vendee in proprietary possession of the estate after the death of the last surviving widow. In a suit by the plaintiff after the death of the widow for recovery of the estate or for the purchase money, Held, that there was no valid transfer of the estate in favour of the plaintiff's predecessor-in-title inasmuch as the vendor had at the date of the conveyance a mere spes successionis which he could not validly transfer under S. 6 of the Transfer of Property Act, that the suit for possession must therefore fail ; that the plaintiff however was entitled to recover the consideration paid for the sale with interest thereon from the date of suit : and that the case was governed by S. 65 of the Contract Act, the cause of action having arisen after the death of the last surviving widow when alone the vendee discovered that the transfer was void and unenforceable. (Sir Lawrence Jenkins.) HARNATH KUER v. INDRA BAHADUR SINGH. 45 All. 179 : 9 O. L. J. 652 : 50 I. A. 69 : 37 C. L. J. 346 : 5 P. L. T. 281 : 27 C. W. N. 949 : 26 O. C. 223 : 71 I. C. 619 : 2 Pat. L. R. 237 : 33 M. L. T. 216 : 9 O. & A. L. R. 270 : 18 L. W. 383 : A. I. R. 1922 P. C. 403 : 44 M. L. J. 489 (P. C.).

——S. 65—Joint holding—Mortgage by one of the tenants—Rights of others.

In the case of a joint occupancy holding belonging to four brothers and mortgaged by some of them with possession in favour of another person, one of the brothers, who was not a party to the mortgage cannot get back possession of the entire holding without paying the mortgage money on the ground that such a mortgage was invalid. 37 A. 779 Ref. (Kanhaiya Lal, J.) SHAIKH MUDI v. MOHIB ALI. L. R. 5 A. 36 (Rev.) : 78 I. C. 1022 : A. I. R. 1924 A. 746.

——Ss. 65 and 56—Becomes void—Contract of lease—Impossibility of performance—Compensation for advantage received.

Where by reason of the acquisition of a lower garden by Government under the Land Acquisition Act the plff. lessee was deprived of the garden and the contract having become impossible of performance under S. 65 of the Contract Act, the plff. was entitled to be compensated by the deft. for the loss sustained by him. (Banerji, J.) MUHAMMAD HASHIM v. MISRI. 44 A. 229 : 20 A. L. J. 41 : L. R. 3 A. 575 : 65 I. C. 253 : A. I. R. 1922 All. 6.

——Ss 65 and 11—Minor's contract—Section does not apply.

S. 65 has no application to a case where there never was or could have been any contract between competent parties, as for instance where one of the parties to a contract is a minor. (Macleod, C. J. and Fawcett, J.) MOTI LAL MANSUK RAM v. MANEKLAL DAYABHAI. 45 Bom. 225: 59 I.C. 245 (1): 22 Bom. L.R. 1195.

——S. 65—Return of purchase money on sale being void.

When the person affected by a voidable transaction seeks to avoid its consequence, he is in the position of a person who seeks equity and he must do equity. Thus not only can he not ignore the transaction but he must offer to reimburse the prior transferee whose money has benefited the transferor. 3 C. L. J. 260 ; 21 C. W. N. 63 ; 16 C. L. J. 537 Foll. (Mukerji and Cuming, JJ.) VIJENDRA MOHUN SARMA v. MANARAMA DASI. 36 C. L. J. 326 : 49 C. 911 : A. I. R. 1922 Cal. 150.

——S. 65—Applicability—Agreement void to the knowledge of both parties.

S. 65 does not apply to an agreement which at its very inception is known to be void to both parties. (Shadi Lal, C. J. and Zafar Ali, J.) FIRM PRABHA MAL—GHULA MAL v. FIRM BABU RAM—BASHESHER DAS. 89 I. C. 684.

——S. 65—Vendor unable to complete sale because of his defective title—Defect known to buyer—Buyer is entitled to refund of earnest money paid to vendor but not to interest thereon—Sp. Rel. Act, S. 18 (d).

Where under an agreement for the sale of immoveable property the vendee pays to the vendor a sum of money as earnest money, and the vendor is subsequently found to be unable to convey a valid title because of the property being ancestral and there being a minor co-parcener concerned in the property and the transaction falls through for this reason, the vendee though aware of the defect in the title of the vendor is entitled to refund of the earnest money but is not entitled to claim interest or damages in lieu of interest on the earnest money. (Broadway and Abdul Quadir, JJ.) LACHHMAN DAS v. JOWAHIR SINGH. 44 P. L. R. 1922 : 70 I. C. 250 : A. I. R. 1924 Lah. 476.

——S. 65—Becomes void—Payment under—Right to recover.

S. 65 of the Contract Act applies even though the contract was not void ab initio but becomes void subsequently and a suit to recover money paid under such a contract is maintainable. (Abdul Raoof and Martineau, JJ.) BADLU v. SHEO CHAND. 67 I. C. 367 : 56 P. L. R. 1922.

——S. 65—Agreement to transfer a karnam service inam when it would be enfranchised—Agreement is void, but refund of advance is claimable—Trusts Act, S. 88.

Where the person who was for the time being in possession of a karnam service inam expected that the same would be enfranchised in his name and agreed to transfer his interest in the property to the plaintiff when the event would take place. Held, that the agreement was void and forbidden by law. Held, further, that the plaintiff would be entitled to refund of the money advanced by him. (Phillips, J.) A. AURYAPRABHAKARA RAO v. GUMMUDU SANYASI.

CONTRACT ACT, S. 65.

(1925) M. W. N. 400 : 88 I. C. 557 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 885 : 48 M. L. J. 598.

——S. 65—Charter party—Money advanced—Voyage becoming impossible—Advance can be recovered.

Where money has been advanced under a contract of charter party, but the voyages stipulated for have become impossible owing to the ship having stranded on her way to the port of lading, the money can be recovered. (Phillips and Odgers, JJ.) SIVANADIAN CHETTIAR v. BATCHU SURAYYA. 48 Mad. 459 : 21 L. W 445 : 87 I. C 127 : (1925) M. W. N. 303 : A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 727 : 48 M. L. J. 413.

——S. 65—Chit fund—Lottery — Discontinuance in the middle—Subscriber if entitled to sue for a refund of subscriptions paid—Severance of legal from illegal part of the contract.

The defendant was carrying on a chit fund. There were 500 subscribers each paying one rupee per month. The chit was to go on for 50 months and every month 2 prizes of Rs. 25 each were to be drawn by lot ; any subscriber who happened to win a prize would get Rs. 25 at once and had to pay thereafter only As. 8 a month while if he wins a second prize he would be given another Rs. 25 and thereafter his subscriptions would cease and his name would no longer be included in drawing the prize. At the end of 50 months all subscribers who had won no prize would be paid back the whole of the money they had subscribed. Held, that the arrangement was clearly a lottery. Where the stakeholder discontinued the chit after 27 months and thereupon a subscriber sued him for refund on the subscriptions he had paid. Held, per Krishnan, J. (Odgers, J. dissenting) the main point was to pay back the total amount of subscriptions paid while the arrangement to give prizes was only a collateral one serving as an inducement to join the chit and hence the former was severable from the latter and the illegality of the latter did not necessarily attach to the former. The suit for refund was therefore maintainable. (1919) M. W. N. 570 not foll. Per Odgers, J.—As a material part of the illegal purpose had been carried out, the subscriber was not entitled to recover the amounts paid, as both the plaintiff and defendant were in pari delicto and there was no ground for holding that they were not potior est conditio possidentis. Nor is the case one to which S. 65 of the Contract Act would apply as the contract was illegal from the beginning. (Krishnan and Odgers, JJ.) NAGAPPA PILLAI v, ARUNACHALAM CHETTY. A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 281 : 47 M. L. J. 876.

——S. 65—Master and servant—Whether service by month or at daily rate—Servant leaving without notice—Whether entitled to be paid for the days he worked—Whether Master entitled to compensation.

